Krushchev, Bulganin Go To Czechoslovakia, Get Pledges of Red Loyalty

By The Associated Press

Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin arrived in Czechoslovakia today to receive new pledges of loyalty in the wake of the sweeping Kremlin shakeup. As 15,000 cheered, Czechoslovak community party chief Antonin Novotny and lesser officials embraced and kissed the beaming Soviet leaders on their arrival by train at the frontier station of Cerna, on the Czechoslovak-Hungarian-Ukrainian border. Novotny, considered by many one of Joseph Stalin's more faithful disciples, paid special tribute to Khrushchev's program to expand Soviet agriculture, which V. M. Molotov and the other purged Kremlin leaders were accused of opposing. Taking the spotlight as usual, Khrushchev said his group had "not come to discuss disputes or to clear away misunderstandings."

WASHINGTON, July 9—Senator Knowland, R., Calif., said today President Eisenhower has not closed the door against "clarifying" amendments to the house-passed civil rights bill. move to call up the bill by "lengthening" the sessions. But he said he and other supporters will not decide until Thursday whether to try to hold the senate in session continuously on Friday and Saturday in an effort to get a vote.

"We will review the situation Thursday," he said. "I hope that the sessions will lengthen out but I hope it will not be necessary to go around the clock."

"It will present a serious problem, however, if the vote on the motion is delayed beyond this week. It seems to me a week's time is a reasonable period in which to get a bill before the senate for a discussion of its merits."

Knowland said earlier he had told Eisenhower that the debate on the bill may last four to eight weeks or possibly longer. He said Eisenhower is "fully informed" regarding the implications, such as lengthy debate might have on either administration bills.

Knowland said there certainly will be senate action on some other legislation after conclusion of the civil rights debate. But he added it also is likely that some administrative measures may have to be put on the shelf in congress until next year.

Judge Weighs Decision Over Suit on Truck

Testimony was concluded Tuesday morning and District Judge Hugh A. Baker took under advisement a civil suit in which Dale Wood seeks $2,205 from C. G. Wylie, doing business as the Twin Falls Motor company, in a disagreement over purchase of a truck.

The case opened Monday afternoon. Wood charged the auto concern with a breach of contract in raising to turn over $2,205 from sale of a West Coast Special diesel truck he originally bought from the firm. Wylie contends Woods was delinquent in his payments and he repossessed the vehicle.

Wood said he paid $4,100 toward purchase of the $5,800 vehicle and later was financially unable to complete payment. He claims he entered into an oral agreement with Omar Gudgel representing the auto firm, providing that the truck be resold and that the price be used to pay the balance due on the contract.

Wood said he gave up possession of the vehicle and it was sold to A. E. Tolman, Twin Falls, for $3,995. The concern "repudiated" its agreement and refused to turn over any of the money to him, he said.

Witnesses testifying for Wood were Earl Anderson, Gudgel, Tolman, William M. Reese, Mrs. Wood. Witnesses called by Wood's attorney, Harold A. Ranquist, Boise, included Wood, Earl Anderson, Gudgel, Tolman, William M. Reese, Mrs. Wood and Wylie. Lawrence B. Quinn and Edward L. Benoit, defense attorneys, called to the witness stand Wylie, Gudgel and Frank Grant.

After argument of counsel, Judge Baker took the case under advisement shortly before noon Tuesday.

Pilots Saved After Crash Of Two Jets

TUCSON, Ariz., July 9.—Two jet force pilots, whose streaking jet planes collided in flight 20,000 feet over the Catalina mountains near here last night, were rescued early today.

The fliers, identified as First Lieut. Joseph Onate, Newton, Mass., and First Lieut. O. H. Van Pilet, Los Angeles, parachuted to safety after their F-86D Sabrejets carrying "hot" rockets, rammed each other at 6:08 p. m. yesterday over Mt. Bigelow. Onate suffered slight bruises, but Van Pilet didn't have a scratch.

They were brought out of the rugged country this morning by a 14-member rescue team from the Davis-Monthan radar station on Mt. Lemmon. The fliers, stationed at Davis-Monthan, were on routine training flight when the collision occurred.

The pilots spent the rainy night under their parachutes, which they made into tents. The rescue party from the radar station reached the fliers last night and waited until dawn before beginning the march out, which took almost four hours.

Collision Seen

James Cochrane, assistant chief engineer for KOUN-TV, who was managing the station's transmitter on Mount Bigelow, said he saw the collision and the pilots parachute. He sent word to his station, which informed Davis-Monthan air force base of the location.

Japanese Mob Surges About U. S. Embassy

TOKYO, July 9.—A mob of communist-led Japanese, chanting "Yankee, go home," staged a noisy demonstration at the U. S. embassy today in protest against the expansion of the U. S. air base at Tachikawa, largest in Japan.

An estimated 500 policemen kept the demonstrators in line although there was some scuffling and shouting. The police outnumbered the demonstrators by about two to one.

Police guarded the embassy against possible violence during the demonstration. Security officials in the embassy itself, mindful of the recent riots in Taipei where intruders tampered with U. S. embassy files and "locked everything" just in case.

The Japanese demonstrators, who include university students and communist party members, were part of the mob which ripped down a barbed wire fence at Tachikawa and disrupted air operations there for six hours yesterday.

Today police kept the majority of the demonstrators hemmed in against a wall across from the embassy. But about 50, including a number wearing red armbands identifying them as communist party members, crowded near the embassy gates.

"Ameke Kaere—go home, Yankee," they shrieked at the occasional American who entered or left the embassy gates. Across the street, the other demonstrators chanted: "Kaere, kaere, go home, go home, go home."

 It is evident now that Malenkov is regarded as the most dangerous of the big three "anti-party" men in the dispute among Soviet leaders.
 Charges amounting to criminal conspiracy have been made against him by Nikita S. Khrushchev and other victors in the dispute.
 If these charges, made in speeches, are not followed by a formal prosecution, it surely will mean that there has been a radical change in communist party procedure.
 Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich, the other two members of the "big three," have been limited with some of the offenses attributed to Malenkov.

Malenkov is young.
 What seems to put Malenkov on the spot is the fact that he is the youngest of the three, one of the new generation of Soviet leaders. Molotov and Kaganovich are survivors of a past generation.
 Molotov is 67. He is the last of the "old Bolsheviks" who had already reached the top at the time of the 1917 revolution. Kaganovich is 63. Both have been on the down-grade since the death of Josef Stalin.

