Plans Readied To Get Photos Of Hurricanes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Government scientists hope with the help of high altitude rockets to photograph some of this year's hurricanes in the act of being born, growing up, aging, and dying.

With such photos and other information the weather bureau hopes in time to perfect methods of forecasting the mammoth tropical storms which annually threaten or ravage the Gulf of Atlantic coasts.

The bureau also hopes ultimately to find means of steering hurricanes to make them miss populated areas.

Part of Research

The photography program will be part of a big hurricane research undertaking which the weather bureau will launch from bases in Florida, probably in May.

Representatives of the bureau and the national advisory committee for aeronautics will start work this month on technical aspects of the rocket photography project. The NACA has had nine years of experience firing high-soaring rockets at Wallops Island, Va.

Weather scientists hope to get pictures taken high enough, about 50 miles up, to show an entire hurricane from its eye to its distant fringes. Photographs snapped from hurricane piercing airplanes show only relatively small parts of the storm.

Stagger Shots

The idea, an official said, would be to stagger the rocket firings during the season to catch different stages through which a hurricane goes from birth to death.

The purpose of the over-all hurricane research project is to find out everything possible about the causes of hurricanes, the broad atmospheric environment in which they are spawned and move, and the tremendous internal and external forces which influence their course.

The air force is providing three specially-equipped planes, one a jet, for the project. These planes are in addition to the hurricane hunting and watching aircraft in regular use each year.

Military Service Now Slated for All Youths; Not Many Will Escape Duty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—About 700,000 persons from civilian life—either through draft or enlistment—to meet their manpower needs. Thus the seven in nine odds are that most of the 700,000 to be taken in this year will come from older age groups. But the odds will catch up with the new crop in future years.

Breaking down that 960,000-man group further, about 10,000 will be exempted as divinity students or sole surviving sons; 30,000 will be in the national guard; 280,000 will be ROTC units; 280,000 will be drafted, principally as students, and 150,000 will enlist before reaching age 18. That leaves 440,000 going into the manpower pool to be drafted or recruited at a later date on active duty and in the reserve.

Defense manpower experts concluded that the probability is that the 18-year old will not be drafted immediately. Draft boards now are including men at an average age of between 22 and 23, and in some states the age has gone up over 24.

With the present odds that a youth will see military service, how can he fulfill his military obligation? The new reserve law passed by congress last summer opened up several avenues of military service. There are the principal ones:

Enlist—Enlist in one of the services before receiving induction notice. The enlistment run from three to six years. The enlistee must serve a combined total of five years in active duty and in the reserve. Six-month reserve program—Volunteer before reaching 18, for six months active duty followed by 7 1/2 years participation in the ready reserve.

Reserve—Enlist in the reserves for six years with the provision that two of these years must be served on active duty.

National Guard—Enlist in the national guard before 18, and serve in the guard until age 24. This term of duty can be extended to eight years by taking six months' active duty.

Student deferments—Obtain an academic deferment through selective service examinations to continue a college education. This term of duty still have an obligation to serve after completion of studies with the obligation extending until age 35. College students can enroll in ROTC and obtain a commission with the provision that they must serve at least two years on active duty or six months active duty and six months in the ready reserve.

Prospect Good for Irrigation In Northwest, Survey States

BOISE, Jan. 7.—Recent heavy snow measurements of the winter rains have brightened chances of an excellent irrigation year in the Pacific Northwest, the U. S. soil conservation service reports. It's too early to tell, the service said today, whether the rains have also set the stage for floods next spring on a scale to dwarf those which caused damage in Oregon, Washington and Idaho last month. Rains have primed the soil throughout the Columbia river basin, in the service's report said. First-

Notice Looms For New U. S. H-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Look for an official announcement soon that the United States will stage new H-bomb tests in the Pacific this year. President Eisenhower has made it clear that this country will not be duped by foreign propaganda into calling the tests off.

Atomic sources saw in his state of the union message assurance that the United States will continue to perfect nuclear weapons for defense of the free world.

A congressional authority said the new tests will be held this spring at the Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the Marshall islands. The last tests there, in the spring of 1954, were of "super H-bombs" comparable in violence to 15 million or 20 million tons of TNT.

"This year," the congressional authority said, "we are thinking in terms of 40 million to 50 million tons."

The 1955 tests will go on as scheduled—despite political pressure from the Communist world, from India, and from British Laborite circles.

It will be another month or so before the service can spruce the likelihood of floods next spring, Nelson said. He explained that more than two-thirds of the snowpack is still to fall.

The weather bureau predicts light to moderate precipitation for Idaho for the next 30 days.

Areas with the heaviest snowcover, the SCS said, were along the Bitterroot, Pend Oreille, Wenatchee and Yakima rivers in Washington and northern Idaho, and along the upper and middle Snake rivers, Big Lost river, Big Wood river and Salmon and Boise rivers in the Snake river basin.

Pyramidologists Admit Slight Error, World War III Will Not Begin in 1956

By ROBERT MUSEL. LONDON, Jan. 7.—We've all just had a narrow escape, folks. The pyramidologists were all set to announce World War III for 1956, but when they found out they had made a mistake measuring a certain chamber in the great pyramid of Cheops.

"Of course," said perky little Dr. Adam Rutherford, president of the Institute of Pyramidology, "there may still be a war this year, but we won't be able to claim credit for predicting it." He seemed almost regretful.

"We can only reveal," he said, "what is written in that great stone prophecy which it is our function to interpret."

Dr. Rutherford is just back from lectures in Lapland and has recently been in Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Holland. Next spring he goes to Ireland and the United States where he has lectured or talked to pyramid fans in most of the 48 states.

"You mean a lot of people believe the great pyramid contains the future of the human race built into its passages and chambers?"

