Picnic, Farms Trip Planned By Dairy Unit

The annual summer activity of the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement association will be held Friday, it was announced Tuesday by Charles Tippetts, Buhl, association president. The event will include a picnic lunch and a tour of at least three dairy farms.

The group will assemble at the Carl Harder-Deer Creek Guernsey farm at 10:30 a. m. The farm is four miles west of the southwest corner of Buhl, a mile south and a mile west. Featured will be Harder's modern dairy production plants and his three chipped hay barns. He will discuss his system of calf feeding and pasture management.

After lunch, the group will visit the T. W. Richmond farm, one-half mile south of the Fairview service station. The grade dairy cattle farm of Walter Els, west of the Fairview service station, will be visited next.

G. C. Anderson, University of Idaho extension dairyman, will be present to discuss the educational phases of dairy herd improvement.

Articles of incorporation for the association will be presented for adoption at one of the stops, probably at the picnic lunch.

Most of the lunch will be furnished by the association, with the co-operation of various processing plants. Directors' wives will furnish salads. The remainder of the cold lunch will be donated. Tippetts is making the arrangements.

There are 66 herd owners in the association.

Oil Programs Discussed for Group's Meet

Expansion-of-the-oil industry was described to members of the Twin Falls Exchange club by Albert E. Horn, Jr., Seattle, manager, refinery sales northwest, General Petroleum Corporation, Tuesday noon at the Legion hall.

Horn outlined exploration activities in the Pacific northwest. He said rapid expansion of the industry is making the field highly competitive and predicted pipe lines from new oil fields will ultimately result in the lowering of petroleum product prices.

Horn reported one new oil field has been located in Alberta, Canada, with an estimated six billion gallons of crude oil. He compared the field to an east Texas field having an estimated five billion gallons of crude oil.

Horn illustrated his talk with an electronic chart. Dr. Royal Cutler reported plans have been completed for the club to transport pilots participating in the Golden Jubilee air breakfast here May 23. Drivers are to meet at Joslin field at 8:30 a. m. May 23. Maj. L. R. Anderson, club president, reported the club will enter a softball team in the city softball league.

An invitation for the Exchange club to join other city service clubs in constructing a float for the Golden Jubilee parade was rejected because of extensive float plans already completed by the Exchange club.

William Blake, Twin Falls, was a guest of the club.

Bomb-Like Object Gets Examination

WEISER, May 18 (AP)—An object that could be a "time bomb, airplane flare or something else" was being probed carefully today at the Washington county sheriff's office. It was discovered near Little Rock creek by an unidentified sheepherder, who turned it over to his boss, John Carr. Carr, who had done ordnance work during World War II, said he removed a firing mechanism before turning it over to the sheriff.

Carr added that it looked similar to fire bombs Japan floated over the Pacific via parachute during the war.

House Unit Okays Colorado Projects

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—The house interior committee today approved, 13-12, a bill to authorize the $1,000,000,000 Upper Colorado reclamation project.

The move sends the bill to the house for action, but it must get rules committee clearance. Similar bills have been introduced in the senate but there has been no action on them there.

The project includes three main dams, the Park and Curecanti in Colorado, and Glen Canyon in Arizona, and 12 "participating" irrigation projects in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Party Slated

The Walter league societies of the Magic Valley zone will meet for an international party at the Twin Falls canyon park at 8 p. m. Wednesday in keeping with the international convention of the league at Long Beach, Calif., July 4-8.

About 75 League members will attend from Eden, Jerome, Buhl, Clover, Wendell, Rupert and Twin Falls. Les Reinke, Clover, will be in charge of games. Doris Duensing, Twin Falls, and Arlene Mueller, Filer, comprise the refreshment committee.

Council Meets

GOODING, May 18—R. F. Jackson, who was warned two weeks ago by the city council that he would lose his lease on the Gooding airport unless the rental was paid, appeared before the city council Monday night to arrange for payment of the rent.

The council also was informed Monday night that the highway department plans to repair the railroad crossing in the northern part of the city.

Steel Industry Gets Demands Over Contract

PITTSBURGH, May 18 (AP)—CIO United Steelworkers presented demands for a 1954 contract to the United States Steel corporation today as the first big labor negotiations of the year got under way.

