

Action by Senate on Proposed Tax Measure Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Treasury Secretary George C. Marshall called today for quick senate action on the proposed tax bill to clear the way for "the creation of new jobs and the vital expansion of our economy."

Secretary Marshall said in a major speech prepared for the opening session of the American Society of News Editors that the government must be "expedient" in its action on the bill. "We are not now headed for a depression," he said, "but new jobs must be found for workers who are unemployed because of the sharp cutback in government expenditures."

Secretary Marshall's statements were in a major speech prepared for the opening session of the American Society of News Editors. More than 100 executives have gathered in Washington to take a first-hand look at the tax reform bill, said Secretary Marshall. "The bill would have a tremendous effect upon the economy," he said, "and it is important that it be passed as soon as possible."

Hearings for FHA Furore Set Monday

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The senate banking committee today set public hearings for Monday on multimillion-dollar housing scandals.

Chairman Capehart, R., Ind., said the first witnesses would be Albert M. Cole, federal housing chief; Guy T. Holaday, resigned head of the federal housing administration, and Clyde L. Powell, assistant FHA commissioner.

The banking committee thus moved in ahead of Senator Byrd, D., Va., chairman of the senate-house committee on reduction of non-essential expenditure. Byrd already had summoned Cole to appear before his group next Tuesday.

Shortly after Capehart's announcement, Byrd said his first witness Tuesday morning would be T. Coleman Andrews, chief of the bureau of internal revenue.

May Open Files
President Eisenhower was reported to be ready to open government tax files for the banking committee. By law, income tax returns are kept secret even from congress but the President has authority to let Congressional investigators look at them.

Some committee members nonetheless felt strongly the inquiry would at least slow up Eisenhower's housing program and perhaps kill it altogether for this session of congress.

Senator Capehart said he talked to the White House and expected to receive shortly a list of at least 251 firms or individuals "who were beneficiaries of big windfalls" aggregating 100 million dollars.

Oaths Planned
"We'll get the worst ones up here and put them under oath," Capehart said in an interview. "Probably" he would confer with Attorney General Brownell, at Brownell's request, on possible indictments which might come out of parallel probes by the committee itself, the banking committee, and the senate-house committee on reduction of non-essential government expenditures.

"There was a strong feeling among some banking committee members, who asked that they not be quoted by name that the investigation could torpedo Eisenhower's new housing program."

Draggins Starts
For Body of Man
GOODING, April 15—Draggins operations were started Wednesday afternoon in Snake river by a crew of men under Sheriff Keith Anderson for the body of Paul Van Hoesen, 28, Twin Falls, who drowned in the river near Niagara springs Sunday afternoon.

Searchers have been prevented from dragging the river by the high, swift water for the last few days. The water has receded considerably since Sunday, however, and Sheriff Anderson decided to try dragging for the body.

Outlook Dims In Rio Grande Valley Floods

ALAMO, Tex., April 15 (AP)—Lower Rio Grande valley flood waters which have driven more than 4,000 persons from their homes rose still higher today, and the U. S. weather bureau at Brownsville predicted the valley's heavily overcast skies would yield more rains.

Showers were forecast for both today and tomorrow. More than three inches of rain fell yesterday on a Hidalgo county area of roughly 100 square miles, which includes seven flooded cities and thousands of acres of farmland.

The Hidalgo county Red Cross disaster chairman said the figure of 4,000 routed from homes was a "conservative estimate." He also reported an urgent need for nurses in Alamo.

Schools were closed today. Juan and Alamo, which are in the flood area, are not yet receiving anti-typhoid inoculations.

Bill Disposing
Of Some Atom
Towns Urged
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Administration legislation was introduced in the house and senate today to dispose of the government-owned communities at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Richland, Wash., atomic installations.

The bill, introduced by Rep. W. Sterling Cole, R., N. Y., and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., calls for turning the communities over to local governments as soon as they can be established.

Los Alamos May Go
They said in a joint announcement that the government-owned community at Los Alamos, N. M., "in the very near future" may also be disposed of. But their legislation does not include Los Alamos.

They said the bill was worked out with the approval of the atomic energy commission. It provides:

1. AEC assistance to residents in the establishment of local self-government.

2. As soon as local self-governments are set up, the AEC will be prepared to transfer governmental responsibilities and donate municipal facilities to them.

3. Subsequent to transfer of government functions to the local governments, the AEC will have divested itself of all power and responsibility over local decisions.

Mrs. Pfof to Mail Out Power Leaflet; Plan Hit by Patten

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Rep. Grace Pfof, D., Ida., announced yesterday she will send out public power leaflets, which raised a furore over the use of the congressional frank of Rep. Harold A. Patten, D., Ariz., under her own frank. When told of her action, Representative Patten denounced the action and announced he will seek to have "expunged" from the Congressional Record his insertion of material relating to the proposed public power initiative, whose chief proponent is Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls attorney. It was printed in the Record of Feb. 25.

Check Going on for New Security Risks

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The defense department is carefully checking all military and civilian personnel to determine if any possible security risks are in a position to learn military secrets.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson disclosed he had ordered the security review when questioned at a news conference late yesterday about the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, top scientist who has been denied access to atomic secrets pending a special security investigation.

Wilson said he knew of no other scientist of Oppenheimer's prominence deprived of access to secrets. But he said the department is "going over everything in the present security regulations for civilians and military people as well."

Has Sympathy
Wilson said he sympathized with "anyone who made a mistake and reformed. But I think they ought to be reformed somewhere else than in military services."

He apparently was referring to the fact that Oppenheimer, who has admitted past associations with communists, served as a consultant to the defense department's research and development board before it was abolished last July.

Probe Is Pushed
Meanwhile, the special atomic energy commission board pushed ahead in tightest secrecy in its investigation of Oppenheimer. Members hoped to reach a decision on whether Oppenheimer is a security risk to be called "not known" or "not a security risk."

Oppenheimer, a leading atomic physicist, denies he ever belonged to the communist party, and asserts he is a loyal American.

But Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., claims he has affidavits to prove the scientist has been "a communist party member."

The atomic energy commission said President Eisenhower stripped Oppenheimer of further access to A-bomb and H-bomb secrets because of "substantial derogatory information" supplied by the justice department. Most of the 16 allegations against Oppenheimer have been investigated before and found without basis.

Fire Chief Steve Taylor said the fire seemed to jump from an explosion which spread flames throughout the building in a few seconds. The fire spread to a dwelling, believed empty, across an alley.

