Henry Stays Awake to Study Hungarian Refugees on Plane

BETWEEN THE AZORES and BERMUDA — OUR MATS Supercontinent with 11 Hungarian refugees aboard is cruising at 18,000 feet and is scribbling this in longhand.

The baby girl was using the stiletto shoe as a table. Everything is quiet now. Mine is the only light. All the others are off, and everyone is asleep, including the 8-month-old girl who has the seal next to mine.

My next stop is Bermuda, I don't think I'll try to tell them that. There isn't one of them who speaks English, and neither I nor the crew speak a word of Hungarian.

But when I pointed out on the map the tiny dot that is the Azores, I heard a gasp. They became very frightened, pathetically so, and suffered miserably until we were on the runway.

The refugees were given a royal welcome in the Azores. It was as dark as pitch when we landed, and a heavy wind was blowing, but a big crowd of civilians and army personnel was on hand to greet them.

When the refugees boarded the plane at Maudslayi they were the most excited group of people I have ever seen. Not only were they finally freed from America, after weeks of food and fueling.

"We have just 412 pounds for all these people," he said. "I've carried many a VIG who had almost that much himself."

Olo says claims to being the smallest city in the world served by a subway. It is the capital of Norway.

DUTIES DELEGATED TO NIXON

The President's health forced him to delegate many of his duties to his vice president, who would be a sure-fire success. Secondly, Nixon's failure to confide in Harry S. Truman on public affairs, and the latter's tragic mistake in his early days in the White House, is a deep impression on the minds of many.

Finally, the fact that Nixon is the only one of the five Democratic winners, two must be classed as definitely conservative: Sen. Herman Tamm of Georgia, who replaces the late Walter George, and Sen. Frank Lausche, long-time Ohio governor.

Marriage, Divorce Rate for Nation Is Stabilized After 10-Year Period

Edison's notes Ten years ago this week a United Press survey found that divorce judges were working overtime at settling divorces in America who failed to respond to the survey. What has been the story since then? A new survey indicates the nation's divorce rate has stabilized.

By United Press

In 1946, 4,280 divorces were granted in Miami. The last year, 5,042 were granted there—1,238 less. In the 10 years between the two figures Miami's population nearly doubled. The Miami situation is fairly typical of what's been happening in the nation's divorce courts during the last decade.

The months following World War II brought record traffic to most all divorce courts. But figures declining and response to a United Press survey, indicate today, have stabilized since then.

"The divorce rate not only has stabilized, but to some extent is dropping off," said Justice Clarence W. Norris of the California supreme court.

Prof. John T. Green, Boston university sociologist, agreed that the ratio between marriage and divorce had stabilized and said one reason is that Americans are less romantic about marriage.

In Rex A. Skidmore, dean of the University of Utah graduate school, said the rate appears to be stabilized but there is a possibility it may go even further because of more family life education . . . and increasing availability of counseling service.

While all points reported big declines since 1946, many showed increases in divorces from 1955 to 1956, but not enough effort into getting divorce rates down, along, but almost is a major factor.

And I am not only referring to people who drink to excess or get stone drunk. There are many cases where people drink just enough to get irritable. This leads to arguments and finally the divorce court.

Ford also said "one of the reasons our divorce rate is so high is that our laws make it comparatively easy. In so-called uncontested suits it is easy for the parties to agree to disagree in court. They make allegations that are probably exaggerated or at least certainly are not borne out by evidence."

Agnes McCreery, director of the Des Moines family guidance service, said "immaturity" is the prime reason for divorce and that alcoholism and financial difficulties are only symptoms of immaturity. The Rev. W. S. Shively, Oklahoma City ministerial representative on the county marriage clinic, said "we disagree in the long run that basic insecurity in the individual usually is to blame."

At Memphis, Mrs. M. V. Smith, divorce attorney, said the growing "independence" of women is behind most divorces today. "Women used to have to take it," she said. "Divorce was frowned on so much. Now, things they could take they don't. Also they are independent financially. They can get just as good jobs as men, so why be unhappy at home?" But she added that many "independent" women who get divorces "often live to regret it."

Egypt Wants Conservative Party to Quit

CAIRO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Egyptian officials today said British Prime Minister Anthony Eden's resignation but said the entire conservative government should go.

Other sources said Egypt would find it easier to re-establish normal relations with a labor government than the Eden-Labor party look a major role in opposing the Anglo-French invasion of the Suez.

C. Col. Amr El Badai, former member of the military junta, said the conservative cabinet shared Eden's responsibility for the Suez venture and should go.

