Large Armory Is Favored at C. of C. Meet

(From Page One)
Hovenden said Twin Falls could have the large plant if it was prepared to carry 250,000 lbs. of explosives. He added a 7,000 square foot drill hall would cost about another $40,000, of which the government would pay $20,000 and the national government $20,000.

He reminded the committee that unless they took advantage of the armory it would be a long time until they get a large meeting place. The larger armory would accommodate at least 600 persons at a banquet and 1,000 persons in a general meeting.

Directors felt they should shun the larger drill hall and more adequate kitchen space and facilities. The armory would be available for public use almost every day of the year except Monday and Tuesday night, which are the guard's night.

Cliff Hovenden, chairman of the committee, said the committee would study the matter further and possibly meet with the city commission. He said the committee would also study the matter of a new water main and sewer line.

On Thursday they again visited the proposed site of the armory. They returned to the city commission on Friday.

Buildings Are Destroyed by Alaska Blazes

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 18 (AP)—The old Malmsten saloon, an Alaska landmark, and three other buildings were destroyed by a fire which spread out of control here for several hours early today.

Damages were estimated at $200,000 and one unidentified fire fighter was treated at a local hospital.

The fire started in the Malmsten saloon, a three-story building and an electrical supply store also were destroyed. Other buildings in the downtown business district were damaged.

Heavy fog and 5 to 10 above zero weather hampered city firemen and hampered air force personnel who fought the blaze.

The cause of the fire was not known. The fire broke out about 2 a. m. (EST) in the grocery and was not brought under control until several hours later.

Leaders Are Optimistic in West Future

From several news warnings that inflation and excessive government regulation posed threats to the booming economy of the West and the nation.

The forecasts were contained in a monthly magazine published by Kaiser Steel corporation.

Peterson looked for another record year for western business and industry.

He said for the petroleum industry as anticipated to increase about 4 percent over 1956, even though larger supplies of natural gas will be available for the first time in the Pacific Northwest.

He said war clouds over the world were the major factor affecting the business outlook, especially in the steel and oil industries and in governmental expenditures.

UCLA's Jacoby predicted continued expansion, especially in the defense industry, but at a somewhat slower pace than in 1956.

He said the reelection of President Eisenhower makes it "reasonable that the strong underlying trend of business confidence in the West will be maintained."

He said that "serious efforts will be continued to prevent price inflation, as well as to forestall serious business setbacks."

Quinton forecast a "continuing high level of business activity in 1957" and Quinton said increasing productivity in every sector of the industrial economy resulted in "increasing demand for goods."

Gen. McNamara said that due to the "unparalleled situation" heavy government spending for defense programs would continue, with most of the procurement money for aircraft and guided missiles being spent in the west.

Solon Probers Are Rapped by Union Official

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—A top official of the giant Teamsters union today challenged the authority of senators investigating alleged labor racketeering and refused to answer their questions.

Elmer O. Mohr, executive vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the nation's largest union, said he did not believe the senate investigations subcommittee had "proper authority" for the inquiry it has launched.

Declines to Answer

"And for that reason," he said, "I decline to answer any questions."

The subcommittee called Mohr for an explanation of telegrams which it said he had sent to other officials of the union in behalf of Dave Beck, the teamster's general president. Beck is visiting abroad.

"Fishing Expeditions"

The telegrams, calling the committee's probe a "fishing expedition," urged the union officials to challenge the group's authority before giving any testimony or producing their records.

Mohr first was called before the subcommittee Thursday but questioning was referred when he said he wanted to have his counsel present.

At the time the investigating senators said they wanted to find out if the Teamsters union was encouraging witnesses to "hide and conceal facts" about alleged racketeering.

A fellowship hour will be held by the Western Fellowship following the school of missions at the home of the group's counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brune, 1404 Fifth avenue. All young people of post-high school age are invited.

And now for the "The whole's . . . This policy of the whale's flukes is perhaps the grandest sight to be seen in the animated nature. Out of the bottomless profundities the gigantic leviathan seems apodictically snatching the morsel of his prey from the midst of the meshwork of my ship during sunrise that crimsoned sky and sea. I once saw a large herd of whales in the east, all heading towards the sun, and for a moment vibrating in concert with monstrous flukes. As it seemed to me at that time that the sun was the object of adoration of the gods was I not beheld, even in Persia, the hood of the fire worships. Herman Melville, "Moby Dick."