But Malenkov is only 55. He is one of the new generation of communists who are able administrators and technicians as well as politicians. Some people regard him as the brainiest of Russia's big men. Khrushchev and the rest of the victorious leaders in the Kremlin dispute decide to follow up their present charges by formal legal action, they may or may not spare Molotov and Kaganovich.
 But Malenkov will remain a potential danger as long as he remains alive.

Hard Thinking
 Khrushchev and his colleagues may be doing some serious thinking about their proper course.
 If they shoot Malenkov or put him in prison—possibly with the other two—it will be a confession that the communist system in Russia is no different than it was in Stalin's day.
 The so-called "collective leadership" which was supposed to usher in a new day in Russian communist policy will have been exposed as a fiction.

It will be clear evidence that a dictatorship is essential in Russia, even if there are several "collective" dictators instead of one.
 But from reports now leaking out of Moscow, there are strong indications that Malenkov, Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, who was purged from the communist party presidency with them, really did make a bid to oust Khrushchev as the No. 1 collective leader by replacing him as first secretary of the Russian communist party.

There are indications also that for a time they had hope of succeeding.
 Hence, it is not surprising that Khrushchev is being charged with complicity in the "Leninist plot" which resulted in the death of some big communists in Stalin's day. Four men have been shot as accomplices in this plot.
 Now Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich are being linked with Stalin's terrible purges of the 1930s. But so was Khrushchev, who has quite a record as a purge artist himself.

Bond Sales Lag Behind Payoffs

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The treasury redeemed more U. S. savings bonds than it sold during the first half of 1957.
 From Jan. 1 through June 30, it said, sales totaled $2,314,000,000, a drop of 10 per cent from the same period of last year. Redemptions totaled $2,701,000,000, 14 per cent more than the first six months of 1956.

Element '102' Is Discovered Through Test

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—A team of scientists from three countries today announced the discovery of element 102.
 The joint international research team included scientists from the United States, Great Britain and Sweden.

The new element was discovered by bombarding curium, element 96, with carbon ions.

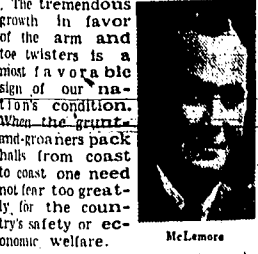

Scientists from Argonne national laboratory represented the United States in the research project. Other members of the group were from Britain's atomic energy research establishment at Harwell, and the Nobel Institute for physics in Stockholm.
 Winston M. Manning, director of Argonne's chemistry division, said this was the first time any of the artificially created elements had been discovered by an international research team.

American and British scientists proposed that the new element be named nobellium, after the Swedish institute where the actual work was performed.
 The institute is named in honor of the Swedish chemist, the late Alfred Nobel.

Wrestling Fans Not Worried By World's Biggest Problems

By HENRY McLEMORE
 NEW YORK, N. Y.—Much too little has been written about the recent upsurge in popularity of professional wrestling in this country.

McLemore

The tremendous growth in favor of the arm and toe twisters is a most favorable sign of our nation's condition. When the grunts and groans pack halls from coast to coast, one need not fear too greatly for the country's safety or economic welfare.

A standing room only sign outside a wrestling match is more reassuring than any statement that could be issued by the pentagon or the secretary of the treasury.

Why? Well, for one thing, studies by psychologists (I forgot just which ones) have shown that a worried people do not attend wrestling matches. Wrestling and worry just don't mix.

To enjoy wrestling fully, a fan must have nothing on his mind—absolutely nothing. If he has had nothing on it for two or three days, so much the better.

The blunder the mind, the more its owner yells and screams at the contestants, the more he protects the activities of the referee. When a wrestling devotee's head is completely blank, he will often yell, "Frame-up!" if the decision goes against his hero.

He doesn't realize it, but the fan who yells "frame-up," is yelling the pure truth, as it is generally known that the outcome of matches is as fixed as the movements of the heavenly bodies.

An evening at a wrestling match serves as a bracing tonic for a worrier. If you find yourself fretting about nuclear fallout, or the situation in the Middle East, go where

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The current reorganization and regrouping of American military, naval and air forces throughout the world, especially in the far Pacific, results from top secret decisions made at the recent three-day conference of leading army, navy and air strategists with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson at the Quantico marine base. Now it can be told without violating security regulations.

It was decided there that the United States would stage such a worldwide demonstration of its military readiness that it would disabuse both Russian and Chinese communists of any thought of offensive action against the most exposed outposts of the free world.

The danger spots pin-pointed were South Korea, Formosa, southeast Asia and the Middle East. Besides arranging to place all our Pacific forces under the single command of Adm. Felix B. Stump, and to rearm South Korea units with modern weapons, it was decided to strengthen the seventh fleet off Formosa and the sixth fleet, now patrolling eastern Mediterranean waters.

Russia, China and their satellites are now ringed completely by the most powerful and awe-inspiring land, water, air and atomic armadas.

GROMYKO'S COMPLAINT—Only a few weeks ago, Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister, called a special press conference—the first of its kind in several years—to complain bitterly against this encirclement. He referred specifically to Gen. Lauris Norstad's testimony before a congressional committee that his NATO, American and allied forces could devastate Russia with atomic bombardments.

The Kremlin and Mao Tse-tung also protested the Quantico decision to rearm United Nations troops in South Korea with postwar jet planes, tanks, communications equipment, artillery, machineguns, rifles, etc. Still a third objection was made when the ordered sixth fleet to the Middle East to gesture against communist-Egyptian attacks on King Hussein in Jordan.

MOSCOW, PEIPING MAY PROTEST—In view of Moscow's demonstrated concern over this closing of the ring, it is expected that the Kremlin and Mao will protest against the build-up of our far Pacific defenses under Admiral Stump. They cannot blink the fact that Stump will command almost two million American and Allied sailors, soldiers and airmen from the Aleutians to Australia.

Finally, the Pentagon has just assigned one of its most expert submarine strategists to command of the Western naval district, which extends from the Pacific coast to the Rockies. He is Vice Adm. George Russell of Chevy Chase, Md., and Middlebury Vt. The Russians recently dispatched several subs through the Suez canal for reinforcement of their flotilla based on Vladivostok.

DESIGNED TO INFLUENCE LONDON TALKS—Despite Gromyko's jibes, this world-wide mobilization has its peaceful aspects. Besides being planned as a "war preventive," it is designed to influence the London disarmament talks.

This demonstration of strength and readiness, Washington hopes, may convince the communists, including China, that it would be wise to show greater willingness to reduce both conventional and atomic forces and weapons.

