Whips Area, Leaves Spud Worry

Wind, rain and dust swooped across Magic Valley night and Wednesday, leaving a path of slushy mud and an uncertainty among farmers over the potato harvest. Some trees were toppled in the wind and power and light company crews in many parts of the valley the wind swept the dust and rain from the area by police cars with short wave radio. The rain was heavy in some places and the spud crop was left in a state of uncertainty. The rain was heavy in some places and the spud crop was left in a state of uncertainty.

'I Had Enough' Says One of 23 'Red' Prisoners

PANMUNION, Oct. 21 (AP)—A corporal from Virginia's mountain country—the first of 23 unrepentant American war prisoners to quit communism—said today "I had enough" of life under the reds.

Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, 23-year-old ex-farmer from Big Stone Gap, Va., said it was "more than likely" some of the other Americans who spurned a chance to return home would change their minds. "Communism is not my belief," he told a news conference. "I have a news conference."

Dickenson returned to the allies of his own free will. Rushed to a hospital near Seoul, he told newsmen he would not be returning for quite a while.

The young soldier flatly refused to answer questions that would shed light on why he or the other Americans chose to remain with the communists.

"I can't answer that... I don't know what they (the 23 others) want to do... I don't know what they are doing."

He was appearing slightly bewildered and choosing his words carefully, asked after about 10 minutes that the interview be halted. Then he agreed to a brief appearance before newsmen and television cameras before heading back to his cell.

He said he had not been briefed by army officers before being transferred to Panmunion. Dickenson was smiling and seemed in good spirits when he was transferred to allied control earlier today at Panmunion.

"It sure feels great to be back in the hands of the Americans," Dickenson grinned to newsmen then.

Panic' Over Farm Dips; Like Holds Faith in Aide

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower gave much-criticized Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson a firm vote of confidence today.

He rejected suggestions that Benson resign and defended Benson's policies and operations of the agriculture department.

In his first news conference since returning from a brief tour of the farm belt, Mr. Eisenhower said that to some extent the politicians are more alarmed about the farm situation than the farmers themselves. He said he thinks farmers generally are pleased that he called "operating farmers" constituents of the advisory commission now working with Benson.

"Vigorously rejecting suggestions by some Republicans and Democrats that Benson resign, Mr. Eisenhower said Benson should not be criticized because he has not produced a one-line cure for all of the nation's ills. He said no one is more dedicated to American farm life than Benson and no one is striving harder to bring all the elements of the farm economy together into some form of equitable balance."

Other Subjects

On other subjects, Mr. Eisenhower said emphatically as he pointed out that he will not campaign in any congressional or state election. He said he considers himself a private citizen and will not use the presidency in personal election in any way.

He said that the cabinet members are laughing so little about their duties to the nation that he sometimes wonders if they are doing their jobs. He said that he has not seen any of the cabinet members since he was elected and that he had not seen any of the cabinet members since he was elected.

Mountain Folk Happy as Kin Returns Voluntarily

CHACKERS NECK, Va., Oct. 21 (AP)—Mountain folk in this crossroads community joined a happy farm family today to celebrate the voluntary return of a prisoner.

"Everybody is pleased," said Corl Knight, editor of the Big Stone Gap (Va.) Post, "there is no ill feeling. I think he will be welcomed just the same as any other prisoner of war."

Word spread rapidly through this mountain community that the prisoner had returned voluntarily.

Knight and some 25 townspeople gathered at a neighbor's home early today to celebrate with Van Burton Dickenson, 27, and his wife, Beatie, 44, as soon as they got word their son had returned voluntarily.

"I just know that my boy was coming home," Mrs. Dickenson said. "As soon as I heard there was an American boy over there who wanted to come back I knew it was Ed."

Mr. Dickenson said she had been a radio news broadcast that an American boy had been returned voluntarily.

Neighbors among the 200 families of Chackers Neck joined them at the home of Corl Knight and his wife. Many of the neighbors had heard that Knight and the Dickensons had returned voluntarily.

Magic Valley Soil Supervisors Lash Out Against Benson Plan

JEROME, Oct. 21—Soil conservation supervisors in the Magic Valley today lashed out at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's plan to place soil conservation supervisors under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The supervisors said they felt the plan weakens the soil conservation service and that it is a step toward the nationalization of agronomy, a step which the supervisors maintained. The whole plan tends to have land agency, forestry, nurseries and research and the soil district program.

Power Policy Called 'Main GOP Proposal'

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Underscoring the Interior Dept. policy of the administration's new power program "the most significant statements on any domestic matter the administration has yet made."