"You can say we have a good many thousands of believers," beamed the little doctor who looks young. He is 62, but could pass for 45.

Pyramidology started 90 years ago after a Scottish scientist found what he believed to be a mathematical key in the construction of the immense pyramid which contains enough masonry to build 30 Empire State buildings.

"This key or unit of measurement," he said, "led him, and his successors, including Rutherford to state flatly that the biggest man-made structure on earth was completed in 141 B.C. At first Egyptologists gave 3500 B.C. as the date of completion but they've been gradually moving toward our date," Charles Rutherford, a doctor of divinity.

It is difficult to grasp the theory of pyramidology in one easy lesson. Passages that descend to lower chambers while those that lead to upper chambers are good omen.

Each unit of measurement or "pyramid inch" represents one year. If you've got this much solved we can let Dr. Rutherford do the measuring for us.

The year 2141 B.C. is represented by the score lines in the pyramid. Exactly 688 pyramid inches further on is an aperture in the roof. Obviously a big event is intended. One inch to a year gives 143 B.C.—the date of the exodus from Egypt.

This marks the beginning of an esebding passage. 1,485 inches cor years long. That brings us to 33 A.D.—the crucifixion.

When Dr. Rutherford was a boy in 1893, Egyptologists of which his father was one, deduced that an ominous event of great magnitude would occur in 1914. They figured this from the length of the grand gallery in the pyramid of Cheops—1,891 pyramid inches (30 years) measured from the end of the passage at 33 A.D. The event was World War I.

I asked Dr. Rutherford if the pyramid had anything specific to say about 1956. He then pointed about the wrong measurement. But he added there will definitely be a World War III before 1970, when measurements show the start of a long, perhaps permanent period of peace on earth and good will to all men.

Communism won't be around for this joyous era, according to his study of pyramid inches. Neither, he says, will the United Nations. But it won't be needed any more anyway.

KNOTHOLE NEWS

The Slinkers and Whirlwinds remained the only unbeaten teams in the seventh grade division of the Knothole basketball league after four rounds of play.
 In games played Saturday morning in the junior high school gymnasium the Slinkers utilized the four points contributed by both Dick Bacon and Gary Craner to stop the Sabers in a nip-and-tuck 12 to 12 battle. Joe Abeglian dunked six for the losers.
 Led by Terry Lawrence's 12 points, the Whirlwinds stayed on top with a 28 to 24 win over the Junior Bruins, who were paced by the 14 points chalked up by Dale Willis.
 The Comets took undisputed control of second place by swamping the Wasps 29 to 14. Dale Robertson paced the winners with nine points followed closely by his teammate Robert Whitteizer's eight. Mike McCoy stuffed in seven for the Wasps.
 Roger Michner scored 18 points to pace the Hotshots to an easy 40 to 27 decision over the Peeps, who were led by Larry Maupin with eight points.
 Ricki Wilhite scoring 16 and David Johnson 14, left only three points to be gathered by their teammates, the Hurricanes, to blow past the Stars 33 to 20. Gary Toler netted half the points scored by the losers.
 In a high-scoring sixth grade game, the Kilowatts successfully defended their unbeaten record by dumping the Unknowns 59 to 50. It was the fourth consecutive defeat for the unlucky Unknowns who were paced by Charles Cosgriff and Elwood Peck with 15 points each. Dennis Birrell took the day's top scoring honors by bucketing 24 for the Kilowatts.
 The Fighting Five tamed the Eagles 18 to 12 in another low-scoring game. Keith Melville with eight and HARVEY LYONS with six paced the winners and losers, respectively.
 Held to a 17 to 10 lead in the first half, the All Stars, paced by Tom Watson's 17 points, tipped the game open in the closing minutes to overwhelm the Wolverines 38 to 28. Joe Cox hit for eight points in the losing cause.
 The Freightliners took a two-game lead in the fifth grade division, walling off the Fighting Devils 38 to 9. Bobby Collins scored all but two of the losers' total while Jerry Michener and Richard Roth netted eight apiece for the victors.
 With both teams ice cold, the Cougars outlasted the Baggers 7 to 16. Bob Satterwhite, Cougars, took the game's scoring honors while Calvin Graner bucketed four for the losers.
 Paced by Mark Detweller's eight points, the Meatball tipped up the front-running Typoons 18 to 12 in fourth grade action. Jumping to an early lead, the victors were in command all the way. Grant Smith and Karl Kleinopf both scored six points in an effort to maintain their unmarred record.
 By virtue of their 18 to 6 victory over the Bulldogs, the Shorties pulled into a tie for second place. John Reed with eight and Stephen Humphries with four paced the winners and losers, respectively.

