TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats on Capitol Hill, which plagued both Ford and Truman, has a new year's present. The crack-up seems to dispel dreams of a new political party that might die of political disagreements.

On two questions involving the race against civil rights, the coalition members broke with their Democratic allies. Facing defeat in the coming fall, they felt that they could not afford to alienate the relatively heavy colored vote in Illinois, Indiana and New York districts.

For this defection, their southern friends forgive them for political live-and-let-live proposition among professionals. Sometimes, and especially in presidential election years, the coalition splits all human understanding. Moreover, the segregation question, in its present passionate phase, may be only a passing problem.

SERIOUS DIVERGENCE—The really serious and serious divergence came on an economic matter—importation of cotton seedlings and farm products now in surplus or jeopardized by Japanese and Canadian surplus.

Here, it seemed, was an issue on which southern Democrats and Republicans from north and west coast were in a lull. The textile mills are closing down from New England to Virginia, the steel industry is in a lull, and unemployment is spreading and profits are falling.

BASH FOR NATURAL ALLIANCE—Western growers suffer from imports of Canadian hops, cheese, butter and grains. There appeared to be here the basis for a natural alliance between western and southern growers.

The vote on the Young amendment for application of the 14th amendment to the states, with 11 Republicans lining up with the south, 11 from the north and nine from the west.

VOTE HARD TO EXPLAIN—The split-vote on the Young amendment included such senators as East and Smith from New Jersey, Flinders and Aiken from Vermont, and others who are hurting the sale of their textile interests in neighboring states.

But they preferred, as they explained, to stand with the West. They are hurting the sale of their textile interests in neighboring states.

DIXIE FROWN ON GOP—Complete divorce of the coalition came on the milder Johnson amendment. This was a vote on the milder Johnson amendment.

Waraw's ready use of force against unarmed marchers affords fresh proof, too, that the Communists' pose as the workers' government is a thorough farce.

Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz gave the game away when he declared: "Everywhere you raise his hand against the people, we are sure it will be backed off in the interest of the working class."

The people, of course, were in the streets. But they were in front of, not in or behind, the tanks and the guns.

"UNCOMMITTED" DELEGATES—With six weeks to go to the Democratic convention in Chicago, it begins to look as if perhaps 450 or more delegates votes will be officially "uncommitted" as the deadline approaches.

Considerable misunderstanding often surrounds the use of the term "uncommitted."

In one recent published survey of Democratic presidential preferences, an estimate of "first ballot strength" actually listed a large block of undecided voters.

Such a situation is, of course, impossible. There is no such thing as being uncommitted on the first or any other ballot.

Delegates must vote for someone, and when they do they are not uncommitted. They may delay their commitment to a real contender by voting briefly for a favorite son candidate, but that is something else.

The point is that when the week of Aug. 13 rolls around, every delegate represented by the Democrats' 1,372 convention votes must be prepared to indicate his presidential choice.

The block of several hundred uncommitted votes is never the "no-man's-land" that some analysts seem to regard it. The category is a cloak designed to conceal decisions already taken, to allow certain leaders to move when they think the time is right.

POT SHOTS

YEP, IT'S A BIT WARM. We've been hearing about the bush. We've seen a bit of it. We've even been told to consider this one—business about humidity or mind over matter or any howwah. But that's just plain hot.

No, we don't have any magical formula to help anyone keep cool. The best suggestion we can come up with right now is to tell the boss to keep the air conditioning on.

Naturally, you will readily recognize this advice as the ravings of a fellow who has a touch of the heat.

SHOCK THERAPY All you good women constituents will be ready to sympathize with this "Twin Falls resident" who has been in prison for a long time.

Anyhow, this woman purchased a new hat. She recalls that she was involved in a hot incident. She had her hair done at the hair salon.

It never got very cold in the winter either. You couldn't put on coats. The thermometer was on top of the house.

Those who were in the know said that the thermometer was on top of the house. The exhaust from the building came out right next to the thermometer.

FAMOUS LAST LINE "I shall bring the front out of the ground."

YUMA—Aria. In territorial days, Arizona kept her convicts in a "dove" prison in Yuma designed as much to inflict suffering as to restrain men and women who fell foul of the law.

Now, the prison was transferred to Florence and there is a super-modern "dove" prison in Yuma. It has a humane set-up because Yuma is a populated place in the United States.