Egyptian newspapers were openly jubilant at Eden's resignation. They interpreted it as a victory for Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Egypt.

The theme of editorial reaction was that Eden who invaded Egypt to topple Nasser had only toppled himself.

Eden's resignation was the main topic of editorials in all morning newspapers. All stressed Nasser today is stronger than ever while Eden has ended his political career.

Uniformity Lack Hit in Road Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The national roadbuilding program act, being submitted as a unified bill to Congress, has been criticized for lack of uniformity among the states. John A. Voipe, federal highway administrator, conceded at a Senate subcommittee hearing yesterday that the bill was not uniform.

But he said he looks for uniformity in the next 18 months.

He said Wyoming has contributed 80 per cent of its funds; Oregon 41; Utah 27; Washington 27; Idaho 22; and Nevada 8. Montana is one of several states which have contributed none of their first-year funds.

The Hills family invites your family to enjoy the first instant coffee that smells like coffee!

If you like the convenience and economy of instant coffee... but miss the fragrance and flavor of fresh-brewed coffee... we hope you'll try our new Instant Hills Bros. Coffee.

Coffee is our only business. We've been blending and roasting fine coffees for three generations—since 1878. And in city after city where it's sold, more people enjoy Hills Bros. Coffee than any other brand.

For the last twenty years, we've been working and testing to create an instant coffee that would equal the best cup of coffee you ever enjoyed. We refused to introduce it until it was right and ready. Now we believe we've got it—and we think you'll agree when you taste and smell Instant Hills Bros. Coffee.

Why did we take twenty years?

That's a long time to wait when other good instant are on the market. But we had two tough problems to lick:

First, we had to find a way to keep the elusive flavor "esters"—the delicate flavor tones that are usually lost in manufacture. We did that by our own special production process, different from anything else in the coffee industry.

Second, we had to preserve aroma and flavor better than anybody had ever done it before. We succeeded by packing our coffee in a flavor-protecting vapor which is locked inside the jar by an inner-seal of aluminum foil that keeps taste in, keeps air out—Hills Bros. original TASTE-LOK®.

Smell—and taste—the difference!

Your first cup of Instant Hills Bros. Coffee will be pleasant and positive proof that our twenty years of work weren't wasted. You'll find aroma and taste combined in the cup to give you all the full-bodied, lingering flavor you've always associated with fine coffee.

In spite of its rich aroma, flavor and freshness, Hills Bros. costs no more than other good instant. You can make it in cup or pot. There's no work, no waste, and you get a wonderful cup of coffee every time.

Instant Hills Bros. Coffee is on your grocer's shelves right now—in 2-ounce and 6-ounce jars. Our family is proud of it. If good coffee is important to your family, we hope you'll try our product and share our pleasure. Today's a good day to start.

Every jar of Instant Hills Bros. Coffee has an aluminum inner seal that keeps taste in, keeps air out... Hills Bros. original TASTE-LOK®. Look for it when you shop—and be sure of fresh, fragrant, flavorful coffee—No Work... No Waste... Good Taste®.

Special Sales Feature Meat In U.S. Stores

The Associated Press
Hasty winter meat sales will be a variety of meats this week. Special sales in food stores across the country give consumers a wide choice for the main item on their menu.
Meat continues to be the most popular food item, particularly in the home. The week's special sales are a variety of meats, including beef, pork, lamb, and chicken. These sales are a result of the government's efforts to stabilize the meat market and ensure a steady supply of meat to consumers.

Some stores show a considerable drop in pork prices although the drop is generally still above the barrel price of a month ago. Wholesale prices for hogs went down a little, but dressed meat at wholesale was up a little this week in some markets.
Egg Prices Drop
Wholesale egg prices had a sharp drop during the past week. As a result, retail prices are down several cents in most areas by now. Winter vegetables are plentiful in wide belts across the middle states. This puts nearby cabbage, onions, and other crops, such as turnips and rutabagas in the category of outstanding buys. Market observers also report that collards, kale and turnip tops are generally cheap.
New Crops Available
New crops of cabbage, beans and other vegetables are coming to the market from growers in the deep South. These crops are expected to be available in large quantities by the end of the month.

NCAA Refuses To Lift Bans On PCC Teams

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—The powerful NCAA council in a day of "no" Wednesday declined to lift the ban on PCC teams for having used an ineligible player in the 1956 NCAA basketball championships and not to lighten penalties previously inflicted on their colleges—Washington, UCLA and Southern California.

As business began to pick up rapidly at the 51st NCAA convention and the 24th American Football Coaches association meeting, the NCAA also renewed its 1956 (football) committee report, which said, in effect, we did pretty well on football TV, so let's continue.

