

Soviet Leaders Reveal Purges; Struggles Seen

Dec. 24 (AP)—A former minister of state here and other associates of purged police boss Beria have died before Soviet firing squads. Two others have been sentenced to long prison terms.

There is no word yet whether the Soviet Union will announce the execution of the two men. The state security ministry. All were accused of treason and political sabotage.

The communiqué was printed in the government newspaper, the first anniversary of the official disclosure of Beria's execution by a firing squad. It said the latest sentences were passed by the military tribunal in Leningrad after a trial. There was no indication where they were carried out.

In London, a source well informed on Soviet affairs said the purge indicates a struggle still is going on among powerful figures within the Soviet Union and Premier Malenkov himself may be seriously involved. The informant identified Akhmedov as a close-time private secretary to Malenkov.

The latest announcement of Stalin's death, however, is a surprise. It seems to indicate the ghost of Stalin still haunts the Kremlin.

Novel Display Wins First Prize in Lighting Contest Again

Dec. 26

This novel Christmas lighting display at 1140 Seventh avenue east won first prize again this year for Curtis Smith, who is already planning improvements for his display next year. The whole display is synchronized to the tune of "Here Comes Santa Claus." Floodlights illuminate each portion of the display in sequence, showing Santa Claus arriving at first, going down the chimney, appearing at the fireplace on the front porch, emerging from the chimney and departing in his sleigh at last. Report Says Ike Will Run Again in '56

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Out of the White House stag dinner came today persuasive reports that President Eisenhower has agreed to run in 1956 for a second term.

The running mate again would be Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Source Unknown

That information comes from a source who is in the confidence of the president and the vice president. The source said the statements were subject to what events sometimes upset plans.

But as of now the administration high command apparently is committed to Eisenhower-Nixon campaign in 1956. The President expects wholehearted support of state republican leaders.

The White House nevertheless believes Knowland will be on the team when the time comes, especially after any announcement that Mr. Eisenhower wants a second term.

There is some natural rivalry between the two men, but the two young men from the west with political ambitions.

The word just now is that a successful Eisenhower-Nixon campaign in 1956 would be followed in 1960 by an effort to promote the vice president to the top spot with Mr. Eisenhower's blessing. But 1956 is a long way off.

DEPUTY NAMED
BOISE, Dec. 24 (AP)—State Treasurer-Elect Ruth B. Jones was named today by Frank R. Keane, Boise, Adm. county deputy sheriff and former financial adviser to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, would be her chief deputy.

Christmas, a word most magical of words. A season when we most truly attain the feeling of true brotherhood. A Way of Life startling in its simplicity, the answer to the world's staggering problems. But a Way of Life that appears to be truly followed by relatively few.

When Christmas time comes we like to think of the meaning it has for us. And always comes the thought that Christmas is a time when we are to give. It is a time when we are to give of ourselves, of our time, of our money, of our strength, of our love. And this has been true—those principles have grown and developed and are manifold.

Christmas is giving, but the gift is only a symbol. Lacking the spirit of real brotherly love, the gift is meaningless. The original Christmas gifts bestowed by the Wise Men had material value. But they represented the most precious materials of the time and they represented the full honor and devotion of the givers. It is possible that the gold they gave embodied Mary and Joseph to leave Bethlehem in time to save the Baby Jesus from the wrath of King Herod. Thus a gift given in true love may serve a purpose we never expect.

Huge Storm Dies Slowly; Toll Hits 123

LONDON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Western Europe got a Christmas eve reprieve today from gales and wind-driven seas that have left 123 persons dead or missing since Wednesday.

The storm began to blow itself out after a final night-long drizzle plying men and land against the worst seas since the 1953 Dutch disaster in which 1,800 persons died.

Hundreds of persons were injured and 23 ships were wrecked or damaged this week.

The British air ministry in London said winds over all of northwest Europe were moderating slowly. Occasional high-speed gusts still whipped the North sea where more than 50 sailors have drowned in the tempest, but the main danger was over for the time being.

