

District FHA Picks, Installs New Officers

BURL, Oct. 3—Merle Summers Jerome was elected and installed as district president of the Future Homemakers of America, an all-day meeting Saturday.

Other new officers include: Barbaree Zook, Twin Falls; vice president, Diana Young; Burl, treasurer, Mary Gray; secretary, Mrs. Anna Lorraine; Parliamentarian, Carroll Fitzsimmons, Jerome, chairman of recreation; Wanda Kinyon, Cascade; Mrs. J. Jerome, district mother; and Mrs. Lucy Dunn, Jerome, district supervisor.

More than 175 F.H.A. members, mothers and supervisors from the district, who attended from Shoshone, Eden, Castleford, Glenn Ferry, Heyburn, Fiji, Burley, Oakley, Jerome, Rupert, Twin Falls, and Jerome, were present.

The 1954 convention will be held in Jerome on the second Saturday in November.

George M. Eikens, superintendent of the Bureau of Land Management, was present Saturday morning at the meeting. At noon a banquet was served by the Cedar Draw Grange with Norma Francis, outgoing president, as guest speaker. Mrs. Janet Lehman, Buhl; Doris Jerome, state president; Martin Graves, state supervisor; and James J. Jackson, Past President, also addressed Miss Francis with banquet arrangements.

During the banquet the program included an accordion solo by Mrs. Pauline Johnson, Twin Falls; a vocal solo by Karlene Kudde, Rupert; a vocal duet by Velma Hunsaker and Shirley Hunsaker, both of Twin Falls; a piano solo by Esther McClain, Castleford, accompanied by Karen Kramer, and a piano solo by Elsie Critchfield, Oakley.

During the afternoon session Miss Kudde spoke on the national convention and Miss Graves reported on the state convention. The emblem service was followed by the installation of officers.

Sliding Scale for Lead-Zinc Import Fees Is Proposed

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 3—Producers of lead and zinc asked the United States tariff commission today to put into effect a sliding scale import quota, rather than to establish import quotas.

Otto Herter, chairman of the national producers' association, said the proposal is a reversal of the industry's position, he said producers, who previously asked the import quota, now feel that the quotas would not affect their ability to compete with foreign producers.

The tariff commission has set a hearing for November on the import quota request. Herter said it was likely the season would be held as scheduled.

He said the amended petition filed is being filed with the commission.

Mrs. Fred Quire Passes in Valley

BURL, Oct. 3—Mrs. Myrna Quire died at her home in the McCallum addition here at 12:40 p.m. Saturday.

She was born Oct. 26, 1889, at Falls, Ia., and was married to Fred Quire at Lynville, Ia., April 7, 1897. She and her husband moved to the Twin Falls area in 1912.

For the past several years she operated the "Clover Locker" plant in Buhl.

She was a member of the Buhl chapter of Order of the Eastern Star.

Eldest of a family of 13 children, Mrs. Quire is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hilda Jauistik, Buhl, and Mrs. Jeanne Marie Hartley, Idaho Falls; three sisters, four brothers, two grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

The body is at the Abertan funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

The Hospital

Visiting hours at Magic Valley Memorial hospital are from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

THE WEAK AND THE WICKED

"We can lose this democracy of ours by being indifferent and weak. And more harm is done by the weak than by the wicked." Another thought-provoking statement which all of us should ponder carefully. It was made during the course of an address by Milward L. Simpson, president of the board of regents of the University of Wyoming, before the four-year annual district teachers' institute in Twin Falls this past week.

Too many people nowadays subscribe to the slimy belief that if they'll mind their own business, keep out of politics and be law-abiding, they are fulfilling their responsibility as American citizens.

Some of them extend this line of reasoning even further. Why get all mixed up in public affairs, they ask themselves, when it's likely you'll make some enemies and hurt your business?

Little do they realize, and perhaps as little do they care, that this sort of thinking is prompted by nothing other than personal whims.

They presume, naturally, that the "other fellows" will assume the responsibilities of American citizenship. They presume, even further, without much serious thinking, that there will be enough of these "other fellows" to keep our country intact and our government affairs in order.

No real harm will ever come to our country anyway, so long as evil and criminal influence are kept under control and subversive elements are given no opportunity to work themselves into the fabric of our democracy.

That's the way a good many Americans think, and whether they care to admit it or not, these are among the reasons they fail to vote and to assume their true responsibilities in our society.

The thing they do not realize, perhaps, is Mr. Simpson has pointed out, they—the indifferent and the weak—do more harm to our country than is done by those who are actually wicked.

The wicked usually are recognized as such and proper measures are usually employed to keep them in their place.

It's the irresponsible, indifferent and weak individuals who are guilty of an offense which is far more serious, because they are failing down-on-a great job which has been entrusted to them—that of perpetuating this country of ours, generation after generation.

