Power Loss Seen In Delay of Dams

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 11 (AP)—The Columbia basin interagency committee forecast yesterday a loss of about 19 million dollars in power revenue will result from delays in completion dates of The Dalles and Grand Coulee dams.

The budget bureau has recommended a seven million dollar cut in the Chief Joseph dam appropriation for 1948, leaving the million dollars. The bureau has recommended a $34,100,000 appropriation for The Dalles dam in 1949, but Mr. W. Schuchman, secretary of the OIAO, said $48 million was needed to put power on the line in 1947.

'Super Road' Survey Set by State Bureau

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—State Highway Engineer Earl V. Miller took steps today toward the long-range planning of a four-lane highway from Pocatello to Idaho Falls, but he warned that actual construction was still a long way off.

He also said that a request by Idaho's cities for a two million dollar grant from the state to build the highway would be answered by the result of a highway needs survey now being made.

Miller told a meeting of the state highway board here that no funds have yet been budgeted for the east Idaho superhighway, but he said the route would be surveyed and long-range plans developed.

He showed the board a detailed map of the initial plans for the road, indicating what right-of-way remains to be purchased.

The board agreed with Miller that the first step in the plan was development of the road in the Blackfoot area. Long range plans include a four lane system over parts of the highway, Miller said.

But board chairman Roscoe Rich said the department would not be ready for that type of construction for "about 25 years."

Miller's remarks on the highway needs survey followed a warning by Leonard Sloan, board member from Orofino, that the department would have to be prepared to tell the legislature just who pays the taxes for the use and how much the cities and counties get in return.

The directors of the Idaho Municipal League charged two weeks ago that the state is not doing its share from the fund, which is raised by license fees on all motor vehicles and taxes on gas and oil.

The board also agreed to a proposal of the Jerome highway authority that the state contribute $5,000 toward a $10,000 fund for improvements in the Jerome north road, and it concurred in the award of contracts totaling $44,000.

Grass Creates Range Threat

MOBOW, Feb. 11 (AP)—Medusa-head, which is spreading across Idaho ranges, threatens to cause as much trouble as the character of Greek mythology after which it is named.

R. W. Fiddle, head of range management in the University of Idaho college of forestry, said Wednesday the range wood already "is a serious problem in Washington, Payette and Gem counties and approaching the critical stage in Elmore, Ada, Adams and Nez Perce counties. The estimated area is estimated at 30,000 acres.

It threatens to cause more trouble than halibut, the sheep-killing weed, as it spreads across the state, he said.

The annual grass is distinguished by beards which spiral like snakes. They're why it's named after Medusa of Greek mythology, and the monstrous Gorgon sisters, noted for their horrible looks and mean dispositions. Fiddle said the grass is head while looking at the reflection in his shield, and gave the trophy to Alben.

Fiddle said that although Medusa-head isn't poisonous, it is not palatable and seriously reduces the grazing capacity of the range. It also has been pretty much confined to certain bounds, he added, but Medusa-head has not been confined.

Henry Lee Loving Dies at Age of 84

PIEDMONT, Feb. 11—Henry Lee Loving, 84, was found dead in his cabin at Piedmont at 11 a.m. Wednesday by Ernest Bosley and Claude Burgess. Burgess said he hadn't seen smoke coming from the cabin for a couple of days so he went to investigate and found Mr. Loving dead. Dr. Robert H. Wright, Blaine county coroner, said that Mr. Loving died Monday night following a heart attack.

Mr. Loving was born July 8, 1869, in Missouri. He moved across the plains in a covered wagon at the age of 10 with his father and two brothers. They settled in Bradley Hills where he lived the rest of his life. He was the oldest Woodbury valley resident. He was a rancher and a lifelong member of the Farmers church.

He is survived by five nieces. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Piedmont with George White officiating. Burial will be conducted at the Piedmont cemetery.

Prisoner Pleads To See His Book

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 11 (AP)—Convict Cyril Chessman pleaded with a judge today to postpone his execution in San Quentin as he clamored long enough to see his book in print.

Chessman, sentenced to die under California's "lethal injection" law, was convicted of kidnapping and raping two women.

The book, "Cyril 2488, Death Row," was purchased by Prentice Hall, New York, for $10,000 plus royalties. It will be published July 26.

Chessman, 35, is scheduled to die next week.

Key Urges More Liberal Park Policies

EMERSON, Feb. 11—The key urged more liberal park policies today at a meeting of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The key said that the national parks are the only places where the people can get away from the city and enjoy the beauty of nature.

He said that the parks are a great asset to the country and that they should be protected and maintained for the enjoyment of future generations.

He urged the chamber to take action to support the parks and to lobby for more liberal policies from the federal government.

Name Mixup Leads to $14,000 Bonanza Then Jail for Driver

FRESNO, Calif., Feb. 11 (UPI)—Truck driver Jesse H. Perry insisted today he couldn't be blamed if he spent some $14,000 a bank gave him by mistake.

