A Meeting
Favors Board
Revise Study

Now, April 18 (U) — A resolution of proposed legislation to revise the study of the state constitution was passed by the 55th annual session of the Idaho Constitutional Convention and Teachers' Association to study this change over considerable objection from controversial members calling themselves the "old guard" of the Board. The Board, which also is the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho, is appointed by the governor. Appointed also, recommended a recommendation of the state department of public instruction to the Board. Early in the session, the Board, in addition to its regular functions, recommended revision of the 1951 constitution which called for the state's first constitution, urging an immediate revision of the training of primary and secondary teachers adopted. Result will be known at the 1955 convention so that the FTA can formulate a recommendation to the 1955 state legislature.

Other Resolutions
Also Passed—Three other resolutions also passed: one requiring higher qualifications for provisional teacher certification now in effect; strengthening junior and senior school PTA throughout the state.

Shouting Nears End Over Natural Gas In Northwest; Conclusions Are Noted

By PAT MUNROE
(Washington Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 18 (Special)—It begins to look as though the ball game is about over on the question of bringing natural gas into the Northwest.

The result of two months of detailed negotiations between the West Coast PSCO and the federal power commission Thursday for several weeks here before the federal power commission, we can conclude:

There will be a favorable decision this summer, probably, on the proposal to charter a gas pipeline into the northwest. The verdict could come as early as Aug. 1, perhaps not later than Nov. 1.

As things stand as of now, it is the West Coast Transoceanic company's line from northern British Columbia and Alberta, and Alberta, which is greatly strengthened in the closing week by an equally valuable natural gas distribution showing they favor the line over others. The lone independent opponent, reputed to be softening in its attitude, was the Seattle Gas Company.

3. A favorable decision this year means gas for Seattle and Tacoma by September, 1955; for Portland and Spokane by the end of that year, for smaller cities in Washington, Oregon, and northern Idaho, early 1956.

The appointment by President Eisenhower of a Washingtonian to the new spotless spotless West Coast verdict. He is Jerome S. Kuykendall, now chairman of the state's public service commission. His nomination must be confirmed by the Senate by May 15, and he will likely chairman of the five-man group.

5. There's a slim chance West Coast will go alone in the field when the hearings reconvene around June 1. The company, however, will have to yield to the Bectel corporation's line to San Francisco, which is building the oil pipeline to the northwest over the same terrain.

6. The results of an independent survey made over the last six months by Stanford research institute and the University of Western Ontario's School of Hydraulics.

This last report was made for Imperial Oil, Ltd., a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. It predicted that the West Coast area, eastern Canada, Pacific Northwest Pipeline corporation may begin to concentrate on a similar project as well as one to bring into the gas-starved Denver area. The latter project, not so long ago, was a pipe line to the Colorado market from the Rush California field. By the time construction of the main line starts, it may be increased from 24 inches to 36 and increased production to 100 million cubic feet per day.

The PSCO extended the line beyond Portland into San Francisco. This depends largely on results of the energetic search for gas now under way in the mountains of Colorado (which will require a 22-year permit by the Canadian government to export gas to the U.S.).

It was required, after some time, to pay only four and a half cents a thousand cubic feet, field price for gas to sell it at a profit at the point of delivery.

Portland Gas and Coke said it could pay only 12 cents, it actually paid only four and a half.

The Wall Street Journal of April 14 quoted gas in the market at 22 cents a thousand cubic feet, plus 12 cents a mile.

Field prices are expected to hit the 15-cent level in some cases this year.

The report concludes: "Adjusted supplies for gas for the Pacific Northwest exist in northern Alberta and British Columbia. Competition for gas in the East Juan de Fuca and Northern Pacific areas is becoming so serious that the line's route involved an expense of $75 million dollars, whereas the estimate was only $30 million."

Furthermore, it said, West Coast could afford to pay about seven cents a thousand cubic feet field price for gas to sell it at a profit.

The fronting on West Coast's cake came with the extension of a 22-year permit by the Canadian government to export gas to the U.S. Another skater at the Burley skating rink Wednesday evening.

Need Cited for Ordinance to Keep Dogs Penned; Leashed

Editor, Times-News:
Enclosed is an editorial out of the Salt Lake Tribune. The city has recommended it in the matter of rounding up unlicensed dogs, and also licensed canine which are not confined to their own property or on a lead.

J. E. Webb, supervisor of the dog pound, has said his department's dog catcher has been on the job for a month and a total of 103 dogs have been picked up since March 10-as a result.

