

Eisenhower Is Given Relief Bill of Solons

February will see a bill restoring many amounts cut by the house. It has been deadlocked since then. The house passed a bill Tuesday a second version of the bill and sent it to the senate with a "technical amendment."

This version left out three items the senate wanted, and that the senate would not be turning the bill to the house yesterday afternoon.

The house ignored the rewritten second version and produced still a third bill which it passed and sent to the senate.

This stripped-down third version carried only the 275 millions for assistance grants and 10 millions for small business loans, plus gratuities for four widows of deceased members.

But it has a rider limiting to $12,000 the federal share of the cost of administering public assistance.

Sen. William F. Knowland, R-Calif., said this was not enough to meet their obligations.

The key to the key to the dispute on the legislation. Senators contended there should be no such limitation because Social Security law requires the federal government to pay 50 percent of the cost of the program.

They say any change in this should be made by amending the basic law.

can be accomplished by private enterprise. And private enterprise has to do for one thing: it does not without tapping the U.S. treasury.

"Money itself is a fundamental resource and it is a responsibility of congress to see that it is used wisely and not misused capriciously."

Cooper took sharp issue with Church's portrayal of the dam company.

"Your statement to the senate subcommittee," he said, "definitely gives the impression that we are a pauper state. Here again we part in sharp disagreement. Idaho is not a pauper state, but if we are to assume that it is in a straitened circumstance, as your statement suggests, then it's the most solvent pauper in the Northwest."

Taxicab Clue Is Probed for Italian Youth

CHICAGO, April 18.—An search for the missing son of Italy's consul-general in Chicago turned to the southern states today when a taxicab driver told police he took the youth to the airport this night he disappeared.

The unidentified cab driver said he took a boy answering the description of the missing 14-year-old youth to the southern states today when he tried to buy a ticket for Miami, Fla., Tuesday night.

The boy's parents said that although he had returned to the airport where he paid the $15.00 fare, the driver a $2 up, and disappeared. "Police want a squad of detectives to look for the boy," the parents said.

Bishop Gives Easter Topic Talk to Club

The sign of all signs is for man to put his purposes above God's, the Rev. Norman K. Poole, Episcopal bishop of Idaho, told Twin Falls Kiwanis Thursday during the club's observance of Easter.

The bishop took his text from St. Paul, who, according to Bishop Poole, said, "Man's mind is not capable of understanding the things of God."

Added Safety Expected for "Age of Jets"

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The Federal Aviation Authority's first scheduled jet transport flight will take place late in 1957.

It will come the latest form of aerial transportation known to man.

Jets are safer for several reasons. They are high-speed, high-altitude machines. They have more reliable, less susceptible to failure, than piston engines.

They are also more maneuverable. They are less affected by turbulence. They are in many ways easier to fly and handle than a piston engine plane.

The Boeing 707 jet transport contains only 180 cockpit instruments, the Boeing 747 transport, a conventional four-engine plane, has nearly 500 cockpit instruments.

In a taxi or landing crash, a jet is less likely to catch fire because its kerosene fuel is less flammable than high-octane gasoline.

Through Testing Manufacturers now are engaged in the greatest flight testing program ever involved in the introduction of new aircraft.

It is known one bad crash could seriously damage public acceptance of this new kind of flying, one company official said. "We aren't cutting any corners in putting out the safest transport ever created."

Boeing's 707 prototype, for example, took blueprint form in 1952, underwent its first test flight in May 1954, and already has had more than 1,000 hours of flight operation.

Flu Bug Blamed In Idaho Ailment

HEWLETT, April 18 (AP)—The epidemic which hit much of north Idaho and forced schools to close last month was definitely caused by the flu bug, public health service officials said yesterday.

Dr. Kays, epidemiologist, Dr. Kays said he had received a letter from the head of the Rocky Mountain laboratory at Hamilton, Mont., reporting on specimens taken from the county jail at Collins just 10 miles away.

In a letter to the doctors they said tell within an hour they were feeling sick. Dr. Kays said the rock-moving type of influenza was general in the West this season.

Dismantled Jail HEWLETT, Mont., April 18 (AP)—Mayor Lawrence Hemmer explained today that the town torn down last fall and sold it as scrap iron for $12,500 to a junk dealer.

Hemmer said the jail had been occupied since 1945, besides if anyone needs jailing, "we can put him in the county jail at Collins just 10 miles away."

Puzzle of Giant Budget Goes Back More Than 2 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The amount he planned to spend here's a puzzle. Unravel it and you'll have a better understanding of the difficulties facing members of Congress who hope to reduce the President's budget enough to justify cutting everybody's taxes.

The story goes back more than two years. Item one—Eisenhower on Jan. 17, 1955, sent Congress a spending budget of $63 billion. That was or $2.2 billion more than the original budget estimate.

This illustrates the difficulties and frustrations facing Congress whenever it tries to cut a President's budget. The explanation is that actually Congress doesn't directly approve or disapprove—or even act on—the President's budget.

The present record peacetime budget of nearly 72 billion dollars is merely the President's advance estimate of how much he will spend in the year starting next July 1 from funds already available and 42 new money which he is asking Congress to appropriate.

Congress in its present so-called "budget-cutting drive" is merely whacking away at the appropriation bills carrying new money. But some of the money which it is cutting out isn't even included in the budget.

These are funds which the President plans to spend in future years. This year the President requested appropriations of more than 75 billion dollars in new money, a good share of which is not budgeted for spending in the coming fiscal year.

In some cases, the President himself doesn't have any control over the amount which is spent. A good example is the farm price support program. Congress has authorized this summer to cut everybody's taxes, effective Jan. 1.

If the drive is started and the administration approves it, you'll hear a lot of charges and counter-charges as to whether the prospective budget surplus is big enough to justify tax relief.

At that point neither side will really know for sure how much the federal government is going to spend in the coming fiscal year and how much it will gain in revenue.

In January, 1955, the President forecast a surplus of 200 million dollars for fiscal 1956. Actual spending exceeded his forecast by more than 2 billion and revenues exceeded the forecast by three billion six hundred million dollars. Result: The surplus amounted to one billion six hundred million dollars.

buying up surplus crops under advance price support commitments made to farmers. If the weather is good and the crop harvest a big this fall, federal spending on that program will be higher than the President "guessed" in his budget message last January. The opposite will be true if there are crop failures.

House Democratic leaders have said that if tax revenues continue to hold up and if Congress makes a big enough dent in money bills, they will launch a drive for legislation this summer to cut everybody's taxes, effective Jan. 1.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—American taxpayers may enjoy another huge saving as a result of the pentagon's admitted blunder in offering to fly members of congress to the Kentucky Derby, by the way, it is not an ill governmental wind which blows good to the citizenry.

The incident has strengthened the hands of a small group of house senate economists, led by Rep. Dennis Wood of Kentucky, who demand that the military air transport service be ordered not to compete with the commercial airlines in the transportation of passengers and commodities.

LUDICROUS FLOOD—and Ben Paul H. Douglas of Illinois have long contended that MATS is an unnecessary, luxury operation. Its current mission has frequently been recommended by the house appropriations committee, President Eisenhower's air coordinating committee and the Hoover commission on reorganization of the government.

But the air force, like so many other federal agencies, refuses to surrender its authority and appropriations in any field. So far, its influential lobby has been able to stave off these moves for economy.

LUDICROUS AIR OPERATIONS—The Kentucky Derby has been a common subject of public attention because it was an obvious attempt to court support and sympathy on Capitol Hill. Even Rep. Eisenhower's air coordinating committee and the Hoover commission on reorganization of the government.

