10 Cities, 19 Villages in Valley Schedule Elections for Tuesday

Magie Valley cities and villages will cast ballots on questions of public concern.

For the third time residents of Eden and Hazelton and the surrounding area will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a proposed bond election for a new school for the district.

Twice before the question has been defeated by narrow margins.

The city to cast a special ballot is Shoshone. The ballot will be advisory rather than official and is designed to guide the city council in determining if a combination city hall and library. The city has $30,000 on hand and bonds amounting to $12,000 which could be used for public improvements. Cost of the city hall has been estimated at $20,000.

Absolute districts in the coming elections seem to exist in Albion, Piler and Murtaugh where no candidates have been nominated. Murtaugh and Albion have three vacancies on their boards and Piler is to elect a mayor and two aldermen.

Piler pulled out of its spell of indifference late in the week and a group of citizens picked three candidates. Ralph Brackett, who is completing his term on the council, was named to run for mayor and William M. Shance, Jay and Garth Kirkman were nominated as aldermen. To be elected, however, the voters will have to be written in on the ballot.

The other cities to elect officials will be Buhl, Burley, Glenns Ferry, Gooding, Stanley, Jerome, Rupert, Shoshone and Wendell.

Ike Pledges Helpon Full Employment

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower pledged the "stipidity of mass unemployment" and pledged "every useful measure" to help the public "to avoid it in the future."

In a letter to CIO President Walter Reuther, the President said he "firmly" subscribes to the employment act of 1946, which established the council of economic advisers and made it public policy to "promote" full employment.

The letter made public by the CIO, was mailed in Washington on April 25. Reuther asked the President to summarize a "broadly representative conference" of the private sector to benefit the country and its people during the past 20 years.

Eisenhower's letter was in answer to one Reuther had written earlier in the month. Reuther asked the President to summarize a "broadly representative conference" of the private sector to benefit the country and its people during the past 20 years.

Truce Parley Resumes as Reds Announce Trading Of Disabled POWs Over

PANMUNJON, (Sunday), April 26 (AP)—The Reds released 13 Americans and 71 South Korean disabled prisoners of war Sunday, and told the U. N. command they were through delivering sick and wounded allied captives.

Though the red share of the historic wartime exchange of disabled POWs was finished, U. N. and communist armistice delegates got ready to revive the long-stymied truce talks in full-dress session this afternoon.

The 13 Americans returned released by the Reds since the dramatic trade began last Monday. In all, the communists delivered 64 allied captives in the exchange. They promised before it started to return 68.

A Red spokesman said the red control officer Sunday informed Col. Edward L. Austin, U. N. control officer for the exchange, they have finished delivering prisoners.

800 Red Dea

The U. N. command told the Reds it would accept disabled POWs to them Monday.

The U. N. command is returning 5,200 POWs to the Reds in daily groups of 500.

Two veterans of North Korean POW camps were among the Americans returned Sunday.

One was Air Force Capt. Zachary DeLoach, who was captured in a tank fighter pilot shot down April 22, 1951, by red anti-aircraft fire. He was held out for six months in a cage at about 400 feet and his captives spent only moments before he hit the ground.

Others were: Sgt. William Dean, captured in the fighting; Sgt. William Dean, captured July 4, 1950, less than three weeks after the start of the war; and Sgt. William Dean, captured in the fighting.

Dean and Green listed the number of officers returned by the Reds to four. A second lieutenant and a navy ensign were returned previously.

The 13 Americans and 21 South Koreans were returned in the second group of the exchange this morning. Fifty South Koreans came back in the day's first group.

Eisenhower Sees Russ Gesture As Sign of Concrete Peace Act

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower interpreted Moscow's latest peace statements today as a possible sign that Russia may be ready to do "something concrete" about making settlements with the western world.

The President's reaction was disclosed by Press Secretary James Hagerty who issued a statement which at the outset made clear that it reflected Eisenhower's views. Hagerty began by saying that he had "talked with the President" and that he "was convinced that the Soviet government newspaper, Pravda, had made a definite step toward 'something concrete' for peace."

The Russian statement, which also was published in the Soviet government newspaper, Pravda, declared Russia is ready to enter into "business-like" discussions with the West on the basis of "mutual respect, equality and peace."

