Tax Cut Aim Is More and Better Jobs, Chief of Treasury Testifies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Humphrey told congress today the basic purpose of 6¼ billion dollars in actual or proposed tax cuts this year is to bring "more and better jobs, and higher and better standards of living."

In this tax program, Humphrey said, he is confident "this nation can make the transition to a period of less costly military preparedness without serious interruption in our economic growth."

Humphrey's testimony before the house-senate economic committee amounted to a vigorous defense of the Eisenhower administration's tax program, under fire from some Democrats on charges it favors big business and corporation stockholders.

Humphrey led a procession of cabinet members, business and labor leaders who will testify over the next few weeks on President Eisenhower's economic message to congress. The President said the current business dip likely will end in a few months and the economy then should turn up again, but any economic troubles must not be treated complacently.

Humphrey said the administration permitted five billion dollars in annual tax cuts to take affect Jan. 1, even though the federal budget is not balanced, "to transfer billions of dollars which the government will not be spending back to the taxpayers so that there will not be any sudden dislocation." The cuts eliminated the excess profits tax on corporations and reduced individual income tax rates an average of 10 per cent.

The cabinet member noted that millions of individuals would benefit further from a proposed general tax revision program providing better tax treatment for working children, child-care expenses, for medical bills, for annuities and some pensions and from easier procedures in filing returns.

Omission of "Saving Clause" Is No Bar to Charge, Judge Rules

District Judge Hugh A. Baker gave Prosecuting Attorney Max Lloyd until Feb. 10 to file an amended complaint Tuesday, alleging additional facts in an involuntary manslaughter information against Roland J. Hawes, jr., but denied a motion to end the case because there was no "saving clause" in the new state law.

The judge said he did not feel that decisions in the federal prohibition cases have any bearing on the situation. He said it was not the intention of the legislature that legislative pardon should be granted persons who were charged under the repealed law, but not tried by Jan. 1.

The judge's decision was on a motion to be made on claims that charges under the old law were void because of omission of the "saving clause" in the new law.

The judge said the legislature increased the traffic laws, repealing many of the old laws. He said it was intended that the old laws would be in effect until the new took effect.

He said it was not intended that violations would not be unlawful, as most offenses are unlawful under both laws. He said if the information was good under the old law, it is still good.

Judge Baker said the argument on the "saving clause" might have merit if the violation were not under the new act. He said the charge is a felony, prosecution must be expressly barred.

Man Loses Car Race, Draws 15-Day Term

Oscar L. Chess, 48, 195 Quincy street, who lost a race with a city police car early Tuesday, was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail and fined $50 and $3 costs when he appeared in Twin Falls justice court and pleaded guilty of reckless driving. The court revoked Chess' liquor license and suspended his driver's license for 30 days.

Twin Falls officers observed Chess shortly after 2 a.m. driving 50 miles per hour on Washington street south. They reported he speeded up to more than 70 miles per hour and raced to the filter plant corner near highway 26. He attempted to lose officers by turning off his car lights.

Chess served out a fine in the city jail in September after a police [illegible] Tuesday when he pleaded guilty of speeding.

The court suspended $5 of the fine upon learning the defendant was on his way to Nevada to get married at the time of the violation. He had no previous convictions. City officers issued the citation Jan. 21, charging Hughes with driving 35 miles per hour or more on Second avenue south.

Robert V. Hansen, 2023 Eleventh avenue east, paid $15 and $3 costs in the same court when he pleaded guilty of speeding on Morningside drive. He was charged with driving 50 miles per hour or more in 35 and 25-mile zones Sunday.

John W. Wert, Wendell, was fined $15 by Gooding Police Judge Stanley Legg Monday on a charge of driving 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Drivers of both automobiles were arrested Monday by Gooding county officials following a headon collision one mile south and one-half mile east of Wendell Monday evening. Two persons, one of them the driver of one of the cars, were hospitalized at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, as a result of the crash.

Wayne Patheal, 19, Wendell, driver of a 1950 Plymouth, was arrested for reckless driving. He was taken to the hospital with cuts and bruises and was released Tuesday.

William Leland Richardson, 29, driver of the 1950 Ford, was arrested for negligent driving and for driving without a drivers license. He was uninjured.

Mrs. Patheal, 17, also received cuts and bruises and still is a patient in the hospital. At noon hospital officials reported her condition as satisfactory.

Gooding County Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn, who investigated the accident, reported both automobiles were demolished.

GOP Warned In Battles on Bricker Plan

[illegible] unless senate leaders and the White House agree on a compromise at once.

Administration officials struggled during the night to devise a formula acceptable to President Eisenhower and still retain the considerable senate support for the basic plan.

But an informed source said nothing was decided.

Leaders Meet

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, Calif., met with the President and Attorney-General Brownell for half an hour at the White House this morning.

He told reporters Brownell still was studying the legal questions involved in a proposed compromise, and "we are going to have further meetings" with Sen. John W. Bricker, R., O., author of the amendment, and senate Democratic leaders.

Other News

Other congressional developments:

Beeson—Chairman H. Alexander Smith, R., N. J., of the senate labor committee predicted the senate would approve the nomination of Albert C. Beeson as a member of the national labor relations board despite Democratic opposition.

Wonder weapon—The house armed services committee disclosed that Boston, Los Angeles and Norfolk, Va., have been added to the list of cities to be protected from air attack by Nike batteries. The Nike is a guided missile—described as a wonder weapon—which can seek out and destroy high-flying planes.

Coffee Probe

Coffee—Chairman Aiken, R., Vt., predicted the senate agriculture committee will approve a bill requiring government supervision of trading in coffee. "I can discern no serious opposition to it in our committee," Aiken told reporters after a three-hour public hearing.

Warren—A senate judiciary subcommittee deferred action on the nomination of Earl Warren, former Republican governor of California, to be chief justice of the United States.

Program Set to View New Airplane

A special program is planned by the Merchants' bureau to [illegible] United Air lines conversion of the Mainliner Convair, announced Bert Sweet, jr., bureau [illegible].

The event will be incorporated in the Golden Jubilee program [illegible]. Tentative plans include a parade of wagons, buggies, ancient cars and stage coaches to Joslin field to welcome the first Convair to Twin Falls.

[illegible] Eaton, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce president, will deliver the welcoming speech at the air field. [illegible] F. Nelson, will "christen" the plane. The Chamber of Commerce and city are joining the Merchants' bureau in sponsoring the special program.

The [illegible] man committee to plan details of the special program will be headed by Eugene Hammond. With him will be Binford Holsinger, [illegible] Silvester, S. E. Runyan and [illegible] Nelson.

The group reports vehicles will be paraded up and down Main avenue before leaving for Joslin field to welcome the new airliner. Costumed persons will occupy the vehicles. The vehicles will be parked on [illegible] avenue following the program.

Potato Shipment Lag in '54 Noted

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 2 (AP)—The [illegible] state cooperative market service reported today Idaho's potato shipments for the current season are running well behind [illegible] a corresponding period [illegible].

[illegible] 26,415 carloads of famed Idaho spuds have left the state so far this year, compared with 32,[illegible] this time last year.

[illegible] shipped a total of 47,774 last year, with 20,388 coming from eastern Idaho; 14,532 from the Twin Falls-Burley district, and [illegible] remaining scattered districts.

"I Don't Want You!"

"I don't want you," 3-year-old Susan Davis shouts to her mother, Mrs. Mildred Davis, right, as the mother sought to take the child after she was granted custody at a Santa Monica, Calif., court hearing. Holding the girl is Mrs. Davis' father, Jack Golden, who, with his wife, has been caring for the girl for more than a year and a half. The mother testified her husband deserted her two years ago and now the Goldens, who tended the child while she worked, refuse to give her up. Susan, who had not seen her mother for seven months, was still hysterical as the mother carried her away. (AP wirephoto)

Feedlot Tour Draws Crowd of 200 Here

More than 200 stockmen and businessmen toured Twin Falls county farms viewing cattle feeding programs during the annual feedlot tour Tuesday morning.

Interested stockmen and businessmen continued to join the caravan throughout the morning. Between 300 and 500 persons were expected for the afternoon.

First stop of the tour was at 9:30 a.m. at the John Feldhusen farm two miles east of the sugar factory. Feldhusen's feeding program facilities were inspected and Feldhusen explained the feeding program he has conducted the past 20 years.

Second stop was at the Curtis Eaton farm, four miles south, two miles east and a half mile south of Five Points east. Eaton gave a detailed discussion of the technology of cattle breeding and management.

The Charles Harris farm, four miles south and three-fourths of a mile east of Five Points east, was the final stop on the morning program.

Harris described in detail his cattle feeding program, its costs and his plans for expanding the program. He concluded with a question and answer period.

A luncheon served at noon at the Stockgrowers Commission company climaxed the morning program. Local businessmen, who have taken an active interest in the feedlot tour through the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, provided the meal. Ben O'Harrow was in charge of the luncheon.

A panel discussion was slated immediately after the luncheon with John Feldhusen as moderator.

Pasture feed programs, 4-H and FFA livestock programs, use of local feeds in reducing the cost of livestock gain and financial aspects of feeding programs were scheduled for discussion during the afternoon.

Speakers include Ralph Olmstead, James Grant and Ivan Skinner, Twin Falls; Chandler Griffin, Buhl, and E. F. Rinehart, University of Idaho livestock fieldman.

The tour was scheduled to resume again at 2:15 p.m. with a visit to the Arch T. Colnar farm, one mile west of Magic Valley Memorial hospital. Second and final afternoon stop is at the D. T. and Wade Sharp farm, two miles west and three and one-half miles north of the hospital.

The tour was arranged by Feldhusen, Edgar H. Olmstead, C. W. Daigh, Harold Stearley, Ivan Skinner and Donald Youts.

[illegible] Sea Patrol To Continue, General Says

TOKYO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Gen. O. P. Weyland, U. S. far east air commander, said today American planes would continue patrols off the North Korean coast despite the Jan. 22 MIG attack on a jet reconnaissance bomber.

Weyland said reconnaissance planes have operated off the coast of communist Korea since the cease-fire. He said the RB-45 bomber attacked by the red fighters was "over free international waters . . . where it's perfectly legal to fly."

Red Plane Downed

The air force reported yesterday the American plane had been attacked over the Yellow sea near the main northwest Korean port of Chinnampo. One of the Russian-built jet fighters was shot down by a covering flight of F-86 Sabrejets.

Weyland said air force pilots "are very carefully briefed to stay well offshore and well beyond the territorial legal limits."

First Real Trouble

"This is the first time we've had any real trouble," he said. "We fly F-86s and RB-45s quite frequently in that area. A few other times we have spotted communist planes, but they did not fire."

Weyland said the communists are building up their air strength in the far east and the combined Chinese, North Korean and Soviet forces total "upwards of 6,500 combat aircraft."

He said the reds were placing emphasis on offensive striking power rather than a numerical increase. The reds also were "converting more and more to jets," he added.

MONEY SEIZED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2 (AP)—A total of $261,826 seized from mail destined for communist China was turned over to the United States commissioner's office here yesterday.

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The worst winter in seven years turned Europe into one vast icebox from the Urals to the Mediterranean today, spread misery among the homeless in the big cities, and covered the play resorts of north Africa with snow.

Confusion Reigns Over Correct Status Of Multi-Billion-Dollar Fund for CCC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The government multi-billion dollar commodity credit corporation may be broke.

On the other hand, it may be only nearly broke.

No one knew for certain today. And that goes for CCC boss Howard H. Gordon as well as some inquiring senators.

Gordon pondered the situation, however, and decided to keep CCC in the business of making loans on farm crops, its principal function as the agricultural price supporting agency.

Right now, the legal limit of CCC lending authority is 6¾ billion dollars. A bill is in the works to increase that by 1¾ billion dollars to 8½ billion.

Until that extra lending authority is approved, Gordon is on uneasy street. As a stop-gap proposition, CCC went to congress and asked for permission to have the treasury cancel about 741 million dollars worth of CCC notes.

This, Gordon said, would take off the pressure for a few weeks. A lot of butter and corn and other commodities are being put under loan and CCC figures it might violate the law sometime this week by lending above its limit.

The house said okay and passed the bill authorizing the treasury to cancel that big bunch of notes. But in the senate, trouble came along. Sens. John J. Williams, R., Del., and Clinton P. Anderson, D., N. M., teamed up to lop off about 496 million dollars.

Anderson said CCC and treasury wanted congress to approve a write-off of that much potential future loss in commodity stockpiles without proving the actual loss would be anywhere near that amount.