Peasliners Released
With the gradual easing of the storm menace Holland released most of the thousands of dikes paterons who stood guard through the night while hurricane winds drove water almost to the level of the 1953 flood.

Unusual Santa Claus Display Given Lighting Contest First Prize Again

If traffic is a bit heavier than drive, third. Second prize is good for $15 and third prize nets $5.

Winners of all awards are C. O. (Buddy) Cox, 343 Alameda drive; R. (Ted) Smith, 464 Merces street; and Mrs. James Rosenbaum, 34 Pler avenue west; Cub Scouts den, 4, pack 11, 483 Bracken street; Mr. and Mrs. Jeannette Mische, 14 Seventh avenue east; and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Eberlein, 1403 Eighth avenue east.

Contest rules specify five at prize, but the judges couldn't eliminate any of the six displays, so all six awards will be paid this year.

Winning displays range from simple arrangements to elaborate exhibits. The winning display arranged by Smith fascinates children and adults alike. The display has been improved since it was first prize last year. Decorations have been added to the front porch and the display shows Santa Claus departing in his sleigh this year.

At the Eberlein home, decorations make use of the entire front of the house. In contrast, the display at the Rosenbaum home consists of a decorated tree and a display of gifts arranged at virtually no cost.

Anderson's display is made up of a decorated tree and a display of gifts arranged at virtually no cost.

German Arm Plans Still on, Britain States

LONDON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Britain served blunt notice today that West Germany will be required regardless of French action blocking the Paris agreement.

A foreign office statement warned that continued "unity of the western allies" depends squarely on the French dupes' severing their early morning vote reflecting the permanent provision of the Paris accord.

"The issue is not whether the German federal republic will remain but how," the foreign office statement said.

The statement was one of the toughest to come out of London in recent months, and was issued after foreign secretary Sir Anthony Eden spent more than six hours in emergency consultations.

Eden said he added that his promise to keep four and one-third percent of the German federal republic's military production for tactical air forces would be contingent with a permanent ally.

French Reject Big German Arm Pact

By The Associated Press
The French national assembly Friday rejected the treaty providing for German rearmament in the framework of the Brussels pact. The vote was 280 to 263. The defeat was a stunning surprise of the government of Premier Mendès-France.

The vote on the first in a series of treaties to bring West Germany into the western camp came in the pre-dawn hours of an all-night session concluding four days of debate.

Mendès-France had been so sure of victory that he had not bothered to pose the question of a vote of confidence.

The treaty would have given Germany a regular army of 270,000 men.

French diplomatic officials were dismayed today over the French national assembly's rejection of the western European defense union.

The state department planned no comment until it received further details of the assembly's action. It was known the French Premier Mendès-France could save the situation in the series of confidence votes to bring Munich.

The department had backed the French proposal of the European defense union. It had been little discussion recently of alternatives if the plans failed. Up for consideration was the Paris treaty to admit Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Bonn treaty to restore German sovereignty and allow Germany to rearm, and the French-German agreement on the Saar.

The rejection of one would weaken the entire package.

Advocates of Dam Ask Bid Dismissal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Advocates of a single, high federal Hells canyon dam asked the federal power commission today to dismiss the application of Idaho Power company for a license to build three low dams in the Hells canyon reach of the Snake river.

Mrs. Evelyn N. Cooper, attorney for the National Hells Canyon Association, Inc., said the Nov. 24 briefs of Idaho Power and the FPC staff council rendered the company's application defunct.

"They propose major departures from the pleadings and the record in briefs filed Nov. 24," she said. "The applications as filed, and amended are no longer relevant to Idaho Power's request for an FPC license to build power dams at Browne, Obovo, and the Hell canyon sites on the Snake, John C. Mason, FPC staff council, recommended dismissal of the application."

Advocates of a high dam, which was sponsored by the bureau of reclamation, fought the application through a year-long hearing. They argued that Idaho Power's plan would be a "block of power equivalent roughly to the output of the Bonneville dam."

The power said briefs filed by Idaho Power and by Mason made many suggested changes in development. These changes, they said, are not in the 156-volume year-long record. She said plans for power transmission have been changed and a different time limit set on construction.

