AFL-CIO Cuts Laundry Unit on Misuse of Funds

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—The AFL-CIO today ended the $5,000-a-month Laundry Workers union on charges of misusing funds. The union was put on probation for a year. The other unions in the Allied Industry Workers (AIW) are the Textile Workers, the Distillery Workers, with 30,000 members.

The AFL-CIO executive council, which acted in the cases of all three just before ending a four-day council session, said the AIW and Distillery Workers had taken steps to correct alleged corrupt conditions but not enough to satisfy the council.

The three unions had been in a long-term fight since turned up two years ago in a congressional investigation.

The council ordered the Laundry Workers suspended immediately from AFL-CIO affiliation and said the group face expulsion at the AFL-CIO convention next December.

George Meany, AFL-CIO President, said the Laundry Workers had been involved in a series of nearly one million dollars of union members' insurance funds.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE
T. H. HISS
222 Madison Ave., New York City

Alger Hiss, out of federal prison after conviction on charges of lying about passing documents to the Communists in the late 1930's, is now stirring the embers of the case in his new book, "In the Court of Public Opinion."

Some people, in making argument, try to anticipate and explain away every contention of their opponents. Hiss has not chosen to do this but instead to ignore most of the case against him. In this instance the technique hardly strengthens the plausibility of his defense.

A principal thing to remember, too, is that the arguments which Hiss today presents in this book have all been offered to the courts in various motions for a new trial. In every case they have been carefully weighed and rejected as insufficient to justify a reopening of the issues.

The most damaging evidence against Hiss was the possession by Whitaker Chambers, former Communist agent, of state department papers whose typing matched that of Mrs. Hiss on a Woodstock typewriter the Hiss denied.

Chambers also produced notes of state department matters acknowledged by all to be in Hiss' handwriting. And he demonstrated in many ways that he had a close relationship with the Hiss family, having lived at their house and received many favors.

In his book Hiss seeks to destroy the idea of a close link by arguing that Chambers erred in various details about the Hiss life. But careful students of the case point out that these inaccuracies or inadequate recollections do not disprove the close tie so long as Chambers' other memories of the defendant's home life stand substantially unchallenged.

The evidence of the handwritten notes Hiss dismisses by suggesting they were stolen from his desk or files at the department.

He reserves his biggest guns for the typed documents, arguing that Chambers somehow was able to imitate the characteristics of the Hiss typewriting by building a machine which would duplicate its peculiarities. On this machine he is alleged to have typed the so-called Baltimore documents.

One typewriter specialist now says such fabrication is possible. But at the same time Hiss fabrication is possible. But at the same time Hiss fabrication is possible.

One typewriter specialist now says such fabrication is possible. But at the same time Hiss fabrication is possible. But at the same time Hiss fabrication is possible.

Now he's crusading once more, this time as executive secretary of an organization which calls itself "The Angriantians."

The Angriantians are composed of residents of the Flying Pan and Pomona Fork valleys. Their headquarters is located at Glenwood Springs, Colo., and their slogan is: "Don't be a big-dam fool!"

In letters of protest to Washington they urge their congressmen to reduce the budget by killing the Flying Pan-Arkansas project and not to appropriate any more money to be squandered on the Upper Colorado basin boondoggle.

A typical paragraph in Secretary Guild's most recent letter to Washington reads as follows:

"The Flying Pan-Arkansas is unnecessary and extravagant. It increases the budget you are trying to decrease. It increases Colorado's recreation potential by which many of us earn our living. It increases food production at the very moment when we Colorado taxpayers are hunking out over $100,000 per day in soil bank payments in an effort to decrease food production, much of this money going to racketeers who lease land at $1 to $4 per acre and then have us pay them $17 per acre not for farming, but for the very thing they never had any intention of farming. These arguments apply as well to that gigantic pork-barrel boondoggle, the economic monstrosity, the Upper Colorado basin project."

The Angriantians and their secretary, it seems, pull no punches in their method of fighting government spending.

A woman shoplifter was caught in an Ohio store after stealing a giraffe. She's likely in for a stretch.

When you anticipate the worst, you miss out on anticipation being most of the joy of living.

Airliner Posts Nonstop Mark For Paris Hop

PARIS, May 23.—A Douglas DC7C airliner of the KLM Royal Dutch airlines touched down today at La Bourget field on a 21 hour, 23 minute nonstop flight from Long Beach, Calif.