But there have been other ludicrous operations. According to the same source, the military has flown pinpoints to Berlin, Germany to Oklahoma, and a band for a dance in Bermuda. It has also carried cement as well as congressmen. In short, it perished the common airline to almost every part of the globe and at a cost much higher than the figures submitted in the regular airlines' bid.

MATS has an estimated annual cost of $100 million and 7,000 planes. It flies 110,000 miles of routes and employs 100,000 military and civilian personnel. The cost of the MATS program is estimated to be $100 million a year, and the government out of competition with private enterprise.

It is one of the possible savings is one-fourth of the total which congress hopes to take out of the 718 billion dollar budget, thereby permitting a 1958 reduction in taxes.

CONGRESSIONAL ECONOMISERS' SUCCESS—It is a common complaint among economists that the government is too big. It is too big, they say, and it is too expensive. It is too big, they say, and it is too expensive. It is too big, they say, and it is too expensive.

There is the very "critical" problem, too, of congestion in and around major airports in New York, Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles and similar centers.

Obviously the military's group does not have the final answer to this and many other matters. In consequence Mr. Eisenhower is urging creation of a strongly independent airways administration board to coordinate and coordinate air safety research.

This agency would be given power over all present military and civilian research projects in aviation. It would have its own facilities for experimenting with electronic and other traffic control aids, including a special airport and perhaps 100 aircraft of all types.

The Curtis group has reported "quickly, thoroughly and imaginatively" on a painfully serious national problem. Congress should do it, and the President himself by signing the proposed program in similar fashion. The jet age in commercial travel is but a year and a half away. And the consequences of delay could be written out in air-crash casualty lists.

WE UNDERSTAND, KHRUSHY
Russia's leaders are recently in how much communism "does" for the masses of its citizens.

Arbitrarily it decided to put off for a full generation the repayment of $5 billion dollars borrowed from the people through their Communist party boss Khrushchev said the plan would not be understood abroad, particularly among capitalists. Well, it's understood, all right. It amounts to the confiscatory use of the people's money, nothing less.

According to dispatches, workers in various factories greeted with "stormy applause" the announcement that they weren't going to get their money back within the originally prescribed time. But we all know how the Russians manufacture their money by threat of reprisal. It's doubtful if that applause would register well on high fidelity equipment.

So this is the way the masses are helped by communism. Bonds are sold in evident good faith, and the terms of their redemption changed later. The deal thus becomes a kind of long term embezzlement scheme, allegedly temporary. You just lift the citizens' money. And when you put an official government seal on the arrangement, the workers will cheer you.

Those old-time capitalist robber barons begin to look like pretty straight chaps.

LABOR-MAKING MACHINES
This is the age of electronic and mechanical marvels in the American household. To most of them—washing machines, dryers, dishwashers and the like—the phrase "labor-saving" is usually applied.

There can't be much doubt that they do save labor. Their gleaming white facades represent a kind of daily miracle of work performed, permitting Mother to get out of the kitchen and in front of the TV set at an early hour.

But there is a price to pay, and it's not the cost of the equipment. Machines are being made that are doing the work of men. If Father is handy with tools, he may inevitably be pressed into service as chief engineer—and this can mean tinkering with a whole household of stuff. In fact, in his new book, "Survival of the Fittest," author Russell Lynes says husbands who fix the household equipment constitute the "new servant class."

Economic columnist Sylvia Porter notes, too, that repairs for these machines can deal a family's budget. Usually family budgets are figured without these more or less unexpected outlays.

The miracle may be real enough, but possibly Father and his pocketbook may need a little more convincing.

POT SHOTS

HOW ABOUT KIDNEY?

Dep. Potter: In the past, there has been considerable discussion, lighthearted, of the possibility of obtaining a lean law in Twin Falls. Some folks have advocated that such a law should apply to cats as well as dogs.

It's also an interesting lighthearted. How about kids? Shouldn't the lean-law apply to them, too? As matter of fact, you'll find some youngsters who cause more damage than all the dogs and cats put together. They play it that way.

Just Wounded (Twin Falls): The mother and her five 6-week-old pups have to have new homes. The pups are all black with white spots. You can get them at the Rynolds Martin place one and one-half miles east of Greenwood or phone 331-279.

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT. These three black and white pups are a cross between English setter and collie. They're 2 or 3 months old. You can get them at the Rynolds Martin place one and one-half miles east of Greenwood or phone 331-279.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD
A boy, Lewis, Jerome—O'Hand, would say your little note is not proper material for Pot Shots. It would appear to be more suitably qualified for the Public Forum where it would have to appear over your true name. With that in mind you might want to write more about the subject, sending your letter to the Public Forum department.

DON'T NEED EM!
After inspecting the change in parking in the courthouse, I have what consider a fair question: why not eliminate the sidewalk and that space, too, for parking cars? Really, we don't need the sidewalk anymore—no one ever walks.

WASHINGTON

By PETER-EDSON

WASHINGTON (INRA).—Nervous, wracked American parents—hardly to tripping, rolling, roller-skates, doll baby carriages, and wheeled toy land.

It is a model rocket, says Dr. Spillhaus, a certainly not more dangerous than fireworks. A model rocket is a lot less lethal than the junior's stripped-down, hot-rod sports car, or an older, high school group's game of "chicken" in the family station wagon.

Successful generations of long-suffering parents may scream that rockets will be merely a new form of infantile self-destruction.

It has taken 50 years to bring fireworks under control and make Fourth of July reasonably safe and sane. The old-fashioned sky rocket has been all but outlawed as a community fire hazard. The Roman candle, a safer model rocket, has been and is definitely not for children to play with—only firemen and policemen.

As for the automobile, safe-driving campaigns do seem to be catching on a little, since the white house has set an example.

But now along comes science to defame flaming youth astray in outer space with juvenile rocket clubs. Youth must be served, admitted. But any self-respecting parent would walk where it will all end.

It is these serious rocket clubs of teen-agers may in some way be encouraged with necessary safeguards. As Dr. Spillhaus—himself the father of five—hope this exciting motivation will not be banned because of hazard, but rather that the hazard will be controlled so the children will be in no greater danger than walking the ridgepole of a barn in our own younger days.

How's that again? No more dangerous than what?

Requirements for MARS membership are that each applicant be at least 12 years old and shall have built a rocket that has soared at least 100 feet.

This new development in the toy and family-prodigy division would seem to be heading the model air plane industry right into obsolescence. If not outright oblivion.

A toy rocket that will go 100 feet—one-third of a block—need be no bigger than a small baseball bat. It takes no chemical fuel, it makes smoke and fire and it goes bang. For anyone who gets in the trajectory of a toy rocket, the consequences can be almost dire.

But does this alarm the grown-up scientists? Not on some-body else's life. They seem to think that rocket clubs should be encouraged. For fun and frolic, they are said to be well hallowed the Boy Scouts of America.

Two model rockets, says Dr. Spillhaus, a certainly not more dangerous than fireworks. A model rocket is a lot less lethal than the junior's stripped-down, hot-rod sports car, or an older, high school group's game of "chicken" in the family station wagon.

Turk Government Holds Key To Unsettled Cyprus Problem

By United Press
Turkey is becoming the key country in the dispute over the future of the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

Britain is now making a new attempt to negotiate a settlement with the Greek-Cypriote islanders, the Greek government and the Turkish government.

To that end, it has released from the island's Greek-Cypriote leaders, the Greek government and the Turkish government.

So far, British negotiations have not gone very far.

For one thing, no basis for a settlement acceptable to Makarios and the Greek government—or even a basis for negotiations—has been found.

But there is another big obstacle. The attitude of Turkey is hardening steadily. As the situation stands now, Turkey is most unlikely to accept any settlement which would be acceptable to Makarios, as the leader of the Greek-Cypriote or to the Greek government.

