In addition, $40,475 has been set aside for the airport; $47,570 for the water and sewer department.

The budget includes $100,000 for a contract with the salary increase for the majority of city employees; $12,000 for purchase of a new flushing truck; $10,000 for purchase of two new dump trucks for the street department, and $2,800 for the replacement of two city cars.

The commissioners will hold a public hearing on the general millage and the salary increase.

The tentative budget will be published twice to give taxpayers an opportunity to study it before the public hearing.

Truman Hint Aids Chance Of Stevenson

Man cooled off when the governor related to him the ball.

Now that Stevenson apparently has bowed to the inevitable, however, the President is ready to fight for him in the election campaign against the Republican's Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A source close to the White House explained the President's attitude this way:

"He wants a winner more than a friend."

But under present plans, Mr. Truman does not intend to do any overt pushing for Stevenson's nomination. He won't tell the other delegates how to vote. There will be no formal disclosure of his preference until his alternate delegates return from Missouri, Thomas J. Glavin, casts his half-ballot on the first roll call.

Even then, the Truman vote may not go to Stevenson but to Averell Harriman, New York, campaigning for the nomination on a 100 per cent fair deal program.

The best guess appears to be that Glavin will switch the President's vote to Stevenson on the second roll.

Divorces Are Denied Twins In T. F. Court

Divorces were denied by District Judge Kales E. Lowe in memoranda decisions filed Tuesday in county clerk Tuesday in divorces actions of Jonathan K. Aldritt against Mrs. Emma Aldritt, and Samuel David Aldritt against Mrs. Lillie May Durhan Aldritt. The husbands are twin brothers who married the same sister.

The women had asked separate maintenance. This also was denied by the court, although each wife was granted a $150 per month for her attorney, Max C. Lloyd. Property was left as provided in an earlier court order. Earl E. Walker represented the husbands.

In the case of Samuel against Lillie Mae, Judge Lowe pointed out that the husband had asked that she be allowed to keep house or failed to prepare meals enough to support the wife and children. The judge said there was no evidence that she stayed in bed all day, or that she refused to wash dishes.

Judge Lowe pointed out the evidence indicated she was subject to physical violence at her husband's hand. The court was uncertain if the wife was at fault in alleged name calling. Judge Lowe ruled the husband guilty of adultery after removing furniture from her home.

Judge Lowe agreed the parties had lived in harmony in their marital life, but he was unable to determine who was at fault. He concluded the husband was not entitled to a divorce, and the wife's suit for maintenance was dismissed.

He said causes of the difficulties were extreme youth and immaturity and it probably would have been better if the couple had not been married. In the case of Jonathan against Betty, Judge Lowe agreed their life together had been a stormy one, but said there was no proof of the wife's fault. He said acts of physical violence on the part of the wife were established by the evidence but

Standard Oil Company of California plans ahead to serve you better

Not too long ago, within the memory of living men, exploration for new petroleum resources in the West was in the matter of uncovering oil seeps or drilling in places that even now lack a reasonable chance of success. Although methods were primitive, the early Western fields were brought into production at a cost which nowadays would seem extremely low.

It's not so easy today. Most of the easily discovered oil fields have been developed and the latest oil fields are being developed in areas which are more difficult and expensive to produce, your demand has become greater. More and more of the good things in your life depend on petroleum for fuel, or lubrication, or their actual ingredients. To do the things in your life that you want to do, you need more and more of the good things in your life that you want to do, you need more and more of the good things in your life that you want to do.

found enough untapped petroleum to give the world the highest oil reserve in history—four times more than that of 30 years ago. Geological estimates show there are still 1000 billion barrels of unextracted oil in the earth. Standard does everything it can to make the most of the oil it has. It's a long, long way from the earth's surface to the gasolene in your car.

TRIBUTE TO DETWEILER

Claude Detweiler, a man who has contributed substantially to the business and civic development of Twin Falls, and one who has been militant and courageous in his support of free enterprise and fundamental Americanism, was given widespread recognition for his latest achievement, in the lead editorial of the Idaho Sunday Statesman.