We need only to consider the plight of those poor souls who are trying to escape those foreign countries in which personal freedom no-longer exists. They are glad to escape with their lives, to say nothing about their material possessions. They have learned, the lesson that comes from failure on the part of the people to cherish, defend and fight for their freedom—the failure that comes from selfish short-sightedness which assumes there will be enough real patriots to protect their own selfish interests.

Chamber of Commerce, said Mr. Simpson, are failing to utilize the nation's two greatest natural resources in promoting the welfare of the American system. These resources, he said, are child, education and religion.

He deplored the infiltration of communism into the nation's colleges and urged that parents come to know the teachers of their children and familiarize themselves with the materials presented in the textbooks the children use.

Faith in God, he said, is the one weapon by which Americans can surely stem the threat of communism.

A courageous faith, we might add, which makes no compromise with any destructive influence, even for selfish reasons.

MEDICAL CARE

Several months ago, when Dr. Lucius W. Johnson of San Diego, Calif., completed a medical audit of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, the way was paved for better relationships all around—between the hospital, the doctors and the general public.

The investigation bore out a number of irregularities which the public had already suspected, such as "unnecessary surgery and operations by surgeons of poor judgment." It also took into account some of the complaints most generally heard, for instance, that "the charges by the hospital and by doctors are often excessive, and in some cases outrageous."

Following the investigation, the public relations committee of the South-Central Medical society held a series of meetings to discuss possible steps to conform with some of Dr. Johnson's recommendations, and to work for a better understanding between the doctors and the general public.

Before too long it should become apparent whether or not anything actually will be accomplished along these lines.

It's interesting in this connection to note that hospitals and the medical profession are becoming a common topic of conversation throughout the land, with ever increasing criticism of the rates and fees charged by both.

Along this line, our attention has been called to a recent editorial from the Cedar Valley Daily Times, Vinton, Iowa. It appears in full elsewhere on this page under "Views of Others."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Every Sunday this column, which aims to acquaint readers with general interest in national and international politics and to promote a spirit of good will toward all nations, is written by Ray C. Tucker, 1205 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—Who is financing and publicizing the campaign to smear Joe McCarthy? asks J. H. Tols, Oslo, Okla. "It has lasted too long and too seriously to be mere coincidence, I think," he writes. "It has been conducted too openly to be purely friendly press, radio and television. It is to freely speak of it is spontaneous."

"Then he continues in a vein so similar to that of many other readers that it is provokingly quotable:

"First, the President and his administration are to be blamed for the speech of Senator McCarthy. Then, Mrs. Roosevelt gave a game plank interview in which she said that Europe regarded McCarthy as a national hero. Stevenson attacks McCarthy in a doughty article for a national magazine."

Re Tols: "I answer: I do not think there has been a deliberate concerted or cynical movement by McCarthy and Stevenson to smear the President and his administration. His attacks on the Truman-Acheson tendencies toward communists at home and abroad, and on their foreign policy, happened to antagonize the same interests."

PARTISAN REASONS.—The Democrats, represented by Mrs. Roosevelt and Stevenson, had to fight back for partisan reasons. As a former "educator," Mr. Eisenhower felt he had to caution against what his eastern associates regarded as illiberalism. Stevenson, a businessman, however, has been extremely sympathetic to the Truman-Acheson foreign policy for very practical reasons. He is still a profitable market for them.

So, to sum up, Senator McCarthy is front-page news. And so are the individuals opposed to him. Their pros and cons rate publicity.

BIG QUESTION.—What is a "right-winger in politics?" inquires J. M. Long Beach, Calif. "I can't think of a year when it has not been used. Does it mean that a man is labeled a "right-winger" by the so-called "liberals"? If he believes (1) that the government be restricted to its proper constitutional functions; (2) that our true policy is to stay clear of entanglements abroad; (3) that the foreign world is in Washington; (4) that we should not give away billions in foreign aid; (5) that the interests of the United States are paramount in all international issues?"

Answer: I doubt if it is possible to answer this question satisfactorily, although it crops up constantly in political discussion. It depends upon a great many factors, but, for instance, when the lights of the auto headlight are dimmed, the right-winger is a "right-winger" by the "liberals." And the "right-wingers" consider themselves to be true conservatives. They support, in the main, the broad principles set forth by E. M.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS.—In recent years, the Democrats have exercised "squatters" rights with respect to the claim of being "liberal," while the Republicans appear as "right-wingers." According to the Democrats, a "right-winger" is a "right-winger" by the "liberals." And the "right-wingers" consider themselves to be true conservatives. They support, in the main, the broad principles set forth by E. M.

THEY PRETEND, naturally, that the "other fellows" will assume the responsibilities of American citizenship. They presume, even further, without much serious thinking, that there will be enough of these "other fellows" to keep our country intact and our government affairs in order.

No real harm will ever come to our country anyway, so long as evil and criminal influence are kept under control and subversive elements are given no opportunity to work themselves into the fabric of our democracy.

