Dummy Atom Bombs Used For Testings

AEC SALTON SEA BASE, Calif., Sept. 7 (AP)—The atomic energy commission disclosed today that air force and navy planes are dropping dummy atomic bombs at this $3,500,000 super-secret base to test A-bomb falling characteristics.

The AEC said characteristics of a bomb's fall from heights of more than seven miles are recorded by instruments on film from the time they leave the plane's bomb bay.

Instruments include telescopes, radar-like devices to record the dummy bomb's performance during its fall, powerful telescopes, radar monitoring systems and high-speed cameras.

Other instruments side in the bomb instead of explosives transmitting various data to monitoring stations located on the shore of this huge inland body of salt water. Targets of the bombs are at least 7,000 feet offshore.

Even the impact of the bomb is recorded. A radio-radar system "oversees" the entire operation, being capable of locating the planes to the largest and releasing the bombs.

Only non-explosive missiles, such as various A-bomb casings, are tested. No bombs are detonated on this 81-square mile facility, two thirds of which is over water.

Experts View Erratic Tour Of Sky Giant

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 7 (AP)—Scientists were stumped today on what way a giant runaway balloon set off by its cargo of zinc and sea pigs.

They figured it should be somewhere in the stratosphere in the general region of the upper Midwest. Coloradoans insisted they had a balloon like it bobbing high in Colorado.

Officials of Winzen Research, Inc., which launched the 25-story high balloon at International Falls, Minn., two days ago, insisted this couldn't be the balloon has been blowing relatively close to home—they think it is a side trip into Canada and has last seen near Duluth, Minn., during east.

But the Minnesota scientists added they couldn't be sure of the balloon's precise location because it has moved in to Idaho.

The big balloon was launched in Minnesota last Thursday as part of a force project to test the hazards of space travel.

The balloon was supposed to have parachuted its gondola to the ground Thursday. But something went wrong, and the gondola and sea pigs have been frustrating pilots ever since. The balloon is at its distance at a height of 20 miles. Nothing will bring it down except a kangaroo, and that may happen for weeks.

Army Record On Desertion Is Cleaned up

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—William F. Lydon's 27-year long hangerover lapsed yesterday. The ex-soldier was all square with the army—and his own conscience—over deserting the service in 1928.

Because the offense was long out-dated and forgotten, the First Army treated the 50-year-old Lydon 24 hours after he gave himself up at Governors Island because his conscience bothered him.

Said Lydon, a Park avenue apartment dweller, as he went free: "I have a very clear conscience and I'm glad I did what I did. I'm all clear and free. I feel fine. The army treated me very nicely. I'm going to get a discharge from Washington and it's going to be a good one."

Lydon, said he decided to desert after going on a spree with two buddies and oversteering his pass two days. He drifted back to civilian life without ever being bothered by the army. But his conscience never stopped bothering him.

In 1928, there was a three-year statute of limitations on army desertion—that is, a soldier had to be prosecuted within three years of the offense. For that reason, the army decided, Lydon can't be touched now.

Ocean Hurricane Threatens Ships

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—Hurricane Flora was caught in an area of light steering winds that might blow to a crew but still knocked winds of 100 miles an hour.

The hurricane, now grown to good size, was centered some 250 miles east of Bermuda and far from the American coastline. Its forward speed was only eight miles an hour.

Weathermen said the storm might drift along for another day or so. Then it should pick up more forward speed and move into the north Atlantic. It is a menace only to ships.

Summer Heat Doesn't Harm State's Crops

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—There is no evidence on hand that Idaho's late summer heat wave has had an adverse effect on crops. Commissioner of Agriculture Harold West said yesterday.

"In fact, we'd be a lot more worried by an early frost," he told a reporter.

Temperatures have averaged 13 or more degrees above normal in Idaho in the past 10 days, and heat records have been broken in a number of Idaho communities.

West said beet and potato farms had the most to fear from the heat, with the chance it might produce a drought and scaly crop. He said there have been no indications this has happened.

