Okay for Crop Bill Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Ellender, D., La., renewing his prediction that the senate will approve right the farm bill, expressed hope today that President Eisenhower might sign it to become law.

"This is an election year and it is extremely difficult to predict what the President will do," Ellender said. The Louisiana senator said Eisenhower's rejection of the natural gas bill was "a political veto" that cast a reflection on the senate.

Time Limit Sought

As floor manager for the controversial farm bill, Ellender will ask senate leaders Monday for a time limit on debate so as to assure a final vote before the week ends.

Senator Aiken, R., Va., who has been leading opposition to including aid for the soil bank program, told a reporter he will cooperate in getting a decision this week.

New Jobs Taken

Ellender, taking some new jobs at Secretary of Agriculture Benson, disagreed with the contention that high level support had "priced us out of export markets."

He said the administration program of flexible and lower supports would not regain former world trade because foreign nations would undersell us no matter how low U. S. products were offered abroad.

Limit Urged

Senator Humphrey, D., Minn., announced he will urge the senate to limit total price support loans to any one farm to $25,000 a year.

Senator Watkins, R., Utah, has proposed a loan ceiling of $50,000 and Senator Langer, R., N.D., one of $15,000.

Both Eisenhower and Benson recommended some limit on loans, without fixing the total, but the senate agriculture committee rejected all such proposals.

"Ike" Returns From Georgia And Vacation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower ended an 11-day Georgia vacation—perhaps with the big decision about a second term already formed in his mind.

But he gave no hint, in returning to the capital, on whether he has reached a decision, what it might be, or when he will announce it. Most speculation pointed to next Wednesday, if he holds a news conference then.

On taking off from Moultrie, Ga., the President only laughed when a woman onlooker appealed to him to "stand right up there and tell us you're going to run."

Ending a busy period of golfing and quail hunting at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, Eisenhower arrived in Washington at 1:40 p.m. He went directly to the White House. He spent an hour in his office there signing papers and conferring with members of his staff.

Tonight he arranged to go to the home of Secretary of State Dulles to celebrate his 58th birthday.

Eisenhower took with him to Georgia his doctors' findings that he was medically fit for another five or 10 years in the White House. But even in advance of that, he had told newsmen he probably would live more on now he feels than on what his doctors told him.

His Georgia workout, by far the most outdoor activity he has had since his Sept. 24 heart attack, gave him a new basis for deciding how he would live.

At Moultrie, Ga., en route home, Eisenhower said the 10 days had been "something for him."

In that time he went hunting eight times for quail and wild turkey, for periods of two to three hours at a time. After getting out of his nine holes and then 18 holes of golf, he devoted another day to a second 18 holes of golf, two hours of reading and a bridge session which lasted beyond midnight.

He was jovial and smiling on the homeward trip.

Knowland Ready For Primary Try

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. William Knowland, R., Calif., said today a state of delegate candidates would be filed under his name in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Knowland, 53, provided President Eisenhower's decision not to seek reelection. Knowland, here to confer with his Republican backers, said he will welcome the support of any of the state's Republicans, including Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R., Wis., in any bid he might make for the state's delegates to the national GOP convention.

Condition "Fine"

Kenneth William, 16, is reported as being "just fine" at the Twin Falls clinic hospital. The 16-year-old boy underwent a tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy on Thursday for a chills and fever in the upper part of his throat.

The boy was injured when the front of his car struck a tree while driving on a road near Twin Falls. The boy was attending a wood-burning class.

Idaho Governor Welcomes Moose Governor to State

The American way of life comes closer to being utopia than that of any country in the world, Gov. Robert E. Smylie told members of the Loyal Order of Moose Saturday following a testimonial banquet in his honor at St. Edward's school. Addressing approximately 400 members of the lodge and Women of the Moose, Governor Smylie touched briefly on the coming presidential election this fall but confined most of his remarks to the blessings Americans have. He said most Americans fail to demonstrate their appreciation.

Smylie, newly inducted as an honorary member of the lodge, told his audience, "America has a great story. It should be told in a positive manner. Instead of pointing out what is wrong with America we should list the many things that are right with our country."

In noting that freedom of speech and lawful assembly are two of the nation's great heritages, the governor said, "from the sound and fury now building up for the 1956 presidential election there will be denunciations of President Eisenhower's administration."

Smylie said that such utterances would be discouraging to him. "So much will be said about what is wrong with the country and so little about what is right," the governor declared.

He added that there would be criticism of his administration as well as criticism of the administration of county commissioners and other persons holding public office.

He told of receiving a letter from a 9-year-old boy asking him to write a letter telling what he liked about America. Smylie said he considered writing a long list of materialistic things he liked about the country but discarded the idea.

"I wrote that what I like most is the freedom we enjoy as Americans, the individual dignity accorded us, the right of free speech, of free assembly, of the right to take a chance and to make the greatest use of my talents," he said.

In closing his address he said, "be faithful in things that are least, then be faithful in much."

Motorist Is Sentenced In Hit, Run Accident

A 34-year-old Burley man, who claims he didn't know his automobile had hit two men although the impact ripped off a part of his car, was sentenced to four months in the county jail Saturday by District Judge Hugh A. Baker on a charge of hit-and-run driving. Judge Baker also fined him $500 and costs.

The man, Archie Parish, was convicted Feb. 15 by a jury that deliberated only 12 minutes. His attorney, Kales E. Lowe, Burley, has served notice of appeal and Judge Baker has stayed execution of sentence for 15 days to give Lowe time to prepare the appeal.

Richard Brown and E. R. Noble, both Ft. Wayne, Ind., were injured by a hit and run driver while changing a tire last July 10 on highway 30 east of Murtaugh. During his trial, Parish claimed he didn't see any car parked along the highway on his drive from Burley to Twin Falls, that he didn't hear the scrape of metal although there were dents in the front of his car and that the only unusual thing on the trip was a slight bump when he said he thought he hit a small animal.

State Police Lieut. Clark Hand testified at the trial to finding a piece of chrome at the scene of the accident which fitted into a vacant place in the chrome on Parish's automobile.

Acting Police Judge Robert Kehrer, Jerome, Saturday fined two motorists on charges of speeding. He fined Francis E. Lewis, Jerome, $10 and James C. Thompson, Jerome, $5.

Probate Judge Theron Ward, Jerome, Saturday fined Warren Carlton, Boise, $10 and $3 costs on a charge of running through a stop sign. Carlton was arrested by State Patrolman Eugene Hagler Friday four miles east of Jerome on highway 25.

George A. Lundberg, Salt Lake City, Utah, was remanded to the Twin Falls county jail Saturday when he was unable to pay a $25 fine and $5.40 costs after pleading guilty in Kimberly justice court to a charge of negligent driving.

He entered a plea of guilty in Justice of the Peace Ray Potter's court. Saturday night Lundberg called Salt Lake City to arrange for money to be sent to him.

Reds Enlarge Ruling Group With Election

MOSCOW, Feb. 25 (AP)—The 20th Soviet Communist Party congress closed today after electing a slightly enlarged ruling central committee with 54 new members, more than a third of the total.

The new committee of 133 full members is the supreme body of the party. It includes all top party leaders. It will rule until the next congress meets.

The last central committee elected in October of 1952 while Stalin was alive—had 125 members. Of these, 45 were not reelected to the new committee.

Some died since the last congress. They included, besides Stalin, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky and Lavrenty P. Beria, secret police chief who was executed in 1953.

Former Premier Georgi Malenkov kept his seat on the central committee even though his ministry of power status was criticized. (Continued on Page 6, Column 1)

New Weapons Go On U. S. Vessels

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 25 (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said Saturday that the most powerful, most destructive weapons of the age are being installed on board ships in increasing numbers.

The navy "is hard at work on new developments," Burke said, adapting nuclear power to ship propulsion and creating both carrier-based aircraft and submarines which he said are "moving rapidly into the superatomic era."

Falling in this they would ask for six new elementary schools, a gymnasium and other improvements for their present school building. Bellevue's other representatives were Charles Wright, Ray Rogers and Worley Head.

New Rejection Is Expected for Red Friendship Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are expected to dispatch next week a new "positive" rejection of Soviet Premier Bulganin's diplomatic proposal for a Russian-American friendship treaty.

Diplomatic officials speculated that one way to handle the Bulganin offer would be to make a counter proposal of a treaty acceptable to United States, Britain and France. But they have had trouble finding a formula which would do this without the requirements of American policy.

Various drafts have been worked out in the state department for consideration by Eisenhower and Dulles but in the end the two leaders will have to make the final decision. Dulles is understood to have come back from his Bahamas vacation with some ideas of the line to take.

George Feels Policy Change Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator George, D., Ga., said today he doesn't believe any "drastic change" in American policies is necessary to meet what Secretary of State Dulles has called an abrupt shift in strategy by Russia.

Some other Democrats, including Senators Sparkman, Alabama, and Humphrey, Minnesota, thought differently however. They challenged Dulles' contention that free world firmness had caused the Soviets to swing toward more western methods of wooing the undecided areas of the world.

Abandoning Policies

But George, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and Democratic spokesman on international affairs, said he thinks it has been clear for a year that the Russians were abandoning some of their past policies and "taking on some of the things we are doing."

"We are not called upon to make any drastic change in our program because of this," George said in an interview. "It remains to be seen, however, just what steps we may take in any concrete situation that develops."

Limits of Uses For Highways Set in District

SHOSHONE, Feb. 25 (AP)—Special load and speed restrictions will be placed on state highways Tuesday in Twin Falls, Cassia, Jerome, Minidoka, Gooding, Lincoln, Camas, Blaine, Butte and Ouster counties, Highway District Engineer J. H. Cairns said Saturday.

No special permits for loads over the legal weight limit will be issued on any state highways in these counties while these special restrictions are in effect, Cairns said.

"It is necessary that the special restrictions be imposed because of the reduced supporting power of the highway surfaces caused by the melting of frost," Cairns added.

