Explosive Blasts Shatter Bomber; Four Airmen Die

TRACY, Calif., Feb. 17 (U.P.)—A mammoth B-52 atomic bomber, the strategic air command's most powerful aerial warrior, was ripped apart with an explosive blast in the stratosphere yesterday, scattering fiery wreckage over a wide area.

It was the first crash involving the eight jet craft since the B-52 joined the SAC arsenal only eight months ago. Four airmen were officially listed as missing, while four others survived after sustaining minor injuries in parachute leaps.

Name Change Draws Ire of Idaho's Solon

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Idaho's Sen. Herman Walker—a Republican—balked today at legislation proposed by Oregon's Democratic senator to rename Clearwater National Forest in honor of the late Bernard DeVoto.

Senator Neuberger, D., Ore., introduced the bill yesterday. It has the backing of Senator Morse, D., Ore.

"I wouldn't mind Mr. Neuberger and Mr. Morse coming to my own business when it comes to the state of Idaho's shrines and natural beauty," said Walker.

Talks to Press

Neither Senator Dvorshak nor I would presume to name the Clearwater National Forest, the former Judge forest nor present the name of Mr. Hood, Mr. Borah," he told a reporter.

Walker said both Oregon senators had "long attempted to horn in on the internal affairs of the state of Idaho."

"If they are such great conservationists—why don't they join the Idaho Republican delegation and unanimously agree to building dams at the headwaters of our streams which annually are causing floods, water depletion and loss of natural resources?" he asked.

Resentment Told

"Our Idaho people are perfectly satisfied with the beautiful natural name of the forest. I'm sure the people of Oregon would resent—as we do—any attempt on my part to rename any of their national forests or national parks."

Walker said he had received numerous complaints from Idaho citizens hostile to the suggested name change.

Rupert Co-Op Fails to Move On Gas Plans

RUPERT, Feb. 17—Members of the board of directors of the Rupert Co-operative met Thursday night but took no action on the problem of obtaining gas for the city under the franchise granted to the cooperative by the city council.

The meeting was a follow-up on a joint meeting with officials of the Intermountain Gas company and the city council last Saturday. The cooperative has been informed by natural gas wholesalers that they will not enter into a contract with cooperatives to supply gas until after the legality of such cooperatives has been established.

U. S. Private Is Freed by Red Captors

BERLIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—U. S. Army Pvt. Sidney Ray Sparks, 26, Tennille, Ga., was released from four years of Russian captivity today. He was turned over to army authorities in East Berlin.

Sparks had escaped with two other privates Dec. 4, 1951, from a West Berlin guardhouse. He was being held to face charges of being AWOL, stealing money and assaulting a German cab driver.

Man Is Fined On Car Count

LEFLEY MEASURER, route 1, Twin Falls, was fined $25 and $3 costs Thursday in Twin Falls justice court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of negligent driving. The court suspended $15 of the fine.

The charge against Measur was following a traffic accident at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Rock Creek bridge on the old airport road. A 1950 GMC pickup driven by Measur collided with a 1954 Chevrolet driven by Jesse A. Edwards, Jerome, the south end of the bridge.

Funds Voted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Funding of national parks, the house appropriations committee today voted a sharp increase in funds to improve park facilities.

Reporting its version of the annual bill scheduled for a House vote next week, the committee recommended spending 15 million dollars for construction of physical facilities in national parks.

Sunny Italy Not so Sunny

Workmen clear snow for pedestrians in the main Piazza of Milan, Italy, which was covered by its thickest blanket of snow after a snowfall of 36 hours. Europe is locked in its third week of an unprecedented cold wave that has taken more than 600 lives. (NEA telephoto)

Board OK's $158,612 in Bids In Work at High School Here

Bids totaling $158,612.28 were accepted Thursday night for addition of eight rooms and a cafeteria to the high school. The board of education of class A school district No. 411 opened construction and transportation bids.

Low bidder for general construction at $113,850 was Reynolds and Walker, Twin Falls. The plumbing and heating contract was awarded to A and B Plumbing company, Twin Falls, on a bid of $27,238. Electric Service, Twin Falls, submitted the low bid of $16,424.28 for electrical work.

Tornadoes, Sleet and Snows Buffet Nation

The U.S. weather bureau warned of possible new tornadoes in the south today. A vast snow and sleet storm iced the North and the West faced a cold wave.

The new twister warnings were issued after a tornado ripped Aberdeen, Miss., and wild winds, rain, and hail hit other southern states.

A massive zero-zero fog added to the south's weather troubles. It stretched from Oklahoma City, Okla., and Kansas City to the southeast Atlantic coast, leaving only Florida clear.

U. S. Expects Reds to Start New Offenses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—United States officials expect Moscow to start a powerful new political offensive in western Europe in the immediate future.

Presenting a dramatic challenge to the west, the drive is expected to stir up a cold war front that has been relatively quiet for months. Since the summit conference last July, Moscow has concentrated on Asia and the middle east.

Meeting Held In Ordinance By Zone Unit

Members of the Twin Falls zoning commission met Friday morning to consider the proposed zoning ordinance.

The group voted to make provision for completion of a development map including a master plan for streets and arterial highways.

After accepting the designations R for residential; C for commercial; I for industrial; CS for community service; and A for agriculture zones, they inserted the new nomenclature as the former designations appeared in the ordinance.

Operation Set

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Sen. Herman Walker, R., Idaho, said today the navy department had informed him it would continue to operate the 22 million dollar naval ordnance depot in Pocatello through 1956.

Walker said he had also been told by the navy department it is working on the possibility of maintaining the depot until June 30, 1957.

Cold, Snow

More snow and cold weather are expected for Magic Valley in the five-day weather forecast received Friday by The Associated Press.

"My only comment is that winter is here," said the AP reporter, reading this report:

"Temperature averaging much below normal with maximums 15 to 20, minimums zero to 15 above. Precipitation amounts above normal; snow occurring mainly about Sunday and Tuesday. (Probably.)"

PLAN ENDORSED

MOSCOW, Feb. 17 (AP)—Former Premier Georgi Malenkov, delivering his first major address since quitting his job a year ago, today endorsed his successor's heavy industrial program as the "foundation of foundations" for the Soviet economy.

Eisenhower Vetoes Natural Gas Bill as Objection to Tactic

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 17 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower today vetoed the controversial natural gas bill because he objected strenuously to "arrogant" tactics by segments of the oil and gas industry to push the bill through congress. The bill would have freed gas producers from direct federal regulation.

The White House approved the general principles of the legislation but Mr. Eisenhower said the background of the passage of the bill made it impossible for him to accept it.

He obviously referred to the current senate investigation of lobbying activities brought to light after Sen. Francis Case, R., S. D., disclosed just before the senate voted on the bill that $2,500 had been offered to his campaign fund.

The money was traced to a California oil company executive.

In a veto message to the house where the measure originated, the President said "a body of evidence has accumulated indicating that private persons, apparently representing only a very small segment of a great and vital industry, have been seeking to further their own interests by highly questionable activities."

"These include efforts," Mr. Eisenhower continued, "that I deem to be so arrogant and so much in defiance of acceptable standards of propriety as to risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes."

The chief executive's veto was widely forecast even before he left Washington Wednesday for a holiday at the south Georgia estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey.

The President had until Saturday midnight to act on the bill. Otherwise it would have become law automatically without his signature.

Associates of the President said he felt "very strongly" against the behind-the-scenes lobbying activity in connection with the bill and that he had spent periods of great concern in studying the situation.

Benson's Talk On Wage Hike Causes Furore

EL CENTRO, Calif., Feb. 17 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's claim that "unjustified" pay hikes in the food industry contributed to declining incomes of the nation's farmer today stirred a new controversy over his department's policies.

Benson told the Western States Meat Packers association convention in San Francisco yesterday that the food industry granted "round after round of sort wage settlements" since 1947. Half of the settlements, he said, were "unjustified."

Exchange of Speakers for Views Urged

A plan for exchanging ideas and views between the Chamber of Commerce and agricultural organizations was suggested by Kenneth Self at the chamber's board meeting Friday noon.

