Attorneys Are Appointed for Court Actions

innocent of forgery and his trial was set tentatively for May 17.

James Daniel, appearing with his court-appointed counsel, R. W. Stephan, pleaded innocent and the trial on the forgery charge was set for May 17.

A plea of guilty to an attempted forgery count was entered by Bob Cantrell. Sentencing was set for 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Sentencing was set for 1:30 p. m. Friday for Roland Bye who pleaded guilty of embezzlement.

Mel Eller, appearing with his attorney, James May, also court-appointed, admitted a bogus check charge. A pre-sentencing investigation was asked and the court set 10 a. m. May 15 as the time for sentencing.

Luella Ambrose and Susan Polard, appeared with their court-appointed attorney, Edward Babcock, and pleaded guilty of forgery. Judge Baker set sentencing for 10 a. m. May 15 to allow time for a pre-sentencing investigation.

Howard Jones was released. He had pleaded guilty of a misdemeanor or bogus check count at a previous term of court, but was released without bond with provision that if he did not violate any laws the charge would be dismissed.

E. M. Rayborn appeared for Lee Henderson and James Wilson who were given probation at a previous term of court on a charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor to a minor.

Rayborn said he had told Henderson he did not need to appear in court, but was attempting to locate both defendants. Judge Baker gave Rayborn until 10 a. m. May 14 to have the men report either through their attorney or in person.

Monday afternoon, Clay Parker pleaded innocent of lewd conduct with a minor child. He was represented by J. Alfred May, but no trial date was set.

N. Duane Stutzmeier pleaded guilty of charges of forgery and escape by one charged with a felony. Judge Baker set sentencing on both counts for 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Carl Jardine had proceedings in a non-support case continued for the term provided he pays $25 weekly for support of his wife and children. He is to appear opening day of the fall term of court.

His attorney, J. Harold Lee, Burley, told the court Jardine cannot do manual labor, but had obtained a job at the time of his arrest.

Jess Hurley, charged with non-support, was released by the court with the provision he pay $80 monthly for his wife and children.

James L. Bertschy withdrew his guilty plea to a bogus check charge and, on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney, Judge Baker dismissed the charge. Bertschy was given probation at a previous term of court.

Burton Webb, charged with drunken driving, second offense, was given until 2 p. m. Friday to plead. His attorney is in court.

The only person to enter a plea was Aubrey Smith who pleaded guilty of non-support of minor children. Sentencing was set for 1:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Revolver Taken

Ben Halmer, 23 Main avenue east, told police a .32-20 caliber Colt revolver was taken from the basement of the old Falk Mercantile building on Main avenue east. The holster and belt also were taken.

Tests Slated for 2 Federal Posts Federal civil service examinations for warehouse examiner and storekeeper openings are announced by Agnes A. Strunk, Twin Falls civil service secretary.

Warehouse examiner openings pay $3,410 to $5,060 a year and storekeeper positions $3,500 to $3,175 a year. Positions are in production and marketing administration of the department of agriculture in Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from Miss Strunk at the Twin Falls post-office.

Pledge

HAILEY, May 4—State Sen. Clark Hamilton, D., Washington, promised Monday that if elected governor he would serve the full four years of his term.

Hamilton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the top state job, said he would not appoint himself to the U. S. senate in the event of a vacancy in that body during his term.

One of Hamilton's primary election opponents — Charles Gossett, Nampa — resigned to go to the senate during a previous term as governor.

Who gets the money Standard takes in?

Goods and services cost us $324,743,000. This was spent with thousands of firms, large and small in hundreds of cities.

Crude oil was a big item. To supplement our production we bought $135,600,000 worth from crude oil producers.

Wear and tear, depreciation and maintenance cost $157,834,000. Millions went to workmen and material firms.

New construction such as refinery facilities, to supply you with more and better products, came to $145,000,000.

Exploration to replace oil our customers use is costly. Our stepped-up search for new oil reserves cost $79,000,000.

Employees' wages for time worked came to $163,947,000. Another $43,000,000 went for employee benefits.

Taxes paid by Standard to U. S. government, states, counties and cities amounted to $106,300,000.

112,000 shareholders' profits came from what was left—$86,020,000 or about 5 1/2¢ per dollar's worth of stock.

Each year when you read about how this or that company did so many million dollars of business, you can't help wondering who got all the money. Actually, you—the public—got most of it. Standard Oil Company of California, for instance, took in $1,166,767,000 last year. This seems a tremendous sum. Yet a company like ours must pay bills and make ends meet just as any of its customers do. In our case, practically all of the $1,166,767,000 we took in ended up in other people's hands. Merchants and professional people in thousands of towns profited from the pay checks Standard Oilers spent. Our tax payments helped finance schools for your children, parks for vacationers, and bridges for motorists. Carpenters, steelmen, lumberjacks benefited from the facilities we built, and the maintenance work we did. It all fits together: 1953 was a good year for us because so many of you thought our products well made and worth buying. Making it a good year for us, you made it a good year for many others.

Your picture belongs here, too. The hundreds of millions of dollars worth of checks we wrote last year went spent to bring you ever-improving products and services. So whether one of these checks was sent to you or spent for you, or made possible better oil and gasoline for your car, you—and practically everyone in the West—shared in Standard's good year.

New Methods of Identifying Drug-Resistant Germ Found

PITTSBURGH, May 4 (AP)—A new "invisible light" technique for quickly identifying germs known to be resistant to certain drugs was described yesterday to the Society of American Bacteriologists.

A team of researchers of the CIBA Pharmaceutical company, Summit, N. J., told about it at the SAB's 54th general meeting.

And some doctors who studied the report declared that the advantage of the technique, if developed for general use, would lie in this:

It might allow a doctor to eliminate certain drugs from the very start in treating a patient—and to concentrate on other methods of treatment that might have a chance of effectiveness.

The CIBA investigators—research-

a research group of the army's Camp Detrick, Md., laboratories—scene of studies on biological warfare—reported possible advances toward production of a new and superior "toxinoid" for combating dreaded botulinum poisoning.

The botulinum germ is one of those listed unofficially as possible germ warfare weapons which this country should guard against.

The Camp Detrick researchers report was read by Dr. J. T. Duff.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—It is no accident that numerous members of congress have recently asked treasury, state and commerce officials to furnish figures on the amount of wartime and postwar aid which the United States have given to overseas allies, neutrals and former enemy nations. It may be the beginning of that "agonizing reappraisal" which Secretary John Foster Dulles threatened to apply to future grants.

This congressional checkup coincides with the apparent crumbling of the American-inspired European defense community and the failure of European and Asiatic nations to respond to the Dulles demand for "united action" in Indochina. It comes at a time when the Truman-Eisenhower system of "collective security" appears to be falling apart.

As a result of these military and diplomatic developments, Capitol Hill has become more curious about the amount of our total overseas investment and the results of this tremendous expenditure of taxpayers' money. It is not idle curiosity which stirs them, however, for they plan to use the evidence in consideration and action on pending requests for more foreign aid funds.

U. S. HAS POURED OUT 100 BILLION DOLLARS

According to the latest and best available figures, the United States has poured out at least 100 billion dollars during the 1941-1947 period inclusive. This includes every form of different titled kind of assistance—lend-lease, UNRRA, the Marshall plan, mutual security, occupation costs, our share in financing the "Korean police action," our most recent contributions to French forces in Indochina.