He reviewed the two-month old policy before the American Society of Civil Engineers and termed it "sound... simple and clear."

He said the chief difference in the practices of the present and past administrations is that "we believe... local interests should have a full partnership right to participate in the planning, ownership and operation of local facilities."

"All too frequently in the past the partnership has not been an equal one," he said. "The federal government has been too willing to use the threat of eminent domain or the construction of competing facilities to insure negotiations," he said.

"I do not believe that the federal government should monopolize the development of any area."

Payments Are Completed on '52 Beets; New Crop Prospect Good

Final payments for 1952 sugar beets went out to Magic Valley farmers Tuesday and totaled $18,990,800, according to Harry Eilcock, district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar Company.

Eilcock said the figure constitutes a final payment of 89 cents per ton, giving farmers a total of $14.82 per ton on the 1952 crop. Eilcock said this is one of the highest payments ever made, and the highest in many years.

"The prospect of the crop being harvested now is equally as good," Eilcock said.

Checks totaling $370,000 are being delivered this week to farmers in the Magic Valley.

Price Cut for Gasoline Set Again in T.F.

Motorists continued to benefit as gasoline prices skidded downward again Wednesday morning. Price cutting began over the week-end and is expected to continue.

Several major petroleum companies failed to join in the price cutting and kept gasoline prices steady at 27 1/2 cents for regular gasoline and 31 cents for ethyl.

However, other stations in Twin Falls have been dropping signs for 2 1/2 cents for regular gasoline for 27 1/2 cents for regular gasoline and 31 cents for ethyl.

Chest Campaign Slows to Walk; Total Hits $12,500

After making a running start last week, the Chest-Fund drive has slowed to a walk. Receipts in the drive reached $12,500 Wednesday. This means that the campaign which netted $10,000 in the first three days, has now reached $25,000 in just three days.

Chest officials are hopeful, however, that the canvass in the business districts will be completed in one of the seven rural sections participating in the drive. Preliminary estimates show the contributions from the Knoll Creek area, where the drive was directed, will be $2,000.

Objections on Money Plates Policies Cited

PROVON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Two Treasury officials testified today they objected to giving money plates and other equipment to German occupation forces during World War II, but they were overruled by Henry Morgenthau, then secretary of the War Relocation Authority.

W. Hall, then and now director of the bureau of engraving and printing, told a Senate investigating committee that he had advised Morgenthau to give the money plates to the Germans.

W. Hall, a Washington official, who then was undersecretary of the Treasury, said he seconded Morgenthau's objections but was overruled.

Hall and Morgenthau said they expected that any committee report would have had no part in making the decision. The money plates and Russia were then in fighting Germany, and Morgenthau officials favored cooperation with the Russians.

No Direct Loss

They had to redeem some $100,000,000 more of the currency than had been expected, Howard H. Hicks, assistant department counselor, said. American taxpayers did not suffer direct loss.

They were able to use the money in paying occupation forces in Germany, he explained, and it was possible their need to inflate in Germany had indirectly added to the foreign aid costs.

They had special $50 denominations issued by Fred. Adv.

In order to keep the trophy permanently, the local Old Timers must win it the next two years. The club and its auxiliary won the awards on the basis of increase in membership over the past year. The prizes are highly coveted by clubs throughout the entire U. P. rail system.

Club No. 31 has been in existence only one year and Fuller says he is going to make every effort to retain the trophy, known as the "Coke".

Declared 'Determined' To Cut Levy

FRANCONCO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Secretary George M. Brown says the Eisenhower administration is "determined" to reduce taxes as soon as possible.

He said the administration's purpose is to reduce the $100-a-year tax on the federal government's income tax committee last summer. It is done, the sooner the better, he said.

He said that before the tax was reduced, the threat of a budget deficit would have been a major factor in the administration's decision to reduce the tax.

He said that the administration's decision to reduce the tax is a "determined" effort to reduce the tax as soon as possible.

Man Sees First Bobcats, Bags Same; One Seals 40 Pounds

What is believed to be one of the largest bobcats ever killed in this area was bagged Monday evening on a creek road in the south hills by Pat Schenkel, roils 2, Twin Falls, and his nephew, Dewayne Von Loh, visiting here from Nebraska.

Schenkel shot and killed the 40-pound animal about 5:30 p. m. Monday near Harrington camp. It was about dusk when Von Loh's wife spotted the bobcat stretched out on a log a short distance from the road.