Self pointed out in many cases one faction will oppose the other in different matters, mostly through ignorance. If speakers are exchanged regularly to keep each other posted on their plans or views, they will be better able to overcome problems or accept new changes, he said.

Oakley Girls Hurt in Crash

OAKLEY, Feb. 17—Judy Bergener, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Bergener, is in serious condition at the Cottage hospital in Burley with internal injuries received when she was hit by a car here Wednesday noon.

The girl, an Oakley high school sophomore, was returning to school from lunch shortly before 1 p. m. when she was hit by a passing car. Gordon Spires brought her to the hospital in Burley in his automobile. Sheriff LePage Layton, Burley, did not hear of the accident until Friday morning and immediately notified Oakley to investigate. He said he did not know the name of the driver of the car that struck the girl.

Grecian Election Could Aid Reds

ATHENS, Greece, Feb. 17 (AP)—A critical election campaign that could produce the West's first pro-communist "popular front" government went into its final hours today with Greek army and police units on full precautionary alert.

Veteran political observers quoted 50-50 odds that a "popular front" government might emerge from Sunday's parliamentary elections in Greece which would abrogate her commitments with the western world.

Changes Slated On Auto Plates

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Idaho's auto license plates, which have been black and white since 1923, will have a new color combination for 1957.

George Denney, chief clerk of the department of law enforcement, said today next year's plates will be green background with white numbers. And the word "world" will be dropped from the "world famous potato" slogan.

He said the new colors are being adopted to avoid confusion with plates from other states. The word is being dropped to better locate both holes.

"Muster Day" Is Slated for Idaho

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Idaho's 45 national guard units will hold "muster day" tomorrow in an effort to sign up 500 more Gem state guardsmen.

Major Gen. John Walsh, state adjutant general, said the exercise was national in scope and was tied in with the forthcoming observance of the birthday of George Washington, father of the concept of state militias.

Idaho's guard force would number more than 4,000 men if the 500-man quota is met, Walsh said. He said the guard's record of increasing its strength 30 per cent in the last four months had prompted the Pentagon to notify him the amount of training equipment assigned to Idaho would be increased.

Benson's Statement 'Amazes' Stevenson

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 17 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today said he was "amazed" at Secretary of Agriculture Benson's statement that the cost-price squeeze in the meat industry was due to higher wages granted meat packing workers.

"The secretary should have taken a look at the facts before making such a statement," the Democratic presidential aspirant told newsmen. "The facts are that stockmen lost 700 million dollars last year whereas the wage increase granted the meat packing industry was less than 50 million dollars."

Huge Storms Roar Across Sun Surface

SACRAMENTO PEAK OBSERVATORY, N. M., Feb. 17 (AP)—A new burst of magnetic storms, believed to be among the largest ever observed, has broken out on the sun.

Howard D'Neust, Harvard university observer at this solar observatory, said a huge flare was seen on the sun's rim yesterday, and then a vast wash of 135 "sun spots" was observed.

It was almost triple the number of magnetic storms he reported when the current rash broke out last Friday. At that time the scientist reported 51 magnetic storms were seen on the sun.

Fall of Light, Fluffy Snows Covers Area

Light, fluffy snow fell over Magic Valley Friday but the area around Twin Falls apparently received the greatest share. Up to noon the snow had not caused serious difficulty on any highways but state police reported some drifting on highway 93 near the Nevada line.

State police at Strevell reported no snow Friday morning but said wind was drifting some of the old snow. Halley reported a fine snow and some wind.

At 10 a. m. Gooding had a half inch of snow but highways were reported clear. The wind, instead of drifting snow onto the highways, was blowing the snow off. A similar condition existed around Jerome.

5-Man Patrol Sets Hunt for Water Victim

GASTLETFORD, Feb. 17—Search for the body of Jerry Tesohldek, 44, Gastleford, will continue daily by a five-man patrol composed of Gastleford volunteers until March 7 or until found.

Tesohldek is believed to have drowned last week in the Snake river below the Cusley bridge on highway 30. Approximately 60 men met at the Gastleford Grange hall to form plans to patrol the banks of the river and to search for the water in a boat owned by Doyle Sligar, owner of service station near Thousand Springs.

School Land Shift Denied

A request to change the boundaries of the Murtaugh school district was denied at a hearing Thursday afternoon at the Murtaugh high school. The meeting was requested since a few pupils living in the Hansen district were attending the school.

John Remsburg, president of the state board of education, conducted the meeting. Representatives from the Murtaugh, Hansen and Burley districts attended the meeting.

Extension Granted

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Northwest Power company has been granted an 18-month extension to permit it to investigate the building of a dam at Bridge Bay, Idaho. Reclamation Engineer Mark Kelly said today.

School Plans Discussed by Carey's PTA

CAREY, Feb. 17—Founders day was observed Tuesday evening by members of the Carey PTA. The meeting featured study classes and a group discussion on the possibility of getting better building facilities in Carey.

A report on building committee activities was made by Roy Henderson, school board member. He said several groups need to express their ideas for a building program. He recommended that a county-wide building program be considered.

Present recommendations for Carey are the ones previously turned in a vote last year. They include eight new classrooms, a new gymnasium and remodeling the present high school.

Appointed to represent the community on the county building committee were Cloyd Mecham, Mrs. Wallace Olsen and Mrs. Wallace Mecham.

A resolution passed that money for the PTA annual project for 1955-56 be used on library books for the intermediate grades.

A nominating committee was named with Cliff Orchard, Mrs. Mack-Sutton and Mrs. Roy Henderson as members.

Study classes were conducted after the business meeting. Group leaders were Mrs. Lorin Price, H. K. Thatcher and Ralph Coleman.

A life membership pin was presented to Mrs. Gertrude Twombly by Leonard Carlson, president. A review of the organization and of the work of the PTA was given by Mrs. Cloyd Mecham.

Lewis Arrington is the Scout Master.

Unidentified Sub Spotted in Ocean

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 17 (AP)—An American navigator spotted an unidentified submarine in the South China sea while his plane was flying to Bangkok for the SEATO games, a U.S. air force officer said yesterday.

The navigator was identified only as a Lieut. Gelman of troop carrier King 43, based in Tokyo. He was flying in a C119 "Flying Boxcar."

The informant said the submarine sighting was radioed to navy intelligence. He said it was not known whether the craft was the same spotted by British and American destroyers in the South China sea Monday.

Employment Rate Boosted for West

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP)—A government source has announced wage and salary workers in eight mountain states increased by 4,900 to a December total of 1,544,200.

The U.S. department of labor's bureau of labor statistics said yesterday that Christmas expansion in retail trade establishments and post-offices more than offset seasonal declines in construction, manufacturing and services.

Changes from November to December ranged from an increase of 4,700 in Arizona to a decline of 1,900 in Montana. Employment in all states except Wyoming was higher than a year ago.

Nevada with a 7,000 employment gain since December, 1954, reported the largest relative employment increase among the mountain states which included Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming.

Talk Is Given to Veterans at T. F.

Disabled-American-war veterans have been cautioned recently to exercise care in preserving their service records and to not delay filing claims for disabilities.

Addressing Twin Falls DAVs, R. B. Pender, Boise, service officer of the organization, explained the method the veterans administration uses for classifying disabled veterans.

He outlined recommendations which will be brought to the attention of the current session of congress.

Pender listed the extension of vocational training for World War II veterans, due to expire in July, 1956, as the top item on the DAV agenda.

Pender said the organization would also ask that extension to the GI housing loans, which expire in July, 1956, for disabled veterans be extended.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—A crackdown on criminals and "guardhouse lawyers" held responsible for the great increase in acts of violence in the postwar era is provided in a bill now before the senate judiciary committee after unanimous passage in the house of representatives.

Ray Tucker

Although the measure imposes sharp restrictions on use of the historic habeas corpus procedure, which is designed to assure a fair trial to defendants, it has attracted hardly any attention outside of legal circles.

The proposal had the endorsement of the judicial conference of the United States, which is headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren. In fact, in several recent decisions involving habeas corpus writs, the high tribunal had hinted that congress should straighten out the puzzling situation.