The airliner Zwaarte Zee, piloted by Capt. J. Stuurer, landed at 2:51 a.m. MET in sunny but cloud-flecked skies.

It was the first nonstop Los Angeles to Paris flight by a commercial airliner, and it set a record of 5,300 nautical miles nonstop—92 miles farther than its own record, (A nautical mile is 6,080 feet or 1.15 statute miles).

The big plane retraced much of the route of the epoch-making trans-Atlantic flight by Charles A. Lindbergh of 30 years and two days ago.

It brought ten passengers here for tonight's premiere here of "The Spirit of St. Louis," a film commemorating that flight.

The red, white and blue four-engined liner began its flight at 11:18 a.m. MET yesterday in Long Beach. Its official arrival time was announced here by William Morley-Fest, KLM manager at La Bourget.

Pilot Jack Browne told reporters the plane circled over San Diego where Lindbergh's plane was built and then retraced its 5,300-mile journey via Honolulu, Tex.; Chicago, Montreal, and Sydney, Nova Scotia. Lindbergh passed over the Sydney area during his 1927 flight.

Strike Ruling For Wisconsin Firm Expected

CHICAGO, May 23.—A national labor relations board examiner is expected to rule within a month on charges of unfair labor practices brought in the three-year strike against the Kohler company.

Examiner George A. Downing would up a two-day hearing in the case yesterday, and said he would submit his recommendations to the NLRB, possibly by mid-June. He said the NLRB probably would not reach a decision on the case before mid-July.

Attorney Erman Conner, representing the Kohler firm, charged the United Auto Workers with deliberate refusal to discuss company proposals, thereby prolonging the nation's longest strike.

Conner also denied a UAW accusation that Kohler refused to bargain and maintain the UAW was offered "a choice" of contracts.

The attorney said one contract was held by Kohler with an independent union, the Kohler Workers' association, which affiliated with the UAW in 1954. The other offer was for a new pact providing a three-cent hourly wage boost.

Ken Grasmann, president of the Elmhurst UAW local 832, said earlier the company offers were rejected because they did not contain provisions for arbitration and stipulations for interpretation which contained in the UAW agreement.

Government attorney George Squitelle, writing as "prosecutor" in the hearings, accused Kohler of trying to "undermine the union by back-falls bargaining."

The government attorney also charged that Kohler sought to negotiate a "multilateral contract" without consulting the union. He indicated such an offer did not fall under the category of collective bargaining.

In rebuttal arguments, UAW attorney Harold Granfield accused Conner of making a "shocking" charge against Federal Judge Robert E. Peck.

That Time of Year

Lutheran Leader Says Church Thrives Best on Persecution

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Lutheran church thrives best on persecution, a statement by a leading Lutheran leader today.

Lund-Quist said East German children are under "terrible pressure" from the government to take the so-called "civil confirmation oath," swearing loyalty to communist principles and to Soviet Russia, as a substitute for the traditional rite of church confirmation.

A teen-ager who refuses to take the communist oath is warned that he can go no further in school, that he will have no chance to get a good job, and that his parents may be removed from their homes and jobs.

Lund-Quist said the East German Lutheran church, under the leadership of Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin, has rejected any compromise with the red regime and has told its members that "they must choose between civil confirmation or church confirmation."

Despite the government's threats, only four per cent of the East German children, who received confirmation age last year chose communism over the church.

The East German government has not yet disclosed whether it will permit Bishop Dibelius and other East German Lutheran leaders to attend the Minneapolis meeting, Lund-Quist will go to Berlin soon to discuss the matter.

Bishop Lajos Ordass of Hungary, who was released from the red prison shortly before last fall's abortive freedom revolt, has received permission from his government to lead the world's 70 million Lutherans, will attend the Minneapolis meeting.

Lund-Quist said in an interview that European Christians are "intensely curious" about the apparent religious revival in America. It seems to contradict the lessons of history, as well as the current experience of European churches, for the church membership to reach record-breaking peaks in a time of great material prosperity.

In the nations of western Europe, he said, where living standards also are high and where churches enjoy the same freedom and privileges as American churches, there is "nothing remotely comparable" to this country's upsurge of religious interest.

"Attendance at most of the western European churches is very low. The mass attitude toward religion seems to be generally one of indifference."

But even America's concern with religion pales by comparison with the "fervent attachment" of eastern European Christians to their persecuted churches.