While firemen battled this blaze, another fire was noted in the back of a pickup truck a short distance away. Taylor said some one had poured oil in the truck but the fire was discovered in time to prevent serious damage.

Another Alarm
Firemen were just bringing the bottling company fire under control when another alarm sent them to a transfer and storage company warehouse. Taylor said this fire also seemed to spread all at once.

Fire fighters had just returned to headquarters at 10:30 p.m. when another call sent them to a fire company building. The last blaze was caught before it gained headway and firemen controlled it with little trouble.

Damage was heavy at the bottling company building and the warehouse, Taylor said.

Amendment in Law Foreseen
Caldwell, April 15 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert E. Smylie, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said today he feels "the abrasive effects" of the school reorganization program in some areas of Idaho may require amendment of the 5-year-old law.

"Few children are educated in classrooms," Smylie declared, "and we need to do what is necessary to get the educational program out of court and into new school rooms so that the children themselves will be served."

Smylie's remarks, in a speech prepared for the Washington Junior high school Parent-Teachers association, were an apparent reference to a suit filed two months ago by a group of Idaho county residents challenging the constitutionality of the 1947 school reorganization law.

INFORMATION SOUGHT
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Atomic committee leaders asked congress today to authorize this country to give its friends information on military use of A-bombs and H-bombs and materials with which to set up peacetime atomic power projects.

Army Says McCarthy Gave His Consent to "Threats" by Aide
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—An army "bill of particulars" on its row with Senator McCarthy, R., Wis., asserts that it was in McCarthy's presence and with his "consent" that Roy Cohn voiced "threats" to army officials if Pvt. G. David Schine did not receive favored treatment.

Senator McCarthy, D., Mo., made public the army document today which alleges in general that McCarthy and some of his aides "sought by improper means" to get special treatment for Schine, a former McCarthy aide who was drafted last November.

The army gave the document to the senate investigations subcommittee yesterday as an outline of what it would offer when public hearings are held on the row. These are now tentatively scheduled to open next Thursday.

The document asserts that Cohn, youthful chief counsel to the subcommittee, in McCarthy's presence voiced "threats" to "cause the army to be exposed in its worst light and to demonstrate to the country how shabby it was being run" if Schine did not get favored treatment.

Easter Topic Discussed at Session Here
Easter is a "celebration of a philosophy of life, a triumphant idea of what life is, not only here in America, but everywhere and for ever," a Twin Falls clergyman told the Kiwanis club Thursday.

Illustrating his talk with a chalk sketch, the Rev. W. A. MacArthur, pastor of the First Methodist church, told the Kiwanis, meeting for their weekly noon luncheon in the Legion hall, that "man was created and designed for something more than the physical and the here and now."

"When He created man," the clergyman declared, "He created the soul, and man is created in the image of God, which in itself places man apart from the animal creations."

Concluding, he pointed out that the "body can be broken or destroyed, but the real self is indestructible."

As Rev. MacArthur ended his talk, he completed a chalk sketch depicting the hill of Golgotha with the three familiar crosses as seen from the entrance of Christ's tomb.

Seven students of the Twin Falls business college, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Helen Cannon, sang three numbers. The singers were Catherine Weaver, Shirley Keatler, LaPrise Beamons, Ardean Howells, Lois Gowens, Carol Lawry, and Marjorie Stansel.

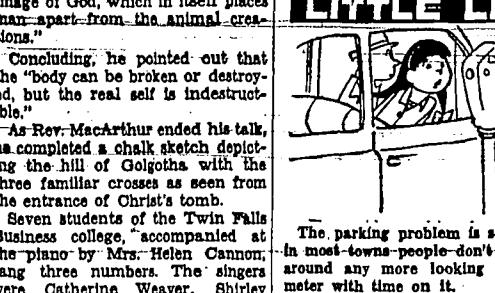

Following luncheon, 50 signatures were obtained on dredge mining initiative proposed petitions circulated by Al Cutting and O. A. Kelker.

Don E. Painter was Don E. Painter, pastor of the Rev. Kenneth E. Allen, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, accompanied the Rev. R. O. Muhly.

Following the regular session, President Charles Allen conducted a board meeting.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Atomic experts at the Pentagon and in Capitol Hill have always been more reluctant to share nuclear secrets with Britain or other allies than the scientists and the Presidents who authorized actual development of the A and H-bombs—Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

Even today, the nonmilitary and nonpolitical groups favor greater dissemination of information now classified as confidential.

Three stubborn men were responsible for the 1948 modification of the secret Roosevelt-Churchill agreement, negotiated at Quebec in 1945, on the use of the A-bomb and exchange of nuclear data. They were the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan, then chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Sen. Bourke H. Hickenlooper, Iowa, then head of the joint-congressional committee on atomic energy; and the late James V. Forrestal, then secretary of defense.

Although the trio had occupied major roles in the supposedly bipartisan conduct of World War II, they did not learn of the Quebec pact until July, 1947, four years after it had been made.

POT SHOTS

LOGICAL SWITCH?

Dear Pots:

Someone, somewhere is missing a good bet. For months, we've heard about the huge dairy surplus and pleas to "do something" about it. Yet little has been done.

And for quite a spell now, we've seen the price of coffee go up and up. Matter of fact, if the habit weren't so firmly rooted, the stuff should be just about in the luxury class by now. But do folks stop drinking coffee? Apparently not, judging from that business in your Life in Magic Valley column last week.

So here's the logical solution: Let's all swear off coffee, go to drinking a glass of milk instead. This will have several results, as I see them:

1. Better not speak to anyone before noon.
2. The increased consumption will eliminate the dairy surplus problem in time, increase the demand for liquid milk and thus force up the price of same.
3. Drastically curtail the demand for coffee which will result in a big decrease in coffee. This will make it possible for us to get back on coffee again.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

ROME—U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, almost from the first day of her arrival here a year ago, has been the target of the communist apparatus with its numerous and skillful propaganda organs. It has been a merciless, unrelenting attack carried on in newspapers and in wall posters, distorting and maligning everything that she has said and done.

Palmito Togliatti, Moscow-trained boss of the communist party, said on the floor of the parliament that she had the "evil eye," putting a curse on everything she came near.

Disagreeable as it is from day to day and week to week, the communist drumfire can be discounted and maybe even ignored. But the subtle undercover opposition of the industrialists is something else again. It is part of the dubious political balance on which the government of Prime Minister Mario Scelba is uncertainly poised.

