Jordan Believes Flood Will Miss Threatened City

Gov. Len Jordan said today the state would make every effort to save Bonners Ferry from the Kootenai river in northern Idaho's panhandle and that he would be surprised if the town were lost.

Following a meeting with state and federal officials, the governor said manpower would be concentrated to reinforce dikes around the community, and agricultural districts might be abandoned, but only if it appeared that it would be hopeless to try and save the farm land.

Squadrons to Guard Coasts Being Set up

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The navy has announced the formation of a special unit of radar-bearing squadrons to guard the Atlantic and Pacific coasts from surprise atomic attack.

The squadrons now being trained at various points along the coast. Several squadrons of 10 planes each are expected to be in operation by the end of the year on both the east and west coasts.

Under the air defense plan, the planes are modified to carry the Superconstellation radar which will carry more than one-half ton of electronic equipment and navigation gear.

The unit is being organized into two air force airborne early warning and control divisions. The first division will be based at McClellan Air Force Base, Calif. It will be commanded by Col. Kenneth H. Gibbons of Salt Lake City.

The second division will be based at Naval Air Station, Alameda, Calif. It will be commanded by Col. Robert H. Johnson of Salt Lake City.

The planes will have three principal missions: to provide greater early warning of enemy bombers for U.S. fighters; to give increased warning to coast cities and to the navy of approaching submarines.

The planes will be a "24 hour, 7 day" unit.

The navy is buying similar Convair aircraft for covering task forces, detecting enemy surface ships, and supplementing the air force.

Miners Have 'Major' Finds For Uranium

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Uranium prospectors swarming over the Colorado plateau have unearthed "major" resources of fissionable materials, an atomic energy commission official said today.

Jesse Johnson, director of the AEC raw materials division, told a house interior subcommittee that the 60 million-acre plateau—including parts of Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico—is this nation's best prospective location for uranium deposits.

Since 1948, he testified, activities of the uranium prospectors probably eclipse those in search of all other minerals combined.

Says Results Widespread

"The results have changed us from a nation considered deficient in uranium to one that has major resources," Johnson said.

The AEC official testified as the subcommittee opened a hearing on a bill designed to open western public lands to multiple mining uses.

Particularly, the bill is aimed at permitting the location of uranium mining claims on public lands now covered by oil and gas leases. Claims on such lands under present laws are now considered by many lawyers to have "clouded titles."

Report Due Soon

Johnson said a formal report by the AEC on the legislation is not expected to be ready for the next few days. It was indicated, however, that it will be generally favorable to the bill.

Uranium is one of the few minerals found on lands that ordinarily are reserved by lease for oil and gas explorations, Johnson explained.

T. F. Union Is Named in Suit

Otis Hall, Twin Falls general contractor, filed a $6,000 damage suit against a local union and its officers in district court Wednesday for work stoppage costs resulting from their picket line.

Named defendants in the suit are the Twin Falls Building and Trades council; its president, C. H. Vandiver, and secretary-treasurer, R. Ellis Houston, and Jim Peterson, a union picket.

Hall claims that Peterson has been picketing a warehouse construction project of his on Madrona street in Twin Falls since May 13. Since that date the carpenters on the project have been forced to leave their jobs because of the picket, although no labor dispute exists between his company and the union, Hall said.

Hall seeks payment of $1,000 damages caused by the picketing, $5,000 general damages, and an immediate restraining order to stop the picketing.

Officials Continue Probe of Stabbing

ROME, May 20 (AP)—Sheriff's office Thursday had "no comment" on the investigation of the stabbing of John Hohnhorst, Hazelton, May night.

The investigation of the stabbing is continuing. Sheriff James B. Burns said he has no progress to report at this time. He said he is a former speaker in the state house of representatives and is in serious condition in St. Joseph's hospital.

The weapon used to inflict the wound was not found. Hohnhorst is reported to have told police that he cut himself. His wife also reported her husband had cut his wound was an accident.

Parade Is Born of Hard Work, Laboring Leaders Show Here

Good parades don't just happen. They result from hard work and planning.

And if the efforts of Paul Warberg, parade marshal, and Stanley Crom, parade pace setter, are any standard, the Golden Jubilee parade here June 1 will be hard to top.

The two men carry five years of experience into planning the Golden Jubilee parade. Warberg was marshal and Crom his pacesetter for the successful 1950 and 1951 Sagebrush parades.

Most people think parades are formed in the staging area before they begin. Not true, state Warberg and Crom.

Most spectators believe all parade marshals lead their parade. Wrong again, at least so far as Warberg is concerned.

Crom will be the first man to move over the parade route. "When they see Stan coming, they'll know the parade is on its way," states Warberg.

A portion of the parade will be formed in the staging area near Five Points east. After the first section moves out, other floats and bands will be assigned with emphasis on a balanced, uniform show.

Warberg will remain behind to form the other units of the parade while Crom is in front setting the parade pace. Warberg and Crom will communicate by police radio.

Pace for the parade will be set by Warberg and Crom through pre-arranged signals. The two men long have "led" parades together and thoroughly understand the mechanics of a marching column.

No effort will be spared to give spectators the best possible parade. A steady pace will be set and adjusted to meet the circumstances. There will be no stopping the parade once it begins. "There's nothing worse than a parade that has to stop along its route," comments Warberg.

Assisting Warberg and Crom will be key men in each section of the parade. Each will be alerted to avoid accidents and "foul ups." "We've been fortunate so far," says Warberg, "we've never had an accident and we don't want one now."

Warberg feels fortunate to have Crom, Tony Machacek and the others assisting him with the Golden Jubilee parade.

The three men founded and are charter members of the Twin Falls County Rangers. Crom is a former captain of the Twin Falls county fire department.

Officers Hunt 'After Dinner' Prowler Here

An "after dinner burglar" is sought by police here after the home of Mrs. Inger Engels, 504 Fourth avenue east, was looted of a considerable amount of personal property between 3 and 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Police Chief Howard Gillette warned Twin Falls residents to watch for the intruder who looks for darkened houses during the early evening. Ringing doorbells or knocking at all doors of the home, to determine the owner's absence, he enters the house if there is no response, Chief Gillette said. If an occupant answers the door the man usually will ask for a fictitious person and leaves.

Inquires for unknown persons should be reported to police immediately, Chief Gillette warns. Neighbors are asked to be on the alert for prowlers around darkened houses.

Police said the Engels home burglar probably is the same one who entered another home recently.

Entry to the Engels home was gained by breaking a window in the rear of the house. Taken were an automatic Universal coffee maker valued at $30; one gray wool jacket; the coat of a woman's suit; a gold color cornet case; four dishes with a flower design; cooking ware; black lace dress; a pair of woman's gray wool slacks; a blouse and a box of unidentified articles.

Walter Hafer, route 1, Twin Falls, reported a saw was taken by a burglar who entered the tool shed at the site of the construction of the new LDS church. Entry was gained by prying the lock and hasp from the door between 9 p. m. and 7:30 a. m.

House Panel Votes to Place Farmers Under Benefit Plan

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The house yesterday means committee voted yesterday to bring farm operators, doctors and other professional groups, and state and local government employees under the federal social security system.

The action, affecting more than seven million persons, was a unit, with a request from President Eisenhower, to expand federal social security coverage to groups not now under the program and to boost its benefits and taxes.