By now, the new prison is dilapidated and between momentary "reforms," some employes filch petty possessions of victims who are unable to resist and wise not to get too close.

Spanish Attractions Listed For Americans by Columnist

By HENRY McLEOD. MADRID—Spanish notes written on the back of a yellow envelope. I'd until now I had always thought that Irish children, seen in the parks of Dublin, were the prettiest.

But I had a distinction between the Irish and the Spanish. The Irish were tall and thin, what with their tremendous dark wavy hair as long as a foot ruler, and fair.

And their doing parents kept them dressed to kill. The poorest people will almost go without shoes.

Views of Others

A MATTER OF ETHICS Representative Bruce R. Iida, is incensed over log-rolling in congress. His ire stems from the fact that Representative R. Cole is being rewarded for being trapped in a position which required him to vote for a bill which he opposes (Hills canyon) in exchange for his constituents' support of a bill from death in a committee pigeon hole.

His complaint, it seems to us, is not against the normal practice of legislative compromise, which is characteristic of our American system. Rather it is against the abuse of power by congressmen in key national to force other members to vote for legislation contrary to their convictions in exchange for expected favors. The word "compromise" is hardly applicable to such a situation.

The Idaho congressman says he is considering introducing legislation to prohibit vote trading. The bill that he has drafted is covered by the federal constitution or federal statutes, but framers of the Colorado constitution tried to guard against it.

The Colorado constitution provides that no member of the general assembly shall give his vote or influence for or against any measure... upon condition that he or another member will give... or influence in favor of or against any other measure... he shall be deemed guilty of bribery.

Apparently the authors of our constitution were men who had some knowledge of how legislative bodies operate (and have always operated). Candidly, we think the Colorado provision does a good job of preventing vote trading. The most it has accomplished has been to keep vote trading circumspect and under cover. But it has done this merely as a statement of legislative ethics.

Without being unduly cynical, we predict Representative Bruce will not get far with his proposal unless the public becomes more aroused over log-rolling than it has been up to this time.

Congressmen have been reluctant to any regulations on their own activities. They look with jaundiced eyes on legislative reforms—whether those reforms relate to the conduct of congress, election expenditures or vote trading.

We wish Representative Bruce luck. He will need it if his proposal is going to receive any serious consideration.—Denver Post.

A DEFENSE OF INTELLECTUALS In the excitement over President Eisenhower's operation it was widely overlooked that Vice President Nixon had made a speech in favor of the trade.

The Vice President addressed the annual class of Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., and discussed the new Soviet line which Moscow is propounding. In meeting this challenge, he said, we may find keys rather than missiles weapons more useful. In many parts of the world "the intellectual is not considered as an eschelon" nor "the artist as a lonelier." He went on to say that we must show that we are not "too much" to have such talents that we are not "anti-intellectual, deficient in culture, or superficial in our attitudes."

This sounds like a sensible speech. In all fairness, it sounds like a speech that we have heard before. Perhaps this is confirmation of the theory that in the new phase of his career which is now unfolding, Nixon is intent to throw away his brass knuckles, lay his back on political thugery, and present an anti-bureaucratic, anti-intellectual, and anti-Soviet line which will be watched with interest.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

DANGEROUS TAXATION Speaking at Richmond, at a Fourth of July celebration, the speaker made what we consider the most constructive statement yet made by any candidate in this primary race—Democratic or Republican. He said that the cause of the economic depression is because of oppressive taxation—and now we have a vote against the same type of oppression. Mr. Bushnell, he said, "We earned the right to govern ourselves, but the right to govern doesn't mean the right to be taxed. We have a right to be taxed, but this increasing tax burden, our entire political and economic structure will be in danger."

We are not sure of the accuracy of his statement as a king or a dictator. The basis of freedom is tolerance. But there is no tolerance in taxes which threaten our entire political and economic structure. We hope that this may be leveled by our own representatives.—Bohlo Bismarck.

FBI Closer to Time to Enter Kidnap Probe

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—At 3 p.m. EDT tomorrow, FBI will enter the hunt for the kidnaper of the Weinberger baby. At that time, a full week will have passed since the child's abduction.

Under federal law, a seven-day waiting period must elapse before the FBI can enter a kidnapping case, unless there is an immediate indication that the kidnaper fled across state lines or that some other interstate violation is involved. After seven days, it is automatically assumed that the criminal has fled the state, where the crime was committed, and the FBI may then act.

