DES MOINES, Ia., June 16 (AP)—Mrs. Robert C. Bell complained to Judge Howard Brooks that if he fined her $20 on a speeding charge her husband wouldn't let her drive the car for 20 days.

Young GOP Band Asks "Draft Ike"

DETROIT, June 16 (AP)—Young Republican leaders went into the first general session of their convention today apparently assured of passage of a "draft Eisenhower for reelection" resolution.
 The resolution was broadened to include Vice-President Richard M. Nixon last night and signed by more than half of the 1,600 delegates attending the convention.
 It was in the form of a letter to President Eisenhower, encouraging his "continued courageous and principled leadership beyond 1956."
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark and daughter have moved to McCall for the summer.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—Vice-President Nixon recently accused the whole batch of government press agents of being the "big boys" in the news. He said he would consider the administration's "unfortunate public relations."

Nixon charged that many of his listeners, who are "hangovers" from the Truman regime, were not "young." He said he did not think they exerted themselves sufficiently to "put the President's feet forward."

After a slow and sometimes wobbly start, the "technicians" are doing a good job, especially at state, treasury, internal revenue and communications.

Under such circumstances, which "Eisenhower fact" should the public try to "put forward?"

It was not so many years ago that Twin Falls regarded itself as "pretty much of a farming community," but now it begins to show some signs of industrial development as well.

The downtown business district of Twin Falls meantime was taking shape and expanding into another phase of the economy.

It should be obvious to everyone we believe that there is a need for a classification—heavy industry, business and residential—should be kept as clearly separate as possible.

To establish and maintain these classified areas, the zoning commission and the city officials have a great responsibility which calls for inflexibility and rigid enforcement of all restrictions.

One of the significant supplies in the new Ford Motor Co.-United Auto Workers agreement is that it contains no provision for an increase in the basic hourly wage.

The whole Ford package which the union accepted is made up of fringe benefits.

The only clauses directly affecting pay checks provide for an increase in annual improvement plans, bringing pay holidays and a raise for certain skilled workers.

Everything else is in liberalized pension, more insurance, more vacations and increased unemployment insurance.

The argument may go on indefinitely as to whether Walter Reuther won a guaranteed annual wage, or just two-thirds of it, but we feel in the door to a guaranteed principle.

A thief broke a store window and stole five electric fans. Police caught him and put him where he belongs—in the cooler.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEPPER'S ANGLE

"Juvenile delinquency" is a fake term used to pretend that young criminals are in a different class from these people who get a bad example from government, national and local.

A newcomer to Twin Falls raised an interesting question after one of the "beaver" shows—Wednesday night. This fellow was curious about deep with water and flooded intersections.

Some women are so lazy they get their husbands to mow the lawn. Our housewife complains.

Idaho's Public Health Program Soon Will Have Sweeping Reorganization

BOISE, June 16 (UP)—Idaho's public health program is about to take on a new look.
Target date for the sweeping reorganization approved by the 1955 legislature is July 1, when the administrative body, a nine-member board of health, will be in force.
This powerful board, charged with "promotion and protection of the life, health and mental efficiency" of Gem state residents, will be administering some $10 million dollars in public funds during the 1955-57 biennium.
Its members still are Gov. Robert E. Smylie's secret. He says the board is "one or two people away from being complete."

make it directly responsible to the chief executive as opposed to re-acting to the board, legislators "and ample, to the board of highway directors and the state board of education, whose members can be re-moved only "for cause."
Smylie says he has considered more than 40 persons in picking the non-partisan board of health, three of whom must be physicians and not more than five from any one political party.
Advice was sought, the govern-ment says, from all interested sources—mental, medical, tuberculosis and public health associations, ex-to do promises an improved ad-ministrative program in this field," he said. "If it is realized, it de-pends on the board—and its ac-tion."

White, who gives credit to mem-bers of an interim committee he headed for setting up the legisla-tion, says there is bound to be an improvement because all problems and programs will become the re-sponsibility of a single board.
The new division of public health will continue all the functions of the present department, White says, and the mental health division has been given $43,000 to set up com-munity clinics as the initial phase of this program.
But it will be the responsibility of the board to set up policy, eli-minate duplication and see that its programs are carried out, White says.
The physician adds that since the board's nine members must represent the state geographically, its activities will, by necessity, be more representative of the people of Idaho.