The trouble with the new proposal was not heard, she said. Mrs. Cooper said there was a disparity in Mason's recommendations and Idaho Power's plan. Idaho Power, she said, abandoned vital features of its application and argument in favor of new proposals.

She claimed the staff's brief proposed wholesale departures from proposals contained in the applications and record.

At present, answering briefs by the three interested parties are due at the commission's office on Jan. 25. A final brief by Idaho Power due Jan. 31.

2 GOP Solons State Ike Will Have Support

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Two Republican senators predicted today their colleagues generally will support President Eisenhower and his program despite their sharp words over condemnation of Senator McCarthy, R. Wis.

Neither Senator Wiley, R. Wis., nor Senator Hickenlooper, R. Iowa, said direct mention of McCarthy's later split with the President. Wiley in a statement called for harmony among his state's Republicans and himself, endorsed Eisenhower for a second term.

Hickenlooper, who voted against McCarthy's censure, said in an interview that in his judgment those who condemn McCarthy are the ones who are creating a permanent breach in the Republican party.

Wiley said, "I have no quarrel with the man who is not a man to be trifled with."

Gem Officials Answer Vital, Weighty Issue

BOISE, Dec. 24 (AP)—When do you unwrap your Christmas presents? On Christmas eve or Christmas morning?

Most Idaho state officials prefer to wait until morning, a spot check showed today.

Both Gov. Len Jordan and Gov. Robert E. Smylie said that's the custom in their families.

State Agriculture Commissioner D. A. Stubbfield is a Christmas eve package opener, but State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alton B. Jones has it both ways.

"We always go at least one round on Christmas eve, on the major holidays, and then the morning on Christmas morning," the educator explained.

State Law Enforcement Commissioner Wayne Summers said his family always waits until morning, because "otherwise, Christmas would be ruined."

Not so State Treasurer Margaret Gilbert. "Why, how can you get to sleep wondering what's in those packages under the tree?" she asked.

Better hurry! The lines are long the days ahead and there is no grace period for automobile and truck license plates this year.

Ecuador Puts Down Violent Uprising Try

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Dec. 24 (AP)—The government announced today that it has crushed a coup d'etat attempted by army officers supporting former defense minister Reinaldo Viteri.

Four high-ranking officers implicated in the alleged plot had been arrested and confined aboard a ship in Guayaquil harbor, and police are seeking Viteri, whose whereabouts are unknown.

Proclaim Loyalty
An official announcement said army garrisons throughout the country have proclaimed their loyalty to President Jose M. Velasco Ibarra.

The motive of the cabinet denounced the socialist organ Diario la Tierra for "atrocious slanderous calumnies" and said the person responsible will be prosecuted.

There was no apparent connection between the attempted coup and the charges against the socialist party.

Starts in Quito
The trouble with the army started in Quito, the national capital, when Viteri resigned the defense post Wednesday night in protest against the socialist government.

At present, the army minister, Jaime Nebot, who he said had "insulted" the army.

Viteri said he had been minister Luis A. Penaherrera from yesterday from Quito to Guayaquil, Ecuador's chief seaport town, a traditional center of administration strength. Soon after his arrival here, the president announced he had dismissed Nebot.

Japanese Reds Dislike Policy Of Hatoyama's Government

By United Press
The Japanese communists have decided that the new government of Premier Ichiro Hatoyama is no good.

In fact, they say, Hatoyama's government threatens to prove even worse than that of his predecessor, Shigeru Yoshida.

This indicates that from the viewpoint of the United States Hatoyama's policies will be unduly satisfactory.

Hatoyama took over the government three weeks ago today after a month-long political crisis.

Since then he has made it plain that he will proceed with Japanese rearmament, continue close relations with the United States and proceed cautiously in any dealings with Soviet Russia and Communist China.

Before he took office, Hatoyama said he saw no reason why Japan should not have better trade and diplomatic relations with Russia and Red China.

Memorandum Shigemitsu, Hatoyama's foreign minister, confirmed this in a policy statement after the new government took office.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov was prompt to take advantage of this statement. He said Russia was willing to negotiate for better relations if Japan was.

