Prices for Idaho Land Increasing

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Prices for state land are running nearly a third above last year, records in the state land department show.

The department said the reason for the higher prices was increased interest in underground water development, which stepped up bidding for the tract. Farmers have learned that they can plant crops on land which once was considered good only for grazing.

In the first five months of the year, 10,101 acres were sold, 2,480 less than a comparable period last year. This year's sales total $348,356, for an average of $34.40 an acre, compared with last year's $337,100, which averaged $28.85 per acre.

Uranium Discoveries Confirmed at Hailey

HAILEY, June 9—Reports of discovery of uranium ore on Rock creek 30 miles west of here were confirmed Wednesday afternoon by William Brooks, secretary-treasurer of the Primitive Exploration and Finding company.

Brooks reported "two or three finds" in the area, near the scene of current coredrilling by the bureau of mines. He said samples have been sent to an assayer to determine the amount of uranium in the ore.

"We are sure the uranium is of commercial grade," he declared, but declined further comment "until we receive reports on the assay, probably in about a week or 10 days."

The concern has been prospecting the Rock creek area since early spring, it was reported. Crews from the bureau of mines have been in the vicinity for nearly two months. Brooks emphatically said bureau employees had not made the finds. He also said no atomic energy commission workers had been in the area, contrary to reports.

Early reports indicated the uranium was found in quartz rock, but Brooks would neither confirm nor deny that.

Jury Hearing Damage Suit

The $317.03 damage suit resulting from a collision between a smoke-blinded motorist's car and a parked fire truck continued in district court Tuesday.

Lynn H. Hempleman is suing Clifford Stanley, fire truck driver, and the Twin Falls County Mutual Fire Insurance company for $287.03 damages to his car and $30 for three days loss of his use.

Hempleman's car rammed into the fire truck when it was parked on a county road one mile south of Twin Falls Feb. 24, 1953, while firemen fought a nearby grass and haystack fire.

Witnesses who testified Tuesday morning were D. Slater, who lives on the farm where the fire was being put out, and Paul R. Bowman, driver of the fire truck. A move by the defense for non-suit and directed verdict was denied by Judge R. W. Beckwith.

Jury members chosen Tuesday are Clara Brown, Hansen, L. T. Moore and James H. Vandenberg, both Twin Falls, and Mrs. Otto Platt, Mrs. Lorall-Husted and Oliver V. Marsden, all Buhl.

Venremen George Ward and Henry Lutz were challenged for cause, and Frank Southwick and Ernest Koch were dismissed on peremptory charges.

Witnesses called to the stand Tuesday were William Atkins, secretary-treasurer of the fire insurance company, Lemar F. Hansen, one of the truck's three volunteer firemen, and Stanley, driver of the truck.

Edward Potthast, automobile body and fender repairman, testified about damage to the car and Harley Thomas, a passerby, told the court of his actions when he stopped to help the firemen. Motorist Fred Stone testified he drove through the smoke en route to the golf course.

Idaho Banker Group Names New Officers

C. N. Senior, Canadian consul general, warned the group that American trade barriers involving free flow of Canadian goods to this country posed a threat to American industry and investors. Senior declared that as third largest trading nation in the world, Canada imported from the United States last year three billion dollars worth of goods, more than the rest of the world put together, but that the U. S. in return had imported only two and a quarter billion dollars worth of goods.

"We have always had a deficit in our trade with you," Senior said. "And frankly we are shocked as well as puzzled to hear of agitations for restrictive measures against importation of Canadian products. As your largest customer, we think we merit better treatment. And as practical business people, we wonder how you can consider it in the interest of your own economy to deprive your best customer of the means of paying for goods which you are so eager to sell us in ever-increasing volume."

Senior said that favorable trade balances with other countries and substantial inflow of American capital have largely offset the deficit, but that flow of capital cannot be counted on indefinitely.

"If you shut us out of the American market, the outlook would be gloomy both for American investors in Canada and for American exporting industries. Your investment of 10 billion dollars gives you a stake in Canada of sufficient magnitude to make our prosperity a matter of real concern to you," he said.

Homer J. Livingston, Chicago, vice president of the American Banking association, told the bankers they must have an intelligent understanding of world banking and financial problems if the nation is to qualify for world leadership.

"Our responsibility is to understand these problems and their impact upon our banks and our economy," he said.

Doctor Talks At T. F. Meet Of Rotarians

Purposes of the American Medical association and its efforts for furthering medical education were outlined by Dr. Ernest Howard, assistant national secretary, at a meeting of the Rotary club Wednesday noon at the Legion hall.

Dr. Howard reported 145,000 doctors belong to the American Medical association and there is one doctor for every 743 persons in the United States.

He discussed benefits of health insurance programs and complaints against high fees charged by the medical profession.