House and senate conferees were to work on the bob-tailed "capital repairment" authority. After Anderson and Williams got through, it called for only about 245 million dollars.

Gordon said that amount when it is finally approved, ought to see CCC through February. But he said he fears the general accounting office will decide CCC violated the law this week or next by lending money it wasn't authorized to loan.

But that shouldn't show up in GAO's audit until about three months from now. And if all goes well, by then congress will have increased CCC's lending authority by the full 1¾ billion dollars.

Dulles Says Russian Bloc, Rule of 1 Man Real Global Threat

BERLIN, Feb. 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told the big four foreign ministers conference today the Soviet bloc and its one-man rule is the real danger to world peace, not the western defensive alliance.

This was the American statesman's answer to Soviet Minister Molotov's charges that the western powers are promoting war in trying to unify Germany within the family of European nations.

In stinging language, Dulles hurled Molotov's own words—spoken after the 1939 nazi-communist partition of Poland—back at him. At that time, with Moscow and Berlin in a [illegible] partnership, Molotov [illegible] it "not only senseless but criminal" for the western nations to [illegible] against Hitler.

Molotov, in challenging the western world's motives about [illegible] now, is just as wrong today as he was then, Dulles asserted.

[illegible] retort to Molotov's [illegible] position Monday. Molotov had [illegible] that Russia would settle only [illegible] a neutral Germany [illegible] any link with the west and [illegible] with communist influence.

Said Dulles:

Dulles said this had been rejected when Russia [illegible] United Nations and [illegible] again as being totally [illegible].

Soviet Envoy Giving Data on Asiatic Ring

TOKYO, Feb. 2 (UP)—A Soviet career diplomat is giving American intelligence agents detailed information on a big Russian spy ring operating in the far east, an authoritative source said today.

Yuri Rastovorov, second secretary of the unrecognized Soviet mission in Japan until he asked the United States for asylum Jan. 24, was said to be making his disclosures voluntarily. The highly qualified informant refused to discuss the full circumstances of Rastovorov's fantastic flight from communism until an official announcement is made.

But he did reveal that Rastovorov was motivated by fear in deciding to forsake his wife and family in the Soviet union. He had been scheduled to return on Jan. 25, a day after his surrender.

Confirmed Unofficially

Diplomatic sources in Washington also refused to give details other than to confirm unofficially that the Russian "is in our hands."

Japanese police said Russian officials admitted Rastovorov was last seen Jan. 24 as he boarded a U. S. army shuttle bus, but they claimed he had no intention of deserting to the Americans. The Russians claimed Rastovorov had invited a companion to accompany him for a ride downtown and the fellow mission member declined.

No Significance

No significance was attached to the fact that Rastovorov boarded a U. S. army bus as foreign civilians frequently used the shuttle service without question.

The source in Tokyo said that to the best of his knowledge Rastovorov was in safekeeping in the far east. He may have been taken to the U. S. island stronghold of Okinawa.

Only highest diplomatic and military officials had been informed of Rastovorov's flight shortly after he delivered himself to American authorities.

Benson Calls 2-Day Parley On Spud Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Agriculture secretary Benson has summoned potato industry leaders to a conference here Feb. 11 and 12 to consider what might be done to bolster sharply depressed grower prices of potatoes.

The secretary acted after President Eisenhower signed legislation lifting a congressional ban against use of federal funds to support potato prices. The ban was passed in 1950 after public criticism of potato support programs that had cost the government more than 400 million dollars during and after World war II.

Goes Slow

Benson indicated, in a press announcement, that his department would [illegible]

[illegible] list of farm [illegible] which may be diverted [illegible] channels with funds obtained from tariff receipts. Some growers have proposed that the department [illegible] part of the present surplus [illegible] in the school lunch program or in making starch and livestock feed.

Not Means

The secretary said, however, that tariff funds used to buy surpluses "cannot be looked upon as [illegible] in themselves of solving price problems since their primary purpose is to assist the industry to help itself."

The President is opposed to high-level, rigid price supports as opposed to a flexible system of price aid on various crops. There would be no direct price help for potato growers under the legislation he signed. The legislation was included in a rider to the cotton acreage bill which became law Saturday.

Cut of 15 Per Cent Cited for Farm Income

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—The index of prices received by Idaho farmers in 1953 averaged 15 per cent below the previous year, economists at the University of Idaho extension service said today in their summary of "Economic Facts for Idaho Farm Families."

The shift in potato prices from $1.40 to 50 cents per bushel, they said, had a substantial effect on the sharp drop.

Costs High

Corn production was the highest on record, exceeding 1952 by 10 points and the previous high in 1950 by 8 points. The index was 151 for last year, computed on the basis of 100 during the period from 1935 to 1939.

Total value of Idaho crops was about 14 per cent less than in 1952, the economists said.

86 Per Cent

Robert Wilcox and Virgil Kennedy, extension economists, said preliminary estimates indicate total sales of the 1953 potato crop will be 39,354,000 bushels, or 86 per cent of the total crop. Of the remainder, 4,500,000 bushels are expected to be accounted for by shrink and waste and feeding to livestock. About 240,000 bushels will be saved for household use on farms where grown, and 17,716,000 bushels saved for seed.

Ninety per cent of the 1952 crop was sold.

PAGEANT DATE SET

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—The fifth annual Miss Idaho pageant will be held in Boise June 18 and 19, Chairman Boyd Little announced today. The Boise Lions club will sponsor the event.

Index Shows U. S. Decline For Industry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The federal reserve board's index of industrial production fell about one and one-half per cent in December and preliminary estimates indicate a "slight further decline" in January.

The board attributed the decline to greater-than-normal reductions in production of primary metals, electrical machinery and textiles. It said its production index now stands at 127 of the 1947-49 base of 100.

In a summary of earlier economic reports, the board said unemployment rose by 500,000 in December, retail sales dropped slightly during the month and consumer prices declined a little between mid-November and mid-December.

The report said the December production decline was slightly smaller than in November. The year-end production index was seven per cent below the record set in July and 4.7 per cent below December, 1952.

Old-Crop Surplus Corn up for Sale

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The agriculture department put 185 million bushels of its surplus old-crop corn on the market today in a move to get rid of it before it deteriorates.

The price was set at the market price, but not less than the current support level for corn in the county in which the grain is stored. Previously, the price was five per cent above the support level, plus carrying charges.

The current support rate averages $1.60 a bushel nationally but varies widely by counties.

Arraignment Set For Gooding Boy

GOODING, Feb. 2—Joe Iverson, 16-year-old Gooding youth charged with lewd and lascivious conduct with a 13-year-old girl on Jan. 3, will be arraigned in district court at 2 p. m. Feb. 17 before Judge D. H. Sutphen.

The boy, who is free on $10,000 bond, was bound over to district court following a preliminary hearing last month before Justice of the Peace Stanley Legg.

City Panel Okays Celebration, Passes Fire, Milk Ordinances

Official sanction of the Golden Jubilee celebration and adoption of new ordinances governing fire prevention and handling of milk were highlights of a busy session of the Twin Falls city commission Monday night.

By resolution, the commission voted support of the 50-year celebration and approved the official seal adopted by the Merchants' bureau.

An ordinance adopting a new fire prevention code was passed. City Attorney Robert N. W. Balleisen explained the code brings the old one up to date, increases standards and specifications and gives more complete explanation for the benefit of the fire inspector and builders. He said there is a better setup on modern materials not covered in the old code.

A new milk code, following the state code and the regulations of the U. S. department of public health, was placed on first reading. The code will limit raw milk sales to certified raw milk. James Ingalls, sanitation inspector, said the other major change is lowering of delivery temperature of milk from 70 to 50 degrees. He said there will be a few changes in [illegible].

Police Radio Work Leads To 2 Arrests

HOMEDALE, Feb. 2 (AP)—The quick work of police radio dispatchers in two states was credited today with the arrest of a man and a teen-age boy who led officers on a chase from Oregon into Idaho before their capture at a roadblock near here.

State Police Supt. A. P. Bunderson said in Boise the two probably would have escaped if dispatchers in Boise and Ontario, Ore., had not teamed up to draw a tight net of police cars around them.

The man was identified by Canyon County Sheriff Dale Haile as Claude Crane, Fort Paine, Ala. Crane and the 14-year-old boy were taken to the Owyhee county jail at Murphy Monday night on charges of auto theft in Jordan Valley, Ore.

Haile said they were apprehended in a car at the roadblock after stealing an Oregon state highway department truck at Jordan Valley and later a farmer's hay loader, which they used to get their vehicle out of the snow.

The boy surrendered at the roadblock, but the man had to be chased on foot through the sagebrush hills before he was taken, Haile said.

View Ward Has LDS Conference

Rain Making "Promise" in Region Cited

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Rainmaking may hold great promise for agriculture and power production in the Columbia river basin, the Hells canyon dam hearing was told today.

Milton S. Sachs, Bonneville power administration engineer from Portland, Ore., described cloud seeding at the power commission hearing on Idaho Power company's applications to build three dams in Snake river.

Sachs said future irrigation along the Snake would have "little" effect on Snake river water power resources without rain-making, and cloud seeding may further increase the stream's flow.

Parry Objects

He testified over objections by R. P. Parry, attorney for Idaho Power, which is contending there wouldn't be enough water in the Snake to supply irrigators and fill the proposed federal Hells canyon reservoir annually.

Parry declared the practice of producing rain by seeding clouds with dry ice or silver iodide is "theoretical and at present in such an uncertain state of knowledge that we are injecting an unknown quantity . . . extraneous matter into the record."

Experiments Cited

Sachs said BPA conducted rain-making experiments in 1951 along the Clark fork, Flathead and Pend Oreille basins in Montana and Idaho.

A committee from the interior department and weather bureau studied results of the test which indicated that were "statistically significant departures in amounts of abnormal runoffs," Sachs testified.

The hydraulic engineer said chances are "1 to 20" that the increased stream flows during the test period would have occurred normally without the cloud seeding.

T. F. Bridge Club Lists Chairmen, Reports Winners

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke won first place in the north-south play and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walthew placed first in the east-west play at the monthly master points open tournament held by the Duplicate Bridge club in American Legion hall Monday night.

Mrs. Eugene Walker and Mrs. Mildred Bean placed second in the north-south and Mrs. Joe Shelby and Mrs. A. J. Lindemer were third. Mrs. Paul Thoman and Mrs. B. F. Magel placed second in east-west and Mr. and Mrs. John Feldhusen, sr., were third.

Mrs. Harry Elcock, president, appointed new committee chairmen for the year. They include Mrs. C. B. Beymer, membership; Mrs. Lindemer, publicity; Walthew, scoring; Feldhusen, housing; Mrs. Thoman, hostess; Mrs. Lelan Black, tournament, and Mrs. Elva Meeks, prizes.

Tobacco Industry Asked to Aid Test

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 2 (AP)—A noted cancer specialist asked the tobacco industry last night to contribute up to 10 million dollars for a non-partisan study to determine "the agent in tobacco tar that produces cancer."

Dr. Alton Oshcner, chairman of the department of surgery at Tulane university, asked that the money be turned over to the American Cancer society. He said such a study might unearth the solution to a problem of "tremendous import."

Dr. Oschner, predicting that one out of every 15 American men will have lung cancer by 1970 if the present rate of increase prevails, warned the tobacco industry that legislation may be in the offing unless cigarette makers take the initiative.

'Voice' Releases Northwest Land

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Voice of America has relinquished its hold on 1,200 acres of Olympic peninsula land in Washington state where it once proposed to build one of the world's largest overseas transmitters.

Senator Jackson, D., Wash., announcing this, said ultimate disposition of the site remains uncertain.

Under present law, all government agencies must certify they have no use for the land before it can be sold or leased.

Should this happen, Jackson said he has been advised there still would be a question whether former owners could be given priority to buy back their lands.

Expert Cites Cotton Gains Over Rayons

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 2 (UP)—Harold Young, retiring president of the National Cotton council, believes cotton "for the present at least" appears to have defeated its old enemy, rayon.

"This is the one fiber which has long threatened the very life of our cotton industry," Young told the opening session of the council's annual meeting. "Today the rayon industry is in a first class recession and the main cause is that cotton has met it head-on in open competition and for the present, at least, cotton has turned it back."

Young coupled that optimistic report, however, with a warning that the cotton industry must further expand its research program, demand removal of "every unfair discrimination" against vegetable oil products and fight for more advantageous market conditions abroad.