ABUSE OF LEGAL PROCEDURE—The pending anti-crime wave bill provides that a convicted prisoner, after exhausting all remedies in state courts, may apply for a federal writ of habeas corpus only if he can prove that a "substantial constitutional question" is involved. He must also show that he had no opportunity to raise the constitutional issue in state trials and appeals.

The abuse of this procedure has been scandalous and expensive, according to reports in the files of the house judiciary committee, which reported the bill unanimously. In fact, the delay in executing the death sentence on the author of a best-selling novel, now in California prison, led that state's legislature to ask for congressional legislation on the subject.

PERSISTENT NOVELIST-FELON—The novelist-prisoner was sentenced to death in 1948 after conviction of 17 separate felonies, including robbery, rape and kidnaping. His applications for a habeas corpus writ were denied 14 times by state and federal authorities.

On two occasions, California governors have refused clemency which was urged by many prominent individuals throughout the country. Yet he is still alive and legalizing at great cost to the taxpayers. One habeas corpus add in an Illinois prison has rolled up a $10,000 bill on the state and the federal government.

GANGSTERS' HABEAS CORPUS APPLICATIONS—The abuses seem to center around the habits of Al Capone's and other gangsters' mobs, according to a house judiciary committee study. More than half of 499 applications over a 14-year period originated in Illinois (274), in Michigan (83) and in northern Indiana (35). There were 235 in northern California, 293 in eastern Washington and 210 in Virginia.

Showing that racial problems are not involved, there were few in the rest of the South. Thurgood Marshall, NAACP counsel, and Rep. Adam C. Powell of New York City, desegregation champions, voiced no objection to the measure.

"JAILBIRD LAWYERS"—It does not require a lawyer to apply for a habeas corpus writ, so jealously do the courts guard this right. But every prison has its quota of "guardhouse" or "jailbird lawyers," meaning criminals who have read or studied a little law. They collect fees from fellow-prisoners for their services.

An Illinois prosecutor reports that the Encyclopedia of Law is the most popular book in the prison library. Another official says:

"Writs of habeas corpus have replaced the file and saw as weapons of escape. The 'do-it-yourself' fad has spread to the prisons."

SUPREME CONGRESSMEN GRATIFIED—The supreme court's approval of the proposed restrictions gratifies Southern members of congress. In several recent cases, Justice Warren's court appeared to be trying to extend its jurisdiction through generous grants of habeas corpus writs, threatening the status of state courts.

There had arisen the fear that it was a prelude to attempted and immediate federal enforcement of its decision against school-and-park segregation, as demanded by the NAACP and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Views of Others

So many Tomorrows

Many of A. A. Milne's readers must have wished that he could share their delight in that aspect of his work which gave him at best a limited satisfaction. At the same time they will understand his regret that the popularity of his whimsical writing, and particularly the Pooh books, should by its very brightness have relegated his more serious works to comparative obscurity.

Probably nothing we could say about his work would seem more appropriate to this famous British author, who has just passed on at his Sussex home, than this: It included an impressive amount of obviously adult and "serious" literature as well as the so-called children's books, which are sometimes profoundly adult if less clearly labeled so.

Many playboys on both sides of the Atlantic will recall "The Perfect Alibi," "Mr. Pim Passes By," "The Dover Road," "The Truth About Blayds," "Michael and Mary," though they may have forgotten that Milne wrote them. Students of international affairs can remember his "Peace With Honor," written in the portentous days of 1934, and his war books. There was also "The Red House Mystery," recognized as a minor classic in this field of fiction.

But the pens of authors who write even such good things as these seem to stop eventually. Only in books like "Winnie-the-Pooh" and "When We Were Very Young" does a writer go on and on for generation after generation. And so will A. A. Milne. He cannot help bringing new delight into the world every time some boy or girl reaches a sixth birthday or thereabouts and learns to listen or to read. He cannot help going on implanting in every new generation seeds of good taste, decency, integrity, humility, respect for others and for oneself.—Christian Science Monitor.

ON AMERICANISM

We cringe when we hear the word Americanism used. It makes us wonder what the speaker or organization means by "Americanism."

We contend that no one has the right to use the word without a responsible evaluation of its significance.

One man's grumbled plea for a return to the "one hundred per cent Americanism of our forefathers" could imply a distinct loss of freedom for the rest of us, Americanism?

At risk of being the very one hundred per cent dogmatists we fear, we submit that Americanism cannot be readily defined.

Americanism, we contend, embraces a tension created by diverse political, religious and social thought. To frustrate any legitimate element of this great and wonderful tension is to destroy Americanism.

"This is the time to be brave, to be outspoken in face of political, social, or religious excommunication. This is the time to be Americans."

Submission to mere mores and attitudes, the smothering of inquiry by fear, the imposition of one hundred per cent Americanism dogma could be the death of our American experiment.—The Burley Bulletin.

VENGEFUL TAX CODE

Not only are federal income tax rates "confiscatory" but the law which fixed them was "conceived in vengeance rather than as a revenue measure," according to a former head of the internal revenue service.

T. Coleman Andrews, who resigned recently as head of the bureau, has since been speaking out on a subject with which he should be able to qualify as an authority.

His charge is serious but students of taxation and of the history of the internal revenue act, know that the problem of fixing rates has been viewed more often from the political than from the scientific stance. In fact, much of the philosophy of "redistributing the wealth" hangs in the air.

But the question remains: Will congress have the courage to do anything about it?—Bellingham Herald.

POT SHOTS

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

"Keep off the grass," familiar sign

But not so hectic, half, as mine
For I am busy as a bee
To keep the green grass off of me

For when it grows upon my grave
The chances are that I'll behave
And I will need no neon sign
To keep my conduct well in line.

SPRING IS NEAR

Spring can't be far off. You good constituents are starting to get that spring feeling. Don't deny it. We can always tell by the flood of poetry. Doesn't make any difference if the air's full of snow and the roads are drifted 10 feet deep, when your good constituents start flooding the place with poetry, spring's just around the corner.

Included in the pile of verses are several from Twin Falls school children. They're the winning poems in a poetry contest conducted by the Twentieth Century club. Here are some of the better ones, as judged by Pot Shots standards:

LOVE YOUR MOTHER

Love your Mother, little one,
In life's morning just begun;
All the grief a child can feel,
Mother's kiss will surely heal.

THE FRIEND FOUND

I found a friend the other day
A-sitting in a tree,
The more I looked at him,
The more he looked at me.

He turned his head to stare at me,
Oh, so far around,
The more I looked, the more I liked
This new friend I found.

His eyes were round as saucers,
His coat was soft and brown,
I bet you cannot guess
The kind of friend I found.

At hunting he's the very best,
He doesn't snarl or growl,
For you see, this friend I found
Was a little Howly Owl.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Senator Case, of South Dakota, a Republican, has raised a sanctionable row because a person with a material interest in a bill which Case tentatively had approved, gave $2,500 to a political adherent of his as a campaign contribution.

Westbrook Pegler

Case suspected that the donor did this to reward him in advance for his vote. Case immediately indicated that he might change his position and vote against the bill, indicating a lack of principle and moral confidence.

This is the bill which would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulations.

So here we have a senator rolling his eyes over a routine gesture which is commonly practiced by all the big unions, by the bosses of both parties, notably in the White House and by Arthur J. Goldsmith, the stealthy schemer who runs political boiler-rooms in his suite in the Waldorf Tower and sluices into many states large donations to elect men favorable to his views.

Goldsmith is an Eisenhower hybrid. He has hosed money into Nevada, West Virginia and New Hampshire to elect senators for his own clandestine purpose, undeclared to the public and unknown to the citizens of the states concerned.

School Board Buys Chassis

BURLEY, Feb. 17—Low bid on a new school bus chassis was received from Halght Motor company, the Cassia county school board reported following a meeting Monday night. The bid of $2,985.59 was lower than the bid of $3,305 made by Olanholm Brothers.

Bernell Wrigley, county school superintendent, said bids will be opened at 5 p.m. March 2 for curtains and cyclorama for the stage of the new high school auditorium.