Ambassador Luce tells the government and the industrialists that she cannot approve placing contracts in plants where the unions have a communist majority. She must try to place the work in factories dominated by non-communist unions. In some categories of work that is difficult or impossible. But, even so, Mrs. Luce points out that she could never defend before a committee of congress the awarding of a contract for military work in which communist shop stewards have so much authority, with access to all information.

The industrialists reply that most communist workers are not real communists, anyway. Furthermore, they argue that the effort to exclude big plants with communist unions is bound to create more unemployment, and unemployment make real communists.

Ambassador Luce is also trying to persuade the Scelba government to enforce another provision of the offshore aid act, which provides that the benefits of American spending be shared as widely as possible through every segment of the economy. Unfortunately, very few specific conditions were laid down in connection with the spending of the nearly three and a half billion dollars in aid.

As a result it was almost literally true that the rich got richer and the poor didn't get poorer at least their position was little improved. Since the rich have up until now paid almost no taxes it has meant the persistence of the basic injustice of a more or less feudal system in the midst of an advanced technology. It goes without saying that this has meant a heaven-sent opportunity for the communists.

Some of these things Mrs. Luce said privately when she visited America in January. What she was trying to do was to alert people back home to the dangers here. Some of her critics have said that this was not the function of an ambassador. But it did bring an awareness of the situation in Italy whereas the conflicts in France that have now

Open Hearing Is Set for Richfield

RICHFIELD, April 15—The Richfield school board Monday set a public hearing on the school budget for 5 p. m. April 22.

The proposed budget has been approved at $88,779.11. Of this amount $5,550 is for administration, $47,804 for instructional expenditures, $10,180 for fiscal plan, $2,000 for maintenance, $6,885.80 for transportation, $1,205.60 for auxiliary agencies, $10,475.50 for debt service and $5,138.20 capital outlay.

Teachers signing contracts for next year included Supt. Clinton Buig, Vern E. Thomas, commercial; H. Woodrow Ash, music and science; Raymond Saras, coach; F. R. Briggs, elementary grade principal and eighth grade instructor; Mrs. Irma Flavel, seventh grade; Mrs. Muriel Flavel, sixth; Mrs. Arvelia O'Donnell, fourth; Mrs. Violet Lemmon, third; Mrs. Jack Gardine, second, and Mrs. Blanche Williams, first.

VISITS PARENTS

MILNER, April 15—Pvt. Bill Sargent, Camp Kilmer, N. J., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Estel Sargent.

CONFLICT AND CONFUSION

The average American, even though he is accustomed to politics, prejudices and palaver, is doing some serious thinking these days, and for good reason.

He may have very definite opinions about Senator McCarthy, for instance. And likely as not he'll be strongly opinionated in his political leanings. No doubt he has expressed firm convictions as to the potentialities of the H-bomb.

But one thing for sure, he probably never was more bewildered in his entire life, trying to reconcile these strong convictions of his. And that's about the way the average American is feeling nowadays.

About the time he finally becomes convinced that Senator McCarthy is a first class stinker, something comes up to raise another doubt. Then to aggravate his confused state of mind, another bomb is set off as a grim reminder of the possibilities for total destruction.

All of this should be bringing the people of this country to a definite conclusion—that it's high time the truth should come out. The truth about McCarthy, the truth about communist infiltration into this country, the truth about the loyalty of those entrusted with the secrets bearing on this country's security.

SCRAPPING OF AGREEMENT

Although the three co-operated in forcing drastic modification, a revision which amounted to outright repeal, Vandenberg turned out to be the key figure in the change. He forced Truman and Clement E. Attlee, then labor prime minister, to reluctant scrapping of the agreement.

The Quebec agreement provided that the United States and Britain would never use the then perfected A-bomb against each other, or against a third nation without prior consultation. Since England was then our principal ally in a fierce war, and presumably always will be, this portion of the pledge did not upset Vandenberg, Hickenlooper and Forrestal so seriously as another clause.

This third provision admitted London to full partnership in development of the A-bomb, including exchange of atomic military information. As Churchill recently said in Parliament's furious debate over our latest H-bomb tests, it was intended that the agreement should remain in effect permanently. Thus, it would have required us to give London the details on all our current H-bomb secrets.

Several weeks ago, about the time it was decided to have an impartial investigation of the clash between Senator McCarthy and the army, it seemed as if McCarthy had come to the end of his rope. When he charged that attempts had been made to hold up production of the H-bomb, even President Eisenhower joined in taking exception. Ex-President Truman naturally deplored that any such effort had been made.

Now, much to the people's astonishment, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the man who directed the building of the first A-bomb and one of the first to conceive the hydrogen bomb, has been barred from all access to secret data and suspended as one of the nation's foremost atomic defense advisers, by personal order of President Eisenhower.

According to the Associated Press, Oppenheimer has readily admitted working for communist causes in the past, that his wife is an ex-communist, and that he opposed an all-out effort to build an H-bomb in 1949-50.

SENATOR VANDENBERG'S WEAPON

Vandenberg objected bitterly to this generosity, after Forrestal had flooded the terms from Truman and secret White House files. And, unlike Hickenlooper and the secretary of defense, the late Michigan senator had a weapon—he did not hesitate to use on Truman and Attlee.

As chairman, he flatly refused to hold senate foreign relations committee hearings on the Marshall plan for financial aid to England and western Europe until the President and the prime minister had consented to modification. Negotiations for revision required several weeks, and the final, formal acquiescence by Attlee reached the state department one midnight. Vandenberg called the committee into session the next morning, as he had promised.

Under this revision, only data referring to use of atomic energy for health and safety purposes could be exchanged with England. But even this mild provision provoked difficulties.

SECRET DEEMED NECESSARY—In 1948, AEC sent a scientist to Britain with a batch of information on various atomic matters. In a chance study of the material to be divulged, Adm. John G. Gribble, then AEC's security director, thought that certain revelations about the explosive qualities of plutonium should be kept secret.

He relayed his doubts to Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, now AEC chairman. The latter agreed with Gribble, and consulted Senators Vandenberg and Hickenlooper. They took their fears to Forrestal, who ordered that these details be withheld from the British.

In view of this record, and our current difficulties with Britain over H-bomb problems, the prospect of an agreement with Russia for outlawing or internationalizing nuclear energy for peacetime commercial use seems dubious.

PAY HIM PERCENTAGE

Everyone has heard stories about youngsters taking money with them when they go out to play or go to school and the resulting spending spree and/or "giveaway." The Office Worrier says it happened in his house.

The first question, naturally, concerns the amount of cash involved. This wasn't one of those cases in which a small fortune is spread over the neighborhood. Only two bills were involved, $1 and $5 bills. The smaller one was given away, later recovered.