For casual visitors to Salt Lake City who are unfamiliar with many dog owners apparently are not aware of the fact-but city ordinances prohibit dogs, licensed or not, from being allowed to run at large.

They may know many laws well have to admit it is more honored in the breach than in the observance. But it's on the books; and for those being it set a fine example for others who have been careless in the matter of buying licens-

Cattlemen's Plan to Win Price War Seen Example to Industry

Editor, Times-News:

A state convention of cattlemen and women were assembled at McCallum to carry out their annual planning to carry out their business of production of standard food in a way that is an admirable challenge to all industries.

The cattlemen's plan was to buy up to $200 a head, due to having fed them high-priced grains, protected by government subsidies, they plan to compete with the meat men by better breeds, higher quality beef produced at relatively lower costs—a watchword that already been applied to America's meat production and transportation.

To remedy the present surplus of beef, they are going to great expense to ship housewives of America away from eating meat and serve meat and thus quickly increase consumption to use up the surplus.

They are spending up their last money for improving breeds to produce better beef in less time at lower costs. In this they are

Welker Gives Stand on Co-Op Members' Political Activities

Editor, Times-News:
C. N. Shriver, of Twin Falls, in his column, "Country Roundup," published in the Times-News, on April 8, sharply criticizes Sen. Henry Dworshak and me for allegedly seeking to deny the members of our co-op the right to join rural co-ops.

The controversial record of March 16, beginning on page 2180, will clearly show that Shriver has permitted the members of his co-op to join rural co-ops.

At first place I made no reference to "rural co-ops." My reference was only to the rural electrical cooperatives. This is the co-op it should be clearly under-

Storage Checked By Watermaster

HAILEY, April 18—Watermaster Fred Coffey checked his first day trip along the Big Wood River across the state line to the dam at Hailey.

He reports 180,000 acre feet of water is stored in the reservoir.

To fill the dam all five of the four-inch pipes have been started and the fifth one is now running over the spillway, but the Big Wood river runoff has not started yet. Peak of runoff is expected Saturday.

Maid river is over. Only the runoff from the high mountain areas still to come, he explained.

Show in the mountains of the Big Wood has increased as traffic above normal, but is less than it has been for the past several years.

Health Unit's Services End Here Monday

Services Set

The news of results of recent discussions it was indicated that Twin Falls county was paying in excess of the returns, and they have this upon the fact—that they pay less than the cost of the taxes of Idaho and therefore were entitled to seven per cent of state health department expenditures.

The total state expenditures for medical service is listed at $33,752.58, including state funds of $17,263.80, and federal funds of $17,488.78. Services to county residents and visitors are listed as laboratory examinations, 203,37.68; biologicals for immunization programs, $157.20; vital statistics, $87.01; laboratory services per unit, $4,353.12, and a total in personal service expenditures of $1,442.48.

Appropriations Listed

From the state medical appropriation of $110,000 for the health unit, the county received $8,003.58. A total of $22,560.83 for the state appropriation of $22,560.83 for the medical unit X-ray equipment in the county giving the X-rays to 16,000 persons without charge.

A total of $35,118.84 was spent on medical services for the 1,442 persons hospitalized with tuberculosis. The appropriation for the hospital was $406,023.10. Added to the $35,118.84 was $4,038.40 for outpatient services to the hospital.

The department received annual appropriations of $15,843.00 for industrial hygiene activities and $10,301.50 for the hospital facilities program. Peterson pointed out that it is difficult to place a value on services to individual counties. However, he believes the county has received great value from it.

Service Notes

If the county does not participate in the health unit program, certain services of the sanitarian will be eliminated. Non-participating counties receive annual inspection of food processors, meat processing establishments, slaughterhouses and similar places; a minimum inspection and testing program of market milk and investigation of market where it is deemed necessary by the health department and the local unit director.

Among the sanitation services which the county will not receive if it remains outside the unit are regular inspection of swimming pools and on proved procedures to treat and protect domestic water supplies, all in locations considered structuring of units and dispersing of local sanitarians in enforcement of violations of improper sewage disposal and suppression of unhealthy nuisances, "on the theory that the public welfare, efficiency, operation of water or sewage disposal systems, no local sanitarian to aid in sanitation surveys during epidemiology studies of sporadic or epidemics of disease and disease which may not be available to investigate reports of food poisoning or aid in removing from the market contaminated and adulterated foods and drugs and loss of use of schools, institutes and rodent control, fair grounds sanitation and other sanitation surveys.

