Dr. Reinstein to Quit Local Post For Health Unit

Dr. Cecil R. Reinstein, medical director at the south central district department of public health for the past three years, announced his resignation Tuesday. In a letter to Emerson Pugmire, chairman of the district board of health, Dr. Reinstein requested acceptance of his resignation effective Sept. 1. He also expressed his thanks to each member of the district board of health for cooperation, advice and understanding in... mutual efforts to administer a sound public health program.

DR. CECIL R. REINSTEIN

Dr. Reinstein said that his decision to give up the office as medical director was largely due to "the lack of a stable state health structure as well as continuous problems associated with a misinformed, unqualified and part-time health unit which operates in one area, and which is based on concepts which are foreign to good public health and modern preventive medicine."

Dulles said, indeed, the trend in the Soviet Union today is toward greater freedom. He said there are more revolutionary elements in communist China than in Russia. But he would make no flat predictions of revolution in either country, or when freedom would prevail over communism.

10-Month Ban Of Explosions Asked by U. S.

LONDON, July 2 (U.S. Press)—The United States today asked that a 10-month ban be placed on the use of nuclear weapons in the West for the purpose of ending production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes in 1959.

Harold E. Stassen told the U. N. disarmament subcommittee that the United States will agree to stop hydrogen bomb tests provided Russia and the United States can jointly agree to stop building hydrogen bombs.

The American delegate stressed that both phases of the agreement must be under effective inspection and control arrangements. He said that in the next few days he would outline to the subcommittee the precise manner in which they are to be carried out.

Stassen also made clear that the agreement on nuclear tests and nuclear weapons production should be part of a partial disarmament treaty which also would involve a reduction of conventional weapons, military manpower, aerial inspection zones and other measures.

Earlier the four Western members of the U. N. subcommittee issued a statement saying a Soviet offer to accept international inspection brings temporary suspension of hydrogen bomb tests "within the realm of possibility."

New Hospital Dedicated for Uses by State

Ways expressed for the health of the state.

"The program of this hospital and its amply beneficial service to our people must, and will be, sustained," he said. "Idaho had made great strides in conquering tuberculosis in the last 20 years."

He pointed out that the death rate from tuberculosis in the state in 1956 was 40.9 per 100,000 population, and this had been reduced to 10.1 TB deaths per 100,000 persons by 1956.

"And the rate for 1956 has been further reduced to 4.8 deaths per 100,000, making it one of the lowest rates in the nation," he added.

The governor said Idaho's record in control of tuberculosis could be attributed to "the high quality of care given at the tuberculosis hospital, as well as the case-finding program carried on through the efforts of the Idaho Tuberculosis association and the state board of health through the use of the mobile chest x-ray unit."

He said new methods of treatment had reduced the length of hospitalization for tuberculosis by nearly one half, so twice as many patients could be treated at the hospital.

Open house and public inspection of the new building was held from 3 to 9 p. m. under the direction of Harold Klobucher, business administrator of the hospital.

the people killed by the storm needed to die.

He said the weather bureau did a "superb" job of discovering, tracking and predicting the hurricane, which threw a devastating nine-foot tidal wave against Cameron, La. The death toll is expected to hit 500 by the time widely scattered bodies are recovered.

Peterson said it is "understandable" that many residents of the area did not respond to weather bureau warnings "because they're a pretty hardy breed of folks."

"But he deplored the needless deaths which resulted from the local feeling that 'it can't happen here.'"

"Nature can and will hit any place and every place," Peterson said. "We simply must get better organized."

Peterson said Eisenhower is very interested in the home-installed warning device which the civil defense administration is now testing.

He described the device as a "little thing" resembling an over-size double socket. He said a signal on power-lines triggers a horn or a siren from the gadget. That, he said, is a notice for residents to turn on their radios immediately for directions and information.

Peterson said civil defense expects to make a "final test" of the device and "then it will be ready to go."

He said he hopes that the warning gadget can be purchased for a "nominal price" of about $5 to $6.

St. Louis Area Hit by Floods

(By United Press)

The Meramec river rose toward a flood crest southwest of St. Louis today, and about 220 persons were housed by relief agencies in the county area.

Coast guardsmen were standing by with 20 boats for rescue operations if needed. Only one of five state highways leading southwest of St. Louis was open to traffic. Flood waters had closed the others.

The Meramec, ordinarily a recreational stream for St. Louisans, had been rising more rapidly than expected in the Valley park and Times beach area. At its peak it was expected to be 15 feet above flood stage.

Transportation routes closed in the area included U. S. 50 and a portion of Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The Pennsy routed its trains in the area over New York Central tracks.

To the west and north of the latest floor area, severe thunderstorm and tornado possibility warnings were issued by weathermen for parts of Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Profits Go up For Planters

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.S. Press)—Production of sugar beets and sugar cane was a more profitable venture for producers last year than in the previous year.

An agriculture department report today showed that producers of beets got an average of $11.90 a ton for last year's crop, which is now beginning to move to market in volume as processed sugar. The price averaged $11.20 the previous year.

Returns were supplemented by payments under the government sugar control program. These payments were $2.38 a ton for the 1956 crop and $2.31 for the 1955 crop.

Producers of sugar cane also got both higher prices and bigger government payments. They got an average of $8.07 a ton for 1956 crop cane compared with $6.51 for the 1955 crop. Payments increased from $1.11 in 1955 to $1.22 last year.

Top Security Officer Raps "Theft" Data

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The army's public information chief said yesterday he never heard of any secret information being purloined or stolen from military files.

Major Guy S. Meloy, Jr., made the statement in testimony before the house government information subcommittee, which opened a new phase of its inquiry into military information policies.

Hearings Resume

The hearings resumed after the release last week-end of a statement by Loyd Wright, chairman of an advisory commission on government security, backing the commission's recommendations for a new law providing stiff penalties for newsmen or others who break security secrets.

Wright listed 19 security leaks which he said have occurred during the past year. He did not name any of the publications involved except the magazine "Amerasia," two of whose editors were fined for having unauthorized information in 1945-46.

Representative Moss, D., Calif., chairman of the house committee, said in advance of the hearing that Wright was restating an "unsubstantiated indictment of the American press." Moss said the Los Angeles lawyer "has failed to supply documentary evidence to support his charges."

Didn't See General

General Meloy said in his testimony that Wright's commission never got in touch with him.

"Most interesting," Moss commented.

