Salon Thinks Bitter Santa Margarita Watershed Row 'on Verge' of Ending

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Rep. Sammie W. Vesty, D., Calif., said he thinks the government is on the verge of dropping its suit against 14,000 water users in the Santa Margarita watershed in California.

Vesty said he believes a settlement in the so-called Fallbrook water case may be reached at a conference he is to convene on Sept. 10. The meeting between the growers and the water agency, it is believed, will be the first of a series to bar any federal prosecution of the Fallbrook case.

A new department spokesman said however that if a legal way can be found, the navy will continue to press the case. He said that while one section of the appropriation bill forbids use of public department funds to prosecute the case, another section allows the navy to sue the United States over water rights and gives the government authority to defend itself.

The government is a defendant in the case as well as a plaintiff because one property owner filed a cross-claim claiming the navy is entitled to pay water for the land he had been receiving under a previous agreement.

It was understood that the government claims to have reached verbal agreements with owners of 70 of the 300 parcels of land involved, settling out the amount of water they would receive if the court rules in favor of the government.

Subsequently, Controller General L. V. C. Weir ruled the intent of Congress by attaching the rider to the appropriation bill as a means of settling with the government.

OUR EXPENSIVE PROSPERITY

Just how long is this country going to be able to afford its present prosperity? That's a paradoxical question, to be sure, but to assume that all this so-called "prosperity" isn't costing us anything would be a serious mistake.

An editorial in the September issue of all McGraw-Hill publications suggests an answer to that very question. We're not going to enjoy this prosperity very long, it says, "if we continue to try to maintain it with new injections of inflationary federal expenditures."

It is true as a nation, we now enjoy great prosperity—though not nearly so great as the advertising folks of it would suggest. But the prosperity we enjoy is precarious.

This is primarily because it is dependent upon a rising volume of expenditures by the federal government. At present, almost one quarter of our entire national income is ladled out through Washington, and in an ever increasing amount.

As matters now stand, federal expenditures were to be suddenly and sharply cut, our government-financed prosperity would be severely upset. But if the federal government were to try to keep right on providing prosperity by steadily increasing its expenditures, the end result would be more certainly disastrous.

The editorial says two steps are involved in putting a firm foundation under our prosperity: (1) Stop the continuous increase in federal expenditures. (2) Substitute expanding private business for government-financed business.

The expenditures can be reduced, it argues, by eliminating the outlay on the defense arrangements and cutting those civilian activities which cannot be justified at the same time we are undertaking a great new load of defense preparation against armed Communist aggression.

The problem of substituting private business expansion for government business, the editorial reasons, is primarily that of relieving private business of the staggering load of federal taxation it is now carrying.

"Federal taxation now takes 62 per cent of all corporate profits and 82 per cent of all so-called excess profits," it points out. "If private business is to have a chance to play its financial role as a substitute for government-financed business, its taxes must be cut, and soon."

SUNDOWN FOR TRUMAN The Truman-Stevenson meeting at the White House was a dramatic episode, slightly tinged with tragedy, although that may be too strong a term to apply to the disillusionment of a man like Truman.

Truman finally sensed that his day of glory and power and prestige has reached the sundown hour. When, characteristically, he stepped out ahead of Stevenson as they left the White House, the irreverent photographers, having a sense of news and political values, clamored:

"Hey, Mister President, let the governor catch up to you!" The correspondents, too, were more intent on observing the new leader, trying to discern from his face and manner the results of his luncheon conference with Truman and the briefing cabinet.

TRUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON (General Eisenhower's) chances of November victory may fall off the sherry and prominently next week-end when the agricultural program before the 100th House conference families at the Minnesota convention and plowing exhibition it is a lot impossible to exaggerate the political support of this event. It is the area between the Minneapolis and the Truckee.

On some Stevenson of that nature to attend because of a misapprehension over arguments for his support and he might address was cut off him it was not "fatal" but it was a face-to-face debate before the time for the farm vote before an audience that represents the entire, or, in this instance, the "best" and "best" stock.

