Night of Revolt is Over

Rampaging Convicts Vie, Release Hostages

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah, Feb. 7 (AP)—Rioting convicts knuckled under early today after ruling Utah state prison in nearly 12 hours of unrelenting revolt. The convicts, who were held in a wild alcohol-and-powder binge, others sat around nonchalantly watching television and looking out for the captives they had seized. They yielded to Gov. George D. Clyde's firm insistence that he would not even consider their demands until they turned loose their hostages and gave up their weapons. The wild party ended at 5:55 a.m. The last 18 of the convicts fled out of the convict-controlled section of the modern prison some 20 miles south of Salt Lake City. With them came convict spokesmen who surrendered their arms.

Gov. Clyde said he would not consider the 43 "suggestions" of the prisoners. The state board of corrections, governing body of the prison, was called to meet at the prison during the afternoon. The prisoners began retreating to their cells, and authorities went through to make a preliminary survey of damage (State Highway Patrol Sup. Lloyd Graham was preparing a cell-by-cell shakedown). The riot of about 500 prisoners had started about 10 p.m. during last evening's dinner hour. Apparently in an argument between a convict and a guard, it spread quickly through the convict section of the prison. Authorities scaled off the administrative section.

The convicts grabbed 27 hostages, including 13 members of a church basketball team which was playing a game in the gymnasium. ### Ranger From Hailey Comes To Post Here

Transfer of Edwin A. Fournier from his position as forest ranger at Hailey to a similar position at Twin Falls was announced today by Forest Supervisor Charles I. Daugherty.

Fournier moved to Hailey in May 1955. Previous service includes assignments on the Payette national forest, where he served as a forest ranger at Council, and seasonal employment with the forest service in Oregon and Alaska. He also served with the U.S. Indian service in Washington and with the U.S. armed forces from 1945 to 1948.

He is a graduate of the University of Washington with a degree in forest management in the spring of 1941.

The district ranger position at Hailey will be filled by transfer and promotion of Assistant Ranger Mark A. Kary from the Malad range district of the Carson national forest.

Kary was assigned to the Malad position in the spring of 1956. He had served with the U.S. Indian service at Reservoir, B.D., and at the Klamath agency in Oregon.

Kary is a graduate of the Utah State Agricultural college where he received a degree in range management in 1952. He received his early college training at the North Dakota school of forestry.

Change in assignments will take place about March 1, Daugherty said.

Saud Working On Unity Aims In Middle East

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—King Abdul of Saudi Arabia today continued negotiations with other Arab leaders aimed at unifying the Arab world.

Saud, standing by for a final meeting Friday with President Eisenhower, has held long talks with representatives of the other Arab states.

His goal has been to unify the Arab nations so they can speak with one voice in dealing with foreign policy. If that day comes, it might well mean the end of Arab bickering which has interfered with attempts to solve Middle East problems. It might even bring Arab-Israeli peace. And that is a prime target of U.S. foreign policy.

Saud met for 1 1/2 hours yesterday with Crown Prince Abdul Ilah of Iraq, and has held talks with Washington ambassadors of other Arab nations.

He is working and the crown prince, Foreign Minister Charles Malik of Lebanon is supporting the Saudi view of the Middle East situation.

The Saudi view is that the Arab world should be unified and that the Arab nations should speak with one voice in dealing with foreign policy.

Burley Murder Trial

Jury Being Selected

BURLEY, Feb. 7.—Defense and prosecuting attorneys still are trying to complete selection of a jury in the murder trial of Earl David Boon. Up to noon Thursday they had questioned 33 prospective jurors. Boon is charged with the knife slaying of Mrs. Pearl Aerts, Burley hotel manager, whose slaying body was found in a hotel room in November.

The trial of the 21-year-old North Carolinian began Wednesday morning with District Judge Robert M. Beck presiding. It followed another jury decision Tuesday holding that Boon was mentally capable of assisting his attorneys in preparing his defense.

Attorneys questioned 20 prospective jurors Wednesday. At the end of the day the jury box contained 11 men and one woman but all had not been accepted.

A crowded courtroom Wednesday heard Prosecuting Attorney Norman Nielson ask prospective jurors if they were opposed to capital punishment. He asked them to answer "yes" or "no" to the question.

Defense Attorney Dean Klepfer asked them if they were opposed to the death penalty. He asked them to answer "yes" or "no" to the question.

Although Tuesday's jury ruled Boon was sane enough to stand trial, the jury was asked to consider a contention that he was insane at the time of the killing.

He said, "Congress is not going to do anything unless the President makes some specific recommendation."

Chairman Byrd, D., Va., of the senate finance committee said that if the President made such a recommendation, the President would be doing something out of his mind.

He could stop this economic warfare by recommending a budget of $10 billion. He said that if the President made such a recommendation, the President would be doing something out of his mind.

Smylie OK's Survey

BOISE, Feb. 7 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie said today a management survey of the state highway department will start after March 1 and a similar study is being planned to cover "the entire area of state operations covered by the state board of health."

Both studies, the governor said, will be conducted by private agencies. He said the Evaco services of New York City already had been retained to study "management techniques" in the highway division.