The general said it would be hard to determine whether some material appearing in print was obtained wrongfully from Pentagon sources. But he said a good many such stories were the result of "alert" and "intuitive" reporting.

Meloy said the army is busy on a program of taking material out of the secrecy classification, but he acknowledged it's a tough job.

"How to lick that backlog, I do not know."

William J. Donohue, chief of the army's security review office, said all the army's classified material is supposed to be looked over twice a year to see how much of it can be released.

Flu Outbreak Getting Study

GRINNELL, Ia., July 2 (AP)—Iowa health officials today studied the possibility that Asiatic flu was responsible for an epidemic of influenza that struck 200 youths attending an international religious conference.

The outbreak prompted officials of the state health department and of the Westminster fellowship's national assembly to disband the conference immediately yesterday and send some 1,800 teenagers home.

Dr. Albert McKee, director of the world health organization's regional information laboratory at Iowa City, said it probably will be a day or two before the type of virus can be isolated.

Several cases of Asiatic flu, which has struck thousands in oriental countries, have been reported along the coastal areas in the United States. However, this would be the first major outbreak of that type of flu in the Midwest.

Officials said only "a small percentage" of the 200 stricken youths, about 30 of them, would remain behind under doctors' care.

Official Avers Japanese Can Act on Girard

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., says Japan has the right to try army Spec. 3/c William S. Girard regardless of how the supreme court rules in the case.

Brownell asked the court to reverse a lower court decision barring the United States from turning Girard over to Japan for trial on manslaughter charges. The 21-year-old Ottawa, Ill., soldier is charged with the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman on an army firing range in Japan last January.

Girard, who is being held by the army at Camp Whittington near Tokyo, was married today to Haru (Candy) Sueyama, his Japanese sweetheart.

The United States agreed to let Japan prosecute Girard but Federal District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled the GI could not be turned over to the Japanese. The case has touched off demands both in and out of congress for an end to so-called "status of forces" agreements which regulate conditions under which American soldiers are tried by foreign courts.

In his brief Brownell urged the high court to reverse McGarraghy and free the United States to hand Girard to Japan.

He said "under the only acceptable rule of international law—the only one recognized by sovereign nations—the territorial sovereign has plenary jurisdiction and there is no immunity for visiting troops except to the extent that the local sovereign expressly or impliedly agrees."

$50,000 Cost Estimated for Deadly Blaze

MOSCOW, July 2 (AP)—It will cost $50,000 to repair fire-damaged Gault hall, the University of Idaho dormitory where three students died last fall in a blaze set by an arsonist.

The Hansen and Parr company of Spokane submitted that low bid for the work today. The university board of regents is expected to award the company a contract for the work next week.

Youth Convicted

Paul D. Matovich, 21, a freshman at the university, was convicted in April of setting the Oct. 19 fire in the men's dormitory. He is now serving not more than 25 years in the state penitentiary.

The fire-damaged portion of the building wasn't touched after the blaze because of its possible use as evidence during the trial. Other sections have been used.

Henry George and Sons, Spokane, and the Dunham Construction company, Moscow, submitted the joint bid of $259,877 for general construction work on the new 110-man George L. Shoup hall on the campus. Nine other bids were entered.

New Structure

The hall, named after Idaho's first governor and United States senator, will be built west of Gault hall and next to the new McConnell hall which is nearing completion.

Shoup hall is scheduled to be finished next summer.

Maxwell's, Inc., of Spokane submitted the low bid of $20,261 for the Shoup hall electrical work, and C. W. Wilderman company, Moscow, $55,535 for the mechanical work.

Stronger Effort Wanted for Dam

PORTLAND, July 2 (AP)—The Oregon State Labor council called on union locals and councils to redouble efforts to secure passage of the Hells Canyon dam bill by congress.

James T. Marr, executive secretary of the labor council and president of the Hells Canyon association, said in a letter "there is no reason why we cannot win the hour vote if we keep up the intensive efforts of the last few months."

The senate passed the bill last month. It would authorize federal construction of a dam at the Hells canyon site of the Snake river. It would flood out a three-mile project now being built by the Idaho Power company.

It submitted the low bid of $20,261 for the Shoup hall electrical work, and C. W. Wilderman company, Moscow, $55,535 for the mechanical work.

U. N. ENDS FAIRY TALE

Using its celebrated technique of the "big lie," the Soviet Union has sought systematically over the intervening months to warp and distort and finally to whitewash its cruel suppression last fall of the Hungarian revolt against Khrushchev.

According to Russia's copper-riveted myth, the allegedly "legal" Hungarian government of Janos Kadar "invited" the Soviet army into Hungary to restore order. Again, according to the official line, this army did no more than the bare minimum in using force to achieve that objective.

Repeated enough, this tale may well have begun to have some takers among gullible millions of neutrals and other uncommitted folk around the globe. Countless among these tend to take with a heavy dose of salt the accounts in Western newspapers which we accept as reliable.

But now the myth has been devastatingly blasted by the United Nations itself. All its prestige reinforces the withering indictment it lays against the Soviet Union in destroying, piece by piece, the Kremlin's fantasy in whitewash.

The report by a five-member U. N. committee said flatly that the Red army in crushing the revolt was "all-powerful, pitiless and unabashed by any shameful act." Some deeds of brutality it found so shocking it refused to detail them in the report.

The committee said the Hungarian uprising was a spontaneous internal rebellion not spurred by outsiders in any measure. It said the government set up as a result of the revolt was legal and had the support of the Hungarian people.

This government did not invite the Russian armed forces into Hungary. They came, said the U. N. group, at the instigation of the Kremlin. After they deposed the legal government, there was no successor government for a considerable period. In this interim, the investigators said, the Red army was Hungary's only government.

When the Kadar government was installed, it was not done in response to demand from the Hungarian people. It was an act dictated in Moscow.

This report—scrupulous, judicious, factual—ought to kill for all time a Soviet fairy tale that was designed to blot out of the world's memory one of the most ruthless suppressions in modern history. The U. N. has boldly etched the true story in indestructible stone.

AIRBASES IN SPAIN

In all the stir-over whether the United States would be able to bring to its big strategic airbases in the Middle East, it has been largely forgotten that important American installations have been under construction in Spain.

Jim Lucas, Scripps-Howard military correspondent, reports from Madrid that the United States is now almost ready to begin operations from these new bases on a limited footing.

He suggests that if we are ever compelled to send our big bombers loaded with nuclear explosives against the Soviet Union, they will most likely take off from our Spanish bases.

