Student Is Barred by Legal Act

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 9 (AP)—A federal judge today dismissed a contempt charge filed against a University of Alabama dean for refusing to admit a second Negro to the school. The action by U. S. Judge Hobard Grooms tended to lessen for the moment the mounting tension over the race crisis at the state university at Tuscaloosa which has suspended one Negro co-ed after riotous demonstrations.

Today's phase of the drama came in federal court here where a Negro attorney pressed demands that Dean W. F. Adams be cited for contempt of court for refusing to admit Mrs. Polly Ann Hudson as a journalism student.

A federal court decree had ordered that Adams enroll "all qualified persons regardless of race."

Both Mrs. Hudson and Autherine Lucy, the co-ed whose admission to Alabama caused a big uprising earlier in the week, are Negroes.

Mrs. Hudson's lawyers argued for postponement of the hearing on grounds that Miss Lucy's suspension would mean that "Mrs. Hudson would not be allowed to enroll at this time anyway."

Judge Grooms overruled Shores' motion for dismissal of the suit on his petition seeking to have admissions Dean Adams cited for contempt.

Adams rejected Mrs. Hudson's application for enrollment after the university's board of trustees ruled she was not entitled to admission on moral grounds. The board pointed out that she is seeking a divorce.

The same board barred Miss Lucy from the school on Monday, two days after she began attending classes in library science. It decided to employ "police powers" to keep her away from the school after two days of severe demonstrations in which eggs and stones were hurled.

Trustees said the action was taken to restore order and to insure safety "for all concerned."

Senators Act On Plans for Sugar Quota

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The senate voted today to give U. S. sugar growers a larger share of the domestic market while reshuffling quotas for producers both at home and abroad.

Senate action came after two days of debate during which the only attack on the bill itself came from Senator Fulbright, D., Ark., who said the sugar law "is nothing more nor less than a giant subsidy."

The measure was sent over to the house, which passed sugar legislation in different form last year.

Senators rejected two recommendations by the Eisenhower administration for a change in the formula for distributing the foreign share of the U. S. sugar market.

Likewise rejected were amendments to (1) Give Puerto Rico an immediate share of any increased quotas for the domestic areas; (2) Authorize the secretary of agriculture to give acreage allotments to new farmers in western reclamation projects; (3) Limit the sugar act extension to two years instead of six and (4) Limit benefit payments so that producers would receive no more than 90 per cent of the parity price for sugar in this country.

Publirt has charged that benefit payments "add to huge profits of big corporations in sugar."

The senate bill provides that the year-to-year increase in U. S. sugar consumption due to population growth be divided 55 per cent among

Yule Party Is Set Today for Adopted Girl

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 9 (AP)—Today will be Christmas day—with Santa Claus, a Christmas tree and toys and all—for Kim Ok-Je, 4-year-old Korean war orphan.

She arrived in Butte last night en route to her new home in Pocatello, Ida.

The wide-eyed little girl was greeted at the Butte airport by Mrs. Roy V. Carlson, 32, who with her husband, a 31-year-old electrician, are adopting the youngster. They had been awaiting her arrival in this country for nearly two years.

Last night was the first time Mrs. Carlson saw Kim. The Carlsons saw her picture in their hometown newspaper in April 1954. The picture was taken on the streets of Boston where the little victim of war was found by American soldiers.

The little girl arrived in Butte by plane from Seattle. She was asleep when the plane set down. Mrs. Carlson was unable to await the

Union to Fight 9 GOP Solons Welker Listed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Leaders of the combined AFL-CIO were reported today to have tagged nine members of the senate for organized labor opposition in the fall elections.

The nine, all Republicans, were reported to be Senators Duff, Pa.; Coughart, Ind.; Thye, Minn.; Kuchel, Calif.; Welker, Ida.; Goldwater, Ariz.; Millikin, Colo.; Wiley, Wis.; and Butler, Md.

AFL-CIO leaders participating in winter meetings here also were reported to have decided to support Senator Morse, D., Ore., but to withhold any organized labor support for the prospective senate race in Ohio between Gov. Frank Lausche, D., and Senator Bender, R.

Their preliminary appraisals of key senate races in next autumn's elections were reliably reported to have been made at a meeting of the newly merged AFL-CIO committee on political education.

It was reported that those attending the session were supplied copies of an analysis of prospective congressional races with "black marks" indicating congressional members marked preliminarily for labor opposition.

Jaycees Honor Fred Ingraham, Dean Mosher at Award Dinner

Awards for distinguished service to their community were presented Fred W. Ingraham and J. Dean Mosher Wednesday night by the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce at its annual distinguished awards banquet in the American Legion hall. Ingraham, former Chamber of Commerce president, was given the Twin Falls senior citizen key and a certificate from the National Junior Chamber of Commerce "for distinguished service to his community." He was cited especially for his work with the chamber's industrial development commission.

Receiving the junior citizen key, Mosher, an attorney, was lauded as the most outstanding member of the Twin Falls Jaycees and for "his willingness and ability" in carrying out the organization's projects. He also received a certificate of merit from the national junior chamber of commerce, before his retirement in 1950, was sales manager for the southern division of the Idaho Power company. As president of the Chamber of Commerce, he was especially concerned with the industrial development commission.

In retirement, he has served his community, on the housing authority, was city chairman of the Red Cross fund drive and general chairman of the Community Chest.

Motorcade Plans For Smylie Given By Moose Lodge

The grand entrance into Twin Falls for Gov. Robert E. Smylie's testimonial enrollment, sponsored by the Idaho Moose association, will come in the form of two motorcades, reports Ivan Waring, Twin Falls Moose governor.

The western caravan will begin at Nampa; picking up cars in Boise, Emmett, Glens Ferry and Jerome while the westbound procession will start in Montpelier and grow in Pocatello, Aberdeen, American Falls and Rupert, Waring said. The two processions will rendezvous at the Perline Memorial bridge for the grand entrance.

The initiation ceremony for candidates from the 12 Moose lodges will be held at 3:30 p.m. Feb. 25 at the American Legion hall with the state champion individual degree staff directing the induction ceremony assisted by the Pocatello drill team.

Governor Smylie will be the main speaker at the banquet following the ceremony in St. Edward's school.

Truman Clashes With MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Truman-MacArthur controversy exploded with new fury yesterday.

Former President Truman asserted he fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur as far Eastern commander because MacArthur was guilty of "insubordination" that threatened in Truman's view to embroil the nation in a atomic world war III.

MacArthur, in tones of white hot anger, charged the former President with "insubordination" and "insult" and "brutal" dismissal. He charged that the former President had "insulted" the nation in a "brutal" manner.

Truman and MacArthur slug it out in parallel articles in the current Life magazine.

90 Per Cent Wheat Parity Is Passed by Senate's Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The senate agriculture committee approved 9 to 6 today a return to a rigid price support of 90 per cent of parity for millable quality wheat, Sen. Milton R. Young, R., N. D., disclosed. There also were strong indications that the committee again approved 90 per cent supports for corn, cotton and peanuts.

But Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D., La., pledged the 14 other committee members to secrecy until the committee takes a final vote on an omnibus farm bill, probably later today.

U. S. Aid Sent To Storm-Hit Italian Areas

ROME, Feb. 9 (AP)—A U. S. military convoy of 25 trucks struggled southward today through raging snowstorms that heaped new misery on thousands of Italians reported in danger of starvation.

The icy blast of the cold wave born on the steppes of Siberia reached across the Mediterranean and struck Egypt. Dropping temperatures and snowstorms were reported again in western Europe. London had a heavy fall.

The European death toll in the worst cold wave of the century reached 230. Normally warm Italy was hard-hit. At least 67 persons were known dead.

Two U. S. airmen were among the victims. They died in their sleep from the fumes of a gas stove left on to heat their rented room at Aviano, near the U. S. air force radar warning base at Udine close to the Yugoslav frontier. Air force authorities withheld identification pending notification of the next of kin.

Storms also were taking their toll at sea. Eighty fishermen were released and feared lost off the coast of the mid-Atlantic Portuguese island of Madeira.

U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce ordered emergency movement of food and clothing after conferring by cable with the state and defense departments in Washington.

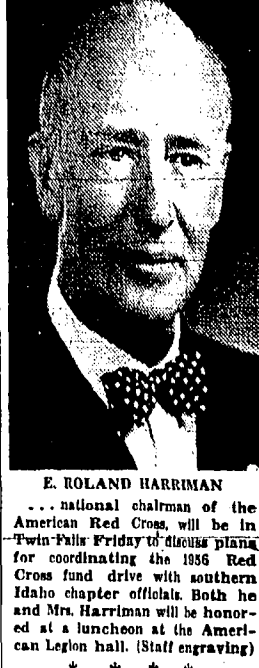

Caravan Stalled

A 25-truck military convoy, carrying army overcoats and sweaters, and food packages left the U. S. army supply base at Leghorn for Rome but was slowed to a crawl by snow on the 100-mile run down the Italian coastline.

The situation was reported desperate in hundreds of mountain hamlets isolated since Feb. 1 by the worst snowstorms in living memory.

Transportation was chaotic. Roads were blocked and trains were delayed. Air traffic was halted on Sicily.

U. S. to Halt Balloons Use At Reds' Bid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The United States, responding to a Soviet protest yesterday ordered an immediate halt to launchings of U. S. weather balloons from Germany and Turkey.

Balloons there will be grounded pending a study of whether they have been flying over Russia.

This move came as a followup to a conciliatory note delivered to the Kremlin earlier in the day. The note promised "the United States government will seek to avoid the launching of additional balloons which, on the basis of known data, might transit the USSR."

The Russians protested last Saturday to the United States and Turkey that balloons were violating Soviet air space and endangering air traffic. A similar protest was lodged with the West German government shortly thereafter.

In replying to Moscow, the United States offered to tell the Russians about the safety features of its weather balloon program.

Indeed, the U. S. has invited Soviet cooperation by asking the Russians to return any scientific instruments which might have parachuted into Russia from any of the balloons.

