TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON - A survey of the recent congressional record discloses that the Democratic Party's sponsored spending measures - and usually the Republican Party's - have been the most individual Democratic bled their party, and blocked proposed "raids on the treasury."

However, in specific cases involving approximately 1.5 billion dollars, the Republican Party, and mostly strong administration men, who labor for the Department of Defense, it was the Senate which felt no compulsion in throwing the "Congressional Control" bill, which shipping, aviation and industries engaged in production for national defense.

Finally, had any of the attempted "give-away" schemes passed, President Eisenhower would have had them, even though some of the lobbyists for them once stood high in the GOP hierarchy.

POT SHOTS

GOOD STORY, ANYHOW

Apparently it's true that a fellow by the name of Russell E. Eason sleeps on the floor these days. However, the reason for such peculiar behavior is somewhat obscure.

One of the first reports, coming from the floor, was that Eason, indicated he was following orders from the floor speaker, who was not, unfortunately, immediately.

But Eason can go along with a gag, when someone suggested he was sleeping on the floor because of orders from the floor speaker, Eason readily agreed that was the reason.

A third explanation was that by sleeping on the floor, Eason wouldn't have to go hunting for his bunk, could just find wherever he felt like sleeping.

Looking at it purely from a scientific viewpoint, any grade school teacher knows that it is always found at the lowest level in a room, hence the floor would be the logical place to sleep during hot weather.

The Signs Bill To Liberalize Farmer Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP) - President Eisenhower yesterday signed legislation to liberalize credit for farmers.

The new law authorizes the farmers home administration to accept second mortgages to finance farmers who are unable to meet present debts and can't refinance through commercial banks.

It also authorizes FHA to make loans for the first time to part-time farmers.

The new law extends from June 30, 1953, to June 30, 1955, authority to make economic emergency loans. It increases the revolving fund for this purpose from 15 million dollars to 60 million dollars.

1. Increases from $7000 to $10,000 the maximum amount of operating loans.

2. Extends repayment time in case of special hardship.

3. Provides real estate loans up to $10,000 for improvement or replacement of tenant houses on farms having not more than three families.

SMOOTH FORMULA

Announcement that the Republican Party's San Francisco convention hopes to offer the voters a short platform, devoted largely to praise of President Eisenhower, reveals a smooth political formula.

It is to focus on the personality of the President credit for all the good things that have happened while the Eisenhower administration has been in power. By doing this, the President is kept aloof from controversial issues.

This is almost a complete reversal of the way things went in the administrations of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. Mr. Roosevelt was blamed for everything that happened while he was in the White House and always came back for more.

It is true enough that characters like Henry A. Wallace and Dean Acheson and the late Harold L. Ickes had their moments of notoriety. But FDR and HDI had field of most of the bricks that bounced off their subordinates' heads.

By contrast, criticism of the administration today is centered on cabinet and top level executives, and it stays there. Part of their job seems to be as whipping boys for things that go wrong.

If American foreign policy moves don't check the Communists, it's all the fault of Secy. of State John Foster Dulles. If a President who is told he should stay home more, stick to his job and tend more closely to his knitting.

Dulles is blamed for the fact that the Big Four conference at Geneva a year ago didn't pan out in golden days, even though he was in place holding this summit meeting in its final stages. And the shortcomings or failures of the foreign aid program to win friends in Burma, India, Indonesia, the Middle East or Yugoslavia must be laid to the door of Dulles.

Through a President is constitutional commander-in-chief of the U. S. armed forces, it is Secy. of Defense Charles E. Wilson who is held responsible when the admirals and generals get to warring among themselves over defense or tickering over the split in the military budget.

Criticism of Eisenhower's administration farm policy has been focused almost entirely on Secy. of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson right from the start. If the soil bank plan, the farm loan plan, or the farm mortgage plan, although he opposed it in the beginning.

There hasn't been time for any of the department of interior troubles to rub off on new Secy. Fred A. Benson yet. But former Secy. Douglas McKay is being held responsible for election to the U. S. senate against charges that he was responsible for the "give-away" of natural resources.

President Eisenhower has stayed out of the ground level civil rights struggle led by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell who had to present the administration program to congress.

Secy. of Treasury George M. Humphrey takes the rap for opposing tax reduction this year with the budget in balance.

Secy. of Labor James P. Mitchell has to face the union leaders' opposition to administration labor programs.

Postmaster Gen. Arthur Summerfield has to conduct the unpopular crusade to raise postal rates.

Secy. of Health, Education and Welfare Marion B. Folsom takes responsibility for opposing social security increases.

Atomic Energy Commission, Chairman Lewis Strauss and two former budget directors, Joseph E. Dodge and Rowland Hughes, are the boys associated with the Dixon-Yates fiasco in TVA.

All this adds up to an almost perfect public relations policy, from a political standpoint. It keeps the number one candidate out of controversy, so that only good things can be said about him in the party platform.

DEMOCRATS BACKED PAN-AM WINDFALL

The proposal to turn over 101 million dollars in big game lands and timber rights to Pan American Airways was sponsored by two Democrats - Sen. Alan Bible, Nev., and Rep. Owen Harris, Ark.