Yesterday's decisions, if finally enacted, would bring in about 3,000,000 farm operators and about 600,000 doctors, lawyers, dentists, architects, professional engineers, public accountants and other professional people under compulsory coverage.

The American Medical association had strongly opposed the move for doctors. They were included by a closed-door committee vote of 12-5.

Committee members said the vote to include farmers was not unanimous but was surprisingly heavy.

Driver Found Guilty Of Topsy Count Here

A district court jury deliberated only 18 minutes Wednesday afternoon to find Burton F. Webb guilty of a charge of drunk driving, second offense. He will be sentenced at 10 a. m. Saturday. Benjamin Roberts, hospital chemist who made the blood test to which Webb agreed, was one of the witnesses to take the stand in the afternoon. He submitted a report of the blood test.

DUP Project Draws Three More Entries

With a deadline of May 29 for entries, the Daughters of Utah Pioneers contest to honor the "oldest and earliest pioneer" of the Twin Falls tract as queen of a DUP Golden Jubilee parade float, had three more contestants late Wednesday for a total of seven.

They are Mrs. Belle Smith, 70, Mrs. Polly Hoops, 74, and Mrs. William Warberg, 34.

Mrs. Smith, born Feb. 5, 1878, in Ohio, came to this area Oct. 1, 1904, with her husband and three children. They first settled in Handan at what is now known as the Sampson ranch. They later had two more children. For the last 15 years they have lived in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Tillie Hoops, born in 1880 in New York, came to a farm on the Salmon tract in 1904 in a covered wagon with her husband and three children. Since the death of her husband in 1938 she has lived in Twin Falls.

Mrs. William Warberg was born in Sweden Sept. 6, 1880, and has lived in Twin Falls since September, 1905. The family's first home in Twin Falls was a 12-foot by 24-foot shack that had been used to store seed and hay.

Other contestants are Mrs. Phoebe Williams, Mrs. Harriet Hoag, Mrs. Zelpha Lincoln Kirkman and Mrs. Mary Richards.

Allies, Reds Agree To Start Tomorrow On Indochina Pact

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 20 (AP)—East and west agreed today to start work tomorrow on the actual terms of a cease-fire in the seven and a half year old Indochina war.

But there were enough loopholes in the communist assent to make the western delegations—particularly the United States—skeptical about breaking the deadlock in the Indochina peace conference sessions. The agreement was reached at a one-hour meeting this morning between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Chinese communist Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai.

Then Eden had dinner with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov. Between lunch and dinner Eden, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith held two strategy sessions.

The nine-member Indochina conference took a breather on formal sessions today to permit the big powers to work out a compromise that would permit a real start to be made on ending the war.

Authoritative sources said Eden asked Chou whether he was ready to end the preliminary fencing and begin negotiations for a cease-fire.

Chou was said to have agreed to have talks start on two clauses of the French proposals, and one of the communist Vietminh plan.

Proposals listed

The French proposals called for withdrawal of both armies into zones to be fixed by the conference and the ending of hostilities. The Vietminh clause called for a cease-fire, and end of all movement of troops and arms into Indochina from abroad and supervision of the cease-fire by joint commissions.

Western observers said the danger of the agreement by Chou was that it skirted the vital question of whether Laos and Cambodia would be dealt with apart from Viet Nam. A U. S. spokesman emphasized the West has not retreated from its insistence they be considered separately.

The United States was lukewarm to the idea of Eden's meetings with the top reds but Undersecretary of State Smith went along with it, the understanding there would be no compromise on fundamental principles.

Snag Developing for Jordan Appointment

WASHINGTON, May 20 (Special)—Trouble is looming in the appointment of Idaho's Gov. Len Jordan to the international joint commission because of his non-lawyer background.

A White House source says: "We've offered the governor the chairmanship of the commission and have understood he'd like to accept. But now we find that ever since it was set in 1912 we'd had a lawyer as chairman, and usually one with a background of international law."

"The commission is dealing constantly with legal precedents and a non-lawyer who took the job would very soon be sorry. It's a most confusing spot."

Jordan has been urged to take the job by Interior Secretary Douglas McKay, who is anxious to speed a U. S.-Canadian agreement on the proposed Libby dam in northwestern Montana. The structure would back water into Canada.

The two other U. S. members of the six-man commission are trained engineers.

Repeated rumors are being heard here, however, to the effect Jordan isn't really interested in the commission job. What he really wants, it is said, is to try for the U. S. senate in the Idaho primary against Sen. Henry C. Dworshak.

A Jordan-Dworshak tussle may very well cut off the GOP so badly that ex-Sen. Glen Taylor can slip back into office. He's reported running ahead of other Democrats for his party's nomination.

Boy, 6, Hurt Seriously by Bus Accident

Curtis Moyes, 6-year-old son of Byron Moyes, was rushed to Magie Valley Memorial hospital late Wednesday afternoon after being run over by the school bus that had just brought him home.

The youngster's doctor said the boy received a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. His condition was listed as "fair" Thursday.

The Rev. Fred Wagner, driver of the Seventh-day Adventist school bus, told police he let the boy out of the bus at his home at 238 Seventh avenue east with several other children. He said he thought the child was still standing at the curb with the others when he started the bus.

Candidate International Head of Club To Talk Here

Donald Forsythe, Carthage, Ill., president of the Kiwanis International, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of about 400 Kiwanis members from southern Idaho in Twin Falls July 16.

Arrangements for Forsythe's visit, his only one to Idaho this year, was completed by President Charles Allen of the Kiwanis International convention in Miami.

Kiwanis members and their wives from the Boise, Pocatello, Idaho Falls and Twin Falls areas are expected to attend the evening meeting, Dr. Joseph Marshall, Twin Falls former Kiwanis International officer, is chairman in charge of arrangements.

Plans for Forsythe's visit were answered at a meeting of the Twin Falls club Thursday at the Legion hall. Directors met following the membership meeting to plan the event.

Albert H. Horn, Jr., Seattle, north west refinery sales manager, General Petroleum company, spoke at the meeting. He discussed the economics of the oil industry in the Pacific northwest. Horn was introduced by William Blake, program chairman.

Visiting Kiwanians were William Bunch, Jr., Piler, district lieutenant governor, and Arthur Albert, Bunch club president.

Guests included Bert Larson, Victor Fifflet, Seth Blake, Vern Modlin and Mack Dodson.

Solon Seeking Renomination For Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special)—Rep. Hamer Budge, announced Wednesday that he would be a candidate for renomination for congress from Idaho's second district. "I wish to extend my most sincere thanks to all those who have shown their confidence in me during my past service. I shall do my utmost to continue to merit that confidence," Budge said.

During his current term Budge, a member of the powerful house appropriations committee, earned the distinction of being the only appropriations committee member in many years to serve on two major committees. When Rep. Norris Poulsen, R., Calif., was elected mayor of Los Angeles last year, members of the house elected Budge to fill Poulsen's place on the interior and insular affairs committee, which deals so closely with the problems of the western states.

Prior to his election to congress in 1950, Budge served three terms in the Idaho legislature. He was floor leader during the 1949 session.

Budge was born in Bannock county, son of the late Justice and Mrs. Alfred Budge.

A graduate of Boise high school, he attended the College of Idaho, Stanford university and the University of Idaho, graduating with liberal arts and law degrees.

Budge is a World war II veteran, having served for 3 1/2 years in the navy and receiving his honorable discharge with the rank of lieutenant commander.

