Here's part of a crowd of 7,200 people, mostly children, that jammed into Jaycee park Friday afternoon for the first performance of Polack Bros. Shrine circus. The crowd is believed to be the largest ever for the park. Shrine clubs of Magic Valley brought children to the circus from all parts of the area to join the throng of Twin Falls children. ## Shrine Circus Crowd of 7,200 Listed As Largest to Jam Into Jaycee Park

Walter Stebbins, director of Polack Bros. Shrine circus, reports Friday afternoon's crowd of 7,200, mostly children, was the largest crowd ever recorded at Jaycee park. Friday night was a sell-out and 3,500 were present Saturday afternoon and approximately 2,000 attended Saturday night.

Approximately 68 buses brought children from all over Magic Valley. This year's circus was the most successful yet, both in management and attendance, and no accidents were reported, Stebbins said.

Bruce C. Craner, who heads the city's extensive recreation program as superintendent of parks and recreation, lauded the Shrine clubs for "a job well done" in bringing the Shrine circus to thousands of Magic Valley children.

"We always feel that Twin Falls is the center of Magic Valley, and any time we can bring this many children into the community and give them the time of their lives, we certainly should be pushing these things."

Craner said an informal survey of children attending recreation programs at the city parks indicated that the majority of the youngsters never had visited a circus.

"Some," he said, "have seen a circus on television or in the movies."

Enrollment Open In Summer Camp

Market Slump
Drives Stocks
To Low Point

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — The stock market this week took its worst setback in five months. The quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange fell an estimated $13,000,000, based on the decline in the average. Impressive as this figure is, it should be noted that the total value of all stocks listed on the big board is around $28 billion dollars, so the estimated loss amounts to something less than three per cent. Nevertheless, not since the week ended Jan. 10 have stocks taken such a dive. That was the week Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey warned that big government spending might lead to a "haircutting depression."

This week the news was not quite so dramatic. The attention of the nation was focused on the investigation of the government's monetary policies in Washington, with the emphasis on why interest rates are so high. Meanwhile, the money squeeze grew tighter in the commodity markets and the S. treasury's short-term borrowing costs climbed to a new 24-year high.

Disarmament talks continued to make prominent news and defense issues were adversely affected. Secretary of Defense Louis A. Howe's statement that the administration would support the second straight week.

The net result was that the Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $4.70 to 181.40.

EIGHT NEW PLAYERS ADDED TO COWBOY ROSTER BY CHICAGO

Burdy Thurlby Is Replaced As Manager; Two Pitchers Given Outright Releases

Help for the Magic Valley Cowboys to make a better showing in the second half of the Pioneer league season is being sent by the Chicago Cubs as eight new players have been assigned to the local team during the past week. Included in the reshuffling will be replacement of Burdy Thurlby as manager. He gives way to Walt Dixon, play-by-play manager of the Lafayette, La., baseball team, from which six of the new players will come, reports Ed Schnack, business manager.

Schutte Hurls T.F. Legion to 10-0 Win

Twin Falls American Legion team posted their fourth straight victory of the season Friday, breezing past Buhl 10-0 on the pitching of Everett Schutte and Hoffman's three-run homer. Scoring in all but one of their six times at bat, Twin Falls was never at bat.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

For the second year in a row, a Twin Falls professional golfer will represent the Rocky Mountain section in the Professional Golf Association's tournament.

Ernie Schutte, Jr., Blue Lakes country club pro, took over the position this year. In the previous year, a municipal course pro, was the area's representative.

Having posted the low score in the section's qualifying rounds in Oregon last spring, he took over from southern Idaho's Wynne, near Mexico, Utah and Montana for the right to participate.

He plans to be in Dayton, O., for the first round on July 17. The meet runs through July 23.

While Schutte is not thinking of winning the meet, he wants to win two rounds in the tough PGA tourney. Winning those two would entitle him to the right to play in any of the winter tournaments sponsored by the PGA.

