House Committee To Eye Proposal On Postal Boosts

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The house postoffice committee voted today at least to consider President Eisenhower's request for a hike in postal rates. It announced it will open public hearings on the controversial proposal March 13. But final passage was considered uncertain at best.

The administration has called for boosting the rates on first class mail from three to four cents an ounce and raising the airmail rate from six to seven cents. It also has urged

Alabama School Expelling Negro Following Order

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 1 (AP)—The University of Alabama today expelled Negro Coed Autherine Lucy a few hours after a federal judge had ordered her re-admitted to classes despite open-court warnings she might be killed by a mob.

No formal announcement was made by the university, but it was learned Miss Lucy was expelled because of the charges she made against university officials in connection with her federal court action seeking readmission.

Eisenhower Enters Two Primaries; Health Could Loom as Primary Topic

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower—offering himself to the American people as able to perform his duties as well as ever—pressed his second term bid today by entering Republican primaries in California and Wisconsin. He was off and running. And, as was widely anticipated, his health already was becoming an issue of the fast-developing campaign.

Democrats challenged the President's own estimate of his physical capabilities, and asked whether the country wanted what they termed a "part-time president."

But Democratic house leaders are already on record against boosting the first class rates in this election year. And similar proposals in the past have got nowhere.

Other congressional developments: Un-American—A one-time member of the national labor relations board, Edwin S. Smith, Brooklyn, N. Y., invoked the fifth amendment 32 times when asked by the house committee on un-American activities about membership in the Communist party and communist activities.

Her attorneys promptly brought contempt proceedings against university officials. The original accusation accused them of conspiracy, of using the rioting as a subterfuge for ousting the Negro student.

The 26-year-old Negro student was excluded from classes two weeks ago after three days of rioting accompanied her arrival at the university in Tuscaloosa, Ala., for classes.

The expulsion was voted by the university board of trustees in a secret meeting here last night, within hours after Federal Judge Robert Grooms ordered her readmitted to the university by 9 a.m. Monday.

From GOP Chairman Leonard Hall came the retort that Eisenhower has been "a full-time president." He predicted the Democrats would lose votes if they sought to make the President's health a matter of importance in the campaign.

Developments came thick and fast on this first day after Eisenhower announced his big decision and went on nationwide TV-radio networks to put his case before the people. They turned on three main subjects:

Eisenhower's health—Democrats were questioning whether the President could, in fact, fully handle the duties of his office in the light of his Sept. 24 heart attack. Their general attitude was that Eisenhower himself had raised the issue by discussing his health in his broadcast last night.

Lobbying—The senate's special committee to investigate lobbying was locked today in a Republican-Democratic wrangle over the powers to be exercised by the chairman. Sen. Albert Gore, D., Tenn., the man expected to get the chairmanship, was said to have told the bipartisan group he will not serve on the committee at all if the chairman's hands are tied.

Trade—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles urged congress to approve America's participation in the International Organization for Trade Cooperation (IOTC) to make it easier to resolve free world differences over free trade. In emphasizing the importance of free trade to the free world, Dulles warned that some nations "may unwittingly risk their freedom" by accepting economic assistance and trade with Russia.

At the opening of yesterday's hearing before Judge Grooms, the conspiracy charges were withdrawn. Miss Lucy's attorneys said no evidence could be found to support them. Attorneys for the university protested in vain that the charges had been spread over the world and that they were entitled to a chance to answer them.

Arthur Shores, Miss Lucy's Negro attorney, said he had received a letter from the university saying "they had expelled her" but would not disclose the text of the letter, nor comment on possible future court action which might be taken in behalf of his client.

There has been recurrent talk that some elements in the Republican party want to "jettison" Nixon. This got a fillip yesterday from Eisenhower's refusal at his news conference—after announcing his own intention to run again—to say whether he wanted Nixon to be on the ticket with him.

Signs Statement—The GOP convention—Eisenhower signed statements permitting his name to be entered in the presidential primaries to be held in Wisconsin and California on April 3 and June 5 respectively. Laws of these two states require a candidate's written consent. Eisenhower's name already has been entered in half a dozen other states where no such consent is required.

Sun Eruption

More powerful than thousands of hydrogen bombs, the surface of the sun erupts in a giant flare during the current series of sun storms. The most recent storm was the most intense ever recorded and is bombarding the earth with more than normal amounts of cosmic rays. This picture of a giant flare was taken by Howard de Mottus, Harvard University observer at the U. S. air force installation at Sacramento Peak Observatory in New Mexico. (AP wirephoto)

Time Is Limited for Hearing on Protests

Slate Reclamation Engineer Mark Kulp says a hearing will be held before March 21 on the application of the Crystal Springs Irrigation company, Buhl, for a permit to irrigate 50,000 acres of the Bruneau desert with water from Crystal springs, Niagara springs, Salmon Falls creek and Rock creek. Nine protests have been made to the filings eight against the use of the spring water and one against the use of Salmon Falls creek water. Those who protested against the use of the spring water are the state fish and game department, Idaho Power company, the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Outdoor association, the Jerome Rod and Gun club, the Wendell Chamber of Commerce, Northside Communities, Inc., the Jerome Chamber of Commerce and the Gooding Chamber of Commerce.

Red Cross Campaign For Funds Launched

A goal of $20,000 has been set by the Twin Falls chapter of the American Red Cross for the drive that began nationwide Thursday, announces Mrs. Zita Roache, chapter executive secretary.

She said a meeting to coordinate plans of all communities in the chapter will be held Friday night with the official "kick-off" at Monday. Because of the flood disasters along the west coast, the need for funds is greater than ever before, she noted. Twin Falls chapter's quota for national disaster relief has been raised from $6,500 to $8,000 in the past few weeks, she said.

Funds Asked To Help U. S. Plane Power

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., proposed today that foreign aid appropriations be slashed by 1.5 billion dollars and the money used to assure "the strongest air force in the world" in the years ahead.

Unless air force appropriations are increased, Russell predicted in an interview, the United States will wind up with "the second best air force." He said the nation now has "the best air force" but won't if the "present plan of austerity is carried much farther."

Boise Council, Mayor Fight on Police Leader

The Boise city council last night admitted it was considering hiring a new police chief and rumors were flying in the city that Lewiston Police Chief Frank Hunt might replace James Brandon as head of the Boise force.

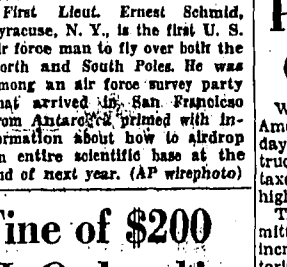

However, Boise Mayor R. E. Edlefson said, "I'm well satisfied with the one I have now. If Hunt comes here it will be as a patrolman hired by Brandon."

The council said it had interviewed several men for the job of chief of police and was continuing its policy of trying to "improve administration in city departments."

Brandon said there were "some false rumors going around that I am going to be a candidate for sheriff. I'm not interested in any political office and I'll serve as long as the mayor wants me."

Pole Flier

He was on an air force survey party that arrived in San Francisco from Amsterdam's airport with information about how to aldrop an entire scientific base at the end of next year. (AP wirephoto)

The fee amounts to a big and extremely burdensome overcharge against the larger trucks. John Lawrence, managing director of the American Trucking associations, said the fee, $1.50 a year for each 1,000 pounds, would be imposed on trucks weighing more than 26,000 pounds. It would bring in an estimated 400 million dollars in a 16-year period and would affect about 700,000 trucks.

The bill would raise 137 billion dollars in new revenue in 16 years, and earmark 25.2 billion dollars in revenue from present tax rates, for highway construction over a 16-year period.

The powerful 26-man committee approved the highway bill unanimously, giving a big boost to prospects of house passage of the highway program.

Damage Suit In Air Crash Settled Here

Settlement out of court of a $1,500 damage suit against the city of Twin Falls by Twin Falls Flyers, Inc., was made Wednesday. It was scheduled to be heard March 8 in Twin Falls district court before Judge R. W. Beckwith.

The claim was paid by the insurance company carrying insurance for the city. The suit stemmed from an airplane accident at the municipal airport May 9, 1954.

A Piper Supercruiser piloted by Richard Howard, at that time president of Twin Falls Flyers, and with A. F. Oulund as a passenger, struck a pile of dirt near the end of the northwest runway causing the tail of the plane to go up and the nose down. The plane's occupants were not injured seriously in the crash.

The corporation charged the city was negligent in permitting the pile of dirt to be near the end of the runway. The dirt was from a ditch dug to bury garbage. It was reportedly 50 feet from the end of the runway.

The Flyers maintained the 20-foot deep ditch caused down drafts which dropped the plane to the pile of dirt as it approached the runway for a landing.

City Attorney Robert N. W. Baljensen and the firm of Parry, Robertson and Daly represented the city in the suit. The corporation was represented by Theron W. Ward, Jerome.

Blame Placed On Board for Expert's Loss

IDAHO FALLS, March 1 (AP)—Parley E. Rigby, Idaho Falls postmaster, said today the state board of health was attempting to run State Hospital South from a public health rather than a mental health standpoint.

Rigby, in a letter to board president Paul Boyd, said last Saturday's resignation of Superintendent Dr. James O. Cromwell showed the board was not primarily interested in mental health.

Rigby, who was instrumental in promoting an investigation of the sweeping changes in the hospital in sweeping Cromwell "was actually available at a price Idaho could afford to pay" to fill the two positions of hospital head and state mental health director.

Dr. John L. Butler is now holding down both jobs. He was appointed to the Blackfoot position on a temporary basis following Cromwell's resignation.

Cromwell gave "low pay" at the institution as his reason for quitting. He has accepted a similar position with the Iowa health department.

Fine of $200 Is Ordered in Topsy Charge

Fred Klamm, Paul, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving when arraigned before Probate Judge Theron Ward, Jerome, Wednesday. Klamm was fined $200 and 30 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended on the provision Klamm abstain from using any type of alcoholic beverage for a period of one year.

Klamm was arrested Tuesday evening by state police and was held in Jerome county jail without charge until Wednesday afternoon. Meanwhile, police investigated Klamm's record to determine if a second-offense drunken driving charge could be filed against him.

Officials learned Klamm previously had been convicted of drunken driving in a city police court, and, under the law, the second-offense charge could not be lodged since the prior conviction had been in a city court rather than a county or district court.

Henry V. Harkins, 519 Fourth avenue north, entered a plea of innocent of drunk driving in justice court Wednesday and trial was set for March 8.

Harkins was arrested Feb. 26 on Shoshone street south-by-state-patrolman Scottie D. Luckert. He posted $250 bond. The bond was continued in Wednesday's action. William H. Bakes is attorney for Harkins.

Truckers Will Protest Move On Tax Hikes

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The American Trucking associations today protested a move to charge truckers a larger share of increased taxes to finance a 38 billion dollar highway construction program.

The house ways and means committee yesterday approved a bill to increase current taxes on both motorists and truckers and to impose a new fee on heavy trucks. The fee was added in a move to placate motorist organizations which had protested that trucks should bear more taxes because they cause greater wear and tear on highways.

The fee amounts to a big and extremely burdensome overcharge against the larger trucks. John Lawrence, managing director of the American Trucking associations, said the fee, $1.50 a year for each 1,000 pounds, would be imposed on trucks weighing more than 26,000 pounds. It would bring in an estimated 400 million dollars in a 16-year period and would affect about 700,000 trucks.

