Idaho Home Demonstration Leader Is Featured for Meet of County Council

Mildred Habery, state home demonstration leader from the University of Idaho extension service, was the main speaker at a meeting of the Twin Falls county home demonstration council Saturday afternoon at the Idaho Power auditorium. The meeting combined Miss Habery's address with planning a program for coming months. The council is made up of two members from each of the nine clubs in the county plus numerous cooperating clubs. It meets quarterly and sometimes holds special meetings. Miss Habery used a tree as an illustration in describing the program planning of a council. The tree has three main parts: the trunk, the branches, and the leaves. The trunk represents the council, the branches represent the county clubs, and the leaves represent the individual home demonstration agents. The tree is a symbol of growth and progress. Brownell Claims Reds Seeking to Sabotage Justice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Brownell said today that the communists, in attempting to discredit the American way of life, are trying to undermine the protection of defendants at U. S. trials. "These satellite trials," Brownell said, "demonstrate what happens when procedural safeguards are not afforded to an accused and why we deem our safeguards so essential. Any people may find it difficult to understand why we afford to communists here liberties and procedures which they deny to all persons in all countries where they have seized control." "But the communists hope that by this tactic they will make us impatient with our procedural safeguards that we will abandon them."

Speaker Asks New Faith in U. S. Freedom

SUN VALLEY, Sept. 9 (Special)—"I hope that America will turn to a greater faith in itself as represented in a philosophy of the individual was voiced here tonight by Harry Dillin, president of Atlantic City, N. J., at the annual dinner of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution."

Dillin said, "We have been sending our problems to Washington to be solved instead of working on them ourselves."

"Interpreting America as the current leader of western civilization, Dillin expressed his idea of this country's strength and weakness, listing a 'relatively free' market, the Christian tradition, and the resources of youth among the strengths and broken homes and corruption in government among the weaknesses."

"We must get out of places of high responsibility—in government, churches and schools—those who would destroy the country," Dillin declared, but warned against succumbing to a guilt by association theory."

"We must teach our people, what communism is all about, and show that democratic capitalism is better than 'democratic communism,' he asserted. He denounced boot-lapping as an answer to fears of communism prevalent today."

Earlier in the day, Philip J. Clark, Denver, newly-elected president of the association, said the group will hold its 1934 convention at Atlantic City, N. J.

Man and Wife Hurt in Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sliger, Thoms and Springs, were taken to Idaho Valley Memorial hospital Friday evening after the 1933 Chevrolet pickup truck in which they were riding went off a new section of highway 93 15 miles south of Reger.

State Patrolman J. B. Bays, Jr., said the couple was headed north and failed to see turn signs where the old road turned. They continued ahead on the new section of highway which comes to a dead end at a bank. Bays said the truck apparently rolled onto its side, then back onto its wheels.

Sliger was able to drive on to the Callen ranch from where the couple was taken to the hospital. Mrs. Sliger was still in the hospital with broken ribs Saturday afternoon, but her husband had been released.

University Notes Enrollment Rise

MOONCOW, Sept. 10 (U. S. News)—Registration for the fall semester at the University of Idaho stood at 2,325 at noon today. This is 121 more students than at the same hour a year ago.

"This should result in a fall enrollment of about 3,000 students," registers D. D. DeWitt, registrar.

Registration at the university began Thursday and does not close for several weeks.

"The biggest increase is in the freshman class. So far, 115 more first-year students have registered than at this time last year," DeWitt said.

Bureau Plans to Reduce Its Staff

DENVER, Sept. 10 (U. S. News)—Additional staff reductions are in prospect for the bureau of reclamation in a move to streamline its work, an interior department official said here Friday night.

The statement was made by Assistant Interior Secretary Fred Aandahl who is in Denver to confer with director of the National Reclamation association. He also met today with Republican members of the house interior committee.

Representative Miller, R. Neb., chairman of the house group, said in an interview that he asked for the conference with Aandahl and Assistant Secretary Ralph Tudor primarily to discuss policy.

Draft Hike Is Slated for '54

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (U. S. News)—The draft outlook is for a steep increase in calls in the latter part of 1954, perhaps to as many as 50,000 to 60,000 men a month.