The Turkish government made no secret of its extreme displeasure over release of Makarios.

Turkish newspapers, which directly reflect the government attitude, are denouncing Makarios as "the instigator, in fact the very personification of the terrorism to which the Greek-Cypriote islanders resorted in their campaign for 'self-determination'."

Turkey's fear is that, in its eagerness for a settlement, Britain may agree to give the Greek-Cypriote domination over those islanders who are of Turkish stock.

Diplomatic negotiations are proceeding between Britain and Turkey in Ankara, the Turkish capital, and in London.

Ankara dispatches say that if Britain tries to make concession to the Greek-Cypriote, that Turkey does not approve. British-Turkish relations will be endangered.

This possibility was cited, by the way, by the Marquis of Salisbury, one of Britain's most influential political leaders, when he resigned from the cabinet in protest against the release of Makarios.

Turkey's position is that 120,000 of the 520,000 people of Cyprus are "Turks." Secondly it is that Cyprus is only about 45 miles from Turkey and nearly 600 from the Greek mainland. Thirdly it is that Cyprus never has been a Greek possession and that if there is any change in sovereignty, the island should go to Turkey, which held it before Britain took it over in 1878.

The entire situation seems headed for a deadlock. Turkey is most unlikely to recognize any Cyprus settlement in which Makarios takes part.

part, Makarios has said that he will refuse to negotiate with anyone who does not recognize the right of the Turkish people to self-determination. He has also said that he will not return to Cyprus until he has been welcomed as a national hero.

How's that again? No more dangerous than what?

Requirements for MARS membership are that each applicant be at least 12 years old and shall have built a rocket that has soared at least 100 feet.

This new development in the toy and family-prodigy division would seem to be heading the model air plane industry right into obsolescence. If not outright oblivion.

A toy rocket that will go 100 feet—one-third of a block—need be no bigger than a small baseball bat. It takes no chemical fuel, it makes smoke and fire and it goes bang. For anyone who gets in the trajectory of a toy rocket, the consequences can be almost dire.

Mounties Had Complete Book On Canadian

OTTAWA, April 18 (AP)—The E. H. Hurd Norman guide to the Canadian navy to Cairo carried the RCMP Communist tag in 1946, and it was removed 10 years later, and that a U. S. senate committee learned the story through Canada's own security channels.

Norman, ambassador to Egypt and Lebanon, jumped to his death from a Cairo building late last month. Canadian officials blamed his death on dependency over a U. S. agency and their old charge that he was a Communist.

Criticized
Personal affairs minister, Lester B. Pearson, whose handling of the Norman issue was sharply criticized by several newspapers, barred to public scrutiny for the first time last night the circumstances leading to Norman's suicide.

Personal answered charges and recitals of charges against Norman in a telegram to the editor of the Montreal Gazette. The statement also answered the charges and comments against Norman by U. S. senate subcommittee counsel Robert Morris.

PLANS COMPLETED
WENDELL, April 18—Plans were made Monday at the meeting of the local club for the club's annual annual project which is to be launched Tuesday. Plans for an action on May 8 also were announced. Douglas Bohrnak was in charge of the program.

Forest Rangers Discuss Watershed Management Problems

Watershed management continues to be one of the forest service's major problems. The service maintains an active program to improve conditions continually. During the watershed discussion at the Sawtooth national forest rangers meeting being held here, Elmer Boyle, Ketchum ranger and meeting chairman, takes time out to show a graph on watershed in the forest to John Sevy, forest supervisor, left, and Ed Pearson, right, Twin Falls district ranger. The meet will continue through Friday. (Staff photo-engraving)

Valley Persons Urged to Apply Now for Nurse Training Here

Magie Valley residents 18 years of age and older who are interested in practical nursing training were urged Thursday by Dorothy Aldrich, director of nursing service at Magie Valley Memorial hospital, to submit applications early for the hospital's fall nursing classes.

Deadline will be sometime in July, Miss Aldrich said, but those applying are asked to do so as soon as possible because of the time required to process applications.

Openings in the class are limited, she pointed out. Last year's class had only 10 trainees and the number accepted this fall is expected to be between 15 and 20 students.

In addition, students are to receive surgical, medical and pediatric practice and also work in various departments of the hospital under supervision of licensed hospital employees.

Licensing in Idaho requires graduation from an approved hospital course in practical nursing. Miss Aldrich added.

Applicants are asked to telephone or write Miss Aldrich at the hospital for further information.

Difference

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 17 (AP)—Maurice Azah, 39, arraigned in court on a charge of threatening his wife, admitted he was an alcoholic—but a "dry" one, not a "wet" one.

Asked by the judge to explain, Azah said: "A dry alcoholic like I am drinks often, but can break off for a month or so at a time. A wet alcoholic, which I am not, is drunk all the time."

He's running the postoffice. The congress is not," Gary told the United Press. "And cuts are his responsibility."

Return of Postal Services Is Asked

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Rep. J. Vaughn Gary, D. Va., said today there is no need for Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield to continue some of the postal cuts he made during his squabble with Congress.

Gary, chairman of the house appropriations subcommittee on postal funds, said Summerfield certainly should be able to restore full service with the $1 million dollars congress gave him.

Easter Menu Will Feature Ham Turkey

By The Associated Press
The traditional Easter ham will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this week-end, but the pink pork product will have to share the spotlight with turkey.

Ham long was the number one—and just about the only—selection of the supermarket meat men for the Easter week-end. In recent years, however, turkeys have been more and more popular with shoppers.

Nevertheless, turkeys that women like the new smaller, ready-to-cook birds. Birds Popular
Whatever the reason, the nation's turkey population, and consumption, are growing steadily. Last year's crop was a record, and the rate at which poultry are being hatched indicates the 1957 crop will top 1956's by even more than the 10 per cent gain intended by farmers in January.

A few stores also will feature beef this week-end, and some markets in coastal areas will have fish available at special prices for seafood fanciers.

Housewives looking for eggs to color as well as eat will find prices somewhat irregular. Eggs are a penny or two higher a dozen in some areas, lower by the same margin in other areas.

Senate Confirms Nominations for Civil Commission

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The senate today confirmed by voice vote the nominations of former Rep. Harris Ellsworth, Christopher H. Phillips and Frederick J. Lawton to the Civil Service Commission.

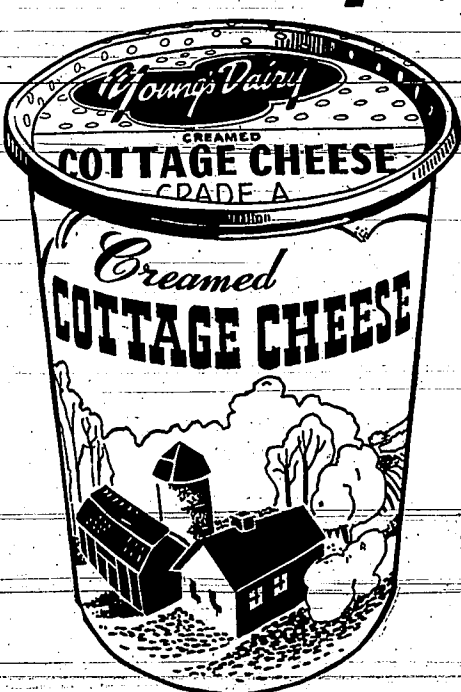

Ellsworth, an Oregon Republican who was defeated for reelection last year, is to become chairman of the new three-member commission.

Sens. Richard L. Neuberger, D. Ore., and Wayne L. Morse, D. Ore., told the senate they did not approve of Ellsworth's political and social views—but would not oppose the nomination because President Eisenhower's choice should prevail.