Schenkel knocked the animal off its feet with a bullet from his .22 caliber rifle as the bobcat was ambulating toward the log. It took four more shots to finish the job.

The two men tossed the cat in the car trunk and drove on another half mile when they spotted another bobcat. They killed it with their last remaining bullet. It was smaller, weighing about 12 pounds.

Schenkel and Von Loh report the two animals were killed within about half a mile of a band of sheep. Schenkel said the bobcat was the first he has ever seen. It is the first time he has ever seen a bobcat in the south hills even though he has lived in the area the past 16 years.

Waterways Group Seeks 'More Than Talk' on Projects Policy

PORTLAND, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Inland Waterways association called Tuesday for the federal government to do more than talk about its proposed federal-regional partnership in Columbia basin development.

A resolution urged the government to pass enabling legislation and to explain in detail the way it expects the partnership to operate.

The resolution asked the government to assume a share of costs in development and to guard against monopoly by any group. It also said projects should include such things as navigation, flood control, irrigation and reclamation as well as power development.

The association provided for a group to study the partnership plan. The group will consist of a minimum of 21 states, six of which are upstream.

Including four members at large and six to represent private utilities, public utilities, industry, navigation, fisheries and flood control.

The association heard Paul J. Haver, Bonneville administrator, say the Pacific northwest will need to add nearly 9 1/2 million kilowatts of power in the next 20 years.

He said this would cost $2,200,000,000. The federal government has invested or is investing $1,200,000,000 in northwest power so far, Haver said.

How to raise the additional money is the first problem any federal-regional partnership will encounter, he said.

Brig.-Gen. E. O. Tschetter of a group of engineers said a minimum of $1 billion is needed for regional flood control.

He said that for flood control purposes a dam on the Clearwater river would be preferable to one on the Snake, but that other considerations might bring about a recommendation for a dam on the Snake instead of the Clearwater.

Driver Irked By Questions Over Ransom

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 21 (AP)—Taxi driver John Hager, whose tip led to the arrest of the Greenleaf kidnappers, said today he wishes he hadn't paid the police.

Hager, an ex-convict, made the statement after undergoing six hours' questioning by a top-level police board seeking to discover the missing half of a record-breaking $400,000 ransom.

"You can bet your bottom dollar I'll never call them again on anything," he declared.

Hager became the key man in breaking the Bobby Greenleaf murder-kidnap when he telephoned police Lt. Louis Shoulters that he had been driving a wild-spending "good time Charley."

The "good time Charley" turned out to be Carl Austin Hall, the narcotics-addicted son of a wealthy Kansas family. He masterminded the kidnaping and murder of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf.

Hager was the fourth person to appear before the police board, which has reopened an investigation into what became of the $300,000 of the ransom paid to Hall in a futile attempt to save Bobby's life.

Discrepancies Reported
The police board acted after you agents reported discrepancies in the official report of Hall's arrest.

Prominent among the FBI allegations was the report that two suitcases stuffed with $25,000 of ransom money were not brought to a police station until about an hour after Shoulters and Patrolman Elmer Dolan delivered Hall for booking.

Dolan already has been questioned for 10 hours by the board. Shoulters' questioning was delayed because of a "nervous condition." His doctor said the police officer "can not understand why after he broke the case, he should investigate him."

Hager's testimony before the board yesterday was not recorded, following the practice adopted by the board since the investigation started.

Machines Assume Labor Burden in Beet, Spud Harvests

Now commonly in use in Magic Valley fields, the mechanical sugar beet harvester has been developed in the past decade, pointing up the rapid power mechanization in farming. Here one of the variety of such harvesters now in production, digs beets on the Gale Bevercomb farm. Ernest Kilday operates the truck, and John Kinkel the tractor. (Staff photo—retracing)

Experts believe the rapid mechanization which has taken place in beet harvesting is now beginning in potato harvesting. Although only a handful of potato harvesters can be found in the valley, they are now in mass production by an Indiana manufacturer, and other implement

Farmers Turning to Machines to Dig Potatoes; Pattern Set by Beet Devices

Harvest vacations of Magic Valley school children will likely become a matter of history within a few years.

The past decade has seen the harvest of sugar beets shift from an operation done entirely by hand to one in which machines do 95 per cent of the work.

A similar transition is beginning in the harvest of potatoes. Students who traditionally have been getting a fall vacation from school to work in the potato fields can expect to see themselves supplanted by mechanical harvesters within five years, in the opinion of local implement dealers and many farmers.