Maximum speed of 30 miles per hour for trucks and buses weighing over 10,000 pounds will be inaugurated on the following highways: State highway 25 from milepost 195 at the junction with state highway 59 to milepost 218, two and one-half miles west of Paul; U. Lincoln Farmer Gets Conservation Award

SHOSHONE, Feb. 25—Fred Martin, 66-year-old Lincoln county farmer, Friday night received the secretary of Interior's annual conservation award, the first ever presented in the state of Idaho.

The award is one of five granted by the department of the interior since its inception in 1951. It was presented before more than 160 of his friends and neighbors through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. It was presented by Neal Nelson, Salt Lake City, area administrator, at the Shoshone Chamber of Commerce Farmers' night banquet in Lincoln school.

Recipients of previous grassman of the year awards from this area were introduced prior to the presentation. They are M. R. Thorpe, 1953, and Mont Johnson, 1954. Introductions were made by Jack Keith, district manager for the bureau of land management.

Other department of interior representatives present were Russell Penny, Boise, state supervisor, bureau of land management, and Joe Fallini, range forestry officer.

Train Wrecks, Claiming 32 in Berlin Mishap

BERLIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—A fast freight crashed into an express passenger train in Saxony today, killing 32 persons, the communist regime reported. Forty persons were reported seriously injured.

Adm. the official east German news agency, said the collision occurred near the railroad station at Barnitz between Riesa and Oschatz, 100 miles south of Berlin, in Communist East Germany.

One of the passenger cars was reported demolished and several others badly damaged. The freight train was drawn by two locomotives. The passenger train originated at Dresden and was believed en route to Berlin. All three locomotives were derailed, Adn's report said.

Names of Missing Soldiers Reported

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Feb. 25 (AP)—The communists handed the names of 2,698 U.N. soldiers missing in the Korean war today but denied any responsibility concerning them.

The list was presented in answer to a Nov. 26 allied demand for an accounting of 2,720 missing prisoners, including 400 Americans.

The reds' list was accepted by the U.N. command and will be checked "name by name" against the November list, a spokesman said.

Yuba City Grets Christmas Despite Wind-Lashed Shower

YUBA CITY, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Wind-lashed rain pelted battered Yuba City again today but the hearts of the people were warm. Christmas finally had come for the children who were cheated of its warmth and cheer by the rampaging December floods.

Two months ago, on Christmas eve, the levee at Shanghai bend broke under the mammoth pressure of the surging Feather river. Water poured through the silent and deserted streets to a depth of four feet, homes were twisted and torn from their foundations, families were separated—and 30 persons were drowned.

Today Santa Claus paid a delayed visit to 16,000 children from the Yuba City area — just as most of them had known all along he would.

It was a memorable day. Festivities started with a parade led by military bands. Then came trucks heavily burdened with toys and other presents. They were followed by the Mouseketeers of Disneyland and finally old Santa Claus himself—a wet and shivering Santa Claus determined to be sure, but one of the happiest you ever saw.

Because of the weather, which seemed to be doing its best to wash out this "Christmas" too, the festivities were moved indoors to the high school gym.

There Santa Claus distributed tons of presents — appropriately wrapped—according to the age and sex of the children.

—It seemed like real Christmas for 6-year-old Judy Westcott.

"Santa Claus just didn't know where to find us when he left the North Pole," she explained. "After all, he couldn't spend all night just looking for us. Did you ever stop to think of that?"

Balloon Heading Over Bering Sea

TOKYO, Feb. 25 (AP)—The U. S. navy's fourth "wrong way" weather balloon to sail over Soviet territory switched directions again tonight. It headed back over Bering Strait at 80 miles an hour.

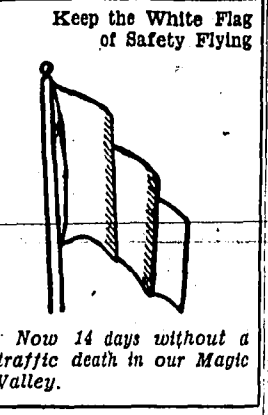

"It has swung in a southerly direction out of Siberia and has been reported 200 miles north of St. Lawrence Island," the navy said.

"Meteorologists predict it will once again change direction and head eastward toward Alaska."

The wayward gas bag is one of 19 balloons launched for eastward flight across the Pacific ocean.

Nation Ready To Use Bomb In Any Battle

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said today the United States is prepared to use nuclear weapons to "prepare for a 'little' war as well as a 'big' one."

"No would be aggressor should ever expect us to employ our air power and weapons as we did in Korea," he said in a speech here.

Quarles said in his speech that the United States is limited to definite boundaries and no atomic weapons were used.

"It must be clear to any aggressor that he can expect to be opposed by such modern quality weapons as are needed for the job in hand, the kind of weapons to make aggression completely unprofitable," Quarles continued.

Include Nuclear Weapons

An air force aide said that "modern quality weapons" as referred to by Quarles was meant to include nuclear weapons.

Quarles himself said in his speech that it is necessary to maintain a deterrent to Communist aggression, and that "this applies to 'little' as well as major or global wars."

None of the passengers was hurt critically.

Adlai Speaks Up for End of Race Barrier

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 25 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson spoke strongly Saturday night in favor of elimination of racial barriers.

"America is nothing unless it stands for equal treatment for all citizens under the law. Stevenson said freedom is unfinished business until all citizens may vote and go to school and work and live and go to church without encountering in their daily lives the barriers which we reject in our consciences and our religion."

The supreme court's desegregation decision, he said, "speak clearly the decisions, the conscience of this land; law and the conscience of this land; recognize that a time for transition and compliance is necessary, and that the adjustments that have to be made. But they do not recognize or permit repudiation or rejection of these decisions of the court and of the people."

In a speech at a Jackson-Jefferson day dinner of Connecticut Democrats, whose top leaders have endorsed him as a candidate for the presidential nomination, Stevenson said he was opposed to the doctrine of interposition, which has been advanced by some southern states opposing desegregation.

Trio Survives Crash for Air Force's Liner

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 25 (AP)—Medical corps paratroopers hauled to the spot by a helicopter found three survivors Saturday night where a U. S. air force transport crashed in a storm 50 miles north of Madrid.

The other three men aboard perished in the crash, an air force spokesman said. Neither the survivors nor the dead were identified by name.

The C47 transport, carrying six men attached to the small American military aid mission to Spain, crashed Friday night when only minutes away from a landing at Getafe air base here. It was flying from Chateaufort, France.

Announcement of the finding of these survivors was made by the air force after the wreckage had been spotted in the snow-covered Guadarrama mountains by another C47 transport piloted by Capt. Robert L. Hess of the U. S. air force in Spain. Ten Spanish and American planes had searched for the wreckage since dawn.

The plane crashed at 6,000 feet, halfway between Santillana reservoir, which supplies water to Madrid, and the village of Guadalupe. Doctors and medical corpsmen were dropped by parachute at the scene, but they landed 1,000 feet below the wreckage. A helicopter flown from its base at Sidi Sillman, French Morocco, then lifted them to the spot with long ropes.

Pay Awarded on October Accident

Chester T. Denton was granted judgment in probate court, Friday against John Angerbauer for $107.62.

The complaint arose out of an accident Oct. 16, 1955, at the intersection of Heyburn avenue and Jackson street involving cars driven by the two men.

Denton claimed Angerbauer was negligent in that he failed to yield the right of way to the oncoming car and also failed to keep his vehicle under control enough to enable him to stop in time to avoid the collision.

New York City had 68,500 marriages in 1955, 2 per cent less than in 1954.

South Korea Needs Millions More of U. S. Currency to Survive, Stay Free

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 25 (AP)—Two billion dollars in U. S. taxpayers' money has been spent in military and economic aid to South Korea in the past three years. Today it is apparent millions and millions more will be needed if the Republic of Korea is to survive.

There seems no solution to the little country's problems—especially the economic ones—unless the war-ravaged peninsula of Korea can be unified again. South Koreans are willing to seek that unification by force. The U. S. position is that it cannot agree to a military solution, even though the industrial North may be rapidly becoming a full-fledged vassal of communist China. As long as the peninsula remains divided, these are the factors of South Korea's plight:

1. Its army of 651,000, plus a small air force and navy, is too expensive for its economy.
2. It is largely agricultural, lacks natural resources and must import to live. It has little export.
3. A strong element, led by President Syngman Rhee, blocks cooperation with neighboring Japan.
4. Its proud leaders reject U. S. economic advice.

Both Koreans and Americans fear foreign aid over a long period will sap South Korean initiative in both government and business. They see some signs of this already.

Introduction of heavy industry into South Korea could solve some economic problems but would create others.

It takes about five Koreans to mix a bucket of cement. Within two years, a new U. S.-financed cement factory, costing 20 million dollars, will go into operation. It will knock four out of five cement mixers out of their jobs. And 35 per cent of South Korea's total labor force already is unemployed.

U. S. officials here are continually annoyed and frustrated by what they term South Koreans' bad management of money. Frequently there is not enough money in the treasury to meet government and army payrolls.

