Massing Of Reds Charged

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The defense department tonight issued documents to show that communist members of the "neutral" team monitoring the Korean armistice are resorting to propaganda, false charges and obstruction to cover up a red military buildup in North Korea.

Among the documents was one in which Swedish and Swiss members of the team labeled as "malicious fabrications" charges by the red members that the United Nations forces are violating truce terms.

The defense department charged, on the basis of the documents, that the Polish and Czech Communist members of the "neutral" commission are engaged in exploiting propaganda and intelligence opportunities made possible by their position.

Four documents, with an accompanying statement, were issued by the department. This was another in a series of "white papers" put forth in recent weeks by government agencies, including the defense department. Previous releases dealt with Soviet influence in the Korean and Indochina wars and with the military buildup in Russia.

Today's statement and material seemed aimed at showing the futility of attempting to operate a "neutral" inspection team when half of the members are Soviet satellite officials. Two of the four members

Driver Facing Trial Now for Manslaughter

Francis Cleo Prince, Wendell, pleaded innocent to a charge of involuntary manslaughter when he appeared before District Judge Hugh A. Baker Saturday in Jerome.

Prince was arraigned before Judge Baker on the charge Thursday but took his statutory time in which to enter a plea.

Judge Baker set no time for trial. Prince was arrested as a result of the traffic death of Oscar Brenkmann, Jerome, early this year between Wendell and Jerome. Mr. Brenkmann's light car crashed head-on with a heavily-loaded truck driven by Prince. Prince is free on $2,500 bail.

Bids Planned For Highway

BOISE, May 29—The state highway board today held a Camas county delegation today that it expects to call for bids in June on construction of 5 1/2 miles of state highway 48 south of Fairfield, estimated to cost about $280,000.

Sen. John Bahr said the road was in the best condition in years and he thought the money should be spent on the road west of Fairfield. However, board member Leonard Floan said no surveys had been made of the west road. He said a survey would be considered in the 1955 budget.

Rep. Max Hanson said that 55 of 75 persons at a meeting at Fairfield last week favored a start on highway 48 work this year, with a majority wanting it to start four miles east of Fairfield, as planned by the highway department, rather than five miles east, the present location.

Amos Eckert, Elmore county, asked for maintenance work on the road leading from Fairfield west into Elmore county, especially a 10-mile stretch from the Camas county line to Cat creek hill in the Elmore county. He asked that money for improvements be included in future budgets.

Portland Mother and Son Killed When New Airplane Crashes on Desert Close to Jerome Highway

JEROME, May 29—A 38-year-old Portland woman and her son, 10, were killed at 1:48 p.m. Saturday when their new airplane crashed in the desert two miles north and one mile east of the intersection of highways 25 and 93 east of Jerome. The victims were Mrs. Viola Gertrude Troh and Henry Troh, Jr., Mrs. Troh was piloting the 1954 Tri-Pacer four-passenger airplane when it crashed in what apparently was a steep dive.

Mother, Son Trapped in Twisted Wreckage

Mute evidence of the terrific impact of an airplane crash in which Mrs. Viola Gertrude Troh, Portland, Ore., and her 10-year-old son, Henry Troh, Jr., lost their lives Saturday afternoon is shown in the twisted wreckage of her 1954 Tri-Pacer. Carl Kersey, Jerome, points to the twisted propeller of the aircraft which crashed but of control in the desert northeast of Jerome. (Staff photo-entourage)

Veterinarians Plan for June Meeting Here

Between 50 and 75 veterinarians are expected to attend the annual summer meeting of the Idaho Veterinary Medical association in Twin Falls June 21 and 22.

Morning and afternoon sessions are scheduled with a banquet the first evening of the convalescence. The Turf club will be convention headquarters.

Local veterinarians are in charge of arrangements. New officers will be elected at the final session.

Speakers who address convention sessions include Dr. George Mather, St. Paul, Minn., veterinary division, University of Minnesota; Dr. V. D. Stauffer, Arvada, Colo.; Dr. V. W. Gasellen, Omaha, Neb.; Dr. J. G. Hayden, Pocatello, and Dr. F. F. Fischer, Boise, veterinarian in charge, agriculture research service. The association auxiliary will hold its own program. Mrs. Howard Runk, Mrs. T. M. Jackson and Mrs. D. A. Jackson, all Twin Falls, are in charge of arrangements.

Injunction Plea Is Studied Here In Pickets Case

An application to continue a temporary injunction against picketing a Twin Falls construction company was taken under advisement Friday by District Court Judge Hugh A. Baker.

The injunction stems from a $8,000 damage suit filed against the Twin Falls Building and Trades council by Otis Hall, a Twin Falls general contractor. Hall is suing the union and its officers for work stoppage costs resulting from their picket line. He claims his carpenters have been forced off the job by the union picket although his company has had no trouble with the union.

Hall's lawyer is Leonard H. Jacob and the union is represented by Clarence M. Beck and Reid W. Nelson, Salt Lake City.

16 Persons Hurt, 3 Seriously In Triple Crash in Dust Storm

BURLEY, May 29—Sixteen persons were admitted to the Cottage hospital here Saturday as a result of three accidents in a dust storm south of Burley on highway 80S. Three of the persons, two of whom are from Twin Falls, are in serious condition. The others were treated at the hospital and released.

Seriously injured are John (Jack) Smith, 253 Martin street, Twin Falls; his daughter, Jackie Sue Smith, and Mrs. Elizabeth Van Workom, Nysa, Ore. Smith is general manager of the Beangrowers Warehouse association in Twin Falls and a bishop in the LDS church.

At a late hour Saturday state, county and city police still were at the scene of the three crashes trying to clear the debris from the dust shrouded highway. Five wreckers and two ambulances were pressed into service by police.

Full details of the accidents were not available late Saturday and the names of all of the drivers will not be available until after police have returned from the crash scenes. A violent dust storm south of Burley is blamed for the accidents.

Two automobiles were involved in the first crash at 5:30 p.m. 17 miles east of Burley near Idaho 80S. Six or seven cars and one motorcycle were involved in the second crash at 6:10 p.m. near Bridge and two automobiles were involved in the third crash at 6:30 p.m. eight miles south of Burley.

With Smith and his daughter were Mrs. Smith and nine other children. All were treated at the hospital and released. Six of the nine are children of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and three are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Udy. Mrs. Udy is niece of Mrs. Smith.

The six slightly injured Smith children are Grant Smith, Ronald Smith, Clyde Smith, Rose Ellen Smith, Linda Smith and Rocky Smith. The Udy children are Margene Udy, Sharon Udy and Sherry Udy.

Carrier-Skipper Takes Stand for Explosion Probe

QUONSET POINT, R. I., May 29 (AP)—The skipper of the Bennington testified today concerning a possible link between catapult mechanism and the blasts and fires Wednesday that claimed 99 lives on the big aircraft carrier.

Capt. William F. Raborn, Jr., first witness before a naval board of inquiry which opened hearings in the administration building at Quonset, said he was on the bridge about 5 a.m. Wednesday directing the jet launches.

Both catapults had been ready for use, he said, but the starboard catapult was not used, leaving only the port catapult in use.

A Banashee jet, which the starboard catapult would not propel, was being towed away to an elevator and the port catapult was being used when he saw smoke coming from below decks on both sides of the ship.

He estimated it was only 15 seconds after the last jet had been launched from the port catapult when he saw the smoke that was followed by the first explosion.