Every cent, except about 10 billion dollars, was turned over without any demand or expectation of repayment. It was either our part of the anti-Hitler "kitty," or outright gifts for postwar reconstruction and underwriting the anti-Russian alliance.

The 10 billion dollars in credits are to be repaid over a 50-year period at an average interest rate of 3 per cent. Interest collections in 1953 totaled $251,000,000.

BACKSTOPPING FOR OUR ALLIES This enormous sum takes no account of the billions we have spent on rebuilding our own war-machine since the June, 1950, invasion of South Korea. Obviously, if our allies around the globe had not been so weak, our military appropriations would have been far smaller. We are backstopping for them, especially in the atomic field.

England received the lion's share of this money, or 31 billion dollars. But the full amount cannot be charged against London, which used a large part to finance other members of the British commonwealth.

The next largest beneficiary, ironically, is Russia. She owes the U. S. 11.2 billion dollars for weapons, food and services which helped to save her from a disastrous defeat by the Germans. She has made no attempt to repay a penny, despite numerous nudgings.

PRINCIPAL RECIPIENTS—France came next with approximately 8 billion dollars. The sum is relatively small because that nation, save for its colonial forces, was virtually a spectator in World War II. But we have promised about 1 billion dollars annually to pay for the Indochina defense.

The other principal recipients of American aid are: Germany, 3.5 billion dollars; China, 3.1 billion dollars; Japan, 3 billion dollars; Italy, 2.8 billion dollars; Holland, 1.2 billion dollars; South American republics, 1 billion dollars. About 30 other nations participated in the 100-billion dollar pool, and some of the less favored—Greece, Turkey, Belgium, Holland—show greater gratitude than our historic allies.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles seem to regret the latter's impetuous threat of an "agonizing reappraisal," based on Anglo-French failure to support the idea of "collective security." But, as this current review of our 1941-1953 sacrifices shows, congress may act upon the secretary of state's suggestion. It insists upon some return for this vast investment.

FEDERAL AID TO BUSINESS

There is a far bigger issue to the current investigations of federal housing administration irregularities than shows on the surface. It is how much of an "incentive" private business needs to do a public service job in the national interest?

A lot of words have been spouted to the effect that government should get out of all business-type activities and leave everything to private enterprise.

But the experience of government over the last 20 years has shown that unless private enterprise is guaranteed a handsome profit on public service it will not take the job.

This is true not only with regard to the various government housing programs, but to national defense and even farming.

It applies to the accelerated tax amortization plans in effect since the beginning of World War II. They were considered necessary to provide business with an incentive to tackle defense production.

It applies to the huge depreciation allowances given oil and gas producers in one of the largest loopholes in existing tax law.

It applies to the huge subsidies given American ship builders and shipping line operators. These incentives are considered necessary to maintain an American merchant marine in peacetime so that it will be available for military transport in time of war. Proposed legislation now before congress would even increase these incentives.

It applies also to the newly proposed incentives to business in pending tax reform legislation. These incentives include a reduction of taxes on dividends, a change in depreciation allowance schedules for tax purposes, and tax reductions on income from foreign investments made in support of U. S. foreign policy.

Biggest of all the incentives given to private enterprise is of course the farm price support program. Price supports were originally introduced during the depression to assure farmers of a minimum income. The incentives were increased in wartime to guarantee the farmers high income for producing bumper crops for the war effort.

It is now virtually impossible to reduce these support-price levels, even though they provide an incentive to produce farm surpluses in excess of the demand, at a cost of billions of dollars to the taxpayers and at an actual waste.

The question on all these incentives is, how big do they have to be to make the so-called private enterprise system function?

The obvious answer is that no businessman or anybody else is going to risk money on an enterprise if he thinks he'll lose his shirt at it. That is just plain horse sense.

But does there have to be an opportunity for unlimited profits by unscrupulous operators and racketeers?

The answer to the war profiteers of World War I was the renegotiation act of World War II. It enabled the government to recapture excessive profits on defense contracts. It would seem to be no more than simple justice to provide a renegotiation clause for housing contractors receiving the benefits of government insured mortgages.

An examination of congressional hearings on the housing legislation now under investigation reveals that congress knowingly made allowances for overgenerous profits to the building industry. This legislation was renewed by congress in 10 different laws.

Listen to what ex-congressman Albert M. Cole, R., Kans., said about this program in 1940: "I agree that a political football has been made out of these housing bills. But Titles I, II and VI of the FHA are not controversial. They are practically agreed on by all members of the house."

This is the same Mr. Cole who now, as housing and home finance administrator, kicked off this great housing scandal and is asking congress for $250,000 to investigate the irregularities developed under these extra-incentive programs.

BACK BENCH NOW

Aneurin Bevan, leftist Laborite in Britain, has left the so-called "shadow cabinet," the high command of the minority Labor party. He resigned in a huff over the British government's decision to consider a sort of Pacific NATO.

His own party leader, Clement Attlee, gave the British move only very qualified support. But evidently, given the faintest intimation that we might weigh some kind of united action against communism in the far east is more than Bevan can bear.

He is sure it will lead to general war, as many of his stripe were sure the European NATO would.

Well, now Brother Bevan moves from the front-labor-bench-to-the-back; but we suspect his voice will carry as well from there.

HOOSIER "CORN"

House Republican majority leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana gave the American Society of Newspaper Editors a good sample of Hoosier corn—in defending the Eisenhower record, and they loved him for it.

"I'm like the fellow who said he couldn't make a speech and then proved it," began Halleck. Other samples:

"We've just caught a five-pound bass and if you don't believe it I'll show you the hook. The most important thing about selecting a necktie is the price. I used to make an honest living—practicing law."

POWERS FROM THE SUN

Every hour the sun pours upon the earth the energy-equivalent of twenty-one billion tons of coal. The state of New Mexico alone can supply from solar radiation over ten trillion horsepower-hours a year. The land of the temperate and tropical zones is flooded with more energy from the sun than mankind has utilized in the form of fuel, falling water, uranium and muscle since it came out of the trees a million years ago. Such facts have been known for a century and longer, which explains why John Ericsson of Monitor fame spent about $100,000 in building solar power plants—huge mirrors that focused the rays of the sun on a boiler. A few others followed his example with modifications. All these efforts to make the most of the spendthrift sun's lavish expenditure of energy came to nothing. Ordinary fuel is still so cheap that even though solar radiation costs nothing a steam power plant is cheaper.

Now come the Bell Telephone laboratories with a "solar battery" that changes this picture of failure in the commercial sense into one of potential success. It is the transistor that has brought about the change, a little device which was developed by John Bardeen and W. H. Brattain of the laboratories and which is already taking the place of the vacuum tube for many purposes. The essential element of the transistor on which the laboratories now rely is chemically pure silicon to which minute amounts of impurities are added to convert it into a semi-conductor of electricity. Let sunlight fall on strips of silicon and it is possible to supply enough to energize a radio transmitter that broadcasts both music and speech. The chances are that we shall soon make use of sun-powered batteries at amplified stations in a rural telephone system. In fact it is now being done at Amesbury, Mass.

This is a far cry from lighting a city with solar batteries, but when it is considered that even with the device now available transistors can be so linked that power from the sun can be delivered at the rate of fifty watts a square yard of surface an old dream is rapidly transformed into reality.