By United Press
One of the nation's worst cold waves showed no signs of relenting today.
Instead, dry winds brought fresh snow to scattered sections of the country, and in some areas, after an hour's rest, dust clouds swirling in the plains.
In Buffalo, N. Y., was buried by a blizzard. A heavy snowfall, blowing the total accumulation there to 14 inches.
Records continued to fall as below zero readings gripped most of Pennsylvania, New York state, New England, and sections of the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi valley, the northern Rockies and the northern plains.
A three below zero reading in Detroit yesterday shattered the previous record low reading for that date of minus 24 set in 1893.
Temperatures plunged to an all-time record low of 13 below in Youngstown, O., yesterday, and other records for the date were set in Cleveland and Pittsburgh, with 3 below.
In Columbus, O., 7 below.
The toll of lives and property damage in accidents caused by the cold to the weather mounted steadily.
A United Press count since the first weather-caused death there was 12 in Indiana, nine in Illinois, nine in New York, six each in North Carolina and Pennsylvania, four each in Michigan and Massachusetts, three each in West Virginia and Virginia, two in both Iowa and Maine, two elsewhere in New England, and one each in Mississippi and the District of Columbia.

Adjustment Firm Files Action Here

It is alleged that defendant, Rensselaer Distributors, Inc., for goods amounting to $121,600, failed to pay for the same, and that the corporation has interest amounting to $13,350.
The complaint also alleges that defendant, Vincent, owes Dr. L. E. Wondolich, Twin Falls, $6,000 for professional services. Attorney H. B. Smith represents the plaintiff.

2 Sailors Killed

Damage to the tanker and its cargo was estimated at four million dollars.
Ten crewmen were listed as missing, and it was said that the ship had made their way ashore to safety.

Earnings Listed

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 18 (AP)—Utah construction company reported that the state's construction and mining activity amounted to $1,100,000,000 in the year ended Oct. 31, 1956.
The amount compared with $8,400,000,000 a year earlier. The 1956 figure was the highest in the history of the company said.

Lures Tossed Out by Nation's Banks in Race for Customers

Financial institutions have boosted interest and dividend rates, stepped up their advertising sharply and, in some instances, even abandoned gentleman's agreements. They are all trying to lure the small saver away from the savings bank.
"There is a terrific competition for the savings dollar," said a spokesman for one major Chicago savings bank.
"And it's going to get worse before it gets better," he added.
Six San Francisco savings and loan firms were among the most recent to jump dividend rates. They boosted their rates from 3 1/2 to 4 percent annually last week to meet competition of major commercial banks which raised from 2 1/2 to 3 percent.
Most banks and building and loan associations throughout the United States have upped dividends or interest at least 1/2 of 1 percent during recent months. Some have made sharper increases in bids for savers' business.

Never Better' Picture Noted For Shipping

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP)—George Killian, president of American President Lines, summed up in two words the outlook for Pacific Coast shipping: "Never better."

"I'm excited," he said, "about the picture of the Pacific Coast shipping lines serving the Pacific in the midst of the biggest boom since World War II."

The dollar value of foreign trade in and out of west coast ports in 1956 was up 14 per cent over the previous year.

More cargo moved to the far east on U. S. ships than ever before. Total tonnage more than doubled what it was when Shanghai and other north China ports were open. Now there will be 150,000 more number of tourists visiting the Pacific this year—double the 1954 total.

Biggest problem facing the industry was to find more ships. One solution was to pull World War II freighters out of mothballs. Another was to convert Maritime freighter hulls to liners.

In the midst of a multi-million dollar liner construction program was a Matson Navigation company, whose president, Randolph Matson, predicted that the surge of tourists throughout the Pacific "is just getting started."

Americans definitely are on the move, with more money to spend and more leisure time in which to spend it than ever before in history," he said.

Matson has backed its faith in the Pacific travel boom with the re-equipment of the Matson and Monterey from Marine hulls for passenger service to the South Pacific, Australia and New Zealand.

Scouting Program Given Rotary Unit

ASHOBY, Jan. 18—A program of Scouting was given for the Rotary club Wednesday noon, Ray Raugh, Twin Falls Scout executive, spoke.

He said there are 60 Cub Scout chapters in Ashoby with 38 registered. There are 71 eligible for Scouts and only 21 registered.

