Backer of High Dam Says Plans Killed by House

WASHINGTON, July 22 (U.P.)—A longtime champion of the proposed federal Hells Canyon dam admitted today that the project has "failed in house committee."

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, D., Ore., said "Republican hostility" was "mainly responsible for the defeat of Hells Canyon." Neuberger's statement was the first outright admission from a Hells canyon advocate that the controversial legislation has been beaten. The senator made the comments in a statement in which he noted that there has been "some criticism" of Rep. Al Ullman, D., Ore., "because the Hells canyon bill has failed in house committee."

Neuberger said the criticism had come from Ullman's opponents in his home second district in Oregon. "This criticism is the height of hypocrisy," Neuberger said. "Republican hostility is mainly responsible for the defeat of Hells canyon. For these people to assail Al Ullman is the moral equivalent of a person who has shoved your brother over a cliff, then turns around and condemns the family physician because he is unable to save your brother's life."

Neuberger said that Ullman, a member of the house interior committee and author of one of several Hells canyon bills, has led "one of the most courageous, persistent and unflagging fights ever carried on for a beneficial project."

But Neuberger added that "he had against him the private-utility lobby, the Republican national committee and the massive influence of the White House itself."

"He also had against him certain elements in the second Oregon district, who would rather secure a million kilowatts of low-cost firm power for the state than support the project," Neuberger said.

Benson Wants Price Prop Rules Relaxed

MISSOULA, Mont., July 22 (P)—Secretary of Agriculture Earl T. Benson today said agricultural price support should be administered under general guides "without the use of fixed formulas." He said past consequences of formula support have been "extremely damaging" for agriculture as a whole.

Cars Pile up In Dust Haze Near Rupert

RUPERT, July 22—Four automobiles were involved in an accident today on highway 30N at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Damage to two of the cars was slight and they left the scene by the time Sheriff Tom Johnson arrived.

Mrs. Herschel Loebl, 52, Idaho, stopped her 1951 Chevrolet on the highway because the dust was thick she could not see where she was going. Sharon Bateman, 19, Lewiston, Calif., driving a 1955 Ford, collided with the rear of the Chevrolet. The two other cars piled behind the Ford. Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at $100 and damage to the Ford at $350.

Bob Simmitt, 17, Rupert, driving a 1956 Ford pickup, collided with a 1952 Pontiac driven by Erna Dockert, 18, Rupert, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday when she started to pass her car as it started to make a left turn. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $200 and damage to the Pontiac at $400.

A similar situation existed in another accident at 11:30 a.m. Saturday one mile south of Rupert on highway 30N. Frank Hollingsworth, Pasadena, Calif., driving a 1949 Chrysler, collided with a 1950 Chevrolet truck driven by Patricia Griffith, 15, Rupert, as she started to make a left turn.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $25 and $200 to the Chrysler. A Mayflower van driven by Ed R. Rupert, Indianapolis, Ind., hit the rear end neon sign at the Arctic drive-in at 1:15 a.m. Saturday when he turned off the highway to get to the sign was estimated at $200.

Eight Youths Die in Crash

SOMERSET, Ky., July 22 (U.P.)—A day of pleasure riding in a rattaptrap car ended in death on a railroad crossing for eight youngsters yesterday.

The youths had been riding around in the 1941 model car all day. Only minutes before the Southern railway freight hit them, one boy, scared by what he called "some reckless driving," had left the auto.

Dead are Charles Allen, 13; his two sisters, Frances, 14, and Josephine, 15; Betty Bray, 15; James Richards, 16; James Calhoun, 12; Charles Simmons, 16; and Ronald Davis, 17. All were from Somerset.

Arman Convicted on Refusal To Accept Orders for Haircut

FUCHU, Japan, July 22 (U.P.)—A court martial today found a young American airman guilty of disobeying an order in refusing to get a "white-side" haircut and sentenced him to four months imprisonment at hard labor.

The board also reduced Arman's 376 "Donald" Wheeler of Corvallis, Colo., to the rank of airman basic (private) and fined him $50 monthly for four months.

"I do not think this is fair," Wheeler said as he choked back the tears after the sentencing.

The 20-year-old Wheeler balked at getting the haircut—one with shaved sides and a fringe on the top—while a member of the honor guard at the U. N. Far East command headquarters at Pershing Heights in downtown Tokyo.

Stand Under Atomic Blast

The first humans to intentionally stand under an atomic explosion look at the cloud soon after the first air-to-air atomic rocket ever fired exploded at 15,000 feet over the Nevada desert. They were air force officers assigned to the lonely station at ground zero to report on what might happen to the people below an aerial atomic battle. They had no protection whatever. Civil Rights Compromise Move Gathering Headway in Senate

WASHINGTON, July 22 (P)—Senate sentiment jelled swiftly today in the direction of paring the Eisenhower administration's civil rights bill down to a measure providing solely for protection of voting rights. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, predicted to reporters that unless this action is taken, the senate may pass no civil rights bill at all. Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, announced he will support a move by Senators Anderson, D., N. M., and Alken, R., Vt., to strip the bill of proposed powers to enforce racial integration in the schools and public places in the South.

T.F. Posse Climaxes Annual Horse Show

A flawless performance by the Twin Falls Junior posse which has brought statewide recognition to this community in the past several seasons highlighted the final performance of the Magic Valley Horse show for 1957 Sunday night at Frontier field.

Total paid attendance for the four-day annual event was listed by show authorities at approximately 2,500. The crowd Saturday night, totaling about 731 people, was the largest. Sunday evening's show drew 561 persons.

Led by their queen, Carolyn Wyllie, and drill leaders Bill Vickers and Karen Bumgardner, the 25 members moved through 10 minutes of full speed drill without a single bobbie. A special ceremony preceded their drill. Each member was introduced, making an individual entrance into the ring. Drillmaster Dean Vickers and the assistant drillmaster, Noel Oiler, also were introduced by Carolyn Wyllie, master of ceremonies. Honorary memberships were presented by Vice President Jerry James to Dalos McGuire, Chamber of Commerce Manager Mitchell Hunt, Dr. D. A. Jackson and Dr. Howard Runk. Mrs. Dean Vickers, who assists with the posse organization, also was introduced.

Hunt presented the posse with a large trophy for their first place position in posse drill demonstrations during the Snake River stampede at Nampa. The junior group, riding in competition with adult and junior posers from throughout the state, took first place in the drill and first place in the parade there.

In another special ceremony, a wreath of red roses was presented by Mrs. Duffey Reed on behalf of the Horse Show association, to the five gaited stake winner in memory of Claude H. DeWittier and J. E. White, veteran horse show sponsors and officials over the past 14 years. Stake classes Sunday night saw championship trophies and ribbons captured by the west's finest horses.

Western pleasure championship honors went to a 13-year-old girl, Irene Jennings, for her exhibiting of Cinderella, owned by her father, Lewis Jennings.

The five gaited stake, in what officials have proclaimed the most outstanding five gaited class in local show history, went to Beulah Neitzel's Boise entry, Blythe Spirit.