School Opens For Training

JEROME, March 1 (AP)—The first training school for supervisors of area soil conservation districts got off to a late start here Thursday morning but immediately swung into high gear. Presiding at the meeting is Don Fredericksen, Gooding, state president of district supervisors.

More than 50 persons were registered for the opening session and more were expected during the afternoon. The districts represented and number of supervisors attending are Gooding, nine; Wood river, four; North Side, 10; Twin Falls, eight; Minidoka, six; and Blaine, three. In addition four persons from Cassia county were present. They announced they are working on plans for the formation of an east Cassia soil conservation district.

Up to noon only one person had addressed the group. He was R. N. Irving, state conservationist, who spoke on the work of soil districts and supervisors.

2 Democrats Welcome Ike Into Primary

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower agreed to enter the Wisconsin Republican primary as Democrats Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver welcomed him into the race.

Mr. Eisenhower's decision was announced in Washington and at Madison, Wis., by Gov. Walter Kohler. The President signed a certificate approving the use of his name after a 30-member delegation of top Wisconsin Republicans in the April 3 primary.

Kefauver has entered the Wisconsin Democratic primary, but Stevenson has not. Kefauver left Milwaukee by plane last night with a promise to return for more campaigning in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Stevenson arrives in Minnesota tonight to start campaigning against Kefauver in the Minnesota Democratic primary March 20.

Kefauver said he and Mr. Eisenhower may be the only names on the Wisconsin presidential primary ballot, and that there "might be some interest" in comparing their votes "as an indirect measure of popularity."

But he said he is not "trying to compete against the charm of Mr. Eisenhower."

Red Cross Campaign

The new order was issued last night when a group of military officers, including Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, were in the area.

The slide swept his equipment off the Morgan Creek-Panther Creek road.

The accident occurred about 15 miles south of Cobalt in a heavy snow area. He was operating snow-plow equipment to clear drifts which had piled up on the road Tuesday.

Investigating officers said it appeared that his plow had undercut a snow bank which disintegrated and carried Swanson and his machine down the side of the hill, about 125 feet.

Red Balloons Sighted Over U. S. Regions

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The United States told Russia today that Soviet balloons "have flown over United States territory."

The state department said that meant they had been over Alaska.

In a new note to Moscow, the United States also:

1. Proposed that a "joint program" be worked out with the Soviet government and any other interested governments for the operation of weather balloons. Press Officer Lincoln White said he did not know whether this would mean the flying of Russian balloons over the United States.

2. Offered to return Russian balloon equipment to Russia, apparently on the condition that Russia return American balloon equipment found within Soviet borders.

3. Rejected a Soviet proposal for exhibits of balloon equipment in the country. It said the Soviet exhibit would "be for propaganda ends and apparently intended" to make trouble among nations.

4. Accused Russia of making "misleading" charges about the United States' weather balloon program. The note said it is "illogical" for the Soviet government to "demand one rule for itself and another for the rest of the world." Moscow seems to desire that, it said, by complaining about American balloons while launching its own.

No Foul Play Is Noted for Death

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled yesterday that there was "no evidence of foul play" in the death of Mrs. Edith Kading Eastman, 74-year-old Boise widow whose body was found in the blackened ruins of her mansion here Feb. 17.

The jury failed however to establish the exact cause of the fire that raged through the house where Mrs. Eastman lived alone.

Dr. Joseph Beeman, Boise pathologist, told the jury she died primarily of smoke inhalation.

Fire Chief Steve Taylor testified that the fire could have started from a spark from the fireplace or from a lighted cigarette.

Security Placed On Craft Flight

HONOLULU, T. H. March 1 (AP)—Far East air force commander slammed the security curtain today when a group of military officers, including Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, were in the area.

The slide swept his equipment off the Morgan Creek-Panther Creek road.

The accident occurred about 15 miles south of Cobalt in a heavy snow area. He was operating snow-plow equipment to clear drifts which had piled up on the road Tuesday.

Investigating officers said it appeared that his plow had undercut a snow bank which disintegrated and carried Swanson and his machine down the side of the hill, about 125 feet.

COBALT, March 1 (AP)—Bernard Swanson, 40, a patrol operator for the Calera Mining company at Cobalt, was killed yesterday under a snow slide.

Importance Stressed

"It is immensely more important to the free world to have unquestionably the strongest air force in the world than to carry on many of these foreign aid projects," Russell argued.

The administration has requested 4.5 billion dollars in foreign aid funds in the next fiscal year—a 2.2 billion dollar increase over the amount congress appropriated last year. The proposed increase already has run into strong congressional opposition.

Dam Building Said 'Illegal' By Oregonian

SALEM, Ore., March 1 (AP)—At Gen. Robert Y. Thorton ruled yesterday that Idaho Power and General Electric company are violating criminal laws in proceeding with construction of power dams on the Snake and Deschutes rivers.

Thorton asked the district attorney of Baker and Jefferson counties to verify his statement that Idaho Power company has started construction of Brownlee and Hells canyon dams on the Snake, and the Portland General Electric company has started construction of Felt dam on the Deschutes.

Thorton said that both companies are violating the law by proceeding with construction without a permit from the state hydroelectric commission.

Thorton requested that the district attorneys, Robert F. Vaughn of Baker, and Warren H. Albright of Madras, bring criminal prosecutions against the companies if they find that actual construction has been started.

Thorton's opinion is a not a phase in the unsettled dispute as to whether the federal government should have a say in the construction of dams on the Snake and Deschutes rivers.

All other highways in the area reported clear of snow, the district office reported.

Chemical Can Produce Clue To Mental Ill

ATLANTA, March 1 (AP)—A chemical that can produce temporary "illness" in normal people may be a strengthened clue to at least one cause of schizophrenia, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told.

A Canadian scientist reported to the organization's 122nd annual meeting that a chemical derived from adrenalin, one of the key substances of the human body, could—when administered to normal volunteers—produce changes very similar to the primary changes characteristic of schizophrenia, or "split personality," one of the major mental illnesses.

Dr. Abram Hofer, director of psychiatric research at University Hospital, Saskatoon, said the artificial production of these changes "raises the possibility" that this particular chemical, or a related compound, may sometimes be present in the body in abnormal amounts—thereby possibly touching off schizophrenia in some people. The chemical, he said, is called "adrenolutin" and is derived from another chemical called "adrenochrome," which, in turn, is derived from adrenalin.

The scientist declared that previous tests had shown that adrenochrome, when administered to normal people, could also cause temporary schizophrenia-like changes.

The new finding with a breakdown product of adrenochrome, he said, bolsters the theory that an abnormally produced body chemical derived from adrenalin may be "a cause" of schizophrenia.

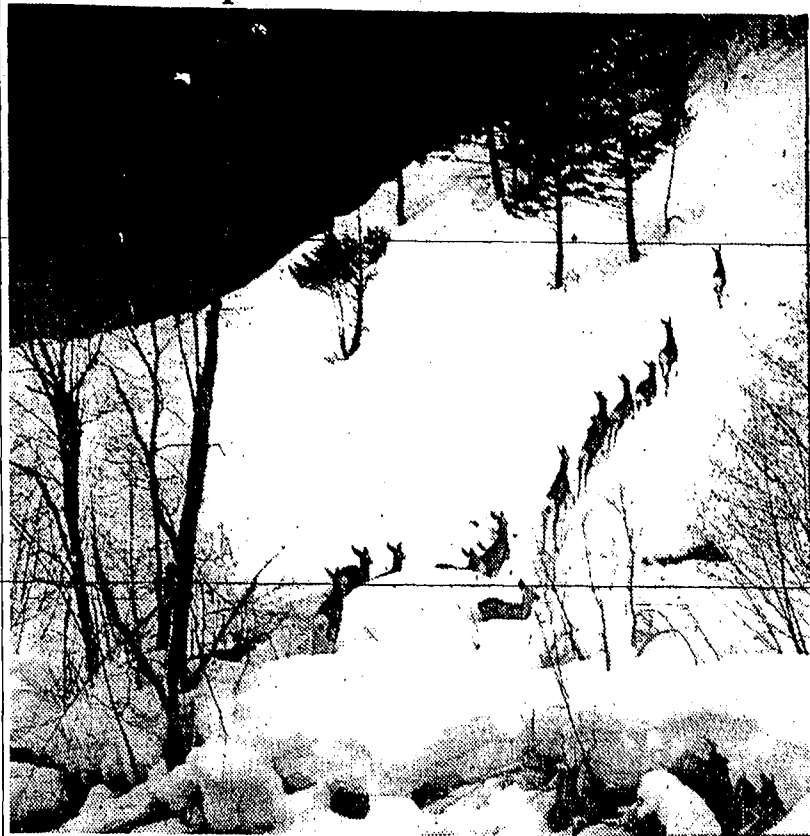

When adrenolutin was administered to normal volunteers, he related, it produced "marked thought disorder, inappropriateness of mood, reduction or removal of anxiety without any insight in the subject that change had occurred."

Arrests Stop Army Payroll Robbery Try

VAN NUYS, Calif., March 1 (AP)—A plot to rob an army payroll truck containing between $60,000 and $70,000 was broken up yesterday with the arrest of three men, the FBI announced.

Agents arrested the trio after receiving word the men planned to rob a payroll truck due at a Van Nuys guided missile base at a disbursement office in San Pedro, Calif. Booked and later arraigned on a charge of conspiracy to rob a government truck was Stephen E. Shaffer, 35, a former serviceman described by agents as leader in the plot.

The two other suspects, Joseph J. Diana, 32, and Sgt. John A. Deddes, were released because of insufficient evidence. Shaffer and Diana were arrested as they sat in Diana's car across the street from the missile base. Deddes was on duty in the base's mess hall.

John P. Malone, agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office, said agents were informed the suspects planned to follow a payroll truck to San Pedro and rob it at gunpoint on the way back to the base. He said Shaffer was armed with a .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. U. N. Terry discussed plans for the Rocky Mountain Regional conference of Soroptimist International at a dinner meeting of Twin Falls Soroptimists Tuesday evening in the Rogerson hotel coffee shop.

The conference of the Soroptimist clubs of Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and Idaho will be held in Pocatello April 27-29 with members of the Pocatello club as hostesses, assisted by members of other Idaho clubs, it was announced.

Luella Wolfe and Helen Brown, program chairmen, introduced Mrs. Tom Alworth who reviewed "Love Is Eternal," a novel of Mary Todd Lincoln, by Irving Stone. A board meeting was held after the regular session was adjourned.

Pleads Guilty

GOODING, March 1—Gordon H. Rash, Gooding, pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday to a breach of the peace charge and was fined $20 by Police Judge Ramon Eunsusa.

Rash was arrested on a complaint signed by A. J. Condie and charged with using offensive language when Condie, city dog catcher, impounded his dog because it was in the city limits without a 1956 dog license.

New Methods Help Doctors In Diagnoses

SALT LAKE CITY, March 1 (AP)—A simple, quick, low-cost test which may make it possible for doctors to detect artery hardening, liver and kidney disease and susceptibility to stroke long before ordinary symptoms appear was announced yesterday by a University of Utah medical researcher.

