Idaho Power's Tax Write Off Draws Protest

(From Page One)
Idaho Power to require $47,184,000 during the current year. Of that amount, the company said, approximately $30,000,000 will be used to carry forward the construction of the Snake River project which currently is in progress. Approximately $17,184,000 will be applied to transmission facilities and substations associated with the Snake River project. The remainder will be applied to other transmission facilities, substations, distribution and utility plant of Idaho Power.

Commenting on the tax write-off submitted by Idaho Power, Chalmers Murray, D. Mont., of the senate interior committee, who is studying the matter, said he is not sure whether administration now is putting up enormous cash bonuses for executives who have made "giveaways."

"That is the effect of the grant-in-aid," Murray said. "It is the effect of the grant-in-aid which Idaho Power company's two penny plan has made the giant Hells Canyon dam."

"Now the government has agreed to give a subsidy worth about 300 million dollars to the company to build the dam. The company is now planning to build the dam."

"I am not surprised by this additional act of favoritism to the administration. As I predicted many times, the taxpayers would end up paying for the Idaho Power company's dam. Supposedly 'private enterprise' at Hells Canyon was a failure. Now it is a government handout."

Senator Anderson, D. N. M., declared "there is absolutely no desire for granting it (the tax write-off)." "I can't imagine on what theory of public policy the Idaho Power company is now planning to build the dam."

Official Avers Atom Fallouts Not Excessive

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Atomic Energy Commissioner William P. Libby said today in a new scientific study that the tests that their radioactive fallout will not harm human beings "in any foreseeable circumstances."

Libby took the unusual step, yesterday of replying personally to a statement by Dr. Albert Schweitzer that a "catastrophe" will result unless the tests are banned.

The commissioner, mindful of growing apprehension to the tests in the scientific circle, stepped up his defense of the tests this morning. He said that if testing continues "indefinitely," at its present rate, the resulting radiation dosage would be only a fraction of the amount that would be concentrated to human beings.

He took his case before one of the most respected scientific bodies in the United States—the American Physical society, which is holding its annual spring meeting here today.

Libby said in a lengthy technical address prepared for delivery before the society that the amount of radioactive strontium-90 impregnating the human body from weapons tests is only a fraction of the dosage that goes with a 400-foot-long atomic bomb.

He spoke as some new opposition to the tests came from congress. On Tuesday, 22, Sen. Chalmers Murray, D. Mont., of the senate interior committee, who is studying the matter, said he is not sure whether administration now is putting up enormous cash bonuses for executives who have made "giveaways."

"That is the effect of the grant-in-aid," Murray said. "It is the effect of the grant-in-aid which Idaho Power company's two penny plan has made the giant Hells Canyon dam."

Work Started On Huge Dam On Columbia

PRILEST RAPIDS, Wash., April 25.—A major milestone was reached yesterday in building the great dam across the Columbia river in central Washington's country.

Governor Rosellini pressed a button to pour the first bucket of concrete for the 166-million dollar project. The dam will be a companion structure 18 miles upstream, and its third stratum of hydroelectric power will generate electricity for the power-hungry Pacific Northwest.

The governor emphasized, in an address during the hour-long program before the first bucket was poured at what will be the powerhouse foundation, that "we must accelerate our power expansion in the Northwest."

"We have the potential of low cost power," he continued. "It is good to see this step toward further realization of that potential."

Preliminary work on the barrier which will stretch 8,412 feet across the Columbia has been running ahead of schedule, favored by mild winter weather. The Grant county public utility district, building the dam, has plans under way for the Wapinitum dam 18 miles upstream and together the two will generate 1,200,000 kilowatts of power.

Crowd Gathers
A thousand people from over the Northwest crowded into the water-free area behind the protective cofferdam on the river's east side for the ceremony. Outside, there was no interruption of work. After the first bucket was poured, the pouring continued as the assembly broke up.

Senators Magnuson and Jackson and Rep. Don Magnuson praised the launching of the long-dreamed project and Representative Holmes sent a message of congratulations from Washington.