The coup shows like in his role of diplomat-soldier. He does not intend to re-enact the blunders of the British and French statesmen from 1933 to 1939 and 1941, when they refused to stand up against the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo Axis as Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo prepared for war on the West.

With the full support of those same allies, he is warning the Moscow-Peiping alliance that we are ready for them. It is the kind of action which Winston Churchill counseled through the years when the ministries at London and Paris looked the other way while der Fuehrer overran the Rhineland, Austria and Czechoslovakia, and Mussolini showered gas on barefooted Ethiopians.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

A CONTINUING CHALLENGE

Idaho's Republican Senator Dworshak, a long time and conscientious member of the senate appropriations committee, is convinced now that prospects for greatly reduced federal spending in the fiscal year which began July 1 are "discouraging," and that anyone who believes that congress can provide a tax reduction by next January is doomed to disappointment.

In this statement lately given out, the Idaho senator confirms an appraisal of the situation as it's been sized up by almost everybody who has taken the trouble to observe unfolding developments in the recent congressional pulling and hauling economy-wise.

POT SHOTS

BURNING MEAT, TOO?

Dear Pot Shots:

It has been my understanding for some time that a city ordinance absolutely forbids the burning of trash after a certain hour in the evening. I think that deadline is 5 p.m.

Now what is included under the general heading of trash? Certainly some burning items smell every bit as bad as other burning items. As a matter of fact, except for incense, I've never smelled anything burning that smelled good.

And what about our neighbors and their charcoal broiler? The smell of burning T-bone steaks doesn't smell one bit better than burning trash.

IT MIGHT BE DIFFICULT

Dear Sir:

It's plain to see that the newspapers of Idaho keep this Hell canyon pot boiling merrily.

Without it, just what would you fellows print? If you reporters hadn't been kicking it around all over the place, the thing would have died a natural death long ago.

But then I suppose you fellows still have a lot of headlines written about the thing that have to be used up. And you would be hard up for news without it, wouldn't you?

I. M. Trifalica (Twin Falls)

BEST OF ALL

Sir:

Those jokers discussing the relative merits of hot drinks and cold drinks for use in hot and/or cold weather, have missed the whole point.

It's the degree of activity that determines whether you're hot or cold. The best way to keep cool in summer is not to do a bad-blamed thing. Take it easy, son; relax!

And the best way to keep warm in winter is to avoid wasting your body heat through undue effort.

Now doesn't that sound reasonable and sensible?

ANENT PIGEONS

Dear Pot Shots:

Help! We have about a dozen unwanted residents at our home who are to be perfectly happy to remain indefinitely. The uninvited (and also unwelcome) guests are pigeons.

If you or any of your readers have suggestions of ways to get rid of these pigeons (other than shooting, as we're within the city limits) we'd be most grateful.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Department of health, education and welfare under Secretary Marion B. Folsom has moved right in to prevent or handle any epidemic of Far Eastern influenza in this country.

This is profiting from the mistakes made in the infantile paralysis inoculation campaign of last year. This time there is to be plenty of advance organization and full publicity every step of the way.

Responsibility heads up in the U.S. public health service, under Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney. But the actual work must be done by doctors in American Medical Association, state and local health authorities. And there is full cooperation with world health organization to check a pandemic, or worldwide epidemic.

"Asiatic flu," as it has been dubbed in the headlines, is not regarded as particularly dangerous. It is another respiratory disease, virus, cold or whatever you want to call it. There are many varieties. The strain changes. This one can normally be cured and the fever ended by a few days' rest in bed with plenty of aspirin, say the doctors.

Far Eastern medical statistics aren't too good. But in areas where the disease has been reported, it has affected only 15 to 20 per cent of the population. Deaths have been half of one per cent.

But a serious epidemic in an area the size of New York City, with 10 million population, might mean up to 10,000 casualties. This is why precautionary measures are necessary.

People arriving in this country by air from areas where the disease is prevalent are given warnings if they report to health authorities to keep the disease flu within 10 days.

The Spanish flu pandemic of World War I took so many casualties not from the flu itself but from bacteria "riders" like pneumonia. Today the new antibiotics take care of these complications, so casualties should be further reduced.

Development of a new serum to prevent the disease is the most dramatic scientific contribution in the fight against the flu thus far. Two U.S. army doctors obtained the first strains of Asiatic flu from throat washings of patients in Hong Kong. These strains were flown to Walter Reed army medical center in Washington. There they were developed into a culture. Samples were then sent to six licensed U.S. biological manufacturers.

They developed serums which are now being tested at national institute of health, Bethesda, Md. If they prove out, three of the biological houses are ready to produce the serum in whatever quantity may be demanded.

The serum can be developed in a matter of weeks in a culture of fertile hen eggs, which are now in ample supply.

This is a lot simpler and cheaper than culture of polio vaccine in Indian monkeys, which took months. The flu serum is not a cure, but a preventive. It becomes effective in from 10 days to two weeks after inoculation. A single injection will last a season, and must then be repeated.

Influenza is most prevalent in fall, winter and spring. There is now more danger of its spread in Australia and South America, which are going into their winter, than in the northern summer. Inoculations should be made in August and September to have immunity in the fall-winter-spring flu season.

During World War II, army doctors developed a serum effective against half a dozen strains of flu, though not against all varieties. The army rates it about 70 per cent effective.

This serum is given in a series of six or more shots in the late summer to develop protection for the colder months. Injections must be repeated annually, but may be reduced as the patient builds up immunity.

"These flu shots have not been widely accepted by the civilian population. But where effective, they do reduce colds."

Classes in Religion Proving Popular Again in Hungary

BUDAPEST, July 9 (AP)—Thousands of communist Hungary's children have registered for regular school classes in religion, including many whose parents did not dare let them apply before last fall's revolt.

The regime of Premier Janos Kadar, like all communist regimes, is antireligious in principle. But in Hungary, as in Poland, the communists and churches seem to be finding ways to get along.

Man Believing He Will Live Forever, Has 'Eternal' House

By HAL BOYLE

ALCOA, Tenn., July 9 (AP)—William Andrew Nicholson is an 80-year-old carpenter who built an everlasting home because he confidently expects to live forever.

It is a fortress-like stone dwelling of 14 rooms and was hand-built by Nicholson and his wife over an eight-year period. It is known locally as "million-manor" and "the house that faith built."

"It cannot rust or rot," said Nicholson, whose keen blue eyes and white hair make him look like a patriarch in a striped sport shirt. "And if nothing wrecks it there is no reason why it shouldn't last a million years."