The development of potato harvesting equipment, thus far has gone only a step beyond the experimental stages. Only a handful of harvesters—or potato "combiners" as the farmers know them—are working in Magic Valley potato fields this fall.

Of these, several have been designed and built by local machine shops; others have been sold to farmers by an Indiana manufacturer through a local agency.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

What we do to others, good or bad, comes back to us. The youth who is impelled to utter a remark he thinks is clever at the expense of another, does himself harm. For the day comes when every young person has to take his place at life's wheel of work, and soon he will learn that the respect, consideration and affection he won in earlier days is based upon the waters. Any ill-conceived, stinging remarks may also be remembered by victims.

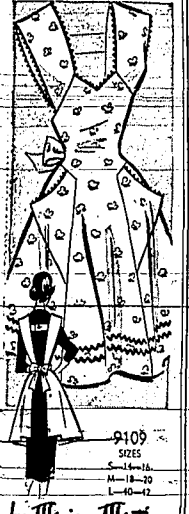

The boy or girl who, through thoughtlessness or kindness, helped others often may reap a reward. Helping hands may be stretched out to them in time of need.

When I was a boy there lived in our locality an elderly crocheter who held a position of some importance in the community. He was accustomed to walking through the streets looking to the right and left of him. It was very rare for him to say good morning or evening to his neighbors.

One day he passed a group of school girls and in burning haste to pass them, he brushed against the heap of books one girl was carrying. The paper bag he held split and the contents fell to the street. Fortunately each purchase was in an individual bag and only the oranges rolled on the pavement. There was a loud laugh of derision from several of the girls.

One girl, however, picked up several of the oranges and as she handed them to the man she bowed and said, "I'm sorry, we were in your way." The man gave her a sharp look, grunted and one of the companions declared, "Beel! See the thanks you give!"

Seven Clubs Highlight Week's Football Action

Football makes a gradual return to Magic Valley this week as the potato harvest draws to a close with a total of 100 bushels of potatoes planted. Most of the valley clubs, including the Little Six and class B schools will swing back into action next week-end for the season's home stretch.

THE TERRY for this week's Junior four of the Big Seven eleven in action.

Jaume, currently leading the conference, hosts an Elk, Nev., eleven that could mark the perfect season for the Tigers although it would have no effect in loop standings.

The Shoshone Indians, winners of the Little Six conference crown, travel to meet the Gooding Senators, last year's co-champs in the Big Seven.

The Indians will be giving away too much class and experience in this one and the nod goes to Gooding.

Superior travels to Malad for a conference contest with the Piler, which has yet to win a game this season, hosts the Hallett-Wolverine eleven which is expected to be over Glenns Ferry.

Burley, Bluff and Oakley, other Big Seven teams, will be in action according to the latest obtainable schedule.

The Caldwell Wolves travel to Glenns Ferry to meet the Piler in a class B game. Glenns Ferry, winners of last week's title, should get back on the win trail in this one.

The eight-man conference play, Blaine-hosts Dietrich and Carey plays at Riahfield.

Snow

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—The weather bureau warned Utah snow hunters today, warning that the snow was falling at higher elevations throughout the state and that the storm was expected to continue through Wednesday.

The bureau said snow was reported about 7,000 feet and added that one report said 12 inches had accumulated at the 8,000-foot level in the Uinta mountains.

The forecast was for clearing and colder weather after Wednesday night.

Resignation of Joe Durgan Accepted by City

The resignation of Joe M. Durgan as manager-professional at the municipal stadium was accepted by the city commission Tuesday night.

Commissioner J. Ted Davis suggested the resignation and it was accepted by Durgan for his work.

City Manager J. H. Latimore announced that he had reviewed several applications, but is looking for a younger professional manager. He said that the city recreation program was expanding.

California Bears Lead in Offense

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31 (AP)—California Golden Bears, long known for power plays and rugged defense, continue to be a surprise in the 1953 Pacific Coast conference football campaign.

The Bears lead the loop in passing and in total offense, but they rate no better than fifth in total defense.

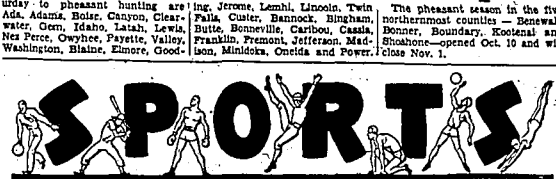

Upland Game Bird Season to Open

BOISE, Oct. 31 (AP)—The 1953 upland game bird season opens today in Idaho Saturday with the opening of most counties to hunting of partridge, pheasant and quail.