Major Gen. Lewis B. Hensley, director of selective service, said Friday night he expected "material increase" after the new fiscal year begins July 1, "perhaps as high as 50,000 to 60,000 a month."

He said the present rate of about 25,000 a month would probably be maintained until the end of this fiscal year.

The selective service director said the present rejection rate was 35 per cent of the men called. He said that was too high.

He added he expected no change in deferments for college students over the next year.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Boys and girls: If you are about to enter high school or you are preparing for college, there are good books you should read which will help you, particularly in classes of English, philosophy and literature. The reading of certain books would come in useful in any classroom, for instructors and professors are fond of quoting from the classics and memorable stories. Reading worthwhile literature will give you a rich background which will always be gratifying and which will serve you well as a student.

Charles Dickens is an author who is frequently quoted in college as well as in the home. One of his master books is "David Copperfield." It tells a great story with vivid descriptions and clearly drawn characters.

Do you know of Long John Silver of "Treasure Island"? What are the outstanding books of William Collins and Arnold Bennett? What is the name of the author of "The Hobbit"? Have you read the biographies of Washington, Franklin and Lincoln? They will make you feel like standing on a hilltop to cheer.

Ask your librarian for one or two of these or other good books and read at least two of them each month. You will have them, if you use all the between time. The books are so good that you spend in the dentist's office, on the trip to town in the bus, plus your free time.

Reading good books will give you a comprehension of life and people, enlighten your mind, enrich your vocabulary and sharpen your mentality.

Reading is no task. It is not done for your teachers, but for your own satisfaction and enjoyment. Some books you will read once, and some you may keep near you and read again and again. Then there will be books to which you will want to refer occasionally.

Now is the time to start today.

Challenge is one of the most important words in the world. It is the challenge that the child and the parents in books like "The Hobbit" and "The Lion and the Unicorn" are so good that you spend in the dentist's office, on the trip to town in the bus, plus your free time.

Committee Plans Style Show for Tea

Mrs. Curtis Eaton, Mrs. Frank McIntyre and Mrs. Mitchell B. Rider, from left, plan the fashion show which will highlight the program at the traditional Twentieth Century club reception honoring past presidents and founders of the club. The three women comprise the committee for the show. The reception will be held Tuesday in the Turf club. (Staff photo—engraving)

20th Century Club to Fete Founders, Past Presidents

The traditional tea honoring founders and past presidents will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Turf club by the Twentieth Century club. The program will feature a fashion show.

Three of the charter members of the club remain on its roll. They include Mrs. J. H. Beaver, Mrs. C. J. Hahn and Mrs. E. B. Williams. The past presidents to be honored include Mrs. E. W. McRoberts, Mrs. Robert Haller, Mrs. D. R. Churchill, Mrs. Harry A. Erickson, Mrs. Bess Newman, Mrs. A. J. Peavey, Mrs. H. L. Hogsett, Mrs. P. H. Wilson, Mrs. Mary A. Erickson, Mrs. Bess Newman, Mrs. L. E. Hinton, Mrs. Stanley Phillips, Mrs. Horace Holmes, Mrs. Charles Casey, Mrs. John Melville.

Mrs. Frank McIntyre, Mrs. Curtis Eaton and Mrs. Mitchell B. Rider are the committee for the show.

Business houses furnishing clothes for the event include Falk's, the Paris company, Zimmerman's, the Mayrle and C. O. Anderson's shops.

Mrs. Edward Tolbert will preside at the business meeting. Mrs. Tom Alworth will act as mistress of ceremonies and introduce special guests.

Mrs. Tolbert recalled the club was founded in 1906 by 19 women. It then was known as the Syringa club. It became the Twentieth Century club in 1909 when it was incorporated. Today it includes more than 300 members and ranks as the largest club in the valley.

Carved Farm From Sagebrush

Couple to Hold Reception On Golden Wedding

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Mrs. and Mr. Levi W. Slason will hold open house Tuesday, Sept. 20, at their home on the farm. They will welcome friends and relatives from 2 to 4 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m. at their home on the farm when they moved to Twin Falls in 1908. The farm is located two miles south and three and one-half miles west of the city.