"Of course," he smiles, "I probably get somebody like Sam Snead or Cary Middlecoff to play against."

With the addition of the new players to the roster, Schutte is beginning to smile again as he thinks of the rapid climbing of the ladders to the top-notch center of the season.

But everyone in Magic Valley who has been pulling for the Cowboys has a right to rejoice. For among the records for the season, the team has won 24 and 271 batting average jump out at you.

The Lafayette, La., club, from which the new players were added, is the manager of the Magic Valley team, both being in the "A" class of the league.

Of course, having the "water" team at the top of the heap in the league and the Cowboys in the bottom here leads to the question "how come?"

Schnack explains all the boys in the minor leagues are lumped together in one big spring training camp. After a brief scrutiny necessitated by the lack of time, the boys are classified into the various grades at which level the powers that be judge they can play. Those that don't make the "C" category are divided between Magic Valley and Lafayette and the other "C" teams of the league.

They are picked to a large degree on the potential they show in the camp during that brief period. This year, Schnack notes, both teams had "kids" that came along better than last year's league while the Cowboys were in first place until the last three days. When the "kids" don't live up to expectations, a tail-end team can be the result. Example? Magic Valley.

Malone Hurls Two-Hit Game For Jerome

Webb Malone, backed by the power hitting of Jerome Merriam, continued to chip-up wins in the city Industrial softball league, pitching a two-hit game for the 11-1 win over Western Electric.

The highlight of the winner's attack was Robinson's homer, Malone held the Electric to two hits in posting the win while the merchants' knickerbocker Bobby Robinson for six.

In the second game, league-leader Phillips-Wednesday posted a 9-0 forfeit win over the Telephone company.

This week's schedule lists Tommy Walker against Jerome at 7:30 p.m. Thursday with Western Electric playing Telephone company in the nightcap.

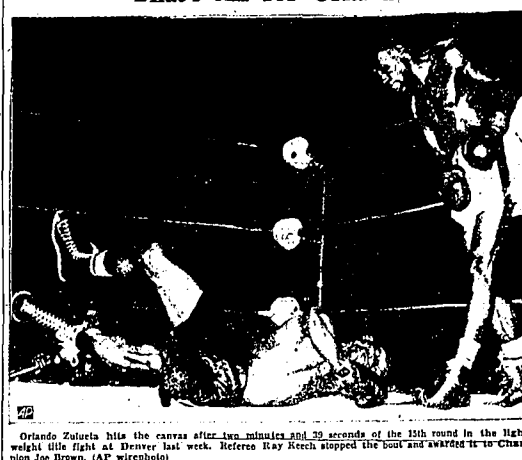

Wednesday, the Telephone company leads off action against the Triplets at 7:30 and Phillips-Wednesday Western Electric at 8 p.m. at Harmon park. Jerome Merchants travel to Buhl for a game with the Buhl Merchants at the nightcap.

Thursday Buhl plays the Telephone company at 7:30 and Phillips-Wednesday at 8 p.m. Friday and Tommy Walker and Phillips-Wednesday meet in the nightcap.

Hall of Fame catcher Gabby Hornsby caught 1,500 major league games and batted .330.

OLENROCK, Nev., June 22—A million-to-one shot in the game of golf was scored here Saturday when a 15-year-old boy, "The Invincible" of the Olenrock golf tournament.

Playing on the Olenrock course, John C. San Francisco, hit a wedge into the cup on the fly on the par three, 85-year-old hole.

The next man up, playing in the same foursome, Frank Lopez, a 16-year-old, followed with a wedge shot which took two bounces and plopped into the cup on top of Crawford.

Crawford is a 10 handicap, Lopez a seven.

Both fighters were stunned but floored in the televised 10-rounder.

A rally in the last round enabled the 23-year-old Glambra to protect his unbeaten streak—he had won nine straight—and his fourth talking spot among the contenders.