Dr. Telford points out the contract provides all participating communities similar services, so Twin Falls county may have to hire its own personnel. Dennis Clark, who does not think that public health nurses go into homes to solicit business, as Commissioner Frank Palmer said he heard, the county commissioners have opposed the idea of a county health unit, health education, feeling there is no limit to where such education can end. Dr. Telford said other counties have signed for all public health services, and he does not see why Twin Falls county cannot do the same.

The doctor said Auditor Burkhardt contacted County Clerk T. W. Sullivan by telephone and told him to come up with the budget for this unit. He claims Burkhardt received no answer. When the county commissioners were asked about the claim they claimed to have nothing to do with the auditor, but asked Peterson why he did not contact them instead of Stivers.

Explains Report

He failed to report a dilemma he faced between remaining from public health nurses although his husband apparently had sufficient funds for a private nurse, and the fact that the county could not be hired so the public health service had to be given. He pointed out that insulin requires expert handling and administration of it.

Radio Station KIX Advised Of Top Honor

Radio station KIX has gained recognition from the show-business magazine, Variety, according to results of the magazine's 1956-57 show management review announced in Wednesday's issue.

Variety listed KIX as one of its honor roll of radio-television stations, pointing out that "more radio hometown stations have won top radio awards for a long time." The honor roll included only 13 of America's 3,070 television and radio stations. Also listed were stations in Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, N.Y., Louisville, Ky., Baltimore, Md., Chicago, Ill., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dallas, Tex., Boston, Mass., and Fresno, Calif. The station's award was for small station enterprise, while the other citations were for a variety of subjects.

Variety cited KIX as "one of those rare stations—a postwar baby that really clicked. Rooting itself deep in its community," says Variety. "KIX—patterned itself after a newspaper—was always the most popular. Used lots of little stories, homesy stories, and plenty of local names."

Frank McElroy, KIX general manager, has been advised that a Variety plaque goes with the award. While the station has received recognition from the magazine on three previous occasions, this is the first that it has made the top 13 on the honor roll or received a plaque.

Right Weather, Correct Preparations Are Keys on Good Painting of Houses

By KMA Marvel
After the weatherman turns off the rain, it's time to start painting your house. To start out in the gloomy sunshines full of good humor and ambition to paint their houses. Whether they have their good intentions carried out or not depends upon the weather. It is better for one thing, upon how much time it is. A few timely tips may preserve the home-painting humor.

First off, don't paint the exterior of a house during the time when the temperature is above 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

Pain only the shady side of the house, especially when painting wood trim. If the advice of your paint manufacturer. The hot sun may cause rapid evaporation of paint and water, resulting in "blistering" on the surface, trapping the remaining solvents beneath it. This eventually causes you blistering.

Don't paint and stop painting before late afternoon dampens sets in.

On previously painted houses, apply a coat of paint to the exterior surface. On badly weathered surfaces, apply a coat of wood primer and a finish coat.

But prepare all surfaces before painting. Paint should be as clean as possible; nail down loose boards, remove loose or checked paint with wire brush, etc. Try to give "tooth" for finish; sand and dust previous painted surfaces that have weathered normally. Remove loose or damaged wood and apply fresh paint.

To paint, use a brush about four inches wide on large areas such as walls, etc., and a small brush for small areas and a soap tool for window sash. Don't submerge the whole length of the bristles in the paint brush.

Paint at upper corner of one side of the house and work down, trying to finish one day's work at another corner or window to avoid lap or seam where you resume painting the next day.

In painting clapboard siding, cover about six feet in a sweep before moving down to the next board. Paint each board from top to bottom until last. Remove shutters and place them on horses or saw horses to paint. Use shorter paints for payment of house paint is limited to the exterior surfaces below.

Use a wire brush to remove loose paint and rust from metal roofs, gutters, etc., and then wash and apply a metal primer to cover the exposed metal before brushing on the finish coat.

Good paint-brush care pays off, as a wire brush will tear the bristles in enough time to cover the bristles when your painting day is ended. The brushes shouldn't touch the bottom of the paint can.

Cover the paint can tightly to store paint overnight. If a film forms on top of the paint, remove it don't stir it in.

PREPARE SURFACE BEFORE APPLYING PAINT

Preparation of the surface is more than half the battle of house-painting and important to the durability of the coating.

Cooperation of All Is Needed In Reducing Spread of Pests

Health officers organizing spring clean-up campaigns are asking the cooperation of everyone on the problem of controlling diseases spread by rats and fleas.