"Old Hay Pounder" Shudders At Search for More Revenue

Editor, Times-News: Being ever reminded that our state's financial straits search for more revenue is still in high gear makes this old hay pounder shudder. With taxes skyrocketing and farm prices falling leaves me dangling between the confines of survival and the fringes of purgatory. I'd been hoping for a happier medium. Last year they raised the auto license from $2.50 to $12.50 per car. They voided the 15 per cent deduction on state income taxes and added seven and one-half per cent surtax, a total increase of 27 and one-half per cent. They raised the other increased hunting license fees. Other increased taxes I won't mention. Now they are dusting off the sales tax provision, but with all this microscopic search for revenue they are stumbling over a banana at every crossroad. Namely, 44 county administrations with less than 600,000 population in the state. In the horse and buggy days with one-fourth the population, I could understand the need for perhaps 20 counties, but this dynamic age with paved highways and 60 miles an hour transportation, with your crossroad whistle-stops getting smaller and your shopping centers growing larger, why? Good highways and fast cars! If mama wants a new spring coat, she does not shop in Pocatello. Sister Sue does not shop in Hagerman for an Easter bonnet. Dad doesn't order his Stetson from the mail order house and son John does not shop in Murphy for a second-hand car. And, speaking about Murphy, in

State School's Report Should Be Made Public, Says Writer

Editor, Times-News: Following is a copy of a letter I have sent to John Reinsberg regarding the state school situation at Gooding: "It was very heartening to have the state board of education make good its promise to bring a team of evaluators to look into the situation at the Gooding state school. "However your statement of Feb. 15... in reference to the evaluators' report that 'its contents will determine if it is to be made public' deserved the editorial reply I received in last Sunday's Times-News. Your statement, belatedly retracted, incensed and angered those of us waiting in good faith for the evaluators' report, and perhaps forced the Blind Deaf associations to plan for a further investigation the results of which would not be censored. "Mr. Reinsberg, if the state board of education has power to keep facts concerning tax-supported institutions from the public, as your statement implied, then perhaps we should re-examine our constitution in Idaho. If you honestly feel that you have made another mistake in handling the state school situation, why not come out and admit it?" MRS. ALDRICH BOWLER (Bliss)

Buhl Man's Letter for Forum Gets Praise by Bellevue Man

Editor, Times-News: Hurray for A. L. Kieley, Buhl, for his article in the Times-News Feb. 14 about the governor squandering trust funds as he has other funds. As I see it, a person high in public life who uses the high principles of statesmanship for political expediency is about on par with a noisy horse trader. As an example on the road-fund side of highway workers with a crew of costly machinery came to Bellevue announcing they were going to level and gravel the town's streets. They started, were here a day or so and did a little work, left here and were gone a few days. They came back and put in another day or two and were gone again. They never completed the job. The cost of hauling the machinery around was far more than the work done on the streets. Mr. Kieley, keep your $110 and the $110 worth of good straight talking toward the governor's unseating at the next election. P. D. JONES (Bellevue)

Chairman of March of Dimes Notes 'Thanks' for Drive Aid

Editor, Times-News: I wish to thank you and your people for the space and the time given to make the 1956 March of Dimes campaign a success. Your paper did much to publicize and promote the March of Dimes in 1955. Suggestions of ways and means to properly promote and publicize special events of the campaign were very helpful. The reporters and photographers took pictures and wrote articles almost any time, day or night. The job printing department gave us exceptionally quick service and good work in the many "fire-department" sort of orders that we gave them during the campaign. All of this contributed much to the ease with which the campaign was carried out, and the success it had throughout the entire county. Again I wish to thank you very much for the assistance you gave me as chairman of the March of Dimes for Twin Falls county. MERRITT GREELING (Chairman, Twin Falls County March of Dimes)

Religion Teaching in School Is Discussed by Californian

Editor, Times-News: Some time ago there appeared in the Times an article which stated that in the year 1956, the issue must be decided whether or not religion was to be taught in the public schools. In this article was the illuminating statement that the big question was: Does it do any good for teacher to tell Johnny that it's morally wrong to lie and steal if she can't even mention the Ten Commandments?

about the great spirit on the walls of his caves, and produced the concepts of Atman, Buddha, Lao-tzu, Christ? To say that such concepts come from outside by way of continual preaching is a monstrosity and an insult to human nature. Every child, in his first thunderstorm, hears the voice of the unknown, the almighty. Such concepts are as much a part of us as our animal nature and will always be. One is a balance to the other. It is only when one or the other side of our nature is disowned that we find ourselves in trouble. RUFEN RICHARDSON (Rt. 1, Box 2151 Colfax, Calif.)

Boise Letter Stresses Need Of Joining Vet Organization

Editor, Times-News: Why should I join a veterans organization? "Several friends have been asking me to join. I never attend clubs, and if I did join, which one should I join?" Well it is easy to answer the first part. Every veteran should naturally be interested in all matters concerning veterans. Their rehabilitation, the care of their widows, orphans and other dependents. If he does not he is not quite normal. Every veteran should realize that every benefit he is getting today from his government, he gets because of some veterans organization, or all of them together, have sponsored the legislation necessary to get it. Benefits for veterans just do not happen. Some one has to propose the benefits, and it is a cliché lone individual would not have a chance of putting any legislation over with out the help and assistance of many others. If it was not for some of the current veterans organizations (mostly veterans of World War I) working through congress, while their sons and other relatives were fighting World War II, it is safe to say there would not be any GI bill of rights today. There are several thousands of veterans of World War I in Idaho today who are eligible for Veterans of World War I Barracks U.S.A., an organization which is composed solely of veterans of World War I. This organization is an organization with national scope, with barracks and state departments in every state of the union. The Magic Valley barracks at Twin Falls, was instituted on Feb. 15 with George Burdick, PO box 293, as commander. If you have not signed up with Burdick I urge you to do so at once. You who live in other localities, and are interested, and you should be, write the undersigned and get full information. Our national officers have introduced bills in congress for a pension for all World War I veterans reaching the age of sixty years, and for their widows and dependents. Better hospitalization, and with out having to sign the so called paupers oath, also asking for the right to present claims to the veterans administration, and for a congressional charter. Veterans of World War I are the forgotten men, as we did not get the good things Uncle Sam bestowed on the veterans of the last two wars. We do not begrudge these veterans for what they received from Uncle Sam, they earned everything they received. There are about 27 million veterans in the nation today, about four million belong to some veterans organization, the rest are free riders, and by that we mean that the four million have fought through thick and thin for every benefit that has been gained for all veterans. By free riders we mean those veterans who do not belong to any veterans organization, they do not pay any dues to help in this struggle, but set back and take the gains that the few have fought for and won. Buddies of World War I, get in this struggle, for it is later than you think, we do not have much longer to go. We are in the twilight years of life. Get your memberships in to one of our barracks and help to win this pension for our old buddies of World War I. It costs so little, and being a member gives us more strength. Let us hear from all World War I veterans in Idaho. DEAN V. THOMPSON (National aide-de-camp, Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. PO Box 4007, Boise)

Kefauver Ponders Oregon's Primary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Kefauver, D. Tenn., said Saturday night he is considering entering the Oregon presidential primary election. He said he wants to check first to be sure that participation in the Oregon campaign would not conflict with other engagements and senate business. He expects to reach a decision in the next week or 10 days. Kefauver said he had written Senator Morse, D. Ore., earlier this week telling Morse of his giving active consideration to entering the Oregon race. He said the letter was in response to one he had received from Morse, in which the latter had commented he would welcome both Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson as entrants in the Oregon presidential primary election.

French Smash Among Rebel Force in Raid

ALGIERS, Algeria, Feb. 25 (AP)—French military headquarters today reported smashing a rebel stronghold in the Kabylie mountains with a sudden raid by mobile troops and helicopters. The commando-style raiders killed 27 nationalists and rounded up another 47 in a short but violent clash. Sizable stores of arms were taken. Although French losses were not given, the fight appeared to be the first one-sided French success since a recent wave of rebel attacks on military convoys. Both sides have suffered relatively heavy casualties in the indecisive convoy ambushes. Throughout Algeria terrorism continued yesterday. An unofficial toll indicated 60 persons killed. Of this number eight, including two women and a 7-year-old girl, died in an ambush south of Algiers. The news provoked bitter reactions in Algiers, which only recently was the scene of violent anti-nationalist rioting by French settlers.

Indian Says Bribe Is Offered in Dam

CROW AGENCY, Mont., Feb. 25 (AP)—Robert Yellowtail, former superintendent of the Crow Indian reservation, said Friday night he had been offered $20,000 to withdraw his opposition to the controversial Yellowstone dam. He made the statement at a meeting of 225 Crow tribesmen assembled to discuss right-of-way negotiations with the federal government over nearly 7,000 acres of Crow land in southeast Montana. Yellowtail said a person he identified only as a "go-between" offered him a bribe about three weeks ago. He claimed the offer was made by proponents of the proposed 95-million-dollar reclamation project, which would be built on the Big Horn river near the Montana-Wyoming border.

Memory

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Accused Check Forger William Zukowsky Jr., 28, hoped today that a federal judge didn't have a memory like the proprietor of the check-cashing office where Zukowsky was caught.

Zukowsky was arrested when he tried to cash a stolen government check and Clerk Dennis Prager remembered Zukowsky as the man that was arrested on the same charge in his shop three years ago.

Dyer Act Charges Placed by Bureau

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Feb. 25 (AP)—FBI agents today filed Dyer act charges against a 31-year-old man in what appeared to be a car theft operation touching six western states.

William Cuatrecasas, who gave his address as Albuquerque, N. M., and Chihuahua, Mexico, was arrested driving a car stolen in Albuquerque last night.

It contained six sets of Oklahoma plates, stolen in a January burglary, Oklahoma registration papers and notary seals; a set of 1956 Nebraska plates; notary seals from Arapahoe county, Colo., and Utah; and a bag of tools agents said were used to short out car ignitions.

Mental Health Of 'Normals' Isn't Peaceful

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—An official of the New York Academy of Medicine has directed the attention of the mental health movement to "the so-called normals" in the population which, he said, make up the "vastly greater portion."

The trouble with many of them, especially the younger ones, "is they think life should always run smoothly and they will 'live happily ever after,'" said Dr. Ingo Gladston, who is a psychiatrist and secretary of one of America's most renowned medical organizations.

Dangers Noted Speaking as one normal to other normals, he pointed to the dangers of such expectations. "When things do go wrong, we are astonished, bewildered and hurt," he said. "We are prone to feel that life has been unfair to us."

"But the crucial trouble is not with life but rather with us, in that we think only the mentally ill have problems. In fact, however, all of us do. Normal people have normal problems in normal experience."

His communication was to a technical journal of the National Association for Mental Health and it acknowledged that the mental health movement had been concerned with "mental health as well as with mental illness."

Results Not Great Nevertheless, the results of its "valiant effort have not been great" because "most of us seem to operate in the belief that when you are sick something should be done about it, and quickly, too. But when you're normal, why that's all there is to it."