However, Molotov made an important qualification. He called attention to a joint policy declaration issued after the Russian-Chinese peace conference in Peking in October.

This declaration expressed the hope that Japan would "liberate" itself from "foreign dependence"—meaning the close cooperation with the United States.

There also had been a qualification in Shigemitsu's statement. Shigemitsu said that any closer relations with Russia and Red China must be predicated on Japan's basic collaboration with the free nations.

The response to Molotov's offer was hardly enthusiastic.

Shigemitsu said the Japanese government had no intention of seeking negotiations with Russia on the basis of Molotov's statement.

Instead, he said, Japan will await further developments.

It is understood that Hatoyama and Shigemitsu also assured United States ambassador John M. Allison that Japan would make no commitments which would conflict with American-Japanese agreements.

Hatoyama's government may turn out to be only a caretaker one. When he was elected premier he had to promise the socialists, who supported his new democratic party, that he would hold a parliamentary election in March.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Fathers and mothers must know that their children come after them. In their first days they stay close to their parents, soon they get on their feet and follow every step their mothers take. Growing beyond the first steps take little journeys following behind father as he goes about the place, dogging mother's footsteps about the house.

All the time they are seeing all that goes on about them. They scarcely understand much of it but they are banking it as experience to be used later on. All that they see and hear are caused to feel by their parents' acts as registered relatives. It will all come back to color their thinking and behavior in days to come.

This does bind a father and mother. Knowing the importance of what they do and who they are to the children forces discipline on them and father has to mind his speech lest the boy who is to come after him learn wrong words and what is worse, their implications.

Mother has to guard her speech and manner. She carefully manages the household so that the boy and the girl who are to come after her will have a wholesome attitude toward home and carry it into their own day. Education for life is carried on for the most part in the home by the home people. School has an influence but it is only when the home strengthens that influence by its atmosphere that it holds.

Most fathers and mothers have high hopes for their children. They have secret ambitions for them and watch eagerly for any sign of growth in the direction of their dreams. Yet in many homes the behavior pattern in direct opposition to the ideals of the parents as planned for the children.

If those parents were asked about their ideal way for their sons they would certainly not say they wanted them to drink habitually. Yet—and if they were asked what they wanted

"SKILL & CARE BEYOND COMPARE"

Bannister Record Mile Race Called Year's Thriller

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—We don't believe anyone who saw the Roger Bannister-John Landy mile race at Vancouver last summer, either in person or via TV, will argue over the choice of that classic event in the Associated Press poll as the thrill of the year.

We know that, viewing it on our tabloid screen from a distance of several thousand miles, we experienced four-minute emotional bingo with the realization we were seeing something extra special, and that that feat seemed to be spinning up and down our spine when the times were announced—3:58.8 for Bannister and 3:59.4 for his Australian rival.

It was the realization that we were watching history in the making, as never before had two men simultaneously run a mile in less than four minutes.

A Ram spokesman, in answering published queries that Georgia Tech head coach Bobby Dodd was likely candidate, said flatly yesterday that as yet no one was "under serious consideration" for the job.

"It probably will be from three weeks to a month before a new coach is named," he said.

This calm attitude contrasts with the quick announcement yesterday that Norman (Red) Strada will be the head coach of the San Francisco team.

The Atlanta, Ga., Journal quoted comedian Bob Hope, a Ram stockholder, as saying Dodd was "one of those few men being discussed."

But the Ram spokesman said "no knowledge Bobby Dodd has not been contacted by a Ram official concerning the coaching job."

Dixie Classic Will Feature Best Talent

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 24 (AP)—The 1954 Dixie Classic football tournament will have a field day next week when all of the state's finest basketball teams square off in the sixth annual Dixie Classic.

The defending classic champion, having defeated Navy's sharpshooters in the final of last year's three-day holiday season event at the 12,500-seat William Reid Reynolds coliseum, The Blue Devils are regarded as strong enough to defend that title.

The pre-tournament favorite, however, will be host North Carolina State, the team that is currently ranked fifth in the national ratings.

