Retiring Atomic Energy Commissioner Scores Nuclear Preparedness Situation

WASHINGTON, June 28 (U.S. News)—Thomas E. Murray has fired a shot at a time when the administration is at last going through the motions of talking with the Russians about banning nuclear bomb tests and making atomic weapons.

This shot may not have been heard around the world but it got some attention in the capital. Murray's term is up Sunday as a member of the atomic energy commission. And President Eisenhower wouldn't re-appoint him.

Murray favors banning tests of huge nuclear weapons—like the big H-bomb exploded in 1954 with force equivalent to 15 million tons of TNT—but he wants no ban on testing or making smaller atomic weapons.

These, Murray says, are what this country will need by the tens of thousands in case of a limited nuclear war.

Jaycees End U. S. Confab

MILWAUKEE, June 28 (U.S. News)—The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce concluded its 37th annual convention yesterday in a flurry of action that included the election of officers and presentation of awards to chapters and individuals.

Charles E. Shriver, 34, an attorney from Shelbyville, Ind., was named president following a two-hour campaign battle before 6,000 young men and women in the Milwaukee arena.

Shriver, active in community affairs in his home town, failed by three votes to win a majority in the first ballot when he collected 1,339 votes. His opponents, William T. Blaser, Birmingham, S. C., and Larry Woodworth of Kent, Wash., received 812 and 752, respectively.

The election went to Shriver by 17 votes on the second ballot as the Minnesota delegation split its votes.

LAUGHTER OF MILLIONS

For many years reasonably reliable accounts emerging from Communist China have indicated that the Peiping government has been slaughtering millions of Chinese in the past. Probably few people outside China imagined confirmation of any part of this massacre ever would come from the Red regime itself. But it has.

In an official statement by the Chinese leader, Mao Tse-tung, on Feb. 27, which first came to light in Warsaw and was then broadcast from Peiping, the Communists acknowledged that in the first five years of their rule they liquidated 800,000 persons.

Since communists are always cavalier with the truth and reluctant to admit even the most modest sins, it is safe to assume that the actual figure comes to many times 800,000.

What kind of a "people's republic" it cannot assure its power except by grinding people into the dust? What kind of mass movement is it that rests upon massacre?

Mao says the killings stopped in 1954. Again, knowing communist regimes from the Russian example, we may question this statement. Killing never halts altogether in a tyranny, nor few "enemies of the state" are always turning up.

It is indeed possible, however, that the rate of slaughter has been drastically reduced. The first years of mass rule are inevitably hard ones, for opposition must be ruthlessly snuffed out.

According to the Red Chinese leader, mass murder has now given way to the gentler techniques of mass persuasion. To the communists is some something called "reform through labor." To free men the proper definition for this kind of coercion is slavery.

Moscow has employed it from the beginning, and Peiping evidently has learned the technique of mass rule. To the communists is some something called "reform through labor." To free men the proper definition for this kind of coercion is slavery.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is adamant against vague congressional proposals that supreme court justices be elected instead of appointed by the chief executive with the advice and consent of the senate.

The idea of a popular selection has been advanced as a result of the school segregation, communism and anti-labor legislation.

In fact, the main reason that he has "gripped" the attention of the public is that he is a liberal and his policies are the opposite of those of his predecessor, especially in the case of labor and civil liberties.

There is a strong feeling of criticism of his policies as "too liberal and negligent of precedent." These legal advisers have said that he has with the nation's lawyers and recognized legal organizations.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

It is the common complaint of the writing red-baiter that his plays and books are put to death by the literary reviewers. I would not wish to quarrel with this, but I would like to point out that this is not always true.

For example, I have written a play called "The Red Menace" which has been produced in many theaters and has been very successful. I have also written a book called "The Red Menace" which has been published by a leading publisher and has been very successful.

So, it is not always true that the literary reviewers put my work to death. Sometimes they put it to life.

That So!

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—After ten civilian and military industry representatives in Washington today agreed to accept a new plan for the production of aircraft, the industry representatives agreed to accept a new plan for the production of aircraft.