The governor said he suggested the survey and the highway board of directors picked the agency. He noted the department is using the same management techniques it used 10 years ago and expenditures in this department now have risen to a new high of $77 million dollars. "Salaries and wages have reached massive proportions," he added.

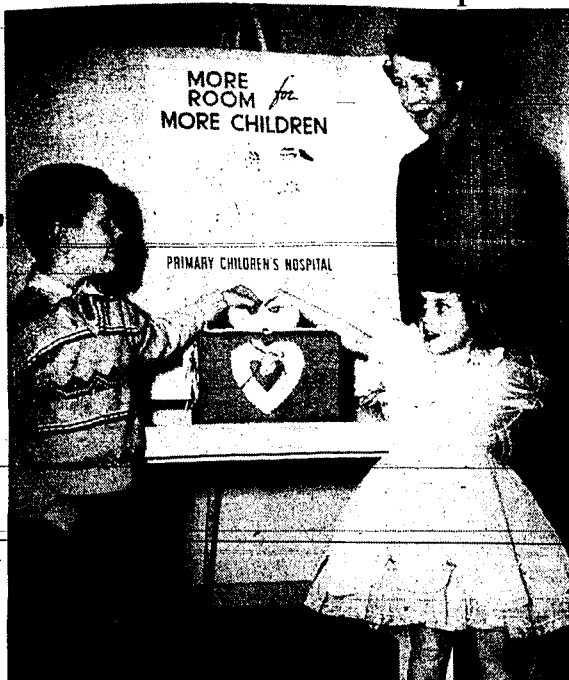

Smylie told the house institutions committee during a meeting today an agency has not yet been selected for the survey. He said the survey would be a new high of $77 million dollars. "Salaries and wages have reached massive proportions," he added.

Youthful Appearance Brings Problem To Gem State's New Democratic Solon

WASHINGTON (INRA) — Frank Church, 32, of Idaho, is both a young senator and a young man. He is a member of that body, is trying to learn the ins and outs of the Senate upper chamber.

Twice, his only son is doing his best to get the hang of things in the third grade while he's a new pupil.

Both seem to be adjusting very well to the strange surroundings and new faces.

Twice has some neighborhood chums-out-look. Chevy Chase, where the senator and his wife, Bethline, have rented a house. Frank is winning lots of friends in and out of the Senate.

"The boy is getting along fine and I'm pleased with his progress," says Church. "As for myself, I have a lot to learn, and I'm anxious to become better acquainted with my senior colleagues."

"I know most of the Democrats and I hope to become friendly with the senators on the other side of the aisle."

This should not be too hard for personable, fresh-faced Church, who is a college student, than a senator. Although he looks more like a college student, than a senator. Church has managed to convince old-timers here that he's grown up enough for the job.

This is despite the fact that round-cheeked Church was mistaken for a page boy several times during his first days on the job.

Once when a lady visitor at the capitol told a page boy about the identity in Church's privacy. The senator, couldn't resist identifying himself. The woman, startled in embarrassed confusion, just had done a young man with a senile seat on his first try for public office against a well established and well known opponent.

"I have no secret formula," explains Church with a laugh. "I just study hard and work hard."

"A man's maturity is more a matter of his judgment and behavior than his birthdays," he adds.

Church's main goal now is to learn all he can about his job and receive a scholarship from funds raised by Intercollegiate Knights, national men's service honor.

Miss Miller is a former winner of the Miss Twin Falls contest.

Riot by Students Is Broken up by Police in Madrid

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 7.—Police armed with truncheons today broke up a demonstration by Spanish students outside the old Downtown university building. The demonstration coincided with a city-wide boycott of the transportation system.

About 500 students massed outside the building on San-Bernardo street shortly after noon and chanted: "Liberty! Barcelona! Barcelona!" The demonstrators marched toward the main Gran Via but were intercepted at the junction of the two streets by police rushed to the scene in about a dozen jeeps.

Police closed off the streets and charged into the demonstrators, swinging their rubber truncheons. The students fled. Evidently, said news apparently was injured.

Not Lying

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Householder Louis Torgue called the police, announcing that a lion was looking in his kitchen window.

Two policemen, naturally a bit skeptical, arrived last night and found by golly, it was a lion—a 46-pound, 15-week-old cub. The law took the beast to a cage in an animal shelter where it growled indignantly.

Presently the owner, Donald Puller, arrived to claim "Leo-pold." He said he had the cub-up for sale and on display in a cage in his front yard Sunday. Somebody let Leopold out.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

BY HENRY McLEMORE—

GOEPFERN, Germany—if you are always struck by lightning, or if you always lose your dresses fade and run after laundering, or if you would like to make your own hair tonic, then you need this column to the end.

It is packed with information on these and other subjects, all gleaned from a worn and faded book that has traveled across in the library of Maj. Gen. Thomas M. Waters.

The general is the commanding officer of the eighth infantry division.

Braven—I mean Palmer, the "My sons and four sisters" were bitten by a mad dog, and they all died. They were well and happy before they got certified statistics.

In all my years of shuffling my hand with bar tonic, I never have been able to find people who make inkature. If it had the same slantency, it smelled to high heaven, and it didn't, it was either water or something.

So I literally poured on my Home OOR Book's recipe for hair tonic. I am going to make a bottle as soon as I can. It has provided the Watlington and I have my using the kitchen as a laboratory and I can locate the laboratory in the kitchen.