Wrigley also reported that the actual money change on a property exchange has not taken place yet. The property involved is Denman athletic field which would revert to school ownership, provided the school district would give title on several blocks adjacent to the fairgrounds to the county. The school district also is due to receive $10,000 in cash. Wrigley said the school district will not have control of the entire field since the city still has control of one fourth of it.

Wrigley said Cassia county Prosecuting Attorney Norman Nielson is working out details in the exchange and that the work should be completed in the near future.

The school approved installation of exhaust fans in the four vocational agricultural work shops in county schools.

Units Meet

BUHL, Feb. 17—A joint meeting of Jaycees and Jay-Cettes Tuesday evening in the civic club rooms heard reports on church and civic activities and voted to assist in collecting money to aid in the fight against multiple sclerosis, a project sponsored by the national Jaycees.

Garth Alwood reported on church sign progress. Kenneth Self, Twin Falls, showed a motion picture and gave a talk on his trip on a navy carrier.

He is now back in action in Nevada, not as a candidate for any office but as an inspired crusader against the scurrilous and utterly unbridled abuse of whomsoever by a wanton ex-convict from the underworld gang of the late Buggy Segal, by name Hank Greenspun. He operates a newspaper under subsidy from the printers' union and he is now under indictment for the second time on a criminal charge arising from his vilification of innocent citizens in his paper.

The first bill charged him with attempting to incite murder. It was dismissed. The current indictment charges criminal libel.

Mr. Franklin and his wife have dedicated themselves to this fight and have spent about $8,000, almost their entire capital, for radio time and printed matter.

Greenspun also went to New York about the time Franklin did and delivered by radio from a political steak-house, the hangout of leading enemies of McCarran, McCarran and all congressional fighters.

Salmon Give Lives to Young Live

"Why do your Pacific ocean salmon die when they go upstream to spawn?" asks T. R. via the Montreal Le Petit Journal. "Isn't this a tremendous waste in nature?"

This does seem wasteful and tragic, but is it?

As you know, T. R., when the Pacific salmon is still in the ocean, heavy with reserve fat and full of eggs or milk, it becomes a creature of compulsion. It leaves the vast ocean where food was plentiful and finds its way to the mouth of the river where it was born. Then it drives upstream through rapids, against swift currents, even up and over eight-foot waterfalls, sometimes for over a 1,000 miles until it reaches the very spot where it was born. An amazing instinct.

Once there, the female digs a bed in the gravel, lays her eggs which are at once fertilized by the male, and then in time both die.

Any of those handsome creatures they once were. As they swarmed in from the ocean by the thousands—and in some streams by the millions—they had the most beautiful shape of any fish and were bright as newly-minted silver dollars! But once in the fresh water, disintegration began almost immediately. First the silver faded and then along the sides the fish took on a bronze color. With the terrific upstream struggle, they ate nothing and wasted away, becoming thin and their jaws continuing to grow out of all proportion. Wasted, weary, they rested beside riffles and then with tremendous resolve, struggled onward, upward to their spawning ground.

After spawning, death. But why? For many years, it was unknown. Then the answer came gradually after early efforts to establish salmon hatcheries failed.

The young hatched, but died mysteriously. Precautions to have everything sanitary wasn't the answer. What then? Finally it was discovered that in dying the parents gave the young life. Their dead bodies sank to the bottom of these quiet barren streams, where they were eaten during the winter by minute forms of marine life. Then when the young were hatched in the spring, food was available: They fed on these tiny creatures made possible by their parents' death. And so, the salmon in its supreme sacrifice lived on. Wasted you ask, T. R. Indeed not.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — A crackdown on criminals and "guardhouse lawyers" held responsible for the great increase in acts of violence in the postwar era is provided in a bill now before the senate judiciary committee after unanimous passage in the house of representatives.

Although the measure imposes sharp restrictions on use of the historic habeas corpus procedure, which is designed to assure a fair trial to defendants, it has attracted hardly any attention outside of legal circles. It met no opposition in the lower chamber after spokesmen representing the National Association for Advancement of Colored People satisfied themselves that it had no "racial implications."

The proposal had the endorsement of the judicial conference of the United States, which is headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren. In fact, in several recent decisions involving habeas corpus writs, the high tribunal had hinted that congress should straighten out the puzzling situation.

ABUSE OF LEGAL PROCEDURE — The pending anti-crime wave bill provides that a convicted prisoner, after exhausting all remedies in state courts, may apply for a federal writ of habeas corpus only if he can prove that a "substantial constitutional question" is involved. He must also show that he had no opportunity to raise the constitutional issue in state trials and appeals.

The abuse of this procedure has been scandalous and expensive, according to reports in the files of the house judiciary committee, which reported the bill unanimously. In fact, the delay in executing the death sentence on the author of a best-selling novel, now in a California prison, led that state's legislature to ask for congressional legislation on the subject.

PERSISTENT NOVELIST-FELON — The novelist-prisoner was sentenced to death in 1948 after conviction of 17 separate felonies, including robbery, rape and kidnapping. His applications for a habeas corpus writ were denied 14 times by state and federal authorities.

On two occasions, California governors have refused clemency, which was urged by many prominent individuals throughout the country. Yet he is still alive and legalizing at great cost to the taxpayers. One habeas corpus addict in an Illinois prison has rolled up a $10,000 bill on the state and the federal government.

GANGSTERS' HABEAS CORPUS APPLICATIONS — The buses seem to center around the haunts of Al Capone and other gangsters' mobs, according to a house judiciary committee study. More than half of 6,499 applications over a 14-year period originated in Illinois (2,746), in Michigan (303) and in northern Indiana (354). There were 295 in northern California, 293 in eastern Washington and 210 in Virginia.

Showing that racial problems are not involved, there were few in the rest of the South. Thurgood Marshall, NAACP counsel, and Rep. Adam C. Powell of New York City, desegregation champions, voiced no objection to the measure.

"JAILBIRD LAWYERS" — It does not require a lawyer to apply for a habeas corpus writ, so jealously do the courts guard this right. But every prison has its quota of "guardhouse" or "jailbird lawyers," meaning criminals who have read or studied a little law. They collect fees from fellow-prisoners for their services.

An Illinois prosecutor reports that the Encyclopedia of Law is the most popular book in the prison library. Another official says: "Writs of habeas corpus have replaced the file and saw as weapons of escape. The 'do-it-yourself' fad has spread to the prisons."

SOUTHERN CONGRESSMEN GRATIFIED — The supreme court's approval of the proposed restrictions gratifies Southern members of congress. In several recent cases, Justice Warren's court appeared to be trying to extend its jurisdiction through generous grants of habeas corpus writs, threatening the status of state courts.

There had arisen the fear that it was a prelude to attempted and immediate federal enforcement of its decision against school-and-park segregation, as demanded by the NAACP and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

THE HEART FUND

As always, February is the month of the annual Heart Fund drive. The cause is worthy, and it has been put in especially sharp focus this year by the fact that the President of the United States has suffered a heart attack.

In truth it should not take so dramatic a reminder to stir our interest in combating this great killer. Three quarters of a million people die each year from heart and circulatory diseases, more than are killed by the next five leading causes of death.

It is estimated that 1.25 billion man-hours of work are lost to the nation every year as a result of heart ailments.

Mr. Eisenhower's illness has shown us vividly what this loss can mean when it comes to people at the summit of our national life. But the damage is just as real, and cumulatively much greater, when measured at more ordinary levels.

One finds it hard to realize that about 10 million people, or one out of every 16 Americans, now suffer from some form of heart or circulatory disease. Most astonishing is that 500,000 children are affected.

Ninety per cent of the damage is done by three principal ailments—hardening of the arteries, which sets the stage for what we call heart attacks; high blood pressure, and rheumatic fever.

In spite of the huge toll, heart authorities are able to report that progress has been and still is being made. There is hope for everyone, too, in prompt diagnosis and careful treatment. Restoration to useful lives is possible for most heart attack victims and other sufferers.

But much more work needs to be done. Money is the great weapon. Hence the Heart Fund, which supports research, education, and community heart programs. Most of the money it collects goes to the support of state and local heart associations. That which is held out from them goes to advance vital research and other efforts of the American Heart Association.

