Chain of Food Stores Buying Shops in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, May 6 (U.S.)—The 20-outlet Albertson food store chain of Boise is expanding into Salt Lake City on a chain basis, it was disclosed yesterday.

George Zeese, owner of the Success markets, announced the sale of two of his largest stores in the city to the Albertson concern.

This brings to three the number of stores Albertson will have in the Utah capital. The firm already has under construction a half-million dollar food store in a shopping center which is being built in Sugar House.

J. A. Albertson, president of Albertson's Food Centers, said he hopes to expand his chain still more in Utah.

"We'd like to have seven or eight more stores in this area," Albertson said.

He estimated the two Success market purchases will bring his total investment in the food business in Utah to $750,000.

He said Kent L. Rudd, manager of the Albertson center in Twin Falls, will supervise all three new stores in Salt Lake City. They will employ from 60 to 80 persons. The new purchases will reopen June 18 following renovation. The new Sugar House store is expected to open in September.

The Success markets which Albertson bought are on South State street and in Holladay, which Albertson said he considers the fastest growing section of the Salt Lake City area.

Zeese said he plans to retire, and may take a trip to Europe. He said his other markets in the Salt Lake area will be operated by sons-in-law.

Eugene Hammond, club vice president, had charge of the meeting in the absence of President Charles Allen who is attending the Kiwanis International convention in Miami.

Vice President Hammond announced the Twin Falls high school orchestra, under the direction of Richard Smith, will present the program at the next meeting.

It was announced directors of the club have voted to sponsor a float in the Golden Jubilee parade June 1. A committee will be appointed and additional detail announced later.

Mrs. Glenn Hendrickson, Hagerman, was hired to teach part of the first and second grades and Rosalee Brook, Rupert, was hired to teach the third grade. The board still has four vacancies to fill.

The board will hold a special meeting Saturday to inspect the roof of the high school building. Another special meeting was held last week at which time the bid of $1,100 by the Cady Auto company for a new sprinkling system for the grade school grounds was accepted.

TAFT'S MARK WILL ENDURE

Looking back less than a year after the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, no one can say with any sort of finality where history will eventually place him. Yet it seems unlikely that he will be found of lesser stature than such other great lawmakers as Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun.

What has stirred fresh thought on Taft's role in history is the publication of a book called "The Taft Story," by William S. White, a leading Washington correspondent of the New York Times. White has produced not a biography but a political profile. It is discerning, reflective, subtle, compassionate. It seeks pointedly to appraise the senator's significance for his times.

White sees that significance as large. A few who have sought to measure the book tend to disagree. One historian, for example, said that he felt the passage of time would diminish Taft's stature. He stressed the fact that, except for the Taft-Hartley act, the senator's name is attached to no important legislation.

This would seem a trivial and almost wholly irrelevant yardstick. Lawmakers are not baseball pitchers, to be judged by their won-and-lost record. Far more to the point is the power and influence a senator may exert over the general course of legislation.

Gauged this way, Senator Taft was one of the most powerful men ever to establish himself on capitol hill. Even through many years of the long Republican twilight while Democrats were reigning at both ends of Pennsylvania avenue, the Ohioan was the strongest single voice heard in the legislative halls.

A small part of this power came to Taft because he was the bearer of a famous name. Much more came to him because he was the embodiment of great political forces, a symbol of order and stability to all who saw chaos in the trend of events.

Yet, fundamentally, he earned his position of power through tireless devotion to the substance and forms of lawmaking. As White suggests, he was virtually born to the senate. He made himself a legislative authority. He gained a reputation for honesty and integrity. With these things came high respect. With respect came dependence of others upon him, and with dependence came power.

True enough, Taft's name adorned very little legislation. But his imprint was on practically everything important the senate did in his last 10 years of life. And the knowledge that it would be a fact always to be reckoned with by the whole congress and the White House itself.

Unless the measure of a man's influence and significance alters radically in the next few decades, Taft's big mark on his own time will not easily fade.

"GOLDEN RULE"

The Eisenhower administration has another potential Astin case in the shabby treatment and summary dismissal given to Federal Housing Commissioner Guy T. O. Hollyday. The action was taken on the recommendation of Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole without any explanation, without any knowledge on Hollyday's part of what the charges against him were and without any opportunity to explain his action.

Dr. Allen V. Astin, head of the bureau of standards, was somewhat similarly fired by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. But scientists rallied to support Dr. Astin, and he was reinstated. What Hollyday needs, to get vindication and his job back—if he wants it—is some well-organized support from the housing and mortgage banking industry.

Mr. Hollyday's real trouble was that he was "too nice a guy." He had visited most of the 75 FHA field offices and replaced 45 office heads.

But he gave them all time to find other jobs. But the golden rule backfired on Mr. Hollyday. He wasn't done by as he had done to others.

DAISY CHAIN

Here's a government daisy chain to follow. It concerns the old "section 808" federal housing administration scandals now being investigated by congress, the FBI and nearly everybody else.

There was nothing illegal about any of the profits reaped by multiunit housing developers under this law. They merely built their projects for less money than the amount they borrowed to finance the operation on a government-guaranteed mortgage. They pocketed the difference as a windfall profit.

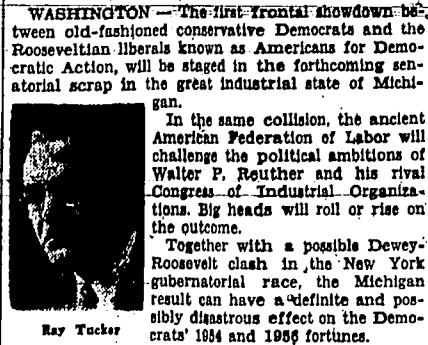

The government has no chance of getting any of this money back. But the government can collect income taxes on these profits.

