Truman's Talk Bids For Vote

WILL SHOALS DAM, Ark., July 2 (AP)—President Truman advised voters today to count his leadership on the new deal and fair deal, according to his election speech.

His first overt bid for southern support in his politics in 1952, Mr. Truman used language reminiscent of his 1948 campaign during an antislavery to a threat posed by the region's Democratic leaders.

A speech prepared for joint publication of Will Shoals dam, where the president and the southern states met, which he visited after the president said the south made its greatest contribution to the 20-year-old Democratic party.

Remember these things this year, you see are out of the storm of political propaganda that will be out to try and turn back the clock. We are to keep moving forward. That is what we have to keep doing. We must keep moving forward. We must keep moving forward. We must keep moving forward.

New Group Supports Low Dams in Canyon

WEISER, July 2 (AP)—A new group has entered the continuing controversy over the best way to develop Snake river. This one favors a series of low dams on the Snake and Salmon as against the one big dam the bureau of reclamation proposes.

Blaine Stubblefield, on leave for the summer from his job as secretary-manager of the Weiser Chamber of Commerce, is spokesman for the group, unnamed as yet, which, he said, "might number 25 or 50" now.

He said it favors the low dams because it feels they will produce more power at a lower price, provide navigation, create the nation's finest recreation area, and open major mineral fields.

Such dams, he said, also would enable Idaho and eastern Oregon to conserve water resources for future use, and minimize the risk of disaster by enemy action against a high dam with its large impoundment of water in one mass.

Official Raps Opposition to Federal Plans

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 2 (AP)—The Interior department today rapped the opposition to the federal plan to build a big hydroelectric dam at Roanoke rapids because the dispute is now before the supreme court.

The bill for the government's Helms canyon dam has been killed for this session of congress. However, the Idaho-Oregon Helms Canyon association has said it is "organized for the long pull" and will continue to fight for the dam. Up to now there has been no group organized specifically to back the low-head dams such as Idaho Power company proposes.

The federal power commission will hold hearings at Baker, Ore., and Boise July 14 and are expected to support it by a 17-vote majority.

Stubblefield said his low-head navigation plan has no connection with the Helms canyon dam.

Wendell Hires Police Officer

WENDELL, July 2 (AP)—Roy Durkin was hired as Wendell police chief by the council to replace one who resigned after serving approximately two years.

Durkin is a millman in Wendell a year or so ago. He moved to Idaho where he operated a store for approximately a year and then returned to Wendell.

McGraw replaced Philip Bailey as police chief after Bailey was asked by the council to resign. Bailey had been chief for three years.

At its meeting Tuesday, the council announced that it will begin shortly after July 4. A contract for the new job was let to the Daily Reed construction company of Twin Falls, for $1,352. Forty-three city blocks are to be paved.

Housewives Warned Bills for Food May Push Their Living Costs to New Record

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Housewives were put on notice today that their food bills probably will go up soon and push the cost of living to an all-time high.

Price fixers have made the prediction, and blamed the new controls law.

It said the cost of living may increase as a result of the act but that it will rise enough so that "every American family will have a surplus."

It gave his estimate after President Truman said the new law would result in many cities.

Mr. Truman warned that it will result in many cities.

Conferees Okay $150,000 for Use On Area Project

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A senate-house conference committee Tuesday was reported to have tentatively approved about $150,000 for reclamation, bureau construction work, including nearly $15,000 to initiate 10 new water projects, among which is the $100,000 Minidoka North Side project in Idaho. The funds are included in the appropriation bill for the interior department for the year starting Tuesday.

The conferees were meeting again today to complete work on the bill. In advance of a formal report, full details were not given, but a senator who asked that his name not be used said that the conferees had agreed to about $150,000,000 for the reclamation bureau construction. This is about $2,000,000 more than approved $133,406,531 for the work.

The house, when it passed the bill, allowed funds for any new reclamation bureau project. The conferees were said to have compromised on approximately $150,000 for Indian bureau construction work.

When the interior bill passed the house, it carried only $3,410,000 for this purpose.

The 10 new reclamation bureau construction projects and the amount of funds were approved to start them include:

- Minidoka, north side pumping, Idaho, $150,000.
- Savage Rapids dam, Ore., $700,000.
- Weber basin, Utah, $7,250,000.
- Yakima, Kennecook division, Wash., $1,500,000.

Lattimore Is Labeled Part Of Red Drive

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee said today Owen Lattimore has been an articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy and has testified "untruthfully" before its subcommittee this week.

The committee demanded that the justice department conduct a grand jury investigation to determine if Lattimore and German diplomat John P. Davis, Jr., committed perjury before its internal security subcommittee.

Davis is now deputy political advisor to High Commissioner John J. McCoy in Germany.

Submits Report

The committee, headed by Sen. McCarran, D., Nev., made its demand in a 228-page report to the senate on the 17-month-long inquiry by the subcommittee into the Institute of Pacific Relations—a private research organization interested in Asiatic affairs.

The justice department, although it had not yet received a copy of the report, said it would be given "prompt consideration."

The committee said the "net effect of IPR activities on the United States public opinion has been such as to serve international communism and to affect adversely the interests of the United States."

The IPR is registered by U. S. communists and Soviet officials as "an instrument of communist policy."

Trio Hurt in Auto Mishap Near Burley

BURLEY, July 2 (AP)—Gilbert Aronson, his wife, Nelwin, 28, and their 2-year-old son, Coray, all route 1, Burley, are in Cottage hospital after being received in an automobile collision Tuesday afternoon at a county road intersection one mile south of the city center near town.

Panel Blames Russians for Polish Deaths

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A congressional report today charged Russia with killing 15,000 Polish officers 12 years ago on a pattern duplicated by the reds in their Soviet satellite states.