The couple was married Sept. 22, 1901, at Mount Vernon, G. D. Both came from pioneer families of South Dakota, and both remember well the famous blizzard of 1893. First grade pupils at the time, they spent the night with teacher and class marooned in the snow.

Slason was born in Wisconsin in 1862, and Mrs. Slason in 1881. They have one son and one daughter, Harold L. Slason, Jr. and Mrs. Gertrude Olson, Twin Falls, and five grandchildren.

Skit Presented At MIA's

SHOSHONE, Sept. 19.—A skit on the topic, "Ways of the World," was presented by the Junior Girls of the MIA. The skit was presented by the Junior Girls of the MIA. The skit was presented by the Junior Girls of the MIA. The skit was presented by the Junior Girls of the MIA.

Buhl Club Elects Year's President

SHOSHONE, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Mabel Schroeder was elected president Wednesday afternoon of the Buhl-Kennington club when the club met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Noh. Mrs. Edwin Noh was named vice president and Mrs. Walter E. Noh, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Oscar Noh, chairman of the membership committee, announced that Mrs. Martin Tolson has been enrolled as a member of the club. Mrs. William Klecher was reported on the sick list.

Mrs. Ernest Voss, program chairman, led group singing. Roll call was answered by each member giving the name of her first grade teacher. Mrs. E. Noh read an article on fashion. Mrs. Leonard Lath presented piano selections. A duet was sung by Mrs. Chester Noh and Mrs. W. R. Sanner. Prizes at contests were won by Mrs. E. H. Hemmer and Mrs. Frank Chandler.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Wagner, featuring installation of new officers. Refreshments were served by the hostess to the 16 members and one guest, Mrs. Sanner.

New Galena Highway to Be Opened Next Week

Construction point one mile down from the top of Galena summit and the mountain gives motorists over highway 21. The view of the Salmon river drainage and the Swiss-like peaks of the Sawtooth range. The lookout station is nearly one-fourth mile long. The highway job is expected to be completed this week. (Staff photo-courtesy)

Highway Jobs on Galena Summit Are Slated to Be Finished This Fall

Sept. 19—Two links in the new Galena highway are nearing completion, and residents forest west of the job each summer, said the last four years, said the job was completed next week and the job on this side of the summit is finished around the October.

Work is being done on the 100-foot cut this side of the summit on the north side of the road. This particular cut has been the most difficult to complete because of the blasting in progress in the middle of the cut. The road is being cut 45 feet from both ends. Material from two borrow pits and the other near the job is being used for the new road. Jensen said the job included four large fills and three cuts. The remainder of the road was composed of small cuts and fills. The highest fill is 74 feet, one mile from the foot of the summit. A 36-inch metal culvert, 278 feet long, was used under this fill. Culverts used under fills ranged in size from the 36 inches down to 18 inches.

Papin's bid was for 513,000 cubic yards of excavation. Jensen said the firm actually excavated around 450,000 cubic yards and has had to "borrow" between 11,000 and 15,000 cubic yards for surfacing. There will be nine inches of surfacing placed on the road.

The maximum grade on this side of the summit is six per cent, with the percentage falling away to three per cent during the last 2,000 feet.

Approximately one mile down from the summit an observation point has been constructed. The lookout is nearly one-fourth mile long. The entire upper portion of the Salmon river drainage, with the Swiss-like peaks overlooking Stanley lake, can be seen from this vantage point.

About a mile farther down, where one of the many unnamed gulches is cut by the road, a spring of water bubbles from the mountain side.

The road from the foot of the summit on the Salmon river side still is to be improved. At the summit the Papin work connects with the six miles of construction on the Big Wood river side which was completed in 1940. The average width of the entire road, over the summit is 34 feet. The second stretch of road is being constructed by the Halvorsen Construction company, Seattle, Wash. This stretch covers 6.2 miles of road on the south side of the summit.

The Halvorsen bid was $238,838. Work was started late last fall. The work has been done with heavy summer traffic passing over it and in only a few places were short detours made. The channel of the headwaters of the Big Wood river was changed in 14 different places.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

The Rev. Richard DeVilliers, pastor of the First Christian church, TWIN FALLS, is proud of the antelope he bagged during one of the special hunts this fall. Judging from what happened to several other hunters, he can consider himself lucky, too.