That's the way a good many Americans think, and whether they care to admit it or not, these are among the reasons they fail to vote and to assume their true responsibilities in our society.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

HIGH COST OF MEDICAL CARE

The average cost of living in the United States has risen 10 percent in the last year. We are told that four factors have been chiefly responsible for bringing about this condition: Higher transportation costs, rents, food-prices and medical charges.

It is estimated that the cost of living has increased during the last few years as drivers and maintenance expenses have demanded and obtained wage increases. The prices of automobiles and trucks have gone higher. Gasoline and oil prices are up, too. So are insurance rates and repair costs.

Food prices have risen, too, especially in the larger cities. Last week, for instance, New Yorkers were paying $1 a dozen for eggs. The food industries are paying higher wages. All handling and processing costs are up.

The last item—medical costs. Hospitals' rates are higher than they have ever been. Doctors are charging more—in most instances—a great deal more—for their services.

Of the total cost of cost-of-living factors the cost of medical care is the most serious and deepest received. It costs altogether too much to be sick. Many thousands of families have suffered financial disaster and forced into lower standard of living because loved ones had to go to hospitals for medical treatment or surgery.

The other day at Louisville, Ky., Benson county's outback citizen, American Farm Bureau President Allan K. Kline, addressed 1,400 members of the Kentucky State Medical Association. Characteristically, he old some plain talk. He bemoaned the doctors' attitude toward the public for their sake. He told them that "there's a runar around" they are deliberately trying to curtail the number of active physicians in order to avoid competition that results in lower service fees. He also told them that doctors are not willing to pay for medical and health and accident insurance is available to nearly everybody who can produce the money to pay the premiums. It is invalid. Unlike the rise in the cost of medical care checked, he pointed out, the cost of medical insurance will get so high that "no one will be able to buy it."

There has been a lot of talk about socialization of medicine in this country, and we dare say there is going to be a lot more, unless the medical profession can find a way to meet the situation. The fact is that life savings of so many people should be wiped out by sudden, unpredictable illness—Cedar Valley Daily Times, Vinton, Iowa.

PUBLICITY ON SOUND BASIS

Gov. Jordan has called attention to the million dollar potential of the tourist trade for the state of Idaho. A publicity program to cultivate and promote this trade has been suggested for many years. The state has a budget of $100,000 for publicity department to advertise Idaho. Before the funds were definitely expended, the useful inadequacy of the amount allocated was self evident.

It was found that one of the well established advertising agencies in the country would consume the entire appropriation so the bureau eventually disengaged.

It was suggested that the bureau should develop a sustaining program which is surely needed in this state—Verona North Side News.

It's interesting in this connection to note that hospitals and the medical profession are becoming a common topic of conversation throughout the land, with ever increasing criticism of the rates and fees charged by both.

Along this line, our attention has been called to a recent editorial from the Cedar Valley Daily Times, Vinton, Iowa. It appears in full elsewhere on this page under "Views of Others."

CLOSING

BY DR. LUCIUS W. JOHNSON

Several months ago, when Dr. Lucius W. Johnson of San Diego, Calif., completed a medical audit of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, the way was paved for better relationships all around—between the hospital, the doctors and the general public.

The investigation bore out a number of irregularities which the public had already suspected, such as "unnecessary surgery and operations by surgeons of poor judgment."

It also took into account some of the complaints most generally heard, for instance, that "the charges by the hospital and by doctors are often excessive, and in some cases outrageous."

Following the investigation, the public relations committee of the South-Central Medical society held a series of meetings to discuss possible steps to conform with some of Dr. Johnson's recommendations, and to work for a better understanding between the doctors and the general public.

Before too long it should become apparent whether or not anything actually will be accomplished along these lines.

POT SHOTS

WHAT TIMING!

Dear Pot Shots:

I am so grateful for the teacher's institute. I think it's a wonderful institution and should be held more often.

My gratitude comes from the fact that during the institute school is let out when school is in our children ride with me in the morning when take my children to school. When I take my children to school I wear my night gown and house coat. And when I have a flat tire in my night gown the children are with me and can't speak up to tell me to go telephone help.

Thank goodness for teachers in institutes, or I would be sitting in the car every day.

Love, Bonny (Twin Falls)

SOUNDS LIKE HOMICIDE!

Dear Pot Shots:

What is a "right-winger in politics?"

When I can't get to town, I've tried sending my husband to the post office to get my mail. He always has a smile on his face.

He is a "right-winger" in politics.

Check Shows Dime Beer to Be Gone Soon

By United Press
The dime glass of beer may be following the nickel glass of beer into oblivion. A spot check indicates that's what's happening.

Dealers and tavern keepers said they're forced to boost the price of a glass of beer to 15 cents in many places because of the prohibitive cost of beer is also going up.

Nickel Glass Gone
There were hardly any cities where the old fashioned nickel glass of beer was still served. In some of the older style taverns, it was still being served.