Two decades of painstaking research lie behind this development—research conducted by a group of able physicists competently directed and working according to a plan. And the strange thing is that success came by studying the old crystal detector which boys who are now grown men used in their homemade wireless sets to pick up bedtime stories and listen to the radio calls of their mates in other states. We are still far from driving the kitchen refrigerator with sunbeams, we are getting there rapidly. It may well be, as Dr. James B. Conant has been telling us, we ought to transfer some of our interest in atomic power to sun power.—New York Times.

MR. RAYNER AND PRIVATE POWER

When Time magazine described Paul Rayner, former head of the Bonneville Power administration, as "for years the top federal power exponent in the northwest," it was not exaggerating. The magazine does go a little far, however, when it credits Rayner with single-handedly creating the Northwest Power pool, in pointing out that by associating Bonneville Power with private power firms in this pool Rayner acknowledged that private firms do perform a function in the power field.

During the time he was head of Bonneville, however, there was no indication that Mr. Rayner ever accepted it as a fact that there was justification for existence of private power companies. Certainly the Bonneville administration under his direction did everything it could to expand public power and destroy private power in the northwest.

The article in Time now suggests that since leaving Bonneville and going to the Seattle municipal power system Mr. Rayner is beginning to see power production from a different viewpoint. He is now credited with the formation of a public-private group, including the Seattle and Tacoma municipal systems, two public utility districts and a private firm, the Puget Sound Power and Light company, to plan development of new generating facilities in the Columbia basin on the new partnership basis with the federal government. If this step indicates that one staunch public power monopoly advocate is beginning to think that private enterprise has a legitimate place in the power field, it is an interesting development.—Doris Steinman.

POT SHOTS

STILL BEING USED

Dear Pots: Someone said the Little Theater guild was looking for lots of clothes of the 1880 period to use in connection with the presentation of East Lynne here in about a month.

I have a limited quantity of such clothing. The Little Theater guild is welcome to use said clothing if someone will provide a barrel for me until the clothing is returned.

You see, I wear the trousers (vintage 1880) while the missus buys and wears all sorts of other clothing.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Pots: It won't be many more days before every canal, lateral and ditch in Magic Valley will be running full of water which brings life to the desert and takes life, too.

Don't you think now is the time to print something in the way of a warning BEFORE some little child loses his life in a ditch? Let's warn the parents now and also show them what to do in case of an accident.

P.S. note: You have a good point. We'll refer the matter to the proper people.

STUDY NEEDED

Pot Shots has concluded, after deep study and a Sunday afternoon session in bicycle mechanics, that a course of bicycle mechanics should be required of every boy BEFORE he gets a bicycle.

And not only that, but there should be some sort of law that all beginners would be required to start learning how to ride one of the vehicles on an old machine.

Or has someone else before now been confronted with major bicycle repair problems while Junior tries to be helpful while managing only to get in the way?

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—For the police of hypersensitive souls who shrivel because the McCarthy show is humiliating our beloved country in the eyes of the English, French and Russians, I can offer eye-witness testimony on the mother of parliaments and the French National assembly, a "nd common knowledge on the legislative arm of the Russian state.

The British house of commons is a disorderly, loudish disgrace, the French parliament always has been a riotous, incoherent mob and the Russian legislature is merely a phase, not an arm or branch, of the most brutal power in the history of man's attempt to govern his damn fool self.

I will entertain no exceptions to this last estimate because the Germans under Hitler did maintain, always at great risk, a core, though not a corps, of decent human beings who loathed the foul regime. Late in the war, as we later learned, these people tried to get Roosevelt and Churchill to help them knock off the fuhrer and save their country from the fate to which Eisenhower doomed it by his dumb submission to the decision of God-knows-who to pull back the conquering armies of western Christendom 100 miles from the Elbe. There is no such element in Russia. There was, but Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin massacred them all.

In the house of commons, the members in the front row near the speaker habitually put their feet up on the table which is the repository of the symbolic mace, and the house, as a whole, has a habit of going nuts on small provocation and heckling and bawling like a lot of loafers around a windjammer's ladder at Hyde park corner.

Their proceedings at other times are tedious rather than dignified and the members are utterly servile to their respective political parties. This amounts to a government by party caucus and a Marxist party constitutes the loyal opposition un-pair the fact that the American congress is incomparably superior and that the Dave Schine case is amazing a great net profit to our people.

Because, farol as it all seems, it will presently dawn on us that the army was getting a rotten deal from the civilian managers of the old way department and the present department of the army.

It will dawn on us that Eisenhower and his palace guard of new dealers tried to conceal proof of treachery where absolute loyalty has always been a holy tradition.

This idiotic row, which is said to embarrass us in the eyes of the British was kicked up at the White House for the sole purpose of holding back the name of the one person who authorized the promotion and the honorable discharge of one army dentist.

When it is all over, McCarthy and Roy Cohn will get that name. While they are at it, they ought to learn the name and rank of the officer who authorized the shipment of Eliott Roosevelt's man-eating mutt from Washington to Los Angeles on an army plane in space taken from a housing soldier.

That was a flagrant, willful violation of a law of order issued in writing, but the case was smothered because, with the exception of Johnny, who has been called the white sheep of the family, the other Roosevelt had no better ethics or livelier conscience than the old woman.

So the British are going to think less of us, are they? Well, how would you like a television view of a female MP with the build of a hippopotamus threatening to beat up one of her honorable colleagues on the claim that same had taken a kick at her as happened the last time I was there?

I am one of many who couldn't care less what the British public thinks of McCarthy and of us for turning him loose, and that goes double for the man who sent the black and tan to Ireland, Sir Winston Churchill. At least, we are making an effort to expose the reason whereas the worst traitor of them all, which ultimately gave him his time in jail than they ordinarily give a mildewed drunk for spitting in another derelict's beer.

City Rebuked On Fund Use For Publicity

This March report to the city auditor Monday night. City auditor Clyde Koonce criticized the expenditure by the city of $825 with the Idaho magazine for the purpose of promoting the Golden Jubilee celebration.

Koonce wrote that city funds should not be used to "promote, advertise, or subsidize." He wrote, "If we go to the extreme, it would be quite proper, in view of the expenditures for the city of Twin Falls to subsidize the local paper in its forth-coming Golden Jubilee edition."

Recent Tendency

Koonce wrote there has been an increasing tendency in recent years for the city to subsidize "promotional items."

The auditor reported the city attorney ordered March.

City Attorney Robert N. W. Ball presented an easement agreement with William Reither, permitting Reither to lay a coaxial cable television and bury it inside the gutter section at least 12 feet deep.

Approval Needed

The city engineer must approve construction which must be completed within 60 days. Reither must secure all property and the 16-foot easement may be rescinded if the city fails to comply with the agreement. He must post a $1,000 bond to cover any damages as well as personal property insurance. The agreement is not transferable. A motion was passed adopting the agreement.

City Manager J. H. Latimore announced the Idaho Municipal League meeting at McCall June 10, 11 and 12.

Latimore, Ballou and Commissioner H. R. Grant indicated would attend and other commissioners said they might be able to attend.

The city manager reported the meeting of the first Police Academy was held in June. Police Chief Ward Gillette said the limited element of $5 will probably limit the number of men Twin Falls can send.

Reports on Meet

Latimore reported on last Thursday meeting with persons connected with the Addison avenue east side.

Chairman A. F. Nelson proclaimed today carnation day for the Twin Falls War Mothers who will use the carnations for child welfare and disabled veterans.