Ike Asks for Strong GOP In Rally Talk

AUGUSTA, Ga. April 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on fellow party members to develop a stronger, completely up-to-date GOP, dedicated to the nation's major objectives.

The President, here at the Augusta National golf club for a brief National GOP rally, expressed a need to make the party more responsive to the modern-day needs and aspirations of the people in a speech telephoned to a group of New England Republicans meeting in Providence, R. I.

Dedicated

"This administration is committed to a program that has its roots in the establishment of a foreign policy dedicated to maintaining peace throughout the world, a stronger national economy to permit vigorous expansion and growth, and a higher standard of living for all Americans," the President said.

Members' views on keeping the party up with the times followed a call for new legislation that would give the secretary of labor authority to make public union financial records.

The President met with Labor Secretary Mitchell yesterday and then issued a 400-word statement in which he called labor racketeering an "abomination" that must be stopped. He outlined "specific steps for the registration of union officers and pension plans."

Favors Measure

Mitchell said following the conference that the President is in favor of a measure which will be presented to Congress immediately. The bill would give the secretary of labor the authority to look over union funds and make them.

The President's goingvtation here turned into more of a routing work week as the President conferred over the telephone with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on fast-breaking developments in Jordan.

Funeral services were held at the home of Horatius Cole, 1000 E. 1st St., where the body was lying in state. The service was held at the Rupert LDS second ward chapel. Burial services were held at the Rupert cemetery. Richard Parker dedicated the grave.

Hank "Enjoys" His Usual Case Of Rome Sightseeing Ailment

By Henry McLenore

Rome — I have sightseeing ailments. This ailment is a combination of cerebral colic, museum misery, St. C. stomach, and ancient ruins' rash.

In addition, one's feet hurt something awful. It is very common among tourists.

The President's goingvtation here turned into more of a routing work week as the President conferred over the telephone with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on fast-breaking developments in Jordan.

The most distinctive symptom is intractability on the part of the patient when it is suggested that he take another sightseeing tour. The thought of climbing aboard another bus, or taking a long walk for the purpose of seeing still another wonder of the old world, brings a flush to his face and bitter words to his mouth.

This is not my first attack by any means. I have had it on and off for years. So I knew just what to do when this spell came on. I realized the ailment had caught up with me today when Mary said she was going out to see some Della Robia frescoes, and asked if I would like to go along.

"I never want to see anything old or lovely the rest of my life," I yelled, throwing a pillow at her. "I wouldn't cross the street to get Leonardo da Vinci in person, do a self-portrait, and I would rather read a comic book than look at any fourth century illuminated manuscript on earth."

"Why, you've got sightseeing ailments," Mary said patiently. "Here, let me pull down the blinds so that the view of St. Peter's dome won't offend your eyes."

"Thank you," I said. "And please turn up the radio so that the sounds of the Bernini fountain playing waltz for my ears. And when you're out, see if you can sell my tour ticket to the Villa d'Este. Take any price that's offered. One more beautiful garden, and I'll die."

Hungary Has Laughs Even After Clashes

HUNGARY, Germany, April 26 (AP)—The people of Hungary, after 10 years of being told that the Soviet Union was their friend, are laughing at the news that the Soviet Union is now their enemy.

Current jokes in Budapest, centered in sidewalk cafes and private rooms, filter through the news that the Soviet Union has been declared an enemy of the United States.

The size of the crowd of Premier Joseph Stalin, who called in Russian troops to crush the Hungarian uprising, amuses inhabitants of the city.

Cabinet Talk
"Why are there only six people in the cabinet?" one man asked. "The Soviet Union is only for six men in a tank."

And the counter-revolutionaries staged the uprising because they were told that the Soviet Union was their friend.

Collects Stories
Radio Free Europe here, which collects the current stories from behind the iron curtain has called the Hungarians "Kadars."

"Why is Kadar called the Hungarian premier?" one man asked. "Because he is a parasite without a host."