Drive to Limit Income Taxes Shows Power

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Taxpayers' drive to limit peacetime federal income taxes is "close to fulfillment," the council seeks to have a limit imposed on income taxes through adoption of a constitutional amendment.

To accomplish this, 32 of two-thirds of the 48 states must petition congress to draft such an amendment.

Oklahoma Helps
Last month, Oklahoma became the 30th state to make such a demand. "Only two more states to go, and congress will have to act," said Frank E. Packard, executive director of the tax council.

Packard said the proposed amendment would limit income taxes to peacetime to a top rate of between 25 and 35 per cent, compared with the current top of 91 per cent.

All lesser rates would be scaled down proportionately, he said, with a minimum rate of about five per cent. The minimum now is 10 per cent.

Oklahoma's legislature voted to petition congress for the amendment May 23. If two more states follow suit, congress then must draft the tax-limiting resolution and submit it to the state legislatures for ratification. The amendment then must be ratified by 36 state legislatures to become law.

Tradition Cited
"A ceiling on federal tax rates is in the American tradition," Packard said. The constitution of 1787 limits the state taxing power, and 48 states limit the right to "borrow." Packard said "local governments, by law or charter, operate under restriction limiting their taxing power. Only the federal taxing power is unlimited," he said. "Washington could legally tax all citizens up to 100 per cent of their incomes today, and there is nothing they could do about it."

The 30 states which have joined the movement thus far are Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Minimum Wage of $1.25 Is Requested

POCAHELLO, June 16 (AP)—Delegates attending the Idaho convention adopted yesterday a resolution calling for a $1.25 minimum wage law.

The resolution, which is being adopted as delegates clear out of business in preparation for election of officers.

Other resolutions asked active support of a state veterans' bonus plan; equal pay for men and women working the same job; and development of the Lewis-Clark highway, and suggested various amendments to state codes affecting workmen.

Idaho Pioneers Cited in Speech

FRANKLIN, June 16 (AP)—Tribute was paid yesterday to the courage and determination of the pioneers who settled Franklin 92 years ago.

Lt. Gov. J. Berkeley Larsen, chief speaker at the anniversary celebration, lauded the pioneer families for the way they improved conditions after settling the area.

Wilford Wood, Salt Lake City, shared the speakers platform with Larsen as a representative of the LDS church. He said pioneer-day citizens also are pioneers, building a heritage for coming generations.

Vehicles Collide

JEROME, June 16 (AP)—Morgan, route 1, Jerome, driving a 1938 DeSoto, and a 1948 International truck and trailer driven by Bert Walker, Gooding, were involved in an accident at 4:45 a. m. Monday.

The collision occurred on highway 25 near the city limits at the intersection of Main and Fir streets.

Walker was driving a left turn into the intersection when Morgan came up from behind and started to pass.

Pullerback Jack Conner, who investigated, listed the damage to the DeSoto as $300 and $50 to the truck. The truck belongs to V. A. Thompson, Gooding.

Sink or Swim—It's Your Choice

Swimming is fun—but it can end up sadly for the person who doesn't memorize and practice a few simple safety rules, such as the ones illustrated below. If you can't swim, you should learn, because you are missing some of the best of summertime recreation. The Red Cross offers free courses in swimming, lifesaving and boating small craft. If you want to learn to swim or improve your present ability, consult your local Red Cross chapter.

Don't swim right after eating or when overheated or overtired. Also, swimming in the dark isn't a good idea.

Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and has no hidden objects that might cut you or break bones.

Never swim alone. Make sure someone is nearby who can help in case you get cramps or run into some other trouble.

Distance over water is misleading—don't overestimate your endurance or try to make like a channel swimmer.

If you do go in for distance swimming in open water, have someone in a boat follow along for safety's sake.

Swim at a safe place, preferably one where there are life guards. If you are in swimming, float for a change.

Korea Proved Acid Test for U.N.; It Worked Where Predecessor Failed

(This is the second of a series of three on the United Nations.)

By United Press
Korea brought the acid test for the United Nations and the fledgling world organization, rising to meet the challenge of aggression, avoided the pitfall of inaction that doomed the League of Nations.

June 27, 1950, in the red letter date in the record of the U.N., now observing its 10th anniversary, for on that date the security council voted the military sanctions to fight communist aggression in what started as a "police action" and became the bloody Korean war.

The old League of Nations had never confronted with similar decisions. And although it did expel Russia in a warring-slapping action for its 1920 invasion of Finland, it stood helplessly when Mussolini invaded Ethiopia and when Japan seized Manchuria from China.