French Soldiers Oust Red Force

HANOI, May 29 (AP)—Five thousand French union troops, including mobile artillery units, today broke the Vietminh siege of Yen Phu, the biggest offensive by the French since the fall of Dien Bien Phu. The rebels scattered into the hills around Phu Ly, 30 miles south of Hanoi, under heavy air, artillery and ground attack.

Yen Phu, a strategic defense post six miles from the big communications center of Phu Ly, had been under siege for 18 days in what was called a "little Dien Bien Phu." Its defending garrison of only 100 men had been supplied by air.

French pilots dropped arms and supplies to two other small delta posts which have been under rebel siege for about a week. They are Khe and Tayan about 25 miles southwest of Hanoi, the big port city which receives most of the American supplies for the Indochina fighting.

Seven More Red Bosses Arrested

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The government today seized seven more Communist Party leaders on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The justice department and the FBI said in a joint announcement that the seven were arrested in New York City and West Hartford and New Haven, Conn.

The FBI said three were arrested by special agents who early today interrupted the proceedings of a secret underground meeting of Communist party leaders in New York City. Arrested at the meeting were Elmer Silverman, 38, who the FBI said is known in the Communist party underground as Sid Taylor; Robert C. Ekins, 48; and Jacob Goldring, 39.

Holiday Gets Off For Cloudy Start

BOISE, May 29 (AP)—The Memorial day week-end got off to a cloudy start in most of Idaho today.

Southwestern Idaho was overcast all day, with a few showers. South-eastern portions saw clear skies in the morning, but clouds in the afternoon. It was mostly cloudy in the panhandle.

It was expected to be on the chilly side Sunday and Monday.

Pocatello recorded the highest mid-afternoon reading today, a 72. It was 10 in Idaho Falls, Burley and Lewiston, 68 in Gooding and 67 in Boise.

Little Line Forming in Grasshopper War

MAY 29—County officials and interested parties met here Friday to arrange for cooperation for a grasshopper-spraying program in Lincoln and Minidoka counties.

W. W. Telford, federal entomologist, said federal help has been requested for a spraying program. The federal government has agreed to put up $7,000 for the program if federal funds are permitted on the range and interested farmers in the area also will contribute, he said.

Evans added that about half of the permits have contributed and more are expected to do so. The state has promised funds to spray infested state lands, he said.

Evans said that about 252,000 acres are to be sprayed at a cost of approximately 50 cents an acre.

Most grasshoppers on the desert already are hatched, Evans said, and prompt action is necessary to combat them. He said the group hopes to get started with the spraying by June 14 and finish July 1.

He pointed out that if the work isn't done by the early part of July the grasshoppers will have laid eggs and the same work will be necessary next year. It is expected, he said, that the work will be done by contract aircraft.

Those who attended the meeting Friday night were D. A. Stubblefield, state commissioner of agriculture; T. O. Bacon, Twin Falls; interested sheepman; T. M. Christman, manager of S. A. Camp farms; Rupert; Don Taylor and L. H. Van Riper, Jerome county commissioners; Dr. L. Garner and R. M. Hawley, Minidoka county commissioners; F. C. Wentworth, Walter Bowman and C. F. Chaffield, Lincoln county commissioners; W. G. Priest, Minidoka county agent; Fred Kohl, Jerome county agent, and Evans.

Nearly 1,500 acres of land near Pine mountain 10 miles north of Carey were sprayed with poisoned bait Friday in a project started to control Mormon crickets.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 acres will be sprayed before the project is completed, Evans said. The crickets now are three-fourths of an inch long and the average concentration is three to four per square yard. Orville Wolf is piloting the USDA airplane used in grasshopper control work.

TROOPS ALERTED

PARIS, May 29 (AP)—French troops now helping occupy Germany have been earmarked for possible transfer to Indochina, an important French source disclosed today.

Permatatorial Drive Begins in Southern Idaho

McNichols said he withdrew to lessen the chances of a minority candidate being nominated. Some politicians have felt that the four-man field heightened the chances of former U. S. Sen. Glen Taylor's being nominated. McNichols' withdrawal leaves Taylor opposed by State Sen. Claude Burtonshaw, Rexburg, and Alvin McCormack, Lewiston.

Taylor, campaigning today in Rexburg, said he felt McNichols was the most dangerous one of my three opponents. He made a good impression wherever he went, I personally like Mr. McNichols and I'm sure he will be heard from in Idaho politics in the future.

Taylor said he was "greatly encouraged" at the progress of his own campaign. He noted that he had spent today in the home town of one of his opponents, Burtonshaw, and said he found "people very friendly."

Brunt termed McNichols "a very capable political strategist with a deep interest in the welfare of the Democratic party."

Brunt also came back at Atty. Gen. Robert E. Smylie, who said Eugene Roche's resignation as president of the Young Democrats last week was proof that the Democrats are split. The young Pocatello said he resigned because of Brunt's opposition to Taylor in the primary.

The Democratic chairman said Smylie was "just whistling past the train," and asked politicians "which of Idaho's four Republican parties is supporting him at present."

Quick Act Averts Three-Car Crash

Quick thinking prevented a minor accident from turning into a possible three-car collision in front of the Randall Florist on Blue Lakes boulevard north Saturday night, police said.

Officers said Louise Lindsey, Jerome, was starting to pass a Mercury sedan driven north by Gail Douglas, Hazelton, when Miss Douglas began a left turn into the florist's parking lot.

To avoid a collision, Miss Lindsey swung her car through the parking lot, the car glancing off the back bumper of Gordon Atkinson's Natch parked in front of the store. Only the left front fender of the convertible was damaged.

GOP's Solons Hit McCarthy For 'Appeals'

chairman is entitled to receive, Smith said.

Knowland spoke out in an interview with McCarthy and some principal actors in the McCarthy-army dispute went on a holiday until televised hearings are resumed Tuesday.

Won't Reveal Names
McCarthy asserted before he left that "no power on earth" could force him to divulge the names of government employees who keep him informed about communism, corruption and espionage. He said federal workers are "duty bound" to give him such data and can not let "loyalty to a superior" interfere.

On that point, Knowland sided with Attorney General Brownell. The latter, in a statement approved by the White House, said the executive department has the responsibility for enforcement of security laws and orders, and this responsibility can't be "usurped."

Speaking of the McCarthy appeal for information, Knowland said: "Dangerous, Doubtful"

"I think it gets into highly dangerous and doubtful ground to ask employees to violate the law or their orders to turn over security information. I would not make such an appeal."

In my opinion, the Eisenhower administration is just as interested in cleaning up corruption, communism and espionage as congress. I believe the executive arm is interested in taking any necessary steps to eliminate these threats to our security.

were injured in the crash but were released from the hospital after treatment. Mrs. Workom is Mrs. Mow's mother.

Mrs. Blake Curry, Seattle, Wash., was the other person injured in the accident. She was brought to the hospital by a Greyhound bus. The other injured persons were brought to the hospital by motorists and the ambulances.

School Supt. and Mrs. Bernell Wigley were involved in the crash but were uninjured. They were brought to Burley by Mary Darrington, principal of Overland school.

Divorces Are Granted Trio

Mrs. Velda Huffman was awarded custody of her daughter by a district court divorce decree from John D. Huffman Friday. She was represented by Rayborn and Rayborn and Kramer.

Mrs. Fern Davis' former name, Fern Drussell, was restored in a divorce from Glenn R. Davis. Her lawyer was O. P. Duval.