And Nicholson himself is serenely certain that a million years from now he will be happy, alive and content with his house and lot.

His reason is simple. He loves Jesus Christ, and he accepts as a statement of literal fact that Biblical promise that whosoever loves Christ will have everlasting life.

"I believe in the Bible, and I believe in life to live instead of preparing to die," he said.

So it was that in 1938 the kindly carpenter and his wife, who had borne him 10 children, began at the age of 61 to build an eternal shelter for an eternal life on earth.

There was to go into it nothing that could corrode or decay—neither wood nor nail. Only cement, rock and Tennessee pink marble.

Nicholson worked eight hours a day at his trade, then worked six to eight hours more on his home. He pushed 300-pound marble stones to their place in a wheel-barrow. His wife poured the mortar. The job took them eight long, exhausting years.

The house, completed in December, 1946, is two stories tall. Its outside walls are from two to three feet thick, its ceiling three to five feet. It has two bathrooms furnished with huge stone and cement chairs. The roof contains 480 tons of rock.

Six years ago Mrs. Nicholson died of cancer, leaving her husband lonely but still sure she himself will enjoy eternal life.

"It was hard to be parted from her after so many years," he said. "My wife believed in me, but her faith in eternal life was weak. She tried to believe, but she had her doubts. There came times when she talked of dying."

Nicholson's unusual home has become something of a tourist attraction. He says he has been offered $150,000 for it, but has no intention of selling.

"What would I want with the money?" he asked. "I have everything I need."

ILLNESS REPORTED

DAMASCUS, Syria, July 9 (AP)—President Shukri al-Kuwatli was reported ill with Asiatic influenza today. Palace sources said he became ill during a reception yesterday and had a temperature of 102 degrees.

GOVERNMENT SECURITY REPORT

There is a broad feeling that the report of the commission on government security, named by congress to study the matter in all aspects, has done a generally constructive job. This seems to be so even though certain parts of the reports are coming in for criticism.

One hopeful proposal is that the security program be separated into two parts. One would deal with questions of loyalty to the government and nation. The other would handle all other kinds of "non-suitability" in which loyalty is not basically involved but a security risk may arise from personality traits or habits.

In these latter cases, security officers often decide that such characteristics may open an individual to pressures which could produce damaging or even disloyal acts.

Yet, as the security program is now handled, all cases are lumped together so that an individual either dismissed or refused employment as a "security risk" is tarred with the disloyalty brush whether he deserves it or not. This is clearly unfair and should be corrected.

The reporting commission advised, too, that a central security office be set up with full-time employees in sufficient number to hear loyalty cases throughout the country. It recommended a sound personnel training program, since the evidence suggests that present volunteer personnel is frequently inadequate.

Again, the proposal appears to make sense, inasmuch as security matters today are marked by much delay and by contradictory decisions by different federal agencies weighing the same evidence.

The commission also proposed that in loyalty matters specific charges ought to be insisted upon, and dealt with in closed hearings at which the accused could have counsel.

It suggested, too, that he have the right to confront accusing witnesses unless they are "regularly established confidential informants" of the government and the confrontation would prejudice national security.

Critics favor wider use of confidential materials and object as well to other features of the report advising broader, tighter security measures. But on balance the commission's labors appear to have been immensely fruitful.

"FOUR-DAY ITCH"

It is estimated that a record-breaking 83 million Americans, or 22 million families, will spend more than three billion dollars on vacations this year.

Yet the sad fact is that countless millions of these vacationers will find their dreams of happy hours spoiled a bit by the "four-day itch."

This is an ailment, unknown to medical science, which usually strikes on the fourth day of vacation. Symptoms can be observed in all members of the family.

Dad will start muttering about the mutton-head who has taken over his office chores, or fret about the customers he could be calling on. He itches to get back to the grind.

Though Mom probably won't admit it, she feels the same longing. She misses the bridge club, and she can't see the mountains for those familiar mounds of dirty clothes around the house. Moreover, she's discovered that the "conveniences" of the summer cottage aren't so convenient.

The thing spreads to the kids. They complain the drinking water tastes like distilled carpet tacks. They miss their neighborhood friends. And they worry that Queenie, who's been left at the kennels, will spitefully starve herself to death.

Still, you can bet they'll all go away next year and, according to the trend, stay longer. Why? There are lots of reasons. National prosperity is one. Improved highway facilities is another. Enticing installment plans help to spread vacation costs, and industry believes more and more that longer vacations often boost productivity.

The biggest reason of all would seem to be that the "four-day itch" to return home isn't nearly so bothersome as the "50-week itch" to get away.

HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU?

No one can run the social gantlet of a summer without a complete glossary of weather conversation. In fact, our society probably would crack at the seams if we had to do without the weather cliches.

For those who haven't mastered this social must, we present a typical conversation; sparkling with acute observations on the weather (which "everyone talks about, but ...").

"Hot enough for you?"

"Well, of course, it's not the heat, it's the humidity, you know."

"Looks like summer's really here."

"We could use some rain. Hold down the dust, you know."

"Helps the crops."

"Yeah, helps the crops."

"I can't ever remember it being so hot."

"Oh, used to be a lot hotter years ago."

"Yeah?"

"I don't think these H-bomb explosions help it any."

"They're not telling all they know about how it's changed the weather."

"They say if you drink something hot, it cools you off."

"That's what they say."

"Hot enough for you?"

Let's hope, for the sake of the security of this nation, that our lawmakers pass such legislation and the supreme court can lift the veil of liberalism from their thinking long enough to uphold its constitutionality.—The Gooding Leader.

U.S. Troubles Give Comfort To Red Chiefs

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—What ever the past week's political ex plosions in Moscow may mean, they cannot alter the fact that International communism has going for it in the United States a powerful and destructive ally.

That ally is currency inflation which could—and may—continue to the point of destruction for the American social and economic fabric in an era of United States bank- ruptcy.

Economic Delinquent
Inflation is an economic juvenile delinquent. Responsibility for it must be charged to the citizenry at large, just as in the case of the anti-social teen-agers who murder or rape.

The late Josef Stalin thought and hoped he saw what was coming in the United States after World War II when he laid a course of fraud, chicanery and deceit toward the international communist objective of world conquest. Stalin, however, lost two of the three big bets in which he placed communism's blue chips after World War II.

Let No. 1 was that the United States and the United Nations lacked the will to meet aggression with bullets, as in Korea.