We are sure everyone in Twin Falls and Magic Valley will be interested in what the Statesman had to say about one of our leading local citizens:

"During the hearings in Boise on the Oxbow project, another of the dams proposed by the Idaho Power Company, one of the most brazen bureaucratic acts of all was the attempt of a reclamation bureau attorney to bar the testimony of a responsible citizen, Claude Detweiler of Twin Falls, a widely-known, highly responsible business man as well as a fine citizen and an earnest supporter of the Oxbow project."

"Without discussing the merit of the Oxbow project or of public vs. private power, it is evidence of the extent to which the reclamation bureau will go in its long-planned program to rule the state of Idaho, that it has reached the point of excluding a citizen with dishonest cost estimates, with incorrect claims for their socialist projects, and we have come to expect these things as part of the reclamation program. Unlike the old days, when the reclamation bureau was basing claims through irrigation projects, this agency follows the orders of the Chapman and the Davidson and the other planners. Those orders are disregarded completely. But we admit our amazement when an agency representative comes to the town to bar the testimony of a resident of Idaho.

In this particular case, Mr. Detweiler, who has extensive business holdings and who is, therefore, a substantial taxpayer, has considerable experience with a public servant, whose salary he helps pay, who wants to deny him the American right of expression before a public body. He is a man who is supposedly representative of the United States government.

Had Mr. Detweiler accepted this situation, and had he backed away from the bureaucratic attorney, then it could have been pointed out that another phase in the plan to control the bureau would have started. Fortunately, Mr. Detweiler is made of sterner material, and his testimony went into the records.

He is to be congratulated, of course, for his insistence on a fair trial, and for his courage. It is known that he did not check, at least for the time being, what might very well be a definite plan of the reclamation bureau to silence those who do not approve of the bureau's plans and projects.

All good American blood will boil any time any servant of the business who do not know that he will control the right of free speech.

That is what might have happened right here in Boise: the Oxbow project, the reclamation program. The fact that it did not happen does not lessen the warning.

In addition to telling the people of the state what they should think (and what money in the process) there is now an indication that these same people will be told when they may speak.

The issue is far more important than electrical power.

In connection with the Oxbow testimony, there was one statement regarding Hells canyon dam that we believe describes this federal baby better than any other to date.

"They tell us Hells canyon will be used for flood control and for that you need an empty dam. They say it will be used for power, and for that you need a full dam."

"They're trying to be all things to all men."

And, we might add, control what all men say or think.

KOREAN AIR ASSAULTS

A year's trade negotiations with the communists, while they gave UN forces respite from full combat, decreased their military machine and improved the reds' position. We are now in process of trying to regain some, at least, of our former edge.

We are trying to cripple the source of the amplified military potential acquired by the communists under the cover of 12 months of "negotiation." Thus we bombed the Yalu river power plants, and more than saturated military targets around Pyongyang.

After both these ventures, protest was heard that they would upset the truce talks. But how can you upset nothing? For that is exactly what has been accomplished in the tedious negotiations, in spite of "paper gains" on some points.

In other words, while examination of the detailed status of the conferences would reveal numerous places where agreement was apparent, these records are meaningless. This is so because the reds have persistently balked at taking the really key steps to settlement. This is the name sort of tactics they employed on the Korean treaty.

But for our air offensive has never been suspended at any stage of the negotiations. If we tapered off, it was only because at times our air strength, was diminished. Today it is growing again, as evidenced by the Huns flight of Thunderbolts from this country to Japan for Korean duty.

General Collins, army chief of staff, sound of the right note on a tour of the Korean battlefields when he said that without an armistice, the communists can expect hard air attacks. If the reds want these assaults stopped, they can have it that way. All they have to do is sit down at Panmunjom and negotiate honestly and autonomously.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

CHICAGO—Frank F. McKimney is waving an ominous tally of 1948 election figures in the eyes of his political opponents. He says that they cannot defeat the Eisenhower-Nixon "crusade." "We" said that word six times in his account, which was published in the south in choosing candidates and pointing out a platform.

Although supported by Truman after the former Democratic National Chairman William Boyle had to quit because of shady HFG deals, McKimney's tally is really the door not to agree with Boyle's, and possibly Truman's view that while House Democrats have to be liberal, liberal and labor, serial, leftist, liberal and the "you never heard it so good" groups will not get the "Democrats" to vote for the "crusade" group.

