Early Bird Mails Yule Parcels

... was early to begin Christmas mailing, believes Olla A. Jackson, Twin Falls, who is cooperating in an early for Christmas campaign sponsored by the U.S. post department. Receiving Jackson's 14 large parcels, Twin Falls post office. (Staff photo-Engraving)

Later Than You Think; Residents Urged to "Mail Early for Christmas"

"For Christmas" is the motto for the U.S. Post Office. It is the postmaster's hope that the public's cooperation in preparing and mailing parcels in advance will result in facilitating the early Christmas mailing. A necessary delay and the loss of the last minute mail is a regrettable occurrence, he said.

Parcels should be wrapped securely and tied with a good quality paper and cord. Packages should not be sealed unless name and address of sender are shown together with the printed inscription "Contents, merchandise. Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

Sealed parcels not so labeled or endorsed are subject to the letter rate of postage. The name and address of the sender may be hand-stamped or typewritten on the label.

To encourage early mailing, senders are permitted to mail parcels "Do Not Open Until Christmas." Simple obligatory inscription not of a personal nature may be written in books, but other unauthorized written additions subject parcels to the letter rate of postage.

Parcels containing articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery are not acceptable for mailing. Parcels containing perishable articles must be endorsed by the postmaster or other postal employees with the word "perishable" directly above the name and address.

Centralization of Power Charged in VA as Plan for Revision Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The old complaint that too much power is centralized in Washington cropped up again this week, this time in connection with a vast bureau handling benefits for millions of former fighting men.

The veterans administration which had hired a firm of management consultants for a fee of $600,000 to see what if anything was wrong with the VA, made the report public Wednesday. It said, among other things, that too many decisions were being made in Washington, too few at the grass roots.

Cary M. Gray, Jr., veterans administrator, announced that he is putting into effect a plan of reorganization of his own. It amounts to acceptance of some of the consultants' recommendations, rejection of others.

But VA officials vowed today that the Gray plan will not have authority to field men from was proposed by the consultants.

As of Oct. 31 the VA had 542 field stations. These embraced 187 hospitals, some of which are the bases for VA centers; 27 VA centers; 10 regional offices; five district offices; 113 sub-regional and contact offices; and 17 homes.

A. W. Woolford, director of the VA's information service, said he is certain the decentralization of authority under Gray's plan for three major autonomous operating departments—medical, insurance and veterans benefits—would be greater than that called for by Dept. Allen and Hamilton, the Chicago firm of management consultants.

The report of the consultants called for a 13-department set-up which would recognize the independence of the five major VA programs—medical, insurance, vocational rehabilitation and education, loan guaranty and claims.

It also called for decentralization of management "so that operating decisions may be made at the point where action is required."

Boor, Allen and Hamilton said there should be continued department of activities needed to be performed on a local basis and centralization to the fullest possible extent of "administration and other activities which are not required on a local basis."

Woolford said he had talked to number of the present assistant administrators, who have had responsibility for administrative decisions extending to the field stations. He quoted them as saying that under the Gray plan "their wings have been clipped, they are now in advisory capacities with authority to act delegated to the field level."

The management consultants said that VA headquarters, or central office, executives have been exercising direct authority and control over their counterparts organizations in the field.

They said that in the medical department, for example, central office executives have controlled selection, placement, promotion and transfer of the staff in the field while such control should be vested in field executives.

The report said of the VA as a whole that central office executives accomplished control "through establishment... of field organizational structures, personnel ceilings and staffing patterns, budget limitations and mandatory procedures; through selection and appointment by central office of division and service chiefs in field stations; and through continuous inspection of field activities and individual transactions."

"It is quite apparent, from the survey, that the present plan of organization is outmoded..."

School Gymnasium Skeleton Takes Shape at Hansen

The skeleton of the new Hansen school gymnasium takes shape and the roof and windows are expected to be installed within the next 19 days if the weather remains favorable. The new boiler is expected to be installed during the Christmas vacation. (Staff photo-magazine)

During the Christmas vacation the new boiler, which will furnish heat for the new addition as well as for the old school building, will be installed, Hopwood said. The boiler is a part of the improvement program covered by the $140,000 bond issue passed last summer.

Shop facilities, now housed in the basement of the smaller building, and the lunch room, now in the basement of the old gymnasium, will be moved to the basement of the new addition as soon as the boiler is installed.

Flames Burn Hay, Barn on Jerome Farm

Jerome Farm

JEROME, Nov. 20 — Flames believed caused by a short in electrical wiring consumed a barn and 30 tons of hay on a farm operated by John Hepworth northeast of here Friday night.

The blaze was reported at 11:45 p. m. and rural fire department members fought it until 3 a. m.

Calves Lost — In addition to the hay and barn, two calves and a milking machine were lost in the fire. Hepworth estimated the loss at about $4,000.