In the national cutting horse championship, the show winner for three nights of open competition was Poco Mona, owned by B. A. Skipper, Jr., Sacramento, Calif. Winners of the final night cutting were Sugar Russom, owned by Art (Continued on Page 3, Column 3)

The conferences are designed for an exchange of ideas between law enforcement officers and judges of various courts and for promotion of uniform penalties in traffic courts throughout the state.

The governor has invited judges of district, probate and municipal courts, city and county prosecutors, district presidents of the Idaho bar association, and local, county and state law enforcement officers.

The conferences will be held at Boise, July 30; Lewiston, Aug. 6; Coeur d'Alene, Aug. 8; Idaho Falls, Aug. 13; Pocatello, Aug. 15, and Twin Falls, Aug. 22.

Subjects at the conference will cover traffic court procedures, coordination of traffic law enforcement, the state's safety responsibility law, proposed driver training legislation, and the handling of moving traffic violations in courts.

Man Rescued After Injury

CHALLIS, July 22 (U.P.)—Dan Bartnik, 22, was reported in good condition at the Challis hospital today after his evacuation by helicopter and light airplane from the remote mountain area where he accidentally shot himself in the leg.

Bartnik telephoned forest officials yesterday morning from Little Soldier lookout about 25 miles northwest of here where he is the fire spotter.

The forest service sent two smoke jumpers to the remote lookout to administer first aid until a helicopter arrived to remove the wounded man. Bartnik was flown by the helicopter to an airstrip where a light plane picked him up for the flight to Challis.

The forest service said the rescue mission took less than two hours.

Atomic Blast Is Postponed Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 22 (U.P.)—The atomic energy commission today postponed a test of a nuclear shot "Owens" until tomorrow at 6:30 a.m. PDT because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The postponement was the sixth consecutive delay of the firing of the below average size nuclear device. The test was scheduled to be started at 6:30 a.m. PDT today before the latest postponement.

Committee Report Scores Deficiencies For Civil Defenses

WASHINGTON, July 22 (U.P.)—A house committee accused the government today of gross negligence for failing to provide safeguards against deadly radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons. It called for construction of a multibillion-dollar shelter system to protect most of the population against blast, heat and radiation from any nuclear attack.

In a report to the house, the government operations committee said it had testimony that such a system could be built and equipped for 20 billion dollars.

It said building highways needed to evacuate big cities—in accordance with official government policies which the committee said won't work—alone would cost more than that.

A Republican minority dissented from the shelter recommendations on grounds further study is needed. In a separate report the minority said, "There is no benefit in taking steps simply for the sake of taking steps and then possibly find that we have wasted our substance in a Maginot line type of false security."

The committee majority approved the report of a subcommittee which held hearings on fallout, evacuation, shelter construction and other civil defense problems last year and this.

The subcommittee said there was "overwhelming evidence" that development of super-hydrogen bombs, with their vast fallout spread, had rendered obsolete the federal civil defense administration's plans to evacuate big cities and target areas under threat of atomic attack.

Although the first super-H-bomb was exploded at Bikini in March, 1954, the report said the civil defense agency as late as January, 1955, was insisting evacuation was the only answer to giant size atomic weapons.

Officially the plan still has not been abandoned although Val Peterson, who recently resigned as civil defense director, told the subcommittee at hearings this year he had recommended a shelter construction program to the White House.

"The subcommittee believes that the FCDA has been grossly negligent at the possible expense of our national security if it is only now taking in consideration the hazards of radioactive fallout," the report said.

Carpenters Back at Jobs on Buhl Plant

Virgil Tullis, executive secretary-treasurer of the Rocky Mountain Council of Carpenters, conferred with Twin Falls carpenter union officials here Monday and said that because of a wage settlement and "responsibility to fruit and vegetable growers," 24 men had returned to their jobs at the Green Giant food processing plant at Buhl.

Tullis discussed the strike as an effort to bring the local wage scales up to that of Boise and that the 55 cent per hour pay increase has been scheduled for a 24-month period.

Of the total pay hike asked 45 cents will be in wages and 10 cents will be in a health and welfare fund, Tullis said.

Tullis said the carpenters union had "removed any boycott or strike action" at work on additions to the Green Giant plant and the Terminal Ice company at Nampa.

He said the return to work of the striking carpenters at the two plants was authorized by union leaders because large quantities of perishable foods were involved in any delay of construction.

"The plants must be ready when the food products are ready for processing," Tullis explained.

Meanwhile, United Press reported pickets against Morrison-Knudsen company at Brownlee dam would be the first which the carpenters have set up at a major project, but Tullis said pickets later may be stationed at some atomic energy commission construction projects in eastern Idaho. He said previous picketing had been carried out only at scattered small homebuilding projects.

Pilot Fatally Hurt in Test Of New Craft

BOISE, July 22 (U.P.)—Ed Hudson, 34, Boise, died in the Veterans hospital here today of injuries he received last evening when his home-made autogiro-type aircraft flipped and cartwheeled while taxiing down the south ramp at Gowen field here.

Hospital attendants said the pilot died at 6:35 a.m. of a head injury.

Witnesses to the accident said Hudson was making taxi tests with the craft and had hit a fast speed when the autogiro lifted its nose, flipped over backwards and then cartwheeled down the ramp.

The whirling overhead blade snapped and may have struck Hudson's head.

The accident was the second at Gowen field yesterday.

Second Lieut. Harland D. Huff, Boise, caught injury when his F-80 jet fighter dived out on landing and its engine started a grass fire between the runways at the field as it skidded along with the nosewheel collapsed by impact with the ground.

Huff jumped to the ground as the air national guard jet skidded to a stop. Fire crews at the field put out the grass fire before the aircraft was enveloped, but some damage to the plane resulted from the crash landing.

Nine Killed as Navy Airplane Hits Mountain

TREVISO, Italy, July 22 (U.P.)—Italian police made their way slowly down the rocky side of Mt. Pra today with the bodies of eight American airmen killed yesterday when their U. S. navy search plane crashed in flames, killing nine.

The ninth victim had been brought down yesterday. The plane's 10th occupant—the only survivor—was in serious condition in a Turin hospital.

Their P2V-type plane sideslipped in storm winds and crashed while it was searching for a sister plane missing since Friday with 11 aboard.

A party of Italian mountain climbers saw the search plane crash at 5,300 feet up on Mt. Pra, near the alpine resort town of Selistrier, between Turin and the French frontier.

They pulled two living airmen from the wreckage and flames, but one of the survivors died of burns a short time afterwards.

Inquest Planned For Auto Deaths

AMERICAN FALLS, July 22 (U.P.)—An inquest was expected to be called tomorrow into the U. S. highway 30 head-on collision near here which took three lives.

Power county Coroner H. L. Davis said the inquest would be held if one of the drivers, Robert Howard Curzon, 52, Pocatello, recovers sufficiently to testify.

Curzon and Norman Elmo Lynch, about 45, Prineville, Ore., were injured in the crash of a truck and station wagon Friday.

Fatally injured were James Boyd Lynch, 19, and Mrs. Olive Mae Lynch, about 35, also of Prineville, and Mrs. A. M. Lynch, about 70, Anderson, Calif.