The measure would have given the airline a windfall for only three firms - Pan American World Airways and its affiliate, Trans World Airways, and Eastern Air Lines, which include all the other big companies, especially American, United and Eastern in the domestic World and Northwest.

International routes, would not have benefited by a cent. Small feeder lines, although recruited by Pan American, would have benefited by collected only "chickens."

HERSTON'S VICTORY Despite extraordinary lobbying efforts and pressure by the hopeful beneficiaries, Rep. John W. Heston, an Eisenhower Republican from the state of Iowa, defeated a Democratic effort to repeal the measure.

Although the measure passed the senate by a 53-27 vote, it was favorably amended by the house interstate and foreign commerce committee. Heston persuaded the house to defeat it by a 108-143 tally.

It was the most amazing one-vote victory in recent congressional annals.

By contrast, criticism of the administration today is centered on cabinet and top level executives, and it stays there. Part of their job seems to be as whipping boys for things that go wrong.

TECHNICOLOR TOROS

Honest, we'll never again say another nasty thing about the crazes of American women - on one condition.

They absolutely must not go in for tailoring. To our horror we have read that the latest fad among women in Great Britain. From teen-agers to typists to housewives to debutantes, English ladies are imprinting indelible colorful designs on various parts of their anatomy. The pattern includes anything tigers, peacocks and movie stars on arms, legs, backs and bosoms.

Now that just wouldn't do here in the U. S., would it, ladies? Maybe it's a risk even to mention the idea, but we're confident you would never dream of doing such an awful thing. Or would you?

BEWILDERED BRITONS

A couple of British newspapers declare that the Republican party is "hounding" President Eisenhower into running for a second term. This statement involves two unproved arguments.

One is that Mr. Eisenhower's health is such that he ought not to run. This doesn't mean to. This has not been demonstrated.

The second is that the President is so weak-willed that he can't resist party pressure. Britishers who knew him as allied commander in World War II should know better.

But American politics, and political figures, seem often to baffle many of our British countrymen.

FAVORABLE LAKE LINE

"... Ah-choo, have I ever ah-choo never bothers ah-choo?"

REMINENT UPPEL AIRLINE APPROPRIATION

It was a Democratic bill, one of the most important of the session, which was forced through an extra airplane appropriation of $50 million dollars, which the Pentagon says it does not need and not spend. It was adopted by a vote of 400-100.

Finally, the house raised postal rates by 40 million dollars in a measure that opponents called a "brave action" in a reelection year. The senate did not dare to follow suit, and the measure died there.

The second bill, for a road building program, but due only to the efforts of a single conservative southerner - Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Va. - it was defeated. It provided for third class passenger taxes rather than the complicated bond issue which would have added billions for those who are oppressed and heavily burdened, which means all of us and our children.

Bill Discussed

SEATTLE, Aug. 2 (AP) - United Nations Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemmonier met yesterday with Korean Commerce and Industry Minister Kim Il Hwan to discuss the company's $1 million dollar electric bill.

The ROK government has billed the U. N. command for nearly 70 million dollars for electricity, communications services, building and land rentals used since the start of the war. This includes a 13 million dollar electric bill the command says was paid for by its military service to the nation.

Party Ballots -Are Assigned To Stevenson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's first ballot strategy was changed toward the 500 mark today and possibly 200 more early ballot votes could be seen for him in the state's primary election, according to a source familiar with the campaign.

To win the Democratic presidential nomination, Stevenson or the man who beats him must poll at least 650,000 votes at the Democratic national convention.

Stevenson's campaign headquarters already claimed a minimum of 600 first ballot votes and said that 600 first ballot votes of the large state amount to an uncommitted delegation which are uncommitted delegates to the national convention.

The withdrawal of Sen. Estes Kefauver Tuesday in favor of Stevenson gave the Stevenson campaign its biggest lift since the California primary.

Gov. Averell Harriman's managers still talked of getting a substantial bloc of votes under the Kefauver votes, but a bandwagon swing to Stevenson seemed to be under way. Former National Chairman Frank McKinney, a Harriman supporter, predicted this New York will poll 400 first ballot votes.

A United Press tabulation of the first ballot preferences showed Stevenson with 451,000 votes against 165,000 for Harriman.

Collier Sinks Near Harbor; 10 Men Dead

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 2 (AP)—The 600-ton collier Birchgrove struck rocks and sank early today, 100 miles from safe harbor after a 100-mile trip through stormy seas.

Rescue teams reported four of the 11-man crew rescued, nine drowned and one missing.

Duty officer, W. Godwin of the bulk head signal station said the ship simply vanished in the pre-dawn darkness while the sea signal buoy instructions for entering Sydney harbor.

Survivors said the cargo of 440 tons of coal taken aboard at Newcastle shifted in the heavy seas and dragged the 28-year-old vessel over on her side. She had time to flash only a quick SOS before going down.

The British submarine Thorough picked up one survivor and the mine-keeper Wagg rescued another. Two struggled ashore from a splintered lifeboat.

Entries Are Accepted Now in Miss Twin Falls Competitions

Entries for the 1966 Miss Twin Falls Pageant are being accepted now.