By Tucker
 from Cleveland

ARGUMENT—The McKimney survey, made for him by party statisticians at Washington, may or may not force the Truman-Harmon-Humphrey faction to compromise on a civil rights plan, especially a civil rights bill.

McKimney may not succeed in dissipating their belief that the Byrd-Byrnes-George-Silvers dissenters are simply crying "agony" and "help" and that they are except in 1952 and 1948, the Truman agenda argue, they always have stuck with the party.

But McKimney's headwaters accounts have furnished him a formidable argument for "reappraisal" based on a state-by-state, county-by-county analysis of the 1948 presidential voting.

POPULAR—The McKimney result, which also may be a preview of Nov. 4 balloting, is all the more convincing because of leading Democrats' acknowledgment that the McKimney tally is the most popular in the south than the Dewey-Warren team of four years ago. Nobody called them "Tom" or "Earl" without regarding the slip of the tongue as "like-and-dislike" nomenclature will help everywhere.

"Ike" had more chances of carrying 6 or 10 southern states than Roosevelt in 1940 for several of the states in an area ruled on such great warriors as Lee, Jackson and Johnson. His views on foreign affairs were popular in the south, and his support of the "New Deal" without regarding the slip of the tongue as "like-and-dislike" nomenclature will help everywhere.

His views on foreign affairs were popular in the south, and his support of the "New Deal" without regarding the slip of the tongue as "like-and-dislike" nomenclature will help everywhere.

APPEAL—Recognizing these advantages, Eisenhower plans to make at least four major addresses in the south—tentatively in Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and North Carolina or Virginia.

It will not be the parading kind of stuff former GOP candidates have shipped southward. They will (1) outline the gains the south can make by embracing the New Deal, and (2) show how Truman's farmer-labor-racial coalition works against an industrializing and expiring south's permanent interests.

In pitching this appeal to Dixieland, of course, "Ike" must walk and talk warily. He cannot afford to antagonize northern elements which, by voting for Eisenhower, are helping to govern their state. He has directed those electorally dominant states into the Democratic column since 1932.

BYSTANDER—In view of this 1948-1952 scenario, McKimney's tally is a very good thing for the Dixie states and demanding some sort of a political deal—a Missouri compromise—with the south.

Four years ago, the Thurmond-Wright, states rights anti-Truman ticket carried four states and 39 electoral votes. McKimney's tally shows that the Dixie states and demanding some sort of a political deal—a Missouri compromise—with the south.

COMFORTING
 "Are you a good driver? Right off the bat, about 95 per cent of the drivers would admit, however modestly, that they are not good drivers. It is a little humbling thought."

James S. Baker, director of the Northwestern University traffic institute, has his ideas on the subject. He says the best type of driver is not a person of high intelligence. The best type is a person with a mental age of 10 or 12 years. That's what the men say.

He explains that the job of operating an automobile is not for one who is mentally keen.

Also, you an excellent driver or just mediocre?

ANYONE KNOW WHY?
 During a recent spell of bathing, one of our oldest cooking problems came up again. We hesitate to say anything to the Missus about it because she'll probably think we're awfully stupid, as if she doesn't already.

Who discovered all over again that beef fat isn't very good to use in frying eggs. They'll stick to the frying pan everytime. But beef fat is just fine.

Can any of you good constituents tell us WHY? Evertime we get trapped into frying an egg or two, we spend lots of time worrying about that little item. There must be a good reason for the difference.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

CHICAGO—Sen. Dick Nixon, California, the Republican nominee for the vice presidency, played an important part in the historic Alger Hiss expose but he did not break the case himself.

Robert Stripling, Nixon's director of the staff of the house committee on un-American activities, and thus for the staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Donald Appel, William A. Wheeler, and Lou Russell, the present chief investigator, were heated up detectives all day long.

The New York Herald-Tribune, discredited by its strong partiality to fellow-travelers in the writing of the Hiss case, and thus for the staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Donald Appel, William A. Wheeler, and Lou Russell, the present chief investigator, were heated up detectives all day long.

The Hiss case was not solved by detective work at all. Nevertheless, Nixon, Stripling and the others did use their heads and worked a few hours against the strong opposition of Harry Truman, a hidden force in the department of justice, and of a great deal of the eastern and midwestern newspaper press.