"What would you do?" he asked. But federal agents were equally insistent that the 33-year-old Caruthers, Calif., man make some explanation of why he accepted money held in trust for another "J. H. Perry."

From his county jail cell Perry denied any intention of defrauding Santa Rosa, Calif., bank.

"I didn't steal any money. The bank just gave it to me," he said. "What would you do?"

"With all that money, I quit my job and really had myself a ball," he reminisced happily.

The error was discovered after a J. H. Perry, Salt Lake City, inquired about the funds he had initiated to the bank. He was informed that $14,000.25 already had been released to "J. H. Perry."

Only then did bank officials discover Jack Harry Perry had deposited the money in deeds and trusts, not truck driver Jesse.

Jesse explained that he was called to the bank in 1951 and after identifying himself as J. H. Perry, he was "given a pack of papers to sign—a power of attorney I think—and then they gave me a cashier's check for $14,000."

"No one in the bank ever asked me if that was my money or how come I was getting it," the truck driver said. He said he decided that "somebody had left me the money"—and, anyway, he wasn't one to look a gift horse in the mouth.

Court Ruling Puts Rein on State Jobless

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Idaho workers were given notice by the state supreme court today that they can lose their eligibility for unemployment compensation if they leave the "labor market."

Justice Darwin W. Thomas wrote in a unanimous opinion that an unemployed worker must do more than actively seek a job and be available for suitable work to receive payments under the law.

"No hard and fast rule as to what constitutes availability should be or perhaps could be adopted," Thomas wrote, but such a worker must be "able, ready and willing to accept and is seeking suitable work at a point where an available labor market exists."

He ruled that Clarence M. Sapp, a Boise taxi driver, had forfeited his right to compensation when he left his job in Boise and went to Shelbyville, Ill., in 1952, knowing there was little chance of finding a job there.

H. Fred Garrett, executive director of the Idaho employment security agency, said the decision "confirms the policy we have been following all along."

He hailed it as a "well-written decision defining terms in the law" and said it would make enforcement of the agency's policy easier.

Sapp was awarded unemployment compensation by Idaho when he applied for it in Illinois, having filed but failed to find work there.

But the state industrial accident board, which handles appeals in unemployment cases, ordered the benefits refunded on the grounds that Sapp had voluntarily left the labor market in Boise, Sapp appealed.

Thomas said he agreed with the board that Sapp's trip to an area where jobs were scarce meant he was no longer "available for suitable work," within the meaning of the state unemployment compensation law.

But he ruled that Sapp need not refund the payments because his claim that he was available for work was not a misstatement of fact, but rather an erroneous conclusion.

Power Policy Parley Okays Plan on Fund

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 11 (AP)—The northwest governors' power policy committee adopted a tentative budget of $40,000 for 1964 to cover costs of a permanent engineering staff.

The engineering committee's report to the governors estimated the annual cost of an engineering and clerical staff at $80,000, but pointed out that only half that amount would be necessary for the remainder of this year.

Gov. Len Jordan of Idaho presided at the third meeting of the governors committee Wednesday.

He said the tentative $40,000 budget should be adopted with the understanding private utilities would put up half the amount and the state and other interested agencies the rest.

Private utilities representatives had indicated their organizations would comply.

Meeting the rest of the budget was put on the agenda for the governors' next meeting to be held in March.

The governors also unanimously approved an engineering committee recommendation to add an engineer from the northwest power pool with his participation limited to consultation and interchange of data.

First meeting of the new unit will be Feb. 24 at the home of Mrs. R. L. Hummerfield, 2086 Addison Avenue East.

Easter Seal Drive Details Are Outlined at Meet

The annual Easter seal fund drive of Crippled Children's Society of Idaho was set for March 15 to April 18 during a meeting of state and Camas Valley society officials here Wednesday night.

Theo H. Wegener, Boise, president of the society, said the drive dates will be observed by county chapters throughout the state.

During the dinner meeting held at the Turf club, the group discussed programs and services carried out by the society last year.

Wegener said 128 children, representing almost every county in the state, were served by the society last year. The services included physical therapy, medical care, transportation to medical centers and purchases of aid and appliances for children.

Another part of the meeting was used to show slides of children from nine counties now under treatment at the Easter seal center at Boise.

The coming drive, Wegener said, will feature the mailing of 435,000 solicitation letters throughout the state selling paper Easter lilacs. Coin containers will also be used in the drive. The state quota has been set at $50,000.

John Daly, Twin Falls, chairman of the county drive here last year, has accepted the chairmanship for the 1964 effort. He will set up a committee later to help work out campaign details. A similar organization will be set up in other counties throughout the state, Wegener said.

