Memos From Six Counties To Hear Alabama Senator Speak Here Monday Night

Memos from six counties will attend a public meeting in the American Legion hall, hear an address by Sen. Lester Hill, Alabama Democrat.

Sen. Hill will be in the Legion hall at 8:30 p. m. A banquet will be held in the Legion hall, which is sponsored by the party county central committees of Blaine, Lincoln, Jerome, Twin Falls, Cassia and Minidoka.

When Senator Hill speaks he will be establishing two firsts—the first and only Idaho appearance and the Democratic party's first major rally in Twin Falls during the 1952 campaign. A second rally is planned for a later date.

W. H. Jensen, candidate for first district congressional seat, and Bill Brunl, Idaho Falls, state chairman for the party, will attend the banquet. Perry Nelson, executive director of the party, will be master of ceremonies. Senator Hill has served in the senate since 1933 and at present he is a member of the labor and public welfare committee.

The senator represented Franklin D. Roosevelt in the 1944 Democratic party convention. Prior to his senate appointment, Hill was a representative from Alabama from 1932 to 1934.

Senator Hill was selected as "man of the year" in 1948 by the Progressive Farmer, the leading agricultural magazine in the south. He is active in improving the health of rural people.

Last 4 1/2 Months Are Driest in 10 Years for Valley

Dry? You can say it again, the driest summer and early fall in 10 years for Magic Valley.

Only 1 1/2 inches of rain has been recorded at the bureau of entomology station in Twin Falls since June 1. And nothing has been measurable since July 15, when an inch was recorded.

Since that date, however, seven "traces" have been noted. A "trace" in the bottom of a rain gauge is about enough to moisten a postage stamp.

Traces were recorded on July 25, 27 and 31, Aug. 1 and Sept. 4, 5 and 11. Since Sept. 11 the rain gauge has been a useless device. That's 36 days.

The 1942 measurement for the fourth month period of June 1 through Oct. 31 was a mere .04 of an inch. Last year, the total for the same period was only 1.11 inches and in 1940, another dry period, the total was 1.37 inches.

But even the 1940 drought was not near the 22-year record dating back to 1920, as determined in a check of bureau records Friday.

The record is a tiny .20 of an inch, recorded in 1922 and 1935. The great depression made crop values poor those years away.

The next low is the 1942 total. And 1924 comes third with a mere 1.04 and in 1927 only 1.17 inches were noted.

Other 22-year periods for comparison were 1930, 2.49; 1931, 1.80; 1932, 1.85; 1933, 2.49; 1934, 1.79; 1935, 2.07; 1940, 1.37; 1941, 1.20; 1942, 1.11; 1943, 2.46; 1944, 2.46; 1945, 1.87; 1946, 1.84; 1947, 1.84; 1948, 1.84; 1949, 1.84; 1950, 1.84.

Heavy fines and jail terms were the order of the day Friday and Saturday as drivers appeared in Magic Valley courts on charges that included drunken driving, negligent driving and speeding.

Donald L. Kelly, U. S. Magistrate, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the Gooding county jail Friday for negligent driving.

Lara's driver license also was suspended for one year. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the Gooding county jail Friday for negligent driving.

WSB Cut of Coal Pay Boost Raises Specter of Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The wage stabilization board today cut 21 per cent from the wage increase won last month by John L. Lewis' 350,000 miners.

The board's action earlier Saturday, appealed to the "sound common sense of the coal miners and wisdom of their leaders," to abide by the decision. He said "a congress elected by the people made wage stabilization the law of the land" and added:

"For both miners and their leader must know that freedom cannot long survive when the supremacy of law is challenged by naked power."

Lewis and the industry had agreed to a $1.90 daily wage hike. The WSB slashed that by 40 cents leaving $1.50 which legally can be paid. But in Pittsburgh John E. Busarello, president of district 5 of the United Mine Workers union, predicted there will be "a general walkout."

Miners are not going to take it lying down," he said grudgingly. "Since most miners do not work on the week-end, he said, it is unlikely that tonight's strike will take effect until Monday."