The Washington Post, ostensibly Republican, actually said Hiss was a victim of a change in public sentiment, suggesting that in some conditions the reason so plainly implied by the evidence and his conviction would be excusable. The Herald-Tribune repeatedly went out of its way to theorize in the direction of innocence of an unfortunate victim of circumstances.

Actually the Hiss case was broken by one of the attorneys for Hiss in a slender slip against Whitaker Chambers. During preliminary examination of Mrs. Chambers, this lawyer's treatment of this inoffensive farm woman was such that Chambers determined to release his documents.

The next time Chambers himself was on the stand for examination a Hiss lawyer asked whether he had any documentary proof. To the attorney's consternation, Chambers whipped out of his pocket copies of six state department documents Hiss had given him.

The department of justice pounded on those papers which would have exposed the fraudulence of Truman's repeated "red baiting" charges, and suppressed them.

Soon afterward, in a conversation with Chambers, Nixon and Stripling learned that he had all other documentary material. Nixon was showing off for a holiday cruise and left orders for Stripling to serve a subpoena on Chambers for any further material he had.

If Chambers had not been cooperative, the subpoena would have been a background of experience in case he easily dropped or hid their papers. He led Appel and Wheeler straight to the pumpkin patch in the dark of a winter evening, picked out a hollowed pumpkin with a flashlight and gave them the little bits of micro-film which exploded the case.

The irony of the whole expose was that Walter Winchell had the story in his hand 10 years earlier.

Isaac Don Levine, a real reporter with a background of experience in Russia in the past, took Chambers by the hand on a round of Washington trying to get someone to corroborate the story.

A. A. Berle, a pompous Harvard new dealer with a job in the state department, was one who heard the story, but all the department did was lock up some highly secret material called "magic" and transfer Berle to Brazil as ambassador.

Berle revealed long afterward that he began to explore case with the "magic" to keep it away from a "Jeg-man" employed by Drew Pearson who was leaking secrets into the newspapers. Levine then took Chambers to Winchell in Miami Beach.

Long afterward Winchell explained he reported the information to his command-in-chief, Roosevelt. Roosevelt was responsible for the mess and his trusted adviser, Felix Frankfurter, actually had put Hiss into the government in the first place.

Roosevelt's wife had done her utmost for years to punish all who exposed communism, and even after Hiss was convicted of betraying his country, she still defended him as an innocent man.

1000 in Area to Get Boost in Aid Check

Approximately 1,000 Valley families will receive higher social security benefits as a result of payments signed Friday by Truman, reports a Loyton T. Pugh, Twin Falls social security administrator.

Increased benefits will be included in September checks mailed in early October.

Beneficiaries should apply for the increase by August 15.

Young stevedores, social security administration officials pointed out, "if the law is not completed by the September check, the difference will be made up at a later date and nearly every family will receive increased payments."

Families will receive an increase of about $5 under terms of the new law. Some persons will receive as much as $100 additional monthly payments.

Under the new law, a beneficiary who has a month instead of two months to receive the increase will still receive the monthly amount until the increase is received.

Old age and survivors insurance benefits will receive monthly payments of $100 additional during the first year.

Beneficiaries who are self-employed people who originally applied for benefits in 1952 will be able to have their 1952 payments increased to 1953 amounts if they retire in 1953.

Beneficiaries will receive increased payments to self-employed persons to self-employed.

Idaho School Group Seans Funds Needs

MCCALL, July 22 (AP)—Money needs for vocational education and two new educational institutions were discussed by the state board of education here Monday.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Alton H. Jones, board secretary, said the board would make no final decisions on requests for state legislation until its next meeting.

Needs Outlined

Outlining vocational educational needs were Howard Steady, Lewiston; agriculture, Elmer McIntire, Boise, executive secretary of the State Federation of Labor, and Irving Gustaf, personnel manager for Trades-Papete Lumber company, Trades, and Mrs. Howard Meighen, Boise.

Representatives of the state school for the deaf and blind, Gooding, and the state industrial school, St. Anthony, also met with the board.

Colleges Discussed

Jones said the board discussed routine monthly matters at the abandoned Northern and Southern Idaho Colleges of Education, but did not take up the question of investigation of credits, first raised publicly at the board's meeting at Moscow last month.