"The greatest story in Protestantism today is the courageous resistance which East Germany's 10 million Lutherans are putting up against a tremendous effort by the government to suppress the church."

Senate Not Likely To Censure Morse Over 'Ike' Attack

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A senate committee report today said it is unlikely today despite GOP anger over an attack on President Eisenhower.

Senate Republicans demanded that Morse publicly apologize for calling Eisenhower and "Truman" "bores" and "the kind of immorality" in a Detroit speech last Saturday.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R. Ind., told the senate yesterday that Morse made the statement on the senate floor he might have been subject to censure.

Sen. Charles McNary, R. N. H., called Morse's statement "stunning."

Morse, a former Republican, promptly repeated the statement on the senate floor and challenged his GOP critics to try to censure him for it.

He "invited" the senate GOP policy committee to introduce a censure resolution and said "if marks he made 'on or off the senate floor'."

Policeman Winds Up on West Side Of Iron Curtain

FULDA, Germany, May 23.—A 20-year-old communist Peoples policeman took the wrong road home from an East German tavern early Monday and wound up on the wrong side of the iron curtain in the wrong bedroom, a western official reported today.

The man staggered half-unconscious into what he thought was his boarding house at 3 a.m. People in the house told him his path "home" had taken him through barbed-wire barricades into West Germany.

The policeman was allowed to return East.

1 1/2 a Mile, Border to Border: Rambler Sets Economy Record

MONTERREY, MEXICO.—A new all-time border-to-border NASCAR economy record was set when a 1957 Rambler 6 with overdrive arrived here from Winnipeg, Canada, after only four stops for gasoline.

Whizzing through three nations at 45 to 60 m.p.h. to maintain its average speed above 40, the Rambler traveled nearly 2,000 miles at a cost of only 1 1/2 miles for regular grade fuel. This new triumph gave Rambler both the border-to-border and coast-to-coast economy records.

Children Participate in Book Festival

Two members of the Twin Falls library staff help three children make book selections during the children's spring book festival which opened Wednesday. Spring Book Festival Here Acquaints Children With New Books at Library

The spring book festival for children, which opened Wednesday at the Twin Falls public library, is being held during the week of May 22-25, announces Dorothy Evans, children's librarian.

Over 200 new books are available to be used to tie in with the summer reading program which will run June 1 to August 1.

The theme of the summer reading program will be "By Rocket to Adventure." In conjunction with the program the Twin Falls library and the city recreation commission will sponsor the only relay boat in the city park 11 a.m. on Tuesday beginning at 11 a.m. Evans says.

The juvenile department of the library will begin summer vacation on June 3. The department's hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Miss Evans said parents are urged to accompany their children to the library during the spring book festival week to aid them in participating in the reading program and to see what is available to them. Stimulation of reading interest during the summer will undoubtedly have a good influence on the children when they return to school in the fall, she pointed out.

Among the books on display are several which have recently been given national book awards. "Madeline and the Bad Hat," Benjamin Franklin and "The Melopha Go Flying," are a few. "Flaming Arrows," "The Horsecatcher," "Sandoz," for the 12-16 year-olds.

A "partial" listing of the books on display gives an adequate sample of the many books available to children of all ages. For the picture book age there are "Shoes Fit for My Love," "Pinney," "Desert Dog," "King," "Bill," "Useful Dragon of Sam Ling," "Dinner," "Clara Seal," "Ochre," "The Perky Engine," "Princess," "Ladybug, Ladybug," "Kruska," "Coral Island," "Mordorinoff," "Know a Lot of Things," "Rand," "Sleepy Forest," "Zimmerman," "Children 6 to 9 will enjoy 'Good Night Ghost,' 'Brendrick: A Hat for Amy Jean,' 'Chalmers,' 'Hoggy Story of Wallace the Engine,' 'Donald,' 'Fairy Doll,' 'Goddess,' 'Hello, Mrs. Piggie-Wiggie,' 'MacDonald and 'Blanco and the New World,' Palatzo.

Those 9 to 12 will find "Curn Grows Up," "Rhoads," "Enchanted Schoolhouse," Sawyer, "Wicked Enchantments," "Henry-Jabert," "Hooking Chair Buck," Cheney, "Down and Away Below," Roia, and "Uninvited-Dovey," White.