Previously, applications were received only through November and December when the event was held during Christmas week. The date for the pageant has been moved ahead to Thanksgiving.

Joseph Latimore, newly appointed chairman of the Miss Twin Falls committee for the lions club, which sponsors the event, said the changes have a dual purpose.

"The first is to allow entries more time to prepare their talent presentation and the other is to allow college girls the opportunity to apply before going to school."

Latimore noted the additional time allowed for work on talent presentation should enable Miss Twin Falls to make a better showing in the Miss Idaho competition.

Winner of the local pageant receives a $250 scholarship plus an expense paid trip to Boise for the state contest. If successful there, Miss Twin Falls receives a trip to Atlantic City, N. J. to compete for Miss America honors.

Serving with Latimore on the committee are Henry Willis, Carroll Holway, E. E. Johnson, Alfred May, Les Routh, U. J. Simmons, D. O. Weakes, Dawson Silvester, Eugene McDuff, Tom McVey, Larry Borjasen, Fred Drake and Donald Steidley.

Rains Drench Vast Sections Of U. S. Area

By United Press
Extensive showers and thunderstorms drenched much of the nation last night and early today, with up to two inches of rain falling on parts of the Midwest.

Cooler air also accompanied the storm in the West, with temperatures about six degrees below the previous 24 hours. The cooler air covered not only central California to western Montana, and was to move slightly eastward today.

Thunderstorms lashed at sections of western Montana westward to the coast from western Texas to eastern Arizona northward to the Dakotas and southern Minnesota, and then eastward through the Ohio valley to northern Virginia. Some showers also were reported on the Gulf coast.

Precipitation was usually below one inch, but some cities reported as much as an inch.

Early today Milton Park, Mont., reported the lowest temperature in 40 years while it was 41 at Grand Marais, Mich. At the same time, the Gulf coast, reported a 23 degree reading.

Services Held For Former Lohario

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Services were held here today for Edmund Engel, former spy Lohario was a well-known and successful of rich widows.

Engel, 42, died yesterday in a state hospital at Kankakee, Ill. He entered the hospital with the advanced stages of cancer of the prostate gland.

Engel was married in 1920 to a 20-year-old state prisoner, who was later released and he had a red-headed widow out of $7,500.

Although Engel died alone, he apparently was not lonely. A Chicago undertaker handling funeral arrangements revealed that several "lonely widows" were recruited by a New York woman named Pauline.

The woman was believed to be Engel's "one true wife," Mrs. Pauline (Dolly) Langston, who stood by him at his trial but finally divorced him in 1923.

Briton Suggests Giving up Islands

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—A laborite member of parliament suggested yesterday that the British-owned Seychelles islands in the Indian Ocean be given back to the French for a pound of tea.

The comment came from laborite James Johnson during a heated debate in common on the administration of the lonely islands, where "black coffee" Archbishop Makarios was called by the British last March.

"It would not be a bad thing, in view of the differences of religion and a French-speaking society, to give it back to the French for a pound of tea," he said.

Firm Being Sued Over Spud Cutter

OMAHA, Aug. 2 (AP)—A four million dollar patent infringement suit has been filed in federal district court here against the Lockwood Grader corporation, Cedar, Neb.

The plaintiff, James H. Hille, charges that Lockwood is infringing on patent rights taken out by him on a seed-potato cutter machine.

Lockwood, which specializes in the manufacture of grading and washing equipment, has branch factories in Colorado, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Idaho, and California.

Two Cities Battle Over Toll Collecting on River's Bridge

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—The city of Alton, Ill., is collecting tolls on a Mississippi river bridge owned by the state of Missouri.

Robert L. Hyder, general counsel for the Missouri highway department, announced the suit yesterday before the supreme court in Washington Aug. 14 in an effort to stop it.

The city of Alton has been collecting $1,000 a day in tolls since June 30 and is not in any way entitled to it, Hyder declared. The bridge belongs to the state of Missouri.

The 2-1/2-mile bridge, 3,000 feet long, crosses the Mississippi between Alton and West Alton, Mo., about 20 miles north of St. Louis on U. S. 67.

In June, St. Charles county authorities revealed the suit, petition for a free bridge, and presented the deed to the Missouri highway department.

Angulated cries arose from Alton and the Illinois highway department.

Alton Mayor Leo Strull: "Instead of giving the highway department the toll, we should have a free bridge."

St. Charles county authorities refused to provide receipts. Some managed to drive through the Alton toll station without paying.

Tavern Operator Sued for $2,460

Electrical Products company consolidated with a Washington corporation filed suit in district court against Louis M. Thompson, former city business as Town Tavern, Kimberly.

The Washington firm also seeks seven per cent interest on the amount from Nov. 1, 1934, attorney fees of $815 and court costs.

The complaint is on a change of venue from the Alton county district court.

According to the complaint the tavern rented a display counter and accessories agreeing to pay cost of construction, installation and supply parts for repair. The tavern, the complaint states, also agreed to pay $11 per month rental for three years.

Trapped

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 2 (AP)—Poor spelling trapped an accused cattle rustler yesterday.