 tion for manufacturing and distribution of this particular device," he said. "The location of Twin Falls is ideal for distributing the potato stamping device, not only in Idaho but for all the potato-growing machines in states from Colorado to Washington."
 Self points out that Idaho action in developing the potato-stamping machine already has moved several other states to take similar action. As a result, Alhburg has received inquiries concerning his machine from several other potato-growing states.
 "Self says there is a trend for all major potato states to protect their product with the stamp. He says national regulations may be adopted to make stamping mandatory. The topic may be discussed by the National Potato Council at a meeting planned later this month, he added.
 Gov. Robert E. Smylie and Harold West, commissioner of agriculture, contacted Alhburg to develop a stamp to protect Idaho potatoes. "After the machine becomes available in sufficient numbers, potato dealers believe there will be uniform Idaho regulations requiring all potatoes going into trade channels to be stamped. Initial action was prompted by the state advertising commission which promotes marketing of Idaho potatoes.
 "If Self signs a contract with Alhburg to manufacture the machines in Twin Falls, similar machines will be built here for all intermountain West and Pacific Northwest states ordering them. Self says Twin Falls is ideally located to serve those states.
 "This demonstrates that Twin Falls is developing into a natural distribution and manufacturing base for Idaho and the Northwest," Self says. "Freight rates for moving articles to the west are less than for shipments going east. Raw materials are readily available from the Geneva steel plant and from California."
 Self's already manufactures farm machinery, the Bestland Rock Picker, for which orders have been received from everywhere in the world except points behind the iron curtain, and steel tanks for the majority of oil companies operating between Boise and Idaho Falls.
 Self says the firm used 1,100 tons of steel in 1954, most of it hauled from the Geneva plant.
 Self says he and Thornock expect to go through the plant in Glendale to inspect the manufacturing process set up for the machines. He says Packers Service has developed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—A special government loyalty board has cleared William Henry Taylor of charges he once was a member of Communist spy ring in the government.
 Former Rep. Byron H. Scott, D-Colo., Taylor's attorney, said yesterday the board's decision was a Communist spy ring in the government.
 Taylor's attorney, said yesterday a letter to him from chairman Henry B. Waldman of the international organizations employee loyalty board, a U. S. agency which checks Americans working for international agencies.
 Testimony Cited
 Former Communist spy Elizabeth Bentley testified before a senate committee in July, 1948, that a "William Taylor" was a member of a Soviet spy ring in the treasury department in the early 1940's. She said the ring was headed by the late Harry Dexter White.

Crazed Arsonist Sought by Police

NICOLET, Que., Jan. 7 (AP)—Police today sought a mysterious, deranged arsonist who operates only when the moon is full as the torch-bearer in an $800,000 fire that destroyed the mother-house of the Grey Nuns order.
 Police Chief Edouard Beaulac said investigation into the Grey Nuns' fire and checks on several smaller blazes in the past few months showed they were apparently set deliberately. All started when the moon was full.
 Beaulac did not say if he had a suspect. But he said the fires apparently were started by someone with a mania for setting them in bright moonlight.

Board Ruling

The board ruled last July that there was "a reasonable doubt" of Taylor's loyalty to the United States. But it reopened the case at the request of Scott, who said he had new evidence, and held new hearings last October.
 Scott said the letter from the board told Taylor that "there is no reasonable doubt as to your loyalty to the United States government."

Woman Sees Rising State Tax As Offset to U.S. Levy Drop

Editor, Times-News:

Well, now it seems that a few of our good lawmakers from both parties think it might be a good idea for a tax reduction for the low income groups, this being an important election year. However, the majority is being suddenly concerned with balancing the budget, as well as the critical farm problems and the foreign aid program.

It is so comforting to note that our dear congressmen at last have the welfare of our country at heart, now that they have already taken care of their personal interests this past year, what with their nice salary increases and their jaunts abroad, etc. Nevertheless, we may be assured that any federal tax relief will only be absorbed by rising state taxes in one form or another.

Twin Falls Man Alleges 'Old Age' Program Has Inequities

Editor, Times-News:

My attention has been called regarding the old age plan. Wherever, as I understand this plan, all old folks who are to receive same are forced to sign their houses and property over to the state. Their dwellings, which have been their homes for many years, the houses they paid off during the depression years at very small monthly sums, are now taken from them.

Now that old age has taken over these American people, they can no longer be an independent people. Therefore, they are forced to relinquish their last earthly possession, (their home) in order to be eligible for this plan, that they may keep body and soul together.

This plan I personally believe is a violation of the simple fact these people are forced and obligated to pay taxes and maintenance on properties (that have been signed over to the state), which has to be paid out of old age benefits, and in return receive no reimbursement for taxes and maintenance of state properties. I personally believe this to be a violation of article 3, section 19, of the Idaho constitution.

Venturing further into the subject of the old age plan, which is deemed legal, by the old folks' friends, if you recall the campaign speeches by the Republican Len Jordan, goes as follows:

"All old folks within said states, who did not acquire any properties through the years, possibly made poor and old before their time, under the Hoover administration (another friend of the people), with no homes or properties, receive the old age benefits, (THIS IS PROMISED BY THE STATE)." ## North Side Communities Chief Notes No Road Plan Protest

Editor, Times-News:

There have at times, in the past, been references and intimations appearing in the Times-News, that the North Side Communities objects to highway development on the south side of the river. Just recently, a resident of Ruhl stated in your Public Forum, that this organization objects strenuously to improving highway 30 on the south side.

Such statements are completely untrue and incorrect. The North Side Communities has never opposed, and does not now oppose, any highway development on the south side of the river. The minutes and records of this organization, since it was formed three years ago, will substantiate this statement.

HAPPY BLENDING

Memory in decorating comes largely from a happy blending of the room's background (walls, draperies, floor covering) with the furnishings.

Before the various elements that make up a harmonious, livable room can be assembled, many selections must be made... selection of color, form, line, pattern and texture. These will be determined to a great extent by the style, type and purpose of the room. Questions like: Is the room to be formal or casual? Gay and cheerful or dignified and restrained? must be answered before satisfactory selections can be made.

When casting about for easy ways to relate background and furnishings don't overlook the possibilities that matching fabrics and wall papers offer. There are designs and styles for all types of rooms available.

Jaycees Present Thanks for Help On Tree Project

Editor, Times-News:

We wish to extend a sincere vote of thanks to the businessmen of Twin Falls and the various city departments for their cooperation and willingness to make the eighth annual Jaycee Christmas tree bonfire and Wiener roast a success. I believe the people of Twin Falls will want to know of their generous contributions.

Wiener were supplied by Carter Packing company, Custom Packing company, York Packing company and Independent Packing company. Buns were furnished by Albertson's bakery, Continental Baking company, Jack and Jean's Bakery and Magic Valley Baking company.

