Drop Eyed In Incomes Of Farmer

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Total farmer income fell nearly one billion dollars last year, the agriculture department said today. While this was happening, a department report said, the income of the non-farm segment of the nation's economy was rising above 1954 levels. The department said the income of the nation's farm population, from all sources, last year totaled a little more than 19 billion dollars for an individual average of $860. This compared with just under 20 billions received in 1954 for an individual average of $913, or $53 more than last year.

The non-farm population was said to have received total income of 275 billions last year for an individual average of $1,837. Included in the farm income estimate were net returns of farm operators, farm wages, allowances for home consumption of farm products and rental value of farm dwellings, changes in inventory values of farm products held by farmers, and earnings from non-farm sources, such as investments, off-farm employment and the like.

A big factor in the decline in farm earnings—a major political issue in this presidential election year—was a further drop of about 10 percent in farm product prices. Also contributing was a small increase in farm production costs. The drop in prices was offset to some extent by a three per cent increase in the volume of farm production last year.

Need of Hike For Hospital Tax Is Aired

The need for additional taxes to bring Magic Valley Memorial hospital up to date in its equipment and facilities was discussed by members of the hospital board at a meeting Monday afternoon.

The discussion followed a visit from the state attorney general's office that the one and one-half mill levy is incorporated in the Idaho code and cannot be raised without legislative action.

C. D. Hatt, board member, noted through the cost of operation and wages are increasing, the tax levy had remained the same for more than 11 years. "A hospital is a necessary part of a community that must be maintained. While taxes for schools and law enforcement have gone up, the hospital levy has remained the same," he said.

Henry Crow, county commissioner, added that the tax brought in $112,000 for public assistance and medical care of the needy. The current year's budget includes $120,000 for this expense and the amount must be managed carefully to make it last through the year, he said.

On the same matter, doctors of the hospital reported they have given approximately $24,000 worth of medical care to county dependents and have received $8,000 in reimbursement. The group decided to contact other county hospitals on the matter to (Continued on Page 6, Column 1)

"Ike" Stresses Moral Values In New Talk

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower, in his first public appearance since his second re-election announcement, said today the Republican party should base its program on "moral and spiritual values."

"If a political party does not have its foundation in the determination to advance the cause that is right, that is moral," he said. "It is not a party that merely a conspiracy which is to seize power."

Mr. Eisenhower made the statements in a surprise appearance before 1,500 wildly cheering delegates of the Republican women's national conference here.

Hears Praise

He went to the meeting directly from the White House where Republican congressional leaders had told him his decision to run for reelection "will improve" the party's chance of regaining control of congress.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, Calif., said the president was in "great spirits" at the legislative conference and showed a good sense of humor in his discussions.

At the meeting of Republican women, Mr. Eisenhower stood under huge pictures of himself and his predecessor, Richard M. Nixon. A sign proclaimed: "peace—prosperity—progress."

Counting on Women

The president said he was counting heavily on the women of America, with their responsibility for bringing the young, to support high moral and spiritual values in political life.

He also said he was counting on the Republican women in each of the GOP's 48 states, "how far it goes, what is left to do and what it means to the country and the world."

Mountain Home Planes Ready to Use H-Bomb, A-Bomb, General Says

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—Brig. Gen. William C. Kingsbury, commander of the ninth bomb wing, told an Idaho civil defense meeting yesterday that Mountain Home air force base is ready to use hydrogen or atomic bombs against "any target on the face of the globe."

It was the first public statement that the southwestern Idaho base, where the ninth bomb wing is stationed, is dealing in thermonuclear or atomic bombs. Kingsbury declined to say whether the bombs are actually stored at the base.

He also said the base would be a prime target of the Russian air force in the event of an outbreak of war. "The ninth bomb wing is a part of the strategic air command with the responsibility of destroying any targets on the face of the globe when it is so directed by the joint chiefs of staff in Washington," he told the conference.

Extensive Probe Due On State Blind Setup

In spite of the fact the survey team sent to Idaho by the National Federation of the Blind to investigate the State School for the Deaf and Blind at Gooding was not given permission Monday by the state board of education to evaluate the school, members of the survey team intend to remain in the state to probe into other phases of the blind program in Idaho.

Durward McDaniel, Oklahoma City attorney who is chairman of the team, said the team will accede to the wishes of Gov. Robert E. Smylie and the board of education and will not pursue its direct investigation of the school until after the report of the state-appointed survey team has been made.