Review Asked On Discharge For Employes

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked the state highway board yesterday to review the recent firing of some 136 highway department employes to see if "merit methods of personnel administration" were complied with in each case.

He told newsmen that some groups had complained to him about the department's action and he feels the work force should be assured of "protection against summary dismissal."

Smylie also said he had learned the decision as to who was to be dismissed had been made on a district or department level without review by the board or by the state highway engineer, Earle V. Miller, the department's chief administrative officer.

A department spokesman confirmed this later, saying such decisions had been left up to the 17 department heads and six district engineers.

The department announced last month it was firing the employes because it had underestimated its salary budget by about half a million dollars for the current biennium.

Dismissal notices were sent to 9 per cent of the department's field force and 13 per cent of the employes in its Boise headquarters and maintenance laboratory.

The department explained at the time that the trouble was caused in Chief for Red Cross to Visit at T. F.

With the flood disaster areas demanding an all-time high in both time and money the American Red Cross is preparing to launch one of its largest fund-raising campaigns March 1.

In an effort to coordinate the drives, particularly in the western states to support the flood areas on the coast, E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the Red Cross, will meet with Magic Valley Red Cross officials Friday at the IOOF hall in Twin Falls.

Since taking the Red Cross reins from George C. Marshall in appointment by President Truman in 1950, Harriman, by his own suggestion, had the board of governors change his title to chairman. At the same time the board elected a chief executive officer with the title of president.

Starting in Red Cross work in 1944, he served as volunteer manager of the North Atlantic area with jurisdiction over 411 chapters in nine states. Harriman has been a member of the board of governors since 1947, serving as its vice chairman from 1940 until his appointment as head of the organization.

He was national chairman of the

Soviets Stage Balloon Show For Newsmen

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 (AP)—Russia staged a scientific demonstration for foreign correspondents today aimed at proving that American balloons which landed in the Soviet Union "carried photographic apparatus for military reconnaissance."

Foreign Ministry Press Chief Leonid Ilyichev and a military expert provided the demonstration at an unusual briefing for newsmen at Spasskoyevskaya place, the residence of Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Balloons Seen

Several dozen balloons floated above the palace courtyard.

The military expert explained to correspondents the functions of the balloons.

Clas Equipment

"The balloons are not equipped for weather observation but carried photographic apparatus for military reconnaissance," he said.

The expert said this was "not as the Americans claim."

The foreign correspondents were invited to examine the balloons and to photograph them. This was an unprecedented action.

Fluoride Use Is Lauded in State Report

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Idaho state board of health today reported its studies showed a "dramatic reduction" in dental decay among children in communities where drinking water contained fluorides.

Dr. Wesley Young, director of the board's dental division, released the report summarizing a series of dental surveys dating back to 1947.

Dental examinations covered more than 16,000 children in 25 Idaho communities. Dr. Young said, "The examinations showed that while children in areas without fluorides had almost eight teeth affected by decay by the time they were 13 years old similar children drinking fluoridated water had only about two teeth affected by decay, he said.

"The water supplies of the cities of St. Anthony, Nampa and Emmett naturally contain the prescribed amount of fluoride (between one and two parts per 1,000 gallons). Dr. Young said. The following communities have supplemented fluorides to bring the percentage up to the desired amount:

Bonners Ferry, Cozad, Kootenai, Lewiston, Lewiston Orchards, Irrigation district, McCall, Meridian, Montpelier, Orofino, Ponderay, Preston, Richfield, St. Maries, Salmon, Sandpoint, Shoshone and Twin Falls.

Missing Polar Craft Located; Crew Rescued

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The navy reported today that the seven-man stranded on the ice in Antarctica since last Friday have been returned "safe and well" to Little America after the downed plane was sighted last night.

The rescue was made by helicopters, and the navy reported all survivors were removed from the wreck site by 5:30 a.m. EST.

It quoted this message from Operation Deep Freeze: "All hazards averted and well returned to Little America."

The missing plane, a Grumman "Otter," was spotted by Lieut. D. M. Sullivan, the task force photographic officer. He sighted the plane from another "Otter" but was unable to land at the scene. He returned to the ship End Wind and the helicopters were ordered to the wreck site.

The missing Otter, a single engine plane equipped with wheels and ski runners for landing on the ice and snow, took off Friday from an advance base 230 miles from the south pole to Little America.

Meeting Set

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Rep. Hiram Budge, R., Ida., said he was told today the house interior and insular affairs committee would meet next Wednesday to find out why the defense department has not been recognizing staff water laws in its recent land and water acquisitions.

Budge said the announcement of the meeting came from Rep. Clair Engle, D., Calif., chairman of the house committee.

Clearing Sky, Cold Reading Are Forecast

By The Associated Press

Continued clear skies with brisk temperatures were forecast for most of the Intermountain area Thursday, and the weather bureau said there were no indications the situation would change soon.

The prediction called for high temperatures Thursday and again Friday of 30 to 35 in northern Utah and southwestern Idaho, with lows of 5 to 15 degrees.

In southeastern Idaho, the weather bureau said temperatures would be colder, with high of 15 to 20, and lows from 5 above to 2 below zero. Fog and low clouds were expected to keep the sun from warming the southeastern Idaho section.

Pocatello was one of the coldest spots Thursday morning, with 2 degrees below zero. Its high Wednesday was 23.

Other readings include Idaho Falls, 18 and 6; Boise 38 and 10; Twin Falls 33 and 1; Lewiston 22 and 10; Salt Lake City 24 and 8.

Welker Flays FHA's Policy And Methods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Sen. Herman Welker, R., Ida., today criticized the farmers' home administration for what he called its "arrogant and unrealistic attitude in forcing farmers out of business who have livestock loans on their property."

Welker cited an example of a farmer granted a $40,000 government loan in 1953 by 297 cattle. Can't Liquidate

"Anyone with an ounce of sense knows that a farmer can't liquidate range cows every one or two years," Welker said.

"The FHA encouraged this man to produce more livestock by granting this loan.

"Then when he, like all other cattlemen, is caught in a squeeze, they come back and say to me they are not going to foreclose him—but are permitting him to sell these cattle in an orderly manner over a period of several months."

Foreclosure Cited

Welker said all it meant "in the fancy language of these bureaucrats" is that the farmer is being "foreclosed in an orderly manner."

He added the senate committee on agriculture is now considering a special fund of "from 250 to 500 million dollars" to support hog, beef cattle and perishable farm commodity prices.

Complaints

"In the face of this crying about doing something for the farmer, the FHA is putting him out of business in an orderly manner," Welker complained.

"Either the FHA was wrong in granting the loan in the first place or they are wrong now," he said, and added: "And I intend to pursue this matter to a satisfactory conclusion."

The grand entrance into Twin Falls for Gov. Robert E. Smylie's testimonial enrollment, sponsored by the Idaho Moose association, will come in the form of two motorcades, reports Ivan Waring, Twin Falls Moose governor.

The western caravan will begin at Nampa, picking up cars in Boise, Emmett, Glenna Ferry and Jerome while the westbound procession will start in Montpelier and grow in Pocatello, Aberdeen, American Falls and Rupert, Waring said. The two processions will rendezvous at Perrine Memorial bridge for the grand entrance.

90 Per Cent Wheat Parity Is Passed by Senate's Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The senate agriculture committee approved 9 to 6 today a return to a rigid price support of 90 per cent of parity for millable quality wheat. Sen. Milton R. Young, R., N. D., disclosed. There also were strong indications that the committee last week approved inclusion of 90 per cent supports for corn, cotton and peanuts.

But Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D., La., pledged the 11 other committee members to secrecy until the committee takes a final vote on an omnibus farm bill, probably later today.

U.S. Aid Sent To Storm-Hit Italian Areas

ROME, Feb. 9 (AP)—A U. S. mercy convoy of 25 trucks struggled southward today through raging snowstorms that heaped new misery on thousands of Italians reported in danger of starvation.

The icy blasts of the cold wave born on the steppes of Siberia reached across the Mediterranean and struck Egypt. Dropping temperatures and snowstorms were reported again in western Europe. London had a heavy fall.

The Europe-wide death toll in the worst cold wave of the century reached 230. Normally warm Italy was hard-hit. At least 62 persons were known dead.

2 Airmen Killed

Two U. S. airmen were among the victims. They died in their sleep from the fumes of a gas stove left on to heat their rented room at Aviano, near the U. S. air force radar warning base at Udine close to the Yugoslav frontier. Air force authorities "withheld" identification pending notification of the next of kin.

Storms also were taking their toll at sea. Eighty fishermen were missing and feared lost off the coast of the mid-Atlantic Portuguese island of Madeira.

U. S. Ambassador Clare Booth Luce ordered emergency movement of food and clothing after conferring by cable with the state and defense departments in Washington.

Caravan Slowed

A 26-truck mercy convoy, carrying army overcoats, sweaters, and food packages left the U. S. army supply base at Leghorn for Rome but was slowed to a crawl by snow on the 150-mile run down the Italian coastline.

The situation was reported desperate in hundreds of mountain hamlets isolated since Feb. 1 by the worst snowstorms in living memory. Transportation was chaotic. Roads were blocked and trains were delayed. Air traffic was halted on Sicily.

Red Cross Chief

E. ROLAND HARRIMAN ... national chairman of the American Red Cross, will be in Twin Falls Friday to discuss plans for coordinating the 1956 Red Cross fund drive with southern Idaho chapter officials. Chieftain for Red Cross to Visit at T. F.

With the flood disaster areas demanding an all-time high in both time and money the American Red Cross is preparing to launch one of its largest fund-raising campaigns March 1.

In an effort to coordinate the drives, particularly in the western states to support the flood areas on the coast, E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the Red Cross, will meet with Magic Valley Red Cross officials Friday at the IOOF hall in Twin Falls.

Since taking the Red Cross reins from George C. Marshall in appointment by President Truman in 1950, Harriman, by his own suggestion, had the board of governors change his title to chairman. At the same time the board elected a chief executive officer with the title of president.