So the Office Worrier wants to know what to do about the situation. We took the matter under advisement. After pondering all the angles, and considering how hard it is to find cash money lying around the house, we came up with this conclusion:

The Office Worrier should turn his offspring loose in the house, pay him a percentage of everything he finds!

Is it any wonder the average American is becoming confused? Is it not significant that the forces of opposition, for and against McCarthy, are drawn up generally along political lines? Could it be the McCarthy-army investigation is being delayed because this happens to be an election year?

The A-bomb was frightening enough. Then came the H-bomb which scientists tell us is capable of destroying any city on earth. Now we hear about all that sort of thing being projected to its extreme—a cobalt bomb which could destroy the earth!

And yet we go on shadow boxing with vital issue involving our country's security.

The American people should demand the truth about McCarthy, communism in government and what's behind all this wild scramble with bombs of ever-increasing powers of destruction.

Election year or no election year, politics or not, for security reasons we should have the truth without further delay.

BENSON TALKS TURKEY

Agriculture Secretary Benson came home last week-end and talked turkey to his old friends and neighbors of Utah and Idaho. Or rather, he talked in his usual frank and forthright way about the farm problem and its relation to the law of supply and demand.

Addressing the Cache Valley Breeders association, meeting at Logan, Mr. Benson reiterated his belief that flexible farm price supports will work better than high, rigid supports. He outlined again the other points of the proposed administration farm program: increased domestic and foreign consumption, emergency reserves and proper use of diverted acreage.

While the secretary was speaking, reports from Washington said that farmers of the nation are currently using some 30 million acres of land, "diverted" from wheat, corn and cotton "basic" crops to produce barley, soybeans, flaxseed, rye and other grains already in abundant supply. Thus heavy surpluses in these items are expected. Mr. Benson, though opposing more "regimentation" reportedly wants new rules so that acreage limits can be fixed for "minor" crops, making it necessary for farmers to abide by them on diverted land or forego price assistance. He also wants more funds to encourage "soil building" on "diverted" acres.

The farm problem may be too thorny for any man or group of men to solve, but Mr. Benson was completely sincere when he pledged his Idaho and Utah friends that he will never knowingly advocate any program that he believes is not in the best interests of the farmers, regardless of political pressure. Of Mr. Benson The New York Times said last week: "He knows (as does every sound economist) that the answer to agricultural over-production is not going to be found in a policy based on the Alice in Wonderland concept that it doesn't exist—that the answer lies in increasing consumption."

Mr. Benson's faith and confidence are impressive. He deserves far more support than he is getting against those who see in "pie in the sky" farm plans a sure way to win votes in November.—Salt Lake Tribune.

THE DOCTOR HAS SPUNK

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, as he reaches the mature viewpoint of middle age, is losing some of his youthful optimism.

The 87-year-old originator of the Townsend plan admitted as much to the house ways and means committee yesterday.

"It was some 20 years ago," he said, "as a comparatively young man of 65 that I first set myself the task of trying to win congress to adoption of a sound program of social security."

"In my maturity I have sometimes wondered if I was a victim of the inevitable optimism of youth in cherishing that hope."

He hasn't quite given up that optimism, however. He added, he is sure that some day "the growing army of old people will eventually discover their political power" and force congress to enact his plan.

Regardless of the merits or demerits of his plan, we admire this white-thatched doctor who, at the age of four score and seven, considers himself as only just having reached his "maturity." This youngster has a lot of persistence.—The Lewiston Tribune.

IDAHO FLAG DEMAND

There seems to be some interest in Idaho's flag, even in faraway places. For the governor's office says it receives—and turns down—about 15 requests a week for it. The state doesn't have a supply of flags for supplying such requests.

No doubt most of the organizations and individuals who write to the governor for a flag expect to get one with the excellency's compliments, and there's no telling how many of them really want it enough to pay a price.

For that matter, however, an Idahoan who wants to buy a state flag will find it somewhat less easy than shopping for a pair of triple-A shoes. Maybe someone is missing a good bet.—Dolce Statesman.

MITCHELL'S OWN IDEA

Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's letter denying party backing to California congressional candidates Robert Condon and James Roosevelt was his own idea.

Chairman Mitchell discussed the subject informally with several Democratic executive committee leaders. But there was no formal meeting of this group to approve the Mitchell policy and it was not cleared with Party Chief Adlai Stevenson.

Chairman Mitchell did considerable soul-searching and wrote several drafts of the letter to make sure it said just what he wanted it to say before he let it go.

The idea of having a national party organization clean its own house has received general commendation. But the usual practice is for a national party headquarters to keep its hands completely out of state primary contests.

There is only one known precedent for Mitchell's action in American political history, and it was considerably different. This was President Roosevelt's attempted purge of anti-new deal Democratic candidates in the 1936 congressional primaries.

Roosevelt's action was based on ideological differences. It was not on any question of personal or political turpitude, such as Messrs. Roosevelt and Condon have been accused of.

Chairman Mitchell's new policy, of taking "every proper action to protect the reputation as well as the character of our party so that it may accomplish its destiny for the common good," may be reviewed by the full Democratic National committee when it meets in Washington in May.

But there is little chance his action will be reversed.

Power Plans Defended by Idaho Solon

The position they took places them squarely in alignment with the private utility monopolies in Idaho and squarely against the best interests of the people.

Would she herself sign the proposed public resources petition, she was asked. She replied:

"I want to make it clear I have taken no stand on the initiative. I do believe, however, that the people of my state should have an opportunity to study the question. I believe in the good old-fashioned technique of full and free discussion—and let the facts prevail."

Patten said he had obtained the literature through Mrs. Frost, and she was accused by Senator Walker, R., Ida., and others of master-minding the mailing plan. She denied the charge.

Declaring, "I have been given the works" for her stand, Mrs. Frost said, "I do not intend to be bluffed, bullied or frightened by private utility interests."

She asserted she had been made the subject of editorial attacks, the theme of which she said was "get Gracie Frost" because of her opposition to the administration's "give away public power policies."

Representative Hays, D., told the house the attack on Mrs. Frost was "unprecedented" during his term in congress, and added, "I doubt if the perpetrators would have dared to do this to a man."

Mentioning no names, Hays told the house one of those who attempted to "smear" Mrs. Frost had himself allegedly "franked out 12 boxes of material" for the benefit of the real estate lobby.

Democratic House Whip McCormack, Mass., told Mrs. Frost she had "the complete respect of the Democratic leadership of the house, of representatives," and said:

"Everyone who fights for the people must expect to incur the opposition of those opposed to the best interests of the people."