This, said Rep. O'Connell, R., Wis., was the unanimous verdict of a special house committee which heard 150 witnesses in this country and Europe while probing the 1948 Polish massacre in Katyn Forest, near Smolensk, Russia.

Action Urged

Chairman Madden, D., Ind., told reporters he would present the report to the senate committee. He said it includes recommendations for "appropriate action" against the Russians by the United Nations, as well as the court and for international investigation of any other atrocities like the Katyn massacre.

O'Connell, a committee member, told a newsmen the report says that in at least two respects, communist methods in Korea are exact duplicates of practices uncovered in the Katyn massacre.

Slates Hearing for Boise

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Rep. Mansfield, D., Mont., chairman of the subcommittee on small business, announced Tuesday the group will open a series of water hearings in the Boise area.

The committee is giving special study to activities of the small defense plants administration. However, it has opened its hearings to all small business men who have complaints or suggestions.

He said the committee will hear how many of the subcommittee's members would attend the hearings.

Taft's Steamroller Wins Delegates in Committee's Votes

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—The Taft steamroller, with its whistle tied down, was crushing all opposition today in delegate contests before the Republican national committee.

Seventeen Georgia delegates pledged to Sen. Robert A. Taft were seated shortly after noon by a whacking 62-39 vote in preference to the Eisenhower "legislators."

The committee is taking up contests in alphabetical order with the disputed Texas last. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower can have a compromise if he wants it, but on Taft's terms. Eisenhower's strategists have decided to take their lumps in committee and carry the fight to the convention floor next week, on appeal.

Eisenhower's campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, denounced the Georgia decision of the national committee as another "Texas deal."

The spectators were armed with a petition containing 255 names. The petition asked that the sections of the dog ordinance pertaining to maintaining dogs on leashes and keeping them tied be repealed.

Senate Okays Pact Making Reich an Ally

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The senate Tuesday overwhelmingly ratified peace agreements bringing West Germany to an armed ally in the free world's mutual-defense organization.

The United States thus became the first nation to approve all the documents, hailed by sponsors as ushering in a new era of European cooperation.

Not Effective Yet

The agreements do not become effective until ratified by parliament in the other nations involved, including West Germany—a process sure to spark stormy debate and one that could consume many more months.

One agreement between the U. S., Britain, France and West Germany and the allied occupation of West Germany and return the federal Republic of Germany to the family of nations as an almost equal member.

Any Cities of Nation Hit by Water Dearth

By The Associated Press

The lack of rain, are forcing mid-America cities to adopt emergency conservation measures. Officials are warning that unless it rains soon, they will be forced to ration water and to shut off sprinkling and washing cars.

In Kansas City, Mo., the water supply is expected to be exhausted by the end of the month. City Manager J. P. Morgan requested all sprinkling be shut off and the city utility department is being urged to conserve water. Some air conditioning installations were placed into a 24-hour period after it was discovered that the city utility department would be unable to supply water. ### Three Utah Men Are Electrocuted Moving Derrick CECIL CITY, Utah, July 2 (AP)—Three Utah men were killed Tuesday when a steel cable on a derrick they were moving snapped.

Killed were Samuel W. Leigh, 70; his brother, Henry Webster Leigh, 61; and the latter's son, Walter Granger Leigh, 36. Another son, Richard H. Leigh, 34, was burned in an attempt to rescue the other three. All the men lived in Cecil City.

The accident occurred on the Leigh brothers' farm about five miles west of Cecil City.

The four men were moving a hay derrick. Richard Leigh was driving the tractor, towing the derrick, and the three others were guiding the cable. As the tractor moved slowly, the three men pushed up on the lower end of the boom so that the top would be lowered gently to rest under the power line.

The survivor said the boom apparently lacked less than an inch of clearing the line. He said that as the cable contacted the line, the power surge knocked all three men to the ground and they fell on top of the cable. Richard said he tried to pull his brother off the cable but was burned so intensely he gave up.

New Deadline Set On Water Signup

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—Water user organizations in upper Snake river valley were given four more months Wednesday to sign water — saving and repayment contracts required for construction of Palisades dam.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman announced through the regional office of the bureau of reclamation that the deadline for signing has been extended from June 30 to Nov. 1. He announced approval of the extension to farmers.

The time extension was given, it was announced, because of the time required for the water user organizations to ratify officially the many documents involved in the transaction.

Goal Reached

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—The regional office of the bureau of reclamation announced Wednesday that the goal of 1,000,000 acre-feet of usable storage in Hungry Horse reservoir was reached on schedule Tuesday.

Deficit in Excess of Four Billions Is Figured by Treasury for Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The government overran its fiscal year budget by $4,016,600,000 in fiscal 1952, which ended Monday.

These statistics are announced by the treasury.

Spending, totaling approximately $50 per cent over the preceding year, hit the highest total for any year without an all-out war—$68,445,346,857.92.

Tax receipts, about 20 per cent above fiscal 1951 by rate hikes and other changes, totaled $20,000,000,000 above the world war II peak to an unprecedented $67,128,806,276.52.

The federal debt moved up to $232,150,443,817 during the year as the government borrowed to meet expenses not covered by receipts. That was still $20,000,000,000 below the wartime crest.

The $4,000,000,000 deficit reflected the government's financial year since World War II, but it was a wartime crest.

Engineer Learns About New Job

New City Engineer, Wife Had Eyes on Twin Falls for Years Before Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crossley always wanted to live in Twin Falls. That desire was fulfilled this week when Crossley arrived here to assume his new duties as city engineer. Getting acquainted with his job Wednesday, Crossley recalls that he and his wife drove through Twin Falls several years ago. They were impressed with the city and vowed to return to live here if ever the opportunity arose.