The heat could be a boon to fruit farmers if it is accompanied by cool nights, he said, for this would help extra color in the fruit.

West said the heat had led to longer irrigation seasons in some sections of Idaho but that most farmers had enough water to last out the year and there were few reports of shortages.

Elderly Man Is Killed by Crash

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—An 81-year-old Salt Lake man died last night after he stepped off a safety net on the path of an automobile.

Witnesses told police officers C. B. Clayton and Lamar Smith that Barth looked up and down the street and, apparently not seeing the Smith car, stepped in front of it.

No citations were issued.

University Given Moths Collection

MOSCOW, Sept. 7 (AP)—University of Idaho has received a collection of about 18,000 moth and butterfly specimens. Dr. William P. Barr, associate professor of entomology, said today.

The collection came from Mrs. Otto Huellemann, Osborn, Ida., and represents the lifetime avocation of her late husband.

Mr. Huellemann, who died last year at the age of 82, moved to the Wenatchee area in the late 1890s. Some of the specimens in the collection were mounted and dated back in the 1920s.

Dr. Barr said the collection will be used for teaching, research and exhibition purposes at the school.

NEGROES ENROLL IN Scattered Schools

By The Associated Press
Negroes began enrolling at newly desegregated schools scattered over the south Tuesday.

Schools at Oak Ridge, Tenn., which are financed by the atomic energy commission but operated under contract to the county school board, opened without a color bar. Less than 100 Negroes were enrolled.

Schools at three air force bases in Florida—MacDill at Tampa, Eglin at Valparaiso and Tyndall at Panama City—opened on a desegregated basis.

Most other public schools in the South reopened on a segregated basis.

About half a million of U.S. white people living today will live to 100 years old, statisticians estimate.

Nation Seeks Western Aid, No Alliances

DIARANTA, Indonesia, Sept. 7 (AP)—Indonesia's new prime minister said today his government would seek friendly relations with anti-communist nations without abandoning its neutrality in the East-West struggle.

Prime Minister Burhanudin Taribung said in an interview he did not believe the former government of Premier Ali Saragadjidjo was friendly to the United States.

"He said the Saragadjidjo government which entertained Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as a state guest was more polite to the communist front because it depended on it for communist votes in parliament."

Harahap also pledged himself to sever the still unsettled treaty with Red China which allowed Chinese residents to choose only between Indonesian citizenship or Indonesian citizenship.

Harahap said he would like to see Indonesia join the United States and that it might permit his cabinet to make a formal statement of decision on a foreign investment law for Indonesia.

"Indonesia needs foreign capital," he said. "It must be under conditions favorable to both foreign investors and Indonesia. That is what we want."

Harahap estimated his government would remain in office for six months while Indonesia prepared for general elections and that in the meantime he hoped the United States government that would be more friendly to the west.

Ike to Support Young Politico

DENVER, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower, still silent on his own 1956 reelection, has indicated his backing for a young Republican party needs more young leaders.

The chief executive scheduled an early summer White House appointment with Donald Young, a 34-year-old rising star in Colorado GOP politics who may make his bid for the presidency in the presidential election next year with the president's enthusiastic backing.

Brotzman, a Boulder, Colo., attorney and former chief of conservation of an area in an attractive blondo wife, came close to pulling down the Senate last year when he was governor on the GOP ticket as a virtual unknown at the state level.

The youthful Brotzman lost by slightly more than 3,000 votes out of nearly a half-million in the 1954 election. He is a former Democratic political warhorse, Edwin G. Johnson, who resigned from the Senate to run successfully for the governorship. The 11-year-old Johnson, who served two earlier terms as governor in the 1930s, recently announced he plans to retire for keeps at the end of next year.

Mr. Eisenhower keeps carefully aloof from GOP intra-party rivalry. But it is no secret that he believes strongly in encouraging successful young vote-getters.