Starting in Red Cross work in 1944, he served as volunteer manager of the North Atlantic area with jurisdiction over 411 chapters in nine states. Harriman has been a member of the board of governors since 1947, serving as its vice chairman from 1949 until his appointment as head of the organization.

He was national chairman of the

Soviets Stage Balloon Show For Newsmen

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 (AP)—Russia staged a scientific demonstration for foreign correspondents today aimed at proving that American balloons "carried photographic apparatus for military reconnaissance."

Foreign Ministry Press Chief Leonid Ilyichev and a military expert presided over the demonstration at an unusual briefing for newsmen at Spriodonovka palace, the residence of Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Balloons Seen

Several dozen balloons floated about the palace courtyard.

The military expert explained to correspondents the functions of the balloons.

Cites Equipment

"The balloons are not equipped for weather observation but carried photographic apparatus for military reconnaissance," he said.

This expert said this was "not as the Americans claim."

The foreign correspondents were invited to examine the balloons and to photograph them. This was an unprecedented action.

Fluoride Use Is Lauded in State Report

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Idaho state board of health today reported its studies showed a "dramatic reduction" in dental decay among children in communities where drinking water contained fluorides.

Dr. Wesley Young, director of the board's dental division, released the report summarizing a series of fluoride surveys "going back" to 1947. Dental examinations covered more than 19,000 children in 25 Idaho communities, Dr. Young said.

The examinations showed that while children in areas without fluorides had almost eight teeth affected by decay by the time they were 13 years old similar children drinking fluoridated water had only about two teeth affected by decay, he said.

The water supplies of the cities of St. Anthony, Nampa and Emmett naturally contain the prescribed amount of fluoride between one and two parts per 1,000 gallons, Dr. Young said. The following communities have supplemented fluorides to bring the percentage up to the desired amount:

Bonners Ferry, Council, Kootenai, Lewiston, Lewiston Orchards, Irrigation district, McCall, Meridian, Montpelier, Orofino, Ponderay, Preston, Richfield, St. Maries, Salmon, Sandpoint, Shoshone and Twin Falls.

Missing Polar Craft Located; Crew Rescued

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The navy reported today that the seven men stranded on the ice in Antarctica since last Friday have been returned "safe and well" to Little America after the downed plane was sighted last night.

The rescue was made by helicopters and the navy reported all survivors were removed from the wreck site by 5:30 a.m. EST.

It quoted a message from Operation Deep Freeze: "All hands safe and well. Returned to Little America."

The missing plane, a Grumman "Otter," was spotted by Lieut. D. M. Sullivan, the task force photographic officer. He sighted the plane from another "Otter" but was unable to land at the scene. He returned to the ship East Wind and the helicopters were ordered to the wreck site.

The missing Otter, a single engine plane equipped with wheels and ski runners for landing on the ice and snow, took off Friday from an advance base 230 miles from the south pole to Little America.

U. S. to Halt Balloons Use At Reds' Bid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The United States, responding to a Soviet protest yesterday ordered an immediate halt to launchings of U. S. weather balloons from Germany and Turkey.

Balloons there will be grounded pending a study of whether they have been flying over Russia.

This move came as a follow-up to a conciliatory note delivered to the Kremlin earlier in the day. The note promised "the United States government will seek to avoid the launching of additional balloons which, on the basis of known data, might transit the USSR."

The Russians protested last Saturday to the United States and Turkey that balloons were violating Soviet air space and endangering air traffic. A similar protest was lodged with the West German government shortly thereafter.

In replying to Moscow, the United States offered to tell the Russians about the safety features of its weather balloon program.

Indeed, the U. S. note enlisted Soviet cooperation by asking the Russians to return any scientific instruments which might have parachuted into Russia from any of the balloons.

Meeting Set

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Rep. Hamer Budge, R., Ida., said he was told today the house interior and irregular affairs committee would meet next Wednesday to find out why the defense department has not been recognizing staff water-laws in its recent land and water acquisitions.

Budge said the announcement of the meeting came from Rep. Clair Engle, D., Calif., chairman of the house committee.

Review Asked On Discharge For Employees

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie asked the state highway board yesterday to review the recent firing of some 128 highway department employees to see if "merit methods of personnel administration" were complied with in each case.

He told newsmen that some groups had complained to him about the department's action and he feels the work force should be assured of "protection against summary dismissal."

Smylie also said he had learned the decision as to who was to be dismissed had been made on a district or department level without review by the board or by the state highway engineer, Earl V. Miller, the department's chief administrative officer.

A department spokesman confirmed this later, saying such decisions had been left up to the 17 department heads and six district engineers.

The department announced last month it was firing the employees because it had underestimated its salary budget by about half a million dollars for the current biennium. Dismissal notices were sent to 9 per cent of the department's field force and 13 per cent of the employees in its Boise headquarters and maintenance laboratory.

The department explained at the time that the trouble was caused in

Leper Colony Is Toured by British Ruler

ENUGU, Nigeria, Feb. 9 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh toured a leper colony near here today in a visit intended to allay age-old fears about the disease.

The British queen and her husband traveled by car and on foot through the Udi Hills colony, where 600 Negro lepers in all stages of the disease are being treated by British nurses and doctors.

"All of our patients have contagious leprosy," a nurse said. "Otherwise they wouldn't be here."

Health authorities saw no reason to fear that the queen and the duke would contract leprosy. Despite close daily contact with their patients, none of the British staff has contracted the disease.

"All we do is wash our hands," the nurse said.

Each of the royal couple has "adopted" one of the 190 children in the colony—the duke a year-old boy and the queen a 10-year-old girl who may be cured by injections of the "wonder drug" dapsone.

Control Officer Albert Clothier, who arranged the tour, spared the royal couple nothing. They saw the worst-afflicted sufferers—the blind, the limbless and the "lion faced" victims of leprosy.

"Those who couldn't walk we set by the roadside in their beds," Clothier said.

Need of Leadership Is Cited At Episcopal Meeting at T. F.

Need of clerical and lay leadership was cited as one of the major problems facing the Magic Valley deanery of Episcopal churches at a training session conducted Wednesday at the Church of the Ascension, Episcopal, by the Rev. Howard V. Harper, DD, chairman of the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work.

Dr. Harper pointed out laymen should not budget their time spent in church work to a few hours a week, but the church should take responsibility for their spiritual growth, enlistment and private devotions in their congregations.

Sick Mailman Seeks Health From Shrine

HONOLULU, T. H. Feb. 9 (AP)—A seagull New Zealand mailman said to be suffering from an incurable disease arrived here last night en route to the famed sacred Font Lourdes in France, where he will seek divine healing.

Duncan Wilson, 28, Paton, N. Z., is making the pilgrimage at the expense of the citizens of his home town and nearby Wilmington, where Catholic and Protestant neighbors alike subscribed nearly $4,000.

Wilson limped off a Canadian Pacific plane in a painful stoop and explained he's undergone five major operations in the past five months for "bladder trouble."

Wilson is a well-known figure around Charlotte sound, where for six years he has been skippering a 45-foot motor launch and delivering mail and necessities over a 120-mile route to residents otherwise cut off from civilization.

He is accompanied by Mrs. William A. Krout, former sister in charge of Ecton hospital.

Tonight he will take off from Honolulu for Vancouver, where he will fly the polar route to France, reaching sacred Pons healing waters Sunday.

Negro Student Refuses Offer Of Europeans

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Feb. 9 (AP)—Austrian Lucy rejected an invitation to study at the University of Copenhagen because the Negro student wanted to continue her fight for admission to the University of Alabama, the Newspaper Politiken said today.

The invitation was extended yesterday by the Danish League for "tolerance" to the Negro students whose admission to the U. of Alabama touched off a campus riot.

The league offered to pay Miss Lucy's transportation and tuition costs.

The newspaper said it telephoned Miss Lucy at the home of her attorney in Birmingham, Ala., and told her of the league's offer.

"I'm glad to know somebody wishes me luck but it is still my wish to continue my fight," she was quoted as saying. "If I do not succeed I will think over the flattering invitation."

Brazilian Slates Visit to Midwest

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 8 (AP)—Vice President Joao Goulart promised yesterday that he will visit the Midwest when he goes to the United States in May.

Goulart made the promise to Mayor H. Roe Battle of Kansas City, Mo., head of a 30-member trade delegation which also met President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Battle said he will send a special plane to Washington for Goulart who was invited to visit the United States by Vice President Richard Nixon when he attended the inauguration here recently.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

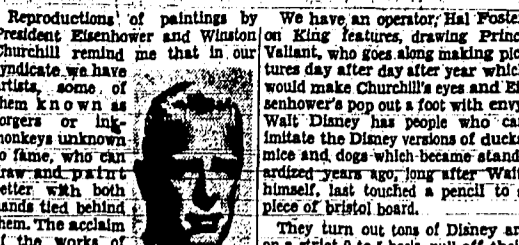

WASHINGTON—Oil! Although that oleaginous word was not mentioned in the Eisenhower-Eden communique on their White House conference on the world's troubled state, it was the subject which weighed most heavily on their minds.

It is the main reason—almost the only one—for their grave concern over such seemingly unrelated problems as Russia's penetration of the Middle East, the Israeli-Arab feud, Britain's dispute with Greece over Cyprus, and Red China's aggression in the Far East and Southeast Asia.

Published Study Gives Facts On Divorce, Re-Marry Rates

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—A Kinsey-type study of divorce just published indicates three out of four divorced mothers in America re-marry or are on the way to re-marry within two years after their divorce.

These and other aspects of divorce that run counter to some accepted ideas on the subject were turned up in a study conducted by William J. Goode, a Columbia University sociologist from Houston, Tex.

HUMPHREY'S FORECAST

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey estimates that corporation profits this year will be about the same as last year—a mere 43 billion dollars.

This isn't his view at all. The secretary is known to believe that the gross national product of goods and services this year may well be higher than last year.

