

As Drive for Polio Begins

BOISE, Jan. 6.—Enthusiasm for the March of Dimes under way here today as a successful campaign to dispatch 40 workers turned out for pick-up dinner and meeting at 7 p.m. Drop team started to leave for home when Jerome county representative arrived to bring party to the attention of the salesmen. Frank and Dale Thomas, co-chairmen of the commission committee, arrived an hour or more in advance to explain the livestock brought at purpose.

At the same time Harold Klauz and his wife and daughter brought a pig on Tuesday with proceeds to the polio drive. The first of two men was made by G. R. Bannan, county chairman, at the 7 p.m. meeting.

Projects to be carried on week by workers include the giving of coin cards in which 25¢ is collected for the drive. This will be with Mrs. Verle Sullivan, vice chairman for the county. In charge of the week of the campaign is Mrs. Paul Malone, women's chairman. Other captains who are working Mrs. Malone include Mrs. E. G. Harada representing the Red Lodge; Mrs. Dale Burkhalter, Signs Phil; Mrs. Jack Russell, Main; Mrs. Richard Burk, Bannan; Mrs. Jim Freeman, Women of the Moose; Mrs. Thelma Cook, and Mrs. Professional-Women; Mrs. Eyle, American Legion auxiliary; Mrs. Guy Kennedy, church; and Mrs. Francis Boyd, Wapinitia Women's association. Captains were introduced by Malone, who announced that she also would assist but will name a list of names.

The third week of activities collectors will be placed in all parts of the county. The first week was introduced by J. Hill's Subscription Serv. Under Bank and Trust Phone 444

MASSONS TO MEET

BOISE, Jan. 6.—A meeting of the Masons will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the temple.

BOISE, Jan. 6.—The Sunday night school board of 100 pieces will present Idaho in President-elect Eisenhower's inaugural parade. State Republican Chairman W. H. Williams, Campbell announced Monday. Campbell said the Pennsylvania band had volunteered its services and the offer was accepted since no Idaho band would be available.

New Solon of Idaho to Help Project Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Rep. Gracie Flock, D. Ida., plans to introduce legislation in congress on working for reclamation in Idaho and other western states. Flock's first feminine member of congress, and the only Democrat in the state's delegation, she succeeded late John J. Wood as representative from the first district. She defeated Wood last November by a 2-1 vote. The year after he beat her by about the same margin.

Before she was sworn in, Mrs. Flock sold a reporter she hopes to become a member of the house interior and insular affairs committee, which handles reclamation bills. "Idaho and the west are in dire need of development, irrigation and power projects," Mrs. Flock said. "We have hardly scratched the surface in developing the natural resources."

Mrs. Flock promised to support the government's proposed Snake canyon dam in Snake river, a multi-million-dollar power project opposed by the Republican members of Idaho's congressional group.

Bella canyon, which would be in Mrs. Flock's district, was a issue in the Idaho political campaign.

Foundations Given Praise Of Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A special house committee investigating subversive influences in tax-exempt foundations has wound up by praising the foundations as a "well kept, American life."

The committee said some of the philanthropic foundations were "subtle" in "hindsight" in their dealing with communists and left-wingers but that they did not intentionally support subversive activities.

The conclusions were in a report of the committee's investigation. It made two major recommendations for the new congress:

1. All tax-exempt foundations should be required to make a more detailed accounting of their activities so as to provide a more positive check on whether they tax-exempt funds are being used in the public interest.
2. Congress should look into the possibility of revising the tax laws to encourage gifts to the foundations by corporations and private citizens.

The committee, headed by the late Rep. E. E. Cox, D. Cal., said its investigation did not disclose any instance where foundation resources were used to weaken, undermine or discredit the American system of free enterprise.

Grange Members Hold Filer Meet

PHILIP, Jan. 6.—Everett Bonnichsen, building chairman, reported at the meeting of the Filer Grange Friday that work will begin soon on the furnace and remodeling of the basement of the Grange hall.

The scrap iron drive was started Tuesday under the direction of Hester Williams and a potluck luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. J. H. Sharp, drill team captain, reported that a practice meeting will be held Monday evening. The Pomona Grange will meet Friday at Cassierville.

Part of the program at the meeting were Mrs. Frances Sharp, Mrs. Albert Schroeder, Allen Brackley and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood McCuller reported on the state Grange meeting. The refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cobb, Mrs. and Mrs. E. C. Higgins and Mrs. and Mrs. O. S. Brown.

CHICAGO—In this Taft's territorial, President-Elect Eisenhower has become as popular as his chief convention rival, Senator Taft, by reason of his re-inauguration decisions and appointments to his cabinet. Development not least, "Mr. Republican," and probably accounts for his current exhibition of self-discipline.