Edmond Smith, 29, Arrowworth, Ill., told to write the names of early American presidents, misspelled the first one, Washington as Wasington. Smith admitted stealing three Angus cattle from his neighbors when informed the same misspelling was found on a sales ticket used to sell the cattle.

New Witness Called in Big Water Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Arizona called its 19th witness in the stand today in an attempt to establish its historical claim to a 3,600,000-acre acre of Colorado river water.

The witness was Ralph L. Meeker, 80-year-old water engineer of the Arizona Interstate stream commission. He is one of the three surviving persons who helped draft the 1922 Colorado river compact.

Meeker took the stand yesterday and testified that he had been just long enough to qualify as an expert who began his career in 1897.

Arizona filed suit to establish water to the Colorado river pact as well as subsequent federal water contracts under the Boulder canyon project act.

He was also expected to testify that the Colorado river water received by California goes to waste in the Salton sea.

Water was expected to testify that water from the Colorado river pact was used to establish the suit and recommend a verdict.

WHY WE CALL IT... Weiser

With an expedition which winters in the area now known as Weiser about 1811.

Take your pick—Jacob or Peter. At least the surnames were the same, and the town and river are called Weiser—pronounced Weiser.

One legend has it that Jacob Weiser was a trader for the Hudson's Bay company, camped in the area in 1848 and from that episode came the name of Weiser.

But that has been disputed not only by various Idaho historical researchers. They contend that Peter should be given the credit.

He was a sergeant in the Revolutionary army and later came to the country now known as Idaho with the Lewis and Clark expedition.

From all accounts it appears the Weiser river and subsequently the town of Weiser were named for a man by that name. The question is: Which Weiser was it—Jacob—or Peter?

Don French's Famous HORSE SHU CLUB

Chinese Reds Next Monday Is Deadline for Entries In Horse Show Scheduled Aug. 16-19

Mr. A. E. White, secretary of the 12th annual Idaho Valley Horse show, announces that entries will close Monday for the show to be held Aug. 16 through 19 at Frontier field.

The 51 classes of the show have been divided among the four nights to give each night more variety, she said. Show champions will be selected Sunday, Aug. 13.

Two of the nation's top cutting horses plus many horses now competing in the annual Missouri, Mont. horse show are expected to be entered here. Several classic restlings are attending the Missouri show.

John B. Pedersen, chairman of the local show, is showing saddle and fine harness horses in Missouri. Others include 14-year-old Carolyn Wylie, a three-year-old horse; Walter Toevs, Burley, western and parade horse, and Walter McCallie, gaited and fine harness horse.

Chickshaw Mike, a winner in last year's Idaho Valley show and currently holding second place in national cutting horse standings, has been entered by Leonard Proctor, Midland, Tex.

Dolly Brian, runnerup in the Pacific Coast Cutting horse association ratings, also will appear. The horse will be entered by Charles Olsen, Phoenix, Ariz.

This year's show will feature a novice cutting horse class for horses that have earned less than $1,000 in competition.

C. B. Augustus, Boise, one of the oldest riders in Intermountain horse show rings, will enter Diamond Lil Man, stake winner here last year.

Early entries indicate that the Tennessee walking class will be filled. Reported Mrs. W. H. Duffy Reed, Twin Falls, has entered two walkers, and Mrs. Edith Reger, Rapid City, S. D., is entering several horses.

Acceptance of Nixon Is Seen By Top Chiefs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Chairmen of the senate and house GOP congressional "committees" dictated today Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be renominated by acclamation" at the convention "despite the irresponsible actions of Harold E. Stassen."

The chairman made their prediction in a joint statement which dealt another strong blow to Stassen's "dump Nixon" drive.

It came only a few hours before Stassen formally opened Washington headquarters for his opposition to put Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter rather than Nixon in the number two spot on the GOP presidential ticket.

The statement was issued by Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, Kans., chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, and Rep. Richard M. Simpson, Pa., chairman of a similar house committee.

"It is inconceivable," they said, "that Republican delegates will consider tearing apart a winning ticket (Stassen and Nixon)..."

Stassen today began a four-week leave of absence from his post as president Eisenhower's disarmament adviser to push his drive for Herter without involving the White House.

Boats Captured

KUSHIRO, Northern Japan, Aug. 2 (AP)—A Soviet gunboat captured 27 Japanese crab fishermen and their three boats off Soviet-occupied Shikotan Island yesterday, it was reported here today.

The crew of a fourth boat which arrived here this morning said Soviet officials took the three captured vessels and their crews in the direction of one of the Kurile Islands.

Service Held In Middle of Mighty River

Memphis, Aug. 2.—A wedding ceremony was held aboard the wild skiff of happenstance, which was on a skiff in the middle of the Mississippi river yesterday.

The groom, Christopher Bailey, a Memphis native, his bride, Mrs. Sarah McMaster, London, who traveled 4,000 miles for the ceremony.

The marriage ceremony—the only solemn moment of the hour—was held on the main deck, crowded with fashionably dressed guests, and presided over by a priest seated by white-jacketed waiters.

The altar was a table of cotton. Green and white cotton bolts festooned the gangway, the champagne and a blanket were then forwarded to the altar.

The double wedding was held to honor its locality, since the excursion boat Memphis Queen II was gliding along the middle of broad, brown river, right on the Tennessee-Arkansas state line.