If the government collects only capital gains taxes on these profits, it will get only 26 per cent of the windfall. If the government can collect straight corporation income taxes on the profits, it might get 52 per cent or more of the windfall.

If the builders had not made these profits—now estimated at 65 million dollars on 1,149 projects—the government would not have been able to collect any taxes on them at all.

A Florida waitress found and returned to the owner a wallet containing $750, and was given $5. A nice way to encourage honesty!

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The first frontal showdown between old-fashioned conservative Democrats and the Rooseveltian liberals known as Americans for Democratic Action, will be staged in the forthcoming senatorial scrap in the great industrial state of Michigan.

In the same collision, the ancient American Federation of Labor will challenge the political ambitions of Walter P. Reuther and his rival Congress of Industrial Organizations. Big heads will roll or rise on the outcome.

Together with a possible Dewey-Roosevelt clash in the New York gubernatorial race, the Michigan result can have a definite and possibly disastrous effect on the Democrats' 1948 and 1952 fortunes.

It may determine whether that party's affairs shall be managed and influenced by the new deal-fair-deal coterie, or by Farley's faction in the north and the Byrd-Byrnes group in the south. It may aggravate the schism which turned their 1952 convention into such a bitter battle that Stevenson carried only nine states.

In short, the ultra-liberal ADA is on trial, as are all the remnants of the Roosevelt-Truman 20-year-old dynasty. Many northern and southern Democrats yearn to see ADA vanquished and liquidated; for they regard it as a divisive and disruptive influence. It has been criticized severely by prominent spokesmen, including National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, as the "egghead" extremity of the organization.

MICHIGAN CONTESTS—Dynamic young Reuther, CIO president, also faces his first serious political test. The Michigan results will increase or lessen his prestige in both labor and political circles, with faint cheers at an upset from AFL and other union bleachers, for they regard him as an "upstart." A defeat would damage him seriously, for, as he is also head of the Automobile Workers' union and is fighting on friendly home grounds.

The contest which involves these major issues and personalities centers on the Democratic nomination of a candidate to oppose Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican policy leader in the upper chamber. Announced candidates for that honor are ex-Sen. Blair Moody, former Washington correspondent, and Patrick V. McNamara, member of the Detroit board of education, and former common councilman.

Moody carries the ADA-CIO colors, while McNamara represents the AFL and the more conservative Democratic faction. The primary will be held on Aug. 3, with June 15 as the final filing date.

WILLIAMS SEEKS REELECTION—Standing in the wings of this high drama will be Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who appointed Moody to the senate on the death of Arthur H. Vandenberg. Williams seeks reelection as a possible step toward the 1958 Democratic presidential nomination, with Reuther as a big backer.

Together with Representative Roosevelt, Williams and Moody headed the movement which tried to force a "loyalty oath" on southern delegates at the 1952 convention. Both continue to support Roosevelt-Truman theories of government, and Moody usually split with Democratic moderates while in the senate. He lined up with the Lehman-Humphrey-Morse coalition.

Seeking reelection in 1952, he was defeated by Sen. Charles E. Potter, heroic war veteran, by 46,000, while Williams squeaked through by about 8,000. Ferguson's friends believe that he can defeat either Moody or McNamara, whereas he would have had a hard time against Governor Williams.

GLOOMY-DEMOCRATS—McNamara has no use for the Moody kind of Democrat. He has been endorsed by Frank Martel, head of the Wayne county (Detroit) labor federation. If he remains in the race, and there have been attempts to persuade him to withdraw for the sake of party harmony, the Moody-McNamara primary struggle in such a labor-consensus area will illuminate or darken the gloom which now hangs over the divided Democrats.

Should ADA be trounced on such an important stage as Michigan, it could mark the end of an era that has exasperated Democratic graybeards. On the other hand, a liberal victory will encourage the more youthful and aggressive faction to try to overthrow the conservative leadership in anticipation of the 1958 presidential contest.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

SENATOR DWORSHAK'S PROPOSAL

Under the secretary of the treasury is a special unit known as the small business administration. The congress and the administration considered such a bureau as necessary.

We were pleased when Senator Henry Dworshak of Idaho proposed to Secretary of Agriculture that a similar administration be set up under agriculture to protect small-farmers' incomes and curb over-production by big-acre operators.

Ezra Benson's reply was typical of his thinking. He said the Dworshak proposal "would create additional (administrative and other) problems without solving the current surplus situation." Benson went on to say that the "basic solution" is for the small farmer to get bigger and operate more efficiently. Another Benson suggestion is that small farmers quit and go find jobs somewhere else!

So far as the Journal can see, Senator Dworshak is much closer to the solution of the farm problem, both for the present and the future, than the unrealistic Secretary of Agriculture who would hold a club of "efficiency" over the heads of every young man or woman who wants to get started in farming or livestock. In other words, Ezra's plan is just this: Start at the top with a big, efficient spread, and we'll help you start small and we'll run you off the farm!—Idaho Farm Journal (Boise).

DOLLAR HOLDING OWN; INFLATION STOPPED

That dollar of yours has taken a fearful beating, so far as purchasing power is concerned. But things are looking up. In the view of Sylvia Porter, a widely syndicated writer on business affairs.

In one of her columns she said: "It's a new era for your dollar. For the third consecutive year, the dollar you are earning, saving, spending borrowing, lending or investing is a 'stable' dollar. Its buying power no longer is being slashed by vicious inflation—soaring prices, increasingly shoddy goods, black markets. Your dollar is holding its own. It is buying better quality goods and greater variety of products... It is becoming worthwhile to save because its value in the marketplace has steadied. At the same time, it is becoming more worthwhile to spend because it commands higher quality and variety of goods at stable prices."