Minor Variations
Some stories turn up time and again with minor variations through the country.

One of the leading Communist who died and was sent to jail comes from Russia. He was charged with having been a spy for the United States.

Buy America Act Costs Briton Bid
WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—A British firm would have won the award for a contract at the Minnesota reclamation project if it had not been for the Buy America act.

The firm bid $123,235 as the cost of transformers and lightning arresters. However, under the law, 10 percent was added to the bid, and it became $135,558. This was defeated by the $126,221 of R. E. Upstart's company, Scottsdale, Pa.

Badger Solon Not Informed, Says Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26 (AP)—A Wisconsin teacher said today that U. S. rivers may someday be frequented by man-eating Piranha fish from South America as the result of mild hysteria or misinformation, a California biologist says.

"It would be like introducing polar bears in Ecuador," Maurice Kucuk, vice said. "The type of water we have here is completely incompatible to that type of breeding."

"We have heard, likewise water in North American rivers, while the Amazon where many of the deplorable fish live has very soft, acidic water."

"Besides, Piranhas like their water temperature in the mid-80s, and we could not accommodate them on that point."

Earthquake Felt In New England

BOSTON, April 26 (AP)—A "re-act" earthquake which felt in New England was classified as "strong," shock New England early today.

The Western college seismograph station recorded the center of the tremor off the Maine coast, about 100 miles northeast of Boston. The fish of the quake were felt from northern Maine to Boston.

The Rev. Francis Donohue of Western college said "it was a strong local quake." He said the shock occurred at 6:42 a.m. EDT in New York. The Rev. Joseph Lynch of Fordham university said the seismograph there recorded movements at 6:41:07 and 6:42:07.

No damage was reported at many frightened residents of many cities in the area called new-papers and radio stations. Some thought the dish-rattling shaking of the earth was caused by a crashing meteorite.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

On one side of the house there is a pretty piece of lawn which is Mother's pride and joy. With the first flush of spring comes the dandelions, and since they must be removed promptly, she divides the lawn patch into squares and rows. Ronnie, 8, the duty to check one square daily and keep the place free of dandelions.

Ronnie did not cherish this idea, but accepted it with more or less cheerfulness one day, followed closely by his young brother, he appealed to his mother.

"Mother, will you please say something to Peter? He's got a dandelion in bloom in his garden and he won't dig it out. Says he likes dandelions. Next thing you know it goes to seed and I get the job of digging the things out again. Make him take it out."

Mother looked from one to the other and Peter's anxious eyes could not be restrained so she said to Ronnie, "You know, Ronnie, a person's garden is a very personal, precious thing. His plants are like his children to him so Peter loves his dandelion. It really is a beautiful flower thing. Like a golden sun in the garden. Can't blame anybody for liking it. But dandelions do seed like mad, and can't have them all over the place. So, Peter, you have to be responsible for the seeding of that dandelion. As soon as the flower closes, you must pick it off and give it to me because he is in charge of the dandelions in this family. All right with you, Ronnie?"

"All right if he picks them off before they get heads on them, and the wind blows them all over the place. Believe me, Mister Peter, I'll see you pick 'em."

Some time when the exigencies of life press hard on mothers and their children, each must have freedom of thought and action, each must be responsible for the consequences of that freedom. This is the order that each become the best possible human being according to the power within him, this, at a price.

There comes the time when one child's freedom threatens to become another's bondage and then the mother or father has to think fast and act justly. If the one in question can carry the responsibility for his action without injury to the other, he should be allowed to go his way, but if his freedom burdens or injures his brother, he must forego it.

There is no other way to keep peace in this world save by the ancient one of accepting the charge of brotherhood. One is his brother's keeper. This is the price of his own freedom, one's own peace. It is the essence of freedom.

A cowardly attitude is often due to abuse. Dr. Telford discusses this trait and gives advice for its healing. "The Slave Child," by a New York and is on sale in Twin Falls, Idaho, at the Times-News, 232 West 18th St., New York 11, N. Y.