It was 97 at Burley and Gooding, and 93 at Pocatello, the Associated Press reported. Boise recorded 90, and Salmon 89.

In Nevada and Utah similar highs were recorded. Salt Lake City had 92 and it was 99 at Lovelock, Nev., and 92 at Elko.

Oregon to Vote

PORTLAND, May 20 (AP)—Candidates made their final pleas for voter support today before retiring from the campaign trail to await results of tomorrow's Oregon primary election.

It has been a listless campaign with only a scattering of major contests. The issues have been confined almost entirely to local matters with the power question cropping up most frequently.

Third Attempt for Soil District Seen

CLOVER, May 20—Edwin Lierman, chairman of the organizing committee for a soil conservation district in the western part of Twin Falls county, does not feel that the defeat of the district in the election Tuesday means an end for chances to create a district.

The matter of creating a district in the western part of the county has been defeated twice by voters but Lierman says he is confident it could succeed in a subsequent election. The vote Tuesday was 200-107.

Lierman said the organizing committee has no plans, as a unit, for the immediate future. He did say, however, that the plan, with some changes, probably will be submitted to the voters again.

Speculation About Invasions Stirred

TAIPEI, Formosa, May 20 (AP)—A sharp increase in aerial action off China's Chekiang province the past few days has stirred speculation that the communists may be preparing an attack on island bases held by Nationalist forces off the coast.

A Nationalist official said today there is no indication that an invasion is near but acknowledged that stepped up aerial attacks are aimed at disrupting any plans the communists may have.

The official also acknowledged that a red invasion could come with little advance warning.

Reds Are Nearer Red River Delta

HANOI, May 20 (AP)—The vanguard of communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's victorious red army approached the outer defenses of the Red river delta today.

Group Slates Probe of Red Trade Issues

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Chairman Bridges, R.-N.H., said today the senate appropriations committee will make a "searching inquiry" into the extent to which free world allies have agreed to relax bans on trade with red China.

Bridges' plan for an investigation of this issue came after Senator McCarthy, D.-Wis., told the senate yesterday it would be "criminal folly" not to cut off U.S. financial aid to nations which ship "the sinews of military and economic strength" to the communists.

McCarthy had barely finished his floor address before Foreign Aid Administrator Harold E. Stassen shot back with a statement that what the senator said was "fantastic, unbelievable and untrue."

Stassen, who has tangled with McCarthy before, said "we are steadily building for peace under President Eisenhower's leadership." And in an obvious reference to McCarthy's televised row with army officials, Stassen declared "Senator McCarthy is frankly reaching for diversionary headlines after the sorry spectacle of his record in recent hearings."

McCarthy, in what he said was a "painful and unpleasant" discussion of Republican "shortcomings," called for the listing by Stassen of "every type of material which we have agreed that our allies can ship to our enemies."

Warning Over Slide Sounded

BALBOA, Canal Zone, May 20 (AP)—A warning that "immediate steps are necessary" to avert the danger of a rockslide in the Gallard cut of the Panama canal has been voiced by a special board of consultants.

The board admitted last night that a "potentially dangerous condition" has been created by an ever-widening crack in Contractor's hill overlooking the vital waterway.

Made up of top U.S. geologists, engineers and technicians, the board yesterday ended two days of discussions on means of alleviating the threat of the slide that could block the canal.

They announced complete agreement with the decision of the Panama canal company to level the hill. Contract bids will be opened in Washington tomorrow on the work of removing 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 cubic yards of rock from the hill.

The consultants said they believed the work could be carried out without interference with canal traffic.

Army Secretary Will Be Recalled

Mundt is presiding at the subcommittee's public and televised hearings seeking the truth in charges and counter-charges McCarthy and army officials have hurled at each other.

Bureau Reports Ranges Are Dry

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Warm weather caused irrigated crops to grow rapidly in Idaho last week, but ranges and dryland farms in central and eastern Idaho are still very dry, the weather bureau reported yesterday.

Except for widely scattered showers, the only rainfall last week was in Washington and Valley counties. Average temperatures were from 5 to 10 degrees above the previous week.

Spring seeding is nearly completed in northern Idaho, the bureau said, and is in full swing at the higher elevations. Fall-sown grains are in good condition. Sugar beet thinning is half finished in the southwestern section and has started elsewhere in southern Idaho.

Crash Reported

A collision between a 1949 Oldsmobile driven by Roy L. Collins, Glens Ferry, and a 1947 Mercury was reported to police early Thursday.

The accident occurred at Five Points west when a bolt broke and the Mercury struck the Oldsmobile, damaging the Mercury.

An earlier report is clarified concerning a minor accident between cars driven by Ronald E. Melton and Melborne P. Coggriff. The accident occurred when Melton stopped for a pedestrian after turning off Third avenue west onto Main avenue. The Coggriff car, following Melton, was not stopped in time to avoid hitting the first car.

ENLISTS IN NAVY Enlistment of James A. McCarthy, 17, son of Mrs. Otis Ratley, route 2, Burley, in the navy is announced by M.M.O. George Walker, navy recruiter here. McCarthy is in San Diego receiving recruit training.

De Valera Is Defeated for Erin Election

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 20 (AP)—John A. Costello's coalition today tumbled Prime Minister Eamon De Valera from power by winning control of the Irish dail (parliament).

Nearly complete tabulations of Tuesday's election results showed De Valera's Mjanna Fall (men of De Valera's party had lost any mathematical chance of gaining a majority in the 147-seat dail).

The latest standings showed De Valera's party had won 61 seats to 74 for the coalition. Four seats went to Independents. Of the other eight seats, five remained to be counted and polling for three was put off until May 26, because of the death of candidates.

Fianna Fail polled about 10 per cent fewer votes than it did in the last general election three years ago. Observers attributed this decline to a housewives' revolt against rising prices.

Irish political leaders never conceded an election till the last ballot is counted. It was evident from the gloom at Fianna Fail headquarters, however, the decision had been reached.

Progress

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—The Detroit News said yesterday it had learned from officials of the National Association of Manufacturers that "the world's first known atomic aircraft engine is in production or at least in a production stage."

It also said it learned that an atomic railroad engine is ready for production now.

Anti-Rhee Forces Lead in Elections

SEOUL, May 20 (AP)—Anti-Rhee or non Rhee candidates today were leading in scattered, inconclusive returns in 21 of the first 27 districts reporting from yesterday's national assembly election.

The election has been called an off year test of President Syngman Rhee's popularity.

Election officials in Seoul, who said less than a seventh of the ballots had been counted, reported candidates of Rhee's Liberal party leading in only 5 of 16 districts.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Adlai E. Stevenson's 1956 presidential prospects have been brightened as a result of Sen. Stuart Symington's indifferent performance in the senate investigation of the army-McCarthy-Scholarship. The handsome Missourian and former secretary of the air force had blossomed as the principal threat to the strident Ohioan.

But Symington's ineffectiveness in the televised controversy has been an extreme disappointment to his friends and promoters. Although obviously hostile to Senator McCarthy, he has not played the role expected of him and for which he had been cast.

SYMINGTON TOO ACQUIESCENT—He has not protested against the Wisconsin man's persistent violation of the most elementary procedure that governs senate hearings. He has acquiesced in Chairman Karl E. Mundt's tolerance of bickerings between McCarthy, army Counsel Joseph N. Welch and committee members.