Both sides expressed hope for an early settlement. David J. McDonald, president of the union, and Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman of the nation's biggest steel producing firm, met inside the negotiating room and shook hands as photographers cameras clicked.

80 Men Sent
U. S. Steel sent about 80 negotiators to the table headed by Vice President John A. Stephens. The union has about 50 men at the table. Stephens said "we are beginning negotiations with the union. We will give all due consideration to the suggestions which are made." The talks mark the opening of the USW's new contract drive in the basic steel industry, employing some 600,000 steelworkers. Contracts expire June 30.

Workers Idled
As negotiations started, an estimated 190,000 steelworkers were idled by layoffs, an additional 257,000 working only part time, and steel mill operations hovering around 70 percent of national rated capacity. This led observers to believe the union will do everything possible to avoid a strike and thus won't be able to exert full bargaining pressure.

TEACHERS TO MEET

TCP

pierces power curtain
-makes engines up to 15% more powerful

TCP, the Shell-discovered fuel additive now blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, neutralizes lead and carbon deposits which formerly caused pre-ignition and spark plug "miss"

Actually repowers engines in less than 400 miles—in most of the cars on the road today!

Full engine power, as designed for your car, seldom survives the first 2½ months of driving. After that, lead and carbon deposits smother power, waste fuel, reduce pick-up.

How deposits attack

These deposits, formed in combustion chambers, become red hot and prefire the fuel, before the piston is in firing position. The same deposits, built-up on spark plugs, short-circuit the electric current, and the spark plug misfires. This dual attack results in the greatest cause of power waste in today's engines, and it hits just when you need full-power most—on hills, or during rapid acceleration.

More power than you think

Up to 15% more power than you think your engine can deliver is unleashed by Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP. This fuel additive, discovered after years of research by Shell scientists, "fireproofs" deposits in combustion chambers and stops pre-ignition. It makes the spark plug non-conductive, and prevents misfiring.

In 400 miles
So swift is the corrective action of Shell Premium with TCP that you feel your engine has had a tune-up before you've driven 400 miles. But engine deposits accumulate constantly. Continued use of Shell Premium with TCP is the only way to maintain the benefits you've gained. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead. It is available only at your Shell Dealer's.

an Blasts mo Leader on Statement

Gov. May 18 (AP)—Gov. Shivers yesterday charged the National Committee on Stephen A. Mitchell with a price tag on party membership and declared Texas party "not for sale."

Shivers directed his remarks personally in a letter to Mitchell in which he also accused him of getting the governor's race.

In a letter to Mitchell which is a news story that quoted Shivers as saying, "Shivers is the Texas Democratic Party's not national party while the Texas Democratic Party is the national party."

Shivers said Mitchell in certain periods of time, have suspected that membership in the Democratic party is for sale or that recognition by party officers was for sale, in your statement, I could not find it.

Shivers will show that we have the willingness to have a national committee but our lot for sale for 70 cents or more will write you a check to use our voters as whom you call "Texas Democratic Party."

Senator Morse Says Wiretap Is 'Method for Police States'

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse said today that wiretapping is "a police state method" which imperils the rights of U. S. citizens to privacy in their homes.

The Oregon independent made the statement in the first of a series of speeches on Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr.'s wiretapping legislation. The speech was prepared for senate delivery.

"I intend to show that not only is the use of the wiretap by government officials repugnant to historical principles of American freedom, and a threat to the personal security of loyal citizens; but also that, as an investigatory device, the unreliability, inefficiency and the expense of wiretap operations, outweigh their alleged utility," the senator said.

He said "wiretapping is a police state method. We will do a poor job of defending democracy from the aggressions of the communists and other totalitarianism, if in the process we adopt as our own the methods of our enemies."

"The wiretap, the rubber hose and the third degree are standard equipment of the officer with the 'prosecution complex' whose zeal for convictions exceeds his respects for rights," Morse said.

A senate judiciary subcommittee has a number of wiretapping proposals pending—including Brownell's request that evidence obtained by wiretapping be admissible in national security cases in the federal courts.