For the young teens there are "The Real Thing," DuJardin, "Sweet Sixteen," Emory, "Is This Love," "Pinney," "Desert Dog,"

Federal Jury Opens Probe For Gas 'Fix'

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 22 (AP)—The justice department has opened here its second federal grand jury investigation of possible price fixing by five of the nation's major oil companies.

Victor H. Hansen, chief of the department's anti-trust division, announced last night in Washington that the new inquiry concerns "its size and scope" to one started by a federal grand jury at Alexandria, Va., March 4. But he said the two inquiries have "no connection."

Hansen said after anti-trust attorneys reviewed the transcript of a hearing by a house small business subcommittee.

Five Dealers Involved
Five South Bend gasoline dealers, all representing big-name oil companies, testified—under oath—that they all received identical phone calls the evening of April 30 from company attorneys telling them that the "price war was over" and they should "raise their prices to 31.9 cents a gallon effective at midnight on May 1."

The dealers represented the Sun Oil company, Ohio Oil company, Phillips Oil company, Goodyear-Mott Oil company and Standard Oil company.

The subcommittee, which is studying petroleum distribution among small dealers, held two-day hearings April 30 and May 1. At the close of the hearings, Chairman James Roosevelt, D., Calif., sent a telegram to Hansen asking the "immediate action" to determine whether there had been any violation of the anti-trust laws.

Hansen said that the staff had studied the transcript and found the information taken by the subcommittee "sufficiently complete" to warrant a grand jury investigation. The inquiry began last Monday.

Roosevelt had said the committee would use the oil matter as a "test case" to see just exactly "how long it takes to get action" from the justice department. Hansen told a reporter the inquiry was decided on 24 hours after he received the testimony.

Accident Causes Minor Damages

Damages were reported minor as the result of an accident near the Carson garage Wednesday afternoon which involved a 1946 Dodge pickup truck driven by Fredrick McNeill, 261 Pullmore street, and a 1953 Buick operated by Sarah E. Colner, 1335 Poplar avenue.

Police reported McNeill was backing from a parking lot and the Buick had stopped for traffic before making a left turn into the garage where the two vehicles collided.

Slight damage to the Buick was reported. The truck was not damaged. There were no injuries.

Trips Taken

JANSEN, May 22—Fred Hens, Mountain Grove, Calif., has been visiting his brother, Clifford Hens, and family.

Mrs. Richard Williams and children have left for Great Falls, Mont., to join her husband, who is stationed there.

Payment Sought

A balance of $143 due on a Maxwell-Gillette razor set was sought in a complaint filed Wednesday in Twin Falls district court by Merle M. Schellenbarger against O. Ray Newman.

The complaint states that on Aug. 2, 1953, Newman purchased from Shelby's, Inc. a razor set for $15.75. A down payment of $2.00 was made at the time. Subsequently, Schellenbarger purchased the razor set from Shelby's. Schellenbarger is represented by J. Dean Mosher, Twin Falls attorney.

SCHOOL TO END

JANSEN, May 22—Hansen schools will close Friday for summer vacation. All school pupils will be held Friday with the children coming to school at 10 a.m. and returning home at 1:30 p.m.

Only five miles from the center of Johannesburg, South Africa, is one of the deepest gold mines in the world—4,215 feet is compared to the Empire State building's height of 1,472 feet.

Union Confab Is Postponed

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The AFL-CIO yesterday postponed indefinitely a meeting of its ethical practices committee set for Friday on charges the Teamsters union is corruptly dominated.

The action was viewed as reflecting a recognition by the federation of a move within the union to oust Teamsters President Dave Beck. This took some of the urgency from the issue of action against the union itself.

The matter movement against Beck was being led by 65-year-old John P. English, newly named as an AFL-CIO vice president.

English planned an informal strategy session with other members of the Teamsters executive board who feel, as he does, that Beck must go in view of charges at senate hearings that the 62-year-old Teamsters president had played fast and loose with union funds.

Rotarians Meet

BURLEY, May 22—John W. Harris had charge of the program at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon. He presented students from the Burley schools. Beverly Radman gave a humorous essay and Larry Wardle played a cornet solo, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Clyde Wardle.

Charles Balch will have charge of the program next week.

DRIVER FINED

BURLEY, May 22—Dorinda Fisher, 14, Burley, was fined $5 Tuesday by police Judge Henry W. Tucker on a charge of driving without a driver's license.