A renewal was granted for hangar at Joslin field for Harry Yaw. The building inspector reported $1,035.40 in fees during the month. The police judge reported collecting $1,680.50 in fines, bonds and court costs.

Second Annual Show Set Thursday

More Than 100 Plants Will Be Displayed for Show Thursday

Over 100 African violet plants will be displayed at the second annual African violet show Thursday afternoon at the Legion hall auxiliary room.

The Magic Valley Saintpaulia club is sponsoring the event. Mrs. Kenneth Hodder, Twin Falls, and Mrs. C. B. Reaga, Kimberly, are show co-chairmen.

The show will be open to the public from 1 until 8 p. m. Displays will feature arrangements for mantle, table and coffee tables, a clinic on raising African violets and an information and literature booth. Small plants will be sold.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded for the best arrangements and specimen plants. Entries will be judged by persons attending the show.

Theme of the show is "African Violet fairytale."

Mrs. William Chancey, Twin Falls, is president of the Magic Valley organization.

HAILEY, May 4—The second firing practice for the howitzer company of the national guard here was held Sunday at the Hailey firing range three miles east of Bellevue. Capt. Irvin Johnson was in charge.

Idahoans Plan Annual Picnic For California

More than 50 Twin Falls county residents are expected to be among former Idaho residents and vacationing Gem staters to attend a California picnic for Idahoans May 23 at Long Beach.

Registrations at Bixby park will be set up by county so friends and relatives may find each other more easily. Those attending may bring their own picnic lunch. Sandwiches are available at the park.

The keynote of the annual picnic, expected to be the biggest congregation of Idahoans outside of Idaho in the state's history, is to promote Idaho friendships in southern California, it is explained. More than 1,000 are expected to attend.

Bennett H. Jacobs, president of the Idaho State society, has invited all former Idaho residents who will be in southern California during May to join the picnic.

The affair will begin at noon, with entertainment planned to begin at 2 p. m. Prizes are scheduled for the oldest and youngest Idahoans; largest Idaho family; oldest married Idahoans; oldest Idaho Spinster; oldest Idaho bachelor and other classifications.

Assisting Jacobs are Mrs. Ruby Bassett, Grace, secretary; Mrs. Elmore Clemenden, Boise; Dwight Smith, Salmon, and Mrs. Phoebe A. Jacobs, American Falls.

Planning to attend from Twin Falls county are Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bender, Mrs. Clarice Miller, Mrs. Bertha Lallory, Ralph C. Mills, Mrs. O. Patrick, W. A. Hall, Frank M. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Ballard, A. S. Martyn, Elizabeth Schoeller, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilson, Mrs. P. C. Garner, Mr. and

Pleasant Valley Candidate Is Youngest Queen Event Entry

MRS. WILBUR BUTLER

Youngest of the five mothers entered in the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce contest to select a "queen mother for a day" Saturday is Mrs. Wilbur Butler.

The 28-year-old mother is the candidate of the Pleasant Valley Grange. She and her husband and three children live on a 160-acre farm one mile east and seven miles south of Kimberly.

Mrs. Butler is a native of Idaho. She was born at Star and attended grade and high school in Piler where she was graduated in 1942. Her husband was raised at Kimberly.

The Pleasant Valley Grange selected Mrs. Butler by secret ballot. She is "surprised and pleased" at being chosen, but not certain why she was chosen.

Mrs. Butler likes to raise flowers, but doesn't have the time to devote to her hobby. Her family, including two sons, 7 and 9, and a daughter, 6, keep her pretty busy.

Her acquaintances reveal her children are extremely well behaved, showing time and effort spent with them.

Mrs. Butler attends the Christian church in Kimberly and believes "the way you conduct your daily life is just as important as attending church each Sunday."

America's Top Performing Car

Exactly what is fine performance?

We'd call it a precise blending of power, stability and control. That's Lincoln engineering from the start. No other American car can match Lincoln's outstanding performance record!

Body balance is pure in Lincoln — uncompromised by fins, bulges, or "bedspring" suspensions. Its great V-205 power plant is matched not to competitors' power claims, but to actual driving needs.

The result? A thoroughbred automobile that twice took the first four places in the stock car division of the Pan American Road Races. And a car that has topped its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run for four straight years!