ESAs Approves A few minutes after the wage board's decision was announced, Economic Stabilizer Roger Pittman said the board acted "with real foresight and gave the decision his full endorsement."

Pittman said the coal miners' strike would be a "disaster" for the American economy. He said the board's decision was "a victory for the American people."

But the government immediately moved to enforce the decision. It ordered all coal mines to stop work and to allow the government to take control of the mines.

The government also ordered all coal mines to stop work and to allow the government to take control of the mines.

NOW FOR STIFFER LAWS

Now that a legislative committee conference has been held in the Twin Falls Valley Society conference to seek important changes in our traffic laws during the forthcoming session of the state legislature, there's a big opportunity for the people of south central Idaho to check the tide in our ever mounting toll of traffic deaths.

For years, Magic Valley has led all other sections of Idaho in a conscientious attempt to bring the slaughter and destruction on our highways under control.

Largely as a result of the campaign that has been waged in this area, we have a much more effective driver's license law in Idaho.

At the third annual safety conference, held in Twin Falls this past week, it was pointed out that the people in Magic Valley have become more cooperative in the over all law enforcement program, with the result that more and more traffic accidents are reported to the police and sheriff's departments.

Now the people in this vicinity are being called upon to lend their whole-hearted support to the drive to get more rigid traffic laws enacted by the next legislature.

Members of commerce, civic organizations and all other groups are being asked to take an active part in getting stronger proposed measures through the legislature.

Among other things, these proposals will deal with juvenile drivers, speedsters and those who persist in running stop signs and driving recklessly.

As was pointed out at the conference by those in best position to know, we should not be too discouraged because there has been less loss on our highways this year than during the same period in 1951, in spite of all our efforts.

Several of our leading law enforcement officials have said in effect that they shudder at the thought of what it might have been like had it not been for the relentless fight we have been waging.

Some of these officers have speculated that twice as many would have been killed and injured if it had not been for the extra effort put forth in Magic Valley to fight this growing menace.

Twin Falls Police Chief Howard Gillette, keynote speaker at the conference, feels that Magic Valley should continue to take the lead in bringing traffic laws and safety in Idaho, not only because of the outstanding campaign it has been waging, but because it can best serve as an example for the entire state.

For gotten so when we leave our homes on any kind of a automobile trip, we have no assurance that we'll come back alive," he said, "and when driving becomes as hazardous as all that, it's high time that we do something about it."

The state police, courts and law enforcement authorities throughout the state stand ready to make a real fight for more effective traffic laws when the next legislative convenes.

Prosecuting attorneys and judges are generally agreed that in each drastic step must be taken if we hope to get anywhere in dealing with all those drivers who continue to jeopardize our lives as potential killers.

It remains now for the people themselves to join forces with the law enforcement authorities in demanding that we have a showdown with these highway maniacs, once and for all.

SEVERE ADVANTAGES—This disparity in numbers, however, does not measure the spying advantages they have over us.

The presence of the United Nations and diplomatic headquarters in this area, as well as the presence of the American diplomatic corps, are not mentioned under surveillance.

American diplomats in Moscow are under constant watch. If they are not monitored by the Russians, they are monitored by the Americans.

When our ambassador visits the theater or stores or other diplomatic homes, he is trailed by the Kremlin's agents. Former Ambassador Bullitt discovered this as a result of recording his remarks. Our diplomats are, in reality, prisoners of the Kremlin.

Despite congressional and newspaper demands for closing down these red nests, Secretary Acheson insists on maintaining these one-sided relations with our spy and recruited enemy agents.

It is not that they are not monitored by the Americans. They are monitored by the Americans. It is not that they are not monitored by the Americans. They are monitored by the Americans.

LETTERS TO CONGRESSMEN—Last Sunday in church school, writes W.M.B. Royal, Jr., "the question came up of how much interest our legislators to members of Congress, in the general question of their stand on public questions. Your opinion on this will be appreciated."

Answer: It depends upon the kind of communication, the congressman or the government official to whom you address your thoughts. If you pay real attention to these letters and telegrams, if you don't, it isn't worth spending money in writing to them.