The 40-by-60 foot barn was valued at about $2,000, the hay at $700 and the milking machine at $450. Value of the two young calves was difficult to estimate. One was 6 months old and the other was newly born.

East Wind Saved — An east wind during the blaze saved two houses on the place. Fire Chief Otto Birk reported. A west wind could have caused the flames to jump to the houses, he explained. He blamed the blaze on wiring shorted by the high winds.

Firemen were forced to chop a hole in an ice-covered irrigation ditch to procure water to fight the flames, he said.

Need for 150 Blood Donors Cited in T. F.

will be sent to San Francisco for shipment as whole blood to American flying forces overseas or to laboratories for processing.

Fox emphasized that the Red Cross does not charge the blood collector through its centers. "Under no circumstance does the Red Cross charge for or receive payment for blood or the cost of collecting, storing and distributing it," he said. "The Cross is reimbursed by the government on an actual cost-per-pint basis for certain operations at costs incurred in the collection of the defense blood, he said.

The blood donor does not experience any noticeable effect from giving blood. A mild skin anesthetic incision that he doesn't feel the donor and the blood is withdrawn at a steady, uniform rate.

Donating a pint of blood is comparable to an aspirin for a headache. A person in good health can do either safely. A temporary abstinence of one pint of blood in the blood stream makes no difference in the functioning of the healthy body, he explained.

A few days after his donation, a donor receives a donor card in the mail. "I thank him for his donation, shows the dates of his donation and records his blood type," he said.

Fox pointed out that no substitute has been found for blood and that it can come only from human donors. "The need for blood and plasma in Korea is greater than ever. We will meet that demand depend upon every one of us," he declared.

Solon Avers USDA Aided Market 'Rig'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Senator Solon, R. Ind., accused the agriculture department today of shielding international speculators who reaped millions of dollars of profits by forcing American oat prices down with imported Canadian oats.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, the senator said he was certain action would be taken against such operations after the 1935 date President-elect Eisenhower takes office, he added.

"Before that date, however, additional millions of bushels of Canadian oats will move into our markets. In fairness to our farmers, Mr. Secretary, you report of something about this now."

Sen. Solon said an Oct. 15 report of the commodity exchange authority on an investigating agency found that speculators from Canada found that speculators have reaped millions of dollars in profits.

The report also showed "several apparent violations of CEA regulations," Solon wrote. "But for some reason CEA officials forwarded their findings without recommendation to the director of the department of agriculture."

FIGURING IRISH "SPINNERS" WIP SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Notre Dame Uses "Sucker Shift" to Score Early in Hard Fought Grid Battle

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29 (AP)—Notre Dame's spotters humiliated Southern California Saturday with a "sucker shift" to score in the second period and sent the Rose bowl-bound Trojans crashing from the undefeated football ranks 9-0.

The Fighting Irish, ending team at its own game. It was the Trojans' first loss since the season 19-13 a year ago at the Arizans.

Notre Dame scored the game-deciding touchdown in the second period with its demon-like punt-punt setting it up.

Johnny Lattner punted and the Trojan's terrific safetyman, Jim Sears, received it on the USC's back field and gave Merrill Mavrades and the bone-jarring Dan Shannon coming in at him his first career.

It was enough for Sears. He looked over his shoulder for help from the line for the first time in the game, lost his pulse. He tried to lateral to Al Carmichael, who was backed up to the manure and the ball bounced back to him. Mavrades fell on it on the USC's 15.

From there, the inspired Irish banged through USC's tight line to the three yard line. Then came the "sucker shift." Notre Dame went into its regular 3-3-1 alignment and the Trojans' line was in a three-point stance.

The Irish humbled Oklahoma's Big Seven champions, Texas A&M, in the second quarter, Purdue's Big Ten co-champions, and tied it—Pennsylvania's Ivy League.

Woe Is Champ

Young AAU Fighters Please Twin Falls Fans

Magie Valley fight fans were given the works Saturday night as the AAU benefit card at Twin Falls High school provided them with fireworks, waltzes and one act filled with irony. The amateur boppers put on a great show before a crowd of 400 rabid fans.

Cy Shepard of Twin Falls had the hardest time to suffer. He was being his opponent, Orlando Gallegos of Biale school, Ogden, around 11:30 and just plain hit on the floor.

In another tight fight, Joe Sedillo, 147, Twin Falls, gained a split decision over Ogden's Don Hennington. The bout was fast and filled with action as the two little scrappers went toe to toe and slugged it out.

Proceeds from the fight went to the polio benefit fund.

Sears' Lateral Loses Tilt, Coach Avers

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29 (AP)—Southern California's first NFL pick-up of a "sucker shift" played an ill-fated lateral on the punt receiving by Sears.