His specific remedy calls for eucalyptus, a plant which he says, "is not only a garden, and is well known."

He says you should bruise the leaves of the plant, and mix it with

Auto Strikes Girl As Motorist Dies At Vehicle Wheel

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 7 (AP)—A car, its dying driver slumped over the wheel, ran onto the sidewalk near downtown Salt Lake City yesterday, struck a school girl and swept her before it into a utility pole.

The girl, 10-year-old Dina Stauding, ended up with one foot pinned under a front wheel of the car and with her head trapped between the utility pole and the car's steering mechanism. Wiscomb, a Salt Lake City furnace salesman, was pronounced dead.

Scientist Slating Tests of Gorilla

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7 (AP)—A husband and wife scientific team is studying a baby gorilla here to see how close the young ape's behavior parallels young human beings.

Dr. Benjamin Pasamnick, director of research for the Columbus State Institute of Psychiatry, and his wife, Dr. Hilda Knobloch, hope to make an exhaustive study of gorilla behavioral patterns "as long as we can get the cooperation of the animal."

Soil Conservation Practices Lauded

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Take it from the men who should know best, only soil conservation practices have current drought conditions from bringing back dust bowl days as bad as the "dirty thirties."

At the same time, they agree the task of conserving the soil is far from complete.

Those out of touch with the land feel the conservation job is finished," Harrell Allen, an Ada, Okla., farmer, said today. "But it isn't. We're still washing away twice as much soil a year as we're able to anchor down."

Area Farmers
Tell of Meets
On Boise Trip

State and local Grange and Farm Bureau members from Magic Valley met with the new state commissioner of agriculture, Robert L. Belcher, Gov. Robert E. Smylie, the public utilities commission and Twin Falls county legislators in Boise Tuesday to discuss farm problems.

Alfred Pettigrove, Hansen, and V. W. Williams, Twin Falls, protested against damage to farm lands by corporations exercising their right of eminent domain.

Greg Calhoun, Buhl, Idaho State Grange member, stressed impairment of title and sale value plus destruction of future income by continuing damage in the future because of the use of eminent domain.

Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls, attorney for the local farmers, discussed legal aspects involved.

The group, which also included Melvin Oppinger and William Loring, local Farm Bureau officers, and Heber Lauchmiller, master of Pomona Grange, met with Rep. Ken Smith, R., Twin Falls, to confer on tax inequities.

They pointed out that large timber interests are going almost free of taxation while exploiting timber resources, aided by subsidies in the form of state-financed access roads. They also complained of low taxes paid by phosphate operators. These interests, the group charged, are pushing a sales tax to divert public attention from their own business. The local men noted that an estimated eight to ten million dollars could be raised by increasing taxes of these industries.

Calhoun pointed out that their conference with Smith on the right-to-work law coincided with strike of teachers in Boundary county and in Manchester, N.M., which closed all schools in the two areas, and the fleeing of David Beck of the AFL to escape congressional questioning on labor racketeering.

"The entrance of organized labor into our educational system should be of deep concern to all," he said.

Fines Imposed on Truck Violations

KING HILL, Feb. 7.—Justice of the Peace Lynn Sherman reports he has collected nine fines from trucks as a result of traffic infractions.

Fined on overweight were Howard Biranley, Pocatello, $15 and $3 costs; William Pearce, Springdale, Ark., $10 and $3 costs; George Grace, Twin Falls, $22 and $3; Ernest Hale, Oakley, $5.50 and $3 costs; Joe Price, Lewiston, $10 and $3 costs; James Kent, Marling, $10 and $3 costs; and Henry Wilson, $17.50 and $3 costs.

He fined Robert Walker, Butte, Mont., $5 and $3 costs for not having any mud flap on his truck, and Ernest Meredith, Buhl, $10 and $3 costs for carrying a load that was overweight.

A justice chamber of the midland area in Rottenberg, Germany, has been pointed out to show tourists.

Statistical Tombstone

The facts of death in the background picture of highway fatality will soon be laid to rest on this death certificate at the office of vital statistics.

Death Toll of U.S. Highways Shown
In Figures of Vital Statistics Office

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Soon the punch card machines will be chugging away here taking the final and official count of the worst holiday death toll in the nation's highway history.

Pink, green, brown and white transcripts and microfilm of death certificates will start coming in from all 48 states to the national office of vital statistics.

This is the federal burial ground where the victims of automobile accidents over the Christmas and New Year week-ends will be statistically laid to rest for the last time.

This is where Uncle Sam keeps records on you from the day you're born until the day you die. How soon you are filed away as a statistic for final "rate" keeping depends on how many more holiday week-ends you can drive through alive.

The office of vital statistics does not make an hour-by-hour or day-by-day tabulation of accidents as the National Safety Council does. In fact, the federal count takes about a year from the time of death until the official record of a fatality arrives here, goes through the works and becomes a printed statistic.

Here's how the process works: Take the case of Joe Smith who died in an auto accident New Year's eve. First, a coroner must certify that his death was accidental. Then a local registrar nearest the accident fills out a certificate of death and sends it to the state health department.

Then within one month, six months or a year the state sends a copy of the certificate to the office of vital statistics in Washington.