He details half a dozen base locations, including a combined port and naval air station at Rota on the Atlantic side of Gibraltar, designed to serve as the home port of the American sixth fleet.

Largest of the land bases is at Torrejon near Madrid. Costing 60 million dollars, its 13,400-foot runways are the longest in Europe.

The ability we have to strike hard against Russia with A-weapons is the chief deterrent to war. What we have nearly ready in Spain obviously increases the power of that deterrent.

CHAIRMAN BUTLER'S JOB

Paul Butler of Indiana has let it be known that he has no desire to stay on forever as chairman of the Democratic National committee. But he has made it equally clear that he has no intention of giving up the post now.

Butler has been popular with the national committee, by and large. He has kept it active. He has not allowed it to slump into rubber stamp functions between campaigns.

There are no great bonds of affection between national committee headquarters and southern Democratic congressional leaders. They would, no doubt, like to ease Butler out.

But it is now believed that Butler's likeliest move, and his smartest move politically, will be to stay on as chairman through the 1958 congressional elections, then quit a winner.

On such a schedule, the Democratic National committee would be free to name a new head man to run the 1960 convention which will nominate the party's next presidential candidate.

By 1959, after next year's elections, it should be a little clearer who the Democratic presidential candidates will be. That will make the naming of a new national committee chairman easier, too.

An Ohio woman lost a 10-dollar bill when she dropped it through a sewer grating. There went about five bucks' worth of groceries.

Why is it that so many people put off today what they know darn well they won't do tomorrow?

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The Byrd money inquiry promises to prove only that the problem of money, prosperity and depression is still as mysterious and unsolvable as it was when ancient man first abandoned barter for crude symbols of exchange, such as rare stones and primitive goods at a corner cave store.

Ray Tucker

Although the leading actors in the past have now appeared before the senate finance committee, no two agree on the cause of current high prices, or on a cure for present and prospective inflation. At most, a concave, however, that the administration's "tight money" policy, although it is the orthodox and classical solution for the current difficulties, has not been wholly successful.

Most radical development in the investigation is the thought that the federal reserve system, after more than a 40-year trial through two wars and a depression, has become increasingly ineffective in stabilizing the economy. There is just too much money outside the banking system, it appears, for the FRDA control of interest rates and bank reserves to exercise any real management of money and credit.

POLITICO-ECONOMIC FACTIONS CLASH—Several politico-economic factions are clashing on capital hill. Politics as well as high finance is involved because the complex question of money may become such a dominant issue in 1958 and 1960 that it will sweep all others off the stump.

Senator Byrd maintains that excessive government spending is largely responsible for today's troubles. In his opinion, it has increased the amount of money in circulation at the very moment that it reduces the totality of goods available to purchasers. Too many dollars are chasing too few commodities. This is the classic explanation for inflation.

TREASURY SECRETARY DEFENDS ADMINISTRATION POLICY—Secretary Humphrey replies that "Eisenhower prosperity" has resulted in a peak demand for money and goods that must be curbed by making both more difficult to obtain. Defending the administration's policy, he maintains that the cost of living would be even higher, if he had continued the "soft money" program of Roosevelt and Truman. William McChesney Martin, Jr., head of the federal reserve, agrees with the secretary of the treasury. Indeed, there are reports that the "Fed" may try to restrict the supply of money still further by raising the discount rate and dampening an increase in bank reserves.

As against both the Byrd and Humphrey schools, Edwin G. Nourse believes that prices are fixed in the "marketplace," not by the government. Truman's chief economic adviser blames inflation on both labor and management through their almost exclusive control of wages and prices. It urges restraint on all segments of the economy as a basic cure.

LABOR UNION'S POWER—The unions' power, he says, has become so irresistible that management does not dare to reject their demands, even though it means no increase in production of goods for sale. But management passes the cost of latter envelopes on to consumers.

As a result of the escalator clauses in union contracts, which ties wages to prices, a vicious inflationary cycle results, in his opinion. Soon, almost a million workers will get increases of four cents an hour. Assuming that they work 40 hours a week, that will mean an additional annual purchasing power of almost 100 million dollars. And steel prices will go up 60 a ton, meaning a parallel increase in the cost of almost every other product.

The steel industry is usually the barometer for both wages and prices.

IDEAS OF LIBERAL AND LABOR ECONOMISTS—The liberal and labor economists seem to want a persistent but gradual inflation, regarding it as a needed infusion in the stream of money. They also insist that management should absorb wage boosts by reducing profits without increasing prices. Moreover, like Nourse, they argue that industry should relieve pressure on the money market by financing expansion from reserves rather than new issues of stocks and bonds.

Naturally, this faction consists of extreme New Dealers, such as: Leon Keyserling, who succeeded the more conservative Nourse as Truman's economic adviser; Walter P. Reuther, UAW president; Robert Nathan, head of Americans for Democratic Action; Professors Alvin Hansen and Seymour Harris of Harvard. They look upon both Byrd and Humphrey as "old fogies."

VIEW OF OTHERS

YOU SCRATCH MY BACK . . .

Wednesday morning the Statesman carried a Washington story which was a brief resume of the praise heaped on Idaho's Senator Frank Church after his "maiden" speech on the Hells canyon dam. We have read the entire several pages of this senatorial back-patting, a copy having been received by airmail special delivery from one of Mr. Church's assistants who suggested that we should print it all. The approximate four newspaper pages required were not reasonable, and besides we don't want our new press all goosed up with that kind of silly palaver.

Mr. Church is the youngest member of the United States senate. Some time he had to make his first major speech. And whatever it would have been, the same old senate bunk would have been passed and forth. That's the way this exclusive club operates. In this case the members don't pay any dues. That is left to the taxpayer along with the bill for the waste space in the Congressional Record.

Mr. Church was likened to Senator Borah, and better than Senator Morse as an orator, and several other things. We imagine he enjoyed the senatorial gushing to the hilt since senators seem to develop their ego from such compliments. We would go along with the compliment except that we remember not long ago, when Senator Joe McCarthy died, these same hypocritical senators were lauding him as a great guy. Natch. He was a senator and even though some of the Jazzy minds seemed to recall something or other that Jazzy had done, or said, that had not been complimentary material in death he was a great man. He was a senator. But no man was ever so quick to quit as neatly as United States senators crisscrossed the country.