It never recovered its prestige after the Ethiopian invasion and the Mukden incident in China. Sixteen countries, plus the Republic of Korea, provided military forces for the first modern example of collective security against aggression in all, 42 member countries and four non-members offered support for the Korean effort.

The criticism is valid that the Korean war was fought with overwhelming preponderance in manpower and money by the United States and that President Truman acted two hours in advance of the security council in ordering military aid to South Korea.

But the material efforts of the U.N., by Washington's admission, saved the U. S. at least two divisions of troops and billions of dollars of expenditures and enabled the Korean conflict to be fought with the moral weight of the civilized world on the U. N. side.

Russia, in one of history's classic miscalculations, made it easy for the U. N. to act in Korea. The Russians had walked out of the security council in January, 1950, in protest of the refusal to oust Nationalist China in favor of the Chinese Communists.

But most nations and Russia, of course, made no military contribution to the armed forces that fought in Korea. The communists and the western powers never have been able to agree on the composition of the armed forces provided in the charter to maintain international peace and security.

There is a military staff committee, set up to supervise the armed strength of the U. N., which meets for five or 10 minutes each month to rotate its chairman, but which has no power since it has 10 men, and therein, in the opinion of most observers, lies the outstanding failure of the U. N.

Founded in the closing days of World war II, when Russia and the western powers were accepting Hitler's Germany, the U. N. was based on the theory the big powers would continue to cooperate closely.

It became apparent in the first meetings in London in 1946 that such unanimity did not exist and the situation has worsened to the extent that even the western powers cannot agree on which is the fifth of the big five—Nationalist or Communist China.

Even so, the first 10 years of the United Nations look pretty rewarding on balance. If its performance could be topped up on a bookkeeping sheet, it might appear like this:

- 1. It has managed to keep the world talking, not fighting.
- 2. In Korea it provided the first modern instance of collective security against aggression.
- 3. It reduced to an armed truce the bloody Palestine conflict between Israel and the Arab world.
- 4. It prevented conflict between Russia and the west in Iran.
- 5. It ended the bloody civil war in Greece.
- 6. It avoided all-out civil war in the Dutch East Indies.
- 7. It has not relieved the "cold war."
- 8. It has failed to agree on a disarmament plan.
- 9. It has failed to prohibit nuclear weapons.
- 10. It is torn on the China question.
- 11. It has failed to prevent abuse of

Lincoln Panel Studies Plans Of Exposition

SHOSHONE, June 16—Fair activities and concessions have been discussed in detail by members of the Lincoln panel on Monday.

Various novelty stands were suggested by the visitors and they were asked by the fair board to obtain assistance from their organizations in erecting shade for the fairgrounds and in promoting more concessions and stands for the event.

"Shaw was asked to submit an estimate on cost of wiring for the barn and electric outlets for concession driving fountain was discussed.

Produce booths will be promoted along with soliciting entries in various departments throughout the county. The Chamber of Commerce will decide if the merchants will be able to close for at least one-half day for the fair and if the Shoshone merchants vote to do so, those at Richland and Ellettsburg will be asked to cooperate in the project.

By closing the board fell, all employees of the business houses would have one opportunity to attend at least a part of the fair. The chamber also will be asked to decide if it wishes to support concession driving fountain was discussed.

The next meeting, on June 21 will be held at 8 p. m. at the courthouse.

Soviets' Satellite Strength

When Soviet leaders all down with their brief cases at the upcoming Big Four conference, they'll have overwhelming manpower behind them, in addition to the vast hordes of Russia's red army proper. For while they're being talking peace, they've been developing their muscles—in the "Red NATO." Newsmen show the effect this new, formal "partnership" has on communist strength in eastern Europe. There are now nearly two million satellite men under arms. May figures show individual military strength in the satellites. They represent security police, frontier guards, reserves and regulars. Cities shown on map, including East Berlin, are the 15 principal military headquarters that get signals from the Kremlin. (NEA)

Design Expert Flays Styles in Top Furniture

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—The American public doesn't know how to buy furniture and won't even learn unless the designer changes their "eye-alone" approach, a teacher of design said today.

Ray Pearson, an instructor at the Illinois Institute of Design said designers have "gone overboard" on appearance, with chair designers the "worst offenders." Professional buyers then select the chair for sale after "at the most, perching in it for a couple of minutes."