A committee on recommendations on teacher certification met during the day. On it is President J. E. Buchanan of the Idaho Teachers' Association; Rose Barney, assistant state superintendent; Dean J. P. Weiland of the College of Education; and President Carl McKeon of Idaho State college, and Herb Steinhilb, head of the education department at USC.

The board was to hear other delegations and consider department matters today.

Potato Ad Budget Okayed by Panel

BOISE, July 22 (AP)—The Idaho advertising commission tentatively has approved a budget of $160,000 for the 1952-53 Idaho potato advertising campaign, David Brubaker, chairman of the commission, reported Monday.

The board also approved tentatively a budget of $5,500 for advertising Idaho onions this season, he said.

The potato advertising budget is "substantially more" than was spent last year, he said. The biggest part will be spent on newspaper advertising in about 64 cities, he added, the exact amount to be determined at a meeting of the commission next month.

The remainder will be allocated to display material, advertising in the publications and dealer service.

New Exhibit

SHOSHONE, July 22—A new division will be added to the exhibit possibilities of the Shoshone National Park and Art exhibit sponsored by the local PTA is being planned, said Mrs. Robert Burns as chairman.

The Civic club again will sponsor the flower show with Mrs. J. O. Freeman in charge. The exhibit will be under direction of Mrs. Ella Vredenburg and Mrs. E. E. McInnes.

Celebration at Irwin Thursday to Fete Fulfillment of Dream on Palisades Dam

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles on the Palisades dam project, the progress of the construction and the effect upon the area.)

IDAHO FALLS, July 22 (AP)—Users on the south fork of Snake river will celebrate Thursday the fulfillment of a 47-year-old dream. It is the dream of Palisades dam, Henry's fork century passed between the birth of that dream and the beginning of construction on the dam.

Palisades will mean water for irrigation, 7,700 a year when there is little runoff. It will mean a power plant with a capacity of 120,000 kilowatts, a safeguard against flood, a wildlife refuge and recreation area.

Estimated cost of the project is $74,001,000. Cost repayment schedule is (1) irrigation, $10,300,000; (2) power, $34,400,000; (3) flood control, $22,733,000; (4) wildlife and recreation, $6,568,000.

Farmers, ranchers and champions of reclamation and their families will welcome a great hope for the future Thursday with barbecue at the damsite near Irwin. There will be speeches and other festivities. Principal speaker will be Sen. Henry Dworshak, R-Id.

It was in 1905 that the project, now flowing on Snake river at the picturesque confluence of the Targuine and Caribou national rivers, was conceived.

Plans for a reservoir on the south fork were made at Swan valley, a few miles downstream from the dam site. Plans called for a storage site for the Kingston lock. The cheaper facilities at Jackson Lake, 20, saw the Swan valley abandoned.

"The exceptionally dry year of 1910 caused farmers to raise their voices for additional storage on the Snake upstream from Idaho Falls. A survey was made by the bureau of reclamation, again at Swan valley, but the site was rejected in favor of Americans Falls.

Top Court Asked To Back Masters In Election Row

BOISE, July 22 (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Roy E. Small has asked the state supreme court Monday to uphold Secretary of State Ira Master's rejection of Mrs. Ruth Moon's nomination for Idaho state treasurer.

He filed the state's brief, asking that the court quash the alternative writ of mandamus granted by the Boise court Friday. It would require Masters to put Mrs. Moon's name on the Aug. 12 Democratic primary ballot and make a general election for the office in November.

The court will hear arguments in the case Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Moon's attorney, J. W. McInnes, filed his brief in Boise Monday. He said the writ of mandamus was issued in March to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Moon's term, January, 1952, and therefore no vacancy exists.

U. S. Capital Plays Host to Ferie Objects

PLBERS (AP) (By P. O.)

Feriem, then flying at normal operating speed of 160 to 200 miles per hour, reported the objects were traveling with "momentous vertical speed" moving rapidly up and down, and they suddenly changing pace until they seemed to hang motionless in the sky.

Officials said Feriem made only a routine report of the incident and did not specifically say he saw were flying saucers.