Whatever applause is due Mr. Church is due to be summarized for destiny at this early time. And the real evaluators of his maiden speech are not in the United States senate. They are out here in Idaho, in the fields, irrigating their crops with water they have been guarding at headgates Mr. Church promised to protect when he sought office. The opinion out here is that he did his best to sell his state, and his people, down the river to Oregon and Washington. That effort may generate praise in the United States senate. Idaho is yet to be heard from.—Boise Statesman.

SONG OF THE NEW WEST

Out in Minden, Neb., a model of a nineteenth century Western village is attracting tourists in droves. They come to see the West as it used to be. There is a sod house, Buffalo Bill's saddle, a collection of firearms and ox carts.

The West has always been fascinating to Americans. Consider, for example, the popularity of the cowboy movies on TV, and the kids who still play cowboy and Indians through your favorite flower patch.

Much of this is nostalgia for freer and more exciting days. But increasingly there is less of the West to see outside of the movies and museums. Urbanization and population growth is one reason. But there's another. A lot of what used to be the land "where the buffalo roam" has now become what a current song calls "the land of the ole AEC"—"where the scenery's attractive, and the air is radioactive." The atomic energy commission and the military are doing more shooting and blasting in a very wild West these days than any number of cowboys and Indians could do.

What, does today's Eastern cowboy pursue himself as he dreams of going back West? The song expressed the longing of one of them: "Mid the success and the thrills, I'll watch the guided missiles, while the FBI watches me."

Who needs six shooters and cowboys and Indians for excitement in much of the modern West?—Milwaukee Journal.

POT SHOTS

ANOTHER TRY

Dear Potso:

I think "Bill Trying" is working on a hopeless situation in trying to get a four-day week-end this summer. Those things are pretty hard to arrange, although it's possible to get a three-day week-end now and then.

But that idea generated another idea that might be worth some consideration. Take this matter of vacations. The people who take theirs early get to feeling at the end of summer like they never had one. And those who take a vacation late are just as pooped out by the end of summer that two week's isn't long enough to recuperate.

And besides that, everyone has to work lots harder all summer because vacations make you shorthanded and someone else has to take up the slack.

So why not get all vacations over during one month—say July. Half of the people who get vacations can take off during the first two weeks of July and the other half vacations during the last two weeks of July. That way the whole blamed thing would be out of the way in a month instead of dragging on and on. Of course, this means everyone would be working their heads off all during July or else vacationing.

FAMOUS LAST LINE
"Hi, rabbit!" "Hi, fanatik!"
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When critics start kicking foreign aid around for being a give-away, they frequently overlook half a dozen of the smaller programs which do the greatest good.

All are so little publicized that they are not usually identified with the U. S. mutual security program.

As Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon points out, three-fourths of the 3.6-billion-dollar foreign aid program approved by the senate and now before the house goes for military assistance and defense support. This contributes to free-world security, but it is for destructive weapons.

By contrast, the one-fourth of foreign aid broadly classified as economic assistance is constructive in nature. It includes the proposed new 600-million-dollar development loan fund, 250 for presidential emergency funds, 150 million for U. S. technical assistance, and 145 million for non-regional projects.

Included in this last category are the U. S. atoms-for-peace program, the free-world malaria eradication program, international children's welfare aid for Hungarian refugees and other migrants and escapes from iron curtain countries, foreign freight payments for private foreign relief shipments, U. S. guarantees for private American investments overseas and cooperation on U. N. technical assistance.

The atoms-for-peace program, launched by President Eisenhower before the U. N. in 1953, will cost an estimated seven million dollars in the fiscal year 1958. Thirty-four countries are now cooperating with the U. S. on this effort.

It provides for training foreign nuclear scientists in the United States and for U. S. payment of one-half the cost—but not over $250,000—to any country desiring to build its own research reactor.

Sixty nations are cooperating on the five-year campaign to wipe out malaria. This disease afflicted 200 million people last year and caused two million deaths. The American contribution to eradicating malaria is estimated at 23 million dollars for next year.

United Nations international children's emergency fund—UNICEF—started at the end of the war, last year reached 37 million of the 600 million children in the world who lack adequate food and medical protection. This aid was extended through 31 centers in 98 different countries.

The U. S. contribution for the coming year has been set at 11 million dollars.

For the resettlement of escapees from communism, other refugees, migrants and stateless persons, a U. S. contribution of 30 million dollars has been asked of congress for 1958.

This includes: 5.5 million for U. S. aid to escapees; 2.5 million for the U. N. refugee fund—UNREF—which is trying to move people out of refugee camps; 12.5 million for inter-governmental committee on European migration—ICEM—which is trying to resettle emigrants from overpopulated countries; 10 million dollars for Hungarian refugees. Last year the U. S. spent 40 million on Hungarian refugee movement alone.

The United States cooperates with 30 other countries in the United Nations technical assistance program—UNTA. The U. S. will contribute about 15 million dollars of the 35 million budgeted for this work next year.

UNTA recruits technical experts from all over the world for service in the less-developed countries. This helps reduce the drain on American technicians for foreign service.

The ocean freight program provides 22 million dollars to pay transportation costs on relief shipments sent overseas by U. S. religious, charitable and welfare organizations.

The investment guarantee program's purpose is to protect American investors in foreign enterprises from loss through political expropriation. Its administrative costs are only $25,000 a year. But guarantees have been written on over 500 million dollars' worth of investments in 31 foreign countries.

Wheat Supports Rate Unchanged
WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP) — The agriculture department announced yesterday the support rate for this year's wheat crop will remain unchanged from the $2 a bushel average at the farm set tentatively a year ago.

The department explained that a redetermination of the rate—based on prices and supply and demand conditions as of the start of the 1957-crop marketing year Monday—showed that the $2 rate more than met the requirements of the flexible price support law governing the grain.

Sentence Delayed
Sentencing of Merle V. Mooney, charged with issuing a check without funds in the bank, was postponed until a later date. The man was placed on probation yesterday in Twin Falls district court.

Mooney was arrested in January by Twin Falls city police after giving a bad check to the C. C. Anderson company store, Twin Falls. He had previously pleaded guilty to the charge.

McLemore Ends Search, Finds Ideal 'Sport' for Middle-Ager

BY HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The search for the perfect game for the out-of-shape middle-aged man has been of great interest to me ever since I became one.

On my travels, here and abroad, I have been constantly on the look-out for a sport which would suit those of us who are past tennis but not quite yet ready for Chinese checkers.