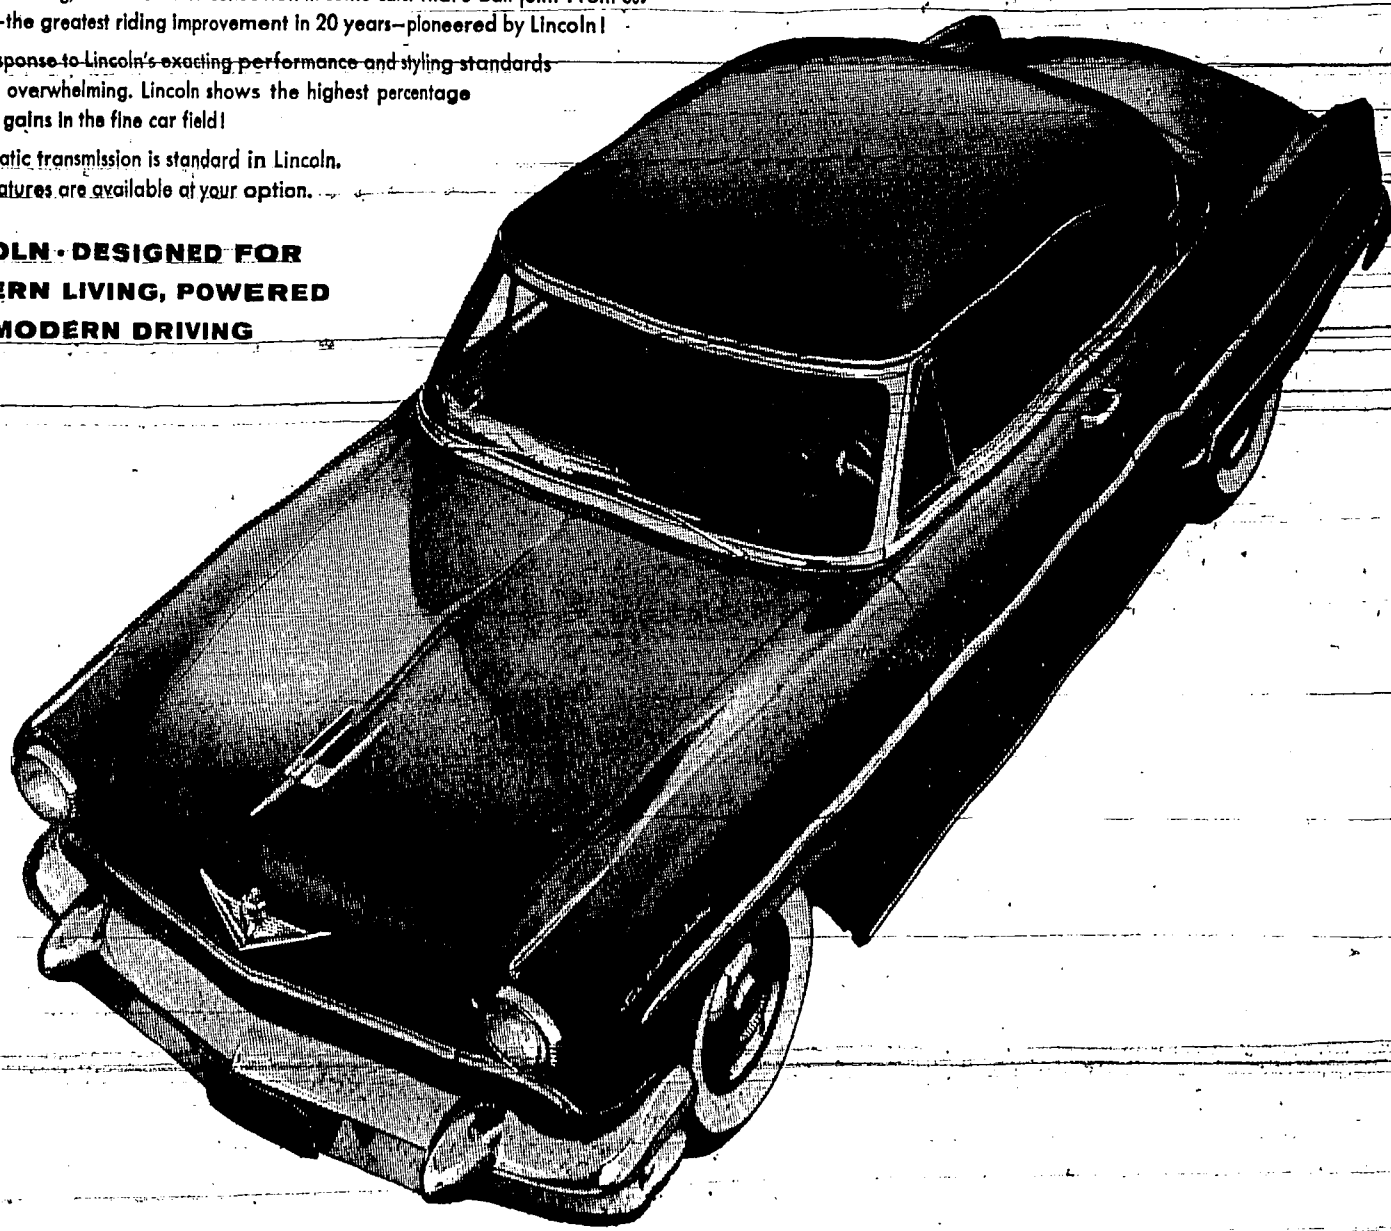

There's a steady, "geared-to-the-road" security to your Lincoln ride—quite a difference from the floating, "out-of-control" sensation in some cars. That's Ball-joint Front Suspension—the greatest riding improvement in 20 years—pioneered by Lincoln!

Public response to Lincoln's exalting performance and styling standards has been overwhelming. Lincoln shows the highest percentage of owner gains in the fine car field!

Hydra-Matic transmission is standard in Lincoln. Power features are available at your option.

Proposal for Two Colleges Told at Meet

Some energy and service fields it is returned to the Democratic party.

Turning to the issue of the closed schools, Whitaker praised the educational system in Idaho, and claimed that one of the state's most urgent needs is for more trained teachers. He said both SICE and NICE should be reactivated as a normal school and SICE as a normal training school or as the agriculture department of Idaho State college.

"This plan," Whitaker said, "could meet two increasing educational needs; the one for training elementary school teachers, the other for a four-year degree-granting agriculture school in southern Idaho."

Whitaker said advantage of his plan would include supervision and control of the schools by the board of education or board of regents; administration by the University of Idaho, and Idaho State college, thus reducing administrative costs; utilization of the four-million dollar state buildings and land investment; dual accreditation of the reactivated schools at the university and state levels; payment of non-duplicate for the two schools from their income; reduction of appropriations on four to two for educational institutions; and elimination of the fight between the institutions.

Whitaker pledged that, if elected governor, he would consult with the various educational organizations and others interested in the public school program before making any recommendations to the legislature. He charged that the two colleges were closed at a time when the state was in its best financial condition in many years. He noted that educational endowment funds of the schools were, by law, meant to be for the exclusive use of the state normal schools under the Idaho admission bill of July 3, 1920. He suggested a constitutional amendment might be passed to provide for transfer of the funds.

Tom Alworth, Filer, introduced the speaker. Ray Norton, Filer, presided over the meeting.

Pontiff Presides For Special Meet

VATZIAN CITY, May 4 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today presided over a special meeting of the Sacred Congregation of Rites for the first time since he fell ill with a stomach ailment last January.

Today's meeting was held on the second floor of the Apostolic palace in the presence of nine cardinals and members of the congregation. Cardinals who attended the ceremony said the 78-year-old pontiff looked well and was in excellent spirits.

During the meeting, the congregation voted approval to three miracles necessary for the canonization of three Italian blessed, Giuseppe Sigwalt, Domenico Basso and Cesare del Bufalo. They will be canonized by Pope Pius XII in a solemn ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica scheduled for June 13.

High Claim Made For New Product

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP)—American Viscose corporation disclosed yesterday experimental development of "a new rubber product called filasto that actually breathes."

Company President Frank H. Leichel said Avisco had not planned to unveil filasto "at this time," but took the wraps off a question-and-answer period at the annual stockholders meeting.

Dr. Worth Wade, assistant to Dr. Leichel and head of patent development work, said "filasto was discovered by accident—we found the process buried in the middle of one of our yarn-making patents."

Locked Brake Brings Detour For Big Plane

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah, May 4 (AP)—A two-engine cargo plane whose pilot feared to land at Mountain Home air force base in Idaho because of a locked brake, made a safe landing at Hill air force base yesterday with the help of the base fire department.

The pilot, Capt. William A. DeBlomer, was on a routine flight to Mountain Home air force base but suspected the brake had locked on the left wheel of the C-45. He cautiously circled down and barely touched the runway.

Difficulty Proved
That proved the brake was locked, so he and his two-man crew returned to Hill air force base, where they are stationed with the 1908th AACs Squadron.

While he circled to use up his gasoline supply, the fire department sprayed the runway for half a mile with foamite, which is used to combat fires.

Puts Down Cautiously
Captain DeBlomer then cautiously settled onto the foamy, slippery substance as fire trucks raced alongside.

The locked wheel skidded safely along the runway for some distance and the plane remained upright.

After about a quarter of a mile, the wheel unlocked and the plane rolled to a halt undamaged.

DO TWIN FALLS GIRLS MAKE GOOD TRUCK DRIVERS?

The automobile industry is having a lively year. All the new 1954 models have been on the road for several months now, and everybody has had a pretty good chance to see what they're like. In the big towns have had Auto Shows. Some towns have had two! Lavish amounts have been spent to impress Mr. and Mrs. American Driver with the splendor and glamour of the "all-new" models.

But amidst all the floodlights and fanfare, has anybody considered the plight of our womenfolk? Some of our local gals are getting pretty fed up with the "bulk and bulge" trend in auto design. They are beginning to say things like this:

The garage now has to be slightly larger than the house, else the car won't fit in.

Bumps and scratches are an every-day occurrence—as traffic gets heavier and cars get bigger.

C. It was hard enough to find one parking place downtown. Now you have to find two!

D. You can't enjoy driving anymore, because you feel like you're piloting the "Queen Mary."

But don't despair gals, we have a perfect solution for you. It's the 1954 Mercury! Seventeen feet of the most responsive and functional transportation ever put on wheels. Official registration figures show that huge public acceptance has greeted Mercury's "Reasonable" approach to auto design...giving Mercury owners better resale values! In fact, Mercury is America's fastest growing car!