The Minnesota affair is not a mere local celebration. It is a test of the carrots from nearby states, actual intent on learning new in "how of improve the land" by word of mouth, their importation of the two candidates' speeches. It is a political battle along the agricultural sector.

UNDERCURRENT—Neither Stevenson nor Eisenhower has given his views yet on many controversial subjects. He is silent on the subject of alternative levels, price supports and controls, government purchasing and export plans. Both men are question marks to the producers of the nation's food.

Stevenson can win the presidency without a single electoral vote from these farm states, if he holds the southern and border states, and noses ahead in the northeastern and Pacific coast states. Membership in the middle is not essential, him for a majority in the electoral college, where even a one-vote margin is enough to elect.

CRITICAL—The Minnesota debate in the remote heart of Dodge County, Wisconsin will be a critical for "Ike" than for Adlai. Now, if ever, Eisenhower must hit hard and tear up his plaudits, sweetness-and-light homilies. Stevenson can win the presidency without a single electoral vote from these farm states, if he holds the southern and border states, and noses ahead in the northeastern and Pacific coast states.

COMPUTATION—The 11 farm states in the middle basin have a total of 140 electoral votes. Included in this area for the purpose of this computation are Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

Even if "Ike" carries these 140 electoral ballots, he will lose the White House if he does not have to carry such doubtful commonwealths as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California. With Republican Maine and Vermont, this would give him 273, or seven more than he needs for election.

D-DAY—"Ike's" theoreticians at Washington are penciling prospects that he may pick up the 56 electoral votes of disaffected Democrats in California, Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Virginia. He can use them, but they hardly can be counted as solid, political assets in any sensible assessment.

Stevenson's political future election lies in the normally Republican middle belt. Besides winning the farmers, he also must combat the supposed apathy of T-3 sympathizers and the Chicago Tribune's demand for formation of a new American party. So, for him, next Saturday is D-day.

IMPORANCE—An incident in the 1948 campaign campaign that the importance of this falls. Dr. B. J. Palmer, Des Moines, conducts an annual plowing match similar to the Minnesota affair. Approximately 100,000 farmers, their wives and children show up, and it is one of the big events of the year.

Dr. Palmer invited Mr. Truman and Dewey to be present. The President took the trouble to get there, made a short, "homey" talk and sold himself to the crowd. Dewey was too busy to acknowledge the invitation.

Subsequently, when Dr. Palmer, an anti-Truman Republican, visited the White House, the President attributed his winning Iowa, Illinois and Ohio to his presence at the Palmer plowing match. Truman carried those three states by only 6800 votes each, and it is one of the big events of the year.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Both presidential candidates took advantage of the hospitality of the American Legion last night to smear McCarthy and Stevenson with the smear technique. General Eisenhower's comments sounded to me as though he did not really know, first, that McCarthy had said he'd been put up a smear-job by a liberal benefactor, and second, that it was a good way to catch some pink voters in New York.

Ike and Dick Nixon both plan to be friendly to who can be looked around with impunity they will find out that McCarthy is by no means a Communist, but they should be above resent to the very troops which they prepared in pulling such small, pompous snoots at Joe.

Nixon accepts credit for all the great anti-Communist work done by the Dies and the Thomas committees of the house long before he was elected to the very troops which they prepared in pulling such small, pompous snoots at Joe.

Stevenson's attack on McCarthy was a defense of his own conduct and associations and an excuse for the criminal complacency of the regime he served in Washington. He is a chicken-chester swash-buckler with a wooden sword "defending" Gen. George Marshall against McCarthy's justified aspersions on his stupidity and servility.

Stevenson was one of those who could work along with Alger Hiss without suspecting him and therefore gave him a good "character" when he was accused.

He also served with and under Robert Patterson, and was a consistent, aggressive pro-Communist in the war department and summed up his pro-Communist attitude when he said all he knew about the Communist Abraham Lincoln brigade was that its members were brave enemies of anti-fascism.

He was a liar by the book because he had absolute knowledge that this thing was a Soviet military force organized in New York, with the consent of the administration of which he was a part, in violation of our laws.

