

Bullish Trend In Sugar Mart Played Down

WASHINGTON, June 25 (Special)—Sources at the department of agriculture discount bullish rumors from the sugar market in New York on the possibility of large acreage increases next year for domestic beet and cane producers.

These rumors arose from an announcement by the department that Puerto Rican growers would have a deficit of 150,000 tons in meeting their quotas this year. This amount was projected as follows: 95,000 tons to domestic beet sugar producers, 40,000 to Cuban, 33,000 to Hawaiian and 18,000 to domestic cane.

The primary result of the Puerto Rican deficit these sources say, will mean the "easy absorption" in the U. S. market of more than nine million tons of domestic sugar this calendar year—about the same amount as sold last year.

However, he had just signed into law a bill giving bonuses to farmers for increasing their sugar plantings this fall, so that next year's crop should be normal or even above.

Based on the sugar acre of 1956, maximum U. S. domestic acreage allocations for beet sugar were increased from an allowed 450,000 acres last year to 450,000 acres this year. For cane the total was increased by 15 percent, or from 250,000 to 287,500.

The best guess is that the acreage for both beet and cane will remain steady through next year. The shortage in Puerto Rico of its allowed quota of 1,200,000 tons was due to a hurricane last year and also to a drought, which caused some shifting from employment in the sugar industry to new industries elsewhere in the island.

Continued drought in the island would go against all previous weather patterns, according to department sources.

Funeral Held for William Ambrose

JEROME, June 25—Funeral services for William Ambrose were held Monday afternoon at the Crystal funeral home, officiated by Rev. Russell D. Walker, officiating.

Charles Riley, 49, and one American farmer aided by his equipment and all can do the work of 100 Russians.

A big share of the manual labor on farms is done by women, they said.

While American farm wives labor hard, the group said, they don't have to labor in the fields with heavy equipment or on construction jobs.

Some Russian farmers, in fact, prefer to let their wives do the heavy work, the group said.

New Security Building

Twelve thousand employees of the top-secret national security agency will soon start moving from Arlington, Va., to this huge new building at Ft. Meade, Md. The building was described as the largest of its kind in the country. Although the Pentagon is larger in total area, the NSA building boasts the longest straight corridor in the country, running 350 feet. Total cost of the project was 25 million dollars. ## Farmers Back After Tasting Life in Russia

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 25 (AP)—A group of Midwest farmers just returned from a 17-day tour of Russia have agreed their wives wouldn't like living in the Soviet—they'd have to work too hard.

The 30 farmers, who returned yesterday afternoon, said the most impressive thing about Russia was not so much the drought, but the hard labor put in by Russian women.

All but one of the group was from the Rockford area in north-central Illinois. They were joined by a farmer from Brookfield, Wis.

"The group was critical of Russian farms which they said were 'inferior'."

Their farms are so big that there almost impossible to manage," said Richard Shide, 45, operator of a 240-acre farm. "It is as if the country's agriculture consisted of a lot of tremendously large farms worked by hired hands."

Charles Riley, 49, said one American farmer aided by his equipment and all can do the work of 100 Russians.

A big share of the manual labor on farms is done by women, they said.

While American farm wives labor hard, the group said, they don't have to labor in the fields with heavy equipment or on construction jobs.

Nice, but—

WASHINGTON, June 25 (Special)—When Sen. Frank Church concluded a two and one-half hour speech in the fight for a high heels canyon bill, his Democratic colleagues praised it. It was the 23-year-old Idaho senator's first major oratory on the senate floor.

In the traditionally tradition of that institution, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, a Republican who opposes the high dam, warmly congratulated Church on his address.

"But," he concluded amiably, "I didn't believe a single word of it."

Strike Approved

LEWISTON, June 25 (AP)—The Lewiston local of the International Woodworkers of America union was on record today in favor of a strike in seeking contract demands from Potlatch Forests, Inc.

The union, working under a 30-day extension to a contract that ended June 1, has asked for 15-cent weekly-thrifty-board increases, longer vacation for five-year employees and other fringe benefits.