The three officials were split on each of the bouts right many ways. Judge Nick Gamboli had Glambra, the 6-5 favorite ahead, 5-4-1. Referee Ruby Goldstein voted for Calhoun, 5-4-1. Judge Frank Forbes had it even, 4-4-2 in rounds and no points for each. The AP card had Calhoun in front, 5-4-1.

DHIA Report Gives Figures In Production

The 43-head Holstein herd of Lambers dairy, Buhl, topped butterfat production in this area in May with an average of 82.8 pounds. This was considerably over the area average of 77.1, reports C. W. Daigh, county agent.

The 37-1 average was turned in by the 1201 cows that comprise the Twin Falls Dairy Herd Improvement association, of which 17 per cent were dry.

Two other herds in the association averaged more than 80 pounds. Walter, Twin Falls, who is starting a new herd of registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 82.1. An 18-head herd of grade Holsteins and several Jerseys owned by E. J. Morgan, Hansen, averaged 81.9. Both Morgan and Walter are new members in the association and were testing for the first time in May.

Just under the 80-pound mark was Don Watts, Buhl, whose four registered Holsteins, all milking, averaged 41.5 and Leonard Albert, Twin Falls, whose 23 grade Holsteins averaged an even 40.

Other herds in the association which averaged over 40 pounds were those of Carl Leonard, Piler, and Boon and Gerald Jensen, Charlis. Tippet, James Lauda, Rudolph Peterson and sons, Martin Knapp, Joe Gorman and Venley Hopkins.

The association is divided into two units. Unit No. 1 has 47 herds consisting of 1342 cows. There was no change in the number of herds during the month. Charles Reed sold his herd because of ill health and did not test in May. Venley Hopkins, Buhl, is the new member.

Unit No. 2, at the east end of the district, has two new members, Walter and Morgan. This brings the unit herd to 18 with 450 cows.

All herds were fed good grain and 45 unprofitable cows were sold for beef.

Thirty boys and girls from the Twin Falls Junior Fours practice at Frontier field every Tuesday night before taking their talents to stampees, fairs and horse shows later in the year. The unit, which has been in existence for three years, will attend the Nampa stampede to be held July 17. The horses and equipment are individually owned. Transportation is a problem of the individual when the poss travels to a show someplace. (Staff photo-engraving)

"The objective of the club is to teach and practice good citizenship, good sportsmanship and good horsemanship," Vickers says.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

C. E. (Joe) Simonson, Albion, thinks he has set some sort of record, at least in Idaho, for continuing service with a state department of education. He currently is rounding out 41 years as a state department of education employee and is viewing the reopening of the Southern Idaho College of Education as Magic Valley's 41st birthday.

Simonson is working to have an "Albion Memory Center" established in the library of the new school and of the state to annually scrap books and some of the furniture of the old state school so alumni will have a "place of memory" on the campus of the new institution.

Simonson, born Oct. 17, 1887, near Preston, moved with his parents to Boise as a child. He was educated there and the day he was graduated from Boise high school in 1908 he went to work for the state board of education. He plans to retire in October.

He worked in the bureau office at the University of Idaho for one year and took leave of absence to take a three-month leave of absence to train at the Penitentiary at San Francisco to become an army officer during World War I. The war ended before he got very far and when he returned to Boise he was given a choice of transferring with the department of education to the University of Idaho. On Aug. 1, 1919, he came to Albion.

Albion never had a busier before he arrived. The day after he arrived, the Methodist Ladies Aid was having a supper and he was invited. No one had thought of a busier one than an elderly person who had just resigned as book-keeper and the women were surprised when they saw "that young kid" in their midst.

Simonson lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newman, employment agent at Barber. He says many people have questioned him about his nickname. His true name is Clarence Eugene Simonson but when he lived in Boise as a little boy one of his neighbors, whose name was Joe, used to call him for walks. It was a familiar sight to see the two of them, hand in hand, walking around their neighborhood. They became known as "Big Joe" and "Little Joe" and he now signs his name "C. E. Joe Simonson."