The eight objects picked up by air force radar were said to be traveling at slightly more than 100 mph.

The airport traffic control center said the other airer, Capital-National Air Lines flight 610, reported observing a light following it from Herndon, Va., within four miles of National airport.

"This information has been relayed to the proper air force units and the air force is now investigating the matter," the announcement said.

The air force said it is receiving living saucer reports this summer at a rate higher than at any time since the initial flood of sightings in 1947.

An air force spokesman said that while 1947 was the big year for such reports, the current average of 100 sightings a month is the largest since then, with the November-December period of 1948 now the highest.

No correlation of sighting reports to seasons.

"Ike," Nixon To Confer on '52 Campaign

DENVER, July 21 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his GOP vice-presidential "mate," Sen. Richard M. Nixon, California, will discuss campaign plans Sunday at the general's vacation haven in the Colorado Rockies.

It will be their first get-together since they were elected briefly in Chicago after the Republican national convention.

During the season, an adviser to Eisenhower at his headquarters here, announced today that Nixon was traveling to Denver Saturday.

To See "Ike"

Sunday will see more than 75 ranches west to the secluded cattle ranch near Fraser, Colo., where Eisenhower has been vacationing since last Thursday. Nixon will fly Monday from Denver to Los Angeles for a brief rest in his home state before heading to Columbus, O., to address the Ohio Republicans on election July 31.

Keen as celebrant, the adjutant general of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Julian Dickenson, announced Sunday he will make his first major campaign speech before the VFW national convention opening Aug. 3.

Will Receive Award

Eisenhower also will receive the VFW's Bernard Baruch award given last Sunday in Columbus, O. The judges say he has contributed the most toward fostering unity and good will among peoples of the world.

Eisenhower aides said the general and Nixon will talk over various aspects of the fall campaign, including the role of the 38-year-old California senator will play.

Eisenhower will confer at the ranch Wednesday with three key advisers, Sen. James H. Duff, Pennsylvania; Dwight Case, GOP national committee man from Oregon, and Gov. Dan Thornton, Colorado.

They arrived in Denver Monday and told a news conference "Ike will lick anyone" the Democrats nominate for President.

Warning Voiced On Spreading of Disease of Stock

POCATELLO, July 22 (AP)—"It would be possible for deer and other wild animals of the horse variety in Idaho to contract hoof and mouth disease. And if such a thing occurred, it would be extremely difficult to control."

That was the opinion of W. L. Boyd, president of the American Veterinary Medical association at the Spokane Monday during the first session of the annual summer convention of the Idaho State and Veterinary Medical association.

Boyd said every effort was being made to see that hoof and mouth disease among Idaho wild animals does not occur.

He pointed out that trained veterinarians are being sent, as the ranks of veterinarians in this country are continually thinning out. Americans are being asked to go abroad to take animal diseases under United Nations and U. S. state department program.

Boyd said veterinarian schools should be careful in choosing their students because of the expense involved in training them. He said the two nearest schools are at Washington State college and Colorado A and M. He disclosed that during the last winter, seven schools have been established to fill the demand for veterinarians. But even so, he said, it will be 20 years before there will be enough of them.

Residents of Paul Report Activities

PAUL, July 22—Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hamblin and family have returned Sunday from Yellowstone national park.

Mrs. and Mrs. Keith Merrill, Jr. are attending the agriculture convention at Boise.

Mrs. R. A. Belville and son, "Sheik," are visiting her sister, Mrs. Bauer.

Mrs. Oliver Ludwig and children were delegates to the Farmers' Union convention in Denver last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hardin, Sheridan, will leave Sunday for Moose Lake, Wis., to visit his brother, Robert Hardin, and family.

He Knew!

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP)—C. H. Heyer, Nampa, Ida., had registered for 10 years his daughter's plans to move to Los Angeles.

Every time Mrs. Leon Jacobs of nearby Belflower suggested the move, the 50-year-old Heyer refused. "He'd heard about California's earthquakes and didn't want to come," Mrs. Heyer said Monday. "But last week we finally talked him into it."

Heyer arrived at midnight Monday. He retired and, a few hours later—earthquake!

"Take me back to Nampa," was all Heyer would say.