In a bitter attack on the Idaho Power company and Idaho newspapers, Mrs. Frost declared they were trying to "get" her and prevent Idaho people from getting the facts about an initiative petition being circulated to give the state power to elect electric power facilities.

Mrs. Frost said Idaho news stories and editorials "about the proposal" by Representative Patten to send Idaho citizens some information about a public power initiative now being circulated in Idaho were generally so shabby and vindictive in tone that they made men in Washington wince who thought themselves long ago hardened to any sort of political attack.

"Running through every story and editorial, almost shouting out in its transparency, was this goal: 'Get Gracie Frost!'"

Mrs. Frost said the initiative move was started by Idaho citizens after Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay one year ago withdrew his department's opposition to Idaho Power company's applications to build three dams in the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon, where the federal Hells canyon dam has been proposed.

"The backers of the initiative have made it clear from the beginning that they are attempting to set up power distribution facilities which could be operated through municipalities, cooperatives or other similar non-profit agencies to the end that the full benefit of such projects as Hells canyon will go directly to all of the people—rather than just to the Idaho Power company and its stockholders," Mrs. Frost said. "And this is the fact that triggered the explosion."

Mrs. Frost said the private utilities "were tipped off" that material describing the initiative was about to be mailed by Patten. "But the private utilities were afraid that any discussion of the subject of the initiative, reaching many people, would be a real challenge to their present monopoly in the field of electric power."

"They threatened, they threatened, they even sought the help of Abe Goff, the solicitor general of the postoffice department, as a part of their scare tactics."

"With vast wealth, power and political aid on their side, the utilities succeeded in what they set out to do—they blocked the mailing of the descriptive material."

"This action on the part of the utilities is contrary to the manner in which public business should be conducted. It is my contention that the people should have the facts, whether private monopolies like it or not. I am, therefore, mailing out the material that the Arizona representative had planned to send."

Asked how much material would be sent to Idaho, Mrs. Frost said she hadn't decided.

Wrong Building Is Pulled Down; Builder Accused
CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—The dentist who pulled the wrong tooth has something to say about the building. He's accused of pulling down the wrong building. The trouble started March 6 when fire swept through buildings at 335, 331 and 329 West 31st street. The flames skipped the building right in the middle at 335—a dry goods store owned by Mrs. Fannie Weinberg.

Russell, 58, was given the sub-contract for wreckage and salvage. Mrs. Weinberg said he started on the rear of her building, tearing out walls and hauling out bolts of valuable cloth, women's underthings and other apparel. She rushed out screaming and called police.

In municipal court yesterday, Russell told Judge Oscar Caplan that the original contractor pointed out Mrs. Weinberg's building as the place to start. Russell has been charged with malicious mischief.

The case was continued to April 26 so the original contractor can give his version in court.

Sift together into a mixing bowl: 1 cup sifted Sperry Drifted Snow "Home-Perfected" Enriched Flour, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1/2 cup sugar. Make a well in center of dry ingredients and add: 1/2 cup egg yolks (6), 1 cup cold water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon str. lemon juice. Beat with a spoon until mixture forms a smooth moderately thick batter. In a very large mixing bowl place: 1 cup egg whites, 1 unbeaten (7 or 8), 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon salt. Study Shows Accord With U. S. Policies
NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—A nine ribbon survey shows prominent citizens in 25 cities substantially agreed with America's present policy toward Russia. Ninety-four per cent approved it.

A smaller majority opposed the admission of communist China to the United Nations now—even in return for certain concessions from the communist world.

Favor U. S. Stand
Nor did the 800 men polled by the Council on Foreign Relations favor to end the cold war at the cost of abandoning the Iron Curtain satellite nations to the Kremlin.

However, they did advocate continued efforts to reach agreement with Russia—with or without prior evidence of Soviet good faith.

Trade Favored
The council said most of these questions were answered on moral grounds. But when confronted with more practical dollars-and-cents questions, the majority favored increased east-west trade.

The council polled members of its autonomous but affiliated committees in 25 cities, including Salt Lake City and Boise.

Commissioned a second lieutenant May 18, 1942, he was promoted to first lieutenant May 31, 1945. He and his wife, Betty Jo, live on the post at Fort Lewis. They have one son, Larry, 11.

Power Firm's Proposals for Grant Denied

WASHINGTON, April 15—Undersecretary of the Interior Ralph A. Tudor has in effect turned down a proposal of the Washington state power commission that it be given a long-term commitment by the Bonneville power administration "for all secondary, interruptible and dump energy" from the northwest federal power system.

Tudor made public a letter to Chairman Walter S. Gordon and Managing Director J. Frank Ward of the state commission in which he said: "I am not favorably impressed with the suggestion that the BPA make a long-term commitment to your commission for all secondary, interruptible and dump energy from the northwest federal power system. As I understand this suggestion, it would in effect amount to an option to be exercised by you as you might bring in steam plants or find other uses for this energy. We are not sympathetic to give such options but believe it to be better to restrict ourselves to ordinary energy sales contracts which are for specific purposes."

"Furthermore, we believe that it would be inequitable to give one state or one customer such an exclusive option."

"We would, however, be quite willing to discuss the matter of a specific contract for secondary, interruptible, or dump energy to prime up any steam plants you may contemplate, assuming, of course, that we have such energy available for sale."

Achievements In His Tenure Praised by Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 15—President Eisenhower says he is heartened by "the governmental accomplishments of the last 15 months" since his administration took office.

The President commented in a letter made public late yesterday at his vacation headquarters here. He wrote retiring Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes: "I cannot but be heartened, especially as the passing of time places these accomplishments in proper perspective."

Regret Expressed

The President's letter was to express regret over the resignation of Kyes, who is leaving the defense department May 1 to return to General Motors. He is being succeeded by Robert Anderson, who was secretary of the navy. Kyes said April 6, when the White House announced his resignation, and repeated yesterday in a letter to the President that he had agreed to serve only one year and had consented to remain an additional 90 days.

Kyes Praised

Eisenhower told Kyes he was accepting his resignation with reluctance and expressed appreciation of "the great effort you have put into helping develop a sound preparedness program for the nation."

Kyes, whose letter to the President also was made public here, said his travels overseas "have brought home to me the great confidence that has been instilled in the free world by your being President of the United States."

JEROME, April 15—Public hearing for the budget of school district 261 was set for April 28 at a meeting of the school board Monday night. The levy needed for the budget is 32.5 mills as compared to 32.9 mills last year.

