The room count prize went to Mrs. Dummer's second grade. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. Hyrum Andrews and Mrs. A. Deitshaupt, room mother.

Fred Edwards, state conservation officer, Kimberly, stretches after landing from one and a half hour ride in a helicopter. The machine was used Thursday for counting deer in the south hills. # 1,788 Deer Counted Although Usual Concentration Lacking

Fish and game department personnel counted 1,788 deer on winter range areas in the south hills Wednesday, Thursday and Friday during the annual deer census for the area.

However, the annual count differed from other years in some respects. In the first place, the count was made from a helicopter which was used for a total of 12½ hours to cover all areas covered in former years by crews of men on foot and riding horses.

Another difference from former years is that the deer herd is widely scattered and not particularly confined to the winter range area. Lack of snow has permitted the animals to range over a much wider area than normal, points out Dole Tanner, game biologist for the fish and game department.

Tanner said the aerial check is much faster and more efficient than the old ground count method.

He explained that if the counter riding in a helicopter spots some deer disappearing over a ridge, the deer can be pursued and counted. With the old method, the counter just had to guess at the number of deer.

To wind up this year's count, Tanner made a flight Friday from the Twin Falls airport south along the western fringe of the south hills area along the Idaho-Nevada line and north along the eastern fringe of the area to the Burley airport. He said the area was fairly free of snow except for Deadline

Accidental Shot Fatal to Child, 9

RAWLINS, Wyo., March 2—A 9-year-old girl died Saturday of an accidental gunshot wound at the Olin-Bur-Jensen ranch southeast of Encampment, Wyo.

Sheriff John Terrell said Phyllis Prickett, 9, was wounded when a .22 caliber rifle went off to three children played with it. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Prickett of Encampment.

The father is a truck driver of the Platte Valley Express company.

Terrell said his investigation had not been complete Saturday, but he termed the shooting an accident.

TOURIST BOOM SEEN

WARSAW, March 2—There will be no room for Poles in Warsaw hotels this summer because of foreign tourists, the weekly magazine Prektron reports. It said about 50,000 foreigners have hotel reservations between April and September and the city has available only 1,600 hotel beds.

The flight took two hours and 35 minutes.

Tanner points out that value of the aerial count is open to question because the winter has been mild and deer have not been driven to their usual winter ranges. The animals are in good condition and reproduction this spring should be good, he adds.

Personnel involved in the count this year for the fish and game department included Tanner, Mark Padcock, Dole, another biologist, and Fred Edwards, Kimberly, conservation officer. Pilot of the helicopter was Cal Meck and the service man was Mark Taylor. The helicopter is owned by Aero-Copter, Inc., Salt Lake City.

Tanner and Padcock turned Magic Valley residents to watch this summer for deer—wearing red-painted bells around their necks. About 25 animals were trapped this winter down in Nevada and the bells were fastened around their necks. Object of the project is to check deer migration.

Strength of Free World's Mid-East Allies Questioned

WASHINGTON, March 2 (UP).—A report made public Saturday by the Senate foreign relations committee suggested the free world may be overestimating its defensive strength in the vital Greece-Turkey-Iran area. Norman Armour, former assistant secretary of state and ambassador, made the report to the committee after a survey of foreign aid. He said the estimate of the North Atlantic Treaty organization "of Turkey's military capabilities may be overly optimistic." The "recent disturbances over the Buz" and the dispute over Cyprus have "somewhat weakened Turkey's link with Iran on one side and Greece on the other, he asserted. Armour said that until the Cyprus conflict is settled "United States security interests in Greece will continue to be on somewhat shaky ground."

TWIN FALLS BEATEN BY BURLEY IN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Bobcats Get 69-51 Victory, Advance To State Playoffs

BURLEY, March 2.—The Burley Bobcats moved into the finals of the fourth district class A basketball tournament Friday night with a 69-51 victory over Twin Falls. The loss was the second in a double elimination tournament for the Bruins who had defeated Burley 47-46 the night before. By beating Twin Falls, the Bobcats assured themselves of a berth in the state tournament at Boise later this month and moved into the final game of the district meet against Jerome Saturday night.