Take three other Twin Falls hunters, for example, Buford Holman, James Clark and State Forester M. J. Bays, Jr., who went into the hunt area with a well-marked map and made a wrong turn. Where game was supposed to be plentiful, antelope were as scarce as hen's teeth. The hunters really had to get out and hunt, winding up eventually with two antelope. Along about that time, third and fourth, they checked their bearings and discovered their mistake. They were only off three or four miles. Arriving at the original destination, they found the place awarming with game. So they took their third antelope and came home.

It just isn't in the cards for W. W. Bennett, Boise, director of the state health department's division of vital statistics, to have an antelope. For four years he has applied for a hunt permit but his name wasn't drawn until this fall. Bennett laid elaborate plans for his hunt in the Challis area. On a Friday morning—the first day of the three-day hunt—he took a horse to ride to the hunt. Twenty minutes later he was bucked off.

Bennett was discharged from the Challis hospital Sunday night after three days of treatment for a pulled back muscle.

The Rev. Mr. DeVilliers' hunt was not without incident, however. He was accompanied by the Rev. R. M. Myers, pastor of the First Christian church, JEROME, and the two men discovered that a man wiggling in the brush is a most interesting or amusing sight when a man having a handkerchief.

In their plan of attack, the Twin Falls minister was to stalk the herd while the Jerome minister waved a handkerchief at "dan" to draw their attention. The Rev. Mr. DeVilliers was so intent on the task of remaining invisible while he traversed rough country in a prone position he didn't notice when the herd changed position. When he made the discovery he saw the antelope were paying no attention to the Rev. Mr. Myers but were watching his wiggling struggle with interest.

The Rev. Mr. DeVilliers says he decided then and there he wouldn't be able to get a closer shot at the obviously amused critters so he laid out across their prow, "dropping a nice shot."

Perhaps one of the most important phases of a 4-H club work comes under the caption "Junior leadership." But to many spectators the exhibits at the district fair in JEROME last week, this portion of the program seemed to have little interest. For all the numerous activities carried on by Junior leaders it was noted in a snapshot and close by is one of the many signs which read "hands off."

Don Warren, Moscow, state club agent, said many 4-H club boys and girls who have been active in Junior leadership, have found the lessons of great benefit to them in later life.

Of the many scrapbooks and records entered in the competition, Warren was especially impressed by an entry made by Miss Mathieson, Poplar, Hill 4-H club member. FILLER, Miss Mathieson's report deals with the assistance to her community by members of the club. She related how she started a library of reference material, first for her own use and later for use by all club members. All committees of the club were able to go to her file for suggestions.

To show the resourcefulness, not only of Miss Mathieson, but of other club members, she related that with the help of Mary Sharpy, FILLER, she managed a camp dinner during the 4-H camp summer, after regular duties had been completed. Funds from the dinner were given to the international farm youth fund.

This spring when the club leader's husband died, members eased her grief by sending cards, flowers, food and staying overnight with her. They also helped her write "Thank you" notes to all who had expressed their sympathy.

Another account tells of the help given to a polo victim, Sally Pierce, a former member of the club. Throughout the year the club sent her cards, gifts and many times took her refreshments following their meetings.

A quote from Miss Mathieson's report best expresses what her 4-H club has meant to her community. "Today America's youth seems to be looking beyond immediate personal profit to do some of the things which need to be done for club, community and country. Through 4-H club work, these young men and women have learned to co-operate in attaining a common goal; to unselfishly give of their time and efforts in service to others."

Pruett Notes 1953 Harvest Moon Arrival

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Astronomer, Extension Division
Oregon Higher Education System

When the harvest moon hangs high—

Again we have come to that delightful time of year when the genial face of the big harvest moon for more days than usual makes the early evenings glorious with an abundance of yellow light. This is the season that long has inspired poets to declare that harvest moon is "nature's gift to lovers and laborers."

"Harvest moon" is usually defined as the full moon occurring nearest the time of the autumnal equinox. This year the equinox, the date when the day and the night are equal, comes Sept. 22.

Scientifically speaking, this is the time when the apparent position of the sun crosses the celestial equator, the imaginary line on the earth directly over the earth's equator. Full moon occurs on the evening of Sept. 22.

