Fleet Disputes 'Ike' View Use of ROK Troops in War

War Correspondent Fred Patton last Sept. 14, the ROK army never will be "able" to completely replace American troops in Korea as long as there is an active front. "Day by day, the ROK army is assuming more front-line responsibility, but the ROK soldiers will continue to need American and U. N. help as long as the communist enemy continues his heavy pressure. But Van Fleet said, remove the Chinese and North Korean troops from the front, and the ROKs, supported by American air and naval forces and supplied by U. N. munitions, could hold South Korea. Van Fleet told Patton the South Korean army has developed "into a proud, courageous, determined army which is daily proving itself in stubborn combat." "The U. N. must still keep a half-dozen non-Korean divisions on the line and another four in reserve, and the ROKs, supported by U. N. divisions are numerically larger by nearly 50 per cent than ROK divisions."

Defense Aide Backs Officer... SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 22 (AP)—William C. Foster, U. S. deputy defense secretary, agreed today with Gen. James A. Van Fleet that Republic of Korea soldiers could not completely take over the Korean front. Foster, who just made a rapid trip to the front, said South Korean government officials have said "they would like to put more divisions in the field." But when asked whether ROK...

Assessors Oppose Valuation Reverses

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 22 (AP)—George L. Jensen, Bonnaville county assessor, said today a survey indicates most Idaho assessors are against a plan to change the merchandise valuation system. Jensen said opposition was expressed in 27 replies he received in his survey. He explained that the proposed legislation, which would include the net income in making assessments on merchandise inventory stocks, will be offered by the Idaho Assessors association at the 1953 session of the Idaho legislature. "All of the assessors who replied to my inquiry," Jensen said, "opposed the plan because it would interfere with the present system of valuation of stock in trade of merchants. Two or three suggested some changes."

Officers Retired

TAIPEI, Formosa, Oct. 22 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek has ordered the retirement of 301 military and naval men in a move to rid Chinese Nationalist armed forces of over-aged officers. Chiang yesterday ordered 131 generals and admirals and 170 colonels and commanders to retire this year. However, he retained the services of 30 general rank officers who have passed the retirement age. "The U. N. must still keep a half-dozen non-Korean divisions on the line and another four in reserve, and the ROKs, supported by U. N. divisions are numerically larger by nearly 50 per cent than ROK divisions."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Harmonious and workable relationships between the White House and Congress will be more likely through the legislative branch should remain in Democratic hands after Nov. 4. For some odd reason, this issue has been neglected by the GOP, including the GOP.

This conclusion does not derive from a partisan approach or a one-sided analysis of possibilities, since most veteran members of houses in Philadelphia agree, although not always for publication.

It is based on the actual voting records of the present membership. It has not entered a single major legislative measure, although the Democratic has had nominal control of the executive and legislative arms.

PROBABLE ANTAGONISM—In view of the realignment expected to result from the election of Truman's more extreme policies on domestic and foreign questions, the next Congress will be toward a new personality in the White House.

Conclusive Proof—The congressional and executive branches of the government act furthest from the spirit of the traffic act. This legislation was endorsed by the National Citizens Welfare Council, the American Federation of Labor, the American League for Civil Liberties and other organizations.

FRUSTRATING—A mathematical examination of the lineup in the Senate indicates a courtroom proof of the theory that an Eisenhower election offers greater hope for breaking the long and unbroken record of Democratic rule in the Senate.

PERSONAL ATTACK—Truman, and Eisenhower by proxy, has antagonized at least a score of southern congressmen and governors by personal attacks on them. Although saying more generally in general terms, the Illinois governor, the Illinois governor, kept alive these feuds.

Practical FEPC Act Possible—Nor does the prospect of a White House change mean the legislative clock will be turned backward. Indeed, it is possible it may result in enactment of a more effective Federal Employment Practices Commission.

Views of Others—NEW LOW EVEN FOR TRUMAN. Injection of religion and race into the political campaign is a new low for the American people, and we hardly expected to see a new one, after his western tour.

Quality of Manpower—It always comes as a shock to see the figures on how many of our young men, presumably at the height of their physical peak, are rejected as unfit for military service.

Steel Furnace—Your home can be kept clean as well as warm by this completely equipped furnace outfit for dirt and smoke leakage... keeps unhealthful fumes from escaping!

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

The civil rights issue is a premeditated cave of few of us understand. It is a subject that General Eisenhower does not fully realize what the civil rights program really is.

When I read the remarks of some campaign orators, including General Eisenhower, I suspect that he has not really studied the report. Of course, Truman and Eisenhower have read it, but this stuff is not political life and they do not get at a few lines.

Knowing what concentration it takes to understand the document, and remembering how many letters and long distance calls it required for me to uncover the secret deals behind the scenes, an reasonable man that General Eisenhower has not been able to make an intelligent study.

This program would permit the Federal Government to move into any law-abiding town and inflict punitive fines and personal damages on all the citizens for failing to prevent a lynching. It would inflict humiliation. It is a hateful law designed to humiliate the pride of the small-town southern people.

Such a horror would not be a laughing matter under this civil rights program. It specifies that no killing which is incidental to a "labor dispute" is a lynching within the meaning of the law.

Many victims of single-rope lynchings have been unmistakably guilty of a terrible crime. But not one victim of a single-rope lynching has been held responsible for the crime.

lim of any union mob ever was executed or even suspected of any violation of any public law.

The victims of rope-lynching were denied the right to a fair trial but the good citizens who have been killed by union mobs were not even killed because they were not innocent.

In a Georgia hamlet last year the OIA is persuading the local workers in a textile plant to join its union. They drafted into town and one day a gang of them went to a car in which an innocent, law-abiding woman was driving to her job.

As far as the civil rights program was concerned, that poor woman slipped on the soap in her bathtub and broke her neck, you might say. A few months later, a Negro detective for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was killed by a bomb that blew up his house in Florida. His pendant study.

The NAACP seems willing to raise a racial riot only to make public. His chief prosecutor, Walter White, made the tactical error of boasting last year that he personally was the one who mediated Truman into appointing the President's committee on civil rights which drafted the formal program now in controversy.

But the great Negro population of our country never has recognized the NAACP or White as their agent. Eleanor Roosevelt and the NAACP drafted a great row over the Florida lynching and hollered for the

Mexicans Love Parades, Discover on Mexico City

By HENRY McLEMORE. MEXICO CITY—The national spirit of Mexico is parading. Let us not only give different Mexicans love but also give them the same love.

Monday afternoon, and when a tremendous parade is in progress, a tremendous parade is in progress. A few months later, a Negro detective for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was killed by a bomb that blew up his house in Florida. His pendant study.

But, parading comes first in the hearts of the men, women and children of this country. I do not mean the parade of the NAACP in any city of Mexico without hearing a band playing. As I write this there is a drum and bugle corps marching down Boulevard Reforma.

