Taylor Is Hit In Blast by Ex-Secretary

gratulations as a communitarian.

"These people exerted great influence on Taylor," and there was no question in my mind that he was following the communists," Taylor said.

"In 1944 a General Ben Kenmore, who was the defense of Ward, said that Taylor was a communist," Taylor said.

"I saw Taylor in 1944 and he was in the U. S. to generate interest and support for a free Poland. Ben Robert Wagner, New York, and Ben Francis Myers, Pennsylvania, both Democrats, were with him."

"Taylor made a blistering attack on General Bor in the floor of the U. S. senate. He denounced the state department for letting the general come into the country. Of course Taylor didn't know what it was all about, but some shady character out of New York handed him the speech."

"He has his hand out as an opportunist. The people of Idaho are entitled to something better. They should repudiate Taylor once and for all. Let him pass the hat some place else."

Force, Other Services Are Split On Conduct for Captured Americans

Officer, on general charges that they collaborated with the communists while in the prison camp. The cases were accepted out of some 200 complaints in which prisoners were accused by fellow POWs of siding with the Reds.

In contrast, the air force originally investigated the case of 83 captured pilots accused of collaborating in "gun warfare" or collaborating but no court martial have resulted or are contemplated.

Out of the 83 cases investigated by a board of air force generals, 69 were censured, and 14 were allowed to show cause why they should be retained in the service. Out of the 14, seven have been allowed to resign under honorable conditions, four satisfied the board they should be retained, and the remaining three cases are now under review.

The air force is emphasizing the psychological factors involved in a most breaking under pressure. The army, on the other hand, is emphasizing military discipline which is felt cannot be reserved if the more flagrant cases of red-collaboration are not brought to trial.

The two different approaches spring in large part from the different conditions under which each service fights.

The army, which is in face to face combat with the enemy, feels that it must set a stern example of discipline or face large scale desertions in battle. One of the most sobering facts to come out of the Korean war, as far as army officials are con-

SHOSHONE, Oct. 28.—"A Teacher Grows" was the title of a film strip shown by Paul McCutcheon, Sunday school officer and teacher at a leaders' meeting Monday night at the church.

Discussed were the visitation program among prospective Sunday school pupils and fellowship meetings for adult classes. Tentative plans were made for a program for Thanksgiving and the group decided visitations should be done before the special evangelistic and revival service in December.

Homecoming day for the church will be held Nov. 7. A potluck dinner will be followed by an afternoon program.

arguing that captured pilots should be allowed to make up stories to confuse the enemy, particularly if the alternative is torture.

Nearing End

BURLEY, Oct. 28.—The Cassia county potato harvest will be completed by the week-end. Guy Newman, manager of the employment security agency in Burley, reports.

The county beet harvest was 34 percent completed as of last Friday, Newman said. He added that the recent snowfall had not slowed the harvest.

SUCH LOGIC AND MODESTY!
One would think the ridiculous exaggerations by those politicians who pretend to be great humanitarians would insult the American intelligence, but strangely enough millions of voters swallow this stuff that is dish out to arouse their impulses...

Nowadays, however, it is dressed up in an entirely different manner to make the people even more personal and far-reaching. The great loves of mankind, the "common people," now cry their eyes out for the "hungry laboring man," the "down-trodden farmer," or anyone else who might welcome an opportunity to feel sorry for himself.

After 20 years of New Dealism and indoctrination, a lot of people have learned to feel sorry for themselves, and these great humanitarians are not about to overlook the opportunity to get out of their own skins and make themselves "sit on their families and yell."

In every election campaign it seems to get worse and worse, until the great loves of mankind stop at nothing. At the slightest pretense, they wring their hands and pass out their crying howls.

A good example of all this sort of thing is the election malling piece titled the "Idaho Democrat," in which Clark Hamilton, Democratic candidate for governor, paints a picture of Idaho that almost brings us to tears.

"We are not at all stagnant in the state house," as your Republicans are doing," he says, "and refuse responsibility for the TIDE OF DEPRESSION THAT IS WASHING OUR WORKERS ONTO THE BLEAK BEACHES OF UNEMPLOYMENT."

Imagine that, all you people of Idaho! Did you have any idea we were in such an awful state of affairs? Isn't it terrifying to think of any of you having been "blacked out" of employment?

And those "bankrupt businesses"—how can they expect to stay open? "The 'PRY-DATORY INTERESTS WAITING TO PREY ON THE PEOPLE' (The caps are ours.)"

But, mind you, "we Democrats will not allow our present industries to languish and die if there is anyone who has been 'blacked out' of employment."

And now, if you'll all stand up, please, we'll sing the final verse of our theme song: "I Cried for You, Now It's Your Turn to Cry Over Me."