The "trials of normality" begin at birth since "being born is a trying job, no less for the infant than for his mother in labor." And what happens thereafter "cannot be pictured as a smooth line of progression, following a wave line pattern. Actually it is full of reversals, contradictions and diversifications. It is zig-zag rather than smooth."

Dr. Joseph P. Kesler, acting state health director, said the hospitals are St. Benedict's and Thomas D. Dee Memorial hospital in Ogden and St. Mark's and the Salt Lake County General hospital here.

He said that the four hospitals, along with the state hospital in Provo, are the only institutions in Utah authorized to handle mental cases.

Tobacco Is Said Cause of Cancer

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—A cancer expert says "tobacco smoking, particularly cigarette smoking, is the single most important external factor associated with cancer of the lung."

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research yesterday described a new study that he said supports previous reports linking smoking with cancer.

In a talk at a symposium sponsored by the American Chemical Society, Dr. Wynder also reported that five times as many men as women get lung cancer. He attributed this to differences in smoking habits of the sexes.

Buhl Woman's Astronomical Abilities Gain Her Post as 'Fireball Watcher'

Eleanor Sandmeyer, Buhl, has been appointed director of the Pacific Northwest Society for the Study of Meteorites, Dr. Charles F. Powell, University of Pennsylvania, national director.

She will be recording the paths of "fireballs" or falling stars in the area and to map the paths of debris loosened from the tail of a comet and floating in space. As the earth, during its orbit, crosses the path of the debris, it is ignited, causing fireballs to burn brightly. These as they pass are called fireballs and are completely burned up, although sometimes hit the earth.

The heavens are divided by sections according to the various constellations at different times of the year. Miss Sandmeyer is particularly interested in Perseids.

While searching for the fireballs it is necessary to keep the central area in a certain area called the "zone." Although covering thousands of miles, the radius is the general path of most falling stars. This means keeping the comet path clear, keeping it, the zone necessary. By studying it, the astronomer can determine exactly in what area the fireballs will be observed and focus full attention there.

Having a father who was interested in all outdoor phenomena and the attention of those things, the children is how the Sandmeyer family became interested in astronomy. Three daughters have knowledge of the family farm and it remains on her studies.

These two were graduated from Idaho on a minor scale in 1940 when Eleanor purchased a six-inch reflector telescope. This instrument since been operated by Mrs. Havel, Twin Falls, who replaced the tube and tripod.

The reflector type telescope has essential parts. The larger mirror is placed in the end of the tube and focused on the object to be studied. This image is reflected into a smaller mirror, called the diagonal and studied through the magnifying lens.

The process of locating objects in the sky is difficult. Many of stars interesting cannot be seen with the naked eye and must be found through the use of star maps.

Stars are listed in sequence of their brightness in order from one to the brighter stars and planets being the smaller number. The eye can see only the sixth in sequence although, the number rises up to 21.

This is the problem facing all astronomers and it requires a highly skilled genius to handle the large stars. Miss Sandmeyer says, as the larger the telescope, the harder it is to adjust.

It was with this instrument Miss Sandmeyer won the attention of Dr. Powell.

Her best effort was tracing the path of a meteor, which faded over the area in July, 1952. By using the data last seen from several different points throughout the west-states, astronomers stated the meteor had struck the earth approximately 60 miles east of Sandmeyer's farm in the Rupert area. Extensive search of that area by plane surface disclosed nothing, however.

In addition to having the telescope the Misses Sandmeyer have a pair of 20-power binoculars, which are perfect for studying the moon. Binoculars are so powerful a good rest must be used. Any slight movement or jar will blur the image. With these they are able to distinguish the various named craters and markings on the moon.

Their current wish is to be able to see the equator of this August study Mars. During its rotation, Mars comes within 34 million miles every 20 or 30 years. Although can be seen from this area, the light will be on the horizon shrouded by Earth's atmosphere. It will, never, be straight over the southern hemisphere and perfect for studying, they say.

One interesting point brought out by Miss Sandmeyer is all markings on the planets and moons will appear upside down below the equator. Back on Earth the sisters maintain a quiet life helping their father, Ted Sandmeyer, run the farm. Their love for the stars seems second to that for cats as many the animals are always in sight.

The duties of running the family farm curtail the amount of time the sisters can spend with their hobby. Their eventual aim is to construct a small observatory coupled with people living quarters and devote a greater percentage of their time with astronomy.

Eleanor Sandmeyer, route 4, Buhl, adjusts six-inch reflector telescope for a night of star gazing. Recently appointed assistant director of the American Meteor Society in the Pacific Northwest, Miss Sandmeyer was lauded for her report and studies of the "Sunshine" meteor believed to have struck the earth in the Rupert area. She has been active in astronomy since 1940. (Staff photo-engraving)

Concert Given By Saxophone Expert in T.F.

Sigurd Rascher, saxophone virtuoso, presented a program before an assembly of the Twin Falls high school student body 10 a.m. Friday in the high school gymnasium. He was accompanied on the piano by Willis Hill.

The assembly was led in the invocation by Mary Lou Kukka. Bill Whitsett, student body president, conducted the flag salute.

Whitsett introduced Del Slaughter, high school band director, who presented the saxophone soloist.

Rascher began the program by playing "Overture," "March," "Sonata," "Handel," "The Swan," "Saint Saens," "Little March," "Fritz Kreisler," "Bourree," "Henry Purcell," "Rondo," "Mozart."

"The saxophone has amazing musical advantages that most other instruments do not possess," he told the group. He particularly stressed its versatility and flexibility.

Continuing the presentation, Mr. Rascher played "Arloso," "Bach," "Bee," "Schubert," "Carnival of Venice," "traditional."

Following the program, Whitsett offered an apology to the faculty for the tardiness of a portion of the student body Feb. 22. In affirmation of the apology the students rose in standing ovation.

John D. Platt, principal, accepted the apology on behalf of the faculty.

Alas, Poor Yorick, Hamlet Is Card, Ophelia's Lush for Sovietized Bard

LONDON (NEA)—Not "Waiting for Lefty" 1955-style, but Shakespeare's 350-year-old "Hamlet" in an all-British production is the smash-hit of the Moscow theatrical season.

This is the first time British actors have visited Russia since the days of the Czars, and they took 13 curtain calls at the opening night of "Hamlet" at the Moscow Art theater.

There were rave notices in Pravda, too. "Bold, brilliant, simple," wrote the Soviet counterpart of Brooks Atkinson. Not even Bulgakov gets a better press.

The truth is that the Russians like Comrade Hamlet, or Gamlet as they call him. Of course, this is not the Hamlet that theatergoers ordinarily see.

Hamlet, in the Russian version, is not melancholy, crazy, mixed-up Dane. He is Hamlet the fighter, the champion of the people, "the lesson for us all."

The British have trimmed their sails to the Russian wind, presenting Hamlet in their export version as a simple, manly fellow.

Gone is the stammering, brooding call "minor" changes to restore the play's original intention. (Shakespeare's own life, while flying in order to please the Elizabethan ruling version, "Hamlet is played as a kind of a rustic hero battling villainy.")

In a recent memorable production the character of Ophelia, for example, hesitated to take liberties with the Shakespeare in their own productions of Hamlet, making what they and down herself for anything so paltry as love. This was a petty bourgeois interpretation.

No, it was all a question of economics. Being jilted by a Crown Prince meant no more diamonds and mink. Therefore Ophelia took the only way out for a girl with no ideological training; she took to drink.

Thus, when she staggered on stage strutting flowers she is really sozzled to the eyebrows. Who else but a chronic alcoholic would go around muttering, "There's rosemary, that's for remembrance . . . and there is pansies, that's for thoughts!"

The ghost of Hamlet's father presented a stiff problem to the Soviets—that is, until Shakespeare's true purpose was "discovered." Shakespeare did not mean for the ghost to be taken seriously, for as a dilettante he was aware that the supernatural is used to dope the masses.

No, the ghost should be played strictly for laughs, as in the scene where Hamlet forces his followers to swear on his sword and the ghost mocks him uttering the word "swear" from various parts of the floor. Russian audiences roar with laughter as Hamlet darts around the stage in chase of the ghostly voice.

Finally, in turn, he turns on his friend Horatio, who has shown Menshevik tendencies all along, and blames him. "There are more things in Heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in your philosophy."

Clearly, Hamlet, or Gamlet if you prefer, was a card.

Jerome Unit Of Red Cross Starts Drive

JEROME, Feb. 25—Jerome county will launch its annual Red Cross fund drive with a luncheon for workers at noon Monday at the Barn, south of Jerome. James Taylor, chairman of the drive, reported Saturday.

The goal this year is $3,500, $2,200 of which will be earmarked for Jerome county and $1,300 for flood relief along the Pacific coast, Taylor said.

The drive chairman said the goal must be met if the Red Cross is to carry on its full program for the coming year. He said most of the money collected for local use goes to the swimming program and bloodmobile project.

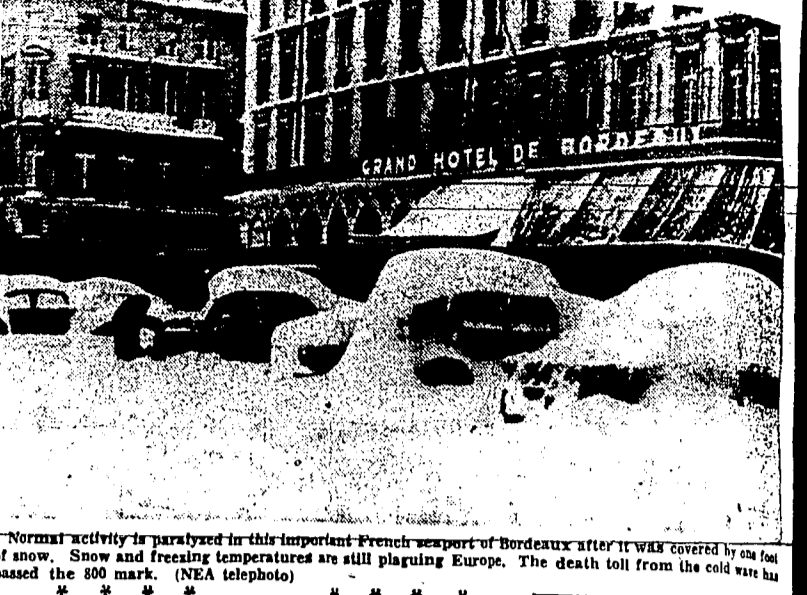

The Jerome county chapter is one of the few in the nation with an A-1 rating and Taylor hopes to retain that rating by meeting the goal set for the drive.