Highway 93 Cleared Of Snowy Barricade

As snow continues to pile up in the watersheds of the Sawtooth national forest, residents of Stanley and Clayton Monday finished digging through the first serious snowdrift of the season. The slide roared down from the mountainside in the vicinity of Rough creek Saturday, blocking highway 93 until Monday afternoon.

Traffic along the road has returned to normal but residents are anticipating more serious slides throughout the area as the weather grows warmer. Meanwhile, snow reports from the upper Snake river watersheds show the snow and water content to be far in excess of normal and surveys taken by airplane in the higher elevations of the Sawtooth national forest show the snowpack to be about twice as great as normal.

Still Loyal

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—The state's loyalty index is up, according to a report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The index, which measures the loyalty of state residents, rose to 81.5 in February from 79.5 in January.

The report said the index is a composite of 15 factors, including the number of persons who are members of the Communist party, the number of persons who are members of the National Youth Administration, the number of persons who are members of the National Student Reliance League, the number of persons who are members of the National Student Reliance League, the number of persons who are members of the National Student Reliance League.

Mr. Eisenhower said that this step, combined with his atoms-for-peace program, "would reverse the present trend toward a constant increase in nuclear weapons overhauling the world."

"My ultimate hope is that all production of fissionable materials anywhere in the world will be devoted exclusively to peaceful purposes," Mr. Eisenhower said.

This was the main feature of Mr. Eisenhower's letter inviting Bulganin to consider new East-West disarmament steps stressing control of the "nuclear threat" to the world. Mr. Eisenhower also:

1. Again rejected Bulganin's previous offer of a 20-year American-Soviet friendship treaty. Mr. Eisenhower did not refer to the proposal directly. But he said his previous view remains "generally" as expressed in January. He said, however, that he will continue to study the problem to see if any "useful new steps" can be taken.

2. Insisted that adoption of his "open skies" aerial inspection proposal, combined with ground inspection teams, would "lead to a reduction of armaments, the lessening of tensions, and the brightening of the prospects of a durable peace."

Bulganin on Sept. 18 had proposed use of ground inspection teams at key points. The President said Oct. 11 that he would be prepared to accept this.

3. Proposed that arms limitations be sought primarily, though not exclusively, in terms of controls on "armaments rather than on men."

The President said initial action toward agreements could be taken at the forthcoming five-power disarmament meeting in London. But he said these steps toward disarmament would take a long time to work out with other nations as well.

Idahoans Set Reclamations As Main Aims

IDAHO FALLS, March 6 (AP)—Upper Snake river valley water users, looking along the river from Ashton to Bliss, say they will oppose any federal power project on the river that would not have reclamation as a major objective. A resolution to that effect was passed yesterday during a meeting of the users in district 38. The group said it would specifically oppose any purely power project which would endanger existing and future water rights in Idaho and which would lead to federal instead of state control of the Snake and its tributaries. The delegates also expressed strong opposition to any measure which would establish a Columbia basin authority in the Columbia basin watershed. Lynn Crandall, Idaho Falls, was elected to his 27th straight term as watermaster of the district and N. V. Sharp, Filer, was re-elected district chairman.

Israel Claims Egypt Forces Provoke War

JERUSALEM, March 6 (AP)—Israel accused Egypt today of three new acts of aggression and demanded an emergency meeting of the mixed armistice commission to discuss the charges. An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman made the charges as the heads of state of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria met in Cairo in a meeting that could determine the future of peace in the Middle East. The spokesman listed the three "acts of aggression" as follows: 1. The incursion of Israeli territory by Egyptian armed patrols at Hazerim, west of BeerSheva. 2. The killing of an Israeli soldier at Nir Itzhak near the Gaza strip when his car hit an Egyptian land mine. 3. The Egyptian shelling of three Israeli positions at Kissufim. The spokesman said the commission meeting was requested because the incidents were not isolated but served to highlight the growing volume of Egyptian aggression against Israel. These and a series of clashes yesterday between Israelis and Syrians and between Israelis and Egyptians already had heightened the Middle East crisis that again threatened to explode into open warfare. King Said of Saudi Arabia flew to Cairo today from his desert kingdom for the series of talks called originally for next week as a "council of war."