Toll Hits 534

LAKE CHARLES, La., July 22 (U.P.)—The dead and missing from Hurricane Audrey's July 27 rampage total 534 persons. Property damage was $4.4 million, said a report from the U. S. Coast Guard.

Sherriff Henry Reid today.

Israel Awaits Word From Ship Which Is Testing Egyptian Canal Blockade

JERUSALEM, Israel, July 22 (U.P.)—Israel today anxiously awaited news of the fate of the Israeli-chartered ship Brigitte Toft which was scheduled to enter the Suez canal this morning in an unofficial test of Egypt's blockade.

(Hull, Blyth, agents for the ship, said in Cairo the ship was 14 hours overdue. They said the Toft reported twice during the journey from Rangoon to Suez having a fire in the engine room but that no serious damage or casualties occurred.)

The 355-ton Danish ship was en route to the Israeli port of Haifa from Durban with a cargo of rice. It was on Egypt's blacklist because last spring it became the first major vessel to use the Gulf of Aqaba and Israel's newly developed port of Eilat.

The Aqaba sea route was opened when Israel cleared the Sinai peninsula and Tiran and Sanafir islands at the mouth of the gulf last fall. Egypt had leased the two islands controlling the strait of Tiran from Saudi Arabia.

Israeli sources said the two islands were still unoccupied although there have been reports Saudi Arabia was placing guns there to renew the blockade. The Sinai shore opposite the islands is held now by troops of the U. N. emergency force.

Israeli officials said they were planning counter action should Egypt hold up or confiscate the cargo or prevent Suez canal passage. But they said action would be limited to political moves, probably the security council.

It was believed that if the Brigitte Toft were allowed to transit the canal Israel would make a "real" test of any belligerent intentions by sending a ship flying the Israeli flag to the canal. Israeli leaders have declared several times interference with such a ship would be an act of war that would not go unpunished.

(A dispatch from Suez, Egypt, said the ship's agents already had paid the canal tolls in preparation for transiting the canal with a load of rice and copra.)

Officials of the Egyptian war effort committee announced they would board the Brigitte Toft to ascertain whether it was carrying any war material for Israel. Such cargo would be seized.

Range Fires Are Being Controlled

BOISE, July 22 (U.P.)—The bureau of land management this morning reported that most of the range fires which hung a pall of smoke over the Boise area yesterday were under control at least temporarily.

The only range or forest fire still spreading in southwest Idaho was a blaze near Melba, and a fresh crew of firefighters was sent to that area today.

The most spectacular fire among the 20 or more lightning-caused blazes which were burning late yesterday had swept over more than 15,000 acres of rangeland east of Boise from Blacks creek to the Lucky Peak dam area.

$633 Sought for Remodeling Job

Ben S. Robison sued Floyd A. Myer for $633.50 Monday in Twin Falls district court for remodeling and repairs made to certain dwellings located in the 900 block of Second avenue west.

Robison, represented by Attorney H. N. Jewell, Twin Falls, says he entered into an oral agreement with Myer for the work. He further says Myer agreed to pay him $10 per day for 25 days and $250 per hour thereafter until the work was completed. Robison claims he also furnished certain materials. He asks the court to award him a lien on the property until the $633.50 plus costs is paid.

Keep the White Flag of Safety Flying

Now three days without a traffic death in our Magic Valley.

Midwest Greets Cooler Weather

A bracing heat wave grudgingly gave ground today to a weak, cool front that denied portions of the Great Lakes and plains states with a series of severe storms.

Sheboygan, Wis., was hit by one of its most damaging storms in years yesterday and Enid, Okla., was swamped by a two-inch rainfall in a six-hour period last night.

There was no relief in the east, however, where New Yorkers basked in the hottest weather yesterday in nearly two years. The mercury hit a top of 97.3 degrees.

Sultan Given British Help Against Foes

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—British troops today were sent to support the sultan of Muscat and Oman whose oil-rich sheikhdom near the southern border of Saudi Arabia is threatened by rebel tribes.

The war office said a company of Scots Highlanders of the Cameronians was alerted at Bahrain on the Persian gulf and was expected to fly today to Sharjah, 200 miles north of the trouble center in Oman.

Planes Dispatched
The royal air force was reported flying Vampire and Hunter jet fighters up from Aden to aid the sultan in his fight against the rebels. The royal navy also was understood to have sent a sloop to Muscat to "show the flag."

The sheikhdom is one of several British protectorates along the Persian gulf. The rebel forces are followers of the Imam of Oman, a religious leader who claims he and not the sultan is the real ruler of the protectorate.

Complications
British sources said there was evidence that Saudi Arabia had intervened on behalf of the Imam in past troubles in the area. Because of Saudi interest, open intervention by Britain could be embarrassing since Saudi Arabia is one of the key nations for U. S. Middle East policy.

The sultan with his tiny British-officered army of 2,000 men, chased the Imam out of his desolate kingdom last year into the uncharted wastes of the desert interior. But last week the Imam came back with a new following and rapidly gained control of practically the entire interior of the protectorate.

Under an agreement signed after their divorce in May, 1955, Rourke agreed to provide $40 each month for their two minor children. Rourke says the $390 represents amounts due her for past due support payments.

Rourke's address is listed in the complaint as California. Stephen, Stephan and Heap represent Mrs. Rourke.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
WASHINGTON—Prominent aviation experts in house and senate are backing legislation to prevent the administration from granting concealed "diplomatic" ways to foreign airlines for political and diplomatic reasons. Unless checked, they rather than economic reasons. They charge that this policy will throw our great international carriers back on our backs at tremendous expense to taxpayers.
In granting licenses to foreign lines to crisscross this country, President Eisenhower has frequently overruled adverse reports from the civil aeronautics board. He takes his advice from Secretary Dulles, who insists that these favors are necessary to retain the friendship of these competing nations. A Dulles spokesman recently said that the policy would be expanded.
When CAB turns down one of these requests, foreign governments owning or subsidizing these firms appeal to Dulles, threatening retaliation. Queen Juliana of Holland got permission for KLM to fly to Houston, Tex., simply by writing a letter to Ike, although CAB had voted unanimously against the Dutch firm's application.