In a third decree, Merle Lee Francis, represented by May and May, was awarded a divorce from Mrs. Harriet Sayer Francis on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Nina Ray, represented by Rayborn, Rayborn and Kramer, filed for divorce in district court Saturday against her husband, Robert Ray, charging extreme cruelty. Mrs. Ray desires restoration of her former name, Nina Johnson.

Utah Governor's Criticism Flayed

SALT LAKE CITY, May 29 (AP)—The president of the Utah Association for the United Nations asserted today that criticisms by Gov. J. Bracken Lee of the U.N. "are not constructive."

"They are criticisms," said Maurice Warshaw, "that arouse emotional antagonisms and are not directed toward the actual facts."

Warshaw expressed disappointment that Lee has refused for the second year to designate United Nations day in Utah.

Shoe Clue Brings Arrest of 2 Men
IDAHO FALLS, May 29 (AP)—The shoe hit, just like in the Cinderella story, but the outcome wasn't so pleasant.

Officers found a shoe while searching sagebrush land west of Idaho Falls for two men wanted in connection with the theft of a car. A tip took officers to the home of Darwin Wolf, 20, and Lieut. Lowell Cramer said the shoe fit Wolf perfectly.

Cramer said Wolf then admitted his part in the theft and implicated Gary Mitchell, 22. Mitchell was picked up later and after questioning he, too, confessed, Cramer said.

Local Man Is Named to SBA Region Board

Appointment of Kenneth Self, president of the Self Manufacturing company, to the national board of field advisors for region 13 of the small business administration, was confirmed here Saturday. Region 13 includes Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Alaska.

Self was asked to serve on the board last month and following his acceptance of the appointment, confirmation was received on Saturday. He was appointed by Wendell Barnes, administrator of the small business administration.

The function of the board is to advise the regional director, Bennett Baldy, Seattle, on present and future programs and plans of the small business administration. Service on the board is at the pleasure of the administrator and members serve without pay.

Functions of the board are purely advisory, Barnes informed Self. All determinations of actions to be taken must be made by SBA officials, he added.

Primarily, Barnes continued, the functions of advisory boards are to consider and comment on SBA programs, to evaluate proposed programs for the region and to recommend that the agency undertake programs designed to meet local needs. Specific problems confronting small businessmen will be reviewed and confidential comments will be made on the management capabilities of applicants for loans or other SBA services.

2 Runaway Girls Learn to Respect Police and Radio
Two teenage runaway girls from Fallon, Nev., set out for home under parental escort Saturday with a feeling of chagrin and a new respect for the efficiency of police radio.

The girls were sure they were on safe ground Friday night when they walked into the Twin Falls sheriff's office with V. A. Smith, Twin Falls, to report a highway accident near Hansen.

The girls' car collided with Smith's auto near the highway overpass east of Hansen when Smith started to pass as the girls began a left turn, causing fender damage to both vehicles.

When the girls hesitated in giving their names, Deputy Sheriff Ora Tyler glanced at the police blotter and flustered them by asking if they had run away from their homes in Fallon.

"Why, how did you know?" they admitted, and then burst into tears.

"Oh, we have ways of finding out things like that," Tyler answered, motioning to the radio.

The girls were held overnight in the county jail until one of their fathers arrived Saturday morning to take them home.

Church School's Graduation Held
The largest graduating class in the history of the Memorial Lutheran school received diplomas Friday night at the Immanuel Lutheran church.

The 21 graduates were presented their diplomas by Irvin Ehlers, chairman of the school's board of education. The commencement address was given by the Rev. Gilbert Moore, Gooding.

The Rev. Mr. Moore encouraged students to meet the problems they would face in high school and later life as challenges to Christianity and to their manhood and womanhood.

The Rev. K. Heinits gave the benediction. The commencement exercises at the church were followed by a reception and light supper at the school.

Local Girl Given Scholarship With Montana Players

Sue Ann Lookhoff, 18, daughter of Mrs. Grace Huddle Lookhoff, 143 Sunrise boulevard north, has been awarded a scholarship by the Virginia City Players of Montana.

Miss Lookhoff will leave Sunday afternoon for Virginia City where she will join the players for a summer program of plays and variety shows. She was one of two selected from 66 applicants for scholarships.

Miss Lookhoff has attended Idaho State college since February. She majored in drama and speech and appeared in several college plays.

In addition, she won second place in the Horace Heidt talent show here last summer and finished 3rd in the Twin Falls Lions club beauty contest.

Miss Lookhoff has appeared on local radio shows. She came to Twin Falls in August, 1953, from Danton, Tex., where she attended North Texas State college.

Two Ex-Convicts Nabbed by Police

Two Oregon ex-convicts were arrested by Twin Falls police early Saturday night after one of them tried to pass a forged check at the Washington market.

Held in the city jail are Everett Barton Sparks, 26, Forest Grove, Ore., and Wayne Cauthens, 29, Portland. Sparks will be arraigned Monday on a charge of forgery and Cauthens on a charge of failing to register as an ex-convict.

Police first arrested Sparks in answer to a call from the grocery store. He was apprehended in an alley behind the store walking toward a parked car in which Cauthens was waiting for him.

Police said both men had previous prison records. Sparks was released from the Oregon state penitentiary at Salem April 15 after serving a forgery sentence.

JUST MARRIED

Most everybody's happy on a honeymoon. But it looks like this couple will STAY that way. Why? Well, for one thing, they know that SAVING makes the difference between wishing and having. Already they've started a program at the First Federal. They're all set on a program of systematic savings that will give them a home of their own in a few years. Why not start writing your own "happiness story" with a visit to the First Federal today?

Businessmen Talking up Good Times Although Statistics Give No Proof Yet

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Businessmen are talking up good times these days.
They are doing so in the face of current statistics which as yet don't prove their thesis. The national figures on production and jobs and sales show merely that, after months of sliding, their decline now has slowed down.
But many businessmen are saying that although the pace of trade and manufacturing isn't feverish now, and may even drag a little in the hot months, prospects for good times are good.
Here are some of their predictions of the last day or two:
U. S. Steel's chairman, Benjamin F. Fairless, says business has picked up a little in recent days and he looks for his company's rate of production, which has risen to better than 70 per cent of capacity, to hold around that level for the rest of the year.
Inland Steel's chairman of the executive committee, Edward L. Ryerson, says his mills are operating near capacity now because they're in the Chicago region where the market is good. He thinks the full rate will continue for a while.
Jersey Standard Oil's president, M. J. Rathbone, says his company plans to sell more oil this year than last, and make more money doing it. The company now does about 15 per cent of all the oil business in the non-communist world and is out to increase that share if it can.
Southern Bell's chairman of International Telephone and Telegraph, says his company's earnings should be higher this year than last. He thinks business will be good for the telephone service and equipment which the company peddles around the world.
Food profits look good, too. Lansing P. Shields, president of the Grand Union company, says people are eating more and his stores are selling more. He predicts the company's sales will increase to an annual rate of 250 million dollars by the end of the year.
America's economic potentials "are enormous," says Joseph S. Davis, director emeritus of the Food Research Institute, Stanford University. He tells a Columbia University biennial conference here: "Short of devastating nuclear warfare, I see no serious grounds for doubting rapid economic growth over the coming years."