The Idaho fish and game department reminded hunters today of a three-county bag limit on Chinese, Mongolian and Mutant rooster pheasants. Hens are protected by a statewide ban.

A five-bird aggregate bag and possession limit on Hungarian partridge, Bob White and valley and mountain quail will prevail in Clearwater, Idaho, Latah, Lewis and Nez Perce counties.

There will be a bag and possession limit of five quail in Ada, Blaine, Boise, Canyon, Clearwater, Blaine, Valley, Washington, Blaine, Gooding, Elmore, Jerome, Lemhi, Lincoln, Twin Falls, Custer, Bannock, Blaine, Boundary, Kootenai and Power counties.

Warning

BOISE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Idaho hunters were reminded Tuesday that upland game birds held for picking, cleaning, storage or shipment by persons other than the hunter who killed the bird must have a tag attached.

Robert L. Baiter, bird supervisor with the Idaho fish and game department, said tags have been developed for this purpose and are being distributed throughout the state. The tags indicate the total number and kind of birds, the date killed and the name, home number and address of the owner.

The new regulation went into effect this year.

Stanford's Bob Garrett Is Back-of-Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Stanford's Bob Garrett, whose "unconscionous" passing attack knocked UCLA out of the undefeated ranks last Saturday, earned the Associated Press major league designation by his 21-point scoring feat.

Garrett edged out Bernie Faloner, Maryland's ball-handling magician, who for the second straight week, barely failed to make the list. Faloner's performance drew rave notices from his own coach, Chuck Taylor, and from Red Sanders of the unbeaten UCLA Bruins. It was Taylor who said Bob "just got unconscious" as he tried to tell how Garrett maintained his pole and throwing momentum as he completed 10 of 27 passes for 196 yards.

"I've anticipated a 'player' dominate a game since 'Dick' Garrett did," Sanders agreed. "He just took control of the game all by himself. I thought we had a strong pass defense, but there's no defending against a passer like Garrett."

Garrett completed 13 of 18 passes on two touchdown drives, pitched for all three scores and converted three times.

Brooks, St. Louis Cards Dominate 1953 Major League All-Star Nine

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Brooklyn's defeated National League champions and St. Louis' third place Cardinals dominated the 1953 Associated Press major league all-star team, capturing half of the 10 positions.

Seven of the 16 big league clubs, four in the National, were named to the AP's eighth annual all-star squad, selected Wednesday by 179 members of the baseball writers' association of America. The National League had seven players to only three for the American.

The Dodgers and Cardinals were the only clubs with more than one representative. Oddly enough, the world champion New York Yankees had only one member on the all-star team—shortstop Phil Rizzuto. And little Phil barely squeezed in by a two-vote margin over Brooklyn's Pee Wee Reese.

Other clubs with single representatives include Washington, Cleveland, Milwaukee, and the Philadelphia Phillies.

The all-star team:

First base—Mickey Vernon, Senators (337).

Second base—Red Schoendienst, Cardinals (241).

Third base—Al Rosen, Indians (336).

Shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (721).

Centerfield—Duke Odell, Dodgers (336).

Right field—Carl Furris, Dodgers (344).

Catcher—Roy Campanella, Dodgers (711).

Right-handed pitcher—Robin Roberts, Phillies 23-16.

Left-handed pitcher—Warren Spahn, Braves 23-7.

Oregon State's Football Fortunes at Lowest Ebb

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 31 (AP)—The football fortunes of Oregon State colleges were at an all-time low ebb for a week's end team today and fans were chanting "never have so many wanted so little."

Nobody, a touchdown. Or even a point.

Oregon State has gone through five straight defeats without a score. This is an all-time Pacific Coast conference record. The University of Oregon's 1946 team set the old mark in 1946 by going scoreless in its last four games.

Most of the remarks directed at Oregon State are in fun. No one expects the Beavers to be a powerhouse this season. A combination of graduation, injuries, military service, etc. riddled last year's team. And last year's freshman team, which comprises much of this year's varsity, didn't score a point either.

One slogan festively thrown about on the campus is "we will score in '54."

The team so far stands 153 to 0 for Oregon State's opponents. This schedule hasn't helped either. In turn, Oregon State lost to UCLA

3 Idaho Schools Still Leading in Race for Crowns

By The Associated Press

The three Idaho colleges which won conference football championships last year are still in the thick of fights to retain their crowns.

The Idaho State Bengals, defending Rocky Mountain conference titlists, seem to have the toughest row to hoe, but Boise Junior college and College of Idaho are considered almost shoe-ins for the Inter-Mountain and Northwest crowns.