We can see this situation in our retail stores today. Naturally, the dollar doesn't buy what it did in past times—current wages, taxes and other costs preclude that. But its value isn't going steadily downhill either. As Miss Porter also observed, "... It has regained respect and respectability." Let's all pray it keeps those characteristics.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

WHITE HOUSE PICKETING

Groups that picket the White House are often fanatics, crackpots or malcontents deliberately trying to create trouble. Most of them appear to be more interested in creating propaganda or attracting publicity than in fighting the grievances about which they complain. If they were sincerely interested in reforms, they would doubtless choose more effective methods.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers' bill to forbid picketing within 1000 feet of the White House is doubtless intended to save the President from annoyance by large demonstrations such as that sponsored by the New York longshoremen recently. But we doubt that the President gives any thought to such events. Certainly he feels no pressure from them. Our guess is that he would prefer to let the fanatics blow off steam in the vicinity of the White House rather than add to their irritation, so long as the demonstrations are orderly and peaceful. Freedom of expression must be allowed wide latitude in America. The fact that malcontents are free to picket the White House is dramatic proof to the world that in this respect this country practices what it preaches.—Washington Post.

POT SHOTS

Dear Pot Shots:

In everything I have ever read about the submarine service of the navy, sooner or later you come across the term, "evasive tactics." That's what comes to mind as I listen to all this stuff between McCarthy and the army.

Both of them would make excellent material for the submarine service, if the navy would have them. And I'm not so sure but what the submarine service, or silent service, would be the best place. Of course, you'd have to put them on separate subs.

I never knew there was so many ways of avoiding a direct yes or no answer.

OUT OF THE PAST

Dear Sir:

The Son and Heir is in the midst of an apparent race over marbles. He plays with them in the house, at school and nearly any other place. He trades them, wins them, loses them, counts them and names them.

We were almost on the verge of putting down a collective foot when a little something pulled at the edge of memory. Gradually, the picture of former years took shape. There was a little fellow counting a huge sack of marbles, many more than the Son and Heir counts.

And there was a spell of saving pennies for weeks, finally blowing about 40 of them on ONE marble, a "flint." Following came long seasons of counting "moons" in the "flint" and long periods of rubbing lard into the prize.

The Son and Heir goes his merry way without parental interference. He'll probably survive it!

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—Today I am going to tell you one reason why Arthur J. Goldsmith, the sly political schemer who does business behind false whiskers in the Waldorf tower, is so bashful about his political affairs.

Sen. William Jenner, Ind., and Robert Morris, counsel for Jenner's subcommittee on internal security, more Westbrooks Pegler than a year ago turned up the fact that one of Goldsmith's fronts was a disguised lecture bureau used to spot propagandists before unsuspecting audiences gathered together by unsuspecting organizations.

Robert Norton, New York, who described himself as executive secretary of the Goldsmith organization, refused on constitutional grounds to answer whether or not he was a member of the communist party during his connection, which lasted from 1942 to 1950. The front was called the League for Fair Play.

Norton did say he was not a member of the party on the date of his testimony, but he took the fifth amendment when he was asked whether he was a party member on April 23, 1947, when he delivered a lecture under the auspices of the league at a special course for teachers in New York.

Mr. Morris asked Norton to "tell us the nature of that organization—the League for Fair Play," whose "certificate of existence" issued by the state of New York listed Goldsmith as treasurer. The official address is 100 East 58th street, in other words the Waldorf tower.

Norton answered: "The League for Fair Play was a lecture bureau. It is no longer functioning. It had a list of speakers which it offered to community groups of various types, service clubs and veterans' groups, women's clubs, schools, colleges, universities and, generally, those organizations which regularly engage public speakers. The speakers were simply booked by the league. My duties were those of executive secretary and I acted as booking agent."

Mr. Morris now asked: "Were you a member of the communist party during the period you were executive secretary from 1942 to 1950?"

"I refuse to answer," Norton replied.

Morris asked Norton whether he had recommended any communists for lecture engagements "in your capacity as executive director for the League for Fair Play." Norton refused to answer.

A copy of the communist Daily Worker was introduced to show that Norton was executive secretary of a paper organization called the Committee for Boycott Against Japanese Aggression. An "appeal" was published as coming from Norton, Arthur J. Goldsmith was listed along with many notorious communists who were alleged to have signed the appeal.

Another witness was a young woman employed at the signal corps publications agency at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where Sen. Joe McCarthy kicked up the row over communists and other "security risks" with the result that the commanding general, Kirke B. Lawton, was, in practical effect, relieved of his command.

Gain Is Noted In Numbers of People on Job

WASHINGTON, May 6 (U)—Unemployment declined last month for the first time since last October and employment gained again, informed sources said yesterday.

The commerce and labor departments planned to issue their first joint report on employment and unemployment, covering April, tomorrow or Saturday.

Unemployment slowed down in March when it increased by only 54,000, as against from 400,000 to 700,000 for other recent months.

Although manufacturers' business has picked up recently, unemployment still was concentrated among factory and mining workers.

Figures Revised

Revised commerce department figures showed that unemployment climbed from 1,301,000 last October to 1,372,500 in March. The figures for the last four months of 1953 were revised upward because it was decided errors had been made on the conservative side when the census bureau was getting ready to switch from the old to the new survey system.

Unemployment, which went down to 30,755,000 in January, edged up to 30,800,000 in March. Seasonal gains in agriculture and construction employment more than offset the decline in factory and mining employment. This trend reportedly continued in April.