The trees for the bonfire were collected by the city parks and recreation department under direction of Ernest Greiner. Our thanks go also to the city fire department for being on hand during the fires.

The residents of Twin Falls did their part in making this event a success by putting the trees out where they could be easily picked up.

The Jaycee bonfire and Wiener roast was well publicized by the Times-News, KEOP, KTPI, KLIK and KLIK-TV.

She Hopes People Don't Have Wool Pulled Over Their Eyes

Editor, Times-News:

Well, the big election year 1956 is on, with all its campaign oratory, promises and what not. I do hope the American people don't get the wool pulled over their eyes as they did in 1932.

At the Republican nominating convention in Chicago, when Ike was given the presidential nomination on a silver platter and our real leader, Senator Taft, was sent home empty-handed and heartbroken. I write in this paper that the big show was all over. The internationalist party had won again. It has proven out that way, hasn't it?

The Republican party is a joke, straying down the middle of the road. When we had Senator Borah, we knew which side we were traveling on, for it was the right side. All this argument over price support, incentive payments, etc., is childish. All we need is a tariff high enough to keep down imports.

Agriculture and industry are struggling for priority. In order to sell tractors, cars, machinery, etc., abroad it is necessary to import agricultural products. The question is how long can the farmer keep going and pay off the federal debt and not be able to sell farm products profitably? One thing is sure if we get stuck in the mud, no foreign country is going to help us out. They'll all push us down deeper.

MRS. BUD SMITH

Farm Attitude of Benson, Ike Scored in Note From Jerome

Editor, Times-News:

Farm income is down 4 billion dollars since 1951, and our legislators killed the OPA and the excess profit tax and it seems the sky is the limit for big profits.

The Wall Street Journal reports that six of the top industrialists, after taxes made 52 per cent to 200 per cent more the first half of 1955 than during the same period in 1934. Big businesses are bragging. "We have never had it so good," and the farmers are down 25 per cent and the processors making 20 per cent profit. The consumers got it in the neck.

... Instead of strengthening the farm program and protecting farm families, the administration is deliberately trying to wreck the existing federal farm program and to force some of the millions off of farms.

Benson denies that there is a farm crisis in the hope of hiding the true purpose of the administration's policy and disarming the intended victims. In trying to put over this program, Benson has not hesitated to slander the farmers, falsely blaming them for high rentals, food prices, and ever urging city dwellers to rise up against them.

He has publically denigrated the farmer as inefficient, selfish and unworthy of the government. He sought to split the farmer, along income and crop lines, and play one against the other. Are farmers worthy of the government? Industry gets double the subsidies that agriculture does! United Air Lines alone gets $100,000,000 a year subsidy, and agriculture is our greatest industry!

Quite different has been his attitude toward the food trusts. No objection has been made to the widening of farm to market prices, and the high profits of the monopoly.

Not a word of complaint has been offered about the 23 per cent raise in the price of bread, while the price of wheat showed a drop of 21 per cent; not a finger did he raise in behalf of the drought stricken cattleman when the meat trusts took their animals at distress prices while holding up retail prices; no complaint did he make about the milk trusts which have repeatedly pushed down prices paid to farmers while taking the same charges to the consumer.

The same pattern of "high-low" price fixing has prevailed for all farm commodities, while shouting "Free enterprise for the farmer."

Benson has loaded advisory committees with representatives of the big food trusts. These men pretend to be the voice of agriculture, as they devise new schemes of lowering farm prices and raising prices to the consumer while fostering a scarcity upon both.

The administration has pointed to the mounting surplus, particularly to the 7 billion commodity corporation holdings, proving that the farm production must be cut, support prices fixed and farm families pushed off the land.

Yet, at a congressional hearing it was disclosed, and Secretary Benson has admitted, that the administration has been deliberately withholding OOC products from sale both at home and abroad. This has been done on all proposals that would put surplus food into human stomachs; has cut down school lunches; and in distributing food stuff to unemployed or any distressed groups.

The fight against the Eisenhower and Benson program has been sharply criticized by farm organizations and it can be said that in the face of the present crisis, they are becoming aware of the need of more vigorous action.

Our voters who have inherited their politics have been voting

Rumor Says Big Night Club Is Eyeing Top Russian 'Act'

By HENRY McLEMORE

I am doing my best to track down a persistent report that a Las Vegas night club has high hopes of booking Nikolai Bulgannin and Nikita Khrushchev for a two-week stand later in the winter.

Las Vegas talent scouts became interested, I understand, when they read that the Soviet song and dance team had broken all attendance records on its recent tour of India, with the SBO signs out from beginning to end.

One hotel owner is said to have offered the Soviet premier and the Communist party boss an even more staggering sum than Liberace got, and promised to add Russian roulette to his casino's games of chance as a further inducement.

A rival owner, it is reported, has guaranteed Nikolai and Nikita twice as much as was paid Noel Coward, and, in addition, will add sour cream and caviar to his early morning check wagon breakfast menu.

The rumor is that the Soviet entertainers would like to play Las Vegas, but will have to hear from Mr. Anthony Eden before they can make a definite commitment. Bulgannin and Khrushchev have a winter booking in England that calls for appearances at No. 10 Downing street and Buckingham palace, but promoter Eden is said to be thinking of cancelling the contract.

Eden appears to feel that the against the things they want and for the things they don't want. They voted for a change, but were short-changed.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Women in the early days of HANSEN, didn't have to powder their noses when they went places. Hiding over dusty, rutted roads in open air was a necessity and the job for them. And the powder stick, Mrs. Otis Simpson said.

Mrs. Simpson gave a history of the Hansen community on such as a holiday season. She said the "cane" part of the Hansen program this year is the one that has come to the attention of the people.