Scoutmaster Explorers only eight are registered.

In reviewing this Scout program and father-son relationship, he said the average father doesn't spend more than seven and one-half minutes a week with his son, and he pointed out the value of the Scout program from a family-neighborhood standpoint.

Members of the Rotary Scout committee are Dr. Ralph A. Lawrence, chairman; Harry J. Hays, Layle Talbot, Howard E. Adkins, E. J. Shaw and Chalmers Martin.

More Fun Than Jungle

James, 5-year-old orangutan at Jungland, an animal compound at Thousand Oaks, Calif., is having more fun than a jungleful of monkeys as he rides a coin-operated elephant at the park. The big ape was excited enough when trainers put him on the elephant's back, but when they put a coin in the slot the elephant started to buck—zipal (AP Wirephoto).

Varied Peoples Eliminate 'One World,' Says Hank McLeome

By HENRY MALCOMBER
BERLIN—The more I travel about the world the more I am convinced that there never will be such a thing as one world, and I don't care if the jet-age makes it possible to pull one sock in New York and the other in Singapore.

My observations make it clear to me, anyway, that the closer together the peoples of the earth get, the more apparent are their differences.

Indeed, the farther apart they are, the more alike they seem. Mix 'em, and you have oil and water for sure.

Take the French, for example. I can live in France until I was 150, going on 151 years old, and never dress as dork a Frenchman of my age and station. French suits and shoes horrify me. They have more points than a compass, and when Frenchmen get all dressed up they look as if they had been sharpened on a whetstone. I have a tendency to duck them on the streets of Paris, just I brush against one and get lacerated.

But the French love these little suits that seem to fit too tightly, and they undoubtedly look upon the wardrobe of an American as a badly chosen assortment of burly bags.

Frenchmen love perfume, too, and douse themselves with the juices and extracts of flower petals, exotic roots, and strange herbs.

As for the Germans—every day I stay in Germany I realize more and more that I never would be able to say "Gute Nacht," and really mean it.

Walking is one thing that marks a difference between the German and the American. The German is the greatest walker on earth. He really isn't happy unless he is walking one leg after another, and if the weather is foul, and his path leads straight uphill, so much the better. An American can make no greater mistake in Germany than to believe a German when he gives directions to a place and says it is within easy walking distance. The American is very likely to have to stop and have his shoes half-soaked before he is much more than halfway. To a German, a distance of fifteen or twenty blocks is only a few steps, and a man who would take a cab is crazy.

This love of walking isn't confined to the men. Women do it, too, and so do the children. I haven't seen one yet, but I wouldn't be surprised if a year-old infant passed me, ruckus on back, heavy shoes and rubber-padded, headed for a hike in the mountains.

The farther east one goes, the more pronounced is the difference in tastes. In people, a man can wear his sandals to the city and still work, and his associates will say how nice he looks. An American would feel slightly underdressed even if he were wearing a counterpart of a comforter.

Mind you, I'm not knocking tight suits, walking, or shoes for clothing. I'm just saying Americans are different. We would become used to them. The Greeks like wine that tastes

Europe Seeks Mart in Hike For Economy

LONDON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Western Europe is moving toward the goal of a giant common market of 250 million customers.

In careful negotiations Britain and her continental neighbors seek to give their peoples an expansive market production properly like that of the United States.

Many difficulties have to be solved before this sunny upland is reached. Once there, the nations ultimately may aspire to an even more sweeping idea—a "United States of Europe."

The idea of a common market—the big first step—has opponents in all the countries involved.

The "empire first" group in Britain's Conservative party feels such a plan would loosen the kingdom's ties with the commonwealth and its remaining colonies.

Harold Macmillan, the new prime minister, believes in the plan up to a point. His cabinet has a "European accord." Some of the ministers spent their first hours in office discussing economic unity with Belgium Foreign Minister Paul Henry Spaak, foremost apostle of the idea.

The project commands wide support in Britain's Labor party. The present approach to a common market stems from the Benelux system devised after World War II. That system provided for a standard market of tariff barriers among Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Benelux has had its ups and downs, sharpening competition in some areas of industry and building up common pressures.

Also pointing the way is the cooperation of France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg in the European Coal and Steel Community.

Those six countries are in the final stages of negotiating a common market by reducing customs and tariff quotas restrictions on imports.

