

Power Initiative Dictatorial, State Attorney Claims

April 20—Atty. Gen. Robert E. Smylie, speaking at the annual banquet of the Buhl Junior Chamber Monday, blasted the proposed state power and communications initiative as dictatorial and dangerous to individual and property rights. About 100 people attended the attorney general, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said the initiative proposal is so loosely drawn that it is dangerous and perhaps unconstitutional.

"I am opposed to it," Smylie said. "I would not sign a petition to place it on the ballot and I will vote against it if it reaches the ballot."

"The proposal grants more authority to the proposed commission than any five men ought to have," Smylie added.

Petitions are now being circulated in Idaho to gather the necessary signatures to place the measure on the November ballot as an initiative bill.

The proposed bill would set up a five-man commission that could acquire, own and operate any power and "communications facility" in the state.

Smylie pointed out that the authorship of the proposal is a great secret and that nowhere in the proposal is the term "communications" defined. He warned such unbridled power as the initiative would confer on the commission could be a threat to individual and property rights.

Smylie also pointed out that the proposal did not provide any way of lowering phone rates. He said it had been suggested that disbursement with phone rates may have been one reason for including communications in the proposal.

Referring to the 2-year-old Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph case, Smylie said, "I am hopeful my office has been able to do something substantial about the situation."

Senator Says No GI Slated For Far East

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Two senators said today after a meeting with Secretary of State Dulles that no decision to dispatch American fighting forces to Indochina is being considered.

Both senators are Republicans. Ferguson, Michigan and Bridges, New Hampshire.

Ferguson, who left the meeting early to keep another appointment, added:

"I don't think it (the decision) is in the works at all."

Against Move

"At present I am against sending American troops to Indochina. I know of no facts to warrant it."

The two senators talked to reporters at the state department after Dulles had briefed a 15-man congressional delegation on developments in Indochina and the forthcoming Geneva peace conference which the reds will attend.

Dulles has "the situation well in hand," Ferguson said.

It's Not Hopeless

Bridges said in his view "the situation looks gloomy but not hopeless." He said any move to send American forces to Indochina "was not in the wind."

U.S. Housing Chief Raps Former FHA Leader for 'Laxity'

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UP)—Senate investigators were told today that Guy T. O. Hollyday, fired as head of the federal housing administration, accepted with praise the resignation of a high FHA official charged with heavy gambling and demanding money from people seeking FHA loans.

Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole gave the testimony in explaining why the White House last week fired Hollyday without warning.

Cole told the senate banking committee that Hollyday's "administrative laxity" was the main reason for his abrupt dismissal. Among other things, he said, Hollyday sent a "laudatory letter" to a high FHA official who resigned, even though it was "well known" by Hollyday that the official was under FBI investigation.

Doesn't Name Him

Cole did not identify the official he charged with "serious irregularities." But he said at one point that the official had been in charge of the rental-apartment program.

Clyde L. Powell, suspended assistant FHA commissioner who had been in charge of that program, resigned earlier in the month and received a commendatory letter from Hollyday. The administration later refused to allow the resignation pending an investigation of Powell's division. Powell yesterday refused to answer any questions for the committee on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Cole testified that he had told Hollyday to investigate possible "collusion or negligence" in the apartment building program and that information indicated a high FHA official had been "gambling with large amounts" and had been "demanding money from people for the purpose of securing commitments from the FHA."

Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews told another committee that stockholders reaped a $28,000,000 tax "bonanza" on profits from government-guaranteed loans which represented more than the cost of rental housing projects.

Fine of $125 Assessed for Topsy Driver

Valentine W. Devine, 35, East Side motel, paid a fine of $125 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty of drunken driving.

He took his statutory time when arraigned Monday. State Patrolman Stanley Pace made the arrest Sunday near Rogerson.

Mrs. Myron Hill, Buhl, paid $3 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court Tuesday on a plea of guilty of failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian on Shoshone street west at Second avenue west.

C. Vincent Rupert, Jerome, was fined $100 by Jerome Police Judge Russell Shaud Saturday on a charge of reckless driving. Judge Shaud said it was Rupert's second offense. Rupert was arrested on a complaint signed by Pat Welch, Boise.

Russell C. Stewart, Jerome, paid Judge Shaud $10 Monday on a charge of running through a stop light. Stewart was arrested by Jerome Policeman Jack Conner.

Charles Buchanan, Rupert, was fined $10 and $3 costs Tuesday by Rupert Police Judge Archie Nisbet on a charge of running through a stop sign.

George A. Miller, Jerome, who received a 15-day county jail sentence and was fined $100 and costs April 12 for drunken driving, was released from jail at 4 p. m. Monday and placed on parole for 90 days by Justice of the Peace J. O. Humphrey because of a family emergency.

William Wiseman, Hansen, paid a fine of $10 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court Monday when he pleaded guilty of speeding. He was charged with driving 45 miles per hour or more on Blue Lakes boulevard north.

James A. Mason, Buhl, paid $10 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court for speeding with a truck on highway 30. He was charged by State Patrolman Stanley Pace with driving 55 miles per hour in a 45-mile per hour zone for trucks.

Cattle High Seen

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—Preliminary estimates indicate a record number of cattle in Idaho this year, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.

The department said there were an estimated 1,253,000 cattle, of which some 240,000 were milk cows.

Safety Drives Are Not Effective, Expert Says

SUN VALLEY, April 20 (Special)—Most highway safety campaigns today are ineffective, members of the western region of the American Association of Motor Vehicles Ad-were told Monday. Speaking for A. J. Veglia, national president, meeting here for their 21st annual conference, dent of the organization, R. B. Baillie, Winnipeg, vice president, emphasized the importance of a realistic highway safety program. He declared that the highway safety movement has come to a point of individual groups, "meeting, quoting and advising one another" with little effect in reducing the yearly traffic toll of 38,000 persons.