Confused Delegate Tops State Group Oddities at Convention

CHICAGO, July 22 (Special)—"Everybody gets confused at conventions, but Idaho's delegation came up with some oddities Monday."

One of the more elderly delegate delegates was talking to state chairman Gilbert Larsen, Peoria, during the crowded lobby of the Congress hotel which serves as headquarters for the Gem state Democrats. Under the name of "Larsen" was talking to the new national committeeman, Harry Wall, the old-timer told Larsen.

"I think you're all right, but I sure hope we can get rid of that guy Larsen and get a good man in as state chairman."

Unfazed, Larsen patted the man on the shoulder and reassured him: "Don't worry, I hear he's not getting any older."

Dan R. Hoopes, delegate from Idaho Falls, claims he for Averill Harriman because the millionaire candidate "built" the railroad 1 ship way west of here.

Hoopes said young Averill actually had a hand in building the Astoria-Victor line of the U.S. working as a member of the survey crew.

PERLHARD, Ore., July 22 (AP)—The west coast lumber industry has agreed to sell the majority of its timberland to the federal government.

The agreement, which was reached after a long and bitter struggle, will provide for the sale of about 10 million acres of timberland to the federal government over a period of 10 years.

The sale would be made at a price of $10 per acre, plus the cost of the timber on the land.

The agreement was reached after a long and bitter struggle between the lumber industry and the federal government.

U. S. WINS FOUR OLYMPIC FIRSTS; USSR LEADS IN TOTAL POINTS

Americans Dominate Track, Field Events, but Trail Soviets 133 1/2-72 in Score

HELSINKI, July 22 (AP)—The United States captured four Olympic gold medals in track and field Monday but Russia increased its leading point total by winning four gold medals in gymnastics.

Uncle Sam's track stars shone brightly as little Italy Remigino scored an astonishing photo-finish victory in the 100 meters. The U. S. also reaped a grand slam in the shot put. But the American forces had to take a back seat to the Soviet Union in the unofficial point standings.

By virtue of their four gold medals in gymnastics, Russia increased its point total to 133 1/2, 72 for the United States. None of the other nations are close to these two powers.

Indian Farm Hand Defends Bonus System

By BILL PERGUSON

ATLANTA, July 22 (AP)—Billy Joe Davidson, who got more money for linking a Cleveland Indians contract than Bobby Feller got in his best season, said today that a tight rule on bonus players will hurt the major league's top teams.

The teams that figure in the pennants are the ones that put out the money," said the high school pitching sensation, who is now trying to master class B hitters and pitches the ones that are going to suffer under any kind of draft system.

Major league club owners have been doling out bonuses for years, eliminating them for new players by setting up a draft system similar to the one used in pro football. But although Billy is a little backward about saying so, he doesn't like it.

"I don't want to get involved in this thing, but it looks like the teams that put out the money should be the ones that get the cream of the crop," said the North Carolina southpaw.

Billy Joe is undoubtedly the cream of the bonus crop, he got a reported $150,000—for signing a Cleveland contract, and right now the Indians are waiting for him to settle.

The 19-year-old fastballer has a record of eight victories and seven setbacks this season with the Spartanburg, S. C., franchise in the class B South State league, and although that is not a miraculous pace, the Indians still have faith in their huge investment.

"I never heard a pretty good start the other day. He fanned 11," said Indian president Hank Greenberg. "But we want him to finish a whole season down there before we decide to do anything with him."

Billy Joe, who brought the major league waves to his door with his spectacular pitching at Marion, N. C. high school, is also satisfied to hide his true self.

"They want to let me get a full season in the minors and then all for it. It seems to help a lot. I don't think anything is wrong with my pitching, but some days I seem to have my speed and other days I don't. It sure is funny."

The lanky Indian prospect didn't exactly burn up the minors in his first year; he won four and lost eight in the class C Western association, but the Indians had faith enough in Billy Joe to sign him up only two days after he graduated from high school.

"I figure in the long run that bonuses are all right, at least mine was."

U. S. Expects To Win Two Events Today

HELSINKI, July 22 (AP)—After Monday's grand day of four first places in Olympic track and field competition, the U. S. may have to settle for two victories Tuesday.