LIVERPOOL, England, Jan. 18 (AP)—Britain had a load of midwest oil delivered by a Russian tanker today.

The tanker Gordona unloaded a cargo of crude oil here yesterday. Shipping sources said the 6,200-ton vessel was the first Soviet tanker to land a cargo in Britain since before World War II. The Gordona had been chartered by the Shell Oil company.

Farm Bureau Sets Leaders' School Here

Leadership education schools will be conducted in Magic Valley next week for officers of county farm bureaus according to a release from the bureau's state headquarters in Portland.

Court to Open Its Term on Jan. 24

SHOSHONE, Jan. 18.—The spring term of district court will open here on Jan. 24 with Judge D. H. Butten presiding.

There are 22 cases on the civil calendar, including six divorce suits, several collection actions, railroad and automobile action cases, suits for labor, child support and collection on notes.

The criminal calendar has only two cases and they are reports on parole, one for desertion of family and another for writing checks without funds.

But Don't Travel Over 60 Anyway

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 18.—New Mexico finds itself with few speed laws.

It started with a squabble between the legislature, which favored a 70 mile per hour limit, and state police, who wanted a 60 mile per hour top.

A court test resulted in the judge ruling, in effect, that any speed was okay if it was "reasonable and prudent."

But don't step on the gas passing through state police say they don't think anything over 60 is either reasonable or prudent.

Family Burned

NEWTON, N. J., Jan. 18.—A mother and father and their seven children were burned seriously early today when their farm dwelling burst in subzero weather in near-by Hampton.

Melvin Potter, 34, his wife, Audrey, 28, and their seven children, ranging in age from 10 to 10 years, were rushed to Newton Memorial hospital, all of them in fair condition.

Former Solon Mentioned in Post on GOP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Some Republicans in congress today mentioned in congressional action a main source of Kansas about his becoming a candidate for the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

Darby is a veteran member of the national committee and was one of the early organizers and leaders of the "draft Eisenhower" movement in 1952.

H. Meade Alcorn, Jr., national committeeman from Connecticut, has been reported to be the leading candidate for the chairmanship and to have White House approval.

But some opposition has built up to Alcorn on grounds that he lacks the needed experience for the job.

One of the new chairman's main tasks will be to plan strategy for the coming 1958 battle for control of Congress.

Darby served in the senate in 1949-50 as a temporary appointee. He is well known among congressional Republicans and the party at large through his service since 1949 on the national committee.

The national committee will meet here Saturday. Retiring Chairman Leonard W. Hall will name a subcommittee at that time, to sound out the President on his choice or choices for the chairmanship vacancy. Then on Tuesday, the day after Mr. Eisenhower's inauguration, the full committee will meet again to accept Hall's resignation and to elect a successor.

WAREHAM, Mass., Jan. 18.—A grieving mother related today how four of her five children perished last night in a fire that destroyed their five-room home.

Dead are Annette, 8 months; Kenneth, 3; Phyllis, 10, and Kenneth, 12.

The father, Jack Smith, 36, was admitted to Taunton State hospital three weeks ago following a breakdown.

Germany Has New Role on World Scene

The United Press

West Germany's impact upon the European political scene is growing rapidly.

It is being suggested that West Germany will be responsible for the long as the strongest power on the western European continent.

The new attitude of this increased importance is the result of a German treaty with France, which was signed in the first line in the event of a war with Soviet Russia.

It is reported that both President De Gaulle and the French government are now studying the possibility of a German treaty with France, which was signed in the first line in the event of a war with Soviet Russia.

French Sue Cafe On Cheese Count

ROQUEFORT, France, Jan. 18.—This "communist" which has been guarding its cheese-making secret jealously for 1,000 years, was up in arms today over a report that a Chicago steak house was passing off plain American blue cheese as honest-to-goodness Roquefort.

The town's 1,400 citizens were so incensed that they have started legal action against the restaurant.

Roquefort's suit claims that the restaurant's menu offers the entire gamut of "Roquefort" dishes, prepared as the result of the British-French invasion of the Swiss canton of France.

That operation, which hurt Britain and France and resulted in a breach with the United States that has not yet been entirely overcome, made West Germany look better by contrast.

Bronze Trophy Won by Dancer

John Westenskow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gladus, 450 Fifth avenue, was presented a bronze trophy Jan. 8 by the Hutter Bazaar association in Lone Beach, Calif.