Rivalry of U.S., Russia Posing Threat to International Olympics

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Many of the smaller nations of the world fear the titanic struggle between the United States and Russia—if not arrested—may ultimately kill the Olympic games, the president of the International Olympic committee said Wednesday.

Avery Brundage of Chicago said this probably will be among the problems discussed at a six-day series of Olympic conferences at Evian, France, beginning June 3. "Understand, I don't share such fears because I feel we can take whatever measures are necessary before the situation gets out of hand," he added. "But we do know there is a deep concern among the smaller and less wealthy countries."

"We have heard the opinion expressed in France, Switzerland, and Great Britain, that it appears useless to try to compete against the United States and Russia who throw such powerful resources behind their teams."

"Many of the countries regard both the United States and Russia as professional and feel that they are at a disadvantage with purely amateur squads," Brundage said in these quarters.

Brundage said he doubted the controversial Olympic oath—the promise of each competitor that "I intend to remain an amateur"—will be renewed. It was waived before the Melbourne Olympics because, Brundage insisted, it was "grossly misunderstood."

"We need a thorough review of the Olympic charter," the IOC president added. Among the items on the conference agenda probably will be the question of eliminating team sports; 2. elimination of sports "tinged with professionalism," such as boxing, cycling and soccer; 3. sale of television rights for the 1960 games in Rome.

U.S. Lead In Pentathlon Team Events

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 23 (AP)—The five-nation modern pentathlon meet moved into fencing Wednesday with the United States holding a narrow lead as the result of first-day competition in cross-country riding.

The USA team compiled 3,002 points Thursday as its Lieut. Jack Daniels of Missouri, Mont. took first place among the individuals with 1,176 points. He made the ruzed title in 4:13.4. Last, four boys of Mexico finished second with 1,101 points and Capt. Oswaldo Hernandez of Brazil was third with 1,094.

Mexico was second with 2,980 the United States B team was third with 2,500. Sweden was next with 2,660. Brazil fifth with 2,554 and Switzerland last with 2,128.

The competition here is a prelude to the world championships at Mexico City in November. Greater skill and high temperature added to the discomfort of the contestants over the muddy 3,500-meter course studded with 21 obstacles and four dangerous slides.

Default by horses and equipment failures resulted in five contestants not scoring due to nasty falls or delays in finish.

Thursday they will go through shooting. Friday it will be swimming and Saturday running 4,000 meters.

Garner Sets Mark With 12 Putouts

BALTIMORE, May 23 (AP)—Billy Gardner set an American league putout record for second baseman Tuesday night in the Orioles 16-inning marathon game with the Detroit Tigers who won 2-1.

Gardner had 12 putouts at second. That's one more than the old mark for second basemen, set by Gerry Priddy of Detroit on May 9, 1953, also in a 16-inning game.

Bill Skowron of the Yankees hit four home runs in his first four American league games this season. In 18 exhibition games he had hit only three homers.

Blue Lakes Schedules Invitational Tourney

The sixth annual Blue Lakes invitational golf tournament is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2.

Kelly, tournament chairman, said a large entry list was anticipated for the tournament which will be played on the Blue Lakes Country club links. The championship flight will be 45 holes and the lower flights will cover 36 holes in the medal play affair.

Outlets wishing to enter the tournament should send the certified handicaps along with their entries to Bruce Schenck, Jr., club pro, by 5 p.m. May 30. Flights will be arranged in accordance with the certified handicaps.

Practice rounds may be played Wednesday, May 29, and Friday, May 31.

The championship flight will play 18 holes on the first day of the tournament and 27 holes on the second day. The other flights will play 18 holes each day.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded in each flight of the tournament. A pro-amateur tournament is scheduled for the day after the invitational tournament. The pro-am event will start at 1 p.m. Monday.

Big 10 Ponders
Changes in Rules

EVANSTON, Ill., May 23 (AP)—Ten athletic directors Wednesday proposed modifications of the conference's new financial aid to athletes plan.

The proposals will be placed before faculty representatives who meet Friday and Saturday.

Unanimous approval is predicted for an amendment that would provide awards of board, room, books, tuition and fees — regardless of proven need of an athlete — to graduates of the upper quarter of their high school classes.

They would have to maintain a "B" average throughout college to remain eligible for such a grant.

BULGARIANS WIN
OSLO, May 23 (AP)—Bulgaria defeated Norway 2-1 in Wednesday's qualification match for next year's world soccer championships.