A spokesman refused to break the official silence in Washington on whether the FBI will immediately throw its full weight tomorrow into the Weinberger case. It is known, however, that G-men have been cooperating with New York state authorities and are fully abreast of developments in the case.

The spokesman said that until now no evidence has turned up to indicate that either the ransom note or the telephone contacts made by the abductor with the Weinbergers have been made across state lines.

Boost Is Noted In Oil Drilling Through West

DENVER, July 10 (AP)—The industry publication Petroleum Information predicted today that drilling of oil and gas wells in the Rocky Mountain West will score a "substantial" gain over 1955, a record year for total wells completed.

It based its forecast on completions through June. These totaled 2,284 wells—more than in the corresponding period of 1955. With the exception of Colorado, every Rocky Mountain state with major activity showed an increase in the first half of this year. Colorado completions were 60 wells less than in the first six months of 1955.

Exploratory success rates for the region so far this year is 10.2 per cent, compared with 10.0 per cent in 1955.

Colorado led in cumulative completion through June 30, with 606, including 141 oil wells, 55 gas producers and 407 dry holes. Other state totals were:

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty... its matchless luxury... and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar.

There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling... its magnificent power and performance... and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

Forced Retirement at 65 Is Costing Industry, Asserts University Savant

Grange Gavel Program Held For Kimberly

KIMBERLY, July 10—Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Robinson presided as members of the Kimberly Grange Monday night at the Kimberly Grange hall. Members of the Mountain Rock Grange visited the meeting and brought the traveling fund.

Mrs. Tim Drown, home economics committee chairman, reported that garments intended for entry in the state Grange sewing contest must be finished and ready for judging by Aug. 1. She also told the group of the Pomona Grange picnic at Nat. Boo-Pah July 22 at 1:30 p.m.

Grange members voted to have the executive committee change existing by-laws to allow election of officers at an earlier date in a move designed to have officers installed and ready to take office by the start of the Grange year in September.

Agriculture committee Chairman James Measemith reported that great interest in the time of year and farmers who have stock out will have to start feeding them early.

A report on recent legislative developments was given by Don Gibbs, chairman of the legislative committee. He also reminded the group that the Hells canyon controversy is due to come up in congress again this week.

Thank-you notes for donations by the Grange were read from the Mayor Livingston and the Kimberly Shamrock 4-H club, led by Phyllis McHenry.

Mountain Rock Grange members presented the program. Billings and Mrs. Helen Nelson, Kimberly, Mrs. W. L. Buchanan, Mrs. L. B. Billington and Mrs. Marvin Healy, Mountain Rock, gave a poem and Mrs. Harry Ray played a piano solo. Mrs. A. R. Reidman and Mrs. Raymond Dell acted as a duet, "Rommy and Slasy."

Boy Burned in Efforts to Quell Kitchen Blaze

LeRoy Bender, 12, examines the bandaged arms and feet of his brother, Donald, 14, who incurred third degree burns Saturday when he carried a blazing kettle from the home of Mrs. Evelyn Price, 283 Jackson street. His act prevented spread of the fire caused by a smoldering fire. The Bender boys were riding past the house when LeRoy saw flames shoot past a window and heard a cry, Donald carried the blazing kettle from the stove to outside the house. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bender, who are currently in Canada on a vacation. Donald and LeRoy are staying with their aunt, Mrs. Eugene Smith, 282 Van Buren street. Flood Damage Talks Planned For Idaho City

BOISE, July 10—A federal public health engineer will confer with engineers—for the city of Bonners Ferry tomorrow about rehabilitation of the city water system damaged by the flooding Kootenai river last spring.

W. C. Specht, Idaho civil defense and disaster relief director, said Tuesday that Charles E. Spangenberg, Des Moines, would be in Bonners Ferry for the meeting.

The city's engineers have estimated that it would cost $147,000 to repair the existing system or $102,000 to put in a new one. Specht said it still must be determined how much of this could be paid for out of disaster relief funds.

Specht said the soil conservation service has estimated damage to drainage districts along the Kootenai at $155,000 and is preparing data for the federal civil defense administration to show how much of this could be paid for out of disaster relief funds.

Fred Marriott was credited in 1906 with being the first man to drive a car more than two miles a minute.

Insult Claims Are Made on Red Leaders

LONDON, July 10—Two British newspapers asserted Tuesday Nikita Khrushchev drunkenly insulted Western representatives at a big Moscow party recently.