Baillie said interest must become local and personal. He stated that in the western regions alone the cost to the public for 6,000 motor vehicle fatalities and 243,000 other non-fatal accidents resulting in damage was 675 million dollars.

Idaho Gov. Len Jordan opened the conference with a plea for more uniformity among states in highway regulation and revenue plans.

The governor declared the nation needs a uniform fee system for interstate highway trucks instead of "48 different tax schemes."

Jordan urged the administrators to concentrate on the problem of devising a fair tax system for interstate highway users—one that would impose on them no more and no less than their fair share of highway maintenance burdens.

It is unfair to ask interstate shippers to pay the full fee for each state in which they operate, Jordan said, and it is sometimes unfair to others to let them off with only a portion of the fee for each state.

"The answer," he said, "lies somewhere between a system of proportion and payment of the full fees."

Jordan gave as an example an interstate trucker who pays $150 each to three states in which the normal fee for interstate truckers is $450. The payment would be unfair to local truckers, he said, if the interstate trucker travels more than a normal amount of mileage in any of the three.

"The proportion of highway costs to be borne by users always has caused trouble," he said, "and it's all the more complicated because of the evidence of interstate and international haulers."

Earl T. Newberry, Oregon secretary of state, said that highway administrators must promote legislation that will permit them to work more effectively.

Speaking on re-examination of all drivers as a factor in the overall traffic accident problem, John C. Kerrick, manager of Oregon's driver's license division, said research in his state in a series of fatal accidents showed that re-examination would have done little, if any.

Former Captive Accuses Soldier

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—A former prisoner of war swore today that his plans to escape from a Korean prison camp were tipped off to his jailers by Cpl. Edward B. Dickinson.

Opl. Thomas A. Carrick, Blacksburg, Va., said at the opening of the second day of Dickinson's court martial he overheard the defendant inform on him. Carrick said he listened through a paper door at the prison camp.

French Forces Cut Fort Defense Area

HANOI, Indochina, April 20 (UP)—The defenses of beleaguered Dien Bien Phu shrank today to less than three-quarters of a square mile under constant communist pressure.

The communists were within 700 yards or less from the heart of the fortress.

The French high command said Brig-Gen. Christian de Castries had completed a radical reorganization of his isolated garrison. Pulling his troops back from several salients, de Castries blocked out a rough circle around five positions for a do-or-die stand against a third mass communist attack.

Packed within the compressed area were 11,000 French union soldiers, dependent for supplies and reinforcements entirely on parachute drops which must be carefully aimed at the center of their narrowing defense position.

40,000 Reds on Line

Against them are pitted at least 40,000 communist rebels, well supplied and reinforced over bomb-blasted but still open roads leading from the red Chinese frontier.

The French high command said the consolidation of the French forces in the smaller defense area was carried out during a lull in today's ground fighting. But red 120 millimeter and 105 millimeter howitzers harassed the defenders as they dug into their new positions and strung new barbed wire.

Reds Have Advantage

With the week-end abandonment of the two French northern outposts, red gunners were looking down the throat of the garrison in its little, shell-burned valley.

The rebels hold about 300 yards of the now-useless 1,200-yard French airstrip. Another auxiliary airstrip to the south has been criss-crossed with red trenches.

French officers said communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Glap now plans to push his trenches and burrows down the airstrip from his positions in the northern end of the field in an attempt to choke off French supplies.

Escapes Caught

MOUNTAIN HOME, April 20 (UP)—Two Mountain Home air force base prisoners who escaped yesterday morning were apprehended early today at Glenns Ferry.

The men, Earle E. Fieharly, Stockton, Calif., and Lucian L. Snarr, Wellsville, Mo., were captured by Milto Rebeledo, Glenns Ferry night marshal who found them sleeping in a freight car.

7 Men Dead as Huge Military Airplane Falls

GRANADA HILLS, Calif., April 20 (AP)—A C-119 air force transport plane crashed and burned in the mountains north of here today, killing all seven crewmen aboard.

The sheriff's aero squadron of Los Angeles county said the two-engine plane hit a fog-obscured ridge on Mission peak while attempting to reach Burbank field on an instrument-landing.

Plane Overdue

Air force officials said the aircraft, with seven aboard, was en route to Burbank from Chandler, Ariz. Williams air force base, and 20 minutes overdue when it ploughed into the 2,500-foot mountain.

Granada hills is just north of Burbank and about 18 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Heavy fog enveloped the mountain range which the aircraft had to cross in order to lower into the field.

No Signs of Life

Rescue workers at the site said no sign of life was found.

The plane burned after a loud explosion heard by residents in a residential area about a mile and a half below the crash site.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Australians Rescue Wife of Confessed Spy From Russians

DARWIN, Australia, April 20 (AP)—Australia granted political asylum today to Mrs. Vladimir Petrov, wife of a confessed Soviet spy, whose armed guards tried to return her to Moscow against her will.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies gave freedom to the bewildered woman after Australian territorial police overpowered and disarmed her escorts in a dramatic struggle at Darwin airport.

Mrs. Petrov, who had believed her husband had been killed after fleeing the Soviet embassy at Canberra and asking asylum, asked to join him after a telephone conversation with him assured her he was alive.

Shoeless and dazed, Mrs. Petrov was forced aboard an airliner at Sydney yesterday. Onlookers at the Sydney airport heard her plea, "Save me, save me."

The Soviet embassy's second secretary who was accompanying Mrs. Petrov on the flight that failed, angrily charged that territorial police had "kidnaped" her.

F. Jarkov, one of the two Soviet couriers escorting Mrs. Petrov, tried to draw his 32 caliber revolver when the territorial police boarded the plane on orders from Menzies.

Jarkov was cut slightly on the head before he and the other escort were disarmed. The escorts left empty-handed for Singapore an hour and 30 minutes later.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Generalov made his first visit to parliament house and delivered to the acting external affairs minister a note demanding the return of Mrs. Petrov.