Russia Tries To Jam U. S. Radio Shows

DENVER, Sept. 7 (AP)—Director Theodore G. Streibert of the U. S. information agency said yesterday the apparent cold war thaw has brought any slackening of Russia's efforts to jam "Voice of America" broadcasts.

Streibert told newsmen after a conference with President Eisenhower that "we welcome the spirit of Geneva" but it has not meant "any basic change in Voice of America's policies."

The "Voice" chief flew here Sunday from Washington to attend the President's agency's semi-annual report on U. S. information program abroad. Streibert conferred with Mr. Eisenhower briefly yesterday and for 45 minutes early today at the summer White House offices on Lowry air force base.

The chief executive arrived at his desk at 1:22 a. m. MET and saw Streibert at 8 a. m. Mr. Eisenhower was on his way to the Cherry Hills country club for a round of golf a few minutes after 9 a. m.

Streibert told reporters the Soviet are still using an estimated 1,000 transmitters full time to jam "Voice" broadcasts. The U. S. is using 15 transmitters to beam material into the iron curtain area.

Streibert said the information agency will stress even more strongly the "peaceful objective" of the U. S. but that no basic change in policy is planned.

Partnership Plan Called Subterfuge
BOULDER, Colo., Sept. 7 (AP)—Republican claim of federal-private partnership in flood control and power projects is "just plain subterfuge," Gen. James E. Murray, D. (left), told the Western Political Science association last night.

"It is an attempt to provide an excuse for turning over to private utilities a power development program to be carried out at the expense of the public, for private profit," he said.

Murray, chairman of the senate interior and insular affairs committee, delivered a heated attack on what he called "hostile" GOP reclamation policies.

Ever See Anyone So Well Chaperoned?

Open Letter, With Advice, Is Sent to All Young School Men

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—An open letter to a young man just starting kindergarten:

1. Don't arrive looking like a bum. Put on your snapniest suit, your brightest necktie. Be a stand-out in your class, so that when you arrive the other kids will judge each other and ask, "Who's he? Boy, wonder where he got those crazy, two-tone shoes?"
2. Your mother, of course, thinking you are still a child, will want you to school the first day. When she introduces you to your teacher, you should look up to your teacher and say warmly, "Gee, you're pretty. I wish you were my mama." This will not only give your mother a quill complex—it'll put you in solid with the teacher.
3. You will probably notice some of your little classmates have longer hair than others. These strange-looking creatures are girls. Greet them cordly and stay away from them. If you cry up to them, before long they'll be wanting half your position. Remember, a boy who shares his lollipop with girls in kindergarten is the sucker who later on has to buy ten milk coats.
4. Several of your questions. If the teacher asks "who killed Cock Robin?" don't brag. "I did. I shall only send you to the school psych."
5. Never throw spitballs. If you do, you'll probably end up racking balls in a pool hall. The time to throw spitballs is when you have grown up and become vice president and don't have much else to do.
6. Don't play marbles for keeps during recess periods with any of those big affable strangers from the first grade. They're all sharpies.
7. Make all the contacts you can. If there is the son of a bank president in your class, pick him for a friend. You may want to borrow money from him or sell him life insurance in after years.
8. If you must go with a girl, go with one who has wealthy parents. Never look down your nose at a girl just because her family has a background of money.
9. After a few days, tell your daddy he's going to have to double your weekly allowance. Let him know it costs more to stay in the social whirl in kindergarten now than it did when he was a kid.
10. As for the rest of it, junior, just buckle down and do the best with each new problem as it arises. Remember that, in kindergarten, what

Driver Fined

Richard P. Byrd, 27, Elm street, paid $15 in fines and $6 costs Wednesday in Twin Falls justice court when he pleaded guilty of two violations of the state vehicle code. Byrd was fined $10 for failure to display plates on a semi-trailer truck parked on highway 30 three miles south of Rogerson and a $5 fine for failure to have mud flaps on the vehicle. He was cited at 8:30 p. m. August 29, by state police.