Hank Tells Why He Might Be Concert Artist in Near Future

By HENRY McEMORE
SYDNEY, Australia, May 29—This may come as a shock to you, but there is a good chance that soon I will make my first appearance as a concert violinist.
At the moment I don't play a note, and don't have a Stradivarius to my name, but I am counting on what happened at Kingsford-Smith airport to change me from a newspaper columnist to a world-renowned artist.
Since I had left my smallpox inoculation certificate behind when I left San Francisco, the Australian authorities met me at the ramp when the Quantas Super-Constellation came to a rest and, practically with needles and serum in hand, rushed me to a tiny detention room.
The room was almost as bare as a monk's cell, and the only reading matter was a no smoking sign. My heart sank when I thought of all the thousands of miles of ocean I had crossed, only to be put in a little room all by myself, with the possibility that I would be forgotten for days or taken out and put on the first plane back to the states.
I was beginning to feel like the prisoner of Chillon when the door opened and another unfortunate was led in. His arrival gave me cheer. Not only would I have someone to talk to but under his arm he carried a case which I hoped contained food which he would share with me.
After I had asked for news of the outside world we introduced ourselves, and I learned that my companion-in-the-detention-ward was Isaac Stern, and the case held his priceless 1788 Guarnerius violin.
He had boarded the plane at Nandi airport in the Fiji Islands, and was in Australia for 24 concert engagements. He, too, had misplaced his inoculation documents, and, genius being no guarantee against smallpox, he had been thrown right in with me.
I couldn't help but laugh to myself when I considered the situation. Here was one of the world's most gifted artists locked up with a man whose sole musical accomplishment is a paper and comb rendition of "Turkey in the Straw."
But Mr. Stern and I got along famously. Artists of his caliber are supernal, but I have known many a minor league second baseman who was much more so than Mr. Stern. We were discussing deep sea fishing when the doctor showed up and told me to come out and get vaccinated.
I asked that Mr. Stern be allowed to go first. Not only was I deferring to the artist, but I had a scheme. I hoped that the doctor, after inoculating Mr. Stern, would forget to change needles and so would scratch me with the same needle that had scratched a genius.
I am trusting that it happened that way. If it did, then some of Mr. Stern's genius is in my left arm. I believe it did, too, because I have felt rather giddy ever since the vaccination and usually it doesn't bother me at all.
It may be all my imagination, but it seems to me that my fingers are already getting more nimble, my ears more acute to sounds and I'd swear I read half a note this morning. Also, I have a feeling that my head is bending to the left, chin down.
I have half a mind to go out and buy myself a black coat and a pair of striped trousers in case the vaccination "takes" and I wake up in the middle of the night a full-fledged genius.

Radioactive Ore Located in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, May 29 (AP)—An atomic energy commission spokesman said today that some samples of radioactive ore have been found along the western slope of the Wasatch mountains between Kayville and Farmington.
But Ernest B. Thurlow, chief of the Salt Lake City exploration branch of the AEC, said there has been no indication of the possible value of the find.
"The AEC has examined some samples and has found some radioactivity," he said. "But it is pretty hard to say right now how much uranium might be found in the area."

Officials Probing Burglary in Home

SHOSHONE, May 29—The theft of a 12-gauge shotgun, wearing apparel and household items from Fred Schwartz's home Friday night is being investigated by Sheriff Thomas Conner and city police.
Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz returned from the Boy Scout camporee at Mahoney flats at 10:15 p.m. Friday and discovered the rear door of their home open.
They reported that in addition to the shotgun eight sport shirts, an overcoat, a raincoat, three sweaters, a woman's winter coat, a child's winter coat and a bed spread and a comforter had been taken.
American moose are somewhat smaller than Alaskan moose, but just as belligerent.

Hamilton Says Cassia's Sheep Raisers 'Glum'

BURLEY, May 29 (AP)—Contesting a statement that "optimism prevails" among southern Idaho farmers, State Sen. Clark Hamilton, Weiser, says "Cassia County sheepmen 'still feel glum.'"
Former State Sen. Earl J. Soelberg, Arco, has been quoted as saying "cattle and sheepmen in the state are more optimistic than a year ago" and business in general is improving. Soelberg is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.
Hamilton, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, said in a statement last night:
"I am happy that Soelberg came out with this statement, so that farmers, cattlemen, sheepmen and businessmen will know what they are doing just dandy."
"However, he should talk it over with some of the sheepmen here in Cassia county who still feel glum."
Hamilton said "Republican optimism" was just "whistling in the dark." He predicted the GOP would be sent to "the political graveyard" in November.

Social Security Changes Are Flayed by Life Underwriters

Disregard for the original concept of the social security act has drawn criticism of A. E. Larsen, Twin Falls, president of the Southern Idaho Life Underwriters association.
"Some of the recommendations contained in the legislation designed to 'expand and improve' the country's social security system, completely violate the original concepts of the social security act," Larsen declares. He points out the legislation is being considered by congress. His statement followed a meeting of the local group called to endorse its national organization's policy toward the proposed changes.
"When the old age and survivors insurance program came into being, it was conceived as a means of providing an economic floor below which none of our retired aged citizens would be permitted to go," Larsen stated.
"It was set up in times of economic stress to provide benefits on a minimum need or subsistence level. The life insurance agents of the country who have, by the very nature of their business, encouraged millions of people to make provisions, by private means, against the hazards of premature death and old age have always been wholeheartedly in accord with those basic concepts upon which the nation's social security system was established.
"But during the last few years there has been a trend away from those original concepts as is evidenced by the use of the word 'adequate' in place of 'basic minimum' when relating to benefits under the Act as amended from time to time," Larsen stated. "There seems to be more interest in patch-work than in developing an understanding of the proper place of a tax-benefit system of social welfare in a free enterprise economy."
Larsen said the life insurance men and women of the country had long advocated and urged the extension of social security coverage to all gainfully employed persons and are glad to observe that one of the recommendations now proposed would accomplish that objective. They also believe the proposed liberalization of the work clause is a step in the right direction. It would allow beneficiaries who continue working after age 65 to earn up to $1,000 per year and still qualify for their old-age benefits. The change would help eliminate criticism that the present work clause exacts too great a penalty from those beneficiaries who continue to work after age 65.
"However the proposed increases in benefits, particularly in the upper levels, will carry the social security program out of the area of basic needs and invade the field of private savings plans," Larsen stated.
He pointed out that all of the proposed changes would result in proportionately higher increases in the benefits paid to retired workers in the higher income brackets than to those in the lower wage groups. He pointed out this is a further deviation from the basic minimum needs concept of the program and continues the trend started in 1950 and repeated in 1952.
Life insurance agents believe that if increased benefits are necessary at this time, they should be provided primarily for retired workers in the lower wage levels, he said.
In testifying before the ways and means committee in Washington last month, the National Association of Life Underwriters stated it felt that old age benefits under the system should be considered taxable income. Larsen says it was pointed out that the personal income tax exemptions at 65 more than offset benefits now paid to retired workers and their wives. Thus retired aged persons who were entirely dependent on their benefits would not have to pay federal income taxes on these benefits, he pointed out.
On the other hand, retired beneficiaries having income in addition to their benefits would be required to pay taxes on this combined income if such income was in excess of the generous exemptions. Larsen said underwriters believe the payment of substantial federal benefits to persons of affluence is incompatible with the social benefit program and simply adds tax free income to that already in hand.
The National Association of Life Underwriters is an organization composed of nearly 60,000 life insurance agents. It is their business to encourage millions of people to make provision, by private means, against the hazards of premature death and old age. "In writing life insurance for 80 million policyholders for a total of more than 300 billion dollars of protection in which we have assisted these people in accumulating reserves of 89 billion dollars, we have talked intimately with millions of families about their private, individual financial affairs," Larsen added.
"Therefore, we are conversant with their economic problems and their thoughts in respect to them, and we have found that, basically, they are interested in their jobs and their ability to put something aside for the future. We find this basic urge in all walks and stations in life, differing only in degree. The public acceptance of life insurance and the life insurance man testifies to the willingness of the people to accept individual responsibility for themselves and their families, including parents as well as children.
"In considering the social security program, we should not forget that these people constitute the great majority of all of our people. Neither should we overlook their willingness to provide for their own," he continued.
Larsen stated that the members of the NALU have gone on record