The Bengals are unbeaten in conference play this season, but so is Montana State. ISU meets Montana State at Bozeman Oct. 31. A Montana State victory would assure the Bengals the flag, if ISU wins, the Bengals still would have to beat an improving Western State eleven Nov. 7 at Pocatello to clinch clear ISU State and a loss to Western State would throw the conference into a three-way tie.

College of Idaho Coyotes swept aside the team expected to battle them for the northwest title when they crushed Pacific university 41-13 last Saturday. The Coyotes still would finish in second place, but Idaho and Clark at Portland Oct. 31 and Whitman college Nov. 7 at Caldwell.

The Coyotes are favored to win both, unless they are too banged up in next Saturday's clash with Idaho State at Caldwell. College of Idaho and Pacific field for the Northwest crown last year.

Boise Junior college, which has never lost an Inter-mountain conference game since the loop was formed in 1948, has another powerhouse and is expected to breeze to another

Navy Takes Nation's Lead in Scoring

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Navy set a national scoring record today when the Middletown team, pulling up the highest score of the season in a game between major teams, raised the four-game average to 38 points, 39.5 total yards and 9.5 yards on the ground.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz's Middletown team, pulling up the highest score of the season in a game between major teams, raised the four-game average to 38 points, 39.5 total yards and 9.5 yards on the ground.

Navy trails Utah's 40-12 in total offense, and Illinois' 322 and Kansas State's 279 in rushing.

Among the top 10 teams in total offense, rushing and passing, and the top five in scoring, there are only three repeaters from 1952.

Boise Junior college, which has never lost an Inter-mountain conference game since the loop was formed in 1948, has another powerhouse and is expected to breeze to another

Indians Plan Questions for Bureau Chief

WT. HALL, Oct. 21 (AP)—A committee of 75 residents of the Ft. Hall Indian reservation has prepared a list of questions to be presented to Indian Commissioner Glenn Edwards when he visits the reservation Friday.

Most of the questions pertain to the leasing policies of the reservation.

Leasing Query
Joseph Thorpe, committee chairman, said one of the questions will be: "Why was a bid of 15 cents an acre on unimproved land and $1 an acre on improved land accepted by the Washington office which land in the same area has been leased for $2.50 an acre?"

900 Acres Involved
The reservation land-leasing controversy has been stirring for several months. It covers a base of more than 900 acres in the Bannock creek area.

Meanwhile, Sen. Henry Dworshak, R., Ida., told the committee: "I can assure you that unless Commissioner Edwards settles this controversy, I will see that our subcommittee investigates it."

Dworshak's members and a senate subcommittee on Indian affairs.

IDAHO STATE POLICE

Officer Kenneth Shew, Hollister port of entry, points to new sign which warns drivers of pickups that they also must stop at the port of entry. (Staff photo-engraving)

Drivers of Pickup Trucks Are Warned to Stop at Entry Ports

Drivers of pickup trucks must stop at the ports of entry or face arrest, State Police Lt. Clark Hand warned Monday. He said there is little need for weighing pickups. But they will be inspected for gross weight markings and registration. Mufflers, windshield wipers and other equipment will be checked. Lieutenant Hand said officers had been lenient with drivers of pickup trucks in the past because the signs at the ports of entry stated that trucks, trailers and caravans must stop. He said many persons do not regard pickups as trucks.

The signs have been changed to include pickup trucks. Other signs have been erected to define caravans as new or used vehicles for sale or resale. Drivers had been confused by the meaning of the word caravan, he said. Another frequent violation observed by officers at the ports of entry stations at Hollister and Shrewsbury has been the speed limit. Lieutenant Hand pointed out that the speed limit for all vehicles passing the ports is 30 miles per hour.

Leaders 'Waste' in Projects
 Canberra, Oct. 21—Prime Minister Robert Menzies thinks overlapping of American atomic research efforts is a duplication of effort and a waste of resources, manpower and money. He expressed his views on atomic secrecy in a special address at a lengthy conference here. U. S. Vice President Nixon, who is in Australia, said he had met Eisenhower under the United Kingdom's desire for exchange of atomic information. He said he understood fully our position. He expressed the hope that reports to the American government on the Anglo-Australian case were a powerful case quite frank with each other. He said his "final" appearance in Australia "will" tell the federal parliament system that "we do not in the United States that the answer" to world peace "is to work with our allies and our enemies from our allies in the world."