CAN'T MISS
Memo to anybody who likes to plan vacations well in advance: By all means go to England next summer.

It seems that the British Sunbathing association will be making a bid for new members during the hot months of 1935. And it may turn out to be barely exciting.

The BSA (not to be confused with the Boy Scouts of America) is going to work it this way:—Flying squadrons of pretty young girls dressed in Bikini bathing suits without top will be taken to most of the popular bathing beaches during the summer months.

How can it miss? If pretty girls in snowsuits can promote beer, and pretty girls in evening gowns can promote cigarettes, then certainly pretty girls in hardly any clothes at all can promote sunshine and fresh air.

By next autumn the BSA (not to be confused with Buxton Society of America) ought to have a queue of eager, cheering, bare novitiates from Dover Beach to Cornwall waiting to join.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
WASHINGTON—In a polite exchange of letters with his predecessor, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Tamm, the new secretary, Charles F. Brannan, has announced a program under the "flexible" price supports, which this time is a "flexible" price support, which this time is a "flexible" price support...

CONTRADICTORY STARTED—Brannan began the controversy when he wrote a personal letter to his successor, Charles F. Brannan, on Sept. 17. It challenged a leading newspaper in which Brannan had been quoted as saying:

"I am sure," wrote Brannan, "you are aware that I at no time advocated or embraced the term 'flexible,' or by any other term. My opposition in opposition to this philosophy has been notorious."

Brannan's declaration—on Sept. 18, 1934, according to Brannan, Brannan had the following declaration of agricultural policy:

"I am sure," wrote Brannan, "you are aware that I at no time advocated or embraced the term 'flexible,' or by any other term. My opposition in opposition to this philosophy has been notorious."

RECOMMENDATIONS—In that speech, Brannan recommended congress for not enacting the flexible price support system, which he now opposes. He continued:

"I am sure," wrote Brannan, "you are aware that I at no time advocated or embraced the term 'flexible,' or by any other term. My opposition in opposition to this philosophy has been notorious."

TRUMAN'S MESSAGE—Brannan's disclaimer consists of a quotation from a Brannan speech on June 1, 1934, in which he said:

"I am sure," wrote Brannan, "you are aware that I at no time advocated or embraced the term 'flexible,' or by any other term. My opposition in opposition to this philosophy has been notorious."

NOT REPLY FROM DEMOCRAT—"We cannot go back to the pre-war price supports, and the wartime system which was added to new conditions," Brannan concluded his letter with this question:

"I am sure," wrote Brannan, "you are aware that I at no time advocated or embraced the term 'flexible,' or by any other term. My opposition in opposition to this philosophy has been notorious."

ONLY THE MOST CALLOUS could feel anything but a twinge of pity for Rep. Douglas B. Stringfellow, who whose recent ad experience illustrates so well the horrifying danger of the little white lie. And many a fellow politician we suspect, now is probably saying to himself that "there, but for the grace of God, go I."

Only politicians, either, for the little white lie, no man who has ever been called to the attention of congress repeatedly during the last two years. Also, the present price support arrangements are quite different from those of last year, and the time of decision for another year, it only postpones the time of decision.

POT SHOTS
THERE'S A REASON!
During a full Wednesday, we wandered out onto the sidewalk in front of the T-N for a breath of fresh air and a little sunshine. That's when we noticed a woman dressed up, got out of her car and alongside the postoffice and park her car.

The car stayed there for 15 minutes or better. And the people who drive up, got out of their car and walked toward the postoffice and park her car.

Apparently she had something else on her mind. Anyway, the way she turned the corner and slowed down before parking, we could well imagine her first reaction was "Oh boy! Look at all that empty parking space! It's a shame to let it go to waste!"

"The 'no parking' sign," who reads signs!
SIR: It seems most of the candidates are determined to prove election is not mandatory when they were of school days.

TIME FLIES
Just in case the calendar means nothing to you on account of how you're too busy watching the clock, it's later than you think—again.

When you meander to work next Monday morning, it will be Nov. 1. Maybe that will jar you awake. In case you haven't been getting all that Christmas shopping done yet, as of next Monday morning, you will have exactly 41 shopping days before Christmas.

LOOK BULLETIN BOARD
STILL LUCKY, Cathedral City, Calif.—Thanks for calling the matter to our attention. Your letter has been referred to the proper source with recommendations for action. It might take a while, but we think you're absolutely right.

DRIVER'S LICENSES
Yep, this is another public service. Before you do anything else, get your driver's license.

Okay, now look at the expiration date on your license. Well, any of those of you will be surprised to find your driver's license has expired.