Portland Man Elected Head Of Stationers

SUN VALLEY, May 29—Pacific northwest members of the National Stationery and Office Equipment association Saturday elected Clarence Larkin, Portland, Ore., district governor.
Concluding their three-day convention here, the group also named Jack Overholt, Vancouver, B. C., first lieutenant governor, and James Wilhelm, Tacoma, second lieutenant governor. Harper Jamison, McMinnville, Ore., was reelected treasurer.
Oregon Trail Travelers, a sales group, chose Kenneth Dickensheet, Vancouver, Wash., president; Charles F. Courtman, Seattle, first vice president, and R. W. Anderson, Seattle, second vice president.
Speaking on office machine sales, Ralph Terry, Detroit, said 12 per cent of the employed population of the United States are involved in clerical work. He cited this as a "tremendous market" for office machines.
Terry urged sales training and thorough product know-how as well as expanding and increasing sales revenue through broader lines, greater product distribution and aggressive selling with the same fixed expenses.
Other speakers Saturday were Arthur Pfister, Aspen, Colo., and W. H. Gove, St. Paul.

Mother-Mallard Delays Building

SEAFORD, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—A fine sign, says a householder, Louis Hirsch, but he hopes mother mallard hatches out in a hurry. Today marks the sixth day that bulldozers and crewmen have stopped clearing trees and brush from an area where 88 houses will be built. The men were forced to cease work early in the week after a papa wild duck repeatedly "divebombed" them near where his mate sits on nine eggs. Hirsch then ordered the employees to "play off" until mama duck produces her offspring.

Demos Search Way to Stymie 'Rights' Battle

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Democratic strategists in the senate today were reported searching for some way to avoid a civil rights fight when debate starts on President Eisenhower's housing program this week. Fully mindful of their unusual party harmony in the present session, Democratic leaders were passing up no possible compromises that might pacify southern members angered by a recent supreme court decision. That decision, in effect, rejected an appeal in behalf of racial segregation in public housing projects.

Stork's in Rush, So He 'Delivers Parcel' Unaided

IDAHO FALLS, May 20 (AP)—An impatient stork evidently intent on the long Memorial day week-end couldn't wait for help this morning at the Eldred Buttkofer farm home near Idaho Falls. While her 10-year-old daughter, Linda Lee, was putting in an emergency call to her grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Buttkofer, the mother delivered her own 6-pound 8-ounce daughter about 8:30 a.m. When Buttkofer went out to the field earlier to change irrigation water, his wife assured him she was all right. But then things began to happen fast.

Senator Sees Only Remote Prop Chance

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Senator Aiken, R., Vt., chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said today the chances for an extension of high-level rigid supports on farm crops are very remote. At the same time Aiken conceded there might be a congressional deadlock with no action on President Eisenhower's flexible price support proposals. If that happens, Aiken said, a 1948-49 flexible support law will go into operation on next year's crops. It differs from the Eisenhower proposal in that its flexible supports would be lower, especially for cotton and wheat.

Report Given on Minor Accidents

A 1954 Ford driven by V. A. Smith, 749 Juniper street, collided with an auto driven by Jean S. Osterhaug on highway 30 west of the overpass between Hansen and Muriough Friday night, according to state police. The right rear fender on Smith's car was ripped and the right door also was damaged. Neither driver was injured, police said. Minor damage was reported to police Saturday afternoon after Paul M. Edwards, Kimberly, backed his Ford into the front of a Plymouth sedan driven by Orval V. Mathieson on the truck lane near the Long Valley Farmers warehouse.

General Electric Has Startling Plan To Generate Power by Atom Plants

By PAT MURROE (Washington Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, May 20 (Special)—The mammoth General Electric company has come up with a truly startling proposal for generating electricity with the atom. This concern, largest in the world of its type, presented its ideas on the subject this week to a select group of several hundred industrial leaders and scientists. They were attending a one-day session here of the atomic industrial forum and heard speeches by everybody from Lewis Strauss, chairman of the atomic energy commission, on down. GE's plan was largely overlooked by the press. This is the same firm, it was reasoned, that last fall came out with a heroic plan to build an atomic furnace for generating power. But the only trouble then was that Uncle Sam was to pick up the entire tab. Francis K. McCune, head of GE's atomic products division, made his company's proposal, which had these features: 1. GE would build either one of two furnaces for private industry without any cost whatever to the federal government. This contrasts sharply with the plan being built by Westinghouse Electric company for Duquesne Power and Light company in Pittsburgh. The Westinghouse plan is being financed (75 per cent) by the U. S. It will produce 60,000 kilowatts of power and cost $55,000,000. GE says it can build a 300,000-kilowatt unit for $73,000,000 or a 700,000-kilowatt furnace for $194,000,000. GE thus claims it can now produce power for one-fourth the cost of the Westinghouse plant. 2. GE's plant would not produce plutonium or other fissionable material for sale to the government as a by-product. It would use a charge of uranium and it would be burned and that'd be the end of the story. 3. The power from either plant would cost about 6.5 mills per kilowatt hour, or a figure comparable with coal-produced power in many parts of the U. S. This would be cheaper, for example, than the 10 to 12 mills figure that could be expected from coal in the Pacific Northwest and comparable with oil or gas-fueled furnaces. This reporter has checked specialists at the atomic energy commission and the federal power commission. They're excited about GE's plan, whether the press is or not. GE has an impressive record in atomic work for the government. It took over from Dupont the huge Hanford, Wash., works when they were gummed up from an all-out effort during the war. Some 70 per cent of the 1 billion dollars spent there has been under GE guidance. GE also is building an atomic engine for a submarine and one for an airplane, as well as operating the huge Knolls laboratory in Schenectady, N. Y. McCune, who was assistant manager at Hanford from 1949 to 1951, freely recognizes his company's debt to the U. S. for the "immeasurable significance of knowledge developed through AEC contracts." The larger of the two furnaces he proposes to build is modeled after the Hanford reactors and he says confidently: "We know what it will cost and don't have to guess. The engineering is that which we have developed through many years of technical effort. The basic engineering is essentially done." But, I asked him, "you're not proposing to invest a nickel of your own in constructing either of these plants?" He smiled and answered, "No, we're merely telling the power industry we are ready to construct them. And we don't believe in giving bad advice to our customers."