A crowd of approximately 900 from the many branches of the industry turned out for the convention here but notable by her absence was cotton's ambassadress of good will, Beverly Pack, 1954 maid of cotton. The El Paso, Tex., beauty was starting her six-month international tour at Miami, Fla.

Pioneer Resident Claimed by Death

KIMBERLY, Feb. 2—Clyde A. Atkin, 70, a long-time resident of Kimberly, died about 6 p.m. Monday at the Magic Valley Memorial hospital following an extended illness.

He was born March 18, 1883, in Tooele, Utah. He came to Rock Creek in 1885 in a covered wagon. He was a machinist and farmer.

His survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Marguerite Bower, Kimberly, and Mrs. Maude Redhead, Klamath Falls, Ore.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Reynolds funeral home chapel by the Rev. Raymond Helseth, pastor of the Kimberly Christian church. Final rites will be held in the Twin Falls cemetery. The family suggests contributions to the March of Dimes.

Services Held for Harold D. Christy

Funeral services for Harold Dean Christy were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel by the Rev. W. A. MacArthur, pastor, First Methodist church.

Larry Kurtz sang, accompanied by Mrs. Kurtz. Mrs. Stanley Phillips was organist.

Pallbearers were Dewey Julian, Lloyd E. Overlin, Martin Kittridge, William C. Butterfield, George W. Spencer and Ted A. Matney.

Military rites were held by Twin Falls post No. 2126, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in the Twin Falls [illegible]

Life Membership Presentation Features Observance of PTA

An address by Mrs. John E. Hayes, national PTA founder's day chairman, and presentation of a life membership highlighted the observance of the organization's 57th anniversary at the Bickel school here Monday night.

The program and tea were arranged by the Twin Falls PTA council under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Montgomery, founder's day chairman for the council.

Featuring the pioneer days of PTA, Mrs. Hayes also discussed the founding of the organization in 1897. During the program, Mrs. Hayes was presented a corsage by Mrs. Edsel Hale, council president.

The life membership pin was presented to Mrs. Abraham Amos by Mrs. Hayes. Mrs. Amos is the immediate past president of the council and is president of the fourth district PTA. She has served in local, district and state offices for a number of years.

In making the presentation, Mrs. Hayes reminded the council of the two main purposes of the award. She said it is to show appreciation for work and to establish a fund which is used to provide scholarships for training teachers of exceptional children. It was the first life award made by the council.

The musical program consisted of vocal selections by Shirley Miller, Laried Montgomery and Barbara Parish, all students of Belle Haesler. Included was the national PTA song "The Living Tree."

Special guests were the founder's day chairmen of local units. They are Mrs. Leland Hansen, sr., high school; Mrs. Roy Van Buren, Lincoln school; Mrs. Rodney Tegen, Washington school; Mrs. Leland Hansen, jr., Bickel school, and Mrs. Peter Matthiesen, Lutheran Memorial school.

The tea was served following the program. The lace-covered tea table, arranged by Mrs. J. Paul Fuller, featured the PTA colors of royal blue and gold. A silver, four-branch candelabra holding twisted blue candles from which gold streamers were entwined around small vials of royal blue flowers was used as the centerpiece.

The miniature cakes served were frosted in gold with the organization's initials in blue while the tea napkins bore the dates 1897-1954. Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Amos presided at the table.

Woman Seeks Divorce Here

Charging physical and mental cruelty, Mrs. Ruth Murphy filed an action for divorce in district court here Monday against Lawrence Murphy.

She claims he drinks excessively and has struck her. She further charges he refused to discuss his business with her and would not tell her how much money he had or made.

Mrs. Murphy states she went to work in 1939 to support their children and herself and has continued to work since that time.

She asks the court to award her $100 per month temporary and permanent alimony, attorney fees and all their community property.

It consists of a two-room house, household goods, a 1940 Chevrolet and a 1941 Studebaker. Mrs. Murphy states her husband received a deed to 20 acres of land in 1930 which she estimates is worth $750 per acre. She also claims $5,000 of improvements.

They were married in Twin Falls Oct. 24, 1923, and have three children who are now married.

Report Given on Pair of Crashes

Two accidents which occurred early Sunday at a construction detour on U.S. highway 93 14 miles south of Rogerson were reported Tuesday by State Patrolman M. J. Bays, jr.

At 2 a.m., a 1950 Chevrolet sedan driven by Eugene O. Widmer, Kimberly, skidded into the borrow pit, causing $150 damage to the front of the car. Neither Widmer nor any of his four passengers was hurt.

At 5 a.m., 200 yards west of the other accident, a 1951 Plymouth convertible driven by George William Kerr, Long Beach, Calif., skidded on some ice and overturned on its top, resulting in an estimated $500 damage. Kerr and his wife were not injured.

A new device has come along to make it easier for photographers to get correctly exposed flash pictures. It's the Norwood Flashrite exposure meter, and it does away with the necessity of using guide numbers or other guessing methods to determine the correct lens opening. In principle the Flashrite is a small rangefinder. Instead of a wheel showing distances, there is a computer dial on which you set the film's ASA rating, against the type of bulb and shutter speed selected. Then, using the meter like a rangefinder, and focusing it on your subject, it measures the bulb-to-subject distance, automatically indicates the correct lens opening. It works fine for pictures near and far. We have this meter in stock—come in and look it over.

See you next week,

Detector Test Refusal Loses Jobs for Pair

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—A Boise policeman has been fired for refusing to take a lie detector test, and another refused to take one after resigning, according to Police Chief James E. Brandon. Brandon began the tests after accusations were made against five policemen.

Brandon said Monday he had accepted the resignation of Richard Allen, a patrolman for about two years. He said Robert Kirkland, a patrolman since last spring, was fired.

3 Others Cleared

The other three policemen have been cleared of accusations made by Boiseans, Brandon said. He did not describe the charges or identify the accusers.

The proposed tests followed an investigation launched by Brandon after three other Boise policemen were arrested last month and charged with burglarizing two Boise firms and stealing beer and whisky. All three were discharged from the force.

Chance for Inquiry

Brandon said Kirkland will have a chance to ask the city civil service commission to investigate the case.

He said Allen had submitted his resignation, effective Feb. 1, but that it was made effective Jan. 29 when the man refused to take the test.

Payment on Note Is Asked in Suit

Lloyd Davis asks for a judgment of $307.52 in a civil action filed Monday in probate court against J. L. Johnson. Davis charges he was a co-signer on a $300 promissory note for Johnson Aug. 19, 1947. Johnson failed to pay the note and Davis paid it.

He further claims Johnson has paid him only $100 of the note. John C. Hepworth represents Davis.

If it's responsive performance you want, you get:

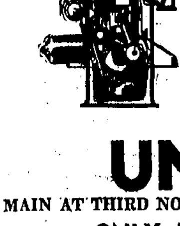
18% more power...

If it's real economy you want, you use up to:

10% less gas!

Ford's all-new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 is the most economical Ford V-8 ever built... The newest, most modern eight in the industry.

Ford Y-block V-8



Ford I-block SIX

IT'S THE GREATEST POWER ADVANCE SINCE THE ORIGINAL FORD V-8

If you were to look at a cross-section of Ford's new Overhead-Valve V-8, you'd see it has a "Y"-shaped block. This deep-block engine design, exclusive with Ford in its field, means you get a more rigid, smoother, quieter, longer-lived engine. And the Y-block's new low-friction design means less gas is used overcoming friction and more energy is available to move the car. All in all, Ford's new "Y" gives you dividends of 18% more power, up to 10% better economy and longer engine life.

FORD'S NEW 115-H.P. I-BLOCK SIX IS THE ONLY HIGH-COMPRESSION, LOW-FRICTION SIX IN ITS FIELD

This is a deep-block engine, too. So you get smoother, quieter power and long engine life.

In addition to its dividend of 14% more power, you get the savings of Ford's Automatic Power Pilot and Full-Flow Oil Filter, both on the Six, as well as on the V-8. And this new "I" is priced even lower than Ford's low-priced Y-block V-8.

AND FORD BRINGS YOU ALL THESE OTHER "DIVIDENDS" FOR 1954!

There are many other "Worth More" dividends in this year's Ford, as a Test Drive will prove. Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension, for instance, is the greatest chassis advance in 20 years. You ride on an all-new chassis . . . sit in completely new interiors . . . drive with a new safety-designed Astra-Dial Control Panel. And you can choose any or all the optional power assists formerly offered only by America's costliest cars—power steering, power brakes, power windows (both front and rear), a 4-Way Power Front Seat and Fordomatic—America's finest automatic drive.

Come in and Test Drive it . . .

HOT FIGHT COMING UP

Under Democratic presidents since 1933, emergencies greatly magnified the power of the chief executive. Opponents of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman argued that many of these emergencies were manufactured. But none would deny that World war II and the great depression were genuine crises.

Champions of congressional authority and of states' rights nevertheless became convinced that in this long period many exercises of presidential power actually were abuses—particularly in the foreign policy field.

They complained that grave errors were being made in treaty-writing and executive foreign policy agreements. Yalta was cited as a prime example. They contended, too, that treaties were being approved which established internal law, in violation of the U. S. constitution.

Finally, Republican Senator Bricker of Ohio drafted an amendment to the constitution which he said was designed to meet this problem. He won some 60-odd senators over to co-sponsorship of his amendment, and shortly now it will come up for senate debate.

His amendment would alter drastically the constitutional provision dealing with treaties, which now reads simply that the President shall have power to make treaties by and with the consent of the senate, provided two-thirds of those present concur.

Under Bricker's amendment, a treaty would become effective as internal law only "through legislation which would be valid in the absence of treaty." This means that after a treaty has been negotiated and approved by a two-thirds vote of the senate, it must yet be endorsed by both houses of congress in separate legislation.

In the view of many constitutional historians and lawyers, it means also that wherever a treaty provision touched on matters normally reserved to the states, it would have to be approved as well by the separate legislatures of all 48 states—most of which meet only in alternate years.

The second major clause of the Bricker amendment provides that "congress shall have power to regulate all executive and other agreements." This is designed to give congress authority over foreign policy arrangements which are not treaties and thus do not come up for senatorial vote.

Under the President's constitutional power as it now stands, he has wide discretion in the making of such agreements as well as in negotiating treaties.

President Eisenhower makes it clear he is ready to stake his leadership on defeating this amendment. With Secretary of State Dulles, he declares it would seriously reduce the authority and prestige of the U. S. government in foreign affairs, and hobble our relations with other nations. Others argue it would render the treaty-making process so slow and difficult as to discourage it altogether.

Constitutional authorities say two firm checks already exist to prevent treaties from making internal law in violation of the constitution. One is the senate's initial review when the question of ratification comes up. The other is that, as the courts have established, congress now has the power to repeal or override by legislation any treaty provision it considers improper.

The Bricker forces assert in rebuttal that only through the amendment can the constitution be saved from the designs of foreign leftists and others who might try to impose by treaty a civil rights program, socialism, and perhaps world government. They have drawn to their banner many organizations, including law, business, veterans, and a number of nationalist and isolationist groups.

Thus far Bricker has opposed all suggestions of compromise and the President has shown no disposition to yield on the fundamental question of retaining his time-honored latitude in foreign affairs. The result of this impasse could be one of the biggest intra-party quarrels in modern Republican history.

TV IN PENTAGON

The newest piece of furniture blossoming all over the Pentagon is the television set. Plenty of admirals' and generals' offices have them, and there are scores more in the sanctums of high-up civilians.

One of the big building's maintenance crew says there must be at least several hundred sets in the building. No official will hazard a guess at the count. Nor will anyone admit that the sets were purchased with government money.

One admiral said he didn't know where his set came from. It just appeared in his office one day. The big set in the office of Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, was purchased with funds from the private mess which the navy brass operates. Other sets in the offices of navy personnel are accounted for the same way.

A Pentagon information spokesman says he can see why the public relations office would need a TV set—to monitor news programs and speeches. But the need for sets in "government-business" offices is unknown.

Coffee goes up again. Even the price is enough to keep you awake nights.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The only candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination for whom Harry S. Truman has had a kind word in recent political discussions is Sen. Richard Brevard Russell, Ga. It is regarded as amazing that the man so antagonizing the south with his economic and racial policies should single out this Dixie conservative for praise.

Ray Tucker

It is extremely doubtful if Truman would openly support Russell, or that the Democrats will be in a mood to nominate a politician from the deep south, but it is not impossible. The Georgian showed considerable strength at the 1952 convention, but could not buck the leftist faction and the northern bosses, who selected Adlai E. Stevenson, Ill., as a compromise.