Obviously, congressmen pay no attention to a flood of letters which, by the similarity of wording and timing, show that they have been inspired by such special interests. These go into the waste basket. One other warning: Don't patronize them with frequent letters on minor questions. Write only when you feel deeply on a matter of grave local or national interest.

THANKS...

Dear Friends and Customers: We will be closed for a few days in preparation of the opening of our new modern Radio-Television Center.

Twenty years ago this month, we had our humble beginning in the radio repair business in Twin Falls. We feel that now is the opportune time to extend our grateful thanks and gratitude to all of you who have made this venture possible.

During the past twenty years we have continued to grow through an honest and sincere effort and desire to serve you, in repairing your radios, car radios, electric fans, recorders, movie projectors, and in fact, all your electronic needs.

Our growth has been measured by the extent of your confidence and patronage. To us, this 20th anniversary is a great milestone of progress and achievement. To celebrate, we are planning, in a few days, to announce the formal opening of our "Ultra Modern Radio-Television Sales and Service Center." The store that you made possible.

From the bottom of our hearts, we thank you and are looking forward to seeing all of you, as well as many new friends and customers in our new business home.

Views of Others

General Eisenhower, who knows if anybody does the importance of secure military and diplomatic intelligence to national safety, has asked his congressmen to make a campaign issue of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith's off-the-statement about communists in security agencies. He cannot be sure all the congressmen, newspapers, and lesser political figures will count themselves in. General Smith's corner will heed his request or quite comprehend his motives in making it.

The Republican candidate unquestionably is thinking out of the easy partisan advantage which might be reaped from repeating that one sentence of General Smith's, which out of context does sound alarming. He is thinking, he believes, of the self-discipline it takes to preserve the soundness of the whole nation.

Some months ago we likened the nation's situation to that of a bank, the control of which a faction among the stockholders sought to gain by proclaiming for and wide that these were officials in particular posts who were either playing the races or handing in-gore with the bookmakers. The result would have been, even if these stockholders did win by such methods they might easily find they had so undermined public confidence in the whole bank that their story was a hollow one. This logic applies with particular pertinence to the Central Intelligence Agency. If doubts about the integrity of that highly "sensitive" office should be raised and created for momentarily partisan gain, that gain, too, could well prove hollow.

Dem. Smith's statement, it is now clear, was not partisan—it was simply hardheaded: Assume that communists could infiltrate and protect matters as though they had. And he has followed with words that, coming from a man of his experience, ought to be reassuring.

Their opinion plans for communist elimination from sensitive places in the government and the machinery which implements these plans are about as effective as can be devised under our American system.

Certainly Republicans as well as Democrats stand to lose from red or act that while up patting to gain from the belief that the kind of confidence that rests on calm alertness and cool determination—Christian Science Monitor.

Writer Suggests Politicians Make Honest Approach

Editor, Times-News: Emotion is God-given and if used righteously is a blessing. Uncontrolled emotion either in religion or politics or any phase of life is harmful, often devastating. Much emotion in the current political campaign, especially nationally, is discernible even to the casual thinker. What is the remedy? It is simple—namely, state facts in their right relationship, or in other words, tell the truth, only, both as to Democrats and Republicans.

Wonder that the all-wise, all-present God thinks of the uncalculated epithets used by most of the leading candidates (thank God, not all) in this campaign?

If all of us had more Christianity in our hearts, and more moral actions would be as effective as if we twisted facts to fit the situation.

Someone will say, "Oh, you are old-fashioned, a sky pilot, an extremist on religion in every phase of our daily life." Not so, if you are contradicted that God alone is the only indispensable one (I say it reverently) and not Eisenhower, nor Stevenson, and I'm a Democrat, too.

Voters See Through 'Smear' Tactics, Writer Points Out

Editor, Times-News: Americans are awakening to the technique by which, with misrepresentation and "smear" tactics, voters of their country are being misled. In the thirties, for example, Senator Charles McNary, R. D., and Senator Charles McNary, D., made convincing protest against policies which were involving our country in war. No attempt was made to meet their arguments. Instead, when they came up for reelection, money poured into their states from New York to back "smear" campaigns against them. New York money won. They were defeated, thereby depriving their country of their effective services.