Other teams also will participate, including all-America candidate Dickie Hentrich, and West Virginia, current leader of the nation's college basketball.

First round pairings match North Carolina against Southern California, North State against Cornell, Wake Forest against Minnesota, and Duke against West Virginia. A total of some 65,000 fans are expected to see the action spread over 12 games in three days.

Following the championship, making its second appearance in the Dixie classic, Cornell, defending league champion, also is making its return appearance.

Minnesota, paced by Dick Garmaker, is expected to be a contender for the Big 10 and the Gophers will be in the chase for the first time since 1949.

North Carolina, given an outside chance on the strength of coach Frank McGuire's sophomore sensation, Lennie Rosenblyth, will be the only one of the "big four" to play in the opening round in the opening round Monday. Hentrich will lead Wake Forest the choice over Minnesota.

Wall, Wally Whittier, Rochester, Minn.; Jack Meyer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Jack Beck, Denver, Colo.; and Henry Williams, Jr., Ft. Worth, Tex., entered the $25,000 tourney yesterday.

They joined Lloyd Mangrum, Bob Roberts, Shelly Mayfield, Gene Little, Bud Heiber, Doug Perry and Al Hirschman in the tournament, which started for Jan. 6 at Inverwood Country club.

Don Mossi Doubles 1954 Pay Amount

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Dec. 24 (AP)—Don Mossi, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, said Thursday he had signed a 1955 contract with the American League club for almost twice as much as he got last year. He didn't name either figure.

Mossi won 6, lost 1 as a reliever for the Indians in 1954.

Returns Contract

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—Harry Dersh, right-handed pitcher who compiled a 6-4 win-loss record last season, has returned his 1955 contract to the Chicago White Sox, bringing to an end the number of players signed thus far by the Sox. Dersh, 31-years-old, had a 3.72 earned run average.

Will Meet Sunday

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—Buck Rutherford, of Knapah, Okla., and Jim Shouder, of Henryetta, Okla., will meet Sunday in a toping and riding event in the tournament. The 1954 all-around cowboy champion of the Rodeo Cowboys association.

Brown Coach Eager to Win Grid Crown

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 24 (AP)—The man who most wants to win this Sunday's National Football League championship game between the Cleveland Browns and the Detroit Lions undoubtedly is Browns' coach Paul Brown.

Coming right after him is Otto Graham, a good-looking, curly-haired fellow who can throw a football just the way it says in textbooks—only better.

A Brown-coach team never has beaten a Bud Parker-coached team. That fact is killing to Brown, "Mr. Football" in this city. He made Maxwell High school supreme on the gridiron years ago, then followed with top-ranking teams at Ohio State, and Great Lakes naval training station, where he had triumphed thoroughly thumped Notre Dame with his collection of service troops.

Win or lose, Brown will be back in 1955. He is in the middle of a long-term contract that still has four years to go.

But win or lose, Graham will not be back. The exuberant Otto announced at the beginning of the season that he would not be back. Two weeks ago he told United Press he was all through. Today he reconfirmed it.

"It's not worth all it takes any more," he said.

John Antonelli Gains Two Baseball Crowns

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—Johnny Antonelli of the Giants became the 12th National leaguer in history to gain both the earned run title and the highest win-loss percentage, the official averages showed today.

Antonelli's 2.20 earned run mark gave him a distinct margin over Lew Burdette of Milwaukee, who was second with a 2.76 average, while the .750 percentage he posted on the basis of his 21-7 record topped the .714 mark turned in by Brooks Lawrence (16-6) of the Cardinals. Antonelli also led the league in shutouts with six.

As usual, Robin Roberts of the Phillies worked as the workhorse of the circuit. The rubber-arm right-hander won the most games, 23; made the most starts, 38; pitched the most complete games, 29; and the most innings, 337. He led the most batters, 1,231; allowed the most hits, 289; pitched the most innings, 337; and led the league in strikeouts with 185.