He has been overshadowed by the other Democrats: Sen. John L. McClellan, Ark., and Henry M. Jackson, Wash. In fact, the drawing and grim-looking man from Arkansas is winning a name for himself by asking penetrating questions directed at key but clouded issues. He has always been regarded highly by his colleagues, but this is his first opportunity to show his real worth. Unconsciously, he has dwarfed the better advertised Missourian.

PROMOTERS' HOPE—Senator Symington appears to recognize that he is not fulfilling expectations. He prefaces many of his remarks with the seemingly apologetic explanation that "I am not a lawyer."

His 1956 promoters did not expect him to shine as a lawyer. But they did hope that he would offset his relative obscurity and inexperience in politics by making a dramatic and impressive showing. They told him that this was a rare opportunity for a senate first-timer, whose chances for a starring role are normally nil. As of today, in Washington's opinion, he has muffed that billing.

When people discuss their daily drama, they speak of Mundt, McCarthy, McClellan, Stevens, Welch and Jackson, not Symington.

MISSOURIAN'S FAILURE DISCUSSED—Members of the Democratic National committee attending the recent Truman dinner at Washington discussed the Symington failure quite frankly. If he has been eliminated, their survey of the surviving field suggests that Stevenson will be their best bet, despite his stunning defeat by Eisenhower.

As is often true of minority parties after prolonged occupancy of the White House, the Democrats suffer from a dearth of distinguished and qualified candidates. As headstrong and self-centered individuals, neither FDR nor Truman bothered to build a political farm system or a powerful bench of substitutes.

DEMOCRATIC HOPEFUL—Two frequently mentioned and well-equipped candidates—Sens. Richard B. Russell, Ga., and Lyndon B. Johnson, Tex.—live on the wrong side of the Mason and Dixon line. Two other hopefuls—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and Averell Harriman—stand on the wrong side of the ideological line, being ultra-liberal.

Moreover, one or the other must demonstrate his vote-getting capabilities by winning both the nomination and election as governor of New York next fall, a mountainous "if." These same considerations apply to Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Mich., even if he should gain a reelection in the fall.

STEVENSON'S CHANCES—Analyzing the situation in the light of the Symington stumble and the scarcity of talent, Democratic strategists are reconciled to another Stevenson effort as of today.

Some party schemers figure that it might be smart, long-range politics to expose the Ohioan to the electorate again, especially if 1956 looms as a Republican year. As the unhappy and reluctant heir of Truman's burdens and doctrines, a twice-defeated Stevenson would enable the Democrats to break with the past wars and their woes, diplomatic defeats, communism and corruption, taxes and deficits—and start afresh with a new generation of candidates and voters.

With somewhat the same Machiavellian thought, the Democrats washed Bryan right out of their hair, and the GOP-ers gave the same treatment to Dewey.

TAFT-HARTLEY STALEMATE

On the surface the senate gave President Eisenhower a rebuff when it recently returned to committee his proposed revisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law. But the political damage may not go very deep.

Though Taft-Hartley has been something of a political issue ever since it became law in 1947, there is no sign the voters are likely to be fired up over it this fall.

And the plain fact is that the particular amendments just defeated were not desired now by either the labor leaders or business. Both sides preferred no bill to these revisions, and they appear certain to get their wish.

The President's proposals would have eased the existing ban on secondary boycotts, and given states the authority to adopt laws dealing with labor disputes considered to constitute a "clear and present danger to the health or safety of the people." There were a dozen other items.

More than a few men on capitol hill felt Mr. Eisenhower was ill-advised to press for this set of amendments in the face of the disinterest of labor and management. However that may be, he did persist, so his prestige inevitably suffers a nick from this reversal.

Perhaps of more significance, though, is the solid Democratic vote against the revision measure. Northern and southern Democrats united in opposition, but for different reasons. Northerners felt it didn't go far enough in labor's favor; conservative southerners believed it lacked sufficient curbs on labor.

This kind of unity would seem to have no promise of endurance. Yet if it is improvised very many times, from whatever diverse motive, it can help to play hob with Mr. Eisenhower's program. For he has so far been unable to command the full support of his own party on these plans.

In any event, Taft-Hartley would seem to be a dead issue for a good while—at least until 1955 and possibly until flogged into life for the next presidential starts in 1956.

ABOUT FACE

Marshal Zhukov, one of Russia's greatest wartime commanders, struck a note the other day that we don't hear sounded much in Moscow in these times.

He paid tribute to the valor exhibited by the United States in World War II, and especially to the part played by President Eisenhower as leader of the western forces against Germany.

But, having got this surprising bit of generosity off his belated chest, the general then had to take account of the current Soviet realities. So he warned the United States, and presumably Mr. Eisenhower, not to try to be so brave another time. He said it wouldn't pay.

BIG MERCHANTISER

Uncle Sam is the world's greatest merchandiser. The government's investment in farm commodities now totals $4,250,000,000, and it is increasing week by week. And unlike a private merchant, Uncle Sam is doing business at a loss.

Now the government would like to cease being a merchandiser, at least on such a large scale. So it would like to dispose of its stocks of goods, if someone will tell it how it can be done—without hurting anybody. For if the merchandises is put on the market and sold for what it will bring, every farmer and dairyman in the country will be hurt and many will go broke. That will be bad for everyone—especially bad for congressmen looking for votes.

Why not write your congressman, giving your advice. Either (1) Tell the government to quit buying right now (2) Sell the surplus commodities at the best price available. (3) Give the whole lot to hungry foreign nations. Or (4) permit the stuff to rot and charge the bill to the taxpayers.

Your advice might be as good as any—Wyoming Eagle.

POT SHOTS

STATE PASTIME

"Go ahead and shoot someone, but better not write a bad check in Idaho." Naturally, you've all heard that advice. But is it followed?

Just in case you missed it, folks continue to ignore that old warning. Rosa Leonard state fish and game director, said earlier this week that personal checks no longer will be accepted in payment of fees for special big game hunts. Feel ready to scream? Read on!

It seems some 500 of those personal checks sent to the fish and game department last year bounced. They weren't any good. So this year when you go after money orders or bank drafts or certified checks, don't forget to cue the bouncy 500.

EXTREMIST

Dear Sir:

Probably you could call me an extremist. Anyway, I call myself that. And I just know you're going to stick around long enough to find out what I'm so extreme about.

Me, I'm not extreme about anything. (Still got you on the hook?) Okay, so it seems I'm allergic to extremes. But not extremes of everything—just extremes of everything. I'm allergic to extreme heat and extreme cold, but not all the time. It seems the allergy to cold is active only during winter months, while the allergy to heat is active only during summer months.

With such an affliction, do you suppose it would be possible to get a job with a cold storage outfit? In the winter, I'd like to work in the furnace room and in this furnace, weather, I'd like to work in the freezing room.

Crowdedout

FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

The guy stood in the postoffice lobby holding a letter in his hand and just shaking his head. He was also muttering something about nerve.

Then he showed us the letter, one of the usual forms used by some companies in checking up on references given by a job applicant. The form specified the applicant had worked in Twin Falls for six years, all the time for the same guy—the fellow who was shaking his head and muttering.

"The first time I got one of these, I had to check our records to make sure the guy ever worked for me," he explained. "He stuck with us for all of three weeks!"

Then the guy tossed the form into the wastebasket. "If I answer it, he won't get the job," he explained. "This way he has a slim chance if he'll keep his mouth shut!"