Later, Congressman Martin Dies, D., was effectively opposed by several persons and their activities at Washington. The same "smear" course that had defeated Senators McNary and Wheeler were brought against him. He was literally backed out of congress.

Sen. Chapman Revercomb, R. W. Va., took firm stand against admitting undesirable immigration into the country. When he came up for reelection in 1948, the Republican candidate in that state, "smear" turned his back on him. Party support was mysteriously denied him. He was defeated.

Sen. McCarran, D. Nev., took over Revercomb's fight against undesirable immigration. When McCarran came up for reelection two years ago, the familiar "smear" campaign was invoked against him. But Americans were wakened up. Senator McCarran was triumphantly reelected.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R. Wis., has made fearless exposure of communists in our national government. He is up for reelection this year. The last time at the Republican primaries. As expected, the "smear" backed by New York money, was employed to defeat him. But awakened Americans nominated him with overwhelming majority.

Down in Texas, in the same awakening, Senator Dies has already been reelected to congress. In West Virginia, the Republicans have nominated Revercomb for return to the senate. His election seems assured.

Twelve years ago, by misrepresentation and "smear," an outstanding American hero and patriot, Charles A. Lindbergh, was discarded, his country thereby being deprived in part of his exceptional and much needed services.

This year they tried "smear" and misrepresentation to discredit Senator Nixon—and failed.

Americans are waking up.

Proposed Bill to Deed Tideland Oil to Education Gets Support

Editor, Times-News: When I learned that Senator Lamar Hill of Alaska was to speak in the Legion Hall next Monday evening, I occurred to me that he is the author of a splendid idea and a very equitable bill in the U. S. Senate. Concerning both, he wrote in Harper's magazine last March an article called "A Bonus for Education." All of us are interested in education, but most of us do not know the old law in the case and the "Tideland" issue, the one that causes General Eisenhower to claim that all adjacent oil belongs to Texas, Louisiana and California, and causes Governor Stevenson to follow the old law in the case and the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme court and claim that the oil is naturally the property of all the states.

Senator Hill supported by 17 other senators has a splendid proposal. They say, "Give the oil and gas to education." How much is there to be made about well, there is an estimate that the governor of Texas shiver and there is enough to make the educator glad. Conservatively, there is 20 billion dollars worth. That is much more than education is in the habit of thinking about.

The senator, in his article points out that the military is the first line of defense, but that closing this oil is equally important is the educational defense. He writes: "Holding these two considerations paramount, 17 of my colleagues and I joined in the last session of congress in introducing in the senate an amendment to dedicate these precious, irreplaceable natural oil and gas resources to the common defense and to education in all the states and at all levels." Primary, secondary and higher education.

He further states: "Our proposal heads the warning of the global menace in Iran and the Middle East where its over-half of world's oil resources—in the Russian back yard, 70 years in mind the strategic most precious possession. Our amendment also recognizes the necessity of conserving these resources by keeping the withdrawal of the oil under the supervision of the United States department of interior, in cooperation with the defense department."

"We propose," this in the thorough conviction that the development of every American boy and girl to the fullest extent of his or her capabilities adds overwhelmingly to the strength of our democracy."

Certainly all parents and educators would agree with the last paragraph and I think any fair minded person would agree that the oil-shore oil, the oil beyond the tideland— which common law and the three decisions of the su-

Demo Avers Nixon Case Shows GOP Not Sincere on Economy

Editor, Times-News: After spending the past two weeks in Sen. Richard M. Nixon's former congressional district in California, I find that the reaction of his constituents is that they are caught with his paw in the cookie jar. Also the story of which he had been telling them in his own neighborhood. His benefactors were the large real estate interests, and businessmen—whose interests have not consistently in the congress.

He has a frank privilege for his mail besides allowing for television, telegraph and stationery. Fairfield Man Is Arrested on Rape Charge

JEROME, Oct. 13—James W. Danks, alias James Shafter, Fairfield, was arrested here Saturday at the request of Gooding county officials on a charge of rape. Gooding officials were acting for officials in Fairfield.