You are to be, little man, you are now becoming. With best wishes from a veteran of the class of '17. Hal Boyle

In 1948, the number of farmers in Idaho has increased from 113,000 to 146,000.

Permits Offered

BOISE, Sept. 7—The Idaho fish and game department said today it still has a number of special deer hunting permits available which will be sold to hunters on a "first come, first served" basis. The permits were left over following a second drawing yesterday. The hunt also had failed to fill during an earlier drawing. The hunt and approximate number of permits included: Cassia hunt No. 2, 400; Sublett, 10; Black Pine, 100; Middle South, 100; and Snake River mountain unit 1, 350, and unit 2, 70; Gwyhee, 180, and south fork of the Payette, 250.

Safety Factor Built in Ford Autos for '56

A "five-part package" of safety devices to protect passengers in the event of highway wrecks is the primary feature of the 1956 Ford cars.

New safety features include a "five-part" safety steering wheel which gives way gradually under crash impact; safety door latches which prevent car doors from springing open in a crash; safety belts to front and back-seat passengers; crash cushioning on instrument panel and sun visors, and shatterproof rear view mirrors. The Ford Motor Co. company announcement of the new safety features says that "the new concept of protecting the passenger" is based on the principle of first trying to keep passengers within the vehicle during an accident, and then deactivating car components to help occupants absorb the energy of the crash.

Driver Uninjured

JEROME, Sept. 7—Rex E. Curry, 17, Boise, was uninjured when he lost control of the 1950 Oldsmobile sedan he was driving two miles west of Eden on highway 25 Saturday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Gordon Newby, who investigated, said Curry was traveling west behind a Ford tractor driven by Nevell Brill, Hazelton, Brill made a left turn off the highway as Curry passed on the right side. Curry hit gravel and lost control of his car. Damage to the Oldsmobile, which was owned by Paul O. Mathews, Boise, was listed at $100.

In 1948, the number of farmers in Idaho has increased from 113,000 to 146,000.

Columnist Rises to Fishing Challenge: He Sails Early

By HENRY McLEMORE

fisherman and would rather fish than eat. There are men who like to fish even when nothing is biting. They are perfectly satisfied just to be outdoors, communing with nature. I have never found a seat on a fishing boat that was as comfortable as a living room rocker.

I wasn't there because I like to get up early in the morning. A sunrise has never appealed to me as much as the slight of the whole sun itself. The way the sun is, say, around ten-thirty or eleven in the morning. No colored clouds to detract from its majesty. No sleep in a man's eyes, either.

Then the sun came up and I had to quit quizzing myself, because the water off Al Christensen's boat hooped on Whiteby Island was jammed with boats. How I ever missed running into a person or so off them in the darkness, I'll never know.

I had never fished for salmon before so it took me a little while to get my tackle rigged. I had quite a bit of trouble threading my herring onto the hook device. The herring has to be put on just so, else it won't look alive in the water and the salmon will pass it by. And if there is anything more slippery than a herring when you are handling it with slightly numbed fingers, I don't know about it.

By the time I had our lines out, people in other boats already were landing salmon. A very stout lady in a small cruiser not much larger than my own had been baiting her line for breakfast time she had already landed the limit.

Mary madgaure our boat wouldn't be skunked, as fishermen say, by hauling in a salmon when she was in to see if her bait was still in good shape. It was the smallest salmon ever caught. I am sure. How it ever got that far out in the sound is a mystery. It wasn't more than three inches long and surely couldn't have swam (swum?) out there by itself. Hitted a side, I imagine.

Then I caught my first salmon—an 18-pound Chinook. And then I knew why I was out there on Puget sound. It clearly resented being caught by the likes of me, and put up a game fight. We could have caught our limit, I'm sure, but we tried for sport as soon as the Chinook was safely aboard. I wasn't going to run the risk of capsizing or getting blown out to sea, and losing that salmon.