A union spokesman here said four other locals in north Idaho would decide later this week whether to call a strike.

Exhaustive Tests Find Cobra Venom Wanting as Pain Killer

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—The "double blind" test, which is given by scientists in which neither the patient nor the doctor knows which of the two venoms of the cobra is a pain-killer, has found the cobra venom wanting in human beings and found it wanting.

It also provided additional proof that there is a quick in human nature which permits people to "give up" their pain, in order to please some person who is sympathetic, understanding and trying to do something to help them.

For some 25 years there have been reports that a very little cobra venom had the magical power to relieve pain from such undoubted pain-causers as arthritis and cancer.

An original difficulty was that of measuring how little venom was too little to poison the subject but was enough to relieve his pain—if, indeed, cobra venom was a pain reliever. That difficulty was finally solved.

Cobra venom was prepared in vials mixed with formalin and allie acid. Enthusiastic reports began appearing in medical literature. One found that 60 per cent of arthritic patients lost their pain after they had been injected with the mixture. But there was no "double blind" test. That was undertaken by Drs. Leonard F. Meiselas and Austin A. Schrieber of the State University of New York medical school in Brooklyn. They had a batch of vials prepared which were labeled "A," "B" and "C."

The "A" vials contained formalin acid only, the "B" vials cobra venom mixed with formalin and allie acid, and the "C" vials contained the acids without the venom. It was impossible to tell the vials apart except by their labels.

Now the stage was prepared for the pain-suffering subjects, human beings. The nurses, who injected them, the doctors who figured out the results of the injections, and the patients themselves had no idea which set of vials had the cobra venom, "A," "B" or "C."

When the "double blind" was removed, it was revealed that formalin acid alone and formalin and allie acid together had afforded "considerable" pain relief for as many patients as had the two combined with cobra venom—and none had ever found either acid to be a pain solver.

But either alone or together, they afforded "none" relief to more patients than they did when combined with cobra venom. And the same numbers of patients found no relief for their pain from any of the three.

The report of the doctors was published by the medical society of the state of New York. Their results, the doctors said, "emphasize that the continued interest of the physician, the participation of the patient in a research project, and his desire to please the physician by responding to the drug may be some of the factors that are responsible for his positive reaction."

Smylie States Objection to U. S. Control

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., June 25 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie today said following governor's statement "it is no business of congress" whether there shall be highway control, whether the interstate highway system.

"This should be left to the 48 states," he said. "In Idaho we will take care of it in our own good time."

Smylie said the constitutions of Idaho and several other states prohibit the states from taking private land for highway purposes until the eminent domain litigation is completed and the land paid for. The federal government can use its power of eminent domain, however, and prompt federal assistance in this will help to hold down land acquisition costs, he said.

He addressed a roundtable on highways at the National Governors' conference.

Gov. J. Hugh Arnolds of Montana said this state feels it has an obligation to acquire land for this interstate system and will "call for federal assistance only as a last resort."

Arnolds said "We, in Montana, with inadequate highway revenue to match all of our needs, however, that this system is an urgently needed facility and will endeavor to disburse our funds to the end that it will not suffer."

Huge Soil Bank Check Reported

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Rep. Stewart L. Udall reports that one Arizona farmer under the administration's soil bank this year will receive a government check for $200,000 for planting cotton.

In addition, he said, 10 other cotton growers in Arizona will receive soil bank checks ranging from $50,000 to $200,000.

Udall said "soilbanking" was too old-fashioned a word to describe the soil bank.

"We should only use a new term 'soilbanking' to describe the manipulations of some of these farmers who are attempting to hoard money the taxpayers of the United States."

Grand Jury Refuses To Indict Hank Bauer

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—A New York county grand jury refused Monday to indict Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer on a delictatessen man's charges that the ballplayer slugged him in a night club. Bauer was taken into custody on a citizen's arrest by the complaining delictatessen man, Edwin Jones, shortly after the alleged slugging on May 15. The ballplayer waived hearing in felony court last week and asked for immediate grand jury action.