The demands upon our charity dollars are of course constant and heavy. But the Heart Fund is one of the rock-bottom enterprises we cannot neglect. A healthier nation is the prize we are bidding for when we answer this call.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

"Keep off the grass," familiar sign
But not so hectic, half, as mine
For I am busy as a bee
To keep the green grass off of me
For when it grows upon my grave
The chances are that I'll behave
And I will need no neon sign
To keep my conduct well in line.

THE FRIEND FOUND

I found a friend the other day
A-sitting in a tree.
The more I looked at him,
The more he looked at me.

He turned his head to stare at me,
Oh so far around.
The more I looked, the more I liked
This new friend I found.

His eyes were round as saucers,
His coat was soft and brown,
I bet you cannot guess
The kind of friend I found.

At hunting he's the very best,
He doesn't snarl or growl,
For you see, this friend I found
Was a little Hooty Owl.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Senator Case, of South Dakota, a Republican, has raised a sanctimonious row because a person with a material interest in a bill which Case tentatively had approved, gave $2,500 to a political adherent of his as a campaign contribution.

Case suspected that the donor did this to reward him in advance for his vote. Case immediately indicated that he might change his position and vote against the bill, indicating a lack of principle and moral confidence.

This is the bill which would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulations.

So here we have a senator rolling his eyes over a routine gesture which is commonly practiced by all the big unions, by the bosses of both parties, notably in the White House, and by Arthur J. Goldsmith, the steady schemer who runs political boiler-rooms in his suite in the Waldorf Tower and stices into many states large donations to elect men favorable to his views.

Goldsmith is an Eisenhower hybrid. He has hoisted money into Nevada, West Virginia and New Hampshire to elect senators for his own clandestine purpose, undeclared to the public and unknown to the citizens of the states concerned.

He cultivated and imported from Las Vegas to his lair in the lower, all expenses paid, George Franklin, a young lawyer and air force combat veteran who opposed the late Sen. Pat McCarran in a primary. After an interview he sent $5,000 into Nevada to nominate Franklin and beat McCarran. The money was appropriated by a letter-head society with headquarters in Goldsmith's personal apartment.

The purpose was to get rid of McCarran for devising and pressing to final passage and to passage a second time over Truman's veto, the present immigration law known as the McCarran-Walter act.

McCarran had further offended Goldsmith and his mysterious eastern cohorts, by pressing to passage the internal security act. Of course, McCarran took part in many other works of the senate in a long and by general consent today, notably honest and laudable career. However, this steady bund in the lower with no identification either on a directory in the entrance-hall or on the register took it upon themselves to throw him out and elect a man who would vote as they wanted him to.

Franklin did not touch any of this $5,000 himself. It was conveyed to Nevada and disbursed in accordance with law.

Much later, and without publicity, it was reported to the congressional authority designated by law. Franklin has voluntarily disclosed the details of the incident in full.

He is now back in action in Nevada, not as a candidate for any office but as an inspired crusader against the scurrilous and utterly unbridled abuse of whomsoever by a wanton ex-convict from the underworld gang of the late Buggy Segal, by name Hank Greenspun. He operates a newspaper under subsidy from the printers' union and he is now under indictment for the second time on a criminal charge arising from his vilification of innocent citizens in his paper.

The first bill charged him with attempting to incite murder. It was dismissed. The current indictment charges criminal libel.

Mr. Franklin and his wife have dedicated themselves to this fight and have spent about $8,000, almost their entire capital, for radio time and printed matter.

Greenspun also went to New York about the time Franklin did and delivered by radio from a political steak-house, the hangout of leading enemies of McCarthy, McCarran and all congressional fighters.

SCHOOL BOARD Buys Chassis

BURLEY, Feb. 17—Low bid on a new school bus chassis was received from Haight Motor company, the Cassia county school board reported following a meeting Monday night. The bid of $2,905.59 was lower than the bid of $3,305 made by Oshinohm brothers.

Bernell Wrigley, county school superintendent, said bids will be opened at 5 p.m. March 2 for curtains and cyclorams for the stage of the new high school auditorium.

Wrigley also reported that the actual money change on a property exchange has not taken place yet. The property involved is Denman athletic field which would revert to school ownership, provided the several blocks adjacent to the fairgrounds to the county. The school district also is due to receive $10,000 in cash. Wrigley said the school district will not have control of the entire field since the city still has control of one fourth of it.

Wrigley said Cassia county Prosecuting Attorney Norman Nielson is working out details in the exchange and that the work should be completed in the near future.

The school approved installation of exhaust fans in the four vocational agricultural work shops in county schools.

ON AMERICANISM

We cringe when we hear the word Americanism used. It makes us wonder what the speaker or organization means by "Americanism."

We contend that no one has the right to use the word without a responsible evaluation of its significance.

One man's graveled plea for a return to the "one hundred per cent Americanism of our forefathers" could imply a distinct loss of freedom for the rest of us. Americanism?

At risk of being the very one hundred per cent dogmatists we fear, we submit that Americanism cannot be readily defined.

Americanism, we contend, embraces a tension created by diverse political, religious, and social thought. To trust in any "legitimate element of this great and wonderful tension is to destroy Americanism."

This is the time to be brave, to be outspoken in face of political, social, or religious excommunication. This is the time to be Americans.

Submission to mass mores and attitudes, the smothering of inquiry by fear, the imposition of one hundred per cent Americanism dogma could be the death of our American experiment.—The Burley Bulletin.

VENGEFUL TAX CODE

Not only are federal income tax rates "confiscatory" but the law which fixed them was "conceived in vengeance rather than as a revenue measure," according to a former head of the Internal Revenue Service.

T. Coleman Andrews, who resigned recently as head of the bureau, has since been speaking out on a subject with which he should be able to qualify as an authority.

His charge is serious but students of taxation and of the history of the internal revenue act, know that the problem of fixing rates has been viewed more often from the political than from the scientific stance. In fact, much of the philosophy of "redistributing the wealth" remains in the code.

But the question remains: Will congress have the courage to do anything about it?—Bellingham Herald.

Is That So!

Salmon Give Lives so Young Live

"Why do your Pacific ocean salmon die when they go upstream to spawn?" asks T. R., via the Montana "Le Pelt Journal." "Zem" tells a tremendous waste in nature?"

This does seem wasteful and tragic, but is it?

As you know, T. R., when the Pacific salmon is still in the ocean, heavy with reserve fat and full of eggs or milt, it becomes a creature of compulsion. It leaves the vast oceans where food was plentiful and finds its way to the mouth of the river where it was born. Then it drives upstream through rapids, against swift currents, even up and over eight-foot waterfalls, sometimes for a 1,000 miles until it reaches the very spot where it was born. An amazing instinct.

Once there, the female digs a bed in the gravel, lays her eggs which are at once fertilized by the male, and then in time both die.

And what handsome creatures they once were. As they swarmed in from the ocean by the thousands—and in some streams by the millions—they had the most beautiful shape of any fish and were bright as newly-minted silver dollars! But once in the fresh water, disintegration began almost immediately. First the silver faded and then along the sides the fish took on a bronze color. With the terrific upstream struggle, they ate nothing and wasted away, becoming thin and their jaws continuing to grow out of all proportion. Wasted, weary, they rested below riffles and then with tremendous resolve, struggled onward, upward to their spawning ground.

After spawning, death, but why? For many years, it was unknown. Then the answer came gradually after early efforts to establish salmon hatcheries failed.

The young hatched, but died mysteriously. Precautions to have every thing sanitary wasn't the answer. What then? Finally it was discovered that in dying the parents gave the young life. Their dead bodies sank to the bottom of these quiet barren streams, where they were eaten during the winter by minute forms of marine life. Then when the young were hatched in the spring, food was available: They fed on these tiny creatures made possible by their parents' death. And so, the salmon in its supreme sacrifice lived on. Wasted you ask, T. R. Indeed not.

Benson Asks Consideration For Farmers

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Every business involved in food processing and distributing should give consideration to the plight of American farmers who have been "caught in the web of a cost-price squeeze not of their own making," Secretary of Agriculture Benson said yesterday.

Benson told the closing session of the convention of the Western States Meat Packers association — farmers and ranchers have a double dilemma — "their prices have declined at a time when their costs have gone up and they cannot pass on their increased costs."