The house gave Brownell authority to use wire taps—including those now on hand—in such cases involving espionage, and similar offenses. But, the house stipulated that he must get a federal court order to authorize wire-tapping in the future.

Load of Uranium Believed Richest

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., May 18 (AP)—A ton of uranium ore, believed to have the highest percentage of uranium and vanadium ever delivered off the rich Colorado plateau, has been received by Climax Uranium company.

It was delivered by Walter Gramlich, Moab, Utah. The assay sheet showed it to be 24.14 per cent uranium and 14.53 per cent vanadium. Gramlich got $4,021.42 from the atomic energy commission. That sum includes the AEC bonus which goes to mines which haven't produced 10,000 pounds of uranium.

He said he has been operating the Blue Jay mine about a year on lease from Howard Balsey, Moab. He holds about 75 claims in the Brown's Hole area near La Sal Junction in Utah.

Mothers Honored

CAREY, May 18—A program honoring the mothers in the Carey ward was held Sunday morning during the regular Sunday school services. The program was conducted by Mrs. Ross Peck, junior Sunday school leader.

Verl Simpson paid a tribute to mothers and the response was given by Mrs. Asael Dilworth. Barbara Barton, June Taylor, Lauralee Benson, Maria Dilworth, Ann Peck, Mary Ann Price, Darla Dilworth and Francis Bennett distributed flowers.

Business College Course Scheduled

Twin Falls Business college's 17th consecutive class in speedwriting shorthand will begin at 7 p. m. Thursday with a free lesson planned at the opening of this class.

Mrs. Irma Ringwood, instructor, said "learning time" has been reduced with the development of recording machines for instruction and dictation. Students are able to write 120 words per minute after 12 to 14 weeks in evening classes two nights a week, she pointed out.

A beginning class in practical business psychology is scheduled for the regular night school session. Randel K. Wilson is instructor.

Rites Conducted

CAREY, May 18 — Carey high school Baccalaureate services were held Sunday evening at the Carey LDS ward chapel. Speaker was President Valdo Benson of the Blaine stake.

Processional and recessional music was played by Don Dilworth. The invocation was offered by Mont Bennett. A solo was sung by Mrs. Ray Baird and Mrs. Leon Peck and Allen Pyrah sang a duet.

ATTENDS RITES

HAGERMAN, May 18 — Dudley Cameron attended funeral services of his grandfather, William McClure, Thursday afternoon in Challis.

DRIVER FINED

JEROME, May 18 — Mrs. Glen Frazier, Eden, was fined $2 and costs Saturday by Probate Judge Theron W. Ward on a charge of driving without a driver's license.

June HOLIDAY MAGAZINE

salutes Idaho

Pulitzer Prize-winning author A. B. Guthrie, Jr., brings you the grand and lonely scenery, the terrifying rapids, the warm, friendly people, the fruitful fields, the logging camps, the fisherman's paradise that's known as Idaho!

12 PAGES! 12 COLORFUL PHOTOS!

A brilliant novelist of the West shines the national spotlight on your state, Idaho. Yes, here is a captivating close-up of the state that attracts so many tourists each year—vividly described in words, vividly portrayed in many beautiful and spectacular pictures.

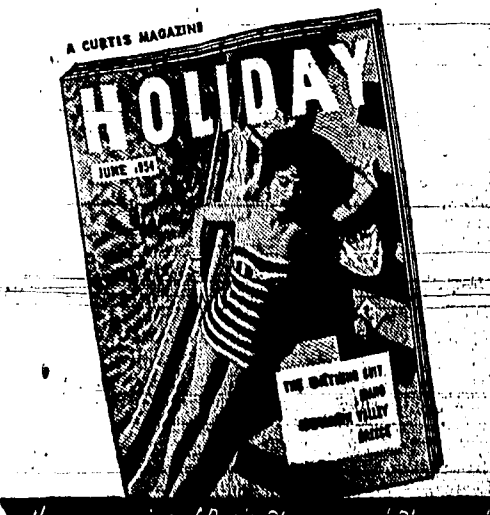

Here is the Idaho of yesterday—land of opportunity, boom and bust. Here is the Idaho of today: northern Idaho, the land of the miner and logger; southern Idaho, the land of the orchardist, the farmer, the stockman, the industrialist, the digger of phosphates and other chemicals.