Judge Suthpen set Nov. 6 as the date for the hearing and set bail at $1,000 which was posted.

Ex-Army Man Decries Policy Of Cowing to Reds in Korea

Editor, Times-News: The white feather is traditionally a "decoration" not for valor but for the lack of it. Never before has an American President and with his approval, the congress and his supporters deserted it.

Today they do. Let the week of Oct. 27 be the time when every American and the taxpayers expense the white feather policy of knuckling under to the reds, with its inevitable, cascading political slaughter of our shackled forces in Korea, register his protest by obtaining a white chicken feather or making a paper one and sending it to the President.

It is hoped that an alternative to cowardice as a reason for the President's white feather policy—a dead-end cowardice which betrays our fighting youth and invites more war—is treason. That is the choice.

Neither major candidates have a plan for Korea except to let American boys keep on dying in vain for the bestial, unprincipled, peace-without-victory.

It is hoped that this demonstration of the kind of our fighting men, but also of all Americans who love our dead and dying youth for their deeds, may be the spark that will set off a miracle flame to put in the White House a man of courage and resolution. In any event it is hoped that this demonstration will force upon whoever is elected next month a policy of courage and honor, and that our boys' heads will be unshackled.

We believe that the present white feather policy of crawling upon our knees before the reds, will, instead of saving lives as claimed by our fear-ridden leaders and "allies," cost more lives because it will inevitably bring on World War III. It is automatic that cowardice invites aggression, whereas courage and resolution may prevent it.

Number Six Ball in Side Pocket, Boys

When four men whose ages average over 80 get together for a game of snooker, watch out! If USA tries people grow frightened as they get older, then age would be in their favor, for snooker is the game played on the long tables. They are, from left, F. L. Cogswell, 89; C. Iron Price, 81; Jim Johnston, 82, and W. W. Parish, who turned 79 Friday.

The "boys," all long-time residents of the valley, got together to celebrate Parish's birthday anniversary as the youngster of the crowd started his 84th year. (Staff photo-courtesy)

Egypt to Change To Republic Soon

CAIRO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Egypt will shed her monarchy soon and become a republic, a reliable source said today. He said the change is made for the switch-over, but would not specify when it would take place.

The transition came on the heels of reports that the Egyptian State Broadcasting company would make an important announcement. Newspaper officials said they were on the alert for such an announcement.

Egypt's monarch is 6-month-old Fuad II, who is in Italy with his exiled father, Farouk I., head of the 11th nominal ruler in a dynasty founded in 1868.

Premier Oth. Mohammed Marbut, who engineered Farouk's ouster July 26, Friday accused the ex-king of "robbing the western powers" with unfounded charges that the new government is communistic. He referred to Farouk's memoirs appearing in a British newspaper.

John Funeral Set for Monday

Funeral services for Lyman Herbert Johnson, 83, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel with the Rev. Richard DeVilliers officiating. Burial will be made in Sunset Memorial park.

Mr. Johnson, a retired farmer, died at 11:15 Friday at the home of a son, Earl Johnson, route 1, Piler. He was born May 4, 1889, in Spava, Ill., and had been a resident of Maple Valley since 1926.

Mr. Johnson was preceded in death by his wife and one son, George Ray Johnson.

Surviving besides the son are one brother, Roy W. Johnson, Coeurville, Ill., 10 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Johnson's last visit was under observation by autopsymen from September, 1926, to July, 1931.

Youngster of 79 Marks Event With Older Boys

W. W. Parish celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary Friday playing pool with three old friends.

At 79 he was almost too young to play in the company he was in. The other three all were over 80, and mighty fast company at that—because the game was snooker.

The others are: F. L. Cogswell, 89; C. Iron Price, 81, and Jim Johnston, 82.

Sinking the snook shot was the veteran of the group, naturally. Johnston said he has been playing "pocket" billiards as long as he has lived in the valley—and he moved here in 1897.