I asked a bellhop what the parade was for and he said, "Nothing here." "You must not understand," I told him. "People just don't get up in the morning, dress up in fancy uniforms and march ten or fifteen miles unless they have a purpose.

FBI, which came running. But they said not a word about the Georgia woman. The FBI took no interest. This calculated heartlessness is not consistent with the character of our Negro fellow citizens. A majority of them might endorse a federal law against lynching but they would never agree to exempt lynchings done by union gangs. That exception is the tip-off which shows that this program was not promoted by the Negroes themselves.

ANTI-U. S. SENTIMENT

With all the worrying about Europe, Asia and the political campaign, it appears that the U. S. perhaps hasn't been paying all the attention it should to affairs south of the border.

Things in Latin America haven't been going so well as a platform denouncing it would be stirred up, either directly or indirectly, by Argentina's Juan Peron.

Peron, like most of the other dictators still around in the world, isn't fond of the United States. He calls us the "Colossus of the North."

Peron's anti-American policies and influence now seem to be spreading to his neighbors.

In Chile, the president-elect, who got himself elected on a platform denouncing the U. S. is already saying blither things about the U. S.-Chile military aid pact and threatening to have it broken.

In Bolivia, the nationalist government which grabbed the reins in a military coup last year has just granted Peron a 25-year monopoly to smelt Bolivian tin.

Peron has made no secret of the fact that he'd like to get his hands on both Bolivian tin and Chilean copper.

Truman is having labor troubles. And the government has ordered the labor attaché of the Argentine embassy to leave the country.

Brazil, a long-time friend of ours, is working on "economic sovereignty" laws. Major aims of this legislation will be to place heavy taxes on imports and ban foreign interests from exploiting the vast Brazilian oil resources. And while the meddling of Peron here is not in evidence, those hardest hit by these laws will be Americans.

Peru and Ecuador have been saying mean things about the U. S. in recent months because of alleged violation of their territorial waters by California tuna boats. Colombian's docked two of his leading liberal newspapers. And Guatemala has granted Peron citizenship.

With trouble breaking out or threatening to break out in several spots, the nations in the United States backyard are making it clear that the Good Neighbor arrangement needs a lot of overhauling.

SNAZZY SEDANS

Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing was dropped up to the White House the other day in a snazzy blue Cadillac. Press men who saw it commented that this was pretty fancy transportation for someone who wasn't even a cabinet member, but just an administrator.

Ewing explained, however, that the government—and the taxpayers—didn't buy this car for him. It was seized by the treasury's bureau of narcotics agents from some big dope peddler.

Investigation revealed that this is standard government practice, through few people know about it. There's even a law on it.

Whenever an automobile is seized in the arrest of anyone for violation of federal law, the car is held in custody of the U. S. marshal until a court issues an order for its disposition. The seizing agency has the right to regulation the car if it wants it.

Those not wanted are turned over to general services administration for parcelling out among other agencies as needed. This saves the taxpayers' money.

In the 1950-51 period, 441 cars were seized in this manner. Sixty per cent of the treasury's fleet, or 388 cars, were seized by its enforcement agencies—secret service, customs, narcotics, Bureau of Internal Revenue, Coast Guard, Postoffice and FBI also use many seized cars.

QUALITY OF MANPOWER

It always comes as a shock to see the figures on how many of our young men, presumably at the height of their physical peak, are rejected as unfit for military service.

The latest figures show that 42 per cent of the draft eligibles have been rejected during the Korean war, an increase of 6 per cent over World War II. That's a high figure for any war.

Particularly it is high when one considers the fact that much younger men are being drafted now than in World War II.

Physical requirements are about the same now as they were in World War II. And certainly the standards for the physical peak are as high as they were in World War II.

Manpower is undoubtedly the most important resource we have. And its quality is almost as important as its quantity. But the draft rejection figures would seem to show that the quality is not what it should be.

Improving that quality is a matter of prime importance to the nation. The latest figures released by the selective service commission show that estimates some action in the matter.

USAF in Britain Equipped to Support NATO With A-Bombs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The U. S. air force has in England today a specially-trained bomber and fighter unit which could support Atlantic pact armies with tactical A-bombs in event of war. This unit is the 49th air division, having the only American jet bombers based outside the United States. It is a powerful arm of Maj. Gen. Francis S. Griswold's expanding third air force.

A recent visit to the South Rulapil headquarters 13 miles west of London revealed that the air force now numbers 25,000 military personnel and 12,000 dependents. That compares with 20,000 military and 5,000 dependents a year ago. The force is spread over 11 British bases with three more in commission.

Two bases are occupied by the two wings of the 49th air division commanded by Col. John D. Stevanovich. The 49th wing flies B-45 four-jet light tactical bombers capable of 550-mile an hour speed. The 20th wing is a 600-mile-an-hour F-84 Thunderjet fighter unit equipped for air refueling. While no one has said officially that the 49th is a tactical atomic unit, it is known to have received special training at tactical air command headquarters. Learning air force base, Va. B-45 bombers obviously can carry atomic bombs since their capacity is as great as B-29 Superforts. Two F-84s of the 20th wing flew 4,775-mile nonstop missions, refueling in the air, last spring in the United States and at the halfway point they dropped what the air force called practice bombs.

S. L. Stations Rush Work on TV Expansion

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 2 (AP)—Executives of Utah's two television stations, KUTV-TV and KSL-TV, today say they hope to be broadcasting from their new transmitters high in the Oquirrh mountains by mid-November.

Most heavy outside construction is now nearing completion, including the construction of a break that spans 17 miles west of here.

The mild fall weather has given the construction crew a break. They now face that even a turn-to-cold weather would not prevent them from hitting their target date.

To Double Area

When KSL-TV and KUTV-TV start sending pictures from the mountain tops, their coverage area will be more than doubled. Their service now is limited to about 50 miles west of Salt Lake valley. The new stations will enable them to cover all of northern Utah and some of southern Idaho.

They estimated that 87 to 90 per cent of Utah's population, or 700,000 persons will come within range of the expanded operation.

Just how much of southeastern Idaho will be able to receive signals from their target date, less remains to be proven. It is virtually certain that the area around Monticello and Preston will be covered. There is a fair possibility that pictures might get to Pocatello. But it is doubtful that Idaho Falls, though some sets have been said there—can be covered by a northern U. S. station.

KSL-TV now telecasts from atop the Union Pacific building in downtown Salt Lake City. Its new transmitter will cover a 300-foot tower built on 4,242-foot Coon peak, 1,000 feet higher than its present 3,242-foot peak, a little further south in Oquirrh, "Mt. Vision."

U. S. Short in Sending Men For Rotations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The defense department is turning U. S. troops out of Korea at a faster rate than it has failed to fill them in, according to a report in the Washington Post.