One impression current among economists is that Humphrey's estimate may have been based on some practical business man's seat-of-the-pants instinct.

He has a favorite story about a poster he remembers from his boyhood. It showed a tramp and a dog. And the dog is saying to the tramp, "If you're so smart, why ain't you rich?"

Actually, the treasury estimates for this year, like every other year, were based on every economic fact available.

There are several soft spots in the economy. The farm price decline is one of the worst.

It can be stated authoritatively that this factor by itself was not responsible for the Humphrey estimate.

It is insisted that this is an honest estimate. There are no two or more billions of dollars worth of anticipated tax receipts hidden in any treasury tax drawer or up anybody's sleeve.

Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington professed to be chagrined recently when he learned that Victor Johnston, a GOP national committee scout, visited his home balliwick of Seattle without telling him.

Trouble with this sort of kindly offer, it may set a bad precedent — for Magnuson himself.

You can see where such warmheartedness can lead. A man has to be careful with his generous impulses. If any of them tighten up a bit, he begins to look like a skinklin.

FIGURES ON WORLD OIL SUPPLY—Eisenhower and Eden had new and appalling figures on the world supply (proved reserves) of petroleum at hand during their three-day talk.

REDS SEEKING OIL MONOPOLY—The United States has proved reserves of only 35 billion barrels, according to this report by the atomic energy commission.

OPPOSITION TO TRUMAN'S INSISTENCE—The late James V. Forrestal, then secretary of defense, foresaw this menace in his diaries.

FORRESTAL'S ARGUMENT—"There was," writes Forrestal, "a general discussion of oil (at a cabinet meeting—Editor's note) Krug (then secretary of interior) reported a 50 per cent increase in the use of fuel oils since 1945."

Basque Meal Due for Adlai In Boise Stop

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP) — A typical Basque Lenten meal and Basque entertainment including native songs and dances are in store for Adlai Stevenson when he makes his overnight visit to Boise next Wednesday.

Originally planned as a "chuck wagon" dinner, the theme of the Democratic get-together was shifted Wednesday to the Basque motif.

"We feel that Mr. Stevenson will have been exposed to a chuck wagon dinner wherever he has gone in the west," Gus Taylor, co-chairman of the party explained.

"With Boise the capital of Basques in the United States, we felt the Basque theme of our rally would be a refreshing novelty for the candidate for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States."

The Basques came originally to this country as shepherds from Spain in the last century.

Touring West

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate currently is on a stump-tour of the west.

He will fly to Boise in a chartered plane from Richland, Wash., en route to Salt Lake City and a major address.

George Greenfield, state Democratic chairman, said Democrats from all over Idaho are expected for a rally to be staged at a junior high school. It will be Stevenson's first appearance in Boise and southern Idaho. He made one appearance in Lewiston during the 1952 campaign and vacationed once near Coeur d'Alene.

Menu Cited

Miss Taylor said Stevenson will get a chance to eat a clam dish made with rice and olive oil and a pimiento codfish dish.

Stevenson is scheduled to deliver a short talk following the dinner which will be served at the school by Euzkaldunak, a local Basque society, whose name means "speakers of the pure language."

Entertainment, including Basque dances and songs, will follow the talk.

Senators Act On Plans for Sugar Quota

domestic areas and 45 per cent among foreign suppliers.

Old Division Told

The present law, adopted in 1948 when this country needed large imports of sugar, gave 95 per cent of the additional consumption to Cuba and four per cent to other foreign countries.

Cuba, which has had 33.8 per cent of the U. S. market in recent years, would retain that percentage. Mexico, which had four-tenths of 1 per cent would get 4 per cent, the Dominican Republic 2 per cent and Peru 8 per cent.

Both Peru and the Dominican Republic opposed vigorously the senate version. The administration had recommended 63 per cent for Peru and 43 per cent of the gross consumption for the Dominican Republic.

Division Cited

The bill that passed was drawn up by the senate finance committee. It provides that the first 105,000 tons of the growth in 1956 be divided 55,000 tons to the western sugar beet states and 50,000 tons to the cane sugar states of Louisiana and Florida.

The growth consumption would be shared 80-20. U. S. sugar consumption reaches 8,250,000 tons. The 1955 consumption is estimated unofficially at 8,338,000 tons.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, author of the senate bill, said the primary difference between it and the house version is in division of the growth market. Instead of the 55-45 ratio of the senate bill, the house version would set up an equal division of sugar consumption increases.

Electronic Boom Cited for Region

SPOKANE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest is headed "more rapidly than most men realize" toward the age of electronics and an era of atomic power, Kinsey M. Robinson, president of the Washington Water Power company, said yesterday.

Robinson made the statement following the nationwide "live better electrically" program in the inland empire which was viewed on a closed circuit television program.

Robinson said the company will spend at least 100 million dollars for power construction in the inland empire between now and 1960, more than has been spent during the first 67 years of the company's history.

At the Lions meeting Wednesday noon, Kay Kawamoto was introduced as a new member and Maurice Pickett was a guest.

The program was a film of the 1955 world series highlights.

1949 fund drive which was oversubscribed by nearly eight million dollars.

In 1946 he headed a committee to study the Red Cross corporate structure. Recommendations of this committee resulted in a revision of the congressional charter of the organization, signed into law by President Truman May 8, 1947.

His other Red Cross experience includes the chairmanship of the Metropolitan camp and the hospital council in the greater New York area; chairmanship of the board of governors' subcommittee on chapter relations; and membership on the board's executive committee and its subcommittee on volunteers.

In addition to his Red Cross work, Harriman is a director of the American Banknote company, the Anacosta Copper Mining company, the Delaware and Hudson railroad and is a trustee of the National Safety Council, the American Museum of Natural History. He is president of the Boys' club of New York.

He also is a partner of Brown Brothers, Harriman and company, private bankers; chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad company and a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Born Dec. 24, 1895, in New York, he was educated at Groton and at Yale university. Following his graduation in 1917, he entered the army and was a first lieutenant at the end of World War I.

He calls Arden, N. Y., his home.

Mrs. Harriman, who will accompany him on his visit to Twin Falls, is an active Red Cross worker, having served as volunteer since 1939. She was a member of the former north Atlantic area volunteer services staff and has been vice chairman and administrator of volunteer services for the New York chapter since 1945.

They will be honored at a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. in American Legion hall.

Gem State Folks Asked for Care On Tax Returns

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP) — P. G. Neill, Idaho state tax collector, appealed to taxpayers yesterday to use a bit more care in filling out their state income tax returns.

He appealed especially to those who say they have a refund coming. Neill pointed out that any error of omission in filing means the form has to be returned and corrected, causing a delay in obtaining the refund. He listed these as the principal errors:

- Failure to attach withholding statements.
- Failure to sign returns, especially when husband and wife file jointly and both must sign.
- Neglect in answering all pertinent information on the first page of the return.

Reds' Threats In Berlin Air Sent to West

BERLIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—A veiled threat against Western airlines serving isolated Berlin has emerged from the communist bloc campaign against American-ballooned flights across the Iron Curtain.

Coupled with this was what appeared to be the start of concerted protests by red nations to the U. N. Albania, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia led off with protest notes which they asked U. N. headquarters in New York to circulate to all the 76 U. N. members.

The veiled threat to the airlines—three corridors used by western military and civilian planes across East Germany territory since World War II on trips to and from Berlin—came from East German legislators. The put across the point with a warning.

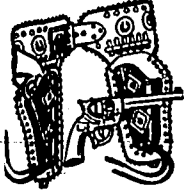

The president of the Volkskammer (lower house) told the

Prop Program Is Held Danger To Soil Bank

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower said last night that restoration of a rigid farm price support program—voted by the senate agriculture committee—would "defeat the main object" of creating a soil bank to reduce crop surpluses.

The President made the statement in a letter to Senator Aiken, Vermont, senior Republican on the senate committee.

The White House said Aiken wrote Eisenhower Tuesday seeking the President's opinion regarding a return to rigid price props.

The committee voted 8-7 last Saturday to couple the administrator's soil bank proposal with a provision to return to rigid supports. Eisenhower has said many times that he favors continuation of the present program providing for flexible supports.

Eisenhower wrote Aiken it is imperative that the government find a way to reduce crop surpluses. He added that it was principally for that reason that he proposed creation of a soil bank, which has as a main goal the retirement of much land from unnecessary production. He added:

"Of course, these price-depressing surpluses themselves are largely the result of high rigid price supports of war time, too long continued in peace. It would be inconsistent to enact a soil bank program and, at the same time, reestablish production incentives that would again fill government warehouses, again depress prices, and thus defeat the main object of the soil bank. It results that there is always room for varying opinions on how best to resolve public problems. Nevertheless, in this instance, I must say that I should be gravely concerned if the soil bank should be coupled with the restitution of production incentives certain to nullify great benefits that the bank can bring."

Expert Comments On Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Mariner S. Eccles testified yesterday that a reduction of individual income taxes would be justified this year if national production ceases to expand.

The Salt Lake City banker and former chairman of the federal reserve board said the nation must have an increase of three to four per cent a year in the output of goods and services, and prices must be stable, to maintain employment.

Eccles told the joint congressional committee on the economic report there is a prospect of a government cash surplus of as much as three billion dollars in 1956 and the further possibility that the 1956 gross national product will remain around present levels.

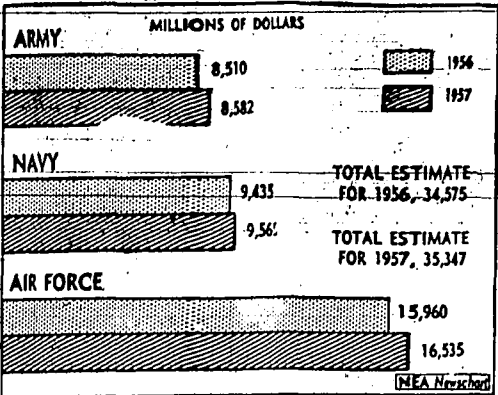

Ruling Affirmed For Well Water

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9 (AP)—The U. S. court of appeals has affirmed a decision of the Arizona district court forbidding an Arizona land owner from using the water from his well for irrigation purposes.