Grange Chief Blasts "Relief" Farm Help

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Herschel D. Newsum, master of the National Grange, said today it is a shame that American farmers have allowed themselves to fall victims to a "relief-type" of farm aid programs.

The farm leader told a meeting of the Newspaper Farm Editors association that present programs, with heavy reliance on government price support devices, are pricing U. S. farm products out of world markets.

He said that farmers and their leaders soon must make a choice between rigid production controls and programs designed to share and hold this country's share of world trade in agricultural products.

The only proper solution, in the light of this country's concept of economic freedom, is a broad industry-agriculture-government attack on world trade barriers, he said.

Questions Methods

Western Europe's import of at least a third of the American wheat has been slow in developing, he said. He said that the United States has been slow in developing methods of promoting trade with the rest of the world.

He said that the effect of price supports, Newsum said they can be withdrawn only gradually and that the government must solve problems by other means.

He said more effort must be made through research and education to show farmers how to produce more cheaply so that they will be able to compete in a world-wide market.

He said that the government should encourage the use of high level fertilizers, which may be necessary, he said, to meet more heavily than in the past the needs of the world under which surplus production would be sold abroad at lower prices.

Blaine County Asks Delay on Road Payment

BOISE, April 25 (AP)—The state highway board of directors wound up a busy session here yesterday after meeting with three county and city representatives.

Blaine County Superintendent Alton P. Burderson.

Assistant State Atty.-Gen. Allan Shepard and secondary highway engineer G. W. Short were told to prepare a report on the proposed highway project in Blaine county.

Blaine county delegation headed by Commission Chairman T. W. Walker appeared before the board members to ask that the county be allowed until July to pay its share of the project.

Walker said that John Mason headed a three-man group to ask for widening of a bridge across the Snake river and to discuss plans for an interchange on U. S. highway 30, in Weiser.

Board Chairman Rocco Rich, Burley, said that the project would be given careful consideration.

Change South

The Weiser delegation also asked that the designation on U. S. 30 north be changed to 30-kilometer, and were told that such requests would have to be submitted to the American Association of State Highway Officials.

NATO Allies Take Dim View of Reds

PARIS, April 25 (AP)—The United States and its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—despite Saturday that communist peace offers still don't look genuine and western rearmament will continue.

A decision was announced in the face of a Soviet peace gesture—the latest in a month long series of moves that have led to the NATO allies' second look at their own arms program.

The latest gesture was publication in Moscow of a newspaper's long response to President Eisenhower's April 16 speech—not a soft response, but a hard one, as the diplomats here privately expressed it.

ANOTHER BLAST BY STRAUS

Pat Monroe, our special correspondent in Washington, has called on the power plant to a "litigious effort" by a sister New Dealer, who has been replaced as commissioner of reclamation—Michael W. Straus.

Writing in the New Republic, under the heading "Will Public Power Fade Away?", Straus blew a fuse in directing a super-charge of criticism at the power commissioner.

Whatever may have been the obligation incurred when power companies rallied their voting and financial support to the Great Crusade to halt creeping, crawling or galloping socialism in last autumn's acrid debate, said Straus, "it has not been forgotten or betrayed in this spring's balmy atmosphere."

Then he went on to lament the fact that "the business of nullifying and reversing a major, public-power policy has got off to a flying start."

He was particularly concerned over a Truman budget request to build a government power plant at American Falls dam in Idaho, being opposed by the new administration.

After pulling out three other skeletons which are nothing more than parts of the remains of the new deal, all of which "vanished before they even saw combat in congress, he then tied off on Hells canyon—the biggest of the Big Deal," he said.

Jaycees Donate Box to Permit Drivers To Mail Letters Without Leaving Auto

Inauguration of a convenient drive-in mailbox service in Twin Falls has been announced by the Twin Falls postoffice. The new curb mail drop was presented to the local postoffice Saturday by the Twin Falls Jaycees who decided upon the service some six months ago to help relieve congested conditions occurring at the postoffice during peak hours.

Installed Saturday, the drive-in box is located on the southeast side of the postoffice building on Second street west. Two parking meters were removed to provide space for motorists to pull alongside the curb mail drop.

Signs prohibiting day or night parking in the zone have been installed and will be enforced strictly by the police department.