"Because of the shortage of replacements, these sources said, some service men have been sent to Korea but not sent to the front lines where they and many men are being killed from service and other rear area outposts to the front lines."

Warmed Washington

Clark warned Washington several months ago of the need for more replacements in the front lines. In Washington this week, U. S. defense department officials said they had asked for more troops and order, increasing "points" needed by front-line OIs to be rotated home from Korea daily.

Raised Score

They said Clark had raised the October "rotation score" from 36 to 40, but they had not yet asked Clark to cut the point requirements for front-line combat troops back to 36.

Clark responded yesterday announcing that all front-line soldiers with 30 points would be sent home, he said men behind the lines must score 38 points until the flow of replacements from the U. S. is stepped up.

Hearing Continues On Labor Trouble

AMERICAN FALLS, Oct. 2 (AP)—A hotly disputed court case between Simplot Fertilizer company and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, third day before Fourth District Judge Doran H. Sutphen, Gooding, today.

Simplot was joined by C. E. Elle Construction company, Pocatello, in its action against the Pocatello Building and Construction Trades union. Elle had been doing contract work for the union, but they claimed in their complaint, picketing impeded progress.

The union claims that the construction firm hired nonunion labor.

Report on Deaths Of Trio Improves

POCATELLO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Sheriff Alton Mackey, Bonanza county, said an intensive investigation has failed to find any substantiated reports from California that three men had been murdered two years ago in the mountains southeast of Lava Hot Springs.

A San Bernardino, Calif., resident claimed he witnessed the slaying of the three men during the 1950 hunting season. Mackey and his chief deputy, Earl Cutler, searched the area and returned with a woman, but did not turn up any clues.

Trial Is Ordered On Slaying Count

POCATELLO, Oct. 2 (AP)—U. S. Cannon Barnes was bound over to district court Wednesday for trial in connection with murder charges growing out of the death of George Hill, Jr., three weeks ago. Attorneys for Miss Barnes requested a continuance of the trial until the fall of the Peace Justice Green to dismiss the charges because, they said, she shot Hill in self-defense.

Green ruled that he did not have the power to dismiss the charges on those grounds.

Proposed Invasion of China Injected on Political Scene

By PHIL NEWBOM (United Press Staff Writer, Editor)

By accident of fate, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has taken advantage of the American political situation to voice his demand that his U. S.-equipped military soldiers be allowed to invade the mainland of China.

The Korean war, which has been the chief adversary, is a hot point in the American political campaign.

Accompanying it is the demand for the United States to be allowed to fight in the defense of the lives of American boys.

Here is some background on the U. S. attitude toward the Korean war and the approximately 600,000 Chinese nationalists troops bottled up there since the fall of the China mainland.

On June 21, 1950, just after the Korean war broke out, the United States and American troops in Korea.

Clark warned Washington several months ago of the need for more replacements in the front lines. In Washington this week, U. S. defense department officials said they had asked for more troops and order, increasing "points" needed by front-line OIs to be rotated home from Korea daily.

Nobel Prizes For Medicine Slated Today

GROCHINGM, Sweden, Oct. 2 (AP)—The winners of the $2,910,000 Nobel prize for medicine this year will be announced tonight.

The American branch of the American Medical Association will meet behind closed doors to choose the winners. There were indications the prize will be divided among two or more doctors or scientists, as it has been in a few previous years.

American mentioned as contenders.

Dr. Selman Waksman, Rutgers university, Ukrainian-born discoverer of streptomycin and neomycin; Dr. Paul R. Burkholder, Yale university, discoverer of chlorpromazine; Dr. Benjamin M. Dugan, Lederle laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y., discoverer of succinylcholine; Dr. P. F. Edmunds, Boston, a leading virus researcher.

Winners of the Nobel prizes for literature, physics and chemistry will be announced later. The Nobel committees already has said no peace prize will be awarded this year.

British Lord, U. S. Heiress Married

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—A 19-year-old American heiress, Virginia Lee Corbin Ryan, married Lord Ogilvy, a former friend of Princess Margaret, today in Britain's poshest wedding of the year.

It was the kind of a wedding befitting a noble bride—rich and lovely bride, and October sunshine.

Princess Margaret, pretty as ever, and the queen mother led the list of 1,000 guests who packed the Marlborough Hotel, Margaret's church, in a glittering array of some of the bluest of the blue.

U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. Walter Anderson led an Anglo-American touch to the affair.

Peiping Radio Claims Added Air Violations

TOKYO, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Chinese communist radio in Peiping charged today American planes violated the Manchurian border 11 times in the 11 days Oct. 8 through 17.

The areas allegedly violated were Antung, the MIG-15 base across the Yalu river from northwestern Korea; Kuantung; Fengcheng and Changlin in Liaoning province; and Holiang, Kirin province.

"The American aggressors are continuing their violation of the 'China's territory,'" the broadcast said.

Great indignation has been expressed by the Chinese people over these repeated provocations of the American aggressors.

United Nations airmen have standing orders not to cross the Manchurian border under any circumstances.

The same Peiping broadcast said the American "aggressors" had stepped up their "wanton bombing of civilian quarters in Pyongyang and Wonsan" since the truce negotiations were recessed indefinitely.

Pyongyang is the capital of North Korea and Wonsan is an important port on the east coast.

Japanese Premier Favored for Vote

TOKYO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Shigeru Yoshida appeared likely today to be re-elected premier of Japan.

The 76-year-old former prime minister received a pledge of support from Ichiro Hatoyama, his rival for control of the Liberal party.

Hatoyama said after a 51-minute meeting with Yoshida that he will support Yoshida when the election of representatives meets tomorrow. Political observers said the pact was interpreted as a pledge that the U. S. intends to let Chiang invade the China mainland.

From time to time, the U. S. administration has indicated its policy in one form or another.

Last Rep. L. Assistant Secretary of War John D. Adams said that "our seventh bill makes certain that any communist aggression against Formosa shall not succeed."

This week Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek said he would not attend the U. S. seventh bill makes certain that any communist aggression against Formosa shall not succeed.

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—The public opinion survey said 7,419 new poll cases were reported last week in the United States, a decline of 18 per cent from the 9,075 of the previous week.

These related to 46,435 of the national lot in cases of the "dispute years," which began in April. The figure compared with 36,654 in the first previous year, 1949 and 22,654 in 1951.

The health service observed 11 new poll cases in Alaska during the past two weeks, compared with only four in the first nine months of the year.

15 Per Cent Drop Reported on Polio

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The public opinion survey said 7,419 new poll cases were reported last week in the United States, a decline of 18 per cent from the 9,075 of the previous week.

These related to 46,435 of the national lot in cases of the "dispute years," which began in April. The figure compared with 36,654 in the first previous year, 1949 and 22,654 in 1951.