Here all the information on the certificate is put into code form and transferred to a card with a punch machine.

Most states send the certificate on a roll of microfilm. Others are transcribed by hand on colored forms.

This little card full of holes tells a great deal about Joe Smith. It gives his age bracket, his race, his marital status, where he lived and where he died, the time of death and the cause of death.

Then Joe Smith's card and others are fed into various modern sorting and selecting machines which total up all the vital information. For example, there are over 1,000 different causes of death that can be listed; from being hit by a falling object to having a heart attack.

Within the category of motor vehicle accidents alone there are 45 separate causes of death.

If by chance Joe Smith was killed when his car hit an animal or animal-drawn vehicle, this type accident would be listed in a special column. In fact, that's how 58 per-sont died in 1955.

Other fatal accidents include hitting a street car, running off the road, striking a pedestrian and crashing into another car, to mention a few.

The huge job of handling all this data falls to 140 employees of the statistical processing section of the office of vital statistics.

Once a month they also issue an accident fatality report which is based on a 10 per cent sampling of death certificates sent in by the states.

"The information we publish is used by safety and traffic officials, enforcement agencies, libraries and the states," says Dewey Shurtliff of the mortality analysis section.

"What does the government do with Joe Smith's death certificate copy and all the others?"

"We'll keep them in our files for about three years," Shurtliff explains. "Then if the states don't want them back, we'll destroy them. But the statistics live on forever."

Europe's Youth Taking Foreground In Continuing Row With Communism

BERLIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—Children in communist-ruled East Berlin play a game called "East-West." They stand on a street corner and examine the hats, overcoats and shoes of passersby.

If the clothing is of good quality or attractive, the children shout "West!" If it is poor, they call "East!"

The game helps explain why youth—once the hope of the communists—is leading the anti-communist movement in eastern Europe and the Soviet Union itself.

Put simply, youth believes that "West" is good and "East" is bad.

In Hungary, Poland, East Germany, in all the satellites and in Russia, youths who have known only communism reject it.

Youth sparked the Hungarian revolt. Youth rallied around the anti-Soviet movement in Poland. Youth in East German schools and colleges are hotheads of resistance. Russian students are no exception. The Soviet press has criticized students in Moscow and Leningrad for "reactionary" behavior. At Moscow university, students placed British Broadcasting Corporation news items on the bulletin boards. Soviet communist leader Nikita Khrushchev was shouted down while speaking to Moscow undergraduates, according to western diplomatic reports.

Most western observers had expected the revolt. They spoke of a generation ground under and lost to communism. The communists themselves cannot explain it and are puzzled and frightened. East German communist leader Walter Ulbricht says: "We old communists grew up under capitalism and took part in the class struggle. But our youth never has known the class struggle. They grew up under socialism (communism), take it for granted and change in criticism of it."

Some western observers say that youth "naturally rebels." Others say that man has a natural yearning for liberty, and youth will oppose any system which puts it in a political, economic and social strait-jacket.

There is another factor. Life is dull and cheerless in the communist world. The simplest pleasures are waged by politics. Newspapers, films, radio, television all are considered propaganda media to preach and convert.

Attendance at political rallies is obligatory. Sunday after Sunday men who work six days a week must spend their "day off" marching in parades honoring this or that living or dead red hero or expressing solidarity with Algerian rebels, Hungarian communists or the Egyptians.

Night after night pressure is exerted to attend lectures on Marxism or work overtime without pay to boost production. Even at Christmas coal miners in East Germany "volunteer" to work.

People who have lived in communist nations are not surprised at the eastern European unrest. They say the only wonder is that there is not more of it.

Marksman

DETROIT, Feb. 7 (AP)—The top-door pistol range at police headquarters has been closed for three weeks repair work because one officer kept hitting the target.

The officer was reported to have used the range to "test" his high-powered rifle. He plugged $300 worth of holes in the protective steel plate at the rear of the target.

Need of Hike For U.S. Farm Output Noted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, D. Ore., says that increased U. S. agricultural production will be needed in the future to supply the world's expanding population.

He called on the interior department to request legislation to help bring more land into production in the area of the Columbia basin to help meet this need.

Neuberger recommended a Columbia basin account to pool revenues from federal hydro electric projects in the area to help underwrite irrigation and reclamation projects.

He said an Oregon State college study indicated Oregon could more than double its 1,740,000 acres of irrigated land.

Neuberger said many products from irrigated farms were needed now to improve the diets of many people, especially children.

Club Hears Talk On Travel Plans

BURLEY, Feb. 7 (The Rotary club heard a talk by Ronald Shead, sales representative of West-Coast airlines, Tuesday.

He said the new planes that are on order will be faster than ones in use now. He also discussed plans for airport-to-city transportation and said West Coast has made application for such service to the larger cities. He was introduced by I. H. Harris, program chairman.

Next week a dinner party for members and their daughters will be held. Easter Pinner and Elwood Rich are in charge of arrangements.

Petition Filed in Lammers Estate

A petition to probate the will of Leo T. Lammers, who died in Burley on Jan. 29, 1957, was filed in Twin Falls probate court Wednesday by his widow, Mrs. Myrtle E. Lammers, and daughter, Mrs. Thelma J. Zippert, both Burley.