The plan, which was developed by the War Relocation Authority, provides for the production of aircraft in a more efficient and economical manner than the current system.

TEST OF JUDICIAL CANDIDATES—Under President Eisenhower's direction, the federal judgeships submitted to the American Bar Association. And last February, the association's standing committee on the federal judiciary reported its findings.

Its committee's relationship with the department of justice was never better.

In 1954, the committee, headed by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover and Truman, who appointed many federal judges for political reasons, has instructed Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., to advise the president on "qualifications and experience" of judges.

Base for Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Some of the judges who have followed that rule are still in office.

BARGAINS FOR MEN?

Dear To: I have been thinking about you for three years ago I used this column trying to bait the clothing merchants. We men never have a good day overall, but we have a bad day in the clothing store. No response from the establishment so I bought a pair of overalls.

Now after all this interval and climbing barbed wire fences for two years I need another pair of overalls so am watching the end of month sales for a bargain.

Some of the bargains I have seen are: a blouse, dress, lingerie, ladies shoes without tops, but no men's shoes or overalls. There is a lot of bargain in the bargain store, but the bargain in the bargain store is not the bargain in the bargain store.

It is the bargain in the bargain store.

BEES WARTIME WEAPON

Since Ancient Times

Many of the old-fashioned weapons of war have been replaced by modern weapons. But the bee, which has been used as a weapon of war since ancient times, is still a very effective weapon.

The bee is a very effective weapon because it is so small and so fast. It can fly through the air and sting its victim. It can also sting its victim in a very painful manner.

The bee is a very effective weapon because it is so small and so fast. It can fly through the air and sting its victim. It can also sting its victim in a very painful manner.

Petition Filed

A petition by Mrs. Fern C. Pridmore of Charles T. Prior, to determine his sanity and to have certain property declared common property was filed Thursday in Twin Falls Probate Court.

The property consists of the estate at Hansen.

The petition notes Mr. and Mrs. Prior were married in 1912 in Twin Falls. Mrs. Prior is represented by Fred Schwartz, Twin Falls attorney.

She claims heavy arm and illness protected their child by building a wall in the garden, between the house and the street, and attacking enemy. What she claims is that she was in the garden and saw the child being attacked by the enemy. She claims that she was in the garden and saw the child being attacked by the enemy.

APPROVAL BY SENATE—In another answer to mounting criticism of the high tribune's recent trends, the President has asked the Senate to approve first by the senate judiciary committee, and confirmed by the full senate. Both bodies, they point out, are controlled by the Democrats.

In defending the President's method of selecting these lifetime office-holders, who can be removed only by the impeachment process, William P. Rogers, deputy attorney general and the political expert in the department of justice, indicated that the White House is not warring against the senate.

"The high esteem in which the judicial branch of our government is held," he said, "is one of the foundations of our government in providing its tenure for federal judges."

Two major occasions when, for political reasons, attempts were made to undermine this constitutional provision only served to strengthen and add further justification to it.

In short, the President is completely satisfied with the "modern Republicanism" (and Democrats) at the eastern end of the political spectrum.

Chinese Reds See Division With Soviets

By The Associated Press

Recent developments indicate the Soviet bloc will refuse to be any more than a Chinese ally, says a statement that "contradictions" between ruler and ruled can exist in a communist-run society.

But there are signs of a real, underlying conflict, removed from the usual accusations of Marxist-Leninist interpretation. The Chinese have adopted a cautious means of underlining it and give the impression they want this developing break to be healed.

President Chou En-lai this week went down the line point by point for Soviet leadership in communist affairs around the globe.

Difference Stern

This speech, and events preceding it, appeared to point up a difference between Moscow and Peking over the extent of economic and other aid the Russians have given and are prepared to give to their important neighbor. This conflict is based on hard realities.

Major request for criticism took two birds with one stone. It showed the regime where the Soviet Union came from. It also brought out a charge of Soviet ingratitude in supporting the Chinese economically, while the red Chinese regime may pretend not to go along with this criticism, it is never the less a wound in the Russian's back.