The procedure is a method of identifying minute amounts of steroid hormones in blood, urine and body tissues. It can detect amounts of these substances far too small for analysis by heretofore existing techniques.

Dr. David L. Berliner, anatomist, developed the procedure, with preliminary help from Dr. Alejandro Zaffaroni of Mexico City and with financial support from the American Cancer society and the U. S. public health service. From one teaspoonful of blood, Dr. Berliner said, he can detect certain hormones in amounts as small as a hundred thousandth of a fly speck.

The amount of hormones in the body fluids and tissues is an indicator of health or disease. The amounts of each kind of hormone present tells something about the kind of trouble that may exist.

Constant Progress Bewailed By Writer Who Likes Covers

By HENRY McEMORE
Have you ever wished, as I have, that progress would go sook its head and in a deep, deep tub of water, too?

I am sick and tired of progress. Nothing ever stays put. You no sooner get accustomed to a thing than progress steps in and starts tampering with it, changing its shape, speeding it up, adding to its complications. I really would vote for a presidential nominee who ran on a no-progress-for-a-while platform and promised that he would do his best to keep things as they were for a week, at least.

As it is, with progress at the helm, you never know what to expect from one day to another. What did I read in a national magazine a few days ago but that it was merely a question of time, and a short time at that, before bedclothes would be as obsolete as the square wheel. Winter, summer, spring, and fall we will all sleep on some sort of an air-conditioned mattress which will keep us warm from beneath while radiant heating from walls and ceiling keeps us comfortable from above and sideways. Who wants that? Is that progress or just another never-ceasing step to keep us from getting comfortably set in our ways.

I want to say right now that no one is ever going to get me to give up my bedclothes—you don't sleep under them as long as I have and then suddenly exit them aside and start sleeping out in the open like a bird on a limb. I'd feel as if I were sleeping in a store window.

Not only that, but how is a man going to know he is comfortable unless he has bedclothes to switch around. You can get cool by kicking them off and warm by pulling them around your chin. This sleeping out in the open nonsense would eliminate one of the grandest sensations there is: namely, waking up cold and uncovered on a wintry night and then pulling the covers up over your head and feeling that sweet, warm glow all over you. Maybe you could experience this by pushing a button on the mattress or yanking a switch on the wall, but I doubt it.

On the same day that I read about the soon-to-disappear bedclothes I also saw another dispatch concerning progress, this one from San Francisco. A busybody genius has come up with an electronic eye which would make it impossible for a motorist to use any part of another motorist's penny or nickel in a parking meter. The second a car pulled away from a meter the violation banner would wave again requiring a new coin. If this device is adopted, it will take away the only pleasure there is in parking a car these days. With traffic what it is these days, trying to find a place to park is a maddening trick surely the harassed motorist should not be deprived of that tiny little leap of the heart he gets when he manages to slip into a place where the meter is good for three, four, or ten minutes. I'm not a lawyer but I don't believe such an electronics eye is legal. On every meter which I have ever patronized there was stamped a scale of prices: A penny was good for so long a time, a dime for so long, etcetera. Doesn't a meter have to live up to its promises? Suppose a man who put in a dime backed out with fifteen minutes still left and then decided to go back and park again. The red flag shouldn't be up. That wouldn't be playing fair and a man would have every right to pry the meter open to get some change.

Really, I wish progress would go jump in the river.

Idahoan Accepts Resources Work

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The Democratic national committee announced today formation of a division of natural resources headed by George H. R. Taylor, Boise, Ida.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler said in a statement the division will tell the people "how the Eisenhower administration has failed to administer the vast resources which belong to all of our citizens in such a way as to benefit all of those citizens."

Taylor, a former consultant to Senator Morse, D. Ore., has been in Washington representative of the National Hells Canyon association.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Highly effective work by numerous allied intelligence agencies and diplomatic outposts underlies the note of realism and reassurance recently injected into private analyses of world conditions by Secretary John Foster Dulles, especially concerning frozen Russia and the burning middle east.

The net effect of the Dulles reports, based on comprehensive and confidential advices, is that "the Russians are not twelve feet tall." Behind and beneath their seemingly monolithic structure, there are grave defects and weaknesses within the Soviet and throughout the satellite empire.

SOVIET SYSTEM SHAKEN—The current savage repudiation of Stalin's and even Marx-Lenin precepts has shaken the Soviet system from Moscow to Peking. Rulers throughout this vast area are bewildered and paralyzed. They have been deprived of even a minimum of confidence, courage and initiative.

It is as if President Eisenhower and congress declared invalid all the acts of our greatest chief executives and national legislative bodies, including laws and decisions based on the Constitution and legislation enacted thereunder in good faith.

MOSCOW FAILURES—Only desperate necessity could justify such a revolutionary change, according to our Russian experts here and abroad. It is a frantic effort to check admitted failures on the home and foreign fronts.

Khrushchev and Bulganin now concede that communism and capitalism can coexist more or less peacefully and permanently, which is heretical denial of Lenin's faith. Abandoning warlike aggression and expansion, they will rely on political and parliamentary infiltration in western Europe, the Balkans, the Middle East and Asia. It is a policy of necessity rather than desire.

RUSSIA'S NEW TACTICS—As Washington reviews this reorientation, Stalin's successors will seek to outdo anti-government majorities at the ballot-box instead of on the battlefield. But this take-charge strategy will embitter neutrals like Nehru, Nasser, Tito, and possibly Mao Tse-tung, even more violently than outright military aggression.

The Kremlin's top figures also admit that their industrial and agricultural programs have fallen far behind schedules. At the present rate of progress, it will require three or four five year plans to catch up with our lead. And that assumes that the United States and our industrialized European allies will stand still in the meantime.

Georgi Malenkov, for instance, was deposed as premier because he had fallen down on these assignments, although Khrushchev himself was at fault for the farm and land failures. Now, Khrushchev admits that there has been no improvement under his rule. And Malenkov is under fire for another failure in his new field—development of such an industrial and wartime resource as electric power.

No nation, no matter how mighty militarily, can win a war without food and hydroelectricity in plentiful supply.

EXACTING STRAIN ON SOVIET—Nor do diplomats believe that Moscow can explain at home, and also fulfill handsome pledges to satellite and neutral nations. It will be too exacting a strain, with resulting disillusionment among the Muscovites, the satellites and on-the-fence populations.

In event of war, Washington believes that the puppet peoples would break away from Moscow, as the Ukrainians would have done, had they been treated decently by Hitler, Russia's fighting forces, or a large part of them, will be needed to prevent sabotage of industrial, transportation and other facilities. Khrushchev's indignation over our balloon and other forms of propaganda reflects this fear of defection.

FREE WORLD IN LEAD—It is this well authenticated roundup which, despite boasts of atomic and ballistic supremacy, leads Dulles—and President Eisenhower—to feel confident that the free world is stronger vis-a-vis Russia than it was a year ago. They do not intend to lose that lead.

Views of Others: Warning to Motorists. Many over-the-road trucks run 100,000 miles a year. Practically all this mileage is road mileage. Practically all of it is between cities on major highways.

Most cars go 10,000 miles a year. Most of it is in city streets. A single 2,000-mile trip is such an event that some motorists will talk about it endlessly.

The truck is on the road, often the same road, day after day. With two drivers and a sleeper cab, some hardly cool off.

The car, on the average, spends only a few hours a year actually on highways—different roads each time in most cases. A high-grade sidewalk would support the cars—but because trucks use it, a road may be 14 inches thick.

Truck drivers—kings of the road, in fact—regard the impatient motorist with a watchful eye. Motorists regard trucks with worry or annoyance—at least many do.

Most motorists never make a dime from their trips. Such trips cost them. The truck usually is making a profit, for several persons. If it isn't, it won't be rolling long.

The trucking business is a major factor in our commerce. It is an asset to our economy. No one suggests barring trucks from streets or highways, or overtaxing them.

Just the same, a few truck lines doing good business can fill up an intercity road—the same trucks day after day, shuttling back and forth, obstructing the cars of the many.

POT SHOTS

TIP FROM BEGINNER Dear Pot Shots: There is always a proper time and place for everything under the sun. When the moon is in the proper place—farmers plant—and harvest crops. Stockmen dock animals. Fishermen go fishing. Lovers love the moonlight.

Now if anyone is interested in the proper time to stop smoking, this is it: Begin on March 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and also March 31. I smoked for 11 years, the past five, a pack a day. Six months ago I started to have breathing and heart difficulties, so last month at the proper time I stopped smoking and I mean stopped. Haven't smoked one for over 30 days.

I carry a camphor inhaler (25-cent one) in my pocket for that forgetful hand reaching for a smoke. It is cooling and soothing to my lungs, also.

To those who wish to stop smoking, try beginning on March 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 31. Good wishes and best of luck to all.

Pot Shots note: Just idle curiosity, you understand; but what would be the proper day to start out hunting for buried gold? Or maybe uranium?

SPOILS PICTURE Dear Potshots: Chewing gum does not add to feminine pulchritude, a fact lots of girls apparently missed somewhere along the line. This may come as a rude shock to roughly 50 per cent of the girls in Twin Falls.

There are several girls in our office. A brief survey shows that roughly half of them are addicted to the use of chewing gum. Maybe it doesn't bother others, but when you spot a real pretty girl, it sort of takes the edge off to have her pop a couple of sticks of gum into her mouth and start chomping away like a cow chewing its cud.

And does it last for only a short time until the gum is "worn out"? Perish the thought! The gum chomppers apparently can't leave the stuff alone. It apparently goes on all during their waking hours.

Matter of fact, it wouldn't be a bit surprising if they don't even chew gum in their sleep!

FAMOUS LAST LINE "Spring will be along on the usual schedule about July 1." GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

One night in Rome, George Welles, of the New York Yankees baseball system came by on his way back from the orient with a barnstorming troupe. The Via Veneto has come to be another Cafe de la Paix. Sit on one of the terraces—a long enough and every body you ever knew will come by.

I told him Di-Maggio had been there a little ahead of him and that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Peggy were then at the Excelsior. George took the Yankees to Phoenix one winter a few years ago, but for some reason bowed out and didn't go back. However, the Giants filled the vacancy and now four majors train in Arizona.

The bellboy brought a table from Jimmy Kyriakis, the owner of the Cavern in Nogales, Sonora, just across the line from Nogales, Ariz. I tossed it over to George.

"Do you know the Cavern?" I asked. "Sure," he said. "Like the Cafe de la Paix. Sit there long enough and everybody you ever knew will come by. They all sit up at the Cavern. That is a nice message from Jimmy, away down there and you away over here."

So when again I lagged up at the Cavern I had my gear along and, sitting in the back of the car parked across the street, I commit to the record the following:

Nogales, both American and Mexican, are believed to have been founded by a Jewish pack-peddler, one of a hardy and daring tribe of itinerants who put up a little "dobe hut" and put his roots down. Nogales is said to mean "walnuts" but in which language I do not know.

The Cavern is hewn out of the rock of a low but steep mountain on the Mexican side right close to the line. Originally it was a prison, had asked Jimmy Kyriakis about that.

"Yes," he said, "when Diaz was in power. Not for long-term prisoners. Up to two years, I think. It would not be very nice for a prisoner for a long time."