Chairmen in the drive are Ben Gulliford, southwest rural; C. J. Shupe, northeast rural; Elvin Taylor, Appleton district; Mr. and Mrs. Claire Ricketts, Falls City area; M. J. Smith, Sugarloaf; Tony Cirucek, Perrine; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Toibell, Hunt; George Battimore, Eden-Hazleton; Lions club, Jerome business district, and the Junior Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Harry Walters, the 14 schools in the county.

Jerry Miller and the Appleton school pupils are making posters for the campaign and the Boy Scouts are in charge of putting up the posters.

Mrs. A. J. Martin is assisting Taylor and will be in active charge of the rural area drive. Edith Nannola is publicity chairman.

Europe Still Gripped in Cold Spell

Normal activity is paralyzed in this important French seaport of Bordeaux after it was covered by one foot of snow. Snow and freezing temperatures are still plaguing Europe. The death toll from the cold wave has passed the 800 mark. (NEA telephoto)

Europe Hopes For Break in Wave of Cold

LONDON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Signs Saturday brought Europe's first real promise of a break in the 26-day disastrous cold wave. With hopes of a thaw, however, came fears of floods.

NATO headquarters in Paris readied plans, troops and relief supplies for any new disaster area. The big danger was that melting snows might overload rivers already piled high with packed ice.

851 Dead Counted

Deaths in the continent's worst freeze-up in 50 years reached 851, Holland, France and parts of Germany still shivered in bitter cold. New blizzards hit Spain and Portugal. But elsewhere things looked brighter.

Springlike sunshine sent London temperatures above freezing for the first time in 163 hours. France was warming up though still far from normal. Berlin's weather bureau claimed the cold spell was finally broken.

Army trucks tried to reach a snowed-in passenger train in northern Portugal. Giant drifts forced them back.

Typewriter Tattle Discusses Eating of Crow and Spaghetti

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Typewriter tattle:

Well, there is a way to find out if you go for superstitions. There was a belief in medieval times that anyone who ate the tongue of a white crow would understand the language of all birds.

There are two problems involved:

1. The crow population of America has been estimated to be as high as three billion (that seems awfully high), but the Audubon society is reported to have observed fewer than 100 albino crows in the last half century.

2. There are even fewer cook books which contain recipes on how to dish up crow tongues palatably.

However, Joe Pellegrino, a Boston macaroni magnate, is now trying to popularize something he calls "non-skid spaghetti."

It tastes exactly like ordinary spaghetti, but the strands have been given a permanent wave and a plate of them looks pretty much as your wife does when she shows up at breakfast with her hair in curlers.

The advantage: The spaghetti can easily be entwined around a fork.

Pellegrino got the idea from Italian fishermen, who enjoy a curled form of spaghetti. He first merchandised his product under the name of "fusilli."

What's in a name? As soon as he changed the name to "non-skid spaghetti," sales jumped 100 per cent.

The present residential building boom, big as it is, isn't a record-breaker in terms of the population involved.

The Northwestern National Life Insurance company points out that the 1,300,000 non-farm dwellings units built in 1955 came to an average of 36 for each 1,000 families.

But back in 1925 the rate was 47 new units for each 1,000 families.

There were 20 million non-farm families in America in 1925. In 1955 there were about 36 million.

How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm? The evidence seems to be that in American at least you can't—even though the towns, cities and suburbs become more and more crowded.

The late Gen. George S. Patton, prophet and hero of American armored might, often got himself in hot water with his blunt opinions.

After the second world war he was among the first to declare there was no essential difference between fascism, nazism and communism. He thought them all bad. He said so.

Why? Patton will hardly go down in history as a military diplomat, he will be long remembered for the battlefield boldness that won him brilliant success.

He was a great showman, a great actor, but above all a great soldier.

To Wendell Phillips Indianapolis (Ind.), his boss executive and national guard leader, I am indebted for the following summary of Patton's chief precepts as given by his admirer and comrade, Gen. Jacob Dreyer:

"1. In yourself demand the impossible.

Letter by Mayor To Russian Aide Has Disapproval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—U. S. officials today called "unfortunate" an Illinois mayor's letter to Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan proposing a "peace conference" of Soviet and American mayors.

After voicing regret at the move by Mayor Paul Egan, Aurora, Ill., officials tended to ignore it. However, they indicated their interest might increase if the Russians use Egan's suggestion for a big propaganda spurge.

Government legal experts said there was no evidence Egan had violated the Logan act, which calls for penalties of up to $5,000 and three years in jail for Americans who carry on unauthorized correspondence with foreign governments, "or any officer or agent thereof."

2 Granges Hold Combined Meet

Symington Is Appointed to Direct Study

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Symington, D. Mo., former secretary of the air force and a sharp critic of administration defense policies, was named today to direct a special senate investigation of force capabilities.

Chairman-Russell, D. Cal., of the senate armed services committee, named as other members of the subcommittee Senators Jackson, D. Wash.; Ervin, N. C.; Saitonall, R. Mass.; and Ruff, R. Pa. Jackson also has been outspoken in criticism of the administration's air-strike program.

Russell, who himself has called for more money for planes and missiles, said the subcommittee will examine into the condition and progress of the department of the Air Force to ascertain if present policies, legislative authority, and appropriations are adequate to maintain a force capable of carrying out its assigned missions."

Symington, in Raleigh, N. C., for a Jefferson-Jackson day speech, told a news conference there the Eisenhower administration "is putting out partial truths" about the nation's missile program. He did not comment directly on the upcoming investigation.

Mantled by deep snow following the worst series of storms in living European memory is the little mountain village of Castellaccia di Norcia, in central Italy. The snow has halted all but foot traffic into the area and Italian air force crews have resorted to helicopters to get relief supplies into blocked villagers. (AP wirephoto)

Woman's Life Should Be Made Easier by Husbands

Mother is the chief cook and bottle-washer in all homes and quite frequently she feels that it is the only reason for her existence. She is the cook, washing and ironing woman, maid, gardener, mother and most important, wife. With all these jobs it's no wonder she feels taken-for-granted at times.

Friend husband walks in the house, takes off his shoes and tie, throws himself into a chair. For the rest of the evening, except when called to dinner, he hides behind the paper. But his wife is supposed to remain cheerful and at peace with the world.

A man is all wrapped up in his working-day world and its troubles and finds the matter of whether Mrs. Jones visited today or an even keel were today, a complete waste of conversation. Little does he realize that these things that are trifling to him, take up a woman's life and are most important to her. She is supposed to sympathize with him, take his moods into consideration and keep all household matters on an even keel.

If a man would only realize that occasionally helping with the dishes, putting his late-snack dishes in the sink, hanging up his towel or even helping his wife put the children to bed, would ease his wife's lot, his home life would be much happier and serene.

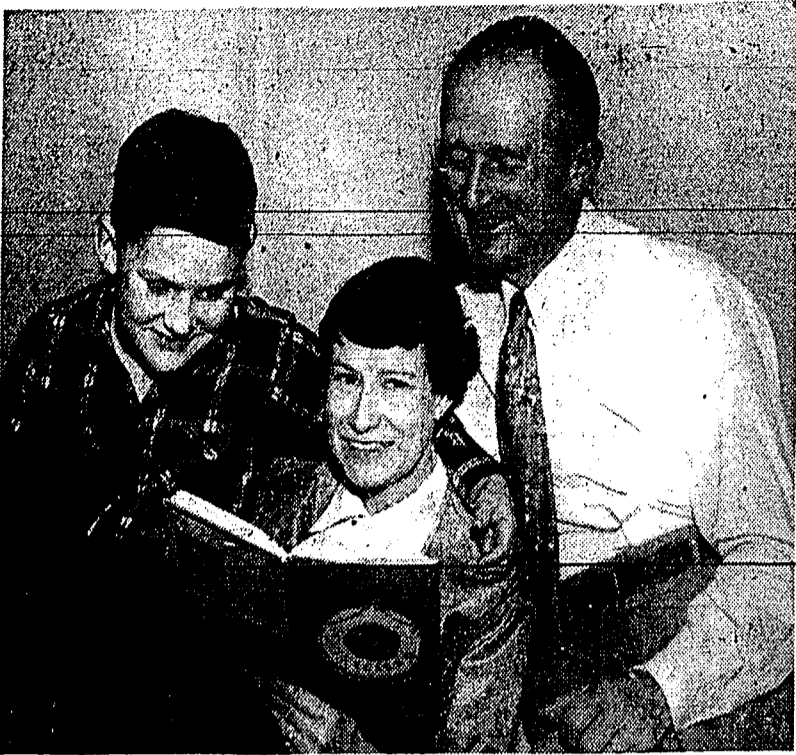

Mother enjoys being taken to a movie or dinner or even going out to play cards, but father is tired and these things are time-consuming. Even the gift of a new paring knife for the kitchen shows that your husband is thinking of you once in a while.

The old saying that marriage is a 50-50 proposition is completely wrong. Marriage is a 75-25 deal with the woman giving the 75 per cent. She gives up her social obligations to accommodate her husband, her mother is no longer around to do the housework, she no longer meets new people at the job she has given up, nor can she drop things at a moment's notice to ask people over without taking the man's whims into consideration.

A man goes to the barber shop once every couple of weeks but a wife allows herself the luxury of sitting in a beauty salon once in a blue moon. She even does all her shopping with the children hanging on her coat yelling for candy, toys or to go home. If given an afternoon away from all the tiresome chores of homemaking, a woman will return with a new lease on life in general.