The Tigers drew a bye into the Burley beating Minico Tuesday night. In Friday's game, Twin Falls played ahead of Burley through the first half, but the Bobcats' superior height and greater shooting accuracy paid off in the final two periods.

Twin Falls was ahead 18-13 at the end of the first quarter. Burley scored the early in the second period and the two squads traded baskets until shortly before half-time when Burley opened up a six-point, 30-20 lead.

Continuing to move ahead in the third quarter, although a brief rally pulled the Bruins within five points at the end of the quarter, Burley pulled away. With Burley dominating both backboards and with Twin Falls failing to connect consistently, Burley had a 55-45 lead at the end of the third period and the Bobcats took control.

Lanky Don Peterson carried the major scoring load for Burley with 16 points. The Jim Mager played an outstanding game, both on offense and on defense.

Following Peterson's 21-point lead were Wally Wiggins with 16, Douglas with 13 and Lynn Church with 12.

For the Bruins, Chuck Brown pulled 13 points and Jerry Martiny scored 10.

Mike Stowe and Mike Gray each added 10.

Races Slated

SUN VALLEY, March 2.—More than 70 races were slotted Sunday morning for the annual Sun Valley ski club race, postponed last Sunday because of poor racing conditions.

Because of the increasing number of older skiers in the club, senior IV class for skiers over 60 has been added for the first time. Club secretary Robert Blacketer said.

At Pocatello Friday night, the host Indians, unbeaten in 24 games, took the district 5 class A crown with a 50-20 victory over Preston. The win gave Pocatello a first-round bye in the March 23 state event in Boise.

Richfield, Valley Beaten Out in Semi-Finals

Out of Bounds

Mike Mazurki, who engaged in a bit of unscheduled scrapping with Tony Togo after Togo's match with Johnny James last Tuesday, gets a chance to meet Togo in the main event of Tuesday's wrestling card at Radio Tondoro.

Mazurki was refereed on last week's card. He tossed Togo out of the ring after the latter had vanquished the Japanese sleeper hold and then tried to apply the same hold on Mazurki.

The semi-final on Tuesday's program is a tag team match. Veteran Harry Kruskamp will team with the Great Sam against Johnny James and Jesse James.

Both the main event and the semi-final are two of three falls, one-fall match.

The preliminary between Juan Bob Boyer and Juan Chacaballa, is a one-fall match.

King Hill Junior High Team Wins

Pilots, Trojans Earn Positions In State Tourney

SHOSHONE, March 2.—Richfield and Valley saw their hopes of a trip to the state class B basketball tournament shattered Friday night as Glenn Perry and Wendell grabbed berths in the fourth district tournament finals. Glenn Perry sidelined Richfield 50-40 and Wendell knocked out Valley 51-42.

Glenn Perry, unbeaten in the district tournament through Friday's action, exploded in the fourth quarter to beat Richfield after a bucket-for-basket battle for three periods.

The score was tied 10-10 at the end of the first quarter and the winning Pilots had only a 45-42 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter Richfield tied the score again at 21-21 only to have the Pilots stage a 22-point outburst in the final period.

The teams were even from the field with 22 points apiece, but Glenn Perry made 21 free throws while the Tigers, champions of the Northwest conference, connected on only eight free throws.

Wendell had an easier time with Valley, even though the point spread was not so great.

After a 10-10 deadlock at the end of the first quarter, Wendell led 18-8 at halftime.

Cosch Murray entered the Little Six conference championship lengthened the score again at 21-21 only to have the Trojans stage a 22-point outburst in the final period.

North Carolina Ends Cage Season Unbeaten

They're not just a whistling Dixie-down from North Carolina Saturday. They're shouting it from the rooftops, loud and clear. The reason for the waving of the Stars and Bars? The University of North Carolina's basketball team, naturally. The Tar Heels, ranked first in the nation, swept through college basketball's scheduled 24 game season undefeated.

Victim No. 24 tumbled Friday night when Duke lost to the Mountaineers in an Atlantic Coast conference spin-tinger 65-72.

White North Carolina was cementing a 13-0 record in ACC play, other conferences were busy with pressing matters.