Boy Only Slightly Hurt When Heavy Truck Runs Over Him

SHOSHONE, May 20—Patrick Kelley, 13, is back home again after a night at the Gooding County Memorial hospital while doctors examined him to determine why he wasn't more seriously injured since a truck had run over him. His only injuries are a dislocated shoulder and minor cuts and bruises. The youth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kelley, was run over at 9:45 a.m. Friday while preparing for the Boy Scout camporee at Mahoney flats. He was riding in the rear of a two-ton 1954 Chevrolet truck with some other Scouts when one of the boy's hats flew off. The boys shouted to Dean Barney, Scoutmaster and driver of the truck, to stop. After the truck had been halted Kelley jumped from it to recover the hat, tripped and fell. Meanwhile, Barney, not knowing the boy had jumped, began to back up. The right hand dual rear wheels of the vehicle passed over Kelley's shoulder, down his ribs and off his waist. The boy was taken to the hospital in Gooding and although his injuries were believed relatively minor he was kept at the hospital until Saturday morning for observation.

Free Enterprise Seen Vote Victor

SYDNEY, Australia, May 20 (AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies' free enterprise coalition government is the apparent victor over the Socialist Labor party opposition in the Australian general parliamentary elections. The 12-hour balloting ended at 8 p.m. Saturday, Australian time. When the counting stopped at midnight the only doubt was in six seats, all of which would have to be won by the Labor party for it to be returned to power. The government-coalition was sure of 80 of the 121 full voting seats at stake, and Labor of 55. The government seemed likely to win at least four of the six seats still in doubt.

Short Sketch Presented on '34 Students

A short bibliography of each student highlighted the 20th reunion dinner of the 1934 class of Buhl high school at the Turf club Friday night. Ray Briggs, student body president 20 years ago, conducted the meeting which was attended by 55 former students. Mr. and Mrs. Max Hall, Mt. Vernon, Wash., came the farthest distance to attend the event. Mrs. William (Helen Trindel) Gilson, Mrs. Elvin (Lois Miller) Noh, John Barker, Ray Briggs, Thaine Roberts and Mrs. Stanley Thompson made up the committee which was in charge of assembling data and arranging for the dinner. There were 60 students in the original class. Two of them are dead while five are serving in the armed forces. The students have a total of 132 children. Occupational information given at the meeting revealed that nine of the girl students became nurses, nine of the boys went into farming, while another eight of the class entered the teaching profession.

Pair Fined

William L. Adams and Robert E. Dillingham were fined $25 and $20 costs each in justice court Saturday morning when they pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in an automobile. The two were arrested Friday after police, tracking down a report of a drunken driver, found them in their car parked in Sunset Memorial park. They are being held in county jail pending payment of their fines.

Trucker Fined

An overloaded truck coasted C. V. Gifford $15 fine and $3 costs Friday when he appeared in Twin Falls justice court for one of his drivers, Maynard B. Emberton. State officers arrested Emberton May 22 two miles northeast of Twin Falls driving a truck loaded 1,340 pounds over the 18,000 pound limit allowed by law on one axle.

Marilyn Lincoln Weds J. Condie In Temple Rites

Marilyn Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lincoln, and James M. Condie, son of Mrs. Marion A. Condie, all Twin Falls, were honored Friday evening at a reception following their marriage Thursday at the Idaho Falls LDS temple. President William L. Kilpatrick performed the ceremony.

The couple was accompanied to Idaho Falls by Mrs. Gene Walker, sister of the bride, Sumatra, Mont.; Mrs. Condie and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Egbert, Jr.

For the reception at the Lincoln home—the bride wore a gown designed and fashioned by Lena Janis, a college friend. The gown was of white satin with a redingote effect over lace. The Victorian collar was of lace and the bodice was fashioned with long-pointed sleeves.

Her fingertip veil was of nylon tulle edged in lace and held by a matching lace cap. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered-carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Deonne Minday, Condie, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Walker, matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Adella Condie, sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Lincoln wore a blue crepe dress and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit and a corsage of pink carnations and demure roses.

Bouquets and flowers were arranged by Mrs. Walker. The Lincoln home was decorated with baskets of yellow and white peonies. Mrs. LaRene Lincoln and Mrs. R. T. Bell arranged the gifts and Karen Lincoln, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Ray Stephens, Gooding, and Mrs. Ralph Mustard presided at the cake table and Mrs. T. W. Speedy, Sally Reidinger and Geraldine Stephens served punch. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. T. M. Robertson, Mrs. Smith Rosen, Mrs. Nell Douglas and Mrs. Dallice Hill.

Fran. Averett was mistress of ceremonies during the program. Jenny Lou Broadhead and Mrs. Walker sang solos accompanied by Mrs. John Birrell and Mrs. Howard Arrington gave a reading.

The couple intends to travel to Pocatello for the bride's baccalaureate and commencement from Idaho State college and then continue to Georgia where he is stationed with the army.

Out-of-town guests include Miss Findlay, Condie; Miss Broadhead, Blackfoot; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Swallow, Preston; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hutchinson and daughter, Hansen; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Condie, Kimberly; Mrs. Ray Stephens and Geraldine Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell, Gooding; Mrs. LaRene Lincoln and family and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thorne, Murtaugh; W. A. Lincoln, Mrs. Rose Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, all Filer; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mustard and daughter, Mrs. Nell Douglas and Gary Smith, all Pocatello, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Meadows, Salt Lake City.

The bride was honored at a shower given by Mrs. M. O. Orandall assisted by Maureen Orandall, Mrs. F. P. Dicus, Mrs. Birrell, Mrs. L. A. Hansen, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Virgil McBride.

Chapter Selects Mrs. Max Fuller As 'Girl of Year'

JEROME, May 29—Mrs. Max Fuller, retiring president of Idaho Pal chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, was selected as the chapter's "girl of the year" Wednesday night at the final meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Robert Williams. Mrs. Ray Turner, Wendell, and Mrs. Walter Gruel, Gooding, were guests.

Mrs. Fuller was presented a gift by Mrs. Kenneth Blake and the executive committee. Mrs. Ethel Burkhalter, sponsor of the chapter, also was given a gift.

Members held a gift exchange and secret sisters were revealed.

Mrs. Charles Miller, Jr., new president, conducted a business session. Arrangements were made to complete the drapes for the nursery at St. Benedict's hospital. It was voted to postpone the sewing of the plastic drapes for the isolation ward of the hospital until fall.

Mrs. Dale Burkhalter, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Jack Harris were in charge of arrangements for the evening.

Claire Reimers Selected Queen Of Hailey Unit

HAILEY, May 29—Claire Elaine Reimers was elected honored queen of Hailey Bethel No. 30, Job's Daughters, at the regular meeting Thursday evening. She and her officers will be installed at a special meeting Thursday and Patsy Lou Robinson, retiring honored queen, will be in charge.

Other officers are Donna Rae McKeecher, senior princess; Janice Dea Gutches, junior princess; Carol Marie Smith, guide, and Arlene Johnson, marshal. Appointive officers will be named by Miss Reimers at the installation meeting which will be public.

Barbara Burke, librarian of Salmon Bethel No. 34, was a guest.

During the business session the girls arranged a cooked food sale for Saturday at the Vancil variety store. A special meeting was set for June 17, which will be the last meeting of the season.

Minig girls from the Bethel are planning to attend grand-bethel sessions in Pocatello June 24-26.

Bethel gifts were presented by Miss Robinson to Marilyn Hughes, librarian, who will leave to make her home in Nampa, and to past honored queen, Marilyn Summers, who will be married soon.

The librarian's report was prepared by Marilyn Hughes, and included a poem entitled "To a Large Family," and a flag tribute. A special choir for the ceremony included Laren Lavies, Margie Anderson and Joia Mae Bowcutt.