The groom, in a crisp suit of white, wearing a black straw boater and an aburn wig that made him look like one of the Marx brothers, arrived at the dock in an ancient London taxi, accompanied by the bridegroom and best man, Eldred West Jr., Memphis.

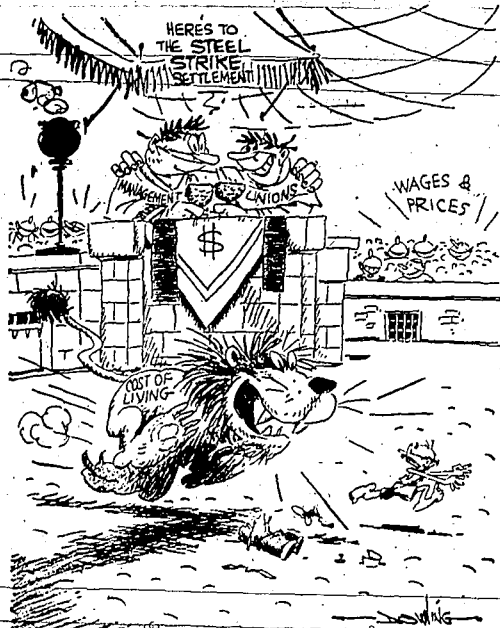

The Memphis Queen, bright with white and red, sailed in full dress. A British flag fluttered at the forepeak, an American flag at the stern, and the confetti fell in the air.

"It was a good show," said Bailey, a stocky fellow with a brisk sense of humor.

The marriage was originally planned to be held in London, but when Bailey had to go to Cuba to negotiate the sale of some ships.

The novel wedding was planned by Bailey's friends here when, during a recent visit, he fell in love with the milk-widie river and its tree-lined banks.

That Calls for Celebration

Water Mishap Halts Attempt To Film Ship

NANTUCKET, Mass., Aug. 2.—Underwater filming of the tugboat liner Andrea Doria was called off today because of the crowding of an expedition member in a life jacket and the loss of the tugboat's anchor.

William Edgerton, 23, failed to surface yesterday from a practice dive. His body was recovered by photographer Louis Halle, a member of the 16-man team diving expedition, which was organized jointly by the National Broadcasting company and Pariz Match magazine.

Edgerton, son of a Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor, was diving with others from the 60-foot tender, Capt. Samuel James, anchored in 10 feet of water.

The film divers were to have started film making today in waters about 40 miles south of Nantucket Island, where the Andrea Doria sank last week after a collision with the Swedish liner Stockholm.

Negro Organization Seeking End of Segregation in South

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will call on both parties to adopt a platform pledging the full power of the government to end racial segregation in the South, it was learned today.

The Negro organization will ask both the Democratic and Republican national conventions to endorse strongly the supreme court's decisions outlawing segregation in the public schools.

The demand for an all-out integration plank, which will be supported by some northern liberals, could trigger a North-South fight at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

It is known that informal talks have been conducted by Democratic leaders seeking some formula for compromise civil rights plank that will be acceptable to both North and South. Some southerners insist and the legislative branch of the federal government to that end.

The NAACP also will call for strengthening of federal civil rights laws, protection of the right to vote, a compulsory fair employment practices law, rules to end filibustering in the senate and to curb the powers of the house rules committee, and a change in time-honored system of selecting members of congressional committees by seniority.

But it is the integration proposal that goes to the heart of the North-South cleavage within the Democratic party. And Democratic harmony may turn on what the convention says—or does not say—about the court's rulings.

Most southerners indicate they would accept the party's 1933 civil rights plank which called for some federal action in the civil rights field but did not touch the public school segregation issue. Many northerners say this is all right as far as it goes but insist the platform this year must take note of the anti-segregation rulings.

Anti-Semitism Is Rising in France

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Anti-Semitism is increasing in France and causing mounting concern in West Germany, the American Jewish committee said yesterday.

The committee blamed rising feelings against Jews in France on the political rise of anti-tax leader Pierre Boulanger, boulevardier and politician.

"It is the first mass movement in post-war Europe with anti-democratic and anti-semitic tendencies," the A.J.C. issued a 1,200-word statement based on opinions of Jewish community leaders in Europe and on first-hand reports by the committee's own correspondents.

Polish Leader Tells of Move On New Plans

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 2 (AP)—Folke Bernadotte, Swedish mediator, said today the bloody Polish uprising of June 23 would have no effect on a government program to grant more democracy in Poland.

But, he added, there was no place in the present Polish political system because that would be an "attempt to turn back the clock."

The 46-year-old Swede granted an exclusive interview in his office on Stalin Alley, 24 hours after an announcement that the Polish United Workers (Communist) party had been "divorced" from the government in a continuing policy of liberalization.

Observers here said the post-Stalin "democratization" of Poland appears to have been stepped up rather than curtailed since Potsdam.

"The article in Pravda," Cyraniewicz said in the interview, "will not have—and are not having—any effect upon the process of democratization of life in Poland which is under way."

"We shall further endeavor above all to develop democracy throughout industry, to increase the rights of workers in management and the influence of the workers in running the establishments in Poland," he said.