None of the traditional games is precisely suitable. Spain's bullfighting would amount to human sacrifice for a man over forty. France's bicycling would kill off its double chinners like flies. Switzerland's mountain climbing would be nothing more than suicide with edelweiss, and even that country's second sport, modeling, is a bit on the strenuous side.

American football or baseball is out of the question, even if we played it as it is now played in the Ivy league. India's tiger hunting is out only because middle-aged men look extremely ridiculous in pith helmets.

Japan's judo is strictly for retarded adults and while China's kite flying has tremendous appeal, it can only be played on windy days.

I had just about decided that there wasn't such a thing as an ideal sport for the 40-50 age group when—bingo!—I found it.

Bingo. That's the game for the likes of us—the game without a flaw. Of course, I had heard about it, and often played it years and years ago when it went under the name of lotto. I believe, but it was not until I joined the army in Germany (to write about it, not to drill with it) that I rediscovered bingo.

The officers and the NCO's play it at their clubs once a week and it draws big crowds. There are all sorts of prizes, including that popular commodity, money, and winners often go home with cash in their pockets and cameras and vacuum cleaners in their car trunks.

The game has everything, starting with excitement. Point set at tennis, or a five-foot putt for all three ways of a Nassau, gives a player no more heart thumps than to need only one number to win a cover-all bingo game. I once needed only 37 to walk away with a carving set, a handsome camera, a set of hand-painted dishes, and a boxer pup. I liked to have died as the announcer called B after B but kept skipping the number seven.

It's a game of skill, too. Playing four, five, and six boards at once is no job for the inept and the sluggish. The boards are much more efficient than when the game is lotto. We played with grains of corn and a man had to be a combination magician and acrobat to keep the corn from sliding off. And once a grain slid off, you were finished.

There's just the proper amount of exercise in a fast, sharp, keenly contested game of bingo. The eyes are rolling steadily, focusing now on the "1" row, now on the "O" row. The hands are never idle, and that means the arms are busy, also, being as the hands are fastened to the ends of the arms.

Bingo is a great developer of good sportsmanship. The nature reaction is to take the you-know-what of the person who yells "Bingo!" especially when he sells it in that happy, triumphant voice bingo winners always use. Gradually one learns to conceal this out-and-out hatred and smother it in smiles toward the victor, using such nice (if empty) phrases as, "Glad it was you, old man," and "Good work. Now win the next one." Of course, if he did win the next one, there is no telling what you might do!

WHY THE WEST IS SWITCHING TO MERCURY/57

LEADER IN ITS FIELD BY LATEST FIGURES*

New car registration figures for the month of April prove something we've anticipated all along. The big, beautiful '57 Mercury is now tops in this area in its price class!

Surprising? Not in the least! This year, of all years, the Big M has so much more of everything sought by drivers here in the West. Mercury's styling is fresh, distinctive; reflects nothing of the past or of any other car—harmonizing with every idea of Western living at its best.

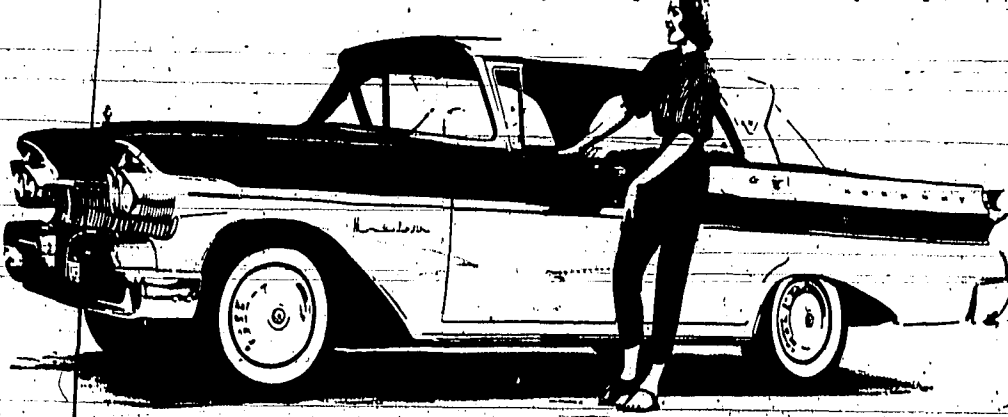

Handling qualities? Western drivers prefer Mercury's flat, "geared to the road" performance—over the open highway or on hairpin, mountain curves. They welcome Mercury's stretchout roominess and interior luxury, making a constant pleasure drive out of every mile of road.

Exclusive Keyboard Control provides amazing handling ease in big-city bumper-to-bumper traffic . . . in tight parking situations. Finally, our customers go for Mercury's sturdy construction and deep-chested power, assuring complete comfort and command anywhere—on super-highway or back country ranch road.

All these features add up to top value—a more-for-the-money car—especially when you figure the deals we're making right here in town. Now is the time, while we're trading high to make your move to the proven favorite—Mercury/57. See us today!

Supreme Court May Toss Out Any Law Passed by Congress to Close FBI Files

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—It said a defendant has a right to be entitled to see them—reports in there's a good chance the supreme court will throw out any law passed by congress now to keep a defendant on trial from seeing FBI files pertaining to his case.

The court—ruling in the case of Clinton E. Jencks, in June—said interpreting the supreme court's decision requires no less than that in varying ways, might give a defendant the files if they defendants wide latitude in search contain information bearing on the case.

Any looking through FBI files will be done by the trial judge, not by the defendant. If the judge finds anything that will help the defendant, he can let the defendant see it.

If the government refuses to let the defendant see it—after the judge says he can—the judge can strike out all the testimony by a witness who supplied the secret information or declare a mistrial.

But the supreme court in the Jencks case clearly said—and it's hard to see how the court can reverse itself on this point—that because only the defense is adequately equipped to determine the effective use for the purpose of discrediting the government's witness and thereby furthering the accused's defense, the defense must initially see the files.

It was traditional, but not a law, that a defendant—himself couldn't see the FBI files. It was also traditional, but not a law, that he could ask the trial judge to look at them.

The reason: If the judge found anything in the files that might help the defendant, or discredit the witness, he could let that part of the FBI file become part of the evidence and therefore open to the defendant.

Jencks' lawyers asked the trial judge to do that. He refused. Jencks was found guilty and appealed to the supreme court. The court threw out his conviction. The ruling it gave is what upset the FBI and justice department.

The court said a defendant—not the judge—had a right to the first look at the FBI files. The court didn't say the defendant had a hunting license to roam at will through the files.