The health service observed 11 new poll cases in Alaska during the past two weeks, compared with only four in the first nine months of the year.

995 Pints Donated In Bids for Blood

MOSCOW, Oct. 23 (AP)—Students at University of Idaho have donated 995 pints of blood for the Red Cross in two days, and planned a determined drive today for an additional 900 donations.

That would put them over the top in their effort to collect 1,900 pints.

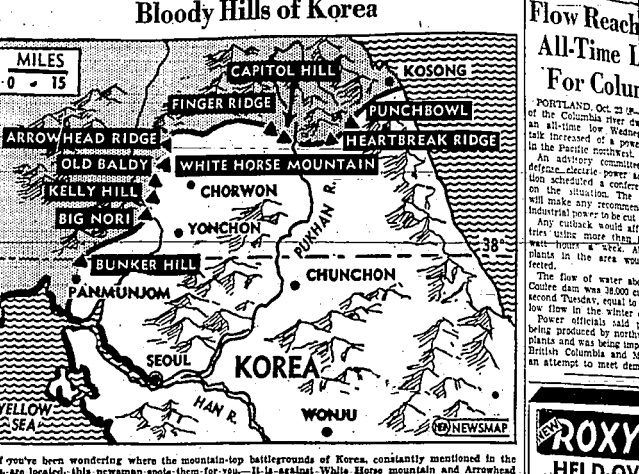

Blood collected Thursday last Wednesday on an air force bomber for San Francisco, where it will be processed and shipped to Korea.

Marilyn Monroe Over-Rated As Real Beauty, Painter Says

By CHARLES DENTON United Press Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 23 (AP)—Portrait painter Peter Fairchild, who has put film stars' most prominent faces on canvas, says Marilyn Monroe isn't a beauty in any sense of the word.

"He doesn't think much of Zsa Zsa Gabor either," the painter said. "But to me—her beauty is negative—a sensation, a shock."

As a matter of fact, Fairchild doesn't have many compliments for any of today's crop of film-land beauties.

"You just don't compare with the oldsters," he said.

But he grants there are exceptions to this rule—including Lana Turner, Susan Hayward, Ava Gardner and Elizabeth Taylor. He also thinks Katharine Hepburn and Joan Crawford "have the rare kind of beauty that hits a painter where he is."

But the "most beautiful woman who ever graced the screen was Greta Garbo," according to Fairchild.

"There was a woman who could take a man away from me of the support-beauties of today," he claims.

Fairchild allowed that painting the stars, though lucrative, is a very tough business.

"But it isn't just before I might have been forced to stop playing to date it away."

Flow Reach All-Time For Columbia
PORTLAND, Oct. 23 (AP)—An all-time low water level in the Pacific Northwest is predicted by an advisory committee of the Columbia River Commission. The committee said that industrial power to be cut off. Any cutback would affect the water level in the area would be cut. The flow of water above the dam was 38,000 cfs on Tuesday, equal to the low flow in the winter. Power officials said no more power would be produced by the dam and that the British Columbia and the United States are attempting to meet demand.

FACTORY Radio TV Center announces the formal opening
 OF THEIR BRAND NEW
RADIO-TELEVISION CENTER

420 MAIN AVENUE SOUTH

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

October 24 and 25 — 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., so all Magic Valley can come

WELCOME FRIENDS . . . to this, our brand new—Television-Radio-home . . . one that has had its inception from the desire to be in the future, as in the past, the leading service center in Magic Valley for all electronic needs. Our years of working, hoping and planning have gone into this ultra modern home . . . to bring you, not only the latest, most scientific service in the field, but to enable us to offer you NOW the finest proven electronic equipment available in America today.

Shown above is only a portion of our spacious service department, with its individual soundproof, glass rooms.

FOR YEARS the people of Twin Falls and Magic Valley have looked to us for highly specialized factory trained radio and sound equipment service . . . in fact, for everything in the field of electronics.

Now . . . Better than ever before, we'll be in a position to serve this section of Idaho with service on your home radio, auto radio, tape recorder and all other electronic needs which will even surpass our past standards.

Stunning view of our large modern sales room with its modernistic furniture and the latest in Radio and TV sets.

YOU WILL HAVE TO SEE THIS MODERNISTIC STORE TO REALIZE ITS BEAUTY.

WHEN will we have T. V.?

We'll know as soon as anyone, and until then . . .

we're making

NO FANTASTIC CLAIMS
NO FALSE PROMISES

Don't be misled—there is no foreseeable shortage of T.V. sets in the future. We advise waiting until you know we have satisfactory T.V. reception here before investing in what may not be the latest and best type of set for this area.

WHEN IT COMES . . . WE'LL HAVE IT!

TELEVISION . . .

Daily inquiries coming to us indicate how high public anticipation is. We feel your interest is deserving of a statement from us, so you will know how we are approaching this new tremendous field. Twin Falls and Magic Valley may rest assured that FACTORY RADIO-TV CENTER is now fully prepared for the introduction of TELEVISION, a revolutionary development which is not far off for Southern Idaho.

In fact, we have planned so far in advance for the coming of TELEVISION that in connection with TV. Anyone interested in the future prospects of TV locally may feel perfectly free to consult us. Our technicians are prepared to provide up-to-the-minute information without the slightest obligation.

SALES . . .

In many respects we feel fortunate that we have never before entered the selling field. We have had many years of opportunity to observe the performance and construction of radios, to learn what it takes to make a good radio . . . why some radios are better than others.

We feel that with this knowledge we will be better prepared to choose the very top quality brands available. You can be assured that any product, be it radio, television, tape recorder or anything else we sell, will be the result of careful evaluation and will represent the top value product in its particular field.

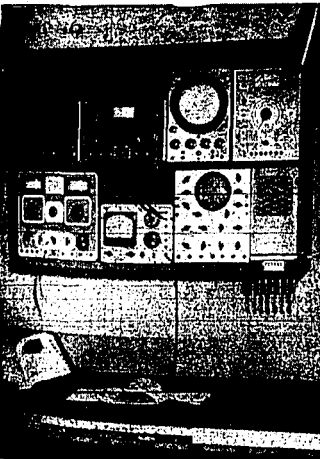

When you visit our store, we are sure that you will then fully understand why we have made the foregoing statement.

PRICES . . .

With our new streamlined operation we will be better equipped to give better service and it is reasonable to believe that in most cases the labor charges will be less than our recognized low prices of the past. This will be due to the increased efficiency that should develop as a result of our new departments.

You'll marvel at how our individual repair departments are set up in glass enclosures. Our sound proof demonstration rooms will be a delight to all our patrons.

Above all, we know you'll continue to realize that FACTORY RADIO-TV CENTER is tops in its field—a great sales and service organization upon which you may always depend for complete satisfaction.