Generalov also protested against the disarming of the couriers, charging that the police had violated their diplomatic immunity.

Later Menzies said in a statement he had directed J. L. Davis, captain of the airliner, to interview Mrs. Petrov to determine whether she wanted asylum in Australia.

Menzies' statement was given to Generalov.

Boy Is Injured in Accident on Farm

GOODING, April 20 — Robert Davis, 4 1/2-year-old son of Mrs. Jean Davis, is in serious condition at the Gooding County Memorial hospital as a result of injuries received Monday afternoon when run over by a wagon loaded with rocks.

The child was riding on a tractor which was hauling the wagon across a field when he fell off. The tractor stalled as the front wheel of the heavy wagon crossed his body. The full weight of the load remained on him until he could be freed. The weight partially collapsed one lung, his physician said.

In addition to the lung injury the boy also incurred bruises about his face and body.

Search Continues For Body of Man

GOODING, April 20—Following an all night watch along the banks of the Snake river for the body of Paul Van Hooten, Twin Falls, volunteer searchers continued their vigil Tuesday in hopes the body would come to the surface.

Monday afternoon Sheriff Keith Anderson shot off 50 charges of dynamite in the river in an attempt to dislodge the body. Volunteers from the Twin Falls VFW post stayed at the scene of the drowning near Niagara springs all night, searching the shoreline with lights. Some of the lights were floodlights loaned by the Idaho Power company and others were spotlights and headlights on automobiles.

Van Hooten was drowned when his boat capsized on April 11.

More balmy weather is seen for Magic Valley, says the five-day forecast received here Tuesday via the Associated Press.

"Pioneer league baseball starts this week," the AP reporter pointed out as he read this forecast.

"Slow warming trend through Sunday with temperatures averaging about normal. Highs 68 to 65 at beginning of period, warming to 74 to 72 by Thursday or Friday. Lows 30 to 40. Little or no precipitation in southern Idaho."

(Probably).

Water Supply Termed Good

IDAHO FALLS, April 20 (AP)—Deep snow in mountains that feed the headwaters of Snake river assure adequate irrigation water for much of southern Idaho, Watermaster Lynn Grandall said today.

He termed "a mistatement of facts" a department of agriculture report that poor water supplies are in prospect for southern Idaho. He said that snow cover is below normal along the stream but that it is normal in the region where most of the water used in southern Idaho originates.

Major storage reservoirs in the area already are full or nearly so, Grandall said. An exception is Jackson Lake, which is not expected to be filled until June 10 or 15.

Jaycees Hear Reports, Eye Plan of Meet

Committee reports featured the bi-monthly meeting of the Twin Falls Jaycees Monday evening at the Legion hall.

Arthur Smith, Easter egg hunt chairman, reported the program was successful with some 1,000 youngsters participating. He recommended expansion of the program next year with reducing of the age limit to keep older children from dominating the hunt.

Plans were discussed to hold the 1952 state convention at Sun Valley. Robert Detweiler volunteered to investigate feasibility of the plan. William Polson, Kay Kawamoto and Dean Mosher volunteered to assist Detweiler.

Members were reminded junior safety patrol members from throughout Magic Valley will be guests of the Jaycees at a picnic May 14 or 15. Picnic chairman are Dean Mosher and Glen Sheen.

A film on the pineapple industry of Hawaii concluded the meeting.

More Rains Seen In Drenched Area

Widely scattered thunderstorms were forecast again today for the lower Rio Grande valley where stagnant flood water has already damaged rice, citrus, cotton and vegetable crops and five cases of typhoid fever have been reported.

The typhoid germs are here and this contaminated water can spread them, a Hidalgo county health officer said.

The U. S. weather bureau said atmospheric conditions were such that the showers wouldn't spill much more water on the drenched valley. Some parts have received a half year's normal rainfall in little more than a week.

All applications for practices to be completed in the second budgeting period (May, June, July and August) also must be submitted by May 1 if they are to be approved from funds set aside for the second period, according to Jones.

Board Begins West Freight Rate Hearing

SALT LAKE CITY, April 20 (UP)—Spokane for shippers and utilities commissioners in the west spoke out yesterday against railroad freight rates which they charge discriminate against them.

They testified at the opening of an interstate commerce commission hearing first of four the ICC plans in the west. Others will be at Los Angeles beginning next Monday, at San Francisco and Seattle.

Outgrowth of Cuts
The hearings are the outgrowth of a freight rate reduction ordered by the ICC in much of the nation several years ago. That reduction did not affect the mountain-Pacific territory, embracing all of eight western states and parts of three others.

Their spokesmen contended that rail rates to and from area are approximately one-third higher than the charges would be if the reduction had affected the entire nation.

New Rates Proposed
Railroads serving the mountain-Pacific area have filed a proposed new schedule for class rates which they say would restore charges to the approximate relationship that existed prior to the reduction. Shippers are urging application of the earlier reduction to the mountain-Pacific territory.

A spokesman for Idaho said the Gem state would present its case at the commission's hearing in Seattle, beginning May 6. Several Idaho observers were here, however, including Dick Shively of the Idaho public utilities commission.

Thorne of virtually all the testimony yesterday was that the rates which shippers in the far west must pay are not comparable with those charged elsewhere.

Robert Randall, rate clerk of the Utah public service commission, presented figures which he said would show the effect of the proposed rate changes, as contrasted with present costs.

Idaho to End Rabies Curbs

BOISE, April 20 (UP)—The state health department said yesterday that a 6-month-old rabies quarantine would be removed from the last of southcentral Idaho, effective tomorrow.

D. A. P. Schneider, state veterinarian, said the ban would be removed from Minidoka county, where it was imposed last fall following an outbreak of the disease.

Similar quarantines already have been lifted from neighboring Cassia county and the city of Twin Falls. Schneider said no cases of rabies have been reported from Minidoka county since the first of the year.