You'll meet the people—folks you know or have heard about. You'll visit the farms, the ranches, the towns, the obscure spots and the famous places.

Yes, the beautiful June Holiday magazine brings you all the color, all the lustrous gaiety, all the natural wonder and beauty of your state. It's a story you mustn't miss. Be sure to read this compelling salute to Idaho. Get your copy of the June Holiday magazine, today!

Prosecution of Official Snags

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—The government yesterday abandoned temporarily at least its prosecution of Warren L. Stephenson, 53, former executive secretary of President Eisenhower's inaugural committee, on charges of perjury.
This followed a ruling by Federal District Judge David A. Fine that the prosecution could not use as evidence the recording of a telephone conversation between Stephenson and a west coast industrialist on which the three-count indictment was based.
Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward Troxell told Judge Fine the government wished to withhold prosecution until it could appeal his ruling. Troxell said he doubted the government could proceed without the recording in evidence.
Stephenson, a manufacturer's representative, is accused of lying to a house committee about telephone conversations he had with the industrialist concerning contracts for the navy.

Water Legislation Bill Receives Nod

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—The senate agriculture committee yesterday approved a bill which would extend to the whole country the benefits of water conservation legislation now applying only to 17 western states.
Under it, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to formulate a program for the construction and maintenance of water facilities to promote proper utilization of land.
It has been applied so far only to arid and semi-arid sections of the western states.
The bill would increase the amount which could be loaned on any one project from $100,000 to $250,000.

Solon Says More Judges Unneeded

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Senator Hunt, D. Wyo., says Wyoming does not need an additional district judge as is proposed in pending legislation.
He offered an amendment to strike the Wyoming judgeship provision from the bill.
The judicial work-load in Wyoming, Hunt said, has been light enough the past few years to allow the state's federal judges to take assignment in other states. Additionally, he said, letters from a district and a circuit court judge indicate the state's dockets are even lighter than usual at the present time.

Group to Conduct Probe for Alaska

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Chairman Homer E. Capehart, R. Ind., said today his senate defense production watchdog committee intends to take over Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigation of government financing of certain tin mines in Alaska.
Capehart told newsmen he has asked McCarthy to give him "all the facts" turned up by the staff of the senate investigating subcommittee since the case comes under jurisdiction of defense production committee.

Weiser Hits Gas In Water Project

WEISER, May 18 (AP)—The city of Weiser, which is digging a well in hopes of finding enough hot water to heat the municipal swimming pool and hose the city's laws, may have stumbled into the natural gas business.
City officials reported yesterday that little water has come from the well, but pure natural gas is pouring out at a steady 20 pounds pressure. The city has installed a meter to see if the gas can be put to use commercially.

BOND VOTE SET
WEISER, May 18 (AP)—Residents of Weiser class A school district No. 431 will vote next Friday on a proposed $498,000 bond issue for construction of two new schools and remodeling of a third in the district.
Two similar bond issues calling for a $589,000 construction program failed to win approval last year.

Panel Delays Meeting Over Border Fight

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council postponed today's scheduled meeting to give members time to consider a legal problem that stalled debate on Palestine border violations.
The council has before it counter-complaints from Israel and Jordan concerning border incidents in the holy land.
Israel insisted that Jordan, which is not a U. N. member, be required to comply with charter provisions that non-members bringing complaints must give assurances that they accept obligations for pacific settlement.

Raised by Lebanon
Jordan's complaint was raised by Lebanon, only Arab member of the council.
Council President Sir Pierson Dixon, Britain, said last week that the 11-nation group could take either of two positions:
1. That since Lebanon, a full fledged member of the U. N., raised the complaint, assurances from Jordan were not required.
Assurances Required
2. That since Lebanon could not have raised the issue without compliance and authority of Jordan, assurances were required.

Reliable Arab sources said Jordan would not give such assurances "under pressure." They said that if the council insisted upon it, the Jordanians were prepared to withdraw from the debate, leaving Lebanon to present their case.