Archie T. Anderson, local postoffice superintendent of mail, reports the drive-in letter drop will receive the same service as letters mailed inside the postoffice building.

Letters will be collected 30 minutes before mail is dispatched locally with the last pickup at 9:20 p.m. daily. Bulk and circular mail must be mailed inside the postoffice.

Henry Wills, Jaycee president, described the curb mailing box, "a community project—the Jaycees have completed which they feel will be of service and convenience to local residents."

George Bever, Jaycee member in charge of providing the curb mail container, praised the "Twin Falls postoffice and police station for their excellent cooperation in making the curb box possible."

Soldier in Korea Asking Why Folks Don't Give More Blood

Editor, Times-News:

I am just another GI in Korea but I try to keep up with what is going on back home. I know that people are trying hard to get blood donors back in the States so that the boys over here can have it when they need it. I also know that they are having a hard time getting substitute blood donors that previous, life-saving fluid that we need so badly over here.

I read an article in a magazine the other day that mentioned the fact that there are 1,000,000 miracle-makers wanted. To be a miracle-maker, all a person needs to do is give one pint of blood. That one pint of blood may save a man's life.

not only over here but also back home.

I was only 17 when I came to Korea and so far I have given three pints of it. If I can I don't see why anybody else can't do it too.

As I said before, I know how the boys over here can have it when they need it. I also know that they are having a hard time getting substitute blood donors that previous, life-saving fluid that we need so badly over here.

I am a former resident of Twin Falls and would like to return in the next month or two.

Local Man Explains Source of Information for His Criticism

Editor, Times-News:

Please allow me to explain why I asked the question I did in my letter to the Times-News Forum of April 8 and of where I got my information.

First may I say we are an egotistic lot, we humans. We try to make ourselves believe that the world revolves around us and the particular activity in which we are engaged. We sometimes forget that if it was not for the farmer we city folks would starve.

As to my information, on March 28, 1953, it was printed by an independent Washington, D. C. newspaper of which I am a subscriber, and from which I quoted in my letter. This paper has a subscription list of more than 80,000 subscribers and has been printing the congressional news for more than 30 years, of which no doubt both Senators Dewarshak and Senator Walker are aware. If not, all they would need to do is slip across from the capital to Independence avenue, R. W. Washington.

Next on April 3, there appeared an editorial in the Times-News from the Lewiston Tribune, titled "Idaho Hangs Her Head," from which I quoted "Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R. Wis., had 12 other members of the U. S. senate with him yesterday when the shrewdness came on talking the nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as American ambassador to Russia. Two of those votes came over, said, "There I was, poor little from Idaho." Sen. Herman Welby, R. Id., who has been a critic of McCarthy for many months, had announced last Wednesday that he would stand with the Wisconsin senator-artist to the bitter end. His vote came as no surprise. But the vote of Sen. Henry Dworshak, R. Id., a member of the key senate appropriations policy committee, came as a "bomb" to history" who expected of him better things, at least, than this. Only one other state in the union cast both of its senate votes for McCarthy. That state was Nevada, ruled by the retiring racket, Sen. Pat McCarran, Democrat, and his Republican counterpart, Sen. George Malone. But Idaho and Nevada had no competitors as the national strongholds of reaction as represented by this senate roll-call. If Idaho voters can stomach this, they can stomach anything" (end quote).

Also appearing in the Times-News was a Washington special story dated April 13 saying both of Idaho's senators will vote for the ticket. Bill giving offshore oil to the coastal states, but Sen. Henry C. Dworshak admits "I'm not happy on either side." He must have changed his mind since he replied to my letter.

Both Senator Dworshak's and Senator Walker's letters reached of the two charming women who were talking over the back fence. One of them, endeavoring to impress the

T-F. Washington School Principal Raps Auto Speed

Editor, Times-News:

The teachers at Washington school were glad to read the warning of Chairman Schwendeman for motorists on Addison avenue east and Blue Lakes boulevard to decrease their speed. The rate of speed of many motorists not only makes it hard for traffic to enter Addison and Blue Lakes but also endangers the lives of many boys and girls. Excessive speed in a school zone where the speed limit is 15 miles per hour makes the job of school traffic safety patrols especially hard.