Let No. 2 was that the United States would spend itself into bankruptcy.

Red Doctrine
Lenin, himself, stated the proposition that any capitalist democracy (or republic) must eventually de- stroy itself by overspending. That remains prime communist doctrine. If the doctrine proves to be correct, the loss of bet one and two will mean nothing other than delay in communism's conquest.

If the doctrine is wrong, then it is only a question of time before the free world, led by the United States, triumphs over communism in hot or cold war or a combination of both.

It does not make of the United States an ignominious materialistic society to concede that the American way of life is pegged securely to the integrity of the U. S. dollar and what it will buy at home and abroad. The purchasing power of the dollar is skidding downward, but not yet far enough to lose the respect and affection of men and women every- where.

Collapse Possible
The reputation of a well estab- lished piece of money such as the U. S. dollar can take a lot of abuse.

The end, however, is devastatingly sudden and complete when it does come. The institute of life insurance calculated nearly 10 years ago that from 1900 to 1950, the U. S. dollar had lost nearly two-thirds of its value.

Largely responsible for this, said the institute, was government ex- penditures during World War I, throughout all of PDR's War- House years and in all but two years of Harry S. Truman's presidency. In none of those years did the elected representatives of a free people dare levy taxes sufficient to pay for the government spending they so freely authorized.

President Eisenhower is getting the treasury out of the red, but not much. He is spending at a rate which could make Stalin's bet No. 3 look fairly good, especially if con- gress cuts taxes and fails to cut fed- eral spending.

Civil Rights Bill of Administration Goes Beyond Safeguard of Franchise

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The civil rights bill is loaded—in the sense that it goes far beyond just protecting the voting rights of Negroes—but it "hardly comes" under the head of "cunning."

Senator Russell, Georgia Demo- crat and captain of the senate Southerners now trying to prevent senate consideration of the bill, called it the "most cunningly de- vised and contrived piece of legisla- tion I have ever seen."

This knowingly or not, was a slap at the justice department. At- torney General Brownell, at the senate judiciary committee's own hearings last February, said the bill was put together by his justice department's lawyers.

Brownell frankly said this bill—backed by the Eisenhower admin- istration—would go beyond protec- tion of voting rights. For example, he said, he could step in under it to back up the supreme court's ban on public school segregation.

He didn't go into the many kinds of civil rights violations covered by this bill. He wasn't asked. Here are some other possibilities: Segregation on buses, interference with witness- es or jurors where civil rights are concerned. There are plenty.

This is how he'd act. He'd ask a federal judge to order a stop to the violations. Disobedience would bring trial for contempt by the judge him- self—not a jury trial—and jail if convicted.

In his indignation against this bill Russell suggested that it be submitted to national vote. Only a handful of the people most affected by it—Southern Negroes—are eligi- ble to vote.

What particularly irritated Rus- sell was that the bill doesn't every- where spell out precisely what it would do but amends other laws which are merely referred to in the bill by number.

This is not, however, unusual in legislation. In such cases it is as- sumed that the senators, before they vote, will take the trouble to look up the amended laws to find out what they're voting on.

The bill falls into four sections but only the last two are under fire so far. No. 1 would create a six- man commission to study civil rights problems; No. 2 would create a new civil rights division in the justice department.

"The light has been over No. 3 and 4."

No. 3 would amend an old 19th century law—covering a very broad field of civil rights violations—under which a person whose rights were violated could sue for dam- ages or ask a judge for an injunc- tion to stop the violation.

Under the amending bill the at- torney general could step in, instead of leaving it up to the injured in- dividual to act, and ask the court for an injunction.

No. 4 would authorize the at- torney general to step in if—specifically—some individual's voting rights were violated.

Bumper Crops Predicted This Season Despite Payment for Production Cuts

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The government has contracted to pay about 600 million dollars this year to soil bank farmers who agreed to take surplus crops out of pro- duction.

Yet government reports indicate this year's production of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and tobacco will be a bumper crop, comparable to the record output of 1955 and 1956.

"Farmers naturally are asking, 'How come?' ... what happened to the soil bank program that was supposed to reduce production 20 per cent?"

The agriculture department says the soil bank is working, that pay- ment of the 600-million-dollar to soil bank depositors is "money well spent."

"We're breaking even on it," a de- partment official told the United Press. "We are not adding to the surplus, which is costly any way you look at it."

"If the government hadn't agreed to pay farmers for taking land out of production of basic crops, early crops reports indicate they would produce far more this year than last. The surplus would have in- creased, our price support losses would have gone up, and we'd have the stuff in bins running up stor- age charges."

"But with the soil bank, our sur- plus is not getting bigger."

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson believes the soil bank is "economical."

In terms of alternatives, the acreage reserve program is not cost- ly, but economical," he said. "No apologies are required for the cost of a program which gives real hope of relieving so heavy a surplus burden."

The nation's farmers agreed this year to put more than 21 million acres into the soil bank acreage re- serve. They agreed to put another seven million acres into the conser- vation reserve.

Yet planting intentions of farm- ers estimated in March show that this year's planted acreage should be about 354 million acres, just 12 million acres under last year.

Asked if any farmers might have "renege" on their agreement to cut acreage, a department official said:

"There is no evidence that the men who participated in the soil bank increased their total acreage. They probably made the reduction they agreed to. There is no reason to believe they didn't."

"The offset in soil bank reduc- tion and in total planted acreage probably was done by farmers who didn't go into the soil bank. Per- haps they felt that because of sev- eral million acres in the soil bank they could increase their acreage and cash in on higher market prices."

"The discrepancy between the actual planted acreage and what it should have been with the soil bank acres counted out could be ex- plained by the natural fluctuation that occurs from year to year. For example, farmers in 1953 harvested 341 million acres. In 1954 they har- vested 337 million acres. In 1955 it was 332-million and last year it was 319 million."

As for why production this year is likely to be large even with 28 mil- lion acres in the soil bank, the of- ficial said:

"Moisture conditions change overnight in the great plains. The drought broke. Growing conditions are more favorable now than they have been for some time. The yield is going up. There has been a trend- ing increase in yield for years. Farmers are using improved varie- ties of seed, better fertilizer, and better insect control methods."

Best Results Are Made When Mild

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The best time for a teen-ager to get after a case of acne is while it's still mild. Don't let it set in; it may become really serious.