He has been associated with the D. L. Evans bank in Albion since 1921, as a director. In February, 1957, he was elected president, in which capacity he served until Jan. 1, 1958. He was chairman of the village board from April, 1954, to April, 1955. He went into the bank as cashier when the Southern Idaho College of Education closed its doors in July, 1951, a position he still holds but he also has acted as custodian of the school since it closed.

The first president of the college under whom he served was George A. Boone. C. E. Boone was the next president of the old Albion Normal school. Simonson, who had attended Link's business college in Boise, went to work for Boone on Oct. 1, 1910, and worked for him until 1953. He filled the positions of registrar and executive secretary. The reopening of the school brings to mind some of the teachers who were at Albion when C. E. ceased to exist.

President and Mrs. Raymond Snyder are in Michigan City, Ind., where he is connected with the LaSalle Extension university. Prof. Ned N. Nash is retired and living in Washington, D. C., where just for something to do he is tutoring students in mathematics. His daughter, Joan Nash, who taught at the Albion Normal school one year, now Shurtliff and teaches in Washington, D. C. Her husband is a colonel in the army. Hazel E. Miller is living in Salt Lake City.

Adrian Woods Davis lives in Casper, Wyo. J. C. Werner, former head of the teacher training department at the school still lives at Albion. Other teachers still living at Albion are Irene Buckley, who teaches art at the Burley high school; Maye Anita Johnson, who teaches at the Burley high school; and Mr. and Mrs. H. E.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

By W. ELTON GREEN
(Pastor, First Church of the Nazarenes)

They were having a great banquet one night at Thelma in Oregon. The chief ruler, Archibald, and the other members of the city had taken their seats at the banquet table.

But the fact is he died and faded from view. And all that he left here when living was through.

Was a mountain of things he intended to do. Tomorrow.

This is not only a problem in the everyday world of life, but seems to present a threat to the salvation of man's soul. It has been said that procrastination is the thief of time.

Procrastination is also the thief of soul. Intending to become a Christian tomorrow is one thing, and yielding the life to Christ today is another.

The writer James declared: "Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away."

In a short time the assassins, who were disguised as female entertainers, drew their daggers and slew Archibald and his companions.

Archibald was not the first nor the last who depended upon the promise of tomorrow. Anticipation of tomorrow has caused more than one person to delay important action and has suffered for it. Delay could become a part of life and a vicious part.

James Whitcomb Riley wrote: "We say, and we say, and we say, a promise, engage and declare, till a year from tomorrow is yesterday and yesterday is where?"

Continually planning everything for tomorrow reminds me of these lines by Edgar A. Guest:

He was going to be all a mortal should be tomorrow. No one should be kinder or braver than he tomorrow.

A friend who was troubled and weary he knew. "Would he find a lift and needed it too."

On him he would call and see that he could call tomorrow. Each morning he stacked up the letters he'd write tomorrow. And thought of the folks he would fill with delight tomorrow.

It was too bad, indeed; he was busy today. And hadn't a minute to sleep on his way.

Albion has taken on a new life with the announcement that the old college is to be reopened. Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Dabett and their four sons have moved into the president's home on the campus. Dabett was pastor at the Church of Christ in Caldwell and when the new minister came to replace him he had no place to move so he moved to Albion. He is to be public relations man for the new school.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cronkite are in Montgomery, Ala. Col. Alvin Kempton is instructor in ROTC at the University of Idaho in the winter. During the summer he farms his place at Albion.

Harold Soeters is registrar at the San Francisco State college. Woodie Fuller who used to teach edict at Albion, moved to Junction City, Ore., where he taught school until he died last winter.

"Today or Tomorrow"

More time he would have to give others, he'd say, Tomorrow.

The greatest of workers this man would have been, Tomorrow.

The world would have known him had he ever seen, Tomorrow.