Coach Jess Hill, philosophically munching an apple in the Trojan's locker room after the game, said that Sears tossed the ball to Al Carmichael who missed the ball at which time the Trojan's line was in a three-point stance.

"It was nothing we planned," said Hill. "But we had a hunch that Sears would do it. We had a hunch that Sears would do it. We had a hunch that Sears would do it."

14 Animals Killed By Automobile in Jerome Accident

JEROME, Nov. 22—Fourteen sheep were killed at midnight Friday when an automobile driven by Howard Wiseman, Jr., 15, Twin Falls, ran into a band of sheep six miles north and four miles east of Jerome. Jerome County Sheriff James Burns, who is investigating, had not learned the identity of the owner of the sheep up to Saturday night. He said Wiseman, who holds only a daytime driving license, told him he was going between 30 and 35 miles an hour when he hit the sheep. He stopped his car four and one-half miles from the scene of the accident and went to Jerome to report the crash, Burns said. The sheriff said Wiseman estimated damage to the automobile at $600.

Pope Selects 24 Cardinals; One for U. S.

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—Pope Pius XII Saturday named 24 new cardinals, the princes of the Roman Catholic church, including Archbishop James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles. This restores the sacred college of cardinals to its full strength of 70. Two archbishops in communications were made cardinals in the long awaited action. These were Archbishop Adolpho Cipoletti of Zagreb, freed from a Yugoslav prison last December but still restricted to his native village of Krasie, and Archbishop Stefan Wyszyński, Warsaw, primate of predominantly Catholic Poland. Consistory stated: The group will receive symbolic red hats at a consistory here Jan. 12, the second since World War II. Thirty-two prelates entered the college of cardinals in a great consistory Feb. 18, 1946. The pope, 76, picked the cardinal from 12 nations. In what was described by some Vatican sources as a partial return to tradition, he gave Italians the lion's share, 11 appointments. The Italians got only four in 1946. U. S. Has Four. The makeup of the full college by nations now will be July 27: France six, United States four, Spain four; Portugal three; Brazil three; Argentina, Canada and Germany, two each; Armenia, Austria, Australia, Belgium, Britain, Chile, China, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Holland, Hungary, Ireland, Peru, Poland, Syria and Yugoslavia, one each. In the U. S. group, Archbishop McIntyre joins Edward Cardinal Mooney, Detroit; Francis Cardinal Spellman, New York; and Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Chicago.

Three horse races were canceled. Several soccer and rugby matches, which ordinarily attract tens of thousands of spectators each Saturday, were among the games abandoned. The army corps of engineers will be represented at the meeting to discuss a possible flood control plan. Kulp said he or Atty-Gen Robert E. Snyde will explain how the state can help organize the district. The Helge-Roberts flood control district covers only the flood area from Helge downstream. Life in MAGIC VALLEY

RICHFIELD'S first snowstorm this fall brought unpleasant memories of blocked roads and highways to many residents. But the worst blizzard of the season, brought a pleasant surprise into the lives of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Piper. What's more, they have been reminded constantly of the event all summer when seated in their living room.

After a shut-in day at Piper's clothing and grocery stores, Mr. and Mrs. Piper decided to brave the blizzard for a breath of air. Walking was the only mode of travel that night—they took off for a cafe where they expected a rather quiet evening of "chitchat" with Betty and Bud Swan, proprietors. To their surprise they found the cafe crowded with stranded travelers.

Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Porter, Los Angeles, who had decided to stay around while then perhaps try to travel on later in the night. The Pipers found the couple congenial and invited them to their home when there was no let-up in the storm. The next morning as the Porters were ready to leave for Great Falls, Mont., Mrs. Porter remarked to her husband that she had been thinking a certain painting she had in the car would be a good idea to bring along.

"It's my first real oil painting," Mrs. Piper tells her friends, and the artist will in her opinion be a study case with a blue background. It shows a jacinthe holding a branch of pastel blossoms and a palmy shawl curling a coil.

"Cooperation, thoughtfulness, individual initiative, and a sense of civic responsibility were the reasons behind the success of the city council for its accomplishments in civic improvement over the last few years. "Watchfulness" and "demand" have become two words employed by the citizens for constructive growth of the city, the officials explained.

Even with the reduction of the tax levy in 1956, which has been maintained, a number of costly improvements have been accomplished. Expenditure on new oil street amounted to $20,222.15, sidewalks and curbs for city $20,222.15, new sewer pipe and repair of tank bases $2,078.11, 50 shares of water $1,000 and purchase of land between highway 36 and the river cut of the Battle building from the Union Pacific railroad company, $120.

Almost every alley has been cleaned, streets have been straightened, opened and some widened; new street lights have been installed; trees removed and a stock pile of gravel valued at $2,000 has been maintained. The maintenance department under Chief Boyd Alexander has become efficient and city employees have demonstrated ability to handle their work for the benefit of the city. With a population of 1,300, city officials say it would be hard to find a city better kept than Sheehone in comparison. The city water and street superintendent, Ben Terry, keeps that work with the assistance of three regularly paid men.