Crossley is a native New Englander and avid sports fan. His extra-curricular activities include skiing, fishing, photography and "varmint" hunting.

Crossley, who points out that most New Englanders learn to ski about the age of 2, is enthusiastic about the ski facilities near Twin Falls. He has heard about the Magic Mountain ski area and hopes to go to a job of skiing this winter.

Hunting is another favorite hobby. However, he hasn't had an opportunity to do much duck or pheasant hunting. He leads his own ammunition and is anxious to try his luck on Magic Valley "varmints" at the first opportunity.

Crossley enjoys his photography work to the extent that he has his own equipment complete right down to the last piece of darkroom equipment. In time he hopes to join the local photography club. "I know just enough about photography to want to know more," he confides.

Twin Falls has given Crossley the impression of being a progressive city. He and his wife feel they are fortunate to be able to live here. "I know we are going to like it here," Crossley declared.

Revenue Bureau Cuts Assessment Against Evader

WASHINGTON, July 2 — The Internal Revenue Bureau has reduced an assessment of $253,000 in back taxes against August McFee, a Twin Falls, Idaho, slot machine operator, to $83,000.

Bureau officials also said late Tuesday that a second preliminary assessment has been scaled down from $130,000 to $52,000. The back taxes and penalty cover the period from 1934 through 1946.

McFee was convicted of income tax evasion last month. He was fined $15,000 and given an 18-month prison sentence.

The internal revenue bureau gave this explanation of the reduced taxes and penalty:

1. Tax agents in figuring the initial assessment before McFee's trial set the figure high to assure the government of a claim that would cover all taxes possibly due.

2. In the investigation, agents found the initial claim should be reduced.

This frequently happens, officials said, in cases where agents investigate a taxpayer whose exact income is difficult to pin down because exact records are hard to find.

Experts Aver Texans Could Split up State

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—State department legal experts said today that Texas could split up its state into as many as five states, and Congress could split it up.

Congress gave them that power in 1845 when it enacted a resolution consenting to annexation of the Republic of Texas. The provision was amended by the Texas congress when it consented to become part of the United States, but the legal experts said, that Texas could split into two, three, four or five states without further act of congress.

New States Proposed

The constitution—article III, section 5—provides that new states may be admitted by congress, but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor shall any new state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the congress.

Congressional consent was given to Texas in the joint resolution on annexation, which provided:

Could Split State

... of convenient size, not exceeding four in number, in addition to said state of Texas, and having sufficient population, may hereafter be consented to by said state, be formed out of the territory of Texas, which shall be ceded to the admission under the provisions of the federal constitution."

All this means that congress would have eight new states if the people of Texas ever decided they wanted the maximum division possible. But Texas in Washington, according to the legal experts, don't think the folks back home ever would stand for such a thing. Congress will not do it.

"Divided, it wouldn't still be Texas."

Report Given on "Mystery" Wire

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—The Republican national committee today released a telegram, signed by "Herbert Hoover," suggesting that its hearings on national convention delegates' conduct should be televised.

In New York, however, Bernice "Abolish" freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty.

National GOP Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson said the telegram was received before the committee, voted 60 to 40 yesterday to bar television coverage of the contest here.

"Absolute freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty," Gabrielson said.

The message said:

"Absolute freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty. It is the duty of the national committee to take a liberal and humanitarian stand on vital domestic and foreign issues."

Reds Raided Near Truce Camp Site

SEBUL, July 2 (AP)—Allied troops turned flame throwers on communist troops near the Panmunjom armistice site Wednesday and burned them from their hillside bunkers.

The Reds attacked a hill north of Korangpo. They blew up some bunkers and seized others, killing 100 troops who refused to surrender. The raiders then withdrew under heavy red mortar fire.

The U. S. eighth army said a powerful allied raiding column Tuesday laced into red positions on the western front and all but wiped out one Chinese communist company before pulling out.

Bellevue Teacher Takes Ink Job

INCOM, July 2 (AP)—Wheeler Smith, principal of the Bellevue high school, has been named superintendent of the Inkton school system.

Smith signed a one-year contract, succeeding T. W. Mercer, who resigned effective Aug. 1. Mercer will be employed by the Sandpoint school system.

First Phase for Hearing Closing

WALLACE, July 2 (AP)—The first phase of a national labor relations board hearing on petitions filed by three unions to represent the district's miners ended Wednesday and will be recessed tentatively until July 28.

In Tuesday's hearing a newspaper story offered in evidence was rejected by the board. Robert Tillman, the Sept. 9, 1949, story quoted Harry Murray, president of the Kellogg Coal of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union, saying he was ready to negotiate with any individual company. A strike was in progress at the time.

R. W. Hanson, international representative of the IUMMSW, who was on the stand when the exhibit was introduced, claimed the union always followed a practice of district-wide bargaining. He said Murray had no authority to speak for the union in that circumstance, but admitted under questioning that the statement was not repudiated.

Idahoan Elected Leader for Unit At Teacher Meet

DETROIT, July 2 (AP)—Alice Latta of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., was elected president of the National Education association late Monday.

The election highlighted a convention session at which the teachers struck back at what they termed a growing tendency to limit freedom of instruction in the public schools.

The nation's classroom teachers adopted a resolution attacking censorship of texts, periodicals and contents of courses. An IBA spokesman said the resolution was aimed at a tendency to bar instruction on the United Nations and the U. S. educational, scientific and cultural organizations from the classroom.

The classroom group approved, without mention of religion, a resolution requesting congress to vote federal aid for public schools only.

The group also approved a single salary schedule for the nation, which would provide a minimum of $3,000 and a maximum of $8,000 for classroom teachers.