Stevenson found this pro-Communist atmosphere salubrious during his service in the red bureaucracy of the Roosevelt-Truman regime. Don't ask me how such men as Patterson and Stevenson and such

After leaving Marshall's grave, long guilt, all power and some of it, disapproved by it. Nixon or Steven, in Joe said in the senate speech which has been shown to have been to his hurt.

It is up to the plinks to explain why they never fight such enemies of their country but never speak a word of it. It is up to the plinks to explain why they never fight such enemies of their country but never speak a word of it.

It is a strange, baffling thing that General Eisenhower who has finally learned the truth that was so alarmingly plain to all anti Reds from the early days of the Roosevelt era, and Nixon, a man who can concentrate to attack not on the revelers but on the man who has done more to bring down the traitors.

McCarthy should not be an issue in this present social campaign. He is a Republican of impeccable integrity and his analysis of Marshall's conduct was objective, precise and truthful.

Even Eisenhower, who served as Marshall's subordinate and owes him much, could not come out with a "Peep" challenge on one single allegation of fact. "Ike" dealt together in generalities which is the very charge that he and the rest of the anti-anti-Communist have been collecting at McCarthy all this time.

If "Ike" makes the proposition that a vote for him is a vote of confidence in George Marshall he introduces a new factor into the campaign. In that case he will have to defend Marshall on his record. He had better not try this because Marshall was a poor soldier with troops, a flunko and so stupid that he couldn't be persuaded to give a thought to the political balance and the division of conquered area between Russia and the west after the victory of arms.

"Ike" has insisted that he had no authority in the political decisions which have now made necessary the appalling task of re-arming this country and working up a belly for a fight in western Europe. He admits that the decisions were bad, but that they were made by higher authority.

Who, then, was the highest authority? Roosevelt, Hopkins and George Marshall shared that authority and McCarthy is absolutely right in branding Marshall, whether "Ike" likes it or not.

A great handicap of our people is that we simply do not learn or remember more than a few weeks the details of such historical developments as the Marshall plan. Not one in 100 today would be able to describe it beyond saying it was a system of American gifts to shattered countries to help them help themselves.

That isn't even a kernel of the plan which was unbelievably corrupt, wasteful and vindictive, as in the treatment of Spain in reward for her rescue of a mass of hooligans from Berlin. It was the only thing that all the way to his nose in Marshall.

Gooding Trips Preston 14-0 In Grid Opener

GOODING, Sept. 2.—Gooding high school's Senator capped sustained drives of 70 and 80 yards with one-quarter touchdowns to defeat Preston here Monday night.

Larry Fields skirted end to nine yards and six points after the Senators had worked the ball down into Preston territory from their own 30.

A few minutes later a Kenneth Ollie to Johnny Stinson passed covered the last 22-yards of a drive which originated on the Senator 40 to complete the game's scoring.

In the final quarter the Senators threatened again, only to lose the pigskin on a fumble on the Preston 10.

The visitors came back with a 60-yard thrust which bogged down and failed deep in Senator territory, the ball changing hands on the lawmakers' one-foot line.

Kimberly Edges Past Filer By Skin of Toe, 25 to 24

KIMBERLY, Sept. 2.—Both teams finished mid-season form here Monday as Kimberly squeaked past Filer 25 to 24, the margin riding on the goal line of Teddy Filer, who kicked the nine extra points after scoring the game's first touchdown.

Matthews KO's Lowry in 5th

BOISE, Sept. 2.—Harry Matthews, 77, Seattle, mounted a devastating body attack to knock out Tiger Ted Lowry, 170, New Bedford, Mass., in 36 seconds of the fifth round Monday night.

A crowd of about 1,000 watched Idaho-born Matthews in his first fight back to his boxing since his loss last month to Rocky Marciano.

It was the first time in more than 100 fights that Lowry had been counted out.

"It was the body blows that did the job," Matthews said immediately after the fight.