Dr. Howard said the cost of living has increased about 175 per cent since 1935, but medical fees have increased about 100 to 120 per cent.

Medical fees actually are less than they were in 1935, according to Dr. Howard. He said although hospital fees have increased, the length of time patients spend in hospitals has been reduced so that hospital expenses are actually about the same or less than they were in 1935.

Dr. Wallace Bond was program chairman.

President John Roper announced the Rotary club will sponsor a local appearance by the 44 piece Vancouver, B. C., Canada, orchestra in August.

Visiting Rotarians were Grant Morse, St. Anthony; Lowell Woods, Richfield, Utah, and Alex Findlay, Boise, Joseph Shepherd, Idaho Falls, was a guest of the club.

CLASSROOM FOR SCIENTISTS

The philosophers and the psychiatrists and the psychoanalysts—along with millions of other Americans—have been waiting and listening to and reading about the great U. S. senate's investigation of the monkeyshines over army Pvt. G. David Shine.

These scientists, whose specialty is the mental life and capacity of individuals, have a special interest in cases like this. They see things in these daily, sustained disclosures of human behavior that ordinary individuals may miss. This show is better than a long series of seances with the patient on a psychiatrist's couch, revealing his subconscious mind.

There may be some highly interesting scientific papers prepared on the mental processes of the various principals engaged in this public show—after it is all over. For the present, one distinguished analyst, who for obvious reasons does not wish to be identified, has called to the attention of this writer some significant passages for a best-selling popular work-in-this-field-which put the whole business in perspective.

This book is Dr. Harry A. Overstreet's "The Mature Mind."

First published in 1940, it has since then gone through 25 editions and sold over half a million copies.

Dr. Overstreet was formerly head of the department of philosophy at City College, New York, but he writes simply and with great understanding.

The current senate hearings weren't even dreamed of when he wrote the manuscript for "The Mature Mind." But printed below, with the permission of the publisher, W. W. Morton and company, are a few paragraphs which fit the present situation like a glove and may help analyze some of the principal characters involved.

In the middle of the book, Dr. Overstreet declares: "... politics has, by common practice, become a 'game' in which men are expected to behave like grown-up children. In no other area of human life has immaturity enjoyed such good standing."

So much for the general scene. Now for a few specifications: "Not all immature adults are neurotic; but where there is adult immaturity this same pattern of arrested development, or fixation, is likely to show up as the root cause for the halting of the maturing process. ... Such immaturity indicates that the adult is still trying to work out by childish means the problem of his various relationships to life."

"We may illustrate by a familiar example. Early in life, a child may learn that he can get what he wants by making a nuisance of himself. If he will scream loudly enough, kick his heels, hold his breath, choke, get red in the face, he can frighten the life out of his parents and make them yield."

"Should this happen, he may be found at 40, say, as a man who still gets his own way by having tantrums. ... If he happens to be in politics, instead of trying to explore political issues to the rational depths, he may simply wear down his opponents by a method equivalent to the childish method of screaming and kicking his heels."

In a chapter on "The Play of Politics on the Mind," Dr. Overstreet analyzes the man who feels "alive" only when actually or vicariously involved in conflict.

"That such a man is a troublemaker in a home or a community we recognize readily enough," writes the author. "Wherever he wields his influence there are likely to be tensions, irrational angers, quarrels that stem from insufficient causes, ruthlessly damaged reputations, and a general irritability readiness for a fight."

"What we have scarcely begun to realize is that this troublemaker acts, in all areas of his life, much as we are all permitted—or even encouraged—to act in the political area. As though we had set aside as a place for letting off steam and venting our otherwise pent-up hostilities, we put the basic ordering of our life at the mercy of our less mature emotions."

Quoting G. B. Chisholm, Dr. Overstreet repeats the observation that, "So far in the history of the world there have been enough mature people in the right places."

HEARTS OF IRON
We read that the French are going to replace the relatively short present-day rails on all railroad lines with half-mile-long strands.

The plan has an obvious economy angle, since rail ends take a terrific beating and cut down the life of the whole rail. But we think this has a very sad aspect, too.

There are few people who do not feel a quickening of the pulse at the old clikety-clack of a train on the rails. It is the sweet music of motion, infusing us with the drama of travel, hinting at the excitement of distant places.

How are the poor French to hear this insistent theme if the clicks and clacks come only every half mile? Drama can't be sustained by so feeble a pulse.

The French call a railroad a "road-of-iron." They may decide that the men who made this decision have hearts of iron.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The Democrats on capitol hill now have declared that their major concern in next November's and the 1956 presidential election will be the recapture of the farm states which deserted them in 1932 after 20 years of residence in the Roosevelt-Truman household. But the decision may cost them votes in the greater consumer centers.