The most common type of garbage can is made of rust-resistant metal. It is possible to rig up a screen over the top to prevent pest-attracting odors from accumulating. Such a can is equipped with a close-fitting cover, has two side handles and is not too heavy for garage use.

Health authorities point out, too, that the fact a home may have mechanical facilities for disposing of garbage does not preclude the use of a covered metal garbage can.

Food, fruit, vegetables, cans and cartons and metal food wrappers cannot be sent down the drain or burned easily. Food clinging to such materials invites rats and fleas.

Food containers and wrappers are placed in a covered garbage can, health officers declare.

Traps can be denied entrance to the home to a great extent, of course, if all doors and windows are screened properly. Even then, however, traps must be used.

It is necessary occasionally to use insecticides, fly paper or whatever to kill the pests.

Some some flies have an immunity to DDT, a newer insecticide, Lathrop says. Extra caution must be exercised to keep insecticides off food and places which come into direct contact with food.

Foundations should be kept in good condition to protect against infiltration of rats into the home. Traps or poison can be used to care must be taken to keep them away from children to kill them which get into the house.

But cleanliness still is the greatest weapon against rats and fleas, and the best protection against the disease they can transmit. Gained

The T. V. STORY

Wonder if we're losing our punch? Only two new readers reported reading last week's ad. That's 33% off. If that continues, we'll be forced to discontinue this column. We'd like a clear answer, and after all, we're not advertising men we're in the radio and television business. If my wife could ever get any of her relatives to respond to me, I would be quite satisfied.

Consequently, I am going to store paint overnight. If a film forms on top of the paint, remove it don't stir it in.

We probably heard the following question more than any other:

Ques.—Where will the Twin Falls stations be located?

Ans.—If you can find who knows—you're better than we are.

Ques.—How many TV stations will we be able to receive in Magic Valley?

Ans.—Already, Boise has 3 permits granted; Post Falls 2; Idaho Falls 2; Salt Lake City 2 in operation and 1 granted. Twin Falls 1 granted and one other application well along. Of these, 2 are in the Magic Valley. It's a reasonable guess that with a good fringe-type TV set and a good antenna installation, it's entirely within reason to assume that we will be able to receive 2 stations. No other location in Utah or Idaho offers anything approaching our possibilities. But remember it will take a receiver and a superduplex installation.

Ques.—How many makes of television receivers are there?

Ans.—That changes from day to day. I just counted a current list of 100 and only over eighty different brand names.

Ques.—What about the rumors that some of the dealers are planning on going to the coast to buy a lot of old TV receivers to bring to Twin Falls? Will we be able to buy them here?

Ans.—That's right, we've heard the same thing. In fact, we've been offered some "deals."

Ques.—World I be smart to buy one of these used receivers and could I save money?

Ans.—That remains to be seen.

The old saying, "you get what you pay for," applies here. If you save money? Well, know your dealer, make sure he has a good service department. You'll probably need it. Remember, there is a reason why a used receiver can go up and up in price, obtain TV sets, all the way from $100 up. If the naive then don't want these sets at that price, I don't think you would want them.

There is only one reason why a dealer would go down there and bring back a truckload of merchandise.

He's after "buck." Don't kid yourself. He's not interested in getting a good price for your money or service after you've bought. He's heard how the suckers in Denver, Portland and elsewhere went for this kind of merchandise.

It's only through the dealer's pocket though the dealer made. In most all cases these receivers will all be of the small picture tube variety and won't last long. There will be like "looking at the world through a key-hole." We don't know if this will happen in Magic Valley but that's the pattern that's followed in many cases.

If you do purchase a used set, buy it from a legitimate dealer with a good service department and demand some guarantee of satisfaction.

Ques.—Are you selling and installing television sets now and how many?

Ans.—Yes—to a few who are fortunate enough to be "living in" a favorable area where we can deliver a useable picture.

As to the number, we prefer not to answer that. All we will say is: our truck equipment and installation crew is out every day that the weather permits and already we're running behind schedule. Our orders are bigger than they were a week ago too.

Mr. Elliott Fauvelett, Extension Division Director, was in town on the morning of March 17 when a man was shot while watching the radio program "This Is Your Life." Just before the explosion, the bomb was dropped at the advanced camp.

"For one thing he said there was a crescent moon hanging in the eastern dawn sky. My husband and I saw the crescent moon in the west last night and can't tell what the announcer was talking about," she said.