A British foreign office spokesman questioned the reports. Commented: "I have no reason to believe that anyone was insulted."

Other western diplomats said they felt the reports were exaggerated.

The occasion for Khrushchev's alleged outburst was a banquet and garden party given by the Soviet defense ministry during the celebration of Air Force day.

Among those attending were Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. air force chief of staff; Brigadier General Sir John Slessor, British air minister; envoys and military men representing all the leading Western powers.

The British papers—the Daily Mail and the Daily Telegraph—declared in front page articles that both Khrushchev, who is Communist party chief, and Soviet Premier Bulganin were drunk. They gave this account:

The two argued violently as to who should speak.

Khrushchev apparently won. He then insulted nearly every guest of nearly every nationality present, personally as well as nationally. The nature of the insults was not specified.

GOP Slating Drive to Sell Farm Project

CHICAGO, July 10—Former Ohio Gov. Dan Thornton led a slating drive for seven midwestern states to plan how best to sell the administration's farm program to the farmers.

Thornton, head of the GOP national farm campaign headquarters, launched in the Midwest because his organization wants the key to the nation's troubles in the nation's breadbasket.

Conferring with Thornton and his aides in the closed meeting were Republican chairmen from Missouri, Iowa, South Dakota, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana. A similar meeting was scheduled for July 18 here with GOP leaders from Minnesota, Michigan, North Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

Thornton said the drive will be a "non-partisan effort." He invited Democrats to join in the effort to sell the Republican farm program.

He said a news conference was held yesterday that he hopes to recruit 1,000 farmers and ranchers to operate like big-city precinct workers and build grass roots support for the administration's farm program.

New Atom-Lamp to Cut Power Bills, Says Connecticut Man

WEST HARTFORD, Conn., July 10—Harvey Kravetz has come up with a new invention that he says will worry electric companies—and cur-householders'—electric bills to practically nothing.

Kravetz owns a dry-cleaning business and dabbles in electronics in his spare time. His latest invention is an atom-light lamp that operates for 12 years without benefit of electricity from an outside source.

The atom-light follows his "snoperooper" invention by about six months.

The snoperooper is a tiny device which can be concealed in a bundle of money. It is a miniature transmitter that transmits a signal that can be traced to its source—and the thieves.

Kravetz sold the snoperooper to a nationally-known manufacturer, but he refuses to name the firm.

"It is so secret, I won't even know if my invention is responsible for the capture of any criminals," said Kravetz.

However, his latest invention goes a step beyond electronics into atomic energy. The atom-lamp, similar in appearance to an ordinary lamp fixture, contains its own power plant and a single drop of radioactive thorium.

The thorium is a by-product of fissionable uranium and Kravetz said it would provide power for the lamp for "at least 12 years." He added that one drop of the thorium could cost about $4, but the lamp would retail for a substantially higher price.

Kravetz has several other inventions.

Plier Burned as Gasoline Ignites

BOISE, July 10—Jim Larkin, a McCall pilot, escaped with only minor burns yesterday when a 10-gallon electrically ignited gasoline he was pouring into his plane for a trip into the back country.

Larkin was saved from serious injury by an unidentified U. S. forest service man who was willing to make the trip with Larkin. The passenger beat out the flames by rolling the pilot on the ground and beating him with his coat.

POSITIVE PROOF

Idaho CANNOT Stand Increased Taxation

FARMERS:

Read this article as reprinted from the Times-News, July 9. It is positive proof a SALES TAX on top of our present property and personal state taxes and other taxes will cause an unnecessary hardship to the people of Idaho.

Magazine Claims High Farm Levy
LOS ANGELES, July 9—A farm management magazine, a Nelson and Crover publication in Los Angeles, claimed today that Idaho's farm taxes have increased 86 per cent since 1945. Taxes in the great state now average $1.07 per acre, the magazine asserted.

The article, based on a spot survey of several Idaho farm families, said about 23 per cent of Idaho's population is on farms. Farmers receive 10 per cent of the state's net income but pay 51 1/2 per cent of the state's property taxes, the magazine said.

The article said Idaho has the most inequitable means of balancing her farm taxes with income.

Ken Self is an outspoken opponent of the Sales Tax in particular and against any additional taxes. He believes, instead, we should examine our state expenditures with utmost care. With businesslike management, we cannot only maintain but improve our public highways and schools without resorting to further taxation.