The opposition revealed its strategy in filling the vacancy on the senate agriculture committee created by the death of Sen. Clyde Roark Hoey, North Carolina. It gave the position to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey from the agricultural state of Minnesota, who is the most earnest and vocal advocate of 80 per cent parity prices on major farm crops.

Eisenhower and Secretary Ezra Taft Benson would like to lower them to 75 per cent, hoping thereby to balance production against consumption. Uncle Sam now owns, directly or indirectly, about $5 billion dollars of unsold agricultural commodities.

FOR 100 PER CENT FARM SUPPORT—In fact, Humphrey would vote for 100 per cent support as against the administration's program of flexibility. The Minnesota must win his state's huge farm vote—he is popular in such labor citadels as Minneapolis and St. Paul—if he is to be reelected next November.

Although a mercurial common-wealth, Minnesota is normally Republican or near to it.

The senate committee on agriculture was evenly divided, six to six, on the parity price puzzle after Senator Hoey's death. The Democrat chosen to fill the vacancy would have the decisive ballot on reporting any farm bill to the floor.

Senate leaders on the minority side spent many anxious hours before reaching a decision. They weighed every ballot-box alternative. Conservatives from urban districts and consumer areas feared that Humphrey's selection, in view of his known enthusiasm for high farm prices, would alienate their constituents.

His shift from such an important committee as foreign relations they argued, would be interpreted as Democratic endorsement of high living costs. Since no member may sit on two major committees, Humphrey had to give up foreign relations.

ALARMS BELITTLED—The Democratic conservatives pointed out that the Minnesota shift would endanger the party's chances and candidates in such great metropolitan and consuming centers as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles. In the states where these and other cities cast a preponderant vote, the Democrats face hard fights in next fall's gubernatorial and congressional contests.

But the Democrats' top strategists belittled such alarms. They believe that the city-vote-labor, liberal and radical elements will continue to vote Democratic.

In their opinion, the Democrats cannot return to power at either end of Pennsylvania avenue—the capitol and the White House—unless they win back the man behind the plough or the tractor.

Principal Humphrey backers were such moderates as Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, senate minority leader, and Richard B. Russell, Georgia, acknowledged leader of the southern bloc. Both have been mentioned as possible Democratic presidential candidates in 1956. Both represent great farm states.

So, as it was during the Roosevelt-Truman heyday, the Democratic party is again a farmer-labor organization.

PAY RAISE FOR POSTAL WORKERS—Arthur E. Summerfield has lost his fight to place the postoffice on what he conveys to be a businesslike basis. Besides refusing to increase postal rates on several classes of mail, congress is set to reject the postmaster general's program for reclassification and readjustment of postal employees' pay.

Summerfield was bucking the most influential political group in the United States, and he knew it, when he advocated a pay raise averaging about $100 a year. The house postoffice and civil service committee turned him down. It will recommend a 7 per cent boost, which will mean an annual increase of between $200 and $400, depending on the employee's present salary.

But the Michigan man has earned the reputation of being the scrappiest member of the cabinet.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

HOUSING BILL APPROVAL
The senate's passage of what is essentially the administration's housing bill is an indication that congress is nearing the stage in the current session at which it will begin to turn bills out in batches. This will be a welcome sign to the administration, which naturally is concerned about the slow pace of congress so far and the amount of legislation on its program remaining apparently untouched.

The passage of the senate version of this bill will also be welcome because of the fact that there was considerable controversy over some of the provisions of the housing proposal, particularly with reference to public housing, which the house eliminated but the senate approved.

An interesting point is shown again—as on a number of other matters—in the senate voting on the public housing feature of the measure. Public housing is a Democratic baby, child of the new deal and fair deal. But of the 16 votes against the public housing authorization in the senate Thursday, only two were cast by Republicans. The others were by Democrats and the mavericks from Oregon.

The housing bill, even in the somewhat more conservative form adopted by the house, is definitely a piece of the liberal-type-of-legislation. It carries the FHA program farther than it has ever gone previously in the direction of generous loan plans for purchase or construction of houses. It does move in the other direction, toward a little more restriction, in the fields of modernization and large-scale apartment projects, as a result of the scandals which were revealed earlier this year. But it is a bill which will have a definitely stimulating effect on home building activity, and also, no doubt, on the price levels of that industry—Boise Statesman.

SEPARATION OF POWERS
If you're perplexed by the constant friction between various branches of the U. S. government, you may be interested in the discovery by one of the boys at the office.

We call it a discovery because we're convinced he put his finger squarely on the answer, even if the learned scholars in constitutional theory haven't stumbled onto it yet.

The coffee shop panel was probing into the question of what makes Senator McCarthy think he should have the sole power to decide whether to report the names of his suspected communists or "communist-thinkers" or whatever they are to the justice department for investigation.

"Joe just never heard of the separation of powers," said one. "He thinks he is the legislative, judicial and executive branches of government all rolled into one."