Being a homemaker is a wonderful occupation and there is no more satisfying job in the world, but it also is one of the toughest and most patience-trying. A kind word, a small gift or an evening out will make all the difference in the world to that wonderful woman who is too often taken for granted.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

There is a great deal of talk about individual instruction in the public schools and, in my opinion, a good measure of it is both a good and a bad thing. Individual instruction means, or it should, the teaching of the one pupil. That is an ideal and as schools now exist, an impossible one.

The makeshift approach to this standard, the division of a class of 35 to 45 and up into a number of small groups, making each class a little red school house, is one of the reasons for poor accomplishment in the fundamental subjects. Silent reading in these groups in the primary grades is another cause of poor reading accomplishment. Not ability. Often the ability of the children was not tapped in such administration.

Now the individual child should be considered, the course of study must meet his abilities and his limitations. These too, have often been overlooked. In every class there are children—and children of inferior ability—slow learners, these.

In between lies the great group of children who get along neatly with the usual attention of the teacher. This is the group that will, in time, be known as "the people." They carry the life of the nation, and should be valued accordingly. These children give the teacher very little trouble. They ask or need little individual attention.

The groups at either end do need and demand individual attention. The gifted child is soon bored by the lesson suited to the big middle group. He becomes restless, disorderly, disgusted with school, annoys the teacher who has no time to devote to him and often is lost to the field of his talents.

The slow learner, or the one who does not learn at all is even more a thorn in the teacher's side. He needs individual instruction, the one-at-a-time kind, the only true individual attention, and who is to give him that? Breaking a class into four or five small groups does not do it. And it wastes the time of both teacher and pupils.

The classroom teacher, as most schools are now organized, cannot in the true sense give children individual attention. This must be done apart from the usual class. There are several solutions for the problem. Gifted children can be developed

Marksmen Open Fire in Idaho Championship Meet

Firing got under way Saturday in the state championship gallery rifle tournament with the first contingent of more than 50 marksmen taking the range at Twin Falls and another group zeroing in at Coeur d'Alene.

The Oakley Hornets, champions of the Big Seven conference, were spilled 57-55 by the Filer Wildcats who wound up the regular season in the Big Seven cellar. The Filer-Oakley game was the tournney opener at Buhl. In the other game, Buhl's Indians fought off a last-period rally to nip the Burley Bobcats 46-45.

In the first game of the split tournament at Twin Falls Jerome downed Gooding 41-33. Twin Falls slapped the Spartans of Minidoka county 64-49 in the second game at Twin Falls.

Tournament play resumes Tuesday night in the two cities with losers playing losers and winners playing winners in the second round of the double elimination meet.

Filer led most all the way against Oakley. The Hornets held a 17-16 edge after the first quarter, but the Wildcats forged ahead in the second period and never were headed.

Behind 8-6 at the end of the first quarter, Buhl led 24-17 at halftime and 32-28 at the end of three quarters.

Nick Fischer sparked the Buhl game with 18 points while Lynn Church and Don Petersen split top honors for the Bobcats with 14 apiece.

Jerome had too much finesse for the Senators in their game at Twin Falls. Jerome was ahead 18-13 at halftime and 26-22 at the end of three quarters.

The Senators rallied late in the third quarter and continued to turn on the heat in the opening minutes of the final period.

Twice in the final canto the Senators were within one point of the Tigers. The score was 29-28 and then 31-30 before Jerome moved ahead, this time by a wider margin.

Jerry Emerson hit the basket with 12 points for the Tigers and Ray Sabnik was top man for Gooding with 15 scores less minutes early in the second quarter spelled doom for Minidoka county's Spartans against the Bruins of Twin Falls.

The Bruins were ahead 20-11 at the end of the first quarter, but Minidoka county still was very much in the ball game. Then the Spartans lost the range and by halftime Twin Falls had a commanding 40-18 lead.

The Spartans outscored Twin Falls in the last half, but never were close enough to stage a serious threat.

Pepper Alms was deadly with long set shots for Twin Falls, garnered 20 points, 16 of them on field goals. Jay Anderson was the Spartans' top scorer with 19.

Only two fights ended early as both squads displayed good condition that led to some high-spirited, tough battles.

LSU won three victories this season until Saturday night. And Saturday night's loss was the first dual meet defeat for LSU in three seasons.

In the 178-pound battle, Mike McMurtry, Idaho State's former NCAA heavyweight champion, stopped a southpaw Bill Clayton at 1:35 of the third round. McMurtry stalked his shorter foe through the first round. Clayton took the offensive in the second round. But a two-handed assault to the head and body of Clayton by McMurtry in the final round, forced Tiger coach Mike Thrash to throw in the towel midway through.

Ten matches are being fired in alternate relays. Approximately five hours is required to fire the entire tournament course.

Trophies will be awarded to both divisional and state winners. Grant Sanborn, director of the Twin Falls tournament, commented that early results indicated some good scores would be fired during the two-day tournament.

Cougars Upset Stanford in League Battle

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 25 (AP)—Guard Dick Rask hit three foul shots in the last few seconds Saturday night as Washington State upset Stanford 69-67 in a Pacific Coast conference basketball game.

Stanford's chances of pulling the game out of the fire were hurt when forward Bill Bond, who scored 28 points, left the game on personals with 4 1/2 minutes remaining.

Washington State led the entire second half, with the exception of less than a minute mid-way in the period, when Stanford held a 56-55 margin. Center Bill Galbraith dropped one in for WSC and the Cougars stayed out in front for the rest of the way.

Rask, not usually a high scorer, helped the Cougar cause greatly with 15 points.

Both teams were hitting about 40 per cent of their shots from the floor. The Indians took and connected on a few more field goals, but the winners made up the difference in free throws.

Opener Two Months Away But Jaycee Park Humming

Although the opening of Pioneer league baseball season still is two months away and spring training doesn't open until March 28, Jaycee park, home of the Magic Valley cowboy, is a busy place.

Ed Schack, the team's business manager, is in the midst of the annual task of getting signatures on the player contracts. So far, 10 players have agreed to terms for the 1955 season.

The makeup of the 1955 team will not be known until after spring training, of course, but three familiar figures will be missing from the Cowboy diamond.

Game equipment is arriving daily at the Cowboy's office. Nearly 1,000 baseballs are used by the team during an average season and about 300 bats are reduced to matchwood during the summer.

Wendell Nipped 60-58 by Pilots In Final Contest

HAGERMAN, Feb. 25—The Glenns Ferry Pilots won the championship of the 4th district class B tournament with a narrow 64-58 ball victory over Wendell here Saturday night.

Vandals Gain Even Split in Pair of Games

GORVALLIE, Ore., Feb. 25 (AP)—Idaho finally located the basket in the second half here Saturday night, but it came too late as Oregon State chalked up a 69-59 Pacific Coast conference basketball victory.

Idaho made only two of 33 shots in the first half and trailed at the intermission 38-9.

Idaho, which had downed the Staters the previous night, 58-55, came out breathing fire in the second half and proceeded to run up 50 points in the period, but even that was not enough.

The Staters, who had tried a zone defense without success Friday night, used a man-for-man defense Saturday. They checked closely, but that wasn't all of Idaho's troubles.

They used up 14 1/2 minutes and 20 shots before one finally fell through. They didn't get their next field goal until but a minute remained in the first half.

Bob Allord, 6-4 junior forward for Oregon State, meanwhile was showing Idaho how it should be done. He sank 8 of 11 field goal attempts and 11 of 13 free throw tries to emerge as high scorer with 27 points.

Kroll Leads in Houston Open By One Stroke

HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ted Kroll took a one-stroke lead in the third round of the $30,000 Houston Open Friday but the slow speaking golfer was not pleased with the one-under 71 score that turned the trick.

"I played bad," the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., pro said. "I haven't played well this week."

Kroll's 70-67-71—208—eight under par—lets him one stroke ahead of a popular hometown favorite, Jackie Burke, Jr.

While Jerry Barber, who had held or shared the lead through 36 holes, was zooming to a 75, Burke, a former Houston caddy, bridled the last two holes for a 68. Earlier rounds of 69 and 73 gave him a 209.

Boxers Defeated

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25 (AP)—University of Wisconsin boxers scored four technical knockouts Saturday night in defeating Washington State 6-2.

The victory marked the second collegiate triumph of the season and handed the Cougars their third loss.

The capacity crowd was treated to one of the finest games of the season. The two teams were within a point or two of each other much of the time.

Charles Bloom, one of the team's stars, turned in another performance for the winners, bagging 19 points and playing a floor game. Kent Woodall was top scorer for the losers with 18.

Lincoln County Farmer Honored With Award

Fred Martin, Lincoln county farmer, Friday night received this year's only conservation award from the department of interior for Idaho, Utah, Arizona, and Nevada. This is the first award of its kind to be presented to an Idaho farmer. From left, Jack Kelth, district range manager; Neal Nelson, Sall Lake City, area 2 administrator, bureau of land management; Martin, and Russell Penny, Boise, state supervisor, bureau of land management. Presentation was made at Shoshone. (Staff photo-engraving)

Lincoln County Farmer Given Annual Conservation Award

(From Page One) board chairman, Martin was personally instrumental in fostering ideals for conservation of federal range natural resources and promoting stability in the livestock industry, Penny said.

Members of the district advisory board include Roy Mink, Gooding; Ray Faulkner, Gooding; Everett Campbell, Bellevue; Fred Laidlaw, Muloon; L. A. V. Montgomery, Rupert, and Donald Sandy, Shoshone.

In totalling Martin's public service while a resident of Shoshone, he has been a county commissioner for 16 years, served 12 years on the former Darragh common school district board, director of the Lincoln county marketing association for 26 years, advisory board of district 5, bureau of land management 19 years and Shoshone city councilman for six years. He also was a director of the Lincoln County National bank while it was locally owned and operated.

He is a leader in conservation work in the area, taking his first active interest while a county commissioner. He promoted purchase of the first high pressure pump for the land management district for fire-fighting.

In fact, it is due to Martin's efforts that the bureau of land management's district 5 offices are located in Shoshone, it was pointed out.

