Bees Require 40 Pounds of Honey

CHICAGO (AP)—V. G. Milum, bee specialist at the University of Illinois points out that a normal colony of bees requires about 40 pounds of honey to survive a normal winter. If beekeepers reduce the amount of honey in the hive below the 40-pound level, said Milum, the resulting winter loss of bees will naturally reduce production.

Negroes Open Wide Bans on South Movies

By United Press.

A Negro boycott of segregated theaters in Greensboro, N.C., and a petition for a start toward integrating public schools at Tallahassee, Fla., are the newest organized Negro drives in the South.

Dr. Edwin Redkey, a professor at the Bennett college for Negro women, called for a passive, "Ghandi-like" boycott of segregated theaters because of an "insult" of a Negro minister, the Rev. Melvin Swann.

Swann, invited to a preview of "The Ten Commandments," was denied seating with invited white ministers. He declined a segregated balcony seat, reached only through another entrance.

The proposal received "deafening applause" at a local meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, spokesmen said, but theater managers said it had no immediate effect.

The school integration petition at Tallahassee was submitted by the Negro Inter-city council which met a long bus boycott there last summer. The petition was directed at all Leon county schools.

The council said no steps had been taken toward complying with segregation mandates of the U.S. supreme court although the county school board some time ago set up a bi-racial advisory committee.

Police in Bessemer, Ala., have meanwhile been unable to find any racial connections in the bombing of a Negro church and a Negro labor leader's home last Sunday night in the Birmingham suburb.

Various witness accounts indicated the dynamite bombs were tossed from a car or cars occupied by white men, police said.

However, neither the Rev. G. W. Scott, pastor of the church, nor Asbury Howard, united mine, mill and smelter workers official whose home was damaged, has been active in the integration movement in the area.

Senate Slates Action in May On Fund Bills

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders decided today to devote most of May to appropriation bills and to get set for a floor fight over civil rights in June.

The tentative schedule—with long daily sessions, if necessary—was drafted at the first leadership meeting held since congress returned from its Easter recess.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Tex., noted that eight money bills approved by the house are awaiting senate action. He hoped all could be considered by the end of May.

That means the battle of the budget, already hot, will get even warmer as the hot-weather approaches.

The administration was centering its fire immediately on trying to restore 161 million dollars to the house cut from state department and U.S. information agency funds.

President Eisenhower was heading home from his Georgia vacation to take on-the-spot command of the campaign to keep his 44 billion dollar foreign aid program, a prime target of the budget-cutters, from suffering too severely. He called a May 8 White House conference of GOP and Democratic leaders to discuss it.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl B. Bessett cautioned the senate appropriations committee against cutting his five billion budget too deeply. He said essential services to farmers would be "postponed, slowed up, or eliminated" by any reductions.

TWO DRIVERS FINED

RUPERT, April 30—Shirley Lott, Heyburn, was fined 15 and 25 cents and Glen Anderson, Rupert, 25 and 35 cents by Police Judge George Rupp Tuesday on charges of driving without licenses.

Army's Missile Is Wrecked in Test

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The army Jupiter missile given its second test last Friday veered off course and had to be destroyed over the Atlantic.

The big missile—designed to have a 1,500-mile range—was fired while Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson looked on at the Patrick Air Force base, Fla., testing center.

Pentagon sources disclosed last night that the Jupiter rose to an altitude of about 16 miles and began to tilt from a vertical toward a horizontal position. They said it was destroyed because it might have fallen into the Atlantic about 40 miles from its launching point.

Badger Solon Is Improving From Ailment

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was "somewhat improved" today in his battle with "serious" illness at Bethesda naval hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the 47-year-old Wisconsin Republican was "seriously ill" with acute hepatitis—an inflammation of the liver.

However, McCarthy's condition was reported "slightly improved" yesterday afternoon. His wife Joan said last night after visiting him that he "seemed to feel better" and was resting comfortably.

Termed "sudden" the ex-marine, whose second term expires Jan. 3, 1959, entered the nearby Maryland hospital Sunday after a sudden attack. His secretary said he showed no signs of illness last week when he remained to work at his Capitol office during the Easter recess.