The Seattle slugger concentrated almost entirely upon Lowry's midriff in the first four rounds, and had Lowry away at a right uppercut.

Lowry pushed across the ring to Matthews' corner to open the fifth. Matthews calmly punched his gloves in Lowry's stomach a couple times and the restater doubled up. Matthews landed a right uppercut and Lowry slumped to the canvas.

Every Local Hits As Bob Shaffer Quells Yankees

Punchless at the crucial times in the afternoon game, Magic Valley Cowboys exploded for 19 hits to prevail over Bob Shaffer's Yankees 12-3 in Monday night's best local game.

The Vanks led off with Spike Wyatt's double and Mike Wood's single for a marker in the first.

The Cowboys roared back with five hits for four runs in the bottom of the frame, helped along by two Boole buggies. The crowd at Joyce park hoisted official scorer Ernie Hoff when the inning sagged continued only two miscues.

Hoff had scored infelix chapters on Teddy Toles' and Joe Prinsins' boulders as hits, his decision based largely on the slippery condition of the overly wet-down field.

Toles' bounce went over pitcher Ron Goode's head. Shortstop Gil Trejo fiddled the slippery spher with his bare hands just behind the pitcher's box, but dropped it on what would have been a difficult play had it worked. Peatos hit into a double play which erased Toles' Prinsins bouncer in second baseman Spike Wyatt, who nearly fell fielding the back just behind the pitcher's box, which bounced away from him.

Sobczak slapped one to Woody Hill at third, and when Hill dropped the grounder, an error was charged. Don Huback singled to left center, scoring Prinsins, and Sobczak galloped home on Kahler's single.

Both runners scored when Goode uncorked a wild pitch and catcher Mike Wood overthrew the plate trying to get Huback.

The Cowboys continued to pour the wood to the ball in the second, scoring three runs on Shaffer's charged. Don Huback singled to left center, scoring Prinsins, and Sobczak galloped home on Kahler's single.

Both runners scored when Goode uncorked a wild pitch and catcher Mike Wood overthrew the plate trying to get Huback.

Production of Beef Gaining; Report Shows

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Beef production is on the way up, according to a report today that U. S. beef production is well ahead of last year's, which saw the lowest supply in eight years and is continuing to rise.

The agriculture department reported today that U. S. beef production is well ahead of last year's, which saw the lowest supply in eight years and is continuing to rise.

Another indication of a small price break on beef this fall and next year was the lifting of the six-year embargo on Mexican cattle.

Joint Announcement

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan and President Miguel Aleman, Mexico, announced jointly yesterday that foot and mouth disease among Mexican cattle has been eliminated and that henceforth such cattle can be sold in this country.

Agriculture department officials estimated that about 500,000 head of five Mexican cattle will be imported into this country in the next year, adding to the big U. S. supply.

Choice Meat Gains

A large share of the increased U. S. beef production is in the kind of cattle that ends up as prime and choice cuts in meat markets. The department said 13 per cent more cattle were being fattened with corn in midwest feed lots on July 1 than a year earlier. It added that the number of corn-fed cattle may be the largest on record this winter.

Total meat production this year is already five per cent over last year and the trend is expected to continue. The gain from now on will be made up "almost entirely of beef," the department said.

Production of pork will be smaller resulting from a nine per cent cut in farmers' pig production last fall when feed prices were high and pork prices low. Lamb production will be "at most, only a little larger," the department said.

Brannan Raps GOP Aid View

VINTON, Ia., Sept. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan asserted Monday that "a basic conflict in the philosophy of the farm price support program is the crux of the political campaign this year, the same as it was four years ago."

Brannan declared that regardless of what Republicans may say, their platform "shows clearly that they don't want to move forward toward equality for farmers."

The secretary made his remarks in an address at a sweet corn festival in this northeast Iowa home town of his frequent adversary, President Allan Kilhe of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Brannan was silent Monday on his controversial 1949 proposal to permit prices of perishable foods to drop to lower levels with farmers to be reimbursed by government payments. The plan was an issue in 1950 elections in the farm states.