The Chinook really weighed 18 pounds. I am amazed that I didn't write 38 pounds instead of 18. I think I'll change it to 18 right now. Makes a better story, doesn't it? (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Volcano Birth Watched in Mexico Field

MEXICALI, Mexico, Sept. 7 (U.P.)—Aure in a cotton field spewed sulfur, hot rocks and boiling mud today, raising conjecture that a volcano was being born in the area.

Local police reported 14 fissures split the earth Sunday morning Saturday and one began to flow and throwing debris 70 to 100 feet into the air 14 miles from this border town, 170 miles from Los Angeles.

Thick clouds of white and blue sulfur gases belched forth from the fissures.

A group of volcanologists from the City reportedly was flying over the scene today to determine whether this was the third volcano in the past decade in the area.

Just volcano discovered in the northwestern part of Mexico was Bouqueron south, first noted in September, on San Benedicto island, 250 miles south of lower California's most famous volcano of the century in Paricutin, which burst forth in a farmer's corn field in central Mexico near Morelia.

Visiting Reds Slate Canada Farm Jaunts

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (U.P.)—The touring group of 12 Russian farm experts, headed by anti-communist demonstrators, planned a day-long visit to the several thousand acres of the Dominion experimental farm.

The Soviet party's plans for the rest of the week were vague. There has been some talk of a flying visit to a reclamation project in Nova Scotia but no definite word was available on it.

The Russians arrived here late Sunday after a 400-mile bus ride from the British Niagara peninsula. They passed up a scheduled two-day stay in Toronto and a visit to the Canadian National exhibition because of newspaper reports about bombing and riot demonstrations.

The visitors spent much of the day in the section of their hotel rooms here. It was their first day of relaxation in the Canadian tour, which has been marked by noisy demonstrations of anti-communist groups in Montreal, Winnipeg and London, Ont.

The external affairs department called the demonstrations "deplorable" in a special statement issued late yesterday.

"These visitors are the guests of the government," the department said, "and the unruly demonstrations are deplorable."

Marine Hints Plans on Big $64,000 Quiz

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Capt. Edward Sherrill McCutchen, a man who commutes between the hills of Montezuma and marina, went out a hint today that he might be the first contestant to go on "TV" for the $64,000 quiz.

McCutchen, who twice flunked his Scout cooking test, moved up the $32,000 level on the airway last night by answering a two-part query dealing with food cooking. The flunky, crew-cut, freer officer will get a chance next week to double his stake or quit.

It was learned that McCutchen based on his application to the show that he "wasn't the first $64,000 to be won by a marine." He had on the form "Does that sound like a really chivalrous question?"

McCutchen, assigned to naval duty at Ohio State university at Columbus, will be permitted to bring an expert to the show as his aid if he decides to go for the full amount next Tuesday. One report is that he might name his father, John McCutchen, a retired naval captain who also is an expert in the cooking field.

The question that thrust McCutchen into the $32,000 contest was the 11th deserts. He was asked to name the origin and describe "bombe" sauce, a mild or melon lined with a kind of ice cream, zabaglione (Italy) egg yolk, sugar and wine, a croque (French) or croque au gratin (doughnut or cruller with raisins in the center), flummary (Wales or Ireland) American, custard pudding (English) or profiteroles (France), a highly spiced cake.

Of the 50-year-old marine does it all the work on the next telecast, he will be the first to go. Two other contestants are permitted to appear in New York, and Bible expert, Calvin Kretzler, Camp Hill, Pa., both of whom are in the running.

McCutchen will win a Cadillac as consolation prize in an event he has to answer the $64,000 question.

The council meeting for the MYF was held Monday evening at the home of Ann King. A roller skating party was planned for Sept. 14.

The group will assist with the church worship on the second Sunday of each month. The fund for the will sing and other members will be in charge of the call to worship. The scriptures lesson and the offering. The MYF group will be in charge of a candy booth, kiddie rides and the fish pond for the WGBS annual festival on Sept. 20.

Mother's Try to Save Child Falls

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A young mother, who tried in vain to save her baby from being crushed by a falling elevator, died Tuesday. She had fallen three stories down the elevator shaft.