POT SHOTS
CAUGHT UP WITH HIM
For years, so we hear, Bobby Bopp has been telling a fish story that finally caught up with him. The way we hear it, Bobby has always insisted he threw back any fish less than six inches. When friends would chide him, suggest that maybe even a six-inch trout was too small to keep, he'd reply, "Yeah, but I measure 'em between the eyes!"
Just the other day, Bobby and another Twin Falls fireman, Leonard Ross, went fishing together up on Magic reservoir. The reservoir being what it is, it wasn't too long before Bobby had a good strike, tied into a fair-sized trout. When it was hauled into the boat, the trout appeared to weigh around three pounds. Nothing unusual, but just a nice trout.
So Leonard grabbed the trout, quick-like measured it from eye to eye and found it wanting. "Too small!" he declared as he tossed it back into the water.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE
I can throw more light on Hank Pegler, the chief accuser of Joe McCarthy and Pat McCarran, by harking back to the murder of Bugsy Siegel, Greenspun's partner in a gambling dump in Las Vegas built partly with hot materials while restrictions were still supposed to control such stuff just after the war. A senate committee made a pass at the question of those building materials after V-J day, but this mob had influence.
Billy Wilkerson, Westbrook Pegler, a Hollywood gossip, dreammaker and hater of deluxe pretensions, had picked up a spread of Nevada desert on a tax delinquency. To hear him tell it, he learned with dismay that Mr. Siegel, who muscled in, was a low character.
However, Siegel did possess "background." The Bug's relatives in New York, who manufacture hard-ware, provided one of the many jobs that tied over Eleanor Roosevelt's family did move in the best circles. Greenspun hit Vegas and Los Angeles from a scrape in the New York courts concerning money business in his bar examination. About a year before Siegel was murdered, Greenspun hijacked a sloop called Idalia at Wilmington, near Los Angeles, to ship surplus American machine-gun parts to Acapulco for further shipment abroad. Nine were indicted for jeopardizing the peace of the United States, but all went free, although Greenspun had to plead guilty of a felony and pay a fine of $10,000. He made a piteous plea of altruism, but it came out that an account of one Heyman, in Geneva, Switzerland, paid him $1,300,000 in three installments through a bank in Mexico City.

Is That So!
Animals Act as War Heroes, Too
Animals who have fought beside their masters, often saving large numbers and turning the tide of battle, have occasionally received a "well done."
Moustache, a dog, was decorated by Napoleon's Field Marshal Lannes, Duke of Montebello. In 1800 when Napoleon's troops were camped near the Valley of the Balbo, in Italy, an Austrian regiment crept stealthily through the darkness to take the French unawares. Eugene Berns and would have succeeded but for Moustache who had smelled them out and raised such a fuss that the Frenchmen were all on their feet and ready when the attackers arrived.
But even a greater feat—and the one that won him undying glory in battle, occurred in Austria. While Napoleon's men in a certain sector were taking a trouncing, Moustache calmly moved back and forth among the men of his regiment and happened to be next to the flag-bearer when an Austrian rushed and killed the bearer and snatched the falling standard. The snarling Moustache was at the Austrian's throat in an instant and tore the regimental banner from his hands.

Legion Recruits Being Protested
CAIRO, July 22 (AP)—The Algerian national liberation front appealed to West Germany today not to allow its citizens to enroll in the French foreign legion. It said "France uses these men to wage war against Algerian nationalists."
The appeal was issued through Arab league headquarters here. The organization said participation of West Germans in the legion "arouses hatred (among) Algerians toward West Germany."
RUSSIA BRAGS
LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Moscow radio said today Russia's industrial output for 1957 has risen 10 percent above last year's figure. It credited Communists boss Nikita Khrushchev's industrial decentralization plan for the boost.
special guard at the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting in Casablanca, 1945. Later, he was assigned to combat duty with company "1" of the 30th Infantry Division. One day when his platoon was trying to wipe out a machine-gun nest, Chips broke away from his handler and stormed the emplacement by himself. The enemy was so startled that all surrendered—and Chips, deservedly, was cited for bravery beyond the call of duty. Many a statue has been cast of magnificent war chieftains—but more to glorify the commander than the horse. However, war-homing pigeons can claim one for themselves. It rests over a gate in Paris in grateful acknowledgment of the tens of thousands of microfilm messages carried in and out of the beleaguered city during Prussian encirclement. But to me, the finest testimonial of all to man's partner in war is part of a great Scottish war memorial in Edinburgh. Cut in its base are these words: Remember the beasts who have served and died. And underneath this humble inscription are tablets to the dog, the horse, the camel, the ox and the elephant; to the canaries and white mice who discovered gas in tunnels; and a beautiful reproduction of three pigeons standing by their basket about to spread their wings and carry a message as they have so often in the past, saving men's lives.

CIVIL RIGHTS STALEMATE
Current senate performance over civil rights legislation is generally regarded as futile and timewasting.
In another sense, however, it is the most important piece of unfinished business before Congress.
The reason is that the civil rights bill has not been got out of the way before anything else can be done.
When Eisenhower administration leaders let it be known earlier this year that they would like to get civil rights through congress before the school aid bill was taken up, a lot of old-timers in Washington thought it was a crazy idea.
They foresaw accurately what would happen. The house would pass it. The senate would bog down in weeks of debate. The result would be a do-nothing congress.
As a matter of hindsight and second guessing, this program may turn out to be not such a bad bet. For a first-step civil rights bill has a chance to get through the senate this year.
Nobody can make a flat prediction about it. There are too many gimmicks the shrewder, more ruthless Southern Democratic leaders can put over to sidetrack or block, as they have always been able to do in the past.
These Southern strategists could even give Russian diplomats a few pointers on stalling.
But they are fighting a losing, rear-guard action against the coalition of Northern Democrats and Republicans.
Eventually they are doomed to lose and they know it.
What comes out finally may not be the first-step Eisenhower-Brownell bill to guarantee voting rights. There may be compromises.
But if any kind of a civil rights bill is passed by this congress and signed by the President, it will get this item off the congressional calendar. This will clear the way for action on many other pieces of much-needed legislation.

FREE FOREIGN FUNDS DAMAGE U. S. AIRLINES
These grants constitute a generally unknown free gift which damage numerous American industries. They do not show up in foreign aid appropriation bills, nor are they included in estimates of overseas bounty.
Trans World Airlines lost $700,000 on 1956 overseas operations because of foreign discrimination against it by three nations—Britain, West Germany and Switzerland—although they have received rich favors from us. Pan American World Airways is also suffering. Although now off subsidy, both may be forced back on the federal payroll because of this one-sided generosity.
AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY HURT—Another serious threat lies in the fact that these foreign lines use planes built in their own countries, which hurts our aircraft industry, both stockholders and workers. American taxpayers' money finances the construction of planes for these nationalized companies.
Almost 10 foreign lines now are permitted to fly throughout the United States, picking up passengers who would otherwise be served by domestic carriers. Eleven more have asked CAB for similar rights. It is a lopsided arrangement, for there is almost no westward travel from Europe. For one person flying to this country, it is estimated that overseas airlines haul 70 on the return trip.
For one thing, European governments do not permit their nationals to take enough money abroad for extensive or expensive visits.
ONE-WAY BARGAIN—Two examples suffice to reveal the inequity of this procedure. An Australian line will soon be granted a license to fly to San Francisco and New York, and thence to Europe. In return, an American firm will be permitted to fly to Australia, the South Pole, Tasmannia and South Africa, a route traveled only by hardy birds. That is, of course, a one-way bargain.
TWA, under this supposedly reciprocal arrangement, can now fly through London to Frankfurt in Germany. It sought permission to fly on to Zurich, a distance of 178 miles, where its regular route continues to Athens, Cairo, India and Ceylon. But British BOAC blocked the request for fear of TWA competition. TWA lost $700,000 on this leg alone, although BOAC has been given lucrative routes in this country.

BEAT 'EM TWICE DAILY
The other day when we were driving down the boulevard, happened to notice a small boy and a woman mowing the lawn at a certain house.
The next day, while driving past the same place, couldn't help noticing what a fine job they'd done.
Tell us, folks, how do you manage that sort of thing? In case you hadn't guessed by now, that was your lawn your wife and boy were mowing.