The ban covered all cities and townships in the county and most other inhabited portions.

Road crews are clearing snow from the park highways now.

Barfly
RENO, April 20 (UP)—A man reenacted the old story about sitting at a bar until the roof fell in yesterday morning.

When firemen arrived they found a lone patron at the bar with a 2x4 resting on his head. He was taken to the Washo medical center, where physicians determined that the man's headache wasn't caused entirely by the collapsing roof.

They said drinking had something to do with it.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* tunes your engine without tools!

Actually releases up to 15% more power by overcoming lead and carbon deposits constantly accumulating in your engine

Acts before you've finished your second tankful

Think of it! Without touching a tool—you can get up to 15% more power from your engine automatically.

The major cause of power loss—pre-ignition and misfiring—can now be overcome by the gasoline you use.

It's an engineering fact

All of today's gasolines—because they are designed to meet the needs of modern high-compression engines—contain deposit-forming compounds. This means that lead and carbon deposits are constantly accumulating in most engines. These deposits rob you of power two ways!

In combustion chambers the deposits get so hot they set off the fuel mixture prematurely. The explosion hits the piston before it's reached the proper firing position.

When this happens, power works against you, not for you. It is called pre-ignition, and it occurs most often when you actually need more power—for accelerating or climbing a hill.

The second way these deposits steal power is by coating the ends of your spark plugs. Because the deposits divert electricity, the spark "shorts out," the plug misfires. Fuel is unburned, produces no power—just wastes your money!

Now you can get that power back—tune your engine without tools with a new kind of gasoline. You do this by using Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP—the greatest gasoline development in the introduction of tetraethyl lead.

TCP additive breaks through the power barrier set up by the lead and carbon deposits. It "fireproofs" the hot spots in combustion chambers, preventing pre-ignition. Power works for you again.

And on spark plugs, it changes the nature of the deposits to prevent misfiring. You get a full spark again and the spark plug fires every time. Your engine smooths out and delivers up to 15% more power.

TCP acts quickly
Before you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up. Remember, because these lead and carbon deposits accumulate constantly, continued use of Shell Premium with TCP is essential to retain its full benefits. Shell Premium with TCP is available only at your Shell dealer's.

Driver Gives Life to Spare Many Others

BELMONT, Calif., April 20 (AP)—Many lives lay in the path of a runaway 20-ton truck yesterday—but only one death marked its wild plunge—the driver's. He saw to that. Jay Stafford, 48, San Francisco, was hauling a load of dirt from a quarry, following another truck down a hill when something snapped. Stafford's truck began bearing down on the truck ahead. A station wagon was approaching. Grimly Stafford steered his speed-gathering vehicle between them, brushing both but hurting neither driver.

School Is Ahead

Ahead of him he could see another truck stopped at a crowded crossing. Beyond the truck was a stream of traffic. To one side of him was a school. Stafford swung his steering wheel. His truck careened across a three-foot ditch, knocked down a 50-foot eucalyptus tree, ripped through 20 yards of steel fence and smashed to a stop against an oak tree.

Flames Wrap Truck

The fuel tank burst open. Flames engulfed the truck. More than 100 children at play at a near-by school watched in horror as the burned body of Stafford fell out of the cab when tow trucks pulled the wreckage free. Stafford had guided his wild vehicle safely past the school before crashing it.

Dollars to Doughnuts

"Dollars to Doughnuts" are pretty steep odds. Did you ever stop to think, however, that these odds are no steeper than your chances of financial success, unless you set up some orderly program of earning, saving and investing your money? There's been too much of a tendency in recent years to trust to luck on what the future will bring; when in reality we all know that such odds are too great for any real comfort. If we can be of any help in assisting you with the details of working out a sound financial program, be it large or small, we'll be very glad to do so, without any obligation on your part whatsoever.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Although it is 16 months since the first hydrogen bomb was detonated, the American people are appallingly ignorant of defensive measures against a weapon which can destroy New York City. And the federal civil defense administration has no definite or clear-cut program for meeting such a crisis, according to state and municipal authorities alarmed about the problem.

When the A-bomb constituted the only threat against the civilian population, Val Peterson's civil defense experts adopted the theory that the best defense was to seek underground shelter in cellars, basements and homemade backyard caves. It was the same sort of escape the British sought during blitz raids by conventional planes and old-fashioned bombs. It guaranteed only flimsy security.

INCREASED HAZARDS—Now that the far more devastating H-bomb threatens to be introduced into warfare, taking underground cover has become an obsolete system. Radioactive particles and mixed gases would penetrate any refuge. Catastrophic debris would harry exits even after the danger from contamination had vanished.

Official and unofficial samplings of numerous areas throughout the country reveal an amazing lack of interest and concern over A and H-bomb attacks. Hardly anybody has any idea of the kind of medical treatment necessary for radiological illnesses or after-effects, not even physicians and nurses.

As proof of this fact, which the civil defense administration has learned from its own surveys, it is only necessary to ask yourself or your neighbors what they would do (1) to seek security against an H-bomb assault, and (2) to bind up the wounds of those subjected to an atomic or hydrogenic dosing. Try it out on your family and your neighborhood instead of watching a television quiz program.

COMPLETE EVACUATION—Now that the infinitely more murderous H-bomb is an actuality, the Federal defense for the 70 cities of urban and industrial areas, which have a population of 20,000,000 people, is complete evacuation. A "take-to-the-hills" program has supplanted the old plan of "take cover."

But this scheme, although it sounds eminently practical, has basic weaknesses. Even with the proposed and unbegun radar fence in Arctic regions, which furnish the fastest route for Russian bombing of our beach centers—from Boston and New York to Detroit and the automobile capital's supply centers—the maximum warning notices would be only six hours. As of today, it is about one hour at the most.