The petition says Mr. Lammers left a will dated Jan. 6, 1954, in which he named his wife and daughter as executrices.

Besides his widow and daughter, a son, William T. Lammers also named as an heir to the $20,000 estate.

SHOSHONE, Feb. 7.—The annual progress report for 1956, district goals for 1957, and the annual plan of operation for the district have been approved by supervision of the Wood River Soil Conservation district.

The district supervisors of division IV will hold their annual meeting at Shoshone on March 6. The division includes Minidoka, East Cassia, Twin Falls, North Side, Gooding, Blaine and Wood River districts. Paul Bancroft arranged for the meeting place, program and dinner.

Children Die in Flaming Home

Intense heat and flames turned back neighbors and firemen attempting to rescue four small children from this house at Harvard, Calif., during a flash fire that completely consumed the structure. Their mother, Mrs. Marie Miller, had gone next door, right, which also is burning, to borrow a cigarette. A faulty gas pipe leading to the kitchen stove, the only source of heat, was blamed for the fire that killed the children. (UFA telephone)

Need Seen for Large Outlays In Atom Arms

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP)—A resource analyst says the United States would have to spend an additional 28 billion dollars annually to cut to a minimum the risk of losing an all-out atomic war in 1959.

The estimate was made by Allan Matthews, geologist and resource specialist who served on the staffs of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, the President's materials policy commission, and the national security resources board.

Writing in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, he said that additional expenditures would be required to strengthen the free world forces to a level one-third greater than communist forces and unify the efforts of undeveloped countries.

Matthews said an extra eight billion annually would be required for land power, another nine billion for air power, an extra three billion for increasing the continental defense program and one billion more in seriously trying to surpass the Russians in developing an inter-continental missile.

He said an additional seven billion dollars would be required for economic allotment to undeveloped countries.

This would run the nation's total defense costs to 68 billion a year.

"Red" Clergyman Excommunicated

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Roman Catholic church has excommunicated Richard Horvath, chief religious collaborator with Hungary's communist government.

The Vatican said he "attempted to subvert the powers of the legitimate ecclesiastical authorities."

Horvath held a seat in the communist parliament. He was a member of international communism's world council of peace and a leader in Hungary's national peace committee.

BOISE, Feb. 7 (AP)—Average prices received by Idaho farmers in January were 7 per cent above last year, the U. S. department of agriculture reports.

The price index was also 2 per cent above that for mid-December. The index of all crops was below the December figure but above that for January, 1956.

The department also reported that Idaho's commercial slaughter plants produced 8,921,000 pounds of red meat in December, which was 7 per cent above the output in December, 1955.

BRUINS TO EEL HOODEE SEASON WITH IDAHO FALLS, POCAHELLO

Twin Falls Will Attempt To Reverse Early Setbacks; Big Seven Race Sizzling

The Twin Falls Bruins will make their final home appearances of the current basketball season Friday and Saturday in a pair of Big Six conference games. Currently in third place, a half game behind Boise, the Bruins will place their 3-3 record on the line against Idaho Falls Friday night and then will entertain league-champion Pocahellico Saturday.

Talent Scramble Goes On Despite Crackdown

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Jackie Moreland, barred from competition at North Carolina State college, dropped out there to enter Louisiana Tech because he wanted to play basketball. Baseball's Paul Richards, signing a high school hotshot for the Baltimore Orioles, remarked: "The so-called amateur colleges give us our biggest competition in signing players."

Those two unrelated events this week have been the coldest in the efforts to control athletic abuses, have set up a system that offers constant temptation to college coaches in the effort to land the outstanding athlete.

Moreland is the first of the NCAA's crack-down on the college basketball talent scramble. The NCAA's action in an eight-way tie, then the upcoming fourth district class scramble is a good lead to do just that.

I haven't found anybody who will give up a player in fact, I haven't found many men who are ready to give up a player to a college coach. The same goes for coaches whose "crackdown" will be involved in the eight-team scramble.

Coches Paul O'Leary of Filer stopped by the office the night and I asked him if his Wildcats would go all the way in the tournament.

"Well, there are only a few reasons why they might not—seven of them, to be exact," said Paul. He didn't have to name the reasons. They're in alphabetical order: A—All-American, B—Burrhead, C—Cunningham, D—Dink, E—Eagle, F—Filer, G—Gooding, H—Hansen, I—Idaho, J—Jensen, K—Kane, L—Lester, M—Minnico, O—Oakley and Twin Falls. And you can take out any one of those names and put in Filer and the situation remains the same.

The teams apparently are so evenly matched that it doesn't matter much what the first round pairings are.

Just as a matter of interest, the Filer section will lead off with Twin Falls meeting Filer and Minico facing Oakley. The Filer section will have the team playing Buhi and Gooding clashing with Filer.

You don't have to study the pairing to know that the Filer section will be a delight from the word go.

But then, the same would have been true of any other pairing combinations.

The first college all-America propaganda has come and it will clutter up the mail from now until the end of the season. The most important bit of mail in the journey brochure extolling the virtues of West Virginia's "Hot Rod" Hummer.

It contains 16 pictures of the star athlete, a host of quotations from newspapers and magazines to show what a great boy Rod is. One of the quotations, I think, should have been omitted.