Do picnicers leave their kitchen at home looking like they leave campgrounds? Asks Our Outdoorsman.

YA STILL WANT IT?
Gentlemen:
A copy of your May 8, 1957, column has come to our attention through our clipping services because of its mention of saccharin in a letter from a reader.
The reader, identified as "B. V. of Hazelton, asks for recipes using saccharin instead of sugar and it occurs to us that you may appreciate the somewhat tardy opportunity to forward one of the enclosed recipe booklets to this reader. The other is for your file.
Monsanto Chemical company does not market saccharin products. However, the company supplies much of the bulk saccharin which is processed by Monsanto customers into tablets or solutions for sale under their brand names.
Enjoyed the column, by the way! Sorry that we don't also have a recipe for dandelion wine for reader "X. Perimeter" of Twin Falls. We do have the dandelions, though, if you have the formula.

Pot Shots note: Okay, B. V. Hazelton, if you still want the recipe book, just drop into the office or send us your name and we'll mail it. And all our other good constituents undoubtedly saw what the man said—He wants recipes for dandelion wine! What are you waiting for? Mail recipes to him direct.

Tokyo Laboratory Is Struck by Blaze

"TOMORROW AND TOMORROW"
Every year congress is chided in the spring months for not doing enough. Actually this has been a pretty standard pattern for a long time. Of more crucial concern is a developing congressional habit of putting things off not from month to month but year to year.
The day hardly goes by now without a news story suggesting that one or another piece of major legislation is being shoved aside. It used to be the citizens of Brooklyn who said: "Wait till next year." Now it's the boys on Capitol Hill.
Hardy perennials like statehood for Alaska and Hawaii crowd the list of postponed bills.
The issue of federal aid to education, having been kicked around for a decade, still hangs suspended. Obviously it deserves to be settled one way or the other. Uncertainty breeds inaction at both the state and local level.
This has been a big year for disclosures of racketeering and financial finagling in labor unions, but chances are reported slim that congress will do anything promptly to correct the situation by legislation.
Congress has been deferring year after year suggested administration revisions in the Taft-Hartley labor law.
And so it goes. Some measures of consequence do get through the mill, of course, but their number is low. Postponement seems to be the permanent mood of congress. Why do today what you can put off until tomorrow—and the day after that?
Next year is an election year, and there is no finer excuse for further postponing action. The lawmakers always find it easy to avoid doing something they think might alienate one set or another of voters.
There may come a day of reckoning when voters will be more insistent that legislators do what they are sent to Washington for, instead of jockeying for political position so they can get back to the capital to do nothing all over again.

HE'S GETTING NOWHERE
Oklahoma's Democratic Senator Robert Kerr is of course entitled to whatever scrap of personal satisfaction he may derive from his disgraceful conduct in the senate Monday when he loudly brayed his own opinion that when it comes to fiscal policies President Eisenhower "hasn't any brains." It's a shabby satisfaction that certainly isn't widely shared.
While he may be quite proud of his own shameful wincecrack in this instance, it's one for which he may pay pretty dearly because it certainly lowers whatever standing he may have had in public esteem.
There's no basis for any assumption that President Eisenhower ever held himself out as a financial expert, but there's plenty of evidence of his readiness to seek the advice of others who are more familiar with the problem. And out of the confusion of tongues, there's good reason for confidence, he's almost invariably disposed to heed most the counsels that are grounded in experience and common sense.
Certainly the President has never displayed any inclination to step himself into the gap that Treasury Secretary Humphrey lately pointed out in his statement: "I don't believe anybody is wise enough to completely manage our economy of 175 million people. There are forces at work in an economy of that size that are so great and so complex that nobody can know exactly what to do to manage the economy." The consensus of the most experienced and truly wise is all in support of Mr. Humphrey's conclusion.
But perhaps Mr. Kerr, so contemptuous of sincere endeavor on the part of others, is suggesting that he himself is the one who could take on such an impossible responsibility.
If that's his intention, he's rapidly getting nowhere with it, and his clowning in the senate Monday doesn't help, but seriously reduces his effective influence in whatever cause he may be prompted to endorse—Boise Statesman.

Lace Is Now for All Season Use

By GAILE DUGAR
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Joining up with wool and cotton as a year-around fabric is that lovely new-comer, lace.

It's a newcomer in the sense that it used to be confined to certain seasons. Now it's blossoming out all over.

Not only is it present in all seasons, it's welcome daytime and evening, too. It even appears on the beach in the form of swimwear and beach coats.

It's a natural for the dressy sheath with matching cashmere sweater that has its own lace trim. It is often elegantly formal, of course, but it's for short evening gowns, cocktail dresses and dressy suits, too.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Letters from distressed candidates for college entrance have been coming to me lately. A student writes to this effect: "I have tried for one college near home and then another, but neither has room for me. Must I give up the idea altogether and go to work? There seems to be no promise of room for me even next year. Yet everybody keeps saying, 'go to college. You won't get anywhere without an education.'"

The president of Yankton college in South Dakota suggests that the candidate for college entrance look beyond his immediate area to find a college that has room for good students. That is a fine idea. The older institutions in the east and some of those on the west coast are crowded but there are those in the middle of the country that have some openings for students of good record. Wouldn't it be a good idea to look into that situation?

Of course it is fine if one can attend a college nearer home but if that is not possible, is one to give up when there is a good chance of finding a place, further away? Most young people can use a car or get some friend to give him a lift to a more distant place. And too, in some colleges the fees are less than in the crowded ones. It will not cost too much to investigate and it might be well worth while.

—I could get into a liberal arts program but I want business courses. I can't afford the time for the cultural courses. Of course I do not know whether this young man is right or wrong for his case but my experience says that most young men cannot afford not to take their BA degree from the liberal arts college.

In any department of work the trained, enriched mind of the liberal arts person will master any situation or technique with greater ease and with better result than one

New Colors Are Plans of Hosiery Industry for Fall

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—The stocking industry plans to give itself a shot in the leg this fall.

The National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers said sales in recent years have been a little on the seamy side, mostly because the industry insists on giving women beige, beige, beige, instead of a whole color range.

An official of DuPont, a major producer of nylon yarn, said there is another reason: Decline in the "sexual significance" of feminine gams.

Association President William F. Williamson reported manufacturers' shipments of full-length hosiery fell to 713 million pairs last year, down from 721 million in 1950.

"The slight drop has been showing for 10 years," Williamson said. "But it is not a trend. It is more of an irritation."

"Some people say it is because of the increase in bareleggedness," Williamson said. "I doubt it, although our worst sales months are June and July."

"I just think women aren't buying as many hosiery because we offer them too narrow a choice of color and construction. The accent has been on the neutral shades to go with everything."

"No manufacturer can expect a woman to wear stockings all the time. But when she does, we should give her a wardrobe of hosiery."

Williamson said another reason for the sales sag should be cured as our population changes. The depression birth rate was low, so there are fewer women in the 18 to 25 year age group—the industry's best customer. But Williamson predicted that in the next five years, there would be five million potential customers in this bracket.