In the Southern conference, West Virginia, playing without starling Rod Hundley, triumphed in a 77-57 victory over George Washington to finish its regular season unbeaten in 19 games.

In the Southeastern, Tulane spanked Louisiana State 59-41 and Alabama trounced Auburn 61-37. That left Tulane, Georgia Tech and Mississippi State in a final three-way tie for third place.

In the Big Ten, Indiana triumphed with a score of 66, and Purdue with 5-5 records. Auburn finished in sixth with an 8-6 mark. Alabama took seventh place with a 7-7 record. LSU's 7-13 SEC record was the worst in the career of coach Harry Hattenstone, who is retiring after 10 years with the Tigers.

Brigham Young topped New Mexico 61-41 to clinch at the Big Ten regional tournament in Corvallis, Ore., when BYU plays Denver, Denver's title hopes dimmed.

Like a pro, Utah State beat the Pioneer 61-50, and Montana led in the running for a share of the title by spilling Wyoming 61-59 while Utah was downing Colorado 61-44.

UCLA, regarded the hottest contested lead in the Pacific Coast conference, noting out California 71-59. That left UCLA with a 13-2 conference record to California's 11-3 going into another game between the rivals Saturday night in Berkeley.

In another PCC battle, Southern California defeated Oregon 61-62. Elsewhere, Dayton beat Cincinnati.

Spring Breakup of Roads Appears To Be Worst in Valley Since 1949

Don Ziltterkopf, 327 Second avenue west, inspects the broken and buckled pavement in front of his home caused by "frost heave." Street Sup. H. H. The stretch of highway 30 between the towns of Buhl and Hagerman, which is about 15 miles long, is one of the heaviest traffic routes in the state. The same procedure is practiced throughout the highway district. "If it rains, we have to close the highway," says the superintendent. Because they have relatives in Hungary, these two boys hope to keep their identity relatively secret. They know from experience the arm of the Russian bear is long, and that their relatives in Budapest might be able to help them. But the odds are not in their favor.

Twin-Falls Youths Converting Car Into Dragster

Clifford Sparks, immediate past president of the Rebel Rod and Custom club, stands beside the car the club is converting into a dragster. Through the cooperation of the city of Gooding, which is allowing the boys to use the city airport for a "drag strip," the club hopes to introduce hotrod racing into Magic Valley. The club is a year old and has a membership of 25. (Staff photo-engraving)

Magic Valley Hobbies No. 62 Local Unit Has Hopped-up Hobby That May Become Spectator Sport

A new sport will be introduced to Magic Valley within the next few weeks and residents will be able to watch "drag racing."

Through the cooperation of the Gooding city council, the Twin Falls Rebel Rod and Custom club will sponsor the race at the Gooding airport.

A recent decision by the council to permit the racing climaxes a year's effort of the club. The club was started by Clifford Sparks, its first president, and Albert Corbin, its president in March, 1956. It organized in March, 1956, with 25 members. Now there are about 35 members, ranging from 16 to 32 years of age. The word of the club is safety. The word of the final product is speed.

The club, its preparation and rebuilding cars for entry—consume most of the effort.

At the beginning, the club rented a garage in which members worked on their own and a "club car." However, they were unable to maintain the rent payments on the larger garage and had to let it go. Most of the members have their own workshops and tools. Through their "member interest-to-earn" membership plan, they are able to purchase tools and parts at a discount.

Currently, they are working on a custom "dragster" which is designed primarily for racing. It is built low to the ground and consists entirely of framework. There is no body and the driver is protected from injuries in rolling over with a "roll-over" bar which is a heavy pipe built over the driver's seat in a skeleton canopy.

Because a car has a "humped up" motor in it, doesn't put it in the motor casing. There are many types used in racing. The first is a stock car, which is just what comes off the production line. These are followed by hot rods, which fall in between. The car starts fast, but is slow to the starting line and is slow to the finish.

In the dragster construction, everything is sacrificed for speed. The driver sits over the rear wheels, with the engine mounted as close to the back wheels as possible. Even the radiator is left off. Only enough space for water cooling is allowed to carry the car one-fourth of a mile. It is pushed to the starting line and topped off the track after the finish.