McCarthy's illness took him out of action at the very time the ambassadorial nomination of his old friend, Scott McLeod, and his old foe, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, came up for consideration in the Senate foreign relations committee.

"McCarthy's Man" McLeod, state department security chief, was once called McCarthy's "man" in the state department. His nomination as ambassador to Ireland faces Democratic opposition.

McCarthy in 1953 led the attack on Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia. McLeod, aided by McCarthy, Bohlen's new nomination as ambassador to the Philippines again faces opposition.

Hepatitis is a malfunction of the liver which results in digestive disturbances, acute exhaustion and in many cases jaundice.

McCarthy, whose tumultuous career as a national figure began with his 1950 Communism-in-government speech, has been generally less active since the 85th congress opened in January.

Pakistan, India Mission Written Off as Hopeless

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 29.—Swedish Ambassador Gunnar V. Jarring reported today his mission had failed to find the key to settlement of the nine-year-old Kashmir dispute between Pakistan and India.

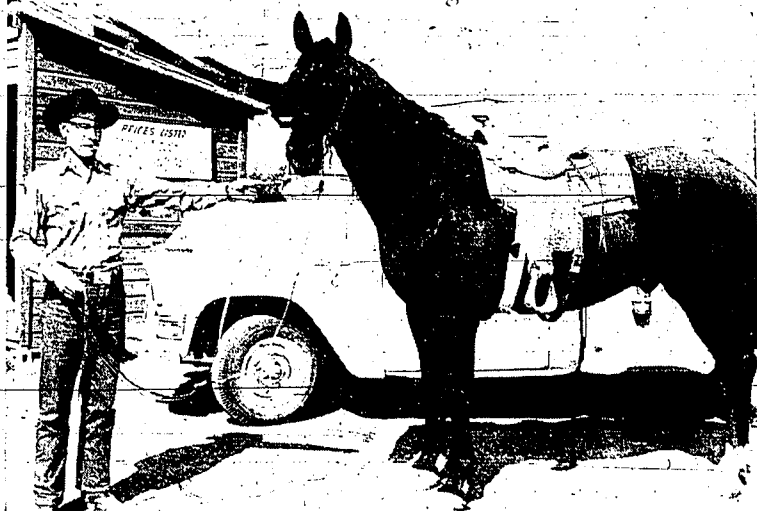

He said both nations expressed desire to solve the territorial argument peacefully in cooperation with the United Nations but could not agree how to do it.

Jarring submitted his report to the security council. He spent four weeks in Karachi and New Delhi from March 14 to April 11 under security council orders to search for "any proposals which... are likely to contribute toward settlement of the dispute."

He said he found none.

Jarring said he suggested to the two nations that the question of whether the 1948 U. N.-directed cease-fire had been observed be submitted to arbitration. Pakistan agreed but India refused, he said.

$20,000 Awarded For Crash Death

TAMPA, Fla., April 29.—A circuit court jury awarded $20,000 yesterday to Richard P. Kirby, father of a high school pupil killed in a widely publicized accident.

The defendant was Mrs. Marguerite Myers, mother of Tommy Myers. Young Myers, also a high school freshman, was driving the automobile in which Charles M. Kirby was killed. Mrs. Myers owns the car.

City Representative (councilman) W. B. Myers, father of Tommy Myers, said the $20,000 award was "a small consolation for the loss of my son."

The story was carried by the Associated Press and published throughout the country.

Young Myers has been convicted of manslaughter but has not been sentenced.

Bay Area Has Sharp Quake, Little Damage

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Another earthquake jolted the San Francisco Bay area last night, the sharpest tremor since the big one of March 22, but there were no immediate reports of damage.

The University of California seismograph in Berkeley measured the force of last night's quake at 3.25 on the Richter scale of 10.

The March 22 quake, which caused extensive damage in the western part of San Francisco and suburban Daly City, measured 5.3.

The latest shock was felt in San Francisco, the peninsula and the east bay.

Police and newspaper switchboards were flooded with calls from residents awakened from sleep at 11:27 p.m. (PDT) to hear their homes creaking on their foundations and to see chandeliers sway.