Now in training for safety patrol positions for all elementary schools are fourth grade pupils. As fifth grade pupils, they will be in charge of all pupil traffic, both pedestrian and bicycle. Much responsibility rests on these young children. Decreased motorist speed will help them very much.

A traffic signal light installed at the intersections of Elm and Addison and another one at Elm and Blue Lakes would surely help slow motorists to the legal 15 miles per hour speed of a school zone.

I would suggest that the two senators go to where information first originated.

Gas Dealerships Merge in Hailey

HAILEY, April 25—Virgil McPeters, local agent for the West-coast Oil corporation, has taken over the Continental Oil company dealership. Officials of both companies were in Hailey this week working out the details of the transaction.

Westcoast has leased the recently completed Conoco station at Ketchum. It is in charge of Art Martin, formerly of Twin Falls, and the Conoco dealership, conducted for the past 20 years by R. R. Horne, Horne took over the business from Ed Shroy in 1934 and has conducted it continuously since.

McPeters will now have six retail outlets with Conoco or Westcoast products. They include the Sewboth Motor, Horne's service and the Service Corner, all Hailey; Gem service, Bellevue; Art's-Tur Valley Conoco service, Ketchum, and Mrs. Pearl Barber's store, Oatman.

Kane said he had been told the water was open for fishing and his actions, Matthews explained, would seem to indicate he had no intention of wrong-doing. Justice-Dice suspended $15 of the fine.

Matthews said the part of Little Wood river opened for year-around fishing on April 1 is below the Dietrich diversion stream past Gooding to the bridge over the Madid river on state highway 28 between Bliss and Wendell.

SHOSHONE, April 25—Den mothers met Thursday night at the home of Clubmaster Fred Schwartz. Plans were outlined for the Monday night pack meeting with a discussion of organization problems and work.

George Brennan, juvenile district Scout executive, and E. I. Shaw, local committee man, explained the Cub Scout work.

Five dens are now organized in the city: Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Claude Matthews, Mrs. Ray Thomas, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Richard Mabbutt, Mrs. Paul Graham, Mrs. William McFay and Mrs. Max Nelson are den mothers.

Eleven new Scouts will receive their Bobcat pins at the Monday night pack meeting. The program theme will be Hawaii.

Red Cross Efforts Ending in Lincoln

SHOSHONE, April 25—The Lincoln county Red Cross drive soon will have to be declared closed for this year. County Chairman Frank Dice announced, although the goal still is not quite reached.

The drive will be extended just a few days more, Dice said, in hope those who have not contributed will do so at once. Donations are to be mailed to Mrs. Claude Ches, he said.

Ketchum Man Is Fined on Fishing

SHOSHONE, April 25—Walter Kane, Ketchum, has been fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace Frank Dice for fishing in closed waters on Little Wood river April 11. He was arrested by Claude Matthews, Shoshone, game conservation officer.

Kane said he had been told the water was open for fishing and his actions, Matthews explained, would seem to indicate he had no intention of wrong-doing. Justice-Dice suspended $15 of the fine.

Matthews said the part of Little Wood river opened for year-around fishing on April 1 is below the Dietrich diversion stream past Gooding to the bridge over the Madid river on state highway 28 between Bliss and Wendell.

Scout Committee Named at Hailey

Planned for the committee were Paul Harless, Jack Russell and Abrams.

Budge and Bude reported another danger spot exists on highway 25 miles west of Eden where school buses must stop. The vision is extremely short, they said, and recommended to state highway department to study and send recommendations to proper authorities.

FATE'S NEW COMMISSION SETS BIG GAME HUNTING SEASONS

Deer and Elk Dates Nearly Same as Last Year; Night Hunting Banned

April 25 (P)—Big game seasons in Idaho were set Friday by the state fish and game commission, including hunting hours for the first time in Idaho history.

Deer and elk seasons are about the same as last year. The special bull commission hunt in portions of Clark, Jefferson, Fremont and Teton counties will have the largest number of permits issued in recent years.

Another innovation this year is allowing group applications on special antelope hunts. Groups of two, three or four hunters can apply on a single application and if successful the entire party can hunt.

Permits will be issued for 12,750 deer and 2,500 elk in special hunts. Open season for deer begins Friday afternoon but still depends on a 2-7 decision to Shoshone.

Shoshone peaked away at the first of the season by scoring two runs in the third, three in the sixth, two in the seventh and the winning run in the eighth.