Lawton, a Democrat and former budget director under the Truman administration, was reappointed for another six-year term.

Weather Bureau Is Ready to Introduce New Weapons in Its Hurricane Battles

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UP)—The weather bureau already is lining up new weapons for the autumn hurricane season—and polishing up some old ones which were not completely tested in last year's comparatively mild season of the killer storms.

Bureau scientists say they expect to have more specific advances than in previous years, including the last big hurricane year of 1955. That year more than a billion dollars in damage and 1,500 deaths, including 311 in the continental United States, were caused by a near-record 10 hurricanes from out of the tropical doldrums.

Bureau men are expecting to narrow down their warning to an average of 200 miles of coastal length, compared with about 500 average two years ago.

Last year, only two hurricanes actually threatened the continental United States, and only one of them—Flores—actually struck.

Bureau scientists are even experimenting as much as a month in advance the possibility of using a statement of the "general probability" of hurricanes affecting a particular coastal area.

Current research is based on promising experience during the last few years with 30-day outlooks for weather conditions in general. Up to now, these outlooks have not attempted to forecast hurricane possibilities.

But bureau scientists have been analyzing past outlooks for hurricane months, comparing them with conditions observed during actual hurricanes. They have even made a few experimental trial runs during a hurricane season.

They say, however, that results, while promising, require extensive analysis before any decision can be reached on whether such a technique could be placed in operation this year, if indeed at all.

The new weapons that definitely will be available this year might seem like puny armaments against these huge revolving storms that rack winds up to 150 miles an hour and more, brew rainfalls up to 30 inches in 24 hours, and send destructive tidal surges over coastal areas. But weather bureau men say they could help save lives.

The new gear consists of:

1. Instruments of measuring wind speeds and direction right at the water's edge—as distinguished from gadgets which record these items at stations located farther inland.
2. A new system of remote control tidal gauges will be installed at various points along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts. They will provide a continuous record of water-level heights to weather forecasters at Washington.
3. The "holdovers," mostly untired weapons of last year, consists mainly of two giant long-range radars at San Juan, Puerto Rico and Nantuxet, Mass., plus some relatively recent research findings on the statistics of hurricanes.
4. High hopes for the radars stem from "simultaneously beneficial" results produced by the new San Juan radar set in hurricane Betsy last year.
5. The radar's 300-mile range is credited with having helped greatly towards isolating a warning to the island more than 20 hours before the storm struck—and a more specific watch-out-for-your-life-and-property warning some 15 hours before the winds hit.
6. "Our record at Puerto Rico on the watch-out-for-your-life-and-property" perhaps as good as you'll ever get," says Theodore Gletcher, chief of the bureau's emergency warning section.
7. Betsy made a fatal at the continental United States—serious enough to cause issuance of a warning but then veered away. The big radar at Nantuxet—outpost for increasingly hurricane-conscious New England—will be on the watch for the likes of her this year. So will the bureau's original long-range radar set at Hatteras, N. C., and a network of shorter-range sets in hurricane-prone areas.
8. If the bureau ultimately decides to put out special long-range hurricane forecasts, these would add to the agency's growing list of special forecasts, ranging from full-front predictions to fire-weather outlooks and from forecasts for cranberry growers to special snow forecasts to help snow removal planners.
9. Many forecasts of this type have been made for years. In some other projects, there are signs of controversy.
10. Bureau spokesmen say that some private meteorologists have issuance of "free" forecasts in commercial fields. But the bureau contends it does so under the law requiring "public service."
11. Moreover, says the bureau, there's plenty of room in the field for private meteorologists. It points out that "private meteorologists can give more detail to a client and interpret it in terms of the client's particular operations than the bureau has either time or staff to do."

Spendthrift

BEZIER, France, April 18 (UP)—Police were searching in amusement today for a woman who went grocery shopping with French gold pieces yesterday and paid $10 a dozen for eggs.

A poultry merchant reported she bought two dozen eggs, handed him two gold pieces and disappeared in the crowd. The "gold" pieces were worth about $10 each.

Church Asks For Study in Dam Projects

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., said yesterday he has asked the bureau of reclamation for reports on the status and feasibility of proposals to construct a dam at the Teton canyon reservoir site on Teton creek and one on the Teton river in Idaho.

The senator said house documents of the last congress carried mention of a proposed dam 14 miles above the mouth of Teton creek, in the upper Snake river valley. He said he understood the bureau also has under study the possible construction of a dam on the Teton river north of Newdale, in Fremont county.

The senator said a corps of engineers report indicated that the bureau proposed a storage reservoir to be designated as the Teton canyon site. "The report further says that the bureau of reclamation has considered this site for use as a part of its Alta irrigation project," he added.

Church said he had been informed the bureau had under study a multipurpose dam on the Teton river. He added he was interested in projects in the region of Idaho which would threaten spring floods and assure an adequate water supply for year-round irrigation.

Trapped Tots Provide Safe Refrigerators

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Government researchers turned 201 tiny tots one by one into a refrigerator-size "playhouse" to test their reactions when trapped.

The result was a government proposal to prevent "ice box" deaths.

Secretary of Commerce Charles C. Wick reported to congress proposed standards for an easily operated release mechanism for escaping from inside a closed refrigerator.

Get After Tots

He said the standards were set after a series of tests by the bureau of standards and children's bureau with 201 children ranging in age from 2 to 6.

The report said the children were lured one by one into a "playhouse" by showing inside a Mickey Mouse Donald Duck cartoon. The plywood "playhouse" inside was the size of the average family refrigerator.

Once the child was inside the cartoon stopped, the "playhouse" door was shut and the child was left in darkness.

Studied Reactions

Child development experts observed the trapped children's behavior through a "telescope." Infrared motion pictures were made. Sound recordings were taken of the children's outcries.

The report said three-fourths of the children found a safety latch on the "playhouse" door and released themselves in less than three minutes. One-tenth of these got out in less than 10 seconds.

The tests revealed that some children made a purposeful effort to escape by searching for the latch while others panicked in "violent action both directed toward escape and undirected."

Most of the young youngsters did nothing at all, test observers concluded no safety release will be 100 per cent effective.

Leader of Huks Killed by Police

MANILA, April 18 (AP)—Constabulary headquarters announced today that 14 men yesterday killed Jose (Dimpaslang) De Leon, 43, third ranking communist "huk" official.

Authorities said two undercover men posing as Huks shot De Leon and a companion as they slept in a small village in Luzon, Nueva Ecija province. A third huk was clubbed to death.

The operation was carried out near Bengabong town, where in April 1948, under De Leon, killed the wife of the late President Manuel Quezon and her companions.

Honored at Event

MANILA, April 18 — Frank McGraw, Mr. and Mrs. James Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Giamble, all Manila, and Mrs. Lavilla, Shill and Harrison Powers, Burley, received 25-year pins at charter members of the Raft River Grange at the 25th anniversary party Monday at the Grange hall.

James Handy, Heyburn, who helped organize the Raft River Grange, was guest.

Mrs. Clifford Beecher told the history of the Grange. Mrs. Cecil Williams, Mrs. Milo Peterson and Mrs. Jay Wake sang. Harrison Powers, Orville Sears and Vern Roberts sang a duet, and presented a one-act play.

Scranton Miss Not Impressed By Union Men

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The eye candor may be the reason Senator Scranton, Pa., is not impressed by the union men who are now in a union with him.

Miss Helen Canfield, 21, who has been in the Senate Labor Relations committee since she started to work for the Senate Labor Relations committee, said she was not impressed by the union men who are now in a union with her.

She said she was not impressed by the union men who are now in a union with her.