That seemed to express the sense of the meeting—except for one man. And he's one we nominate for an extra cup of coffee on the house.

"No," he said judiciously, "you fellows have lost track of developments. You talk about the three branches of government. Actually there are four."

"How's that?" we inquired.

"Count them off," he said. "Judicial, executive, legislative, and... the fourth..."

LAUGHS AND RELATIONS
A good laugh together at a family joke will do more to improve parent-child relations than a hundred parental scoldings, a New York child psychologist reports.

In a recent speech to a parents' organization, Mrs. Margaret Block of the Westchester Children's association stressed the importance of the "light touch" in rearing children.

We go along with the psychologist's theory that more laughs are needed, in the home and outside. But as parents we're inclined to go slow—with humor as a substitute for a scolding. As many a professional humorist will testify, sadly, people oftentimes laugh at the wrong times and at the wrong things. The problem is to get the youngsters to laugh with us and not at us.—Salt Lake Tribune

KEEP 'EM FLAPPING
Dear Potos:
This is a fine year to observe the stellar characteristics of the species known as politicians. The characteristics are many and varied, but there's one in particular that's essential.

The flapping lip. Yep, they all have it. Apparently there is no necessity to have the lip connected to anything. Particularly is this true of the brain. Matter of fact, it appears the flapping lip flaps better if it isn't connected to the brain.

Yep, it's a fine year to observe the art of making friends, influencing people and winning votes. Best part about the whole thing is that none of these candidates dares to insult you until after elections!

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

This black cocker spaniel, a female, is about 6 months old. She's good with youngsters. You can pick her up at 472 Jefferson street.

This small, black and white, male shepherd, has been hanging around the neighborhood on Blue Lakes boulevard north beyond Falls avenue on the east side of the street. He's friendly and apparently just beyond the puppy stage. Mrs. W. G. Hoskins says he's hungry and her family already has two other dogs. You can contact her to get the pooch.

Dear Pot Shots:

Our English-setter came up with a litter of eight puppies, father unknown. If anyone would be interested in a puppy for free please phone Filer 204-R8 or come to the place 3 1/2 miles south of Jordan's corner and three-fourths of a mile west. We're anxious to get rid of them as soon as possible.

WARMED UP YET?

Dear Potos:
I suppose the blue girls on the floats in the Golden Jubilee parade all survived. At any rate, I've seen no accounts of girls dying of pneumonia. Neither have I seen any blue girls walking around town, so guess that wasn't their natural color.

I was rather disappointed. Surely there should have been a prize for the bluest girl!

But have any of those girls warmed up yet?

FAMOUS LAST LINE

"... Someone planned a plan!"
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—I think I can contribute to the confusion about the central intelligence agency which Senator McCarthy has been investigating, to the consternation of a sort of secret circle of the White House and state department.

One individual implicated in this weird business is Carmel Office, who was secretary to Bill Bulfinch in the Paris embassy, and whose arrest on a charge of indecent conduct toward males in Lafayette park, opposite the White House, has been dealt with here before. Two other persons, one in Arizona and another in San Francisco, seem to me to be utterly harmless and useless operatives and another in a New England city hard by New York, once connected with both the state department and the CIA, is constantly needing Sam Carpy, Bridgeport, Molotov's brother-in-law.

An agent of a senate committee was actively digging into the CIA a few months ago but got diverted into the Dave Schine case and had to suspend operations.

And I recall that when I wrote to Allen Dulles, the brother of John Foster, and chief of the CIA, asking for information for publication his answer was myel.

We have no right to know anything about this crazy thing. We have no right even to know how much of our money it spends for what or whether its people are competent, honest or patriotic. In view of the record of incompetence, crookedness and treachery established in the years since 1933, I believe this secrecy is more dangerous to us than to the enemy.

I continue to receive communications from two individuals whom I have good reason to regard as former agents of the CIA who seem to go in fear of violence even unto death. I have not yet tried to make a practical investigation of their situation so I have no report to offer.

Walter Bedell Smith, now assistant secretary of state, was the last chief of the CIA before Dulles. He was one of the clique in George Marshall's office at the time of Pearl Harbor and one of many officers of the general staff who were promoted to an extent which I and others thought outrageous in view of the disaster which ensued upon the failure to communicate the last warning to General Marshall if it be true that it was not communicated.

I never have been convinced that it was not. You may remember that Marshall was unable to account for about eight fateful hours of his time which doomed Pearl Harbor and 3,000 American servicemen in that Sunday morning strike by the Japs and God knows how many other Americans in the remainder of the war in consequence of the failure to get word to Admiral Kimmel and General Short.

Smith has friends high in the army who think he is a great fellow and a monumental American who has given much and broken his health in the service of his country. I have no desire to hurt a man who has been put to serious surgery and looks weak and wan, but I simply have to abide by my own judgment which is that Smith is a lightweight who was over-promoted because of personal and political considerations.