GOOD REASON!

Dear Pot Shots:

In reference to your article "Failure" in Sunday's paper, may I say one thing: "Have you ever been there?" before you make up your mind as to who would want to go there when they could stay in Idaho.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—Frank Costello is the latest prominent victim of a vicious development in our administration of justice by which the national government persecutes men for their notoriety by created by the press.

The classic example was Al Capone, who, nine years and, by arbitrary judgment of James Bennett, the director of the federal bureau of prisons, was shipped to Alcatraz for most of that term. This was cruel and unusual punishment inflicted by decree of an individual who has shown remarkable consideration to communists including Alger Hiss.

I have never met Frank Costello, but I personally know that for at least 10 years the detectives of one of the most efficient prosecuting agencies in the entire country have covered him almost continuously, have searched his affairs and have never been able to accuse him of parking by a hydrant or throwing trash in the street.

Falling on all other counts of the huge bill of generalities which Ka-fauver, the television and the press created, the department of justice finally decided to "get" this victim on a charge of evading taxes on some income. The amount was reduced by about half before the trial was over.

Herbert Hoover, whom I honor on the whole, was guilty of a great wrong with good intentions in the case of Al Capone. A group of eminent citizens of Chicago called at the White House to implore his help in redeeming their city from civic bankruptcy.

Capone, it seemed, was not only a master bootlegger, an office which in those days was held in hypocritical contempt by the bootleggers' multi-million patrons, but the leader of a gang or syndicate which also operated gambling houses and brothels, procured females for the faculties thereof, murdered his rivals, bribed politicians and police executives and, in general, debilitated the government of the city. These citizens could not swear to a single criminal charge against Capone.

A false report has been published that Mr. Hoover wanted personal revenge because in a hotel lobby in Florida Capone attracted more attention than the President of the United States. Mr. Hoover denies this absolutely but he does relate that he agreed to cooperate with these citizens.

Accordingly, Arthur Madden, in charge of the Chicago office of the treasury intelligence, began to search Capone's financial affairs through bank records. Madden and his assistants, particularly Clarence Converse, did an amazing job and there is absolutely no doubt that Capone had evaded taxes by failing to declare income. But he was punished for his bad reputation, which was the product of sensational publicity.

Nine years was an outrageous sentence for tax evasion. Hundreds of other individuals have been guilty of the same crime or the same crime in effect but with saving technicalities. And they have been allowed to walk out free upon payment of "adjusted" claims. Elliott Roosevelt got the benefit of a "loan" of $200,000 from John Hartford, of the A. & E. stores, and other "loans" from other suckers in that the money ultimately relieved him of a financial obligation to support one of his divorce wives and their children. But he was absolved of all taxes and violation of the law.

The cruelty of the Alcatraz regime has been exploited as though it were an honor to a great nation. Granted that it is necessary to put some bad actors under absolute restraint, it is not necessary to torture them as we do at Alcatraz. And we never were told why Capone suddenly was lifted out of Alcatraz and secretly shipped to the rock except, in general terms, that he was demoralizing Alcatraz. This explanation merely indicts the prison administration for inefficiency with implications of corruption. The bureau solved its problem not by cleaning its own house but by persecuting Capone for debt, treatment which contributed to his mental decline and ultimate insanity.

Admittedly, Frank Costello owned slot machines, planted them in "locations" and ran gambling houses. It goes without saying, that wherever he ran these houses or spotted his machines in "locations" the local political officials either permitted him to do so and took graft or knew the truth and ignored the situation.

As in the Capone case, the person who should have been sent to prison were the public officials. We lost a great deal, morally and politically, when the President of the United States failed to rebuke these leading citizens and send them back to reform their city.

After all, Capone was an ignorant bootlegger and we have to absolve him of any failure in a civic duty if we agree that he was an underworld hoodlum of the lowest type. But these mayors, aldermen, state legislators, governors and many other officials had a sworn official duty and a moral obligation to maintain the government of which they were a part by their own seeking and for pay. Mr. Hoover should have emphasized this fact and remanded the problem to the city and state.

Hank and His Wife Get Fancy Hairdos by Experts for Film

By HENRY McLEMORE

The McLeMores nearly broke the back of the 20th-Century Fox studio yesterday.

But we did it in the interest of our country.

As we are leaving for a trip to Australia in a few days—we thought that as ambassadors of good-will, we should look our very best. So, through the kind offices of a dear and old friend Harry Brand, it was arranged for the hair stylists and make-up artists of 20th Century to work on us.

I was assigned to Russ Allen, who has styled the hair of stars for 16 years. Through his shears have passed such heads as those of Tyrone Power, Gregory Peck, Al Jolson, Robert Montgomery and a thousand others.

Mary was placed in the hands of Helen Turpin and Ben Nye, tops in their business.

When I sat down in his chair Mr. Allen asked me what kind of a cut I desired. I told him anything that would make me look different than I did—that I was finally worn out with looking like myself.

I explained that for going on 40 years I had never had but one kind of a haircut, what might roughly be called a Georgia snip.

"Let me study you," he said. He backed off a few paces, looked awhile, and then circled the chair, his face grim. Then he went into consultation near the tonic counter with an assistant. They looked so stern that I took a note pad out of my pocket and wrote down the address of my kin and resolved that I would ask for the truth, no matter what it was.

Finally, Mr. Allen returned and spoke to me.

"We have decided," he said, "that what goes for Tyrone and Gregory won't go for you. You have, if you must know, one head of hair in a million. Even older than George Jessel's. How brave are you Mr. McLemore? To help your appearance you must run grave risks.

"Are you willing?"

I told Mr. Allen of my ancestors who fought at Missionary ridge and said I only asked a little withal on my face, a cold towel, a dusting of powder on my neck and he could proceed. He took the extra precaution of giving me a towel to wipe my face and went to work.

As I closed my eyes I saw the manicurist standing by the table in her hand and a look of admiration on her pretty face. I was afraid, yes, but when I saw the 20th Century stars taken whole islands from the single-handed, who had made the death with pirates and jumped off cliffs—well, I let the studio down.

I remember crying out loud. That was when Mr. Allen's great stroke, removed my hair. But a slash of courage came and I went under again.

When I came to I was right in the chair, looking in a mirror held by Mr. Allen.

"How do you like it?" he is what I call the great trim. You see, I have been in the hair of the stars in "The Man" a picture that is now made, and there is something your head that reminds me of a pyramid.

I took a good look and saw what he meant. There were wastes up there, reminding of Sahara. There was the famous Cheops.

"Would you like something your hair?" Mr. Allen asked.

I took another look and saw "Yes, a cap."

Mary came out looking like thing out of a story book. Then, Miss Turpin and Mr. Nye, taken a housewife and turned her into a princess. Now we only one problem: She won't her hair or wash her face, won't take off my cap.

Urges Work in Election

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Betty Rockwell, a Republican, urged voters to work in the election. She said that the Republican party is the only party that is working for the people. She said that the Republican party is the only party that is working for the people. She said that the Republican party is the only party that is working for the people.

STAMFORD, Tex., May 20 (AP)—Bob Stallworth, an Abilene oil scout, zipped along a country road looking for a rig he thought was on a well nearby. He looked to the right. And he looked to the left. He didn't look to the front. Wham! He hit a truck. Stallworth didn't learn of his success in finding it, though, until he came to in a hospital here.