The mother was Marie Handrick, 25, Manhattan.

The double tragedy started Monday as the Handrick family left the elevator at third floor. Apparently the baby's stroller bumped against the elevator controls.

The elevator rose and crushed the carriage and 6-month-old Linda Handrick to death against the wall of the shaft. This mother tried to hold back the door but the door would not open. She died of her injuries in a hospital.

Caution Seen For Dealings With Soviets

MOSCOW, Sept. 7.—The United States is "willing to extend the light, firm of friendship to Russia" but we will be wary, U. S. Sen. John J. Sparkman, D., Ala., said yesterday.

Sparkman said he hoped the apparent spirit of goodwill which resulted from the Geneva summit conference would continue. But he warned that "I don't think we should overplay Geneva."

He echoed the view of most U. S. lawmakers visiting Russia that there should be more visits between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Sparkman, Sens. William A. Purcell, R., Conn., and George W. Malone, R., Nev., U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and their wives visited the Stalin automobile works yesterday.

Purcell, a former manufacturer, estimated that about 60 per cent of the factory's machinery was of pre-war American make.

But Sparkman said regarding Soviet industrial capabilities that "we'd be kidding ourselves if we think these people can't do the job."

Nation's Hope Seen on Back Of Leader, 80

BONN, Germany, Sept. 7.—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came back on his historic mission of Moscow this week with the fate of a man nearing 80 years of age.

West Germany's iron-willed "grand-old-man" celebrates his 80th birthday next Jan. 5. He is still firm and imperious in his manner.

He looks about 15 years younger.

But despite the issues that have been many a younger man he has done nothing to pinpoint a "crown prince" or possible successor.

The chancellor is making plans four and five years ahead, always with the thought that he himself will still be at the helm. Adenauer has never seemed to consider the possibility that he might some day have to give up—might even die in harness.

That is why he seems in no hurry to designate a successor.

But other German leaders and the German press have been nagged increasingly by the question: "What will happen to this nation when Adenauer goes?"

The chancellor himself has done nothing to answer it. On the other hand, he appears to have taken particular glee in slapping down anyone in the running for the succession.

If Adenauer should die tomorrow the choice probably would be between two of his ablest aides—peppery little Finance Minister Fritz Schaeffer from Bavaria and able little "Professional" Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

West Germany's iron-willed "grand-old-man" celebrates his 80th birthday next Jan. 5. He is still firm and imperious in his manner.

He looks about 15 years younger.

But despite the issues that have been many a younger man he has done nothing to pinpoint a "crown prince" or possible successor.

The chancellor is making plans four and five years ahead, always with the thought that he himself will still be at the helm. Adenauer has never seemed to consider the possibility that he might some day have to give up—might even die in harness.

That is why he seems in no hurry to designate a successor.

But other German leaders and the German press have been nagged increasingly by the question: "What will happen to this nation when Adenauer goes?"

The chancellor himself has done nothing to answer it. On the other hand, he appears to have taken particular glee in slapping down anyone in the running for the succession.

If Adenauer should die tomorrow the choice probably would be between two of his ablest aides—peppery little Finance Minister Fritz Schaeffer from Bavaria and able little "Professional" Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

Miss McDonough Wed to Robert Martin in Rituals

Annette Ruth McDonough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis W. McDonough, exchanged nuptial vows with Robert Raymond Martin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Martin, Sr., Sunday at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Henry P. Jonas performed the ceremony before a background of white and pink gladioli.

The bride chose a gown of white French illusion lace over satin with light pink sleeves, V neckline, fitted bodice and a bouffant ballerina length skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and a white orchid on a white ribbon. Her veil was of white nylon net.

For sentiment she wore a blue sash made by Mrs. Ken Leonardson, Rupert; carried a white handkerchief, a gift from her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Thomas W. McDonough, Moscow, and had a Masonic penny in her shoe which she borrowed from her father, Mrs. McDonough, Moscow.