But if the divisive issue of school segregation should be settled by a supreme court decision before the 1956 convention, it would enhance Russell's chances. He is recognized on capitol hill as an able and broad-minded legislator, as well as an authority on agricultural problems and national defense. He is personally popular with the politicians. His only drawback is that he hails from the wrong state on the Democrats' political map.

• • •

HST'S ADMIRATION—Truman's admiration for Russell is an admission of the senator's basic qualifications. In discussing possibilities before the 1952 convention, Truman expressed regret that "Dick Russell did not come from north of the Mason and Dixon line."

The former President, who expects to swing considerable weight in the 1956 nominating process, has no special fondness for Russell's rivals. He detests Estes Kefauver, Tenn., for the latter's expose of official corruption. He does not think FDR, jr., is "ready." He fears Averell Harriman's great wealth and aloof personality would be a handicap.

He opposed Sen. Stuart Symington, Mo., when he sought nomination to the upper chamber. He believes Stevenson will grow weaker rather than stronger, and that he is associated too closely with "intellectual eggheads" in the Americans for Democratic Action.

• • •

EXPERTS FAIL TO AGREE—Political and military experts cannot agree on the question of whether the United States can "get more of a bang with less bucks." Leading Democrats on capitol hill still question Eisenhower-Wilson economics in the realm of national defense. But all concede that our readiness for war is two or three times greater than when the North Koreans attacked in June, 1950.

Under Truman-Johnson reorganization, the army had been reduced to 10 divisions and 12 regimental combat teams, with many far below strength in personnel and equipment. It now consists of 20 divisions and 18 teams. As a result of the rotation system in Korea, about half have had actual service at the front or in the service of supply. Officers, non-coms and privates have been steeped in teamwork.

In shipping supplies to Korea, they gained actual experience in logistics, one of the most difficult of military problems. Our missions in more than 30 countries abroad are learning everyday lessons in organization, cooperation and training.

• • •

FIGHTING FIGURES, THEN AND NOW — The navy had only 250 fighting vessels at the outbreak of Korean hostilities, and it was especially short on airplane carriers. Now it has more than 400 warships in trim commission, fully manned and equipped. It has three times as many carriers afloat.

The air force had been stripped down to only 48 wings through Truman-Johnson economies and withholding of funds congress had appropriated. It can send up 110 wings now, and the total will be from 115 to 120 next year. Large-scale production of jets has been started. The number of airmen has been increased, and congress soon will pass a bill creating an air academy rivaling West Point and Annapolis.

Most importantly, our stockpile of atomic weapons, including bombs and shells, and of guided missiles has been expanded by 500 per cent, with the hydrogen bomb no longer an unsolved problem.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

IT'S PRECIOUS STUFF

What would you say is the most important raw material used by American industry? Coal? Petroleum? Clay? Ore?

No. You're way off. The most important raw material is water. In an average year American industry uses 120 billion tons of water, which is nearly 50 times the weight of all other industrial materials combined.

In this arid or semi-arid western region we tend to think of water primarily as the tool of agriculture. But water here is more valuable, and just as essential, for industry. Few industries could operate without an ample supply of water. It takes, for instance, 65,000 gallons or 270 tons of water to make a ton of steel. It takes 70,000 gallons to make a ton of high-grade paper and 200,000 gallons to make a ton of viscose rayon.

Much has been made of the importance of pure culinary water to public health, but actually it is even more important to some industries, and they do a far better job of purifying their water supply than do many cities. For instance, the Du Pont Spruance rayon plant at Richmond, Va., has to have water free of organic material, minerals, acids or gases—and the company operates an elaborate filtration and treatment plant which purifies 63 million gallons of water a day, enough to supply 120,000 homes.

Of course, life itself depends on water. Foods contain from 40 to 96 per cent water and the human body is 70 per cent water. While a man could live some 30 days without food, he'd die in a week without water. Recognizing the importance of water to life, to food, to industry isn't the whole story either. Man today depends more and more on water for the comforts of life, from shower baths to air conditioners.

No wonder we call the stuff precious and keep emphasizing the need for conserving it and protecting the watersheds which supply it to us.—Salt Lake Tribune.

BILLION DOLLARS A DAY

On one day this week Henry Ford announced that his great motor company intended to go ahead full speed and was already doing so, and on the next day General Motors announced another billion-dollar expansion program. Actions speak louder than words. The automobile makers are demonstrating practical optimism.

President Harlow H. Curtice of GM predicts that the total value of the goods and services produced in the United States in 1954 will equal the figure for 1953. The figure for 1953 is 365 billion dollars, meaning that a billion dollars worth of goods and services was produced every day in 1953.

From time to time we try in this department to present information tending to give a good idea of the size and strength of this nation. At the moment we can't think of any one fact or figure more calculated to impress us than the solemn fact that a billion dollars worth of value was produced on each and every day of last year and that we are producing right now at approximately that rate.—Ogden Standard-Examiner.

RETURNING TAX MONEY

For the third year, Idaho is about to return to the federal treasury virtually all of the civil defense fund allotted to the state. This year the allotment was $40,000, of which $100 has been spent so far. The year ends March 31. In the past two years over $50,000 annually has been allotted to the state, and returned unused.

The Idaho legislature and the city governments, which would have to match the federal funds to make use of them, have followed the reasoning that Idaho is not territory which is likely to be attacked, since there is no concentration of industry or other target of strategic value to an enemy. The Statesman has agreed that this reasoning is sound, certainly much more sound than it would be to keep $40,000 or so worth of civil defense activity going merely to get the use of federal funds.

The Statesman is also heartily in favor of returning unused federal funds, in this or any other category, to the treasury. We wish considerably more of such returns were being made throughout the nation.—Boise Statesman.

POT SHOTS

CERTAINLY

Dear Potso:

Several months ago, the T-N printed a story right out there on the front page to the effect that airline service at the Twin Falls airport was in jeopardy. Seems as how a certain airline was going to change over to a certain plane. And when the certain airline started using a certain plane a certain airfield would be a certain distance too short for certain.

Now I see where a certain type plane is going to be landing at a certain airfield. For certain, I know no one has been stretching the runways at a certain field.

So I was just wondering if a certain plane isn't as hot as certain people thought it was. Or are certain faces red?

SAFE AT LAST

Lies slumbering here one William Lake;
He heard the bell, but had no brake.
At 50 miles drove Allie Pidd;
He thought he would not skid, but did.
At 90 miles drove Ed Fonker;
He rounded a turn without a honker.
Down in the creek sleeps Jerry Brass;
The bridge was narrow. He tried to pass.
Beneath this stone sleeps William Raines;
Ice on the hill, he had no chains.
Here lies the body of William Jay;
Who died maintaining his right-of-way.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic—As a change of pace from my expressions of innocent amazement over the miracles wrought by Generalissimo Trujillo, a title whose grandeur always makes me snicker, I should like to trace my progress to this fictional realm in the Caribbean, starting from Brooklyn on a cold day just before Christmas.

Westbrook Pegler

I never had sailed on a freighter so when Harry Klemfuss, once of the New York Daily News and now public relations agent of the Dominican republic, said he could fix me up aboard the SS Frances of the Bull line, a 10,000-ton ship carrying automobiles, radios, iceboxes and thousands of crates of eggs and beer to Puerto Rico and Domingo, I was glad to get away.

Harry is the press agent who put over the colossal Rudy Valentino funeral for Campbell's undertaking plant in New York, an incongruous feat by a man so quiet and correct, which somehow snowballed into a historic emotional episode in the life of New York.

• • •

I had lost track of Klemfuss for years, but by coincidence we met again and in a few days Chief Inspector Conrad Rothengast, since retired from the New York police department, drove us over to Brooklyn, not for any apprehension over the picket-lines of Joe Ryan's longshoremen, but because Rothengast had made the same voyage himself several times.

He is a friend of Capt. M. G. Fleming, who lives in Summit, N. J., and, for his retirement, plans not the conventional chicken-farm of shipmasters and police reporters but a Mom and Pop store in some non-existent dream town to sell candy bars to wet-nosed little kids and go broke selling cereal, canned stuff and an inventory of comics and detective magazines.

Fleming said he would hug the coast as far as Hatteras because we had aboard us just forward of the bridge and the quarters of the captain and passengers a 40-ton yacht belonging to Laurence Rockefeller, who ships this glorified soap-dish down every winter, accompanied by his skipper, Thomas Taxter and his wife, Dorothea, a very pretty young woman, and Charles Karr, the engineer.

The yacht had been towed down from Tarrytown in her own cradle and hoisted aboard by a 50-ton crane, at a cost of thousands.

Shoreside carpenters were bracing her with timbers and when they finally had her secure we were two hours late getting into the stream.

• • •

The sea was moderate all the way down, but the next time the Frances came to Trujillo, Fleming told us she had rolled as much as 40 degrees for about 48 hours. I said that was almost as far as a ship could go and come back, but the captain said that old theory blew up when the Flying Enterprise lay on her side for days before she filled and sank.

We made San Juan Dec. 23 and I gave ungrudging credit to the longshoremen, who are, I understand, Joe Ryan's subjects, as they tore away the lumber from Rockefeller's toy and, with extreme delicacy hoisted her over the side and set her gently in the water where a tug waited to haul her somewhere.

Rockefeller uses her to snatch fish by the face around Trinidad, but she has barely enough cruising radius to cross a bathtub. They would be unloading all night with the winches going and men calling so he went ashore to the Caribe Hilton, a bizarre and very expensive resort hotel with beautiful swimming pools and a roulette layout.

Puerto Rico is an expensive ward of the United States and rather more troublesome than less because, for one reason, her equivalent of the western Oakies and Arkies have been taught by the communist and Roosevelt-Truman incitation that they are underprivilleged and not accountable for behavior that would land better people in prison.

The superior types affect a supercilious embarrassment over this troublesome element but they themselves are a liability to the productive American taxpayer, living on subsidies and producing only a deficit for our country.

A sharp contrast is seen when you come into Cuidad Trujillo where work is the habit of the people, who have pride in their independence, responsibility and achievement with the gissimo shining like a national radiance above all.

• • •

We tied loose from San Juan about midnight Christmas eve with rockets arching against the sky and ran west and south to Mayaguez to drop off more cars, tractors and eggs.

I toured a slum area there rather against the purpose of a Mr. Cummings, the agent of the Bull line, who preferred to show me the home of the richest man in town, a brewer who, like Jake Ruppert of old in New York, subsidizes the local professional ball club.

The slum area certainly is not appetizing but is clean and much preferable to the horrid hutches to which a couple of hundred thousand Puerto Ricans have been enticed in New York City, for no other purpose than political exploitation, mainly by the communists.

And even in those slums there was a sharply noticeable absence of the revolting filth of thousands of dogs which fouls the streets of New York with no paper daring to raise a protest for fear of losing the dog-owners' circulation.

• • •

Observing that one slum street was named for Gen. Pedro Del Valle, I asked Mr. Cummings if that was my friend of the marine corps. He said yes. I gathered that the general was a Puerto Rican, which was news to me.

This was Christmas day in Mayaguez and we had a little tree in the dining room and got away that night for Trujillo, arriving at 6 a.m.

The Dominican government and some of the people are morose at us for discriminating against them and in favor of Puerto Rico and Cuba in the price of sugar and the amount that we will accept from them at the premium price.

Such emotions flicker and flame as conditions change, but the Cubans are, in a general way, regarded as cynical opportunists. This is partly a hangover from an attempt by the Caribbean legion, composed of communists, adventurous bums and Dominican political exiles, to launch an armed invasion of Domingo from Cuba.

A year from now they might be embracing one another.

Mary Connelley Becomes Bride of Lyle W. Wiseman

Mary Gretchen Connelley, daughter of Mrs. Ruby E. Connelley, Twin Falls, became the bride of Lyle Werner Wiseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carr Wiseman, Hansen, in a double-ring ceremony Sunday in the Immanuel Lutheran church.

The Rev. R. C. Muhly read the service before arrangements of salmon-colored snapdragons and Scotch broom and lighted tapers in floor candelabra. White satin bows decorated the aisles.

The bride wore a gown of slipper satin, with a scalloped neckline inset with net and trimmed in seed pearls and sequins. The gown was fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt and train dropped from the scalloped waist. A pearl and net crown held her fingertip-length veil.