"I knew it was a quake because I can always hear the dishes dancing," said one resident.

The quake lasted for a minute and a half. Like the March 22 quake and its aftermath, it was felt most strongly in the southern and western parts of San Francisco.

Stocks of Wheat Are Reported by U.S. Government

BOISE, April 29.—The department of agriculture reported today that stocks of wheat on farms and in commercial storage in Idaho amounted to only 821,000 bushels, compared with 25,700,000 bushels stored on January 1.

The department's crop reporting service said the amount of wheat in storage was the smallest stock for April 1 since 1949 and the wheat on hand was only half the amount which had been in warehouses last year.

For the entire Pacific Northwest, the wheat stocks in storage April 1 amounted to 73 per cent of the January storage and 63 per cent of the amount stored April 1 last year.

Idaho's feed grain supplies on April 1 were listed at six per cent less than the stocks on hand a year ago. Corn stocks were slightly greater than last year while oats and barley stocks were down.

The American was identified as Donald Jackson Blackwood, 25. His wife was identified as Junk Sook Rhee, also 25.

The Blackwoods, whose American address was not known here, arrived in the Portuguese colony aboard the steamer Taitoy on the evening of April 26, police said.

They checked into the Riverside hotel and told the clerk they intended to stay for two days.

The couple disappeared soon after. Portuguese police said they had searched every corner of the tiny colony but without success. Today they were officially listed as missing.

Police said Blackwood walked out of the hotel at 11 p. m. the evening of the 27th, carrying the baby. His wife walked alongside with a camera. They have not been seen since.

Macao immigration officials said there was no record that the family had left the colony, about any of the Hong Kong ferries and that it was virtually impossible for anyone to leave—especially non-Asian—without the police knowing it.

Macao, a tiny enclave of only two square miles, is thickly populated with about 2,000 Portuguese and untold thousands of Chinese. It lies 40 miles west of Hong Kong.

The only direct transportation to Hong Kong is by steamer ferry which makes the trip in 3 1/2 hours.

Press Secretary Says Americans Okay on Ballots

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 30 (AP)—President Press Secretary James C. Hagerty says that "America has a way of selecting the right man for President in the right time."

As examples of the "right man at the right time," he cited Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democratic Chief Executive Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Hagerty made the comment during an unscheduled address to Georgia Rotarians last night.

The White House press secretary said he stopped in at the convention "just to give the Rotarians the President's respects."

Holdup Men Lose To Liquor Store

BERKELEY, Calif., April 30 (AP)—It cost two men $225 when they tried to hold up liquor store clerk Peter Galen.

The men entered the store Monday, laid a $10 bill on the counter and asked for a half-pint of whiskey. Galen got the $100 bottle of the shot glass, when he turned around, found himself looking down the barrel of an automatic.

Galen pretended someone else was in the back-room and called out: "Come here, Joe." The holdup men fled with the bottle—but left the ten spot.

U. S. Judge Says It Is 'Wrong' to Block up River

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas says it would be as "indignity" to build power dams on the Salmon river in Idaho.

In fact, Douglas writes in the latest issue of Look magazine, it would be the greatest indignity ever inflicted on a sanctuary.

He said the Salmon river country should be preserved as "one of the great remote wilderness areas in America."

There are engineering plans on file in Washington to "use" as many as 19 hydroelectric dams along the Salmon, Douglas said.

Mallard Lays 12 Duck Eggs In Ship's Bed

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—What do you do when a mallard lays a dozen duck eggs in your forward bunk?

That problem demands a practical solution from Robert McCall, master of the good sloop Merrimac. Any day now the eggs may start hatching.

No idea.

And McCall hasn't the slightest idea how a duckling is going to get to the porthole that mama mallard has been using as a private door.

It started last year when a mama mallard built a feather-lined nest in a coil of rope on the sloop's deck. McCall solved that one by tossing the whole thing overboard and painting the deck.

Star's Operations

"This spring the mallard started operations by laying an egg in another rope coil on—off of the anchored yacht. Again, McCall thought he had settled the matter by disposing of the egg and the rope coil.