Bank Deposits Reach Record

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6 (U)—Individuals, partnerships and corporations added more than a half billion dollars to their savings accounts in federal reserve banks in the last year in the first four months of this year.

The total of these deposits reached $6,918,000,000 in the week ended April 26, establishing a new high. This record was set yesterday by the San Francisco federal reserve bank covers member banks in leading cities in the 12th district.

The latest total represented a gain of eight million dollars from the previous week and 604 million dollars in a year. New highs were made in 18 of the first 17 weeks of this year.

All reporting cities participated in the gain from a year ago except Spokane, Wash., which held even.

Change in Selling Methods Is Asked

SUN VALLEY, May 6 (U)—A meeting of western hardware dealers was held yesterday that American businessmen will have to alter their selling methods if they hope to make a dent in the foreign market.

James D. McClary, assistant general manager of the Morrison-Knudsen Construction company, Boise, declared at the final meeting of the ninth annual Pacific Coast Builders Hardware conference that there is no American product which cannot be sold overseas.

He said potential customers abroad are now buying inferior foreign products which sell just under American prices. McClary said the foreign market could be tapped by adapting American selling techniques to local customs.

Mother of DAV Knows Problems

CHICAGO, May 6 (U)—A woman who has lived intimately with the problems of the disabled has been named DAV mother of the year by the Disabled American Veterans.

She is Mrs. Lillian M. Davis, 48, Independence, Mo. Mrs. Davis is a double amputee herself and the wife, mother and mother-in-law of disabled veterans.

She was selected for outstanding and unselfish devotion to disabled veterans, not only in her immediate family but throughout the Kansas City area.

Mrs. Davis lost both legs in an accident some 15 years ago but with the aid of prosthetic devices is very active.

Substitute Tested As Blood Plasma

WASHINGTON, May 6 (U)—Development of another possible substitute for blood plasma—made with the aid of a common soil microbe—was announced last night by the veterans administration, which declared the material "may be of great life saving value."

Still under test in animals and humans, the material is designed to restore and maintain blood volume in patients suffering from severe "shock" caused by burns, hemorrhage, accidents, gunshot wounds and the like. It could not be a substitute for "whole" blood, for which doctors say there is no substitute.

Guardsmen Meet

BOISE, May 6 (U)—Idaho national guard representatives from 27 cities opened a two-day meeting here yesterday to make plans for the summer camp.

Hamilton Claims School Aid Credit

MAOKAY, May 6 (U)—State Sen. Clark Hamilton, D., Washington, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, took issue yesterday with a claim by Atty.-Gen. Robert E. Smylie that Republicans have led the fight for increased school appropriations in Idaho.

Hamilton said there was little truth in an address given by Smylie Monday before a Young Republicans meeting in Spokane, in which Smylie said the only time education support had "faltered" in 10 Republican years was in 1949, when Democrats controlled the state's senate.

"The fact is," Hamilton said in a statement, "I take credit for defeating a determined effort on the part of the two last Republican reactionary administrations to decrease financial aid for education."

Smylie, who is a candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, had said Republicans were responsible for increasing state aid to education from three million dollars in 1945 to 12 million in 1953.

Doctor Gets New Trial in Accident

BOISE, May 6 (U)—The state supreme court ordered a new trial yesterday for Dr. M. E. Bell, Preston, who was involved in an auto crash in Preston five years ago with William Carlson.

Bell's suit against Carlson had been thrown out by a district court jury after Judge Isaac McDougall advised the jurors both men were guilty of negligence.

But Justice James W. Porter ruled that the evidence showed only Carlson was speeding at the time of the crash. The opinion was unanimous.

Montana Senator Makes His Stand

WASHINGTON, May 6 (U)—Senator Murray D. Mont., said yesterday he will campaign for reelection on a platform calling for a strong national defense program, international control of atomic and hydrogen weapons and gradual disarmament.

The 77-year-old legislative veteran, who ranks sixth in senate seniority with 20 years of service, announced the filing of his nomination petition with the Montana secretary of state.

State Reports Revenue Cut

BOISE, May 6 (U)—State Tax Collector F. G. Nell reported a decrease yesterday of some $2,728,000 in collections for Idaho's general fund for the past 10 months—almost all of the drop due to income tax reductions ordered by the 1953 legislature.

He told Gov. Len Jordan in a special report that cash receipts for the 10 months ending April 30 had fallen to $11,400,358, compared with $14,128,376 for the same period a year ago.

The greatest drop was in income tax collections, which fell about 23 per cent, from $10,044,880 to $7,786,412. Tax officials said the decline was a reflection of the 15 per cent reduction in personal and corporate taxes enacted by the last legislature and the allowance of a 75 deduction for each dependent.

Individual income cash collections were down from $6,530,763 to $4,858,597, and corporation payments fell from $3,129,901 to $2,871,966.

Nell also noted a sharp drop in tax collections on coin machines, which were outlawed by the 1953 legislature. The payments fell from $408,000 to $162,000. Taxes on punchboards, also outlawed last year, fell from $133,000 to $74,000.

'Unfortunate'

SALEM, Ore., May 6 (U)—Interior Secretary Douglas McKay said yesterday the McCarthy-army hearings "are very unfortunate. They aren't doing anybody any good."

McKay, visiting his home here for several days, made the statement in reply to a press conference question as to whether the hearings are hurting the Republican party.

Ex-Idaho Man Seeks Nevada Club License

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 6 (U)—The Nevada tax commission yesterday took under consideration an appeal from a previous denial of a gambling license for a former Ketchum, Ida., man.