The other three, Parish, Price and Cogswell, have taken up the game only in the last 10 years or so (maybe it was 20 years—they didn't remember exactly).

They, too, have been valley residents 40 years or more.

Employment Unit Reports Shifts in Job Opportunities

September state farm employment showed a decrease over that of August, according to a report made Saturday by E. S. Cutler, Twin Falls employment security office manager. Cutler said that state employment offices estimate that a total of 79,223 persons over the age of 16 were employed at least two days on Idaho farms during the week ending Sept. 20.

The September total estimated employment figure of 79,223 includes approximately 64,000 operators and family workers, 12,775 regular hired workers and 19,278 seasonal workers. The decrease in employment in September amounted to 3.9 per cent or a little over 3,000 workers. The decrease was a result of the regular hired workers and seasonal workers can be laid off and hired again. An increase of about 100,000 seasonal workers in August was the result of activity of the harvest in state valley.

Decline Noted in Wholesale Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Average wholesale prices dropped four-tenths of one per cent in the week ended Oct. 14, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

The bureau said the decline was due mainly to a 1.9 per cent drop in farm products. The decrease put the new wholesale price index at 110.7 per cent of 1914 prices.

Other price decreases were reported for live poultry and in some fresh fruits and vegetables, although the latter group showed an overall increase.

Processed foods dropped fractionally during the week, the bureau reported, mainly because of lower prices for meats.

Youth Hurt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (Special)—The census bureau has found 3,545 "lost" persons in a final count of the 1950 national census.

Although the state's population was recorded as 508,837 in the national roundup, the first check last year reported only 505,292 inhabitants in the first congressional district and 392,642 in the second district.

Now, however, the bureau has discovered 2,318 more persons in the second district for a new total of 514,660. Not as many returners were found—1,271—to make the first district population 224,977.

The southern district was "normal" and the northern area was "below normal," according to statistics for the 424 congressional districts in the nation.

Blaine Demos Rally Advised Of Party Aim

The total power engendered would be 300,000 kilowatts. Blaine said. Of that amount 100,000 kilowatts are to be used to Idaho Power, and the proposed five dams will not equal the same amount. Power is expected to be increased by the power company unadjusted. We get our power from Idaho Power which has asked for about an 11 per cent increase. Upon investigating their reasons I couldn't find anything that would show need for this increase. The power company asked for the increase to expand the plant. They wanted the increase, and immediately put up $10,000 in stocks for sale.

That is the explanation Blaine asked.

In conclusion, Blaine described the Democratic administration as one bordering on perfection. And the present plans you hear one Republican may be going to repeal any part of it?

Jensen placed the same sort of condition on federal operation of the state should receive a proportionate share of the income.

Jensen explained that he would "cite the record of Budge, not to pass judgment on him, but so that the people of Idaho could see where Budge really stands."

He said Budge's congressional voting record indicated that he would control to end specific price controls, a vote to "pack the wage stabilization board," a vote to vote to cut aid to Europe by between 40 and 50 per cent, and six votes to prevent the state from accepting a bipartisan measure, from coming to a vote in the house.

Record books

Jensen called his opponent's voting record on the Hills canyon issue "monstrous." He claimed that prior to stumping the southeastern portion of the state against the Hills canyon. He supported bills in congress which favored the building of the structure.

Jim McWhorter, Halley Democratic county chairman, introduced the seven local and two state candidates for office.

Jesse Lockman, candidate for state senator, defined his program as opposition to the lien law, opposition to closing of schools which are doing a good job, a belief that the working man does not receive enough compensation for accidents.

Urges Flood Control

Jack Irwin, candidate for state representative, said he was all-out for flood control measures. Joe W. Madden, running for prosecuting attorney, told the rally he was to be a part of the Democratic ticket.

Floyd Wilson, incumbent county assessor and candidate, reported that in the last 12 years the Blaine county property evaluation has jumped by two million, in contrast to an average tax increase of 3%.

Sheriff E. C. O'Brien said that although the driver's test and collection of state income taxes had increased his work load, he felt he could still continue to do a good job.