Nevertheless, Smith was chief of the CIA for a time after the war and during his hitch the Garment Workers' union horned into the act in Europe which is a terrible war for the United States of America to run its foreign-relations-and-its international espionage.

Bear in mind, now, that this union with its treasury of $160,000,000 from American needle-workers and the management aide of a desperate industry forever harassed by unions and rackets, has two inveterate, seditious Trotsky communists in charge of its political department, domestic as well as overseas, and remember also that Dave Dubinsky, its president, told Smith that he carried $50,000 in currency to Europe in a satchel soon after VE day to mess around in European intrigue through the CIA.

Office said the CIA had put a lot of our tax money into this political machine of the garment workers in European politics, but again you are reminded that, although it is your own money, it is none of your business what it is used for.

The communists I refer to I have named repeatedly as Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown. The Reader's Digest, which has a weakness for such stuff, fell for a story that Brown was a great American political agent spreading "democracy" and fighting back Kremlin communism, and De Witt Wallace, its editor, went into a spin when I exposed the fact that this "operation" was actually at best, an extension of that version of Marxian progress known as Americans for Democratic Action. This ADA had its own agent in London for a year and when he came back he went to work in Dubinsky's political office in New York.

I rather suspect that Wallace knows more than most of us about the CIA for he has been pushing that strange little magazine of his into many foreign lands for no practical reason that I can think of after long experience in journalism at home and overseas. Why would Wallace want to extend his influence to Spain?

As soon as certain temporary pre-occupations are disposed of, Senator McCarthy will kick up a furor over the CIA and I feel justified in promising to turn up further information myself.

This kind of thing was routine in the old world before the first war. But it is absolute lunacy for the United States to turn loose some 20,000 paid, secret agents to kick up mischief, especially with Trotsky communists right in the midst of things, under a seal of secrecy protected by the President.

Is That So!

by Eugene Burns
Bangor-Newsman

Duck Is Top Diver, Road Runner Fastest

Beat this: Eugene and Burns are cities in Oregon: Both the Eugene Register Guard and the Burns Times Herald carry "Is That So!" last week's mail.

Eugene Burns (that's me) got bird questions from readers in both Eugene and Burns.

P.R.D. of Eugene asked: "Among waterfowl, who is the champion diver?" A.S.M., Burns, said: "In writing about the ostrich you said it can churn up 60 miles an hour. But how speedy are our fastest runners in America? I know the quail's plenty fast on its toes, but I bet a guy here that a road runner could make him look silly any day of the year."

Across the country T.D.W. of the Paterson (N. H.) News asks: "Is that a hump in the camel's spine or a lump on its back? If the latter, does it contain water?" and Mrs. K.A.M. of the Lock Haven (Pa.) Express wonders: "If the whale is a lung breather, as you say, and must come to the surface, how come he flounders so easily in shallow water? Answer me that!"

That champion diver among birds isn't easy, P.R.D. As far as I can determine a duck has been known to dive 160 feet. At least it has been brought up alive in a fishnet which was operating at that depth. The gannet and cormorant, too, are exceptional divers but how deep they go, I do not know.

About bird runners, you're dead right, A.S.M., the quail is no slownpoke. It can run from 12 to 15 1/2 miles an hour. As for the road runner, this slim-long-tailed job of our southwest is tremendously fast. Fast enough to kill rattlesnakes—depending on its speed and nimbleness and the ability to fluff out its feathers to make a protective shield. Darting in and out, bobbing and feinting, this featherweight wears out the heavy rattler and then comes in for the kill by pecking it in the head until it dies. On a straightaway, I have clocked with an automobile this merchant of speed at 18 miles an hour. A Phoenix (Ariz.) friend claims a top speed of two miles better than that—making 20 miles an hour.

As for your friends' question on speed, A.S.M., well, the Bannister of Bangor, Maine, is a mile in 1/4 minute. For 100 yards, Bannister is a record—9.3 seconds. For 100 yards, Bannister is a record—9.3 seconds. For 100 yards, Bannister is a record—9.3 seconds.

The backbone of a camel is a straight line as the backbone of a camel is a straight line as the backbone of a camel is a straight line.

Unlike that hump on the camel's back, the hump on the camel's back is a straight line as the backbone of a camel is a straight line.

According to the ostrich you said it can churn up 60 miles an hour. But how speedy are our fastest runners in America? I know the quail's plenty fast on its toes, but I bet a guy here that a road runner could make him look silly any day of the year.

Across the country T.D.W. of the Paterson (N. H.) News asks: "Is that a hump in the camel's spine or a lump on its back? If the latter,

AEC Asserts Power Sales Not Planned

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Chaiman Lewis L. Strauss says the atomic energy commission has no intention of going into the electric power business.