Westenskow was graduated from Hutter high school in 1954 and has been in the navy for two years. He is a crew member of the USS Key.

Readers the award, the dancer was selected to go to the samba and mambo at the Hutter Bazaar when the bands were presented at the Wilton hotel in Lone Beach.

60-Mile-an-Hour Planes Are Recalled by Jet-Age Airman

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 18.—"These jet-age fliers and in the field of aerodynamics it just gets up and goes," said the man who flew the Atlantic in 1926, recalled the 12-mile-an-hour planes of his youth.

Merrill, who is senior chief pilot for Eastern Air lines, expects in less than three years to be slowing or speeding through the high, thin air at 550-600 miles an hour.

The remarkable thing is that this man remembers the day of the early 1920's when he would be flying along in one of the delivery crates of war, from Edmonton, Canada, to the time and look down to find him self actually going backwards over the ground.

"In those old days," he said in an interview, "lots of times I'd get objects on the ground and if there was a big wind-back up in those days the cruising speed was about 60 miles an hour."

Road Unpaved

KETCHUM, Jan. 18.—Richard Ransom, Phoenix, Ariz., former Ketchum resident who is visiting here this week, reports the 12-mile stretch of unpaved road from the end of the old north of Ketchum to the paved road south of Ketchum.

The last unpaved section of highway is about 12 miles long and is in poor condition. It is a big wind-back up in those days the cruising speed was about 60 miles an hour.

Review Is Given At Club Meeting

Miss Lindgren stated that the low birth rate of the 1940's and the high rate of the 1950's, followed by the continuing high rate of the future would be a guide to the school and business needs of the future.

Schools are headed for worse in the future as the "crop" of children outgrows the expansion as it is now being handled. Colleges face even more problems because there is more demand for more fields, she said.

Five years ago, there were one million students in colleges. Today there are three million, and five years from now there may be double attendance from what it is today, she said.

These schools are largely tax supported.

She said last year 41 Twin Falls teachers left the schools with 11 quitting teaching. Teaching is not the ambition of many young people, she said.

Mrs. Arthur DeVolder reported that Idaho may lose federal aid, already provided and due to come to Idaho, unless the Idaho legislature matches federal funds.

Mrs. DeVolder reviewed the National Education association's policy toward education.

Mrs. John E. Hayes and Ida Allen, co-chairmen of the education committee, were in charge of the program.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"The principal of our school indicated that he did not want parents in the school during school hours, unless we went there by appointment to speak to a teacher. We thought it would be a good idea to have a committee of mothers who gave their time to the school so we were on hand to help when it was needed. The principal politely told us we would be in the way. Who is right?"

Whether or not parents should be in the school during school hours depends on the situation at the time, on the kind of school, on the ability of the volunteers to do what is needed.

School is a highly-organized business, a professional business conducted by trained men and women who have been given their place and authority by accredited institutions of learning and by the officials of the community. There is no work to be done. Time is precious, far more precious than is often understood. Freedom and peace to do the work and conserve the time must be allowed the teachers.

With this in mind community cooperation with the school people will be welcomed. This would imply that no parent will enter a classroom or take on any duty without the approval of the principal. All schools do not need outside help. Some do and are delighted to have it. If the help is to be of any use, it must be supervised by the principal or whoever is in charge.

Some schools have found it very helpful in the lunchroom. A mother presiding at the lunch table is likely to create a pleasant atmosphere there. A much-needed contribution, indeed. Some schools have found a mother's help in the play hour great. If, by playing the piano for games, one mother made this hour a real joy for the children and the children, it is difficult for a teacher to teach a dance for example, and play for it at the same time.

When a school or a class has given a play, a parent often has helped greatly. Playing the piano, assisting at rehearsals, taking charge of tickets — all these tasks have been performed by volunteers and added much to the success of the undertaking.

The attitude of the parent-volunteer has much to do with the welcome he receives in the school and the success of his effort. By indicating willingness to cooperate, by respecting the importance of the interrupted classwork, by placing talents and experience at the service of the school, parents can be assured of a royal reception there.

Bring your own handkerchiefs. Parents should search for the cues and put on to bring at the beginning. Dr. Latta does his advice in letter. P. Latta to be able to cope, avoid 10 cents in confusion. N.Y. Times-News, P. 10, Nov. 20.