The 10-cent glass was still held in some of the larger cities, but tavern keepers were warned they didn't know how long they could continue the cut-rate policy.

Only this week the average price of a glass of beer was raised from a dime to 15 cents in Boston, Mass. Under the new order, customers get a nine-cent glass for 10 cents and a 12-cent glass for 15 cents.

In Cleveland, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Pa., a thirty cent beer can still make his "first fit" a dime. But most Pittsburgh dealers would rather have their beer "fished" and in Cleveland the trend is towards a 12-cent glass for 15 cents.

Local bars in Milwaukee and St. Louis, both major beer producing centers, offered a 10-cent glass.

At Denver, Colo., the price for a glass was still 10 cents. Some dealers said they might soon cut down the quantity in a 10-cent beer and offer it for 15 cents.

Some franchises, however, could still quaff a glass of beer for 10 cents, although most bars charged a nickel extra. In Chicago the dime glass is still the most popular.

The legendary five-cent beer could still be had at Gardiner, Idaho, on the outskirts of Boise. Idaho, but it was believed to be offered as an added attraction to entertainment features.

Union Threatens Hanford Walkout

RICHLAND, Wash., Oct. 5 (UPI)—The threat of a new strike at the Hanford works' $1 billion dollar expansion project arose today as federal labor council authorized a strike by technical engineers local 11.

The strike was authorized for Oct. 12, if the architect, transformer and electrical contractors and Kaiser Engineers, contractors on the project, could not reach an agreement.

A strike could keep some 6,000 workers employed at the Hanford construction project from their jobs, council president F. W. Vandorn said.

The Kaiser firm and the technical engineers have been working on a new work scale since last year, and last month submitted their findings to a federal labor mediator, AFL Local 11. The strike that halted work for two days last month was stopped by a court injunction.

Dam Plan Protest Is Filed by Union

SPOKANE, Oct. 3 (UPI)—The CIO United Steelworkers have filed protest with the federal power commission against legislation the Idaho legislature passed to build dams in state-controlled areas.

Other union international representatives in Spokane told the PFC that the northwest needs a diversified, high level dam for hydro electric power which produces a maximum amount of power for industrial use.

The dams already built by the federal government to help industry and employment, he said, are paying for themselves.

Soviet Reich Will Resist Liberation

BERLIN, Oct. 3 (UPI)—Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl declared that Russia and her satellites have a vital interest in preserving his East German republic—and any attempt to liberate it.

This was his comment to the recent statement of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that he no longer uses the phrase of "liberating" the Russian zone because its 18 million people were enslaved.

Ike' Will Attend
Warren Induction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (UPI)—The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend the induction Monday of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

The attorney general, whose appointment to the high court Eisenhower announced Wednesday, will take the oath of office as the court starts its regular fall term.

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism

An amazing newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it. It gives "drugs" and medications only temporary relief and fail to remove "the cause" of the trouble: explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proved successful for the past 33 years.

You incur an obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the saving of your years of physical misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. A, 1000 East Franklin Street, Springfield, Missouri—ADW.

Court Orders One Divorce, Three Sought

One decree of divorce granted by Judge Hugh A. Baker and three complaints for divorce were filed in Twin Falls yesterday.

The decree was awarded to Mrs. Ethel F. Underwood from Francis F. Underwood. Her former name of Mrs. Leona Funk Underwood and her son, Jacob, 14, were granted custody of the child in a lot in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Leona Funk charges cruelty in the action against Underwood. She claims he has struck her. She also seeks custody of their two children and ownership of their household furnishings. Ed Underwood, father of the wife, asked for monthly support of $40 per month for each of the children, attorney fees and costs of the action. They were married in Twin Falls Jan. 4, 1932.

Another action was filed by Theodore C. Givens against his wife, Gladine Louise Murphy, against Clarence W. Murphy. Charging cruelty, the plaintiff claims Murphy has stated he does not want to live with her and wants to live with her. He also associates with other women, the plaintiff charges. They were married in Twin Falls Jan. 4, 1932.

The wife seeks custody of the child, ownership of their community property, legal fees, attorney fees and costs of the action. She also seeks an order restraining Murphy from molesting her or the child and from molesting members of their community property.

May and May represent the plaintiff. The action was filed by Mrs. Olive J. Fehrenbach against William H. Fehrenbach. They were married March 21, 1918, in Pocatello. The wife asks for a decree of divorce, removal of her husband from their home for extended periods of time and would not work.

Mrs. Fehrenbach asks the court to award her $100 per month alimony, $100 per month temporary alimony, attorney fees, costs of the action and sole right to the home here. She also asks that her husband be restrained from molesting her or that property. L. B. Quimby is her attorney.

Trio Appointed

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, Oct. 3.—Twin Falls Magic Valley students have been appointed by the student council of Idaho State College to serve on the athletic committee. The council also named six members of the athletic committee with three more to be appointed.