"This approach is passed on to the retail customer," Pearson said. "He rarely knows or even cares when he 'tries' the furniture whether the furniture will fulfill his own needs."

"If he's seen pictures of certain furniture in a magazine or newspaper, or if his neighbor has bought it, he'll buy just about anything, including the una-postion chairs so popular now."

Critical of Chair

Pearson was particularly critical of what he called "one of the darlings of the furniture industry, the bucket chair. There are several variations of this chair, he said, but all generally have a mounded back that scooped out seat of plywood or metal.

"They're beautiful to look at," Pearson said, "but just as uncomfortable as the airplane bucket seat they were patterned after."

"The airplane seat," he said, "is designed to support a man in one position. If he got cramped it didn't matter. But it does matter if you get cramped sitting in a chair in your own home."

Gives Reason

"The human body wasn't designed to sit in a chair," he said. "Why torture ourselves?"

Pearson said he is looking to the international home furniture summer market, beginning at Chicago June 20, for an indication "that designers are finally learning that a piece of furniture doesn't have to be ugly to be functional."

"There's a real need for furniture in the middle and lower price class that is both functional and good to look at," he said. "And until designers provide this, they're falling down on the job."

Diplomat Lashes Red China Talks

Nationalist China's foreign minister said today the United States should negotiate with Red China on the Formosa crisis simply because of the Peking regime's recent release of four American flyers.

Chiang Kai-shek, in a speech at Tokyo on his way to the U.N. anniversary meeting in San Francisco, said it would be "childish" to try to solve the Formosa problem by pulling the Red Chinese on the back.

"The release of the four Indians' V. K. Krishna Menon's statement that Peking's release of the imprisoned Americans contributed to the loosening of tension."

"That is most fantastic," Yeh said. "When a drug commits a crime, you don't reward him when he disgorge the things he has stolen."

Solons Do Not Take Off; Just Talk Until End

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Let others race for the hills. As the nation's capital theoretically went up in a puff of atomic smoke yesterday, congress stayed right on the job, talking gaily to the end.

The executive department, headed by President Eisenhower, was on its collective toes at 12:30 p. m., when the air raid sirens went off.

But the plan for evacuation of 15,000 top government employees ignored the judiciary and the legislative branches.

So while the others made like they were fleeing for their lives, congress coolly, calmly went about its business.

Scene Studied

The legislative scene: The senate opened at noon, and Vice President Nixon barely had rapped for order and the morning prayer had barely been said when the big moment came.

It found Sen. Price Daniel, D. Tex., denying the amount of narcotics smuggled into the United States.

Nobody could hear the sirens, which may account for the fact that no one mentioned the air raid at all.

Issue Meets

The house met earlier, but the big moment arrived and found the representatives unafraid.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott, R. Mich., was explaining why he sees no need for an investigation of the federal open market committee.

No sirens were heard here either. Indeed, it was so peaceful that at least three representatives, Donald Nicholson, R. Mass., Usher

Reason

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Thomas J. Smith tearfully admitted in court that he had been drinking while intoxicated because "I just lost my wife yesterday."

Judge Joseph Butler checked his story and told Smith "your wife is perfectly alive and in the process of filing a separate maintenance suit against you right now."

"That's what I meant," Smith replied.

Security Charge Case Is Halted

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The army has dropped security charges against Cpl. Walter W. Kulich, Aberdeen, Wash., whose father was accused of communist activities.

Rep. Don Magnuson, D. Wash., who had denounced the case as one of "guilt by inheritance," said Hugh M. Milton, T. assistant to the army secretary, advised him that Kulich had been cleared of the charges following an investigation.

"The American people will not sanction the principle of guilt by inheritance . . . the American traditions of justice leave no room for punishing a man for something his father is supposed to have done," the colon said.

CREW WALKS OFF

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—More than 500 crewmen of the Queen Mary walked off the ship early today.

Burdick, R. N.D., and Clarence Brown, R. O., appeared to be doing better, which congressmen euphemistically refer to as "treating their eyes."

It's Outing Time

The agriculture department's forest service this year is expecting a record crop of guests in its 151 national forests. More than 40 million persons used the forests as recreation areas in 1954, more than double the prewar high set in 1941. Sketch shows a breakdown of 1954 forest visits by purpose. ### Idaho Areas, Bases Act in Defense Test

BOISE, June 16 (AP)—Civil defense volunteers went through the motions yesterday of eating for 1,500 civilian evacuees who could be expected in Boise if Mountain House air force base were bombed.