Little Growers of Spuds Forced Out, Candidate Claims

BOISE, May 18 (AP)—Claude Burtenshaw, Rexburg, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator from Idaho, accused the Eisenhower administration last night of forcing Idaho's small potato producers out of business.
"The present administration last fall kicked the props out from under the small potato growers with the announcement of its so-called natural course for the potato market," Burtenshaw told a meeting of the Ada County Young Democrats.

He said the administration's present program of limited support for spuds diverted to starch and flour "helps not the small farmer who had to sell his crop last fall for whatever he could get, but rather a few big operators who could afford to keep their potatoes in storage."

The policy, Burtenshaw added, aids starch producers at the expense of the cattle livestock, which buys potatoes for livestock feed.
"How can you let nature fix the price of a farmer's potatoes," Burtenshaw asked, "when you allow an implement company to fix the price of the machinery that the farmer must use?"

Great Lakes shipping set a new record for bulk cargo in 1953—199,994,820 tons.

Steel Industry of America Looks on Next Few Weeks as Its Crystal Ball

PITTSBURGH, May 18 (A)—The steel industry looks on the next few weeks as its crystal ball.

1. Bargaining started today with the CIO United Steelworkers. That will settle the question of a strike (a threat of it would need sales) or of whether wage rates will rise and operating costs with them.

2. A recent flurry of orders has led many to believe that the first two weeks of May have seen the low point reached and a turnabout in orders—if it proves only a flurry, the industry will enter the dull summer season with its hopes transferred to fall.

3. The weeks just ahead should show much about the inventory adjustment. If it's about over, there should soon be an end to the price-cutting at the warehouse level, and to the selling of steel by customers who found they had too much on hand.

Prices, still holding at the mill, should turn firmer in the outside market.

Optimism for the long-term is strong here.

"We should soon be able to find out what normal peacetime steel demand is," a Pittsburgh official of U. S. Steel says. "Right now we don't know. We're sure that steel consumers, by living off inventories, are using more metal than we are producing or selling now. Just as we know that a year ago we were producing more steel than civilian demand called for."

"Abnormal production has ended. Below normal buying should end by the fall, at the latest."

"Then we'll know what normal is. And it's sure to be higher than present production."

Pittsburgh Steel's president, Avery C. Adams, has a slightly different angle: "The high wind of competition is blowing hard now on the weaker companies. You'll soon see who the strong ones are, and who the growing ones are."

His company has just completed a $5-million-dollar expansion program and Adams reports orders coming in fast this month for the new facilities.

All hands agree, however, that this year's individual orders call for much smaller tonnage than those of former years. Customers are choosy and cautious.

As a basic industry—steel lists perhaps 40 per cent of U. S. manufacturing firms as customers—its health is highly important to that of the national economy.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that in the first four months steel production was 25 per cent below a year ago.

For the companies this meant a drop in sales. For many steelworkers it meant lay-offs or reduced work weeks.

T. M. Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel in Cleveland, expects his company's sales to pick up this fall, with 1964 perhaps turning out to be the industry's fifth best year. Orders of the company's alloy steels are already reviving, and men are returning to the mills.

E. T. Weil, chairman of National Steel, thinks steel demand may remain down for awhile. But he points out that the big postwar expansion program of the industry provided modernized equipment which cuts operating costs and helps lower the break-even point.

This could have been a factor in keeping steel company earnings from declining by as big a percentage as production did in the first quarter—although the chief factor, probably, was the end of the excess profits tax.

Among bright spots in the steel picture are the mills in the Chicago area which report doing better than the national average, through competitive advantage by nearness to large markets.

If you ever try this one you'd better come in and let me coach you on how to tell which can the farmer is going to pour the milk into first. Otherwise you may get a bit damp.

Jesuit Order Hurls Charge At McCarthy

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP) — The Roman Catholic weekly America said in an editorial yesterday Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., was attempting a "piecemeal and peaceful" overthrow of the presidency.

The publication said the current McCarthy-army hearings have "dramatized across the nation the grave constitutional issue posed by Senator McCarthy's methods."

McCarthy is a Catholic. The nationally distributed magazine is published by members of the Jesuit order. Its editor is the Rev. Robert C. Hartnett.

No Comment Obtained

In Washington, McCarthy could not be reached for comment.