Bauer's attorney, Sidney O. Friedman, said the ballplayer, a former U. S. Marine, was sued for false arrest and malicious prosecution, both civil actions.

Jones charged that Bauer slugged him in the Copacabana night club, and that the ballplayer slugged him in a party of Yankees celebrating the victory of Billy Martin, traded last week to Kansas City, and a bowling club party of which Jones and his brother were members.

Jones' complaint said he didn't know who his brother was, but said he was a Yankee teammate backed him up.

Players Tell Subcommittee Reserve Clause Is Essential to Baseball

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Three major league stars agreed Monday that the player reserve clause is "essential" to the continued operation of organized baseball. They conceded that perhaps some modifications could be made to meet criticism of the clause, but said they had no pressing suggestions for changes. Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, Eddie Yost of the Washington Senators, and Jerry Coleman of the New York Yankees testified before a subcommittee which is investigating professional sports' anti-trust status.

Earlier, the subcommittee heard a charge that baseball club owners use the reserve clause as a "weapon" against players. James V. Frazier, a former player and now a sports lawyer, said that club owners are "brutal" in their treatment of players.

IBC-Norris, Wirtz Break-up Ordered By Federal Judge

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan Monday ordered dissolution of the two International Boxing clubs and complete divorce of promoter Jim Norris and partner Arthur Wirtz from the Madison Square Garden corporation.

Two orders were the most important punches in the decision on remedies to smash the most powerful boxing combine in its history, which already has found guilty of monopoly in its promotion of title fights.

The divorce of Norris and Wirtz from the garden corporation will be achieved by forcing them to resign as president and director of the garden, respectively, within 30 days after July 1 and lose all voting powers on their stock.

They are ordered to dispose of their 3 million dollars worth of garden shares within seven years.

The divorce proceedings, against which defense attorneys fought bitterly, directed that the Norris-Wirtz stock be transferred shortly after July 1 to a trust, which will hold it five years after which time Norris and Wirtz can sell it. But if the stock is not sold then, the trust will be empowered to sell it within the next two years.

The judge said the order will be effective July 1, when he hands down his final judgment containing the technical details of carrying them out.

Judge Ryan said the IBO's of New York and Illinois will be retained from functioning in the promotion of title fights while they are being dissolved and while their purely financial interests are being taken over by the parent organization, the Chicago Stadium corporation in Illinois.

Other provisions decided will delete all exclusive contracts between any of the defendants and championship boxers or contenders and delete all exclusive contracts with arenas other than those owned by the defendants.

Norris, Wirtz and their confidant, Kenneth C. Royall, said they did not know yet whether they would appeal to the United States supreme court from the decision.

Norris said, "Whether we appeal or don't appeal, I intend to remain in boxing even if it's the only way to live."

Couple Asks Court Relief For Contract

Relief from a contract claimed to have been signed without being read by Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Clontz in a complaint filed in district court Monday against Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brim.

The Clontz complaint claims that on Feb. 4, 1953, they purchased certain real property in Twin Falls from John Brim and others for $25,000, payable in $5,000 at time of contract, $10,000 on Feb. 4, 1954, and $10,000 plus interest, each succeeding year until the full price was paid.

The complaint states that when the 1957 payment of $10,000, including interest, came due Mr. and Mrs. Clontz were unable to make the payment. On March 4, they claim Brim advised them if payment was not made within 60 days Clontz would lose his rights in the contract.

Clontz claims that while trying to raise the money he was approached on the street in the contract by Brim regarding the situation. He says Brim offered to lend him the money. Clontz agreed to sign his equity in the land as collateral.

Clontz says he agreed to the proposal and Brim had more than $50,000 of equity in the property at the time. He said he told Brim he was trying to sell the property and would repay him following the sale.

He states he and Brim went to Brim's attorney's office where he signed a paper he thought legitimized the oral understanding. The contract he signed, he claims, was a transfer to Brim of his equity in the property for the consideration of $1.