It was part of nationwide "Operation Alert 1955."

William F. Galway, Boise CD director, said the exercise showed that our plans will function properly and would have worked if there had been a genuine emergency at the air base.

No air force base evacuees actually came to Boise during the test. Host quarters were set up at the Western ### Idaho Fairgrounds and Arrangements Made to Guide the Fugitives There and Register Them.

After that, they were—or would have been—sheltered at Boise Junior college and the wounded given emergency hospital treatment.

At the base, officials reported that all civilian and military personnel were evacuated. Civilians, equipped with rations for one day, moved to the base firing ranges in automobiles. When the practice alert was ended, they returned to the base.

Military personnel left the base in air force vehicles and "took to the woods" in full field gear. Base officials called execution of the maneuver "excellent."

Illegal Arrest Is Charged in Traffic Issue

BOISE, June 16 (AP)—A Washington state motorist sued Lewiston Police Commissioner Beth Durham and four police officers for $10,000 yesterday, saying he was illegally thrown in jail for the night with a drunk.

Clayton Pelton charged in a federal court complaint that the city had no right to detain him overnight last May 14 after arresting him for exceeding local speed laws by 15 miles per hour.

The state's uniform traffic code gave him the right to go free upon signing a promise to appear in court in five days or putting up bond, he claimed.

But the officers refused to call a magistrate or accept his promise, his car or his personal check as security, Pelton said, forcing him into a cell instead.

Pelton said that a drunk was put into the cell with him, with the result that he "suffered degradation and has been deprived of confidence and esteem, injured in his good name, offended and bothered."

Also named in the suit were Police Chief Frank P. Hart, desk officer Dale Ferguson, and patrolmen Harold M. Gorman and Mich Satterfield.

Salt Dropped to Big Game Herds

HAILEY, June 16 (AP)—An attempt to keep elk, deer and antelope off lower winter ranges, the state fish and game department has placed salt in the high range out of Tiber, Soda Springs, Pocatello, the Smokies, Big Wood river, Little Wood river, the Mackay area and around Hyndman peak.

The work was done by Lawrence Johnson, Halley airplane pilot, Harold Nielsen, Reaburg, assisted in that area; Richard Wright went with Johnson out of Pocatello and Dale Tanner, Jerome, big game biologist, directed in the Wood river districts. Boyd Thieten, Mackay, accompanied him over the Lost River area, and Martin Luther, Fairfield, flew with him over the Smokies.

"This is the second year Johnson has done the work. He has built a chute in his plane to accommodate two 50-pound blocks of salt at a time."

Public Power Is Played in Speech

ST. LOUIS, June 16 (AP)—The head of the Hoover commission task force on water resources and power said yesterday the federal government should get out of the power business.

"Ben Moreell, chairman of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, told the American Society of Civil Engineers that private utilities have the ability and the money to meet the nation's power needs.

"Technically and financially, there is no present or prospective need for federal power activities," Moreell said. "It is logical to conclude that no additional federal power projects should be constructed and that start should be made on disposing of federal projects to private industry or, if this is not feasible, to the states and local governments."

Sift flour and salt onto Spry mixture. Stir with round-the-bowl strokes into a dough that clings together and "cleans" the bowl. Work dough into a smooth round, roll between 12" squares of waxed paper into a circle 1/4" thick. Fit pastry into a 9" pie pan, prick, flute rim. Bake in very hot oven (450°F.) 14-19 minutes. Cool.

Battles Loom On Loopholes In GAW Plan

By United Press
A loophole in the Ford and General Motors guaranteed wage plan covering 515,000 auto workers could cause a political battle in state legislatures which might even prevent the plan from going into effect.

The loophole is a provision that no payments are to be made from the Ford and General Motors "job security" funds during lay-offs until state officials authorize the plan for company benefits as a supplement to the state unemployment benefits.

Rulings Needed
The contracts provide that the company benefits will not start before favorable rulings have been obtained in states in which Ford and General Motors have two-thirds of their employees.

If favorable state rulings are not given before June, 1957, the whole plan is to be terminated.

A United Press survey to determine what state legislatures are doing to amend unemployment laws which are in conflict with the GAW plan reveals that most states are "confused" about many legal questions and it may be a long time before solutions are found.

Politics Battled
Ohio tried to solve the problem in its state senate this week, but Republicans and Democrats squared off in a two-hour verbal slug and the bill died with no decision being reached.