IMPOSSIBLE TO EMPTY CITIES IN TIME—Every study indicates that it would be impossible to evacuate New York City and the metropolitan area in such a short time. Even Washington, the nation's capital, could not be emptied of its population in six hours. Both cities are hemmed in by rivers, with vulnerable tunnels and bridges as the only avenues of exit.

Accepting the evacuation idea as a possible solution, here are numerous questions which Defense Administrator Peterson and his staff cannot answer: Where would the 70,000,000 evacuees be housed in the countryside? How would they be transported to safety, in view of the tragic experience in France in 1940?

How about evacuating the ill, the aged and the hospitalized? Who would mobilize the transportation, housing and feeding facilities, assuming that trolleys, buses, private cars and food agencies survived the first blasts?

Ironically, these are questions which nobody seems to be asking! But even if they did ask them, nobody at Washington or elsewhere seems to know the answers!

VIEWS OF OTHERS

DREDGING BILL DESERVES SUPPORT—The Jerome county Rod and Gun club has joined sportsmen throughout the state in circulation of a petition which deserves support.

It is designed to place strict control on dredging of Idaho's streams and rivers for minerals. If sufficient signers are obtained the question will be placed on the ballot this fall where, if approved, it will write into the state's constitution a statute governing the issuance of dredging permits.

The proposal doesn't ban dredging but it makes the requirements for dredging so stiff that only the most responsible outfits could attempt it. Among other things, it requires that the dredging firms post bonds to insure that they will level and re-seed after dredging operations and that during same, the stream or river water will be run through settling ponds before being turned loose. It also requires that the channel of the stream or river be replaced as it was before dredging.

Such a statute should have been on the books long ago. Much damage to the forests, streams and countryside could have been avoided without hindering the mining industry.

One case in point is Yankee Fork in the Stanley area. A beautiful stream is now nothing but a gravel pit with little or no vegetation to hold back erosion. Another is the once-beautiful Idaho City area where the ugly evidence of man's quest for gold will always remain to mar the landscape.

In recent years, the state has been flooded with applications for dredging permits. One of them, we understand, has been granted in scenic Bear Valley. In this particular case the dredging area will be re-seeded and re-planted—Jerome North Side News.

THE TAX BITE HAS BEEN WORSE

Most of us are inclined to believe our modern tax structure is the most onerous ever devised. It is interesting to learn, therefore, that some of the tax authors of earlier days were far more ingenious than ours in thinking up unusual levies.

The Catholic Digest recently listed some of the tax devices of previous ages. For example, the Romans had a tax on dying and a deceased person could not be buried until the tax was paid.

Persons wishing to present gifts to the Emperor Constantius had to pay a tax for the privilege of doing so.

Peter the Great, who wanted to Europeanize Russia, put a tax on beards. Barbers stationed at the gates of Moscow shaved all those who could not or would not pay the tax.

Russians also paid taxes for the privilege of holding marriages and funerals.

The British had some dandy taxes in the 17th century such as the special tax on any house having six or more windows, the tax on family crests and coats of arms and the tax (the price of one meal) which Puritans had to pay every week.

France had a tax requiring each person to buy seven pounds of salt a year, whether the taxpayers wanted that much or not. In the 1700s, the pasha of Turkey was entitled to collect "tooth money" from any peasant family with which he might dine. This was in reality a tax to compensate the pasha for wear and tear on his teeth.—Denver Post.

STATE VFW AVOIDS 'WITCH-HUNT'—Score a win for California sanity in the "witch-hunt" hysteria that seems suddenly to have overcome some elements in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The commander of the California State VFW, which numbers 80,000 overseas vets, says his group doesn't want any part of private snooping on neighbors for suspected Reds.

This comes in the face of such VFW activities in Connecticut and New Mexico. An announcement of national headquarters in Washington urges members to ferret out subversives.

Says California Commander Gordon H. Winter, Jr.: "No California post, county council or district of the VFW will presume to make investigations of individual citizens respecting any alleged communistic or subversive activities."

We certainly want to huddle subversives and render them harmless, but the job is one for trained investigators, not amateurs.

When VFW national headquarters and other VFW state organizations have a chance to think it over, we hope they'll line up with California's VFW.—Los Angeles Mirror.

DOES SHE GET PAINTED?

An intriguing thought has occurred. Maybe even a diabolic thought. Most everyone knows how Idaho grubs have been painted gold to publicize the Golden Jubilee. Been a right pert promotion, too, from the appearances of things.

O course, it is safe to assume more gold-painted objects will be used as plans for the celebration progress. Which brings us, finally, around to our print:

Does the Golden Jubilee queen get painted gold?

We told you the thought was intriguing! And, subject to the approval of Mrs. Pot Shots, we will endeavor to do the painting job!

The average man doesn't stare at women's clothing except when women are in them. Our Average Man explains.

FACT OR FANCY?

"Call Gooding 2 and ask for the mayor. It is about the letter on Gooding getting the Boeing aircraft plant. I think he wants to know if it is a joke or someone sent it in who knew what he was talking about."

Pot Shots doesn't know any more than appeared in that little note signed by "Goodingite." There's always some basis for these things, although at times the basis can be somewhat far-fetched. If folks over Gooding way want to know more about it, we have only two suggestions, neither one particularly helpful:

1. Find "Goodingite" and quiz him.
2. Contact Boeing.

Someone is going to have to invent foolproof (and childproof) tanks of all sorts. We've come a long way on this matter, but not far enough yet.

There's always a youngster who is ready and willing to "play service station" and use the garden hose for the gas pump. This is fine unless your car happens to be handy and the tank is filled to overflowing from the garden hose.

Another type of tank that needs some attention is the fuel oil tank, particularly if it's one of those that's buried with only the spout sticking above ground. Rocks make the most pleasing sound when dropped down the spout. And, naturally, when the rocks are all gone, dirt, leaves, grass or anything handy will be used.

Maybe it's foolproof owners we need, not foolproof tanks, huh?