She carried a bouquet of gold feathered carnations and roses on a white Bible belonging to her late father and sapphire bracelet belonging to her mother. She also carried a handkerchief the bridegroom's grandmother carried at her wedding, and a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. O. J. Hatcher, Woodland, Calif., attended her sister as matron of honor. Irene Warr, Salt Lake City, was maid of honor. Molly Turnbull and Frances Thompson were bridesmaids.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. R. W. Packard. Wayne Wiseman, Jerome, served his brother as best man. Charles Jones, Dr. D. E. Sonius, Kenneth Kneip and Melvin Berrett ushered.

Corneles Hatcher, Woodland, Calif., niece of the bride, and Sheila Telford and Jeana Berritt were flower girls. Paula Telford and Janice Berritt lighted the candles.

Mrs. Robert Gilliam played the wedding marches. Jay Clawson, Murtaugh, was soloist. He was accompanied by Jimmy McMullin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Connelley wore a gunmetal gray coat dress with white accessories and Mrs. Wiseman chose a blue afternoon dress with pink and black accessories. Their corsages were roses.

At the reception at the Turf club, the table was centered with the five-tier cake and decorated with gold carnations. Mrs. V. V. Telford poured punch, assisted by Mrs. Louis Evans. Mrs. Don Sonius cut the cake, assisted by Gloria Vosburg. Mrs. Melvin Berritt and Mrs. Gilliam poured punch. Mrs. R. W. Packard was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Carl Gavin and Mrs. Gordon Byornn displayed the gifts.

The bride was honored at showers Jan. 14 given by Mrs. Telford, Mrs. Sonius and Mrs. Berritt and Jan. 21 given by Mrs. Dave Phillips. Mrs. Louis Evans entertained for the bride at luncheon Friday. Mrs. Connelley entertained members of the wedding party at a buffet supper Friday night after rehearsal.

Attending the reception from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Olley, Ogden, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gavin, Pocatello.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a beige and green suit with brown accessories and a corsage of roses. The couple will make their home in Milford, Utah, where he is engaged in ranching.

A graduate of Twin Falls high school, the bride was employed for the past two and a half years by Dr. Packard.

Birthday Noted

EMERSON, Feb. 2—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Drew entertained a family group Sunday evening in honor of the birthday of their daughter, Dorothy Drew. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drew and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Drew.

"Figurine" Skirt Gains Popularity In Paris Fashion

PARIS, Feb. 2 (AP)—The new figurine silhouette of the season continues to ride a wave of popularity in the Patou collection, shown Monday.

For those with near perfect figures, it's youthful and flattering, for it is supposed to slenderise the bust, waist and hips, with soft fullness massed below.

But the straight skirt can't be counted out yet. It appears frequently in suits and day dresses of soft draped jersey. Pale beiges and baby blues and pinks fill the spring color palett.

There never was such a season for buttons. Dresses and coats button right to the hem, and even evening gowns button all the way down the back or have a button band of bugle bead embroidery down the front.

After several barren years of clothes stripped of trimmings, collars as well as buttons are making a comeback. At Patou's they appear as cuffs on rounded necklines. Marc Bohan, who designed the collection after his own house closed in a single season, has achieved a handsome and cleanlined look. His clothes are unashamedly pretty, if not quite so sophisticated as some previous Patou fashions.

Ribbon bands sometimes outline the princess lines of a dress from shoulder to hem. The Patou length is just slightly longer than other houses have shown.

Elaine Iverson, Dick Reed Wed

Married Jan. 16 in Elko, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Dick L. Reed are making their home in Twin Falls. The bride is the former Elaine Iverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Iverson, Gooding.

They exchanged marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony performed by Grant W. Turner, LDS bishop.

Before her marriage, the bride was employed as a stenographer by Gooding county and by the law firm of Branch Bird and Cecil D. Hobdey in Gooding for the past three years.

Reed, a marine corps and merchant service veteran, was graduated from high school in Gordon, Nebr., and attended Northern State Teachers college, Aberdeen, S. D.

Bette Jean Hall And Heyer Wed In Church Rites

Bette Jean Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hall, Twin Falls, became the bride of Gary LeRoy Heyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heyer, Buhl, in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the First Baptist church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ray Eugene Crow before bouquets of pink carnations, lavender iris and pink stocks.

The bride wore a full length colonial style satin gown with lace panels in a full skirt. The sleeves were long and pointed and the neckline high.

Her fingertip veil was held by a Juliet cap of lace over satin accented with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a pearl bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Mrs. J. Duane Bell, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mary Anderson was bridesmaid. Candlelighters were Billie Hall, Filer, and Beverly Ewell, Buhl, cousins of the bride.

Clifford Sprier, Burley, was best man. Dal Pence, Buhl, and Fred Sumner were ushers.

Mrs. Russell Hall played the piano. Robert Wilson was soloist.

The bride's mother wore a cinnamon-colored knitted suit with gold accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Heyer was attired in a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church parlor. Rosie Jo McDowell, Shirley Peters and Mrs. Blaine Ewell were at the serving table. Norma Logan took care of the guest book and Mrs. Clifford Sprier was in charge of the gifts.

For a going-away ensemble the bride chose a suit of beige heather with white and brown accessories.

The couple attends the University of Idaho. The bride is a 1952 graduate of Twin Falls high school and past honored queen of Job's Daughters. Heyer graduated from Buhl high school in 1950 and is a member of ROTC and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at the university.

The bride was honored recently at a kitchen shower given by Jean Weston, her roommate at college.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

This 9-year-old boy needs no name. He is like most boys of his age; in fact, he is all a boy of his years is expected to be—intelligent, healthy and active. His one failing is that he resents being told to do anything; he dodges obeying.

There is no secret about 9-year-olds. We teachers know they dislike being TOLD. These youngsters have just emerged from the shell of childhood and are looking at what they consider their new world in happy astonishment. Nine-year-olds think they are pretty capable of taking care of themselves, after their fashion.

Being still children, but now with an exaggerated idea of themselves, they make mistakes and get into trouble, so must be watched. And, not only should we be on guard, but we must be tactful about it. We must win over the child again. His budding personality should be recognized — let him have his own way to an extent that is safe, so that he can try out his ideas, within certain limitations.

The setting of those limitations demands no little tact on the part of parents. Instead of giving him orders and demanding obedience, bend a little and offer him the choice between what you want him to do and what he wants to do, allowing him to feel that the decision is up to him.

Instead of telling him to put on his sweater and his rubbers, glance at the thermometer and up at the clouds. Then say, "Looks stormy out. What do you think?" He will probably take a look himself and agree that it looks like rain or snow. Suggest that he wear his sweater and he will compromise by putting on his reefer, which, he says, "I can hang in the closet and not be bothered with it." He will feel satified that he made the choice.

Should he be stubborn about such matters, the parent then realizes the boy is not ready to have his own way to any extent. He needs to be told firmly, "You'll need a sweater or a coat. Take one or the other." That even allows him some freedom of choice and will tend to soothe possible injured feelings.

The child, though affectionate, may turn from his mother and take advice from a classmate or a neighbor who seems to understand his growing attitude. This idea should not worry the mother, for he holds always the thought of her presence. He is just trying out a step in the direction of maturity.

All children develop annoying habits from time to time, but they can be overcome by substituting a good habit. Dr. Patri explains how to correct many bad habits in his booklet No. 802, "Annoying Habits." To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

USAF Slates Tighter Rein For Security

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The air force was reported today throwing tighter security about it's atomic construction plans.

Its officials were said to be reshaping about what they consider a leak from capitol hill on plans for a world-wide chain of storage bases for air force "special weapons," including A-bombs.

Members of a house armed services subcommittee were understood to have taken the air force to task for the disclosure at a closed door session. Air force witnesses reportedly replied they weren't pleased either to see their secret, $22,092,000 atomic storage program aired in the newspapers.

One-Page Report

Actually, the plan was disclosed recently by a senate armed services subcommittee, which made public an unclassified one-page project report prepared by the air force. The report appeared to have been cleared for public distribution. It was not marked secret or restricted in any way.

According to the document, the construction work which now has been okayed "covers new increments in the expansion and development of facilities to support the air force atomic energy program at various world-wide locations."

Rights Obtained

It said also that "rights to establish these facilities in the required areas have been obtained from the governments concerned."

No disclosure has been made as to where the atomic arsenals are to be built. These and all other details remain secret.

U. S. Aide Lauds Philippines Chief

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 2 (AP)—U. S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens hailed President Ramon Magsaysay yesterday as an "able and vigorous leader who will promote Philippine welfare and security."

Stevens said he had been greatly impressed by the excellent relationship between local American government representatives of the Philippine government.

He conferred with Magsaysay on vital military and defense matters affecting the Philippines but made no announcement of the result of their talks.

New York Only City Open 24 Hours Day, Boyle Discovers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—"A city to me," said Truman Capote, forking thoughtfully at a strawberry tart, "is a place where you can get up at 3 o'clock in the morning and buy a book or a shirt."

Hal Boyle

"In a real sense of being a city, New York is the only city in the world. It is the only one open 24 hours a day."

Capote, recently returned from Rome, has somewhat outgrown his child wonder of the literary world status of a few years ago. Critics then were divided over whether he was startlingly precocious or startling precious—whether he was a pale young genius or merely pale.

"I'm 26 now," he remarked at luncheon in the 21 club, "and I've written four books and a play. I just finished writing the dialogue for an Italian film. Now I'm working on my third novel and doing the lyrics for a musical play, based in Haiti, called 'House of Flowers.' It's light and strange."

Capote, who talks with the artistically surety of Oscar Wilde, is blond, blue-eyed and small enough to walk under the arms of a high school basketball center. He looks less like a sophisticated fawn today and more like a retired choir boy—or a rising young literary critic.

"I don't think writing for the films has anything to do with writing," he observed. "In writing for the films, the only important thing is the visual sense—the eye is everything."

But he did enjoy doing the dialogue for "Indiscretions of An American Wife," produced in Rome for Columbia Pictures by Vittorio de Cica.

"In Italy they don't rely so much on a script," he said. "They like to make things up as they go along. The film was shot in the Rome railroad terminal and wherever they needed dialogue for the next scene I would go into another room of the station and write it.

"The Italian method of making a film wouldn't work with many Hollywood stars. If they tried it with Marilyn Monroe, it would be a disaster. But they have turned out some great pictures that way."

Capote, who had had some luck in a life of hard work, has never seen a television program.

"Do you think I should take up looking at television?" he asked. "I have no opinions against it. I simply don't own a television set, and nobody I know ever looks at it.

"It sounds, terribly exciting, but I dislike all ephemeral things."

He feels sure, however, that video will make for better films on more adult themes.

"Television will take over all the taboos that hamper the movies now," he predicted. "When people can get all the poppycock they want on television, films will have to become more human and real in order to find an audience."

This mellowing infant terrible of literature—he earned his living tap dancing on a river boat, painting on glass, and fortune telling while learning the writer's trade—poked moodily in the ruins of the strawberry tart, then said:

"What would bother me about working in television is that you have only the bubble of a moment. To the creative artist, his work has to be a solid thing—not an ephemeral thing, such as an actor's performance.

"That is what amazes me about painters. How can they sell their pictures, and let them go into strange houses where they will never see them again?

"I take the books I have written with me wherever I go—the foreign translations of them, too. Then, wherever I am, I can look at them and say, 'there is something solid.'

"I have to have a sense of permanency, because everything else in my life is so impermanent. If you are really dedicated to an art, the art becomes your only reality in the world."

When I asked Capote, still on the sunny side of 30, what he thought of Ernest Hemingway, who is 55, he replied amiably:

"I'm glad the boy's alive. He's a marvelous writer, but . . ."

Truman Capote didn't finish the sentence. He finished the strawberry tart instead.

GOP Leader Assails 'Stingy' Policy on Western Projects

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—An influential Republican in congress charged today that the Eisenhower administration has been too stingy with funds for reclamation and irrigation projects in the west.

He blamed hold-over officials from the Truman administration. He said these officials in the budget bureau are trying by "sabotage and subterfuge" to prevent the administration from giving the people the change they voted for.

The complaint was made in a statement issued by Chairman A. L. Miller of the house interior committee. He "demanded" that the proposed budget President Eisenhower sent congress last month be revised to include a request for funds for starting some new projects.

Miller, R., Nebr., disclosed that the interior department had requested funds for starting 16 new projects in 10 states be included in the budget. But he said the budget bureau eliminated all of them.

As submitted by Mr. Eisenhower, the budget included funds for four new phases of existing projects, but no funds for any new starts.