Don't Want Development

The Russians are not too anxious to see rapid economic development in China. That would mean a million industrial plants of 600 million camps on Soviet borders, sharing or even overshadowing some industries in Asia and other underdeveloped areas.

Red China, with her economic and political conditions, is in no position to accept the aid of the Soviet Union. She must play second fiddle to Moscow. For its part, the Soviet Union must play second fiddle to China. This is the only way "socialism" has its own peculiar meaning.

There truly were a split along ideological lines you'd not expect Moscow to export the Mao embolism to the Chinese. The Soviet Union, a Soviet radio commentator named Ustak, in a broadcast to communist North Korea the day after the day, recommended Mao's idea to that regime in attacking its internal content.

The Soviet press has not come out with a solid opinion on Mao's "contradictions" statement. But it has printed the text and the Peking discussions, and it has indicated it considers the matter a serious threat to Marxist-Leninist theory.

Prison Farm Hit by Riot

PLEASANTON, Calif., June 28 (AP)—An uneasy calm set in today after a riot broke out at the Santa Rita prison farm, where 98 prisoners are in solitary confinement for leading a riotous riot.

The strike, which began Wednesday, erupted into violence yesterday when 60 prisoners went on a rampage, throwing tables and chairs, smashing windows. One prisoner used a knife to stab another.

Early yesterday, the prisoners turned an order to go to work into a complaint they wanted less pay on hot days, more meat and tea on hot days.

The riot occurred when Capt. James Dignan, boss of the prison, ordered the men to go to work or return to their barracks. Guards fired two tear gas bombs into the rebellious group to quell the disturbance.

A group of 60 suspected ringleaders was placed in solitary confinement. Sheriff Ralph Gleason said he would confer with the district attorney's office to see whether the prisoners should be charged with destroying county property or with malicious mischief.

The arrest was made by Chief Gillespie and State Police Lt. Clark Hand. Hand's men had spotted the man's car and trailer as it passed a point of entry station.

The arrest was made at 8:50 p.m. A local auto courier who had been spotted earlier by police.

The wire from Chief Parker stated the man will be extradited.

President Tells Team to Stay Calm on High Court's Ruling

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower has given his team the signal on the angry controversy now swirling around the supreme court. If the President has called a timid play, there is ample reason for that. Four of the justices are his men.

The word from the White House came this: Lay off the court. The words came at this week's news conference when Eisenhower asked for respect for the court's rulings—even those of criminal justice in federal courts which were difficult to understand.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., has moved quietly and cautiously in the weeks since the court's ruling on the federal courts' ruling in the case of the United States to rummage through them.

Brownell went to Capitol Hill today to testify before the senate judiciary committee on such proposed legislation. If he told the committee what federal prosecutors generally think of the court's ruling in the case, the legislators would get an earful.

Clinton K. Jencks was tried and convicted on a charge of falsifying an affidavit in which he swore he was not a communist. Jencks, a labor union leader, signed the affidavit under terms of the Taylor-Hartley act. The trial judge refused to permit Jencks' counsel to examine the FBI files on which the charge was based.

Leaders Plan Next Move in Dam Struggle

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Democratic supporters of a federal dam at Hells canyon prepared today to press for quick house action on the measure. Republicans, meanwhile, launched a campaign to defeat the bill.

The House Irrigation and Reclamation committee announced it will resume hearings on the measure next week. It also must be considered by the full interior committee before being sent to the house.

Democrats favoring the bill were bolstered in their efforts for quick action by the senate's passage of the measure last week. Rep. Clyde Doyle, D., Calif., chairman of the interior committee, said he thought the measure was "improved" by the senate action.

Republicans disagreed. Rep. Hamilton Bader said in a house speech that if the high federal dam is approved, congress will be forced to appropriate 100 million dollars annually for five consecutive years to finance the project.

Idaho's congressional delegation reported on their mail response to the senate vote. Democrats said their letters and wires were favorable to the action while Republicans said most of their correspondence opposed it.

Prospects for Soil Bank Are Said Brighter

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Prospects looked brighter today for continuing the soil bank program without major change next year.