No Illegal Act Is Involved in Money Offers

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Sen. Walter F. George said today that a $2,500 campaign contribution offered to Sen. Francis Case by an oil lobbyist seems to have involved no "illegal act" but some "manifestly improper" conduct.

George, D. Ga., is chairman of a blue-ribbon senate committee which yesterday completed nine days of hearings on the contribution.

Case rejected the $2,500—offered by lobbyist John M. Neff, Lexington, Neb., during controversy over the natural gas bill—and reported the matter to the senate. George said Case was to be "commended" for calling the offer to the senate's attention.

"Influence" Noted

George said that, speaking for himself rather than for the committee, he thought Neff's activities on behalf of the gas bill were "undoubtedly" an attempt to "influence" the senate. Neff's activities extended to five states and were undertaken in part when the gas bill was actually before the senate for debate.

Neff admitted yesterday that he also offered to make a campaign contribution—which another witness said amounted to $2,500—to the campaign funds of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., if Hickenlooper was "in favor" of the gas bill.

George said Neff's activities were "intended to bolster sentiment that previously existed or to persuade others—members of the senate—to support the bill."

No Offense Seen

"So far as I know, there was no legal offense committed anywhere," the senator said. But he added that some of Neff's transactions were "manifestly improper."

George said there appears to be no question "but that the money involved came from the 'personal funds' of Howard B. Keck, president of Superior Oil company, and was passed to Neff by Elmer Patman, 35,000-a-year attorney for Superior Oil."

George said the only money that actually changed hands, according to the testimony, went by way of a regular campaign contribution to GOP state funds in Nebraska and as never been spent. Unless the "mere effort" constitutes an offense, George said he can see no "illegal act" described in the testimony.

Demos Advocate New Campaign Tactics, Charge President With Responsibilities

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney said yesterday Democrats should not play on the issue of President Eisenhower's health like a "stuck whistle" but should charge him with responsibility for his administration.

"The Oklahoma Democrat added, however, that Mr. Eisenhower's health, as a result of his heart attack last fall, will be an 'unavoidable' issue during the 1956 campaign because the President himself made it one."

Monroney told a reporter that many Democrats have always assumed that Mr. Eisenhower would be a one-term President. Hence, he said, the President "has enjoyed a political sanctuary such as no other American has had in history" while Democratic criticism has focused on his advisers.

Now that Mr. Eisenhower is a candidate for re-election, Monroney said, he must be charged with responsibility for such issues as the administration's farm and defense programs, which are under heavy Democratic fire.

As soon as Mr. Eisenhower made his second term announcement last week, Democrats talked about a "part-time President" and raised the issue again.

health issue against the President. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall promptly said the issue would boomerang and lose votes for the Democrats. In rebuttal, Democrats like Monroney replied that Mr. Eisenhower had himself made the issue by public discussion of his health.

Since the President's announcement there have been some widely varying interpretations of its impact on the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The consensus appeared to be that the principal contenders—Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Estes Kefauver, Gov. Averell Harriman and Gov. G. Mennen Williams—are still available. Some of the potential dark horses, however, may stay in the stables.

Monroney, a Stevenson backer who thinks Mr. Eisenhower can be beaten, said the President's announcement should strengthen Stevenson because the Democrats now know they must field their "first team."

On the other hand, some southern Democrats who believe Mr. Eisenhower is almost unbeatable tend to regard the nomination now as a caretaker assignment. They believe Stevenson's hand may be strengthened by a feeling that he deserves the assignment because he shouldered the job in 1952 and has toiled for the party since.

Another school of southern thinking sees Stevenson stronger because he is more acceptable to the South than his rivals. These southerners believe that with Mr. Eisenhower heading the GOP ticket, the Democrats dare not risk the loss of southern electoral votes to a rebellious third party like that formed in 1948.

Leon Trotsky Reinstated in Red Histories

MOSCOW, March 6 (AP)—The meticulous revision of the history of communism today reduced the crimes of Leon Trotsky from high treason to simple disagreement.

Trotsky, the arch enemy of the late Josef Stalin, was assassinated in Mexico in 1940 where he had fled after being exiled for being such things as a "spy," a "traitor" and an "enemy of the people."

The academic journal "Problems of History" said Trotsky was an "ideological conflict" with V. I. Lenin. It said Trotsky was wrong and was outvoted on various political questions.