"If they are going to continue this policy, the bureau of reclamation might just as well close shop and progress in the western states will be stopped," Miller said.

He said Chairman Hugh Butler, R., Neb., of the senate interior committee has agreed to join him in asking the budget bureau to submit a supplemental budget request for funds for some new starts.

"I know where the trouble lies and who is responsible for the bureau action," Miller added. "While there are a few new faces in the upper echelon, those making the reports (on projects) are not in sympathy with this administration's aims. It is just another example of sabotage and subterfuge by those hoping this administration will fail."

Youth Sentenced To Prison Term

Jimmy Mitchell, Twin Falls youth convicted last week of raping a 12-year-old girl, was sentenced Monday afternoon to not more than 25 years in the state penitentiary by District Judge Hugh A. Baker.

Although his attorney, J. Alfred May, advised the court he was going to appeal the case to the state supreme court, he did not file any of the necessary papers formally starting the appeal proceedings.

Meanwhile, Mitchell was taken to the state prison at Boise late Monday to begin his sentence.

Blood Reserves Reported "Fair"

Blood donations exceeded transfusions last week at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, according to Mrs. Theodora Rigdon.

Twenty-two donations were given, all by friends of patients, compared to 19 transfusions. Condition of blood bank reserves was "fair." All donations will be welcomed, Mrs. Rigdon said.

DENIES CHARGE

JEROME, Feb. 2 — Evan Olson, Jerome, pleaded innocent to a charge of disturbing the peace when arraigned before Police Judge Russell Shaud Friday. The complaint was signed by Arthur Sheer. Olson was released on $50 bond.

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 2 (AP)—Eastern Idaho reclamation leaders expressed concern today at the lack of snow in the area during the current season.

Neal S. Bue, Driggs, soil conservation service representative, said snow depth on Teton pass is 20 per cent less than that in recent years.

Average water content of snow in the area at this time during the past eight years has been 26 inches, he said. Measurements now show only 20.7 inches of water in the 79.3 inches of snow on the pass.

LDS Graduation Held at Shoshone

SHOSHONE, Feb. 2—A graduation for three primary boys was held in conjunction with the Sunday evening LDS church services here. Graduating were Calvin Knight, Ralph Holley and Richard Stowell.

Bishop W. F. Stimpson spoke and Robert Pixton welcomed the graduates into MIA work. L. T. Sorensen conducted the meeting and Kay Johnson and Joseph Robertson, District, were speakers. Robertson recently returned from a two-year mission for the church.

A cottage meeting was held following the services at the home of Mary Ellen Stowell with Robert Pixton as speaker.

Auction Held

HAGERMAN, Feb. 2—Mrs. Robert Gardner, March of Dimes chairman for Hagerman valley, reports that $59.50 was received at the auction sale of cakes Saturday evening at the Owsley grocery. The cakes were furnished by members of Hagerman Valley chapter No. 78, OES.

Harry Snodgrass acted as auctioneer and Mrs. Ralph Miller was in charge of arranging the cakes. Mrs. J. R. Russell was chairman of the event.

Appeals of 64 To Go to U. S. Are Rejected

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Feb. 2 (AP)—Lieut.-Gen. K. S. Thimayya turned down today a request by 64 unrepatriated war prisoners to be sent to the United States.

"They have got to select a neutral country," the Indian chairman of the repatriation commission said "Otherwise, we will just have to return them to their former detaining side. We have no alternative to hand them back."

The anti-communist prisoners refused to go to South Korea or the nationalist Chinese stronghold on Formosa during the 120-day explanation period that ended last Dec. 23. They said they wanted to live in the United States.

Thimayya said the prisoners could not be sent to the country of their choice because the United States was a belligerent in the Korean war.

The remaining 104 prisoners who asked to be sent to neutral countries have requested permission to go to Mexico, India, Switzerland or Sweden. The latter two nations have rejected six requests.

Czech Refugee's Fate Is Mystery

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 2 (AP)—Informed sources said today Bohumil Lausman, Czech refugee on the communist secret police's "most wanted" list, probably has been kidnaped by the reds or has fled into hiding to escape them.

Lausman's disappearance from Salzburg two days before Christmas caused a stir among intelligence services on both sides of the iron curtain. He has been sought by western agents ever since, but so far as is known no trace has been uncovered.

"He was a hot potato," said an American informant well acquainted with Lausman's background. "The communists wanted badly to get him back."

Most of the available evidence appeared to support the kidnaping theory.

McCall Ski Lodge Destroyed in Fire

McCALL, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Payette lakes ski lodge, three miles north of McCall, was destroyed by fire early today as lack of water blocked attempts to fight the blaze.

The fire was reported about midnight after flames had made strong headway. Payette Lakes Ski club vice president Paul Gjording said.

Volunteers were unable to control the blaze. Kitchen and dining room equipment of the one-story lodge and 200 pairs of skis were destroyed.

Happy Error

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Merlon P. Collom's of suburban Crystal were the proud owners today of a new, $700 radio-television-phonograph combination, apparently through the good offices of a mistaken installation man.

Mrs. Collom went out Monday, leaving a door unlocked so her daughter could get in after school. When she returned, she found the family's 20-inch, table model set had been replaced by the much more expensive instrument.

"We didn't order it but we plan to hang onto it," said Collom. "If anyone shows up to claim it, we'll charge him with breaking and entering."

Order Eases Freight Rule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Relaxed rules for railroad freight shipments in the west will be permitted, effective March 29, under an interstate commerce commission ruling.

The commission ordered revisions in mixed freight carload rules which, in the west, provide that a single carload carrying mixed commodities be charged the rate applying to the highest rate article in the lot.

The rule provides in the east for a formula under which the commodity rates are calculated on an average for the car.

The commission said the new revisions should place the western portion of the country in a better position in relation to other sections.

Under Monday's ruling, merchandise moving from the east to the west will travel under rates as favorable as those now applying to mixed freight east of the Mississippi river.

PLEADS GUILTY

JEROME, Feb. 2—Don Burgoyne, Jerome, was fined $25 Friday when he appeared before Police Judge Russell Shaud and pleaded guilty to assault and battery. The complaint was signed by Ed Halverson.

AFL Demands Wage Boosts, Public Works

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—AFL leaders called Monday for a new round of wage increases and immediate construction of huge public works projects to stave off serious "trouble" in the American economy.

AFL President George Meany said the Eisenhower administration has claimed to have a batch of public works construction plans available for use when a depression threatens, but the AFL feels the time has come to push-button them into effect.

"All the signs indicate we're going down hill," Meany told a news conference, summing the first day's session of the AFL executive council's winter meeting. "All the resources in the world won't help us if we don't use them."

The AFL put out figures to show that one out of 20 people have lost jobs since the middle of 1953. It stated that besides the 2,259,000 listed by the government as unemployed, the number of persons employed has declined sufficiently—even discounting what should have been a normal growth of the labor force—to boost the declining jobs to 3,350,000 since last June.

Winners in T. F. Event Reported

First place in the Orpheum theater talent show was won by Les Bowman, who played the guitar and sang.

Gene Beaver took second place with the song, "Lucky Old Sun," and David Neilson won third place with several imitations.

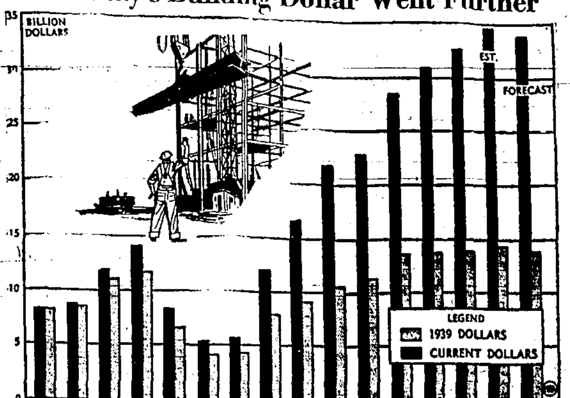
Yesterday's Building Dollar Went Further



Newschart shows the dollar cost, by billions, for construction in the U. S. from 1939 to the present, and how the value of the present building dollar compares to the 1939 dollar. The largest variance occurred in the estimated figures for 1953, when construction cost approached the 35 billion dollar mark. In terms of the 1939 dollar it was worth approximately 14 billion dollars. Data from national industrial conference board.

Hank Mulls Over Pay Raises For Solons, Reactions Mixed

By HENRY McLEMORE

If you ever have wondered what a man looks like on the horns of a dilemma, now is your chance to find out.

All you have to do to satisfy your curiosity is to go to Washington and look up your congressman. He is sitting right up there on the horns, and completely unsure as to what to do about it.

McLemore

His dilemma is whether or not to vote himself the whacking big pay raise a presidential commission having placed its approval on a boost of $12,500 a year, which would lift his salary to $25,000 per.

Even though they don't look and act like it sometimes, congressmen are human. And being human the thought of that extra chunk of dough makes their eyes gleam, their hearts thump and their fingers itch. You can rest assured that the married ones have talked about that added $12,500 a hundred times, and between them have spent it on everything from a new kitchen to a mink coat.

This desire for the raise is one horn they're perched on—that plus the fact that all they have to do to get it is to vote for the bill when it comes up.

The other horn, and it's a sharp one, brother, is their worry about how their constituents will take this big-hearted, open-handed, financial pat on the back by themselves. The congressmen are not at all sure that all their constituents, especially the ones who haven't gotten their free seeds as yet, those whose baby wasn't kissed at the last election, or the ones who got ptomaine at the barbecue or fish fry, will take this big bite with a smile.

The press, for the most part, has been very sympathetic toward the idea of the congressmen voting a new lining for their wallets, and some commentators have gone so far as to support them with the slightly cock-eyed argument that if Stan Musial, a baseball player, is worth $80,000 a year, and Marilyn Monroe, an actress, can get a four-figure salary each week, then the men who make the laws deserve the same sort of pay.

Musial isn't just a baseball player, he is the best baseball player. And Miss Monroe's four-figure salary is based on a figure that is the best. All baseball players don't make Musial's salary, or even a 40th of it per annum, and the average pay for all the actors and actresses in the country last year was around $800.

I am quite sure that there are congressmen whose ability makes them worth almost any salary, but I am equally as sure that quite a few would be overpaid if all they got was railroad fare to Washington and the price of a haircut once a month.

If you should happen to ask me what I would do about the raise if I were a congressman, I most surely would answer that I would be up bright and early the morning the bill was to be introduced so that I would have extra time to gargle. I would want a strong, ringing set of vocal chords when I started yelling "Aye." I probably would carry a megaphone, too.

It isn't often that a man has the chance to better his savings account by more than 10 grand a year simply by saying yes. A man who would let that opportunity slip by has no business helping govern a two-fish aquarium, much less the United States.

If my congressman doesn't vote himself the dough, then I'm going to vote for the know-nothing candidate next time in the hope of getting a more mature mind.

Solon Pessimistic On Chiang Attack

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (UP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith, R., N. J., said today it would be "unrealistic" to expect the Chinese nationalists to make a successful attack on the communist-held mainland "in the near future."

Smith also said that while the communists "do not want to resume the fighting" in Korea, prospects are dim for achieving a peaceful, unified Korea.

Smith, chairman of the senate foreign relations subcommittee on the far east, made these observations in a 25-page report on his tour late last year of 10 Asiatic countries.

Firing Report Plan Debated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (UP)—The Eisenhower administration debated today whether it should—or can—say how many of the 2,200 persons fired under its security program actually were disloyalty cases.

Democrats have demanded a breakdown. They accused the Republicans of implying that most of the 2,200 were communists when few if any actually were.

The questions with which the White House is wrestling is whether it is advisable to supply a breakdown and if so whether it is possible in view of the way the program has operated.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday "no decision has been made."

He said Philip Young, chairman of the civil service commission, has the problem under consideration. Young's associates declined to comment.

Elephant-Caused Injury Kills Man

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 2 (UP)—Zoo lovers today mourned the death of Mesker zoo Supt. Robert F. McGraw, the second victim in 16 years of a "red-eyed" killer elephant.

The big tusker, named "Kay," will not be put to death, park board President H. Kilburn Rogers said, despite the fact she has attacked human beings on numerous occasions.

Hospital officials said McGraw died Monday night of infection from injuries he suffered when the five-ton beast hurled him against a wall in her cage. In 1938, the elephant killed a 17-year-old part-time zoo worker.

Earth Is More Than 4 Billion Years Old, U. S. Savants Say

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (UP)—New studies have disclosed that the earth and other planets of the solar system are at least 4,500,000,000 years old.