Modern, yes! This picture shows just a part of the exclusive Television testing and service equipment that we have installed . . . ready to offer the ultimate in all electronic service.

Pictured above: Our modern, portable field testing Television plant, with its 90-foot folding tower, which enables us to find the proper location and height in which TV signals are best received at your home before installing your aerial or set.

FREE! this lovely new 1952 super powered STROMBERG-CARLSON TELEVISION SET especially designed for long-range reception. Large 21" curved safety glass—with exclusive Panoramic Vision.

Yes! This beautiful set given absolutely Free during this grand opening celebration.

Nothing to buy . . . No obligation . . . Just look over our lovely new T.V. home and fill out the card—drop it in the sealed box . . . you may be the lucky winner. It's not necessary to be present to win. Winner will be announced later.

Incidence of Ulcers Called High for Tots

CHICAGO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Children, just like business tycoons, have stomach ulcers—and in "large numbers."

Dr. Benjamin R. Oldinary reported recently that tots undergo serious tensions a lot like their parents' worries over keeping a job, meeting the grocery bill and paying the rent.

Oldinary, associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Pittsburgh medical school, said he had no idea how many children have stomach ulcers, but said that the problem is "starting to be the medical profession."

He said the children who have the disorders are usually bright, tense and possessed with an inner drive, much like a successful businessman. They tend to keep their emotions tightly bottled up, he added.

Oldinary, who made a report on the situation to the American Academy of Pediatrics here, said ulcers in children are an "alarming development."

He said they had been discovered in numbers only recently, but said that there probably always has been a certain number of children who suffer from ulcers.

Oldinary based his conclusions on an examination of 46 peptic ulcer cases among children ranging in age from 14 months to 11 years. The patients came from a group of 500 to 800 children examined at the Pittsburgh clinic.

He referred to a report by a New York doctor, Dr. F. K. Alexander, who said he found 30 ulcer cases in 254 children he examined in five years.

The Pittsburgh scientist said an increase in children's ulcers became apparent since the war and he expressed a belief that economic security for the general public has decreased in that period.

16-Year-Old Bellevue Youth Bags Moose As Climax to Big Game Hunting Career

BELLEVUE, Oct. 23—A moose, an elk, a bear and a deer is the record set by 16-year-old William Watts in his two years of big game hunting. This year he has the only applicant from Blaine county to draw in the Fremont county moose hunt.

On the second day of the hunt, he, his father, W. R. Watts and his 9-year-old brother, Jerry Watts, set down to rest on a fallen tree. It was only 9 a. m. but they had started out at 6 a. m. and were tired. As they talked of the most likely place to find a moose at that time of day a cow and a calf walked placidly out of the timber onto a clearing on the hillside in front of them.

The two animals were as surprised as the three humans and more curious. Slowly they walked in the direction of the hunters, never taking their eyes from them. Instinctively Jerry edged closer to his father. He had heard stories of moose charging hunters.

When the moose came to within 150 feet of the Watts they stopped and took one long look. Apparently satisfied, they turned and started munching the dry hillside grass. Jerry's clasp on his father's hand relaxed.

William whispered, "Shall I get the cow?"

"No, son, don't kill her. The calf will never make it through the winter if you do."

Quietly they sat and watched the animals feed. Suddenly William whispered, "Look dad—over there!"

Coming slowly from the shadows along the edge of the timber was a big bull. When he was within 150 yards of the hunters he raised his huge head and sniffed the air. He had caught their scent. William's gun was at his shoulder and the sharp crack of the rifle split the air at the same instant the big fellow sounded the alarm to his family and turned to retreat into the timber. A second later he went down. When the two men and Jerry reached him he was dead. The bullet had entered his head just behind the left ear.

Blaine's Lone Moose

"It was then I got a case of moose fever," William said. "Guess I just didn't have time before I shot." As quickly as possible they dressed between the winter's supply of steaks and roasts and a carcass four meat. They cut their kill into eight pieces.

"The most unusual thing about it was that the cow and calf grazed quietly after I shot—and then walked over and stood nearby to watch us dress the bull," William said.

When William and his father each took a piece of the meat and prepared to pack it the milk and cream to the pickup, Jerry exclaimed "I'll take the head for you," and ran to pick it up.

His father laid down his meat and returned to where Jerry tugged at the head. "Here, I'll put it on your back for you," he said. As Jerry's father gradually felt the weight down on the boy's shoulders, Jerry sank to the ground.

"Well, maybe I can drag in the hide," he countered.

The meat was in the cooler by 2 p. m. that day. The animal weighed 1,000 pounds. From the tip of his nose to the top of his head he measured 38 inches and the spread of his antlers was 30 inches. From the base of one ear to the base of the other he measured 12 inches. His bell was 18 inches long. Conservation Officer Oliver Miskelbine said the animal was between 3 and 4 years old.

Get Out and Vote

Veteran political analysts expect an all-time record vote registration this year which should set a record for the number voting in an election. This newschart shows that population of voting age has increased much faster than the number actually voting since 1932. Due to the high registration this year experts estimate that between 55 and 60 million people will cast their ballot this year.

Battalion Chief's Last Journey Recalls Heroism in Red Attack

By FILED PAINTON
CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Oct. 23 (AP)—The battalion commander made his last trip to the front through driving rain and mud to say goodbye to the men who he thought he had seen him die on Triangle hill.

It was a strange journey for Spelman, Olympia, Wash. I drove him carefully on the slippery road, knowing that one day he had been believed for 18 straight hours that he was going to die.

Now the 42-year-old officer was on his way home to a wife and two children. There was just his last visit to his men that he had to make. The men who had thrown back a Chinese regiment ordered to take the hill or die.

"I still don't know how or why I'm here," he said, shaking his head slowly. "I still don't know how or why I'm here."

He stiffened when the big guns around us boomed out. He looked toward the north. One of our rounds exploded distantly to our left and Spelman smiled and nodded at me. The north, one of our rounds exploded with his men, shooting with them and throwing hand grenades at the Chinese. He destroyed his bunker and in the confusion of battle the men around him were killed.

A direct hit destroyed his bunker and in the confusion of battle the men around him were killed.

At battalion headquarters, the three, dirty soldiers smiled, called out to him and threw exaggerated salutes like honor guards when they saw him.

"I'm so proud of these men," he started to say. He choked up with emotion. Then he tried again.

"It was the most terrific thing I ever heard. There was just one big explosion and the whole hill moved. A new light and the whole hill was going to happen."

Spelman said the Chinese poured men into a "tunnel" leading to the American positions and scaled the side of a hill so steep "you almost had to lie on your back."

"I looked just like a Civil War battle," he said. "We stood in the trench and the Chinese got so hot the men had to wrap cloth around them to hold them. One line of men would move up to shoot while another went down to reload and cool the guns. Some of the shells got so hot they didn't stop properly."