A senate-house conference committee last night reached agreement on a compromise agriculture department measure which would provide for about $60 million for payments next year under the average reserve part of the soil bank program.

When the appropriations bill was passed by the house earlier this month, it provided for about $50 million for average reserve payments next year. The senate, however, voted to authorize $60 million for such payments—250 millions less than President Eisenhower requested. The conferees were said to have agreed the senate figure.

It remained to be seen whether the full house would backtrack from its original 182-167 vote to end average reserve payments after this year. The house will vote on the compromise bill after the fourth of July recess.

Only the barest details of the conference committee agreement were immediately available.

But it was reported the conferees agreed to slightly less than the $33,000,000 the senate voted for the agriculture department and government farm programs for the 1958 fiscal year starting next Monday. The house had approved a total of about $4 million more than the senate.

The soil bank program is divided into two parts—the average reserve and the lower reserve program.

The conferees were reported to have agreed on 325 million dollars for conservation reserve payments in 1958. This is 25 millions less than the senate voted, but 75 millions more than the house approved.

As for limitations on maximum soil bank payments to any one person, the conferees agreed to a cap of $5,000 as against $5,000 approved by the senate and $2,500 by the house.

Both senate and house bills provide $60 million dollars for average reserve payments in 1957.

New Fighters, Bombers Flit Across Korea

SEOUL, June 28 (AP)—American jet fighters and atomic bombers swept over South Korea today in a morale-building demonstration that underlined U. S. determination to match the communist military buildup in the north.

Your jet sweep-wing P-100 Superbombers flitted over Seoul from the south this morning and were greeted by delighted cheers and happy laughter from Koreans.

Civilian Watch
Two formations of B-27 twin-engine bombers roared over the city this afternoon. The people of this war-torn city, watching from streets and rooftops clapped hands and expressed delight at the groups of three planes each.

Today's jet fighters served as a dramatic demonstration to the reds in North Korea of the speed with which allied planes can be flown from Japan to Korea.

The P-100, based on Itazuka air base in southern Japan, have a radius of 1,000 miles and could fly the 400-mile round trip to Korea and back without refueling in Korea. It was the first time the Korean peninsula has been flown over by the B-27 although it was accustomed to the old F-86 Sabrejet which created havoc among the Russian-built MIG-15s during the war.

An "arms freeze" provision of the Korean armistice agreement prevented the allies from bringing in new planes to replace the obsolescent ones. But when the communists built up their own big air force and ground force in violation of the armistice, the allies decided to end it.

Tornado Causes Death in South

BROOKSVILLE, Miss., June 28 (AP)—One person was killed and an undetermined number were injured today by a tornado that swept out of the turbulent fringes of hurricane Audrey to strike this small New Orleans county town.

Mrs. John Wooten was killed and her husband and children were injured when the tornado attacked their home. The woman was scratched into the air and hurled. Wooten also was pitched off the ground for 100 yards, police said, but he was not believed to have been hurt seriously.

The tornado first touched down two miles southwest of this east-central Mississippi town where it ripped down eight houses.

Minutes later the twister vented its full force on this town of 100 people, located eight miles north of Macon on highway 45.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Bredtime any time of year is never a pleasant thing. They may be ever so weary, so weary they cry in utter frustration, but they are right off bedtime. It is a very long time of the long wait, light. People are still up and about, just trying while the children are forced to go to bed. Often they feel awake trying to hear what is going on even if they cannot be part of it.

It is the inextinguishable desire to be able to do things that drive them to stay on their feet long after that has become an effort. When the time comes and they cry the whole family is upset. When at last they are in bed, their thirst for sleep is unquenchable, and some body must serve those drinks, somebody who is quite as weary as the children but far from as eager to be doing.

What is one to do? Children must have long hours of rest. Crying and fussing is not conducive to rest. Why not lengthen the waiting day by putting the child to bed at a time that is 15 minutes to a half hour for a young one and as much as an hour for the older child? And then they sleep longer in the morning if they will.

Some of them will take a nap after lunch, some of them will take a nap to the quiet for an hour after lunch. In the latter case, the program of the record player or to listen to a story read aloud. Just resting in