The journal implied that these were the reasons why Stalin and not Trotsky won the battle for control in the Soviet Union when Lenin, the master revolutionary, died in 1924.

Although the journal did not cleanse Trotsky of the stigma of deviation from the teachings of Karl Marx and Lenin, it abstained from the usual method of damnation—attributing to him sinister and personal motives for his differences with Lenin.

It described Trotsky as "anti-party and anti-Leninist."

The new treatment of Trotsky is part of an intensive campaign to rewrite the history of the past 20 to 30 years. Many prominent figures of the Russian revolution in 1917 who were disgraced and outlawed in the middle 1930s are being reinstated and given their rightful place in history.

Seeks Revenue

KOFU, Japan, March 6 (AP)—Tokushi Hamada asked the government for permission today to form a company to pick up used shells on the U.S. military range on the slopes of Mt. Fuji.

Hamada said the metal from each shell yields $2.80 from metal brokers and one Honest John shell brings almost $70.

The figure was decided on after three years of hard bargaining.

Transient Killed By Heart Attack

WALLACE, March 6 (AP)—A 45-year-old transient, found dead in his cell in the city jail, died of a heart attack, a report said yesterday.

Coroner H. B. Mowery made the diagnosis after the body of Ben A. Sirginson was found on a bunk during a routine check of the jail.

Sirginson, formerly of Lewiston, Ida., had been booked on a drunkenness charge after attempting to sell some of it to a service station attendant Saturday night.

Search Ended

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., March 6 (AP)—The U. S. northeast air command said last night the search for a C-124 Globemaster, missing since Friday out of Keflavik, Iceland, on a trip to Goose Bay, Labrador, was suspended at dusk yesterday.

Bits of charred plywood and oxygen bottles found bobbing 210 miles from Iceland were positively identified as belonging to the C-124. The plane carried 17 persons.

Area Resident Talks for Meet Of Game Unit

NEW ORLEANS, March 6 (AP)—An explanation of how "plot" conservation districts help both the rancher and the sportsman was given here Tuesday by Harvey S. Hale, Roger, son, chairman of the public lands committee of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, at the 21st North American Wildlife conference.

This is the first time in the history of the conference a western cattleman has been asked to participate on the program of the wildlife institute.

Hale gave the history of the formation of pilot conservation districts in the west and showed how their use had improved range conditions for ranchers and hunting and fishing conditions for the sportsman.

"The Northeast Elko soil conservation district, the first of such districts to be formed, to illustrate the improved conditions."

"The production of wildlife is considered the second most important interest in the district," he said. Resected areas have taken the pressure of higher browse ranges where deer feed and deer have increased in the area.

"There are 50 deer now where there was only one 25 years ago," he said.

Cooperation between the various departments administering federal land, fish and game departments and individuals have made this possible, he emphasized.

U. S. Experts Eye Plans to Defend U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—America's military chiefs are working on new defense strategy in the seclusion of a comfortable Puerto Rican air base, far from the din and controversies of Washington.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson faced questioning about the high command's secret mission late today at his first news conference since Feb. 1.

The Pentagon, which concealed the exodus of the joint chiefs of staff for two days, said last night they are at Ramey air force base "to devote their full time this week, without interruption, to JCS business."

A major item of business is the chiefs' order from Wilson to take a detailed "new look" at the size and make-up of the armed forces that will be needed in the coming three years.

In the background are changing Russian economic and military policies, and increasing threats from Soviet technological progress in such fields as guided missiles and long-range air power.

Congressional and Pentagon concern over the threats has led to a senate investigation headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D. Mo. His armed services subcommittee yesterday named Fowler Hamilton, New York trial lawyer and World War II air force official, to be counsel for the inquiry which is planned to start by April 1. Symington said a major goal will be to determine whether under present policies "the United States and its allies could survive a sudden, all-out, atomic attack and be able in turn to rise up and destroy the attackers."

Deceased Indian Is Called Saviour

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 6 (AP)—The American-owned Anaconda company announced yesterday that it has changed the name of its new Chilean copper mine from In-El-Muerto—dead Indian—to El Salvador—the saviour.

Rodolfo Michaels, president of Anaconda's local subsidiary Chile exploration company, said the new mine would save the company from any loss resulting from the exhaustion of another of its mines.

Roy Glover, board chairman of Anaconda, announced during a recent visit that the company would invest $3 million dollars to bring El Salvador mine into production.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The Republican vice presidential situation has become mixed-up in the wake of President Eisenhower's decision to stand for a second term.