A drag race track is one-fourth mile long with the emphasis on acceleration. The car starts from a dead stop and is clocked the final 130 feet.

The racers are placed in classes according to weight and cubic inch displacement. Each car goes through the run along first in order to find its class. Then, each car is pitted against another in a two-car run. The "dead-end" race is eliminated and the races continue until only one remains. This is the winner.

In order to run safe races, the Rebels have joined the National Hot Rod association. As members, they must follow exacting rules set up to insure the maximum safety. In addition, all entries and spectators are insured.

The Gooding city council's decision to allow racing on the city airport, may make Gooding the racing capital for southern Idaho. The nearest places for racing at this time are Pocatello and Boise. Gooding, being the halfway point, probably will be selected for the big races of the year for the southern part of the state.

Following the theme of safety, the Rebels hold periodic safety checks of members' cars. These are held on a competition basis, with the member owning the safest car receiving an award.

Currently, the club is searching for a one-car garage in which they can work on their club dragster. In addition, they are looking for a Buick floor transmission either a 1947 or 1948 model plus the bell housing, flywheel and clutch system.

Help Again

In previous requests for help in locating additional hobbies, Times-News readers have offered a number of suggestions, some of which have been excellent.

Sundays, however, come around with surprising regularity and many a hobby is discarded each week, a backlog doesn't remain a backlog very long.

Hence, more suggestions are needed. The need is for hobbies which require time and skill as distinguished from collections. Also, address your suggestions to Hobby Editor, Times-News, Twin Falls.

"But Can YOU Prove The Bible Is True?"

Suppose an unbeliever challenged you to do so. Being a sincere Christian, you might reply, "I just know it is."

But that wouldn't be proof. It would not be very convincing to the unbeliever. And what would a skeptic say if you told him you have the assurance of the Holy Spirit? He might well ask you to show him the evidence of the Holy Spirit.

What real evidence could you give? What facts could you give? Where could you find a logical convincing answer?

Of course, wrote nothing, excepting on one occasion—and that only in the Bible. All the original manuscripts of the Bible have been preserved. The Bible itself does not claim to be inspired and complete word of God. Our Lord did not say that His teachings would be found in a book. On what authority, then, can we be sure about the Bible?

The answer is, of course, that the only living authority is the Catholic Church—the "Apostolic Church," the Church whose tradition, beginning with Peter, has been passed down to us by the apostles and their successors, the bishops.

Out of the first century, the Church can call up such witnesses as Polycarp (80 A. D.), whose appointment as Bishop of Smyrna is personally from John the Apostle, or Ignatius of Antioch, who was martyred in 107 A. D., or the testimony of such early-century writers as Clement of Alexandria, Irenaeus, Tertullian and Origen; and from the third and fourth centuries Cyprian and

Varied Ventures Succeeded on Island

The final commercial venture Frank Paro tried on Frenchman's island in Snake river near Springdale was raising silver foxes. He became recognized for the foxes he raised on the island, winning many awards at fur shows with his animals. He retired from fox farming in 1934. (Staff engraving)

Man Who Started With $1.50 Built up Ranch on 300-Acre Island at Burley

SPRINGDALE, March 2.—It wouldn't be exactly right to say Frank Paro ran $1.50 into an island ranch home because that would sound of gambling. And that wasn't the case.

There was, of course, a large element of chance in what Paro did but he probably would have ended up exactly in the same place without the $1.50 start. In other words, he didn't pit his $1.50 against the future. He couldn't afford to—there it all had.

Nevertheless, if the whole thing was a gamble, he was a gambler because of his courage, perseverance and ability against nature. And Paro won. There's an island in Snake river six and one-half miles from Burley to attest to this fact. It's Frenchman's island, taking its name from Paro's nationality.

Back in 1902 Paro hit Boise with $1.50 in his pocket and not a word of English in his mouth. Even with his language handicap, he landed a job working on an irrigation canal.

The work added cash to his capital but gave him a handicap that was to stay with him the rest of his life. He contracted inflammatory rheumatism which damaged his heart.