Job's Daughters Choose Officers

WENDELL, May 29—Virginia Giesler was elected honored queen of Wendell Bethel No. 12, International Order of Job's Daughters, at the meeting Wednesday evening.

Other officers elected are Emma Berry, senior princess; Geraldine Lawton, junior princess; Rosa Adams, guide, and Nancy Campbell, marshal.

A special meeting will be held Thursday for installation of officers. Ellen Campbell, honored queen, conducted the election and presided when degrees were conferred for Delores Durfee, candidate.

Plans were made to attend the grand guardian council to be held in June at Payette. An exhibition dance, directed by Homer Moon, Bethel dance director, will be presented by the Wendell Bethel. Pat Neyman has been selected grand third messenger.

Nancy Campbell was named Job's Daughter of the year. A report was given by Linda Lamb, librarian. Esta Roberts, Virginia Norwood and Carol Bye served refreshments.

Feted at Shower

HAGERMAN, May 29—Mrs. Kenneth Duncan was honored at a handkerchief shower Wednesday afternoon at the Hagerman hotel by members of the Union Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Duncan and two daughters are leaving for Germany to join her husband.

Two numbers were sung by Carla Owsley, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Carl Owsley. Mrs. Gloria Elorriaga, noble grand, and Mrs. Charles Robinson, vice-grand, were in charge of the party.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Tomorrow is the day on which we pay our homage to those who preserved the truth of "Greater love hath no man than he who lays down his life for his friend." That is true of every soldier who ever fought for his country's cause.

Freedom is one of those precious intangibles of life, the things one lives by though he may not lay hands upon. Freedom, like love, must be earned hour by hour or it fades. It must be bought again and again by each generation for it is never secured for any length of time.

So easy it is to lose it by our inattention-of-course attitude, that it is gone before we know it, stolen perhaps by some selfish politician, lost by our own blindness, perhaps laziness. Then with an awful awakening the soldier, the sailor, the airman, the boy next door and the boy in one's own house shoulders his battle burden and lays, once more, a life in the purchase of our freedom, something we might have saved by a little watchfulness in the beginning.

Flowers and flags on the graves of heroes may solve our pain for the moment—but they will never bring back the lost in the lives of those who died that we might continue to live in the wonderful state we call freedom.

The band will play, the soldiers will march, speeches will be made in tribute to our beloved and honored dead.

All the outward signs and symbols of honor to the patriot will be in evidence. What of the dedication

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

It looks as if the Chicago Cubs have finally realized that the Cow-boys are in over their heads in the Pioneer league.

From all indications, every effort is being made to bolster the local pitching staff and Al Iude is the first of several hurlers who can be expected in here in the immediate future.

Both Gene Hooks and Eddie McDade, who played with Iude on the coast, are sure he can win in this league.

Along with Iude, the Cowboys are expected to get a young hurler from the Stockton club by the first of the week. Ray is his name and the club officials who saw him in spring training with Stockton say he's "swift."

"He's a little wild, but he's so fast he'll keep the batters loose at the plate. He may walk 10 but he'll strike out another 10," says one club official.

Wonder how many times Jack Fournier, Chicago Cub scout, has had his words concerning the Cow-boys pitching staff hurled back in his teeth?

Fournier, with a world of confidence, proudly told Cowboy officials at the start of the season "with that pitching staff, they won't push you around in that league."

And while on the Cubs, there could be some mighty embarrassing moments in the future if Teddy Burgess, the Shoshone high school hurler who this week signed with the St. Louis Cardinals, should make good.

The Cubs and Fournier had first crack at him and turned him down. What happens if he makes good in class D and next year is moved up a notch to class C? What a drawing card he would prove here.

A new Louisville slugger to coach Dan Fulkins and the 1954 Bruin baseball team which went through the season undefeated and capped the performance with a win in the regional championship playoff game.

High school baseball, because of inclement weather, a short season and a lack of spectator interest is often overlooked in the valley.

Thirteen straight wins, including a battering administered to above-mentioned Ted Burgess (the only time in his career he was knocked from the box) is something to be proud of and Fulkins and his Bruins can rightly brag on the season.

The opening is still several months away but Silver creek has already been sprung up preparatory to the July 1 season.

A group of sportsmen from the Fourth District Associated Sports-men's clubs spent last week-end in the area cleaning up the trash and getting things in shape for the opening of the famed fishing spot.

The sportsmen report they took out "several truckloads of trash" from the area.

Seems a shame that such a spot has to be littered with empty beer cans, picnic remnants and the other debris by a few careless persons who could spoil the whole setup for the rest.

It'll be too late to say "we're sorry" if the area is closed once again because of the carelessness of the piggyback few.

Several Twin Falls and Magic Valley athletes were honored with awards at recent ceremonies at the University of Idaho.

Larry Church and Emerson Clark, Twin Falls, along with Bob Thornton, Eden, were presented letters for their efforts on the track squad.

Two student managers of the track team, Bob Martin and Dave O'Hara, both Twin Falls, were also honored.

Bob Falash, Twin Falls, and Frank Tevrough and Joe Lothrop, Mountain Home, were honored for their work on the baseball squad along with manager Dick Simons, Burley.

Larry Moss, Jerome, won a letter in tennis while Bob Schreiber, Gooding, won an award for freshmen track participation.

The awards were approved by the executive committee at the university.

TIGERS TRADE BATTS

DETROIT, May 29 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Saturday traded catcher Matt Batts to the Chicago White Sox in a straight player swap for catcher Robert J. Wilson.

Record

KANSAS CITY, Kans., May 29 (AP)—Wes Santee, Kansas university's great distance runner, set a new American outdoor mile record of 4:10.2 Saturday night as he made an all-out effort to break the 4-minute barrier in the Missouri valley AAU track meet.

The stringbean Kansas senior not only bettered his American record of 4:02.4 set last year, but ran the second fastest mile ever recorded.

Only the 3:59.4 by England's Roger Bannister earlier this month was better than Santee's time. He was a tenth of a second faster than the former record of 4:01.4 set by Clunder Hagg in 1946.

Great Falls Batters Bees In 10-4 Tilt

SALT LAKE CITY, May 29 (AP)—Great Falls poured across seven runs in two big innings Saturday night to hand Salt Lake City a 10-4 Pioneer league loss. Two other games were postponed, rain stopping the Idaho Falls at Boise contest, and cold and high winds halting the Pocatello at Magic Valley game.

Del Myers, Great Falls catcher, had a fine night at bat, collecting three hits, one a triple, and driving in two runs. Pat Enos got three RBIs on a double and single. In all, the Electric gathered 13 hits off three Bee pitchers. Bob Harrell took the loss for Salt Lake City.

It was the second straight victory for Ralph Vold, Great Falls pitcher. Vold held the league leaders to six hits, one of them little Johnny Magglo's 10th homer of the season.

Harrell and Vold gave every appearance of settling into a pitching duel until the fifth inning. Then the Sparkies erupted for three runs and added four more to the total in the sixth. For good measure, they pushed across two more in the ninth. By then Great Falls had the game wrapped up.

Cancer Unit's County Drive Exceeds Goal

JEROME, May 29—For the first time since 1946 Jerome county has gone over the top in its solicitations for the American Cancer society, Mrs. LeRoy Frasier, county commander, reports.

Mrs. Frasier, who is gratified with the results of the drive, also stated that educational films have been used extensively by many organizations during April and May and that films still are available for use by contacting her. She explained that at most showings of the films Jerome doctors appeared on the program to discuss the disease and to answer questions.