Paul W. Brophy had appealed the Arizona courts decision on the grounds that a 1927 agreement, which made his land part of the Sarcos irrigation and drainage district, allowed him to pump water for any purpose until ordered not to do so by the secretary of interior. The appeals court held that Brophy's interpretation of his contract with the government was not valid and would deprive other members of the district of an equal share in the irrigation water.

Crystal Ball Spending

Uncle Sam's increased emphasis on air might in our national defense is clearly shown by this breakdown of estimated military expenditures for fiscal 1956 and 1957. President Eisenhower, in his fiscal 1957 budget is asking for an air force spending allowance almost twice as large as those asked for the army and navy together. Included in the total estimated military expenditures are 665 million dollars for 1956 and 618 million dollars for 1957, to go for interservice activities. (NEA)

Negro Vote Can Be Decisive In Democrat Political Circles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—James A. Farley, the lightning political calculator, used to calculate that the Negro vote was a potential balance of power in about 17 states.

These were the substantially industrialized states outside the South. The Negro vote could exercise its power only in a fairly close election in which a large proportion of Negro voters backed the same party.

Farley played his calculations among the minority groups, independent left wingers and Democrats into what became FDR's new deal powerhouse. The system won five consecutive presidential elections for the Democrats, the last one in 1948 with Harry S. Truman heading the ticket.

The minority groups, including the Negroes, roosted in comfort among the Democrats through the years. It may be now, that the Negroes are becoming a bit restless. Reports from California indicate that Sen. Estes Kefauver may have outbid Adlai E. Stevenson for the Negro vote in that state.

They have been campaigning California in a warm-up for what is to be repeated in force during the fortnight preceding the state's June 3 presidential primary. The Negroes appear to insist on speedier integration than Stevenson is inclined to promise them. Kefauver was more promising, as would be Gov. Averell Harriman of New York if he were openly in the pre-convention Democratic contest.

There are close to half a million Negroes in California. There are 650,000 in Illinois, 445,000 in Michigan, 320,000 in New Jersey, close to one million in New York, more than half a million in Ohio, toward 650,000 in Pennsylvania.

That's an indication of the kind of trouble Stevenson is buying if his position on racial integration proves unpopular with the mass of Negro voters in the North. It is a hint, also, of the problem confronting Democratic platform writers this year. Many a southern convention delegation will stand like Gen. Thomas J. Jackson's stone wall against any hurry-up integration plank—or, integration, at all.

California developments have not yet proved the Negro mass to be for or against Stevenson. But the preliminary evidence suggests that they are beginning to love him not. His stand for moderation in political objectives has seemed to some observers to be making Stevenson a natural choice of southern Democrats who abhor the less moderate positions of Harriman and Kefauver.

Some California Negroes translated that into a Stevenson appearance of southern conservatives. What Stevenson urged in California was a gradual integration in which the force of moral law would be the only force applied. He didn't say anything which President Eisenhower has not or might not say without causing an eyebrow to quiver. But neither Mr. Eisenhower nor any other Republican is seeking to become the political leader of the new fair deal-Democratic coalition founded by Farley back there in 1932.

Republican platform writers will not have much trouble this year with their civil rights plan. They will go right along with the supreme court and Negroes will not expect more of them, nor be angry. Stevenson is in bad pre-convention trouble if the California symptoms are organic and the trouble spreads. The Democratic party probably is in for bad convention trouble when the times comes to write the civil rights platform plank. It could be the kind of trouble that spills over into the campaign and substantially influences presidential elections.

Republicans view all of this with much content.

"Faith Healer" Runs Afoul of Law After Harming Small Tot

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—A Texas "faith healer" said yesterday he would continue to hold regular services despite charges filed against him that he caused injury to a 3-year-old polio victim while allegedly practicing medicine without a license.

A peace justice ordered a preliminary hearing Feb. 17 of a "test case" to determine whether a minister has immunity from laws which require a license for practicing medicine.

Under Florida laws, immunity is granted to anyone "while engaged in the practice of the religious tenets of this state."

Evangelist Jack Coe, Dallas, Tex., was arrested yesterday on a complaint by a young mother, Mrs. Ann Clark, who brought her tiny, crippled son, George, to be healed by Coe in his giant revival tent.

She said the evangelist, who has been attempting to cure everything from cancer to a stiff neck, anointed the tot's head with oils and said: "Jesus, heal this boy, Jesus, heal this boy."

He then told the mother to "throw away his braces and crutches" and have him walk without them for several days.

But the child's legs crumpled underneath him after the healing attempt and he had to be carried home, Mrs. Clark said.

"We decided maybe God couldn't heal George right away, so we took the minister's advice. But the day after we took off the braces, George's legs puffed up and his ankles turned sideways," she said tearfully.

Coe, nattily dressed in a dark suit, labeled the complaint "ridiculous."

He was released on $5,000 bond after being booked at the county jail. He told reporters he intended to go ahead with his nightly "healing" sessions.

Assistant County Solicitor A. C. Bressler, who helped draft the charges against Coe, said the portly evangelist "atepped far out of bounds."

"When he told the boy's parents to throw away the leg braces, he was no longer using a religious faith to heal," Bressler said. "He was engaged in the medical profession."

Coe has been the target of local ministers and a newspaper crusade since he set up his revival tent here weeks ago.

A group of Miami ministers has offered to give Coe $2,500 if he "cured" any person of his own choosing who was suffering from an organic disease. They stipulated that the patient must first submit to a regular doctor's examination. Coe did not accept.

The faith healer has been taking collections at his tent service here for a children's home he operates at Waxahatchie, Tex., about 18 miles from Dallas. He operated the home without a license in Dallas from 1951 to August of 1955 when he was forced to move it.

Dallas city officials refused to give him a license for the children's home because it "did not have an approved water supply."

The Texas child welfare division has refused to license his home at Waxahatchie "because it does not meet the minimum standards for a child caring institution."

Luxembourg, one of the smallest independent countries in the world, covers an area of 899 square miles in northwestern Europe.

Plane Mishap Fatal to GI on West Airport

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 9 (AP)—An air force GI en route from Norton air force base, San Bernardino, Calif., to Chicago, exploded on take-off at Cheyenne Municipal airport early today and one of the nine military personnel aboard was killed.

The air force said the other eight persons aboard were hospitalized at Cheyenne for observation. None was believed seriously injured.

A spokesman at Warren air force base here said preliminary investigation indicated the explosion was in the left motor. The fire was put out quickly with a hand extinguisher, he said.

The explosion occurred at the east end of the runway after the plane had traveled about 1,500 feet on the ground, he said. The craft was not airborne when the explosion occurred.

Officials said the name of the man killed would be released upon notification of next of kin.

Court Says Pair Wrongly Evicted

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The state supreme court ruled today that James and Evelyn Lutz, a Boise couple who operate a grocery store, had been evicted illegally by their landlord, Ada lodge No. 3, IOOF.

In a 3-2 opinion by Justice William Keeton it ordered a new trial for the two, who are seeking damages from the lodge. Justice Deane Anderson and E. B. Smith dissented.

The two were ordered out of the lodge after a fire badly damaged their quarters in December, 1952. They were told they would have a sign a new lease at higher rent if they wished to remain.

Keeton held the fire did not constitute cancellation of the old lease.

Survey Seeks Ban Removal For Building

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A congressional investigating subcommittee demanded today that the administration remove credit controls on home buying to avert a "sharp slump" in home building.

The group called for a return to the "no down payment" on purchase of GI houses and lower down payments on purchase of FHA-insured homes which prevailed before controls were imposed last July.

The recommendations were made by the subcommittee headed by Rep. Albert Rains, D., Ala., in reporting on a six-month investigation.

It said applications for FHA mortgages on construction of small homes and for VA appraisals of new GI housing in November ran about 40 per cent below year-earlier levels. This decline is "ominous" and could have "serious effects on the entire economy," the subcommittee said.

The report, published today, was written last month before the administration went part-way in relaxing the controls it had imposed as an anti-inflationary move. On Jan. 11 maturities on GI and FHA insured loans, which had been limited to 25 years since last July, were restored to 30 years.

In a parenthetical note, the subcommittee said it was "gratified that some action has been taken, although we believe it did not go far enough." It said the same reasoning should force a relaxation in down-payment controls.

Woman Says She Is Balked On Adoptions

LEMONT, Pa., Feb. 9 (AP)—A 27-year-old doctor said yesterday her hopes of adopting seven Indian children from an Idaho reservation were dashed by nationwide publicity of her plans.

Dr. Imogene Barker earlier had told of her plans to drive to the Ft. Hall, Idaho, reservation next month to pick up seven Indian children of her family which she later hoped to adopt.

The story was read in Idaho by officials of the reservations and they informed her today that because of the publicity the children's parents were not to be adopted.

Under adoption laws, she explained, she now may adopt the children, ranging in ages from 1 year to 11 years, only if they are put into a home and then application for their adoption is approved through other channels.

Dr. Barker, a chiropractor in this central Pennsylvania community near State College, Pa., is unmarried and already is legal guardian of two other children aged 11 and 13.

Earlier today, the superintendent of the Ft. Hall reservation, F. M. Ovi, said she had heard of the adoptions was from an Associated Press story from Lemont.

Ovi immediately investigated the proposed adoption and said he had found that Dr. Barker had been in touch with the Rev. Jack Bennett, who is in charge of the Assembly of God church on the reservation.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett said, however, that he knew nothing about the adoption of any specific seven children.

Ovi said adoptions in interstate placement are made through the Indian bureau and that recommendations are made through a state agency.

Debate Series Is Refused by GOP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A series of radio-television debates between the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees was suggested yesterday by Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler. But the idea got a temporary brushoff, at least, from GOP headquarters.

Butler wrote Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall asking him to join in requesting the radio-TV networks to carry several hours of fact-face debates between the major party candidates during this year's campaign.