"For a nice dinner of guayamas, oysters or shrimp and then perhaps snapper or brook trout and, after that, possibly quail or dove or duck, this is a very nice Cavern as you know from pleasant experience. But to spend years as a prisoner in a pocket in his trunk and

SAVE THE SPRINGS! It's not surprising that plans for harnessing Niagara and Crystal springs to irrigate land in the Bruneau desert have encountered strong opposition.

Within 24 hours after the news became generally known, protests were on their way from the state fish and game department, the Idaho Outdoor association, the Idaho Power company, the Jerome and Wendell Chambers of Commerce, and the Jerome Rod and Gun club. By the week-end, many other organizations no doubt will have joined in the general protest.

Tampering with these springs is a touchy subject. It was not so many years ago that Idaho Power company ran into strong public opposition when it made known its plans to develop these same springs to generate hydro-electric power.

While plans now proposed for developing these springs call for a different use of the harnessed waters, it is doubtful if a permit will be granted by the state department of reclamation, at least without a terrific fight.

In Niagara and Crystal springs and what remains of the famous Thousand Springs, Idaho has some of its most valuable scenic attractions—outstanding examples of the natural wonders with which this state is blessed.

Even if it came to a point of considering any such development on the basis of actual necessity, there would still be room for plenty of argument, because there are many good reasons why geological phenomena such as these springs should be preserved for posterity.

Those fortunate enough to have seen Thousand Springs before most of them were destroyed, so far as scenic beauty is concerned, often express regret that this spectacular attraction could not have been preserved in its natural state for all time. In fairness, it should be pointed out that these particular springs were developed by a predecessor company, later taken over by Idaho Power. But comparative figures on all of Idaho Power's generating facilities in this vicinity, show the Thousand Springs plant to be relatively small. This makes it all the more regrettable that these springs could not have been spared in the first place.

It's to the Idaho Power company's credit that it heeded public disapproval of plans to develop Crystal and Niagara springs. It even went so far as to enter into a gentleman's agreement with the state, suggesting that these springs be preserved for public recreation, parks and the like. The state fish and game department already has availed itself of this offer and is presently using land in this vicinity for fish rearing ponds, wildlife and public recreational purposes. To make further use of this opportunity, the state fish and game department has purchased an additional 100 acres of land adjacent to Crystal springs.

There is probably no reason to doubt that the state department of reclamation will exercise every precaution in processing the new applications for development of Niagara and Crystal springs. But no one should take anything for granted because there is far too much at stake.

Mark Kulp, state reclamation engineer, has given assurance that he will call a public hearing on the application in question. At that hearing the opposition must make sure that it will save Crystal and Niagara springs from any unnecessary or unwarranted exploitation or defacement.

We, in Idaho, have learned by experience that once a priceless scenic attraction is destroyed, it usually is lost forever. The time to act is before any such destruction takes place.

PIERCING FOG CLOUDS Enough dust has been raised over the adequacy of the nation's military air policy to warrant giving the matter a thorough look. Hence we can only welcome the developing move for a congressional inquiry into it.

No doubt a good many criticisms of present policy are politically inspired, but some come from sober, responsible men who study these issues closely. Where the country's safety is concerned, we must try to resolve doubts. If this means asking searching questions, we must ask them.

The key matters involved are our long-range guided missile program and our bomber development. Any marked deficiency on either score could be crucial.

At the worst our very survival is at stake. But any really measurable Russian superiority will have its damaging effect, for it could make heavy impact on the fence-sitters in Asia and elsewhere. Even as it is they are more than ordinarily susceptible to Russian argument. One fears some may be ready to topple into the Soviet camp at the first provable evidence that the Kremlin leads the arms race.

Whatever investigation may shape up, the American citizen may be permitted to hope it will be conducted in full cognizance that the issues are grave. This being 1956, politics will surely show its head. Yet sober statesmanship must prevail in any probe of this vital field.

The man of the house is the bread winner and the wife kneads the dough.

JAIL FOR DRUNKEN DRIVERS It is gratifying that the city's magistrates have finally realized that there is no worse menace on the road than the drunken driver and that only stern punishment might deter motorists from mixing highways and highballs. The policy of jail terms for first offenders convicted of driving while intoxicated, initiated by Magistrate Peter M. Horn, head of the traffic courts committee, should be applied by all members of that court.

Traffic safety requires a three-pronged attack to be successful; engineering to minimize the cause of accidents; police diligence to round up violators and, most important, the utmost cooperation at the court level. It is futile for the police and traffic departments to go all-out for safety unless the courts back them fully.

Looking at Market

These pigs, deliberately raised to have a lot of lean meat as desired by modern housewives, are looking at the prospective customer, you. (NEA)

New, Lean, Meat-Type Hogs Being Raised for U. S. Markets

CHICAGO (NEA)—American concern over calories and weight-reducing diets is helping to create a serious American agriculture problem.

A result is a new kind of animal—the lean hog.

Pork—once the top table item in this country—is glutting the market as people are turning their appetites from this fatty meat to lean beef. Last year, for example, the average eater consumed only 60 pounds of pork and almost 80 of beef.

And so today, with pork prices lower than they have been in five years, pork producers and agriculture experts are worrying themselves thin.

On top of everything else, they find the nation this year had a bumper crop of corn—much of it un-eaten at dining tables. Unconsumed corn means softer corn prices. And softer corn prices mean more feed and thus more pigs.

Joining forces, U. S. agriculture experts and pork producers are campaigning to restore pork to its place in the national diet.

The department of agriculture has been experimenting with methods to produce leaner bacon and pork. So far they have developed the "meat-type hog."

At the same time the American Meat Institute is urging producers to send leaner pig-products to market. The AMI is also trying to teach the housewife the high nutritional value of pork. They have lined up some medical backing to teach expectant and nursing mothers that pork is not taboo.

The department of agriculture is urging the armed forces to use more pork and to increase pork exports. The department has a limited purchasing program for using extra pork products in its non-profit school lunch program.

Some reports on the new pork promotion are coming in. J. Morrill Foster, chairman of the board of AMI, explains that many members marketing closely-trimmed pork are finding increased sales. The nation, he says, can expect to see more and more of it in meat stores.

This is a departure from traditional methods of marketing pork. Trimming that used to be done by the retailer is now being done at the meat-packing plant.

Swift and company, the nation's largest packers, are already trimming fresh pork loins and shoulder butts to 1/4 inch of fat—the minimum to prevent loo-dry cooking.

But the department of agriculture reports that its pork-promoting program has not strengthened the market. A department spokesman says that only with enormous price discounts does the supply move.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, however, says he is determined to improve the position of the hog and pork industry. His advice: Coordinate a national promotion campaign and improve merchandising methods from farm to retail store.

He does not favor a direct price support program.

Meanwhile, a new headache in the pork picture is developing. Since 1947 the entire meat budget among consumers has declined. It is expected to take another drop before this year is out.

This could mean that automobiles, houses, appliances, travel, entertainment—and the national waistline—are outcompeting the livestock producer.

Ideas Offered On Peace for Tense Region

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles swapped ideas on using the United Nations to keep the uneasy peace in the Middle East.

Dulles invited Hammarskjöld to a lunch conference to discuss the Middle Eastern crisis and conflicting reports on the gravity of the situation.

Hammarskjöld, who has just returned from the area, said in a statement that "I think we have moved away from the brink" of war in the Middle East. The Swedish-born diplomat said he believed "in the possibility of an orderly progress toward solutions."

Syrian Ambassador Farid Zaideddine disagreed. The envoy told the state department late yesterday that Israel is making "definite preparations for military activities on a wide scale." The danger of war, he said, "was never greater than now."

The Dulles-Hammarskjöld conference marked the opening of new U.N.-Western efforts to get an agreement from both sides to avoid use of force in the Arab-Israeli conflict. But diplomats said "time and patience" will be required of both sides.

Paper Circulation Shows Increases

PHILADELPHIA, March 1 (AP)—Newspaper circulation in the United States broke all records last year in spite of newsprint shortages, according to the 88th annual edition of N. W. Ayer and Son's directory of newspapers and periodicals.

Circulation of English-language dailies climbed to 55,837,000, nearly one million copies a day more than the previous year, the directory stated. The increase was the largest in five years.

At the same time the director said there was a slight drop in the number of daily newspapers because of a merger trend.

Result Forecast

TOKYO, March 1 (AP)—The newspaper Mainichi predicted today President Eisenhower will be re-elected because his leadership is needed to stem Soviet Russia's diplomatic gains.

The Mainichi, one of Japan's most influential newspapers, said American voters wanted him "in view of the fact that Soviet Russia has taken the initiative in international diplomacy."

Result of Topple Fatal for Girl, 4

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1 (AP)—Jill Heald, 4-year-old daughter of a policeman, died yesterday of injuries suffered when she fell 220 feet down the steep side of an abandoned quarry Tuesday.

Her brother, Jack, 3, remained on the critical list.

The two children of Patrolman and Mrs. John W. Heald left their backyard Tuesday, got through a barbed wire fence around the quarry and fell down the cliff side.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Highly effective work by numerous allied intelligence agencies and diplomatic outposts underlies the note of realism and reassurance recently injected into private analyses of world conditions by Secretary John Foster Dulles, especially concerning frozen Russia and the burning middle east.

The net effect of the Dulles reports, based on comprehensive and confidentially advised, is that "the Russians are not twelve feet tall."

SOVIET SYSTEM SHAKEN—The current stage of the Soviet system has shaken the Soviet system from Moscow to Peking. Rulers throughout this vast area are bewildered and paralyzed.

MOSCOW FAILURES—Only desperate necessity could justify or necessitate such a revolutionary change, according to our Russian experts here and abroad. It is a frantic effort to check admitted failures on the home and foreign fronts.

RUSSIA'S NEW TACTICS—As Washington reviews this reorientation, Stalin's successors will seek to obtain anti-government majorities at the ballot-box instead of on the battlefield.

EXACTING STRAIN ON SOVIET—Nor do diplomats believe that Moscow can explain at home, and also fulfill handsome pledges to satellite and neutral nations. It will be too exacting a strain, with resulting disillusionment among the Muscovites, the satellites and on-the-fence populations.

FREE WORLD IN LEAD—It is this well authenticated roundup which, despite boasts of atomic and ballistic supremacy, leads Dulles—and President Eisenhower—to feel confident that the free world is stronger vis-a-vis Russia than it was a year ago.

PIERCING FOG CLOUDS—Enough dust has been raised over the adequacy of the nation's military air policy to warrant giving the matter a thorough look.

POT SHOTS

TIP FROM BEGINNER Dear Pot Shots: There is always a proper time and place for everything under the sun.

Now if anyone is interested in the proper time to stop smoking, this is it: Begin on March 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and also March 31.

To those who wish to stop smoking, try beginning on March 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 31. Good wishes and best of luck to all.

Pot Shots note: Just idle curiosity, you understand, but what would be the proper day to start out hunting for buried gold? Or maybe uranium?

Chewing gum does not add to feminine pulchritude, a fact lots of girls apparently missed somewhere along the line. This may come as a rude shock to roughly 50 per cent of the girls in Twin Falls.

There are several girls in our office. A brief survey shows that roughly half of them are addicted to the use of chewing gum.

And does it last for only a short time until the gum is "worn out"? Perish the thought! The gum chompers apparently can't leave the stuff alone. It apparently goes on all during their waking hours.