Legislation—The Republicans were against the bill and the Democrats were for it. Now a special Ohio legislative committee will have to study the law and a decision will have to wait until the legislature meets again in 1957.

If Michigan and Ohio, for example, give the green light to the GAW plan, it could go into effect in June, 1956. Both General Motors and Ford have 500,000 of their employees in these two states.

Problem Noted
Walter Reuther, president of the OIO United Auto Workers, said the plan could work without legislative action if state attorneys general hand down favorable rulings.

Problem Noted
The big problem of the guaranteed annual wage arises from the fact that workers receiving this pay would lose all or part of their unemployment compensation benefits in at least 26 states.

In at least five states, workers paid a guaranteed wage by their employers would lose all unemployment benefits. These states are California, Connecticut, Kansas, Minnesota and Mississippi.

In at least 20 other states, only partial unemployment benefits would be allowed. In most of these states, no benefits would be paid if the guaranteed wage exceeded the amount of the benefit to which the worker was entitled.

Group Meets
WENDELL, June 15—Robert Gibson, vice moderator for the Westminster Fellowship, presided at the meeting Sunday. Marilyn Petersen was in charge of the program. Wayne Gibson conducted devotions. Plans were made for a hay ride with members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship as guests on June 21. Refreshments were served by Nedra Wiswell and Mary Ann Nowbrough.

America eats better dairy products because of cooperatives

The purity, flavor and abundance of nutritious dairy products on American tables is due in large measure to cooperatives.

Cooperatives have led the way in raising quality and guarding the freshness of dairy products all the way from the farm to retail store or milkman.

The cooperative has an important advantage in improving quality. The farmer who has a share in its ownership makes sure that the cooperative creamery receives the finest milk and cream for processing. He also insures that his cooperative handle his dairy products carefully and efficiently because higher quality products get a better price for him.

By supplying better dairy foods at fair prices, dairy cooperatives have contributed greatly to our nation's high standard of living.

Organization Asks Right to Question Passport Denials
 WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The state department can let Americans travel abroad or force them to stay home by granting or withholding passports. Any citizen who goes abroad without a passport commits a crime.
 This week the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) goes into federal court seeking to force the department to modify its reasons for refusing passports to let persons denied them have a chance to appeal.
 Last year more than 400,000 passports were granted. How many applications were turned down? An official of the passport division said he does not know because the department keeps no record on the number of denials.
 He said the department can refuse to grant a passport because:
 1. An applicant is a communist or has communist ties, has a criminal record, is insane, or can't pay his way;
 2. The department doesn't think letting a certain individual go abroad is in this country's best interests. This gives the department wide latitude.
 The official said in cases which fall under No. 2 the state department uses its own discretion. For example, an individual who wants to go to Latin America may, in the department's opinion, have links with revolutionary forces there. He wouldn't get a passport.
 David Carliner, ACLU attorney, says a person may be refused a pasport on the grounds that he said something considered disparaging about the United States.

 He gave an example: One man's passport was held up because he was accused, among other things, of having said that abroad that this country was full of capitalists who exploited labor. He finally got it.
 What appeal does an individual have—and what chances to face his accusers and refute them—if he is refused a passport? The passport official said everyone is told why he can't get a passport. Carliner says only some are told.
 The state department has an appeal board before which an individual, refused a passport, can appear. But the passport official said only people with criminal records or those accused of communist connections have a right to appeal to that board.
 What of all others who are not criminals and are not communists? The official said they have no appeal but can, if they want, get a hearing before people in the passport division. They are not told who their accusers are. Carliner says this is not a hearing but only an interview.

 Carliner will present two test cases to a federal judge to force the state department to give any person refused a passport a full hearing at which he can present evidence in his own behalf, hear all the evidence against him, be represented by counsel, and face his accusers.
 In the other case Carliner will challenge the right of the state department to withhold a passport, without a hearing, because a man participated in politics abroad.
 Until the Civil war an American did not have to go to the state department for a passport. He could get it from a notary public or state governor.

 Later the state department was given sole authority by congress to issue passports and has the power to withhold them. The ACLU does not challenge the department's right to refuse passports to communists or those with red ties.

Chicken, Beef Are Featured As Top Buys

By The Associated Press
Pick up a chicken dinner for dad on Father's day. Or tempt his palate with a roast of beef.