I know what the announcer was talking about, though. The moon is very thin. The moon is about a quarter full on Saturday morning (EST) on March 15. This meant it was almost between the new and full moon. Most evenings it had been enough east from the sun to be seen as a thin crescent in the western twilight. However, just before sunset on Saturday evening the sun and the moon were near each other, half the moon's surface showing a slight amount of waxed over our way.

One Explanation: Imagine this explanation: about Thursday or Friday night after the explosion on the moon had been seen because and had been seen in the east and in the west. It was approaching the new phase. (Some call this a new moon, but not being an astronomer I assumed it was a thin crescent.)

I was surprised, observatory nearby by showing them moon is not the only crescent appears on the Moon, Venus. Venus was also visible in the west around the first quarter expected that it was but a ball of light. Almost immediately the sun went into the horizon and was instead a thin crescent just like a crescent.

Sometimes visible moon is not always a crescent. It depends on the time of day and the position of the sun and the moon. At first visible in the evening sky, it was on the horizon from us and we almost at a full moon. On April 15, it was a half-moon. It moved into a position closer to the sun and the moon was visible again. Proper sanitation efforts - which anyone can make Twin Falls a cleaner and safer community in which to live.

Ingrid Ingalls, Twin Falls resident, takes opportunity to remove piles of garbage, refuse and other rotting organic matter from their premises. He points out refuse and garbage removal eliminates the breeding places of flies, mosquitoes, earwigs, sowbugs and cockroaches which feed upon garbage and carry disease organisms and well as insects.

Ingalls said many people are affected every year by diseases transmitted by flies. Among these are typhoid fever, dysentery, and diarrhea.

It is almost between us on April 15, and is now a half-moon. Venus, however, is now in the east again. Venus, Mars and Mercury will all show a half-moon shape will be seen. Mercury also goes through similar phases.

Trash Is Hazard to Health

James Ingalls, city sanitarian, pokes among the rubbish accumulating in this incinerator. In addition to being a general sanitation hazard and breeding place for disease, it points out.

Sanitarian Lauds Clean-Up, Suggests Efforts for "Cleaner and Safer" City

Sanitation is fundamental in the prevention of disease, states James Ingalls, city sanitarian, who urges local residents to take part in the annual city clean-up, held Saturday, April 20 to 26.

Ingalls points out sanitation is expressed in the clean home, clean farm, clean neighborhood and clean community. Proper sanitation and clean-up — and a safe environment — can make Twin Falls a cleaner and safer community in which to live.

Ingalls urges Twin Falls residents to take advantage of this opportunity to remove piles of garbage, refuse and other rotting organic matter from their premises. He points out refuse and garbage removal eliminates the breeding places of flies, mosquitoes, earwigs, sowbugs and cockroaches which feed upon garbage and carry disease organisms and well as insects.

Ingalls said many people are affected every year by diseases transmitted by flies. Among these are typhoid fever, dysentery, and diarrhea.

Beef for Greece Sought by USDA

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UPI)—The agriculture department Friday offered to buy an unspecified quantity of beef for export to Greece under a mutual security agency program.

These purchases would be in addition to purchases of frozen beef being made by the Mutual Security Agency program. Procurement was asked to submit bids by midnight April 27.

Bank Robbed

WILMINGTON, R. C., April 18 (UPI)—Three gunmen with nylon stockings as masks held up the Oak Bay branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Friday and escaped with an estimated $2,500.

It must be prevented. Ingalls suggests garbage should be disposed in containers which do not allow cockroaches to get into the trash. Garbage cans should be cleaned and washed frequently. All homes, markets, bakeries and other food establishments should be screened adequately.

The sound of files, horns, and bells may give notice to millions by August. The only reasonable approach to the problem is to include improved environmental sanitation, planned urban areas, wise use of insecticides, as a supplementary measure only.

Destruction of breeding places of such insects is also effective in curbing the spread of rats, cockroaches, and other pests which carry disease and destroy food and valuable products.

Dogs prowling through Twin Falls alleys present another sanitation hazard. Dogs over garbages can eat and scatter the contents and scattering the contents.

Garbage should be kept in covered, galvanized steel or other rust-resistant garbage cans on racks and platforms.

Broken glass and sharp sharp objects such as nails and rusty pieces of steel are a constant source of danger and should be removed from city alleys to avoid possible physical harm and accidents often resulting in blood poisoning and tetanus.

Sanitation and neatness in one area prompts sanitation and neatness by neighbors as well as good will and community pride, Ingalls points out.

Sanding and staining or finishing chairs is much easier if done at table height. Coat undersides first.