Magic Valley students on the social committee are Donna Trabert, Twin Falls; Ann Reed, Pifer, and Bruce Stuart, Twin Falls.

BOARD TO MEET:
HAGERMAN, Oct. 8.—The official board of the Methodist church will meet at the church at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Teachers Select New Leaders

Carl Maxwell Is Paid Last Honor

Finance services for Carl Stuart Maxwell, 21, of Twin Falls, were held Saturday afternoon at the Twin Falls Methodist church.

Two songs were sung by a quartet, Mrs. Terry Sullivan, Mrs. Ruth Miller, Elbert Dougherty and Orvin Fuller. Mrs. Robert Miller was organist.

Ready Formulas Are Told To Handle Problem Guests

By ADELAIDE KERR
AF Newsfeature Writer

Every hostess needs some ready formulas for handling problem guests.

Don't let your temper flare—or the bear you can on the spur of the moment—does not always produce the best results; so, better do a little thinking before you act.

If there is an emergency, find your friendly neighbor who loves to "drop in for a few minutes" and remains a guest. Should you be absent when the time comes to open the housekeeping chores or mending the children's clothes? You may if you wish, but you will be a far happier hostess if you can get someone else to do it.

Don't try to rush the beat chins and linen to the table for the occasion, either. Use your everyday dishes.

Plan to make it a sponsor a movement asking the children—of all ages—to contribute financially to HALLOWEEN for the needy children of the world.

Then there is the problem of the guest who comes to stay longer than he planned.

It is a good idea to say to your guest, "I am sorry, but we have only one room available."

Another guest problem for which you should be prepared is the last-minute visitor.

When you are invited to a dinner party, asking if she may bring her hours spent in your house. How much better to have it that way.

It is a good idea to have a reasonable a-jeot-of-picks, sportsmanship and family teamwork. So don't make a hardship of it; make the most of it.

Another guest problem for which you should be prepared is the last-minute visitor.

What makes disputes important to you is that it is possible effect on your life and the life of your family.

When the odds are against you and your decision is going to cost you popularity, you may come up with a good idea.

Don't clash with another unless your mind is clear and your decision made. It is then time enough to speak and maintain your stand.

Don't get confused lest you become a laughing stock.

Don't let your guests force you to do what you don't want to do.

Life is a series of conflicts between good and evil and youth is prone to periods of apprenticeship.

Young people are more likely to do things through life, it becomes a duty to ride and defend another person's conduct or his conduct.

There is no conflict in the playground, but the playground is a human race, little human and also to displease some of whom.

However, giving way to such dislikes or envy is unlikely to do well for the person whom he does not like.

It is a good idea to let him know that打了ling a person's conduct and outspoken ideas does not mean hating him, so much the better.

Jerome WSCS Announces

Arrangements for Market

JEROME, Oct. 3—The annual Mexican market sponsored by the Methodist Women's Society of Clinton Service will be held Oct. 11 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Mrs. Carlston announced at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the society.

The group met at the church parlor with Mrs. Gerald Nicholson, president, conducting the meeting. Assistant Mrs. Carlston with the arrangements is Mrs. Harold Hall.

Also present was Mrs. Mabel Gifford, wife of Carlston, and Mrs. Lylee Carlson, chairman of the fish pond for the market. The Wesleyan Service guild will arrange the homemade candy booth.

Other arrangements for the market meeting and seminar held at Bush were Mrs. Virginia McElroy, Mrs. Dan Stowell and Mrs. Nicholson.

Mrs. Russell Myers presented the program on "Spanish Speaking Missionaries."

Other speakers were Mrs. Leon Stockton, Mrs. H. L. Eller.

Women's Association

JEROME—To help us seek to be better persons, we will have Nov. 1-2 the First Pentecost conference for dedicated persons who will be dedicated. Articles for the parcels will include towels, washcloths,

Mr. H. J. Closser, supply chairman, announced the society's quota for the year. A box of clothing will be prepared and sent to the Jesus Love Center, Seattle, Alaska, before the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. W. C. Hayes led the worship service. The program rural miles along the roads, South America and the Philippines. The speaker was presented by Mrs. S. A. Shire.

The four circles of the society will meet Oct. 15 as follows: Circle No. 1 with Mrs. Roy Williamson, circle No. 2 with Mrs. Shumlin, circle No. 3 with Mrs. Gifford, circle No. 4 with Mrs. Virgil Linton.

"Hostess for the afternoon were Mrs. Kent Olat, Mrs. Erakine Brown, Mrs. Harlow Freeman and Mrs. Diane Gurd.

Catholic Women's League

JEROME—Women were distributed leaflets and program plans announced at the meeting of the Catholic Woman's League Thursday night at the parish hall.

The Rev. Fr. John H. Koenig, pastor, presided over the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. S. P. Richter, president, conducted the business session. A report was given by Mrs. E. C. Conroy, retiring treasurer. Mrs. Guy Blanton reported "auditing the books."