Schools Cautioned On Religion Class

ORANGEVILLE, July 2 (AP)—Robert Rovinsky, Idaho county prosecuting attorney, says he has notified Green creek and Ferdinand schools that the dissemination of religious literature and the teaching of sectarian practices on public school grounds violates both the U. S. and Idaho constitutions.

Rovinsky declined to say who furnished him with information that such practices exist.

The complaint was discussed Monday by directors of Idaho school district 241, Jack Wright, Stiles, a board member, said the group has taken the matter under advisement.

Woman Reports Loss of Weapons

Maria Duff, 37, Quincey street, reported to police Tuesday that a Belgian automatic and a 16 or 18-inch rifle were taken from her home some time in March. She said correspondence with her son delayed her report to police.

She said the pistol had pictures on the handle and belt—and a brown holster. The items were taken from dresser and buffet drawers.

Senators Confirm Boise Postmaster

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The senate confirmed James F. Hughes today to be postmaster at Boise.

There was no opposition when the long-pending nomination was called up.

Confirmation had been blocked once when Majority Leader McFarland, D. Ariz., said he had received an objection. The source of the complaint was never disclosed.

After the senate delayed confirmation before White House aides said they understood the nomination might be withdrawn because of intra-party differences in Idaho. No such action was taken, however.

Hughes' confirmation for the Boise job represents a victory for Dan Cavanaugh, Democratic national committeeman for Idaho, in his two-year battle with the Ada county organization.

Watch Is Asked For Hog Disease

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—State veterinarian A. P. Schneider asked Idaho farmers, packing houses and stock yards today to watch for signs of a swine disease which resembles foot and mouth disease in cattle.

He said the disease—vesicular exanthema—has been reported in Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah, Washington and California.

No cases have occurred in Idaho, he said, but one north Idaho yard under quarantine because a shipment of infected swine found in Washington state was unloaded for feeding there.

He said the signs which should be watched for are lesions or blisters on the feet, or nose lesions in the form of blisters.

"There is no need for alarm," he said, "but the state is concerned in that we want cases reported so they may be checked and the proper diagnosis be established."

The quality of milk is largely determined by federal marketing orders, state milk legislation and municipal health departments.

Teacher Salary Levy Is Denied

IDAHO FALLS, July 2 (AP)—Booneville county commissioners Monday afternoon unanimously rejected a compromise 2-mill emergency levy that would have granted a blanket teacher wage increase.

The action was seen as final as far as the county commissioners are concerned in the highly-controversial emergency levy proposal that precipitated a two-day walkout by Idaho Falls teachers last spring.

Formally presenting the request was Stanley Crowley, chairman of the Booneville County Board of Education, who explained the levy was reduced from the original 2.5-mill request to 2 mills as a compromise.

Crowley sharply criticized the commissioners for the action.

Quotas Given For Entry of Asian Natives

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Natives of eight Asian countries will be able to immigrate to America for the first time after Jan. 1, Monday President Truman's latest executive order for the first time ended racial barriers to U. S. immigration statistics.

New Law OK'd

The quotas were determined under the new immigration law which passed last week over Mr. Truman's veto. The law would allow the entry of 100 natives of Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, India, Korea, Laos, Pakistan, and Siam.

Quotas for the eight countries, which natives previously were barred from living in, were set at 100 each. They are: Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, India, Korea, Laos, Pakistan, and Siam.

Quotas of 100 immigrants a year were allotted to the "Asian triangle," comprising most of the new quotas. The quotas were set by Secretary of State Acheson. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer and Attorney General J. Edgar Hoover also signed the law.

Russia's new quota is 100. Officials explained, however, that this does not mean complete loyalty. Russian citizens will be allowed to enter. The quotas are for people of Russian origin who are either refugees or have spent years outside the Soviet Union. In any case, officials pointed out, the law's strict-screening system apply to all Russian immigrants.

Boys' Loss of Hat Sets Off Series of Highway Mishaps

KANSAS CITY, July 2 (AP)—A 16-year-old tractor driver's hat blew off on a road near here Monday with these results:

George Coons steered the tractor onto the road shoulder so he could pick up his hat. He got too close to the edge and the tractor tumbled 25 feet into a creek. Coons was pinned under the machine in six inches of water.

A woman motorist saw the accident, stopped her car and tried to help. She was "knocked" by the tractor.

The truck driver, W. L. Pittman, 24, turned to look at the woman. Her hat blew off and she was pinned under it.

Pittman jumped to safety and wasn't hurt. While cutting off the engine, Coons' hat flew to the tractor driver.

Coons was taken to a hospital.

Eisenhower's Manager Plans Blitz to Seize Control of Republican Convention

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. is expected to lead a group of Republican managers Tuesday and plan a blitz campaign to seize control of the Republican national convention at its opening session.

Lodge is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's pre-convention campaign manager. He hopes to block the organization of the convention by offering a resolution challenging the adoption of rules that would take effect within the first few minutes of the opening session.

If Eisenhower's backers can muster more than 100 votes, Lodge's challenge, they may move immediately to prevent election of Walter H. Hallahan, West Virginia, as temporary chairman.

The odds against Lodge are big but he says he will be "terrific" if he can get the support of enough politicians were joined with word that Cabotson had invited Sen. Joseph P. McCarthy to address the convention during the afternoon of July 7.

McCarthy was among numerous Republicans, including Herbert Hoover, asked to speak here. He is the most controversial figure in the Republican party, and his name has been mentioned by others, but universally regarded as a tough man in a fight.

"They never consult us about anything," snapped Lodge when asked whether he would accept the invitation. "I don't know if I would or not."