Marilyn Martin, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, groomed in ballerina length lavender net. The bridesmaids were Janis Summerman and Sue Leonardson, Rupert. They wore matching gowns of pale green tulle, ballerina length, with matching tulle caps made by Mrs. Charles B. Beymer and Mrs. Jerry Jensen. The bride's attendants carried colonial bouquets of white carnations and pink roses.

Raymond Peck was best man and the ushers were David Anderson and Steve Pierce, both fraternity brothers, and Travis McDonough, Jr., brother of the bride.

The flower girls were Janis Martin, sister of the bridegroom, and Vikki Hietter, dressed in lavender nylon with white trim. They carried baskets of daisies and pink roses. William McDonough, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

Mrs. McDonough chose a dusty rose afternoon dress with black accessories and a white carriage corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Martin wore a coffee colored afternoon dress with brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Reverend Montgomery sang, "This Alone," "September Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Nan Boden was the organist.

At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. W. J. King, Mrs. George F. Clayman, Jr., Boise, and Mrs. John C. McDonough, Pocatello, both aunts of the bride, served the coffee cake prepared by Mrs. Robertson and Rae Larsen. The punch was poured by Sharon Rude and Betty Davis. Beverages by Mrs. Boise, was in charge of the guest book. The gifts were arranged by Stephanie Green, Sally Nixon and Phillinda Perry.

For the wedding trip to Sun Valley the new Mrs. Martin chose black and beige rayon tweed slacks.

or luxuries or even for expensive entertainment. Her final word of advice is: "The big things any new wife should remember is that it is so much easier to live UP to two salaries than to live DOWN to a budget. If a young couple can realize that one human frilly, they have hurdled one of the most serious problems in young marriage, where both husband and wife work."

Keeping up with the Joneses is so tempting. It requires real judgment to save and live simply when the money is actually there.

"It is very easy to spoil a good man and a good husband (even the best) by eating the financial load too fast. To maintain respect on both sides, TIME LIMIT and BUDGET CONTROL are of great importance."

This is sound advice from a woman who has practiced what she preaches and therefore knows that it works.

Any young working wife would be wise to at least consider adapting these pointers to her own use.

We, the Women

A wife who set a time limit on how long she would work after marriage had some sound advice for the girl who plans to marry and keep on working "for a little while." Set a time limit on how long you are going to work. Once a time limit is established, there is not so apt to be that dragged-out indecision, that constant reliance on a second pay check coming in without end.

Her second pointer is: "Decide at the start how the wife's pay check is to be spent." This wife and her husband decided that out of her pay check should come her immediate expenses, such as housekeeper, carfare, lunches, spending money, etc. The remainder went into a savings account toward a home—but was not to be spent for a "fancy car."

At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. W. J. King, Mrs. George F. Clayman, Jr., Boise, and Mrs. John C. Gracious Mother Holds Teens and Friends at Home

NEW YORK (NEA)—Most teenagers, oddly enough, don't just like to be granted that their homes are open to their friends. It takes real teamwork on the part of mother to make them feel that their friends are really welcome. The first time your teen-age son brings a new friend home with him to do homework is your chance to contribute to your son's popularity and your own reputation as a mother who's "all right."

School grapevines operate quickly and will pass along the word that there's a good time to be had at Jim's house. From here, it's just a step to open house. When Jim decides that he wants to have the going over for supper, it's time for you to step aside gracefully. Give him the advice he needs, offer shopping suggestions and let him carry through. He might like to try a hamburger fella. Turn the kitchen over to the kids and let them prepare the simple meal cooperatively. (Also, you'll get out of cooking for so long on starving boys and girls. This is no mean feat.)