The winning run came when Clayton singled and came home on another single by Mallory.

But Burgett's pitching kept Burgett from Shoshone, replacing Williams in the third frame and getting the Halley nine down in order the rest of the way.

Burley Blasts Gooding Nine By 13-8 Score

GOODING, April 23—Burley high school stepped down Gooding's boys' baseball team to a 13-8 score Friday afternoon.

Gooding scored all of its runs two at a time, getting a pair in each of the first, second, fourth and fifth innings.

Burley scored three runs in the first and six in the second for a total enough to win but it added four more in the top of the seventh inning.

Special elk hunts include Soldier Mountain game preserve 625 permit, 1,400 permits; Big Wood river game preserve 1,000 permits; Soldier Mountain game preserve 2,300 permits; Pocatello game preserve 650 permits; Payette deer hunt, 1,600 permits in four units; south fork of Payette river game preserve 200 permits.

Mountain goat hunts include 16 units totaling 38 permits in Cabinet range of North Idaho, Selway and Snake ranges of Salmon river drainage.

WILDER, April 23—Frank S. Good, Wilder, Pa., was named Friday as new head coach at Filer high school replacing Larry Stone who resigned earlier this spring.

Good was graduated from high school at Wilder. He was graduated from Colorado State college, Greeley, and has done graduate work at the University of Southern California.

The new mentor was selected at a special board meeting Friday. He was selected from a list of more than 200 applicants.

Good will coach football, basketball and baseball at Filer. Kenneth Turner will act as assistant coach and Olet Bower will take charge of the junior high school athletes.

At Modol high school his 1946-47 basketball team won 23 and lost 10 games and was the state champion in 1946-47. He was 25 and lost three in 1946-47. He had a 16-6 record in 1947-48. He led his team on the state title with a record of 20 wins, two losses.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

A short time ago pupils of the fourth grade at KXPT forgot to wiggle their ears as they listened in rapt attention while their teacher, Mrs. Jean Bachelder, read a story about the children of Korea from a recent magazine.

As they listened to the tragic story of the half-clothed, starving children of Korea, their eyes grew big with sympathy. And when they heard of the efforts to bring starving children across the line by airplane to provide the clothing made of army blankets, charity and compassion crossed their faces.

Horror, mingled with anger, was theirs as the story told how the communists had told the Korean children "the Americans will eat you." When Mrs. Bachelder had read the first paragraph with the appeal for clothing the Eden fourth graders were ready for action. They eagerly suggested they should bring in clothing and soon the pile began to grow and grow. In a matter of days the clothing was packaged and sent to Korea.

Recently these Eden pupils were rewarded for their efforts to ease suffering elsewhere. A letter has been received from J. Heydon Lampe, a marine chaplain, that the clothing they had sent to Korea is filled with appreciation for the contributions which have "made possible the fulfillment of true Christian charity for these brothers of ours in Korea; there is no better way of showing these people that this is the American's attitude toward the people of the world."

Chaplain Lampe describes the work being done in Korea and said "Our biggest responsibility is Eden Children's clothing. The children are from our base. Through the efforts of the marines, we have built a warm home for these children. The walls are inches thick, serve as a competent barrier against the dreaded winter winds. The roof, though it is now of wood plank construction, is awaiting the arrival of roofing from a generous construction unit in the States.

"In this building there are about 150 children from 7 months through 17 years of age," he continues. "The older children care for the younger ones with the dual purpose of overcoming the misery and hunger that come to the better Korea through these means. A Korea that has a self-sufficient foundation of youth that can be called upon to shoulder work no great enthusiasm nor interest in the project was shown by the majority of the residents. But, in the four years since its creation, many people have been led to the foresight and initiative of a few who instigated formation of the department.

It was during the summer of 1938 that a representative of the A. P. Williams company, Seattle, Wash., had to stop in Carey to have his fire truck repaired. With him he had a fire truck which he planned to deliver to a lumber company in Ash-ton.

While the motor trouble was being located the representative asked Alton Patterson, the mechanic doing the work, if he would like to buy the truck. Patterson replied that there was no fire fighting equipment in Carey at all. Salesmanship was brought to the fore and a request was made that the Carey Chamber of Commerce be contacted. It so happened that Patterson also was president of the chamber. He called the meetings needed to discuss the undertaking of buying fire fighting equipment.