Lodge said several courses to block Hallahan's election as temporary chairman lay open to them. The first test of the Eisenhower strength on the convention floor, however, will come on Lodge's resolution to prevent carrying over the rules of past conventions in governing this one.

Eisenhower's followers happily claimed a linkage of Nebraska's 14 delegates to the general. His Denver headquarters announced a wholesale stop approach to the convention city which will bring him here Saturday, July 6, after nearly two days of campaigning through Nebraska and Iowa.

A "tremendously biased man," Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge's description of Hallahan, Lodge said, "is a move at the opening session that convention rules shall not permit contested delegates to vote on any matters relating to the convention organization."

Republicans traditionally have permitted contested delegates who have been seated temporarily by the credentials committee to vote on all organization matters except their own eligibility. Thus, contested and temporarily seated delegates from Texas, for example, could not help vote themselves to permanent seats but would be permitted to vote on the eligibility of contested delegates from all other states.

If Lodge's strategy worked, Eisenhower's first ballot nomination would be likely because control of the convention organization would be shifted to the general's managers and they would expect to be able to bar contested 14 delegates and seat their own.

Lodge said several courses to block Hallahan's election as temporary chairman lay open to them. The first test of the Eisenhower strength on the convention floor, however, will come on Lodge's resolution to prevent carrying over

Life Can Be Fun, Says Area Great-Grandmother

BUHL, July 2—An example that life can be fun, regardless of age, is Mrs. Alice Drake, nearly 85 years old, of Buhl and Twin Falls.

Mrs. Drake returned to her hobby of painting after a 30-year absence. Having had only two painting lessons in her life, Mrs. Drake laid aside her colors and brushes when her children were small and other duties were pressing.

After the death of her husband, she cared for her mother for several years. Then, instead of feeling that she was doing her duty, she began "just having fun."

"My children are all wonderful to me and I spend most of my time playing," Mrs. Drake says. Some of her play would sound more like work to others—for instance, she has crocheted a bedspread and two tablecloths in addition to innumerable smaller pieces.

Returns to Hobby After 30-Year Recess

Mrs. Alice Drake, 85-year-old Buhl and Twin Falls resident, tried her hand at painting on the back of a fence, which grows in the woods near Blue Mountain, Wash., after letting her artistic talent lie dormant for 30 years. She has utilized this talent to build up a collection of scenic works and still finds time for knitting, gardening and other hobbies. (Staff photo engraving)

Care of Your Children

The baby needs association with people, and in the early days of his life his mother is the closest one to him. It is she who talks to him; she who gives him his first impressions and people's attitudes toward him—give him his first lessons in language. Her voice, the words she uses, are going to set a feeling of happiness and content in his mind as well as a standard of speech and manners. Babies are intelligent people on whom experience should be based to work, and these first language experiences, these first associations with a grown person—are setting the way—important foundations in the child's mind. These first impressions are going to stay with him for a lifetime and the better chance they are the more helpful they will be.

All people are lonely, and that includes babies. They welcome their mother's presence, their smiles, the sound of their voices and they soon respond to them. They are quick to feel any change in her voice, the motherly attitude of their mothers, and respond accordingly. It is good practice to calm the mind, and pleasant to calm the mind, and pleasant to calm the mind, and pleasant to calm the mind.

A baby should be spoken to pleasantly, talked to cheerfully and happily, loved. The daily important thing is to talk to him. The baby loves a lulling sound, sing to him the nursery rhymes, teach him pat-a-cake and bye-bye, talk to him as to an understanding person. He is hearing what is said and registering it in his memory where, in good time, it is going to help him to talk well and to understand well what is being said to him.

For the greater part of a year the baby will not talk but if during those months he hears good speech, in forms of nursery rhymes, songs, brief prayers of childhood, he will be more likely to try to talk sooner and do it better than if he had not had these experiences.

We do not try to teach the little one to say these rhymes and songs and prayers. We keep saying them in his hearing. That will set a pattern for him and stimulate him to make the necessary effort to talk. Nature, aided slightly by his father, will take care of the rest.

It is best to speak clearly and profoundly words correctly in the baby's presence. Using baby talk will not help him to talk well. Nor is it wise to keep correcting or drilling a very young child in correct speech. Saying the word correctly once, and letting it go at that, is quite enough. Constant repetition, the use of words again and again, will do all the drilling that is necessary as he practices hour by hour. Just give him a good start.

Children who are bashful should not be teased; they should be handled with care. Dr. Fair gives some suggestions in his book, 'The Bashful Child'. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin to the 'Times-News', P. O. Box 6740, Station, New York 16, N. Y.

The Greatest Nation on Earth--- Its Condition and Requirements

BY SENATOR HARRY F. BYRD (DEMOCRAT OF VIRGINIA)

When I entered the senate on March 4, 1933, my first vote was for a bill to preserve the credit of the United States government. The national debt was about $20 billion and the tax amount $4 billion annually. This legislation was advocated by President Roosevelt, who then indicated concern for the solvency of our country. Within a few months alarm subsided. Our government then began an orgy of federal spending and waste which was interrupted after Mr. Truman came into office.

If tax receipts under the Taft-Hartley Budget for fiscal 1933 were as high as Truman taxes already collected, the total would be $330 billion for seven years. This is $46 billion more than the total of all taxes collected in all United States history from 1789 through Roosevelt.

This is bound to have been the greatest nation on earth. The system and institutions of the present have survived through the years. The nation which has undergone in these 20 years of its history the greatest change in its history is how much longer can it survive.

In 20 years a total of 25 per cent of our national income has gone into federal taxes collected from us (the current ratio is 28 per cent). Federal expenditures have been equal to 30 per cent of our national income; and in 30 years we have piled up federal debt which is twice as much as the assessed value of all real estate property in America.