And getting rid of acne takes discipline, self-control and accuracy. You must keep your skin scrupulously clean. Wash it at least twice a day with mild soap and warm water. Don't use makeup other than a little lipstick. If you must powder your nose, use clean cotton balls for each powdering. Don't touch your face with your hands, ever. And do drink lots of water and get lots of rest. You know that you must avoid rich and fatty foods. Be out in the sun as much as you can. Get plenty of exercise, which will help your circulation. And don't let up on your program for one single day if you want to see improvement.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Many city dwellers came from the country—often from the farms—and when vacation days roll around and the children are free from school, they remember the wonderful days they spent at the homestead and nothing comes so naturally as the wish to have the children enjoy just such days. "You can go to Grandma's for the vacation," says father or mother and the youngster jumps joyfully at the idea.

It is a good idea, a wonderful idea, but how do Grandma and Grandpa feel about rearing another generation of children? They are no longer young. They're the sonner. They are no longer accustomed to caring for children and it may be a heavy task for them to undertake the care of a child for the summer. It might be a good idea to look things over at the farm to make certain that Mother or Father is fit, able and willing to have a young visitor. It is kinder to do this and make certain before asking to send the child.

Grandparents often are slow to refuse such a request while in their hearts they would much rather be left to the peace and quiet of their homes following their accustomed rounds. To some the presence of a child in the house is an unwelcome strain, yet they feel they cannot, with grace, refuse.

There is an important point to be considered in this situation. When a child is turned over to relatives for a vacation visit, no parent with them, the hostess is responsible for him and with that responsibility goes complete authority. That is something that the child as well as his parents must understand and accept.

Bettie Short and Fred Rutherford Vows Exchanged

BURL, July 9.—Bettie Mae Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Short, and Fred James Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutherford, Richfield, were united in marriage Friday at the Assembly of God church.

The Rev. L. C. Harris performed the double ring service, before a candelabra of lighted tapers. Baskets of cut flowers decorated the altar.

Mrs. Goldie Fawcett sang, accompanied by Mrs. Jose Novak at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina-length white nylon and net gown fashioned with a strapless bodice that came to points over the full net skirt. A short sleeved jacket with a stand-up collar adorned the gown. She wore lace mitts and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations. Her elbow-length veil was held by a bandeau of nylon styled with leaves of organza.

Mrs. W. A. Patrick, Mountain Home, acted as matron of honor. She wore a pink ballerina-length gown matching the bride's. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Barbara Owens, Twin Falls, in an aqua colored ballerina-length gown, and Loretta Smith, dressed in matching pink-lavender, were bridesmaids. They carried white carnations. Marilyn and Carolyn McIntire, Twin Falls, dressed in aqua, were candelabers.

Ruth Jane Patrick, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was of orchid nylon. William Patrick, nephew of the bride, served as ring-bearer.

Harry Grimsley, Shoshone, was best man, and ushers were Gene Mason, Twin Falls, and Wayne Short, brother of the bride.

Short chose a light blue tulle dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a floral nylon dress. Both mothers had pink rose corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church. Darlene Ford, Marilyn Novak, Doris Lee Moore and Barbara Clark presided at the serving table. Mrs. Howard Rovig and Mrs. James Rhodes, both of Twin Falls, displayed the gifts. Guest book attendant was Charlotte Short, sister of the bride.

For a going-away ensemble, the bride wore a white dress with aqua figures and an aqua jacket trimmed to match the dress and white accessories.

The new Mrs. Rutherford will continue working at the telephone office in Twin Falls until she can join her husband, who is stationed with the army in Virginia.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Buhl high school. Rutherford was graduated from Richfield high school in 1952. He was farming with his father in Richfield until he joined the army.

Women of the Assembly of God church feted the bride with a shower June 21 at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Short and family, Ely, Nev., attended the wedding from out-of-state. Other guests were from Buhl, Mountain Home, Shoshone, Richfield and Twin Falls.

Women Assist in New Designs for America's Autos

By NEA Service

DETROIT (NEA)—The driver's seat isn't enough for women. They have decided to help design the car—and they're doing it.

Women designers make up an important part of the General Motors styling staff, according to Harley J. Earl, GM vice president in charge of styling.

Earl said that "making our styling staff co-educational has been very successful."

"Our women designers' combination of styling skill and feminine point of view is helping us to create cars and appliances designed with the woman in mind," Earl says.

Earl hired the first woman GM designer in 1943.

"So many talented girls are entering our field of design that in three or four years women may be designing entire car exteriors," he predicts.

"Damsels of design," as Earl calls them, work in product and exhibit design both on cars and refrigerating appliances.

Earl credits women with being responsible for the popularity of automatic transmissions, power steering and brakes.

Ranging in age from 23 to 34, GM women designers all have had extensive industrial design training.

"They recently were given a free hand to design special colors and interiors for 10 GM cars and four kitchens."

Streamline Your Suitcase Living To Avoid Chaos

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Seasoned travelers have learned it's wise to streamline your suitcase living. Well-organized packing can make all the difference between happy traveling and chaos.

Plastic dividers, that you cut and machine stitch yourself, will solve certain packing problems by separating different outfits and keeping small items from sliding between the folds of dresses. As you unpack, each layer can be lifted out separately. When you've taken out what you need at any given time, you can replace all the other sections of clothing as units. The lining of your suitcase is protected, too, when you keep your shoes and soiled clothing between these plastic sheaths. A sudsy sponge is all the care your dividers need between trips—or they can be submerged safely in soap or detergent suds, if necessary.

Now, while your trip is still in the planning stage, lug out your luggage and measure the dimensions of each piece. Local sewing center experts tell you how to make these dividers on your sewing machine.

Cut sheets of clear plastic to suitcase dimensions, as many as you wish. To make the handles, place a dinner plate over a double layer of plastic, draw around the edge with a soft pencil or chalk; center a smaller plate inside the first circle and trace a circle about one inch wide.

Machine stitch over these two pencil lines, using a fine needle and light pressure, then trim close to the stitching. This will leave a doughnut-like ring with a hole in the center. Next cut the ring in half and clip a couple of inches off the ends of each piece to bring the arc of the handle closer to the edge of the divider. The reason for using a large plate for a pattern is to make the handle long enough to be stitched near the edges of the divider's width, thereby distributing the weight and making each section easier to lift. Tape the handles to the sides of the flat oblong of plastic and then machine stitch in place—and you've made a very practical suitcase accessory.

Another tidy trick is to add pockets to your dividers. Besides being ideal for stockings and other dainties, pockets are a lifesaver when the few "things you've washed are still slightly damp."