Quotes the brochure from NEA service: "When he is hitting he has every shot in the book."

We all have every shot in the book when we're hitting. In the cage results.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7 (AP)—The UCLA basketball team, with a record of 22 straight victories, defeated the POC in three of the team's statistical departments, it was disclosed today.

The Bruins rolled up their 22nd straight win against Oregon State last week-end to equal the mark set by Washington in 1943 and 1944 and hope to surpass it when the Bruins up north this coming week-end.

POC team statistics showed the Bruins ahead in total scoring, free throw percentage and field goal percentage. In addition to being ahead in total scoring and rebounding and field goal percentage.

Doubletalk Preview of Baseball Season Given by Casey Stengel

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Casey Stengel was in top form as he gave a look at 1957 prospects for his world champion New York Yankees Tuesday. And when he finished the general consensus was that he meant: 1. The Yankees probably won't be involved in any immediate trades. ("I guess I'm to the point where the gonna go with what I got.") 2. The Yankees could use a left fielder. ("I don't have a player who is a left fielder. I have a player who is a few who could maybe play out there—maybe Norton or Howard or Slaughter or Marini or Kubek or Held or Evers.") 3. The Yankees might have a new third baseman. ("It could be. I don't think I'm first but I'm second.") 4. The Yankees have a seven-man pitching staff, with Whitey Ford No. 1. ("I've got my seven but maybe there might be more.") 5. There might be a "what-of-a" move in the second place in the American league. ("I don't say that.") Casey, looking the same as any other POC, was in top form, but an informal press conference and spent about 15 or 20 minutes that concentrated on each of the above points. There wasn't any doubt that the manager of the world champion was feeling it.

Speaking of trades, Casey said "I don't think they (the front office) are going to trade. They've interviewed four or five clubs and they've interviewed six or seven but maybe to trade with us unless you can rob 'em and we ain't going to be robbed."

The outfield problem might be solved, said Casey "like a hotdog last spring, when I had to play six or eight to find one. He found" Ollie McDougald the one-time third baseman-second baseman.

Williams, who in the past had declined to disclose personal goals for a season, forecast "a damn good year" and said "I will do my very best to help the club."

"I don't drive in a hundred runs, hit 28 or 30 homers and hit 30 or 35, I will be damn disappointed," he said. "If I can't hit the writing on the wall, but I'm sure I can do it."

"I love the game," he said in turning off a big smile. "I also need the money. I know I've been criticized for saying that but I think many of the boys play for money."

As usual, the Sox refused to disclose the actual amount. Williams will be paid for the season, but Cronin said "let's say he's doing very well."

"It seems very happy and the Red Sox are very happy," Cronin said as Williams beamed. "We're always happy to welcome back a 348 life-time batter whether he plays 80 games or 150 games."

Williams, one of the game's most imprudent stars during his 15 years career, indicated that he has had a change of mind and might like to stay in baseball after his playing days.

"After my playing days are over I will do everything possible to help the game," he said. "Other than that I want to fish any damn time any place I want."

CUPOLO TO PILOT Albuquerque Team

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 7 (AP)—Henry Nicholas (Nick) Culop, who twice has been named league manager of the year, has been hired as field manager for the Albuquerque Dukes of the class A Western league.

Culop once was manager of the Pocatello team in the Pioneer league.

To accept the same penalties—which, incidentally, will make it harder for N. C. State to get top performers during the next few years.

Several colleges have protested against this application of penalties to the innocent as well as the guilty.

The NCAA hopes that an institution in such a predicament will be able to pay for the scholarship for a student who is being penalized.

Scoring Change Is Proposed

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—A proposed change in the baseball box score which will include batters' walks and strikeouts and virtually eliminate individual fielding was introduced Tuesday by National League president Warren Giles.

The change would list at the top of the box score columns for bases on balls and strikeouts. Putouts and assists would be omitted. The summary, including errors, would remain the same.

Carey Thumps Gooding State By 65-18 Score

CAREY, Feb. 7 (AP)—Carey Panthers, who were held to a two-point victory by Gooding State earlier in the season, cut loose with a scoring barrage Wednesday to score a 65-18 win over the state school.

Carey had three players scoring in the first quarter and managed only a single point in the third period. Orlan Mortenson, who scored 10 points, and Morgan, who added 10, were able to find the range consistently for Gooding State.

Carey had three players scoring in the double-figure—with Barton taking game honors with 16 points. Carey led 28-9 at halftime.

Jenkins Will Not Play for Coyotes

CALDWELL, Feb. 7 (AP)—The College of Idaho basketball team planned to leave Thursday for Salem, Ore., and a two-game Northwest conference series with Willamette University without Charley Jenkins.

Jenkins, former high-scoring Coyote star who returned to the Caldwell high school for the second semester after a stint at Portland University and another school in West Virginia, was found to be academically ineligible.

The Coyotes play Willamette Friday and Saturday.

Gridders Renew Bid For Union

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7 (AP)—The National Football League Players' Association today renewed its bid for support of 370 of the league's approximately 400 players, who are currently on strike.

"We have 304 actual contracts and promises of 100 per cent support from the Pittsburgh Steelers and Los Angeles Rams. The association's legal counsel, Eugene Miller, said:

"The owners wanted to see the strength and organization of the players' union."