COWBOYS GET OPENING GAME LINEUP; BOB SHAFFER TO PITCH

Team Ready to Begin 1957 Season Friday With Tilt Against Pocatello Athletics

Bob Shaffer, veteran southpaw, has been named as pitcher for Magic Valley Cowboys' opening Pioneer league game Friday evening at Pocatello. Manager Burdy Thurlby picked his lineup for the initial game after the team held its final workout before the start of the season at Jaycee park. With Shaffer pitching, Bo Radford will be catcher. Radford and Shaffer are the only two players from last year's team returning for another season.

Favorable Weather Is Predicted for Games

By The Associated Press
Pleased by the weather forecasts, managers of Pioneer league baseball teams picked their starting pitchers Thursday for the opening game of the season Friday evening. Weather permitting—and the forecasts look good—the eight teams of the class C league will open the 156-game schedule at 8 p.m. Friday.

Here's the schedule for opening games and the probable pitchers:

Boise (Dick Schultz) at Salt Lake City (John Polakoff).
Magic Valley (Bob Shaffer, 10-11) at Pocatello (Unavailable).
Missoula (Dick Schultz, 10-14) at Idaho Falls (Dick Jones).
Gent (Don Jorjensen, 1-2) at Burien (Unavailable).
League directors revised the split-season schedule after a lapse of 10 years. The first half of the season will run from July 3 and the second half Sept. 8. The winners of the two halves—unless the team wins both—will play a best three-out-of-five post-season series for the league championship.

Boise will be looking for its third straight pennant. It broke all precedent by winning its second straight championship in 1946. George McQuinn, who drove Boise to its pennant last season, will be back at the helm of the Braves. They retained their major league tie-up with the Milwaukee Braves.

Dick Schultz of Missoula will be the only other manager back at the same job he held last year. Missoula is a Washington farm club.

Burdette Thurlby will manage Magic Valley, which is hooked up to the Chicago Cubs. Al Lakeman will manage the Pocatello Athletics. Ed Lyons will manage the Billings Bulls, affiliated with St. Louis. Cliff Dyer will manage the Idaho Falls Braves, affiliated with Philadelphia. Jack Banta will manage Great Falls, affiliated with Brooklyn. Al Pflumm will manage Pocatello, affiliated with Kansas City.

Boys' baseball teams are going out on a limb and pick the 1957 pennant winner. Boise and Salt Lake City are among the teams rated as contenders. The season between seasons is high and there is little on which to judge the teams until after the first few weeks of play.

By The Associated Press
A brilliant three-hit pitching job by lefty Robert W. (Riverboat) Smith and an 11-hit assault, including Bill Reiser's homer, gave the San Francisco Giants a 7-0 win over Vancouver Thursday at San Francisco.

Oregon Solon Debate Listed For Teachers

SALEM, April 25 (AP)—Legislation affecting schools and teachers drew most attention in committee and floor debates in the Oregon legislature yesterday.

The house of representatives, warned by Speaker Pat Dooley that he would call a tight session if it didn't speed up, cleared its calendar. The senate adjourned early to attend the funeral in Portland of Henry L. Corbett, twice president of the upper chamber.

The house completed legislative action on measures increasing salary minimums for teachers and providing free textbooks in schools, even if they couldn't meet physical standards.

The salary bill would raise minimums $400 a year. Teachers without a degree would get $3,400, those with a bachelor degree, $3,700, and those with a master's degree, $4,000.

The house amended the senate approved textbook bill by removing a provision that would have deprived some private and parochial schools of their free textbooks, and possibly jeopardized their allocation of basic school support money.

A revised measure now requires only that all schools maintain teacher and curriculum standards.

Dreyfous, 39, will leave for Poland in May.

prescribed by the board of education. The house turned down 31-24 a proposed constitutional amendment to let school teachers serve in the legislature and retain their jobs.

Several teachers have been members of the legislature. Opponents of the proposal argued that to remove the constitutional restriction would pave the way for any state employee to serve as a lawmaker.