But he reckoned without mama mallard. Last week-end he discovered all those eggs in his forward bunk. Being a kind-hearted sailor, and lacking the excuse that he has to paint the bunk, he is in a dilemma.

Reactor Said Set For Peaceful Use

ST. BELVOIR, Va., April 30 (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the atomic energy commission said today a new Army package power reactor is "essentially an instrument of peaceful progress."

Strauss said the reactor is "an early part of President Eisenhower's concept of 'atoms for peace'... as are the isotopes from our atomic reactors which are today combating many diseases and suffering, improving the fertility of our fields and the products of our factories, and pointing the way to new discoveries."

The AEC chief's speech was prepared for a ceremony dedicating the new reactor at this army engineering corps center.

London Helping Hank Regain Wide-Eyed Days of His Youth

By HENRY McLEMORE

LONDON—London, not Paris, is the city that best helps me recapture a bit of my youth.

It was the first foreign capital to feel the tread of my half-soled shoes, and if ever there was a wide-eyed tourist, it was this Georgian boy back in the middle thirties.

I came over with Walker cup golf team for its matches at St. Andrews, and stayed the summer to report Wimbledon. The derby, the ashes, the amateur and open champions, and to do features on the side about the house of Lords, the romance of Wally and Edward, and almost everything else that struck my fancy and nearly everything did.

I had so much energy then that just the memory of it peeps me up. I am sure I didn't sleep more than four hours at night, and there couldn't have been many days when I didn't cover fifty miles by foot or bus.

I lived—surprising English—I had ever heard of. I stood in front of Buckingham Palace for hours waiting for the King and Queen. I played cricket on a village green with a "Daily Herald" team. I ate rare roast beef at Simpson's on the Strand. I pointed on the Thames, and rode a horse in Rotten Row. I played golf at St. Andrews, bowled on the green at Frintwick, tramped the Scottish moors, rode a bus through the lake country, attended tennis at Old Bailey, sniffed snuff at the Press club (I'm still sneezing), ordered pigeon pie at the Cheshire Cheese, and interviewed anyone whose door was open and would talk.

I lived in an apartment near Carlyle house in Chelsea, so I read and wrote in the Chelsea Club, and drank my daily pint of bitter, wore a tweed cap, developed an accent that was a mixture of Georgian and Georgian, played shore penny at the Nag's Head, saw a young Noel Coward in a bad play, sagged on haggis, crossed the English channel in a flying boat that barely stayed in the air, and crossed the Irish sea on a mail packet that barely stayed on the water.

I hung out with the Fleet-street reporters at the Pall Mall, and the British amateur rode the Flying Scot from Edinburgh to London, took pictures from the Pier of Perth bridge with my little box camera, bought a heavy brown tweed suit that made me look like a chamois bear, and ignorantly ordered Scotch woodcock for a main course at dinner.

I didn't stop that summer. It

Then had nothing on me for around-the-clock activity.

Now, today—well, it's a bit different. I may be in what is known as the prime of life, but nobody has given my feet and legs that information. I have come to appreciate the reading room of the national library, and the delights of the Tate gallery.

The buses run faster, too. I used to catch them on the fly, but I have discovered that they really do come to a stop. Besides, if I chased them, my reading glasses might fly out of my pocket, and then where would I be?

I am not wearing a cap this trip, either. And I'm laying off the snuff and have as yet to make a date for an afternoon of punting on the Thames.

I like to believe that my tastes, but my tastes have changed. It could be, but I doubt if they have changed that much. Still, twos and twos were here and gone since then.

I'd like to see Lawson, Johnny Dawson, Johnny Fischer, Johnny Goodman, Freddy, Gilmour, Jack Woodland and all the other members of the Walker cup team who came over with me. I wonder how they come to a stop. Or, to borrow a line from Corey Ford, I wonder if they have changed so much that they wouldn't recognize me?

This Is Spring?

The weather maps below give the U. S. weather bureau's long-range forecast until mid-May. It is not a precise forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Temperatures are expected to average below seasonal normals, east of the continental divide until mid-May, with the exception of a few states area along the South Atlantic and Gulf coast states. Floridians will look in above-normal temperatures and west of the divide weather is also expected to be springlike.