Miller, a Cleveland attorney and former Notre Dame football player, said the association's bid was not a threat that the players' union might be forced on the owners.

"Our next step has not been decided," Miller said, but the players' rejection has agreed to a new group.

Saturday I've had telephone calls from players all over the country and most are pro-union. All say they'll back the union."

Scholastic Woes Hit Nation's Top Basketball Teams

By The Associated Press

It isn't always a zone defense that gives college basketball coaches gray hair. Mid-term scholastic exams can leave 'em pretty shaky, too. An Associated Press survey Wednesday found the test period just ended in college classrooms was no exception, with perhaps Illinois and Connecticut the hardest hit. But unbeaten North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team; Purdue, Indiana and Idaho State also are among championship-conscious teams whose players have been trimmed by low grades.

Eisenhower's Budget Shudders Under Impact of Barrage of Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON—(NPA)—A salvo of guided missiles has exploded with shattering force in the President's new defense budget.

Defense spending plans for the fiscal year 1958 reveal the eventual elimination of nearly 1,000 fighter planes and their replacement in one form or another by missiles.

Approximately 20,000 pilots, radar men, navigators, technicians and mechanics will have to change assignments in this adjustment to the reduction of missiles.

For more than five years expenditures for missiles have been growing at the expense of aircraft purchases; 28 billion dollars is being requested for buying missiles for 1958.

But this is the first budget which reflects a major change in air force wing structure and assignment of men resulting from offensive missile development.

The President's budget message notes briefly: "The gradual elimination of strategic fighter wings which are no longer considered necessary, will be completed in 1958."

The affects six wings of fighter planes used for escorting bombers.

The elimination of five or six fighter bomber wings in the tactical air command is revealed in a complicated reshuffling of TAC units. Generally, the result is a concentration of the army's missiles can now do the job of some fighter bombers.

The first full wing of Mustang missiles to be created in 1958—as revealed in the budget—will begin the direct replacement of fighter-bomber wings.

An immediate, violent reaction was touched off in the air force when the budget was announced. Naturally, the men most disturbed are those with long careers invested in the fighter-escort and fighter-bomber wings who are going to have to find other work in the air force.

Non-biased experts also agree with the argument of the fighter boys that the elimination of these wings is basically an economy move which weakens the air force. They insist that missiles have not been developed to take over the fighter functions.

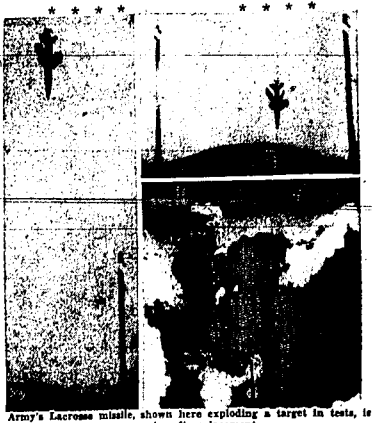

The air defense command will continue to use large numbers of high speed fighters for interception.

The fact is, the air force weapons systems have become so complex that there's more than a black-and-white issue between economy and military development in this change.

The issue is only clear cut in the elimination of fighter-bombers designed to support the army. The army's Honest John and Corporal have already been integrated into ground force units and their ranges, which include targets far beyond enemy lines, are being extended by constant improvement.

Other new missiles such as the Lacrosse and Redstone which have ranges in the over-500-mile category are being developed rapidly and are another argument against the future need of fighter-bombers.

A real issue is the rate of replacement of planes by missiles.

U. S. Warned By Algerians Front Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—An Algerian nationalist leader warned the United States today that its backing of France's opposition to U. N. intervention in Algeria might hasten the Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East.

Mhammed Yassid, leader of the Algerian Front for National Liberation, (FLN) delegation, said he and other Arab leaders had not expected the United States to take such a position yesterday.

Britain previously aligned itself with France in a reaffirmation of the old western big three solidarity.

U. S. spokesman Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., said in a formal statement late yesterday that "external interference in Algeria from any quarter... is bound to lead to an increase of tension and bloodshed."

He said the United Nations should do nothing to interfere with France's program for a ceasefire, elections and negotiations in that order in Algeria.

There's little doubt that the whole debate of the cut-back on fighters would be powerless to defend the big bombers against enemy missiles. And this leads into the highly secret category of anti-missile missiles which the big bombers might be carrying soon.

The cabinet approved the reduction after revenue officials explained their object was to "standardize" taxes.

Atomic Stockpile of Nation Is Large, But Tactical Nuclear Arms Are Few

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—More power is packed in the U. S. atomic stockpile than was ever used in war—but the armed forces are a long way from having all the nuclear weapons they want.

This fact was highlighted again in testimony before a Senate armed services committee task force by Assistant Army Secretary Frank H. Higgins and Lieut. Gen. Corlier B. Magruder.

The deficiency is not in A-bombs and H-bombs big enough to wipe out targets ranging in size from an airport to a mammoth city. There are enough of those—and their number is growing—to destroy most targets worthy of them in Russia.

The deficiency is in small, so-called tactical atomic weapons—weapons designed for every special purpose known to warfare from sinking an enemy submarine to knocking down an enemy bomber.

Gen. Stuart Symington, D. Mo., said at Tuesday's hearing that he had "very startling" information about the lack of production of small atomic weapons.