Supt. W. V. Olds was authorized to send contracts to Joe Peters, Haxley, for position of junior-high school principal and to Roy Kimball, Filer, Spanish teacher.

A report on the annual inspection of buildings and grounds held late in March showed all buildings in good condition with only minor repairs needed.

Norman Hintze, president of the Jerome County Safety council, and Dr. Charles Parker, appeared before the board to discuss the possibility of driver training program for the school system. An additional levy of one mill will be needed to carry the driver training instructions, they were informed. Further study of the program will be made by the safety council. An election for the one mill levy was held last spring and was defeated by one vote.

TRIAL NEARING End for Case

Instructions from District Judge Hugh A. Baker Thursday afternoon will conclude the civil suit of Mrs. Mae Munson against Raymond Hire over the sale of the Pastime club.

Defense Attorney L. B. Quinn called Hire; V. A. Allison and Mrs. Hire as his final witness Thursday morning. He and John Turnbull, the plaintiff's attorney, called William Stivers, Cecil McCall and Bert Pate as rebuttal witnesses before submitting their arguments.

Mrs. Munson asks $500 for a check which Hire gave her for the business, then allegedly stopped payment on the check. Hire owned the building and denies the liability. He claims she owes rental and costs for repair of furniture and fixtures.

T. W. Stivers, Twin Falls county clerk, testified to issuing an application for a beer license to Mr. and Mrs. Munson. Filer city clerk, read the minutes of a city council meeting at which the Munsons' beer license was revoked.

Hire claims the Munsons did not fulfill an agreement to turn over all the bar's inventory to him, transfer the beer license and pay up all back bills.

Past President's Speech Featured At Y Luncheon

The growth of the YWCA and plans for the centennial celebration of the organization were discussed by Mrs. Arthur Forrest Anderson, New York City, at a luncheon sponsored by the Twin Falls YWCA Wednesday at the Turf club.

Mrs. Anderson, past president of the National YWCA, now is serving as national centennial chairman for community YWCAs.

She explained the origin of the YWCA in Great Britain 99 years ago and noted that courage of the members was responsible for its growth into a worldwide organization.

Mrs. Anderson also discussed plans of the national board for the use of the income from a $5,000,000 endowment which will go to providing better service for community and student YWCAs in the United States and to the foreign division of YWCA in 68 countries.

The theme of the World YWCA's centennial is "Fortify Freedom With Faith and Fellowship."

Mrs. John E. Hayes introduced the speaker.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. L. R. Dunkin, president of the Twin Falls YWCA board. Attending were women from Pocatello, Buhl, Cassia, Blaine, and Twin Falls. A special guest was Mrs. I. W. Stoddard, Boise, National YWCA board member from Idaho and state centennial chairman.

Florence Anderson was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Maude Dygert. The prayer was given by Mrs. O. G. McCall.

Mrs. O. G. Hall, Mrs. A. S. Henson and Mrs. W. A. Howard were in charge of arrangements and decorations. A large Easter basket, forsythia and jonquils decorated the head table and floral arrangements centered the other tables.

About 60 women attended the event.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

We hear a great deal about the rights of children. That is fine. We all know that children need protection from oppression and cruelty, from disease and evil influences. We all accept the fact that they have a right to good home, good schools, and good training in both places.

There is one right, however, that as I view the present scene, is being overlooked. It is the right to be governed, controlled, by authority.

It is not unusual to meet a badly-mannered child of a good-mannered family. Just why this should be, is something I do not understand.

Surely an intelligent father and mother can train a child in ordinary acceptable manners! Why don't they?

One such mother said to me, "That girl of ours is almost beyond talking to. She talks back rudely when asked to do the simplest thing, she should do without being asked."

I talked to her teacher and what do you think she said? "The child must have freedom to express her feelings. If she must bottle them up she is likely to be mentally ill later on." Imagine! Mentally ill. She frightened me.

The other day Nora did not do her arithmetic. She read a book. When we heard about it, we asked the teacher and he said, "If she would rather read than do her arithmetic she might better read." Fine!

But look at her. She can't do the lessons her cousin two years younger does easily. We're taking her out of that school and placing her where she will have to do as she is told.

Why leave it to a school? Surely a parent knows what the standard of the school is, what its educational goals are? What its methods imply? Responsibility for a child's growth and development cannot be put on anybody's conscience but its parents. Schools do what parents expect them to do as far as possible.

A report on juvenile delinquency was given by Mrs. Nina Murphy.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Stoner, Mrs. Francis Gross, Mrs. Richard Stapp and Mrs. Ellwood Werry.

Mrs. Archie Turner will furnish the white elephant for the next meeting which will be held May 11 at the home of Mrs. Maher, Elm street.

Buhl's Jack Winegar Sets New Shot Put Records as Bruins Win Powers Relays

Records were broken as the Twin Falls Bruins piled up 35 points to win the ninth Hank Powers relays at Lincoln field Wednesday. Jack Winegar, Buhl, smashed the old mark set in 1953 with a heave of 48 feet 1 3/4 inches. The old mark was 46 feet, 10 inches. The Twin Falls sophomore-freshman shuttle relay team cracked another mark with a time of 52 seconds. The old mark also held by Twin Falls and set in 1951, was 53 seconds.

New Shot Put Record

Winegar, Buhl, set a new Hank Powers relay carnival record for shot put Wednesday. Winegar put the shot 48 feet, one and three-quarters inches. The old mark, set by Winegar in 1953, was 46 feet, 10 inches. (Staff photo-engraving)

The Gooding Senators placed second in the meet with 28 points followed by Jerome with 21. Buhl 20, Burley 15 1/2 and Kimberly 1 1/2.

The Bruins captured three firsts, four seconds, and three third-place spots in rolling to the win. The Bruins had notched an additional first in varsity shuttle but later were disqualified.

A strong wind that swept across the field slowed the times of the runners.

The only other record in any danger of toppling was the varsity 440-yard relay which was won by Jerome in the time of 46.9. The old mark, established in 1952 by Twin Falls, was 46.7.

One of the most thrilling races of the day was the mile run—won by Bob Walton, Twin Falls.

Walton and Bob Lydum, Twin Falls, took an early lead at the end of the first quarter and it looked like a one-two finish for the Bruins.

Burley's Loveland began to move up fast and going into the gun lap took the lead from Walton with Lydum dropping to third. Loveland and Walton matched strides into the final 10-yard stretch with the Burley mile out in front by approximately five yards.

Then Walton began to open up and caught Loveland about 20 yards from the tape and finished in front by three strides.