It does not suffice to blame this entirely on war or depression. Taxes have been collected, the money has been spent, and the debt must be paid—whatever the purpose.

Actually, about half of these expenditures are charged directly to war, and the depression costs are added to that. The remainder has gone into the main for 100 new federal domestic spending programs and subsidies; for foreign aid; interest on the public debt; and for the cost of the government in 1931; civilian payoffs; federal grants to states and localities; loans to business; direct federal payments to individuals and others too numerous to mention.

There has been a startling increase in federal grants to states. In 1933 there were 18 federal programs of aid to the states totaling $100 million. In 1935 there are 46 programs of aid to the states with federal payments of $3 billion—12 times as much in dollars and more than twice as many programs. The total figures do not include direct payments to individuals within the states.

Through these programs the administration created the illusion that we are getting something for nothing. Actually it takes money from us, gives back less than it took, and, in the process, it exercises control over the state, localities, institutions and the lives of individuals.

In this period there has been a moral and fiscal deterioration represented by the value of our money and the epidemic of corruption which inevitably follows centralization of power and purse.

When the President submitted his budget in January he contemplated the 18th federal deficit in 21 years. Next year a new generation will come of age under debt-financed government. In the 20 years to date there have been 14 peacetime years, and in these 14 peacetime years we have had 12 deficits. The fighting in Korea is included in the war years. This so-called public action is costing about $8 billion to $10 billion a year, and the end is not in sight.

Our present federal taxation is crushing down upon individuals and industry. A member of the senate I have known for nearly 20 years. I am convinced that further tax increases, if imposed, will not only reach the confiscatory stage but will actually result in diminishing returns.

A constructive and non-political revision of our entire federal tax system would be an incentive to our progress and would safeguard the solvency of individuals upon which the government must rely for the high tax receipts essential to meet our future obligations.

In two of the three years the budget has been balanced, it was by inadvertence. It was not by economies.

I will give you a "Byrd's-eye view of the budget as officially compiled and that exhibitors in the 1935 and 1936 fairs will be mailed lists.

Year ending July 1, 1932	$ 2 billion
Year ending July 1, 1933	14 billion
Year ending July 1, 1934	14 billion
Total	$ 28 billion

These figures represent the present official planning. They are what is known as the three-year program.

If we cannot balance the budget now in this day of high prosperity, I ask you: When can we balance it?

Only a strong and very determined President who has the conviction that the foundation stone of democracy is the maintenance of the national credit, and a sound currency, can bring stability to our federal fiscal jungle.

When the President is a Democrat or a Republican, if he stands for this principle, American everywhere will rally to his support.

It seems to me the stage has been reached where we shall go over the brink if we do not turn around. There has been a great deal of time, one way or the other.

A series of great deficits will light the flame of inflation, and especially if the inflation spark is started on another front when the President exercises his God-given right personally to fix the wages of the steel employee, fix the price of steel, and then determine the issue of the closed shop. But let it not be disturbed, as all of this will be done in the public interest.

Deprivation of power such as that attempted in the steel strike is a capstone upon that power which is inherent in the breakdown of the legislative budget control and the federal expenditure of billions of dollars a year, along with that which is derived from scores of federal give-away programs which subsidize states, business, agriculture and individuals.

Centralized power and purse breeds a sinister political philosophy which means frugality, efficiency and integrity; which attaches no importance to waste, debt or immorality; which advocates indefinitely the political formula of "tax and tax, spend and spend, and elect and elect"; and which has no scruple against using public money to influence political elections.

You may not believe it, but for all the vast federal bureaucracy to which is entrusted so much of our freedom and treasure money, material or space.

It is no deliberate waste in a dreadful thing, and public waste is the most direct and elect and elect" and which has no scruple against using public money to influence political elections.

This nation is now cursed with waste in public administration to an unprecedented degree and unparalleled extent. It permeates the whole governmental structure. Scarcely any agency is free of it.

Waste is inherent in centralized power and purse, so also is corruption inherent in this triology of power and purse and waste.

I am firmly convinced that the venal conditions at Washington are directly attributable to the concentration there of power with the resulting waste which has reached such astronomical proportions in the last 20 years.

To my mind this venality is in three parts.

One part is the illegal and criminal. This is bad enough. But venalities attach and when the culprit are caught they can be tried and convicted.

The second part is worse. It involves those who within the law exploit public trust for private gain.

The third part of venality in the Washington administration is the worst of all. It is in the form of amorality. This sets in when we are so hardened by all that we observe around us that we are no longer able to distinguish the moral from the immoral.

When Newbold Morris arrived he was supposed to be the Hercules to cleanse the Augean stables at Washington, but he could not survive the political weather.

Those who take the position that venality in public office is proper unless it is illegal are the lowest form of political predators. Those who have peddled influence and favors in connection with government contracts and loans and other forms of favoritism, and still remain out of jail will never themselves be influenced by any code of ethics hanging on the wall.

As for our generation, we cannot hope to preserve our freedom, our liberty, our form of government, and the free enterprise system upon which all these depend, unless we restore integrity to government.

If a government without integrity is a government without confidence or respect.

Our free enterprise system is based upon confidence in fiscal soundness. Our system of government by law—not man—is based upon respect for the institutions which administer the law.

The newspapers, periodicals, and radio of this country themselves are dependent upon a cardinal freedom, and even if there were no other reason they would be bound to assume a position of leadership in the constant vigilance which must be maintained over the federal government to preserve the constitutional tenets under which we developed into a great nation, forming only God, not federal decrees.

For one, I appreciate the service which has been and is being rendered by the incomparable American press. But as I estimate the situation confronting us, newspapers like the rest of us have never before experienced such responsibilities. We must restore fiscal responsibility. We must restrain centralized power. We must recapture public integrity. Unless we do these things we cannot hope for strength to protect ourselves, much less halt the world from communist aggression.