In case you've forgotten, driver's license expires on your birthday anniversary every two years.

And don't get snub about it and say you're not a license is still good. Better look!

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE
BOSTON—It was no reason to place any value on the report which said that "Doolittle, the glorified mechanic and stunt-flier, has been fired from his position as chief of the Civil Aeronautics Administration."

The CAA was organized under Roosevelt and has been preserved by Truman and Eisenhower. It is basically bad. It is so acute that the people, who meet its enormous expense out of their taxes, are not permitted to know anything about it.

There is no one in the CAA who is allowed to know what it does or who its big shots are except the few who know Smith was chief for a time under Truman and yielded to Allen Dulles, then promoted Smith to a job in the state department. He has since retired.

There is incidental but not necessarily trivial importance in the fact that Marshall, Lie, Smith, O'Donnell and Roosevelt O'Donnell are all members of the Eisenhower clique of Roosevelt generals who were absurdly over-ranked by the Roosevelt Truman regime, which led them up on the mountain.

Red Cross Is Running Short Of Money for Blood Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Red Cross disclosed today it is running short of money to finance its free blood program.

It is beginning to shift some of the cost of processing and handling the blood to participating hospitals. Presumably, the hospitals will pass the charge along to patients to whom the blood is administered.

The charge for supplies and transportation—so far is running from $1.75 to $2.50 per pint.

Such charges recently have been instituted in 10 of the 45 Red Cross blood donor regions. Affected areas are Savannah, Ga., Asheville, N. C., Columbia, S. C., Mobile, Ala., Yakima, Wash., Boise, Ida., Portland, Ore., San Jose, Calif., Lansing, Mich., and Great Falls, Mont.

Negotiations are under way in other areas, including Philadelphia. Red Cross officials predict the number of regions forced to the practice will double in the next year.

They emphasize that there is no now, and never has been, any charge made by the Red Cross for blood itself. However, they concede that the practical effect of charging for some of the services involved in handling it is about the same thing.

The action confronts Red Cross with the latest in a number of public relations problems it has run into in the volunteer blood program. The program was launched at the start of World War II, dropped after the war, and revived in 1945 at request of the medical profession.

Some people, the Red Cross fears, are certain to criticize Red Cross for "selling blood."

The answer to this, said Dr. David W. Grant, national director of the Red Cross blood program, is that up to now the agency has been footing all the bills—currently running around $500 per pint, after a steady decline from $10.00 per pint in 1945—for collecting, processing, and supplying to doctors and hospitals—donated blood and its derivatives.

Uranium Fever Hits New High

ORAND-JUNCTION, Colo., Oct. 28.—The Grand Junction, Colo., operations office of the atomic energy commission announced today a straight take yesterday the receipt of the following letter from a Hollywood man obviously interested in uranium prospecting.

"Gentlemen:

"I have just purchased a Jeep, Geiger counter and pit. I have now all that I need for the all-out uranium prospecting. Please send me all the literature that you have available. If there is a charge—advise me.

"Sincerely,
(Signature deleted)"

"The letter contained this postscript:

"My mother-in-law recently was subjected to intensive radiating treatments—she's cured now—but she gets a definite 'ping' from my counter. Now here is what I'd like to know—how much will you offer per pound for her? I am certain that you could grind her up and make a bomb that would make Hiroshima look like a firecracker."

Strike Threatens New York Papers

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers' union voted last night to go on strike at midnight Sunday unless an agreement is reached with the city's newspaper publishers.

Union President Samuel Feldman said the strike vote was 2,393 to 59.

A walkout would hit the New York Times, Journal-American, Mirror, Daily News, Post, World-Telegram and The Sun, the Long Island Star-Journal and the Long Island Daily Press. The New York Herald Tribune is not involved. It negotiates separately with the union.

The union demands a wage boost from its present $93.02 for a 37-hour week to $110 for a 35-hour week. It also seeks increases in management payments to pension and welfare plans, 11 holidays instead of seven, improved vacations and other contract changes.

Negotiations have been going on for 73 days.

Flying Twins Plan Another Hunger Fast

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28 (UP)—The flying twins, George and Charles Flyn, who were freed from a federal prison with a 33-day hunger strike, today started another fast in their dispute with the federal government.

The twins, George and Charles, were released yesterday as trial began in a government suit to determine damages to the surplus transport planes over which the Flynns and the government have fought for possession.

The twins each received one-year prison sentences for making an illegal "citizen's arrest" of U. S. Air Force pilot, William J. "Bud" Taylor, in their dispute with the federal government.

The twins said they attempted to arrest Taylor because they felt he had been unfair to them in their wrangle with the government to retain possession of the plane which they bought from a school district.