For a nice dinner of guayamas oysters or shrimp and then perhaps trout snapper or brook trout and, after that, possibly quail or dove or duck, this is a very nice Cavern as you know from pleasant experience.

Spring will be along on the usual schedule about July 1.

Many over-the-road trucks run 100,000 miles a year. Practically all this mileage is road mileage.

Most cars go 10,000 miles a year. Most of it is driver-only mileage. Most of it is on city streets.

The trucking business is a major factor in our commerce. It is an asset to our economy.

As if there were not already too much disillusionment and skepticism at large today, Old Faithful has let us down.

It is gratifying that the city's magistrates have finally realized that there is no worse menace on the road than the drunken driver.

The man who drinks and drives last year was responsible for 20 per cent of the fatal highway accidents. He deserves no leniency.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

One night in Rome, George Weis, of the New York Yankees baseball system came by on his way back from the orient with a barnstorming troupe.

"I remember the first time you came in here, Yes, during the war. My brave countrymen, the Greeks, had just defeated Mussolini's invincible legions, the poor fellows, at a mountain pass in Albania.

So when they send the prisoners to the islands in the Gulf of California. A few little jobs to keep the poor fellows busy but it is not true that they can bring their wives and children or their sweethearts to prison.

"There are, to be sure, game laws in Mexico to protect the wild life. But the crops of the farmers must be protected, too. So if a farmer must kill some game birds eating his rice or grain it would be sinful to waste them.

Long ago Mr. Kyrjakis started a cooking man. Cook-fighting of itself was permitted but gambling on the fight was prohibited by law.

"But wrestling is a very difficult business. They have no sportsman-ship. One fellow tried to stick thumbtacks in his opponent's eyes.

Looking at Market

These pigs, deliberately raised to have a lot of lean meat as desired by modern housewives, are looking at the prospective customer, you. (NEA)

New, Lean, Meat-Type Hogs Being Raised for U. S. Markets

CHICAGO (NEA)—American concern over calories and weight-reducing diets is helping to create a serious American agriculture problem.

A result is a new kind of animal—the lean hog.

Pork—once the top table item in this country—is glutting the market as people are turning their appetites from this fatty meat to lean beef.

Last year, for example, the average eater consumed only 60 pounds of pork and almost 80 of beef.

And so today, with pork prices lower than they have been in five years, pork producers and agriculture experts are worrying themselves thin.

On top of everything else, they find, the nation this year had a bumper crop of corn—much of it un-

eaten at dining tables. Unconsumed corn means softer corn prices. And softer corn prices mean more feed and thus more pigs.

Joining forces, U. S. agriculture experts and pork producers are campaigning to restore pork to its place in the national diet.

The department of agriculture has been experimenting with methods to produce leaner bacon and pork. So far they have developed the "meat-type hog."

At the same time the American Meat Institute is urging producers to send leaner pig-products to market. The AMI is also trying to teach the housewife the high nutritional value of pork. They have lined up some medical backing to teach expectant and nursing mothers that pork is not taboo.

The department of agriculture is urging the armed forces to use more pork and to increase pork exports. The department has a limited purchasing program for using extra pork products in its non-profit school lunch program.

Some reports on the new pork promotion are coming in. J. Merrill Foster, chairman of the board of AMI, explains that many members marketing closely-trimmed pork are finding increased sales. The nation, he says, can expect to see more and more of it in meat stores.

This is a departure from traditional methods of marketing pork. Trimming that used to be done by the retailer is now being done at the meat-packing plant.

Swift and company, the nation's largest packers, are already trimming fresh pork loins and shoulder butts to 1/2 inch of fat—the minimum to prevent too-dry cooking.

But the department of agriculture reports that its pork-promoting program has not strengthened the market. A department spokesman says that only with enormous price discounts does the supply move.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, however, says he is determined to improve the position of the hog and pork industry. His advice: Coordinate a national promotion campaign and improve merchandising methods from farm to retail store.

He does not favor a direct price support program.

Meanwhile, a new headache in the pork picture is developing. Since 1947 the entire meat budget among consumers has declined. It is expected to take another drop before this year is out.

This could mean that automobiles, houses, appliances, travel, entertainment—and the national waistline—are outcompeting the livestock producer.

Ideas Offered On Peace for Tense Region

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles swapped ideas on using the United Nations to keep the uneasy peace in the Middle East.

Dulles invited Hammarskjöld to a lunch conference to discuss the Middle Eastern crisis and conflicting reports on the gravity of the situation.

Hammarskjöld, who has just returned from the area, said in a statement that "I think we have moved away from the brink of war in the Middle East. The Swedish-born diplomat said he believed "in the possibility of an orderly progress toward solutions."

Syrian Ambassador Farid Zaidi, in a statement, said he would lead the state department late yesterday that Israel is making "definite preparations for military activities on a wide scale." The danger of war, he said, "was never greater than now."

The Dulles-Hammarskjöld conference marked the opening of new U.N.-Western efforts to get an agreement from both sides to avoid use of force in the Arab-Israeli conflict. But diplomats said "time and patience" will be required of both sides.

Paper Circulation Shows Increases

PHILADELPHIA, March 1 (AP)—Newspaper circulation in the United States broke all records last year in spite of newsprint shortages, according to the 88th annual edition of N. W. Ayer and Sons' directory of newspapers and periodicals.

Circulation of English-language dailies climbed to 55,837,000, nearly one million copies a day more than the previous year, the directory stated. The increase was the largest in five years.

At the same time the director said there was a slight drop in the number of daily newspapers because of a merger trend.

Result Forecast

TOKYO, March 1 (AP)—The newspaper Malmich predicted today President Eisenhower will be re-elected because his leadership is needed to stem Soviet Russia's diplomatic gains.

The Malmich, one of Japan's most influential newspapers, said American voters wanted him "in view of the fact that Soviet Russia has taken the initiative in international diplomacy."

Stock Market Closes Lower On Ike Word

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—The stock market greeted the news yesterday that President Eisenhower would run again with a jubilant whoop and a holler—and closed lower.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dipped 60 cents to $179.10 with the industrial component down $1.10, the rails unchanged and the utilities down 20 cents.

Even before the news came from the White House the market was active and prices were higher.

Yells Heard: Shouts of "He's going to run!" rose above the normal trading din.

Renewed activity swept the unusually large floor crowd of 3,000. Every telephone clerk in the exchange quickly began writing orders on slips of paper.

The orders came from crowded brokerage offices where there were all sorts of people: men in well-tailored business clothes, elderly housewives working with sandwiches.

Smylie's Talk To GOP Raps Demo Tactics

RICHMOND, Calif., March 1 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho last night classed the Democratic party as a "fractured opposition" which offered a "single voice" only in "screaming" that President Eisenhower's efforts for a just and durable peace will fail.

In a speech prepared for delivery before a Republican fund-raising dinner here, Smylie gave full credit to Secretary of State Dulles for bringing about Russia's "new look" in its internal policies.

Salary Boosts For Teachers OK'd in Vote

BOULDER, March 1—Voters here Wednesday favored 82 to 11 an eight-mill levy, part of which will be used next school year to provide teacher salary increases.

The eight-mill levy voted Wednesday was in addition to the 2 1/2 mill levy allowed by the state and already in force.

Sixty teachers will receive salary increases next school year. The salary increases will include $75 per year for teachers who have two years' training; $100 for teachers with three years' training; $125 for teachers with bachelor degrees and $150 for those with a masters degree.

Republican Bows Out of Congress Races for North

CALDWELL, March 1 (AP)—Erwin H. Schwiebert, mentioned in some political circles as a possible Republican candidate for Idaho's first congressional district seat, left the field wide open for Louise Shaddock yesterday.

Schwiebert said in a statement announcing he wouldn't run: "Considering the number of major office holders and contenders currently from southern Idaho and the few from the north, it seems quite clear that the first district Republican candidate should be from the northern end of the district to have the best chance in the November election."

Ms Shaddock, only person who has announced thus far for the nomination on the GOP ticket, is from Coeur d'Alene.

Dam Building Said "Illegal" By Oregonian

The state has jurisdiction over the two streams. In connection with the Pelton project, the U. S. circuit court of appeals gave the federal government jurisdiction.

As to the three Hells canyon projects of the Idaho Power company, the company has asked for permits from the state hydro-electric commission. This commission held hearings a few weeks ago at Baker.

The penalty for violating the hydroelectric permit law is $1,000 fine or six months in jail or both.

Thornston said that in applying for the state permit, Idaho Power company subjected itself to state jurisdiction.

Loss of Leg Causes Suit

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—An Oregon couple sued a Moscow physician for $280,244 yesterday, charging their 10-month-old daughter lost a leg after he operated on her.

Frank and Marian Elliott, Roseburg, filed the complaint in federal court against Dr. Thomas D. Baird on behalf of their daughter Trudy. They asked for a jury trial.

They said they took the girl to Baird in Moscow two years ago when she came down with what looked like intestinal flu.

While attempting to give the girl injections Baird cut off the circulation in her right leg, the complaint charged.

The Elliotts said that the girl developed an infection soon after the operation and the leg had to be amputated at the knee two months later.

Demos Think Ike Will Sign High Support

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Senate Democrats said today they are sure that President Eisenhower would sign a farm bill with 90 percent price supports now that he has offered to run for reelection.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D., La., of the senate agriculture committee said that he now is "positive" Mr. Eisenhower wouldn't veto the Democratic omnibus farm bill being debated by the senate.

Mr. Ellender expressed hope that the senate would complete action on the measure within three days after the voting starts. The bill must then go back to the house, which last year approved only the high price support feature of the senate measure.

Business May Have Answers During March

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Business should have the answer to a number of its uncertainties before Easter.

Consumers may well pick March to show their hands in several ways:

1. With an early Easter, the blustery month of March will span the entire pre-Easter sales drive by the merchants.
2. If the month goes out like a lamb, the auto industry may get its first test of how healthy the hoped-for spring pickup in car buying will be.
3. The home building industry, also counting on spring to awaken the urge to own your own home, may find who is right: The one who says a revival in building is due, or the one who says mortgage money will stay tight and buyers chary.

What business will be watching is how strong a tonic March will supply. A seasonal pickup is expected—the usual quickening of the economy through gains in construction, forming and seasonal industries. The question that this month may have the answer for is: Will the pickup be as strong as last year, or will it lack its usual punch?

The consumer isn't the only one who will be showing his hand.

Congress has some decisions to make this month. Businessmen are resigned to its continuing for another year the 52 per cent income tax rate on corporations and for most of the excise taxes on some consumer goods like autos.

Business will look to congress this month for at least a hint on what it will do about such important spending items as highways, schools, farm price supports and foreign aid. There might even be a clearer notion of what is in store for individuals on their income tax rates.

Idaho Demos Pick Stevenson To Gain Nomination for Party

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—A heavy majority of Democratic county chairmen participating in a poll today believed Adlai Stevenson would get the presidential nomination but they believed Stevenson would be their personal preference for the former Illinois governor was less strong.

The results of the poll backed up the recent pronouncements of state party leaders, who said following Stevenson's visit to Boise Feb. 15 the unsuccessful 1952 candidate was far in the lead in the Gem state this year.

However, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, self-styled "inactive" candidate and a frequent visitor to Idaho over the years, pressed Ste-more than have actually entered the race.