The first Sunday school in Hansen was held in a tent on the Hansen farm, owned by Charles Hansen, and formed by George Hansen. The tent was pitched where Hansen's service station and garage are located. The tent was used for the occasion by Nick Smith who lived east of the Hansen farm. The late William Baker, now the owner of TWIN FALLS, was the first superintendent in 1905.

On the fall of 1905, the tent was moved to Hansen's ranch, now owned by Mrs. Simpson, and served as a church as well as a Sunday school. Hansen from social in the tent was used to purchase an organ which was used in the church until 1911. It now is owned by Fred Henscheid and is in this tent the first Christmas tree in Hansen — the stump of sugarbush — was set up.

In 1912 the first school was built in Hansen and on December of that year the tent was folded and the church and Sunday school moved to the school. The Ladies Aid was organized in 1907 with Mrs. George Hoffland as president. For two years the people of Hansen called about building a church but it wasn't until 1910 work was started. The lot was donated by H.G. Hansen Youngblood company. The building was dedicated on July 12, 1911 with the Rev. Jasper Leitch as pastor. The Rev. Elmer Wisland, now a resident of Twin Falls, was in charge of the service. The church was built as a Methodist church but in 1923 became a community church. The outside of the church looks pretty much the same now as it did in 1910 but a study for the minister and a furnace have been added. The old bell that hung in the belfry has been gone many years. The money of the church has undergone many changes. New light fixtures have been installed and a new altar and pulpit were built of plywood by Vance Naylor. He also made the chancel rails of birch but in this work was assisted by his son, Lester Naylor and Kenneth Naylor and by Glenn Sanderson and Ben Miska. The grill work above the altar was made by R. F. Bully.

Large families have drawbacks, but they have their joys, too — that's the belief of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henscheid, RUPERT. Since they're the parents of 13 children, they apparently are qualified to judge the matter. With the arrival of Patty five months ago the Henscheid children became a baker's dozen. "It's fun that we like children," Henscheid explains. "And after the first six or seven, one more doesn't make much difference." The Henscheids have been married 23 years. Many of the problems that beset a family of this size seem to be self-solving. "We've never had a jealous child," Mrs. Henscheid claims. The children love their younger brothers and sisters. Child care seems to be just that in the Henscheid household. The children learn early to care for themselves. "They have to," Henscheid said. "We generally start putting them to bed about 9 and if we supervised each child it would be time to get up before we got them all to bed." The children are James, 21, who is engaged to the Philippines in the navy; Margaret, 20, and Arnette, 17, also are in the Catholic convent at St. Anne's, Orem; Betty Mae, 17; Thomas, 15; Helen, 14; John, 12; Leonard, 11; Paul, 9; Andrew, 7; Rose Marie, 5; Joseph, 3, and Patty, who was born last July. For some time there have been within Henscheid children in school. Three years ago when James was graduated from Rupert high school, Paul entered the first grade, and so on. The Henscheids use a station wagon for transportation. Last year the family took a trip in it along the west coast. When the nose gets more than parental noses can stand, the

Modern Business Blossoms in Clay Beds Near Hagerman

Mrs. Aldrich Bowler, who operates the Snake River Pottery plant with her husband, fashions a clay vessel at the plant. She and her husband gave up stage careers in New York City to come to Idaho to start the pottery plant. (Staff engraving)

Aldrich Bowler digs clay from a bank near his home between Hagerman and Bliss preparatory to making pottery. Instead of using chemically-treated commercial clay, Bowler and his wife use native clay from which to make their pottery. (Staff engraving)

Magic Valley Tours

Career in Clay Enjoyed by Hagerman Couple, Operators of Pottery Concern

Along Snake river centuries ago, Indians dug into clay banks for material from which to fashion crude pots and vessels. White man, in his rush to see what was on the other side of the horizon, paid little heed and it was nearly a century and a half after the vanguard of his culture had penetrated the wilderness that the value of the clay was rediscovered.

Typically, the rediscovery was made by Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Bowler in a search for new horizons. The Snake river pottery plant, located near highway 30 five miles north of Hagerman, or four and one-half miles south of Bliss, is the result.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowler are proud of their rediscovery and of their accomplishments since 1947. More than a hobby to them, making pottery is a way of life. Genial and gracious hosts, they welcome visitors to their combination home and plant.

The pottery plant is accessible along good roads from every part of Magic Valley. Once on highway 30, it's simply a matter of following the road. For those who wish to make a day of their visit to the pottery plant, there are numerous restaurants in near-by communities and, when the weather is right, Hagerman valley offers many places for picnics.

Before World War II, Mr. and Mrs. Bowler were studying and working as actors in New York City. When Bowler was discharged from the service he and his wife came to Idaho and Bowler's mother, Mrs. Bert Bowler, Gooding, suggested they study pottery making at the University of Idaho. In the spring of 1947 they purchased three acres of land from John Ayres upon which to build their dream. That summer they lived in a trailer house and a tent while they built their home.

Most modern potters deny themselves much of the pleasure from their art by purchasing chemically tested and packaged clay. Not so with the Bowlers. They dig their own clay from a hill across the Snake river, near the King Hill Irrigation company ditch.

Milling the raw clay is a painstaking job but not an unpleasant one. The task usually is given to the Bowler children, Pamela, 8, and Peter, 7, as their Saturday "chores."

At first an old washing machine was used to soak and slake the clay but Bowler has replaced this method with one he has found faster and more effective.

The native clay is mixed with water and Denver fire clay. Using five parts Hagerman clay, which is dense, with one part Denver clay, cracking, shrinking and warping is self-eliminated.

After the two clays have been mixed the "wads" are stored in an old refrigerator until they are to be used.

All the pottery from the Snake River Pottery plant is fashioned by hand on a turning wheel Bowler fashioned and was the topic of his thesis for his master's degree at the University of Idaho.