Banker Says U.S. Recession 'Light'

SALT LAKE CITY, May 20 (AP)—A banker told the Utah Automobile Dealers association yesterday that the present recession has been "about the lightest on record." "It has been more of a leveling out in the economy than a real downturn," said George S. Eccles, president of the First Security Bank of Utah. "Business activity is still extremely high," Eccles said. "Even with 3,400,000 unemployed there are more than 60 million employed at high wages. Construction figures are breaking all records."

Eccles predicted that "by any standard, the year 1954 will be an extremely good business year. The underlying economy is sound."

Idaho's Court Rules Against Oil Merchant

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court ruled yesterday that an oil distributing company must make contributions to the employment security fund on wages of an operator over whose work it exercises control.

The court, in a unanimous opinion by Chief Justice James W. Porter, upheld an industrial-accident-board ruling which had been appealed by Blue Bell company, Inc., Idaho Falls.

Agreement Made Blue Bell had an oral agreement with Alexander Klinghorn under which he operated the Frontier service station in Pocatello, which Blue Bell owned.

The company contended it did not have to make contributions on earnings of Klinghorn and other employees of the station because they were not employed by Blue Bell.

Court Rules But the court held there was no merit in the company's contention that evidence showed it "did not exercise actual control" over Klinghorn.

The court said the evidence showed such control and that "the relationship could have been terminated without liability by either party," another factor which it said established that Klinghorn was an employee of the company.

Pioneer Spirit Is Praised by Writer

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Pulitzer prize-winning novelist A. B. Guthrie, Jr. said yesterday he believes the west's pioneers "wouldn't have let Americans be pushed around by the communists or Sen. Joe McCarthy either."

The Montana writer drew applause from a Boise Chamber of Commerce luncheon audience with the reference to communism and the Wisconsin-Republican.

"A belief in freedom, in the rights of man and the dignity of man, is incompatible with both," he added.

Guthrie expressed apprehension that opposition of Americans to "totalitarianism of the left and right" is not as effective as it once was.

"You get to wondering whether we value freedom as they valued it, whether the concept of freedom is an academic thing for us."

Maybe we about "freedom" when we

Chevrolet and Ford Keeping Lead for Race

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—Chevrolet and Ford, pressing their fight for first place in auto production and sales, are continuing to account for more than half of the industry's passenger car output.

Chevrolet, after trailing Ford for three months, got back into the top production place early in May and apparently is determined to hold it.

Unofficial tabulations of the industry's assembly line operations credit Chevrolet with building 575,000 and Ford 572,000 cars so far this year.

Market Is 'Cornered'

An interesting fact shown in the tabulation is that seven of 18 car makers now account for more than 90 per cent of the nation's passenger car production. They are Chevrolet, Ford, Buick, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Mercury and Pontiac.

Four of these, of course, are General Motors divisions, two Ford and one Chrysler.

Indications are the relative standings in the production tabulations will be maintained through the present year. Buick is far ahead of Plymouth and its general manager, Ivan E. Wilson, has said he expects 1954 to be Buick's second best year.

Chrysler Picks Up

However, Chrysler's four car divisions have begun to pick up in production. Their combined output so far this year—278,368 cars—is a little more than 238,000 units behind that of the comparable period last year.

Chrysler executives aren't minimizing the production and merchandising tasks that lie ahead. They have emphasized consistently, however, that all their car divisions have eyed production to actual retail requirements. This should place them in a favorable inventory position.

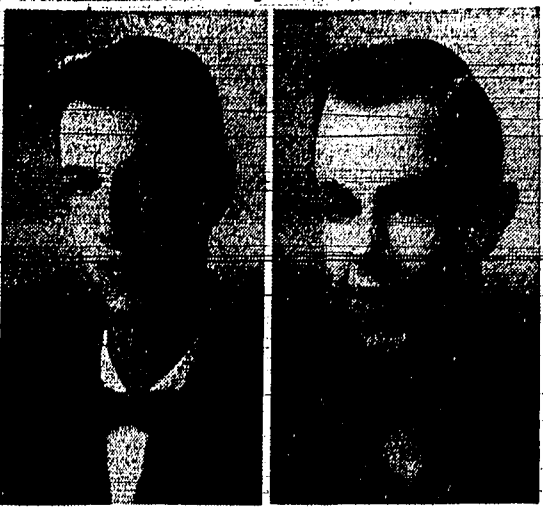

Rites Scheduled

Participants are asked to be at the Memorial hall at 10 a. m. that morning and to come in uniform.

The Legion also has decided to sponsor Americanism awards again this year for one boy and one girl graduate of the high school.

Filer Boys' Staters

Philip Brown and Gary Burton will represent Filer at Boys' state in Boise from June 8 to 13. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynneville Brown and Burton is the son of Mrs. Eleanor Gill. The boys are sponsored by the American Legion, the Kiwanis club and the Filer Grange. (Staff engravings)

Carmen Cook was granted a decree from Elvin Cook but he was awarded custody of two minor children.

Elsie K. Smith was given a decree of divorce from John E. Smith and her maiden name, Elsie Price, was restored. The couple was married July 26, 1933, at Butte. There are no community property or children.

Lola Toews was granted a decree from Walt J. Toews. She was given custody of two minor children and $100 a month support. A property settlement previously had been reached.

WENDELL, May 20—Sgt. and Mrs. Lee Best, Travis airforce base, Calif., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Smith.

Winchell Says He Destroyed Hot Summary

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Columnist Walter Winchell said today he had burned a copy of the FBI memorandum summary given to him at the time it set off an uproar in the McCarthy-army hearings.

Winchell termed the document "very dull reading." He said he destroyed the copy after consulting various government officials and after the attorney-general ruled it contained security data.

Says Others Out

However, he said he had been informed that about 35 copies of the so-called 2 1/2 page "letter" summarizing a classified FBI memorandum, were in circulation. He said he understood that newspaper people have most of them.

Winchell, earlier, had related in his syndicated column how someone handed him the copy during a recess in the Washington hearings.

The document was produced at the hearing by Senator McCarthy who claimed it was a letter from J. Edgar Hoover containing warnings of communist-espionage in radar laboratories, McCarthy said he got it from an army intelligence officer.

Called Phony

The army, after searching its files, replied later that the letter was a perfect phony.

It turned out, according to subsequent testimony, that it was not a Hoover letter but a cut-down version of a 15-page, 1951 FBI memo on the question of espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. In some cases it had notations not contained in the original document.

Service Planned

JEROME, May 20—Rural life Sunday will be observed at the 11 a. m. service Sunday at the Jerome Methodist church. Speakers will be Mrs. Henry A. Silvers, Frank Beger and Anne Dykstra.

During the service recent projects undertaken by various members of the Men's club will be dedicated.

Candles Lighted To Fete Women On Anniversary

Candles were lighted in honor of the four living charter members of the Country Woman's club at the meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. McClain to observe the 40th anniversary of the group.

Charter members present, Mrs. G. G. Allen and Mrs. McClain, were given corsages by Mrs. Gail Bevercombe, program chairman. Mrs. Carrie Harper White, Kerrville, Texas, and Mrs. L. J. Miller, Portland, Ore., also charter members could not be present.

The club was founded in 1914 by 21 women. Mrs. White, who became the first woman to be a state representative of Idaho, was the first president.