He says he did not read the contract because he trusted both Brim and the attorney.

Shortly thereafter, Clontz alleges Brim delivered to the attorney a check for $10,000 which Clontz and the attorney took to the bank and made payment on the note to Brim.

He continues that after April 20, Brim demanded upon him for payment. He says he is now in the predicament Brim is attempting to sell the property.

He asks the court to adjust the contract with Brim to what was intended when the agreement was made. He claims the written agreement was obtained by fraud.

Slow Starter Discussed For

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Henry C. Wright, independent candidate in North Dakota for parliament, discussed today his political rally last night may have been a flop.

The only ones who showed up were Wright, liter reporters and the caretaker of the hall.

Chairman O'Neil said that for a committee of four volunteers to erect the stand from which free ice cream bars and milk will be distributed. He also said merchandise would be distributed Saturday morning.

After promotion plans for July were discussed, Bill introduced T. Set. Taylor J. Greene, Twin Falls air reserve center, who outlined proposed plans for the air force show here Aug. 8 and 9.

The air show was first proposed at the meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors last Friday. Directors endorsed the show and referred it to the Commercial division for action.

Beckert Greene said the tentative plan was to have a display, motion pictures on the air force, low and high level flights over Twin Falls by a number of all-weather fighters, and a display of modern fighters.

A Sunday afternoon flight is scheduled tentatively by the air force Thunderbirds jet pilot to form formation flying at high speeds. The air force band from Washington, D. C., is scheduled for a concert.

By unanimous vote the committee decided to give the show full endorsement.

A committee to check on July promotion was formed and asked to report at next Monday's meeting.

Plan Offered To Join Fire, Police Force

(Twin Falls News)
To cooperate in a study of such a plan.

The consensus of the commissioners was that a thorough study should be made before any such program is started.

Lattimore said the plan would put about five more patrol cars on the street. As an incentive for a man to take the training and become a "public safety officer" Lattimore would like to see a salary increase perhaps $25 monthly.

He said there was a possibility of having a plan which would increase the efficiency and operation of the fire and police departments. Chief O'Neil stated it would "have value in traffic control."

The plan is not new, Lattimore said. In some towns and cities it has worked and in others it has failed. In other business the commissioners authorized the 9000th air reserve squadron to use available facilities belonging to the city for an air show to be held tentatively Aug. 8, 10 and 11 to celebrate the air force 50th anniversary.

Set. Bill Taylor appeared before the commissioners to request permission for locations within the city and the airport to display air equipment during the show. He also sought permission for planes to fly over the city at low altitudes. The commissioners did not grant the latter request. They were advised that the plane would be used to allow a milk run to be set up on Shoshone street between Second and Third streets and east and Main.

The latter is sponsored by the dairy industry in celebration of June dairy month.

Picnic Replaces Dinner for Club

Cancellation of a scheduled Chinese dinner and substitution of a picnic were the main items of business at the Exchange club dinner meeting Tuesday.

The Chinese dinner was canceled because arrangements could not be made to handle the large number planning to attend.

James Blak, club president, reported dinner programs would resume next week. The program chairman has secured speakers and special entertainment.

Also discussed were care and storage of flags the club displays on holidays and a proposed swimming party.

A thank-you letter from John A. Fick, member of Boys' state sponsored by the club, was also mentioned. Fick will report on Boys' state at a club meeting in July.

Air travel will nearly double by 1965

Progress in the West means... Jet airliners will carry twice as many passengers of the speed of conventional planes. Standard is getting ready now for 1965 when U.S. civilian and military demand for jet fuel will surpass aviation gas by more than 300,000 barrels a day.

Standard is "built" synthetic oils that stand up under both extremes. In less than five years these oils will be helping jet airliners whisk you safely to your destination, farther, faster, and more comfortably than ever before. We've been working toward that day since 1920 when Standard supplied the fuel used in the first jet flight in the United States.