"I told them to pick up one from the wounded or dead and keep on firing."

Spelman said he learned the Chinese had been ordered to take the hill or die.

Spelman said a direct hit knocked out his radio and shook him up. His officers were all hit. His men were out of ammunition and were throwing hand grenades. "It's like a shooting gallery," he said. "I can't figure out a way to withstand that terrific bombardment. They look right down on us and pound hell out of us."

He got up and left to say goodbye to the survivors of the battle. Spelman was being rotated back. Many of the men he wouldn't see this day also had been scheduled to go back after the battle.

Auto Crash Kills Idaho Falls Man

SPENCER, Oct. 23 (AP)—Harry O'Brien, 44, prominent Idaho potato trader and farmer from Idaho Falls, was killed early Wednesday in a traffic accident on the Butte highway near Spencer.

Apparently injured in the same Idaho Falls, and Robert Halford, Roberts. The three men were leaving in a pickup truck. O'Brien was driving, Jack Hunter, state patrolman, said.

Hunter said the driver apparently dived at the wheel and the car left the highway and rolled over. O'Brien was associated with the Roberts Produce company at Roberts.

Down for Peders Urged

Oct. 23 (AP)—Safety experts urged motorists to slow down for pedestrians on city streets and highways.

The state manager of the Department of Transportation said that the biggest cause of pedestrian deaths in the nation's highways is the failure of motorists to slow down for pedestrians.

Five Divorce Actions Filed; One Granted

GOODING, Oct. 23—Most of the divorce cases filed in district court here and five actions for divorce have been filed.

Florida Shoup, represented by James, Shaw and James, Gooding, charges extreme cruelty to her husband in a divorce from Roy Shoup. Mrs. Shoup claims her husband associated with another woman and that she spent much of his income on drinking. They have been separated since Dec. 1, 1932.

The couple was married July 3, 1941. In Gooding and have two children. Community property, settlement agreement, which is a property settlement agreement, consists of household furnishings, a Chevrolet coupe and equity in a Gooding lot. Mrs. Shoup is asking for custody of the children subject to the right of visitation at reasonable times and places by the father.

Harold F. Rediker, represented by Earl E. Walker, Twin Falls, charges extreme cruelty to his wife in a divorce from Marian C. Rediker. They were married April 11, 1946, at Upper Darby, Pa. Mrs. Rediker claims she now lives with her mother at Ocean City, N. J. Rediker claims his wife will not live with him and is satisfied with the living he can provide for her.

John Liggett, represented by Karl Jepperson, Boise, charges extreme physical and mental cruelty against Mrs. Liggett in her action for divorce from him. They were married Sept. 8, 1944, at Boise and have two children. Community property includes a pickup truck and a small amount of household goods valued at more than $300.

Mrs. Liggett claims her husband refuses to pay current household bills and will not live with her and is harassed by bill collectors and that she had to seek employment herself to meet the needs of the children.

Mrs. Liggett is seeking custody of the children, subject to right of the husband, subject to right of the children, subject to right of the mother, for support of the children and for the household goods.

William D. Freeman, represented by Grant L. Ambrose, Boise, charges desertion in an action for a divorce from Gladys C. Freeman. They were married at Payette, May 22, 1940, and have no children and no community property.

Verna Freeman, represented by James W. Blaine, Boise, charges extreme cruelty to her husband in a divorce from Gerald M. Freeman, a lieutenant colonel in France. She claims he kept company with other women. They were married at Alexandria, Va. June 21, 1948, and have no children.

A property settlement agreement has been entered and there is no property to be disposed of under this proceeding. Duane Adams appearing in person and by his attorneys, Branch Bird and Clifford D. Hoberg, Gooding, granted a divorce from Ernest E. Adams, by default.

Lincoln's Potato Harvest Ending With Average Yield; Percentage of 1's High

SHOSHONE, Oct. 23—Most of the potato crop in Lincoln county will be harvested by Thursday night. The average yield is between 65 and 70 per cent of the acre and a yield of approximately 250 sacks to the acre.

Farmers claim they have more acres of potatoes this year than they had last year and the yield is about the same. Harvesting has been done so far in the middle and late part of the season because of the good weather conditions and, as G. D. Low, who has 20 acres of potatoes, said, the pickers were exceptionally fast this year. Low had 37 pickers and it only took 7 days to complete his potato harvest.

Low had 80 acres of potatoes last year and 100 more farmers in the area. It is now being acreage this year. Some of the most prominent potato farmers last year didn't plant potatoes this year because of the Stimpson was one of the best producers in potatoes here last year but they want to plant corn. Many farmers said they had never seen such good crop and contributed the good crop to the late snow which was followed by sudden warm and early spring.

There is a growing concern among cattle farmers in north Shoshone and Richfield areas this fall over the unusual losses in cattle since they have been brought in from the range and put in the alfalfa fields. Because of the warm weather, the hay has grown up with a lushness unusual to this time of year and the cattle black and die. One farmer reported a loss of 11 head on his farm, another three calves and a cow, and one a bull for which he recently was offered $400.

There weren't as many losses reported from the Richfield area as in some other parts of the county. Stimpson said his losses have been light and Edwards said he hasn't lost any animals this fall. Edwards explained that he always leaves his late cutting of alfalfa in the field in the fall and with its drying it seems to prevent blowing on the cattle and the dry hay mixed with the new growth of green alfalfa.

Sales for Series E Bonds Higher Than Last Year

Idaho residents went on a buying spree in September, when they purchased $24,903 worth of series E defense bonds, 91 per cent more than in the same month a year ago. Sales of E bonds in Twin Falls county totaled $27,022.50 during September.

John H. Robertson, county defense bond sales chairman, said the "remarkable increase of defense bond purchases since May of this year reflects widespread satisfaction with the new government bonds. It shows, too, a growing number of employes of industry and business are making payroll savings purchases of the bonds."

An additional $58,480 was spent over the state during September for series E and K bonds. The sales of E bonds for the month in other Magic Valley counties included: Blaine county, $1,162.50; Camas county, $1,175; Cassia county, $30,000; Fremore county, $20,568.75; Gooding county, $1,247.50; Jerome

Hot Fad

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23 (UP)—A fad for shiny stuff like swastikas and goldfish for the boys at Ohio State university. The latest fad—getting fire—is a real hoot man, they say.

The equipment for the fad includes a can of lighter fluid, a match and a powerful act of lungs. A small quantity of the fluid is taken into the mouth. The match is lighted and held at arm's length. Then a mighty puff of air, spraying the fluid at the match, and a big ball of flame rolls skyward.

The game is discouraged around campus or among people with misgivings or fears.

French Plane Falls; 11 Die

PARIS, Oct. 23 (AP)—A French four-engine Langueque military transport plane crashed today as it took off from Le Bourget field on the northeast edge of Paris, killing all persons aboard.