Alvin McCormack of Lewiston, the first to declare his candidacy, was the choice of seven chairmen. However, two out of the seven left former Sen. Glen Taylor of Pocatello would win the nomination if he selected to jump into the crowded race.

Eleven chairmen out of the 15 who returned their questionnaires said they believed Stevenson would be their personal preference for the former Illinois governor was less strong.

The results of the poll backed up the recent pronouncements of state party leaders, who said following Stevenson's visit to Boise Feb. 15 the unsuccessful 1952 candidate was far in the lead in the Gem state this year.

However, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, self-styled "inactive" candidate and a frequent visitor to Idaho over the years, pressed Stegresswoman from the first district, dominated the returns from her district.

Chairmen divided their choices rather evenly in the second district, where no Democrat has announced, and no trend was evident.

Mentioned were Gregg Polvin of American Falls, who was defeated in the 1954 congressional primary; C. Flash Nelson of Pocatello; Ray Whitaker of Pocatello and Brunt.

The incumbent is Republican Harmer Budge, a three-term congressman.

The Democratic county chairmen fell into step with their Republican opponents numbers who were polled earlier this week and hands down picked the farm problem as the No. 1 campaign topic of 1956. The dissection question also rated high. Opinions of what constituted the most potent political platform varied almost as widely as the number of returns. However, several chairmen

Minimum Wage To Be Increased

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—A one-third boost in the 75-cent federal minimum wage to an even dollar an hour goes into effect today.

The increase under the fair labor standards act means that an estimated 2,000,000 workers will get pay hikes. Some of them got their pay increases in advance from employers.

Congress voted the hike last year but delayed the effective date until tomorrow so employers could get set for the change.

The candidate who comes out with the best farm program will be hard to stop.

One chairman, while acknowledging the importance of the farm issue, said he doubted there was a solution applicable for all farmers.

15 Days Left For Payment Of '56 Taxes

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—A. B. Jonasson, secretary of the state department of commerce and development, said today about 6,000 Idaho businesses have just 15 days left in which to pay their 1956 state license tax.

Jonasson said some 10,000 registration forms have been mailed by his department to the establishments but only 4,000 have been returned with the annual $6 fee.

The payment deadline is March 15. There is, however, a 60-day grace period after that date but if the tax is not paid by May 15 a penalty of $10 is levied against the defaulting business house under the terms of Idaho statute.

The registration goes in the department of commerce and development fund to help finance department operations and to aid in "promotion, advertisement and development of the state of Idaho."

Jonasson said the levy is assessed on each and every store or outlet of each and every retailer or wholesaler, every hotel and motel, eating place and trailer court, for the privilege of operating in the state of Idaho.

There has been some confusion as to the necessity of purchasing this license and it is hoped that all businesses will comply with the law as the only ones exempt are those that do a volume of less than $5,000 gross per year.

Police Report on Pair of Accidents

BURLEY, March 1—Deputy Sheriff H. O. Warrell reports two auto accidents have been reported to him. One occurred four and three-fourths miles west of Burley on highway 305 and involved a 1955 Pontiac driven by Ruth K. Caird, Spokane, and a 1956 GMC pickup driven by Basil House, New Mexico.

The driver of the Pontiac told Warrell she had started to pass the pickup truck when her auto started skidding and slid into a trailer house and hit the left rear corner of the pickup. The pickup truck turned sideways in the road and slid into the borrow pit. Damage to the auto was estimated at $75 and to the pickup at $1,000.

The other mishap occurred one mile west of Burley. Involved were a 1952 Hudson driven by Joe Gutierrez, Burley, and a 1954 Plymouth driven by Ira J. Chamberlain, also Burley. William Cain, a witness, told Warrell he was following a black Studebaker and the unidentified driver did not signal a turn. He said he applied his brakes to avoid hitting the auto. The other driver also tried to stop and Gutierrez was hit by Chamberlain, he said. The Hudson hit a barbed wire fence. Damage to the Hudson was listed at $100 and to the Plymouth at $175.

Ike's Decision Helps Foreign Policy of U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term will move foreign policy operations off "dead center" at a crucially important time, officials said today.

They also said the President's decision promised stability and continuity in American foreign policy during the coming month even though it is sure to be a campaign issue.

Officials frankly acknowledged that election-year attacks and doubt as to whether the President would run frequently have caused indecision in foreign policy recently in the face of new communist challenges.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had no comment on the President's decision. But Dulles' big smile betrayed his true feelings.

Informants said foreign affairs played a big role in Mr. Eisenhower's decision to run.

They said the President wanted to continue pushing various foreign policy programs through congress, the United Nations and other international agencies.

Also, they said, the President was particularly disturbed by Democratic charges that American foreign policy under his administration has been misguided and mishandled.

Knowland Issues Election Warning

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland, R., Calif., warned Republicans today that despite President Eisenhower's decision to run for reelection "the campaign of 1956 must not be taken for granted."

"Those who remember the campaign of 1948 know that it is very dangerous to take any election for granted," the senate GOP leader said.

"With a forthright, vigorous campaign I believe that President Eisenhower will be reelected in 1956," the Knowland said in a statement.

Knowland, who had planned to seek the nomination if Mr. Eisenhower didn't, said that in his judgment the Republican party must now "close ranks and make every effort to bring responsible and representative Republicans into the reelection fight."

Mrs. Jolley is asking the court to award her custody of the child, $50 monthly support, $125 attorney fees, $500 court costs and to issue a temporary injunction against Jolley to prevent him from molesting her or the child. She also is asking the court to award her some household furniture and a 1947 Chevrolet. Nielson and Nielson represent Mrs. Jolley.

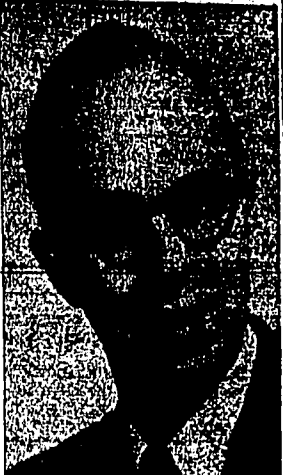

An action was filed by Mrs. Jennie L. Fox against William D. Fox. She states in her complaint they were married June 3, 1955, at Elko and have no community property or children. The charge against Fox is extreme mental cruelty. She is asking the court to restore her maiden name of Jennie L. Powell. She is represented by J. J. Burgess.

A similar action has been filed by Mrs. Emily May Bryan against Louis E. Bryan. They were married Nov. 6, 1942, at Wapato, Wash., and have two children. Mrs. Bryan states in her complaint Bryan has failed to provide support for her and the children and charges him with extreme mental cruelty.

Mrs. Bryan is asking the court to award her custody of the children, $60 child support monthly, hospital and doctor fees for a child to be born in April and asks that Bryan be granted rights to visit the children at reasonable times. Mrs. Bryan also asks the court to award her a 1955 Buick convertible and to require Bryan to pay the remaining indebtedness against it. She is represented by J. J. Burgess.

On a charge of extreme cruelty a divorce is being sought by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Robinson from Lawrence Robinson. She says they were married May 1, 1953, at Elko. 'Alaska Day' Luncheon Boosts Territory Hopes in California

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1 (AP)—Some 400 Bay area businessmen munched reindeer steaks and king crab yesterday at a special Alaska day luncheon sponsored by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

A 200-pound chunk of Alaska's famed Mendenhall glacier was on display at the St. Francis hotel for the "Friends of Alaska" observance of the importance of San Francisco-Alaska trade relations.

Elmer E. Rasmuson, Anchorage, president of the National Bank of Alaska, was the guest speaker. He outlined opportunities for economic growth in Alaska, commenting that "we regard statehood as essential for Alaskan development."

"We have become a land of shacks but without the power under our territorial status to change it," Rasmuson said.

He said 99 per cent of Alaska is owned by the federal government, with 25 per cent of it under reservation.

"We have rich mineral resources but few roads because unlike Hawaii and even Puerto Rico (which pay no federal taxes) we are excluded from the federal highway aid act," he said.

"It is the infamous Jones act which permits trans-continental shipment of goods by Canadian railways and steamship south to the states but not north to Alaska. Hawaii is per-

Charred Bodies Of Fliers Found

KANAB, Utah, March 1 (AP)—A search party has found the charred bodies of two Midwestern uranium prospectors who disappeared five weeks ago in southern Utah's desolate plateau country. The two died in the flaming wreckage of their plane. Kane county Sheriff LaNard Johnson, who led the party which leaped into the area Tuesday after repeated aerial searches failed to find a trace of the prospectors, said the party found the plane wreckage Tuesday night in Last Chance canyon, which is about 130 miles east of Kanab and 12 miles north of the Colorado river.

The dead were identified through belongings as Gene Haeusler, Milwaukee, Wis., and Kenneth H. Elliot, Minneapolis, Minn.

Costs of Food Keep Close to Lower Levels

By The Associated Press
Family food costs this week stayed close to recent low levels, much to the delight of housewives. Meat and poultry, which accounts for a large share of the normal family food budget, was priced near recent lows, sometimes a shade above, sometimes a touch below.

During the week the government released its index of retail food prices were at their lowest level since 1952.

The retail index dropped steadily the past six months and is now six per cent below the 1952 index. Meat and poultry prices have fallen off even more than that.

On the wholesale market prices moved up a shade but were still close to the low point hit in mid-January.

Here and there a few things were more expensive. Coffee prices generally were raised a few cents a pound in the past week. Tomatoes and avocados, shipped to out-of-season markets, were also higher.

On meat counters pork again looked like the best buy. Beef also remained low and lamb was a bit higher in some sections.

In general the outstanding vegetable buys were potatoes and onions.

Among fruits, oranges were averaging lower this week. Other good buys were apples and grapefruits.

Churchmen in Buhl Plan for Dinner Event

BUHL, March 1—Plans were completed for an interchurch men's dinner at the fellowship hall of the Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. Monday by the Buhl Ministerial association Tuesday.

Dr. Thomas Shearer, president of the College of Idaho, Caldwell, will be the speaker. James T. Shields will be master of ceremonies; Verlin Williams, L. B. Shields, Fred Ringert and R. P. 2 Parties Tied in Asiatic Balloting

DJAKARTA, March 1—Indonesia's pro-western Moslem Masjumi party and the Pni Nationalist party which favors friendship with Communist China tied today in the results of the country's first general elections.

The central elections committee this morning announced the official results of the selections held last Sept. 29. It had taken fully five months to count the ballots cast throughout Indonesia's hundreds of islands.

The Masjumi party which favors the present caretaker government and the Nationalist party won 57 seats each in Indonesia's first-elected parliament which will have at least 260 seats.

The orthodox Moslem party of Nahdlatul Ulama got 45 seats and the Communist Pki 39 seats. All other parties got less than ten seats each.

Russians Protest Testing in Pacific

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 1—Russia demanded yesterday that the U. N. trusteeship council condemn U. S. plans to hold new nuclear weapons tests in the Pacific islands trust territory.

The Russian theme is an old one but Soviet delegate Vasily F. Grubyskov surprised the council by bringing it up at this time.

Benjamin Gerig, U. S. delegate, questioned whether the Soviet demand was valid at this time. The council is not supposed to take up Pacific islands trusteeship until its summer session.

Mason Sears, American president of the council, ruled that the Russian proposal would have to be put in writing and the council took no further action yesterday.