Asks Questions

"They call themselves men," she asked, referring to the union men who are now in a union with her.

"How can they sleep at night when they are in a union with a woman who is a senator?" she asked.

Miss Canfield is an egg collector who holds eggs up to the light to see if they are good—in a Scranton produce warehouse under temporary jurisdiction.

Made Recordings

She told the committee she and her friend Paul Bradshaw made tape recordings of conversations about a possible plot aimed at a non-union contractor. They were turned over to the police, she said, but she was charged with obstructing justice.

It was thought it was to frighten me by keeping my mouth shut," she said.

Not Frightened

She was certainly unfrightened when, uninvited, she was called to the committee to testify about the recordings. She said she was not frightened by the union men who are now in a union with her.

Five Children Get Prizes for Finding Golden Eggs

In the annual Easter egg contest sponsored Wednesday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Easter baskets were given to five children who found golden eggs. Winners, from left, are Leroy Meyer, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meyer; Christine Farr, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Farr; Billy Collins, 6, son of Mrs. Vida Collins; Ann Frank, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank; and Steven Nichols, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nichols. Some 75 dozen eggs were distributed around the city park. (Star photo by George)

Folks Study Plans to Save Mining Town

CHELAN, Wash., April 18 (AP)—Folks here are planning over how to keep the community of Holden, one of the most picturesque in Washington, from becoming a ghost town.

Holden is a mining camp nestled among towering Cascade peaks near the 55-mile-long Lake Chelan and is accessible only by boat or airplane.

For more than 20 years the Holden sound mine there has been the principal source of copper in Washington, turning out nearly nine million tons of ore.

Recently the Howe-Sound Mining company announced a lack of ore will force it to stop operation by the end of June.

Holden and its mine have been important economically to Chelan, supply point at the foot of the lake. All Holden's 400 population depends on its mine.

When the mine workers move out they leave behind most of the town—a "ghost" town—dining hall, hospital, school, bowling alley and more than 100 homes, all on national forest land.

Jack Roper, mine superintendent, says it's "one of the finest mining camps on the North American continent."

Under an agreement with the forest service, the buildings will have to be removed or used by another operator. A forest service spokesman said its officials hope some use can be made of the property.

Tuesday night officials of Chelan, the mining company, Great Northern railroad, forest service and other agencies pondered the problem at a meeting here.

The most discussed solution is to develop Holden as a sports area. It is in the midst of easily climbed peaks that offer perpetual snow fields for skiing.

But no one has come up with an idea on how to get enough capital. A committee headed by Dan Campbell, Chelan Chamber of Commerce member, was left with the ghost town problem.

Stanger Named as President for Two Horsemen Groups

IDAHO FALLS, April 18 (AP)—Rich Stanger of Idaho Falls has been named president of the Snake River Valley Horse Show association and the Intermountain Appaloosa Horse club, it was announced yesterday.

Other officers for the July 1-11 show in Blackfoot are Archie Swenson, "Blackfoot" vice president; Dora Lauder, Sugar City, secretary; treasurer. Directors are Glen Beddes, Parker; James Orison, Jack Edwards and Charles Reed, Idaho Falls and Jack George, Pocatello.

Edwards will be show manager and Mrs. Edith Stanger, secretary. The Appaloosa club picked Myron Snell, Ogden, Utah, as vice president and Mrs. Stanger, secretary.

Accidents Costly Montana Reports

HELENA, Mont., April 18 (AP)—Traffic accidents in Montana last year did property damage estimated by the state highway patrol at $3,350,018.

In its annual activity report, the patrol said 13,266 drivers were involved in the 9,448 traffic accidents reported in 1950.

Total of 247 persons were killed in 212 accidents. In addition, 2,915 persons were injured. May was the worst month for deaths, with 41, and June the worst for injuries, with 347.

Treasurer, Joy Maxwell, Bozeman, Newby, Kuna, Glade Draper, Bonanza, Utah, and Roy Marble, Brigham City, Utah, are the directors.

Frozen Food Will Present New Problem

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Prohibitively soon may replace the burn as the number one kitchen hazard.

Food marketing expert E. W. Williams predicts that in 10 years, more than 50 per cent of the food we buy will be frozen. The kitchen stove as we know it today will eventually disappear... and be replaced by microwave ovens, he said.

"The revolution is on its way," Williams, publisher of the trade magazine Quick Frozen Foods, told the Eastern Frozen Foods association convention here this week.

Meatmen Over "The gadget-laden kitchen with its pots and pans, meatlines and long hours over a hot stove will soon become as antiquated as the coffee grinder."

Williams said 10 million U. S. families now eat their meals at least twice a week in front of the television set. "And most of them are eating frozen foods," he added.

He said some 500 prepared frozen foods are being sold—these in addition to the hundreds of other frozen products such as peas and asparagus, which need cooking.

NOMINATED PAUL, April 18—The Paul Lions club has nominated Harvey Hollinger as president, the Rev. Donald Oreg, vice president; Orville Stimpson, second vice president; George Abo, secretary; Edith Corcoran, treasurer; Art Greve, tallmaster; Calvin Conner, lieutenant; Harper Hunter, greeter; and Howard Conley and Hyrum Mettlich, directors.

Each year also, the list of luxury frozen items gets longer. The housewife can buy artichoke hearts, frogs' legs, snails, crab roe, bear meat, dandelion greens, passion fruit, or bean sprouts. Or she can purchase dozens of the so-called nationally foods.

Williams said purchases of these—including Italian, Mexican and Oriental—add up to 80 million dollars a year.

Our national grocery bill this year will run about 71 billion dollars, the grocery manufacturers of America report. Of this, all types of frozen foods take a "bite" of one billion, 600 million dollars.

Getting Bigger "Small bite now," said a GMA spokesman. "But each year it gets bigger."

Civil Defense Leaders Talk Of Precautions in H-Attacks

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The National Association of State and Territorial Civil Defense directors today elected Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Stuchman president.

Huebner, New York state civil defense director, succeeds Col. Arthur M. Sheets of Oregon. The association in concluding a three-day meeting in a talk to the directors for months ago the air force base was training interior observer corps to observe a 24-hour watch, March 1, a deep bond on the national command.

Under this plan many more reserve units in the middle of the country would be alerted to report to keep a 24-hour watch, March 1, a deep bond on the national command.

There are 72 critical target areas in continental United States. These are the ones, according to civil defense planners, that an enemy might be most determined to obliterate. In addition there are 121 less critical targets, including state and territorial capitals.

For planning purposes, civil defense assumes that each of these targets, regardless of size and importance, might be hit with a 20-megaton H-bomb (equal in power to 20 million tons of TNT).

Nobody has ever tested an H-bomb that big, as far as is known here, but 20 megatons is used for convenience in estimating possible damage because the radius of total destruction "scalls out" at an even five miles.

For less than critical targets this strikes many of the civil defense directors as unrealistic. They want

'Decentralize' U.S. Agencies, Solon Pleads

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Senator Dworshak, R., Ida., made another pitch yesterday for his congressional bill to decentralize government functions. He said the bill would decentralize functions under the President's control and would further increase traffic congestion in the already jammed national capital.

Dworshak said that District of Columbia civilian federal employment totaled 233,000 in February with a payroll of more than $100 million.

New facilities being planned in the Washington metropolitan area, he said, which would further increase the congestion. He said the bill would decentralize intelligence, agency, building, and an atomic energy commission building.

Dworshak remarked that ever since 1945, when additional structures were being planned he had urged that they be located in the Mid-

Mother Earth to Get Complete Exam By Scientists During Next 18 Months

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Mother earth is getting a vast and unique physical checkup.

The results could profoundly affect your own life for the better.