Mrs. Harold Klass, program chairwoman, distributed the yearbooks and a report of the activities of the year.

Mr. Anton Hambach, who presided for the altar of the church for the past years, was honored.

Mrs. Carroll, Ritter, retiring president, presented a gift from the league to Mrs. Stanton.

Once in front of the audience, the expert says this is not knowing how long you'll talk. He advises keeping the card outline as hand.

On the other hand, if the audience is few, he says, "Don't feel bound to entertain the quiet with a lot of talk."

One comforting fact this research shows is that no matter how nervous the speaker is (shout it away), 90 per cent of the audience won't notice his nerves.

Others will notice him, though.

Clothes have a direct bearing on audience attention, an unusual costume, a show-stopping hat or bold colors can distract the audience.

It is about limiting speech-club announcements to an overall maximum of 15 minutes. As a matter of courtesy, the speaker should prefer to all the time instead of on stage, until he's due to talk.

Don't feel duty-bound to entertain the quiet with a lot of talk.

Who would rather have a half hour of quiet to collect their thoughts than the rapid tour of city sights?

You are going to introduce the speaker, not yourself. Let's forget the myth that the introduction has to be witty or full of jokes.

That's the speaker's responsibility.

The best introduction is a good one, not necessarily a tall tale, but the speaker is what his attainments are, why he's there and where he's supposed to do.

Marketing time should be two and a half minutes, says the expert.

If you don't trust your memory,

POCATELLO HANDS T.F. BRUINS FIRST CONFERENCE LOSS 26-13

Indians' Running Attack Proves too Much for Locals

The Pocatello Indians, sparked by a trio of the finest running backs in the conference, ground the Twin Falls Bruins hopes for a Big Six title into the sod of Lincoln field here Saturday while rolling to a surprisingly easy 26-13 win.

The game was much more lopsided than the score indicates with the Indians having everything their own way when the chips were down.

From the opening whistle here the outcome of the game as the Indians forward wall pushed the slow-moving Bruins line all over the field to open up gaping holes for the backfield run-ers.

Paul Smith, burly fullback Tom

Reeves, shifty halfback and little

Ken Sparh scooted through the holes with such lightning speed that they leaped over the Bruins secondary.

The loss was the first for the Bruins this season and left their conference record at one win and one loss, while the Indians had tied it twice and won one.

The Indians opened out of a split T formation for the first part of the game and then shifted to a single wing in the second period.

Reeves had the Indians first score with Reeves carrying over the Bruin right tackle for the score from two yards out.

The Bruins couldn't do a thing about the ball and were forced to boot the ball going out of bounds on the Pocatello 25-yard line.

Eight plays later the Indians made the first score with Reeves alternated at cracking the Bruin line. Sparh carried it over on a beautiful fake spin and handoff from Webb on the Bruin 14-yard line.

The score came on the first play of the second period.

Reeves then took their hands on the ball twice more in the first half but couldn't dent the fast-charging

Indian line.

The Indians scored it in the first period, scoring again in the first quarter, and again in the second period when they five to punch it over with Sparh getting the right side of the Bruin line from eight yards out.

Elmo Lakes, Bruin supporters cheered him to cheer about their luck up to this time on a brilliant run of 40 yards that carried to the Indian 30-yardline.

The Bruins got their first score

after the run on a series of powers and the run on the Bruin 14-yard line with the bulk of the load, Davis finally hurried over on the third play of the fourth quarter.

Reeves picked back on the Bruin kickoff and after two unsuccessful cracks at the Bruin line, Steeves

a 43-yard pass to Sparh who shoved him into the end zone.

The statistics show the Indians had the ball 36 times and the

Bruins 27 times.

That was all the Pocatello scoring

With time running out, the

Bruins' Bob Lydum and end Gary

Hanchey teamed up in the pretzel position to get the ball to the

Karen, but Hanchey had to drift to his right on the Idaho line and fumbled it into the end zone.

The statistics also show the Indians

had the ball 36 times and the

Bruins 27 times.

The idea of the superiority of the Indians who rolled up 33 first downs to Twin Falls' 10; netted 277 yards rushing to the Bruins' 16; Twin Falls tried 10 passes and completed four while the Indians tried three and completed one.

Sputtering Huskies Grind Out 28-0 Win Over Beavers

HEATON, Oct. 4 (UPI)—Sputtering and sputtering by turns, Washington chopped out a 28-0 Pacific Coast conference victory over Oregon State Saturday night at Heaton Field. Although it had a touchdown and a safety, Oregon State's only score was a 20-0 victory over Washington Saturday in the first regular season football game for each team.