It was one of the closest mile finishes in the history of the annual relays.

The summaries: Pole vault—Gooding, Twin Falls, Buhl, and Kimberly tied for fifth, 12 feet 2 1/2 inches. Shot put—Buhl, Twin Falls, Gooding, Burley, Distance—48 feet 1 3/4 inches. (New individual record by Winegar, Buhl, 48 feet, one and three-quarters inches). Mile run—Walton, Twin Falls; Loveland, Lydum, Twin Falls; Sterling, Burley, Time—46.9. Medley relay—Gooding, Twin Falls, Jerome, Buhl, Time—3:50.5. Varsity shuttle—Gooding, Buhl, Jerome, Burley, Time—52.0. Sophomore shuttle—Twin Falls, Burley, Buhl, Jerome, Time—51 (new record). Varsity 550-yard run—Jerome, Twin Falls, Burley, Kimberly, Time—1:31.5. Sophomore 550-yard run—Twin Falls, Jerome, Buhl, Time—1:42.5. Varsity 440-yard run—Jerome, Buhl, Twin Falls, Gooding, Time—46.9. Sophomore 440-yard run—Gooding, Buhl, Twin Falls, Burley, Time—49.6. Mile relay—Gooding, Jerome, Twin Falls, Burley, Time—3:11.2.

Gooding Wins Medley Relay

Veteran Bob Lemon Hurls 3-Hitter As Cleveland Tips Senators 6-3

CHICAGO, April 15 (P)—Veteran righthander Bob Lemon allowed a triple and a scratch single in the first inning and then held the Chicago White Sox to one blow the rest of the way for a brilliant three-hitter which gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-3 victory Wednesday. The Tribe thus swept a two-game set from the Sox. It was Lemon, 36-year-old ace who won 21 games last season, hurling against touted Sox rookie Jack Harshman, and the former New York Giant firstbase prospect, failed to last beyond the fourth inning.

In Pittsburgh, third baseman Willie Jones moved up from seventh to leadoff in the batting order, contributed a 2-run homer, a double and two singles in five trips to power the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday behind the 4-hit pitching of southpaw Curt Simmons.

Jones, replacing weak-hitting shortstop Ted Kazanski in the lead-off role, sewed up the game with a 2-run homer over the left field wall after Simmons had singled in the third inning. Kazanski was dropped to seventh in the batting order.

Simmons, a 16-13 game winner last season, loaded the sacks in the fifth inning with three walks, but pitched out of the jam by striking out Eddie Pellagrini to fly out. All the hits off Simmons were singles.

Two errors in a row by Wayne Terwilliger handed the New York Yankees a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators Wednesday as Eddie Lopat, who doesn't seem to know how to lose to the Senators, beat them for the 12th straight time in Washington.

Johnny Schmitz was the victim of atrocious fielding as for the second straight day the Senators committed four errors. This time they were not so lucky.

Duane Pillette, a tall righthander, gave Baltimore a fancy going-home present—a strong six-hit effort Wednesday for a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Detroit.

Officially, it was the first American league victory in 52 years for the Orioles, who return to Baltimore Thursday for a game homecoming against the Chicago White Sox.

Big Don Newcombe, returning to the ballparks that haunted him during two years of army life, survived a late inning rally by the New York Giants Wednesday night for a 6-4 Brooklyn victory before 32,438 fans.

The last time the 27-year-old Negro righthander worked in the Polo grounds he left the fateful playoff game a few minutes before Bobby Thomson hit his "miracle homer" off Ralph Branca. Both Thomson and Branca departed while Newcombe was serving his army hitch.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (P)—The Philadelphia Athletics left Wednesday for a Yankee stadium date with New York's world champions Thursday without their ace left-hander, Bobby Shantz, but with high hopes the pint-sized pitcher will soon be rid of a shoulder injury.

Shriners to Help In Ticket Sales For Local Team

Magic Valley Cowboy directors, in an effort to bolster lagging ticket sales, voted Wednesday to allow the Southside Shrine club to canvass the area for a 10 per cent commission on all sales. The move came on a motion by Carl Sherwood, secretary-treasurer of the club, who pointed out that the Shriners "can reach people we will never be able to."

Under the plan, the Shriners will keep 10 per cent of the net profit on each ticket.

The Shriners will begin work Friday and will be allowed to sell the tickets on the commission plan until May 1.

The proposal was passed by the directors by a vote of 4-2.

Plans for a homecoming welcoming banquet for the Cowboys on their return from spring training camp also were formulated at the monthly meeting held at the ball park.

The banquet will be held at the Turf club on Wednesday, April 21. Howard Moffat, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, will be toastmaster at the affair.

The banquet will begin at 7:30 p. m., and tickets will be available at the door.

Directors of the club will begin selling tickets Thursday. The banquet will consist of a turkey dinner.

A financial report was read and approved by the board of directors.

According to the report, the Cowboy management now has $5,542.88 in the bank in cash. A total of $1,196.87 is still owed in bills but most of that does not become due until Nov. 1.

Ed Schaack, business manager, gave the directors a brief rundown on the situation at the Cowboys' spring training camp.

New Programs

BOISE, April 15 (P)—The Idaho fish and game department announced Wednesday the start of two new wildlife habitat improvement programs in Bonneville and Gooding counties.

Leonard said the programs, begun this week, were a continuation of a setup under which soil conservation districts and the department cooperate in planting shrubs and trees.

PAFKA RELEASED

CINCINNATI, April 15 (P)—Andy Pafka, Milwaukee Braves outfielder, was released from Christ hospital Wednesday, apparently none the worse for being hit on the head in Tuesday's baseball game with Cincinnati.

He reported the Cowboys strong in all positions except second base, third base and in the outfield.

Spring training expenses have been held down to $1,500, Schaack said.

The Cowboys will break spring training camp on April 20 and arrive in Twin Falls on April 21, the day of the banquet.

Newly printed baseball tickets now are available for distribution throughout the valley and work on sales will begin Thursday.

The Cowboys had to recall most of their advance tickets because of the new federal reduction in excise taxes.

Social

Fun to the affair is one.

Oliver "66," "77" & "88" Diesels

Just to PROVE how LITTLE it costs to run this tractor for 6 months ...

WE'LL BUY HALF YOUR FUEL OURSELVES

YES, You Read It Right! Trade in your old tractor on a New Oliver Diesel wheel tractor, and we'll pay half your new tractor's fuel bill for 6 months straight. We mean ANY 6 months' work on your farm, even your six heaviest work months, for the longest hours you want to work. Just bring in your fuel bills to show what you spent, and we'll give you a check for half.