The Minnesota case was the first that had come up concerning an ineligible player in a NCAA team championship and produced the rather surprising revelation that the NCAA had no general policy concerning such a situation. That was corrected at a meeting last week but meanwhile the council was faced with the problem of what to do in this one instance. It decided to do nothing.

As a result the NCAA now has a policy which would deprive a coach who enters an ineligible player of any championship or place in the tournament standings it might win. The council also decided that the ineligible player's team points will be rubbed out.

The three Pacific-coast schools, on the other hand, are participating in NCAA championships and "cooperating" events for several years. The council has decided to lighten in-line with recent action by their own conference.

Rodeo Rules Changed by Cowboy Group

DENVER, Jan. 10 (AP)—In one of the most drastic rule changes in several years, the Rodeo Cowboys Association Wednesday amended its by-laws to curb appearance of members at more than one rodeo during the same week.

RCA, directors and representatives of management joined in eliminating the "one rodeo rule" at all RCA-approved shows.

Under this rule a bronc rider, a show jumper, either cowboy or a cowboy, could enter a show in one of the RCA-approved shows. The rule was changed to allow a cowboy to enter a show in one of the RCA-approved shows. The rule was changed to allow a cowboy to enter a show in one of the RCA-approved shows.

Walker's Top Guard; Faux Beats Glen's

Tommy Walker's outclassed the National Guard quintet 74-34 and Faux Clear Beat Glen's 34-14 in a pair of basketball games Wednesday evening.

The Guardians held their own during the first quarter and trailed only 8-4 after the initial period, but Walker's opened up a 12-0 lead in the second quarter. Faux Clear led 34-14 in the final period.

Robinson Touches Off Debate With Article

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Jackie Robinson story, which might be titled: "So I took the $50,000..." still is a prime topic of conversation and editorial comment around these parts, partly because of the debate it has caused and partly because the story is so timely.

The facts are pretty well known by now. The ex-Brooklyn Dodger star two years ago made an agreement with Look to give that magazine an exclusive on the announcement of his retirement for a reported $50,000 as part of a package deal, and he signed as vice president of a snack-bar chain about 20 minutes before he was notified he had been traded to the New York Giants.

"The's" Proposal for Troops Leaves U.N. on "Status Quo"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — Within the spirit and meaning of the U.N. charter, the plan for sending American forces into the Middle East to stop a communist attack—leave the United States about where they are before. The U.N. will work only as long as its two biggest members, the United States and Russia, want it to work.

Because they don't trust each other, and didn't when they created the U.N. almost 12 years ago, they built into its charter convenient loopholes to let them maneuver pretty freely whenever it suited them.

Thanks to one of those loopholes, Eisenhower was able to make the proposition he laid before congress and still maintain he was acting within the spirit and meaning of the U.N. charter.

He made the request in two ways: First, with a personal plea to congress last Saturday; second, with a carefully worded resolution prepared by his aides.

It's the language in the resolution which counts because, when congress approves the resolution, that becomes the formal policy of the government.

In his address Eisenhower said: Any use he made of American forces would be "subject to the overriding authority" of the U.N. security council. What does that mean? Nothing, if you then go on to read the wording of the resolution.

If an emergency arose and Eisenhower sent troops into the Middle East, he would notify the security council "immediately." In short, what he would really do is act first and tell the council about it later.

The big powers have a veto over each other's actions in the security council. The United States and Russia both wanted the veto in the charter.

It was the crowning mark of their mutual distrust. It enables each to block the other in a tough situation, or to try to. For example: Suppose a communist-dominated nation attacked an Arab country which asked American help. Suppose then it, instead of responding at once, Eisenhower went before the security council and said: "I think the council should authorize joint action by the whole U.N. to stop this aggression."

Russia could veto that, just as it could veto a request by Eisenhower to approve his use of American forces before he sent them into battle. But if he used the forces first and told the council later, it would make no difference what Russia did then.

But doesn't the U.N. charter in some way require its members to go through the international organization before taking military action, even in an emergency?

No. There's a loophole for that, too. Article 51 in the charter says: "Nothing in the present charter shall impair the inherent right of individual—that could be the United States—or collective defense—that could be the United States and some Arab country which asked its help—against an armed attack against a member of the United Nations, with 26 and third in Yale with 25 to maintain international peace and security. Measures taken by members in the exercise of this right of self-defense shall be immediately reported to the security council and shall not in any way affect the authority and responsibility of the security council under the present charter to take at any time such action as it deems necessary in order to maintain or restore international peace and security."