Previously, the earliest date established for the age of the solar system was 2,500,000,000 years.

Four scientists participated in the new research which consisted of analyzing the lead content of meteorites found on the earth's surface.

Samples from the meteorites were studied with a mass spectrometer, an extremely sensitive device for sorting atoms by weight.

Participating in the work were Claire Patterson and Harrison Brown, now with the California Institute of Technology; George Tilton, now with the Carnegie Institution, Washington, and Mark Inghram, associate professor of physics at the University of Chicago.

Their findings were described in "Reports," a university of Chicago publication.

Inghram said they worked on the fairly-well established theory that the entire solar system including meteorites which have fallen to earth was created at one time in a cosmic explosion.

The scientists studied the proportions of two forms of lead in meteorites—lead 206, resulting from the decay of uranium 238, and lead 207, resulting from the radioactive decay of uranium 235—the type used in the atomic bomb.

In general, the amount of lead 207 increases in proportion to the amount of lead 206 because U-235 decays faster than U-238.

The scientists reasoned conversely from this that the more lead 206 they found in a sample in proportion to lead 207, the older the sample would be.

Comparing their findings to the ratio of lead and uranium found in earthbound rocks, the scientists were able to estimate the age of the earth at 4,500,000,000 years.

In doing so, they brought the estimate into better agreement with speculations made by astronomists who, from studies of the universe, figured that the solar system was at least four billion years old—and possibly older.

Inghram said that with the new time scale established, similar studies of lead isotopes in granite and basal rocks will reveal the ages of individual rock systems in various parts of the earth.

SHOSHONE, Feb. 2—The name "Nina Murphy Club" has been selected for the Future Teachers association recently organized at Shoshone.

Mrs. Murphy's name was chosen for the club in view of her contributions to education in Shoshone, students reported. Mrs. Murphy taught in Shoshone schools for 22 years.

Kay Johnson was elected historian for the organization with Neola Brookbank parliamentarian and Leo Braun recreation leader.

Miss Brookbank and Stanley Hughes were appointed to attend the next PTA executive meeting as representatives of the club. Regular meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of each month.

B-36 Flight Stirs Hawaii Comment

HONOLULU, Feb. 2 (UP)—A flight of giant B-36 bombers passed through Honolulu late yesterday, but the air force would not say where they were going or where they came from.

The last time B-36s visited Hawaii was shortly before the Eniwetok atom bomb tests in 1952.

Last week a flight of B-47s, the world's fastest bomber, made a quick stop at Honolulu, and again the air force had "no comment."

Idaho State Nets 13th Consecutive Basketball Win

POCATELLO, Feb. 2 (AP)—The smooth-Rocky Mountain conference defending champion Idaho State Bengals racked up their 13th consecutive victory Monday night over the Colorado College Tigers, Colorado Springs.

Idaho State displayed a superb defense in holding the Colorado team to 36 points. The Tigers were able to crack the tight Idaho man-to-man defense for only 6 points in the first quarter, and left the floor at the half with only 4 field goals for a total of 16 points.

Idaho State Coach Steve Belko, recalling criticism last year when his team beat the Colorado school 114-33, cleared the bench and played his reserves much of the time.

All-conference forward Les Roh paced the ISC attack with 18 points. Slocum was high for Colorado college with 14.

The loss put the Colorado team deep in the Rocky Mountain conference cellar with six losses and no wins. It was Idaho State's tenth consecutive conference win—10 of them last year and four this season.

The teams play again Tuesday night.

The Tuesday game will be the last home appearance for three Idaho State seniors—Sam Beckham, forward, who was voted most valuable player in the conference last year; Roy Dakin, guard, rated all-conference two years ago, and Jerry Belkow, a reserve.

The rest of ISC's games this season will be away from home.

Gaining

The Magic Valley Cowboys' financial drive has crept over the $11,000 mark in pledges, club officials report.

Carl Sherwood, secretary-treasurer of the club, said a total of $11,022.25 has been pledged. This represents an increase of $274 over figures released Saturday.

A total of $7,236 has been deposited in the bank in cash, Sherwood reported. This figure represents an increase of $449 over Saturday's figures.

The club has until Wednesday to raise the remainder of the $15,000 goal.

A free dance to aid in the Cowboys' drive will be held tonight at the American Legion hall.

Skiers Win 36-Hour Race With Winter

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 2 (AP)—Two Idaho Falls high school students were back home Monday after winning a harrowing endurance race with winter in the rugged mountains northeast of Sun Valley.

Gregory Parker and Carol Thiel were apparently none the worse for their experience, despite a 36-hour trek on skis across the snow-covered mountains.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Parker, Idaho Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thiel, New Sweden.

The two high school juniors were nursing blisters on their feet after the exhausting hike but a Sun Valley physician pronounced them fit.

The two youths had decided to leave early Saturday morning for Sun Valley to take part in a high school ski event. Apparently confused on the best route to Sun Valley, Parker and Thiel drove their car on the Trail Creek pass road. The car became bogged down in deep snow.

They abandoned their car Saturday morning and began to ski in the direction of Sun Valley. Without food they trekked over the mountains until Saturday night. Sunday morning they took up their skies again. Late Sunday Thiel made it into Sun Valley. Parker followed in about 20 or 30 minutes.

The two youths said they believed they skied 28 miles to the resort. The car was located 15 to 28 miles from Sun Valley. The parents of the boys were unaware of their experience until the sons notified them Sunday evening.

Terry Brennan Gets Leahy's Irish Spot

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 2 (AP)—Terence Patrick Brennan, a determined 25-year-old Irish lad only two seasons out of prep coaching ranks where he earned a top-notch reputation, Monday was named Notre Dame's head football coach. The tousle-haired, fresh-scrubbed appearing Brennan becomes the youngest head coach ever appointed by a major collegiate football power. He signed a 3-year contract at a reported $12,000 annually.

Terry succeeds Frank Leahy, who Sunday announced his retirement because of ill health. He had coached the Irish to six unbeaten seasons, including 1953, since coming to Notre Dame in 1941 at the age of 33 from Boston college.

Leahy had been warned by his physicians that another attack of pancreatitis—a sever stomach disorder which as hospitalized him midway in the 1953 season, could prove fatal. He now intends to take an extended vacation and then enter private business, rumored to be a beer distributorship in Florida.

Brennan was one of Leahy's proteges as an inspirational-type halfback from 1945 through 1948 and as assistant coach last year. As a player he is best remembered for a 97-yard opening kickoff touchdown run against Army in 1947.

After graduating with a philosophy major in 1949, Brennan became football coach at Mount Carmel high school in Chicago and guided his team to an unprecedented three successive city championships.

Brennan, who will be 26 on June 11, completed his studies in law on the side at DePaul university in Chicago.

"Leahman's success at Mount Carmel," said Dr. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, "distinguished himself as one of the most promising young coaches in America."

As a Leahy assistant, Brennan was in charge of the freshmen—the first actual freshman coach Notre Dame ever had. He also was an instructor in business law at the university.

Two years ago, Brennan was considered for the head coaching job of the Chicago Cardinals, professional team, but eventually was passed up because of his age. At that time Brennan said: "Why, these pro fellows would be tucking me to bed at night."

At Mount Carmel, prep sports writers recalled Brennan as "an inspirational leader with a very level disposition."

American League Releases Schedule

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (AP)—The American league, with the Baltimore Orioles becoming its first new club in 51 years, Monday released the official 1954 baseball schedule.

The Orioles' first home game will be April 18 against the Chicago White Sox.

The 1954 slate lists 215 night games, nine fewer than were scheduled in 1953.

April 18 is the season's start. In addition to Baltimore's game at Detroit, Boston is at Philadelphia, Cleveland at Chicago and New York at Washington, where President Eisenhower will be invited to maintain the ritual of tossing out the first ball.

The regular season will end Sept. 26.

The all-star game is July 13 at Cleveland.

Western Kentucky Accepts Meet Bid; Duquesne May

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—Unbeaten Western Kentucky accepted a bid to the national invitation basketball tournament Monday and Duquesne, the nation's second ranked team, announced it was considering a similar move.

At Pittsburgh, Duquesne officials disclosed they had received an invitation to the NIT at Madison Square garden March 8-13 and would make a decision within 10 days.

The Iron Dukes, who have 17 in a row for a perfect record, are expected to throw their lot with the NIT because of a longtime garden affinity.

Western Kentucky's acceptance as the first in the 12-team field was announced at the weekly meeting of the Metropolitan Basketball Writers by Asa Bushnell, who will direct the tournament.

Duquesne is ranked second behind Kentucky in the last Associated poll. Western Kentucky is tied with Oklahoma A and M for fourth. They are two of the four major unbeaten clubs. The others are Kentucky and Connecticut.

Also Monday a teaser was thrown in the direction of the University of Kentucky, which has been regarded as a cinch to play in the National Collegiate (NCAA) tournament.

Questioned about the possibility that Kentucky also might be invited because of its eligibility troubles with the NCAA, Bushnell said:

"Every team with a good record will be considered for the tournament."

Asked further if the rule which disqualifies three Kentucky stars—Lou Tsioropoulos, Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey—from the national college tournament also would apply in the invitation affairs, Bushnell said:

"Our tournament always has operated on the rule that a competing team needs only to meet the standards of its conference and since the Southeastern conference permits three boys to play I assume they would be eligible in the NIT."

However, another highly placed NIT spokesman said Kentucky almost certainly would not be invited and "probably would not accept if given a bid."

Royal Named Grid Coach By Rebels

STARKVILLE, Miss., Feb. 2 (AP)—Darrel Royal, former star split-T quarterback at Oklahoma, Monday was named head football coach at Mississippi State. He succeeds Murray Warmath who recently accepted a similar job at Minnesota.

The selection of Royal, coach of the Edmonton Eskimos in the Canadian Professional league last season, was announced by President Ben Hilburn and C. R. (Duby) Noble, athletic director.

Royal, considered one of the ranking authorities on the split-T offense, served as an offensive backfield coach for Mississippi State in 1952. He helped Warmath install the split-T at State.

Warmath resigned last Friday to accept the Minnesota post.

The new Mississippi State coach began his coaching career as backfield coach under Beattie Feathers at North Carolina State in 1950.

In 1951, Royal moved to Tulsa and served in the same capacity. When Warmath took over at Mississippi State in 1952, one of his first choices for his staff was Royal.

As a player at Oklahoma, Royal played under coach Bud Wilkinson and helped lead the Sooners into the national spotlight.

Royal is a native of Hollis, Okla.

Games Set

Glenns Service Station, Buhl, will meet Eden-Hazelton in a Magic Valley basketball league game set for 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Filer gym. At 9 p. m., Filer Legion will play Sawtooth Motor, Hailey.

Cage Pickings Slim; Seven Games Slated

With Twin Falls and the Big Seven conference clubs idle until Friday, basketball pickings in the Magic Valley for Tuesday are a little on the slim side with a total of seven games slated. However, play will resume in full swing on Friday with all conferences back in heavy action. Tuesday night's games are all class B affairs.

The Glenns Ferry Pilots host the Bliss Bears, the Twin Falls Cubs travel to meet the Paul varsity in a return game, Gooding State is at Wendell and Shoshone plays Richfield at Richfield.

Three other games slated find Hansen at Kimberly; Fairfield at Hagerman and Carey at Hailey.

The schedule:

Bliss at Glenns Ferry
Gooding State at Wendell
Twin Falls Cubs at Paul
Hansen at Kimberly
Fairfield at Hagerman
Carey at Hailey
Shoshone at Richfield

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—
Stocks—Lower; trading quiet.
Bonds—Higher; securities in demand.
Cotton—Lower; profit taking and hedging.
Chicago:
Wheat—Firm; need for moisture in wheat belt emphasized.
Corn—Firm; recovered from early slump.
Oats—Firm with corn.
Hogs—Around 25 cents higher; some up 50 cents; top $12.75.
Cattle—Steers steady to weak; top $20.25.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (UP)—Utilities held around their best levels for more than 12 years in an irregular, quiet stock market today.

Industrials and rails eased, but rallied from their lows. Oil issues had a few strong spots with gains running to more than a point.

Several special issues moved widely—a point or so on either side of the market.

Market experts said the list behaved very well with cautious buying in the face of considerable selling. The market met resistance in the previous session after rallying sharply through the month of January. That rise brought the industrial averages near 10-year highs.