Why we're making you this offer

We figure if we offer to pay half your fuel, you'll keep track of your costs. That's all we want; for you to see how low they'll be. You'll find that you're burning only 6 gallons of fuel where your gasoline tractor burned 10—and buying your diesel for a whole lot less!

We're betting you'll say you'd NEVER go back to gasoline. Especially when you find that your upkeep is as low as your fuel cost. Your Oliver Diesel has the simplest engine ever put in a farm tractor—no carburetor, no plugs, fewer moving parts—very easy to keep in top working order.

no starting engine, no starting fuel

Oliver Diesels start and run on diesel fuel. They give you instant starts even in freezing weather. They withstand a longer lay-up than any spark ignition tractor. Best of all, Oliver makes a diesel in any size you want—two-plow, three-plow, four-plow—whatever size is best for your operations.

you're paying for a diesel, why not have one?

That's what users say: With the high fuel cost of a gasoline tractor, you're PAYING for a diesel whether you have one or not. That's why farmers by the thousands are going over to low-cost diesel power. You will yourself sooner or later. Why not buy your diesel NOW, start your savings NOW, while this special offer still holds!

BUY AN OLIVER DIESEL AND WE'LL BUY HALF YOUR FUEL!

Happy Ending

A picture of happiness is the family of Valeriu C. Georgescu as they are reunited at New York's Idlewild airport. The sons, Constantin, 20, left, and Peter, 15, were held by red Romania for seven years in attempt to blackmail their father, right, into spying for the communists. Georgescu flew to Munich, Germany, to meet his sons after the state department negotiated for their release. (NEA telephoto)

Official Expects Early Accord For Proposed Basin Compact

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — Frank A. Banks, chairman of the Columbia interstate compact commission, has expressed belief there will be "early agreement" by the northwest five-star body on a proposed compact for the Columbia river basin.

Banks, a retired reclamation bureau engineer who was in charge of construction of the Grand Coulee dam and the Columbia basin project, Washington state, is federal representative on the commission. He is now consulting engineer to the government.

State commissions representing Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washington round out the compact commission's membership.

Here for conferences with officials of interested federal agencies, on a preliminary compact draft, Banks told newsmen "no troubles have arisen. I believe there will be early agreement on a proposed compact which can be submitted to the five state legislatures next year."

Congress in 1952 authorized establishment of the compact commission. The compact it proposes for orderly development of the Columbia basin must be ratified by legislatures of the five states and approved by congress before it becomes effective.

Banks said representatives of Nevada and Utah, which have small areas within the Columbia basin, have attended commission meetings. He said those states could later become compact commission members by ratifying the agreement.

One thing it is hoped that the proposed compact will do, Banks said, is to give assurance to upstream states that use of water for such things as municipal supply and irrigation will have preference over use downstream for power, navigation and flood control.

Banks said he expected the preliminary compact draft to be presented to the full commission soon, probably next month.

"We are aiming at a goal of getting ratification next year and I see no reason now why that can't be accomplished," Banks said.

THINK OF IT! WONDERFUL BERRY JAM MADE ANYTIME... FOR 15¢ A GLASS!

WITH FROZEN BERRIES... AND WITHOUT COOKING... with amazing new uncooked jam recipe developed exclusively by M.C.P. Jam and Jelly PECTINI But, you say... frozen berries are expensive. They are... yes, this fine, economical M.C.P. recipe (below) makes more than 15 (1 1/2 lb.) glasses for less than 15¢ a glass! And what extra deliciousness for it has ALL the natural berry flavor and color because cooking and boiling are eliminated! Make some today!

Uncooked Berry Jam Recipe

- (Using Frozen Strawberries or Red Raspberries) 8 - 16 oz., or 4 - 12 oz., or 5 - 10 oz. packages
1. Partially thaw the frozen berries and put them in a 2 or 4 quart kettle. Using a potato masher, crush berries thoroughly to obtain enough liquid to dissolve the pectin. Place kettle over slow fire and warm to 100°F. (or temperature you'd use for baby's milk). No hotter, please! Remove from fire.
 2. Sift 1 package (3 1/2 oz.) M.C.P. Jam and Jelly Pectin into thawed berries, stirring vigorously. Set aside for at least 20 minutes, stirring occasionally to assure that pectin is fully dissolved.
 3. Stir in 1 cup light corn syrup, and stir well.
 4. Now, stir in 6 level cups bees or cane sugar (previously and accurately measured). Mix well.
 5. With Red Raspberries the jam is ready to eat when sugar is dissolved; mix well. Makes 5 full pints or 15 (1 1/2 lb.) glasses.

NOTE: If jam is to be kept for a time, put in pint jars or paper cartons, well covered (no paraffin needed), and chill for 24 hours in deep freeze, or freezing or ice cube compartment of refrigerator. Then, store as you would milk, and use as desired. Never store these jams on pantry shelf. They will not keep without refrigeration.

CUT OUT AND KEEP THIS RECIPE!
(It's not in the folder in the M.C.P. Pectin package. Or, write Mutual Citrus Products Co., Anaheim, California, for complete uncooked jam recipe folder.)

Nation 'in Pretty Good Shape' To Stop Attack, Official Says

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — Chairman Dewey Short of the house armed services committee says "we're in pretty good shape" to head off an atomic attack on American cities.

He said continental defenses are getting better all the time and already have developed to the point where it is "silly" to talk about evacuating big target centers.

"Anyway it would be disastrous to try to evacuate a big city like Washington," the Missouri Republican told a reporter. "What we have got to do is to keep the enemy from getting through."

Short's comments to a reporter followed a closed-door briefing of his committee by air force officials on current steps to tighten the detection and interception screen around this country and Canada.

Congressional testimony made public yesterday disclosed however the navy fears "potential enemies" have the know-how to blockade U. S. coastal shipping lanes. The reason is development of new, highly-destructive mines which the navy admits it doesn't know how to combat.

Short's remarks ran counter to recent statements by civil defense officials that efforts may be made to get people out of threatened target cities where enough warning is available.

Many civil defense officials think destruction from atomic and hydrogen bombs is now too terrible to risk staying put and seeking the best shelter at hand, as formerly was recommended.

"That is silly," said Short. "We're in pretty good shape. Our defenses are getting better all the time. It will be increasingly difficult for an enemy air attack to get through."

Rep. Carl T. Durham, D., N. C., a committee member, said the air force testimony was encouraging, although not sensational.

"We are making some improvements," Durham said.