Declared

All other candidates declared they stood on their past record, in politics and out.

Dorothy Fovey, candidate for county treasurer, and Wayne Clark, LeVar Jensen and Tom Clark, all candidates for county commissioner.

Burford Kirkland, former state representative, introduced Jensen.

Safer

Harry J. Clark found the city health safer than the Union Pacific railroad yards Friday night. He was arrested by city police after they received a call that a man was rolling over the railroad tracks about 4:45 p.m. Clark narrowly missed being hit by a locomotive and had lost his shoes somewhere. He was released Saturday morning by Police Chief Howard Gillette. Clark hit the police station after being shot.

Jerome Pioneer Launches 92nd Year, Keeps on Tending Roses

Jerome, Oct. 10.—M. J. (Mike) Jones, a pioneer Jerome resident, is seven days along in his 92nd year, tending his roses and looking ahead to seeing more progress on the north side.

He was honored on his 91st birthday anniversary last Sunday with an open house along in the ladies' parlor of the Methodist church. Marking the occasion were 77 friends.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. H. L. Morris, Mrs. L. E. Andrea, Mrs. Owen Weaver, Mrs. Dorey Thompson and Mrs. J. D. Noland. Mrs. Leonard Jones, daughter-in-law of Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Floyd White, Twin Falls, a daughter, presided at the refreshments table.

Mr. Jones was born Oct. 11, 1841, in Hartman, Ark., a small town located in the heart of the Ozark mountains. Mike, as everyone calls him, came to Jerome with his wife and three children from North Yakima, Wash.

He was among the first settlers in Falls City, where he took up a claim of 80 acres of sagebrush land. His first problem was to build a home for his family and while he was doing that he family took up residence in the old fireweed home in Falls City. He built four rooms for his new home and later added two more.

Those first years were rough and full of setbacks. Jackrabbits and water were the main problems. But Mike never will forget the year of 1914 when that wasn't enough water. He was during the early months of June. It wasn't until early in July that water was secured from the outside to save most of the crops.

He spends many hours at Magic dam and usually brings home a good catch, which he always shares with his family. He tends many hours playing pinocle and cribbage. He has been engaged to a neighborhood pinocle club for years.

Mike says he feels better now than he did 10 years ago, but he will have to admit he's slowing down a bit when it comes to an all-day fishing trip.

Mike enjoys his three children and five grandchildren. His son, Leonard Jones, is a Twin Falls dentist and his daughter, Mrs. Floyd White, is married to a Twin Falls druggist. His other son, Gordon, resides in Burley and is associated with a life insurance company.

At pasture, a knob as he offers a drink to a fawn saved from the Spanish influenza after the fawn was found beside the road in a field. Inevitably named Bambi, the fawn was raised in the neighborhood of the C. K. Embree residence, 757 Park avenue. The fawn roams at will, although the Embrees put a collar on his neck to tip off strangers that Bambi is not a stray from the wilds, particularly during hunting season. Democrats Speak At Albion Parley

Since the war we are all so familiar with military technique that we can understand that the fate of a battle can depend upon the disposition and availability of reserves. Orphans Get Idaho Spuds From Potato King; Exhibit Is Tops Again

Photo Miss Joe Marshall, complete with crown and potato scepter, poses at top left with orphans at outstanding exhibit of Idaho spuds during the convention. In front of this Idaho exhibit of 8,000 pounds of potato and 500 pounds of onions. The spuds and onions were presented to the orphans following the Texas Vegetable Growers and Shippers convention. In photo at top right, Chief Bill Miller gives two

Texas women a few pointers on preparation of Idaho potatoes. Photo below shows complete Idaho exhibit. By far the best at the convention, according to Joe Marshall. At far end of exhibit is table where French-fried potatoes were prepared and distributed by Miller. Texas bought 9,000 cartons of Idaho spuds in 1951. (Photos by C. G. Rice—staff correspondents)

Thousands Impressed by Huge Exhibit Of Idaho Spuds for Texas Convention

As usual, Marshall topped an outstanding exhibit of Idaho spuds during the convention. Resplendent with a "crown" provided by C. G. Rice, field man for the ad commission, the potato king posed for a number of photos.