Hall replied that the GOP convention is still six months away and added: "I would not presume to speak for or commit the candidates of that convention on such a matter."

Cement Firm Set To Hike Capacity

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Oregon Portland Cement company has announced plans to double the capacity of its plant at Lime, Ore., near the construction site of Idaho Power company's two Hells canyon dams.

The firm will spend $3,114,572 to bring the output of the plant up to one million barrels of finished cement per year.

F. E. McCaslin, company president, said the cement would go into dams which Idaho Power has been licensed to build in the deep gorge of the Snake river.

Legal Suit Against Government Could Start New Gold Rush in Western Area

PRAIRIE CITY, Ore., Feb. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Laycock, a widowed drug store clerk, may go down in history as the first woman ever to start a gold rush.

Whether she starts it depends on how she makes out in court with a suit against the U.S. government.

Mrs. Laycock has her own private P. Knox. She owns a sizeable chunk of a gold mine that contains gold worth about 40 million dollars at the government's pegged price of $35 an ounce.

But she has to keep working in the drug store here to support this "gold elephant." She figures it would cost her the whole 40 million dollars just to get the gold out.

Mrs. Laycock points out that under the power of eminent domain the government can take all the gold she mines but must pay her a "fair market price." She contends that $35 an ounce, the government's official price for gold, is not a fair market price in this day of the deprecatd dollar.

Therefore, Mrs. Laycock argues, she is being deprived of her property without due process of law.

Her case against the government involves the fifth amendment and a constitutional question which her lawyers say the U.S. supreme court has never ruled on.

Ability to Grab Opportunity Is Shown in Success Story

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Opportunity isn't scarce—but the ability to recognize it is.

When a million-dollar idea pops up, few men have the art to see its true value—and put it to work.

This is the story of two Milwaukee lawyers who did. They turned a personal annoyance into a multi-million-dollar business.

Back in 1948 Elmer Winter and his partner, Aaron Scheinfeld, found themselves badly in need of an extra typist to prepare papers in a pressing court case.

— and they needed her quickly.

"At first we tried calling the old girls who had worked for us before," recalled Elmer, "but they were all busy having babies." We were in a real jam. It took a lot of scurrying around until at the last moment we found a girl who could do the job for us.

"Afterward, my partner and I got to talking about how there must be many business firms which ran into emergencies when they temporarily need extra trained help and couldn't find it. Yet there must be many people who wanted temporary work of this sort. Why couldn't there be an organization to solve the situation?"

The two lawyers, after a preliminary investigation disclosed the market was even greater than they visualized, created Manpower, Inc. The firm, which now has 71 offices here and in five foreign countries, has built up a labor pool of scores of thousands of skilled and unskilled workers. On short notice it assembles and provides for other companies trained staffs to do practically any specialized task in the industrial world except construction work.

"We aren't an employment agency," explained Winter. "We rent help. Our people work for us, and are paid by us."

The clients of Manpower, Inc., including 79 of the nation's 100 largest corporations, range from huge insurance firms, department stores and Wall street banks down to a small manufacturer who merely wants a few freight cars unloaded.

"We also have furnished disaster crews to help out in hurricanes and flood relief work," said Winter.

But the odd-job firm also has met a number of odd emergency requests.

Once a convention of funeral directors sent in a hurry-up call for a girl model to demonstrate a device designed to lift a corpse from a marble slab into its coffin.

Another time a racehorse died at a Cincinnati track and Manpower, Inc., was called on to speed a crew there to dig it a grave in the infield, while sorrowing bettors who had wagered on the horse hung around mourning.

But most of the firm's assignments are to fill the multifarious chores of business offices and most of its employees are ex-career girls.

"We don't look for teenagers," said Winter. "We look for mature people trained to do a mature job."

"There are thousands of middle-aged housewives who have reared children and who would like to work part time, either because they are bored or because they frankly need the money. There are also thousands of firms that need temporary employees during peak seasons. We simply bring them together."

"We act on a fireman's basis. But one of the things we have stayed away from is baby sitting. Too many headaches in it. All our employees are bonded," of course, but I don't want to feel responsible for 4,000 little children every night. I've got three of my own to worry about."

But Winter, who is only 43, and his partner have just launched a new firm called Salespower, Inc., which will get up sales staffs to market the products of small firms.

"We feel it has an even greater potentiality than Manpower, Inc.," said Winter.

Maybe million-dollar ideas like these are habit-forming. The trouble with most of us is to get the first one.

Part of the fifth amendment, better known these days for its role at congressional hearings, provides that "no person shall . . . be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation."

Besides contending that $35 an ounce is not "just compensation" for gold these days, Mrs. Laycock's case challenges the way the government uses its constitutional powers to "coin money and regulate the value thereof." Mrs. Laycock contends this doesn't give Uncle Sam the right to hoard all the gold that is mined in the United States.

If Mrs. Laycock wins her point it could touch off a gold rush—new activity at many rich gold mines that have been lying dormant for years because of the squeeze between mining costs and the fixed price of gold.

Western mining circles are watching her case with interest. A victory for the lady drug-store clerk would knock the props out from under the gold reserve act of 1934 and the trading with the enemy act of 1917.

Mrs. Laycock lost her first legal round when the U.S. district court in Portland, Ore., ruled against her. But she gets another try this week when lawyers open arguments in an appeal before the ninth circuit court in San Francisco.

Noted Statue Will Remain On Roadway

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—Everybody, it seems—save maybe a few motorists—wants a statue of Brigham Young. But from the looks of things, the motorists are stuck with him.

The statue of the pioneer leader of the LDS church stands plunk in the middle of a downtown intersection here. Just so unwary motorists can't run into it and scratch the sculpture, it's mounted high on a concrete pedestal that measures two traffic lanes across at the base.

A recent city commission move to trim the base brought protests from lovers of the statue and the base is still unscathed. But the protests were nothing compared to the reaction yesterday to a suggestion raised in nearby Provo.

Makes Suggestion

There, publicist Edwin Butterworth of Brigham Young university said BYU would be happy to have the statue for its very own.

"Salt Lake City has a nice pioneer monument now—out of the way of traffic," he said, referring to "This is the Place" monument in the city's eastern foothills.

He said the Brigham Young monument "would be a fitting centerpiece for the BYU quadrangle and a much more suitable representation of the founder of BYU than the small plaster cast now in the Maeser building—the only piece of art students here have to remind them of the high ideals and virtues of the school's founder."

Reaction Is Quick

But reaction to Butterworth's suggestion was quick.

"The statue has been moved all the times I think it should be moved," said Gordon C. Young, president of the Brigham Young Family association.

Kate B. Carter, president of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers, said "We have thousands of petitions on file . . . against any removal."

'Obituary'

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 9 (AP)—As far as a Naples court is concerned Michele France is "dead," regardless of how loud he shouts.

France called to Argentina in 1925, leaving behind his young wife, Concettina. She never heard from him and finally filed a certificate declaring he had died in 1929. She remarried.

Then France returned and protested. The court, however, stood firm on the record, told France to obtain documentary proof that he is alive and postponed the whole case.

Co-Op Given Franchise by I. F. Council

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 9 (AP)—The city council last night unanimously approved on second reading an ordinance granting a natural gas franchise to a local non-profit cooperative. However, the council delayed a third and final reading to investigate further legal aspects.

"We had planned to have both the second and third readings last night," Mayor E. W. Fanning said, "but felt we would like more checking before we commit the city."

Third Reading Set

Fanning said the third reading probably would be at the council's next regular meeting Feb. 17.

The ordinance was passed on the first reading Dec. 22.

Both the Idaho Natural Gas association, Inc., the cooperative, and Intermountain Gas company have applied to Idaho Falls for the local franchise. Intermountain is authorized by the Idaho public utilities commission to distribute in southern Idaho.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 9 (AP)—A policeman and neighbor extricated Charles Knapp, 35, and a load of garbage from a cramped alleyway after Knapp spent an hour in the cramped quarters. Knapp said he went there after bowling and having drinks and decided to put the garbage in the dumpster. "Somehow I got into it myself," he said. He was not hurt.

Terms Quoted

Each of the firms offered to pay Idaho Falls three per cent of the gross proceeds for the franchise. The cooperative also would pay the entire system to the city after paying off its bonds in an estimated 20 years.

Cost of the Idaho Falls system has been estimated between $2 million and 1.5 million dollars. The cooperative also estimates on a trunk line from Pocatello to Idaho Falls at more than one million dollars.

Here's How Your Automatic Electric Water Heater Brings You BEST BARGAIN ELECTRICITY

In the Snake river valley where Idaho Power company delivers your electric service at rates 35 per cent below the national average, ALL electricity is a bargain. But there is such a thing as "BEST BARGAIN ELECTRICITY" and this is the 700-kilowatt-hours at 9.10 of a cent each which are available to you if you have an automatic electric water heater. Here is how your electric bill is figured:

1. The first 50 kilowatt-hours used in a month cost 3.8c each.
2. The next 50 kilowatt-hours used cost 3c each.
3. The next 100 kilowatt-hours cost 2.7c each.
4. After that the rate drops to 1.75c per kilowatt hour used.

BUT After the first 200 kilowatt-hours have been used, your automatic electric water heater entitles you to 700 BEST BARGAIN kilowatt-hours at only 9.10c each. Ordinarily the water heater uses only a part of these. If you have BEST BARGAIN electricity to spare with average family use, you can use it—for example—to operate:

- an electric clothes dryer for only 54c a month.
- an electric freezer for only 54c a month.
- an electric range for only 90c a month.

Ike Requests Immigrations Quota Boosts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower called on congress to open America's doors to 220,000 immigrants a year. This would be an increase of about 65,000.

In a special message to congress, Eisenhower asked:

1. That the formula for admitting immigrants for permanent residence be based on the 1950 population. The 1920 base now used permits 154,637 to come in each year.