To make this checkup, 8,000 scientists from 56 nations will go to the poles, freezing, baking, testing, comparing, flying—and even crashing the gravely barrier into limitless space.

They will probe into earth's temperatures and pressures, the complicated actions deep inside the earth and high in the air above, and the powerful influences acting from the outside.

For science is making a great assault against ignorance about our world, seeking to solve secrets of the earth and the mysterious forces which control and shape our lives.

From it all may come better control over climate and weather; improved even new ways of communication; even perhaps gifts and powers as yet undreamed of by

In a new and audacious step, scientists from the United States and Russia will rocket tiny artificial moons or messengers out into space. These man-built space visitors will go whirling about Earth at speeds of 18,000 miles per hour in orbits ranging from 200 to 200 to 1,500 miles high.

Tucked inside these little round balls, measuring devices can take a never-before-seen "look" at the sun. They can sense and record radiation from the sun as they actually are out in space, before they are absorbed or altered by our thick, protective blankets of air. What a pure sunlight actually like. Tiny tell-tale radios inside the little moons will broadcast back the answers.

The artificial moons can tell us much about cosmic rays hurtling at us from our sun and across billions of miles of space from distant universes of stars.

They can tell how empty space actually is—how many molecules of hydrogen gas race about in the not-quite-perfect vacuum of space. How high does our atmosphere rise? How many meteors and what sizes speed through space? What hazard would they be to passengers ships, hurtling to Mars or the moon? They mark man's first hesitant step to conquer the new frontier of space.

On Earth itself, literally many hundreds of scientific stations will be at work, strung along three main belts or meridian lines from North to South poles, with others criss-crossing west to east. Each will do one to several simultaneous tasks in search of new knowledge.

Many will be concerned with weather, the drama of air and sky. Our atmosphere is the fluid of a vast heat engine driven by the sun, scientists point out. Its flow, its winds, all the forces acting upon it create our weather, the balmy spring days, blizzards, hurricanes.

To understand weather better, and also to "smoke" comets and study other events, hundreds of rockets and rockoons—rockets launched from high towers—will record temperatures, wind speeds, pressures, humidity.

What they learn will be melded with similar readings from hundreds of stations on land and at sea.

Matovich Group Will Stay Active

KEELOCO, April 18 (AP)—A committee in the home town of Paul D. Matovich, 21, who started serving a prison term Monday on a second degree murder conviction, said it plans to remain active to get psychiatric treatment for the youth.

Formation of the Matovich defense committee was announced during the arrest and murder trial of the former University of Idaho freshman. He was accused of starting a campus dormitory fire in which three students died.

W. H. Youso, a miner who heads the local committee, thanked Kellogg persons for their support of earlier efforts.

Matovich was sentenced to not more than 25 years in prison.

RECOVERING

PARIS, April 18 (AP)—Speed-loving French author Francois Gagan was reported "recovering rapidly" today from her auto crash injuries. Her doctor said that the 21-year-old writer will be able to remain inactive for at least six months.

Three Nations Are Ready to Balk Conflicts

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France still are pledged to take immediate action to prevent violation of frontiers or armistice lines by either Israel or the Arab states, diplomats said today.

The big three pledge, signed in 1950, was weakened by the British-French invasion of Egypt last year, but diplomats of the three powers are trying to strengthen the agreement and put it back on the pre-arranged footing.

President Eisenhower said yesterday the May 23, 1950, three-power declaration is still in effect. The declaration would apply in event of an "Israel-Arab dispute," the President said.

In event of a communist strike action against Jordan or some other middle eastern country, American action also could be taken under the recently-approved "Eisenhower doctrine," the President pointed out. This authorizes the President to use American armed forces if help is requested by Middle East nations against a communist attack.

The British and French embassies were pleased to hear the President say the 1950 pledge is still in effect. Similar assurances have been made privately to Britain and France by the state department, it was learned.

Under terms of the 1950 three-power declaration the United States, Britain and France pledged their opposition to a middle eastern armistice.

Circus Tiger Is Mauled in Front of Tots

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—A male and a female tiger fought to the death in a circus ring before a maudlin audience of squealing children yesterday.

The calypso played on. The elephants continued their performance of ponderous fantasy.

But most of the 10,000-person audience watched in excited horror the vicious cat fight that led to the death of the lady tiger, it was said.

Six Mutilated

Ten other tigers sat almost motionless on their pedestals in the same caged ring for five long minutes as trainer Trevor Bale attempted to separate the fighting beasts.

He had provoked the great male Bengal tiger, Rajah, but cutting in front of him as Bale signaled the 500-pound cat toward the cubs leading off stage at the end of their act.

Rajah sprang with bared fangs at her and with teeth and claws drew blood through her black and golden coat. He fought back, but she was too much for him. The male as they closed in a snarling, untamed fury.

Tosses Chairs

Bale threw chairs and pedestals at the beasts and fired blank cartridges in an attempt to separate them. Other circus attendants used poles from outside the cage. Their efforts came too late to save Rajah. She died less than half an hour later in her basement cage.

Dr. J. Y. Henderson, veterinarian for the Ringling brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, said Rajah had no serious injury.

Bale said that the tigers are paired in their cages and are generally unfriendly to other than their own cage-mates. It was not Rajah's mate.

Six Airmen of Luftwaffe Form Nucleus of German Air Force

BONN, Germany, April 18 (AP)—The Luftwaffe, once a symbol of terror from the air, today boasts only six fully trained jet fighter pilots. All are in their mid-30s and still fly only in formations with their U.S. air force instructors.

West German defense planners have always admitted that rebuilding an air force would be the slowest and toughest phase of rearmament.

It will be the slowest because for 10 years of allied occupation Germany was banned from the air and this country has no pool of trained pilots. The survivors of the Luftwaffe's battle-hardened squadrons of World War II are men in their 50s who have not flown for more than a decade.

It will be the toughest due to the astronomical cost of building planes and air fields.

Germany has no aircraft construction plants and no modern jet airfields. The superatomic machines, the United States and other Atlantic pact countries today may not be recovered before 1980.

By that time, according to air force chief Gen. Josef Kammhuber, the Soviet air force is expected to have planes capable of flying one-and-a-half times the speed of sound.

Kammhuber, 60, a pint-sized, quiet-spoken former fighter pilot, said planes and flying schools would take more in quality for the tactical force of 20 wings, and 3,000 planes planned for 1980.

He says the rate of build-up depends almost entirely on pilot training, which began only nine months ago. The six men now qualified to fly jets are scheduled to become squadron and wing commanders.

Due to the lack of active German instructors, the burden and cost of training have fallen mainly on the United States and Canada.

The Luftwaffe should have 30 to 40 trained pilots by the end of this year when two pursuit squadrons and one transport squadron will be organized and flying.

The present strength is 236 planes, including 19 F-4E fighter-bombers. The rest are light propeller-driven trainers, jet trainers and transporters.

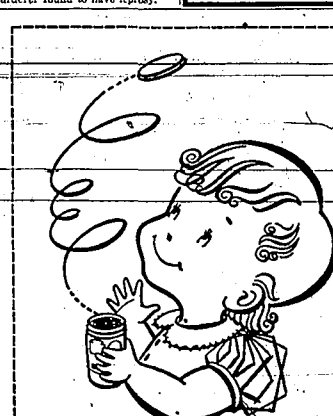

At present the Luftwaffe has only two bases of its own and shares four others with the United States. A $25 million dollar program calls for 25 new NATO bases in West Germany but work has not begun.

Air force boss Kammhuber has a clear anti-nazi record and was repeatedly relieved of posts in World War II due to rows with Hitler. All senior Luftwaffe officers must pass muster with a screening committee which checks their political background. Most of the pilots-to-be were too young to have been Nazis.