The photo of Marshall and the orphans, appearing above, was used in the San Antonio Light along with an interview with Marshall. For the story, the potato king pointed out that potatoes aren't really fattening—it's the stuff that goes on them.

Marshall says the Idaho displays at the Texas convention, a total of three now, are building up a huge demand in Texas for Idaho potatoes. Some 2,000 cartons of the Idaho product were shipped to Texas last year and the Lone Star state probably will buy many more this year, he explains.

Pruett Seeks Data on 1952 'Star Shower'

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Pacific Director
Astronomical Society

Although the Perseid meteors of August are the best known of any of the annual showers, doubtless because of their dependability and abundance, yet there are several other displays of great interest to enthusiastic stargazers.

DR. JOHN H. PRUETT

One evening about this time of October several years ago, I had the University of Oregon students and I went out under the open heavens for observations of the Perseid meteor shower.

On average years around 20 Perseids may be sighted each hour by a single observer looking clear on the sky. They are seen in any part of the heavens but will seem to come from the direction of the eastern horizon during the evening hours. In the morning, more can be seen.

Some years the Perseids are more abundant than at other times. Such a year was 1933. Reports from many parts of the world to the American Meteor society headquarters at Philadelphia, indicated counts of 60 or more per hour.

At for October meteors, the early evening of Oct. 19, 1942, was the best display seen anywhere in North America during the present century. That could really be called a shower. These, however, were not Perseids but Draconids. For the greater part of an hour, there was hardly a second that one or more shooting stars was not visible.

Observations by large numbers of observers gave counts for one person at the rate of about 4,000 per hour in spite of a full moon blinding out the dimmer ones. It was a sight of a lifetime.

Some of the meteors were tiny and hardly made more than a momentary dot on the moon-illuminated heavens; others, the size of the Big Dipper stars, made notable runs before finally flicking out, many were large and spectacular, blinding and scattering fiery sparks over long paths before long disappearing in brilliant explosive flares. The likelihood of a splendid display that evening had been widely publicized. The majority of persons to whom the Perseids were set saw the meteors, but occasionally one is found who did not.

The response from the public for Perseids meteor counts in August of this year was splendid. I shall be glad to receive reports on the October Perseids. Address me at 1832 Longview Drive, Eugene, Ore.

Air Age World to Be Topic of Opening Session of Town Hall

The theme that the air age world, shrunk by brief travel times, demands better understanding between distant as well as close neighbors, will be aired Wednesday night when Dr. John Harvey Pruett addresses the Twin Falls Town Hall association.

Dr. Pruett's address, "Doing Business in an Air World," will open the seven-meeting series of the 1942-43 season. The talk is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

An explorer, scientist, educator, author and public speaker, Pruett has contributed to world understanding both in the political and educational spheres.

Politically, he served as an official observer at the first United Nations meeting at San Francisco in 1945 and as an official delegate to the Mexico City meeting of UNESCO in 1947. In the teaching field he is past president of the College of West Africa, Monrovia, Liberia, while a professor of education at Idaho college, he directed the Casa Pan American and Mission Française.

Dr. Pruett also has worked in the education field in both Hawaii and South America. In 1941, he was guest lecturer at the University of Hawaii, and later he was attached to U. S. embassies in Costa Rica and Colombia as a specialist in education in Latin America.

His own training was acquired at Ohio state where he did undergraduate work at New York university, and at Yale where he was awarded a doctor's degree.

His specific steps into the air world include directorship of Air World Education, an organization devoted to interpreting air world responsibilities of his nation.

The speaker once made threads into the newspaper series when he edited the syndicated newspaper column, "The Debunker." The column attacked errors and fallacies in his hobby of trading down the world's popular fallacies—superstitions and historical errors.

Additional activities in his career include authorship of several books of science, natural history, sociology and education, and the documenting on film of the customs, philosophy and ways of life of people of many lands.

Dr. Furby is a fellow of the Royal Geographic society, London, and the Royal Anthropological Institute.