Although the office was opened on Dec. 4, 1940, there were to be no funds in the department of interior's budget for the office until the middle of the next year. Gooding made a bid for the office and rather than lose the office Martin offered headquarters to the district free and guaranteed to find living quarters for district employes.

Martin and W. F. Stimpson were responsible for Shoshone's new water system when the two men were members of the city council.

New Members Appointed on Village Board

KETCHUM, Feb. 25—The village board Thursday appointed W. D. Lightfoot as councilman to fill the unexpired term of Marvin Simpson who resigned on moving to Twin Falls. Don Knight was sworn in as police judge.

Lloyd Arnold, chairman of the board, appointed Lightfoot as street commissioner. Edward Scott and C. J. Helm were appointed to a committee to handle the recreational program for the village.

In other actions at the meeting, dates for future meetings were scheduled on the first and third Thursdays of each month at the city hall. A notice was read that dog tags were due April 1, and a complete set of new ordinances for the village are being drawn up, to comply in all respects with Idaho laws.

Two suggested plans for the future are a zoning ordinance and obtaining information for a street paving program.

A check from the Chamber of Commerce for $200 and donations from local businesses for $162 were placed in the fund to pay for the holiday street decorations.

The foremost recreational project of the village board at present is the Penney mountain ski lift for children, the maintenance of which was taken over by the village as a community project. A report said the lift is becoming more popular each week, and that an ice skating rink on the school grounds is also popular.

Special events in the near future which the village is interested are the Harriman cup races at Sun Valley; the fourth district wildlife convention and the American Legion ski races.

Contrary to a widespread popular belief, checks written on Sunday are valid.

Police Facing Touchy Topic Of Girl's 'Gat'

BALTIMORE, Feb. 25 (AP)—Official news in Baltimore's police department are knit in worrisome wonder days over a problem to challenge the gentility of a Christian lady.

Where, but where, does a lady carry a gat?

Baltimore's policewomen have been given guns for the first time in their departmental history.

Commissioner James M. Hepron said that until now, the staff cops had used primarily in juvenile cases. But in the future, he said, they will perform more dangerous criminal work.

Special Designs Made

The weapon is a specially designed .38-caliber revolver known as the "Cobra." Several holsters for carrying it are being tested by the department.

There are various schools of thought on where to carry the gun, Chief Inspector Fred L. Ford said. And all have certain advantages and disadvantages.

The old who-dunn-it sturdily, a purse, apparently has more of the latter than the former.

Gat Could Go

The women, Hepron said, will be used as decoys in an effort to halt the growing number of purse-snatch cases in the city. As the purse went, so would go the gun. Then how could she make the arrest?

Or the female shamus might try a lip-draw and come up with a bottle of perfume, or a cigarette holder, or a broken heel off her black pumps, or so on ad infinitum.

Shoulder holsters beneath deftly tailored suits have been suggested, disconcerting a woman's instinctive disliking of a woman's shoulder holster, Ford said. The shoulder holster would be fine in cool weather. But how about summer when suits aren't normally worn by women?

Snarers-Noted

During winter weather, the chief inspector said, the shoulder holster could be fitted next to the skin inside a suitably plunging blouse. But to allow a quick draw, the decolletage would have to be something frightening and there a Cobra.

Then there's a holster that fits into the top of the stocking. But it might cause stockings to droop and seem to go awry. It also requires a certain bearing of the thigh in order to draw.

A thing like that could start a riot.

Heredity Gets Top Blame in Heart Deaths

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 (AP)—A leading specialist blames heredity more than high-pressure living for the increasing rate of heart deaths.

It is Dr. Irvine Page, Cleveland, O., president of the American Heart Association.

"I think that men lived at high pressure ever since they built the pyramids in Egypt," he said.

"Something else is responsible for our continued increase in heart deaths.

"About 800,000 are dying of heart disease now, and we have predicted that no less than 1,200,000 will succumb to heart disease in 1960."

Heredity, he says, is probably responsible for the fact that heart disease strikes so many more Caucasian Americans than it does Navaho Indians or Japanese. But diet also is a factor, he added.

Fats are being withheld from 15,000 persons to see if this helps prevent hardening of the arteries, said Dr. Page. There is some reason to believe that reducing fats at least 30 per cent would be advisable.

"More exercise before we become ill may deter later heart ailments, but you can't escape heredity as a factor," he said.

"People can't get too much education about heart diseases. And, at last, doctors are beginning to think of heart diseases in terms of causes instead of just effects. We aren't just treating symptoms."

Howell Canyon Provides Winter Recreation, too

Ski jumper soars into the air at Howell canyon winter recreation area south of Albion as spectators watch from both sides of jump. The ski area at Howell canyon was started in 1939. Howell canyon has been popular for years as a summer recreation area with scenic Lake Cleveland located beyond the end of Howell canyon road. Skiers from Burley and Rupert flock to area. (Staff engraving)

Magic Valley Tours

Mt. Harrison, "Local" Ski Area Near Albion, Is Popular Summer Spot, too

One thing can be said for skiing: Once it gained a foothold in Magic Valley its growth in popularity was rapid. That growth brought several "local" ski areas to which adherents could go in a hurry and ski at small cost.

One such area is the Mt. Harrison ski lift off Howell canyon six miles from Albion. Started in 1939 by a group of skiers from Rupert, the area now has a 1,000-foot tow rope. Its 20-meter jump was laid out by Alf Engen, Salt Lake City, nationally known skiing champion.

The men responsible for the original 600-foot ski lift were William Cowell, Monty Hunter, Charles Parker and Pickets West. With the aid of the forest service, trees and brush were cleared to improve the run.

Skiing pioneers must have an eye for beauty. Or else it's coincidental nature's best views in an area always seem to be from the top of a ski run. The south hills are more than sagebrush and scrub cedar and bit-terbrush. There are rolling mountains, stately evergreens, pockets of quaking aspens and sparkling, musical streams.

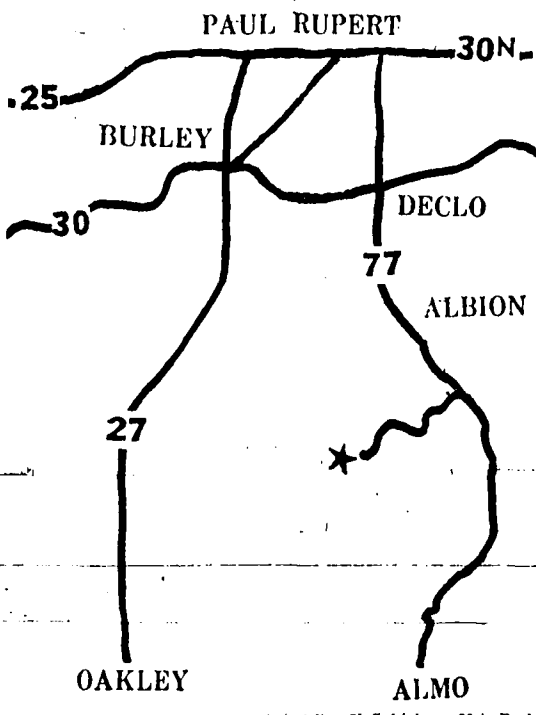

All these things the skier, both the pioneer and the ones to follow, must see as he stands at the brink of a run. The air is crisp and clean. The sky seems bluer, the clouds whiter and the trees greener. Far below are tiny specks—other skiers and spectators watching his descent. He shoves off. The sky, the clouds, the trees, the snow merge into a blur of speed. The specks grow larger, take on form, the speed slackens and the skier brakes his glide intent on only one thing—to do it over again.

But one does not have to be a skier to enjoy this. Howell canyon, like other ski areas, is popular in the summer, too. High atop Mt. Harrison is a lake where no lake is expected to be. Lake Cleveland, once almost inaccessible, is being brought closer and closer to civilization because skiers, with an eye for beauty, use the area in winter.

It was in 1943 that the tow was lengthened to its present 1,000 feet. The operators then were Cowell, Hunter, Richard Beeson and Harry McFarlin. More brush and trees were removed in 1946 and Murray Harper replaced Hunter as an oper-

South of Albion

Best way to get to Howell canyon is to follow U. S. highway 30 to Declo, then turn south. The main road going south and east from Albion leads to Howell canyon road. Chains are advisable.

WHAT'S YOUR REASON FOR SAVING?

Saving comes easier when you're saving for a purpose... like a special vacation, the down payment on a home, a new car, or future security. Set your goal and open an insured savings account here. Then save a definite part of each paycheck. Any amount starts your account.

1ST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

ator of the tow. The present operators are Harper, Beeson, Dean Anderson and Charles Norby.

Once there was a Mt. Harrison Ski club. Today the club is gone but on any week-end day in the winter, if a car heads towards Lake Cleveland, it arrives at the ski lift with a full load of passengers.

The road to the ski lift is not the best in the world. In summer it's rated only as "fair" and since the grade is fairly steep, chains are required in the winter.

The single run is not especially difficult but is steep at top and then sweeps downward in a graceful bowl.

There are no styles in ski clothing at Mt. Harrison. Mangled with expensive outfits any Saturday or Sunday can be seen youth in overalls, trying their ski legs for the first time. The operators of the lift, to encourage skiing, give free lessons every Sunday afternoon and the forest service has provided a warning shelter with running water and rest rooms.

Keeping the road open presents the biggest problem for the operators of the lift. They have acquired a surplus army half-track which they hope to make into a plow so in future seasons the problem will be easier to handle.

But even with the difficulties, Mt. Harrison continues to be popular. The crowds are good and are made up largely of young people, mostly from Burley and Rupert.

The owners, with an eye to the future, have scouted the canyon for a better hill and believe they have it located. The slide is steeper, the descent longer, the curves sharper and the view from the top is more beautiful, more exciting and more inspiring than nature's efforts at the present run.