It was widely expected that he would swing around at Washington as a result of the Nov. 4 transfer of power. There, it is expected, he would make the most important initial move in his cabinet on Jan. 20, through the solid and confident Eisenhower. His reputation and the membership's influence status in both house and senate. They count on Taft to do his part to fulfill these long-deferred expectations.

TREASURY EASTERN INFLUENCE—In view of the fact that the majority in the House is "Valley" section, including Governor Stevenson's Illinois, it is mathematically certain that he would have carried them even with his case against the Roosevelt administration at the famous Morningside Heights conference.

Taft's western supporters, and he has a host of them, never were so concerned over personal matters as they are now. They are convinced that they were by their belief that the Dewey philosophy would prevail in an Eisenhower administration. They have been disappointed in the Roosevelt administration, and are looking for a change in the Roosevelt and the Wilson regimes.

They thought Truman even worse than the bipartisan "liberals" which were the Roosevelt administration. Since Dewey "let the dog out" in his 1948 campaign, their temporary doubt and cheer over "his" victory at Chicago and the polls of 1948 largely from their dislike of the New York governor.

JOHNNY HOPPEAS—Dear Sir: I hope the Idaho legislature gets along much better than indicated by recent western reports from once southern Idaho.

Did the legislature convene in a fog or did the legislature meet, resulting in fog?

NIMBLE THINKING—We know a fellow who hates to "eat out." So you can imagine what he thought when his wife sweetly invited him to eat dinner downtown at least once a week.

There was a woman's silence, then he came up with this: "Honey, I can't do that! I'm making a resolution to eat only home-cooked food during 1943!"

P. S.: They dined at home!

BRUTAL INJUSTICE—When Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian foreign minister, stood before a committee of the United Nations just before the Christmas recess, he was a living reminder of one of the world's worst tragedies of inaction.

For nearly eight years, tiny Austria has suffered the occupation of foreign soldiers from Soviet Russia on the one hand and the western allies on the other. Like Berlin, Vienna and Prague, it has been divided.

At first, Russia energetically went through the motions of seeking an Austrian peace treaty. There were endless sessions with representatives of France, Britain and the United States. At one point, there appeared to be disagreement on just "five out of 65 proposed articles to the treaty."

But then the talks broke down. Nothing seemed to get them effectively under way again. To break the impasse, the western powers this spring suggested a short treaty with only eight articles. There were no takers in the Kremlin.

It is pointless to search for the explanation in the past. The differences over specific articles. The real reason lies elsewhere. The Soviet Union never has seriously intended signing an Austrian pact, because it would then be compelled to remove its armies not merely from Austrian soil but from Hungarian and Czechoslovak territory which serves as a corridor for its armies into the westward-reaching pincer of land on Germany's southern flank is a happy strategic circumstance for the Russians. They are not displeased, either, that the Austrian occupation gives them the excuse to send their armies across several satellite nations and directly into an inviolable deterrent to trouble-making in those restive areas.

But this callous disregard of international justice leaves Austria groaning under the financial burdens of occupation and feeling steady impairment of the freedom it regained when the Nazi yoke was cast off at the end of World War II.

Gruber, a sane and courageous statesman who often has defied the reds while right in their midst, warns that the Austrian people may not passively accept this situation indefinitely. It is admittedly explosive.

The western powers cannot there follow their German ally in the case of an independent state and eventually drafting a "peace contract" to free it from occupation. For the west holds but an insignificant fraction of Austrian soil.

The play is in Russian hands for the most part. All we can do is exert pressure, tell the world how brutally they treat their own people, and hope that some day not too far off the Kremlin's power will no longer be great enough for it to perpetuate this outrage to justice.

MIDWESTER'S COCKINESS—The middle west's cockiness in the future—its might almost be characterized as "cockiness"—springs from the fact that it hopes to be the geographical tail that will wag the national dog.

The valley will have 13 of the 19 chairmen of the regular committees in the next house, and nine of 15 in the senate. Under the Democrats, almost the same proportion of committee chairmen will be from the valley. It is the only area in the country where a man to congress from this area, he stays there, barring unusual election upsets, and piles up another record of setting up a record.

It was here, in Senator Taft's broad backland, that Roosevelt's new deal and Truman's fall deal met their heaviest opposition at the ballot box. It was here that the call came, due largely to the Ohio senator's inspiration.

NOISE, THE MOUNTAIN—Fellow middlewesterners, let us not be misled by the "noise" heard in senate, outnumbering legislators from other sections.