Farmer Squeeze Has Slight Ease

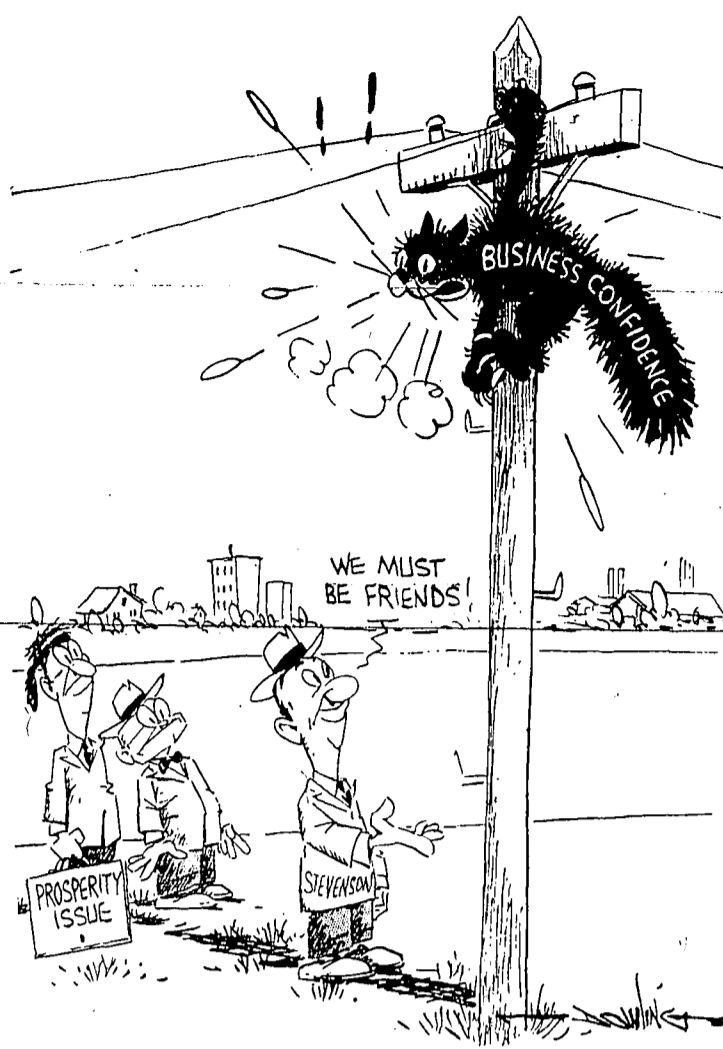

WASHINGTON, March 1—The cost-price squeeze on farmers eased somewhat during the month ended Feb. 15, the agriculture department reported today.

It said the official parity ratio—the yardstick which measures the price farmers get for their crops against the prices they pay for production and living costs—rose one point during the month to 81 per cent. A parity ratio of 100 per cent is theoretically "fair" to farmers.

The one-point rise—the first since April, 1955—was made possible by a one per cent drop in the index of prices paid by farmers for production costs and supplies. The index of prices farmers received was unchanged from a month earlier.

BOISE, March 1—The week of March 11 will be first annual Idaho Heritage week, Gov. Robert E. Smylie said in a proclamation yesterday. Its purpose is to promote historical lore.

R. W. Smith, Weiser, executive secretary of the league, said today the school will be operated by the political science department of Idaho State college.
John Kerstetter, associate director of the American Municipal Association in Chicago, will address the group at its annual banquet March 15.

Earlier the air force announced the capture of Maj. Haroldo Veloso, leader of the uprising. His forces were estimated to number no more than 200 men.

Aid Extended For Fish Study In Idaho Lake

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—Idaho Fish and Game Director Ross Leonard reported today the state fish and game department and the U. S. fish and wildlife service have approved another year's extension of a federal aid project to study fish resources in Lake and Crater.

The project was begun in 1951 to evaluate the effect of Alkali Falls and Cabinet gorge dams on the fish life in the lake—especially its famed kokanee.

The federal and state governments this year are contributing $10,000 to the survey. Washington Water Power company, which operates the Cabinet gorge dam, is spending $3,000.

The study is expected to last eight years so that fish biologists may get a complete picture of the kokanee life pattern both before and after construction of this dam.

Washington Line Coach Appointed

SEATTLE, March 1 (AP)—Washington's new football staff began to round into form Wednesday with the signing of Jim Pittman, 29, as line coach under the new bossman, Darrell Royal.

George Briggs, newly acquired athletic director, said Royal would bring Pittman with him from Mississippi State, where they have been head coach and line assistant, respectively.

"We felt it important," Briggs advised from Berkeley, Calif., "that Darrell have at least one member of his Washington staff who had worked with him before."

Royal was expected to be allowed either four or five assistants and has been given complete charge of their selection.

Conservation Projects Discussed at Annual Shoshone Wildlife Meeting

SHOSHONE, March 1—The annual wildlife meeting for Shoshone was held Monday night under sponsorship of the Shoshone Rod and Gun club and in cooperation with the soil conservation service, Granges and conservation officers.

Walter Berry, local game conservationist, reported on a project in the North Shoshone area for erecting signs to govern hunting. They will be large road sign type and there will be six or seven of them erected.

Robert Irving, Gooding, fish biologist of the fish and game department, said he and the soil conservation officials had inspected Lincoln county for fish ponds but that the District area was the only location suitable. That is due to the year-round water available there through the canal.

Glance at New Record Book Shows Williams 'Most Feared' Batsman

NEW YORK, March 1 (U.P.)—Ted Williams, although he will be 38 in August, still rates today as the toughest man in baseball when it comes to swinging a bat.

Certainly the pitchers think he is, because the Boston thin man led the American league in intentional walks last season with 17 in only 98 games.

SEATTLE, March 1 (AP)—A four-year contract calling for $17,000 a year salary was approved Wednesday by University board of control for Darrell Royal, new head of Washington football coach.

Score Praying For Success Equal to 1955

TUCSON, Ariz., March 1 (AP)—Herb Score isn't predicting he'll win a single game for the Cleveland Indians this year, just praying he'll do as well as last.

In making his 16-10 record in 1955 the big left-handed pitcher set a major league rookie mark with 245 strikeouts and was named the American league rookie of the year.

Everyone in the Indians' camp—except Score—is confident he will win 20 games or more this season.

"I'm glad they have confidence in me, but I may not win a game," Score said Wednesday.

"Just because I had a good season last year doesn't mean I'll be as good this year. Every season, every game is a new one.

Score, a devout Roman Catholic, says this is what he believes: "God gave me a good arm. It's up to me to work hard, and learn all I can. That's what I'm trying to do.

"I'm still pretty wild. That's what gets me into trouble. Oh, I don't throw over the backstop but I walked 150 in 1955."

Three thrills still stand out in the 1955 season for the 23-year-old lad from Florida.

"The first was when Bob Feller threw a one-hitter to beat Boston in the first game of a double header and I struck out 16 in winning the second. Another was the game that gave me enough strikeouts to set a major league record.

"But the biggest thrill was the nicest. It didn't happen all at once. It was the faith manager Al Lopez had in me. He went along with me when I pitched three or four very bad games in a row. . . . He stayed with me, and didn't quit. I'll always remember that."

Sigl Engi, head of the school, said 54 instructors are being used to teach the fledgling skiers.

"The way I figure it ADS make JOBS!"

Take me. I'm an aircraft worker. And take this ad. It tells people how much time and money they can save by flying.

Advertising like this is one big reason why air transportation has just about tripled in the past ten years!

And it's a big reason why there are more airplanes to build, more work for people like me, more money going into the pockets of everyone in the West.

And more people flying helps keep the fares down, too. Maybe you've noticed that airline fares have stayed at about their 1939 level. Fact is, in coach fares, they're lower.

Lockman May Ride Giants' Bench as Shakeup Pondered

Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, the stylish North Carolinian who did so much to bring National league championship to New York in 1954 and 1955, may be riding the Giants' bench this season. Bill Rigney, the club's freshman manager, indicated as much Wednesday.

Shorties Honored

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Terry Tebbis of Brigham Young and Joe Capua of Wyoming today were named to the eighth annual United Press "Small America" basketball team.

Golden Gloves Field Trimmed At Chicago

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—Pete Rademacher, 1953 National AAU heavyweight champion, easily survived his quarterfinal test and one returning champion was eliminated in Wednesday night's Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at the Chicago stadium.

Nashville's Rademacher appeared in the class of the big boys in this marathonic ring test of the best amateurs west of the Alleghenies with a three-round decision over Booker Staten of Kansas City, Mo.

Logan Is Key Man in Braves' Pennant Hopes

BRADENTON, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Eddie Mathews hits more home runs. Hank Aaron hits for higher averages and Bill Bruton steals more bases.

The 29-year-old shortstop from Endicott, N. Y., just missed out in the voting for the all-star team last July, finishing second to Ernie Banks of Chicago.

Despite the fine season, Logan has one regret. He didn't lead in fielding—the first time he missed in four years.

"I'm shooting to lead the league this year," he said at the Braves' camp. "Maybe I concentrated a little too much on hitting last season."

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 1 (AP)—A burly southern gentleman who used to break up more ball games than bad weather is hanging around the New York Giant's batting cage here.

His name is John Mize and his mission is to keep Giant batters from swinging where the ball isn't.

"So far about all I've been doing is watching," the once great slugger of the Cardinals, Giants and Yankees said.

John probably will change a few batting stances and swings a little later on.

Oakley Loses in M-Men's Tourney. PITTSBURGH, March 1 (AP)—Superb St. Green, Duquesne university's All-American hopeful, scored 40 points tonight in leading Duquesne to a smashing 87-86 victory over Dayton university in one of the biggest upsets of the college basketball season.

The underdog Dukes, who had won only 13 of 22 games going into the contest, had to come from behind in the second half. Green had 23 points in the first half.

The defeat was only the third in 35 games for the Ohioans who rank third in the current Associated Press poll.

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Even if Wes Santee had been cleared of charges he accepted excessive expense money, it's doubtful he could have appeared in the Olympics, an AAU official said Wednesday.

3. Santee's lawyer, Charles P. Grimes, refused to comment on the report.

Non-Scheduled Flight

German Fighter Wants Chance at Big Money

PORTLAND, Ore., March 1 (AP)—Peter Mueller, "The clown of Cologne" was dead serious here today when he said, "I want a money fight, whether it's in Portland or elsewhere."

Mueller took a unanimous 10-round decision over Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix, Ariz., at the auditorium here Tuesday night.

Mueller and Lane were going to remain in Portland for a few days, waiting for offers to come in for the services of the stocky German.

A tentative date for the winner of Tuesday night's bout with fourth ranked Milo Savage has apparently fallen through. Moyer had hoped to stage the fight here next month.

Today Moyer was toying with the idea of matching Mueller with Ernie Durando in a third bout here for the acknowledged German champ.

Logan upped his extra base production in '55, tying with Aaron for the lead with 37 doubles. Johnny also smashed 13 homers last season, his career's high.

Schadewitz Still Leading Scoring Race

SEATTLE, March 1 (AP)—Ted Schadewitz of Eastern Oregon College held firmly to his rating as the Pacific Northwest's steadiest basketball player.