Failure Climaxes Egg Experiments For Polar Region

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 18—That great South Pole incubator experiment has ended in failure.

Lieut. Robert J. Adams, Memphis, a navy dentist serving at Little America in the Antarctic, has been trying to make South Pole history by hatching eggs in a homemade incubator.

Via ham radio last night Adams reported none of the eggs in several batches ever hatched. Some of them developed embryos up to the fourth day—but that was it.

"It was the humidity," said Adams. "It just couldn't be controlled."

Truck Ordered

KETCHUM, April 18—A new fire engine, to supplement the one already in use here and to be used in the first fire protection district, is expected to arrive within 30 days.

Dan Daniels, clerk of the village council reports.

Straightening some village streets and stalling others is in progress. Plans also are under way to improve the warming hut and recreation building moved to the foot of the Kinderhook last winter. This is a joint project of the village, Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary club and Ketchum Chamber of Commerce.

Sabotage Is Seen In Plane's Crash

LONDON, April 18—A report as the "most likely cause" for the crash of a British transport plane, Abnab, Jordan, with the loss of lives yesterday.

The 28-32 soldiers en route for Easter and a crew of 10 were killed when the Vickers transport crashed 10 minutes after take-off.

First reports indicated the plane was climbing away from the bog normal trim when it appeared catch fire and explode.

Hunt Planned

WENDELL, April 18—An Easter egg hunt is scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday in the city park.

Eggs and prizes will be furnished by the Wendell merchants. The Jaycees and Jay-Cettes will be in charge of the annual pre-Easter event staged for the children.

Dressen Says Mantle, Berra Make Yankees

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Washington Senators has his own pet theory for breaking up the Yankees—just push Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle in front of a runaway truck.

Dressen, who has been in the Yankees' clubhouse since 1946, said the two men the Yankees are just an ordinary ball club.

Here Today! The FORD SKYLINER—world's only Hide-Away hardtop

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction.

The first model "A" Ford was such a car... The first Ford V-8 was such a car... The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history.

This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908: That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude."

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

But Ford did it. The styling group was first to work on it. They experimented. They improvised. They worked unceasingly. Finally they completed a power-operated three-eighth scale model that actually would convert.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing—when Ford unveiled this masterpiece... unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show.

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

In creating the Skyliner, the world's only all-steel hide-away hardtop, Ford continues its tradition of being first with the important innovations. Come in and see this newest example of Ford's leadership. Let us give you the exciting details on this revolutionary car—and the other great '57 Ford models. Discover for yourself the things you get in Ford that no other car can offer. Discover for yourself why the '57 Ford leads all other cars in sales!

Elike Defends Postal Chief's Service Slash

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP) — Elike yesterday defended Postmaster General Arthur W. Summerfield's action to slash mail service last week.

Elike said Summerfield had not acted rashly because congress had not acted. He said congress had not acted because congress had not acted.

The president was asked at his news conference yesterday what he thought of the feeling in some sections of congress that the week-end shutdown of mail service was a defeat by Summerfield to force congress to act. Elike said he had no opinion.

Other news highlights at Elike's news conference yesterday with reporters:

He supported the general principle of the new C-54-Harris bill, but he said he believed it was too big. He said he believed it was too big.

Planting Season Running Late In Parts of Idaho

BOISE, April 18 (AP)—Planting season is running a week to 10 days late in some parts of Idaho, the U. S. weather bureau said yesterday. In other areas of the state, it is normal.

The soil was too wet to work in northern Idaho and at higher elevations elsewhere last week, the bureau said. But in the southwest, much of the winter wheat and corn planting has been completed.

The bureau said grasses are growing well in the southwest and spring wheat is emerging. Light rains in south central Idaho permitted increased farm activities. Sugar beet planting was begun in Franklin county, and field work was reported in full swing in Franklin and Owyhee counties.

Senate Committee Studies Aid Plans

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—A special committee began preliminary work yesterday on a report expected to endorse the broad outlines of Secretary of State Dulles' new look foreign aid program.

It may be critical, however, of the manner in which past programs have been carried out by the international cooperation administration.

Sens. H. Alexander Smith, R. N. J., and Sparkman, D. Ala., said in separate interviews they expect the group to support Dulles' proposal for creation of a revolving fund to make easy-term loans to underdeveloped countries.

The two senators said they believe a majority of the special foreign aid survey group, made up of members of the foreign relations and armed services committees, also will favor transfer of foreign military assistance to the defense department budget.

DAM HEARING ASKED

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Senator Richard B. Russell, Wednesday asked the interior department to hear California-Arizona objections before awarding a contract for construction of Glen Canyon dam.

Fines Imposed on Overweight Load

KING HILL, April 18 — Justice of the Peace Lynn Sherman has collected 138 in fines and $24 in costs from eight truckers on charges of hauling overweight loads.

He also has declared forfeit a motor vehicle from Great Britain, Mark Baker, played a piano solo, and a piano solo.

Boise, on a charge of illegal license, even to right boys by Bishop Lee, Harry, Gargano, Mountain House, 110 and 12 counts were charged of failure to stop at the red light.

Fixed on the overweight charges were Joe Clutter, Portland, $20 and $3 costs; Robert Harsley, Rupert, $20 and $3 costs; Billy McVey, Twin Falls, $20 and $3 costs; Elmer Ruppel, Boise, $20 and $3 costs; Vernon Wald, Caldwell, $11.50 and $3 costs; George Frazier, Boise, $15 and $3 costs; Gilbert Tipton, Ontario, Ore, $10 and $3 costs; and Harry Kinsey, Hamilton, $10 and $3 costs.

Day Observed

PAUL, April 18 — Elike was observed Sunday at the LDS church because of the conference next Sunday.

The evening program consisted of a talk by Larry Johnson, Hays, during World War II will be shown in the Murtough church and at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Hansen church. Thursday night the Palestinian supper is taking the place of Good Friday rites.

Motion Picture Is Set for Showings

MURTAUGH, April 18—A Japanese motion picture about the survivors of the atomic bomb attack during World War II will be shown at the Murtough church Friday evening while at the Hansen church Thursday night the Palestinian supper is taking the place of Good Friday rites.

Breakfast will be served Sunday.

by the MYT at the Hansen church following sunrise services at Shoshone falls. Church services Sunday will be held at 8:45 a.m. in Hansen and at 11:15 a.m. in Murtough.

Good Friday will be observed at the Murtough church Friday evening while at the Hansen church Thursday night the Palestinian supper is taking the place of Good Friday rites.

Castle's Blast Takes Aim at Foreign Help

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18 (AP)—W. W. Castle, former motion picture producer, said yesterday that the forces feeding the White House inflation are in the White House in Washington.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, Castle said that the White House is asking for a "loan" of $100 million to help it pay its bills.

Castle said that the White House is asking for a "loan" of $100 million to help it pay its bills.

Judas approaches Jesus, identifies him for the Roman soldiers entering the garden of Gethsemane. "And he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, drew near Jesus to him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?" This was the night after the Last Supper.

It was then, after his capture, that Peter denied Jesus. "And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest: And when she saw Peter . . . said: And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. But he denied, saying: I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest."

Custody Is Asked In Divorce Action

Custody of three minor children is sought in a divorce complaint filed Wednesday in Twin Falls district court by Mrs. Mary M. Bentley against Truman R. Bentley.

In the complaint charging "habitual intemperance," Mrs. Bentley asks the court to award her the family's household furnishings and $100 monthly alimony and child maintenance.

She asks the court to issue a temporary order restraining Bentley from removing the children from her control until a final decree by the court.