X Marks Spot

Large X between Bliss and Hagerman indicates location of Snake River Pottery plant. Magic Valley residents planning a Sunday outing can reach plant by using U. S. highway 30 from eastern part of valley or going to Bliss on highway 25 and then going east on highway 30 to pottery plant. Some well-traveled secondary roads also can be used for access from north side of canyon.

After the pottery has been fashioned, the pieces are placed in a wooden cupboard for drying and aging. The Bowlers bake "fire" pottery during most of the year, using a 18,000-watt hydro electric plant which is capable of producing 50,000 watts. In addition to baking the pottery the plant is used to heat the Bowler home and plant, and Warren Farnsworth's home next door. The stream that runs the turbine is located on Farnsworth land.

LIBRARY REPORT GIVEN SHOSHONE, Jan. 7—The librarian's report at the Tuesday night city library board meeting showed 1,543 books loaned through the library during December. Purchases were 15 for adults and 16 for juveniles.

from Yahoo gulch, Greenwood green and Silver City.

The Snake river plant, in addition to turning out finished products, also supplies raw clay to schools, hobby shops and individuals. In its short span of existence the plant has been the mecca for many hobbyists and its finished products have been sent to all parts of the United States.

What seems to be most gratifying to the Bowlers, though, is the fact their pottery is put to use, not just placed on a shelf to be admired. Many of their coffee mugs are in everyday use and in their bean pots have baked many Magic Valley beans.

Sheriff Gives Driving Hints In Wintertime

There is a new "TV" for winter motorists which has nothing to do with television sets. It is traction and visibility, the two big factors that can help drivers enjoy their cars with safety during the winter months.

Twin-Falls county Sheriff James H. Benham says for a motorist to drive safely he must have good traction in moving the car and bringing it to a stop.

In passing out a few tips to drivers, Benham says, "It is important to keep rear wheels from spinning and the careful motorist drives more slowly in winter than in summer. He watches for icy spots, keeps a safe distance behind the next car, doesn't slam on his brakes suddenly and keeps windshields and windows clear so he can see in all directions.

Benham points out that with today's car heaters and defrosters there is little excuse for a cloudy or frosty windshield.

He says that a little time with a plastic scraper on rear windows will pay safety dividends to the driver. He urged drivers to be certain their car's headlights are in proper working order and clear of snow, mud and ice so that other drivers can see the approaching car.

"By using tires with good treads, careful driving,

Hollow Victory

BOSTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Ellen Agush, 34, successfully appealed a $2 fine in superior court yesterday but it cost her $50.

Agush, convicted of driving recklessly on a one-way street, proved that street signs were missing. But he had to pay a lower fine. Commissioners took photographs. He also spent four hours in jail.

Hailey Rotarians View Two Films

HAILEY, Jan. 7.—Savino Uberti, local manager of the Mount States Telephone and Telegraph company, program chairman for the regular meeting of the Rotary club Thursday noon, showed two films.

Lewis Robinson's guests were John Hamilton, San Francisco secretary of the Triumph Mining company, and Eugene G. Stack, Twin Falls of the internal revenue department. Leon Jewett's guest was Neil Simonds, Twin Falls.

Restriction Is Put on Army In Red Visits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Army officers and enlisted men who know certain types of secret information were under standing orders today not to travel in Soviet bloc countries and other sensitive areas.

The army issued the orders to prevent servicemen from being picked up by the Communists and "brain-washed."

The regulation, announced yesterday, applies to all army men who have knowledge of current value about special intelligence information and of activities.

The forbidden areas include Russia and the Soviet bloc countries, Yugoslavia, Finland, Berlin, the Communist threatened island of Macao, Quemoy and Matsu, the Indochinese states of Laos and Cambodia, and South Viet Nam with the exception of the Saigon urban area.

An army spokesman said the new order actually will apply to a relatively small number of servicemen. He said it would not apply to military attaches in U. S. embassies in pay status, or to those in the pay status of military attachés in those affected countries because these officers have diplomatic status.

Benham noted, "Even though new order and clear of snow, mud and ice so that other drivers can see the approaching car.

Paul Marshal Is Artist

Paul Marshal Howard Platt not only keeps the peace in Paul but has added to the beauty of his community by painting murals for the Congregational church, the Masonic temple and the village hall. Here he is putting the finishing touches on one of his smaller oil paintings. (Staff photo-engraving)

Magic Valley Hobbies No. 2

Marshal's Vocation at Paul Becomes Advocacy After 1936 Dust Storms

PAUL, Jan. 7—Kansas dust may have blown Paul Village Marshal Howard Platt's vocation into an avocation but the village isn't sorry.

The marshal is an artist. "It is the proper tense. Once he practiced art as a vocation but when the dust swirled over Kansas in 1936, Platt came west. Not finding enough art work in Idaho to keep him busy, he took up house painting. And that's why Paul isn't sorry. One of his murals adorns the Congregational church and another is on the dining hall in the Masonic temple.

Currently, in between his duties as marshal, he is painting his third in the village hall.

Platt is a graduate of the Omaha art school, later teaching juvenile classes there and working in the commercial art departments of two Omaha concerns. Just before the dust storms in the midwest in the 30's he started doing free lance art work and advertising. That was when the Kansas dust storms blew him westward.

In 1961, while painting the interior of the Congregational church, the urge came to him to paint a mural behind the pulpit. The Rev. E. E. Ketterling, pastor of the church, took a dim view of the project but other church officials agreed to let him try. No one is sorry now the permission was granted.

The mural is a picture of Christ knocking at a door.

His next mural was in the Masonic temple and, like the first, has prompted considerable favorable comment. He says he doesn't know what the mural in the village hall will be since all he has finished is the mural's painted frame.