Attending the meeting here in addition to Wegener were Stuart H. Taylor, Twin Falls, district vice president of the society; Kenneth V. Thomas, Boise, executive director of the organization; and Howard Adams, Shoshone; H. H. Judd, Rupert; W. H. Muffley, Fairfield; R. M. Robinson, Gooding; all county trustees; and Mrs. Lola Robbins, Camas county chairman, and Daly.

Junior Invitational Ski Meet Set This Week-End at Magic Mountain; 40 Entered

Approximately 40 skiers are expected to participate in the junior invitational ski meet on Saturday and Sunday at Magic Mountain. Invitations have been extended to high school skiers from Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Nevada and Oregon. The downhill races will be held on the rugged three-fourth-mile face run. The slalom races are set for the same day. Spectators are welcome to attend both days' activities. The racing will begin at approximately noon each day with the drawing for racing positions at 11 a.m.

Of the top skiers already entered in the meet are Clark Monk and Wayne McAtee, Sun Valley, winners of several top junior events last year. Also expected to be in the meet are Alex Brewer, junior skier two years ago in the Sun Valley region.

Two high school skiers, Jim Douglas and Tom Jones, are expected to be in the meet. Douglas is a good skier and has won the junior slalom at the Magic Mountain meet last year and last week took the slalom in the Jackson Hole event in competition with skiers from five western states.

Jim Douglas, Twin Falls high school skier, shows the form that won him the junior slalom title for the intermountain region and the top combined honors in the Jackson Hole, Wyo., junior event last week-end. Eastern Oregon Five Challenges Rest of Group for Scoring Lead Discovered this week in the wide of eastern Oregon, two sharpshooting collegians immediately shouldered into the Pacific northwest scoring parade to challenge the clannish group which seemed to have taken up permanent residence at the top of the heap.

The torrid two are Ted Shadewitz and Larry Pryse, Eastern Oregon College at La Grande. Checking their performance for the season, sports editor Sherm Mitchell, jr., of the Walla Walla Union-Bulletin found both were averaging better than 20 points per game and rank this week with the region's top seven.

Don Porter, Portland State, pounded into the lead by boosting his average to 24.3 points per game while Gonzaga's Jerry Varmillion skidded to fourth after three low scoring games, but his average to 22.1.

Oregon State's Wade Holbrook scooted around Vermillion into second with 23.5 and Shadewitz grabbed third spot with 22.7. College of Idaho's ace, R. C. Owens, retained fifth place and Joe Pehanick, Seattle University, fell to sixth.

Pehanick remained in front on total score with 510 for the season, counting games through last Saturday. Holbrook's 470 kept him in second place and Porter ranks third with 409.

Pryse has a par of 20.5 to earn seventh place on the basis of average, followed by Phil Jordan, Whitworth, with 19.4 and Jackie May, St. Martin's, with 18.9. Only three others were over 18, Dick Edwards, Eastern Washington, with 16.5, Norm Bennett, Washington State, with 16.0, and Norm Hubert, Pacific, at 15.2.

Australia's Landy Plans New Crack At Mile Record

SYDNEY, Feb. 11 (AP)—John Landy will take another crack at the world mile record on Thursday before a crowd including the Duke of Edinburgh, but the weather may be against him. The time of the race was changed from 5:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. local time (1 a.m. Thursday, MST) to enable the Duke, visiting here with Queen Elizabeth, to attend. The Australians are calling the "mile of the century," has been dampened by nearly an hour of rain, which was still continuing late Wednesday.

Unless the rain slackens, there appears little hope of a record or a near-record performance although the Australian comet will face his strongest competition of the season. In the field will be Finland's Denis Johansson, who was clocked in four minutes, four seconds at Compton, Calif., last week, and four Australians who have been racing against Landy during the past year.

Landy's best time was 4:03 which he ran at Olympic park in Melbourne on Dec. 12. Last year he registered miles of 4:02.2 and 4:02.4. The present record is 4:01.4 set by Gunder Hegge in 1945.

Despite the possibility of a slow track, Johansson predicted Landy might run the fastest mile ever. He counted himself out because of lack of training.

"I saw Landy run last month and I have never seen anything like it," the Finnish speedster said. "Anybody who can run a mile in four minutes and two seconds without serious competition, like Landy has done, is a unique person."

Pupil Enrollment Boost Is Expected

RUPERT, Feb. 11.—Minkota county officials expect a boost in pupil enrollment at least 70 pupils when school opens in the fall as a result of the opening of the 72 homesteads in the county.

A survey of the homesteaders indicates there is at least a child in each of the 72 homesteads. In addition, there are many other children of the homesteaders who will be entering school in the next two or three years.

The survey by school officials was made by mail and practically all of the homesteaders have replied to the questionnaires sent them.

School trustees also point out that other homesteaders will be opened on the purchase of the 72 homesteads, which will be the basis of the present survey the increase in school enrollment as a result will be great.