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—There are many cases of favoritism to pals of powerful individuals which make that of Pvt. David Schindler, who was promoted by comparison, the one I am about to cite here.

It was a scandalous, disgraceful and a legitimate 70 o'clock to history.

Roy Cohn, counsel for Joe McCarthy's senate inquiry, is alleged to have asked the army to excuse Pvt. Schindler for a few hours so that Schindler could finish some work in progress for the committee. It is charged that Cohn threatened to do terrible things to "the army," but Cohn says these were facetious cracks and accepted as such at the time. Anyway, it is obvious that Cohn couldn't do anything terrible to the army even if he had wanted to. And Cohn had demonstrated his ardent loyalty to the United States by his zeal in prosecuting a roster of traitors including the two Rosenbergs—who went to the electric chair.

I refer now to the case of Lieut. Com. Earl Miller, the personal protégé of Eleanor Roosevelt. Miller got his commission on a silver tray, but that is a trifle compared to the favors he got later.

This old woman secretly persuaded George T. Bye, her "literary" agent, to go to Gene Tunney, then a captain in the navy in charge of the mass-athletics, and ask Gene to give Miller a soft job as instructor at the Pensacola naval air station. Tunney did give Miller this job in response to this intervention and for no other reason. And there was an element of implied blackmail in this because as Tunney told me after the war, he granted Miller this favor only because he apprehended that if he refused he might be transferred to some humiliating or otherwise disagreeable duty as punishment for less majestic.

He had not even considered Miller for this nice job at Pensacola until Bye relayed Eleanor's request which he construed as a demand or command. Bye told me she picked on him because she didn't want to show up in the deal herself. She knew Bye and Tunney were neighbors in Hither Connecticut.

I have two checks made out by Eleanor Roosevelt to Earl Miller on successive months, one for $250 and the other for $350, which bear Miller's endorsement.

These checks were not obtained by stealth. A domestic servant in the White House emptied a wastebasket containing a lot of discarded canceled checks. This individual kept a number of them for the autographs. When the Earl Miller story broke, the servant sent me these two and two others out of the same batch written to and endorsed by two other persons.

The wife of Earl Miller, a pretty young woman named Simone, had been a hostess, or head-waitress, in an Albany hotel. Miller, twice married before, had served as sergeant of the guard of New York state police of the governor's mansion. One precious marriage had been performed at the Roosevelt Hyde park home. One of these marriages was annulled. The other ended in divorce.

Miller and Simone were married under the auspices of the grand patroness, but not in the White House.

Having received the assignment to Pensacola, Miller bought a small house off the reservation and caught hell from the commanding officer when the news got around that he and his wife had entertained the wife of the commander-in-chief and her secretary, a female.

which had been presented. God knows why, to the late Sara Roosevelt. Eleanor's mother-in-law, by the Finnish government during the New York Worlds fair. The home had that $40,000 high-suburban look, red brick with a slate roof and dense crepters to shut out ventilation.

You never have read about Earl Miller's easy deal at Pensacola and at Mitchell field in the New York Times, the Herald Tribune, Time, Life or any of the other newspapers which have been having hysterics over the blow to the morale of the armed-forces dealt by revelations of favoritism to Pvt. David Schindler. This job of favoritism in time of shooting war didn't measure up to their psychiatric or journalistic standards.

Polio Medicine Will Be Available

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The polio vaccine, one of the two most important in preventing polio, will be available for about 1,700,000 children this summer—almost twice as many as last year. But it will be available under a greatly different plan.

A public health service is now training health officers to use the vaccine in a new way. Instead of giving it in a single shot, they will give it in a series of smaller doses. This will make it possible to give the vaccine to children in a whole community where polio may have struck. It also will make it possible to give the vaccine to children already sick with other diseases.

The vaccine is made from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—gamma globulin. It is a vaccine that is not only safe but also is of the state of the art. In the opinion of the state health officer it will protect the validity of the vaccine.

Last Honors Paid To Harry Orchard

BOISE, April 20 (U-P)—The last chapter in a strange life of violence and repentance ended yesterday with the burial of Harry Orchard in a cloud-bespoken cemetery lawn in Boise.

Only a thin clump of about 20 spectators turned out for the simple service for Orchard, the dynamite slayer of former Gov. Frank Steunenberg in 1905.

The service for Orchard, who died last Tuesday in the Idaho state penitentiary, was conducted by Elder A. J. Gordon, president of the Idaho conference of the Seventh-day-Adventist church.

The pallbearers also were from that church. Orchard became a devout convert to that faith soon after his arrest almost 40 years ago.

There were only a few flowers and wreaths. The service lasted only 10 minutes.

Try at Soothing 2 Unions Slated

WASHINGTON, April 20 (U-P)—The AFL plans to try to bring together two of its feuding unions, the Teamsters and Railway Clerks, in an effort to head off an election showdown over representation of Railway Express agency drivers.

AFL President George Meany is to confer here early next week with presidents Dave Beck of the Teamsters union and George M. Harrison of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Beck claims that the AFL several decades ago gave jurisdiction over express drivers to the Teamsters and has hinted he might pull the 1,200,000-member Teamsters union out of the AFL if it fails to enforce that ruling.

Couple Gives up 30 of Its 34 Dogs

ST. LOUIS, April 20 (U-P)—Mr. and Mrs. John Driscoll lived in a two-room house with 34 dogs until yesterday. Now they have four.

The Animal Protective association of Missouri and St. Louis county authorities, acting on the complaints of neighbors, found the dogs in the suburban Creve Coeur home. They took 30 of the dogs away from the Driscolls.

About four years ago the association forced the Driscolls to give up 37 dogs. The couple said they couldn't bear the thought of dogs being used for medical research so they opened their home to any strays they found.

First Entry Sent In Plane Contest

BOISE, April 20 (U-P)—A Payette lad, 12-year-old Bud Barnes, was the first to enter today in the annual state model plane contest to be held in Boise Sunday.