They were married at Elko, Nev. Nov. 23, 1953.

She is represented by May and May, Twin Falls attorneys.

Puppet Show Set

WENDELL, April 18—Les and Elsie Reath, who are bringing their Lesell Marionette to Wendell April 25 for the second year in succession under the auspices of St. Barnabas Guild, will present "Red Riding Hood" and "Jack and the Beanstalk."

In addition there will be a variety show featuring Fleurette, the donkey.

Curtain time will be 1:30 p.m., at the Wendell high school gymnasium. The show is known as the Children's Theater of the West.

FUND COLLECTED

PAUL, April 18 — In the Paul area, during the recent drive, $207.85 was collected for the Red Cross. Of this amount, $121.50 was collected in the village and $86.45 in the surrounding area. Mrs. Arthur Ulrich was chairman for the village and Mrs. Don Heald for the rural area.

Idaho Spokesman Favors Bill For U.S. Potato Regulations

WASHINGTON, April 18 (Special)—The Idaho Spokesman, a leading Idaho newspaper, today applied equally to the U.S. Potato Producers' association has spoken up in favor of a bill to regulate the marketing of potatoes on a nationwide basis.

M. O. Stratford, Idaho Falls, executive manager of the association, expressed the views of his group before the house agriculture committee, which is holding hearings on HR 517.

The proposed bill would require a national set of grade and size regulations after the pattern already existing in Idaho under state laws.

Stratford was firmly backed in his position by E. Perrin Edmunds of Port Fairfield, Md., president of the National Potato Council, who said that "all self-help by states" measures have not been adequate to make potato production a profitable enterprise.

A similar bill failed to pass last year and the prospects for the new one, which Edmunds said has the "overwhelming approval" of the council membership, are not good.

A spokesman for the department of agriculture warned the committee that the bill would not work unless it had the "complete" support of potato growers. That such support is lacking came from the lips of W. F. McBride, Jr., Norfolk vice president of the Virginia Potato and Vegetable Growers. He attacked the measure of favoring "late-selling states" (like Idaho). Many processors also are opposed to it.

In supporting the bill Stratford said: "We in Idaho have played regulations upon ourselves. In order to improve the quality of potatoes offered the consuming public, national legislation is necessary in potato."

MAN IS FINED

WENDELL, April 18 — Larry E. Harms, route 1, Wendell, has been fined $10 and $1 costs by Police Judge David Collett on a charge of driving on a suspended license.

Harms' license is being held by Police Judge Ramon Estess, Oodling, for 30 days because of some difficulty in obtaining the latter part of last month.

The complaint alleges the promissory note was made Aug. 8, 1955, for a total of $200. The principle balance plus interest and attorney fees are sought.

In the complaint charging "habitual intemperance," Mrs. Bentley asks the court to award her the family's household furnishings and $100 monthly alimony and child maintenance.

She asks the court to issue a temporary order restraining Bentley from removing the children from her control until a final decree by the court.

CREAM SAUCE ★ BUTTER SAUCE ★ CHEESE SAUCE

Double-rich Morning Milk is the secret—no other form of milk will do!

Sauces made with Morning Milk have a smoother, creamier texture than those made with ordinary milk. That's because Morning Milk is double-rich, specially heat-treated and homogenized to blend better with all other ingredients. NO OTHER FORM OF MILK can give you such outstanding results.

Morning Milk Cream Sauce	Morning Milk Butter Sauce	Morning Milk 3-Minute Cheese Sauce
1-tablespoon butter 1-tablespoon flour ½-teaspoon salt	1-cup Morning Milk, undiluted 2-tablespoons butter Salt and pepper to taste	½-cup Morning Milk, undiluted ½-cup cubed or grated process-type American cheese Salt and pepper
Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in flour and salt. Let bubble one minute. Remove from heat. Add ½ of the milk. Blend carefully until smooth. Add remaining milk, return to heat. Stir constantly until sauce thickens. Makes 1 cup.	Heat Morning Milk and butter to scolding point. Stir well, season to taste. Pour over hot peas or other vegetables from which excess juice has been drained. Makes 1 cup.	Heat Morning Milk in saucepan over low heat until small bubbles appear around edges of pan. Add cheese, stir constantly. Heat about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Makes slightly more than 1 cup.

New Jet Airliners Will Retain Old Line of Thought on Seats

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The makers of America's jet transport have decided that passengers are just as safe riding forward as backward.

British experts have been insisting for years that air-flying seats should be more dangerous than conventional seats. This was true in the case of "ground-loops" or crashes. The theory is that in the sudden deceleration, a passenger would be thrown forward and become a projectile.

The U. S. military air transport service liked the idea and equipped all of its four-engine transports with air-flying seats.

But American aircraft manufacturers, who have received orders for more than 200 jet airliners, decided to face the rear. They added that American jet seating arrangements are as safe.

"We figured that because of all the publicity about backward seats, some airlines would at least consider putting them in their new jets," said a Douglas Aircraft company spokesman.

A Boeing engineer who has worked on the company's 707 jet transport said Boeing "went to every aviation research outfit that had data on the subject and found unanimous opposition to the idea."

The research organizations, he said, reported that in many accidents occurring at relatively low speeds, air-flying seats actually were more dangerous than conventional seats. This was true in the case of "ground-loops" or crashes.

The theory is that in the sudden deceleration, a passenger would be thrown forward and become a projectile.

The U. S. military air transport service liked the idea and equipped all of its four-engine transports with air-flying seats.

But American aircraft manufacturers, who have received orders for more than 200 jet airliners, decided to face the rear. They added that American jet seating arrangements are as safe.

"We figured that because of all the publicity about backward seats, some airlines would at least consider putting them in their new jets," said a Douglas Aircraft company spokesman.

Record Nears This Year for Church Fund

CHICAGO, April 18.—There is every indication that this will be a record-breaking year for the church fund-raising drive in the United States but throughout the world.

This is the opinion of a man who has helped churches raise more than half a billion dollars since World War II. He is Col. Lewis G. Wells, chairman of the board of World Organization, Inc.

Helped 6,000 churches in the past decade, Wells' firm has completed fund-raising drives for 6,000 churches.

"We reached convinced objectives 90 per cent of the time," he said.

"We not only help the church obtain its funds, we are part of the campaign in the present way of church building. There is an increasing pressure for churches in new communities. We are a church in need of funds. The churches want to do it, but they don't know how to do it. We showed them how."

Helped Religious Revival Wells' firm employs 624 people, with 334 of them in America. There are offices in the United States and 12 in Canada, three in New Zealand, six in Australia, three in South Africa and one in London.

When the Wells organization undertakes a fund-raising project, it takes it four to five days to campaign for a church to determine the amount that is likely to be raised. It takes four to five days to inform members of the church in a face-to-face appeal for funds.

Lierman Estate's Petition Is Filed

A petition for letters of administration in the estate of Milton Lierman, who died April 11, 1957, was filed Wednesday in Twin Falls probate court by his son, Ralph Lierman.

The estate consists of community real and personal property valued at approximately $75,000.

Heirs listed in the petition besides the son are Mrs. Mabel Lierman, widow; and Mrs. Mary Lierman, daughter; and Mrs. Thelma Knapp, daughter, all Bull.

Starting of the petition was set by Judge Everett M. Sweely for 10:30 a.m. April 20.

Hi Neighbor!

Easter time is dress up time not only in personal appearance but in the community as well. If the majority of us took one-tenth as much pride in our civic appearance as we do in our personal appearance, the price of real estate in our community - including your own home - would be much, much higher than it is today. IGA's slogan for 1957 is "Community Builders." We hope that through carrying out such a program we may be helpful in contributing to the growth and value of our community.