In testimony before the house senate atomic energy committee yesterday, he also said he does not think congress is setting up the Tennessee valley authority contemplated its making and selling electric power except as an incidental by-product of flood control and navigation work.

"Certainly the production of power from steam generators was not contemplated," Strauss told the committee.

The commission currently is under attack by some TVA supporters on the ground it is about to sign a contract for privately-produced electric current which they contend should be bought from TVA.

Rep. Oet Holfield, D., Calif., raised the public power issue. He said he feared a new atomic law under study by the committee, designed to encourage private development of atomic power, would preclude the government from itself using the "third great source" of electric energy to make cheap power available to Americans who he said have paid for it in their taxes.

Strauss said the bill would preclude only AEC itself from making and selling power commercially. It would not preclude other government agencies from doing so, he said.

He said TVA, in fact, has a "study contract" with AEC which could result in its development of atomic power.

"We have no intention of going into the power business," Strauss said. "I hope the AEC will never be in the position of making or selling power as a business."

Discrimination on Indians Is Alleged

POCATELLO, June 9 (AP)—For the first time in the history of the district court in Bannock county, the question has been raised as to alleged racial discrimination of Indians on jury service. The question came up at the opening of the trial of four Ft. Hall Indians who are charged with robbing and beating up a Union Pacific engineer, Irwin Buffalo, May 7.

On trial are Byers Jackson, Robert Jackson, Carl Paddy and Les Appaney. At the request of the defense attorney, a new jury panel was subpoenaed Monday on the grounds that no Indians had been included on the jury list compiled by the Bannock county commissioners. The jury drawn yesterday from the new list, includes two persons from the Ft. Hall Indian reservation.

Benson Hopes No Wheat 'War' Due

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he hopes a price war will not develop between the United States and Canada in the international wheat market.

Last week, the U. S. agriculture department cut its export price 10 cents a bushel in an effort to step up lagging sales.

The Canadian government followed suit with a similar reduction Monday.

Benson told a news conference that this was not the first time that there had been a price reduction on the part of one or the other of the two major exporters—Canada and the United States. He said Canada had previously cut and that the United States had followed suit.

Southern States Huddle on Issue

RICHLAND, Va., June 9 (AP)—Delegations from 14 southern states began arriving here today for a conference of governors to exchange ideas about school segregation.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, Virginia, who opened the conference for tomorrow invited governors of 15 states to the conference shortly after the U. S. supreme court handed down its historic May 17 decision outlawing public school segregation.

Delegates are expected to include former Tennessee Gov. Jim McCord, and Ralph Casey, assistant to Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray. Arkansas, Texas and Kentucky also will be represented.

Dulles Avers Top Soviets Deserting

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says more high-level Russians have deserted the Soviet union in the past six months than at any time in history. Dulles reported this to a news conference yesterday when asked whether the United States was doing any "homework" similar to that being done in the state department over developments in left-wing Guatemala.

The secretary promptly replied yes and noted the Soviet defectors who have fled from Russia. He declined to elaborate in any way. Nor would he say that these defectors were being urged by American authorities to desert to the west.

Pioneer Western Senator Honored

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Henry F. Ashurst, the first senator from Arizona, paid a return visit yesterday to the senate chamber where he served for 23 years.

Ashurst received a standing ovation from the senate after being introduced by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R., Ariz. Ashurst sat in his old senate seat, now occupied by another Arizona senator—Carl Hayden. Ashurst served in the senate from 1912, when Arizona was admitted to the union—until 1940.

Okay for Trout-Labeling Bill Urged by Buhl Hatchery Man

In the Magic Valley area, he said, "there are more rainbow trout produced for commercial table use than in any other area in the world. Idaho's 13 commercial hatcheries this year will produce over 1,200,000 pounds of rainbow trout at an estimated cost of over $1,000,000 spent locally and including state and local taxes." Idaho is one of the largest producers of trout eggs which are sold throughout the nation and to state and federal hatcheries, he added.

Erkins said producers are not asking for a subsidy, a tariff nor an end to foreign trout importation. "We simply ask that the deception practiced by the importers of foreign trout and their agents in the substitution of imported table trout for domestic table trout be stopped." There is more to the passage of the bill than the "protection of a few trout growers," Erkins pointed out. "Only in Idaho," he asserted, "are the growers of trout interested in a table trout market. In almost every other area of the country where trout are raised by commercial growers the bulk of the trout are used for stream, lake and pond stocking. This in turn takes a burden off federal and state fish hatcheries.

Guardmen Near End of Training

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Idaho's 2,100 army national guardmen launched the final phase of their summer encampment yesterday under the watchful eyes of America's Korean war hero, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean.

Dean, now deputy commander of the sixth army, toured the 200 square miles of rolling sagebrush hills near Gowen field, where the guardmen are winding up two weeks of training.