Water Brings Widespread Fire Hazard to Valley by Causing Heavy Growth of Grass, Weeds on Deserts

Water, which won't burn, is a dependent upon moisture almost as much as it is upon acids. The position this year of becoming a fire hazard in Magic Valley. Long and continual spring rains have given the desert their heaviest growth of vegetation in 20 years. The grass, thick, heavy and short, is drying out. Shortly it will be brittle and ready to catch fire. The danger is that it will catch fire. The danger is that it will catch fire. The danger is that it will catch fire.

Heavy Growth of Weeds, Grass Almost Dwarfs Boys

Lush growth of weeds and grass are both a boon and a headache this year. A wet spring caused heavy growth of weeds and grass such as this stand near Washington Court. On desert rangeland, grass which provides ample livestock feed is drying now and poses a serious fire hazard. But on vacant lots in Twin Falls, weeds and grass are only a headache. City ordinance specifies property owners must clear weeds.

T.F. Property Owners Have Date With Their Weeds Sometime Before June 25

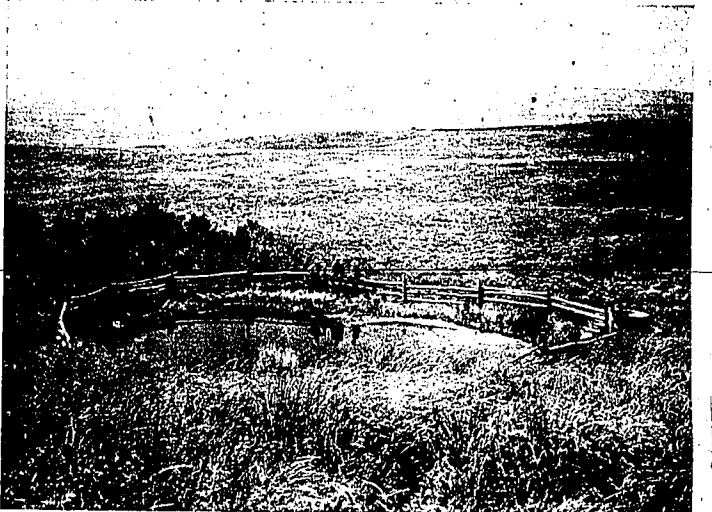

Property owners with weeds growing on their property or along alleys or streets adjacent their property will have to cancel that golf afternoon or fishing trip and take time to get their weeds under control. In hand sometime before June 25. A weed removal notice to the Twin Falls property owners says the city will remove weeds before June 25 to cut weeds before the danger of fire spreading to buildings.

Magic Valley Hobbies No. 77

Hobby Started on Self Defense Basis
Results in Fine Furniture for Home

The impulse for most hobbies comes from within but Floyd Ross, Hazerman, got his start because Mrs. Ross wanted a cedar chest. Here the two of them hunkered some juniper wood for going to work on another piece of furniture. (Staff photo-gravure)

HAZERMAN, June 23—Most people start hobbies to fill idle hours. Not so with Floyd Ross, Hazerman. He started his hobby in self defense.

Mrs. Ross wanted a cedar chest and wasn't about to take "no" for an answer. Ross didn't feel the family could afford the cost and there the matter stood until he acquired a piece of juniper that had been taken from land that was being cleared. He had the wood sawed into one-half inch slabs and Mrs. Ross had about seven on the argument.

Ross says he wanted to surprise his wife with the finished product but ran into trouble when he started to put the slabs together. He enlisted her aid and seven years ago, the project was finished. Since then he had made 12 pieces of furniture for the Ross home and four pieces for his home in Los Angeles.

Among the items he has built is a five-piece juniper bedroom suite and currently he is working on a four-piece set from Douglas wood.

Ross says his hobby is a little complicated for while he does the work, Mrs. Ross and the children have numerous suggestions to make. Each a step calls for many consultations and some alterations, he claims.

He seasons wood for two years before he starts to work with it. He uses many tools in his hobby including special knives for carving. Since juniper trees are not plentiful in Idaho, Ross has had to import the wood from the Pacific Northwest.