Season on Now

The few days before and after the date of full moon are known as the "season of the harvest moon." We are in that season right now.

This year the harvest moon will be somewhat larger in appearance and more luminous than often is the case for this moon, due to the fact that on the very evening of full moon our neighboring orb will be at its perigee, or the nearest to the earth during the month.

At 11,000 Miles Closer

This distance will be 221,700 miles, or about 31,000 miles nearer than when farthest from us. This gives approximately 30 per cent greater brightness. The harvest moon of 1940 was nearly at its greatest distance.

In some localities it may seem that the latter part of September is rather late for harvest. The term is said, however, to have originated in northern England and Scotland where the harvesting of crops was on in full swing at that time.

The inhabitants were industrious people and worked late into the evening when bright moonlight was available. And the characteristic of harvest moon gave more early evenings of moonlight than at other times of the year.

The people did not understand the scientific reason, but assumed that a kind providence provided it. On an average throughout a year, moonrises occur any day 51 minutes later than the preceding day. But

Here is Proof MILLIONS Are Paying Too Much for VITAMINS!

Vitamins are costing Americans over three hundred million dollars a year. Much of this vast sum is spent needlessly. It is time that taking vitamins should be the plain fact. Stop taking vitamin products until you are sure you are getting the most for your money. Buy the truth and be informed! No longer need you gamble about the high cost of vitamins. Now you can get quick proof if you are getting the most for your money.

Without cost or obligation you may get the answers to all the vitamin questions. Do you know what vitamins can do for you? Do you know the safe test of "quality" in vitamins is "correct vitamin"? It is desirable to use a mixture of vitamins with vitamin B12 and vitamin B6. The new wonder vitamin B12 and B6. Are the lipotropic factors? Do you know the difference between vitamins in artificial products (hardening of arteries) and the natural vitamins (softening of arteries)? If you are just tired, get a "vitamin" vitamin or what have you? If you are just tired, get a "vitamin" vitamin or what have you? If you are just tired, get a "vitamin" vitamin or what have you?

around full moon in September the moon on rising is on that part of its path which approaches the eastern horizon at a very gentle angle. As a result, its orbital motion each day does not take it eastward as fast as usual, but considerably northward also.

This condition in middle latitudes gives a retardation of moonrise sometimes of only 15 or 20 minutes instead of the average 51 minutes. But in Scotland this is often only three minutes. If old Luna rises one night at 8 p. m. it will "pop up" the next evening at 8:03 p. m.

Photo above shows car racing across a bed of 4" razor sharp steel blades (inset at right). In test after test, at speeds up to 80 MPH, both front and rear tires have been slashed to shreds; yet driver brings car to a safe, straight-line stop despite double blowout.

Here's Why it Protects You

When an ordinary tire blows out it goes flat in one-tenth of a second... so fast that you hardly have time to prevent an accident. With the Firestone Supreme, blowout accidents can't happen because inside the tire is a safety diaphragm, which holds a reserve supply of air to give you complete control of your car after the blowout occurs.

Farm Price to Average Below Parity First Time Since 1921

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(U.S.A.)—The first time since 1921 that the average farm price will be below parity is predicted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture today. The department's official figures show that the average farm price for the year ending Sept. 1, 1934, will be 95.5 percent of parity, compared with 100 percent for the year ending Sept. 1, 1933. The department's official figures show that the average farm price for the year ending Sept. 1, 1934, will be 95.5 percent of parity, compared with 100 percent for the year ending Sept. 1, 1933.

"Kids Day" Plans Set by Members of Buhl Kiwanis

Buhl, Sept. 10.—Plans for observing "Kids Day" in Buhl, Idaho, were set by the Buhl Kiwanis club members today. The club members will sell peanuts on downtown streets this day. Proceeds will be used for the youth fund. Youngsters also will be treated to a movie during the day.

Club Speech Tells Of Sugar Industry

Buhl, Sept. 10.—Robert Peterson spoke on the sugar beet industry at the meeting of the Buhl Kiwanis club members today. Peterson, local field man for the Amalgamated Sugar company, traced the history of the sugar beet industry from the early days in Europe to the present industry as it is in Idaho today.