Twin Falls Minister Is Chalk Artist

The Rev. W. A. MacArthur sketches a picture from memory of Mount Thielsen near Diamond lake, Oregon, as he demonstrates one of his "chalk talks." The Twin Falls Methodist minister has given chalk talks for many social and civic organizations and uses his talent in his church work. He uses colored chalk for his drawings and completed this picture in eight minutes. (Staff photo-engraving)

Magic Valley Hobbies No. 9 Twin Falls Minister Combines Talents To Illustrate Themes of His Lectures

Talking is a lot of things. For some people, it's a habit; for others, it's a necessity. To the politician, it's a vocation, but to the hermit it's superfluous.

Seidom, though, is it more than one thing at a time except with the Rev. W. A. MacArthur, Twin Falls. With him it's both a vocation and an avocation.

He realizes mere talk can be like bread without butter, eggs without bacon or liver without onions. Aided by some pieces of paper and colored chalk, the Rev. Mr. MacArthur adds to his talks by illustrating them as he develops his themes.

He is what is known as a chalk talker and during his four years as pastor of the Twin Falls Methodist church has entertained hundreds of Magic Valley residents with his chalk talks.

He became interested in chalk talks while a theology student at Los Angeles Pacific college in 1936. A traveling Free Methodist minister stopped at the college and gave a demonstration. The Rev. MacArthur was intrigued and when the minister left, he gave the future minister the "chalk outfit."

The Rev. Mr. MacArthur now can complete a colored chalk picture of a lake and forest in eight minutes and carry on a commentary of the locale he is portraying with only pauses to change one color chalk for another.

The Rev. Mr. MacArthur first intended to be an architect but after two years of study he switched to theology. While a student at Los Angeles Pacific college he worked his way through the school by doing woodworking, carvings, leatherwork and copper tooling.

While giving a chalk talk he works at a "paraphrase" which, when not in use, folds into a compact carrying case. The case consists of the easel, blackboard, lights, a picture frame which snaps around the drawing when it is complete and a large section of colored chalk.

Occasionally he will ask four or five members of his audience to draw various lines and designs on a piece of paper. He then will connect the lines to form a drawing while carrying on a conversation with his audience or delivering an address.

He saves but few of his chalk pictures, usually giving them to members of the audience.

"My chalk talks are not really a hobby, they are more of an avocation," the Rev. Mr. MacArthur explained. "I have a variety of hobbies."

The pastor's study at the Methodist church bears out his statement. Handmade bookshelves line the walls of his study, and desks, copper toolings, leather work and trophies are mute evidence of his many hobbies. He is especially proficient in wood carving. In addition, he is a photographer who colors his own work.

Church symbols in copper are arranged on one wall of the study and a small cross in tooled leather stands on an altar in the intermediate schoolroom. A golf trophy standing he was the winner of the 1951 spring handicap at Roseburg, Ore. stands beside an intricately carved wood book cover he made.

Writer Plans Tome on Untrue 'Outside White House' Story

By HENRY McEMORE

There is a great, big gap in American literature that surely needs to be filled. The story is there for the telling but no one has ever done it. I refer to a book about the White House and what goes on inside it. Written by a person who has never lived there, visited there, or known anyone who has—this is the untrue outside story.

Half the shelves of the Library of Congress are filled with the memoirs of the true inside story of the White House and the presidency. Outside of a few White House gardeners who couldn't use a typewriter, almost everyone who ever had a connection with the White House has put his memoirs in print. The first of these intimate, revealing stories was, I believe, written by an upstairs maid during the term of John Quincy Adams under the quaint title, "I Dusted for Mister John Quincy." It told of how the President disliked to have the dust swept under the rug, the number of blankets he required to keep warm in the winter, and how he was always losing his stickpin.

Since that time we have had a deluge of "White House" books. Some have described the White House food. Butlers have told all. Chauffeurs, secret service men and housekeepers have kept nothing back. We know that such and such a President refused a tame hippo for a pet; that another liked his hot cakes rare, and that another had a brother who urged the passing of a law for the protection of clay pigeons. Sooner or later we Americans find out almost everything that goes on in the White House. We even know all about the guests from Alexander Woolcott to Sir Winston Churchill.

The need for the untrue, outside-inside story struck me again when I read of the forthcoming publication of Margaret Truman's own life story. This will be as authentic as all get-out. But readers need a change. There is too much sameness about these memoirs—and what we need is one written by a man who never has been any closer to the White House than the sidewalks of Pennsylvania avenue. I think I'll write such a book and entitle it "White House Misrecollections." It will start something like this:

"When the President was in unusually high spirits he would summon everyone on the premises by blowing a bugle—the same bugle, by the way, that was used to summon the minute men. When we had all assembled the President would lead us into the blue room where we would listen to the marine band play several of his old favorites—"My Blue Heaven," "Am I Blue" and "Blue Skies." On these days, coincidentally, we could always count on having bluefish for dinner.

After the concert the President would take us out on the lawn for archery practice. He believed that nothing relaxed a person so much as an hour or two with the bow and arrow. I recall one amusing incident during these archery contests. The ambassador from — pierced the ear of a gardener with an arrow and two weeks later the ambassador presented the gardener with a beautiful gold hoop, such as pirates wore."

There will also be a chapter on guests—how Mr. So-and-so, the distinguished playwright, always insisted on having a soup tureen for a pillow, and how a certain princess liked to be awakened with a glass of lemonade and three toasted marshmallows on toast.

I haven't found a publisher as yet, but the very words "White House" in the title should make it easy.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Although HAILEY is celebrating its diamond jubilee this year, Wood river valley as a whole, should have celebrated the event two years ago. It was in 1879, the year after hostile Indians were subdued, that the first permanent settlers arrived in the valley.

M. H. Williams, David Whitmer, Frank W. Jacobs, Sam Friend, Jim Gray and several others put in their appearance in the spring of 1879 and set up a silver mine camp which they called JACOBS CITY. Within a few months the name of the community was changed to BROADFORD because of the broad ford across Wood river near the site of the community.

Broadford no longer exists but Hailey, BELLEVUE and KETCHUM, which followed close on the heels of Broadford as communities, still are in existence to join in the celebration this year.

Like people, communities have personalities. Broadford was no exception. Its plat was filed on Sept. 27, 1882, and showed 30 full blocks and 20 half blocks, each block containing four lots. There are many communities in the state today that are not as large.

The village was laid out according to the contours of the land with was a disagreement between management and labor over a reduction in pay.

Ten days later work was resumed on a temporary truce during which the old pay scale was continued. On Jan. 20, 1888, the mine informed the workers the price of silver and lead was so low the pay scale would have to drop accordingly.

For three months Broadford was in an uproar. Conspiracy complaints were filed, arrests were made and union men who tried to work were prevented from doing so by pickets. Finally the sheriff and between 30 and 40 deputies escorted a group of workers through a picket line made up of more than 100 miners.

Everybody had a hand on a pistol but no one drew a gun.

On March 17—St. Patrick's day—union leaders called an open air meeting for miners from all over Wood river valley. The miners came in buckboards, on horseback and on foot. When 250 men had assembled Barney McDevitt, president of the Broadford miner's union, called upon the men to capture the mines.

The flag of the union was unfurled, arms appeared from pockets, belts and from under coats and the men ranged themselves behind the flag. What appeared to be an explosive situation broke like a bubble when the president of the Bullion Miners union commanded the men to halt. Ellison replaced mob rule and the men dispersed.

Before the men returned to work at the reduced rate of pay, though, the governor and the army had to send representatives into the warring camps to bring about a peaceful settlement.

Broadford died, not in strife, but because the rich vein of silver and lead disappeared suddenly into what is geologically known as the Wood river fault caused by a shifting of the earth's crust thousands of years before man started to remove the riches from the soil.

Today Broadford is a ghost.

OAKLEY, although a community of less than 700 inhabitants, has formed a Chamber of Commerce to promote the interests of the people and to interest the people in Oakley.

Officers of the new organization are Ray Critchfield, president; Lawrence Elliott, vice president; Don Clark, secretary, and A. O. Barker, treasurer. The by-laws committee is composed of John A. Clark, J. J. McLaws and Sid Nelson. The new organization is scheduled to meet every Tuesday at the village office.

Masons in Hailey Observe Birthday

HAILEY, Feb. 25—One hundred twenty-five masons and their wives and guests attended the annual Washington's birthday banquet at the Masonic temple Wednesday evening. The Rev. W. D. Ellway, new member of Hailey lodge No. 16, A.F. and A.M., was speaker.

James Gelskey and Glenda Ann Chaney sang and David Pyrah and Miss Schaefer played piano solos.

The banquet was prepared by the Eastern Star members and served by Job's Daughters. Table decorations were made by Jack Irvin and Rollie Law.

Bids Asked

RUPERT, Feb. 25—Bids have been requested by Minidoka county schools for six new 54-passenger school buses to be delivered after school is out this spring.

Bids must be submitted by 5 p. m. March 12. Six of the present buses will be traded in on the new ones. Complete specifications are available at the central school office here.

Quints Born

HAGERMAN, Feb. 25—Magie Valley has a set of quintuplets. The kids were born to Snake River Tinker Bell and Sunburst MacDuff, a couple of Nubian goats belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Bowler. Twins are the usual thing with goats and singles and triplets are common but quadruplets and quintuplets are unusual. Mr. and Mrs. Bowler claim:

WINS CONTEST

DECLO, Feb. 25—Milton Preston, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Peterson, Albion, and a pupil at the Declo high school, was winner in the district FFA speech contest at Oakley Wednesday. He will take part in the state contest at Pocatello on March 29 and 30.

Group to Meet

RUPERT, Feb. 25—A countywide committee to support the Idaho Ranch for Youth will be formed March 13 at the courthouse, George Redford, chairman, reports.

About 20 people met recently to discuss formation of such a committee. The group voted to invite all organizations, civic, service and religious, to send delegates to the meeting to help form the committee.

Alabama had 16,658 irrigated acres in 1924 compared with 367 in 1949.

ELECTED UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Feb. 25—Gordon Henderson, Edson, has been elected treasurer of Delta Tau Delta at the university. Gary Simonsen, Twin Falls, has been elected guide. Richard Galloway, also Twin Falls, has been elected sergeant-at-large.