Utah State Is Divisional Ball Champ

PROVO, Utah, May 23 (AP)—Utah State claimed the western division baseball crown and awaited outcome of the Denver-Colorado State university game Wednesday for a Skyline conference title series at Denver Saturday.

The Utah Aggies took the Tanning mascot of a doubleheader from Brigham Young 2-1 to claim the division crown Tuesday.

BYU won the opener 2-0 on Norm Christensen's solo homer in the bottom of the ninth inning. The Aggies bunched most of their six hits for all three runs in the second inning of the nightcap.

The split gave the new champions an 8-4 record. BYU and Utah each had 4-3 records, and Montana finished last with 4-6.

Denver and CSU met at Denver Wednesday to determine the Eastern division title. The two division champions will meet at Denver Saturday for the league title.

Idaho's Senators Voting Together on Effort to Slash Government Spending

WASHINGTON, May 22 (Special)—Both of Idaho's senators, although of different political parties, have joined in the effort to hold the "economy line" in the senate.

Nevertheless, members of the hour have diligently slacked away as presidential requests that members of the senate have just as ramrally restored the cuts. This habit, has earned the senate the title of the "Upper" chamber.

But Ben Henry C. Dworak, Republican, and Frank Church, Democrat, found themselves voting together on an important "economy line" recently. They likely will be found on the same side often throughout coming months on economy votes.

The matter up for senate vote the President's budget. We'll wind up with a 3-4 billion cut (out of an original request of 72 billion dollars).

"We've already cut about 1.5 billion dollars in appropriations bills," Dworak says. As for cuts in the enormous federal payroll, he adds, "If vacancies occur in various departments and they are not filled, then it should be possible to cut the payroll substantially."

"The cuts?" Dworak: "If business continues good and we have substantial surplus—4-5 billion dollars by the end of the next fiscal year (June 30, 1938) then some payment should be made on the national debt and some tax reduction should be made. We can't, however, justify tax reduction at this season. If reductions come the first step would be to increase in personal exemptions from 1000 per person for income taxes."

Church: "It is an object of the Democratic leadership in this congress to achieve tax reductions by the end of this year."

Adenauer Slates Journey to U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 22 (Special)—German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is coming here next week in the hope that some of President Eisenhower's "magic" will rub off on him in the coming West German election.

Ever since Adenauer won an absolute majority in the 1933 elections after a public endorsement from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, German politicians have been convinced that talks with Eisenhower and a speech-making swing through the United States were good for the voters back in the Rhineland.

The chancellor faces a tough fight this year with the Social Democrats for control of the German parliament in the Sept. 15 elections. He will be trying to get as much po-

Hells Canyon Federal Dam Defeat Urged

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — A bill to end the federal construction of a hydroelectric project in the Hells Canyon area of the Snake river basin at Hells Canyon, Idaho, was introduced yesterday by Sen. Frank Church, D-Id., chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

Church said in a statement that the project is a hydroelectric project in the Hells Canyon area of the Snake river basin at Hells Canyon, Idaho, which is under the jurisdiction of the Idaho Power company and the federal government.

He said that so much attention is being focused on the effort to build the dam that the federal government is neglecting its duty to protect the public interest in the Hells Canyon area.

'Ike' Avows He'll Refuse Tax Slice

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday he never would approve tax cutting when the burden is in such precarious balance as it is now.

That was in answer to a news conference question as to whether his tax reduction program was affected by a new estimate from congressional revenue experts.

The fiscal experts now figure that spending in the next fiscal year may be a billion dollars beyond the budget figure of $11,800,000,000.

Eisenhower said he had received no similar estimate from treasury advisers.

Ham Is Cited As Good Buy For Shopper

By The Associated Press
The ham is cited as a good buy for the shopper's attention in many supermarket advertisements. The reason is that the price of the ham has fallen to a point where it is a good buy for the shopper.

Most of the ham offered as a good buy is one of another ham, the so-called chuck cut. The reason for this is that the chuck cut is a ham that is not as good as the other ham, but it is a good buy for the shopper.

Higher prices for the ham are expected in the future. The reason for this is that the ham is a good buy for the shopper, but it is not as good as the other ham, and it is not as good as the other ham.

Shoppers can take cheer, however, from reports that certain ham varieties last month were up to 62 per cent over a year ago.