One Idahoan Gets Reputation By Defying Advice of Doctors

By JIM PARSONS
SANDPOINT, Sept. 19.—Oot's a bum ticker? Then take heart from this story.

Ross Hall is a native Texan transplanted to Colorado. There he lost his shirt raising turkeys, and secured a wife. In northern Idaho, he was advised because of heart trouble to take up a sedentary occupation.

Now he's generally rated among the country's top 10 outdoor photographers—and you don't get that way by being sedentary.

You climb rugged crags in the Salmon river area to snap mountain goats. You snowshoe a mile in elevation for one picture of a tree, bending under a heavy coating of snow. You hike doggedly through forest, blazes for miles just to focus your camera on a rock waterfall. Or, you trudge over trails that always go up just to get a forest lookout tower or a mountain scene on film.

Ignores Advice

Heart trouble made Ross Hall go west to take up a sedentary life. He became an outdoor photographer, and now the Sandpoint man roams mountains. (AP photo)

Nowadays, tourists from all over the nation drop into his studio here for everything from post cards to prints of the nation's two-mile-long wooden piling bridge across Lake Pend Oreille to colored scenes of Lake Malheur in the Snake River country. Hall rates this latter the most beautiful bit of water in western North America.

If there are specific outdoor assignments—like that of a Spokane newspaperman who wants a picture of a room where transients made it appear you were looking out over the city—Hall goes out after getting assignments for them. Lacking assignments, he takes to the hills and woods seeking views that will be suitable for postcard scenes or magazine illustrations.

One of his pictures of two deer fighting like boxers over a pile of cold winter nights, appeared in Life magazine as the cover of the "week" and later was reprinted in various European publications.

As with most outdoor photographers, clouds are his big worry. Each morning he looks at the weather report, his barometer, his thermometer and any other gadget that promises to give some indication of weather and whether or not sky backgrounds will be good.

The Hall studio has been pretty much a family affair. Mrs. Hall says she couldn't even point a

Check Charge Plea Changed

Daniel Foran, who previously pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of writing an insufficient check for $8, was sentenced to three months in the county jail, dating from the time of his arrest, when he appeared before District Judge Hugh A. Baker Friday afternoon.

On motion of Deputy Prosecutor William J. Langley, Raymond Weese, who pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of writing an insufficient check for $8, was released without bond so he can obtain employment. He was told to return at 2 p.m. Oct. 5 for sentencing. Weese was recently extradited from Arizona.

Langley also asked a pre-sentencing investigation. The judge advised Foran not to attempt to leave the county or he will be arrested and returned to jail. He pointed out if such action is necessary, Weese's chances of getting probation will be slight.

Decision Over Count Studied After Hearing

A decision on whether or not Albert Gruell, charged with grand larceny, should be bound over to district court for trial was taken under advisement by Justice of the Peace J. O. Pumphrey at the conclusion of a hearing Friday afternoon.

Defense Attorney William Baker argued for dismissal on grounds it was not shown the defendant knew where the missing money had been kept. He renewed his argument that money which city police found in the defendant's room was not identified as money stolen from Clai's restaurant.

As the hearing resumed Friday, Justice Pumphrey overruled Baker's objection to testimony regarding currency received from the defendant by a strange employee.

J. Fred Davis, called by Prosecutor Max Lloyd, was unable to identify Gruell positively as the man who purchased merchandise from Davis on the day the money was taken. Baker's objection to further testimony on the subject was sustained.

Police Chief Howard Gillette said he discussed the theft with the defendant, but he denied taking the money. Gillette said Gruell claimed to have borrowed $75 from a friend whose name he promised not to give.

Gillette said Gruell admitted buying clothing with a $20 bill and change. Later, the police chief said

Gruell told him to go ahead, and search his room. Gillette said he did so and found three $20 bills in a tobacco sack.

Baker objected to the money being introduced as evidence because it could not be identified as the stolen currency. The motion was denied.

Gillette said he told Gruell most of the stolen $120 had been accounted for, even to the denominations of bills. He said Gruell at first said nothing, then said he wanted an attorney in the hopes the attorney could gain leniency or protection. There was no cross-examination.