He expressed concern over the widening spread between farm and retail prices, noting that in the final quarter of 1955 the retail price of choice grade beef declined 5 percent from a year earlier while the farm price declined 19 percent.

In the same quarter, the secretary said, the farm price of pork was 30 percent lower than a year earlier but the marketing margin was 13 percent higher.

Benson attacked what he called "soft wage settlements" in the food industry which he said are merely passed on by one group and another until they reach the end of the line—the farmer, who "can't pass costs back and can't pass them on."

Firm Rejects Any "Outside" Studies

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric corporation has flatly refused to participate with a fact-finding board set up by the governors of five states to study 12-day strikes of 44,000 workers at 30 plants.

In telegrams to the governor, Gwylim A. Price, Westinghouse board chairman and president, asserted management "cannot delegate to outsiders... the right to determine the fundamental terms of the union agreement under which Westinghouse must live for some years."

The rejection by Westinghouse followed more picketing violence at the company's Sharon, Pa., plant where some 100 pickets massed for the third straight day.

Police said an auto was overturned, cars were stoned and windows in the plant were broken. No arrests were made and there were no reports of anyone injured.

Two Airmen Get Probation Terms

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Two airmen from Mountain Home air force base were placed on probation yesterday on charges of postal theft.

Richard Stanley Fout received three years probation on a charge of embezzling $1,644 while serving as a money order clerk in Japan, and two Jim in 1954.

T. T. Johnson was given two years probation for theft of a letter containing a $70 postal money order at Mountain Home air force base last April 13.

The men appeared before U. S. District Judge Fred M. Taylor.

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 17 (AP)—A quick-thinking American paratrooper yesterday saved a comrade from plunging to his death when his parachute failed to open during a jump in the SEATO war maneuvers here.

As 3½ Douglas Buntis, Smyrna, Del., reached out and grabbed the unopened parachute of Pfc. Arlene Chasman, Roanoke, Va., as the latter plummeted toward earth. The two floated down safely.

More than 850 other paratroopers made the jump without incident.

Fixed, Sliding "Floors" Eyed

EMMETT, Feb. 17 (AP)—Neither fixed nor sliding supports offer a perfect and final answer to the ills of agriculture, Louise Shaddock, Coeur d'Alene, told the Gem County Republican luncheon club yesterday.

Miss Shaddock is secretary to Ben. Henry Dvorzhak and considered a likely candidate for Republican nomination for the congressional post now held by Rep. Graeg Pfost.

She said no farm program should be based upon the "myths and magic" that are believed necessary to win farm votes. She said the agriculture surplus is the number one problem facing the nation.

Miss Shaddock lauded the Eisenhower administration farm policy and said "we, as Republicans, believe the federal government should step in only where the job can not be done more effectively by private enterprise or state and local government."

Chaos Is Seen if Agreement Ended

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The international federation of agricultural producers said yesterday chaotic conditions may develop in world grain markets if the international wheat agreement is not renewed.

Unless action is taken by most of the 48 participating countries, the pact will expire Aug. 1. Set up shortly after World War II, the agreement is designed to help stabilize world prices and supplies of wheat through a system of export and import quotas and maximum and minimum prices.

Representatives of the participating countries are scheduled to meet in Geneva Feb. 20 to discuss possible renewal.

Sets Grabbed

ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 17 (AP)—Police have announced they have confiscated 28 illegal radio transmitters here "during the past few days," but they denied that any of them were being used by foreign spies.

"The transmitters were built and operated by unlicensed amateurs..." a spokesman said.

Free Election Promised for North Africa

PARIS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet told the national assembly yesterday his government will hold free elections in Algeria as quickly as possible.

It will be the first stage in sweeping political, economic and social reforms in the north African territory.

Reporting on his talks last week with Algerian leaders, Mollet did not elaborate on the government's plans. He merely outlined general objectives and said details would be announced later.

The premier said the existing division of Algerian voters and representatives into two chambers would be ended before the new elections. At present, Europeans and Moslems vote for separate lists of candidates.

In the forthcoming balloting, Mollet said, all voters will be on a single polling list, steps will be taken to ensure an "equitable representation" of the two communities.

The premier gave no hint of what these steps might include.

Minor Accidents Listed by Police

Three minor traffic accidents were reported late Thursday by Twin Falls police.

Mel E. Dalling, 1430 Maple avenue, and Donnie Miller, 523 Alturas drive, were operators of vehicles which collided about 5 p.m. at the intersection of Tenth avenue and Second street east.

About 8 p.m., cars driven by Larry McElliot, 181 Van Buren street, and Carl D. Heaton, 405 Filer avenue west, collided at the intersection of Van Buren and Shoup avenue.

Darlene Fisher 226½ Washington street north, was driver of an automobile which collided with a parked car about 3:15 a.m. in the 1000 block of Shoshone street north. Owner of the other vehicle was listed as Bobby Ridener, 1955 Ninth avenue east.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—A national forest in Idaho would be given the name of the late Bernard De Voto under legislation introduced yesterday by Sen. Neuberger, R., Ore.

The bill would change the name of the Clearwater forest in honor of the author of "Across the Wide Missouri"—a story of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

De Voto's ashes will be scattered along the Lochsa river, which runs through the forest, in July.

Negligence Action Is Begun in Court

Dan and Myrtle Iverson filed suit Thursday in district court against the Carl E. Nelson Construction company for $2,552 to cover losses and damages caused by the Iversons claim was negligence on the part of the firm in the operation of a gravel pit.

The complaint charges the company was negligent when it left and gravel silt into an irrigation ditch on Iversons property adjacent to the pit. Iverson said the ditch filled with gravel causing flooding of 42 acres of cropland. Flooding caused Iverson to lose revenue from the 42 acres in 1954.

He asks for $2,352 for loss of income and $200 for costs of renovating the filled ditch. Rayborn, Rayborn and Kramer, Twin Falls, represent Iversons.

Reclamation Is Under Attacks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Sen. Watkins, R., Utah, told the senate yesterday the nation's reclamation program faces the "most vicious and intensive attack" in its history.

He said reclamation, "the most economically defensible portion of the nation's water resource program," is being undermined by "wholesale misrepresentations and misinformation."

"There is no doubt," he declared, "that reclamation is at the crossroads and the program—in fact, all water resource development—is in jeopardy."

Attacks on individual projects which hurt reclamation generally, Watkins said, have been made by congressmen and certain newspapers. He said they misrepresent benefits and costs of projects.

Man Stymied In Attempt to Get Daughter

KNOXVILLE, Ill., Feb. 17 (AP)—A 33-year-old Chinese-American who has helped bring others behind the bamboo curtain to the United States has found himself stymied in efforts to bring his adopted daughter here.

But Chin said he has been told the usual waiting period after formal papers for entry have been filed is 18 months, and his efforts go beyond that period.

Chin said so far as he knows he has satisfied every requirement for the entry of Chin Ying Chung, 20, who was adopted as a baby in China by his wife.

Idaho Potatoes Go to Banquet

Don Frederickson, Gooding, right, was warned that Idaho potatoes would be dumped into the Boston harbor if he brought any with him for the banquet at the annual meeting of national soil conservation district supervisors in Boston early this month.

Washington, D. C., director of the bureau of land management, second from left, and Lowell Moore, Idaho Falls, president of the Idaho Potato Producers association, Frederickson, president of the Idaho Association of Soil Conservation Districts, is elected vice president of the national association in Boston.

Colored Barriers Are Quietly Broken in Top Dixie Colleges. Negroes are peacefully breaking color barriers at formerly all-white Southern colleges and universities in sharp contrast to the bitter demonstrations that greeted the University of Alabama.

Eight Southern states have accepted Negroes in both graduate and undergraduate divisions, an Associated Press survey shows. No violence attended these changes which upset patterns that had stood for generations.

Campus riots last week which moved the Alabama trustees to suspend Miss Lucy marked the first attempt to end racial separation in a bloc of four states which seem most determined to preserve their historic system of segregation.

Arkansas admitted a Negro to its university law school in 1948. There was no incident. Hundreds have followed quietly.