If your gas range is equipped with a removable cast-alloy griddle, you're in the clear. The hamburger fella can be quickly grilled on a hot-heating metal tray which covers only one top gas burner. # LINDLEY'S HATS TWO HOMERS AS COWBOYS BEAT BOISE 8 TO

Magic Valley Takes Lead In Playoff Series; Reidner Goes Distance for Victory

Paced by a pair of homers off the bat of Ken Lindley, Magic Valley beat the Pioneer league champion Boise Braves 8-3 Tuesday night in the first game of the Shaughnessy playoff. More than 1,800 fans, including a delegation of about 100 from Boise, looked on at Jaycee park as the Cowboys pounded out 11 hits and overcame a first-inning, three-run deficit. John Reidner, who owns the only no-hit, no-run game in the league this season, was upset for four hits and three runs by the Braves in the first inning. Reidner then steadied down and scattered five hits and two runs through the rest of the game. Reidner, who beat the Braves the first time he faced them this year, was in fine form. He fed the Braves an assortment of breaking pitches and walked only two batters. The Braves fired their big guns in the opening frame. Bob King and Bob Jacoby hit successive singles and Arnie Hallgren blasted one of Reidner's offerings out of the park for a home run. The Cowboys got back into the ball game in the third inning. Lindley, who struck for the regular season striking to hit the 300 mark, suddenly found the range and blasted a home run. He opened the inning with a blast over the left field fence. Three more Cowboys came home in the fourth inning. Comp Campbell drew a base on John Sweich slacked a sharp single. Lindley then stepped up and walloped the Braves with another homer. Woodard opened the final Cowboy inning with a single and went all the way to third on Hermon King's single with Hermon taking home on the play. The victory put the Cowboys one-up over the Braves. The best-of-three series will play out in Boise for the second game—and the third, if necessary.

'Gopher Ball' Champs Lead Again in '55

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—The American league pennant pacesetter Tuesday swung to the Boston Red Sox, the team that was considered out of the race only a week ago. Although they're in fourth place, three games behind the pacesetter Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox's chances were considered brighter than they've been all year. Here is why:

Playoff Schedule

1. During the past 10 days they've won 10 of their last 15, including the last five in a row.
2. The schedule seems to favor them the most. Of their remaining games, only two will be played in friendly Fenway park. In contrast, New York hasn't out of 18 at home; Chicago 5 of 12 and Cleveland only 5 of 12.
3. The pressure won't be as great on the Red Sox as on the other three contenders. Boston is in the role of the pursuer and the pressure of being greater "at home" than to look back over their shoulders. The Red Sox are loose, relaxed and confident. Manager Mike Higgins said: "If we don't win the pennant, we're going to scare the pants out of everybody."
That somebody may be the New York Yankees, who still have to win the Red Sox game in Fenway park. Before that, however, the Yankees will engage the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium, meeting each club twice. The Chicago White Sox, a game and a half off the pace, will meet Friday and Saturday, following Kansas City into the stadium. Then will come Cleveland for a doubleheader and Detroit for a single game next Tuesday and Wednesday.
The next five days may be the most crucial for Boston, too. Starting Wednesday, the Red Sox play top contenders Cleveland, Detroit and the White Sox in a doubleheader Sunday.

Tom Gordon, an end from Malpais, and a guard, and Fred Schroeder and Dennis Stevenson, tackle, are returning to the Huskies. The 170 pounds, is the heaviest of the returning lettermen.
The letterman who will be plenty of action this fall are Tommy Jones, Glenn Ross, Robert Wright, Delbert Wilson, Don Norris, Don Stone, Melvin Thaele, Eldon Larsen, Wesley Rathbun and Sherman Hansen. They are the center of the Huskies on Friday, the Huskies play host to Castleford on Sept. 10. On Sept. 23, the New York Yankees will play at Malta. "He opened his cavernous jaws and almost before I knew what I was doing, I threw in the drink."

Millo sighed.

"Alas, my little dog, I realize now he would become debauched. Now he wishes to do nothing but drink. Whenever people gather on my lawn, the clink of glasses acts as a signal and he comes out of the water. He wanders around until he meets a sucker—present company excepted, of course."

"Well, I wouldn't necessarily have believed the story except that this bold Sultite waltzes rather im-