A spokesman for the air ministry said 11 persons were booked aboard the plane, although sources at the military air field at Le Bourget said only nine persons actually were in it, including four crewmen and five passengers.

The plane fell next to the Dupuy town hall and three blackened bodies were pulled from the burned fuselage. All aboard the craft were military personnel. The big twin-engine Langueque, an old-fashioned craft named for one of France's provinces and a standard transport used in both military and civilian flying, had just taken off on a routine flight to Orleans.

Arms Race I A-Bomb, Sci Reports to

TOKYO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Einstein explained today that research on the atom bomb would be worth even though it is "useful" danger.

In a letter to the War Relocation Authority, Einstein said that if nations are prepared for war, the nations must use the atom bomb. He said that if they will not use it, the nations will lose the race.

He said he would recommend to the War Relocation Authority that the search be rushed on the atom bomb. Einstein's letter to the War Relocation Authority was signed by Einstein and Nagasaki.

Texas Governor Plans "Ike" Aid

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 23 (AP)—Allen Shivers promised today to make more speeches on behalf of Dwight D. Eisenhower, pulling the stops in a bitter denunciation of "this fellow Stevenson."

Shivers attacked Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson last night, charging he was campaigning with the "big scare" and that President Eisenhower was helping him with the "big lie."

Shivers also made, by implication only, his first prediction that Eisenhower will carry Texas and its big prize of 34 electoral votes.

The Texas governor has quarreled with fellow Democrats Stevenson and has endorsed Eisenhower's "Bumper" lay crop. Many farmers said they had never seen such good crop and contributed the good crop to the late snow which was followed by sudden warm and early spring.

Hollywood Guild Threatens Strike

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 23 (AP)—A dispute over commercials filmed for television may lead to the first strike in the 19-year history of the Screen Actors guild.

The guild broke off contract negotiations last night with the American Association of Advertising Agencies and certain film producers after its demands were not met.

The guild seeks to "cut the unlimited and repetitious television advertising advertisements and to obtain decent wages and working conditions" for actors appearing in them, a spokesman said.

John Dale, Jr., guild national executive secretary, said he expected the guild's board of directors, which took control and general membership to approve a strike next month.

Returning Airmen To Become Guard

BOISE, Oct. 23 (AP)—Brig.-Gen. John E. Walsh, Idaho adjutant general, announced today that the regular members of Idaho's 190th fighter squadron will be reactivated as an air national guard unit.

Each active unit would place the squadron on its former weekly drill status, Walsh said, as it was before being taken into federal service in May, 1951.

Biographical Data and Opinions of 2 Candidates for Congress Reported

Biographical information on the two candidates for second district congressman and their views on the general election of 1952 were reported Thursday by the Twin Falls League of Women Voters.

The information was gathered for the benefit of voters in deciding between the candidates in the general election Nov. 4, 1952. Mrs. Frank McIntyre, publicity chairman for the local group.

The two candidates are: Hiram Budge, present congressman, on the Republican ticket, and W. H. (Pat) Jensen on the Democratic ticket.

Budge, 41, is a resident of Boise and received his education at Idaho high school, College of Idaho, Stanford University and University of Idaho. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Stanford and a bachelor of laws degree from the University of Idaho. His occupation is an attorney.

Budge was elected second district congressman two years ago. Prior to that he served three sessions of the Idaho legislature and served three and a half years in the navy during World War.

Jensen, 55, is a successful farmer and livestock man and a high school graduate. He served as Bannock county commissioner 12 years, 10 years as chairman. He was president of the Interstate Association of Public Land Counties for two terms and is a past vice president of the Idaho Commissioners and Clerks association, a past director of the Idaho Farm Bureau federation and president of the southside Cattlemen's association.

He also served seven years as superintendent of livestock and as special officer for the U. S. Indian field service at Fort Stead.

Questions posed by the league and the answers of the two candidates were:

1. What should U. S. policy be with respect to (a) the United Nations and (b) aid to underdeveloped countries?

Budge—(a) The United Nations remains the only organization giving hope of ending wars. So long as that hope remains, I favor continued U. S. participation. Revision should be made to make it a more workable body and to cause all members to be "sovereign" states.

Jensen—(a) The United Nations should be reorganized to give it more authority. It should be made into a more workable body and to cause all members to be "sovereign" states.

measures with their individual ability. The constitution of the U. S. must never be superseded by the agreements of the U. N. and we must be forever watchful that this does not occur. (b) America always has been known as the friend of the oppressed and underprivileged. Aid to underdeveloped countries, and particularly technical and advisory assistance, should be continued within our ability to pay for it. Domestic and foreign military requirements should receive first priority over economic aid to these countries, and aid should be deferred until military requirements are met fully.

Jensen—(a) Work for the improvement of the United Nations. (b) If a fraction of what we spend on the military were applied to this end, we would have more friends and less taxes at home.

2. What steps should congress take to halt inflation?

Budge—Congress should help in curbing inflation by balancing the budget, reducing the national debt, curtailing governmental expenditures and removing regulations and restrictions which curb production and cause short supply. Inflation would be impacted to the fullest before direct controls are imposed.

Jensen—Tighter control by congress. 3. Where can federal expenditures be cut best?

Budge—Substantial reductions can be made in both foreign and domestic spending. For example, since 1940 the U. S. has spent more than $9 billion dollars for foreign aid, most of which has gone to communist countries. Over Russia has received 11.5 billion dollars, a substantial part of which has been received since the war. Obviously such foreign expenditures should not be made.

There are now 2.5 million civilian employees, whereas at the height of World War II under President Roosevelt there were only 1.5 million civilian federal workers. Large numbers of these should be returned to productive employment. Additional proposals of the Hoover commission can be adopted which would result in savings in excess of five billion dollars a year. Congressional committees have clearly proved that military expenditures, both here and abroad—by congressional supervision—can be slashed drastically with no impairment in national security.

Jensen—Our biggest cut can be made in the military which is bleeding away most of our tax dollars. Much stronger civilian control of military spending is absolutely necessary.

4. In what pieces of legislation are you especially interested?

Budge—I am particularly interested in legislation designed to strengthen the economy of the U. S. by returning private endeavor to the people and taking government out of business. It is the function of government to regulate business, not manage it. I also am particularly interested in legislation designed to remove inequities which exist in military service.

Jensen—I support a bill for payment in lieu of taxes on public lands of the west. (b) Any bill which would develop the resources of Idaho.

Polio Epidemic in Idaho Hits Peak

POCATELLO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Idaho's polio epidemic apparently has reached its peak, David P. Weeks, state representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today.

Weeks said the incidence is declining in recent days. The state health department's vital statistics division in Boise listed another new patient Wednesday, boosting the yearly total to 256 cases. The newest patient was a 16-year-old Burley girl.