Other Dixie states with Negro students ranging from a handful to hundreds include Oklahoma, Texas, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Most of the schools which have admitted Negroes, either voluntarily or under court order, had no exact figures available on the number of non-white students.

Guy Johnson, professor of social science at the University of North Carolina, has completed a study of the subject and estimates that about 1,000 Negroes are in state-supported Southern colleges with another 1,000 in privately endowed institutions.

A federal court order broke the racial barrier in North Carolina last fall at the general college level when three Negroes enrolled at the university at Chapel Hill.

Louisiana State university has about 120 Negroes in its graduate schools and there are about 160 undergraduate Negroes in three other colleges in the university system.

Virginia, seeking to thwart the supreme court decision voiding segregation in the common schools has several Negroes in its state universities. Negroes were admitted as undergraduates at the University of Virginia for the first time this year.

The Florida supreme court has ruled that Negroes may be admitted to white universities but has not yet decided when its decision should become effective.

Camas County, Dietrich Win Sub-District Tourney Victories at Gooding State

GOODING, Feb. 17—Camas county high school-Mushers eliminated Carey from the 4th district sub-district class B basketball tournament at Gooding State high school Thursday night and Dietrich gained a victory over Bellevue. Carey staged a late rally before bowing to the Mushers 46-38, while Dietrich led all the way to take a 68-46 win over Bellevue.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By KEBBY KEBSCHULL Interest in skiing never was higher in the United States and Idaho is one of the pace-setters in the sport.

You don't have to look far to find evidence that skiing is enjoying a boom. Ski areas are enjoying their best season in history, aided by good weather and ideal snow conditions.

Bob Frostromen at the Soldier mountain ski run was pleased to have a field of 34 juniors and 34 juniors in last Sunday's "mighty miles" in last Sunday's races. The events were highly successful with a large crowd looking on, proving that skiing can be fun for spectators too.

The Twin Falls city recreation department is doing its share for kids who want to learn skiing. Ernie Cruser, superintendent of parks and recreation, gets a tip of the fedora from this corner for arranging a program of free ski instruction for youngsters at the Magic mountain ski area.

Twin Falls high school gymnasium should be packed to the rafters Friday and Saturday evenings. The Bruins close out their regular season's play with games against the Big Six champion and last place teams—Nampa and Caldwell.

The Bruins are gunning for an upset against the highly polished Nampa team which hasn't lost a conference game. Every other team in the conference has tried, and failed, to do the trick against the Bruins. If the Bruins can't do it, Nampa chalks up a perfect mark for the conference season.

Since the NCAA statistical bureau began keeping records 21 years ago, two teams have hogged the honors in those two departments. Rhode Island led in scoring for 14 straight years, beginning in 1935, and the Oklahoma Aggies have taken the defense title 15 times. If San Francisco repeats on defense, it will mark the first time the Aggies have been kept from the top two years in succession.

Oklahoma A&M is second in the current NCAA records, which include games of Feb. 14, with an average of 53.0 points a game, compared to San Francisco's 49.5. On offense, Morehead's 98.1 average seems safe, as second-place Marshall of West Virginia is averaging only 93.0 per game.

Mtn. Home Wins JV Meet At Wendell

WENDELL, Feb. 17—Mountain Home won the championship of the Little Seven junior varsity tournament Thursday night, taking a 48-39 victory over Shoshone.

Winning the consolation championship was Glenns Ferry with a 44-35 victory over Hailey. Sportsmanship trophy for the tournament went to Valley.

The championship battle was a close affair, with Shoshone staying within four or five points of Mountain Home until the final minutes of the game. Mountain Home had a halftime lead of 18-16. Doyle scored 13 points for the winners and Myers had 11 for the losers.

Glenns Ferry had little trouble with a Hailey team that had an attack of coolness in the first half. At the end of the first two periods Glenns Ferry was ahead 21-4 and Hailey fouled the range too late to pose much of a threat.

Davidson notched 16 points for Glenns Ferry, but scoring honors went to Hailey's Brown who garnered 19 points.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17—A will was filed for probate here on Thursday bearing in a large, bold hand the signature of the testator—Cornelius J. McGillicuddy.

A petition accompanying the will set forth that the signer also was known as C. McGillicuddy and Connie Mack—the last name by which he was known to millions of baseball fans during his 72 years in the sport, the last half century as the owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Mack, who unofficially shortened his name to fit baseball box, died here Feb. 8 at the age of 93. In his will, Mack disposed of an estate listed for probate purposes at $30,000 in personal property only. One-third of his possessions were left to his widow, Mrs. Katherine A. McGillicuddy. Gifts of $5,000 were left to Robert and Cornelius McGillicuddy, sons of his late daughter, Marguerite, of J. Channing Elery, an attorney who represented Mack and the Athletics for years, and Stoughton Sterling, an accountant who audited the club's books for a long time.

The rest was left to four Mack daughters.

Casper Seeks Pioneer Loop Berth

CASPER, Wyo., Feb. 17 (AP)—City officials and businessmen decided Thursday night to bid for a franchise in the class C Pioneer baseball league.

Long-range franchise plans call for construction of a $40,000 park at the 65-acre fairgrounds site within two years, Daugherty said. The franchise would mark Casper's first entry into organized baseball.

The 1956 edition of the Magic Valley Cowboys baseball team began to take shape today with the announcement that four players have signed their contracts. At Zarilla, Cowboys' new playing manager, signed his contract earlier.

Giroux, 19 years old, is a right-hander who stands 5-11 and weighs 180 pounds. Radford, 21, throws right and bats left. He stands 6-1 and weighs 190.

Mitchell Pickett, a 19-year-old Detroit youngster, is a rookie infielder who may get a chance to show his wares both at second and third base.

The Vandals would like to use the series as a means of climbing out of the Pacific Coast conference cellar. The Huskies need a sweep to inch in contention for the PCC lead.

POCATELLO, Feb. 17 (AP)—It was "Les Roh night" here Saturday as Idaho State college students and fans pay tribute to their basketball star.

The Saturday night game, against Colorado college, closes out the home season for the Bengals, defending Rocky Mountain conference champions.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 17 (AP)—Frank Lane, who consummated 241 trades involving a total of 353 players during his seven years with the Chicago White Sox, doubts whether he'll make a deal for the St. Louis Cardinals before the start of the 1956 baseball season.

Raft River Faces Hagerman in Last Game of Tourney

HANSEN, Feb. 17—Raft River and Hagerman fought their way into position to play for second and third place in the 4th district sub-district basketball tournament by posting victories in Thursday night's action. Raft River led from behind in the second half to down Castleford 51-38 and Hagerman did the same thing to trip Hansen 60-48.

Best scoring effort was turned in by Castleford's Dave Chandler who posted 19 points. Jack Hutchison scored 17 for Raft River. Hagerman trailed Hansen 16-11 at the end of the first quarter and 30-27 at halftime before surging to a 46-40 lead in the third quarter.

Dons Aiming At Defensive Championship

By The Associated Press A new statistical deal is in the making in major college basketball this season with Morehead State of Kentucky shooting for the team offense title and undefeated San Francisco seeking its second defensive championship.

Morehead, piling up points at a 98.1 per game clip, looks like a cinch to become the sixth team in 21 years to lead the way on offense. Last year San Francisco became the sixth team to win the defense title and now the Dons are aiming to become the second to wear that crown twice.

Since the NCAA statistical bureau began keeping records 21 years ago, two teams have hogged the honors in those two departments. Rhode Island led in scoring for 14 straight years, beginning in 1935, and the Oklahoma Aggies have taken the defense title 15 times. If San Francisco repeats on defense, it will mark the first time the Aggies have been kept from the top two years in succession.

Oklahoma A&M is second in the current NCAA records, which include games of Feb. 14, with an average of 53.0 points a game, compared to San Francisco's 49.5. On offense, Morehead's 98.1 average seems safe, as second-place Marshall of West Virginia is averaging only 93.0 per game.

Sun Valley Races Slated for Sunday

BOISE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Nearly a hundred skiers are expected for the annual Sun Valley Ski club championships to be held Sunday.