The twins said they have eaten nothing since a hearing Monday at which Federal Judge William J. Allen denied them a jury trial of the case, and added:

"We're not going to eat until we get our constitutional rights."

Subsidies Asked To Aid Shipyards

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28 (UP)—Governor Earl Warren today urged Congress to keep alive the merchant marine and the West Coast shipbuilding industry, according to Louis E. Bickel, chairman of the governor's committee for ship construction and repair.

The United States will be a "garrison state" for a long time and consequently Congress should be asked to finance shipping and shipbuilding facilities, Bickel said yesterday.

Committee member Harold Shippen said West Coast private shipyards have been undergoing "famine" in the last seven months while navy shipyards have been expanding.

"We can't compete with the East coast and foreign countries," Shippen said, "unless we build here."

Moslem Teachers Defy Communism

DIJAKART, Indonesia, Oct. 28 (UP)—Indonesian Moslem leaders announced yesterday it is a sin for any Moslem to believe in communism.

They said communism runs counter to Islamic teachings and endangers the Indonesian Republic as well as the nation's religious life.

They said Moslem funeral rites will be denied communists when they died.

The declaration was the latest step in the fight against communism in Indonesia, which is becoming increasingly stronger.

Verdict Returned In Hunting Death

GRANDVILLE, Oct. 28 (UP)—A coroner's jury found late Tuesday that Carl E. Pike, 51, Webster, died as a result of accidental gunshot wounds incurred while on a hunting trip. The verdict said the person who fired the shot was not known.

Sheriff Bud Taylor had said earlier that Pike was fatally wounded by his son, Jimmy, 17, as the boy was following his father up a mountain trail in the Selway forest area.

Escape Injury

SODA SPRINGS, Oct. 28 (UP)—John Barnard, clerk of the Carbon county draft board, and two companions escaped unhurt when their car skidded on a snowy highway and plunged into Soda Falls reservoir.

Mrs. Barnard said she and her daughter, Mrs. Bob Jones, and latter's 3-year-old daughter, Sherri, climbed out of the partially submerged car. They incurred only shock.

It Was Easy

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 28 (UP)—A pair of 5-year-old boys, armed with a broken toy shotgun, crowded happily yesterday over their hunting trophy—a live but defunct pheasant perched from an imported coop.

"The hummer, Jerry Lee Peck and Brian Maynard, surprised their parents when they brought home the bird, clutched in Jerry's arms.

The boys stoutly insist "we shot it with our gun." Neither family has been able to solve the riddle.

Portly Little German Holds Key to Saar Region Success

By United Press

Portly, jovial Johannes Hoffmann wasn't even at last week's Paris conference on West German armament, and his name was hardly mentioned. But a lot will depend on him in carrying out the French-German agreement on the future of the tiny Little Saar coal and iron region which was a vital part of the agreement.

Hoffmann is prime minister of the Saar and also its minister for foreign affairs, European affairs, public work and reconstruction. Politically, he is practically a one-man show.

It will be up to Hoffmann to run the referendum in which Saarlanders will be asked to approve the new "Saar Statute" negotiated by French Premier Pierre Mendès-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Under the Saar statute, the Saar's coal and iron industries will remain under French control. The Saar will be put under the supervision of the Western European Union, under which West Germany is to be rearm.

The union will appoint a high commissioner for the Saar. If, as everybody expects, Saarlanders approve the statute in their referendum, a general political election will follow.

The present ban on pro-German parties will be lifted. They will be permitted to campaign against the statute in the referendum. But in the election they will be forbidden to make the statute an issue.

EVENT SCHEDULED

WENDELL, Oct. 28—Probate Judge James Gossett will preside as master of ceremonies at the 4-11 night at the Andy Grange Saturday evening. Awards will be presented to Grange 4-H members for competition at fairs throughout the season. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p. m.

Potatoes Are Parley Topic

DUKE, Oct. 28 (UP)—In a talk at a special meeting arranged by the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening, Winston B. Whitely, chief, president of the National Potato Growers association and a member of the secretary of agriculture's advisory committee, discussed resolutions suggested by the national potato growers council to the secretary of agriculture earlier this month.

Whitely said thousands of cars of potatoes are advertised and sold each year as Idaho potatoes, but they never have ever seen Idaho. He closed this as counterfeiting and cashing in on Idaho's advertising. He said it is one of the biggest problems facing the growers and potato marketers in the state.

Following Whitely's presentation, a general discussion was held. Tom Smith, Chamber of Commerce president, presided. The speaker and guests were introduced by Mitchell Hunt, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the fair, which was served at the Moose hall.

Rose Ward, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Potato Producers association, was a guest.