Nash Cuts Price For 2 Car Lines

DETROIT, Feb. 2 (AP)—Nash Motors cut prices $20 to $60 today on its Rambler and Statesman lines.

"The reductions are being made in anticipation of lowering manufacturing costs which should result from increased volume," said H. G. Doss, vice president in charge of sales.

With the cuts, the lowest priced Nash—a Rambler two-door club sedan—now sells for $1,650 at the factory.

No reduction was made on Nash's top line, the Ambassador. Prices on this line were cut $98 to $160 last November.

Life Term Given In Bannock Case

POCATELLO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Oscar Kenneth Carey, 32, Boise, the first person in Bannock county history to be convicted as an habitual offender, has been sentenced to life imprisonment on a burglary charge.

He was sentenced Monday by District Judge W. V. Loofbourrow after a jury found him guilty two weeks ago of burglarizing the office of Pocatello attorney F. E. Tydeman Aug. 9.

Sentence was delayed because of an operation on Carey to amputate an infected toe.

Spirited Bidding Ups Grazing Fee

BOISE, Feb. 2 (AP)—Spirited bidding at the state land department yesterday caused a steep upsurge in the value of state owned grazing lands in Owyhee, Canyon, Ada and Washington counties.

The department said the Highland Livestock and Land company, boise, outbid all competitors to pay $1 per acre per year for 504 acres in Ada county originally leased for 6¾ cents. The company also paid 50 cents per acre for 640 acres in Canyon county, originally valued at 12½ cents.

T. F. and Edward C. Johnson and Harold Markley, all Nampa, agreed to pay 26 cents for 640 acres of land in Owyhee county that used to lease for 8 ¾ cents, and Jim Hennessey, Weiser, bid 50 cents for 640 acres in Washington county originally valued at 12½ cents.

City Panel Okays Celebration, Passes Fire, Milk Ordinances

the commission will select the winner from the three.

Land at the old airport was leased to the Southern Idaho Motor Racing, Inc. The lease is for five years, and can be renewed after five years. Rental will be open to negotiation. Present rental will be $50 for the first year, $100 the second year and $150 for each of the last three years.

P. L. Lawrence and four other representatives of the LDS church asked elimination of some proposed streets at the site of a new church on Maurice street. Lawrence said the proposed streets would have no value since the church purchased the property involved. The matter was referred to the planning and zoning commission.

A resolution was passed opposing dredging of Snake river near Shoshone falls. It authorized the commissioners and city attorney to attend a protest meeting Saturday.

City Manager J. R. Latimore advised the board it has been city policy to call for bids each year to lease three small pieces of city property for pasture and farming. The same people generally renew their leases. He said the attorney has decided it is not necessary to call for bids. The board agreed to lease the land on the same terms as last year. The land is located at the filter plant near the golf course and around the reservoir.

The city manager reported on injuries to city employes during 1953. He said the board has the power under a recent ordinance to grant full pay for employes injured on duty. On his recommendation, the board denied full-time pay for 1953 injuries.

There were two major injuries during the year. Roy Parker broke a leg while working on a garbage truck. Latimore claimed he disregarded safety regulations. Parker was out 76 days at the end of the year and still has not returned to work. Pete Landholm injured a leg while trimming trees and was out of work 41 days before the new setup was installed.

C. O. (Buddy) Cox asked the board if the city will condemn the building where his doughnut shop was destroyed by fire last week. Latimore said the building code prohibits repairs where damage is greater than 25 per cent without complying with new fire regulations.

Latimore said the city could condemn the property if the damaged buildings are not torn down in a reasonable time and are a hazard. However, he said such action is complicated and unlikely.

Ballelsen said the traffic and safety engineer for the state highway department is not going to tell the city how to write its traffic ordinance, but an agreement will be reached. He said he expects it will be ready next week. The city attorney said he feels any changes will be for the better. He said the highway department does not feel it has the power to approve the city traffic code.

The board authorized reinvestment of $18,000 in bond funds.

The police judge reported $1,274 in fines, bonds and costs collected during January.

The building inspector reported $419.65 in fees collected in January.

Methodist Group Holds Dedication

HAGERMAN, Feb. 2—The Rev. Harry Starbuck was speaker at the James Frederick Roberts memorial pulpit dedication at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

The call to worship, invocation, and litany of dedication were given by the Rev. Donald Crego, pastor of the Wendell and Hagerman Methodist churches. The "Lord's Prayer" was accompanied by Mrs. John W. Jones who also played the prelude. Responsive reading was led by Esta Lou Roberts, MYF president. The scripture was read by Charles Moyman, vice president.

Presentation of the memorial was made by Fred Roberts, John Townsend accepted it. The benediction was given by the Rev. Mr. Crego.

Preceding the services a potluck dinner was served to 175 persons with Mrs. Charles Skinner and Mrs. Harry Snodgrass in charge. The MYF group from Wendell church attended.

W. V. Robinson Rites Conducted

Funeral services for Williard Vincent (Vint) Robinson were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the White mortuary chapel by the Rev. Richard DeVilliers, pastor, First Christian church.

Nellelh Ostrom Babcock was organist and soloist.

Pallbearers were Glenn Richmond, Floyd Richmond, Ray Richmond, T. V. Richmond, Robert Bandy and Jack Burdick.

Concluding rites were held in Sunset Memorial park.

Soil Plan to Be Aired at Parley

BUHL, Feb. 2—Plans for organizing a soil conservation district for the west end of Twin Falls county will be discussed at a meeting of west end farmers and ranchers p.m. Wednesday at the Buhl VFW hall.

Boundaries and other organization details of the proposed district will be reviewed. Edgar Lierman, Clover, is chairman of the organizing committee. All interested farmers and ranchers are invited to attend.

Interest Is Great On Feeding Tour

JEROME, Feb. 2—County Agent Virgil Cross reports that interest is running high for the annual Jerome county feeders tour Thursday. He said he has received numerous inquires about the event and many cattle feeders have indicated they will attend.

The tour will start at 9:30 a. m. at Don Silvers' ranch one mile south and one-half mile east of Eden, six stops will be made before lunch at 12:30 p. m. at the Eden Grange hall.

Following lunch a panel discussion will be held by E. F. Rinehart, extension animal husbandryman; Carl Haney, production credit corporation; Drue Dunn, representating the retail stores, and Henry Jones. The last stop on the tour will be held at 4 p. m. at Henry Jones' feed lot.

Bus Costs Go Up in Jerome

JEROME, Feb. 2 — Contract for school buses for the Jerome school district was let at a special meeting of the school board Monday to Titus, Inc., Jerome. The contract shows an increase of six cents a mile.

Frank Titus, who has held the contract for the last six years, said the increase represents rising costs over the last three years.

The last three-year contract was for 28.8 cents a mile and the new contract is for 34.8 cents a mile. It covers six 60-passenger and three 48-passenger buses. The contract also calls for two new 60-passenger buses to replace two of the small buses.

Titus, in commenting on the rising operating costs, said the bid of his firm still is below the state average.

Tax Liens Filed

Four notices of federal income tax liens have been filed with the county recorder.

They include, James J. and Helen Shamess, Buhl, $117.75; James J. Shamess, $81.6; Helen L. Shamess and Bea Quinn Amburgey, $805 and $628.80, and Helen L. Shamess, $415.26.

Radio Test Is Made by Unit Of Observers

JEROME, Feb. 2—A test to prove the importance of the ham radio operator during an emergency was demonstrated here Thursday night at a meeting of the Jerome ground observance corps at the city hall. It took Howard Bird, operator, with a mobile unit, only seven minutes to transmit and receive a message to Bishop, Calif., Meridian and the Boise filter center to get a reply back.

Following the test, the business meeting was held with five new members attending. The five, Frank E. Peterson, Jeanne Young, Evelyn Reasch, Anna May Mathews and Frank Showers, were fingerprinted and briefed on the progress of the Jerome unit.

Mrs. Bird said the Jerome post has trained more than 50 persons and almost all are available for service. The unit has the same supervisor, Mrs. Bird and chief observer, Doris Coleman, it had when it was organized.

Mrs. Bird appointed Mrs. Coleman, chief observer; Dean Showers, assistant chief; Anna Mae Mathews, alternate chief; Mrs. Reasch, reporter; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hessler, safety council representatives; Iva Lean Watson, air craft magazine and other literature chairman, and Joanne Young, distribution of literature.

Next meeting of the corps will be held at 8 p.m. March 2 at the high school.

In normal times, Indonesia exports more rubber than is consumed in the United States.

Evangelist

RAY MURPHY

. . . who is leading a three-week series of special meetings at the Assembly of God church, Second avenue and Fifth street east. Services are being held at 7:45 p. m. daily except Saturday. Special music and singing are scheduled. The Rev. Mr. Murphy, Boise, has traveled extensively in the U. S. and Canada.

PTA Unit to Meet

SHOSHONE, Feb. 2—The February meeting of room representatives of the PTA will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Lincoln school cafeteria.

Mrs. S. M. Hall will conduct the business meeting and Mrs. Burton Thorne will present the study group lesson.

Carey Inventor Markets New Device to Dock Lambs' Tails

CAREY, Feb. 2—An invention patented by a Carey resident, is ready for the sheep market this year. The device is the result of three years labor and 12 years of experiment. Originator of the tool is Ron Dedman, Carey resident since 1904. Partner in the manufacturing and marketing of the product is Cliff Orchard, also Carey.

The "Twist-Off Docker" is constructed of steel and sponge rubber with an automatic handle adjustment. It is being used extensively this year by Carey sheepmen to dock lambs' tails.

The tool works on the same principle as the one used when tails are twisted off by hand.

Sheepmen generally have abandoned this means of docking for faster ways.

There are three popular methods now in general use by sheepmen. The use of rubber bands wound tightly around a lamb's tail is one of the more recent trends. This stops blood circulation and within two or three weeks the dangling tail rots away and drops off. Some sheepmen claim the lamb suffers considerable pain, loss of appetite and consequently considerable valuable weight.

Burning off the tail also has been done for many years by sheepmen. This action also is painful to the lamb and increases chances of infection. The burn leaves a large scab.

Cutting off the tails with a sharp knife also has been widely practiced. Because of such a great loss of blood, this method has all but disappeared.

Three years of demonstrating and comparing results with the "Twist-Off Docker" show it is superior to all other methods, the inventor claims. It also is the most humane way of removing tails for within a few minutes after the operation the lamb jumps and plays around as though nothing had happened. Only two or three drops of blood are shed when the tail is removed, Dedman claims. The twisting process automatically seals the blood vessels and the small wound heals from the inside out in a very short time, he said.

The lambs have no loss of appetite and continue to grow, he added. He said he has used his machine on lambs weighing as much as sixty-five pounds and the results have been the same as on a small one.

Dedman reports that Dilworth brothers, Carey sheepmen, used his invention for the removal of all their lambs' tails last year. Their lambs were born in February. A neighbor of the Dilworth's lambed out in January and used conventional docking methods. The two herds of sheep were fed the same type of feed rations and were ranged together during the pre-shipping months. At shipping time the Dilworth lambs, born a month later, were only three pounds lighter than the other lambs.

MEETING CALLED

SHOSHONE, Feb. 2—A meeting of area missions commissions for the Methodist church will be held at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday at the Gooding Methodist church. Work of the commission will be explained at that time. William Kerner, north of Shoshone, is chairman of the Shoshone group.

Damages Sought For Auto Mishap

Elmer Annis seeks a $6,506.65 judgment against William C. Moore in a civil action filed in district court here Monday.

The case resulted from an automobile accident at a county road intersection two miles west of South Park Oct. 21, 1953. Annis claims he was driving westward and had entered the intersection when a car driven by Moore hit the side of his vehicle.

Annis further charges the accident resulted from the wrongful and negligent acts of the defendant.

The plaintiff asks the court to award him $1,081.37 for damages to his car and $5,425.28 personal damages and medical expense. H. N. Jewell represents Annis.

Events Observed

HAGERMAN, Feb. 2—Stake missionary night was observed at the LDS church Sunday evening. Leo Grover conducted the meeting and the speakers included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moyes and Wilbur Cline.

Opening prayer was given by Wallace Crowsley. Mrs. Clyde Hatch, accompanied by Janet Sherwood, sang. Mrs. D. H. Gold, primary president, introduced Mrs. Ella Robinson, Jerome, stake historian, who spoke on the children's hospital in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Jack Allen, Hagerman, also spoke on the hospital.

BOARD TO MEET

SHOSHONE, Feb. 2—The February PTA executive board meeting will be held at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at the high school.