The American pole vault trio of Bob Richards, Don Lutz and George Patton are expected to produce another gold medal winner with the Rev. Mr. Richards the likely choice. This event is being held in the American Olympic games and 1952 should see the monopoly intact. The American shot put team of Bill Richards, Don Lutz and George Patton are expected to produce another gold medal winner with the Rev. Mr. Richards the likely choice.

The Olympic record of 4.33 meters (14 feet 4 inches) is in danger. Yet, on the basis of the qualifying heats an upset could occur. The field is so good the perfect white field could be forced to run well under the Olympic record of 1:49.2 which is held in London in 1948.

Defending discus champion Adolfo Consalvi, Italy, must rate the favorite to repeat. "He's a great competitor and an excellent form this year. Any of the Americans, particularly Jim Innes, may upset him. Consalvi is in excellent form this year. Any of the Americans, particularly Jim Innes, may upset him.

Too Much!

PITTSBURGH, July 22 (AP)—Chick Davis deserted college basketball at Duquesne in 1948 for the relative obscurity of Homestead, Pa., high school because, among other things, his stomach rebelled.

In 60 days I intended 60 hamburgers," recalled the veteran coach. "The roast beef and peas were coming out of my ears."

Yanks Roll to 18-6 Victory Over Electrics

GREAT FALLS, July 22 (AP)—Boise rolled over Great Falls 18-6 Monday night in a Pioneer league power contest in which all but one of the Yanks collected at least one hit.

Frank Cimrme pitched the victory, his 11th of the season, and aided in the batting column with two hits, scoring four runs. Lou Vilous was the big Boise gun, however, slugging out two home runs and accounting for six runs batted in.

Vilous potted out one round-tripper in the first with Manager Wayne Tucker and Bob Martyn on ahead of him, and then led off the inning with another four-bagger. That was the big Boise frame, seven runs racing home.

Three Great Falls pitchers tried to stem the onslaught, but their efforts gained nothing while the Yanks pummeled them for 10 hits. The Electrics scored once in the fourth, three times in the fifth and twice in the ninth, while the Yanks padded themselves with three in the first, two in the second, the big third, one each in the fourth and seventh and four more in a ninth-inning spree.

Yankee home catcher, who is the only Yank who failed to get a hit, was Ed Williams. He had a single in the first, a double in the second, a triple in the third, a home run in the fourth, a double in the fifth, a single in the sixth, a double in the seventh, a single in the eighth, and a double in the ninth.

Bannocks Lick Ogden 13-3 on Power Blasts

POCATELLO, July 22 (AP)—Bannocks retired the first 17 batters to face him at the Pocatello Coliseum Monday night.

Honors did much to bring around the Bannock victory, Steve Hill sent one zooming out of reach in the sixth, with Jack Salinger, Willie Tashy and Howard Keefe on base. The Bannocks pummed six runs across in that frame.

Salinger got a four-bagger in the fifth with none on.

Everybody in the Bannock lineup except Giovannianni managed to get at least one hit off the pitcher of Dellinger and Wells. Hill set the pace with three hits and five runs batted in.

Mustangs Pummel Morones in 11-3 Win Over Cowboys

BILLINGS, July 22 (AP)—The Billings Mustangs rapped out five runs in the bottom of the seventh inning Monday night to put the quietus on a pitching duel between Olaf Nelson and Bill Morones, then went on to mark up an 11-3 win over the Magic Valley Cowboys.

The Cowboys had a 1-0 lead in the fourth but Billings made it all-swept in the sixth, but the Cowboys came back in the seventh to tie it up again. Nelson was chased in favor of Nick Genetta who finished the contest.

In the seventh Manuel LaCosta started things that wound up the frame with the run for the Mustangs. He singled to left and promptly stole second. Dick Stuart followed with another two-bagger to score Nelson.

Frank Van Burkle singled after Gene Corso walked and drove in Barone. Ernie Garcia filed out and Corso scored with the fifth run of the inning.

The Mustangs got three more runs in the eighth on four hits and two Magic Valley errors.

The Cowboys marked up a run in the fourth on a hit and a walk. They tied the game in the seventh with one out. Nelson walked Joe Felton, Ed Buzek and Bernie Saknani to load the bases. Genetta then struck out Ernie Parsons, but Bill Keather tagged him for a hit that scored two runners.