Mrs. Bevercombe read a poem in memory of Mrs. Frank Winsler, charter member. Memorials were given by Mrs. R. G. Doud.

A three-tier birthday cake, decorated in the club colors, surrounded by 40 roses each holding a candle represented the 40 years of the club.

Mrs. Louise Wight sang two songs, one which was written by Mrs. M. F. Kenworthy, a past president. A skit depicting the history of the club was given by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. McClain.

Mrs. Kenworthy and Mrs. Laura Houston, Jerome, former presidents, were given corsages. Greetings to the club were sent by Mrs. White, Mrs. Walter Denton and Mrs. Miller, all former presidents.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ross Ward, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. David Cathro.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Peter is about 3 years old, big for his age, sturdily built, and very active. He is busy from dawn to dusk. Some of his activities annoy other children and give his mother plenty of trouble.

"How can I get him to let other children alone? He drops his wagon and grabs whatever the nearest child has. Should another child take his discarded wagon, he runs and grabs it, still holding on to whatever he has clutched from the others.

"He is very rough. All of a sudden he will run up to another child, boy or girl, it makes no difference, and squeeze them until they scream. I've done everything I can think of—kept him in, talked myself hoarse, spanked him—all to no good."

This little boy is healthy. Nourished by good food and under excellent care he is brimful of energy and as he has limited room and opportunity in the crowded neighborhood of his home, he must exert it as best he can, and his companions suffer in consequence. As he grows in understanding to equal his height and weight he will be less obtrusive.

At his age and stake of growth he is "grabby." Children have scant understanding of others' feelings. They have a keen feeling for themselves. To them there is but one person concerned in the happenings about them, and that is their own particular being. It is only by steady, prolonged teaching and through their personal experience imposed on them by that teaching, that they become conscious of the rights and feelings of others.

"Would you like to have Jackie take your ball? No? Well he does not like to have you take his things. He feels just the way you do about that. So, give it back to him. Tommy won't play with you? He does not like you because you took his tricycle yesterday. You would not like anybody who took yours. No, I won't ask him to play with you. You'll have to be good to him and show him you are a kind boy, not a mean one who takes things from him."

In time growth, experience, teaching, will change this situation. Another will take its place, because this is the way children grow, step by step from error to correctness. A mother's job lasts about 31 years, 24 hours a day. But a good job is worth every hour of it, in the end.

Does your child have trouble with spelling? Dr. Patri's Leaflet P-30, "Spelling," includes suggestions for parents and teachers which will help children overcome this difficulty. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Chicken Top List of Good Buys

The Associated Press has a well-compiled list of the nation's foodstores which will emphasize the best, real and chicken.

Chicken mentioned as special buy in 10 of 20 cities. In Twin Falls, the price for a leg and a wing and a shoulder will be a bit lower than other markets.

Specials are Specials. Chicken and roasting turkeys and prices in a good market. And more stores will have turkey as a week-end special. Most men consider turkey a good buy these days.

It looks as if there may be a shortage of turkeys for months. Poultrymen estimate that this year will be 7 to 10 per cent less than last year.

It will cost you about 10 cents a pound, but pork is a week ago. Eggs are up 11 cents in the Los Angeles area.

Prices will show practically no change. Eggs, however, last week, will be 10 cents a dozen in some areas. A couple of cents in green beans and spinach.

List of outstanding vegetables—reasonable—prices also on cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, potatoes and men—continue to list.

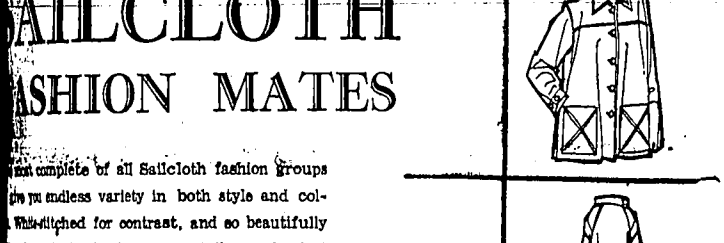

As the best buy in fruit, they herald the arrival of pine from Texas and from California.

Apples are rolling in. The first few from Arizona and good buy, produce men say.

Most of it grown in the coffee prices this year. Another year, the necessary in the first months. Meanwhile, imports of tea soared 10 per cent in the first half of this year over the last year.

Army, Air Force Plan Flood Help

PORTLAND, May 20 (AP)—Army engineers teamed with the air force yesterday to organize an emergency pool of military airplanes and pilots to assist in flood fighting by flying personnel and supplies to critical areas in any part of the Columbia river basin.

The north Pacific division engineer, Col. Louis H. Foote, said the division was placed on emergency status as reports of rising water came in from scattered parts of the basin.

As many as eight planes with pilots will be available on a standby alert basis. The planes will be from the 403rd troop carrier wing, an air force reserve organization based in Portland. The wing's commanding officer, Col. Robert Sheets, said the unit will be prepared to carry out emergency missions to critical flood points with flood-fighting materials and supplies.

The north Pacific division includes Oregon, Washington, Idaho, western Montana and Alaska.

Candidate Urges Bid for Industry

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Britt Nedry, candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, said yesterday "a good public relations campaign could and should develop a major industry in our state."

"The whole operation of the tourist and recreation business engages the employment of thousands of people," Nedry declared. "Directly and indirectly, this cheerful business does help everyone."

Where else does quality mean so much?

Mother knows the value of good health. That's why she wants everything the family eats and drinks to meet high standards of quality.

Like four generations of Americans she chooses Coca-Cola as her favorite soft drink—serves it to her family—offers it to guests when hospitality calls for refreshment.

Mother trusts its quality with good reasons—for Coke is pure as sunlight. The water that goes into Coca-Cola is treated and made neutral to taste to protect the delicate flavor of the drink.

Choice ingredients from the world's markets are tested for taste, strength and purity. Indeed, each frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is "a blend of good things from nine sunny climes."

Little Is Seen Of Russians By Shanghai

By WENDELL MERICK
HONG KONG, May 20 (AP)—People in Shanghai, the "city above the sea," see very few Russians these days.
Once Russians swarmed over the city. Now they keep to themselves—possibly by their own choice, possibly by request of the Chinese communist government.
There is a "Moscow in China" in the suburbs where the Russians live. They come into the city in black limousines, with drawn shades; to visit government buildings. The cars come to a screeching stop and the Russians hurry into the buildings.

Rice Exported
But though the Chinese see few Russians, they see plainly Russian freighters loading the rice which is so sorely needed by the hungry people of the communist Utopia.
A glimpse behind the bamboo curtain at Shanghai, metropolis of red China and greatest city on the continent of Asia, has been given this correspondent by a European woman who has just managed to get out.
"Mrs. X," she thinks it better to conceal her identity—was interviewed through intermediaries.
Before the communists took over in 1949, Shanghai was one of the gayest cities in the world, and one of the most vicious. Now its bright lights are out, its night clubs are closed, its people are cold and hungry.

Reds Buy Everything
"In 1950 and 1951 I saw Russians by the hundreds," Mrs. X said. "They bought everything in sight—radios, cameras, nylon stockings, expensive clothing, perfumes, anything they could find. Now there is very little to be found in the stores."
There are very few Russians left, too. It is generally believed that the Chinese communists do not want them to have any contacts which might give them influence over individual Chinese.