He has completed two step end tables, a card table, two end tables that are so designed they will interlock to make one circular table, a coffee table, and a sewing cabinet that doubles as a telephone table. This cabinet has eight small drawers.

One of the pieces of furniture his son, Orville Ross, has included a record cabinet.

Ross' workshop is a portion of the basement in the Ross home. He also stores the wood there. He says repeated "mending" puts a "new finish" in juniper. After the many hand sanding operations he uses one coat of clear varnish, sand again and then applies a final coat of clear varnish.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

This is one of J. R. Williams' early cartoons. The sentiment and the reverence pictured here made it a great favorite. It has been published in several collections of his work.

J. R. Williams Meets Final Deadline,
Leaves Legacy of Chuckles to Friends

By the NEA Service

Jim Williams is dead, but the magnificent thing he created lives on. For he had the gift of humor, understanding and mellow laughter, and these things are more enduring than a lifetime.

The man whose "Out Our Way" cartoons endeared him to millions of Americans was a world-famous cartoonist on March 20, 1932, when NEA service released his first drawing. He died June 17 at Pasadena, Calif.

Before becoming a cartoonist, his life had been an almost unbelievable record of adventure and excitement, a saga to make most boys' tales with awe and delight.

These are some of the things he had been before he turned artist: college football player, railroad fireman, mule skinner, cowboy, cavalryman, prize fighter, machinist.

These were the things that formed the philosophy and background without which there would have been no "Out Our Way." They were counted for his rare ability to meet so many different classes of readers on common ground.

Of the many millions of daily "Out Our Way" readers, a large percentage of them are people who are specifically about this series of "Out Our Way" cartoons.

to overlook his rare craftsmanship. I got in. I was studying art. At 15, I was "full grown." I got tired of school and got a job firing on the Penny by passing as 21.

This job didn't hold him long. He headed west and landed in Kansas, where he became a mule skinner. He drifted on and tried to sell a cattle outfit. He cooked for the cowboys. He punched cattle. One day, down in Texas, he saw some cowboy-rymen ride into town and liked their looks. He enlisted and served a three-year hitch.

The army polished up another talent in Williams. He became quite a fighter with his fists. He weighed 160, was hard as Hickory and just as tough. He won the light heavyweight championship of his outfit and when his enlistment was over he turned professional.

The first bar coat he ever bought for his wife was with a purse he won as a pro. Mrs. Williams made the money by drawing pictures of him. He had often been called the "Will" by the cowboys and cowgirls. He liked that, because he was a friend of the famed cowboy writer and stage star and admired him greatly.

His full name was James Robert Williams. He was born in 1888 in Nova Scotia, of parents who had come from England. He was still a baby when his family moved to Detroit. At 14 he was playing football at St. Union College in Ohio—and at 15 he was a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad.

"Back in those days," he explained to a biographer, "we didn't have any complicated eligibility rules in college football. I was big and husky and tough, and that's what counted. The scholastic requirements were pretty slack, too, which was how

Deadline Set
Over Benefit
For Disabled

At age 65, the amount of these benefits would have been determined on the average of his earnings under social security until his 65th birthday. That would have included all the non-working years of his disability and therefore his benefits would have been small.

But under the disability provision—it takes application to free his record before June 30, his earnings period will be closed out on that date in 1935 when he became 65.

The six years since July 30, 1929, his earnings period will be closed out on that date in 1935 when he became 65.

But all workers who have been disabled for some time must make application before June 30, and the sooner the better.

If eligible, you should make application as soon as possible. You know who is eligible—your social security office in person, or by mail.

If an eligible disabled person waits until after July 1 to make application, he will be at the requirement much harder to meet. After July 1, a worker will be able to claim only that period of his disability preceding the next meeting, which will be and when Grangers will decide whether or not they want a booth at the fair.

Following the meeting pinchele was played. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Skinner and Robert Skarsen served refreshments.

