LISBON, Portugal, July 1.—The Portuguese air force announced today that eight American B-52 bombers of the Portuguese air force in a stacked formation crashed follow-the-fashion into a fog-bound mountain peak. The eight pilots were killed in the crash which forced cancellation of the nation's observance of the 10th anniversary of the end of World War II.

Initial reports from the scene said the eight planes collided in the air during maneuvers after reports of other planes being given. Portugal is a member of the Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to clear a 3,000-foot pass in the fog-shrouded mountains.

Third group of four planes skinned over the hidden mountain top returned to their base at Lisbon, and outside Lisbon, two planes had taken off a little earlier from Olao airfield, flying safely to the port city for which they had been en route for three years ago, on July 1.

Four planes were flying in the three groups of four aircrafts of four each, the air force said.

President Charles de Gaulle was among the spectators who witnessed the flying demonstration. An air force spokesman said each of the 15 jet fighters that swept into the air this morning carried one missile, the first of four.

Marine Flier's Body Located On Mountain

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 1.—The body of a marine who died searching for a missing plane has been found on the volcanic slope of Mount Mimbres afternoon while the massive search for the two lost U.S. Marines continued from the air and land.

The dead marine's body was in the stage of his P-51 July 1 when he became separated from his wingman and crashed into sleeping volcano, it was learned.

He had been missing since June 26.

Hoover Group Decries Eight Over Program

WASHINGTON, July 1.—An Hoover commission task group reports it can see "no basic reason" for conflict between reclamation and the bureau of land management.

Views of the group, which was headed by former Gov. Leslie W. Miller of Wyoming, were made public Thursday by Representative Hollis C. Campbell, D-Tenn., a member of the Hoover commission on governmental organization.

The task group considers that the well-documented conflicts between reclamation and the bureau of land management are a clash of bureaucratic interests, augmented by the fact that there is a difference in the philosophies of their respective programs," the report said.

The task force recommended to the full commission that the reclamation bureau be charged with the construction of irrigation works. It was critical of some programs of the bureau, however, particularly its role in the development of the land and the economy.

Despite the fact the bulk of the increase of seven million acres of irrigated land in the 17 western states between 1935 and 1953 was to be found in developments by individuals and small districts, "the bureau of reclamation has a major share of the water supply," the report said.

The task force recommended to the full commission that the reclamation bureau be charged with the construction of irrigation works. It was critical of some programs of the bureau, however, particularly its role in the development of the land and the economy.

Hoover Group Forecasts Big Saving in U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The Hoover administration said yesterday adoption of its $22 economy proposals would save the government many billions of dollars—enough to meet all its obligations for 1937. It said those savings could be made without cutting the nation's military, strengthening public education and welfare programs.

No exact estimate could be made of total savings—the exact amount was not known—but investigations were often partially overlapping. But it said 12 of its task forces had findings in hand, and the "industry" totalized more than $1 billion dollars a year, and five other task forces recommended "great potential savings" but made no dollar estimates.

"In addition," the commission said, "with all such discipline there is no reason why we cannot fit to the balance of the budget and reduction of taxes."

Another 10 billion dollars could be saved by the government, the commission said, in reducing funding tied up in various federal agencies.

The commission made the statement in its first report, which it said was "an account of its stewardship" on its two-year investigation of government waste.

Although the report was the final one from the commission itself, several of its task forces will file other reports when printing is completed.

Boise Patrolman Wins Promotion

BOISE, July 1.—Jack C. Tucker, 28, a patrolman who was promoted to Lieutenant in charge of the Boise district, covering southwestern Idaho from Pocatello to Ketchum, has been given a $100 monthly raise.

E. Perkins, former Twin Falls policeman, who was appointed state police superintendent last May, has been promoted to the rank of Captain.

He will be in charge of seven patrolmen—including three recruits—who were added recently to Captain Perkins' staff.

Tucker, a former Boise county sheriff, joined the force in 1946. He served in army ground forces, and military units for two years during World War II.

Papers Filed for Estate of Dingel

A petition for probate of the estate of M. A. Dingel was filed Wednesday in Twin Falls probate court by his widow, Mrs. Delta M.

Real estate listed in the petition includes a home valued at $15,000; an undivided half interest in a home in the city of Twin Falls; and a partnership of Dingel and Smith, valued at $150,000; Buick automobile valued at $1,200; and $1,000 in cash.

Heirs listed in the petition are M. Dingel and M. A. Dingel, Jr., J. H. Sherrill, attorney, representer of the family; and the International Motion Picture Association.

Gates Threat

WENATCHEE, July 1.—Ronald Bensick, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Boxcars committee, says Idaho's Saturday bank closing law prevents him from driving business away from local towns such as Wenatchee and Payette.

He reported yesterday that the committee is considering keeping the Saturday close until Friday rather than Saturday night.

Rescue Crew Seeking Body On Mountain

JACKSON, Wyo., July 1.—Rescuers sought a body of a young school teacher from a tomb-like ravine on 13,765-foot Grand Teton mountain, where she had been missing since her marriage.

Frederick Ford, Jr., died Tues-were unable to reach him.

Ford was acting as a guide for John Austin, Cincinnati auto dealer, and Barbara Jane, wife of Robert Bartlett, radio station manager.

The youth fell 1,000 feet down the steep slope into the ravine.

hiker, had been sent to help

22 Jet Pilots To Vie in Air Trophy Race

ONTARIO, Calif., July 1 — Twenty-two of the nation's top week-end jet pilots take off to compete in the second annual Earl of Rick's Trophy race, a 1,400-mile dash to Detroit, Mich.

Six models of jet aircraft will compete in the air national guard race, with one pilot per a hundred.

The winner will be determined on the basis of elapsed time minus the handicap, also some models are faster than others.

The entry list includes the F86 Sabre Jet, the F86 Shooting Star, the F84 Thunderjet, the F84 Thunder-Break, the F84F and the F84C. All are in the exception.

All types are those in national guard use in the 21 states represented in the race.

Last year's trophy was won by Lieut. Charles J. Young, Jr., Lt. Dix N. J., flying a Sabre Jet, a twin place model. His wife will be back to defend his laurels. Young made the trip in 28 minutes, 15 seconds.

The race will be a 4-minute interval starting at 8 a.m. and all planes are expected to arrive at Wayne county airport between 18 and 1:30 p.m. Detroit time, signalizing the start of the international exposition there.

Other pilots include Maj. Robert Erickson, Salt Lake City, 786.