Precipitation until mid-May is expected to occur in heavy amounts in most areas lying between the Rockies and the Appalachians, except in Northern plains states, the upper Great Lakes and west Texas, where subnormal amounts are indicated. Elsewhere, about normal moisture is expected to fall, except as indicated on map.

Five Senators Are Cited for Hall of Fame

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Five legislative "giants" of the near and distant past—Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Robert A. Taft—were billed today as virtually certain to adorn the senate's hall of fame.

The choices of a modern-day selection committee were still a secret. But informed sources said those five will be named, barring some last-minute second thoughts on a question that has prompted a lively controversy.

Amnesiac Choices
Chairman John F. Kennedy, D. Mass., was expected to announce the choices tomorrow. Kennedy's five-man committee was given the task of filling five gilded, eagle-crowned—but still blank—portraits spaces in the reception room just off the senate chamber.

Still Have Enemies
The difference stemmed in part from the fact that some of the recent senators—though bidding for greatness in the history books—still have their enemies, as well as friends, in the senate.

LaFollette, who served in the senate from 1906 to 1925, and Taft, 1908-33, were not contemporaries. But their names gave a certain balance to the committee's 20th century showcase. LaFollette, from Wisconsin, was known as a liberal and unapologetically sought the presidency as a progressive.

"Mr. Republican"
Taft, known as "Mr. Republican," was the champion of the GOP old guard although sometimes less conservative than they would have liked. He too sought the presidency without success. He was unable even to win his own party's nomination.

The three old-timers on the tentative list were contemporaries. All were a part of what has been called the golden era of the senate. They were involved in the momentous debates that preceded the Civil war.

Government Agency Officials Are Hopeful Drought Is Over

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Officials of three government agencies expressed cautious hope today that the parching, costly, eight-year drought in the nation's western and southwestern plains has been broken.

Their views were given to the United Press in response to questions about effects of the recent severe storms and floods in the drought stricken areas.

Experts of the weather bureau, the U. S. geological survey and agriculture department agreed the drought is over—for the moment at least. But they also agreed there is no clear-cut or simple answer to the question of future prospects for drought areas.

"In some areas, yes, the drought is over," a weather bureau official said. "In other areas, no. For some crops it is over. For others it is not over."

"I just don't know," a geological survey official said. "I would hesitate to say the drought is over even with a lot of rain. The water may run off rapidly, the rain may stop, and in a few weeks we could be back where we were before. Would the drought we've had for eight years be over and a new one started?"

"It seems to be over in a substantial part of the area," reported an agriculture department expert. "But we will need a great deal more moisture in the subsoil for the drought really to be over."

These agencies have dealt with drought problems since great acid areas began forming in the southern great plains in early 1950. The drought that appeared in southwest Texas and southeastern New Mexico, is spread north and east through what in normal times was known as a "sea of grass."

At the height of the drought the area was literally "the great American desert." Crops did not grow, and in a few weeks we could be back where we were before. Would the drought we've had for eight years be over and a new one started?

transformations are continuing over a large section. Rivers which for years were dry, now are over their banks. Reservoirs are filled or filling. What was dust for years is now mud.

On April 17 the weather bureau in a special report said "recent upward air circulation patterns are changing sufficiently to give farmers hope that the severe drought may not return in the coming growing season."

In southeastern Nebraska, the western two-thirds of Kansas, the Oklahoma and Texas panhandles, the new weather regime has provided more than twice the normal precipitation during March. "It said," the bureau's long-range weather forecast, issued today, predicted "above normal" rains in the north-east and far southwest during the next 30 days. It also forecast a tapering off of rain in central and eastern Texas which has been "abnormally heavy."

Kenneth L. Scott, head of agricultural credit services for the agriculture department, said the drought appears to be broken in most of the area. He said sections now lacking rainfall are west Texas, southeast Colorado and New Mexico.

"It looks like there is enough moisture so that we can discontinue the emergency feed programs for livestock," Scott said. He emphasized, however, that when such programs are discontinued the department will keep close watch for resumption of the dry spells.