The man, Ted R. Tintinger, last February was denied a license for the Alpine club in Ely. But yesterday he appeared before the commission with a partner, Jack L. Walker, Boise, and urged that the commission reconsider its earlier action.

The commission questioned him again at length about his past association with Cliff (The Galloper) Judd, whom the commission considers a Reno underworld figure.

Tintinger and Judd formerly were partners in a gambling operation at Ketchum, and later made several gambling trips around Nevada.

Tintinger told the commission that Judd is not associated in any way with the proposed Ely enterprise.

He said he plans to spend more than $40,000 for the lease and remodeling of the Alpine club.

Truckers' Bodies Taken From Lake

SALT LAKE CITY, May 6 (U)—The bodies of two Nebraska truck drivers have been recovered from 30 feet of water in Mountain Dell reservoir, 15 miles east of Salt Lake City in Parley's canyon.

The two were identified by relatives and friends as Norden Busse, 27, and Harold Aspinall, 37, both, Leigh, Neb.

They were found trapped in the twisted wreckage of the cab of their big semi-trailer truck when it was raised from the water.

The big truck, carrying a cargo of eggs, raced down the steep canyon apparently out-of-control Monday morning, ripped off 75 feet of guard rail and nose dived down the steep cliff into the lake.

"Vigorous" Drive Planned by Mills For Congress Bid

BOISE, May 6 (U)—Larry Mills will wage a "vigorous campaign" for the Republican nomination for congressman from Idaho's first district, his campaign committee announced yesterday.

The statement ended speculation in political circles as to whether Mills planned to follow up the informal announcement he made for the nomination last September.

The Mills for Congress committee said Mills was en route to Idaho from Washington, and was expected in Boise last night or today.

Mills, whose home is at Pollatch, said at Moscow last fall he would seek the nomination, but except for one other brief visit to the state had remained in Washington as administrative assistant to Representative Budge, R., Ida.

In the meantime, Erwin Schwiebert, Caldwell; Tom Tuttle, Middleton, and E. B. Knopp, St. Maries, have entered the race for the GOP nomination to oppose Democratic Rep. Gracie Frost, Nampa.

AEC Expert Sees 'Cheap' A-Power

CHICAGO, May 6 (U)—There is a good chance that atomic power plants ultimately will be cheaper than conventional steam boilers, an expert stated yesterday.

Dr. Alvin Weinberg, director of the atomic energy commission's Oak Ridge national laboratory, said:

"Apart from the rather hard-to-assess costs which safety and possible lack of long-term reliability may add to the reactor system, I think there is an excellent chance that nuclear power reactors will ultimately turn out to be simpler, and cheaper, than conventional steam boilers."

Dr. Weinberg spoke at the convention of the American Public Power association.

Biologist Explains How Fee Charged on Blood Transfusion

The fee charged on a blood transfusion is made from the cost of the blood, some of which is separated from the donor's blood, and the cost of the blood itself, because, in any event, for our own protection, we would put all Red Cross blood through the same detailed tests as proper classification, before using it in any transfusion.
"It is my honest opinion that the responsibility for procuring blood rests with the community in which the blood is used. From the patient's standpoint, it is better to establish our own blood bank. If it would materially lower the cost of blood to get it from the Red Cross, that would be a different story. Besides, there is a serious question as to whether the Red Cross is going to be able to supply unlimited amounts of blood in the future.
"As the hospital board has explained, the pathology unit is now set up as a regular department of the hospital, and it will take several months at least for us to determine what adjustments may be possible in our rate schedules. Needless to say, we are fully aware of the importance of keeping charges by this department in line with all others, and we have every intention of doing just that. The patients and the doctors themselves can help us achieve that goal with their wholehearted cooperation. One of our problems is the same as that confronting the hospital generally. Once the hospital is filled to its minimum rated capacity, our department also will be able to operate more efficiently and economically.
"Once the public has a better understanding of what's involved and volunteers its support of the blood bank, we are confident our public relations in that respect will be the best, all our charges included."
Tomorrow: More about hospital accreditation.

As we can figure, the actual cost in processing a blood is $7.50, which includes the use of the usual blood bank and salaries of technicians. About 55 per cent of the total cost is labor. The fact that many transfusions are done during off hours in connection with emergency cases, and that the patient actually should understand that he is paying for a not merely so many pints of blood, but all the detail of the time and processing that goes into it, is the most of the cost.
The rates charged patients at Magic Valley Memorial are $8.50 per pint for all blood, whether all blood is available by the doctor is not. On that basis, it will be that transfusion charges at Valley Memorial are very in line with the average of all other hospitals in the state, slightly higher in some instances, but, an additional $2.50 per pint was made agency work by laboratory, but that extra charge was not some time ago.
When asked why it is that Magic Valley Memorial is not using Red Cross blood, Dr. J. H. Vetter, who has every respect for the Red Cross, he replied, "I also feel that every community should supply its own blood. Why should blood for our own be donated to the Red Cross and then re-sent here for our local bank? It is true that Red Cross blood is all blood donated locally

Store Stocks Show Decline

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6 (AP)—Merchandise stocks of far western department stores in March were 6 per cent below a year earlier while merchandise orders outstanding were down 19 per cent, reflecting the downward drift from the high level of inventories that prevailed a year ago.

These figures were disclosed yesterday in the monthly report of the San Francisco federal reserve bank on department store sales and stocks in the 12th district.
Largest decline in stocks was 13 per cent in the Stockton, Calif., area, followed by 11 per cent in Oregon and the Fresno, Calif., area and 10 per cent in San Francisco, Phoenix and Utah and southern Idaho.