Grange Talks of

BUNIA, June 22—Members of the Northwest Grange discussed plans for a county fair booth at the meeting Thursday evening in the Grange hall.

The concentration of these Mexican children at Twin Falls labor camp would indicate success for the recreation part of the Migrant Ministry program which has been in operation since May 12. Recreation for children is one of the major phases of the program. (Staff photo-entourage)

Program which will end July 12. Already, migrant workers are departing because spring work in this area is virtually over. Religion, recreation and health are cornerstones of the program. (Staff photo-entourage)

Little Religion, Recreation Provided Migrant Workers in Camp Program

During the past six weeks the meetings and classes indicates the end and the migrants are leaving the Twin Falls labor camp. The Migrant Ministry program conducted by the Twin Falls labor camp has brought a little religion and recreation into the lives of migrant workers and their children.

The program hasn't been easy, but it is scheduled to run until a special doctrine is taught in July 12. However, much of the Bible stories are read and explained to children who are quite young. The program has come to attention although some have difficulty.

One of the important phases of the Migrant Ministry program at the Twin Falls labor camp is sewing instruction for women. Although only this one old machine is available, some of the students have attained remarkable proficiency. All phases of the Migrant Ministry program have been marked by large attendance. A letter of commendation was sent to Chief John Perkins today.

In 1956, the Pocatello Police Department was ranked 115th in the United States and the only city in Idaho to receive a certificate of achievement.

Chief Perkins said that it was the second consecutive year that the city had received the achievement certificate.

THIEF, WHEEL LOCATED

BUHL, June 22.—G. G. Bayless, a ditcher, found in a culvert east of town a tire and wheel which had been taken from a pickup belonging to Mayor Frank W. Squires.

Police Chief T. M. Kendrick reports.

"It is good, it keeps the children together and happy," said the Rev. Robert Keim, chairman, and pastor of the Church of Brethren, has helped Rathbun in speaking at churches in Rupert and Twin Falls to gain more support for the program.

Rathbun speaks on the importance of the migrant farm worker to farmers and benefits of the program.

The program will end July 12, but plans for next year are already being formed. More concentrated effort will be given in next year's ministry and it is hoped that reading and writing will be taught, Rathbun notes.

Accidents, Particularly on Highways, Posing Greater Threat Than Diseases

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A recent report from the Harvard school of public health points out that accidents, particularly those on the highway, have reached epidemic proportions. They now constitute a greater threat to safety than many diseases.

The physician, this report says, has as much responsibility for the prevention of accidents as for the prevention and treatment of disease.

There are many factors which enter into traffic safety. The physical and emotional condition of the driver is one.

Recent research has suggested that such factors as attitude, personality and adjustment of the driver are of greater importance to safe driving than such physical defects. Indeed, the most promising method yet developed for the detection of the accident-prone driver is based on the belief that "a man drives as he lives."

Thus his intelligence in other aspects of life, his social behavior, for example, would be likely to show in driving experience.

It is well known that youthful drivers show a high frequency of accidents. That is explained on the basis of inexperience and emotional and social insecurity.

In other words, the high accident rate of youthful drivers as a group is merely a reflection of character traits which they have in common. There is a greater degree of impulsiveness in their behavior than most older people. Adequate training in driving and in safety principles seems to be an effective means of reducing the number of accidents of this risk group.

C. of C. Talks Of Air Show

A proposed three-day air show, tentatively slated for August 10 and 11, was discussed at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce board of directors dinner Friday.

The show, in addition to featuring displays and motion pictures of air force activities in this area, would include low-altitude flights of planes from nearby airfields and a display of formation flying by the world famous Thunderbolts, a crack air force flying team.

The board voted to support the display.

Discussions of the "Keep Pocatello With Tomorrow" drive and the recent public hearing on improvement in Kimberly road were part of the meeting.

Irrigator Demand Steady For Valley

The demand for qualified irrigators in Magic Valley is continuing, according to the Idaho Irrigation market report, with shortages listed in Twin Falls and Coeur d'Alene.