Troops from 28 Idaho communities staged demonstrations of firepower and combat maneuvers for the white-haired Medal of Honor winner. And they gathered in tight groups about him as Dean traveled from group to group, drumming home lessons he learned before and after his capture by the North Koreans.

"It breaks your heart when you see your own men killed by their own weapons," Dean told the troops of Emmett's Transportation Truck company.

Korean Calls for 'March to North'

SEOUL, Korea, June 9 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee told the new national assembly today that South Korea should prepare "to march northward to unify" the country.

Rhee did not give details on what he meant by "marching north" but he has threatened war and again to reopen the Korean war because he is convinced that negotiating with the reds will fail.

The 70-year-old president received a standing ovation when he appeared in the assembly for opening day ceremonies.

A few hours earlier the assembly had elected staunch Rhee supporters to the vital chairman and vice chairman positions for the first time in South Korea's history as a republic.

Wyoming Senator To Leave Politics

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Senator Hunt, D., Wyo., has written a Wyoming Democratic leader "I shall never again be a candidate for an elective office."

The senator, who has recently been in bad health, made the announcement in a letter to J. J. Hickey, Wyoming Democratic chairman.

Asked by a reporter yesterday whether he will or will not run for the Democratic nomination this year for another six-year term in the senate, the senator said he would stand on his letter to Hickey dated June 4.

Top Justices Will Get Case Of State Man

POCATELLO, June 9 (AP)—The U. S. supreme court has agreed to restore to its docket an appeal of a Wallace man already serving a sentence for filing false income tax returns.

Sherman Furey, U. S. district attorney, said in Pocatello late yesterday he had not heard of the supreme court's decision. He said he "couldn't say" what would happen to Austin M. McFee, former Wallace slot machine operator, now that his appeal has been put on the supreme court's fall docket.

But in Coeur d'Alene, McFee's lawyer, Harold Purdy, said he would ask the federal court in Boise to release his client after setting a bond.

Furey said word of the court's decision should be on its way to him now, from either the justice department or the supreme court.

"It may be in my Boise office now," he said. Furey is in Pocatello for a session of the federal court.

McFee was sentenced to five months in the medical center at Springfield, Mo. He left Boise last week to start serving his term. McFee also was given six months to pay $77,000 in taxes, penalties and interest still owed or face an additional year in prison.

One appeal by the 68-year-old man previously was turned down by the circuit court in San Francisco. The supreme court also previously refused to review the case.

The court has not agreed to hear McFee's case, but only restored it to its docket. Court attaches explained the justices have agreed to rule next term on several other tax cases which include the same issue as McFee's.

Involved is the use of a "net worth method" of computing income totals.

DENVER, June 9 (AP)—Attorney Joe R. Atencio, 34, got so abusive while defending Isaac F. Scholes, Jr., 38, on a drunk driving charge yesterday that Judge George McNamara called the cops.

Hoover Jumps in Hot Controversy

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover "unhesitatingly" has recommended the chairman of the atomic energy commission be given "all administrative responsibility" over the TECO's multi-billion dollar operations.

The statement, which put the former President in the middle of a sharp controversy over proposals to increase Chairman Lewis L. Strauss' authority, was an answer to a query by Rep. W. Sterling Cole, R., N. Y., chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee.

Heads Postmen

LEWISTON, June 9 (AP)—Thales Leavitt, Shelley, was reelected president of the Idaho Branch of the National League of Postmasters at closing sessions of a two-day convention yesterday.

Elected vice presidents were: Edward T. Gilroy, Kootenai; Arnold Runyan, Wendell; Selma Watson, Menan; Helen McPhee, Murray; and Elsie Moore, Donnelly. Mrs. Lillian Gibson, Arimo, was named secretary-treasurer.

Delegates Named To GOP Meeting

L. James Koutnik, president of the Twin Falls county Young Republicans club, was chosen Monday night at the club meeting at the American Legion hall to head a delegation to the state convention of the Idaho League of Young Republicans at Boise June 11 and 12.

Other delegates to represent Twin Falls county are Edward Benoit, George Bever, T. W. Silvers, Kenneth Bell, Mrs. Russell A. Schiffmann, Graydon W. Smith and Mrs. Koutnik.

The state organization has appointed Edward Benoit to membership on the resolutions committee, Koutnik to the nominating committee, and Mrs. Schiffmann to the program committee.

Cut Finished

A 30-foot curb cut from Second avenue east to the parking lot immediately east of the city hall has been completed, reports Joseph Latimore, city manager.

It is hoped the approach will make the parking lot more accessible for motorists, says Latimore. There will be no charge for use of parking facilities. Only entrance to the lot previously was through the alley behind the city hall.

The lot is graveled and will accommodate about 60 cars.

Reminder Issued On Weeds in T. F.