Shortage of Teachers Is Seen for '57

PHILADELPHIA, July 2 (AP)—The president of the National Education association estimated yesterday the nation will be short at least 150,000 teachers when school opens next fall.

Martha Shull, Portland, Ore., cited an NEA report showing the schools lacked 120,000 teachers last fall according to NEA standards of 25 pupils per high school teacher and 30 per elementary teacher.

She said the tendency for states and local governments is to put their money into federally-aided projects because under these programs they have to spend only part of a dollar for every dollar's worth of construction.

"If the budget cutters defeat or postpone federal aid for school construction," she said, "any good effect or reduced taxes would be short-lived. It would be an irreparable sacrifice of the educational equipment of youth now in the public schools."

Youth Calls Fine Fastest $5 Loss

An 18-year-old Hansen youth, William J. Houston, told Judge J. C. Humphrey he was apprehended by state police and cited for failure to have a registration in his vehicle when he was spotted "peeling off" at an intersection.

The youth was fined $2 and costs for failure to have a registration in his possession. He was cited by State Policeman M. J. Snyder.

The judge warned him that he had better be careful in the future or he would find himself walking.

When he appeared in court late Monday afternoon Judge Humphrey asked Houston how the law officer happened to check his registration. Houston said he had been caught "peeling off" at an intersection. He did not explain the maneuver. He did tell the judge "this is the fastest $5 I ever lost."

Reports Given

Reports on camp were given when the Buoy 4-H bees met Monday at the Shamrock school lunchroom.

Carol Puller gave a demonstration on fitted facings. During the business meeting, members decided to help the cerebral palsy school. Plans are discussed for a swim and slumber party.

The next meeting will be held at 2 p. m. July 14 at the Shamrock lunchroom.

Going Home

WELLS, Nev., July 2—A couple of teenagers from Dayton, O., are believed on their way home after an episode which ground to a halt when funds ran out at Wendover, Utah.

The pair, 16 and 17, used the girl's mother's car for their elopement and when they ran out of funds at Wendover, Thursday they drove away from a service station without paying for a tankful of gasoline.

After a chase, they were caught in Wells and held while parents were contacted. The girl's mother sent them money to pay for the gasoline in Wendover and to get them home.

Ruling by Idaho Judge Reversed

BOISE, July 2.—The Idaho supreme court ruled 3-2 yesterday that a judge does not have authority to commute a prison sentence in a term of years less than the maximum prescribed under Idaho's intermediate sentence law.

The state had appealed from the judgment of Kootenai county District Judge Clay V. Spear in the case of Wallace Witzel, who pleaded guilty to first degree burglary. Spear sentenced Witzel to a term not to exceed 15 years and then commuted this to five years and gave him credit for time spent in the Kootenai County Jail.

The court, by a majority of three, held that the judge had no authority to commute the entire sentence and then give Witzel a sentence in the county jail instead, but did not have authority to lessen his prison term.

Amendment Eyed

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The house yesterday passed, and sent to the President for signature, an amendment to the law under which Idaho was admitted to the union in 1890.

The amendment would permit Idaho to use revenues from public lands for construction, repair and other permanent improvements of public buildings.

Free Shower

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 2.—A 5,000-gallon water tank atop the Claridge hotel overflowed Sunday night and sent a stream down 16 flights of a stairway.

An automatic control on the tank failed. It took more than an hour to find someone who knew how to shut off the pump. By that time, water was two inches deep on the lobby floor.

Cadillac

America At Its Bountiful Best!

You are looking, as you surely know, at a magnificent motor car—beautiful, luxurious, substantial and inspiring.

But you are also looking at tangible proof of the bountiful land that is America!

Certainly, for instance, no one could behold a Cadillac without gaining new respect for our freedom to create and to produce. For where but from America could there come a motor car so rare in beauty or so marvelous in quality and luxury?

Surely, no one could take the wheel of a Cadillac without appreciating our nation's industrial skill and progress. For where but from America could there come a motor car so fine in performance?

And most assuredly, no one could hear the practical facts about Cadillac without marveling at our nation's well-being. For where but in America could so prized a personal possession be brought within the economic range of so many?

We think it appropriate, therefore, to pay tribute to these precious American virtues—and to express our own gratitude at having been privileged to put them to such extraordinary use.

And we should also like to take this opportunity of personally inviting all America to see and inspect its "ambassador at large".

You will find that the 1957 Cadillac, with its luxurious Fleetwood coachcrafting, is the finest "Standard of the World" ever created. And you will also find that this is the perfect moment, from the standpoint of both delivery and economy, to make the move to Cadillac.

Ham, Chicken Top Lists for Holiday Meal

By The Associated Press

Firecrackers have been replaced by municipally sponsored displays of fireworks in many American communities, but one traditional aspect of the Fourth of July celebration—chicken or ham for dinner—will still be honored this week.

Broilers and fryers will be featured in many of the nation's grocery markets and neighborhood supermarkets, along with smoked and canned hams. The theory behind the offerings of chicken and ham is that they can be served either hot or cold, indoors or out.

More Turkeys

The possibility of getting extra meat may be the reason behind larger-than-usual offerings of turkey on the eve of a holiday.

Some stores will tempt the housewife with special prices on barbecue items such as frankfurters and cube steaks, or sandwich fillers like bologna and other cold cuts.

Potato salad, a staple at many a holiday meal, puts little strain on the housewife's pocketbook this year. California long beans and Virginia are available in good numbers at prices which make them an outstanding buy. Escarole and chloery are in the same category, along with new, bunched beets from nearby fields, new green cabbage and green or yellow squash.

Lettuce Is Good Buy

Lettuce is rated as a good buy this week, although showing a wide range in quality and condition which calls for careful selection by the shopper. Other salad staples such as tomatoes, onions, cucumbers and peppers are moderately priced.

Other vegetables in the good buy range in most places include snap beans, celery and sweet corn in areas where it is available from nearby farms.

Watermelons, a traditional part of the Fourth of July picnic, are available at exceptionally low prices right now. Blueberries also are a very good bargain.

Other berries—raspberries, gooseberries, dewberries, blackberries and the like—are more moderately priced except where they're from local fields. Good buys are still to be had in Florida oranges and grapefruit, California oranges and some types of plums from California.

U. S. Loosens Rules on Aid

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The United States has loosened usual terms of control in the grant of some 30 million dollars worth of aid to Jordan, administration sources said today.