Right-hander Ruben Gomez of the Giants gave up the most bases on balls, 100, while Lawrence hit the most batters. Jim Huggins, Brooklyn right-hander, made the most appearances, 60, and Johnny Heik of Pittsburgh finished the most games, 46; Murray Dickson of the Phillies lost the most games, 30.

The league's longest winning streak was 11 games, Antonelli and southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee each reaching that figure. Antonelli's victory string ran from May 25 to Aug. 1 and Spahn's string stretched from July 18 to Sept. 1.

Jim Wilson of Milwaukee pitched the league's only no-hit, no-run game on June 15 against the Phillies. Roberts hurled a pair of one-hitters, one against Milwaukee, the other against the Reds.

The New York Giant pitchers turned in the best collective earned run average, while Pittsburgh was at the bottom of the earned run scale with a 4.52 average.

Ohio State Plan Surprise Menu For Trojan Tea

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 24 (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes plan to throw a surprise menu for the teams that will play in the Rose Bowl, Ohio State's naturally doesn't much about the Big 10 champions could work out in secret for the day's classic.

Hayes said before taking his 41-man squad to the way the men kept in condition during the lay-off since the Michigan game Nov. 20, he had been scheduled to get his defenses set for southern California.

The stocky Hayes, who has had the four teams in training camps, often pointed to morale as a big factor in the team's victory. He said the Buckeyes were not among the national leaders in various statistical categories, except in holding down the scores of opponents.

"Those boys came from behind to win the game," Hayes said. "I know nobody is going to stop them for 60 minutes."

Hayes pointed to basketball player Watkins, the "Mr. Inside" of the Buckeyes, as a typical example of the team's strategy. Watkins, a senior from New Bedford, Mass., enrolled at State because he wanted to play in the Rose Bowl. He said he figured State was the school with the best chance to win Big 10 championships next year.

The well-known Buckeyes who became known in the Big 10 as a club that were down and out, Hayes said, were the ones who made the difference. He said the team's strategy was to win the game by winning the game.

Johnny Logan Gets Shortstop Crown In National Loop

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 24 (AP)—Johnny Logan notched his third straight National League fielding championship with his bat-and-glove play from his chief rival, Alex Grammas.

The double-haired Milwaukee Braves' infielder, who topped the league's shortstops, for the third straight season, related Thursday how he clinched the honor in the final two games of the year.

Logan wound up with a .60 average to Grammas' .56.

"We were playing St. Louis out at the stadium, you remember," Logan said. "Grammas, of course, was playing short for the Cards and somebody told me in the clubhouse before the next-to-last game that he and I were pretty close in the averages."

"In the Saturday game everything is going along good for both of us and I come up to bat in the eighth inning. I hit one to Grammas and he boots it. That kind of thing."

"Then on Sunday, in the last game, I come up in the second inning and I hit one to him again. The same thing happens, he boots it. I no longer get it pitched, and I figured I did it you've got the official averages."

Giant Probes Of Patronage Set by Demos

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Senator Monroney, D. Okla., said yesterday—the Democrats plan to make a sweeping investigation of Republican patronage moves.
He bracketed in this field President Eisenhower's order to channel job applicants through the GOP national committee.
Monroney, who may head a senate civil service subcommittee looking into patronage matters, said in an interview he believes Republican actions in handling federal employment matters "won't stand inspection."
"They are rolling postmaster out of office, for instance, on the slightest pretext," he said. "It's got to the point where charges can be brought against a Democratic postmaster if the pens aren't kept clean in his office."
"Unless these people, who are covered by civil service, are veterans, they have no effective appeal because they can appeal only to the Republican-controlled post-office department."
Monroney said he for one wants to look into the operations of an Oct. 11 White House directive telling department heads the Republican national committee would furnish them with employee pre-employment forms.
The Explains
Eisenhower has said the White House memorandum was not intended to apply policies to civil service jobs and represented nothing more than an effort to get the best possible people into government service. He said officials paid little heed to take into account a prospective employee's political affiliations.
Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D. S. C., slated to head the full civil service committee when the Democrats take control of the senate in January, has contended the order violated the civil service law and the Hatch "clean politics" act.