2. That the extra 65,000 be distributed among countries in proportion to their actual immigration since 1924. Generally speaking, the present quotas for southern European countries are oversubscribed; some northern European countries have not used up their quotas.

3. That "quota numbers that are unused by countries to which they are allocated should be made available for use elsewhere" in the succeeding year. Under present law unused quotas become void.

4. That the attorney general be given discretionary power to handle the thousands of individual alien cases now handled by "private bills" in congress. These bills permit an alien to stay in the country or enter the country. The President said the bills put "undue and largely useless burdens" on congress and the chief executive.

5. That congress amend the law requiring the fingerprinting of every alien who applies for a visa to visit this country. Eisenhower asked that other "travel obstacles" also be removed.

While he dealt mainly with letting more people in, Eisenhower also had some remarks about getting rid of "the relatively few aliens who have demonstrated their unfitness to remain in our midst."

He said the attorney general soon would submit to congress a remedy for the "abuse of legal process" under which "criminals of the lowest character" have been able to delay their deportation.

Gigantic Dam Is Dream of Egypt Chiefs

CAIRO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Ancient Egypt dreams today of building the greatest dam in the world, a rock buttress across the Nile 17 times as big as the great Pyramid of Giza.

It would give Egypt 10 times as much electric power as it has now, would increase the nation's annual income by almost one-third.

It would raise the annual income of this poverty-plagued country by a billion dollars and tax revenues by $3 million dollars. It would end the flood ravages of the Nile. It would form the world's largest man-made lake—almost the size of the entire state of Rhode Island.

Seen as Symbol

Small wonder then that the proposed Aswan high dam, 500 miles upstream from Cairo, looms as a symbol of the aspirations of "have nations" throughout the world.

It is a challenge to western capital and "know-how." It explains why the world is making behind-the-scenes efforts to help.

Eugene Black, president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, is here talking with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel-Nasser about a loan to help finance building Egyptian dams. Black estimates the cost, including a 10-year agricultural and hydro-electric program, at 673 million dollars but that probably is considerably too low.

Black talks have touched on a world bank loan plus separate loans from the United States and Britain to Egypt to raise the rest.

Will Take 10 Years

It is estimated it will take 10,000 men 10 years to complete the structure. Finished, it will be the world's largest. Russia and India have greater water storage dams. The United States and Switzerland have dams with more electrical output, but the Aswan dam will top any storage plus power and surplus in the volume of rock and materials that will go into its bulk.

It will be 364 feet high. It will be 16,000 feet long—more than three miles. The backed-up water will extend 265 miles back, reaching into the Sudan. The area to be covered is 1,158 square miles.

Hospital Filled

MANISTEE, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—About 200 school children and three of their teachers—ill with food poisoning, swarmed into this Lake Michigan town yesterday in a caravan of school buses and private cars, swamping the community's only hospital.

The children, ranging in age from 3 to 18, are pupils at the Norman-Dixon school in the hamlet of Brethren, 23 miles northeast of here. None were critical.

Cross-Section of Nation Sends Cures On Farm Issues to Secretary Benson

Do YOU have a solution for the farm problem? Thousands of private citizens—and they've been writing to the agriculture department. The following discuss some of their ideas.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—"Dear Mr. Benson:

"If you want to solve the farm problem, here's what you ought to do..."

Every day, the mailman delivers to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson a big batch of letters from plain citizens who are worried about the farm problem, and who believe they have a solution for it.

They come from farmers, housewives, bankers, factory workers, business executives, ministers, ranchers, politicians, small town citizens—a true cross section of the nation.

Almost 8,000 such letters are now piled in the office of Ernest C. Betts, Jr., the department's correspondence officer.

Betts said today that well over half of the letters offer some ideas of merit. Many contain reasoned and plausible plans. Others contain only comment and observations on current farm conditions.

Betts said a "few" could be put in the crackpot category.

Some of the solutions are variations of the administration's "soil bank" plan now in congress. Most plans involve spending government money.

An organization at Columbia, S. C., for example, suggested use of government loans to divert crop land to tree farming and grassland with a guarantee of 100 per cent of parity to farmers.

A Rutgers college professor in New Jersey offered a stamp plan where, in a consumer who buys a pound of butter at current prices would get a stamp worth seven or nine cents. When his stamp book was filled he could cash it at a bank. The effect would be a lower price to the consumer and an assured market for the dairy farmer. The government would pay the stamp cost.

A Washington, Ia., farmer suggested an agricultural security fund plan. The government would sell surplus grain back to farmers who raised it—at a cut price—in return for acreage reduction. The government would withhold 10 cents a bushel on corn and 15 cents a bushel on wheat. The money would be put into a price stabilization fund.

A Stanley, Kans., rancher wanted to "stop paying 20 million dollars daily for storage of surplus, and offer to pay England and other leading countries this same sum in millions of dollars per day for one year to supervise the distribution of our surpluses to starving world populations."

A citizen of Lake Aerial, Pa., said government aid should go only to farmers who get at least 50 per cent of their living from farming. A man with two farms would get federal aid for only one farm.

A Kansas state senator said his son told him there was no future in the present farm program and that "he had better go to Wichita and get a good job with short hours and easy money."

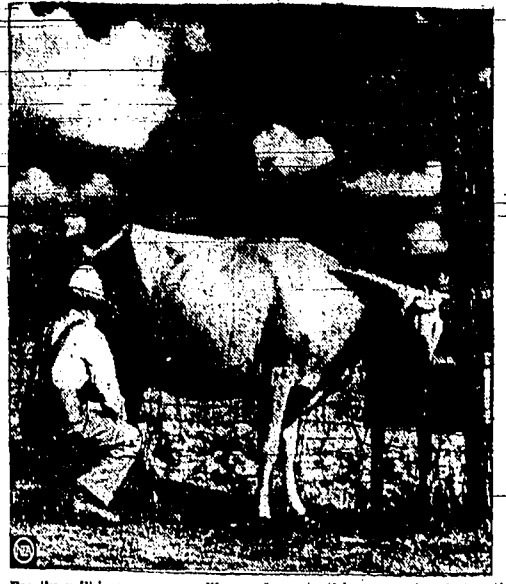

An oldster of Glendale, Calif., suggested repeal of all new deal and fair deal farm laws, distribution abroad of manufactured goods instead of tax dollars, abolition of the eight-hour day and child labor laws, return to standards of living prevalent in the 1920s, and the reelection of President Eisenhower.

A Flaxville, Mont., man called for bushel quotas instead of acreage planting controls. He would let the farmer raise what he wants to, but store at his own expense the surplus above what he is allowed to sell.

An air force lieutenant sent his "most nearly perfect farm program." He said the problem is simple. "The government should buy farms that have been doing poorly financially instead of letting them all go into larger farms. When an operator decides to give up in his struggle against the price squeeze, he could sell his farm to the government. The purchased farm would be planted in legumes and other grasses which would be plowed under every few years for green manure. Many tenant farmers who would lose a farm under this plan would be hired by the government to maintain the farms."

Government Tries to Figure If Having Cows Is Economical

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Ever wondered if it would be cheaper to own a cow and have all the milk you want within tugging distance?

Well, sir, if you're considering such a venture, the agriculture department is making a game effort to lend you a helping hand. But watch out.

Experts at the agriculture research service have just taken the wraps off a preliminary master plan to determine whether it costs more to milk your own cow or buy the stuff at the store.

Officially it's called "A Method for Estimating the Relative Costs of Home Produced Milk and Purchased Milk."

Unofficially it is probably the first attempt ever made by the federal government to see if do-it-yourself down on the farm is worth all the trouble.

It's also one of the most complicated schemes ever devised by Uncle Sam to make something simple. Among other things, you'll need a couple of economists and accountants for assistance.

To make this cow calculation or "is old-Bessie worth it" test requires a special five page work sheet drawn up by the experts. It's full of neatly lined columns, strange symbols and lots of numbers.

You're not allowed to leave out a thing. Under cow expenses, for example, you must list veterinary, medicine and breeding fees, corn, hay, commercial feed, equipment and personal property tax.

You also have to figure the cost of buying a cow, interest on the investment and depreciation per year of use. In case you didn't know, a cow priced at $162 depreciates $13 a year according to a sample worksheet.

The cream really thickens and sours when you get to the page which estimates milk needs in relation to supply. On this chart you must enter monthly amounts of milk used for drinking, cooking, cream, butter and cottage cheese.

There are various explanations along the way, however. Under cottage cheese it notes in parentheses that, "If No. 10 is positive or zero, enter 0. If No. 10 is negative enter 1/2 of this negative number."

The last page attempts to pull everything together and clarify the situation. A sample of your yearly efforts might look like this:

1. Family need met by supply, qts. whole milk (Worksheet IV, 13) 1,422.
2. Cost of having milk cow (Worksheet III, 14) $102.74.
3. Value of surplus milk (Worksheet V, B5) $10.25.
4. Net cost of home-produced milk (C2-C3) $92.49.

And so on.

"We're trying to make the plan simpler," says Eloise Cofer of the household economics branch who is in charge of the project.

One thing she can report for sure. Agriculture department statistics show that people who own cows drink more milk.

Conference Games Will Highlight Week-End Slate

The Nampa Bulldogs already having the Big Six conference basketball championship nailed down, the Twin Falls Bruins have their sights set on second place in the conference as they play a pair of road games this week-end. Coach Dan Folkins' Bruins dropped a 49-41 decision to Boise in a game at Twin Falls last Friday, giving them a 3-3 conference mark and dropping them to third place behind Pocatello (5-3). The Bruins could pick up ground, though, in their game at Idaho Falls Friday and at Pocatello Saturday.

Sailer Will Face 'Teacher'

Toni Sailer, 21-year-old Austrian ski ace who won three gold medals at the recent winter Olympic games, will face his former ski teacher, Christian Prada, in a ski meet in Italy next month. Prada, former world champion skier and now an instructor at Sun Valley, started Sailer on his career in Austria several years ago. Above, Sailer is shown as he skis to victory for the third time in the winter Olympics at Cortina, Italy. (NEA radio-telephoto) Feb. 18.