U. S. officials had no other choice as long as they wanted to help pro-Western King Hussein. The young monarch needed aid desperately but could not risk the political consequences of seeming to take American aid "with strings attached."

For that reason, the United States gave the pivotal Arab kingdom 20 million dollars in economic aid without making it all down to specific projects, as has been the practice in the past.

For the same reason, the administration granted Jordan 10 million dollars in military aid without asking that Hussein accept a U. S. military mission to see how the aid is used, the sources added.

The dispatch of military observers to Jordan has been a standard feature of American assistance abroad.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's refusal to accept such a mission was one of the main reasons cited for the collapse of plans for U. S. military aid to Egypt in 1954.

Gator Kills Florida Lad

EAU GALLIE, Fla., July 2 (AP)—An 11-foot alligator which killed a 9-year-old boy playing beside a creek was caught and destroyed here yesterday by conservation agents.

Agents said they found the big reptile near where the mangled body of little Allen Rice was found Sunday and the gator was killed.

The boy's father bitterly declared that "if anyone tries to use legal means to keep us from cleaning the gators out of Horse creek I'm afraid they will have almost every man in Grand View Shores to prosecute. We intend to get rid of those beasts."

Wildlife officers warned that the reptiles are protected throughout the year in Brevard county and that only the state game and fresh water fish commission is charged with destroying dangerous alligators.

ICE CREAM SODAS HOME STYLE

Into a large glass put about 1/2 cup of crushed sweetened fruit—strawberries, raspberries, peaches, apricots, pineapple, or about 1/4 cup syrup—gheraine or maple for example; then two tablespoons of ice cream. Mix the syrup or fruit with the ice cream. Almost fill glass with chilled sparkling water. Stir. Add a scoop or two of ice cream. Add more sparkling water to fill to top of glass. Add straws and serve.

Different flavors of ice cream can be used by way of variation—the choice depending upon syrup, sauce or crushed fruit used.

Remember too, Idaho ice cream is EXTRA good.

Court Divides Legal Verdict Over 'Comma'

BOISE, July 2 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court split 3-2 yesterday over an omitted "and" and an inserted comma.

An issue was a 1943 amendment of a section of state law outlining powers of a judge under the state's indeterminate sentence law.

It originally said a judge could "commute the sentence and confine the defendant in the county jail, or take certain other actions. As amended, it said he would "commute the sentence, confine the defendant in the county jail, or take the other actions."

District Judge Clay V. Spear sentenced Wallace Witzel, who pleaded guilty to first-degree burglary, to a term not to exceed 15 years in the state penitentiary, but commuted this to five years.

State Appeals

The state appealed, saying the state's indeterminate sentence law did not give the authority to commute a prison sentence to a term less than the maximum.

The majority opinion of the court, written by Justice James W. Porter, adopted this view. Porter said the judge had authority to commute the entire sentence and mete out a term in the county jail instead, but not to levy a lesser prison sentence.

With Justices C. J. Taylor and Henry McQuade concurring, he said the omission of the "and" and insertion of the comma were evidently clerical errors. The 1943 legislature restored the original wording.

Two Dissent

Chief Justice William D. Keelon, with Justice E. B. Smith joining him in his dissent, said this amounted to "usurping the powers of the legislature." He said the lawmakers evidently intended to give judges authority "to lessen a penitentiary sentence from that prescribed by law."

Under the indeterminate sentence law, the judge pronounces the prescribed maximum penalty for an offense, but the actual term of years to be served is in the discretion of the board of pardons and paroles.

FHA Terms to Be Relaxed if Law Is Signed

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Down payments on new homes are about to be cut drastically. It was reported today. This should touch off a home-buying and building spree, according to industry sources.

Congress yesterday completed action and sent to the White House a bill authorizing sharp reductions in down payments required on government-insured mortgages.

The White House and federal housing officials were understood to be generally satisfied with its terms. It was expected to be signed quickly and the lower down-payment minimums put into effect promptly.

If it is done it would mean the minimum down payment on a $10,000 house would go down from the present $700 to $300.

Home builders would not be required to reduce down payments to the lower figures. But statements of industry leaders indicated most probably would make haste to do so.

George S. Goodyear, president of the National Association of Home Builders, said many thousands of families have been "squeezed out of the housing market" because they could not afford down payments under the old law.

Cutting for quick White House action, he said the bill provides "the kind of reasonable FHA down payment terms that prospective home buyers all over the country have been demanding."

Some housing industry circles were concerned that some administration advisers might be cool to the lower down-payments for fear of expanding credit buying further and adding fuel to inflationary fires.

Hungary Hit by Polio Outbreaks

VIENNA, July 2 (AP)—A polio epidemic is raging in northern Hungary, according to reports reaching here today.

The official Hungarian news agency MTI refused to confirm reports that 500 cases were registered within the last weeks. However, the Budapest newspaper, Napi Hírlap, said that health authorities have barred children from Budapest swimming pools "to prevent a further spreading of the disease."

Don't Shoot!

MANILA, July 2 (AP)—A Chinese immigration detainee was back in jail today because he didn't like the idea of being shot at. Ten Ban Chuan, 30, escaped from the city jail during the week-end with some other prisoners, but returned within 24 hours. He said he had heard that police chief Col. Teodoro Tenorio had ordered his men to shoot to kill to recapture the escapee.

Government Farm Surpluses Decline

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The agriculture department reported yesterday that its investment in government farm surpluses declined about 10 percent during the 12 months ended May 31.

The investment totaled $7,645,075,000 on that date, compared with $8,500,534,000 on the same day last year. This was the lowest level of investment in 20 months.

The decline reflected broad department efforts to reduce surpluses, largely through cut-price sales abroad. The reduction was accompanied by record high losses estimated at $1,153,516,000 for the 11-month period ended May 31.

Visits Reported

DECLO, July 2—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hogg, Kimberly, Nev., have been visiting Mrs. Julia Ballard. Mr. and Mrs. Devere Richins, Long Beach, Calif., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Richins. Mr. and Mrs. George Shrenk have returned from Colfax, Wash.

Rachel Lewis is visiting her brother, R. H. Lewis, and attending the wedding of her nephew, Donald Lewis, and Barbara Ann Shotmiller, in San Jose, Calif.

Case Demands Rule Changes On Filibuster

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case likened senate filibusters today to "the medieval practice of trial by ordeal" and urged the senate to end them.