Ray Tucker

Although Ike has refused to tap Nixon as his preferred running mate, which would have closed the field to other entries, it is not definite that the second-place incumbent is out of the race.

Other vice president possibilities—Assuming that Nixon may be sidelined, the possible choice of Humphrey or Knowland is reached by a process of cold, calculating, political elimination of other possibilities.

Democrats and Ike's health—Except for Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democrats have indicated already that they will raise the health issue against Ike.

Objections to Humphrey and Knowland—There are objections to both Humphrey and Knowland. The secretary of the treasury will be 66 years old on March 8.

Views of others—Kootenays do things big. In the lofty valleys of British Columbia's Kootenays, they habitually do things big.

Nehru holds up mirror—Often we in this country lambaste India's Prime Minister Nehru for what we regard as his shortsighted view of communism's dangers.

Fugitive information—In addition to official and known avenues of intelligence, the United States is getting more data on conditions within the Soviet and satellite countries than ever before.

Salaries in the colleges—Salaries in private liberal arts colleges still are ridiculously low, says G. T. Vander Lugt, president of Central college at Pella.

Students in an Illinois high school were reprimanded for dancing in a hall with the lights turned out. Called on account of darkness.

The New York Times recently informed us that Eberhart E. Murrow, Fred W. Friendly and staff of the Columbia Broadcasting system, among others, had received "awards" from the Educational Writers' association.

Mr. Murrow's services in the last few years have won him a host of such badges. They have consisted in the main of two opposing but mutually complementary parts.

Writer Criticizing Results on Mother-in-Law-of-Year Ballots

By HENRY McLEMORE. I have at hand a letter from Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, Palm Springs, Calif., in which she happily informs me that she has just been named Mother-in-Law of the Year.

That admission, to my way of thinking, should have eliminated her from consideration as mother-in-law of the year.

Discovery No. 1, one of the members of the small committee which chose Mrs. Bunker as Frank Bogert, general manager of the El Mirador hotel, and what relation to the winner do you think Brother Bogert?

I'm not blaming Mr. Bogert, mind you; he did the only sane, sensible thing. But by no stretch of the imagination can the Palm Springs election be judged as an unbiased or open and aboveboard contest.

Mass Killings Are Reported

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 6—Reliable informants reported yesterday that Romania's Communist government has launched a new wave of terror, executing hundreds of opponents and dumping bodies on the street.

The informants said they had checked and doublechecked the reports because of their "unbelievable nature."

They claimed several hundred persons apparently had been executed summarily in recent months.

The sources said the first reports of the executions and public display of bodies on the streets came from refugees reaching the West as early as last autumn.

The refugee reports were later confirmed, it was said, and since then new and fresher reports of the terror wave have been reaching Western sources.

Soldier Becomes Nation's Leader

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, March 6—A professional soldier who was too poor to buy his first uniform is president-elect of El Salvador, Central America's smallest country.

Col. Jose Maria Lemus 44, was elected Sunday as the candidate of President Oscar Osorio's Revolutionary Party of Democratic Unification in a vote formally boycotted by the opposition. He is to succeed Osorio in September.

For seven years Lemus has been interior minister of El Salvador, whose coffee plantations are its economic mainstay. The country is somewhat smaller than New Hampshire, totaling 8,259 square miles.

The united four-party opposition had forecast election frauds and withdrawn its candidates.

Truman Says 'Facts' Stated In His Books

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 6 (AP)—Former President Truman said the remarks in his second volume of his memoirs, which went on sale yesterday, would stand "because I stated the facts."

"Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Bernard Baruch, and former ambassador Patrick Hurley have taken exception to parts of the book."

"If people do not agree with me, that is their privilege," Mr. Truman said, "but those are the facts." He said he would follow the same procedure under the same circumstances, "according to the facts," as he saw them at the periods covered in the volume.

"Mr. Truman said he had no plans to write further, but he added he dictated 1,500,000 words and only a half-million were used; 'no more people had better look out for the rest of it.'"

"The news conference turned to politics when Mr. Truman was asked if he believed the Democrats should duplicate the tactics of the successful 1948 campaign."

"Every presidential year has different conditions that must be met as they come up," Mr. Truman said. "In 1948 I wanted the people to be informed of the issues. It was the only way I could get the issues to the people, because 90 per cent of the press was against me. Maybe this year we will have a fair press and can get the issues to the people without a whistle-stop campaign."