Care of Your Children
By ANGELO PATRI

"Peter, if you don't attend to your business and right soon, the bus will be here and you are not ready."

"Yes, Mother," and Peter stopped to get his shoes. Next he crossed the room to look at a picture on a magazine cover; then he looked around the room and yawned.

"Peter, will you get a move on and eat your breakfast? Or do you mean to go without? Here, let me tie that shoe. Where is your jacket? Go get it. Hurry! Here, bring it to me. Now sit down and eat. I'll gather your books, but remember young man, this is the last morning I go through this agony of getting you off to school on time. If you miss the bus you'll walk and I don't mean maybe."

Peter looked unmoved as he chewed slowly, thoughtfully, on something that was far removed from school buses. The bus came, the horn blew, Peter jumped up, leaving half his fruit juice and half his toast, shouted "Goodbye," and was off. "And I'll do it," muttered his mother. "I'll do it if it kills me. I can't go through this morning after morning."

The following morning, Peter was as usual, and his mother said with the concentrated grimace born of many mornings of trial, "Peter, you get yourself ready for the bus. I'll not speak to you again about it. If you miss it you miss it and you'll walk to school. I've said my last word about it." Peter looked interested; for a moment, then followed his usual pattern. The bus stopped at the door, the horn blew, and there was Peter, looking surprised.

"Now you start for school and you walk," said his mother. With his mouth still open to protest, Peter found himself on the walk, looking down the long lonely suburban street—school a good mile and a quarter away. His mother got into the car and said, "You walk along. I'll ride to see that you get there."

"But I'll be late," said his mother.

"I believe you will," said his mother.

Arrived at the school, Peter reported to his room and his mother to the office where she explained the circumstances. The principal said, "I understand. He will be detained this afternoon to make up time and he will walk home. One of us will be in a car to see that he gets home safely. No, it won't inconvenience anyone. Our way lies in that direction."

It helped some, especially when Dad said, "Of course, walk. Why not? I used to walk two and a half miles each way. Get up on time or walk. Walking will be good for you anyway."

If your child is slow in school, it may be because he needs help in reading. How parents can teach their child to read is explained in Dr. Patri's leaflet, "Poor Readers." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 89, Station G, New York 10, N. Y.

Martha Meade says "Fill this party-pretty cake roll with whipped cream and glaze it with bittersweet. It's a Sperry-sure recipe and you'll never have a failure! Sperry Drifted Snow Flour is better for all home baking. Try it! We'll guarantee success!"

CHOCOLATE CAKE ROLL

All measurements are level. Sift flour before measuring.

Have all ingredients at room temperature (about 70°). Preheat oven to baking temperature, 375°, a moderately hot oven. Line a jolly roll pan, 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 1 inches, with lightly greased waxed paper.

Sift together—

- 1 cup sifted Sperry Drifted Snow "Home-Perfected" Enriched Flour
- 1 teaspoon double-action baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup powdered cocoa

Sot aside until ready to use. Measure into a medium-size mixing bowl.

- 1/2 cup whole eggs, (2 large)
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat until fluffy and slightly thickened. Add gradually, beating constantly—

- 1 cup sugar

Continue beating until thick and lemon colored. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. Then add—

- 2 tablespoons butter

Melted in—

- 1/2 cup hot milk

Stir until batter is smooth. Turn batter immediately into prepared pan and spread evenly over surface. Bake for 12-15 minutes in preheated oven. Remove from oven and immediately turn cake upside-down on a cloth, which has been well covered with powdered sugar; remove waxed paper. Roll cake, cloth and all, carefully and quickly, starting from narrow end. Let stand about 10 minutes, unroll, and then immediately re-roll cake without cloth and let stand until cold. When cake is cold unroll and spread with plain or chocolate whipped cream. Place more filling at end which will be in center of roll so that when cake is rolled the filling will be evenly distributed. Roll filled cake carefully. Sift powdered sugar over top of cake or spread with Bittersweet Glaze. 8 servings.

FILLING

Plain Cream Filling: Beat until stiff—1 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and a few grains of salt.

Chocolate Cream Filling: Beat until stiff—1 cup whipping cream, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon powdered cocoa, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, and a few grains of salt.

BITTERSWEET GLAZE

Measure into a small saucepan—

- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1 square unsweetened chocolate, chopped (1 oz.)

Stir together over direct heat until mixture is smooth.

Calvin Rule for Indochina Seen Possible

May 6 (AP) — Western states say they have received information indicating the communists may favor the creation of a Calvin rule in Indochina rather than partition.

High level conversations between East and West have been held on the form of an eventual settlement, they said. An impression of the red position was obtained through other sources.

Meeting in Recess

It is estimated of the communists came during a two-day recess of the plenary meetings of the conference.

Western diplomats were reported to break off the Korean phase of the conference once they are sure communists will not modify their position to unify elections supervised by the United Nations.

A recess until tomorrow gives delegates a chance to hold private consultations and clarify their aims.

Matter Is Urgent

Indochina phase has been urgent by the worsening of the French union forces at Dien Bien Phu.

Western informant said the communist line on Indochina at the conference seemed to be "Why can't there be a settlement like the armistice in Korea?"

Indicated the communists to partition Indochina—at Viet Nam and perhaps its sister states, Cambodia and Laos.

The informant said, they favor a political rather than territorial settlement.

Deep Creek Grange Nominates Mother of Six for Local Event

MRS. GORDON BENNETT

Coeds Picked

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, May 6—Five Magic Valley coeds are among the 16 junior girls tapped for membership in Silver Tassel, senior girls' honorary society at Idaho State college.