Back on his feet he left Boise, headed on his back, hiking west. At Orchard, train officials gave him a ride on a freight and took him to Pocatello. There he earned $6 an Indian horse and tried his hand at prospecting.

The western didn't pay off and besides, the life was too strenuous for him. He returned to Boise and the hospital. But what did happen he went to work at Idaho City, cutting wood for $2 a cord. Between October, 1905 and February, 1906, he saved $500.

With a part of his money he bought a team and wagon and headed back towards Pocatello, following the railroad because there was more work along the railroads than any other way for a horse. At Springdale, the island in the river caught his eye.

Paro didn't know it then, but the island had a history. Oldtimers called it Colonel Woody's island. They also called it a worthless strip of gravel covered with wild roses, willows and dense brush—an excellent place for deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Smith had lived on the 300-acre island for a short time in 1894 and later the land was homesteaded by a man by the name of Wilburman.

Paro left his team and wagon on the bank of the river and headed for the island. There was something about the island that he liked. He located Wilburman and bought the relinquishment.

Paro, born in Quebec, Canada, in 1877, the son of farming parents and a grandfather, had a farming background so he decided to farm the island.

Throughout the rest of that year Paro divided his time between burning off the brush and clearing the land and going up Howell canyon for suitable trees with which to build a home. The following year he planted wheat, cut it green, and raised 100 tons for hay to the railroad, which was building a line to Twin Falls.

The wheat was hand planted and raised without water. Paro prepared the land with the aid of a harrow he made from scraps of metal.

The crop was more than a return for his effort. It proved to him the "worthless" land could be made to bear crops.

With one foot firmly on the bot-

Before Frank Paro became known as a silver fox rancher, he made a name for himself in the Hereford cattle business. He purchased cattle collected more than 20 awards before he sold out and took up silver fox raising. (Staff engraving) tom of the ladder, Paro entered into a partnership with Jim Hendry. Together they leased 350 head of sheep and made $1,500 a head when they sold out to "Greasy" Rich and a Mr. Lund.

With his share of the money Paro invested in 10 head of Hampshire ewes imported from England by a man in Weiser.

The island was especially suited for sheep raising since the "water fence" kept the sheep from wandering. In 1914 Paro sold his sheep to Robert Blaylock at Filer and re-invested his money in Hereford cattle.

Meanwhile, other things were happening at the island. In 1905 a ferry was started to it and in 1904 was replaced by a bridge. Paro turned a part of the island over to raising because he turned out a project that turned out to be a good cash crop. He ventured into the poultry business, too, furnishing trout, eggs to many of the early settlers on the island. He didn't even have to deliver the eggs. When anyone wanted, they rode to the bank of the river and called. Paro sent the eggs across on the ferry.

Paro discovered the soil on the island was versatile. In 1906 he planted some fruit trees and around each tree he stuck in some water-proofed wire. Underneath the plants and the plants supplied him with a crop of delicious melons. The trees and melons were watered by hand bucket from the river.

When the time came for Paro to his crop of melons, he filled a wagon box with them and started across the river. Everything went along fine except for one thing. Paro had forgotten to fasten the wagon box to the wagon. In mid-stream the box parted company from the wagon and some of the melons parted company from the box. With the aid of three boys on shore, though, he managed to rescue most of the crop.

Paro's poultry and "ventilator" was as profitable as his sheep business. When he sold out in 1925 he had more than 200 blue ribbons, grand championship prizes and a silver cup to show how well the island did for him.

The Frenchman's next venture on the island was raising silver foxes. Paro had followed until 1924. At one time he had 73 pens of fur bearing animals. He received about as many ribbons and prizes for his silver foxes as he did for his Hereford cattle.

The silver foxes were the last major venture for the Frenchman. His early sickness in Boise and years of hard work were combining to bring about the end of an era. In 1925 ill health forced Paro to retire. He sold his island home to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Woodland, Willard, Utah, and moved to Burley.

But the river won't soon forget the Frenchman. Not will the people forget that, sincehanded, he transformed a worthless strip of gravel into a prosperous, satisfying life.