He said federal relief programs will swing back into full operation at the first sign of new drought difficulties.

Automobile Stolen
BURLEY, April 30—A bright 1956 Ford was taken from the home of a local car lot Sunday afternoon while salesmen were busy where, but the vehicle was recovered Monday morning behind a in Paul.

Claude King, owner of the car, said a man asked permission to listen to the motor of the car. While letting the man sit in the car, King bustled himself with other customers and then noticed the car was gone. He described the man as being 20 years old, six feet tall and weighing 160 pounds. The car was abandoned behind the Paul cafe Sunday night.

Marine Force Given Leaves For Showing

WITH UMS-6TH FLEET, Buhl, Lebanon, April 30—Force of 1,000 Marines from the U. S. 6th fleet landed here today on 12-hour shore leave in a friendly show of force.

Visiting Adm. Charles H. Brown, fleet commander, said the Marines were put ashore on orders "from higher up."

He said he had no worry about the reception they would get. "Lord knows," he said, "no one is more friendly than the Lebanese people."

35 Miles Away
Lebanon is only about 35 miles from the troubled Jordan at the closest. The two nations are separated, however, by portions of Syria and Israel.

The visit, the first made by the Marines here in 18 months, pointed up UMS-6th fleet's decision that it could put troops into threatened Jordan in a matter of days, if necessary.

Brown said the shore leave was arranged through diplomatic channels and that local authorities indicated the visit, on pay day, would be welcome.

Grins
The 37-year-old, red-haired admiral grinned when asked to explain the 6th fleet's lightning dash into the eastern Mediterranean from French and British ports.

"I don't see any reason to be afraid," he said.

He said he received a "flash order" to make the fast trip, but refused to detail the reason.

"I am a sailor who just takes orders," he said. "And I was told to come down here and see what was going on."

Asked what effect the fleet's presence in Jordan would have, he replied "that it should have a 'stabilizing influence.'"

The fleet's plan and guided missiles, he said, was "whisper or roar" to handle all types of war, "brush fires and anything in between."

Royal Air Force Finds Object Is Faster Than Jet

LONDON, April 30—A royal air force radar station last night spotted an unidentified object streaking over the English channel so swiftly that two of Britain's fastest jet fighters could not intercept it.

It was the second unexplained sighting in three weeks. A London newspaper suggested the object might be a new type Russian bomber operating in western skies.

The air ministry announced today only that "one of our radar screens" sighted the object traveling due west near St. Margaret's bay, about 70 miles southeast of London at the bottleneck leading from the North Sea into the English channel.

Two Javelin fighters were dispatched from Odham RAF base to investigate, but did not make contact, the announcement said.

Odham is a major British fighter base halfway between London and Southampton and lies 100 miles northwest of the reported sighting area. The delta-wing, twin-jet plane mentioned "was capable of well over 700 miles an hour in level flight."

The annual class picnic and election of officers will be held May 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts.

GOP Is Told To 'Get Busy' In Vote Task

Need for immediate action on the nation's political front by the Republican party was stressed Monday for some 40 Twin Falls and state GOP women here.

Speaking to the Twin Falls County Women's Republican club, at the home of Mrs. James Benham, Mrs. William Detweiler, national state vice chairman of the state central committee, warned the GOP to "get busy now."

"We're going to have to get active immediately," Mrs. Detweiler declared. "There is no such thing as an off-year as far as politics are concerned."

The state GOP official charged that President Eisenhower is hampered through lack of cooperation brought about by the Republican minority in the U. S. house and senate.

Reiterating her plea to "get busy," Mrs. Detweiler said Republicans can have no complaint if President Eisenhower fails to achieve his objectives through lack of cooperation.

The Twin Falls club is considered one of the best and most active in the state, Mrs. Detweiler added.

Guests included Mrs. Earl Wright, Dubois, president of the Idaho Federation of Women's Republican clubs; Mrs. Clark Kneller, Blackfoot, federation treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph Cowham, Idaho Falls, chairman of second congressional district Republicans.