Patience and Care Necessary*For Refinishing of Furniture

By NEA Service

Transparent finishes given old furniture in the process of refinishing readily show up flaws and mistakes made in the various operations performed in the refinishing. Careless work in any one of the steps may ruin the whole effect.

To begin with, remove the old finish with paint and varnish remover applied with a brush to small areas at a time. Do not apply too much at once, as it will not penetrate the wood. Continue to do this until the finish is softened, then remove the finish with a putty knife and No. 2 steel wool.

Since many removers contain wax, it is best to wash the entire surface down with turpentine and wipe it dry with a clean cloth. This removes all traces of wax. Be sure to wash each piece separately and plan to wash the entire piece.

After this, wash the surface with a weak solution of washing soda in water, rinse it with clear water and allow plenty of time for drying.

Some homes breathe their welcome. There's a feeling of friendliness, of good cheer. The lights from the windows help make it so.

Think of the attractive homes in your neighborhood. They're well-lighted — every one. Floor lamps and table lamps are appropriately placed. There's plentiful light for reading, sewing, homework, an evening of bridge.

This is a good time of year to take a good look at your lighting and see what can be done to improve it. You may decide on a new lamp—and be sure to fill empty sockets and clean dust from shades, bulbs, and reflector bowls.

At Idaho power's low rates, you can have all the light you want for only a few pennies a day. So light up for better living. Light makes your house a home.

wood to receive stain, rub it with fine sandpaper on the edges and No. 8 or No. 60 steel wool on curved areas.

Now, before applying stain, remove all traces of dust and particles of wood with a clean cloth saddlecloth or a rag.

Oil stain is considered the easiest to use. Apply it with a brush, let it stand for a few minutes to penetrate the pores of the wood, then wash it off with a cloth.

Since oil stains penetrate the wood in the 24-hour drying period, the stain will produce a hard to judge. So it is best to keep the stain light and apply more, if necessary. If varnish is used, it must be applied with a cloth. On extremely fine wood, oil stain can be applied to small areas at a time with a cloth.

Since oil stains penetrate the wood in the 24-hour drying period, the stain will produce a hard to judge. So it is best to keep the stain light and apply more, if necessary.

If varnish is used, it must be applied with a cloth.

An easy way of applying staining is with penetrating wood finish, which strikes into bare wood, hardening fibers and sealing pores.

Once manufactured stains penetrate the wood, they are easily dissolved and stretch-resistant.

This finish is applied with brush or cloth and the excess is wiped off in about 15 minutes with a clean cloth. After it dries for a few days, apply another coat the same way.

The material is colorless but darkens the wood slightly, according to the amount of stain used. It dries to a soft sheen and is ready for waxing. Oil stain may be applied with penetrating finish in a mixture of the two.

When using oil stain, wash the stains off with a cloth.

Make it easy for yourself by placing them upside down on a table to coat the undersides first.

After this, wash the surface with a weak solution of washing soda in water, rinse it with clear water and allow plenty of time for drying.

It's just in time for the city clean-up, painted red and white, was a new street flusher recently put into service on city streets.

The new flusher, mounted on a Diamond-T truck unit, has an unloading pump and a 1000-gallon tank. It can spray up to 1000 gallons of water per minute.

The old tank will be used to store road oil.

lanned Gardens Grow Better; Professional Gardeners Assert

planting a garden this spring is not how to grow, give the seeds and let them grow. Plant a plain garden and you will bring more harmful insects and fungi. The garden plot must be clean before seeds are to be sown. Fumigants manufactured especially for home garden use may be sprayed either on a green or dry soil or on seedlings.

It will give the plants good health insurance, too, if a tiny pinch of disinfectant is mixed with the seeds before they are sown. Seeds free from diseases now will grow and develop quickly and strongly.

After sowing the seeds, amateur gardeners are advised to tamp down the soil, rather than leave it loose and free to be blown or washed away. Covering the soil with a wooden plank stop the seedbed soil and walk across the plank several times.

After planting the seeds, cover them with a mulch of decayed leaves, humus, rotted manure and unpuverized manure, straw or some similar material. A looser porous layer of any of these materials prevents evaporation of water.

In order to keep the mulch to do the job intended,

not to supply a strong spray of water to the newly-sown garden. Most professionals and experienced home gardeners use a metal sprinkling can. These cans are available in a variety of sizes and their finely perforated nozzles give a soft, even distribution of water down the garden.