To make the pockets, take a sheet of plastic the size of your suitcase. Cut it in half. Place these two smaller pieces on top of the divider, then stitch each pocket piece around three edges, leaving the top open. Thus you have one divider with two convenient pockets.

COWBOYS WALLOP BRAVES 11-2 TO MOVE INTO SECOND PLACE

Magic Valley Takes Fifth Win in Six Games; Early Outburst Assures Victory

BOISE, July 9 (AP)—Magic Valley's Cowboys stunned the Boise Braves here Monday night with an 11-2 Pioneer league defeat after a barrage of singles gave the Pokes a 7-0 margin in two stanzas. It was four long innings before the Braves could put enough hits together to produce a run as Joe Gamez singled in a tally. The only other Boise score of the night came on a wild throw over second that let in Howie Bedell in the seventh. Magic Valley marked up three runs in the first inning on an error, a single, a fielder's choice and two more singles. They got four in the next frame on two singles followed by Walt Dixon's double and another single.

National Loop Offense Paced by Hank Aaron

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who leads the National league in batting, home runs and runs batted in, is doing all he can to make his manager, Fred Haney, look good. Aaron, a righthanded batsman with powerful wrists, was the subject of Haney's discussion one day in spring training at Bradenton, Fla. Aaron had won the National league batting crown in 1956 with a .328 average, but Haney felt that the hard-hitting outfielder was far from his peak.

"He's a 350 hitter at least," Haney said. "He's only 23 years old and he has a long way to go." The Braves skipper believed Aaron would improve in 1957. "He's still a growing boy and there's no telling how good he'll get," Haney enthusiastically observed.

And now with the 1957 season at the half-way point, Aaron certainly has more than justified his manager's optimism. At the All-Star break he sports a .347 average, has hit 27 homers and driven in 73 runs. Aaron also has collected 117 hits and 64 runs—both high in the National league.

Aaron displaced Pittsburgh's Don Foy as the batting leader. Hammerin' Hank gained seven points on 13-for-31 in advancing from third a week ago.

Foy slipped to second at .344 to trail Aaron by three points.

St. Louis' Stan Musial, a six-time batting champion, fell from second to third at .341.

In the American league batting race, the New York Yankees' Moe Drabek, who is batting .341, is commanding 26-point edge over Boston's Ted Williams. Mantle is swinging at a .339 clip as compared to Williams' .343 average.

Aaron also leads in homers with 27, seven more than Musial. Mantle is setting the home pace in the American league with 32.

Alex Miteff KO's Fala in Second Round

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Argentinian's undefeated Alex Miteff scored his 10th straight victory Monday night by stopping Fernando Fala of Philadelphia in two rounds at St. Nicholas arena.

Referee Barney Felix halted the bout after the second round because of two bad cuts over Fala's right eye.

The referee acted on the advice of Dr. Alexander Swetnick, who examined the 22-year-old Philadelphia fighter at the end of the round. The fight goes into the record as a 2-round technical knockout.

Miteff, a 3-1 favorite, weighed 202 1/2 to Fala's 200 1/2.

It was a spectacular battle while it lasted. The once-beaten Fala barged out at the opening bell and gave the surprised Argentine a good pounding until Alex moved in close.

They traded blows throughout the round with Fala earning a slight edge on his last start.

But in the second, Miteff went to work on his strapping rival. He pounded his ribs and head with power-packed left hooks thrown in clusters of two and three.

Miteff hurt Fala with two left hooks to the jaw and staggered him with three more lefts to the head. Fala was out over the right eye and wobbled.

The bell rang shortly after Fala, who matches the husky Miteff in size at 6-1, had won 17 and lost 1.

It was the first time he had been stopped.

Miteff, the Pan-American heavyweight champion of 1955, has stopped five of his 10 victims in a pro-career of 13 months.

Moore Agrees to Title Match With Anthony

LOS ANGELES, July 9 (AP)—Ol' Archie Moore, his light heavyweight title hanging by a New York athletic commissioner's ultimatum, Monday verbally agreed to a championship fight with Tony Anthony here in September. However, the proposed bout, promoted by singer Frank Sinatra and his business manager, has to clear approval by the California athletic commission.

In New York Monday, Julius Helfand, New York state athletic commission chairman and president of the world championship boxing committee, gave Moore time to come to written terms or forfeit his title. Moore, his manager Charley Johnson, and Anthony and his manager, Ernie Braca, met for two hours Monday in the office of attorney Jules Covey, who is representing Sinatra.

A source close to the discussion said a verbal agreement was reached, but none of the principals would agree to be quoted.

Covey said an agreement will be presented for approval to the California athletic commission Tuesday. Moore, who last defended his title 13 months ago against Volande Pompey of Trinidad, said "I'm anxious to get in the ring with Anthony."

Anthony, rangy and dapper in an Ivy league suit, said "I think I have a good chance of beating Moore." Site of the proposed fight is Gilmore field, home of the Hollywood baseball team, in the Pacific Coast league.

Yankee Pitcher Claims Williams Is Finally Beginning to Show His Age

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Ted Williams, despite his lofty batting average, is finally beginning to show his years. The famed Boston Red Sox slugger, generally regarded as baseball's best hitter during the past two decades, is not as feared by opposing pitchers as he used to be. "Something tells me I shouldn't say this," a New York Yankee pitcher remarked last week. "Because it would be just like the big son-of-a-gun to make me eat my words before the day is over."

But if you ask me I think Ted has lost something.

"Sure he's still a great hitter," the pitcher who asked not to be identified continued. "But he doesn't seem to have that old snap in his swing any more. At least he hasn't shown me that old buggy-whip swing of his. I think he knows it too. He doesn't appear to be as confident at the plate as he used to be. He takes more good pitches now and he even swings at some bad ones, too. He doesn't seem to be too sure of himself."

"Maybe I'm wrong about him but I feel more confident when I'm pitching against him now than ever before. At least I don't get a nervous feeling any more when he strides up to the plate. There was a time when I'd be happy to settle for a single or double. Now I feel I've got a 50-50 chance against him."

The Yankee pitcher emphasized he was in no way attempting to belittle Williams. He said he still rated Ted as a powerful antagonist and he still gets a thrill every time he retires the great man.

"It's just that Williams finally has shown he's only a human being after all," the pitcher said. "For years I had my doubts about that."

Williams, who will reach his 39th birthday anniversary next month, has been maintaining for the past few seasons that he's not the hitter he used to be but nobody has taken him seriously. Not when he continued to hit .345 or better year after year.