Needs for Big U.S. Spending Told by Nixon

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Vice President Nixon told the U.S. House of Commerce yesterday that "sound" government policy requires that the nation's fiscal year budget be "balanced" in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The chamber is advocating a $7,000,000 cut in appropriations. Defending President Eisenhower's budget at the chamber's 45th annual meeting, Nixon said the President had already given Americans the biggest tax cut in history and was now pressing for new savings.

Approximately 60 per cent of the budget reflects outlays for national security, Nixon said, adding:

"I know you will agree that we should never risk our freedom and security in short-sighted attempts to put costs today.

The Vice President was warmly applauded by the 3,000 delegates and guests at the chamber's opening session.

"He put in a good word for the administration's foreign aid program, saying that the President had been to the effect that the national administration is steadily giving away four billion dollars of the taxpayers' money to underdeveloped countries."

While reasonable men can disagree on some of the details of the foreign aid program, Nixon said, "I can assure you that not one dollar has been approved unless it has been approved by the House of Representatives."

Nixon said the program is in the interests of American security as well as the country which receives the assistance.

A Democrat, Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, also came to the defense of the foreign aid program. He told the chamber meeting that meat-axing slashing of the program could "cost not save, the taxpayers money."

Elko Sheriff Has Brush With Death

ELKO, Nev., April 30 (AP)—Sheriff J.C. (Doc) Harris of Elko county escaped only a bruise yesterday after a close brush with death over the week-end.

Harris escaped with his life when he was piloting cracked up in a highway takeoff about 30 miles north of Elko. Harris' airplane was hit by a small plane, which he tried to check on. He was hit on the back of the head by a 100-pound engine. The wing struck the pavement and the craft went end-over-end, scattering parts over a 150-acre area.

But Sheriff Harris stepped out of the wreckage with only bruises.

Sanctuary Urged For Salmon River

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. supreme court said yesterday that construction of power dams on the Salmon river in Idaho would be "the greatest indignity ever inflicted on a sanctuary."

Writing in the latest issue of the magazine, the jurist said that the river is "one of the great remote wilderness areas in America" and urged that the river be protected.

Last summer, Douglas said some of the stream's turbulent rapids had been a canoe.

Richfield Now Brings You

West's First Boron[®] Gasoline

Once in a very great while there occurs a discovery that thrusts aside the limitations of the past and reveals unexpected new horizons.

Such an advancement has come to the petroleum field. Scientists have found how to make the high-energy, basic chemical element Boron extremely valuable in motor fuel. And this discovery has resulted in a completely new gasoline—Richfield Boron Gasoline.

A years-ahead motor fuel discovery

We at Richfield watched with keen interest the scientific research that finally produced Boron Gasoline. We observed the sensational rise of Boron high-energy fuels for military use. We saw the tremendous acceptance of Boron Gasoline by motorists, like yourself, who road-tested this completely new fuel over millions of miles.

Meanwhile, we matched these laboratory and field tests with our own.

Only at Richfield Stations

When Boron had finally proved itself as a near "miracle element" in gasoline, we at Richfield determined to bring this great new product first and exclusively to Western motorists. Richfield Boron Gasoline is here now—available only at Richfield stations.

Immediate Benefits

The most remarkable fact about Richfield Boron Gasoline is that you notice its benefits in your engine immediately. You notice a new smoothness... a new quietness... and a feeling of greatly increased power. Richfield Boron Gasoline accomplishes this by not only controlling, but actually altering the combustion of burning gasoline in your engine. For the first time, Richfield Boron Gasoline substantially eliminates those spontaneous, "wild," wasteful explosions that cause knocking, roughness of the motor, and loss of power. Proudly Richfield brings you this new motor fuel—finest in Western petroleum history!

HIGHEST OCTANE POWER IN HISTORY!

- Richfield Boron meets the highest octane power rating of any gasoline ever offered to Western motorists!
- Users of Richfield Boron Gasoline report immediate improvement in power from the very first tankful!
- Many remark on the unusual smoothness in acceleration and power pickup!
- And the great majority of users say they experience stepped-up performance—no matter what make or model car they drive.

You will purchase gasoline during the next few days. When you do, purchase a tankful of Richfield Boron Gasoline—for a new experience in engine performance!