GI Insurance Period Noted

Korean veterans can lose the right to buy low-cost term government insurance by delaying application. Arnold Helweg, Twin Falls veterans administrator, declared Wednesday.

Automatically covered during their service and a period of 120 calendar days after discharge, veterans must apply for the insurance within that period or lose rights to the coverage.

Helweg noted that about five percent of veterans whose active service since June 27, 1950 has made them eligible for the insurance, have lost the right to it by failing to apply for it within the specified period following discharge.

Old Crow makes history with a lighter, milder bottling at a lower price!

To meet the demand for a lighter, milder prestige bourbon, the famous Old Crow distillery offers an 86 Proof bottling of the finest Kentucky whiskey ever put into glass, in addition to the traditional 100 Proof Bottled in Bond

The Old Crow Distillery announces a bottling of celebrated Old Crow at 86 Proof. This bottling not only meets the growing demand for a lighter, milder prestige bourbon, it enables you to buy Old Crow at a much lower price. The savings in Federal excise taxes and other costs of this 86 Proof bottling are passed along to you.

Old Crow bourbon has been on the American scene for well over 100 years. It was a favored libation on the front porches of magnificent plantations—it was one of the few pleasures enjoyed in the long treks of California-bound Conestoga Wagons—it was consumed with great relish in the elegant drawing rooms of the East—and deemed indispensable in many well-ordered families. Daniel Webster proclaimed it "the finest in the world." Henry Clay had it sent to him in Washington and to his home in Kentucky.

Now, in a history-making move, this famous bourbon is made available to you who have been wanting a lighter and milder prestige bourbon (ask your dealer for the 86 Proof). Of course, the 100 Proof continues to be available to those of you who prefer a Bottled in Bond.

Fiscal '54 Spending Tops Fiscal '53, But GOP Cuts Have Reduced Spread

(Editor's note: This dispatch gives a progress report on the Eisenhower administration's drive to balance the federal budget. Two subsequent dispatches will tell how the coming tax cuts—and possible new interest fits into the budget picture.

BY LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The treasury's books show the new Republican administration has slightly topped former President Truman's corresponding spending record in the first three and one-half months of the current fiscal year. The Republicans have collected a bit less in taxes, however, and thus are further in the red for the fiscal year so far than in the corresponding period of fiscal 1953. The national debt still is rising.

and stands only 2 billion dollars below the statutory limit of 776 billion dollars. The Republicans inherited a pre-existing, big-deficit budget from the Democrats last January. They are having trouble with their spending brakes and more with the overall effort to balance the budget, a project also involving taxes.

The forging of cuts are basic in the fiscal policy decisions now being sought by the administration and to be debated when congress returns. In nearly eight years of office, Truman broke all records for taxing and spending. The tax and spending record in the current fiscal year underlines the hard fact that Republican economy efforts so far have accomplished no more than to just about hold the line on both fronts. Here are the fiscal year figures from July 1, at mid-October (in millions of dollars):

It proposed $78,277,000,000 to be spent in the 1954 fiscal year. The deficit was estimated at about 10 billion dollars. The Republicans have revised those figures downward to spend about 72 billion dollars for a deficit under 6 billion dollars.

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge has made in that clip of about 9 1/2 billions from the budget figure Truman said was rock bottom and could not be lowered. But the first budget cuts are the easiest. Each additional billion squeezed now from government spending will require increasingly greater pressure and inspire increasingly greater protest.

Gas Chamber "Date" Is Aim For Kidnaper

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21 (AP)—The only thing I want to do now is die in the gas chamber with Carl.

The remark was attributed to Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, confessed kidnaper of 5-year-old Bobby Greenleaf. She also was referred to as Carl Austin Hall, 34, who admitted slaying Bobby and burying the body in Mrs. Heady's back yard.

A police officer who declined to give his name also quoted Mrs. Heady as saying she wanted to be buried in a cemetery near Clearmont, Mo., where she was born.

She and Hall are held in the Jackson county jail under federal kidnaping charges.

Mrs. Heady has declined to read religious tracts brought to the jail by various church organizations.

"I have never had anything to do with religion during my life and I don't intend to start now," she was quoted.

Chances for Permanent Peace in Korea Appear Dim as Reporter Tallies Facts

By ERNEST HORNBACH

TOKYO, Oct. 21—The explosive armistice and prisoner of war situation is coming to a climax rapidly and observers here believe the chances for permanent peace are growing dimmer and dimmer.

The next 10 days may "tell the tale" in the face of this "show-down" situation, the United Nations command is preparing for any eventuality—including the resumption of fighting.