Magruder agreed it would be three to five years before the army has enough tactical atomic weapons to reduce use of conventional ammunition in a war by as much as 25 per cent.

Higgins said equipping the army with small atomic weapons is "proceeding very nicely," but he added that it is "largely a development program, still."

It is a fact that actual production of atomic weapons is at an all time high. The production pace jumped so fast in the past six months that the atomic energy commission has had to project new expansions of its weapons manufacturing plant.

But it isn't "hot" turning out atomic artillery shells, say, at the production rate of World War II ordnance plants. It still isn't producing tactical atomic weapons by the tens of thousands.

There obviously has been disagreement among members of the AEC as to the relative emphasis that ought to be put on big bombs versus the strategic air command and TNT. They are midgets compared smaller weapons for, say, army troops.

Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said last April 21 "very small" atomic weapons should be manufactured in the "tens of thousands." Obviously, when he said that, they weren't. He made the same proposal just last Sept. 21 and, in effect, repeated it last Nov. 10.

Murray's point was, and is, that the big bombs are big enough for their purpose, which is deterring aggression on a global scale. What's needed now, he believes, is enough smaller weapons to make America supreme on the battlefield in a "limited war" as well as in an exchange of knockout blows against cities.

By "very small" Murray apparently means weapons considerably less potent than the A-bomb that destroyed Hiroshima in 1945. That bomb loosed violence equal to 15,000 tons of exploding TNT. The AEC already has tested weapons equivalent to less than 1,000 tons of TNT. They are midgets compared

Culprit

GARDEN GROVE, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP)—Women passing the Garden Grove firehouse complained that firemen have been bounding off with loud wolf whistles.

Fostered, the firemen were exonerated. The whistles were traced to a talking mynah in a pet shop next to the firehouse.

OK Housing Units

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7 (AP)—The department of defense has approved plans to construct more than 2,000 housing units for military personnel and their families in the west, the sixth army announced yesterday.

The first contract under the provisions of the Capehart housing act was signed with two California contractors yesterday for the construction of 160 units at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Sensitive Radio Receivers Built To Aid Satellite

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—A group of radio receivers was developed that can "hear" invisible radio waves produced to track the earth by United States dual satellite. The receivers are being tested by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Bendix automatic receiver-transmitter set out a signal 1,000,000 cycles as that of a standard radio wave, or about as strong as the power of a 100 watt light bulb from a distance of some 200 to 300 miles above the earth. Picking up the signal should be duck soup for military "nose" of stars so far away they cannot be seen.

Franchise for Gas Starts in City's Council

BURLEY, Feb. 7.—The city council Monday night heard the first reading of a 30-year gas franchise for the city to Intermountain Gas company.

Open Fairchild and the Burley Plumbing and Heating company were granted master plumbers license. J. W. Anderson was given a limited journeyman license and Haps TV service was given licenses for two service delivery trucks.

Building permits were granted to Earl Barney to move a frame structure at an estimated cost of $8,000, and Oscar Wicks to move a frame structure at an estimated cost of $1,000.

Earl Bell asked assistance of the council in finding a suitable location for the GOC tower. They said the city hall would be the best site. He was informed of the council's decision that the roof of the city hall was not the proper place for a tower.

Bids were opened for a tractor-trailer, International Implement loader, International Implement bid $9,333; Western Implement bid $10,688.10 for one with a gasoline starting motor and another bid for $10,583.10 with electric motor; Williams Tractor company $12,000; Southern Idaho Equipment $10,246.50 and an alternate without door blade for $10,900. All bids were tabled.

A motion was made by John Bowen that the city notify the General Electric company to hold up further work on the substitution pending the completion of contractual arrangements with the Idaho Packing company as to their anticipated load.

Vale Men, too, Must Scurry To Gain Living, Writer Notes

BY SAUL FLETCHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—People who think of the country as a place where the young can get a good education and a job, and where the old can get a good retirement, are in for a surprise. The country is a place where the young must scurry to gain a living, and where the old must scurry to gain a retirement.

Group Eyes Plan To Borrow Fund

MURTAUGH, Feb. 7.—Murtaugh Grange members Monday voted to draw up a resolution to obtain a loan with which to complete the new Grange hall. The resolution will be voted upon at the next Grange meeting.

Coffee aroma, coffee taste

You get a heart-warming whiff of real coffee aroma as you raise the cup. And when you taste this new instant, the real coffee flavor is full and satisfying. It's that rich, true coffee flavor that lingers in your taste-buds.

We've captured coffee goodness

The flavor's in this coffee, because we've found the way to capture the elusive flavor "esters"—the delicate flavor tones that are usually lost in manufacture. Ours is a new special process, different from anything else in the coffee business.

We can promise you really good coffee in an instant. We've worked and tested for twenty years to accomplish just this.

We hope you'll try it

We think you'll agree when you try new Instant Hills Bros. Coffee that it brings you something new and wonderful in coffee drinking enjoyment, as well as convenience and economy. It costs no more than other good instant, you can make it in cup or pot—you get a good cup of coffee, fresh, fragrant and flavorful, every time—No Work . . . No Waste . . . Good Taste®.

You'll try our product and share our pleasure. Today's a good day to start.