"Food is short. There is very little white rice in Shanghai. But I've seen large amounts of it loaded on the Russian ships in the harbor—going to Russia, I suppose. I can not understand why. The people have so little as it is."

Idahoan Asks Consolidation To 6 Counties

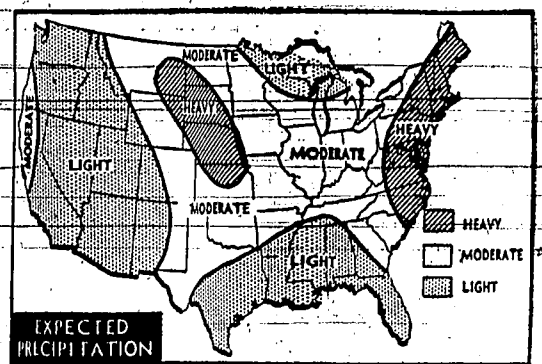

MOSCOW, May 20 (AP)—A University of Idaho geography professor proposes that Idaho reduce its number of counties from 44 to six.
Harry Caldwell, assistant professor of geography and geology, said other states were considering such consolidations in efforts to save money and increase administrative efficiency.

He added good roads and modern transportation have erased the need for small counties while consolidation would reduce problems of small counties.
Here's the way he proposed the counties be consolidated: Boundary, Bonner, Kootenai, Benewah and Shoshone with county seat at Coeur d'Alene; Clearwater, Idaho, Latah, Lewis and Nez Perce with county seat at Lewiston; Adams, Valley, Washington, Payette, Gem, Boise, Canyon, Ada, Elmore and Owyhee with county seat at Boise; Camas, Blaine, Gooding, Lincoln, Jerome, Minidoka, Twin Falls and Cassia with county seat at Twin Falls; Power, Oneida, Franklin, Lake, Caribou, Bear and Bannock with county seat at Pocatello; Custer, Clark, Fremont, Madison, Butte, Jefferson, Blingham, Bonneville and Teton with county seat at Idaho Falls.

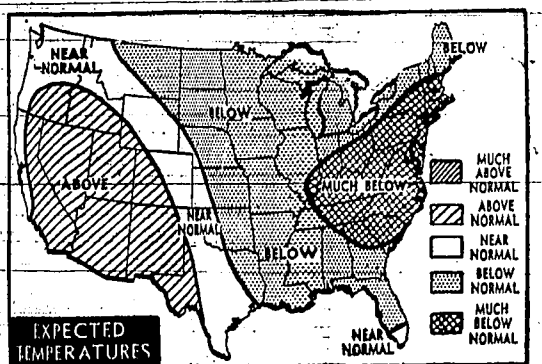

PROFIT REPORTED
SHOSHONE, May 20—Profit for the dance review sponsored by the PTA Monday night at the Lincoln school was $101.00. Mrs. Robert Haddock, PTA president, reports. The proceeds will be used by the PTA to purchase film for teaching aids at the school.

It will be sometime in May.

RUPERT, May 20—The Rev. William C. Johnson, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church here and St. James' Episcopal church in Burley, has resigned both positions to become rector of the All Saints Episcopal church in Boise. He is to conduct his first service in Boise June 4.
The Rev. Mr. Johnson joined the Episcopal church army in 1946 and was commissioned a captain in 1948. He was appointed national director of the church army in 1949 and in 1952 he resigned to become missionary to the Burley and Rupert churches.
The Rev. and Mrs. Johnson and two children will leave here on June 3.

Three Groups Are Studying TV's Problem

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Television's troubles are being tackled on three fronts. In Washington some senators are looking into the sad plight of certain TV stations who say they're losing money because they can't get the good network shows, and of about 70 would-be TV stations who say they dropped their grants because of programming difficulties.

In Chicago several groups of set manufacturers, parts and equipment makers and distributors are meeting jointly to diagnose the ills of an industry beset just now by price cutting and periodically by apries of overproduction.

Talk Is Confident

On the producing level—as here in Syracuse, where a lot of TV sets are made—they're talking confidently of progress in color, but concentrating more just now on a new idea or two in black-and-white to stimulate sales next fall when they expect business to pick up.

Dr. Walter R. G. Baker, General Electric vice president and general manager of its electronics division, says the industry's main problem just now is price instability rather than any trouble with coy customers waiting for color sets. He expects as good-as-usual pickup this fall in production and sales of black-and-whites—but with the big question: Who's going to make the sales. Competition was never keener.

Color TV Far Off

Color TV sets will be too expensive for most folk's pocketbooks and too small for most folk's tastes for some time yet, he says.

The Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers' association reports that, even at the start of the slack TV season, sets are being turned out at a rate of better than 100,000 a week—ad-home-and-car radios at better than 187,000 a week.

SMITHFIELD, R. I., May 20 (AP)—Mary has a little dog which follows her to school.

In fact, says dog officer Warren Manchester, so many dogs are following children to school that they are causing a nuisance, distract children in their classes by fighting in the school yard and create accident hazards by running into the street.

He suggested the dogs be kept near home during school hours.

Doctors Lose Fight Against Army Ouster

TACOMA, Wash., May 20 (AP)—Two doctors suspected of former communist associations have lost their fight to evade an undesirable discharge from the army; the assistant U. S. district attorney's office says.

Dr. Kurt Schlesinger, former senior psychiatrist at Cincinnati General hospital lost his battle Tuesday in U. S. district court when Federal Judge George H. Boldt dismissed a habeas corpus action brought by Schlesinger and a restraining order issued against the army. Schlesinger was discharged at nearby Ft. Lewis Tuesday night.

The other doctor, Herbert L. Nelson, Marysville, Wash., a dentist, had filed suit against the army Monday to prevent the undesirable discharge. However, he was informed the army had discharged him last Friday.

A spokesman for the court said Nelson had indicated he probably would not carry out his suit although it was still pending before Judge Boldt.

The two doctors were taken into the army under the doctors' draft but were not commissioned because of the alleged previous communist affiliations. Schlesinger had invoked the fifth amendment when asked to sign a loyalty oath in an army questionnaire.

Stop Inhaling Until Question of Cancer Is Settled, Medic Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 20 (AP)—A new wrinkle in the cigarette smoking-lung cancer controversy has been suggested by a Boston doctor: Stop inhaling until the question is settled.

Meanwhile, it's okay to smoke if you don't inhale, says Dr. Richard Overholt, one of the country's leading chest surgeons.

Overholt, who says "there's no question" in his own mind that there is an "association" between heavy smoking—with accompanying inhalation—and some cases of lung cancer, told reporters at the 50th anniversary meeting of the National Tuberculosis association this week: "The public ought to be warned that there is a possibility of such an association, and we ought to urge them to stop inhaling smoke until the issue is settled."

"If present investigations show there is no link, then all right. But if it is shown that there is a link, then the tobacco companies ought to eliminate the responsible material or materials from the tobacco."

The doctor also urged that physicians take the lead in giving up inhaling—a suggestion perhaps inspired by something that happened earlier when Overholt was presiding at a panel discussion on lung cancer.

The majority view of the six-member panel was that there might be an association between heavy smoking and lung cancer—although only two, including Overholt, voiced strongly positive views.

But when Overholt later asked the audience of 200 doctors how many out of the approximately one-third who indicated they were smokers, would give up smoking, not a single hand was raised.

Amid laughter, Overholt said with a smile: "Then this panel has been a total waste of time."