Labor Digging Into Jeans for Demo Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Labor is digging into its jeans to elect a Democratic senate.

Preliminary campaign financial reports filed with the secretary of the senate show heavy contributions from such union-backed political organizations as the CIO Political Action Committee (PAC) and the AFL Labor League for Political Education (LLPE).

Not Complete

The reports do not present the whole picture of campaign financing. They are incomplete at this time. And most candidates cannot at least part of their receipts and expenditures through campaign committees which are not under similar obligation to report their funds to congress.

Some Candidates

Some well-known names also show up as campaign contributors. "Adlai" Stevenson, who as governor of Illinois had been particularly close political relations with Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D. Ill., contributed $500 to Douglas' campaign.

Rep. Samuel W. Yorty, Democratic nominee in California, reported $4,000 from the CIO-PAC, $300 from the CIO California Industrial Union council and $500 from the Democratic senate campaign committee, in his total receipt of $4,800.

His opponent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R. Calif., said he received $14,000, including $1,000 from the GOP senate campaign committee and $500 from former movie star Gloria Griffith, wife of George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins professional football team.

Valley Leads In Candidates

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, Oct. 23.—The Freshman Campaign wins in the class elections at Idaho state college, with the following results: Devin Gardner, Twin Falls, president; Frank D. Roberts, Jerome, vice president; Norma Hawkins, Piler, secretary; and Margie Roth, Twin Falls, treasurer.

As a matter of fact, the IBC service party is the only party that has won all its offices from the Valley in the past four years. In the Freshman party, Wayne Brown, Twin Falls, is candidate for vice president and Jane Hansen, Rupert, is candidate for treasurer. In the Junior party, Robert Hubbard, Kimberly, is candidate for president and D. Marie Herbold, Rupert, is candidate for secretary. Rita Potter, Gooding, is candidate for vice president in the Senior party. Elizabeth Pyle, Gooding, is candidate for secretary and Helen Kendrick, Gooding, is candidate for treasurer.

Lodge Visited

WENDELL, Oct. 23.—Larry W. Brainerd, Pocatello, most worshipful grand master of the Grand lodge of Idaho, made his official visit to Wendell lodge No. 34, A.F. and A.M. Monday evening.

Other guests were Claude M. Gordon, Kimberly, deputy grand master; A. Edward Pitzer, Boise, grand lecturer; Duncan McEae, Eden, grand Tyler; and Harry Skold, Gooding, first degree deputy grand master.

The first degree was conferred on one candidate, Nelson King, J. D. Quary, Fred Eaton, Norvall Coffman and Murray Gatterfield served refreshments.

OFFICERS PICKED

HALLEY, Oct. 23.—Newly elected officers of the DeSales club of the St. Charles Catholic church are James McRoberts, Ketchum, president; Rickie Greaney, Halley, vice president; and Ronnie Dana, Ketchum, secretary-treasurer.

Local Mail Carriers Wearing Identical Standard Uniforms

Twin Falls city mail carriers are wearing new winter uniforms, replacing their summer uniforms for new uniforms of gray wool gabardine or gray wool serge.

It will mark the first time in the history of the Twin Falls postoffice that carriers have dressed in identical uniforms, says Francis Carriere, will-replace-the-winter-uniforms with uniforms of lighter material in the spring.

The change complies with the postal department's increased emphasis on wearing full, standard uniforms by postal carriers.

The old record was 13 minutes slower and was also set by a DC-7 on July 31, 1945.

The record-breaking plane, carrying 40 persons, left Chicago at 10:00 p.m. and arrived at Los Angeles at 9:15 p.m. EST.

Church Doors To Be Locked

SHOENOW, Oct. 23.—Officers of the LDS church auxiliaries here were asked Monday to be responsible for locking church doors after using the building.

Rhison W. E. Stimpson, in making the request, said the measure would be taken in view of the fact that the Relief Society room last week.

A discussion was held regarding the annual church Christmas party and Bishop Stimpson announced that the party would not be canceled in the future as cancellations interfere with the youth award program.

Douglas Hansen, assistant Sunday school superintendent, conducted the Sunday school department meeting in Burley Sunday.

Mrs. Quaye, Burley, announced the primary department work and announced weekly meetings will be resumed at 3:45 p.m. on Wednesday.

Shakedown

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 23.—It was open-house at Clark county jail and sheriff's office yesterday when three call boys partially saved and uncovered a nest of hack-saw blades and crude weapons.

Some 1,000 residents toured the jail Tuesday night as part of a campaign to push a $400,000 bond issue for a new jail. Deputies decided yesterday to shake down the inmates to make sure nothing was smuggled in.