The New Jersey Republican made the comparison in testimony prepared for a senate rules subcommittee studying proposals for changes in the senate's anti-filibuster rule.

In a similar statement, Americans for Democratic Action urged "majority rule" in the senate.

Case said "a handful of senators can utterly frustrate the senate's will—can prevent it from performing its fundamental constitutional duty to legislate." He said the "mere hint of the possibility" of a filibuster has kept the senate from acting "time and again."

He called it "degrading beyond measure" that one branch of a civilized nation's highest legislative body should have to break a filibuster "through physical exhaustion" before it can act.

"The form of the United States is the only place I know of where the medieval practice of trial by ordeal still survives," Case said.

Case and John J. Günther, legislative representative of ADA, urged adoption of a filibuster curb which would permit two-thirds of senators present and voting to order an end to debate after two days. A majority of the full senate could order a vote curb after 15 days.

Plastic Sheetting Is Success In Making Bag-Like 'Silos'

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—You may confidently look forward to rapid and drastic changes in the rural landscape. Scientific technology is about to move across it with giant bags which have some resemblance to an old-fashioned tobacco pouch, but are many thousands times larger.

These bags, agricultural scientists predict, will soon dot country horizons as silos dot them now. Indeed, they're going to replace silos eventually, the prediction is. "The reason is that they are so to speak, a better mousetrap."

The bags are made of vinyl plastic sheeting and come in two sizes, one that contains 40 tons of silage, the other 80 tons. They were developed at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, Rutgers university, and they now have passed exhaustive tests at 33 agricultural experiment stations around the country.

According to agricultural scientists, this technological change is assured by the economics of dairy and meat animal farming. "These animals are fed with 'forage' in the growing seasons they go and get it themselves, in pastures. In winter, the farmer must provide it, either by silage stored in the from the hay he has grown, cut, baled and stored, or from the stuff he has in his silo.

Scientists figure four acres of hay equals three acres of silage in what it does in keeping animals healthy and growing. Their tests show cows are bored by an all-hay diet, but they love good silage and gain weight on it.

In hay-making, the loss of digestible nutrients is 15 to 20 per cent. But in silage-making, it is only 10 to 15 per cent. Hay is hay but silage can contain corn, alfalfa, sorghum, oats, wheat clover and other things with cow-appetite appeal.

However, if fermentation gases are not allowed to escape from the newly stuffed silo and the outside air is not kept out, the silage spoils and the farmer has lost a considerable part of his labor in putting it up. Conventional silos are not efficient. In that regard, so farmers rely more on hay-making than on silage-making.

Experiments have shown that vinyl plastic allows the gas to keep out but prevents the outside air from seeping in. The tests have shown that the silage stored in the bags is negligible.

Mason, Buhl, Idaho, in double ring ceremonies Saturday afternoon at the Buhl Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Stanton McGlenny performed the rites. Mrs. Leonard Leth played wedding music on the organ. She accompanied by Ann Lee, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor-length gown of nylon lace over tulle and a long fitted bodice, short scalloped sleeves and a scalloped neckline edged with seed pearls. The waistline came to a point in the back adorned by a row of lace covered buttons. The hemline of the full skirt was scalloped also.

Litterbugs Will Scatter Tons Of Refuse on Nation's Roads

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That America's motorizing litterbugs are estimated, will strewn 100,000 tons of trash on major highways this holiday week-end, or enough to cover a two-lane road a foot deep for 427 miles.

That Mrs. Segal, a coffeehouse authority, says short hair makes you look younger. But not when (like mine) it gets so short a near-sighted stranger might think you're bald.

That the Vatican, the Pope's residence, is the largest palace in the world.

That aluminum is the most abundant metal in the earth's crust, except in the Pentagon, where brass comes out on top.

That it takes 10 minutes to toast an ostrich egg for proper flavor. This explains why hurried motorists rarely have them for breakfast.

That 15 million American men last year smoked 64 billion cigars. And if you have trouble keeping your cigar lit, you might recall that novelist Joseph Heller wrote, "It (a cigar) will refuse to burn for blatherers and contentious men."

That the six countries of western Europe today produce more corn than was mined in the whole world a century ago. Yet this year they will have to spend two billion dollars to import wheat to supply their energy needs.

That you're probably well read yourself if you know which country has the highest literacy rate. Give up? ... It's Finland—99 per cent.

That the taro, a vegetable popular in Cuba, gives a greater yield per acre than potatoes and has up to 10 times the caloric value of rice. If U. S. families keep getting larger we may need the taro to cut down on food costs.

That Irwin H. Kramer has this sign posted in his Hotel Edison office here: "If you wake up and find yourself a success, you haven't really been sleeping."

That a professional gambler can often detect loaded dice by the sound they make when they hit the table. Unless, of course, he's rolling his own.

That you deserve a merit badge in ornithology if, offhand, you can name three birds that don't fly. Such as the emu, the ostrich, the cassowary, and the downy-throated stoic pigeon.

That the federal government's civilian payroll leaped in the last 26 years from less than one billion dollars annually to more than 10 billion. But hasn't everybody's? That's the gestation period of an elephant. It's 20 months, compared to a far shorter period for houseflies. Many scientists believe this is a reason why man has to sweat more than flies.

That marrying a daughter off is not so expensive a problem for her father if she's got a job. . . . A bank has figured out that the average working girl today spends $1,000 of her own money on her wedding.

That some experts believe the best time for sleep is between 7 p.m. and midnight. Yeah, but how many people work those hours?

That the late Robert Benchley said there were two classes of travel—first class and with children. That a bachelor who refuses to marry because he can't find the perfect girl might recall what Richard Brinsley Sheridan wrote: "The safest in matrimony to begin with a little aversion."

OLYMPIA... with pleasure!

Outings and Olympia go refreshingly well together... for Olympia is made to be enjoyed with good food and good fun. A remarkable brewing water—flowing fresh and crystal-pure from Olympia's own artesian wells—gives Olympia its reliable good taste. It is this naturally perfect water that blends in and brings out the delicate flavors of premium hops and grains... achieving for Olympia a character all its own. This is the season to discover, first-hand, why so many Westerners always serve and enjoy Olympia—with pleasure!

"IT'S THE WATER" THAT MAKES IT SO REFRESHING

Visitors are always welcome to "One of America's Exceptional Breweries," Olympia Brewing Company, Olympia, Washington, U. S. A., 9:30 to 4:30 every day. *Oly *E-14