The DuPont company has released a consumer study it sponsored, showing that a high percentage of women now are content to go barelegged on occasion, when at one time stockings would have been a must.

"... There is clear evidence that the social necessity of wearing hosiery... has lost some of its compelling strength in the face of modern living and the changed social position of women," said the report.

"Women seem to feel that the sexual significance of their legs is declining," said D. M. Coyer, consumer research supervisor at DuPont. He said the emphasis has shifted since the hey-day of Marlene Dietrich and Betty Grable.

Even so, two-thirds of the women 20 and over in the study said they believe legs are the first things a man notices about woman. Only half the teen-agers, 15 to 19, felt such was true.

Whatever the cause for the decrease, the industry hopes for a run on hosiery counters because of the dozens of new colors for fall... because of fashion's new accent on hemline interest in both daytime and evening clothes.

"We'll costume the legs too," said the association.

Say a woman has purchased a fire red suit for fall. With it, she can wear hosiery with a subtle, pinkish cast. If her costume is brown, there is a wide range of shades to complement it.

To go with the lush fabrics featured in evening wear, the hosiery industry is out with a whole range of "gem tones"—ruby, sapphire, gold, amethyst, garnet and topaz.

And since this fall fur abounds as trimming, fur colors also move into hosiery. They carry such names as golden sable, honey sable, red fox, black mink, and iridescent leopard.

Gigantic Blast Reduces Cliff To Rock Pile

LITTLE VALLEY, Utah July 22 (AP)—Heavy equipment was at work today, beginning a six-month task of hauling away rubble blasted yesterday from a cliff in the biggest nonatomic explosion ever set off in the United States.

The blast of 1,700,000 pounds of explosives tumbled an estimated three million tons of rock only a few hundred yards from the shore of Great Salt Lake.

Barges will haul it into the lake as the base for a 13-mile dirt fill which is being built for the Southern Pacific Railroad. The fill will replace a wooden trestle on the railroad's famed Lucin cutoff across the northern end of the lake.

Newman one-half mile away on a sandspit in the lake during the blast saw the cliff expand like a balloon. Then jets of smoke and dust squirted through and the rock dropped back to earth.

As the dense cloud rolled outward, blue flames sparked and crackled like lightning in a thunderhead. This was caused when high tension power lines were knocked down by the flying rock.

The blast also broke telephone lines, cutting off all communication to the isolated construction camp on Promontory peninsula in the north end of the lake about 40 airline miles from Salt Lake City.

The public was barred from watching the blast. Besides newsmen, the only other witnesses were top executives of Southern Pacific, Morrison-Knudsen Construction Company, contractor on the 40-million-dollar project, Atlas Powder Company and about 100 residents of the construction camp. The executives watched from a barge in the lake, the others from the sandspit where newsmen were stationed.

The explosive, officials said, was 80 per cent nitro-carbo-nitrate. The rest was 20 per cent dynamite, which is necessary to detonate the slower acting explosive. They described nitro-carbo-nitrate as a fertilizer.

The chemical which blew up in the Texas City, Tex., disaster a decade ago.

Project engineer Howard Willard of the Southern Pacific said the biggest previous nonatomic explosion in the U.S. was 1,363,000 pounds set off Feb. 5, 1942, at Bristol, Tenn.

The public was barred from watching the blast. Besides newsmen, the only other witnesses were top executives of Southern Pacific, Morrison-Knudsen Construction Company, contractor on the 40-million-dollar project, Atlas Powder Company and about 100 residents of the construction camp. The executives watched from a barge in the lake, the others from the sandspit where newsmen were stationed.

The explosive, officials said, was 80 per cent nitro-carbo-nitrate. The rest was 20 per cent dynamite, which is necessary to detonate the slower acting explosive. They described nitro-carbo-nitrate as a fertilizer.

The chemical which blew up in the Texas City, Tex., disaster a decade ago.

Project engineer Howard Willard of the Southern Pacific said the biggest previous nonatomic explosion in the U.S. was 1,363,000 pounds set off Feb. 5, 1942, at Bristol, Tenn.

Girl, 17, Found Trapped After Plane Crackup

ALLIANCE, Neb., July 22 (AP)—A civil air patrol official today blamed a delay in reporting a missing aircraft for the ordeal of a 17-year-old girl trapped for 37 hours in the wreckage of a plane with her dead parents and the pilot.

The girl, Judy Diehl, Cozad, Neb., was rescued yesterday and sped to a hospital here where physicians said she was in fair condition and in good spirits.

Miss Diehl received a fractured leg, shock, cuts and bruises when the light plane in which she, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Diehl, and the pilot, Milo Kossman, 55, also Cozad, were riding nose into the ground in barren sandhill country near here.

Three Killed

The Diehls and German, owner of a plastics firm, apparently were killed instantly. Judy was unable to move because of her injuries. She attracted the attention of rescue planes by waving a white scarf.

She said the plane left Alliance about 8:30 p.m. Friday en route to Cozad, but flew into a storm and attempted to return to Alliance.

"I remember the plane going down," she told rescuers. "The next thing I knew I woke up in the wreckage."

Little Food

Her only food during the time she was trapped was one banana. She managed to catch some rainwater to drink.

At Omaha, Jim Grove, commander of the Nebraska wing of the CAF, criticized the search and rescue operation. He said he was not notified that the plane was missing until about noon yesterday, although it crashed Friday night.

Have to Pay

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth has decided to trim royal household expenses by installing pay telephones in Buckingham Palace, the Sunday Dispatch said yesterday.

The newspaper said the coin-operated phones will be used by the palace staff so their calls do not go on the royal-phone bill, estimated at $70,000 a year.

Alameda Reports Population Hikes

ALAMEDA, July 22 (AP)—Alameda's population has nearly doubled since 1950, census officials say.

Officials said the population has risen from the last official census of 4,694 to a possible figure of 8,864.

Mayor John B. Dahlstrom commented: "We are more than pleased."

Trips Taken

RICHFIELD, July 22 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brush are vacationing in Yellowstone National Park.

Mrs. Mable Freeman, Riverton, Utah, have returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. J. O. Freeman, and other relatives.

HISKEY BEATS SHEPPARD FOR STATE AMATEUR GOLF CROWN

Three-Time Champion Posts 8 and 7 Win Over Local Man for Sixth Family Title

Jim Hiskey made it six in a row for the Pocatello golfing family Sunday, beating Dick Sheppard, Twin Falls, 8 and 7 in 29 for the Idaho state amateur championship. It marked the third time that Jim had won the tournament, taking the title in 1954 and 1955 before Sunday's match. A gallery of about 350 persons followed the youthful finalists around as they opened play at Blue Lakes Country club Sunday morning. After halving the first two holes, Hiskey birdied No. 3 and went on to post his winning margin. He came out of the canyon with an 8-hole advantage over the University of Idaho golf team captain but couldn't cop the win until shooting for a birdy on the 29th hole.

'Gamble' Pays Off for Hebert in PGA Win

DAYTON, O., July 22 (U.P.)—The biggest gamble Lionel Hebert ever made paid off today with the PGA golf championship. The 29-year-old golfer from the Bayou country of Louisiana gave up his job as club pro at Erie, Pa., a year ago, determined "to make a name for myself."