Buck Helps Study of Deer Age in Cassia Division

Mrs. J. W. Lalli, hub, and Dr. Paul D. Daile inspect four-point buck Mrs. Lalli checked out of the Cassia division hunt Saturday. Dr. Daile, head of the Idaho cooperative wildlife research unit, was taking all available specimens of jawbones and doe reproductive tracts at the checking station. Proper management of the deer herd is the goal. (Staff photo-engraving)

Hunter Cooperation Needed in Deer Study

Greater cooperation of hunters in the Cassia division hunts is needed to assure success of a study of deer productivity and age of the Cassia herd. Although information was mailed to all permit winners in the division's two hunts, only about 15 percent of hunters had been providing the necessary organs and jawbones up to noon Saturday.

Workers were on hand at the Rock Creek and Shoshone hunting checking stations to take reproductive tracts from does and jawbones from bucks. The lower jawbone is the best indication of the age of a deer.

Heading the working crew at the Rock Creek station was Dr. Paul D. Daile, head of the Idaho cooperative wildlife research unit.

Dr. Daile said that the Idaho cooperative wildlife research unit has been assisting the state fish and game department in its work toward a master's degree.

Working at the Shoshone station was Dr. Burt Barlow, president of the newly-formed Magic Valley quarterback club at a meeting Saturday at the Riggins hotel.

Other officers include Bob Minshaw, vice president, and Don Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

The study will continue until Monday at the hotel.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest in athletics in Magic Valley and at the University of Idaho and Idaho State college.

BROOKLYN EVENS SERIES AS LOES THROTTLES YANKEES 7-3

ake Snider Drives Home Runs as Vaunted Dodger Power Finally Explodes

YANKEES, Oct. 3 (P)—Duke Snider, Brooklyn's homerun hero of last October, hammed four big runs to back up Bill Loes' gritty pitching Saturday as Brooklyn won a 7-3 victory over the New York Yankees in the fourth game.

It was back to even matters at home after losing the first two at Yankee stadium, and Art Schalock for six doubles.

Bill Connor got the other two, running from the 10th after taking a pass from Larry Bracken-bles and a homerun in their 12-hit total.

When Loes, a sad failure since the all-star game in July, struck in the ninth to lose the game, with Eddie Dyer, called for Clem Labine to choke off the Yanks.

The game closed with A. Thoroush, with Bill Martin, trying to score, and the Yankees' single was cut down at the plate by Don Thompson's peg to Roy Campanella with plenty to spare.

Connor tagged Martin on the shoulder to make certain of the final out.

Snider, whose four homers helped Brooklyn to the Yanks in the seventh and eighth last year, had an independent 42-incher over the right field screen and off an auto showroom across the street in the ninth inning.

He doubled, high off the right field screen, which drove in two big runs in the first inning when the Dodgers unloaded on left-fielder Ford, for three runs.

Bob Walkins, a squatly human battering ram playing at right field, personally accounted for four of Ohio State's five scores. A host of other Buckeye backs sliced in the destruction of the California defense.

Junior Gilliam with three doubles, two of the flavor kind, and Loes with two more, plus the two hits by his big hitters of this Dodger team that tied a record in the regular season by winning 60 games at home.

Loes had won only one complete game since July 8 and wasn't expected to last the route against the Yank team that beat him 3-2 in last night's sixth game.

But he had a 10-incher eighthman from the nearby Adelais section kept firing that ball past the Yanks to strike out eight men in a fair fight, and the Yanks had to take Friday when he set a new mark of 46 strikeouts.

Not until the fourth inning when Yogi Berra singled with two out did the Yanks have a hit, not that time, and the Yanks had to wait 11 more to get another.

But they had a 10-incher eighthman from the nearby Adelais section kept firing that ball past the Yanks to strike out eight men in a fair fight, and the Yanks had to take Friday when he set a new mark of 46 strikeouts.

Loes, who broke his leg in the opening play of the opening game for Wendell, tallied both his team's touchdowns in the brief half-hour of his return to the mound.

Wendell, sparked by the return of his star halfback, Eddie Dyer, batted the Mountain Home club in even terms for three periods but tired early in the final minutes of the game.

Loes, who had walked to the bases, was forced to pull him off the field after his second score, an end run in the fourth.

Wendell had to go to the scoring column in the first period, when Jim Evert took a handoff and carried for 20 yards, then ran 15 yards to the goal line to O'Brien. The game ended 13-4.

Glen Hall put Mountain Home on top.

Paper Carriers Find Jobs Are Profitable, Educational, Fun; Problems Explained

Your Magic Valley boys who belong to America's biggest "fraternity" of youthful businessmen believe their work is fun, profitable and educational.

The boys are Tom Ratcliffe and Harold Lee Stiles, both Twin Falls; Bob Day, Buhl, and Henry Hayes, Gooding.

Their business? They are newspaper carriers.

The nation observed National Newspaper Carrier's Day, Friday, and on the occasion these Times-News carriers had some views to offer on their work.

Like many American leaders who once carried newspapers, the boys believe their work is a stepping stone to success.