Another safeguard the home garden should take involves staking of plants—which require it—Place stakes next to plant sites before the roots have begun to grow. If the staking is done after the plants have grown to full size, it may damage the plant roots and ruin all the other gardening efforts.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

"Twin Falls Days" depict life and marking the first 10 years' growth of the Buhl district, is the title of a dry and brittle reel of movie film stored in the files at the City theater.

Governor Alexander, seen by officers of the Bush Commercial staff, was a guest in the city recently. He viewed the parts of local whipsaw and C. W. D. in the dirt along Main street, gingham of such landmarks as C. W. D. Boring drug store, ice cream and soda sign and the Golden Rule department store can be seen.

Mrs. Seymour Fischell is seen driving the original page brush car drag which cleared the brush from the Buhl townsite. Also in evidence is R. E. J. (Red) Fischell.

Another brother to Mrs. Ernest Fischell who resides northeast of Buhl, died several years ago. The land he purchased there is now known as the Fischell Ranch.

Another landmark marking the growth of the tract was the dairy barn on W. S. Hansen's ranch. It had steel stanchions, sanitary separator room and feed trough for 100 cows. The milk from the Hansen herd was sent to the Clermont Cheese Factory where 250,000 pounds of cheese were produced in 1915. Consider this with the latest in electrical equipment being installed on Leon Brown's ranch west of Buhl and the many ranches of pounds of cheese daily being shipped to the state Milk company.

The movie shows the Bush train, manned by Engineer Newton, and a group of students at the Buhl High school, the Lincoln grade school, being loaded into a drawn wagon to be transported home.

HAGEMAN fruit growers recently purchased wind blowing machines in hopes of discouraging supposed to raise the temperature from three to seven degrees, depending on the freezing temperatures.

The second site is the  $\frac{1}{4}$ -acre site and has a 30-foot shaft and three six-foot footers. The third site is for a 10-acre orchard and has two six-foot shafts. It stands 20 feet high.

Abnormal conditions have something to do with the machine being able to make positive control as heavy winds also will settle down after a few days to prevent trees from frost.

Hagerman fruit growers pay for an average of $7.50 a week. He was in the hills and the cold did not come west because he heard a dam was to be built near CACADEL.

In 1919 he and another man bought the Buhl Creamery, which became the Buhl Creamery Co. in 1923 after selling the hardware and opened a garage. He operated this until his retirement in 1944. After two of the longest years in his life he returned to business in 1946 as a finance and insurance man.

Gudmundsen went to Brigham Young University in Utah and entered the mercantile business with his father. He spent three years as a student and taught school and the Swedes on $1,500. After this he came to Buhl and entered the mercantile business again with his father. They sold out in 1918 and he became manager of the new store.

The valley was hit by low temperatures in 1946 which caused much damage to the machine due to the small size of the fruit.

Early-Spring Care for Lawns Means Less Woes for Summer

By NEA Service

Garden chores for the weekend: The lawn is either a challenge or a nuisance. In the one case, the gardener has time to achieve a well-kept grass; the sooner he gets busy the fewer worries he will have this summer.

First Chore

Number one chore is to rake the lawn. This removes old soil so fertilizer can get to roots.

Next on the list of chores is to rake the lawn with the flexible metal tooth rake, or leaf rake, to knock out dead grass and weeds. This must be done while the soil is moist so the fertilizer can enter the soil and reach the grass roots.

A second raking to remove the fertilizer from the grass blades is necessary. It is important that the fertilizer gets into the soil where it belongs—and also to prevent it from burning the grass. A 4-12-4, 4-10-4 or other fertilizer strong in nitrogen should be used. Apply at the rate of two or three pounds per 100 square feet of lawn area.

The old gardener again says "if you feel the need to roll the lawn with the lightest roller you can get—an empty water ballast roller is fine." Remember that rolling is not to pack the soil down or to even up bumps or hollows—but to gently firm back into the soil any plants heaved out by frost action.

Seeding of bare and thin areas should be done but only after the soil has been loosened to a depth of an inch and some peat moss and sand added to the topsoil. Seeding should be light, not more than one-half pound for each 100 square feet. Heavier seeding is wasteful.

Hot roses may be pruned as soon as one is reasonably sure that danger of freezing weather is past. Replacements of roses which have died during the winter may be made if the new plants are well-rooted and worked. Some losses must be expected.

Hardy chrysanthemums and most other perennials should be divided when they start to grow. Have the beds ready, so that they may be replanted as soon as the divisions are made. Chrysanthemums should be cut back to the ground and kept to mulch the ground and keep the berries from the earth.