Weeks said the foundation has provided 20 iron lungs, 12 hot pack machines and 11 portable respirators to Idaho polio treatment centers this year.

The equipment problem, he said, has been complicated by an unusual incidence of a severe type of cases, known as bulbar polio.

Speakers Listed

Blaine Forms Group to Aid County Agent

CAREY, Oct. 23—The organization of an agriculture advisory council to assist the county agent has been formed in Blaine county. The first meeting was held in Halley last week with L. M. Williams, district extension agent, supervisor as speaker.

Williams explained the need of the county and its members could report to the people of the county concerning the work that has been done and is being done to help them. The council would know the county problems and be expected to report such to the county agent so he could make his services better meet the needs of the people.

Members, who were selected because of their contacts with farmers and ranchers are Keith Rhodes, Millard Messers, Mrs. S. Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Justesen, Charlie Haskell, Pete Cherrubino, Bob Day, Mrs. Jewel Cain, all of Carey; L. N. Purdy, Piceabo; Mrs. Martha Erickson, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Bellevue; Wayne Clark Gannett, and C. W. Gardner, Halley.

A report of activities since last December was made to the council by James Wheeler, county agent. He said the county now is paying out of his budget. The rest is furnished by the state through the University of Idaho. He said that of 100 days spent making field contacts, 43 days were spent with Carey farmers, 21 days in Gannett, 17 in Bellevue, 11 in Halley in Piceabo, 7 in Ketchum. He mailed out 3,273 circular letters to county farmers, gave out 71 bulletins and made 308 individual farm visits.

Among the programs undertaken during the past year through his office have been the project work of bangs disease control, crop production, weed control, soil and water projects with emphasis made on crop rotation and proper irrigation methods, farm forestry, farm management, farm marketing and 4-H club work. He reported that there are six 4-H clubs in Blaine county with 71 members. From one of these was produced the "grand champion steer" at the recent district fair in Jerome, he said.

I. F. Pair Wins

MOSCOW, Oct. 23—Janet Hansen and Carolyn Beifers, Idaho Falls, made up Idaho's winning vegetable marketing team in the national junior vegetable growers demonstration contest, Dan E. Warren, state 4-H club leader, announced Tuesday.

The two will receive free trips to New York for the National Vegetable growers convention Dec. 7-11.

Area Church Lists Events

BIDISONS, Oct. 23—The Rev. Eugene Crow, Salt Lake City, Idaho, state director of Evangelism, will make a visit to the local Baptist church on Nov. 10, the Rev. Joseph McCleod, local minister, announced Wednesday. The Rev. Mr. Crow was scheduled to come last Sunday but was unable to fill the appointment at that time.

In reporting on repairs and redecorating at the local parsonage, the Rev. Mr. McCleod said two rooms inside had been redecorated all week along with removal of brick on the back of the building and repairing it with asbestos shingles. An electric water heater also has been installed in the parsonage, he said.

Saturday afternoons are set aside as work periods on the parsonage and church. The labor is voluntary. Regular meetings at the church each week include Sunday school and church services Sunday morning, 7 p. m. services for the Junior Baptist Youth fellowship followed by 8 p. m. services for members. Weekly prayer meetings are held at 8 p. m. each Wednesday and the Senior Youth Fellowship meets at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Mae Vaughn is in charge of the Junior youth group. The next quarterly business meeting for the church will be held Nov. 5, the Rev. Mr. McCleod said.

The 1029 Geneva convention governing treatment of war prisoners was not signed by Russia.

Many doctors recommend Wheat Hearts because

THIS CEREAL CONTAINS TOASTED WHEAT GERM

Tastes good, too...rich and nut-like

Youngsters and grown-ups like this cereal better than most because of its full-hearted, toasted wheat flavor. And it's so good for them!

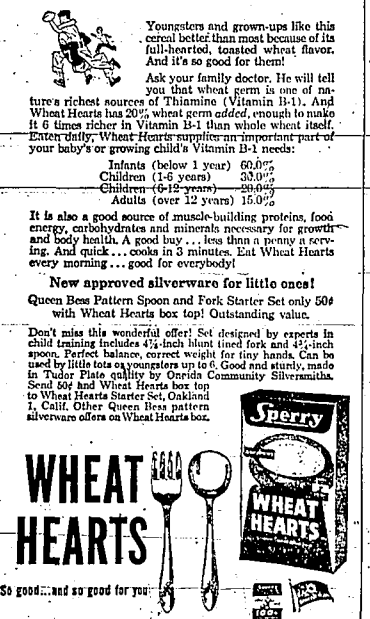

Ask your family doctor. He will tell you that wheat germ is one of nature's richest sources of Thiamine (Vitamin B-1). And Wheat Hearts has 20% wheat germ added, enough to make it 6 times richer in Vitamin B-1 than whole wheat itself. Eaten daily, Wheat Hearts supplies an important part of your baby's or growing child's Vitamin B-1 needs:

Infants (below 1 year)	60.0%
Children (1-5 years)	23.0%
Children (6-12 years)	29.0%
Adults (over 12 years)	15.0%

It is a good source of muscle-building proteins, food energy, carbohydrates and minerals necessary for growth and body health. A good buy... use the only a serving. And quick... cooks in 3 minutes. Eat Wheat Hearts every morning... good for everybody!

New approved silverware for little ones! Queen Bees Pattern Spoon and Fork Starter Set only 50¢ with Wheat Hearts box top! Outstanding value.

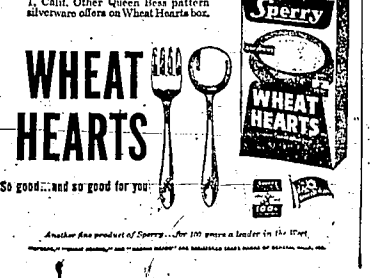

Don't miss this wonderful offer! Set designed by experts in child training includes 1/2-inch blunt tined fork and 1/2-inch spoon. Perfect balance, correct weight for tiny hands. Can be used by little tots as youngsters up to 6. Good and sturdy, made in Tudor Plate quality by Onida Community Silvermiths. Send in Wheat Hearts box top to Wheat Hearts Starter Set, Oakland 1, Calif. Other Queen Bees pattern silverware offers on Wheat Hearts box.

WHEAT HEARTS

So good...and so good for you!

Another fine product of Sperry... the 100 years a leader in the world.

America's Finest Wools are Woven by Pendleton

Oregon is the Wool Empire. There Pendleton has the choice of America's finest fleeces. There they dye, spin and weave their own wools. All are 100% live virgin wool. The fabrics are soft and luxurious - the colors are rich and lasting, year-in and year-out - the patterns are exclusively Pendleton. The quality of tailoring and workmanship is traditional. Little wonder, then, that Pendleton is America's largest selling fine wool shirt.