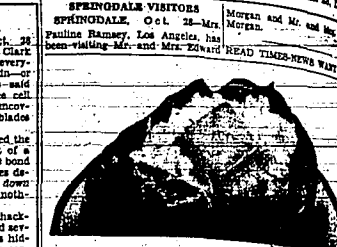

They said they found 12 hack-saw blades, the cut bars, and several metal rods from bombs hidden in some mattresses or carried by the men.

Mrs. Dale Bailey read the scriptures and Mrs. Robert Martin gave the teacher training lesson. Mrs. Willis Larsen was hostess for the evening.

'Partnership' Power Policy Is Criticized

BOISE, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's "partnership" power policy was criticized today at a regional meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Clyde E. Ellis, executive manager of the association, said in a speech prepared for the meeting that there is "mounting evidence that unless it is reversed, it will lead directly to the ultimate domination of the country's greatest water power resource by private utilities through the recently incorporated committee, the Pacific Northwest Power company."

Speaks to Group

Ellis spoke to representatives of 71 REAs in California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Montana, Utah and Idaho. They were to hear later from REA Administrator Arthur Nelson.

Ellis said the national association has been supporting "the fight to save Hells canyon" appropriations for new federal dams in the Columbia basin and a return of the Bonneville power administration "to the function of a responsible power supply agency."

Great Success

He said that although private power interests have "had great success" under the Eisenhower administration, the REAs had found it more and more difficult for several years before 1953 to get money for federal power projects and transmission lines.

Ellis reminded the delegates that two attempts to get Hells canyon authorized failed while the Democrats were in power.

Dimes Chairman Inspects Lung

New County March of Dimes Chairman Says 1955 Is Key Year in Polio Fight

George E. Haney, Twin Falls, has found campaign. Haney attended a conference in Reno Monday of March of Dimes leaders from Nevada, Idaho and California.

Also attending the conference were Mrs. Frankie Alworth, state women's adviser for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; Mrs. L. L. Langdon, vice chairman, Twin Falls county chapter, and Mrs. Oliver Anderson, county women's chairman.

Future use of the new polio vaccine was discussed. Principal speaker at the conference was Dr. H. A. Press, San Francisco, western medical consultant for the foundation, and Burr Gibson, New York, foundation assistant fund-raising director.

The Reno meeting was the second in a series of western conferences. Haney reports city and publicity chairman will be announced within the next week.

To further familiarize himself with the "polio problem" in Twin Falls county, Haney spent Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital where he viewed equipment and facilities used to treat polio patients.

Molotov May Get Big Four Conference But Under Terms Set by Western Allies

By The United Press

It looks as if Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov may get that Big Four conference: he has been clamoring for—but not under the conditions set—at the time he desires.

Both Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden intimated on Monday that the time for new West-East negotiations may not be far off.

But they made it plain, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill said fairly today, that the time for a conference will be after ratification of the Paris agreement for arming Western Germany and not before.

Soviet policy for months has been pointed toward preventing West German rearmament.

The Kremlin has proposed talks on German unification and an "all-European"—security—organization which would replace the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

First, the aim was to prevent ratification on the European Defense Community treaty which provided for arming of the Bonn Republic. France did refuse to ratify—for its own reasons, not on obligation—the Kremlin—and that pact was killed.

The Western allies started work at once on a new and even stronger agreement, and their new Western European Union treaty was signed in Paris last Saturday.

On the same day, Molotov sent notes to the United States, Britain and France proposing a Big Four conference in November on withdrawal of foreign troops from Germany, unification of East and West Germany and the Moscow-style "all-European" security organization.

The motive was transparent—Molotov is now trying to prevent ratification of the Western European Union agreement.

The Allies had foreseen the move, and did not take the bait.

Eden said in the British House of Commons Monday in discussing the Paris agreement:

"If we can bring stability and a common purpose in the West, we shall have established the essential basis on which we can seek an understanding with the East."

A few hours later Dulles, speaking at the televised cabinet meeting in the White House, said:

"When we create... a position of solidity and strength for Western Europe, we will be able to meet the East on a basis of equality."

Democrats Appear Capable of Winning House, Senate Seat Race in Southwest

DENVER, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt's popularity and campaign effectiveness are matched against apparent economic discontent in what looks like an uphill Republican battle for state and Senate seats in eight Southwest and Rocky Mountain states.

Unless intensified appeals by Eisenhower for a Republican counter change voter sentiment in the few days before the Nov. 2 election, Democrats could gain two Senate and four House seats in these states, Eisenhower carried handily two years ago.

The eight states are Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Montana. All except Utah and Arizona are electing senators this year, with four Democratic and two GOP seats at stake.