He said the post-war Oder-Neisse frontier with East Germany, which the western powers do not recognize as final, "has been fixed once and for all... it is the lasting and unmovable frontier between Poland and Germany."

"The bald, heavy-jawed Cyrankiewicz," who smoked his cigars and sipped cold soda water as he talked, "he was jovial and affable and spoke English well."

Regarding the relation of church and state in predominantly Catholic Poland, Bernadotte said such relations were "based on the principle of total freedom of conscience and respect for the religious beliefs and practices of the people."

Asked if there will be any revival of the Social Democratic party in Poland, Cyrankiewicz said "no."

"I have now been one party for eight years and now I am one party who would understand—any attempt to turn back the clock," he declared.

Bad Housing For Soldiers Hit by Solon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D., Wash., disclosed today that the 1961 North African air base housing program for U. S. airmen to live in flimsy plywood huts and lack of funds has kept them there.

Jackson made public a letter from a top air force official which said some bad housing was planned or under construction.

The letter, from Air Force Undersecretary James H. Douglas, primarily concerned the big supply base at Nouasseur, French Morocco, whose commanding general recently told United Press that housing for his men was "a disaster."

Mr. Douglas said his report applied in general to the whole network of U. S. bases in French Morocco.

Jackson asked the air force for a report on Nouasseur after reading the dispatch.

Douglas said, "The air force has recognized for some time the inadequate housing situation in French Morocco and has considered it in programming construction," but he said the "scattered requirements of the air force have always been greater than the money it got and provision of replacement facilities, even for entirely inadequate existing structures, has had to be deferred to build final facilities at other stations."

Douglas gave separate reports on family housing used by personnel with dependents and on the dormitories used by single men. He said an estimated 650 family housing units are required at Nouasseur.

Officer Dies

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Navy Commander Arthur R. Johnson, a member of the administrative division of the United Nations and Far East commands, died today at his office in Parkside Heights, the Far East command reported. He was 45.

Cause of death is unknown, the report said. The Seattle-born navy officer was formerly deputy chief of the navy section for military assistance and advisory group, Japan.

They'll Cast First Ballot in August

Mrs. Howard Morrison, 44, of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters shows Dick Harris and Mrs. J. W. Silvers, county clerk, the primary election Aug. 14, similar information is available at County Clerk T. W. Silvers' office. (Staff photo-gravings)

Many Qualified Voters Fail to Ballot In Idaho Election, Records Disclose

In 1944, only 71.8 per cent of the registered voters in Idaho voted at the general election, but the figure is even poorer considering that many eligible voters were not registered, says T. W. Silvers, Twin Falls county clerk.

The figures were at least 30 per cent lower for primary elections. Many of those eligible voters who did not register were new voters who had reached the age of 21 since the last election or persons moving to Twin Falls or Idaho since the 1942 election. The remaining non-voters were those who did not know they were registered or who were too busy, disinterested, or for some other reason were unable to vote.

In addition to Silvers' office, new voters may receive information on the general and primary elections from the League of Women Voters or from either political party.

The county clerk's office has information concerning precincts within the county and election registration, absentee balloting or registration, and state laws covering primary and general elections.

The League of Women Voters plans to secure the names of first voters and contact them with information on what precinct they live in and where they may register. The league also will urge new voters to get out and vote. Those who are contacted may obtain the information by calling Mrs. Howard L. Morrison, 417 N. G. or Mrs. Bert J. Moore, 198-J.

Neither the Republican nor the Democratic party has made definite plans yet for banquets, picnics or meetings for first voters, but they will maintain permanent registration lists to vote in every election.

There met such events in past election years.

Some who will be 21 on or before August 14 are eligible to vote in the primary election, provided they have lived in the county 30 days and in the state for six months. Deadline for the general election is Nov. 2.

Since registration for the primary election closes at 9 p.m. Aug. 11, voters need not wait for their birth certificates to register, if they will be 21 on or before the date of the election, Silvers explains.

"One major source of confusion, usually among older voters," he said, "is that being registered for city elections does not insure the voter that he is registered for national, state or county elections. Also, those who have moved from one precinct to another since the last general election and those who did not vote in the last election must re-register for this year's election."

He added that the comparatively new perforated ballot, designed to help prevent a voter voiding his ballot, is usually confusing to first voters and warned that they make sure they know how to use it before attempting to fill it out.

"In case the voter does make a mistake in marking his ballot, the best thing to do is tell the election official on duty at the polls that it is a spoiled ballot and secure a new one," advised Silvers. "This should especially be done if there is any doubt in the voter's mind that his intentions might be misunderstood by the election judges."

Voters, both civilian and military, who will be out of town for any reason on the day of election or during the period for registration may do either by arranging with the county clerk, said Silvers. His office also will arrange for delivering ballots to invalids and others who are unable to get to the polls on election day.

He urged, however, that voters take advantage of these services only when absolutely necessary. Blind and disabled voters who are registered also may use absentee ballots, he added.

Silvers urged all who are eligible to vote for the first time this year and anyone else with questions concerning the primary or general elections or registration to contact his office.