A shortage of buy workers also was reported in the Lemhi area. Jeanne reports potato processing plants are closing for the season and will not reopen until the new crop is ready this fall.

Buyer reports that although rain hampered early season agricultural activities, most farmers worked two shifts to plant crops.

Gooding farmers were hampered by a shortage of rental farm laborers and noted that fewer transient laborers were available this season.

The Twin Falls office said business activities increased during the past month but were considerably behind a year ago.

Youthful Governors Compare Notes on Boys', Girls' States

The two governors of Boys' state and Girls' state for 1968 talk over their experiences and administrative problems as heads of the Gem state. The two, both Twin Falls high school juniors, were elected after days of politicking and campaigning. Shown are "Governor" Anna Marshall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Marshall, who ruled over

Girls' state, and "Governor" Michael Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray, Boys' state club executive. Miss Marshall ran on the Nationalist ticket and Gray on the Silver ticket. Both were elected "mayors" of their dormitories which were named after cities. (Staff photo-engraving)

Two Gem State "Governors" From T. F. Now Well-Experienced in Campaigning

Two Twin Falls high school students gained experience in the rigors of political campaigning recently which should make them "sure thing winners" should they later run for political office.

"Governor" Anna Marshall and "Governor" Michael Gray, both juniors at Twin Falls high school, were elected heads of the Gem state recently in the 1968 Boys' and Girls' state elections. Following their elections, after politicking and campaigning, during the week-long sessions of Boys' state and Girls' state.

Sponsored by the Idaho department of the American Legion, delegates from Idaho cities carried on a rock campaign and election which parallels the real thing held regularly in the state.

Gray was supported by the Silver party and carried into office annual meeting and Miss Marshall was elected from 215 girl delegates. During the 1968 sessions of Boys' and Girls' states the two governors will return to Boise for the meeting.

Miss Marshall is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Marshall, 1132 Locust street, and Gray the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray, 1232 Pillmore street.

Russia Makes Alteration in Arms Attitude

By The Associated Press

The armed forces limits suggested by Harold Stassen at London were first proposed by the allies last fall and were then rejected by Russia.

Later, Russia said they might be reconsidered along with some general disarmament suggestions of her own. Stassen now is prepared to test that assertion in connection with a general package deal, other parts of which are to be announced later.

For nine years Russia has been basing her force limitation proposals on percentages. She started out by proposing a 30 per cent reduction in all forces and weapons, and a complete ban on atomic weapons.

That was when the United States had a stockpile and Russia didn't. In 1952 the United States proposed that her armed forces and those of Russia and red China be limited to between one and 1½ million men, with Britain and France to have 850,000 each. The Russians flatly refused.

Last fall's offer were the first step, with the British-French fig. of 600,000 men and "other arms" set at 150,000 each.

Now the United States is proposing the 2½ million figure as a first step toward even lower levels which would be worked out after political settlements, such as the reunification of Germany.

This seems to be based on the theory that Russia, needing her manpower and money for agricultural and industrial developments, wants lower levels.

American intelligence, however, reports that Russia has not made the 1,000,000 manpower cut she announced last year, although even that would have left her with a near edge in manpower. That may mean that Russia still clings to hope of a percentage cut which would leave her still relatively better off.

Mention of red China has been dropped from the last two American approaches to force limits, presumably with the idea that she could be taken care of later once a deal is made with Russia.

Nobody explained why Stassen led off the presentation of his package Thursday with this approach if not dead horses.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain said limits would be a necessary part of any final disarmament agreement. This, however, is the first time it has been mentioned during the discussion of "open talks" and a suspension of nuclear tests as the first steps.

Reopening of the issue can hardly be anything except a maneuver.

Indeed, there is a growing suspicion in United Nations and other circles that the whole business in London is a maneuver.

The meat of a hippopotamus is good to eat, raising something like beef. Plenty for leftovers.