Free-flowing lines spell the difference! A look—and a feel of solid, rugged, compactness about the whole car! A feeling of control. And a combination of brilliant performance and sparkling styling that you can't buy anywhere else!

This is the car for you gals! Just ask the men!

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Now and again a boy or a girl asks why he is not liked by the other students. "I cannot seem to make a friend. I am as good looking as other girls, have nice clothes, and all that, but other girls, not as good looking, not anywhere near as well dressed, are the center of a group every intermission. They go to parties together and I'm never invited. They're polite to me, but there it ends. What can I do? I'm at the head of my class but I'm never asked to be an officer in any organization, never asked to do anything, any time."

That is certainly a bad situation—not be asked to do anything, any time, with the other young people. How can that be? All young people in a school want to be friendly, want friends, long to be "popular." Most of them manage this, some with a little effort, some just naturally. What is the matter with this bright girl? Could it be that she hugs herself to herself? Hold fast all she is and all she has with never a thought of giving? It looks that way to me, for I know that schoolboys and girls are always delighted to grasp the hand that is held out to them in friendship.

Once I saw a bright, pretty, talented girl isolated. She asked for it. She was a member of the art class and it was the custom of the students to offer their work to the teacher's collection which became a reference source for the class. It was their way of sharing their achievements, their gifts.

One day, this young lady, having finished a fine piece of work, refused to give it to the collection saying, "I don't see why anybody else should profit by my work. I'm taking it home for my own collection." After that she was alone in the crowd.

There is an old proverb that says, "The hand that gives, gathers." That is a bit of tried and trusted truth.—What one gives one keeps forever in terms of love, friendship, peace of mind and general happiness. One grows with sharing, giving with open heart and hand. To win a friend one must be one. To grasp, clutch, hoard, is to go alone and be lonely.

If you have a talent, share it. If you are a whiz at math, lend a hand to the fellow who says, "I can't get it." He can if you help him, for a student learns faster from another student than he does from the teacher.

You have nothing to share? This is not a question of money, of material things, at all. You have youth. Share that with your elders showing them a little extra consideration now and then. You can read, so

Miss Smith Weds Harley Sizemore In Church Rites

Barbara Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Twin Falls, was wed to Harley Sizemore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sizemore, Kimberly in a ceremony Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

The Rev. W. A. MacArthur performed the rituals before baskets of pink and white gladiolus.

The bride wore a white gown which was fashioned with a skirt of silk illusion net over satin and a lace bodice. The sleeves were long and pointed and the stand-up collar was accented with iridescent sequins. Her veil was of French illusion net held by a tiara decorated with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Betty Porter was maid of honor and Enone Matson, Beverly Smith, sister of the bride, and Shirley Sizemore, the bridegroom's sister, Kimberly, were the bridesmaids. Janone and Sarah Greives were the flower girls.

Robert Carey, Kimberly, served as best man, and Carl Peterson, Murtaugh; Jordan Sizemore, brother of the bridegroom, and Dave Phillips ushered.

Russell Bennett was the soloist and Mrs. Robert Miller played the organ.

Mrs. Smith wore a gray sheer dress with red accessories and a corsage of red shattered carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white shattered carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement. Mrs. Wayne King and Mrs. Dean Vickers, aunts of the bride, presided at the serving table. Elsie Parkins was in charge of the gifts and Doris French, the guest book.

For a going-away ensemble the bride chose a pink sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories. The couple will make their home at 342 Blue Lakes boulevard.

Sizemore was graduated from Kimberly high school in 1951 and attended Westminster college in Utah. The bride is a graduate of Twin Falls high school.

The bride was honored at a shower given by Mrs. Matson and Mrs. Porter.

You read to some elderly person needing a cheery visitor. You can sing, cook, recite, dance, or just look pleasant. Do what you can, give it freely, and you'll never be lonely.

CUT FOOD WASTE

eat better than you ever have before - with a Home Food Freezer

You've thought about owning a food freezer. With new crops of fresh fruit and vegetables approaching, why put it off? Apply the many benefits to your family—the convenience, better eating, and the price of food itself. The finest home freezers in history are on display at your appliance store today.

Here is what a food freezer will do for you:

1. CUT FOOD WASTE—You can freeze half a roast, half a pie, left-overs that might otherwise spoil.
2. ECONOMY IN BUYING—Get frozen fruits and vegetables by the dozen, instead of the single package. Substantial savings can often be made.
3. PACK YOUR OWN—Freeze the fruits, beans, peas you grow yourself for fancy eating the whole year round. Freeze trout, pheasant, venison.
4. SEASONAL SAVINGS—Freeze poultry, vegetables, meat in season when you can take advantage of bargain prices.
5. SAVE SHOPPING—Eliminate those time-consuming, in-between trips to the store. From bread to ice cream to spring chicken, your freezer is a complete provisioner.
6. EAT LIKE A KING—Eat whatever you want when you want it. A well-stocked freezer caters to everyone's taste, on a moment's notice.

The ROSANA Shop

Press Cited for Hospital Operation to Benefit Patient

(The Times-News)

It is not surprising that we would hesitate to have our car repaired at a shop where the standards of workmanship, supervision, even the mechanics in the shop, appeared to be of good quality as well as the individual who was doing the work. The most important safety factor in the hospital is that of the patient. The medical authorities recognize that all tissues removed during surgery will not be diseased. Accepted standards permit of a tolerance from 10 to 15 per cent, which covers those cases in which symptoms, even after removed, the number of births by Caesarean operation, too low a percentage of consultations and too much inconsistency between pre-operative and post-operative diagnosis.

Medical authorities recognize that all tissues removed during surgery will not be diseased. Accepted standards permit of a tolerance from 10 to 15 per cent, which covers those cases in which symptoms, even after consultation, make positive diagnosis difficult, and in which surgery is decided for the safety of the patient. Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator, made a special point of the statistics revealing the great reduction in the percentage of normal tissues removed in appendicitis operations—from 58.9 per cent in 1952 to 14 per cent in 1953.

"That very fact in itself demonstrates better than anything else the great strides we have made at Magic Valley Memorial. It shows what can be done with a proper staff organization and rules and regulations which are enforced." Other statistics which speak well for the hospital include the following:

Any figure under 3 per cent is considered acceptable in recording infant mortality. The rate for Magic Valley Memorial during 1963 was 1.89 per cent. During 1962 it dropped to .94 per cent.

The percentage of Caesarean operations, 4.7 in 1962 and 4.4 during 1963 is regarded as well within accepted national averages of between 4 and 5 per cent.

While certain consultations are required by rules and regulations of the hospital, the percentages altogether—12.53 in 1962 and 14.61 in 1963—were below the standard recognized minimum of 15 to 20 per cent.

"This would indicate that greater use should be made of consultations, especially by individual patients in cases of serious illness," Mrs. Oliver explained. "No patient should hesitate to discuss the need for consultation with his doctor, because greater use of consultation is something to be desired in all hospital and medical practice."

"It all goes back to our same fundamental objective. We are all here—the hospital, the staff and the board—to serve the patient."

Action Filed Here On Child Support

A complaint was filed in district court Monday by Mrs. Phyllis J. Chigbrow against Orville W. Chigbrow under the uniform enforcement of reciprocal support act.