Olympic Improvement Vowed by U.S. Leaders

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—U. S. Olympic officials, blaming failures at Cortina on lack of training and outmoded equipment, issued a warning to Russia Wednesday that the worm will turn in the summer games at Melbourne. "I predict this will spur the greatest awakening of sports interest that America has ever shown," said Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, Chicago, president of the U. S. Olympic committee. "In winter sports as well as in summer sports."

Management Areas Proving Aid to Game

BOISE, Feb. 9—Big game, upland birds and waterfowl are reaping the benefit of improvement work conducted during 1955 and previous years to increase the usefulness of the state's 11 wildlife management areas, the Idaho fish and game department said today. Ross Leonard, director, said most of the areas are marginal land, and wildlife benefits are the most valuable "crop" they are capable of producing. They include critical winter range areas that are the keystone supporting important big game herds, and strategically located marsh or semi-marsh lands needed for resting, nesting and feeding grounds for waterfowl, he explained. "However, these are not refuges in the usual sense. As far as is practical and feasible, they are all open to hunting and fishing during appropriate seasons," he said. He stated that the management program on all is two-fold: to increase the usefulness of the land for wildlife, and to increase the usefulness of the area to hunters and fishermen. "An orderly harvest of the annual crop of game is an integral part of every wildlife management program, and is especially important on an area developed and managed exclusively for wildlife. Reproduction success on such an area is normally very high, and a proper removal is only common sense."

Phillies Looking For New Hurlers

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Manager Mayo Smith scanned a flock of 39 rookies at the Philadelphia Phillies camp Wednesday and hoped that among them there might be a badly needed first baseman and some pitchers. The Philly camp for rookies was the second major league club training session to open in Florida this year. The Boston Red Sox have been juggling their youngsters at Sarasota. The New York Yankees trot out their rookies at St. Petersburg Thursday. The Phillies need a replacement for Eddie Waitkus who is giving up baseball.

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 9 (AP)—Lloyd Torchio, fresh from a one-year coaching stint under Lynn (Poppy) Waldorf at the University of California, was named Wednesday to a post on the assistant coaching staff at Washington State college. Torchio, 24-year-old graduate of California, joins the staff of head football coach Jim Sutherland.

Detroit Lions May Get Into Baseball by Buying Tigers

DETROIT, Feb. 9 (AP)—Edwin J. Anderson, whose sound business practices lifted the Detroit Lions out of the financial doldrums and resulted in two National Football League titles, may get a chance to apply his know-how to the Detroit Tigers. Anderson is a member of a three-man committee picked by the board of directors of the Lions to investigate the feasibility of the football company buying the Tigers. And it's a foregone conclusion that he will assume executive command of the Tigers if the deal is consummated. As head of a local brewery, Anderson's first contact with professional sports in Detroit was as a sponsor. But he was quick to see that the Lions represented a sound investment when Fred L. Mandel announced he was going to sell the franchise after the 1947 season. With six other Detroiters, he founded the Doochill company which bought the Lions on Jan. 15, 1948. The board of directors elected Anderson president two years later and he never has relinquished the job.

Start of Spring Training Finds Some Coaches Still Hunting Jobs

By The Associated Press
Spring football practice got off to an unseasonable start in the Deep South and Southwest this week—a signal that the annual round of hiring and firing coaches is about over. And a lot of veteran coaches are left wondering what an old-timer has to do to get a new job. Out of nearly three dozen college coaching changes recorded since the end of the 1955 season, only one followed the familiar old pattern where a coach with a big name and a record of success was hired to replace one whose teams hadn't been doing so well.

Merged Labor Union Readies Well-Filled Politic War Chest

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Leaders of the AFL-CIO have planned the biggest political war chest in organized labor's history for use in the coming presidential election campaign.

James J. McDevitt, co-director with Jack Kroll of the combined union organization's political branch, the committee for political education, proposed a record budget for this year.

How much money was projected for political expenditure was kept secret but McDevitt indicated it would surpass the peak spending of approximately $850,000 by both the national AFL and CIO in the 1954 congressional campaigns.

The AFL-CIO proposes to raise the money through voluntary contributions by union members. There is no legal ban on raising or spending such funds.

In addition, the AFL-CIO plans to tap its 140 unions for sums from their treasuries for political education.

The committee will acquire records of respective candidates, including members of congress seeking reelection, and data on political issues.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, use of money from union treasuries is prohibited for partisan political purposes in behalf of candidates for federal office, including congress and the presidency.

Several AFL-CIO chiefs interviewed in advance of their post-war today said they intended to review the political situation state by state and make preliminary choices between potential rivals. The result of this was not expected to be made public.

These leaders said their objectives are to:

1. Coordinate state and local AFL-CIO organizations into effective, door-bell-punching political machines.
2. Concentrate on congressional participation in state and local political races on the theory that congress is labor's prime concern.
3. "Get after" all unions to provide the funds and manpower to do a real vote-getting job.

"We've got to work much harder this year or they will murder us," said Joseph D. Keenan, secretary-treasurer of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. He is an AFL-CIO vice president.

By "murder" Keenan explained, he meant that under the Eisenhower administration, Atty. Gen. Brownell, has had several grand juries trying to discourage labor union political activities through continued investigations. He said that unless labor is on the winning side this fall it can expect much more of this.

Panel Picked For Tax Poll

SHOSHONE, Feb. 9—A study of how taxpayers wish to raise money to improve and meet educational needs in Idaho will be made through the various PTA units. The 1955 legislature created a special committee to study the educational situation and each county is urged to take a census from their taxpayers on the subject.

Appointed to the Shoshone committee are Mrs. Luella Kinsey, Leo Rizzi and Howard Hill. A report will be made by the committee at the Feb. 20 PTA meeting.

Mrs. V. C. Ross conducted a meeting of the PTA executive committee Monday afternoon. Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Vern Johnson, treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $206.25. Mrs. Richard Mahbit was appointed chairman of the life membership committee. The secretary was instructed to order a life membership pin and to send $10 to the state office to be used in the life membership scholarship fund.

Dues Raised

HAGERMAN, Feb. 9—The Hagerman Grange Monday voted to raise the yearly dues from $3 to $4 to help cover the increase in National Grange dues and to help the Hagerman Grange budget. Mrs. Ira Kistler, Gooding, conducted a discussion on Grange ritual.

Members of the Wendell Grange presented the program. Taking part were Mrs. Ray Ruby, Mrs. Tom Crow, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mrs. Wyatt Hamilton, Penton Hayes, Adolph Kaudalack, Elmer Johnson, Mrs. Ray Looney and Mrs. Penton Hayes. The annual Pomona Grange banquet will be served at the Orchard Valley Grange on Feb. 27. The Bliss Grange will furnish the program.

2 Sicily Rivals Fight for Girl; Both Men Die

AGRIGENTO, Sicily, Feb. 9 (AP)—The rivalry between two young Sicilians for the heart and hand of a pretty black-eyed maid was over yesterday. They shot and killed each other in a blazing duel under the noon day sun.

The gun duel—like a page out of Wild West history—was witnessed by a terrified peasant who pleaded fruitlessly with the men to put up their weapons.

But Salvatore Cuzzi, 22, a goat-herd, and Francesco Alamo, 19, a farmhand, elected to shoot it out. Both opened fire with their old-fashioned revolvers, and both died. According to the eyewitness report to police by Cesare Pastore, 28, the two hate-filled rivals met by chance at high noon yesterday. However, it was known that the two had long agreed to fight it out for the girl they both loved.

SERVICES TO START JEROME, Feb. 9—Revival services will start at 11 a. m. Sunday at the Free Will Baptist church here with the Rev. Fred Marley as evangelist, the Rev. Ernest Hayhurst, pastor, reports.

Ex-Russ Says Spies Planted In U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A former intelligence officer in the Russian secret police testified yesterday that communist agents were planted in the intelligence division of the U. S. Army in Japan.

Yuri Rastvorov, who defected from the communists in 1954, also said Russia has undercover intelligence officers at all its embassies abroad, including the United States and the United Nations. Rastvorov gave a broad outline of the cloak-and-dagger operations of Russian intelligence in testimony before the senate internal security subcommittee.

His testimony opened a series of hearings by the subcommittee into "the scope of Soviet activity in the United States."

Subcommittee Chairman James O. Eastland, D. Miss., said the inquiry's results may lead to changes in the 1950 communist control act. He said the subcommittee wants to "determine to what extent Soviet power operates through the Communist party here." He said the subcommittee also wants to learn the extent other groups may have been divided to effectuate "the purposes of Russia."

Snow and Water Depths Are High

HAILEY, Feb. 9—The soil conservation service announces that snow surveys taken by Thomas Newkirk and Lawrence Johnson, Hailey pilot, on Feb. 7, continue to show considerable increase in snow depth and water content over those taken last year.

At Laidlaw's ranch there were 23 inches of snow with 5.9 inches of water compared to 13 inches of snow and 2.8 inches of water last year. Average water content here is 6.2 inches.

At the Muldoon measuring station there are 31 inches of snow with 8.1 inches of water compared to 17 inches of snow with 4.2 inches of water last year. Average water content here is 6.6 inches.

Britain Loses Malaya From Colonial List

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Britain granted self-government within the British commonwealth yesterday to another in its shrinking list of colonies, the Federation of Malaya.

At the same time, powerful law-making groups were moving to expand the commonwealth further by inviting the free nations of Western Europe and Asia to join as a bulwark against communist influence.

Malaya, the world's biggest producer of raw rubber, was being welcomed from the ranks of Britain's colonies in a ceremony at Lancaster house granting it self-government as of Aug. 31, 1957.

Its future membership in the commonwealth was decided in conferences between Malayan Chief Minister Abdul Tengku Rahman and British Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd.

Their signatures at Lancaster house, scene of the negotiations, indicated Britain's confidence of victory after eight years battling Red China-aided communist terrorists in the Malayan jungles.
