1952 Decline Is Noted for Mine Output

BOISE, Jan. 23— Idaho mines produced $43,527,720 worth of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc during 1952, compared with the $47,957,533 value for 1951, the U. S. interior department's bureau of mines reports.

Production of all metals except copper in the Gem state was down during the year.

Declining market prices of lead and zinc and a restriction on the use of electric power were the primary factors contributing to a six per cent decrease in lead output and nine per cent decrease in zinc production.

The gold output in 1952 declined some 25 per cent, due chiefly to the closing of Bradley Mining company's pitblite operation.

Silver was about one per cent less during the year as compared to 1951.

Copper production, however, increased 40 per cent, due principally to production of the Calera Mining company's recently opened Blackbird mine in Lemhi county, the report showed.

Zinc and lead producers were hit with a staggering price market during the year. Zinc started the year at nearly 105 cents per pound, and had dropped to a low of 12.3 cents per pound by October.

Pomona copper producers took a back seat to the foreign market as far as prices received were concerned. Idaho miners had to be satisfied with an average price of 21.3 per pound, while foreign producers got 71.5 the first half of the year, and 32.10 to 35 during the last half.

Gold went for $30 per fine ounce, and silver sold for slightly more than 8 cents per fine ounce.

Comparison Made

Comparable Idaho production figures listed in the report included:

Gold, 23,318 fine ounces in 1952, 45,064 in 1951; silver, 14,746,229 fine ounces in 1952, 16,783,023 for 1951; copper, 2,023 short tons in 1952, 2,180 in 1951; lead, 72,281 short tons in 1952, 74,789 in 1951; and zinc, 70,911 short tons in 1952, 78,121 in 1951.

Of 14 applications with the defense planning administration filed during the year 24 were approved. Some 28 strategic mineral exploration teams were active during the year, the report said.

Service Held

CAREY, Jan. 23— Elmo Patterson, Richard Neal, Frank Dingle and Dave Hays were speakers at the LDS church services Sunday. A gift was given under the direction of Mrs. Don Dilworth.

Participants were Clara Ann Dilworth, Ima Anderson, Maria Dingle, Edna Kirkland, John Briggs, Karen Whitby, Leta Parke and Alice Orchard.

Heartening News From the Unemployed

Colorado Plant of AEC Is Finished

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—The atomic energy commission reported Wednesday construction is "largely completed" on a production plant near Denver, Colo., which presumably has something to do with atomic weapons.

The AEC announced in March 1951 that it would build a "new production plant" at Rocky Flats near Denver, and that it would involve "a secret type of operation."

Today, in its 12th semi-annual report to congress, the AEC referred to the "status of construction" of the Colorado plant. The reference was made in a section of the report entitled "military application."

Cut Indicated for State Turkey Crop

BOJALE, Jan. 23— Idaho turkey growers indicate they will raise about one-fifth less turkeys this year than last, the U. S. department of agriculture reports.

Turkey prices are down in relation to feed costs and, nationally, cold storage holdings are the highest on record. Based on what Idaho growers say they intend to do, this year's turkey production is expected to be 146,000 birds, compared with 185,000 in 1952.

Cold Fear of New Revolution Spreads Chill in Washington

By HAL ROYLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—The cold fear of a new revolution spreads in chill waves through government offices in the nation's capital.

"Anxiety is prevailing on the Potomac."

"The big question is: How do we get across the land—"

"I will take the boys and the coffee break and the two-hour lunch!"

"These threats to the present widely popular courses in the day's occupation have been posed by two of President Eisenhower's clean-sweeping freshmen broomholders."

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has bid down the ominous edict to his departmental employees: "A day's work for a day's pay. Already puzzled bureaucrats are asking themselves: 'What does this mean?'"

Atty.-Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., has gone even farther. In his already famous "order No. 1" he declared justice department employees would work from 9 to 3:30 p.m., "the hours of duty must be strictly observed."

Brownell attacked tardiness and the over-long lunch period, and said violators will be disciplined. Other cabinet officers are reported planning similar rules.

The Brownell order certainly dooms the two-hour lunch. But the Philadelphia lawyers among the minor-bureaucrats are hopefully studying one sentence:

"Unavoidable or necessary absence from duty not in excess of 30 minutes... may be excused by the supervisor."

"Is this a loophole? they are asking, 'which will still let us have a 15-minute morning and afternoon break for coffee?'"

"This clause may have to be referred to the supreme court itself for decision. It is obviously far too important a matter for one man to decide."

It vitally affects more people than any problem yet dealt with by the new administration. Every state, home, county, courthouse and city hall employe in America is concerned.

"If the federal bureaucrats lose their coffee breaks, we probably will, too, in time," they worry.

"Every office and factory worker also has a stake in the matter. For if the coffee break is abolished for all, it is likely to disappear in the business world as well. Don't business people always boast they work harder—and longer than government employes?"

The issue is nonpartisan. Republicans and Democrats are likely to agree that:

"Some institutions, like matrimony and the coffee break, have become cherished parts of the American way. Let that new broom sweep away something else."

The government goal to abolish the two-hour lunch, of course, will have no effect on the big business world. Its problem is to cut-down on the three-meal, four-hour turn.

Visits Related

DIETRICH, Jan. 23— Mrs. Rose Beaton, Lebanon, Ore., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Vern Root.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schliehuber, Lemhi, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lauer and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thiel Tuesday.

May, according to the council presidency, urged more attention be given to the spiritual phase of scouting, saying "if we can make our boys religious conscious, we need have no fear they will end up in one of our state institutions."

May said more emphasis should be placed upon the first part of the Boy Scout oath, "on my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God."

He noted if parents want their children to go forward on liberty's team, they must also get on the team. Smith offered three suggestions for training children in the American way of life.

He said children should be told how and when their immediate forefathers came to America and why. He advised parents to reacquire their children with the American heritage and early history with specific attention to the bill of rights. And finally, he advised a deep faith in God.