"Once registered," he said, "the best

New Benefits For Services Inked by Ike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday signed into law a bill to bring all servicemen under full social security coverage on the same basis as civilians, effective Jan. 1.

The bill, product of a special house committee on benefits for survivors of military men, overhauls an existing complex of laws under which servicemen's widows sometimes had to file with four separate government agencies to receive all the benefits to which they were entitled.

The President said in a statement that he signed the bill "with great satisfaction." He said it gave servicemen and their families "a measure of financial security which will enable them to face the inherent hazards and uncertainties of military life with increased confidence."

Among other changes in existing law, the bill increases veterans' administration compensation payments to widows, orphans and dependent parents of men dying in or as a result of service. It also equalizes survivor benefits for regulars and reservists and abolishes the fee $100,000 insurance coverage now granted each man upon induction into service.

Widows, most of whom now get $87 monthly, will be paid $112 plus 12 per cent of the base pay of the dead serviceman, with a minimum of $122 and a maximum of $243 monthly.

"It really opened my eyes on ways to lower my food bill"

"It all started a couple of months ago when I wanted that new hat so badly. Couldn't figure any way to get it out of my budget.

"Then I began to wonder if I was paying more for food than I needed to. Decided to check. And I really checked! Went about it very scientifically, I'll have you know.

"I listed all the foods I bought in a week's time. Then I put five columns to the right of the list so I could jot down the price of each item at each of the five stores that are fairly convenient for me to shop in.

"Believe me, I went to each one of those stores. I put down every price and totaled all prices for each store. It took me almost half a day to do it, but it was worth it."

Know what I found? And this will amaze you, as it did me! My total at Safeway was much less than at any of the other stores. Enough savings in a year, I figured, to pay for a new coat!

The secret lies in just a few pennies difference here and there, usually on items you don't see advertised. But those pennies really add up. And you should hear Steve rave about the meats I've been getting from Safeway. And was he ever impressed with my businesslike approach to my shopping.

Tell you what. I'm going down to Safeway now. Get your coat and come along. I'll show you how to save enough, in no time at all, for that blouse you've had your heart set on.

Styles Shown by Patou Introduce Simple Fashions

PARIS, Aug. 2—A remarkably handsome—short-skirted—collection of simple fashions drawn on the fashioner's enthusiastic applause for Jean Patou Saturday—the third day of the Paris fashion opening.

Whether it is the stamp of Patou clothes—never eccentricity. Other dressmakers may copy the headlines while he repeats the same.

The clean-lined Patou clothes were a definite relief to the fashioner. His clothes are resolutely slim-lined and the only things approaching a cape are round fur collars and big, gathered sleeves.

Patou's new waistline is high, thin and handsome. There is a frequent double belt effect, with one belt at the waistline and the other just above the bust. Wide, sometimes draped or ruffled belts are of self and contrasting satin ribbons and the waist for a corset effect.

Frogman Says Underwater Demolitions Class Makes Boot Camp Appear Tame

After completing the navy's underwater demolition course (UDT), diver Duane McDonald says boot camp was "a kid's play," says Fred McDonald, who was graduated from the UDT training school at the Naval Air Station, Naval Air Station,
P.O. Box 1, Twin Falls, Idaho.

DUANE McDONALD

McDonald enlisted in the navy on June 20, 1954, less than one month ago. He was graduated from Twin Falls high school. After boot camp, he was graduated from class A electrician school and spent a year and four months aboard ship.

Following his first voyage, Mc-Donald requested UDT and was accepted. "I weighed 195 when I began training," he remembers. "Now
I weigh 165."

The first day, he and 68 others began the "mud's" most rigorous training. The class was told everything would be done to make them "fit." Also, most of the training would be psychological.

"We'll work your body to break your mind," officers informed them.
McDonald had an extra incentive.
Because of the extra weight he had put on during the voyage, his absolute was to drop him in no uncertain terms he would "drop."

The training began with a 10-mile run along the beach. They were told to run about a foot of water and to "hit the deck." The surf rolled over them and the chub carried over them and the chub carried sharp particles of shells and wood, which lodged in the tops of their heads.

As the run progressed, the prof's chafed holes in the half-inch sleeves of their legs. McDonald has the scars to prove it.

This was followed by eight twohundred animal, hundreds of hours spent in the classroom. Each night saw four-mile runs. After that came "shell work." The trainees ran, swam, dived and paddled rubber boats of the time. Nine hours were allocated to sleep. "I still work separates the men from the boys and the excitement, quiet, the dominance," he says. When the officers announced the work was officially over, I flopped into my bed fully clothed and slept for 18 hours, got up and shaved and washed, then went back to bed."

After 18 months of this, McDonald and 21 others of the 69 who started were graduated and placed in teams. They came out of the schooling as experts in all types of explosives and proficient with knives and hand-to-hand combat.

There now are less than 400 frog-men in the navy. To qualify men must have perfect teeth and eyesight and their bodies must be perfect without any improperly mended bones, he notes.

They must be able to swim and be unafraid of water. The navy prefers to teach them its own stroke and diving methods.

At the end of the course a dive of 50 feet in the skin is required.