The couple was married at Elko, Nev. Oct. 20, 1952, and has one child. The wife obtained a divorce at Gooding Feb. 13. She asks $50 monthly for the child's support.

The case will be sent to the district court in Lyon county, Kans., for action.

Bees Pound Three Cowboy Hurlers in 14-9 Marathon Win

SALT LAKE CITY, May 4 (AP)—The Salt Lake City Bees hammered three Magic Valley pitchers for 15 hits and took a 14-9 marathon victory Monday night. The win gave the Bees a sweep of the series with the last place Cowboys and kept them on top of the Pioneer league standings with seven victories and but one defeat.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB COUGHLAN

Help is on the way for the cellar-dwelling Magic Valley Cowboys who have dropped eight of their nine Pioneer league games.

Club officials, including president Bill Wiseman and Ed Schack, business manager, spent a long, hard week-end on the phone with Chicago Cub officials in both Los Angeles and Chicago.

As the result of the conversations, with Gene Lawing in Chicago and Jack Fournier in Los Angeles, the Cowboys have been promised an infielder and an outfielder "within a week."

The players are to come from the Los Angeles Angels and are supposed to be top-notch ball players.

"Right now, we don't know who they will be but we're definitely getting some help and fast," declared Schack.

The pitching situation is a little different, Schack points out.

"We'll probably have to wait until June 1 before we get any help in that department. However, there's an outside chance we may get some before that but we're not counting on it."

Fournier was in Salt Lake City Sunday watching the Cowboys in action and club officials said he will be in Twin Falls Friday when the Cowboys open a six-game home stand for a further inspection of the team.

The Cowboys new outfielder, Bud Davis, broke in with the Cowboys in the second game of the Sunday doubleheader and while he went hitless in two off-innings to the plate, observers felt he may fill the bill in the Cowboy outfield. Last night at Ogden, he hit one for five.

Another outfielder and a steady infielder and watch the club begin to move.

There's a meeting on in Hansen Tuesday that may have a great deal of bearing on the future of baseball in and around this area.

A group of diehard baseball fans, headed by Clifford Perkins, Hansen, are meeting to set up plans for the revival of the old South Central Idaho League.

Perkins said the attempt to bring back interest in the old loop may help revive baseball in general in this area and that was why he and other interested parties are calling the meet.

Since Perkins made his original announcement, several other baseball fans have called in requesting information on the meeting and several Twin Falls fans have indicated they will be present.

Burley and Jerome are expected to send representatives to the meeting.

The old SCI league, as we understand it, last operated here about three years ago, it consisted of two sections, A and B, with games played every Sunday.

One game a week, however, was played at Burley under the lights.

Perhaps a revival of a good brand of amateur or even semi-pro ball can revitalize the interest in Magic Valley baseball. It'll get people interested again in baseball.

And maybe that interest will show itself in Cowboy attendance.

Letters from readers are always welcome to this column along with suggestions and criticism. However, anonymous letters aren't worth a hill of beans.

So, if "4100 Baseball Fan" will identify himself or herself, we'll be glad to reprint part or whole of the letter which, incidentally, makes a lot of good, common sense. If all the gripes and suggestions could be aired properly, we feel much of the fog concerning the Cowboy operation could be cleared up in short order.

Sauer, Musial Moving up In National Slugging Race

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Veteran outfielders Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals were challenging pace-setting Ransom (Randy) Jackson of the Cubs for National league batting supremacy Monday.

Jackson, who led by a healthy margin a week ago, saw his average drop to .426. Sauer, meanwhile, moved into contention at .412, followed by Musial, a six-time batting champion, at .400.

Bill Glynn of the Cleveland Indians still tops the American league with a .400 mark, but Detroit rookie Bill Tipton is right at his heels at .404. Figures include Sunday's games.

Jackson, after swinging at a 500 clip last week, went 4-for-16 and dipped 76 points. Teammate Sauer, on the other hand, collected nine hits in 17 trips and gained 59 points. Musial, with 12-for-23 during the week, boosted his average 84 points.

Brooklyn's Duke Snider, fourth with .385, and Don Mueller of the Giants, fifth at .381, also had phenomenal weeks at the plate. Snider delivered 12 hits in 24 at bats and raised his average 60 points, while Mueller climbed 95 points with 14-for-20.

With Al Rosen taking over at first base for the Indians, Glynn had only one at bat during the week and his average fell 13 points. Tipton, tied for second a week ago, went 6-for-15 and advanced to within two points of the top.

Billy Goodman of the Red Sox, who won the batting crown in 1950, ranks third with .370. Fourth last week, Goodman connected four times in 11 trips and suffered a two-point decline.

Feel That Muscle

Harry Grissom delightedly lifted Whittier Lockman's left arm after the first baseman hit a 370-foot homer that gave the veteran a 1-0 shutout. Lockman felt that it should have been the other way around when the 36-year-old right-hander qualified as a Giant starter with a three-hit performance against Robin Roberts and the Phillies—(NEA telephoto.)

Trail, Cosgriff Win in First Round of Blue Lakes Tournament

Glen Trail and Mel Cosgriff defeated Frank Pizza and Bob Denton 3 and 2 in the first round championship flight of the Blue Lakes annual spring best-ball tournament.

In other championship flight matches, Dr. W. M. Peterson and Gordon Edgar defeated Harvey Pierce and Dr. Bob Packard 2 and 1 and Ed Purves and Lynn Hempleman defeated Jim Sinclair and Phil Purves 2 and 1.

In the first flight matches, Dr. H. L. Stowe and Jim Winterholder defeated Charles Sieber and Jack White 1 up; Dr. Bob Sutcliffe and Frank DeLuca defeated Bob Stephan and Cliff Pix 2 and 1; Ron Everett and Bill McRoberts defeated O. H. Gore and Al Westergren 2 up; Doug Borlase and Harry Barry defeated Harry Elcock and L. H. Haslam 5 and 4.

In second flight matches, Glenn Jenkins and John Anderson defeated Dr. George Davis and Bill Blake 2 and 1; Keith Cutler and Ray Schwartz defeated Hugh Boone and Jim Kinney 2 and 1; By Ellsworth and Ken Brown defeated Dr. H. J. Schwartz and Joe Thieson by default.

Pairings for the second round of play, which must be completed by Sunday according to Bud Davis, pro at the course, are:

Championship Flight
Glenn Trail and Mel Cosgriff vs. winner of Ed Harper, Dr. Morton Cutler and J. C. Ashworth, Bill Peters match; Ed Purves and Lynn Hempleman vs. Gordon Edgar and Dr. William Peterson.

First Flight
Dr. H. Stowe and Jim Winterholder vs. Dr. Bob Sutcliffe and Frank DeLuca; Ron Everett and Bill McRoberts vs. Doug Borlase and Harry Barry.

Second Flight
Glenn Jenkins and John Anderson vs. Adrian Pitcher and George Detweiler; Ted Hinton and Bob Snyder vs. Jack Hardy and G. A. Watson.

In other action at the club, Nicki Edgar won the junior tourney for boys 8-10 with Billy Reese second. Mike Gray won the junior tourney for boys age 11-14 with Dick Nielsen second.

In the girls tourney, ages 11-14, Linda Edgar and Nancy Hogue tied for first with Nancy Taylor second. Harry Elcock won Sunday's blind baggy tourney with Jack White second and John Anderson third.