Club secretary Robert Blakeslee said Thursday a particularly large group of entries was expected in the class for skiers over 50 years old. "Both long and short slalom courses will be set. Christal Ekvista, an racing instructor at Sun Valley, will compete in the "open" class.

Lane, 'Starting Over Again' At St. Louis; Eyes Pennant

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 17 (AP)—Frank Lane, who consummated 241 trades involving a total of 353 players during his seven years with the Chicago White Sox, doubts whether he'll make a deal for the St. Louis Cardinals before the start of the 1956 baseball season.

The new general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals was found behind the batting cage at Al Langfield watching intently as the players went through their paces in the Cardinals' first spring training drill.

"It's like starting all over again," said the man who converted a drab cellar-dwelling White Sox outfit into a hustling, colorful contender for the American league flag. "I consider this a challenge. No matter what I did in Chicago, no matter how much success I enjoyed with the White Sox, it doesn't mean a thing to the people in St. Louis. This is a new city, a new team, a new league and a new year for me.

Brundage Says Sports Need 'New Concept'

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Brundage, president of the International Olympic committee, said Thursday that America must sport a new concept of amateur sports to meet the growing challenge of the Russians.

Brundage, wealthy Chicago owner, arrived here by air from the winter games at Cortina, Italy, where the Russians won under team honors with the United States placing sixth.

"We hear stories of subsidizing of athletes in Russia, of training camps, state-supported programs so forth," Brundage said. "This is so. Everything in a Communist country is subsidized by the state and there's not much we can do about it.

"Understand, I don't attempt to defend the system. But I do think that Russia puts amateur sports on a far higher level than we do in the United States.

Doctors Race in Sun Valley Event

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 17 (AP)—A Sacramento, Calif., physician in his 50s, Dr. Lorenz Rudy, won the annual giant ski race of the Northwest Medical association Thursday with a time of 1:19.

Second place went to the day was the 1:20.1 recorded by Dr. Vernon Smith of St. Paul, also skiing in the 50-59-year-old class. Mrs. John Ambler of Denver took the low time for women, with 1:46.3.

Vancouver Having Schedule Trouble

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 17 (AP)—The Mounties, Vancouver's entry in the Pacific Coast baseball league, are scheduled to play 13 home Sunday doubleheaders this summer—in a city where commercialized Sunday sport is against the law.

Ced Tatis, manager of the team known as the Acorns when it played in Oakland, Calif., last summer, explains it this way: "We still think there is a good chance that legislation will be passed to allow Sunday ball. We had to plan one way or the other and decided to go along with Sunday sport."

Ski Area Will Be Open Sunday

TABER INSURANCE AGENCY, Inc. Phone 2555 Complete Insurance Service Paul E. Taber Jr. C. E. Taber Jr. By: Glenn Jenkins This may seem the wrong end of the year to be talking about anti-freeze, but strangely enough, we get more anti-freeze problems now than when the cold weather is first setting in. A couple of good friends have been in a dither because their car heaters weren't working properly. They really expected a big repair bill. At this time of year, though, with the wide swings of temperature up and down it's easy to lose some anti-freeze, and that's what had happened to them. If the anti-freeze and water mixture isn't up to within six inches of the overflow pipe when the engine is cold, just enough air can get in to make the heater inefficient. Or when the heater is the under-the-dash kind, the heater can be higher than the level of water and anti-freeze in the radiator. And, funny thing about it, the people who worry most about the level in their radiators are often the people who get the most of this kind of trouble. They fill the radiator right up, forgetting that the water and anti-freeze will expand when it gets warm. Then it spills out the overflow pipe, down past the level and the heater suffers. Radiators are a finicky part of a car. The manufacturer designs the moving parts of a car to operate smoothly within tiny thousands of an inch of each other. And then a little scale gets in the rad, the temperature goes up and you never know what's going to happen. When we get the responsibility for regularly checking and servicing a car, which we do for lots and lots of our friends around here, we always make a special point of caring for the radiator. Always ready to answer questions about this important, but kind of mysterious, part too. GLEN G. JENKINS SALES SERVICE PARTS 313 MAIN AVENUE WEST PHONE 707 TWIN FALLS

Mens' Ordeal In Icy Crash Told by Navy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The navy yesterday told how seven men, whose airplanes crashed near the South Pole early this month, struggled to save themselves before they were rescued in the snow covered mountains of Antarctica.

A delayed message from one of the U. S. ships taking part in the expedition to the Antarctic reported the men had walked and pulled their sled nearly one-third of the 125 miles from the mountainside where they crashed to the seacoast of Little America before they were rescued by helicopters on Feb. 9.

The pilot of the downed plane, Lieut. Cmdr. Glen H. Lathrop, Jr., Leeward, Calif., told the navy that heavy ice on the wings of his single engine Otter plane forced him off his planned course and into the snow and ice of the mountain.

Equipment Collected

Lathrop said in his report to the navy, that soon after the men recovered from the initial shock of a surprisingly gentle crash they collected usable equipment from the plane and made plans to save themselves. No one was injured in the crash landing, except the co-pilot, Lieut. Paul R. Strick, Casper, Wyo., who suffered "slight facial lacerations."

Lathrop said he knew they were down at a point that was far off the course previously set for the days operations and "we thought this might mean a long time finding us. We had minimum rations to keep us about 12 days."

Route Planned

Lathrop said they planned a route that would take them to Okuma bay in the Ross Ice Barrier. There they hoped they would be able to find seals to augment their food supply. The march was started with the two biggest men in the party in the pulling harness of a 300-lb. sled which had been salvaged from the downed Otter.

Lathrop said his group headed across the Rockefeller mountains which he described as "some of the toughest territory Antarctica has to offer." The pilot said they averaged 15 miles a day, most of it uphill, in the three days they were on the trail. The men pulled and trudged for 10 hours on each of those days.

Record Is Made On Cairo Flights

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 17 (AP)—A twin-jet British Canberra bomber streaked over Cairo yesterday less than four hours after taking off from London to set a record for the 2,182 mile flight.

The unofficial time was three hours, 59 minutes, nine seconds. The old record was set in April, 1950, by a Comet 1 Jet. It averaged 428.83 miles an hour in making the non-stop flight in five hours, six minutes, 58.3 seconds.

At the controls of the Canberra was test pilot Peter Willwood. His navigator was Dennis Watson, an expert employed by the English Electric company which manufactures the Canberra.

Drama on East River

$410 Is Located On Prison Land

ONTARIO, Calif., Feb. 17 (AP)—A gusty windstorm whisked $410 in currency from C. H. Chacon's automobile, blew it over a chain link fence surrounding a state prison.

In reporting the loss to police, Chacon said he spent several hours walking along the fence looking for the money and that he hesitated to climb over without permission. He said he had $800 on his person but transferred the $410 to the visor above the windshield. When he opened a door the wind whirled up and carried it away in a mushrooming cloud.

Police Sgt. E. R. Holland and L. F. Patton of the staff of the California Institution for Men helped Chacon look in the prison grounds. They found three $100 bills, five $20 and one $10 in the weeds and shrubs.

Mail Carrier Given Award

DEULO, Feb. 17—Albert J. Olsen, Deulo, has completed 30 accident free years as a rural mail carrier. For his record he has been awarded a pin by the postoffice department and national safety council. He also received a certificate for missing only two days from delivering mail on account of sickness during his 30 years of service.

Olsen started delivering mail in the Deulo area in 1925 and as that didn't occupy all his time he served as janitor at the Deulo school for four years and drove the Deulo school bus for a number of years.

Five years ago he started delivering mail to all residents on Burley route one in addition to keeping his Deulo route.

He travels approximately 60 miles a day delivering mail to 450 patrons.

60 Shy Girls Win Visiting Privilege

CARFIN, Scotland, Feb. 17 (AP)—Sixty shy girl employees of a local knitwear factory were back at work today, sustained in their refusal to obey an order requiring them to ask the manager's permission to go to the powder room.

The strikers argued that the question was too delicate to be discussed with a man. Two hundred other, less sensitive women employed by the S. H. MacKinnon company took the order in their stride.

The management agreed to allow the girls five opportunities during the day to visit the powder room with no questions asked—four 10-minute breaks and a 30-minute lunch period.