The essence of freedom, under our American democracy lies in our system of checks and balances through a three-branch federal system. Beyond this, still other checks and balances are provided in our system of state and local government, which is closest to individual citizens from whom all governmental power and authority is derived. Our democracy has been given vitality by our system of competitive individual initiative, the greatest nation on earth. I stand for this system, with the absolute minimum of governmental shackles. Our four foundation stones are freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press and last but not least, freedom of opportunity to the individual under the competitive enterprise system.

There are those who believe that socialism can be turned on and off as if it were water flowing through a spigot, and there are those who profess to believe we can have a little socialism and remain free. For those who think "a little socialism" is a good thing, there is the British example, socialism and free enterprise cannot live under the same roof.

If I see it, the welfare state, about which we have been hearing so much in recent years, is that state of twilight in which the glow of democratic freedoms is fading beyond the horizon, leaving us to be swallowed in the darkness of socialism, or worse.

Mr. Truman says it is an insult to the intelligence of the American people to say this country is on the road to socialism. I submit that it is an insult to our intelligence to assume that we do not realize that adoption of the President's program will commit us irrevocably to a socialistic state, from which there can be no retreat.

If the President is against socialism, I ask him to answer these questions:

What is he continuing to pressurize congress to adopt socialized medicine?

If the President is against socialism, why is he advocating the Brannan plan, which inevitably means socialized agriculture?

If the President is opposed to socialism, why is he advocating another extension of socialized housing?

These three proposals alone would mean socialism of your health, your food, and the roof over your head. Many other trends to socialism could be cited.

If the President is opposed to socialism, why is he constantly advocating an extension of the number of those who receive payments from the Treasury of the United States? A population of government dependents is a socialized population.

Among the cardinal characteristics of socialism are government subsidies with controls, and government doles with regimentation. I am against these.

The American system, operating in the fullest freedom of democracy, stimulates individual initiative to the development and production of more of what we need, in peace or war, at a cost we can more easily afford from the earnings of our endeavor.

American newspapers need no fulfillment of the free enterprise system from me. It is the system which, in the relatively short span of 100 years, has brought us from the impotency of 17 un-united colonies to our present position of production of more of what we need, in peace or war, at a cost we can more easily afford from the earnings of our endeavor.

Challenging the socialists to offer a practical substitute for the American system's capacity to hold a Russian would aggression at bay.

Our free enterprise system, in the greatest detail in the world to insure aggression is our first line of defense. Our armies, navies, and air forces are the tools through which the strength of this system is applied in war.

The thing that is most inflated in America today is the federal government. Big government costs big money. Inflation is covetous and born in Washington. Only the federal government can spend in unlimited amounts. It alone determines the value of money and the extent of credit, because it alone is legally empowered to do so. A federal bond is a first mortgage on all the property owned by every American citizen.

Today conditions confront us such as we have never before experienced. We are faced with the threat of war and yet may continue for many years. All the world is looking to us for leadership, and money—especially the dollar.

There has never been a time when we should exercise greater wisdom in mapping our course. We should lighten our belt for the long, hard pull ahead. Until world conditions change it would be tragic if we did not maintain an adequate world military power. We must keep ahead of Russia in military invention and scientific progress. Our air force must be overwhelming. We must continue to control the seas. Our army must be adequate.

All of this I feel confident we can do but only if we require more efficiency and less waste in our public administration.

We must likewise do our share to arm our allies who are menaced as we are. Common prudence should compel us to husband our resources to meet whatever contingency the future may bring.

I do not concede that either democracy or free enterprise, or any other American freedom has run the course of its usefulness in the world. They have been worth fighting for in the past against both economic and military challenge, and I do not concede that they were any dearer to those who have fought and won before than they are to us today.

We must demand that short of total war our federal budget be balanced. We must not ask for "pat" federal appropriations but demand that the President and the congress keep the federal spending within the ability of the people to pay. Let us recognize that we cannot pyramid deficit after deficit on an existing federal debt of $70 billion and survive as a democracy.

Once the American dollar goes down, we will enter an age of international darkness. It is the only currency in which everybody everywhere in the world, has confidence.

Those who, willfully or otherwise, would destroy the American system would destroy the freedoms of people everywhere. Today, we alone are bearing the standard.

What nation can carry it if we fail? Without its light, freedom and progress would perish from the earth. We must not fail. Without American solvency there would be no deterrent to communism abroad. In the existing circumstances it is no exaggeration to say that there is literally nothing on earth more important than the preservation of the fiscal and moral integrity of the federal government of the United States of America, and the freedom upon which our Republic was founded.

Lattimore Is Labeled Part Of Red Drive

kins university professor who, as an IPR trustee and a former editor of the "Pacific Affairs" magazine, "Pacific Affairs" played a leading role in the investigation. He testified publicly for 12 days before the group.

Lattimore was arrested by the state department recently from traveling abroad on the basis of a false tip.

The department's investigation led Lattimore and Hilda H. Lattimore to the U.S. House of Representatives.

The committee said it believes Lattimore to have been "from some time beginning in the 1930's, a conscious, articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy."

It cited five specific instances wherein, it said, Lattimore testified "untruthfully" during his appearance before the committee.

These included Lattimore's testimony about his relations with the left-wing financial giant, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, with Chinese communist Chao-Shing Chi, with "Austrian" a German communist writer, and with John Hopkins university graduate student, Cateley Jones.

He also testified that he had met with Constantine Oumansky, Soviet ambassador to the United States in 1937, and that he had met with Joseph P. Kamp, a former investigator who seized IPR files in a barn in Lee, Mass. Public hearings began July 1.