As far as his own ambitions go, he said, "President Truman has had his turn of the White House and if I had wanted to stay, I wouldn't have left." He said he thought it was time the younger generation took over.

See if a bill could be drawn up and submitted to the state legislature. Hist. John Breckenridge, C. D. Lunte and Jack Ramsey were appointed to a committee to organize the project.

In her monthly report, Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator, noted the number of patient days in February was the highest since March, 1953. She said 12 additional beds on the third floor were prepared because of the possibility of an accident or emergency which would require additional beds.

She also read the annual report of the Magic Valley Hospital gulf submitted by last year's gulf president, Mrs. Glenn Voyles.

Mrs. Voyles noted that although the monthly business meetings have been discontinued, gulf committees remained active. The organization's calling teams made over 500 visits to patients in the hospital last year, writing letters and doing errands for the more confined patients.

She said two of the major accomplishments of the gulf in 1955 were donation of the portable electrocardiograph and promotion of better public relations.

Directors voted to send the gulf a letter commending members on the work and cooperation.

A letter of thanks was authorized to Joe Pullman, Burley Brick and Sand company. Pullman replaced the bricks of the front door planter, which had been eroded by water, at no charge.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. April 9 with the executive board meeting at 7 p.m.

Articles Returned After Nine Years

TAMPA, Fla., March 6 (AP)—After nine years, Mrs. Joe Campisi has her pocketbook which she lost here nine years ago—$11, baby bottle and all. She received the pocketbook in the mail from Mrs. I. W. Bravo, Jr., Atlanta, who wrote that while going through a trunk she ran across "your long ago found but never returned pocketbook."

Mrs. Bravo said she was sorry she kept it so long "but to be honest with you I had packed it away when we moved here with the intention of mailing it to Tampa, then I completely forgot about it."

Liquor Changed

PARIS, March 6 (AP)—The Frenchman has taken to bolting away a hooker of scotch after his evening meal instead of sipping a matured cognac, the nation's cognac makers complained today.

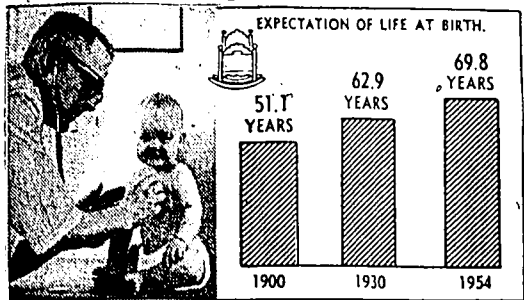

"They considered the threat to their product as serious as the one faced by wine makers after World War II when thousands of Frenchmen gave up wine in favor of an American soft drink."

Double Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 6 (AP)—U. S. Delegate Mason Sears apologized to India's V. K. Menon for calling him "frightened of a vote" and substituted the word "apprehensive" for "frightened."

"It means the same thing," Krishna Menon said. "Or at least it does in English. I don't know about American."

Longer Life

Medical science and technology have conquered many diseases that once took a terrible toll of life. Medical research brings nearer the day when the few undefeated "killer" diseases remaining will meet their Waterloo. The average baby born today can expect to live nearly nine years longer than one born in 1900. (NEA)

Lawyers Are Newest Dupe Of Russ Plot

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Lawyers are the latest "dupes" of a major policy shift by the American Communist party, Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins said today.

The head of the justice department's internal security division said volunteer defense of communist leaders by local bar associations is helping the party in one of its "new look" drives—the attempt to undermine the Smith act.

Other new drives by the party include efforts to infiltrate "intellectual" groups, organization of "front" groups and a campaign to gain acceptance as a legitimate American political party.

Basic Aim Unchanged

"The basic aim of the party remains the same," Tompkins said. "That is the overthrow of the United States government by any means available."

A number of bar associations have been "duped" in the communist party strategy, Asst. Atty. Gen. Tompkins said through offering their legal services to defend so-called "second-string" communists, Tompkins said.

He cited the Cleveland Bar association, which took up a collection to defend 10 Smith act defendants. Four of the defendants recently were acquitted, while the others were convicted.

Defend Others

"I would like to see them take up a collection to defend a narcotics addict," Tompkins said.