They are Fran Averett and Marguerite Phillips, both Twin Falls; Frances Geer, Buhl; Corrine Wodtke, Jerome, and Margaret Hall, Rupert.

Mrs. Gordon Bennett doesn't know why she was chosen by the Deep Creek Grange to compete in the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce "queen mother for a day" contest in Twin Falls Saturday unless it is for the size of her family.

There are six children in the Bennett family, a boy 15, girl 13, boy 12, girl 10 and two boys, 8 and 6. All are enrolled in either Deep Creek or Buhl schools. The family lives four miles west and three-fourths of a mile north of Buhl.

Like most of the contest candidates, Mrs. Bennett is not a native of Idaho. She was born in Mexico. She was only 2 weeks old when she moved with her parents to Oklahoma and to Idaho at the age of 18.

Mrs. Bennett lived at Buhl for five years before moving near Buhl where her husband is engaged in farming.

Large families leave little time for hobbies. Mrs. Bennett devotes her time to the "necessary things" such as washing, ironing and mending. There is plenty to keep her busy without looking for outside diversions, she says with a smile.

However, she has been a member of the Deep Creek Grange for years and also belongs to the Deep Creek Community club.

Mrs. Bennett uses her Christian training as a guide for her daily life. She is a charter member of the Free Will Baptist church of Buhl.

RETURNS HOME

PAUL, May 6—Mrs. John Sims has returned from Raleigh, N. C., where she attended funeral services for her brother, Dr. Everett Gill, Jr.

Students Report Closing Sessions

Final meetings of the school year were held in both Boys' club and Girls' league at Twin Falls high school Tuesday.

Sharon Carson, Girls' league president, showed the girls' appreciation by presenting a corsage to each of the unit sponsors.

Tom Jones, president of the sophomore unit, conducted the meeting. Al Westergren, treasurer of the Bruin Booster club, and Glen Simmons explained how the boosters help athletes. Kenneth Kall also gave some points on the Booster club.

Senior boys heard speakers from branches of the armed forces. They gave reasons why boys should attend college.

Pilot Training

First Lieut. James E. Gore has been transferred from Bedford, Mass. to Columbus air force base, Miss., and is now receiving pilot training.

Lieutenant Gore served as navigator-bombardier on a B-26 bomber during the Korean war, returning last December. With him in Mississippi are his wife and their 15-month-old son. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gore, 758 Blue Lakes boulevard north, Twin Falls.

Officers Selected For IEA in Filer

FILER, May 6—Glenn Baird was elected president of the Filer unit, Idaho Education Association, at its last meeting of the year Monday in the home economics rooms of Filer high school.

Other new officers are Ralph Brown, vice president; Mrs. Jean Thomson, secretary-treasurer; and Richard Lutes and Mrs. Isabel Fields, executive board members.

Reports on the state delegate assembly were given by Elizabeth Rowland and Baird.

Beef, Chicken Turkey to Be Big Favorites

By The Associated Press
Beef, chickens and turkeys will be the big favorites in the meat departments of most of the nation's food stores this week-end.
Among beef cuts, stores are giving prominence to rib roast and chuck roast. Rib roast will be down 4 to 8 cents a pound from a week ago in a number of markets, and chuck beef will be a few cents to as much as 12 cents a pound cheaper.
Sirloin steak, on the other hand, will be higher in some areas, with increases ranging up from 2 to 10 cents a pound from week-ago levels.
Chicken Is Cheaper
A look at the wholesale markets shows that chickens are a few cents cheaper than a year ago. Meanwhile, beef is a bit higher generally and pork is considerably more expensive.
There will be a wide difference in prices of loin veal chops this week. In New York, one chain is lowering its price by 10 cents a pound to 69 cents. In Philadelphia, the price will be up 4 cents to 93.
Pork chop prices will be lower in scattered cities. Among week-end specials mentioned by a few stores will be pork roast and pork loins.
By and large, leg of lamb will be selling at the same prices as a week ago.

Eggs Will Vary
Eggs will be up a few cents a dozen in some areas and down a little in others. Butter shows little change.
Agriculture Secretary Benson is still trying to find a way to get rid of the government-owned surplus of 369 million pounds of butter. It's announced that margarine production in the first quarter of this year totaled 372,739,000 pounds, 5 per cent above production in the same period a year ago.
Prices of frozen orange concentrate have been creeping upward this week.

Vegetables Listed
The best buy in vegetables, according to produce specialists, are potatoes, onions, spinach, celery, radishes, asparagus, squash, peas and cucumbers. Cabbage and tomatoes went a little lower at wholesale this week while lettuce moved up.
Strawberries remain the best buy in fruit. Citrus fruit prices are about the same as a week ago. Apples are described as moderately priced.
Eastern markets reported some new arrivals this week—the first cherries and strawberries from California.

Date Set
HEYBURN, May 6—The dramatic class of Heyburn high school will present "Mr. Pim Passes By," at 8 p.m., Tuesday at the school.
The cast includes Claid Neelley, Trina Ravsten, Delores Lott, Lanny Ames, Joyce Kelcher, Alan Warner and Amy Nakano.

Aloof

OAKLAND, Calif., May 6 (AP)—This pigeon seems to be giving the bird to everybody, females of his own species included.
Mrs. Harry Esquilba, owner of the registered fowl, said he has been perched determinedly atop a telephone pole in Oakland's Sunnyside district since early Monday.
"He escaped when we were trying to get him into the mating cage," she explained. "We've sent all the best females up to get him, but he just sits and lets them fly by. He hasn't even come down to eat."
"I don't know what to do," she asked that the registration number of the reluctant pigeon not be mentioned: "Because I don't want to hurt his reputation."