The subcommittee rejected the claim of IPR officials that the organization was trying to put up scholarly, objective, and non-partisan facts about the far east.

Tour Hints at Boost in U. S. Blows in Air

SEOUL, Korea, July 2 (AP)—A delegation of American top-ranking air force officials toured air force installations in Korea Tuesday, touching off speculation here and more damaging air attacks are being readied against the communists.

The delegation was headed by Major General Curtis LeMay, chief of the 5th Air Force, and Major General Nathan F. Twining and Air Undersecretary Rowell L. Gilpatrick. Accompanying them were six major generals from the Pentagon.

Bases Inspected
They conferred with 8th Army Commander Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Lieut.-Gen. Otto T. Weibull, far east air forces commander, and Lieut.-Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, 5th air force commander. They visited both American and Australian bases.

The party declined to see the press in Tokyo or Seoul. Public information officers said only that the purpose of the visit was to "inspect far east air force installations in Japan, Korea, and Okinawa."

But the visit, coming only a week after the United Nations' disastrous raids on North Korea's hydro-electric complex, gave rise to speculation the generals discussed preparations for a stepped-up air offensive against the communists.

41 Planes Lost
Meanwhile, the air force disclosed the U. N. lost 41 planes to accidents or enemy gunfire in June. The navy lost 20 and the 8th air force 15. The 8th air force said F-80 Sabres—shot down—18—Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters and three propeller-driven red fighters while losing only one. Marine night fighters accounted for one more conventional red fighter.

Allied planes killed or wounded more than 1,000 communist ground troops, the air force said. The 8th army reported U. N. ground troops killed, wounded or captured 2,000 communist soldiers in the week ended June 28, of whom 1,536 were killed, 1,430 wounded and 33 captured.

Pilot Tells Story Of Landing Upon Peak of Mountain
HOOD RIVER, Ore., July 2 (AP)—Lieut. John Hodgkin, 43, Selma, Calif. army reserve pilot, told today how he set his light, ski-skiplane down on top of 12,500-foot Mt. Adams, second highest peak in the Pacific northwest. Hodgkin, who has a habit of landing on mountains, said he set down atop Mt. Adams, 20 miles north of here, at 11:30 a.m. Monday. He said he had no trouble despite 10 feet of snow on the mountain and after walking around for about half an hour he flew out again and returned here.

In April 1951, Hodgkin landed a plane on 14,000-foot Mt. Rainier in Washington state and was stranded overnight before getting the plane off. Hodgkin's latest mountain-top venture was arranged by a sulphur mining firm which wanted to see if miners could be flown to company holdings on Mt. Adams.

Licenses Lost by 8 Boise Taverns
BOISE, July 2 (AP)—Acting on complaints of the air police, the state law enforcement department Tuesday suspended the licenses of eight Boise taverns for five days for selling beer to underage airmen.

Commissioner Wayne Summers said they were the Buff club, Look-in-Bar, 4-X-Bar, Bar-X-Bar, B and B Lounge, Alibi club, Little Dutch Garden and 807 club. The department suspended the licenses of the Turf and Silver Dollar clubs for five days for the same reason last Friday.

Home Building in Idaho Declining
BOISE, July 2 (AP)—Large-scale home-building has dropped in all Idaho cities except Idaho Falls. J. T. R. McCorkle, manager of Associated Contractors of Idaho, said the big prediction is that home construction program would continue in Idaho Falls because of atomic energy commission activities and Palisades dam construction.

McCorkle said other Idaho cities are reaching a "saturation point" in home building.

Green Plant Bugs, Hoppers Cause Damage in Valley Area

Crop damage by green plant bugs and grasshoppers in Magic Valley has been reported to C. W. Daigh, Twin Falls county agent. Daigh declares the insects pose a serious problem unless prompt control measures are taken.

The green plant bugs are appearing in the Mullanugh, Rogerson, Cagleford, Roseworth and Thrus-Creek areas.

The grasshoppers, commonly known as the stink bug, is about one-half inch long, shaped like a shield and bright green in color. They cause serious injury to heads of wheat by destroying the developing kernels.

Spring burning of weeds and trash in infested fields and along weedy roadsides will reduce the numbers of the bug.

Recommended control measures include application of parathion which is toxic to all warm-blooded animals. The insecticide should be applied by aircraft and one to one and one-fourth pounds per acre is recommended.

Ground application of chlordane is safer to use. Recommended application is two pounds of the actual chlordane per acre.

Grasshoppers are damaging areas east of Mullanugh and southwest of Hollister, Daigh reports. It usually is necessary to use control measures against grasshoppers if 45 to 50 grasshoppers can be counted in one square yard.

Immediate application of about four ounces of dieldrin per acre is recommended to combat the grasshoppers, Daigh said.

Top Idaho Court Acts on 2 Cases In Bonner County
BOISE, July 2 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court Tuesday acted on two Bonner county cases—affirming the lower court decision in one and overruling the other.

The high court upheld a change of venue from Boise to Nez Perce county of the case brought by Leo V. Jarvis against Fred and Leslie Hamilton, Lewiston. The suit was filed in Bonner county seeking dissolution of a partnership and damages for breach of contract.

"Granting or refusing to grant a change of venue . . . is within the sound discretion of the trial court and will not be disturbed in the absence of manifest abuse of that discretion," Justice Darwin Thomas said. "We find that the trial court did not abuse its discretion."

A district court order refusing to modify a divorce decree to award custody of minor children to Mrs. Lucille Thurman was overruled by the high court. Mrs. Thurman had been granted custody of the children originally but the decree was later amended to give Roland Thurman custody. Mrs. Thurman has sought another amendment of the decree.