Twelve Democratic and nine Republican House seats are being contested as five governorships will be decided by the voters. By the time the Democrats now are reported leading in all but one of the governor contests.

Eisenhower evidently retains most of the strength he demonstrated in this area in 1952 when he swept all 12 states by a margin of 520,000 votes over the Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Republicans in all of these states have been leaning heavily on the demonstrated Eisenhower popularity. But it remains doubtful whether the continued high tide prestige of the President—which still dispirited seriously by the Democrats—can offset what seems on the surface to be a Democratic trend.

Some Republican politicians say privately they are convinced they have pulled the situation out of the fire if Eisenhower had done even a limited measure of the kind of on-the-spot personal campaigning that former President Harry S. Truman did in 1948.

Eisenhower's eight-week work and play vacation in Denver gave Colorado Republicans a lift to the point where they are talking hopefully of grabbing off a Senate seat before elected by Democrat Edwin C. Johnson, who is running for governor.

The President's recent visit to Montana brought out about 30,000 persons. Many probably traveled more than 500 miles to look at him and hear what was billed as a non-political speech.

Republicans everywhere in the area have been drumming the refrain that Eisenhower needs a Republican Congress to complete his program. They are defending that program vigorously, although they are dismayed by what even they concede is dissatisfaction among farmers. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has made frequent appearances in the area to extol what he calls the virtues of the administration's flexible farm price support program. He has been under attack by Democratic Sen. Robert B. Kerr.

But the agriculture secretary was among the mixing when Republican speakers were invited to New Mexico, where Democratic Sen. Clinton P. Anderson is given the edge over Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem in that state's Senate race. Anderson is one Democrat who supported the flexible support program when it went through Congress this year.

While there have been charges about "coddling communists" in the bitter Montana senatorial battle, the red-in-government have nowhere seems to be dominant. Republican Sen. Joseph H. McCarthy, Wisconsin, seems to be pretty much the forgotten man in this area, although he evidently has strong support in such states as Montana.

Democrats on the whole have candidates with better-known names than the Republicans, and many of the voters are reacting about personalities and local issues.

WORKSHOP HELD KING HILL, Oct. 26—Mrs. Carl Hallberg, Nampa, was in charge of a church workshop at the United Presbyterian church here Sunday. The meeting was attended by a group from Nampa and by Sunday school officers, teachers and assistant teachers in King Hill.

"Our fish and game resources must never be subjected to the whims and fancies of political maneuvering. Idaho must preserve this wonderful asset for all time. It must be protected and propagated."

"I pledge you that there will be no open season on our wildlife domain—for the guns of political persecution. If I am elected governor, you will find these gunners in the camp of the opposition."

Sincerely,
Robert E. Smylie

"Cultural Huckster" Changes Library to Resemble Market
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28 (AP)—Ship Graham, the Louisville public librarian, calls himself a "cultural huckster," and he is making culture so available in Louisville it is almost unobtainable.
Like any other library, Graham's institution has a lot of books. But there this similarity ends. His library is run more like a cultural supermarket.
At the door you pick up a wire pushcart and roll through the book stacks like you would down a grocery aisle. By the time you reach the checkout lane, your cart may be loaded not only with books but with phonographs, records, paintings of movie film. And if you have a library card, it's all free.
And that's only the beginning. Louisville's white marble library building is no stuffy burial place of knowledge, but fairly jumps with activity. In one room you may find a group discussion of some literary classic going on; next door, a professor may be conducting a course for college credit.
Up under the eaves is a "junior" art gallery. It was set up originally to introduce Louisville's young generation to great art masterpieces but many of the "youngsters" who visit it are grandfathers. The gallery also conducts art classes and exhibits the work of students from time to time. Graham, who is 47, looks like a

Leader Avers Farmers Not To Bloc Vote

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Chairman George D. Aiken of the senate agriculture committee predicted today that the so-called farm bloc vote will not be a factor in next Tuesday's elections.

"I don't think that farmers are going to vote as a bloc," the Vermont Republican said in an interview.

Aiken said he believes farmers have sometimes voted as a bloc in the past. He mentioned 1948 when he said Democratic sales of grain shortages alarmed many farmers.

Next week, Aiken predicted, farmers will vote on the basis of non-farm national and local issues much as other voters and not primarily on the basis of farm questions. He said one national issue favoring the Republicans is the "transformation" of international relations.

Aiken said he did not believe that flexible farm price supports, key-features of the administration farm program, passed last summer, will be a factor—either way—in next week's balloting.

For the most part, he said, the administration's program is just getting under way and has not been tested.

Quarter of Century Ago Tomorrow Is Anniversary of Dread 'Black Tuesday'

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A quarter of a century ago tomorrow a Wall street earthquake shattered an army of would-be millionaires.