Beyond a shadow of a doubt, the communists also are alert to the possibility of renewed battlefield action.

Here is what is happening:

1. Explanations to prisoners of war are running behind schedule. As a matter of fact, explanations to those prisoners—who said they did not want to go back to their respective homelands—may never be finished.

2. The Swedes, Swiss and Indians on the neutral nations repatriation committee "the riding" against the Poles and Czechs on the question of whether to use force to make prisoners attend "explanation" sessions. The majority says "no."

3. Members of the NNRO appear to be finding among themselves. If the explanations fail to come off or are not completed by the deadline of Dec. 24, they will not be held. The U. N. command will not agree to an extension.

Any prisoners still in the hands of the neutral nations commission will be held for an additional 30 days and then turned loose unless the Korean political conference decides otherwise.

In the political conference, the U. N. is not likely to agree to any further holding of the prisoners. So, the prisoners probably will revert to civilian status and be turned loose on Jan. 22.

The political conference itself may never be held. There is no firm agreement to hold such a session. The armistice terms merely recommended a political conference. To date, the communists and the U. N. have not been able to agree on the ground rules for any such meeting.

Monday, only two days before the deadline for starting a political conference, communist and allied representatives will meet at Panmunjom to discuss the big pay-off session.

The meeting is not expected to accomplish a great deal, but it might pave the way for a full conference and therefore avoid a complete collapse of efforts.

However, right now many observers believe there is at least a 50-50 chance that the political conference never will be held.

In case this happens, renewed hostilities in Korea are a definite possibility, although the U. N. undoubtedly would go to a great length to find some means to prevent this.

As for the Korean problems, they will remain unsolved and will continue to be a source of trouble. It was learned here that if the Korean political conference is not held, the U. N. will take the position that the situation is the same as if it had been held and failed.

In other words, efforts to solve Korea's problems by peaceful means will have proved fruitless.

What? South Korean President Syngman Rhee will do that is anybody's guess. He may do what he has threatened to do—drive north in an effort to settle things on the field of battle.

Rhee is on record as being determined to renew fighting if the political conference fails within 60 days to solve Korea's problems. Taking everything into consideration, the picture looks a bit on the dark side. Time is running out and the situation becomes more explosive every hour.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* actually re-powers your engine... gives you up to 15% more power, up to 150% longer spark plug life... increases mileage, too.

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the Shell-discovered additive, stops the major cause of power loss. It stops "wild ping" (pre-ignition knock) and short-circuiting of spark plugs, caused by engine deposits. Acts so rapidly, engine power is increased up to 15% after using two tankfuls.

If the car you drive is an older model, chances are you expect its power to drop off in time. But if it's a new one with a high-compression engine, it's annoying to have it get lazy after only a few thousand miles.

Now, however, the major cause for power fall-off in both old and new engines is known. And there's something you can do about it!

The reason why engines lose power is the accumulation of deposits within the combustion chambers and on the spark plugs. In the combustion chamber these deposits are heated red hot and cause the fuel-air mixture to ignite prematurely. This is called pre-ignition; it results in a severe kind of knock which engineers call "wild ping." You have probably heard it, especially when accelerating or hill climbing.

You may have also noticed that your engine develops an unexplained "miss" when driving on the open highway. That's because the same deposits "build-up" on your spark plugs and short-circuit them.

To overcome these deposits and thereby eliminate the greatest cause of power and fuel waste affecting the majority of cars on the road today, Shell Research discovered a unique fuel additive, TCP. Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline it accomplishes what no other fuel ever did before. First, by fireproofing, the deposits it stops pre-ignition. Second, by changing the character of the deposits it eliminates the short-circuiting of spark plugs.

As a result, you may, by simply changing to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, increase your engine's power up to 15%, your spark-plug life up to 150%, and get extra mileage, too.

Indeed, Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is the most significant fuel development since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922.

All engines are helped Because these deposits accumulate in all engines, Shell Premium with TCP additive will restore much of your engine's original power even though your car has been driven for years.

Shell Premium with TCP Quick to Act So quickly does it act that you'll feel your engine has had a tune-up before you've finished the second tankful! Of course, as the deposits are constantly accumulating, continued use of Shell Premium with TCP additive is the only way to maintain its benefits.

Available at all Shell Dealers TCP is Shell's trademark for the remarkable additive now available in Shell Premium Gasoline. Originally developed by Shell Research for aviation fuels, until now it has been largely restricted to military aircraft.

Now at all Shell Dealer Stations.