The Smith act prohibits advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence. It has been the government's chief legal weapon against communist leaders.

"The bar associations that lend their support to this move are themselves dupes of Communist party strategy. And an indication of the effectiveness of Communist party propaganda is the fact that many of the persons challenging the Smith act sincerely believe they are defending civil rights," Tompkins said.

Money Lender Is Now in Big Chips

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 6 (AP)—Years of skipping pennies finally paid off today for Sam Bronstein, a shrewd money lender who turned a $3,600 investment into a $970,000 fortune.

Bronstein made a modest income over the years, hanging around St. Louis newspaper offices and loaning money to broke newsmen for a return of $6 for $5.

The elderly money lender meanwhile invested $5,000 in the Missouri Pacific railroad in 1936, when the railroad's company stock was selling at 75 cents on $1,000 par value. When the Mopac recently reported itself out of receivership, it was announced that Bronstein was holding $970,000 worth of the railroad's securities.

As a gesture to newsmen, Bronstein announced that the principal on a trust fund set up for his family will be turned over to the Missouri school of journalism. The investor estimated the principal will come to $30,000 a year.

Possible Toll of A-Attack Noted

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 6 (AP)—A nuclear attack on the United States, an army doctor said yesterday, could conceivably leave five million to 10 million persons dead or injured.

Col. Joseph R. Schaeffer, chief surgical consultant of the office of the army's surgeon general said that in event of attack there would be no time for planning afterward.

"Every doctor, nurse, dentist, veterinarian—anybody who knew anything about caring for injured persons—would be needed," Schaeffer told a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons.

Car Burns

RUPERT, March 6—Sheriff Theo Johnson, investigated an accident at 8:30 a.m. Monday five and one-fourth miles east of Rupert on highway 30N.

After Schultz and John Martin, owner of the car, Twin Falls, and another passenger had freed themselves from the vehicle, the car burst into flames.

Sultan Slates New Rule for Free Country

RABAT, Morocco, March 6 (AP)—Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef flew home from Paris yesterday to rule over a new and sovereign Morocco.

Before he left the French capital, Ben Youssef said he was confident Morocco and France soon would conclude a new treaty of cooperation and friendship.

But even as he made his remarks in Paris and prepared for a joyous welcome here, the sultan was faced with the task of putting down the terrorism that has plagued Morocco for months.

In the latest outbreak of violence, French troops and Moroccan rebels clashed near Taza in northeastern Morocco. French warplanes were called out to strafe and bomb the rebels.

In addition, authorities in the adjacent zone of Spanish Morocco suspended a demonstration scheduled for this afternoon in honor of the sultan's success in signing an accord for "independence within interdependence" for his kingdom. The demonstrations were believed canceled because the armed forces were compelled to fire in the air yesterday to dampen overly-enthusiastic supporters of the sultan.

Ben Youssef had warm words of thanks for France which gave Morocco independence last week after having ruled it as a protectorate for 44 years.

Female Rock Hound's Find of "Piece of Glass" Is Diamond

MURFREESBORO, Ark., March 6 (AP)—A 40-year-old Dallas housewife picked up what looked like a piece of glass near here—and it turned out to be a 15.31-carat diamond worth an estimated $15,000.

Mrs. Arthur Lee Parker had paid $1.50 to hunt for stones in a three-acre tract near here called the Crater of Diamonds. What she found is the largest gem ever discovered on the North American continent by an individual.

Mrs. Parker, the mother of two children and an amateur rock-hound, said "It easily could have been mistaken for a piece of broken glass. In fact, I think someone might have found it earlier and thrown it away, thinking it was glass."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller, operators of the crater, said during the past year some 15,000 persons have found 107 diamonds averaging .59 carats. But said Miller, "this is the finest stone I've ever seen. It's a perfect gem without a flaw."

Under admission terms at the crater, any diamond under five carats is "finders-keepers." On larger stones, the finder must pay a royalty of 25 per cent of the value over five carats to the owners and operators of the tourist enterprise.

And Arkansas has a four per cent severance tax on diamonds. The tax is based on market value at the place where the diamond is found or mined.

The Crater of Diamonds is part of a 72-acre tract which once boasted the only commercial diamond mining operation in North America.

The largest stone ever found at the site was the 40.23 carat "Uncle Sam"—a rose-tinted diamond cut into a 14.34 carat stone valued at $75,000. But it was found during mining operations.