Billings Uses Big Inning to Beat Russels

BILLINGS, Mont., July 9 (AP)—The Billings Mustangs scored all their runs in one inning for a 5-2 Pioneer league victory over Idaho Falls in the second game of a doubleheader here Monday night. The Russels won the seven inning opener, 4-3.

The five Mustangs scored came in the seventh of the second game as Ron Schmitt and Chris Cannizzaro singled, Bob Greer was safe on a fielder's choice with Schmitt tagged out at third.

Tom McDevitt also got by on a fielder's choice—but Greer was out at second. Lyle Krall singled to score Cannizzaro and Bob Sadowski's single scored McDevitt.

Duke Carmel was intentionally walked and Bob White singled. Greer, Krall and Sadowski's Roberts Ven walked to load the bags and then Carmel scored on a passed ball. Gordy Seyfried's single, an error, a wild pitch and a bunt by Gordon Maxwell scored the two Russels runs.

The Russels won the first game of the doubleheader by scoring three runs in the sixth inning.

Wendell Antoine gave Idaho Falls their first run in the second with his solo homer. The Russels added three more in the sixth when Antoine's double brought home singing Jim Gilchrist and Jay Cooke, who walked. Antoine scored on Al Luce's single.

Bob Sadowski's double after Tom McDevitt's single gave the Mustangs one run in the third and they added two more in the fifth for their total of three.

Steel Output Hike Seen by Close of July

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Dull days in the metal industries aren't fazing the optimists.

They predict that steel should see a marked revival before the month is over. The battered copper industry talks of getting supply and demand back on speaking terms before the summer is gone. Only in the zinc and lead industries do the optimists look wistfully to a much later date.

Steel's problems are mostly domestic. Copper's plight is a world-wide one with U. S. producers caught in a bind. Lead and zinc men feel their current troubles are due to government action, or lack of it.

In all the industries there is growing belief that their customers are about to come to the rescue. And a return to conspicuous health in the metal industries would boost confidence throughout the economy, replacing the present tendency to just sit tight and see which way the business cat is going to jump.

Steel men report that orders are picking up. They are coming from two important groups of users—the auto and the appliance makers—whose indifference in recent weeks saddened the steel industry.

Steel's plight isn't very severe anyway, and its distribution among the various companies is notably irregular. Some are still producing near capacity while others are far below that. Some have looked for a good summer all along while others—including some of the biggest—have expected total production of the industry in the summer months to average 80 per cent of capacity or even less.

Those who make large structural shapes, heavy plates, oil pipes mostly have full order books.

Makers of sheet steel have been the worst hit by the recent let down. And they are the ones who today are reporting the most heartening news, the first signs of a pickup in ordering by the auto companies and some of the appliance makers. And both of these use nonferrous metals, too.

Last Minute Entries Are Piled up for Horse Show Starting Here on July 18

Last-minute entries pouring in by mail, telephone and telegram have swamped the Magic Valley Horse Show committee. The four-night show opens July 18. Don Dodge, Sacramento, Calif., owner of several of the nation's top cutting horses over the past several years, will return after an absence since 1954. Dodge, regarded throughout the nation as the ultimate in developing and showing of cutting horses, will bring two of his top horses here. Other cutting horse entries are entered from Arizona, Texas and Idaho.

G. A. Radick, Seattle, will return with "Our Theme Song," western parade horse which won all top honors here last year and in other shows in the Northwest. Radick, who owns his own stable in Seattle, also will bring a Tennessee walking entry and a three gaited horse from his stable.

Another favorite of last year's show which will return is the Marilyn-Bue stable, Yakima. These entries, including live and three gaited horses, will be ridden by Marilyn and Susan Brendt, two of the youngest horsewomen appearing in competition in national shows and two of the Northwest's top riders.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cornell, Boise, and their sons who have been participating in Magic Valley Horse shows almost since their beginning, also are among exhibitors this year.

Mrs. J. E. White, show secretary, reports many local horses are among entries now being listed. Included will be horses trained at the Wall McCalle stables, Twin Falls, and from other Magic Valley points.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simmons, Missoula, Mont., whose horses are trained by McCalle, will show their parade and line harness horses and will have two new three- and five-gaited entries.

John S. Feldhusen, show chairman, will show a junior fine harness horse and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jessor have entered several of their Morgans.

Local cutting horses, Arabians, pleasure horses and children's entries have been made to round out these classes.

This year's show includes 48 classes over the four nights and will feature a drill by the local junior drill team and other riding groups. Halter classes have been set for 9 a.m. Sunday, July 19, when no admission will be charged. In addition to the regular breeds, halter classes also have been set up for the Shetland and Welch ponies.

Texas Scouts Are Prepared For Jamboree

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 9 (AP)—The state of Texas, which with due modesty admits to being first in everything, landed the first contingent of Boy Scouts to the fourth national jamboree here today.

A contingent of 780 Texas boys rolled into the national camp area and basking the Lone Star state code, was 20 minutes ahead of time. The train from Corpus Christi was due at 5 a.m., but chugged into the station at nearby Norristown ahead of schedule with its whooping load of youngsters.

They milled about for an hour in a driving rain storm before they were placed on buses for the jaunt over the rolling countryside to the camp site where Gen. George Washington marshaled his ragged Continental army during the winter of 1777-1778.

The first Texas contingent was followed by 300 Scouts from Seattle, Wash., then a trainload of 250 boys from San Bernardino, Calif., and 500 more boys from Dallas, Tex.

The rain had slackened to light showers when the later trains moved into the station.

The Texans left no doubt as to their identity.

The youngsters tumbled from trains giving rebel yells and waving the Stars and Bars of the confederacy as they raced over the platforms eager to reach camp.

The Seattle contingent was more subdued as they stepped from their train, smartly formed lines and counted off briskly, and then swung in fours to their buses.

Contract Breach Is Claimed Over $6,000 Payment

Breach of contract is alleged in a complaint filed in Twin Falls district court Monday by J. R. Boyle against Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pastors.

Boyle claims that on Oct. 9, 1955, he entered an agreement with the Pastors whereby he was to give them $6,000 if they would provide him "health and comfort" during his natural lifetime.

He states that until May 20, he had resided with the Pastors at Murtaugh. On May 20, he continues, the Pastors purchased a 12-by-16-foot building and installed a four-by-four-foot bathroom and moved it onto their premises. He claims they requested he move out of their home and into the building. He says the building is not sufficient size to constitute a "place for human habitation."

He said when he refused to move the Pastors ordered him to leave their home. He wants the contract rescinded and his $6,000 returned.