For quibblers, the Schadewitz figure is 21.97, but nobody is close enough to the Gunner of the Grande Ronde to argue. In second place with a 21.8 average is Don Porter of Linfield and third spot is ruled by R. C. Owens of College of Idaho at 21.1.

Two other players are averaging in the 19-point area with only a few games left to play. Cal Bauer of Seattle checked in with 19.4 and Dave Gambee of Oregon State has averaged 19.1.

'Stolen' Punching Bag Causes Baseball Tiff

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1 (AP)—A punching bag that has never been touched by a boxing glove may become the innocent target of a spring training oral sparring match between manager Freddie Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Birdie Tebbetts, his Cincinnati Redlegs' counterpart.

The bag, decorated with a caricature that faintly resembles an umpire's frowning features, originally was purchased as a gag by Dewey Soriano, Seattle general manager. He hung it in the team's clubhouse to tease Hutchinson, then Seattle manager.

Soriano's idea was for Hutch, who is a hard loser, to blow off steam with a few punches at the bag instead of at umpires. Hutchinson went along with the gag.

After Hutchinson was appointed manager of the Cardinals, Soriano met Cardinal general manager Frank Lane and promised to send the bag to St. Louis.

Gabe Paul, however, heard about it, and when Cincinnati signed a working agreement with Seattle last fall, the Reds' general manager insisted his club had a priority on the bag because of that agreement.

"Now if Lane and Hutchinson are anxious to get the bag," Paul related gleefully, "maybe they'll be willing to make a player trade and I'll throw it in for good measure."

Lane and Hutchinson, however, did not see anything funny about Paul's "steal" of the punching bag. "I only wanted it so I could disagree of it," Lane explained. "I don't think that's a very funny gag."

The usually mild mannered Hutchinson was burned up. "Let them keep the damn thing," Hutch rasped. "That Tebbetts needs whom the PHILS HAVE since it's given up more than I do. He could use it himself, can't he?"

He practices up his punch, he's had several fights as a player and hasn't hit in the big leagues and he hasn't won one yet!

Rigby Leading Tourney Teams

IDAHO FALLS, March 1 (AP)—The field in the 6th district class A high school basketball tournament was assumed to three Wednesday night in a pair of thrilling contests. All three go to the state class A meet in Pocatello.

In the opener, the Madison Bobcats eliminated Sugar-Salem 43-42. The nightcap saw Rigby edge Bonneville 69-67 after two overtime periods. Sugar-Salem trailed 39-19 at the end of the third period.

The games left Rigby as the only undefeated team in the meet. Madison and Bonneville meet in a single game Thursday night to see which plays Rigby for the district title.

HEADING NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C. March 1 (AP)—Dick Casper of George Washington university and the seventh draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers has signed a 1956 contract with the British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial union.

Garcia Claims Indian Mound Staff Is Tough

TUCSON, Ariz., March 1 (AP)—Those reports about the "big three" of the Cleveland pitching staff cracking up are "a lot of hooey," the way Mike Garcia sees it.

"That's just stuff they make up to write," the big righthander scoffed.

"Sure, I know they say we're getting too old," he said. "But I think Early (Wynn), Bob (Lemon) and myself have a lot of good pitching years left. I think we'll all have good seasons this year."

At 32, Garcia is the youngest member of the Tribe's big three—a combination that has won 497 American league pitching victories.

Last season Garcia had his first losing year since he broke into professional baseball in 1942. He won 11 and lost 13.

"I know it was a bad year for me," he said. "Anyone can have a bad year. I know I didn't feel my age. I didn't have any aches. I just lost."

Wynn was 17-11 in 1955 and Lemon was 23-12 and Garcia had 19 victories.

John probably will change a few batting stances and swings a little later on.

Santee's Olympic Hopes Dim as New Facts Revealed

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Even if Wes Santee had been cleared of charges he accepted excessive expense money, it's doubtful he could have appeared in the Olympics, an AAU official said Wednesday.

"I'm certain we never could have entered him in the games because the international federation wouldn't permit it after reading his testimony," said Irving Schoolman, a member of the executive committee which imposed the ban.

The AAU Tuesday released the report of a committee appointed to investigate Santee. It brought about these developments:

1. Pihky Sober, who wrote the report, in effect challenged the star pitcher to try to upset the executive committee's jurisdiction in the case.

Fourth? Meets Former T. F. Recruiter

Mrs. Pearl Aldrich, clerk of the Twin Falls selective service board, chats with Sgt. 1/c Paul H. Marshall during a visit to Ft. Ord, Calif. Sergeant Marshall is a former recruiting sergeant stationed here. Mrs. Aldrich was among a group of Idahoans touring Ft. Ord to inspect the six-month training program for reservists under the reserve forces act of 1955. Sergeant Marshall is a member of the sixth infantry division weapons training faculty at Ft. Ord. (U. S. army photo—staff engraving)

Visitors Impressed by Modern Living Facilities in Fort Tour

Modern living facilities provided the outstanding impression of Ft. Ord, Calif., for Magic Valley civilians who toured the fort last weekend as guests of the sixth army commander.

The tour was designed to acquaint interested civilians with the aspects of training men between the ages of 17 and 18½ years, who are participating under the reserve forces act of 1955.

This program consists of six months of active duty followed by seven and one-half years in the enlistee's hometown reserve unit.

Seven Magic Valley people, along with 28 other Idaho citizens began the tour on 18-passenger army planes, leaving from Gowen field, Boise.

Upon arrival they began the inspection tour immediately, visiting the living barracks and physical training courses. Friday night they witnessed an infiltration course.

The "tourists" were treated like army personnel, eating half their meals in officer mess and the rest with the enlisted men.

Men were bunked in regulation army barracks and the women were housed in "VIP rooms."

The group returned to Gowen field Saturday evening.

Hangover Will Be "Hero" of Factual Show

LONDON, March 1 (AP)—A new film is coming out with a hangover as its hero. Yes, the thing you wake up with the morning after.

The producer of the film, a cartoon, is the World Health Organization, which alleges it is neither for temperance or against drink but only interested in education.

"We don't say you should or shouldn't drink," said Mrs. Mary Mapes-Losey, head of the visual media unit. "We just say here is what happens when you do drink."

Drinks Too Much
"Johnnie," presumably the average man, has had too much to drink when the film opens.

"He lies this one on," said Mrs. Mapes-Losey, who originally is from New York. "When he asks himself, 'What is alcohol anyway?' Various people give him half-baked answers; we give him unprejudiced facts."

These facts were approved for accuracy by Prof. Elvin M. Jellinek, 68, consultant to the WHO on the problems of alcoholism and was formerly director of the Yale university school of alcohol studies.

Facts Explained
"Johnnie" discovers how he got his hangover, what happens to alcohol in the system, how it is oxidized in the liver, how it reaches the brain, how it may develop anaesthetic properties, exactly what causes drunkenness.

While this is going on audiences will also learn that in moderation drink is part of numerous social customs and usages—celebrations of birth and marriages and so on—and that many find it enjoyable.

"We thought," said Mrs. Mapes-Losey, "it would be a good idea to replace the mythology of drink with some scientific facts."

Spring Date Set
The cartoon was drawn by former Hollywood cartoonist, Phil Stapp and is being produced in London. The premiere is scheduled for early spring.

"This first version is in English," Mrs. Mapes-Losey said. "But we may make French and Spanish versions later. And if the Russians are interested, we'll make a Russian version, too."

Neutral observers believe the Russians will claim they had the first hangovers.

D. Wicher, who also had resigned.

RETURN HOME

ALMO, March 1 — Dean Barnes and Robert Brackenbury have returned to Arizona after visiting here. Junior Edwards returned with them. Mrs. Blaine Tubbs and Mrs. Norma Holmes have returned to Ogdan after visiting their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Edwards.

Competing for State Ritual Title of Elks Lodge

These officers of Twin Falls Elks lodge No. 1183 will compete for the state ritual title as a result of winning the district championship. From left, back row, are Domer W. Bertsch, esteemed loyal knight; Elwin A. Bakutey, lecturing knight; A. W. Madland, esteemed leading knight; and Howard Allen, inner guard; front row, George Wallace, chaplain; Robert E. White, exalted ruler; A. S. Cutting, equire, and David Fox, past exalted ruler who serves as candidate for the initiation ritual. (Staff photo-engraving)

Extra Vision Qualities Could Be Presented to All Persons

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Vision, a quality that is supposed to be the property of seers, enabling them to stare at blank walls and see the future, now is being thrust upon all of us by science.

In hurling succession, there have been announcements of three new peep machines that will enable:

1. Man to see in the dark.
2. Military commanders to see the battle without getting shot at.
3. Auto mechanics to peer into what ails your motor without performing exploratory surgery.

The auto engine trouble-spotter, an electronic device developed by the Allen B. Dumont laboratories, is called a "TV-type engine analyzer." Its diagnosis of the troubles of a suffering engine appears in the form of patterns of light in a picture tube screen.

The battle viewer is a portable television camera and transmitter, developed by the army engineering laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and nicknamed "Creepie-Peeple" by some army devotee of flimsy whimsy. A scout with the transmitter on his back and the camera to his eye can serve a dual role: 1) Deliver a panorama of battle back to the boss at the command post, and, 2) Give some legitimacy to that old army cry of "ah, my aching back."

The TV transmitter on his back, complete with tiny antenna, will weigh 47 pounds, a backload to reckon with. The camera in his hands will weigh eight pounds. The picture he serves up to the general, back among the sandbags, will be mated with action and, if the enemy is smart, commercials.

No enemy, knowing it was on screen before the opposing brass, could resist a bit of spot commercial propaganda during skirmish breaks. You can imagine one of our generals settling down to watch an artillery barrage when suddenly from a bunker rises a sign: "Dear General, desertions increasing lately? Be smart! Try the red line way. Serve dialectical materialism to your men."

to mankind are apparent. Even errant husbands can benefit. Arriving home late at night with a longing to sneak to bed without turning on the lights, they now can, for a mere $9,500—navigate the darkness without stumbling on the stairs or knocking over a single piece of furniture. Science is wonderful.

But by long odds the most intriguing new machine is the one that will put us on an even footing—or, more accurately, even with the owl and alley cat. This gadget will enable man, at last, to see in deep dark. That is, it will enable those men who are able to pay $9,500 per gadget.

This device, nicknamed "Eva" because its proper name is "Evapograph," was developed by Bard Associates, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass. It works by picking up infrared rays thrown off by all objects. You can use it either to view directly or make a photographic record of things that pass in the night.

The myriad uses of this new boon today!

Canada, Russ Inking 3-Year Trade Treaty

OTTAWA, March 1 (AP)—A three-year trade treaty has been signed by Canada and Russia. Trade Minister C. D. Howe announced in parliament yesterday.

Under the treaty Russia will buy between 1,200,000 and 1,500,000 tons of Canadian wheat in annual lots of 400,000 to 500,000 tons.

The total over the three years must not amount to less than 1,200,000 tons and in any individual year not less than 400,000 tons.

"The Russian purchases of wheat are to be made at the prices and on the terms at which the Canadian wheat board is making sales to its major customers of such times as the Soviet purchases take place," Howe said.

"The exact amounts to be purchased in the second and third years . . . will be determined by the government of the USSR, taking into account the volume of Soviet goods sold to Canada," he added.