More extensive repairs were needed on the fire truck than the salesman had foreseen, and had to leave the equipment in Carey.

During this time two fires broke out. One was at Billard Meane's home. The fire truck was "borrowed" to fight this fire and it demonstrated its usefulness. The fire outfit "was developed" into one of Carey's biggest fires.

The fire started in a small shed located only two or three feet from the "main" home. Before the fire truck and help could be summoned the fire had burned off the electric wires, making Meane's deep well system useless. The borrowed equipment kept the fire confined to the shed.

Twelve men went into action after this demonstration and signed a note which authorized the Chamber of Commerce to purchase the outfit. Those men are J. E. Barten, Amos Easton, Louis Arlin, A. E. Adamson, Alton Patterson, Joe Conners, Millard Sparks, Charles Haskell, Russ Ditz, D. E. Adamson, R. E. Adamson and Dave Baird.

Following this move, a fire district was formed. It includes nearly all the homes and farms in the valley. Since its creation not a home has been burned down nor has any serious damage resulted from fire.

A 20-year lease has been given the fire department by the Carey mercantile for a lot to house the equipment. The fire house was built by Worth Kidder.

Patterson, present fire chief, reports fire insurance rates in Carey have been reduced nearly 10 per cent since the formation of the district.

The National Geographic society has been invited to give a lecture on the world's roughest games.

State Is Progressing in Care of Old Folks, but Not Keeping up With Need

BOISE, April 25 (AP)—The state of Idaho is making progress in caring for its old people in nursing homes, but it is not keeping pace with the growth of the problem, according to this is the view of Vernon L. Harris, state hospital supervisor.

"There are many things we can do to improve things to make them feel they are valuable to society, not just cast-off. In too many of our nursing homes, they just sit all day and do nothing."

The Idaho law for state licensing of nursing homes went into effect in 1947. It set standards for personnel—and physical—equipment which a home had to meet to be licensed.

But those already operating were licensed as they were, and efforts to reach the standards. Some of them have still not made it. Harris reported.

What is needed, he added, is a person in the department who could go out among the homes, check on them, and bring the lagging ones up to par.

"Many of the people operating homes would be very happy to accept such help," Harris asserted.

There are about 1,200 residents in some 85 nursing homes licensed by the state. Almost all of these persons are over 60.

Many factors contribute to the rapid increase in the problem of the aged, Harris pointed out. For one thing, the average life span has been stretched so that all people who formerly died young are enabled to enjoy extra years of life. Another factor is smaller and don't have space for the old people, the houses are smaller and don't have the facilities have difficulty getting along.

"The basic problem is economic. These people are beyond the age of supporting themselves and they are a burden on their families."

Operating without a staff, Harris says, crowded them out of the state. He said that the number of nursing homes in Idaho has increased in the past few years, but that the present rate of increase will not meet the need.

New Three Dimension Movie Is Scheduled to Open Here May 6

The first three-dimensional motion picture to be shown in Magic Valley will be presented at the Graceland Theatre here through 12 announcements Thomas McDevaney, manager.

The film, "Bygone Devil" is an adventure based on a true story of man-eating lions and the troubles they bring to a crew of natives constructing a railroad. It was directed by Arch Oboler, noted radio, television and film producer, and stars Robert Stack, Barbara Britton and Nigel Bruce.

The process used is known as "natural vision three dimension," and requires polaroid glasses worn by the audience. McDevaney notes the audience becomes accustomed to the glasses in a few seconds. In one scene, a lion seems to leap directly toward the audience. Another scene features a train that appears to come right out of the screen at the audience.

McDevaney said the International Film Theater company will continue to book three-dimensional films for Twin Falls as soon as they are available for release. He said it is impossible to obtain complete equipment to adapt the company's eight Utah and four Idaho theaters for three dimensional films. Shutting-in of equipment between the theaters is planned.

Equipment for the Twin Falls showing will be brought from Boise. E. W. McGhan, company chief technician and maintenance man, will be in charge of installing the equipment and training local operators in its use.

A new glass disc screen will be the only permanent equipment installed. The other equipment, including projectors will be moved back away from the projection room walls to accommodate larger film magazines are required for the three dimension equipment compared to the standard 2000 foot reels. Pneumatic hammers will be used to drill holes in the projection room area and fans to cool the special equipment.