He sent State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton a silver P-40 pursuit plane. Moulton said a record number of planes is expected in the state-sponsored contest, which is open to adults as well as youngsters.

The models will be judged on the basis of workmanship. Deadline for entries is noon Saturday.

Siren Lays Egg

SPOKANE, April 20 (U-P)—The city found out yesterday why one of its big air raid sirens has been laying an egg of late. That's what happened.

A pigeon got inside somehow and laid three eggs in the siren carburetor controls.

BOYCOTT, April 20 (AP)—The Russian disarmament committee set up a big obstacle for a new look at the hydrogen bomb. Russia would boycott the subcommittee on the hydrogen bomb, the committee voted today. Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Canada were omitted.

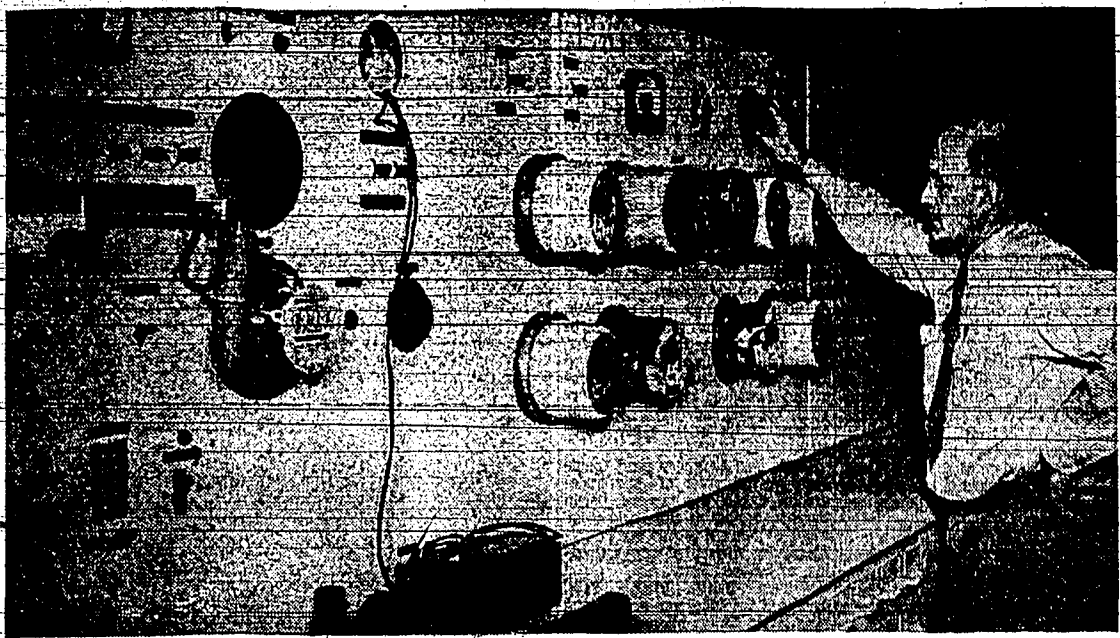

The committee voted against this proposal. The delegates of Lebanon and China abstained. The commission earlier had voted against a proposal by the Soviet Union to add India, Communist China, Czechoslovakia, the Soviet Union and Lebanon to the list of nations.

Public Showing Set Thursday
For $180,000 Service Center

Idaho Power company will conduct a public showing of its new service center at the intersection of Blue Lakes boulevard south and Highland avenue, Twin Falls, from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursday. The location is two blocks south of Five Points east.

The service center, built at a cost of $180,000, includes a one-story building with 14,400 square feet of floor space, a large car port and an enclosed yard. It was designed for maximum efficiency in coordinating the work of the engineering and maintenance departments.

"It relieves a crowded condition resulting from continuous expansion of electric service facilities in this steadily growing area," said R. W. Carpenter, Idaho Power's division manager here.

Heretofore engineering and service department personnel were cramped in basement and other rooms of the downtown office building. Supplies were kept in a small warehouse building and on substation grounds.

"This new service center for the company's southern division, which serves Magic Valley, puts all these functions at one place, and ample room has been planned for future as well as present needs."

Construction is of cinderblock and reinforced concrete with an attractive brick front.

It contains offices for the division engineers, a drafting room, conference room, a warehouse for supplies, which occupies about half of the building; a room for the repair of electric appliances, a truck-servicing room, which has electrically-controlled sliding doors and which is large enough for six vehicles; a meter-servicing department, a substation supply and work room, a dispatching room with six telephones and radio transmission and receiving apparatus, a wash room with up in the rear of the Perrine hotel, had a generating capacity of only 35 kilowatts, hardly enough electricity for a dozen modern electrically-equipped homes.

"There has been a tremendous development in electric service facilities during the past 50 years," Carpenter said.

The southern division, which takes in all of Magic Valley and northward to the Hally and Ketchum areas, now serves approximately 26,000 electric users. Nearly every farm and ranch has electric service. In fact, this is one of the most highly electrically developed agricultural areas in the world."

Taylor Blasts
Demo Leader

POCATELLO, April 20 (AP)—Clay H. Taylor, candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator from Idaho, yesterday accused State Democratic Chairman William W. Brunt of campaigning actively against him.

"I am told that Brunt is saying I cannot be elected," Taylor said. "Aside from the impropriety of the state chairman campaigning against me with money, part of which came from my friends, the facts are that I received 8,250 more votes in the 1950 primary than did the hand-picked candidate Brunt now seeks to master mind to the U. S. senate at the bidding of Lloyd Adams."

The former Idaho senator went on to assert that "Lloyd Adams is the Rexburg corporation attorney who secretly but actually runs both political parties in Idaho." He added that "for the first time" Adams "is going to enjoy the spotlight in this campaign."

New French Chief
Has Star Trouble

PARIS, April 20 (AP)—Brig-Gen. Christian de Castries, the newly promoted commander of Dien Bien Phu, is still having supply difficulties.