The city council consists of Myrtle C. Burdett, mayor; Fred Martin, and her philosophy was proved last month by Mrs. Hainaker herself in the PTA membership drive. Mrs. Hainaker, PTA membership drive chairman, competed against herself in the drive for she was membership chairman last year, too. She led this year's contest to a close with 204 members, 62 more than she had just a year ago.

Student interest in the October membership drive was evidenced in the Lincoln school by a miniature tree, made by room members of the PTA and are pointed branches of trees or bushes. The paper leaves, determining the type of tree, range in variety with silver maple, wild cherry, poplar, beech nut and many others. There are 10 rooms in the Lincoln school and there are 10 different varieties of trees.

Prices were offered to rooms with the largest percentage of parent membership at the close of the October drive and the 110 prize was won by Mr. Richard Mabbitt's and Mrs. Ralph Anderson's rooms as they tied for first place. The senior class at the high school won the second prize of $6, and the sophomore class came in third with the $4 prize.

Mrs. Hainaker's goal was 200 members this year and when Oct. 31 arrived she had 204 members. She also added a special "extended" contest for the Lincoln school which brought in more members. Eleven of them were from her own room. There are 33 pupils in her first grade and 40 parents are members. As a reward in the extended contest, pencils, engraved with "Sheehone" were given to each pupil in her room.

For once, "Dad" Werts, who always seems to have words for everybody, was lost for something to say except "Thank you." It isn't easy to surprise him, either. He has a knack of learning about things but this time his family, who knew all about it, managed to keep him completely in the dark.

Mrs. L. M. Hainaker, SHEEHONE, is a teacher who practices what she preaches. For years Mrs. Hainaker, a fifth grade teacher in the Sheehone school system, has advocated that children should be urged to compete against themselves, against their own ability rather than against the ability of other pupils in the room. The success of her philosophy was proved last month by Mrs. Hainaker herself in the PTA membership drive.

"Truth Shall Make You Free"

By C. H. YADON
(Pastor, First Pentecostal Church)

Just how much freedom does Christianity afford? There is a question in the minds of some people about the liberties of a Christian. Some think of Christianity as a narrow sectarian rut which deprives one of the fullness of life.

I said, "When the Son sets free is free indeed." The truth is that a real Christian enjoys a fullness of life and richness of spirit that no other type of life can afford. No amount of early goods can bring the peace of God into your life. Jesus taught us that life does not consist in the abundance of things which we possess, but rather in doing the will of our Father which is in heaven.

It is not a matter of continually restraining yourself from doing things worldly or worse. The Christian lives for God because of the fact that they have found a completeness in serving Christ that eliminates base desires.

We do not need to produce a miracle to prove that the Christian life pays. God has not proposed that miracles, signs and wonders should be the measuring rod by which we determine the spiritual depths of a man's life nor the correctness of

His teaching. Faith is not always evidenced by signs and wonders. Paul said, "Though I have all faith, and have not charity, I am nothing." Abraham ranks near the top of the list of men of faith. He was called a friend of God, yet we do not know that Abraham ever preached a sermon or worked a miracle. His life was a miracle because he walked with God.

As Christians we are admonished not to think of ourselves more highly than we ought to think, but to think soberly according as God has dealt to us the measure of faith. Any human attempt to produce or manifest power or authority above that which God has measured out to us will lead to frustration and defeat.

The full enjoyment of Christian living is not experienced by lazy, profligate Christians. Indifference on the part of Christians has forced God to use people who are without esteem in the eyes of men, but have the humility of heart to do God's will.

No religious group holds a superiority to God. We cannot limit Him to confines of one little program. His love and mercy is as free and boundless as the air we breathe. He is your God if you will trust Him.

Every man who hears the gospel of Jesus Christ is free to face with the greatest privilege in the world, that of becoming a real Christian.

We use the word Christian so freely today. We apply it to most any one unless they are an avowed communist. The word Christian only appears three times in the Bible, and a little study of what marked people as Christians in the days

New Judge Takes Over Spies' Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and Morton Sobell had another judge assigned to their case today.

Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman was relieved from hearing the trio's applications to have their sentences reduced on constitutional grounds.

Kaufman is the judge who sentenced the Rosenbergs to death and Sobell to 30 years in prison for conspiring to give atomic secrets to Russia.

Defense counsel had submitted affidavits alleging that Kaufman was biased in the case.

Judge Sylvester J. Ryan was assigned to hear the applications. Ryan scheduled a hearing for Monday.

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die at Sing Sing prison the week of Jan. 12. Sobell is in Alcatraz prison.