Housewives and elevator operators, cab drivers and bookkeepers, waitresses, brokers and bankers had been marching in that 1929 army, each convinced he had the Midas touch.

You could "buy" $10,000 worth of stock for $500 cash. The remainder was taken care of by a mysterious, intangible thing called "margin."

Across the nation people gathered in small rooms before big blackboards littered with quotations and spoke knowingly of "the market." It had been going up steadily since 1922.

Then came "Black Tuesday," Oct. 29, 1929.

It dawned a beautiful, crisp autumn day. When it ended, the bull market had gone bust, 16,410,000 shares of stock had been dumped, thousands had lost their savings, and although it wasn't immediately evident the United States was headed toward the worst depression in its history.

Crowds swarmed into Wall street after-noon. When it ended, the stock market was a shambles.

The get-rich-quick crowd learned quickly about that intangible thing called margin. Brokers called them and said bluntly: "get up more cash before the opening or we sell you out."

It was the bursting of the bubble in a strange and exciting era.

Connie Mack's wonder team had just won the world series with Earnshaw, Simmon, Lefty Grove, Hans and Jimmy Fox starting for the A's.

Jimmy Walker, New York's mayor, was not only winking at but patronizing the speculators.

Eddie Cretor was making "Whoopee" The Graf Zeppelin crossed the Atlantic for the first time. Lindy had done it alone two years before. Byrd flew to the South Pole.

No one thought of war. No one thought of communism. Everybody thought of and talked about the stock market.

Tips flew like snow flakes and most of them were good because everything went up and up. Taxes were low and one could build a fortune if he realized his profits and got out of the market—for keeps. But that was hard to do.

The bull market reached its climax high on September 3 of that year when the industrial average touched 381.17. It had gone up by 346 per cent in six years.

Then it leveled off and there were a few "bear" raids on the market, but few very few—nothing was coming.

The first real blow came on Oct. 24. That day the tickers were so clogged it was not until 1:06 p.m. that the last trade was ticked off.

Four hundred six minutes after the final gong had ended trading.

Roosevelt, Condon Fight for Political Lives in California Election Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Two Democratic-Pauline D. Roosevelt's eldest son, James, and Congressman Robert L. Condon—are fighting for their political lives in California's election campaign.

In the Roosevelt race, the underlying issue is the charge of indiscretion brought by his wife, James has denied the accusation and scored a resounding primary victory despite it.

In Condon's case, the underlying issue is one of loyalty.

The Roosevelt and Condon congressional battles by no means are the only important ones on tap Nov. 2 in the nation's second most populous state.

Twenty-six other seats in congress are at stake plus a key contest for the U. S. senate involving Republican Thomas H. Kuchel and Democratic Samuel W. Yorty. There also is a bitter gubernatorial battle between incumbent Republican Goodwin J. (Goodie) Pataki and Democratic Richard P. Graves.

But the Condon and Roosevelt contests are the ones catching the voters' eyes in California.

Roosevelt, target of charges from outraged wife that he committed adultery with a dozen women, is seeking office from a Los Angeles district where Democrats normally outnumber Republicans 2 to 1.

The Roosevelt divorce has been settled out of court. It has not been an open issue in speeches by his GOP opponent, 32-year-old Theodore R. Owings, but it has come up repeatedly in the "coffee klatch" type of politicking both men have employed.

Owings, father of three children, never refers to Roosevelt's personal life. But when asked by voters in the district, usually women, how he feels about it, he says:

"I'm sure that most of us want a moral family man in congress."

This is Roosevelt's second try for public office. He was defeated by Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States, by a whopping 1,177,828 votes in the 1950 gubernatorial election. But even Republican leaders concede his chances are excellent in the 26th congressional district where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans 165,000 to 75,000.

Condon, a freshman member of the house seeking a second term, faces a stern challenge from the man who almost beat him two years ago, Attorney John F. Kennedy.

A World War II infantryman who won the silver star for gallantry in Europe, Condon was barred by the atomic energy commission in 1953 from winning a bomb test in Nevada on grounds he was "not fit for classified information."

He also was linked in testimony before the house un-American activities committee with a closed communist party meeting in Oakland in 1948.

Both charges have been denied flatly by Condon who says he is not, never has been and never intends to be a communist. He has pledged the theme that re-election will vindicate him.

But Baldwin, defeated by Condon by only 3,000 votes out of 173,000

Grange Picks Local Master

Terry Sullivan was elected new master of the Twin Falls Grange. The election took place at a meeting of the grange on Wednesday night. Sullivan, who has been active in the grange for many years, was chosen by a large majority of the members. He will serve as master for the next year.