The French press agency reports that the general's stars parachuted from a French plane Saturday to replace his insignia as a colonel had fallen behind the Vietminh siege lines.

And along with the stars, it said, the rebels got 200 liters of cognac intended for De Castries' command.

The wind has played tricks before with supply parachutes.

Democratic nomination for the senate seat now held by Republican Henry Dworak are Claude J. Burtenshaw, Rexburg, and Ray McNichols, Orofino.

Taylor and his wife and two sons are now in Pocatello. His eldest son, Arod, is still in Redding, Calif., where he is attending Shasta college.

Philippines Shun
Japanese Offers

MANILA, April 20 (AP)—Philippine senators today virtually rejected Japan's offer to pay 400 million dollars reparations in goods and services.

The strength of the opposition, headed by Sen. Claro M. Recto, was a damaging blow to President Ramon Magsaysay's efforts to win senate approval of the reparations pact.

JEROME, April 20—A double-ring ceremony performed by Bishop H. Thomas Newman of the LDS second ward Saturday afternoon, united in marriage Annette L. Schmidt, Jerome, daughter of Mrs. Roland Rockwell, Seattle, Wash., and Gary R. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Thompson, Jerome.

The nuptial vows were read at the couple stood before a fireplace in the Relief society room with baskets of pink and white gladioli on either side and the mantle decorated with an arrangement of pink and white roses. Members of the immediate families attended. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Frank Rettig.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rockwell chose a black dressmaker suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white and feathered carnations. Mrs. Thompson wore a navy blue afternoon dress with beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception followed in the LDS recreation hall. The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with garlands of maiden hair fern interwoven with pink and white sweetpeas. Lighted pink tapers in crystal flanked the cake. Mrs. Paul Smith, aunt of the bride, served the cake and Mrs. Vance Thompson, Hawthorne, Nev., aunt of the bridegroom, served punch.

Jonie DeAtley was in charge of the guest book and gifts were displayed by Lois Clark, Betty Weatherston, Donna Hite and Patricia Baker.

The over-jacket was buttoned to the neck which was designed with a lace-covered Peter Pan collar. The long sleeves were buttoned and pointed over the wrists.

Her fingertip veil of nylon net was caught to a Juliet cap of seed-pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses surrounded with white hydrangeas on a white ribbon with long white satin streamers.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

This past year more letters from young people who are in mental distress have come to me than ever before. Unfortunately, many of these letters are unsigned so I have no way of answering their pleas for help. Each case is different, each very personal, so no general answer is going to help much. Writing the letter may be of some comfort as a release, but unless it is signed it brings no help of the sort that is needed.

Suppose you make no friends and you live among people in blank loneliness? You see your old school friends going happily on their way. They have a circle of friends, they marry and have children. They go out of your life as you watch, like one standing on the platform watching the train bear away those near and dear to you. What would you do?

Suppose you are so shut within yourself that you cannot bear to speak of this loneliness, this isolation from life, to anyone. You feel that you cannot talk to father or mother, brother or sister, and you have no friend. You cannot talk to your clergyman. He might tell somebody else and you hug your smothering secret closer. What can you do to help yourself?

From this distance all I can say to these suffering young people is this: Go, make your feet carry you to a clergyman, a stranger, and tell him your plight. Or, go to an accredited psychiatrist, and tell him your story. You are on the road to illness unless you get help.

People cannot live alone very long without becoming lonely. Loneliness will warp the mind. There must be the give and take of the group to keep the mind alive and preserve its healthy outlook on life. Ideas that cannot be expressed, feelings that have no outlet, will act like festering centers and bring on illness and pain and grief.

Most people are able to talk out their feelings. Most of us are able to let our wrath escape in words or actions so it does not back up on us and make us miserable. Most of us have a friend, someone to whom we can tell our secrets, our hopes, our fears, our joys. We must have these outlets or we will be utterly forlorn. Our work will suffer and our health decay.

So, to these lonely, aloof and suffering young people I say: Make your feet carry you to some trustworthy, capable, friendly man or woman, preferably a psychiatrist, or next, a clergyman trained in psychiatry, and tell your story and accept help.

And, if you will trust me with your name and address I will try to get help to you. But do something to help yourself without delay.

Every child should have his own library. Good books are a part of a child's growth. Dr. Patri has made up a list of more than 50 books for children of all ages in leaflet P-4. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 59, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Western party chicken, potato nests, deep fat fried chicken and scallops and broiled snapper were prepared by Catherine Campbell, Idaho Power company home service adviser, for the women attending the cooking school Monday evening at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Besides preparing these dishes Miss Campbell demonstrated how to get a chicken or turkey ready for roasting. She said a bird should not be "packed" with dressing as it expands and is liable to pop the bird. She suggested laying an oiled cloth over the top of the bird so the cook won't have to baste it.

When roasting turkey Miss Campbell prefers wrapping the bird in aluminum foil as it cooks much faster and needs no basting. She said about 20 minutes before the turkey is done it should be unwrapped and allowed to brown.

Miss Campbell suggests testing to see if a chicken or turkey is done by pinching the heaviest part of the thigh rather than poking a fork in it and letting out the juices.

She suggested several ways to prepare leftover chicken such as chicken

WATER HEATERS-

COME IN DIFFERENT SIZES TO

You can't always tell the age of a youngster by his size. Nor can you tell the size of the hot-water supply by simply looking at the tank.

The important thing to remember is: automatic electric water heaters are made in different sizes to serve varying amounts of need. If you're replacing an old water heater be sure to tell your appliance dealer the size of your family. He'll help you estimate the size of tank necessary to have a continuous supply of hot water for your house.

Clean, safe and highly efficient, electric water heaters do so much for you in comfort and convenience, yet it costs little. At Idaho Power Company's low rates, a nickel's worth of electricity will supply 22 tons of piping-hot water.