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

The state amateur golf tournament is over and Jim Hiskey again is Idaho champion. But the final round in Sunday's action featured two careers that started together 14 years ago.

Hiskey beat Dick Sheppard, Twin Falls, 8 and 7 for the crown and it was these same two boys that started their careers together at the age of 8 on the same course where Jim clinched the crown.

Hiskey did some remembering Sunday after accepting the award for the third time. He recalled when "Dick and I started playing when we were 8. We used four or five wood shots on the first hole and after a while got to the green," the new champ remembered.

But their boyhood association went farther than just the golf course. As caddies at the municipal course, they spent many long days together and much of the idle time playing basketball on a hoop and backboard they erected near the clubhouse. Both dreamed of making the high school varsity basketball team and both fulfilled their hopes, but on separate teams. Dick was a member of the Twin Falls team that won the Big Six championship in 1944 and Jim was on the Pocatello team that handed the local five their first loss that year.

When he accepted the trophy, Hiskey paid special tribute to his parents and older brother, Sonny, who incidentally also played basketball for Twin Falls in 1949.

Jim recalled he and Sheppard "watched Sonny all the time to pick up pointers." He also added much of his ambition to succeed in golf was stimulated by the showings of his older brother.

But in the past few years, he told some 350 persons at the awards ceremonies, it was his folks who have been instrumental in helping him win. "I shouldn't even have been in the finals today," he claimed. "Old Norm (Norman Jorgensen, Idaho Falls, who forced him into a 21-hole semi-final playoff) had me beat. Going into the 18th hole two down had me worried, but Mom wasn't even nervous. She knew I was going to win."

While Jim left the gallery laughing after his acceptance speech, it was Babe who put the climax on the ceremonies.

After accepting his medalist trophy from Ed Purves, Babe looked at the audience and told them, "I like to make speeches, but I'll save mine for when I win."

Ernie Schmeitler, Jr., Blue Lakes pro, returned Sunday from Dayton, O., when he participated in the PGA meet. He won in his first round, but was forced out in the second.

Schmeitler said he was wound up for that first one and after winning had a terrific let-down. "I couldn't get back up for the second match," he reports. "I wasn't even nervous." He went out in 41, where he lost all his ground, but came in with a 34. It was too little, too late.

Ernie offered his thanks to all his local supporters who helped him get to the tournament. "I appreciate a lot," he said, "and I'll never be able to repay all those who helped me."

Redlegs Win Two to Get Back in Race

By United Press

The Cincinnati Redlegs were being counted out of the National League race a week ago but they're right back in the thick of it today because of their surprising ability to cope with doubleheaders.

The experts figured Birdie Tebbets' "patch-work" pitching staff would buckle under the pressure of the bargain bills.

The Redlegs, however, roared back into solid contention when they whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 and 6-4, yesterday and now show a remarkable 21-10 record for doubleheaders. They've swept eight and split two of their 11 bargain bills.

The latest sweep—giving the Redlegs seven wins in nine games since they ended a seven-game losing streak on July 12—lifted the Redlegs into fourth place two games behind the first-place Braves. The Phillies, jolted by six losses in their last seven games, fell 3½ games off the pace.

The Braves bounced back from a 3-4 loss to down the New York Giants, 7-4, and retain their one-game lead over the Dodgers who beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-2, after a 5-4 setback, while the third-place St. Louis Cardinals downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3, and led, 11-2, when their nightcap was suspended in the ninth inning by the Pennsylvania curfew law.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the Boston Red Sox, 3-0, and moved to within 4½ games of first place in the American league when the New York Yankees split a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians. The Yankees won the opener, 4-3, but howled in the nightcap, 7-4, before 51,670 fans. The Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 6-5, and the Kansas City Athletics scored a 3-2 victory after losing, 7-2, to the Baltimore Orioles in other American league games.

War Spirit bears the apt lip tattoo number 1775. He is a 3-year-old gelded son of War Admiral—Wood Spirit and is owned by R. V. Stockton.

Salmon Man Wins

ANACONDA, Mont., July 22 (U.P.)—Wam Benson, Salmon, Ida., yesterday scored 1,198 points to win top honors in the annual Northwest Smallbore Rifle tournament here.

Benson led the masters while Max Bisch, Anaconda, fired 1,195 to lead the experts and M. Simmons, Butte, Mont., shot 1,195 to lead the sharpshooters.

The Rosebud cup was won by the Missoula, Mont., team of M. L. Jones and George Gilbertson, Missoula, and George Stevens and Bob O'Connor, Ronan.

Seals Boost League Lead To 5 Games

By The Associated Press

San Francisco, feasting off Portland, stretched its Pacific Coast league lead to five games Monday—the Seals' biggest advantage since taking over the top spot June 11.

A 7-2 and 5-1 doubleheader sweep Sunday gave the Seals 13 out of 14 against the Beavers and an overall season edge of 17-2 against the Oregonians, a team figured for the first division in pre-season ratings. They're now in the basement, a few percentage points behind Sacramento.

The Solons escaped the cellar by splitting a twin bill with fifth-place Seattle, losing the opener, 8-5, but taking the nightcap, 5-4.

Vancouver, fighting to hold on to second, mauled Los Angeles 16-3, but lost the windup 4-3 on ninth-inning errors by catcher Toby Atwell and shortstop Buddy Peterson.

Hollywood played a half-game behind the Mounties splitting with fourth-place San Diego. The Stars won the first game, 6-2, and the Pads' Jim (Mudcat) Grant scattered eight hits in the 4-1 finisher.

BOXER DIES

CONSTANZ, Germany, July 22 (U.P.)—Ferdinand May, 26-year-old German amateur boxer, died Saturday as a result of head injuries received while fighting a draw with Heinz Amrain Saturday night.

Cowboys Fall 9-8 In Billings Clash

By The Associated Press

Magic Valley and Missoula stayed atop the Pioneer league in a tie Sunday though both squads lost games. The Boise Braves knocked down the Timberjacks, 6-3, with a four-run inning and two solo homers clouted by Bob Jacoby and Dix Johnson. Billings took over third place in the league with their 9-8 triumph over the Cowboys. Most of the action came in the final two frames. With Magic Valley leading, 6-5, going into the bottom of the eighth Billings scored four runs.

The Idaho Falls Russets took an 11-9 victory from Salt Lake as four homers were blasted in the game, three by Idaho Falls batsmen. In the fourth game of the day Pocatello defeated Great Falls, 7-5, with two runs in the 10th inning.

The Braves scored four in the fifth inning on a double, a wild pitch, a walk and three singles combined with two passed balls. The Timberjacks came back with a lone run in the eighth on Wayne Tucker's single but it wasn't enough. The two pitchers for Boise, Jack Hannah and Winston Brown, held the Jacks to six hits.

Billings beat Magic Valley despite a ninth-inning scare by the Cowboys. The Mustangs used three hurlers, Ted Burgess, Don Choate and Mel Nelson before they could get the final out. The winning margin was piled up in the eighth on singles by Chris Cannizzaro, Tom McDevitt and Nelson and a triple by Bob Sadowski. Bill Denney hit his ninth homer for the Cowboys.