Residents are reminded by Joseph Latimore, city manager, of a city ordinance that requires weeds to be cut and vacant lots kept clean from June 5 through Oct. 1.

The ordinance provides the city can employ persons to clean the lots and the cost assessed against the owner's city taxes.

Beginning Monday, Carl Scheele, city fire inspector, will inspect lots and notify their owners of lots that need to be cleaned. Owners will have five days to comply, or a contractor will be hired to do the job and the owner assessed the cost.

Vickers, represented by Graydon W. Smith, seeks judgment ordering payment of the note plus 8 per cent interest from May 9, 1952, and $35 for attorney costs.

Official Tries To Keep Race From Schools

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)—An alderman of one of Dallas' park cities, fashionable municipalities surrounded by greater Dallas, has suggested dismissal of all Negro servants with children in the area.

Alderman C. K. Bullard said at a meeting of the Highland-Park town council that his plan would insure no Negro students in the municipalities' schools in the next few years.

Question Posed

Bullard brought up the question of segregation—banned by a recent U. S. supreme court decision—after a conversation he said he had with Mayor Roy C. Coffee of University Park and Franklin Spafford, president of the Dallas Bar association and a trustee of the Dallas school board.

Bullard quoted Spafford as saying this was the last year the building Dallas independent school district could accept Negro children from the park cities. The $10 monthly tuition for each of the Negro children has been paid by the Highland Park independent school district.

Agrees With Figures

Aldermen, discussing the situation, agreed that there might be as many as 25 Negro students living in Highland Park among the population of approximately 11,408.

The restricted area allows only Negroes who are members of servant families to live within its boundaries. They must live on the premises of people who hire them.

World's Top Carrier Is Being Built in Center of Metropolis

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Right in the middle of this amazing town, where the spectacular is commonplace, they're building the world's most powerful aircraft carrier—a giant which if turned on end would rise above most of New York's towering skyline.

The new carrier has a name famous in American history. She's the Saratoga, sixth U. S. fighting ship to bear the name since the Revolutionary war. She's nestled in a drydock a fifth of a mile long at the New York naval shipyard on the Brooklyn waterfront.

Standing on a maindeck structural chunk that has just been fixed in place, you can look across the East river at New York's famed skyscraper financial district across in Lower Manhattan. If the new Saratoga were set on her stern among those towers, her bow would top them all.

Only the spires of the Empire State and Chrysler buildings in midtown outdo her 1,039-foot length. She and her sister carrier, the Forrestal, now about a year from completion at Newport News, Va., will be the largest ships afloat, breaking the size record held for years by Britain's Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth.

When the Saratoga takes to the water, probably about a year and a half from now, she'll not only be in a tie for the world's largest—she'll be all alone in a power class. Now higher pressure and temperature steam machinery will spin the four screws that shove her bulk through the sea. Her expected speed has not been disclosed.

The flight deck will be "canted"—that is, with one runway V-ing out to the left at about a 10-degree angle. This will help the jet warplanes in landing. It also will allow

Freda Jo Molitor Marries Boyd Crawford in Church

Freda Jo Molitor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Molitor, and Boyd Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Crawford, Torrance, Calif., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Eugene Crow performed the service before baskets of white and pink gladioli and peonies and candelabra of lighted tapers.

The new Mrs. Crawford wore a gown of bridal lace and nylon tulle. The bodice of lace was styled with long-pointed sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. The ballerina-length skirt was of nylon tulle. Her tulle veil was accented with a border of embroidered flowers and held by a crown of matching flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis with a lace-covered, satin Bible.

Eleanor Molitor, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mary Marquess, Burley, and Dorothy Hazelton, Gooding, served as bridesmaids. Candelighters were Carol Kasel and Mary Boyd.

Dick Carrow, Torrance, was best man. Ushers were Duane Perrins, Nampa; George Pesut, Chicago, Ill.; and Ted Shannon, California.

Jean Thomason was soloist and Nan Soden, organist.

Mrs. Molitor wore a turquoise dress with pink and white accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy-blue lace dress with pink and blue accessories. Both wore corsages of deep pink roses.

A reception followed at the church fellowship hall. Mrs. Lawrence Molitor and Mrs. D. W. West, Hansen, served the cake, and Mrs. Jack Dodson, Kimberly, served punch. Mrs. Henry Molitor and Charlotte Wagner were in charge of the gifts and Miss Kasel took care of the guest book.

For a going-away ensemble the bride chose a light blue linen two-piece dress with white angora trim. Her accessories were pink and white and she wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Twin Falls high school and has attended the College of Idaho for two years, majoring in biology. Crawford was graduated from Torrance high school and received his bachelor of arts degree this spring from the College of Idaho where he majored in physical education.

The couple plan to spend the summer in Caldwell and then move to Marsing where he will be coaching.

The bride was honored at a show-

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath).