Loonies Set

HAILEY, Jan. 7—At the regular meeting of Blaine county post No. 24, American Legion, Thursday evening, it was reported that arrangements have been completed to present the annual Legion Loonies on the evenings of March 23 and 24.

The Hailey high school auditorium has been rented for those evenings. Following the business meeting, a social hour was held.

The marshal is interested in forming a club of persons who like to paint. From this he hopes to be able to sponsor an exhibit of the combined works once a year.

Magic Valley is sprinkled liberally with persons who paint as a hobby. There are oil painters, water colorists and people who paint with their fingers. It seems, as a hobby, to have an ever increasing circle of adherents. Platt probably isn't a typical example of all the painting hobbyists but he is an example of a person who uses painting as a means of better living.

It would be impossible to list all of the many adherents to the hobby, let alone trying to tell the circumstances which led them to pick art as their hobby. Platt, though, is somewhat unusual in that what now is a hobby with him once was his means of livelihood.

The marshal has been interested in art all his life. He was the only one in his family who had a desire to paint. He tried teaching it to his oldest son, Tom, but Tom is like all the other Platt's who don't like to paint. Son Larry is different. He is like his father. He not only paints but also is adept at wood carving, another hobby st. which the marshal occasionally tries his hand.

Painting is an exacting business,

Platt contends. No matter how well a painting is done, it is no good unless it is true to life, he explains. In one of his pictures, that of a cowboy pulling a balky mule, Platt worked for hours until the diamond hitch was exactly right.

In addition to keeping the peace in Paul, painting and carving, Platt also plays the piano and is building a home.

Man Hurt in Auto Mishap Near Jerome

JEROME, Jan. 7—A Jerome man is a patient at St. Benedict's hospital with back injuries as the result of being thrown from his car near Jerome.

Hospital authorities said Saturday that Robert Pratt had sustained at least one cracked vertebrae and possibly other injuries when his 1950 Studebaker went out of control on an icy patch on route 79 about four miles south of Jerome at 7:30 a.m. Friday. His condition was described as "fairly good."

After Pratt was thrown free, the car careened off the road, rolling over several times before coming to rest against an embankment. State Patrolman Eugene Hagler, who investigated, said the car was a total wreck.

There was no other traffic on the road at the time. Pratt, though in pain, managed to walk to a nearby residence to seek help.

Minor damage resulted from a two-vehicle collision on highway 23 at the west city limits of Jerome about 8 a.m. Friday.

According to Jerome Policeman Fred Kiser, who investigated, a 1948 Chevrolet panel truck driven by Fred D. Buttram, Jerome, collided with a 1955 Dodge sedan, driven by Annabeth Johnson, also Jerome, when Buttram was unable to halt his vehicle because of icy pavements at the intersection. There were no citations.

BOARD MEETING SET
SHOSHONE, Jan. 7—Commissioners of the Lincoln county cemetery maintenance district will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the city hall.

Active Duty for New Officers to Terminate Early

Of the 6,000 army reserve officers training corps graduates scheduled to enter active duty during the first six months of 1956, 4,000 will be assigned to reserve units after six months of active duty, reports Maj. Wilbur E. Nicholas, Twin Falls reserve unit adviser.

Major Nicholas said the current program affects only those ROTC graduates receiving their commissions before April 30.

Because many reserve officers are voluntarily remaining on active duty and requirements have been reduced for officer training, the army can do this and still maintain an adequate number of officers in the active force, he noted.

Only distinguished military graduates who have applied for commissions will serve the two year terms. If more are required, vacancies will be filled by standard methods, Major Nicholas said.

Safety Discussed For PTA Parley

BUHL, Jan. 7—"Safety programs don't reach persons who need them," Lieut. Clark Hand of the Idaho state police told PTA members Tuesday evening at the F. H. Buhl school. The lieutenant showed a motion picture on traffic hazards—a question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Gale Atwood, membership chairman, reported 376 members for the PTA. She said this is an increase of 100 over last year.

PTA officials will meet at 8 p.m. Jan. 30 at the Lincoln school cafeteria and founders day will be observed on Feb. 6.

YOU CAN HAVE THIS OLD SUIT OF YOUR FATHER'S—IT'S WORN PRETTY SHINY!

SWELL! THE SECOND HAND MAN OUGHTA PAY ME AT LEAST A COUPLE OF BUCKS FOR IT! SOME PEOPLE I KNOW ARE GOING TO GIVE SOME STUFF TOO!

DO WE HAVE ANY OLD CLOTHES OR SHOE NEW STUFF WANTED? I'LL GONNA SELL 'EM.

AND SELL 'EM FOR THE MICHIE FOR OTHER FOOLISH THINGS. I SUPPOSE?

OH, NO! I'VE GOTTA CHIP IN FOR A NEW SHIRT FOR OUR SHANTY.

WELL, I'LL BE AROUND!

HE CAN AT LEAST PUT THEM IN A BOX.

OR WRAP THEM UP?

OH, DON'T WORRY—I'LL FIND A WAY TO FOOL THE NEIGHBORS.

I WONDER WHY BOYS NEVER HAVE ANY PRIDE ABOUT SUCH THINGS!

ANYWAY, IT'S GOOD THAT WILLIE WANTS TO EARN MONEY.

OH, NO!

STOP RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE!

WHY I THOUGHT YOU DIDN'T WANT PEOPLE SEEING TRASH BROUGHT INTO OUR HOUSE!

YOU CAN BRING HOME A LOT WORSE THINGS THAN TRASH!

WHAT WILL YOU THINK OF NEXT?

MY GOSH, I THOUGHT YOU DIDN'T WANT THE NEIGHBORS TO THINK I WAS BRINGING OLD STUFF HOME!

NEVER MIND! JUST PICK EVERYTHING UP AND GET IT IN OUT OF SIGHT!