Set out the strawberry bed this month, or, according to climate, in May. Prepare the sunny location with well-drained soil. Set the

Malik to Become Envoy to Britain

MOSCOW, April 18.—Mr. Andrei Gromyko, April 18, 1958—Mr. Jacob Malik will become the Soviet ambassador to Britain, replacing Andrei Gromyko.

The informant said the Russians had already sent through the British government a note of protest against the exchange and the request has been granted.

Gromyko has been ambassador to France since 1953 and would be the second major diplomatic shift since the death of Stalin. The first was the appointment of Vasili Kuznetsov to replace Alexander Tikhonov, who became ambassador to communist China.

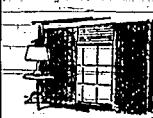

Plants 16 inches apart in the rows, and be sure that the crowns are exactly level with the ground. At least one-third of the roots should be trimmed off square with a pair of sharp shears.

Spray the pear trees, the lilacs, the flowering almons and the flowering quince for scale. Keep an eye out for insect cocoons, caterpillars, moths, and beet eggs, and destroy them.

Weeds, Debris Are Fire Hazard

Fire Inspector Fred Higgins finds piles of old lumber amid weeds and junk along fence on Washington Street which should be cleared during the clean-up, fix-up and paint-up week. This is a definite fire hazard. The city uses this lot. (Staff photo-ensgraving)

Trash, Dead Grass and Weeds Comprise Fire Hazard; Firemen Urging Clean-Up

"City firemen have had a considerable number of fires call during the past few weeks with the majority of them caused by refuse, trash, dead grass and weeds," Higgins said. "Where a started fire got out of control, or a trash barrel sets fire to weeds," according to Fred Higgins, city fire inspector.

Piles of weeds in vacant lots and in hillsides spring bushes, according to Higgins. Persons doing any burning should obtain wood-burning permits from the fire department free of charge. The department will furnish a permit if it is to be burned, and if there is any danger a first truck will stand by.

The danger of burning during the early spring is increased because the weather is dry and there is no green vegetation. A fire gets out of control easily.

Another source of trouble occurs where people leave unattended fires outside the house. Had the fire not been attended, it might have spread to the home and nearby houses and buildings. The box was believed to have contained linoleum, paper and other trash.

In some cases the city's trash cans are piled against or surrounding buildings or burners could easily lead to a fire which might destroy many buildings.

Trash should be covered securely and located away from buildings.

Higgins stresses the importance of removing dry weeds from around trash burners. Weeds also should be removed and placed around the trash barrels.

Another source of "spring fever" which could lead to fires is leaves piled up in hedge rows, on city streets, in alleys and other trash which is properly piled alongside allies with other garbage.

New Veneers Offer Luxury of Wood Paneling at Lower Cost

By DAVID G. BARTENDER - Staff Real Estate Editor

The luxury of wood paneling, once restricted by its cost to baronial halls and mansions of the wealthy, has been brought down to the pocketbooks of every home-owner by "fancy wood" veneers on modern plywood.

Light colored, cheerful and beautify your room, these veneers are finding their way into the field of interior decoration as extensively as they have rejuvenated furniture design. Wide varieties of rare, exotic and imported woods are now available on the surfaces of these modern panels offer a big range for your choice.

You no longer are limited to either light and medium oak style and walnut walls or the dark, solidly informal knotty pine and cypress boards. The same awards and natural growth markings that distinguish fine furniture are now finding their way into walls. Virtually no joints serve to spread light combined with the soft warmth of real wood.

A home craftsman, reasonably skilled, can use his favorite working tools, finds it easy to panel a room. Veneer plywood in 4' by precision measured and bevelled edges or like picture frames, patterns enhanced by highlights and shadows.

Another new texture has been developed, taking advantage of nature and embossing the grain of the wood paneling to create a decorative paneling; the panels through a machine with power driven metal brushes. The soft spring growth in the wood is gouged out slightly, leaving the grain and sturdy dry wall. Joints between panels are V-beveled or covered with molding.

Novelty textures have further widened selections in plywood veneers. These are made by cutting the straight edges, then cut into precise measured and bevelled edges or like picture frames, patterns enhanced by highlights and shadows.

This reduces porosity to a point where one coat of paint will cover.

Striking finishes can be obtained by staining, lacquering, two-tone paint wiping. In the latter process either a light or dark tone is applied, then a contrasting or complementary shade for a second coat which emphasizes the texture of the grain.

Tests have shown that all knots remaining in the thinly sliced veneer will stay put with paint.

Stains in matching colors are replaced with plastic, grained to simulate