Union Rejects Move Against Reds in Office

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 6 (AP)—The CIO United Packing House Workers of America defeated a proposed amendment to their constitution which would bar communists from holding office.
The proposal by the Georgia delegation set off a hot debate which lasted more than an hour at the union's convention.
Supporters of the amendment argued it was time for the union to go on record against "communism on payrolls." Those against the amendment called it "vicious," "silly," and "stupid."
It was defeated in a voice vote by a large majority of the 600 delegates.
Russell Bull, Des Moines, said "This is wrong in principle and just plain vicious. Do you want a McCarthy hearing to find out if members are subversives or not?"
There were shouts of "no" from the floor.
Union President Ralph Heistler, Chicago said "We are committed to the bill of rights in the United States Constitution. The people who have injected this issue into the convention have done so for their own political purposes."

Safety Plan Requires Reports Of Drivers in Auto Accidents

BOISE, May 6 (AP)—The Idaho department of law enforcement wants eyewitness reports of traffic accidents—by the drivers of the cars involved—to help in planning for highway safety.
State law requires such reports on all traffic accidents which happen outside of towns and cause more than $50 damage or kill or injure anyone.
The state is getting them in only about 20 per cent of cases, financial responsibility director, Ken McCoy, said today.
Oregon and Washington get reports on about 75 per cent of their accidents.
The reports are confidential under Idaho's new uniform traffic code. The driver has five days in which to make his report, instead of 24 hours as previously.
He can get a form from any sheriff's office or from state police.
Just calling the police or sheriff to investigate the accident isn't enough—except in mishaps that happen in cities or towns.
"The driver was at the scene," McCoy remarked. "He knows what happened."
The 20 per cent of cases reported—roughly 10,000 or 11,000 per year—is "not enough to analyze causes of accidents and diagnose the state's traffic ills," he added.

Okay Granted On Dormitory At University

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 6—Plans for the construction of a new $100,000 dormitory for women at the University of Idaho were announced by President J. E. Buchanan, following approval by the board of regents.

The building will be financed in part by a note issue to be paid off by income from room rentals from dormitory buildings.

Quarters for 60

Housing 60 women, the dormitory will be a frame structure, with brick veneer and the rest of the exterior in transite veneer. One wing of the dormitory will be two stories, containing the women's living quarters. The kitchen, dining and living rooms are planned in another one-story wing. An automatic sprinkler system will be installed to eliminate hazard from fire as was done in the Ethel Steel house.

The new dormitory will be located on Blake avenue south of Ridenbaugh hall, outdated women's dormitory now being used for music practice rooms. Site of the new building is now being developed by university buildings and grounds employees.

Early Bid Call Set

Buchanan said it is tentatively planned to call for construction bids late this month if all other arrangements are completed by that time. Construction is scheduled to begin early this summer, with the dormitory ready for occupancy by the fall of 1955.

The dormitory is part of the university's building program to assure living quarters for the steadily increasing number of Idaho youths who will seek education at the university, Buchanan said. He pointed out that the increased enrollment of students now in high schools, and the even larger wave of pupils now in elementary schools soon will be university students and will need proper housing.

"Therefore, there is an imperative and immediate need for a new women's dormitory at the University of Idaho," the president added.

Return Home

OAKLEY, May 6—Mrs. Golden Harper has returned from Salt Lake City, where she visited her son, Richard Harper, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cranney have returned from Salt Lake City and Farmington, Utah.

SPECIAL SALE!

Our suppliers have asked us to get AMES GATED PIPE started in this area... that's just what we intend to do!

WE ARE GOING TO SELL AT OUR COST

4,000 Feet of AMES 8" QCL
GATED IRRIGATION PIPE

Complete with all necessary fittings for perfect water control!!!

- Old-fashioned open ditch systems are notoriously inefficient, requiring many hours of labor for construction and maintenance. Open ditches take up valuable land and rapidly choke with weeds. The flow of water cuts banks and washes out head gates. An excessive amount of water is lost through evaporation and seepage. The establishment of levels, setting of ditches and outlets, the back-breaking "shovel work" are killing tasks for the irrigator.
- AMES LO-HEAD GATED PIPE eliminates evils of open ditches. It promotes superior crops, both in quantity and quality: (1) by control of flow and penetration of water in individual furrows; (2) by achieving more timely watering; (3) by more even distribution, preventing the drenching of one end of the field and the robbing of the other. Over-watering leaches fertility from the root-zone area. AMES helps in "FERTILITY CONSERVATION". Among crops efficiently and economically watered by Gated Pipe are: beets, beans, berries, lettuce, corn, cotton, potatoes, tomatoes, small grains, bulbs and similar crops, planted in rows. Orchards and vineyards are also irrigated when slopes are true. Pastures, small grains and alfalfa can be furrow watered by establishing corrugations or creases.
- AMES FLO-CONTROL Oates are easy-to-operate, trouble-free, practically watertight under normal operating pressures. They establish precision control of the individual stream, from a trickle to full gate flow. The volume is easily and instantly adjustable to meet such conditions as heavy or light soils, level or sloping lands and long or short furrows. Any given acreage is covered in less time, more uniformly. A higher percentage of every gallon reaches and remains in the root zone of your crops. The volume of water required per row is interrelated with all the factors mentioned above. Ames Flo-Control Oates give easy accurate control of water flow in individual furrows; also, readjustment of flow, as the watering progresses, from a drop to 50 gallons per minute, 3 to 10 gallons per minute are average flows.

AMES LO-HEAD GATED IRRIGATION PIPE

- Eliminates over 90% of the Shoveling
- Gives Positive Water Control
- Prevents Water Erosion