America said the presidency is the only office filled by national election, and under the principle of separation of powers, is directly delegated by the people as the executive authority.

"Whether or not the President is properly discharging the duties assigned him by the people . . . the magazine said, 'is for the people as a whole to decide—not the junior senator from Wisconsin on whom the American people never had a chance to vote.'"

Great Harm Seen

"McCarthy seems to think that all the operations of the government boil down to one: Eliminating people he judges subversive," the magazine said, adding:

"If he insists on this piecemeal and peaceful overthrow of the presidency, he may do great harm to the U. S. policy by his so far very successful diversionary tactics."

Rally Attended at Hagerman Church

HAGERMAN, May 18—One hundred and fifty persons attended the Utah-Idaho district rally Sunday in the Hagerman Reorganized LDS church. The morning speaker was Apostle Reed Holmes, Independence, Mo.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, it was learned, asked the communists to lay a foundation for an Indochina-wide armistice by first allowing the conference to appoint a joint group of experts to start work immediately on a cease-fire in Laos and Cambodia—the smaller of the three associated states.

The French foreign minister attempted last week to convince the communists that the fighting in Viet Nam, largest of Indochina's states, was a genuine struggle between insurgent troops and loyal natives and French-union forces but that the struggle in Laos and Cambodia involved communist invaders, not native rebels.

Bidault demanded complete Vietnamese withdrawal from Laos and Cambodia, but Pham Van Dong, acting foreign minister of the rebels, claimed a bona fide civil war existed in all three states.

Press briefings were forbidden but informed sources said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov evaded a direct answer. One source said, however, he believed "some progress" had been made.

The optimistic informant said Molotov, for the first time, avoided repeating demands for negotiation of political and military agreements in Indochina simultaneously.

West Tries to Get Red Views On Key Indochina Questions

GENEVA, May 18 (AP)—The West attempted today to get communist commitment on two vital issues before turning to critical bargaining on peace in Indochina.

American, British and loyal Indochinese delegates to the Geneva conference hoped this afternoon's second "secret" meeting with the reds would bring definite answers to these questions:

1. Are the communists willing to treat the problem of halting hostilities in Laos and Cambodia separately from the more complex puzzle of finding a cease-fire formula for Viet Nam?

2. Are the communists willing to negotiate a strictly military armistice and leave the question of Indochina's political future to be thrashed out once the guns have been silenced?

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault challenged Russian, Chinese communist and rebel Indochinese (Vietminh) chief delegates to say "yes" to both points during yesterday's first secret meeting.

Press briefings were forbidden but informed sources said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov evaded a direct answer. One source said, however, he believed "some progress" had been made.

The optimistic informant said Molotov, for the first time, avoided repeating demands for negotiation of political and military agreements in Indochina simultaneously.

(Western delegates favor negotiating a military cease-fire first and then taking up political aspects of all unsettled issues in Indochina.)

Bidault, it was learned, asked the communists to lay a foundation for an Indochina-wide armistice by first allowing the conference to appoint a joint group of experts to start work immediately on a cease-fire in Laos and Cambodia—the smaller of the three associated states.

The French foreign minister attempted last week to convince the communists that the fighting in Viet Nam, largest of Indochina's states, was a genuine struggle between insurgent troops and loyal natives and French-union forces but that the struggle in Laos and Cambodia involved communist invaders, not native rebels.

Bidault demanded complete Vietnamese withdrawal from Laos and Cambodia, but Pham Van Dong, acting foreign minister of the rebels, claimed a bona fide civil war existed in all three states.

Burned Japanese Are Doing Better

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—A Japanese doctor who treated the 23 Japanese fishermen who were victims of the March 1 hydrogen blast in the Pacific reported success yesterday in the first phase of their treatment.

Dr. Masao Tsuzuki, professor emeritus of Tokyo university and head of the medical division of Japan's atomic bomb and casualty research committee, told a news conference that the illness of all the men had been stopped from growing worse. He said he was informed by telephone from Tokyo Sunday that all were slowly getting better.

Originally Tsuzuki had predicted that 30 per cent of the fishermen would die, based on experience he gained from treatment of victims of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bomb blasts in 1945.