"I suppose you learn to get along with people," commented Day, 16, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Day. "I have learned to be at ease among older people," said Stiles, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Stiles, 1940 Eleventh avenue east.

Working newspaper carriers also make contacts among other residents which can prove friendships. Ratcliffe, 14, is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Miller, 1129

Selling papers also offers good training in the handling of money.

Young Hayes says he is saving in the bank. The savings he may use to go to college.

The others agree their income gives them a sense of independence, a sense of accomplishment.

Does the work interfere with their school studies?

Not in the opinion of Day, 16, who says he makes better use of his time.

The business is not all money and fun, they point out. It has its problems. For example, the boy must be a psychologist in the handling of both people and dogs.

Ratcliffe and Stiles both have trouble keeping ahead of a few dogs that seem to have a mind of their own. They aren't chewing at the carrier's panties, they're gnawing up the paper he delivers.

And the added cases of subscribers who have the habit of giving the boys the run-around when he wants to collect money can be even more troublesome.

They often fail to realize that the carrier is an independent salesman. He buys his paper from the company and sells them to the subscriber. The subscriber can't be told to pay or move away without paying his bill, it is injurious to the boy.

The subscriber who asks him to return a late evening hour, cold for the paper, forces the boy to cut after dark and run risks riding a bicycle in night traffic.

The boys note, however, that in most cases the carrier can't do operation among subscribers by giving good service.

They seldom have trouble getting them money, they say, because putting his paper in a certain place or not riding on the lawns, and by seeing that the paper is delivered safely inside the screen door or the mailbox in adverse weather.

LODGE TO MEET.

Service Is Set for Carey Woman, 82

CAREY, Oct. 3—Funeral services for Mrs. Lucia Warnecke, 82, who died at her home here Thursday night, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the McGoldrick funeral chapel, here.

Mrs. Warnecke was born March 17, 1871, in Sullivan, Mo., and came to Carey in 1903. She moved to Milner, Colo., in 1911, and to Carey in 1921.

The boys note, however, that in most cases the carrier can't do operation among subscribers by giving good service.

They seldom have trouble getting them money, they say, because putting his paper in a certain place or not riding on the lawns, and by seeing that the paper is delivered safely inside the screen door or the mailbox in adverse weather.

Governors Saved Dam From Delay, BPA Chief Avers

EUGENE, Oct. 3—Governors of the Pacific northwestern states play an important role in power planning, Paul J. Raver, Bonneville administrator, told a regional advisory committee here, and they already have agreed.

He said that a nine million dollar allocation made Wednesday to keep work at "The Dales" on schedule was the direct result of intervention by governors.

He built around the possibility of regional organization with the four northwest governors joining in a "partnership of support."

Working partnerships of federal and state public agencies have a great opportunity to get a start under the Eisenhower administration, he said.

Without going into detail, he said that he had heard several suggestions as to what farm regional organizations should take, among them a government committee such as a PUD, or a conservation commission, another regional corporation of state agencies.

SEEVES ON TRANSPORT

BUIK, Oct. 3—James T. Hart, chairman of the railroad, bus and truck division of the Mediterranean area.

Youth Caught On Bad Check

WILLIAM HANSEN, 12, Twin Falls, will be returning from the Orient to face a forgery charge here. Hansen, son of Paul J. Raver, Bonneville administrator, told a regional advisory committee here, and they already have agreed.

Hansen has gone east for another primer and will pick up Hansen on the return trip.

Hansen is charged with cashing a forged check at the Shahn Oyster-Salad Inn. When the warrant was issued, other checks have turned up, the police chief said.

The police chief said the police have been unable to get a ticket to Denver, where the plane landed in Denver, police were waiting.

Visits Scheduled

Visit to three Magic Valley towns are scheduled this week by Lloyd Young, Twin Falls social security office manager.

Young will be available at the employment office in Bruner from 9:30 a.m. Thursday, at the Shoshone post office at 4:30 p.m. Thursday and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at the Hailey department of public assistance office.

"Indian Summer" Is Theme of PTA Event for Hansen

HANSEN, Oct. 3—"Indian summer" was the theme of the Hansen PTA annual mother-daughter banquet Friday evening at the new Hotel Idaho.

Twenty-fourty women, 300 guests were served.

Mr. Frank Wells was master of ceremonies. Mrs. W. E. Jones, PTA president, gave the address.

Guests were asked to bring the gift of money in behalf of the daughters.

The second, third, fourth and fifth grade girls sang Indian songs and performed a drama.

Supreme Sacrifice, with Mrs. Weis as the reader, was given by Mrs. Vernon Stoltz.

Guests included Mrs. Truman Rathjen, Mrs. Charles Daily and Mrs. F. W. Larsen.

Diane Far played background music and sang solo numbers.

Mrs. Clarence Hollifield and Mrs. Mike Frechell were co-chairmen for the banquet and program. Mrs. A. F. Davis was chairman of the decorations.

Men of the PTA were waiters.