"The valley" will have 19 members, as against 17 for the northeast, 11 for the far west and one from the south. The valley will have 13 of the 19 chairmen of the regular committees in the next house, and nine of 15 in the senate. Under the Democrats, almost the same proportion of committee chairmen will be from the valley. It is the only area in the country where a man to congress from this area, he stays there, barring unusual election upsets, and piles up another record of setting up a record.

NATION'S SCHOOL PROBLEM—The nation's school problem is the highest tax burdens in their history. They are supporting the biggest peacetime defense effort, and lending heavy assistance to other parts of the free world. So this is no time to sold them for not digging deeper into their pockets.

Some of their domestic problems seem to be nothing seriously out of hand if more funds are not directed toward meeting them. The deteriorating condition of U. S. highways, frequently remarked upon, is one such problem. Another is the declining physical adequacy and educational quality of the nation's schools.

Now there is a commission of top educators examined the financing difficulties of the colleges and universities. Its report was bleak. Now the New York Times has completed another college survey and its findings are no rozier.

One of every three liberal arts colleges—excluding those from technical and other special institutions—is running in the red. This ratio is higher among the small independent schools, which are harder hit all the way. Even schools partly supported by religious groups are having trouble.

But red ink is far from the story. Schools are reducing the teaching staffs. Some have begun to lower academic standards, keeping going at all. In other words, the financial pressures, fought off so long, at last are starting to be felt by students in the shape of poorer education.

How long can we countenance a developing degradation of educational standards? Proudly we tell ourselves that we are enjoying the highest standards of living we have ever known. It is indeed comforting that our stomachs are so well cared for. It is reassuring also that we can provide the delights to keep us secure.

But what about the minds of our young, the leaders of tomorrow? Are they being well cared for and amount to much if we are content merely to live the lives of well-protected vegetables.

Our colleges are the fountain of learning. Here the unknown is explored, and here the fruit of "exploration" is passed on to the young people who later will try to guide their country to ever better destinies.

With all our tax burdens, we had better give some pretty hard thought to this before we stand by and watch our crucial educational standards slide further. We are playing up our country's and perhaps the world's future.

Bids Received By City Board On Sewer Job

Routine and minor business was conducted by the board of city commissioners Monday night.

Bids were opened on a sewer project from Kimberly road south on Madison street. The bids were referred to the city engineer and returned over to the property owner for consideration.

Bids were: Max Johnson, $1,053; H. Construction company, $1,004; and Clawson Construction company, $864.

William Hill was reappointed to the library board for another term.

To Pay Damages

City Manager J. H. Latimore reported wind damage amounted to $100. To see the insurance company is prepared to cover the loss.

Notice was received that the city was owed by the National Safety council will meet at Boise Jan. 12 and 13, and Commissioner T. D. Davis was appointed to represent the commissioners. Police Chief Howard Gillette will attend and will send M. F. Barnett, city clerk.

The Twin Falls Canal company will hold its annual meeting Jan. 10. N. V. Sharp was authorized to vote one-third of the city's shares, while the remaining shares will be held by Don Stinson.

To Call Votes

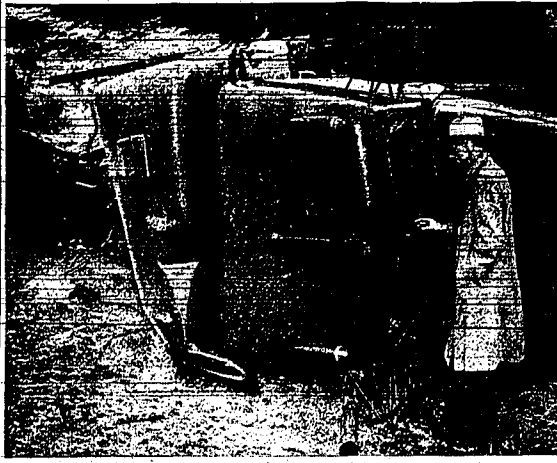

Don Duvall, airport manager, will call city votes at the forthcoming meeting of the Salmon River Canal company.

Commissioner Chester Larsen told the board he has information that the Pace and some of his eight tractors were property to the city several years ago for an alley, but when the alley was put through, an irrigation ditch was moved to the opposite side of the alley so the property owners had to build a new ditch.

Commissioner Larsen said Pace claims former City Manager William R. Smith handled the arrangements, members of the board agreed to investigate.

City Attorney Robert N. W. Barlow said the insurance company will sue with the city on the city action of the city against Clifford Thomas.

Truckers Crawled Through Windshield

Gordon Newbery, Jerome county deputy sheriff, examines broken truck windshield through which two men climbed after their truck was smashed by a train at the Hunt crossing Monday. Neither of the two men was hurt seriously, although their truck was demolished. (Staff photo-engraving.)