Mrs. Frasier said Jerome county workers on the drive collected $1,972.07. Last year they collected $1,440 which shows an increase of $532.07. Mrs. Virgil Lickley was chairman of city workers and Mrs. Wilburn Turner headed rural workers in the Jerome area.

In the east end of the county Mrs. Clyde Kaserman and Mrs. Ralph Baskin, Hazelton, arranged work. In the Hunt area Rodney Pauls and Mrs. Orville Call were in charge. The Jerome business district was solicited by members of the Sylvania Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. Frasier expressed her appreciation to all workers during the drive and also to contributors. She stated that through the distribution of educational material much is being done to educate the general public to the danger signals of cancer.

Scouts Have Honor Court

HAZELTON, May 29 — Canyon district Boy Scouts held a court of honor Thursday at the LDS church, with Garth Morrill conducting. Roy Stanger was commissioner in charge of making awards.

Eden troop 82 boys who received awards are Kelvin Jones, Phil Case and Lonnie Martin.

Kimberly troop 49 boys honored are Kenneth Wilson, Joseph Cunningham, Leon Urle and Wayne Cole.

Greenwood troop 108 boys honored are Henry Steinmetz, Lonnie Brute, Darrell Fairbanks, Ruben Steinmetz, Max Pelushenka and Albert Steinmetz.

Minidoka County Grangers Gather

EMERSON, May 29 — Minidoka county Pomona Grange met Thursday night at the Emerson school with 18 visiting members of the county Granges, besides members from West End Grange, in attendance. The meeting was conducted by Pomona Master Fuller Fenton, Rupert.

A program presented by the West End Grange consisted of a twirling exhibition by Carlene and Darlene Beaver, reading by Donna Hansen, a report on her recent trip to Washington, D. C., to attend a safety conference by Virginia Hawks and the reading of an essay entered in the state Grange contest by Lawrence LaRue.

Mrs. C. O. Olson, chaplain, conducted a memorial service for deceased members. Honored in the service were S. W. Beck, A. L. Patterson, Mrs. Joe Avelar, all of Pioneer Grange, and Mrs. Lottie Ellers, Rupert Grange.

Assisting in placing a wreath on the altar was Mrs. Olinton Easton and Mrs. Ernest Erwin. Mrs. Ryback Beaver, Mrs. Fred McCord and Mrs. Carl Schrock lit the candles and Mrs. Murphy Neals, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Monour, sang "Beyond the Sunset." Mrs. Olson read an article pertaining to the memorial service, after which the assembled group repeated the Lord's prayer and sang "Abide With Me."

Refreshments were served by West End Grange members.

SCOUTS MAKE TRIP

EMERSON, May 29—Grant Short and his Scout members, Gary Corless, Duane Dockstader, Lamonte Short, Ronald May, Keith Stocking, David Greer and Clayne Higley, returned Thursday afternoon from an overnight outing at Boleter canyon.

Pioneer Queen for Big Parade Watched Valley Changed From Range to Farms

One of the few women who witnessed the transformation of Twin Falls tract from cattle range into a rich agricultural region has been chosen as pioneer queen and will be honored in Tuesday's Golden Jubilee parade.

She is Mrs. Ellen Cline, 83, second avenue north. Mrs. Cline, 83, came to the area later to become the Twin Falls tract in 1897. She arrived in Shoshone by train with her husband and five children and has lived in or near Twin Falls ever since.

Mrs. Cline was chosen as the pioneer queen by the Daughters of Utah Pioneers from among 27 entries competing for the title. The contest was sponsored by the DUP to find the "oldest and first pioneer to come to Twin Falls county and stay here."

Mrs. Cline was chosen as the pioneer woman who most fully filled the contest standards, according to Mrs. C. L. Luke, contest chairman and DUP county president.

The DUP is a non-church, historical organization.

Mrs. Cline will appear in Tuesday's parade as part of the DUP and Elks lodge program honoring early tract pioneers.

She and her husband and family came to Twin Falls and settled near Rock Creek. Her husband went to work for Clarence Hewitt, brother of Mrs. Cline and manager of the Shoe Sole cattle ranch.

Mrs. Cline remembers vividly the dirt and dust she found here and states emphatically that she didn't like it. She didn't like the coyotes, jackrabbits and people working on Sunday. "It was just me I guess," explains Mrs. Cline. "I eventually became a good westerner."

Mrs. Cline recalls her family traded with John F. Hansen at the Rock Creek store and traveled twice to Oakley each year for provisions before Twin Falls was established.

Mrs. Cline attended the dedication of Milner dam and witnessed the transformation of the desert waste into a lush farm region. She remembers when grass covered the Twin Falls townsite and cattle grazed over the townsite.

Mrs. Cline is looking forward to Tuesday's Golden Jubilee parade and a "good time."

"I always have a good time," she declares.

The pioneer queen is exceptionally spry for her age. An injury from a fall about one year ago has slowed her considerably. But she does a lot of riding in the family automobile.

Mrs. Cline attends the Twin Falls Methodist church and has lived in her home on Second avenue north for the past 30 years. Her friends are very proud she was chosen as the pioneer queen — she deserves it, they declare.

Fond memories are recalled by Mrs. Ellen Cline, 83-year-old pioneer queen of the Golden Jubilee parade here Tuesday, as she looks through her family album. Mrs. Cline has had the family album for 50 years. (Staff photo-engraving)

Boyle Praises Photographer Killed by Mine in Indochina

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—"I am a gambler," once wrote Robert Capa, whose gambling now is over.

Bob, whom many regard as the best combat photographer of his generation, explained the doughboy pictorially as ably as his friend, Ernie Pyle, did in words.

This week Capa met Ernie's fate. He stretched a gambler's luck too far, went to one too many wars, a land mine caught him in some obscure town in Indochina, and turned a fine man into a great memory.

War up front, at Bob himself has said, is "dreary and unspectacular." There is little to catch the camera's eye, but Capa had the high art of being at the right spot at the right moment to catch the unforgettable picture.

Bob was an exponent of "the big chance." He had seen so much of war that the routine of it bored him. But on the big stories—the paramilitary drops in Sicily and Germany, the invasion landings at Anzio and Normandy, the relief of besieged Bastogne—Capa liked to be in the first wave, although he was as afraid of death as most men are.

In his autobiography, "Slightly Out of Focus," he tells of brooding over what chances to take in the Normandy landing—whether to go ashore with the first troops or wait until the beaches were safer.

This is a decision every correspondent makes for himself, and Capa, mulling over the difference between the war correspondent and any other man in uniform, wrote: "I would say that the war correspondent gets more drinks, more girls, better pay and greater freedom than the soldier, but that at this stage of the game, having the freedom to choose his spot and being allowed to be a coward and not be executed for it is his torture. The war correspondent has his stake—his life—in his own hands, and he can put it on this horse or that horse, or he can put it back in his pocket at the very last minute.

"I am a gambler. I decided to go in with company E in the first wave."

He did go in—on—deadly—Omaha beach. He survived, came back with 106 action pictures taken on that death-strewn stretch of tide and sand. But a darkroom assistant burned up all but 8 negatives while drying them. If life hadn't already turned Capa into a philosopher, this experience would have soured him. It didn't.

Bob would accept no discipline except the courage that sent him after the big pictures of the big stories.

"The last day, some of the best ones die," wrote Bob, and added wryly, "but those alive will fast forget."