McDonald is home on leave waiting to be transported to the far east. There he will join others in clearing mine fields and setting charges to widen and clear channels. This is hazardous work. A half-pound block of TNT will knock out a man underwater at 100 yards.
The average charge set by frogmen is 500 pounds of TNT.

"We're a proud outfit," McDonald adds, "and well light at the drop of a hat. That's all they taught us to do was fight so natural."
"I'd never go through that training again. It's tough. I can laugh at the boys I was training now, but I still feel for them. I'm just proud I was able to take it."

Olympic Vow Aimed to Balk Pro Careers

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—An amateur pledge taken by entrants in the 1936 Olympic Games is designed to prevent athletes attempting to use the Olympics as a springboard to professional careers.

The pledge, which Chicago's Olympic committee denied the International Olympic committee, says was written into the books after consideration of "pro" requests contestants in the games to declare on their entry blanks that they are amateurs and intend to remain amateurs and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules.

The new rule, according to Olympic committee president, Brundage, reportedly a strong supporter for its adoption, said Wednesday that "the man who signs the pledge is the only one who knows whether or not he will turn pro."

Merchants Expect Good Fall: More Money Around to Spend

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—Businessmen may find the holiday happy this fall because consumers seem likely to have more money to spend. Payroll totals have been rising this year and many individual paychecks are set to rise again. This is far from universal but there'll be enough more money around to make a difference to the merchants. Farmers should have more cash on hand—from soil bank payments and other governmental supports as well as from higher prices on some of their produce. If you're among the fortunate with more income, from whatever source—paycheck, dividends, interest, rent—you will have a wider choice of things to spend this additional money for. And some of the goods and services will carry slightly higher price tags. What worries the merchants and those in the service industries today is how much will go for goods and conveniences, how much will go into savings, into stocks and other investments, and how much will just disappear down the drain of paying up old contracted debts. On the eve of the steel strike, the department of commerce reports, personal income totals had risen to a record annual rate of 24 billion dollars. This was 18 billion dollars higher than in June, 1955. The gain was particularly strong in manufacturing industries. Dividend and interest payments in the first half of this year topped 1955 by three billion dollars. Much of the increased spending spree went right into retail trade which has been comfortably above last year's level. Some of the increased personal income never reached the spendable stage, since the tax collector was there to take a chunk of it. More of what was left over has been going into savings of late than in business to start after the Labor day holiday, with more spending all around—by individuals, by business. Javalee Baler Twine as Filet Super-Service, Filet—Adv.

Much has gone into buying of stocks and other investments. The total of corporate securities floated in the first half of this year is around four billion dollars, although only part of this found a final resting place in individual hands. Many observers look for a pick-up in business to start after the Labor day holiday, with more spending all around—by individuals, by business. Javalee Baler Twine as Filet Super-Service, Filet—Adv.

SERVING OUR NEIGHBORS IN SNAKE RIVER VALLEY

Those were exciting days back in 1916! Snake River Valley was growing up. There were flying machine exhibitions at the Gem State Fairgrounds, Theda Bara was playing in a silent film called "The Serpent." The Overland roadster was selling for $620—and advertised an incredible speed of 50 miles an hour. Electricity was used primarily for lighting, although the electric iron was rapidly becoming the most popular household appliance. Electric ranges were brand new — and practically unobtainable.

Two years earlier a crisis had been reached among the pioneer electric companies serving the Snake River Valley — a crisis affecting the future well-being and progress of the whole area. There had been some 50 separate enterprises engaged in furnishing electricity from 1887 to 1914, and they resulted in five principal companies competing to serve the people. All were in critical financial difficulties — 3 of the 5 were in receivership.

Ways and means had to be found to finance the interconnection of power plants, to link together the distribution systems, to expand the service to farms, and to lower the cost of electricity through efficient operation.

Action was taken. Idaho Power Company was formed from the five existing utility systems. It faced the job of rehabilitation and expansion of the old systems, of engineering new properties, and investing millions of dollars so that Snake River Valley might have abundant power to grow on. There were 17,786 customers in all of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon at the time.

That Idaho Power met the challenge is a matter of record. There has been no lack of power on the system in 40 years. Total installed generating capacity in 1916 was 20,340 kilowatts. Today's generating capacity is 375,000 kilowatts, and addition of the new Snake River plants — Brownlee, Oxbow and Hells Canyon — will increase this capacity by four times. Think what opportunities this presents in terms of future industrial growth!

In 1916, Idaho Power Company had 440 miles of rural lines. Today farm lines have been increased to over 10,000 miles reaching nearly all the farms in Snake River Valley.

Back in the years of those early-day companies, electricity was as high as 25 cents per kilowatt hour. It cost 75¢ a month to operate a "16 candlepower" electric light. Today the average household cost of electricity is 1.70 cents per kilowatt hour. Idaho Power domestic rates are 35% below the national average!

Forty years is an impressive milestone; but in terms of growth and community service, the best is yet to come. The people of the Snake River Valley are continuing to progress. Living standards are up, new homes and buildings are being added constantly, schools are hard-pressed to keep pace with the younger generation. Plentiful low-cost electric power continues to be always ready, going hand in hand with the growth and development of the area—helping to assure a BRIGHT NEW FUTURE for the Snake River Valley.