Idaho Falls also had to stop a ninth-inning rally to wrap up its win. The Russets took an 11-6 lead in the ninth chiefly on the strength of three homers, but the Bees scored three times before the game ended. The winning pitcher, Dick Jones, helped his own cause with his first homer of the year and Bob Scarpato and Al Luce both chipped in with four-baggers.

John Moskus was practically the whole attack for the Bees as he drove in six runs with a homer and a double.

The Athletics tied their game with Great Falls with three runs in the ninth; then scored a pair in the 10th on Al Casano's double and singles by Hank Szostak and Mel Wright. The Athletics pounded out 12 hits and the Dodgers committed four miscues to give Szostak his first victory.

Many High-Ranking Communists Are In Trouble With Russian Strongman

By The Associated Press

More repercussions from the recent Kremlin purge are expected in due course. It seems probable that Nikita Khrushchev has several high-ranking officials of the Soviet Communist party marked for oblivion. These would be men who have aroused Khrushchev's anger in the past by organizing opposition to his policies. He needs them for the time being, but in the long run their party careers are in danger. One likely target is a secretary of the communist central committee and member of its presidium, Mikhail Suslov. This ideological and propaganda expert was one of the leaders of a coalition which in the summer of 1956 succeeded in handing out to Khrushchev a rebuke from the central committee for getting too close to President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Tour Planned

TOKYO, July 22 (AP)—The Japanese opposition socialist party is planning to send a parliamentary mission to the United States and Russia next month, it was reported today.

The missions hope to discuss with American and Soviet officials various problems of current international concern such as prohibition of nuclear tests.

Premier Bulganin and the chairman of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet, Kliment Voroshilov, took during the recent Kremlin show-down. It's probable that either or both of these dignitaries may have been less than vociferous in their support of Khrushchev in his crisis. Bulganin and Voroshilov are relatively harmless individuals without personal political followings or power. But either or both may be cast aside by Khrushchev sooner or later as he uses his new position of authority to attempt to consolidate his power.

Mikhail Pervukhin, a former economic chief, was demoted in the recent shakeup from full membership on the communist presidium to alternate-member status. Pervukhin was long known as a leading protégé of Georgi Malenkov. Evidently he of Yugoslavia.

Jordan Holds Line, Checks Reds' Appeal

AMMAN, July 22 (AP)—Jordan's pro-Western government feels it has halted the drift to the left and restored peace and security here.

Now it is looking for help in its second big task—winning the full support of the nation's 1½ million restless people.

This means providing more work to quell political and economic discontent in a country where one-third of the population is unemployed, under-employed or living on subsistence level rations as Palestine refugees.

More Money

It also means more money—possibly American money as well as Arab. Both American and Jordanian officials here feel much depends on a decision to be taken in Washington soon whether to continue and boost economic aid to Jordan.

The country has been under martial law since April when King Hussein successfully staved off a leftist threat to topple him.

Since that crisis, all political activity has been banned. A government imposed by royal decree and headed by veteran Samir Rifal has run things without recourse to public opinion.

The abrupt reversal of Jordan's political drift to the left won cheers from the West, helped precipitate the present rift in the Arab world and gained Jordan a $2-million-dollar reward from the United States in military and economic aid.

But men like Economics Minister Kholoud Khelil realize that the government's job has only begun.

"We must have a more definite policy than we have now," he says. "This policy will decide whether the government receives public support."

Jordan has already made an official request to the U. S. for another $3 million dollars in economic aid. According to information here, Washington will not act upon the request before autumn. The Jordan government hopes to get its big public works program into high gear before then to make a dent in the massive unemployment rolls.

Urgent Program

This is a "crash" program, resulting in the biggest budget in Jordan's history and expenditures estimated at 75 million dollars.

Egypt and Syria, both of which lean toward the Soviet bloc, have promised to pay 21 million dollars towards these expenses, but relations are cool and it is believed the money will be withheld from Jordan as long as Rifal is in power.

Iraq and Saudi Arabia, both of which receive big revenues from oil, are a possible source of aid. But Saudi Arabia has already contributed five million dollars to Jordan this year and Iraq has 70 per cent of its oil income tied up in its own development program.

All of this points to one thing, in the opinion of Jordanian and American officials here. They believe the U. S. is being forced further into the role of paymaster in Jordan.

"The U. S. has said it wouldn't replace Britain as Jordan's main financial bulwark, but the U. S. has also declared the independence and integrity of Jordan to be a 'vital interest.' For this reason, Jordanians believe the U. S. will continue aid, and increase the amounts."

Intruders Beware

Halters Halted

DAVENPORT, Ia., July 22 (AP)—Scott county Sheriff Pete Wildman has blown the whistle on female visitors who wear brief halters or "bikini" type clothing when they come to see the inmates of his jail.

"Disturb the prisoners," explained Wildman. "That type of dress will not be tolerated in the future. . . some visitors have definitely exposed too much."

Wildman said he believes in being cool just as much as the next man, but since he runs an institution known in some circles as "the cooler," he figures that it should observe "some bounds of propriety."

"I feel," said Wildman, "a jail is certainly no place for a woman to come in suggestive undress as some have been doing."

showed them various points of interest were Olin Smith, Robert Bailey, Dr. F. A. Kallusky, Boyd Rolfe, Fred Rendle, Lloyd Byrne and Mack Turner.

Frankenstein Is Hunted in Death Of Chicago Boys

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—Police conducted a nationwide search today for a teen-age "Frankenstein" in connection with the slaying of three Chicago schoolboys whose killer has never been found.

A Chicago police artist drew a sketch from descriptions given by a woman who saw a man annoying one of the slain boys in the Chicago loop shortly before the murders. Copies of sketch were mailed yesterday to other law enforcement agencies in the country.

Robert Peterson, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11, were killed two and a half years ago. Their naked and battered bodies were found in a forest preserve ditch.

Terry Riley, Memphis, Tenn., said the sketch resembled the man he knew as "Frankenstein." Terry used to live in Chicago, and said he and other boys, including Peterson, were frightened by a man who chased them and used gestures like the movie monster.

Lieut. Joseph Morris, head of the special unit seeking the killer, said one of the slain boys in the Chicago loop shortly before the murders. Copies of sketch were mailed

Quick Trial Seen

TOKYO, July 22 (AP)—The Masbashi district court probably will reach a verdict in the manslaughter trial of Army Specialist 3rd Class William S. Girard in late October, Japanese justice ministry officials have predicted.

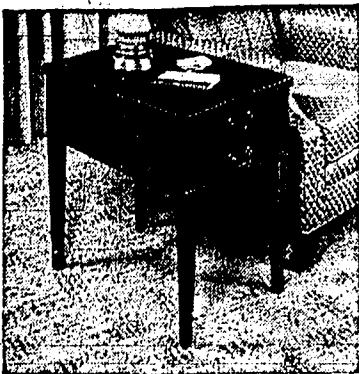

They said the trial, which opened Aug. 26, would last about 60 days, very fast for Japan where many trials drag on for several months.