League Facing Dilemma as Calgary Folds

TACOMA, May 4 (AP)—Two big questions still were unanswered Monday about the Western International league—will it drop from a 10 to a 8-team circuit Friday, and how will Edmonton stay in the fold?

The dilemma arose abruptly, but not unexpectedly, with the announcement Saturday by league president Robert A. Abel that he had ordered the surrender of the Calgary franchise.

The drastic action was taken, Abel said, after the Calgary owners failed to provide the players with expense money at the start of the season last Thursday and reneged on depositing a guarantee bond to assure future operations.

After a quick swing around Yakima, Lewiston and Wenatchee, Abel said on his return to his Tacoma home late Sunday night that unless the Calgary franchise is transferred to a new owner by Thursday night the team will be disbanded and the league will operate with only nine members.

That posed the immediate problem of Edmonton's future in the loop.

With Calgary out, Edmonton will be "at the end of the line" 700 miles from the nearest city, Spokane and Vancouver. Travel costs for teams visiting the far north prairie city might be prohibitive without games at Calgary to cut the expense.

Abel still talked optimistically Monday about the league's future before he took off for a quick flying trip to Victoria, home of the Tyees. He said the circuit will continue, "and there is no thought of stopping play."

Sheppard Wins Best-Ball Medal Honors in "Sudden Death" Play

Dick Sheppard won a sudden-death playoff to win medalist honors in the annual best-ball tournament which got under way Sunday at the municipal golf course. Five golfers, Frank Pizza, Warren Larsen, Jim Sinclair, John Dripps and Sheppard had qualified for the tourney with 77s.

In the Sunday match, Dripps forfeited and the other four played with the high each hole dropping out. Sheppard fired a par on the fourth hole to beat Sinclair.

In the tournament, Sheppard and Monty Loughlin moved right into the finals of the championship flight by defeating Frank Pizza and Ed Harper 2 and 1. Sheppard and Loughlin defeated Harvey Pierce and Doug Bean 2 and 1 in the morning round.

Sheppard and Loughlin were five under par in the afternoon match.

In other championship flight, Flanagan and Harper defeated Hanley Payne and Glenn Trail in a morning match 6 and 4. Jim Sinclair and Sherman Williams defeated Roy Sherwood and Jack Baldwin 2 and 1.

In first flight matches, Don Tupper and Dick Sogn defeated Joe True and Bill Anderson 4 and 3 and Fred Stone and Ivan Stone defeated Adrian Pitcher and Keith Cutler 4 and 2.

In the second round matches, Ked Otto and Dick Coleman defeated D. Fox and F. Roberts.

Only one match was played in the third flight with Joe Glynn and Dave Barry defeating Elwin Green and Gilbert Smith 1 and 0.

In the fourth flight, J. Ridgeway and R. Cunningham defeated C. Williams and T. Norfleet 5 and 3.

Two matches were played in the fifth flight with Shelly McLain and John Allen defeating Clyde Hunter and John Dahl and Gordie Bjorn and C. Ray defeating John Rogers and Tom White 4 and 3.

The players will have until Sunday night to complete their first round.

Red Torture Termed Test By Russians

TOKYO, May 4 (AP)—A U. S. army mental specialist says the communists undertook large-scale "brain washing" of American prisoners in the Korean war in preparation for even bigger operations in case of a war between Russia and the United States.

"The Russian is a long-range planner," Capt. William E. Mayer, Cincinnati, assistant chief of the neuropsychiatric service at Tokyo's largest army mental hospital, told a meeting of physicians and psychiatrists yesterday.

Says Mayer, "Judging from what the returned prisoners have said in print since their return to the States," he continued, "we feel that at least a third of the prisoners who were held for two years or longer were cooperative and informative toward their captors."

"The terrifying thing about this is what it would mean if we were engaged in a war with Russia."

Calls It Test

Mayer, who interviewed many of the 3,000 returning prisoners, said the communists for future reference wanted to know how successful their brain washing technique would be against Americans.

He said communists never intended to keep large numbers of Americans as prisoners, feeling that those they could indoctrinate would be more valuable to them back home.

Tour of Hospital Held for 70 County Seniors Interested in Medical Studies

Seventy county high school seniors were introduced to the medical field at the annual tea of the Magic Valley Memorial hospital guild Thursday afternoon at the hospital.

Purpose of the event was to give high school seniors interested in the medical field an opportunity to discuss their chosen professions with medical personnel. Students from Buhl, Castelford, Filer, Kimberly and Twin Falls high school attended.

Students met with various medical personnel and inspected hospital departments.

Professions represented were physicians, dentists, nurses, practical nurses, medical technologists, physical therapists, speech therapists, clinical psychologists, medical social workers, X-ray technicians and dietitians.

Medical personnel participating were Dr. C. R. McWilliams, Dr. J. Woodson Creed, Dr. O. W. Burgess, Dorothy Aldrich, Mrs. June Navin, Thelma Tverdahl, Mrs. Molly Borchers, Mrs. Winnifred White, Vernon Harris, Mrs. James Rosenbaum and Mrs. Joseph Carlisle.

Guild members who were hostesses for the sectional discussions were Mrs. R. C. Aashenbrenner, Mrs. Henry Davis, Mrs. Morton Cutler, Mrs. Leonard Jacob, Mrs. Frankie Alworth, Mrs. R. S. Toffelmire, Mrs. Harwood Stowe, Mrs. Melbourne Coggriff, Mrs. C. E. Roberts, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Gray and Mrs. Max Carver.

Mrs. Rose North, Twin Falls, and Lois Jane Rudy, Buhl, dean of girls, accompanied their students.

Tea was served by a committee of Mrs. Dean Affleck, chairman; Mrs. G. M. Fisher, Mrs. Claude Brown, Mrs. V. Ellis Knight and Mrs. C. B. Boymer.

Mrs. Glenn Voyles was program chairman.

Mrs. Earl Faulkner, hospital guild president, and Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator, welcomed the students.

Guild members voted at their business meeting Monday afternoon to create a scholarship fund for licensed practical nursing classes at Magic Valley Memorial hospital and to purchase an incubator for premature babies.

Mrs. Jack Meyers, hospital housekeeper, was presented a gift from the guild by Mrs. Faulkner in appreciation of the work she has done for the guild. The sewing committee of the guild honored Mrs. Meyers at a potluck luncheon and handkerchief shower Tuesday.

The sewing committee is to meet the fourth Tuesday of each month during the summer.

It was announced the guild's annual fall tea will be held Sept. 13. It will conclude the guild's summer activities.

Market Group Supports Plan For Wool Bill

POCATELLO, May 4 (AP)—The Idaho Wool Marketing association yesterday went on record, through a unanimous vote of its directors, as approving a proposed government wool program recently passed by the senate.

The action came at the group's mid-season directors meeting. John T. Poole, Roberts, is chairman.

The Idaho Wool Growers association has gone on record as opposing the program. It recently passed the senate on a 69-17 vote. Idaho Senators Welker and Dworshak voted the bill.

The directors of the wool marketing organization yesterday said they would advise the Idaho congressional party that the entire association, including 4,000 members, favored the program.

Directors attending the Pocatello meeting were Poole; E. A. Stolorow, Idaho Falls; F. J. Whittaker, Leadore; Cy Young, St. Anthony; Vern Barnes, American Falls; J. W. Matthews, Burley; Ernest Hogan, Bancroft; and E. F. Brockman, Pocatello, secretary.