That's the advice food specialists are offering this week to budget-conscious housewives. Chicken broiling or frying (on the kitchen stove or the backyard barbecue) are probably the best buy you'll find in most U. S. food stores this week-end.

Turkeys are being offered at reduced prices in some cities. One big food chain is featuring ducklings in its midwest stores. And there's a nationwide promotion this week in most U. S. food stores this week-end.

Beef specials include rib roast and top and bottom round steaks. However, these are higher in price in most major cities.

Pork is High
Pork prices are still climbing—in some cities as much as 10 cents a pound. Prices of pork on the hoof are the highest since last September, and market analysts say they won't come down before July.

Green-fresh vegetables are in abundant supply in most areas of the country. Outstanding buys include cabbage and the ingredients of a crisp, hot-weather salad: Lettuce, beets, cucumbers, radishes and green onions. Also plentiful and attractively priced are string beans, peppers, peas and corn.

With Maine and Idaho potatoes out of season, there are plenty of top-quality spuds available from other areas. You can buy "long whites" and "round reds" grown in California, round whites from Virginia and North Carolina, and sweet potatoes from South Carolina.

Citrus Available
Citrus fruits are still in season and moderately priced, with lemons, oranges and grapefruit offering the best values. Canteloupes and red plums from the southwest are arriving in big city markets in increasing volume; prices are moderate and should get still lower in the weeks immediately ahead.

Attendees Funeral
SHOSHONE, June 16—Mrs. W. F. Shosone is attending funeral services for her stepmother in Ogden.

New Pastor

REV. RALPH H. PERRY
... new pastor for the Jerome First Christian church will deliver his first sermon in Jerome June 28. He replaces his brother-in-law, the Rev. Arlo E. Bristol, who has been pastor of the church the past six months. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will arrive in Jerome this week from Eugene, Ore., where the Rev. Mr. Perry has been attending the Northwest Christian college. He also has been student minister at Ferryside, Ore.

Show Presented

A hobby show, the first of its kind, was held Sunday evening at the Magic Valley Junior academy. A public dinner was served and a program presented. Leo Witherston and Lew Graham were in charge of the program. Dr. R. A. Drake showed a motion picture. Awards and certificates were presented by Mrs. Drake who was in charge of the program. Kenneth Wahlten conferred vocational honors and book certificates.

Camping Season Hits Nation; Millions Seek Fun Outdoors

By United Press
The water's fine for swimming. The fish are biting and the mountains are in full bloom. It's camping season, and about 4,500,000 camp-bound American kids are straining at the leash.

This week and next they'll be kissing mom and pop goodby in railroad and bus stations and on front doorsteps in every U. S. city. More than 13,000 resident and day camps, a figure that is rising faster than camping associations can keep track of, are waiting to welcome them.

About 250,000 will go from New York City. Chicago will disgorge

50,000 off the Alaskan coast. Their fee is $500 each. One hundred diabetic children will spend two weeks at a camp in California where no children but those with diabetes are allowed. The cost: $50. Some camps accommodate only crippled children or the blind.

The American Camping association says there has been a phenomenal rise in camping since 1950, especially in day camps on the outskirts of major cities.

The camping association made an effort toward a census of camps last year. It found 12,600 organized resident and day camps in the United States, and at least four million persons had an organized camping experience each year.

The number of resident camps has increased about 10 per cent

meanwhile, while day camps have seen a 20 per cent rise.

"School camps" are gaining popularity in some parts of the country. More than 10,000 school children went camping on school time in California this spring. San Diego alone sent 4,000 sixth graders into the country for a week of classes in natural lore, handicrafts and physical education.

By far the greatest number of boys and girls attend organizational camps—under sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the YMCA and YWCA, and a multitude of other religious and civic groups.

While camping is predominantly a pastime of the younger generation, there is hope for mom and dad. Camps are springing up where no one is admitted who is under 65.

What every good cook knows:

Just a little difference in ingredients makes a big difference in cooking results

Snowdrift is just a little lighter than any other shortening—and that can make the big difference in giving your family lighter, more digestible fried foods.

Snowdrift gives just a little more safety than ordinary shortenings, because it fries perfectly at correct high temperatures. That can make the big difference in digestibility of fried foods.

Snowdrift's ingredients are just a little costlier than any other solid shortening's (yet you pay no more). That can make the big difference in better tasting foods, whether fried or baked.

No other shortening at any price is so creamy, so digestible—and so light!