McDevaney said Orpheum management and spectators have been forwarded to New York City to determine the feasibility of installing a wider, wider screen three dimensional process.

Road-Work Aids New Farm Area

HAILEY, April 26—Kenneth H. Haines, county commissioner for the first district, reported eight miles of road east of Minidoka has been graded to facilitate travel to Owyhee farms and other ranches in that area.

Three miles of road work is being worked on and a new road cross-ditch will be constructed.

This work is on the head leading from Minidoka to Wald originally built by the CCC.

Edredge said the Owyhee ranch reported some 200 acres in potatoes last year and another 200 acres are to be planted this year. At present, three dirt roads are on the property. It is in charge of the operation.

Band Invited

HAILEY, April 26—Ralph Anderson, music director for Haines and Erickson schools, has received an invitation to lead the 38-piece band to participate in a band contest at Boise. The local band is holding special practices for the event.

Assigned to Post

HANSEN, April 26—William C. Brown, seaman, has been assigned to duty at the Kingsville, Tex. Navy training center. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Brown, Hansen, and attended Twin Falls high school.

Balanced on Edge of Desert

Balanced Rock still draws many visitors every year despite its out-of-the-way location west of Castleford. This view of the rock is different from the normal picture in two respects: 1. It was taken from the "blind" side of the rock. 2. No one is "testing muscles" against the rock as the tourist is supposed to do. The scene is typical of the area located in the Blue Gulch irrigation project and the Saylor creek gunnery range, subject of a hearing in Twin Falls. (Staff photo-engraving)

Oddity of Erosion, Balanced Rock Is Fine Goal for Aimless Sunday Drives

In your aimless driving some Sunday, you might try balanced rock. It's not too far off the beaten path and no one's ever said he was sorry he visited the place. Balanced rock is one of those oddities of erosion which has attracted a good deal of attention down through the years. Because of its location, the big erosion freak has been exactly a tourist attraction. Still, hundreds of visitors snap thousands of photos of it every summer, usually within one or two hours of the time they arrive. The best bet for finding the balanced rock is to follow the highway from Shoshone to Castleford, go one mile north then follow the road west.

You're driving along in typical farm country. The road curves right, then left and you find yourself headed down a steep grade into a canyon carved out of lava rock. The grade requires second gear on constant use of brakes. It's that steep. Twin Falls is in the bottom of a narrow canyon rimmed by vertical walls of lava rock. A green-colored stream splits the middle of the canyon. That's Salmon Falls creek. A fine spot for a picnic or fishing? Opinion varies. Salmon Falls creek canyon is protected by those vertical walls of lava rock and stories—stories of rattlesnakes. Some folks will swear you can't take as much as two steps without tangling with at least one rattler. Others claim the snake stories were concocted to protect excellent fishing waters reached by crawling down narrow trails in the canyon walls.

From the level of the balanced rock, you can look out on the beginning of the Bruneau desert that stretches farther than the eye can see. Nearby is desert land—12,000 acres of sagebrush, dust, rock and maybe rattlers—is included in the Blue Gulch irrigation project. Farther north and west is the site of the Saylor creek gunnery range, the subject of hearings held in Twin Falls by the bureau of land management. Some 200 people have filed on the desert land and are drilling for water. That's the setting for the balanced rock. The oddity towers some 200 feet into the air and appears just about ready to topple. But years of wind and weather and generations of young people testing their muscles have left balanced rock still balanced. It's as rugged as the near-by Salmon Falls creek canyon. That canyon is breached by road in only one other place in its more than 40 miles of meanderings from the Salmon Falls reservoir north to Snake River.

2 Condemnations Started in Court

Two land condemnation actions were filed in district court Friday by the state highway board of directors seeking land for right-of-way along highway in Dead Man's gulch area just west of the city. The first suit is against the Covert Advertising company, Twin Falls, which owns one lot and portions of two others in the area. The second was filed against Mr. and Mrs. Irving G. Prescott, who own land near the gulch on both sides of the present highway. Attorney general, and his assistant, Allan G. Shepard, signed the actions but Smith and Jacob, local attorneys, will represent the state in the suits.