YOU CAN BRING HOME A LOT WORSE THINGS THAN TRASH!

HERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS THAT ANY SCHOOL BOY CAN ANSWER: WHICH SIDE OF A BOY'S PANTS IS WEST? WHY IS YOUR NOSE IN THE MIDDLE OF YOUR FACE? AND, WHAT KIND OF A BIRD CAN'T FLY?

OKAY! GIVE ME THE ANSWERS!! I GIVE UP!

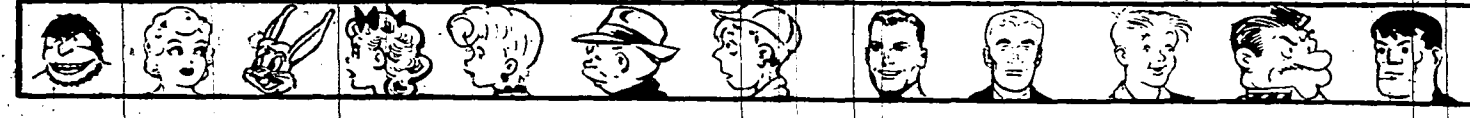

WELL, WELL! IF IT ISN'T THE BOY WONDER WHO WON A PRIZE ON THE RADIO AND TV QUIZ SHOW!

I'LL BET YOU THINK YOU ARE PRETTY SMART! ANYBODY COULD ANSWER THOSE QUESTIONS—THEY WERE SO EASY!!

THE ANSWER TO THE FIRST QUESTION IS: IT DEPENDS ON WHICH SIDE THE SON SETS ON! THE SECOND: BECAUSE IT'S THE SCENTER! THE THIRD IS: JAILBIRD!!

TRY ME! ASK ME A COUPLE OF QUESTIONS!!

JAILBIRD!!

I STARED OUT MY HOTEL WINDOW. THE VIEW WAS STRICTLY POSTCARD... COPPERY SUN, COTTONY CLOUDS AND A COUPLE OF MOUNTAINS ON THEIR WAY UP.

VICTIM!

A SEA OF SOMBREROS WASHED OVER THE PLAZA BELOW. I WAS DRINKING IT IN LIKE MR. AVERAGE TOURIST. THEN I REMEMBERED WHEN THE CROWD WAS THERE.

THEY WANTED TO SEE BLOOD SPILLED... MINE, OR DON MIGUEL'S!

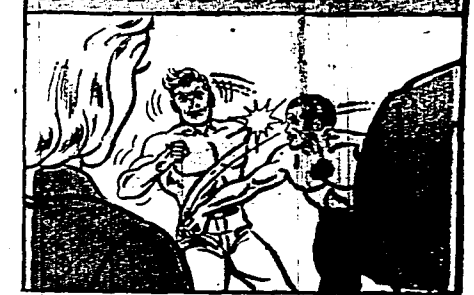

WHEN I GOT TO THE PLAZA, FOREADOR DON MIGUEL WAS WAITING. THE RULES WERE SIMPLE: BARE KNUCKLES UNTIL SOME-BOY'S LIGHT WENT OUT!

GOOD LUCK! YOU WILL NEED THAT, SENOR FLINT!

AT THAT MOMENT I GLIMPSED BANDY LAURE, THE BEAUTIFUL GIRL I HAD BEEN HOPING TO GET A GLIMPSE WAS TOO LATE!

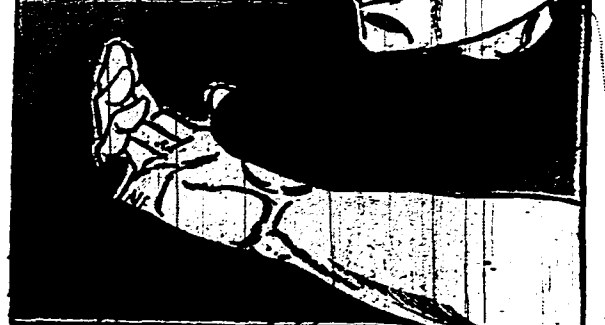

MIGUEL PLAYED TO THE GALLERY, AS HE BOWED, I SAW THE GLEAM OF METAL IN HIS FIST.

BUT THAT SUCKER PUNCH WAS THE ONLY ONE HE LANDED MY CHANCE FINALLY CAME.

HE WENT DOWN HARD. I 'ACCIDENTALLY' STEPPED ON HIS HAND.

NO MORE SENOR! HE EES HAVE ENOUGH!

MISS LAURE, MY NAME'S FLINT. YOUR FATHER HIRED ME TO BRING YOU BACK ALIVE!

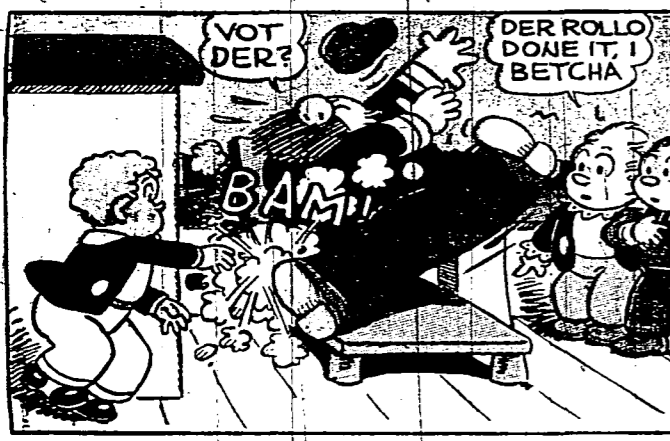

I'M AFRAID YOU'RE MISTAKEN. I'M BETTY WARD AND--

LOOK-- LOOK, YOURSELF! THE LADY IS NOT FOR RETURNING!
